And here कृष्ण says, among these three, the doubting Thomas, that person is the worst one who will face lot of problems, How, suppose a person is not an informed person, a person is not worldly wise, but he has got faith in the scriptures and he does the prayer and whatever पूजा and other things he does, then what happens, because of his lack of knowledge the worldly benefits he will not get, because he is an ignorant person, he doesn't have worldly wisdom and therefore whatever आनन्द he can derive from the world that he cannot get, but because he has got श्रद्धा in the scriptures even though he doesn't have इहलोक सुखम्, because of his श्रद्धा and sincere following of the scriptures, कर्म etc., he will get परलोकः सुखम् he will get. Therefore a person who is an अज्ञानि but who has got श्रद्धा, he will get परलोकः सुखम् but he will not get इह लोकः सुखम्. Now let us think of the 2nd type of person, he does not believe in scriptures, so कर्म, पुण्यम्, पापम्, स्वर्गम्, नरकम् is rubbish, I don't believe in all these, but I believe in the pleasures of this world and therefore I want to be well-informed and therefore he has got what, worldly knowledge, he has ज्ञः, but he doesn't have श्रद्धा. So then what will happen to him, because he doesn't have श्रद्धा, परलोकः सुखम् he will not get, but because he is well informed, he will get what इह लोकः सुखम्. First type of person is ignorant and therefore इह लोकः सुखम् is not there, but परलोकः सुखम् is there because of श्रद्धा. For a second type of person, because of lack of श्रद्धा, परलोकः सुखम् is not there, but इह लोकः सुखम् is there, but the संशय-आत्मा, doubting Thomas, even though he has got worldly knowledge, he is not very sure, 'someone might have changed the train-time today,' and every where he has got doubt, after taking the car or bus or anything, in the middle he will have a doubt whether he has locked the door properly or not. Some people get the doubt in the middle of the class, that day's class is collapsed. Whether I have locked the bike or not? So he only has just held the lock and he was having himself, but at last gets doubt. So he cannot have इह लोकः सुखम्, because in everything he has got doubt and what about परलोकः सुखम्, a man who doubts this लोकः itself, how will he not doubt the scriptures, पुण्यम्, पापम्, etc., therefore न अयं लोकः न परः लोकः. That is the essence. So अज्ञः च अश्रद्धावानः च संशय-आत्मा विनश्यति, all these three types of people have got negative traits and therefore they perish in life, but who is the worst one, संशयात्मनः अयम् लोकः नास्ति – he cannot enjoy this world, न परः लोकः – he doesn't have the परलोकः also, then what about मोक्षः, when these two are not available, how can मोक्षः be, so न सुखम् – there is not even मोक्षः सुखम्, nothing is possible and therefore what is the worst enemy, संशयः. Life requires basic trust, trust even with regard to the family members, trust with regard to our office subordinates, because you have to give responsibilities, delegation is involved and if I don't have trust, what will happen, I have to do every job. स्वामिजी used to tell, this lady appoints a cook and not sure whether he will do it properly and therefore walks behind, don't do it like this, that like that and she will be doing almost the whole cooking herself, just giving the salary and he says mother cooks very well and he will grow well and Similarly, you appoint a driver and sit behind in the car and drive the driver and advise him to honk the horn, go slow, break it, then why can't you drive, they cannot trust the husband, trust the wife, trust the children, trust their subordinates, basic trust is required and trusting is unavoidable and trusting involves risk also, because there is risk if you refuse to trust, you cannot live at all, because your children are growing and they go various places, can you always watch them, we educate the children and especially when they go abroad, how much you can follow, what he is doing, whether he is into drugs or drinks, etc. It is not possible and therefore trust is a very important value in life, it has got a risk factor, but at the same time it is inevitable risk factor, it is required in the case of वेदान्त also, whether वेदान्त will give you benefit or not how will you know, you come and attend the class and see whether there is any benefit and if he says that there is no benefit at all, I myself will say, kindly don't come. Therefore up to that there must be श्रद्धा and therefore न सुखं संशयात्मनः.

Verse No .41

योगसंन्यस्तकर्माणं ज्ञानसंछिन्नसंशयम् ।

आत्मवन्तं न कर्माणि निबध्नन्ति धनञ्जय ॥ ४-४१॥

योग-संन्यस्तकर्माणं ज्ञानसंछिन्नसंशयम् ।

हे धनञ्जय! योग-संन्यस्तकर्माणं ज्ञानसंछिन्नसंशयम् आत्मावन्तं कर्माणि न निबध्नन्ति ।

So here कृष्ण is summing up the साधन and the फलम्, a person has to go through three levels of साधन, योग-संन्यस्तकर्माणम्, योगः means ज्ञानम् and what is the ज्ञानम्, I am the आत्मा which is अकर्ता, अकर्तृ-आत्मज्ञानम् is called here योग and by this योग a person gets detached from all actions, because actions belong to the body-mind-complex, he allows the body-mind-complex to function in the world, but he doesn't have over attachment or identification and therefore he has renounced the कर्म identification, this is the first stage. Then ज्ञानसंछिन्नसंशयम्, योग-संन्यस्तकर्माणम् refers to the श्रवण stage, then the next stage ज्ञानसंछिन्नसंशयम्, he has negated all the doubts by gaining conviction through मननम्, ज्ञानम् means conviction, I should be convinced, I need not convince any other person, that is not relevant and I cannot convince others also, because there are many people who don't want to be convinced. Therefore I should be convinced of this knowledge, I should ask my own mind, are you convinced of this knowledge and I should study until I am convinced, therefore the second stage is he has removed all doubts through conviction and the third stage is आत्मवन्तम्, this is the निदिध्यासनम् stage and in which a person is alert to avoid forgetfulness of this teaching. This is not a teaching to be confined to this particular enclosure, ज्ञानम् must be available in my day-to-day life, ‘a drawing of the vegetable cannot be used for the cooking.’ You have got wonderful class-notes, the note will get liberated, anyway it doesn’t have bondage that is a different matter, what is the use of cassette and notes, it should be here (inside me) to help me in crisis, so आत्मवान् means the one who leads an alert life, the one who keeps this knowledge green during transaction, अप्रमत्तम्, ज्ञान निष्ठ, this is the third stage. So the one who has done the श्रवण, मनन and निदिध्यासनम्, him the कर्म cannot, कर्माणि न निबध्नन्ति, just concluding, just take five more minutes and conclude.

तस्मादज्ञानसम्भूतं हृत्स्थं ज्ञानासिनात्मनः ।

छित्त्वेन संशयं योगमातिष्ठोतिष्ठ भारत ॥ ४-४२॥

तस्मात् अज्ञान-सम्भूतम् हृत्स्थम् ज्ञान-असिना-आत्मनः ।

छित्त्वा एनम् संशयम् योगम् आतिष्ठ उतिष्ठ भारत ॥ ४-४२॥

हे भारत! तस्मात् अज्ञान-सम्भूतम् हृत्स्थम् आत्मानः एनम् संशयम् ज्ञान-असिना छित्त्वा योगम् आतिष्ठ, (युद्धाय च) उतिष्ठ ।

Now कृष्ण gives direct advice to अर्जुन. अर्जुन you also get rid of doubt which is your worst enemy. I have given you two valid lessons, follow कर्मयोग, purify the mind, follow ज्ञानयोग, enlighten your mind and be free, this is the basic teaching of गीता, कर्मयोग is for purification, ज्ञानयोग is for enlightenment. So having clearly grasped this teaching may you remove the doubt regarding the साधन. Therefore he says, ज्ञान-असिना – by the sword of understanding, आत्मनः संशयम् छित्वा – may you destroy your doubt regarding कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग साधनस, because अर्जुन wanted to give up the कर्म and he wanted to go away, that means he wanted to go ज्ञानयोग without going through कर्मयोग, कृष्ण says first go through कर्मयोग and then alone ज्ञानयोग, therefore having clearly grasped through the sword of knowledge may you remove the doubt, what type of doubt, अज्ञान-सम्भूतम् – all doubts are products of ignorance, any doubt is product of ignorance, that is why any doubt can go only by proper knowledge, therefore ज्ञान-असिना – with the sword of knowledge, with the knife of knowledge, may you destroy the ignorance and ignorance caused doubt and what is the doubt, to fight or not, to be a गृहस्थ or संन्यासि, to take कर्मयोग or ज्ञानयोग, with regard to all these things, you remove all the doubts and you have to remove your doubt, because हृत्स्थम् – it is in your own mind, गुरु cannot do anything with regard to शिष्य's mind, गुरु can only assist, but the actual destruction should be done by the शिष्य only. Ten people can take a person to water, but that person alone should drink water. I can give you supporting logic, scriptural quotations, experiential backing, I can only do the supporting part, with your intellect you have to apply and remove your own doubts, therefore हृत्स्थम् means you have to clean your doubting mind. I can only assist you, you have to clean, therefore छित्वा हृत्स्थम् संशयम्. What should you do, योगम् आतिष्ठ – may you take to कर्मयोग which is the appropriate path for you for the time being. You are not fit for संन्यास now, either postpone it or don't take it, but now you are not fit for संन्यास, therefore be a गृहस्थ, do your duty, even though it is bitter duty, unpleasant duty of killing your own kith and kin, you cannot avoid that, therefore, उत्तिष्ठ, अर्जुन get up, take your bow, take your arrow and do your duty. With this कृष्ण completes this present discourse.

CHAPTER 04, SUMMARY

I will give you a summary of the 4th chapter of the गीता. The 4th chapter can broadly be classified into three portions,

- 1) The first portion dealing with अवतार – the incarnation of the Lord,
- 2) The second topic ज्ञान कर्म संन्यास, which is the central theme of the 4th chapter and
- 3) The third topic is ज्ञान साधन फलानि, the means of gaining knowledge and the benefits of gaining the Self-knowledge.

These are the three topics we find in the 4th chapter. I will discuss each topic briefly.

1) The first I said is ईश्वर अवतार, which is discussed from verse no.1 up to verse no.15 and in this portion, कृष्ण shows the difference between ईश्वर अवतार and जीव-जन्म. Even though both of them superficially appear the same, because Lord also seems to have parents, जन्माष्टमि, राम नवमि, etc., date of birth and the Lord also grew up like any other human being and since they look the same, we should know what is the technical difference between जीव-जन्म and ईश्वर अवतार and we saw basically there are three differences,

- one is at the level of cause of अवतार and जन्म,
- the second is at the level of the very nature, स्वरूपम् and
- the third is with regard to the very purpose. So कारण, स्वरूप and उद्देशम्, लक्ष्यम्, the purpose.

1) At the कारण level, at the cause level the difference we saw was that जीव's जन्म is caused by ignorance, it is because of ignorance जीव has got the ego and it is because of the ego he acquires पुण्य पापम् and it is because of पुण्य पापम् he is forced to take this body, therefore for the जीव, जन्म is a fall, it is clean fall because he is helpless. So अज्ञानम् is the कारणम्. Whereas in the case of ईश्वर the cause of अवतार is certainly not ignorance, but it is because of the सर्वज्ञत्वम्, it is omniscience of the Lord as well as the compassion of the Lord. And therefore it will not come under falling down but Lord descends down to uplift the human being. So when a person falls into a well, he has gone down, the one who wants to rescue this person, he also goes into the well, but there is a difference between them, one has fallen, another has descended, got down to help him out and that is why, in the case of ईश्वर we use the word अवतारः, अवतरति – the one who comes down, purely out of compassion and by coming down the Lord has to go through lot of worldly problems also, राम had endless problems, कृष्ण had endless problems and going through all of them the Lord comes down and therefore, it is ज्ञानम्. In the case of जीव जन्म, अज्ञानम् is कारणम्, in the case of ईश्वर अवतार, ज्ञानम् and करुणा is the कारणम्.

2) The second difference that we saw was with regard to the very nature, स्वरूपम् and there I pointed out two differences, one is since जीव comes down because of ignorance, जीव is bound, जीव does not know his higher nature and therefore जीव suffers because of Self-ignorance and therefore he is बद्ध स्वरूपः; which problem ईश्वर doesn't have, for ईश्वर it is a लीला, it is a sport, it is a game. राम will never complain about his life, कृष्ण will never complain about his life, in fact, He was smiling all the time, even while killing राक्षसः He smilingly destroyed which made the राक्षसः more angry. Therefore बद्ध स्वरूपः and मुक्त स्वरूपः, बन्ध and मुक्ति is one difference.

And the second is a purely technical difference we saw, that in the case of जीव the body is made out of the five elements, माया does not directly produce the body, माया produces the five elements and through five elements जीव शरीरम् is formed, therefore it is called भौतिक शरीरम्, whereas in the case of ईश्वर it is supposed to a direct conversion of माया into शरीरम्. So therefore it is called मायिक शरीरम् and that is why in the case of नरसिंह अवतार etc., there is no time gap at all, ten months the mother carrying, all such things, etc., the pillar was broken suddenly नरसिंह comes out of what, it is directly produced from माया. Therefore what is the second difference, भौतिक शरीरम् जीवस्य, मायिक शरीरम् अवतारस्य, therefore we call it माया मानुष वेष्टः. So these are the two differences at the level of the स्वरूपम्.

3) Then I talked about the difference at the level of purpose, for what purpose they two come down. In the case of जीव, the purpose of जन्म is the exhaustion of पुण्य-पाप. The exhaustion of the acquired पुण्य पाप is the purpose, because पुण्य-पाप can be exhausted only through experience of सुख दुःख and सुख दुःख can be experienced only when there is शरीरम्,

शरीरम् विना सुखम् वा दुःखम् वा अनुभूतुम् नैव शक्यते

How do you know that, सुषुप्तौ दुःखम् वा सुखम् वा नास्ति. In सुषुप्ति, we do not have an operating body, therefore we don't interact with the world and therefore we don't exhaust our पुण्य-पाप. If in dream we exhaust पुण्य-पाप because there is a dream body and there is a dream world and there is a dream interaction and therefore dream सुख दुःखम्. Therefore शास्त्र accepts the exhaustion of पुण्य-पाप either through the physical body or through any other body, but body is required, therefore we assume the body to exhaust our पुण्य-पाप and that is why type of body is determined by the type of पुण्य-पापम्. So I am responsible for the type of body that I have, therefore what is जीव जन्मनः उद्देश्यम् किम्? पुण्य पाप क्षयः. While exhausting पुण्य पापम् we choose to acquire fresh ones, that is a different issue, but this is the primary thing that is taking place, not only in human births even in the case of animal birth, it is the पुण्य पाप क्षयम्, the only difference is the animals cannot acquire fresh कर्म whereas मनुष्य can acquire but what is common to both is पुण्य-पाप क्षयम्. So this is जीव जन्म उद्देश्यम्. Whereas ईश्वर's अवतार is not for पुण्य पाप क्षय because the Lord is पुण्य-पाप अतीतः, because he doesn't have अज्ञानम्. So then what is the purpose of अवतार?

ईश्वर is responsible for the arrival of this creation and ईश्वर is responsible for the maintenance of the creation, not only He is सृष्टि कर्ता, He happens to be a स्थिति कर्ता and for the maintenance of the creation, whatever is required He has to do and generally Lord doesn't want to come down and poke his nose in our affairs, hoping that we are all decent fellows. But if necessary, He will come. He has given the method of maintaining the creation, i.e., called धार्मिक way of life. He has manufactured the creation and He has given a manual for the ideal use of the creation to get the optimum benefit that is called धर्मशास्त्र and भगवान् expects that we human beings will understand what is धार्मिक living by our common sense itself and if common sense is not required, the वैदिक scriptures will help and then the world will be fine, but in spite of common sense - as somebody said, common sense is the most uncommon thing - so if we are not using the common sense and if we refuse to follow the manual given by the Lord also, then भगवान् says, I will be forced to interfere and I take अवतार. And this अवतार maintains the creation in two ways,

1) One is the direct and drastic method, the drastic process like the doctor removing whatever is not required in the body, gall bladder stone, remove the gall bladder; appendicitis, remove that, similarly, one drastic method is what, whichever is like a tumor, malignant tumor in the creation - अधार्मिक people, militant, terrorists, and they are growing also like malignant. So thus भगवान् has to do a surgery, militant-dectomy! finish off, चक्र is ready!!! This is a drastic procedure, but it cannot be used all the time, so any organ is sick you keep on removing that organ, there will be no organ at all, it will just a body bag it will be. Therefore everywhere that won't work and so भगवान् has got a second method.

2) And that second method is educating the humanity, drastic procedure is not going to work all the time, so this organ problem then cut off that organ, cut off the head for headache, for headache शिर-छेदम् cannot be done, everywhere you cannot apply that. Therefore भगवान् has got two methods, in certain अवतारs he destroys the राक्षसs, like नरसिंह अवतार, etc., it is destruction, but in certain अवतार भगवान् does a two-fold job, one is the destruction and the other is the education, telling the humanity be responsible, because your head is over the shoulders so it means head should be higher unlike the animal, animals have got head and stomach at the same level, horizontal, that is why animals are called तिर्यक्चः, तिर्यक् means horizontally growing one and therefore their head must be how much developed, as much developed as required for filling the stomach, same level, but in the case of human beings, stomach is down below, head is up above.

Therefore we cannot live just for eating, we have more responsibility and therefore भगवान् educates us and expects us to take more responsibility and that he has done in two अवतारs, especially because of which alone those two अवतारs are important अवतारs, i.e., राम अवतार and कृष्ण अवतार and in राम अवतार, राम taught by living,

मर्त्यावतारस्त्वह मर्त्यशिक्षणम् रक्षोवधायैव न केवलम् विभोः ।

कुतोऽन्यथा स्यादमतः स्व आत्मनः सीता कृतानि व्यसनानीश्वरस्य ॥ श्रीमद् भागवतम् ७-१९-७ ॥

मर्त्यावतारस्त्वह मर्त्यशिक्षणम्, educating the human being is also important, रक्षोवधायैव न केवलम्, not mere destruction of कंस, मुष्टिक, चाणूर, मल्ल, etc., educate also to be done, Similarly, राम's purpose was killing रावण but also educating and that is why it was called राम अयनम्, अयनम् means the way of Life, the path which was tread by राम, रामस्य अयनम्, रामस्य धर्म मार्गः रामायणम्. In कृष्ण अवतार, don't try to do what कृष्ण did, because right from birth he started stealing butter, Similarly, he did so many peculiar things, do what राम did and also do what कृष्ण said. If you want to do what कृष्ण did, you should do everything that कृष्ण did, I will ask you please lift a mountain, afterwards you can for stealing! Why mountain just lift this desk, that is sufficient. Getting up itself is a big achievement, therefore if I have to follow कृष्ण I should follow in all respects, since I cannot do that better I follow what कृष्ण taught. The purpose of अवतार is what, धर्म रक्षणम्, वेद रक्षणम्, educating and therefore कृष्ण says, हे अर्जुन! my purpose was to teach the humanity, because the वैदिक teaching has become weaker and therefore, I was very happy when you became a disciple and therefore

भक्तोऽसि मे सखा चेति रहस्यं ह्येतदुत्तमम् ॥ ४-३॥

Through you I decided to revive the वैदिक teaching and therefore revival of धर्म, both by teaching and destroying the अधार्मिक people is the purpose of अवतार. So thus the cause is different, the nature is different, the purpose is also different. And being an अवतार कृष्ण said as the Lord I taught the वेद in the beginning of the creation and as राम अवतार I am again re-teaching the same wisdom, through कृष्ण शरीरम् also. And having talked about अवतार, कृष्ण concluded that discussion by making a beautiful statement and that is whoever knows the Lord completely, whoever knows the Lord completely, that person will get freedom and there the emphasis is 'Knows the Lord completely,' because the Lord has got two natures, one is the higher and the other is the lower nature and what is the secret of this, the higher nature of the Lord is never subject to birth and death.

त्यक्त्वा देहं पुनर्जन्म नैति मामेति सोऽर्जुन ॥ ४-३॥

अजायमानो बहुधा विजायते ॥

तस्य धीराः परिजानन्ति योनिम् । मरीचीनां पदमिच्छन्ति वेधसः । ॥
पुरुषसूक्तम् ॥

Have you heard somewhere? अजायमानो बहुधा विजायते, पुरुषसूक्तम् wherein the उपनिषत् says, Lord is born without being born, how do you reconcile this contradiction. अजायमानः – born without being born, so how do you reconcile, from the higher nature, देही दृष्ट्या, चैतन्य दृष्ट्या, स्वरूप दृष्ट्या भगवान् is birth-less from the standpoint of his superficial body. It is only a superficial case from the standpoint of the body he is subject to birth and death, but from the standpoint of कृष्ण परमात्मा, the कृष्ण परमात्मा is

हे अर्जुन! I am never born, I am born as it were. So thus the one who knows the birth-less higher nature of the Lord and the birthed lower nature (our English) of the Lord the one who knows, in the 7th chapter, कृष्ण will call it परा प्रकृति and अपरा प्रकृति, the one who knows he will be liberated. So thus, कृष्ण concludes the अवतार topic with the 15th verse and this is unique in the entire गीता because in no other chapter अवतार is discussed, only in this chapter the अवतार topic comes and it is so important, even this श्लोक is incorporated in the विष्णुसहस्रनाम also, in महाभारतम् TV Serial also परित्राणाय साधूनाम्,... if you are watching that. So it is important.

II) Now the next topic is ज्ञान कर्म संन्यासः which is the central theme of not only the 4th chapter but also the entire भगवद्गीता, very important portion from verse no.16 to 24. And in this portion, कृष्ण wants to point out that there are two types of renunciation, two types of कर्म संन्यास,

1) One type of renunciation is the popular renunciation in which a person quits the society and becomes a monk, a संन्यासि, in which he has given up all the कर्मस, कर्मस means duties, because as long as he is a member of the society he has got duties at various levels and the individual duty, family level endless duties, so if all the children and grandchildren are with us we have got certain types of duties, OK, we want to avoid that and therefore we ask them to go away we will leave alone, then we have got another set of duty, everything we ourselves have to attend; स्वामिजि, I have to mend myself go to the bank, post office; then why can't you bring your son; then along with my son the grandchild also comes and I have to take care of him; what to do? Either tend to grandchild or else go to bank; you have do one of the. So therefore there will be family duties, there will be social duties and also the election is coming; संन्यासि is not supposed to vote, so no duties, so no duties means not eating and increasing the weight, he is supposed to dedicate himself to the pursuit of the highest and if he has the attained the highest then share it in any way that he can afford to, that he can do, this is the physical renunciation, external renunciation, this is called चतुर्थ आश्रम, the 4th state of life and it is a ritualistic process also in which a person should not live in the house, even if he proposes to live in the house he has to stay in an outhouse like thing, there are different varieties of संन्यास, in one type of संन्यास staying in the outhouse and go to the main house only for the meals, certain kinds of संन्यासs are there, this is called विधिवत् संन्यास, विविदिषा संन्यास, आश्रम संन्यास, बाह्य संन्यास, external.

2) And there is a second type of संन्यास, which has nothing to do with our external personality, it is purely inner, by discovering detachment, exactly like the lotus leaf which is within the water but it does not get wet by the water, like the non-stick pan, modern things are useful for वेदान्त, you keep on enjoy dosai but don't get stuck, Similarly, become a non-stick pan and how can you accomplish that, there is only one method of accomplishing that, you have to switch or change your understanding about yourselves. Self-knowledge has to be there, Self-elevation has to be there, because as body कर्म association cannot be avoided, as mind कर्म association cannot be avoided, because body and mind are integrally related to the world, therefore interactions are inevitable. Therefore you have to discover a different I which is higher than the body-mind-complex, which is called आत्मा तत्त्वम् and once I recognize the आत्मा which fortunately happens to be असङ्गः, which happens to be अकाश तुल्यः, just as अकाश is associated with everything but it is not polluted by anything. Similarly, I have to do Self-enquiry and clearly understand I am not the body, I am not the mind also, body-mind-complex is part of this creation and this part will continue to interact with world. Even भगवान् cannot stop it, let those interactions continue but let me understand like a cinema actor or a drama actor, who plays the role extremely well, crying when it is required, sometimes even producing real tears without glycerin or onion, he just chooses to identify with the role and even cry, but even at the time of crying he knows I am playing the role of राम, कृष्ण or any role for that matter, but in the green room I am different from all these. So this is only permanent solution but it is a difficult solution, which requires श्रवणम्, मननम् and निदिध्यासनम्. So through ज्ञानयोग, through वेदान्त विचार when I learn to detach from actions internally, that is called internal renunciation and कृष्ण gives it the title, ज्ञान कर्म संन्यासः, it is a beautiful terminology, ज्ञान कर्म संन्यासः. What is the विग्रह वाक्यम्? If you are संस्कृत students, कर्मणाम् संन्यासः कर्म संन्यासः, षष्ठी तत्पुरुष समास, ज्ञानेन कर्म संन्यासः ज्ञान कर्म संन्यासः, तृतीया तत्पुरुषः. If you translate into English it will mean renunciation of action through knowledge, without physically stopping the action, continuing to do everything as before. It is like selling a house and continuing to live in the same house. Now when you have sold and continue to live in the house, even the house may be the same, things may be the same, in your mind, what is not there, the ownership is not there, therefore the attitude itself changes. If it is our house we will think 3 months for drilling for a nail, but if it is a rented house we will do without a second thought. So these are all certain changes are there, purely one signature exchange. In the case of a ज्ञानि, what happens he has sold the house to the Lord and he continues to use the same house but a small signature he has put and handed over to the Lord, this is called internal renunciation, thereafterwards he is a trustee of the body and therefore he handles the body, because it is ईश्वर 's property, all these he will do, but there is an internal transformation, this alone कृष्ण calls ज्ञान कर्म संन्यासः, all the verses in the section are beautiful and important verses.

ज्ञानाग्निदग्धकर्माणं तमाहुः पण्डितं बुधाः ॥ ४-१९॥

What transformation it brings about? The interactions are objectively seen and the consequences are also objectively seen, this objectivity removes reactions towards the situations. Not that he will be like stone, certainly he is going to see the differences between success and failure, but the impact is reduced like a parachute when the plane comes very fast and when the run way is very very short to reduce that speed, suppose they have a parachute behind pulling, similarly, the ज्ञानम् will serve to reduce the impact of the life situations. Even the worst shock it may disturb me for a few days, but I have got the flexibility to recover and continue to live.

Even though he is fully involved in action, the surprising thing is when you see his relaxation, it appears as though he is not involved in anything. Like you are in the railway station and when the train is about to start, you can find always there will be some people, in the last moment they will be searching for the compartment with the ticket and when those fellows are looking for the compartment and you have come to send off someone who is already in the train and when you are on the platform, what happens to you, when the train is starting, you are स्थितप्रज्ञः, जीवन्मुक्तः, even when you see the other person running, you are not at all affected. Imagine that state of mind when you yourself are in that position. Very difficult but it is worth trying, it is easy to say but very difficult, don't ask me whether स्वामिजि can you do it. It is very difficult but it is worth all the effort, you are ready to miss the train. So therefore नैव किञ्चित्करोति सः, beautiful श्लोक, if I get into that it will become another 4th chapter instead of summary. So one more point in this section, I would like to highlight and I consider it as most important, while describing this ज्ञानि, कृष्ण talks about both a householder-ज्ञानि as well as a संन्यासि-ज्ञानि.

ब्रह्मार्पणं ब्रह्म हविर्ब्रह्माग्नौ ब्रह्मणा हुतम् ।

ब्रह्मैव तेन गन्तव्यं ब्रह्मकर्मसमाधिना ॥ ४-२४॥

In fact, ब्रह्मार्पणम् is the description of a householder-ज्ञानि. ब्रह्मार्पणम् verse is considered to be the most important verse of the गीता itself, not because you chant it before eating, because it talks about highest knowledge, it is the description of a संन्यासि-ज्ञानि, but a गृहस्थ-ज्ञानि. From this we come to know that the liberation is not dependent on the आश्रम, liberation is dependent on your wisdom or the lack of it. If wisdom is not there every आश्रम is bondage, In fact, संन्यास आश्रम is the greatest risk without wisdom, whereas in गृहस्थ आश्रम one can survive as an अज्ञानि. What we are all doing, are not we successfully doing. So गृहस्थ can happily manage without ज्ञानम्. But a संन्यास life without ज्ञानम् is the riskiest thing and that is why the moment a person takes संन्यास, if he is already a ज्ञानि, then no problem, it is called विद्वत् संन्यास. Otherwise immediately he should have the facility for the pursuit of knowledge, because that is the nearest, either I should be a ज्ञानि and I should be in the pursuit of ज्ञानम्. If I am neither a ज्ञानि and neither am I enquiring into this and if I am a संन्यासि, risks are many. And that is why in our tradition, स्वामि चिन्मयानन्द and स्वामि दयानन्द, etc., all what they do is they never give you संन्यास दीक्षा first, what they do is they give the teaching and thereafterwards they say, if you want to become a संन्यासि, have it or if you want to marry, marry. I remember our स्वामिजि saying: I myself will search for a girl and get you married. After knowledge it doesn't make difference. Therefore it is संन्यास is risky without knowledge, therefore कृष्ण says what is important is ज्ञानम्, without ज्ञानम् every आश्रम is risky, with ज्ञानम् every आश्रम is wonderful. Therefore अर्जुन concentrate on ज्ञानम्. So this is the second topic, beautifully titled ज्ञान कर्म संन्यास, if you want to translate 'inner renunciation through knowledge', this is the second topic.

III) Then the third topic from 25th to the end 42, कृष्ण talks about the ज्ञान साधन फलानि. To attain this knowledge what all preparations are required? कृष्ण talks about many साधनs, known सहकारि साधनानि, supporting साधनs and what are they, I will just briefly mention. He talked about 12 यज्ञs, do you remember,

1) दैव यज्ञ – which is regular worship, any type of worship we do at home to any deity and

2) He talked about विषय भोग यज्ञ – convert all your interactions into worship, whatever you give you take it as offering to the Lord, whatever you take also, either take it as a प्रसाद or offering to the Lord within you. As I said, even food can be considered and offering to the Lord within, विषय भोग यज्ञः,

3) Then दमः यज्ञः – sense mastery, so discipline of the sense organs, not being a slave,

4) Then he talked about शम यज्ञः – mastery of the mind, so that it is your equipment, not that you are the equipment of the mind, like some people taking the dog for a walk, Alsatian, really solid and you will find dog is going in front and this fellow is struggling to go behind, you wonder who is leading whom, it should not be like that, let there be clarity - you lead the mind, the mind should not lead you, 'should the legs follow wherever the eyes lead to, should the mind follow wherever the legs lead to, should the man follow wherever the mind leads to?’

They sing, bring all that, therefore शम यज्ञः, the mental discipline and

5) Then he talked about द्रव्य यज्ञः, दानम् – so charity itself is a यज्ञः,

6) तपो यज्ञः – moderation in everything. So any indulgence is weakness, over indulgence is weakness, तपस् means moderation, द्रव्य यज्ञः, तपो यज्ञः,

7) योग यज्ञः – practicing the अष्टाङ्ग योग,

8) Then स्वाध्याय यज्ञः – पारायणम् of scriptures in any languages, with the knowledge of the meaning or without the knowledge of the meaning also. Without knowledge it will become mechanical, with knowledge it will be enjoyable, that is called स्वाध्याय or पारायणम्,

9) Then he talked about ज्ञान यज्ञः, two types of ज्ञान यज्ञ, one is the spiritual knowledge which is the highest and greatest यज्ञ, Self-knowledge and then acquire the Self-knowledge whatever other disciplines you have to know, language knowledge, because you to have learn the शास्त्र in one language or the other, even if you avoid संस्कृत knowledge, if I give you in English you should know English, if it is in तमिळ् you should know तमिळ्. Therefore the language knowledge and thereafterwards some thinking is required, lot of logic is involved, वेदान्त requires some thinking, not much, at least some thinking is required. They are called अपरा विद्या, subsidiary sciences, some auxiliary sciences called वेद अङ्गानि, basic knowledge whatever is required. So both of them are called ज्ञान यज्ञः,

10) Then he talked about प्राणायाम यज्ञः – practice of प्राणायाम, is also another wonder यज्ञ, if you do it with devotion and with the Lord’s name. प्राणायाम as a therapy doesn’t become यज्ञः, that is OK. There is no wrong with that, but प्राणायाम as a spiritual discipline means I should either chant the traditional मन्त्र, ॐ भूः, ॐ भुवः, ॐ

सुवः, or at least I should chant राम राम, कृष्ण कृष्ण, नमश्शिवाय, anything. So this is प्राणायाम यज्ञः and then कृष्ण talked about आहार नियम यज्ञः, आहार नियम means what: discipline in eating, it is good for the body also, extra weight will go away, we will have some mobility, which is now very doubtful and in addition to that आहार नियम controls our mind also, more about आहार नियम कृष्ण will talk about in the 6th chapter and in the 17th chapter He will talk about सात्त्विक आहार, रजस आहार and तमस आहार, etc. So thus all these यज्ञs he talked about, then he talked about the importance of गुरु. So one should approach a गुरु, who can communicate this teaching. As I had said before, there are different types of गुरु, inspiring गुरु, initiating गुरु, blessing गुरु, पाद पूजा receiving गुरु, all गुरुs are OK, but we require a गुरु, who can bring out the essential teaching of the शास्त्र in a way that I can understand and also I can have clarification. When I read the books certainly it is useful, but when I find certain portions are not clear I cannot contact the author, शङ्कराचार्य, आदि शङ्कराचार्य is great and he has written wonderful भाष्यम्s but when I have a doubt somewhere I require to clarify with someone and therefore कृष्ण says

उपदेक्ष्यन्ति ते ज्ञानं ज्ञानिनस्तत्त्वदर्शिनः ॥ ४-३४॥

May you have a spiritual guide and you revere him, worship him, serve him, etc., that is also part of the साधन, गुरु सेवा and

11) Then later कृष्ण talks about two more साधनs,

श्रद्धावाँत्तभते ज्ञानं तत्परः संयतेन्द्रियः । ... ॥ ४-३९॥

May you have the faith in the words of the scriptures and the गुरु and if you are not able to swallow any statement, if it appears to be superstition or blind faith or something or if it appears to be illogical, you can certainly ask questions but never reject the scriptures and the आचार्य and if I reject the scriptures and आचार्य, scriptures have nothing to lose, आचार्यs have nothing to lose, I only will lose something wonderful. Therefore if you are not able to understand then raise questions, any number of questions, it is free, no charge also. Some people said, three questions only and charge for each question is Rs. 300. If anybody is there please don't misunderstand, somebody told me, so he asked 'how many questions I can ask', he said 'you have already asked one question and therefore you can now ask two more, if you feel.' So for asking the question 'how many questions I have to ask', the first question is over and for that I have to pay. The traditional masters - no charge - everything free. So therefore श्रद्धा and

12) Then finally कृष्ण emphasized one more and that is तत्परः, तत्परत्वम् means commitment, be sincere. So half-hearted effort will not produce the benefit and don't criticize the scriptures. You should make a sincere attempt in understanding and also in following what you are convinced of. Once I have the conviction I should have the courage without bothering what the other people will think, स्वामिजि others are asking so many questions for coming to वेदान्त at this age itself, therefore I want to secretly come. Why should you come secretly and the office I don't want to say, then they all tease me. So that means I don't have the courage to follow what I am convinced, that courage is required for spirituality. That is what स्वामि विवेकानन्द emphasized all the time, be courageous. कृष्ण is going to tell in the 16th chapter, अभयम् सत्त्व-संशुद्धिः, if you are convinced of something why don't you follow it. So thus all these things come under ज्ञान साधनानि and of all these things what is the main साधनम्, ज्ञान यज्ञ, that is the pursuit of the scriptural study is most important one because knowledge alone can remove ignorance. All the others can support, like having a candle stand, decorative stands are there and you can have a colorful candle, all are wonderful but what removes the darkness is what, the flame, therefore give importance to all. Therefore all the other साधनs have got their roles, but none of them can remove ignorance,

अविरोधितया कर्म नाविद्याम् विनिवर्तयेत् । विद्याऽविद्याम् निहन्त्येव तेजस्तिमिरसङ्घवत् ॥ आत्मबोधः ३ ॥

ज्ञानम् alone can remove ignorance. And that ज्ञानम् can come only through scriptural enquiry, because scriptures are like a mirror to show your face. You can never replace the mirror, if you want to see your face, try to see your face without a mirror, without a reflecting surface. What choice I have? I require a reflecting surface to see my face, why can't I accept the शास्त्रदर्पण helps me see my original nature and therefore ज्ञानयोग is the primary साधन and all others are supporting साधन, that कृष्ण himself makes clear:

सर्वं कर्माखिलं पार्थ ज्ञाने परिसमाप्यते ॥ ४-३३ ॥

हे अर्जुन, ज्ञान यज्ञ is the proximate साधन, direct means of liberation. With regard to all the other साधनस you have option, everybody may not be able to give ज्ञानम्, I myself am living on alms, when I myself am taking from others, how can I give, everybody cannot do दानम्, so, the other साधनस are optional. That means optional means what, you can choose any one or two or three, of these things. Similarly, प्राणायाम यज्ञ, everybody may not be able to practice प्राणायाम. Therefore practice a select few, selected from the other साधनस, But with regard to ज्ञानयोग, no option, everybody has to come to that one day or the other. As said nicely, 'you can enter the temple प्रकार through any of the gates, northern, southern, eastern or western, but to enter the sanctum, you have got only one gate.' Thus कृष्ण glorified ज्ञानम् in that context and having talked about ज्ञान साधनस, he talked about the फलम् also.

He mentioned four types of benefits for ज्ञानम्, what are they?

1) मोहनाश – all the conflicts in life are gone, not because I have control over future, not because I have got knowledge of the future, but knowledge gives me the strength to face the future, all our conflicts are born out of our weakness, our incapacity to face the future. Once ज्ञानम् is there, I just take it to account, the known factors and jump. And the consequences can be positive or negative but I am confident, I can face because as I said every step in life involves risk and unpredictability. A ज्ञानि knows that, if he starts a big आश्रम, if it works well, good; if not, equally wonderful, fine. So मोहनाश is benefit no.1.

2) पाप नाशः – all the पापम्s done up to now belonging to the past जन्म as well as the present जन्म, up to the time of gaining knowledge whatever I have acquired they all come under सञ्चित, all the सञ्चित कर्मs are destroyed, all the आगामि कर्मs are avoided and all the प्रारब्ध कर्मs are de-fanged. Like de-sugaring, de-coffination they say, therefore the coffee without coffee, de-sugarisation - sugar minus sugar, like that प्रारब्ध कर्म will be rid of its hurting capacity, like a cobra without fang. So this is पाप नाशः and

3) Then the third one is सर्व कर्म नाशः. कर्म is separately mentioned to include पुण्यम् also, he destroys not only पाप कर्म even पुण्य कर्मs, because पुण्य कर्मs are also because of पुनरपि जननम् पुनरपि मरणम् cycle and therefore सर्व कर्म नाशः also and

4) Then comes the fourth which is a technical result and that is जीव ईश्वर ऐक्य दर्शनम्, he recognizes the essential oneness of जीव and ईश्वरः. Just like the wave understands that the essence of me - the wave and the essence of ocean, both are one and the same. Ocean may be big, wave may be small, only from the stand point of name and form, but when you go to the essence both are nothing but water. Similarly, I and God are one, अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि is also the benefit.

So thus he talks about the benefit also in this section and concludes saying अर्जुन I hope now you are very clear about your course of action. So after talking so many things what ultimately I should do that itself is in doubt स्वामिजि - if you say; 'wonderful talk but I don't know what to do,' what is the use? So therefore कृष्ण says अर्जुन you have to follow कर्मयोग first, purify the mind and then gain ज्ञान through ज्ञानयोग and be free.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय
पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

अथ पञ्चमोऽध्यायः । संन्यासयोगः ।

ॐ सदाशिव समारम्भाम् शङ्कराचार्य मध्यमाम् अरुमदाचार्य पर्यन्ताम्
वन्दे गुरु परम्पराम् ॐ ॥

CHAPTER 05, VERSES 01-03

In the three chapters of the गीता, the 2nd, 3rd and 4th chapters which have gone by, कृष्ण has primarily discussed two topics, one is regarding साधन and the other is regarding lifestyle. With regard to the साधन, spiritual discipline, कृष्ण has made it very clear that everyone has to go through कर्मयोग साधन and ज्ञानयोग साधन to attain liberation and there is no choice with regard to these two साधन. And we should know the reason also for that, between कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग there is no choice because, कर्मयोग is the means to come to ज्ञानयोग, कर्मयोग is the साधनम्, ज्ञानयोग is the साध्य. कर्मयोग is not a means for liberation, कर्मयोग is only a means to come to ज्ञानयोग and ज्ञानयोग is the means to liberation. Therefore these three things and their relationship should be very clear, कर्मयोग is the means, ज्ञानयोग is the end, ज्ञानयोग is the means, मोक्ष is the end. And we can never talk about a choice between means and end. You can have a choice between two types of means, whether this means is better or that means is better, a choice is possible, like reaching the temple, you can have two roads and you can choose between two roads. Similarly, you can have a choice between two types of ends, साध्ययोः मध्ये विकल्पः संभवति, साधनयोः मध्ये विकल्पः संभवति but you cannot have a choice between means and end. I have given an example also before, when a person wants to choose between two pants, whether this pant is better or that pant is better, he can choose. Similarly, when there are two or more shirts, he can stand in front of it and ask the question whether this shirt is better or that shirt is better, between two shirts there can be choice, between two pants there can be choice, because choice is only between similars. But can there be a choice whether today I should wear pant or shirt to come to the class, I hope you don't do that, you can never have a choice between these two because they are not similar. Similarly, कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग you can never choose between the two because they are not similar, कर्मयोग is the means, ज्ञानयोग is the end, whoever wants the end will have to necessarily take the means also. How can you choose end without choosing or going through the means. Similarly, if I have to choose the means I have to necessarily choose the end also, because choosing the means is valid and meaningful only if I have chosen the end also. Getting into a bus is meaningful only when you have chosen not only the bus but also the destination. You cannot choose the bus without choosing the destination, we are not getting into the bus for a joy-ride. Similarly, if you have chosen the destination you have to necessarily choose the means also. Suppose I go to a doctor and I say that I have got stomach pain, I want to remove the stomach pain, निवृत्तिः is my end and the doctor says wonderful, you have chosen help, freedom from pain, you have to take this tablet and I argue I am only interested in removing the pain, I don't want to take the tablet, then doctor will not give medicine for the stomach pain, doctor will have to gain medicine for madness. If I chose the end of removing the pain I have to chose the means also. Therefore choosing the means and end is complimentary, one choice will validate the other choice and the other choice will validate the first choice. Therefore never ask the question should I follow कर्मयोग or ज्ञानयोग, it is meaningless question because कर्मयोग is the साधनम् to come to ज्ञानयोग. And between ज्ञानयोग and मोक्ष also, you cannot choose one because, ज्ञानयोग is the means for liberation. So with regard to कर्मयोग, ज्ञानयोग is the end and with regard to मोक्ष, ज्ञानयोग is the means. Just like a person occupies both the father status and son status, how, with regard to his son, he is the father and with regard to his father, he is the son. राम is father from the standpoint of लवकुश and राम is son from the standpoint of दशरथ. Similarly,

ज्ञानयोग is means or end? what reply should be given. You should not answer. When I ask the question ज्ञानयोग is a means or end, you should ask the question, from whose stand point. If I ask राम is father or son, never answer the question, but ask from whose standpoint? Remember, from कर्मयोग standpoint ज्ञानयोग is the end, कर्मयोग has to culminate in ज्ञानयोग and from मोक्ष angle ज्ञानयोग is the means. So this alone कृष्ण struggled and struggled and struggled and He thinks that He has communicated but अर्जुन continues to have problems, but he seems to be clear to some extent.

तदा गन्तासि निर्वेदं श्रोतव्यस्य श्रुतस्य च ॥ २-५२॥

श्रुतिविप्रतिपन्ना ते यदा स्थास्यति निश्चला ।

समाधावचला बुद्धिस्तदा योगमवाप्स्यसि ॥ २-५३॥

In these two verses of the 2nd chapter, कृष्ण has clarified, अर्जुन! कर्मयोग will lead you to ज्ञानयोग and ज्ञानयोग will lead you to liberation. So this is one part of the teaching. This is the teaching from the angle of साधन. And कृष्ण had to teach this because there is a lot of confusion with regard to साधन. Still there are people who think कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग are alternative means of liberation, still majority of people think and they talk about different paths to liberation, if you are an active person you attain मोक्ष through कर्म, if you are intellectual person you attain मोक्ष through ज्ञानयोग, 'you go through कर्म path and I will go through ज्ञान path, and we will meet in मोक्ष.' Even now there is a very big confusion. शङ्कराचार्य struggles to clarify this confusion and he says कर्मयोग cannot lead you to liberation, it will take you to ज्ञानयोग, ज्ञानयोग will lead to liberation, this is one part of the teaching.

Then there is second part of teaching also with regard to the lifestyle, because a person can lead two types of lifestyles, one is life of activity in society and the other is life of seclusion and withdrawal –

प्रवृत्ति or निवृत्तिः, life of work or life of withdrawal, life in society or life in seclusion. So life of activity is called गृहस्थ आश्रम and life of withdrawal is called संन्यास आश्रम. Thus there are two आश्रमs open to every human being, in fact, in the olden days, after गुरुकुल वास for 15-20 years, for every individual both आश्रमs are open, one can either get married and take to गृहस्थ आश्रम or one can take to संन्यास and take to a life of seclusion. Now with regard to this lifestyle, we use the संस्कृत word निष्ठा. So previously I talked about साधन topic, now the second topic in the गीता is निष्ठा topic, निष्ठा means lifestyle. And with regard to these two lifestyles, main two lifestyles, what is कृष्ण's teaching? कृष्ण wants to point out that with regard to the lifestyle, a person has got a choice. With regard to कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग there is no choice, everyone has go through कर्म, everyone has to go through ज्ञानम्, there is no choice. So साधनयोः विकल्पः नास्ति, विकल्पः means choice, there is no choice. But निष्ठयोः मध्ये, between two types of lifestyles there is a choice. Therefore कृष्ण wants to say, a human being can get married and live a life of a गृहस्थ or a human being can become a monk, a संन्यासि and live a life of seclusion, but what कृष्ण wants to emphasize is whatever be your lifestyle, you don't have a choice with regard to साधन. That means what? In both the आश्रमs, one has to follow कर्म as well as ज्ञानम्. In both the आश्रमs, one has to follow कर्म as well as ज्ञानम् and that कर्म alone is called आश्रम धर्मः. So गृहस्थ आश्रम धर्म will be the कर्मयोग of a गृहस्थ, संन्यास आश्रम धर्म will be the कर्मयोग for a संन्यासि. A गृहस्थ will keep the sacred thread, a संन्यासि uses a दण्ड, that दण्ड is like the sacred thread. गृहस्थ has got rituals and prayers and पूजाs and पारायणम्s and संन्यासि has also rituals, prayers, पूजाs, पारायणम्s. The type of पारायणम्s vary, for गृहस्थ विष्णुसहस्रनाम, etc., are emphasized but for the संन्यासि उपनिषत्, भाष्यम्s, etc., are emphasized, पूजा is required. For a गृहस्थ, सगुण ईश्वर नामs are given like नमश्शिवाय, नारायणाय etc., for a संन्यासि, उपनिषत् महावाक्य मन्त्रs are given for जप, or ॐकार जप, हंस मन्त्र जप, महावाक्य जप. Thus for both, the पूजा etc., are common, because both require what, the necessary mental condition to come to ज्ञानयोग. A संन्यासि also should qualify himself to enter ज्ञानयोग, a गृहस्थ also has to qualify himself or herself to come to ज्ञानयोग. So what is कृष्ण is saying: take to any आश्रम but go through स्वधर्म and following स्वधर्म is called कर्मयोग and by following स्वधर्म what will happen, you will smoothly come to ज्ञानयोग and once you are ready for ज्ञानयोग, कृष्ण says both गृहस्थ and संन्यासि should come to ज्ञानयोग, which is वेदान्त विचारः, Self-enquiry. गृहस्थ also must approach a गुरु and do Self-enquiry, संन्यासि must also approach a गुरु and do Self-enquiry. Therefore both persons should do कर्मयोग and both persons have to go through ज्ञानयोग and both of them will get liberated. Therefore what is the conclusion, in साधन there is no choice, in lifestyle you have a choice. And if you ask which lifestyle is better, as I had told you before, both lifestyles have their own plus and minus points. In गृहस्थ आश्रम there are lot of plus points. Some of you may wonder, स्वामिजि, I don't think that there is something like plus point in गृहस्थ आश्रम, don't say like that! If there is no plus point nobody will be entering गृहस्थ आश्रम at all, all कल्याण मण्डपम्s are booked 2 years before, indicating that they are seeing something, either there is an actual plus point or there is a perceived plus point. So certainly there are plus points, the plus point is ideal for following पञ्च महायज्ञ, doing lot of noble service to the society, गृहस्थ आश्रम is useful and there is security. In fact, many people get into only for the sake of security, in the old age our son will take care of me, whether he actually does is a different matter, but there is a hope that the children will take care and I can have bank balance and I can have ornaments, I can have shares, I can have LIC. संन्यासि cannot do all those things, he cannot have life insurance, he cannot have shares, he cannot own a house, he cannot have anything. So therefore गृहस्थ आश्रम has got lot of support, security is there, but the

minus point is what, equal responsibility. It will start from LKG admission onwards, In fact, even before you get a child you should work for admission. And now for the admission what amount you have to give that alone we used for our entire education. So therefore, security is plus point, responsibility is minus point in the sense, responsibility means anxiety, what will happen to child, whether he will get tenth pass, स्वामिजि your full blessing is required. If 10th examinations come, there will be too much crowd in front of the संन्यासिs. स्वामिजि my son is writing 10th, स्वामिजि my son is writing 12th, special blessings, anxiety is there and if you are forward community, almost doomed. In संन्यास आश्रम there is no responsibility - no wife, no husband, no children, you need not bother about anything, if you get hunger say भवती भिक्षाम् देहि, somebody will give भिक्षा, so there is no responsibility, but there is no security also. Which is plus, which is minus? Every आश्रम has got its own plus and minus points. Therefore कृष्ण wants to say that take to any आश्रम and pursue both the साधन and get liberation. So thus साधन teaching and निष्ठा teaching, both कृष्ण has given in chapters 2, 3 and 4. Now अर्जुन wants further clarity regarding this. And therefore first he wants to ask about the निष्ठा or lifestyle, because the problem is once choice is given, there is a headache. Always decision making is difficult. Suppose you get the admission for your son in one university only, no problem. Suppose there are two or more universities, problem. Similarly, you want son-in-law or daughter-in-law, there is only one available and no headache and you have to go ahead putting the burden on the Lord, but you have got five जातकम्s and all of them are perfectly matching, all are fine ones, which to choose, headache. The greatest problem in life is decision-making and that is why we always either postpone or avoid or ask स्वामिजि, so that you can wash-off the hand and put the responsibility on him. We don't want to make decision because we don't want to face the consequences of our decisions, we don't have the mental strength. अर्जुन also faces the same problem, कृष्ण you are telling both आश्रमs are OK, now what should I do, just tell me. If you see in the 4th chapter, कृष्ण has talked about both गृहस्थ आश्रम ज्ञानि as well as संन्यास आश्रम ज्ञानि.

त्यक्त्वा कर्मफलासङ्गं नित्यतृप्तो निराश्रयः ।

कर्मण्यभिप्रवृत्तोऽपि नैव किञ्चित्करोति सः ॥ ४-२०॥

निराशीर्यतचित्तात्मा त्यक्तसर्वपरिग्रहः ।

शारीरं केवलं कर्म कुर्वन्नाप्नोति किल्बिषम् ॥ ४-२१॥

What one verse talks about a गृहस्थ-ज्ञानि, who is in गृहस्थ आश्रम and he has attained knowledge and another verse talks about a संन्यासि, who has attained ज्ञानम्. So that means you can be in any of the आश्रम and since कृष्ण has talked about both आश्रम, अर्जुन is again confused, 'what should I do.' Emotionally his mind votes for संन्यास now, you know why, because he has to kill his people, till now he was silent about संन्यास, when everything is fine nobody wants to talk about संन्यास, but there are problems all over, स्वामिजि I want to come to your आश्रम. So therefore, when problems come, we have this problem - अर्जुन in crisis, he wants to escape and therefore, he wants कृष्ण's endorsement. And therefore the 5th chapter begins with the same निष्ठा confusion, confusion regarding the lifestyle – whether संन्यास is better or गृहस्थ आश्रम is better. With this background the teaching starts and कृष्ण wants to clarify all about संन्यास, that is why the very chapter is called संन्यास योगः or कर्म-संन्यास योगः. कृष्ण is threadbare analysis what is संन्यास and the beauty is in spite of this clear analysis अर्जुन manages to have confusion further also. In fact, he makes the omnipotent कृष्ण himself helpless. Sometimes the students are so powerful that even the best teacher they make helpless, because you find in the 18th chapter also, अर्जुन asks the same question,

संन्यासस्य महाबाहो तत्त्वमिच्छामि वेदितुम् ।

त्यागस्य च हृषीकेश पृथक्केशिनिषूदन ॥ १८-१॥

In the 18th chapter also he asks about संन्यास, in the 5th chapter also he asks the same topic. With this background we will have to enter the chapter, we will read the first verse.

Verse No .01

अथ पञ्चमोऽध्यायः ।

अर्जुन उवाच ।

संन्यासं कर्मणां कृष्ण पुनर्योगं च शंससि ।

यच्छ्रेय एतयोरिकं तन्मे ब्रूहि सुनिश्चितम् ॥ ५-१॥

संन्यासम् कर्मणाम् कृष्ण पुनः योगम् च शंससि ।

यत् श्रेयः एतयोः एकम् तत् मे ब्रूहि सुनिश्चितम् ॥ ५-१॥

हे कृष्ण! कर्मणाम् संन्यासम्, पुनः योगम् च शंससि, एतयोः यत् एकम् श्रेयः तत् मे सुनिश्चितम् ब्रूहि ।

So in spite of कृष्ण's clear teaching, अर्जुन continues to have the confusion, therefore he asks the question in the beginning of the chapter. अर्जुन उवाच, अर्जुन asked Lord कृष्ण and what did he ask, हे कृष्ण! You are glorifying both the आश्रमs, this is sometimes the problem in our scriptures, you will find गृहस्थ आश्रम is also glorified and संन्यास आश्रम is also glorified. In fact, गृहस्थ is supposed to be the pillar of the society who nourishes all the other three आश्रमs, because all the other three आश्रमs live on भिक्षा, ब्रह्मचारि has to live on भिक्षा alone, वानप्रस्थि has to live on भिक्षा alone, संन्यासि also has to live on भिक्षा alone. So if the three आश्रमs have to received भिक्षा, somebody has to give. Suppose गृहस्थ also starts living on भिक्षा, who will give, so therefore, गृहस्थ has to give भिक्षा and therefore गृहस्थ आश्रम is glorified in Hinduism. There are certain other monastic religions who glorify the संन्यासिs and they bring down गृहस्थ आश्रमs, in certain religions, even in Hinduism itself, there are certain सम्प्रदायs who glorify संन्यासिs and who criticize गृहस्थ आश्रम, they say don't go near the गृहस्थs too much, attachment will come, don't stay in their houses, etc., but that is not the Hindu culture, that is not the वैदिक culture, गृहस्थ आश्रम is a glorious आश्रम. आश्रम means to help a person in spiritual साधन. So when you call रमणाश्रम, रामकृष्णाश्रम, this आश्रम, etc., why do you call आश्रम, because that is a place of spiritual साधन. So when you use the word आश्रम it is a place of spiritual साधन, even family life is called गृहस्थ आश्रम which means our शास्त्र tells, in family also one can follow spiritual साधन and therefore गृहस्थ आश्रम is never inferior आश्रम and therefore हे कृष्ण! You have glorified योगम् शंससि, योगः means the कर्म निष्ठा, the lifestyle of a गृहस्थ, lifestyle of activity, lifestyle of social involvement. That is the meaning of योगः. In short, गृहस्थ आश्रम. शंससि – You are glorifying. Where has कृष्ण glorified, in the previous chapter,

गृहस्थ आश्रमि ज्ञानि is so glorious that he lives amidst activity and relationship but still he is like the lotus leaf in water unaffected by that. In the 3rd chapter, कृष्ण gives the example of जनक महाराज, who was in the society, but he was untainted. These are all glorification of what आश्रम, गृहस्थ आश्रम, कर्मण्यभिप्रवृत्तः, very much involved and in the next verse, संन्यासम् कर्मणाम् च शंससि, you are also glorifying the renunciate, the one who has given up all the कर्म. Where did कृष्ण glorify him, in the same 4th chapter in the next verse itself,

कृष्ण uses the word त्यक्त-सर्व-परिग्रहः – the one who has given up all the possessions and relationships which is the lifestyle of संन्यास, him also you glorify, therefore कर्मणाम् संन्यासम् शंससि योगम् च, शङ्कराचार्य says: योग means कर्मणाम् अनुष्ठानम् च शंससि – performance of कर्म you are glorifying, renunciation of कर्म you are glorifying, you are blowing hot and cold, like the politicians election campaign full of contradictions. So कृष्ण tell me, what should I do. So यत् श्रेयः एतयोः – between these two lifestyles tell me which one is better, don't ask me to do both, it is like asking me 'to have your cake and eat it too'. I cannot follow both because they are diagonally opposite, गृहस्थ आश्रम and संन्यास आश्रम, कर्म अनुष्ठानम् and कर्म त्याग and diagonally opposite to perform the कर्म and to be in the गृहस्थ आश्रम is opposed to संन्यास आश्रम and to be in the संन्यास आश्रम is opposed to गृहस्थ आश्रम, therefore I cannot parallelly follow life of activity and life of seclusion. If you stay in society seclusion is not possible, if you are in seclusion you cannot be in society, therefore I cannot follow both and therefore I have to necessarily chose one of the two. Therefore एतयोः एकम् – between these two lifestyle, very careful, not between these two साधनस, in साधनस there is no choice, everybody has to follow both कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग, here the choice is with regard to what: lifestyle, between these two lifestyles tell me एकम्, tell me which one is better and then don't make wishy-washy statement, it is also OK, that is also OK, don't give me evasive answer, सुनिश्चितम् तत् मे ब्रूहि, if you want to take time for thinking, I will have a cup of coffee and wait! But don't ask me to decide, I want to give the decision making to you, you think over and tell me what I should do. So तत् सुनिश्चितम् मे ब्रूहि. So this is अर्जुन's question and कृष्ण wants to again teach, how much patience is required to repeat the same thing again and again! So कृष्ण out of compassion, repeats the same as though it is a new topic. Because if कृष्ण tells that I have already taught this like that person, in that wedding concert generally nobody listens, because it is meant for camaraderie, speaking to each other, etc. So nobody to appreciate these people, and there was only person sitting in front and nodding the head and the eyes are open and therefore he was not nodding out of sleep. He thought at least one person is listening and therefore he did 'तोडि रग आलापना' (a little accent modulation) for one hour, this fellow was saying bravo, wonderful and all those things and after the आलापना, रागम्, तालम्, पल्लवि, तनि आवर्तनम् all over and this person sends a chit, I hear that your तोडि राग is wonderful, can you please sing it. So if this person does not commit suicide it is only because of powerful प्रारब्धम्. Similarly, कृष्ण cannot say that I have talked about that only in the last three chapters, अर्जुन will feel bad and therefore as though it is a fresh topic, again कृष्ण starts from LKG. So he says:

Verse No .02

श्रीभगवानुवाच ।

संन्यासः कर्मयोगश्च निःश्रेयसकरावुभौ ।

तयोस्तु कर्मसंन्यासात्कर्मयोगो विशिष्यते ॥ ५-२॥

संन्यासः कर्म-योगः च निःश्रेयसकरौ उभौ ।

तयोः तु कर्म-संन्यासात् कर्म-योगः विशिष्यते ॥ ५-२॥

संन्यासः कर्म-योगः च उभौ निःश्रेयसकरौ, तयोः तु कर्म-संन्यासात् कर्म-योगः विशिष्यते ।

So first कृष्ण points out that both आश्रमs are equally good, because as far as plus and minus points are concerned every आश्रम has got its own plus and minuses. That is the nature of the world, that is why in the वेदान्त the world is called द्वन्द्व. It is a beautiful name, द्वन्द्व means nothing in the creation is absolutely good, everything in the creation will have its own minus points, only ‘The grass is always greener on the other side of the fence’!. Is rented house better or own house, interview both types of people and they will come out with the problems, in rented house we have to vacate from time to time, whereas the owner is worried that you will claim the house and therefore you want to own the house, if you own the house there are other set of problems. So which is better, everything is wonderful and everything has got minus points also and therefore कृष्ण says both आश्रमs are equally good, संन्यासः कर्म-योगः च उभौ निःश्रेयसकरौ. Both आश्रमs are equally good for following your साधन, which साधन, both the साधन, कर्मयोग साधन and ज्ञानयोग साधन. You will find in गृहस्थ आश्रम, कर्मयोग can be efficiently followed, but for ज्ञानयोग the obstacles are more, because you require an undistracted life. In गृहस्थ आश्रम the duties are all seen as obstacles, to attend this wedding, that funeral, that function, etc., phone, visitors, not able to read the book, etc. Therefore in गृहस्थ आश्रम, कर्मयोग can be ideally followed, when ज्ञानयोग comes you don't have quiet time, in संन्यास आश्रम कर्मयोग cannot be ideally followed because he doesn't have the resources to do lot of कर्म, there is no money with him he cannot do any good कर्म, he has to manage with limited activities, like जप, पूजा, गुरु शुश्रूषा, etc., therefore there are certain advantages in following some साधन and certain disadvantages with regard to certain other साधन. But in both you can follow the साधन and attain liberation. Therefore उभौ अपि निःश्रेयसकरौ, निःश्रेयस means मोक्ष, in both आश्रम one can follow the साधन and attain liberation. So if both are equal then you cannot talk about inferiority or superiority, but still one thing is possible, what is that, with regard to a particular person and the mental makeup, we can say for this particular person this आश्रम is safer, for the other particular person this आश्रम is more conducive, like asking whether science group is better, economic group is better or biology group is better or home science is better or nutrition is better, all sciences are equally good, but we can ask the question - for me which is better. For some people mathematics will not come at any cost, so then they will history or some other thing, literature or something. So therefore even though objectively all sciences are equally good and wonderful and useful, for my mental makeup I can ask, which is group better for me. Similarly, शास्त्र also talks about which one is better with regard to the nature or mental makeup of a person. And what कृष्ण wants to say is संन्यास आश्रम requires a particular mental makeup which is not that easy, संन्यास आश्रम requires a particular mental makeup which is not that easy, if that mental makeup is there, संन्यास आश्रम is wonderful, but if that mental makeup is not there, संन्यास आश्रम can be terrible. So संन्यास आश्रम by itself is neither wonderful nor terrible, for an unprepared person it is dangerous and for a prepared person it is wonderful and कृष्ण says for majority of people to have the mental makeup for संन्यास आश्रम is not that easy. Therefore, कृष्ण says: for majority life of activity, गृहस्थआश्रम is safer and ideal and therefore कृष्ण says: तयोः तु between these two आश्रम कर्म-योगः विशिष्यते, गृहस्थ आश्रम life is superior and better than कर्म-संन्यासात्, than संन्यास आश्रम. For whom? For most of the people. And that is why in the वेदs also, there are two statements, one is the general rule for the entire humanity and there is a particular rule for exceptions, जाबाल उपनिषत्, शङ्कराचार्य repeatedly quotes:

ब्रह्मचर्यं समाप्य गृही भवेत् । गृही भूत्वा वनी भवेत् । वनी भूत्वा प्रव्रजेत् ।

the general rule is one goes to गृहस्थ आश्रम from ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम. This is the general rule, अथवा, every rule has got an exception, which one you say first, general or exception, always you present the general rule only first, the उपनिषत् also presents the general rule applicable to majority, like the rule - if the green comes you should go and if the red comes you should stop. But there are particular cases, some cars with red light on the top or whatever you call it, ambulance or minister or something like that, the signals are not relevant, exceptions. So therefore the उपनिषत् says:

अथवा, इतरथा यदहरेव विरजेत् तदहरेव प्रव्रजेत् ॥ जाबालोपनिषत् ॥

from ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम itself one can take to संन्यास आश्रम also and when a person wants to do that exceptionally शास्त्र tells it should be done with the help of a गुरु's advice, that is why संन्यास आश्रम traditionally is given only when there is concurrence between both the गुरु and the शिष्य, if the गुरु feels शिष्य is ready, गुरु tells you can take संन्यास and he asks the question, how do you feel and sometimes शिष्य tells, I am afraid, I don't want to take now, I will take later or I don't want to take at all, शिष्य withdraws even though गुरु suggests. And sometime शिष्य is all enthusiastic and says I will take, गुरु says not necessary, you go through this आश्रम properly. The idea is that there should be concurrence between the गुरु and the शिष्य because it involves lot of risk also. And the greatest risk is संन्यास आश्रम is one way traffic. One traffic means, one can go to संन्यास आश्रम from ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम, one can go to the संन्यास from गृहस्थ आश्रम, one can go to संन्यास आश्रम from वानप्रस्थ आश्रम, there is a route from all these आश्रम to go to संन्यास आश्रम, but there is no way from संन्यास आश्रम to ब्रह्मचर्य, गृहस्थ, वानप्रस्थ. Therefore it is an irreversible decision and that is why with regard to euthanasia and other things also there is a big problem, that is why the Government is hesitating, wherever irreversible steps are involved, one has to be extra careful. Therefore कृष्ण says: तयोः तु – between the two आश्रम, कर्म-संन्यासात् – better than संन्यास आश्रम, कर्मयोगः विशिष्यते – गृहस्थ आश्रम excels, it is better choice. When He says 'better choice' it is not for all, for majority of the people. And that is why we say गीता is meant for the general public. Whereas the उपनिषत्s always addresses the mature people and therefore you will find उपनिषत् always glorify संन्यास.

you will find full of संन्यास glorification and if you read शाङ्कर भाष्य, it is 10 times more, you will find that in शाङ्कराचार्य's commentary 'man' means संन्यासि. That is why I don't teach भाष्यम् in the public, because repeatedly he talks about संन्यास, you will develop doubts. गीता is very good because the teacher is गृहस्थ, who is the teacher कृष्ण, what type of गृहस्थ, 16,008 remember, कृष्ण has got 16,008 wives that means महा गृहस्थ, अर्जुन is not inferior, wherever he goes he gets wives, so he is also महा गृहस्थ, व्यासाचार्य is a गृहस्थ, गृहस्थ teaching गृहस्थ compiled by गृहस्थ and therefore it is ideal to teach the society, कर्म-योगः विशिष्यते, you can all be happy. I am in minority now,

Verse No .03

ज्ञेयः स नित्यसंन्यासी यो न द्वेष्टि न काङ्क्षति ।

निर्द्वन्द्वो हि महाबाहो सुखं बन्धात्प्रमुच्यते ॥ ५-३॥

ज्ञेयः सः नित्य-संन्यासी यः न द्वेष्टि न काङ्क्षति ।

निर्द्वन्द्वः हि महाबाहो सुखम् बन्धात् प्रमुच्यते ॥ ५-३॥

यः न द्वेष्टि, न (च) काङ्क्षति, सः नित्य-संन्यासी ज्ञेयः, महाबाहो! हि निर्द्वन्द्वः बन्धात् सुखम् प्रमुच्यते ।

Now that कृष्ण has recommended गृहस्थ आश्रम then a person may wonder, is there a method by which I can get the advantages of both आश्रमs, our बुद्धि, we want to have both, ‘have your cake and eat it too’, is there any method by which I can be a गृहस्थ and also enjoy the advantages of संन्यास आश्रम also. कृष्ण knows अर्जुन must be thinking of that, and so कृष्ण also tells there is a method and what is that, He says: handle your राग-द्वेष. राग-द्वेष alone makes गृहस्थ आश्रम burdensome. There are so many situations which are beyond your control, because in गृहस्थ आश्रम your life is governed by so many people around. For संन्यासि there is no problem, his life is not governed by wife, not children, his life is not influenced by many factors because he doesn’t have relationship with many factors, but in the case of गृहस्थ आश्रम there are so many factors both animate and inanimate, as they as जामात दशमो ब्रह्मः, a गृहस्थ आश्रम has got 9 planets governing his life and once he gets a son-in-law he is the 10th planet, because what is planet that which influences you but that which you cannot influence. A planet is that controls you and which you cannot control, son-in-law is exactly like that, whatever he does will affect your daughter but at the same time you cannot do anything also.

Like that there are so many relationship, when you get married to a girl, you are only putting three knot in one neck, but remember parallelly you are putting knots in many necks, so many in-laws, generally you do not know because they are hidden, you don't see that, it is not three, but three thousand knots you are putting. If there are unmarried people they won't marry if I tell all these things. So there are many infinite factors, so if you develop राग-द्वेषः, likes and dislikes your life will become miserable. Therefore, what you have to learn is how to manage your राग-द्वेषः so that whether your likes and dislikes are fulfilled or not, you learn to adjust and manage, which requires tremendous strength and therefore कृष्ण says a गृहस्थ is a संन्यासि if he has learnt to handle likes and dislikes, when some relationship lands on Sunday evening before coming to गीता class, what to do, he cannot anything, you have to sit biting the teeth, but some people do an intelligent thing, they bring that person also to the class. But if it is गीता class, I don't mind, any newcomer can understand, but if it is an उपनिषत् class, it becomes my headache, because when I look at their face they don't understand, because उपनिषत् is a higher type. You have solved your problem but you have given your problem to me. So therefore, handle your राग-द्वेषः, गृहस्थ आश्रम is equal to संन्यास आश्रम, निवृत्त रागस्य गृहम् तपोवनम्. The house itself is a आश्रम who has managed his राग-द्वेषः. How to manage राग-द्वेषः is not said here, some other context we will discuss. That is the trick. More details in the next class.

From Lord कृष्ण's teaching in the previous three chapters, we came to know that there is no choice with regard to spiritual साधनs, especially कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग. You should remember that all spiritual साधनs are broadly classified into two, one is ज्ञानयोग which is the pursuit of ज्ञानम् and the second is the कर्मयोग which is meant for preparing the mind for knowledge and all the साधनs that we do to prepare the mind will come under कर्मयोग only. Even पतञ्जलि's अष्टाङ्ग योग will come under कर्मयोग only, all forms of meditations we do to refine and sharpen the mind, so all forms of साधनs including अष्टाङ्ग योग and varieties of meditations, they also come under कर्मयोग only. And even the word भक्तियोगः depending upon the meaning of भक्ति will come under one of these two योगs only. When भक्तियोग is understood as पूजा or any type of सगुण ध्यानम्, all that type of भक्तियोगः will come under कर्मयोग only. And भक्तियोग means the शास्त्रिय study. So the word भक्तियोगः is used in different meanings in शास्त्र and one of the meanings of भक्तियोगः is शास्त्रिय study and when भक्तियोगः has the meaning of शास्त्रिय study, which we will see in the 12th chapter of the गीता, there the भक्तियोगः must be equated to ज्ञानयोग. So thus the word भक्तियोग is common for both कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग - lower level of भक्तियोगः is called कर्मयोग, higher level of भक्तियोग is called ज्ञानयोग. Thus there is no exclusive भक्तियोग separate from कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग and therefore all the साधनs will fall within these two alone. And according to the scriptures, everyone will have to go through कर्मयोग to prepare the mind and everyone has to necessarily come to ज्ञानयोग to attain liberation and therefore I said in the last class, there is no choice with regard to साधनs. But we do have a choice with regard to the lifestyle that we adopt,

1) Either we can be in the society and we can pursue both कर्म and ज्ञानम् or

2) We can be outside the society as a संन्यासि and follow both the साधनs and In fact, there is a third option also which I told in the 3rd chapter, what is the third option:

3) Be in the society and follow कर्मयोग, get out of the society and follow ज्ञानयोग.

These are the three options. Can you see the three options?

➤ One option is: be a गृहस्थ, a householder follow कर्म and ज्ञानम्,

➤ The second option is don't become a गृहस्थ at all, from ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम straightaway take away to संन्यास and in संन्यास आश्रम, follow both purification and knowledge,

➤ The third option is: enter गृहस्थ आश्रम, follow कर्मयोग, then quit गृहस्थ आश्रम (don't be afraid, it is only an option) and become a संन्यासि and follow ज्ञानयोग.

In fact, third option is really the vision of the वेद, वेद wants us to go through all the आश्रमs, but the compromised version is what: be in गृहस्थ आश्रम itself and follow both कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग and therefore कृष्ण wants to say: in lifestyles you have very many options, but of all those options the best आश्रम is गृहस्थ आश्रम. So in the election, कृष्ण is going to vote for गृहस्थ आश्रम, therefore you can all be happy, only I am in the defeated party and therefore कृष्ण said better तयोः तु कर्म-संन्यासात् कर्म-योगः विशिष्यते, कर्म-संन्यासात् means संन्यास आश्रमात्, कर्मयोगः means गृहस्थ आश्रम विशिष्यते, is superior. Then naturally the question will come, how can a person follow spirituality in गृहस्थ आश्रम, when there are lot of problems all over. So for that कृष्ण says, गृहस्थ आश्रम by itself is not a problem. गृहस्थ आश्रम by itself is not a problem, if you know how to handle गृहस्थ आश्रम, then you will have the advantage of गृहस्थ आश्रम and you can avoid the problems of गृहस्थ आश्रम and how to do that? कृष्ण says, in गृहस्थ आश्रम the primary problem, In fact, in any आश्रम, but especially in गृहस्थ आश्रम, is राग-द्वेषः, it is the likes and dislikes that we have with regard to everything that we are involved, we have got an expectation from everything we are associated with, right from the type of house and there afterwards we have expectations from the spouse and the ideal spouse, our imagination is such that even if भगवान् comes it will not work, everyone has his own pluses and minus. Similarly, children, you have got tremendous expectation, thus as a गृहस्थ I am involved in so many thing and with regard to everything I have got an ideal in my mind and when things fall short of my ideal, it disturbs me tremendously, therefore we should know how to handle attachment and aversion and therefore कृष्ण says: यः न द्वेष्टि न काङ्क्षति, that intelligent householder who knows to knows to manage the राग-द्वेषः, द्वेष्टि refers to द्वेषः, काङ्क्षति refers to रागः, the one who knows how to handle, one who conquers, one who is a master of राग-द्वेषः, न द्वेष्टि, that person is नित्य-संन्यासी. कृष्ण tells such a गृहस्थ will have as much peace of mind as a संन्यासि can have. What is the advantage in संन्यास आश्रम, संन्यासि doesn't have any duties and all for wife or children and therefore he will have a quality time or quality mind to pursue वेदान्त, that is the advantage of संन्यास आश्रम, he need not bother about children's education or their marriage, all those things, therefore the advantage of संन्यास आश्रम is a light mind. कृष्ण says if you know how to handle रागः द्वेषः, you can also enjoy the same light mind as a संन्यासि enjoys and therefore such a गृहस्थ is as good as a संन्यासि. Only he doesn't have कावि, कावि-less संन्यासि, who is कावि-less संन्यासि, the one who has mastered the राग-द्वेषः, therefore, सः नित्य-संन्यासी ज्ञेयः. That is why in the stories and all they quote जनक, how जनक was learning वेदान्त from his गुरु along with other संन्यासिs and these संन्यासिs looked down upon गृहस्थ जनक, because there is a problem, some संन्यासिs do have a problem of looking down upon गृहस्थ, we are all संन्यासिs! So संन्यासिs were looking down upon जनक and the गुरु wanted to reveal the superiority of जनक and he created an illusion of a huge fire accident, in which the palace also was burning and the thatched कुटियाs (hermitage) of the संन्यासिs were also burning with their meager dress of extra कौपीनम्, only one is there, nothing else, but when the report came that the whole place is on fire, these so called संन्यासिs, they were so attached to the thatched shed and their meager dress that they ran to save those possessions and it seems जनक was listening to the वेदान्त teaching and he was completely unaware of all those things and these संन्यासिs went and saw that the whole thing was an illusion, the गुरु created to teach a lesson and when they came back, they found that still the class is continuing and you know who is the only student, जनक! So कृष्ण says: सः नित्य-संन्यासी, कावि doesn't guarantee detachment. So a person can have काषाय वस्त्रम् and

पश्यन्नपि च न पश्यति मूढः उदरनिमित्तम् बहुकृतवेषः ॥ भजगोविन्दम् १४ ॥

A person can have external dress and internal attachment and therefore कृष्ण says a गृहस्थ is an inner संन्यासि if he has mastered राग-द्वेषः. And here also we have to note an important point, कृष्ण does not say, you should not have राग-द्वेषः. कृष्ण does not say you should not have राग-द्वेषः, because a human being cannot exist without राग-द्वेषः. We certainly will have certain likes and we certainly will have certain dislikes. As our स्वामिजि beautifully says, even gods have got their liked-musical instrument, सरस्वती doesn't choose flute, कृष्ण doesn't choose वीणा, they also like particular instrument, they also like particular वाहनम्, you see what विनायक chose, the rat. And therefore कृष्ण himself said in the 3rd chapter,

इन्द्रियस्य इन्द्रियस्य-अर्थे राग-द्वेषौ व्यवस्थितौ । ॥ ३-३४॥

You will certainly have certain preferences in life, that is inevitable. In fact, the very definition of your personality is based on your like and dislikes. Whenever somebody wants to interview someone and you want to know the personality of that person, they will ask the question, which book you like, which dress you like, which author you look, which music you like, northern, southern, western, how do you define a personality, in terms of likes and dislikes only. Therefore कृष्ण doesn't want you to get rid of likes and dislikes. कृष्ण says don't be a slave of your likes and dislikes. If you are able to fulfill them, wonderful and if you are not able to fulfill them also you should know how to face them. So mastery of likes and dislikes is converting them into non-binding desires. I have discussed this in the 3rd chapter, have desires, but make it धार्मिक and non-binding. Non-binding desires means what: I want my child to become an IAS officer, or I want him to become this and that, any parent and every parent can dream and you don't know what he or she is going to become and with all your effort your son may end as a संन्यासि like me, my parents would never have perhaps dreamt, they had seen so many dreams and ultimately it ended in my becoming a संन्यासि. So how do you know, therefore have dreams but be ready to face whatever happens, this is called management of राग-द्वेषः, not destruction, but management of राग-द्वेषः. If you have you are a संन्यासि. Therefore कृष्ण says, हे महाबाहो! हे अर्जुन! निर्द्वन्द्वः, that person who has managed the pairs of opposites consisting of राग and द्वेष, लाभ and नष्ट, मान and अपमान, संयोग and वियोग, all these pairs the one who can handle, such a person is called निर्द्वन्द्वः – a master of the pairs of opposites and such a person बन्धात् प्रमुच्यते – he will or she will definitely attain मोक्ष, without going to संन्यास आश्रम, remaining in गृहस्थ आश्रम such a person can attain मोक्ष. How: of course, by following these two साधन, first कर्मयोग and next ज्ञानयोग, there is no escape from ज्ञानयोग, being in गृहस्थ आश्रम and attending the Saturday-Sunday classes. In those days, these classes were not available, if you have to study वेदान्त you have to go to ऋषीकेश. So you are supposed to go there, instead we have come here. So therefore, wonderful, this is गुरुकुल, make use of this opportunity, you are following ज्ञानयोग remaining in गृहस्थ आश्रम and how सुखम् – comfortably, you can go and eat at home, you don't have any problems of संन्यास आश्रम, at the same time you get the benefit of ज्ञानम्. How lucky you are! So therefore, सुखम् means effortlessly, they get liberated. Continuing;

साङ्ख्ययोगौ पृथग्बालाः प्रवदन्ति न पण्डिताः ।

एकमप्यास्थितः सम्यग्भयोर्विन्दते फलम् ॥ ५-४॥

साङ्ख्य-योगौ पृथक् बालाः प्रवदन्ति न पण्डिताः ।

एकम् अपि आस्थितः सम्यक् उभयोः विन्दते फलम् ॥ ५-४॥

साङ्ख्य-योगौ पृथक् (इति) बालाः प्रवदन्ति, न पण्डिताः । एकम् अपि सम्यक् आस्थितः (पुरुषः) उभयोः फलम् विन्दते ।

Therefore कृष्ण concludes, both आश्रमs are equally efficacious. कृष्ण doesn't talk about four आश्रमs here. He is talking only two आश्रमs into account, here आश्रम means way of life and the two आश्रमs in कृष्ण's mind are गृहस्थ आश्रम known as प्रवृत्ति मार्ग and संन्यास आश्रम known as निवृत्ति मार्ग, life of seclusion. And कृष्ण doesn't take the other two आश्रमs because, ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम is more a preparation for गृहस्थ आश्रम. So it is more a stepping stone for गृहस्थ आश्रम and therefore ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम is included in गृहस्थ आश्रम. Similarly, वानप्रस्थ आश्रम is a stepping stone for संन्यास आश्रम and therefore वानप्रस्थ आश्रम is taken as integrally included in संन्यास आश्रम, therefore the four आश्रमs, कृष्ण has essentially divided into two, गृहस्थ and संन्यास and कृष्ण says both ways of life are equally efficacious, nobody should compare and develop a superiority complex, neither should a गृहस्थ feel that he is superior to संन्यासि nor should a संन्यासि feel that he is superior to गृहस्थ. And कृष्ण strongly warns, if a person says one of these two is superior to the other, that person is ignorant, बालाः प्रवदन्ति, बालाः means childish people, immature people, uninformed people, only they प्रवदन्ति, प्रवदन्ति means prattle. So बालाः प्रवदन्ति – only the ignorant people prattle, what do they say: साङ्ख्य-योगौ पृथक्, साङ्ख्य means संन्यास आश्रम, the life of seclusion, योग means गृहस्थ आश्रम, life of responsibility, life in society. These two आश्रमs are पृथक्, पृथक् means they are separate. They are not equal, they are unequal, one is superior to other, इति बालाः प्रवदन्ति. Then what about the informed people? न पण्डिताः – wise people never will say that. And that is why in our tradition, we have got both गृहस्थ गुरु शिष्य परम्परा as well as संन्यासि गुरु शिष्य परम्परा also. In मुण्डकोपनिषत् we saw:

ॐ ब्रह्मा देवानाम् प्रथमः संबभूव विश्वस्य कर्ता भुवनस्य गोप्ता ।

स ब्रह्मविद्याम् सर्वविद्याप्रतिष्ठातृमथर्वाय ज्येष्ठपुत्राय प्राह ॥
मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-१-१॥

Thus in मुण्डकोपनिषत्, a गुरु शिष्य परम्परा is given, wherein गुरु is father, शिष्य is the son. Therefore they are गृहस्थs or संन्यासिs? Father and son means pucca गृहस्थ, and he taught his son, he taught his son, thus in the तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत्:

भृगुर्वै वारुणिः । वरुणम् पितरमुपससार । अधीहि भगवो ब्रह्मेति । ॥ तैत्तिरीयोपनिषदत् ३-१-१॥

again father teaches the son and in fact, among all the उपनिषत्s, the most important portion is called तत्त्वमसि प्रकरणम्, where the teaching of तत्त्वमसि comes and do you know this teaching took place between who and who, again father and son.

श्वेतकेतुर्हारुणेय आस तँ ह पितोवाच ... ॥ छान्दोग्योपनिषत् ६-१-१ ॥

The greatest teaching of तत्त्वमसि took place in गृहस्थ आश्रम, between father and son. So thus, the scriptures talk about the गृहस्थ आश्रम ज्ञानि परम्परा, as well as संन्यास आश्रम ज्ञानि परम्परा, that these two परम्पराs existed indicate that you can get ज्ञानम् in any of the आश्रमs. And therefore कृष्ण says एकम् अपि आस्थितः – take to any one of the lifestyles, according to one's inclination and one's प्रारब्धम्, प्रारब्धम् also plays a role, that is why in the जातकम् also it says संन्यासि जातकम्, so that is how even in the monasteries and all, when they choose the शिष्य, they not only observe their family and their what you call character, their age, everything and they also see their जातकम्, because even in the horoscope that संन्यास is given, therefore so many factors are there influencing a persons आश्रम also and therefore according to your प्रारब्धः, according to your inclination take to any आश्रम, but what is important is one has to stick to it sincerely. ‘What’s the worth of shaven head or tresses long, if you shun what the entire world condemns as wrong?’ You need not go on changing your hair style. What is संन्यास? Shaving your hair, you shave your head and all those things, they are not going to give you ज्ञानम्. Not that if there is no hair on the head, knowledge will directly penetrate without obstacle. No obstacle you know! Is it गङ्गा जल which got struck in शिव’s जटा? No. So therefore, external changes do not matter, inner transformation is important, therefore एकम् अपि आस्थितः – following any of the आश्रम, efficiently – सम्यक्, उभयोः फलम् विन्दते – a person will get the result, which is common to both the आश्रम. And what is the result common to both आश्रमस? ज्ञानम्. so ज्ञानम् is the common goal of a गृहस्थ also, of a संन्यासि also. Continuing;

Verse No .05

यत्साङ्ख्यैः प्राप्यते स्थानं तद्योगैरपि गम्यते ।

एकं साङ्ख्यं च योगं च यः पश्यति स पश्यति ॥ ५-५॥

यत् साङ्ख्यैः प्राप्यते स्थानम् तत् योगैः अपि गम्यते ।

एकम् साङ्ख्यम् च योगम् च यः पश्यति स पश्यति ॥ ५-५॥

यत् स्थानम् साङ्ख्यैः प्राप्यते, तत् योगैः अपि गम्यते, यः साङ्ख्यम् च योगम् च एकम् पश्यति, स (एव) पश्यति ।

So the same idea कृष्ण reinforces in this श्लोक also, pointing out that साङ्ख्यैः स्थानम् प्राप्यते, साङ्ख्यः means संन्यासिनः, स्थानम् means मोक्षम्, संन्यासिs do attain मोक्ष by following कर्मयोग and

ज्ञानयोग, purificatory साधनs as well as साधनs for knowledge. And what are the purificatory साधनs, I told you the other day, संन्यासिs have also got their आश्रम कर्माणिs which is indicated by their दण्ड, just as for other people the sacred thread represent their religious साधनs, for a संन्यासि sacred thread is removed but it is replaced by दण्ड, they have got दण्ड तर्पणम्, जप, पाययण, गुरु शुषुष, etc., they all will contribute to चित्तशुद्धिः and not only चित्तशुद्धिः they have to study the शास्त्र also, therefore संन्यासिs attain मोक्ष by purifying and knowing. So then अर्जुन will say, I will become a संन्यासि, because he wants to run away. So immediately कृष्ण says: तत् योगैः अपि गम्यते – गृहस्थs also can get the same result, तत् means तत् स्थानम् and what do you mean by स्थानम् – मोक्षम्, लक्ष्यम्, the same destination can be reached by योगैः, योगः means here गृहस्थ आश्रमैः, by the गृहस्थ आश्रम people also, साङ्ख्यैः means तुरीय आश्रमैः, संन्यासिभिः यत् मोक्षस्थानम् प्राप्यते, तत् एवम् मोक्षस्थानम् गृहस्थाश्रमिः अपि प्राप्यते एव. And can you say the संन्यासि's मोक्ष is a little bit better than गृहस्थ's. मोक्ष is always one. So संन्यासिs will get a bigger infinite and I will get smaller infinite, there are no two infinities, मोक्ष means infinite, there is no difference in the मोक्ष. So तत् योगैः अपि गम्यते and therefore साङ्ख्यम् योगम् च एकम् भवति – therefore both संन्यास आश्रम and गृहस्थ आश्रम are एकम्, एकम् means एक फलकम्, they are equally efficient. And as I said in the last class, as far as plus and minus points are concerned, in both आश्रमs plus and minus points are there, only the type of plus and minus points will vary, exactly like having your own house and rented house. We can have a Patti mandram (Village court) here, 'whether it is fair to have own-house or rental-house.' And each one will come and say, 'rental-house is good and compliments for giving the chance to express his views.' Everything has got plus and minus, therefore एकम् इति यः पश्यति, the one who sees this fact, आश्रयोः एक फलत्वम् यः पश्यति सः पश्यति – that person alone truly sees the other people have got wrong perception. And all these things

कृष्ण is emphasizing for what purpose, कृष्ण doesn't want अर्जुन to go away from the battlefield and अर्जुन somehow or the other wants to run away. It is a tug of war, this man is running that side and कृष्ण is pulling this side and if कृष्ण says संन्यास आश्रम is superior, अर्जुन will run away, therefore कृष्ण says, the one who sees both as equal he alone has got the right vision. संन्यासस्तु महाबाहो दुःखमाप्नुमयोगतः ।

संन्यासः तु महाबाहो दुःखम् आप्नुम् अयोगतः ।

योग-युक्तः मुनिः ब्रह्म न विरेण अधिगच्छति ॥ ५-६॥

हे महाबाहो! अयोगतः संन्यासः तु दुःखम् आप्नुम् योग-युक्तः मुनिः न विरेण ब्रह्म अधिगच्छति ।

Here कृष्ण adds a new information. Until now he said both आश्रमs are equally efficacious, as far as they are concerned they are looked at objectively, like different subject matter that is there in a university, physics is superior or chemistry is superior or mathematics is superior, you can never say one science is superior to the other because every science is beautiful by itself and as long as utility is concerned, all the sciences are equally useful. If you study your life every moment, chemistry is involved, physics is involved, mathematics is involved. Even though all the sciences are equal, if I have to choose one of them, a particular one may be good for me because of my mental makeup, inclination, not that objectively the sciences are inferior or superior but my mental makeup may make one of them more conducive to me. So like the weather condition, there are certain places where there is dry heat and there are certain places where there is humid heat, which is better, if you are in one place the other will seem better, both are equal, but you can analyze which particular one is better for my constitution, for some people dry heat is OK, many people cannot survive in चेन्नै, because it is humid weather, therefore objectively they are all the same having equal plus and minus point, but depending upon my personality I may enjoy physics more, I may enjoy mathematics, or I may enjoy economic, I may enjoy statistics, I may enjoy literature, I may enjoy history or I may enjoy so many things, fine arts, music, there is degree in music. Earlier it was not there, now it is there, BA Music, MA Music, etc., everything is there. Similarly, कृष्णI says even though both आश्रमs are equally efficacious, from the standpoint of a person's preparation level we can find out which one is better and if you are going to study from that angle, कृष्णI says for a mature and prepared mind, संन्यास आश्रम is OK, fine, it is wonderful. Whereas for an unprepared mind, संन्यास आश्रम is not, not because the आश्रम has got some problem but because of my mental immaturity, the life may appear lonely, who is there for me? Whatever it be, who is there for me? No one is there to care of me. And people come and tell their problems to you if you are a संन्यासि. Nobody will ask: do you have any problem. So therefore a person can miss companionship, there are people who get married at the age of 80, for what purpose, companionship. So it need not be any physical or any reason, it can be purely psychological reason. In fact, a person can become more and more lonely as a person grows more and more old and it can lead to tremendous depression. In fact, one lady was telling, they were in America in a lonely place, generally itself population is 1/3 and the area is 3 times or 4 times bigger than India, so more area and less population, normally itself no. of people are less, and they are in an area where people are still not there and the husband goes to work, now it is totally silence and she felt so lonely and so depressed and created so many problems for the poor husband and they were almost about to divorce also, so much quarrel, because of tremendous depression, you may say it is silent like an आश्रम, another person says it is silent like cremation ground. Silence remaining the same, for one it is an आश्रम silence for another one it is a cremation ground silence. And you know what happens, somebody advised to come back to India and that person is in चेन्नै, not any one of you, don't worry, whenever I give an example that person won't be in class. All my examples will be like that only, all your stories will be told in Anna Nagar! OK. If you don't want to tell your stories anywhere, don't share it with me. Now she tells that even though my husband goes, I hear lot of car, bus noise, that itself is psychological health for me, that sound is comfortable and in India there is no shortage of noise, anywhere you go, noisy. So for someone silence may be wonderful, but for someone silence may cause tremendous depression, भर्तृहरि says:

स्थानं विविक्तं यमिनां विमुक्तये कामातुराणाम् अतिकाम-कारणम् ॥

A silent place for a matured person is a blessing, he will think of आत्मा, ब्रह्मन्, but the very silent place for another person it can rake up all the inner problems and other things can come and one may go crazy and therefore कृष्ण says, to enjoy संन्यास आश्रम one requires a level of mind which is not that easy. Therefore, हे महाबाहो! संन्यासः आप्तुम् दुःखम्. So enjoying a संन्यास way of life is not that easy. Even though when we have problems all over, we may think that one has to escape from this, but generally when a person is unhappy in गृहस्थ आश्रम and jump to संन्यास आश्रम, it is 99% jumping from frying pan unto the fire. If everything is fine and one quits that is maturity, if one quits when there is problem, that is a problem. And therefore दुःखम् आप्तुम् अयोगतः, whereas योग-युक्तः मुनिः, so that मुनिः, मुनिः means a contemplative minded person, who loves quietude, who loves seclusion, who has such a mind is called मुनिः, मननात् मुनिः, मौनात् मुनिः, मुनिः has two derivations, the one who enjoys मौनम्, because in संन्यास आश्रम there is no much scope, other members are not there and for many people it is difficult not to talk and if there is nobody else to talk they will start talking themselves, you will find that some people while walking on the road they will talk. When there is a pressure you have to talk at least to the wall. Therefore मुनिः means the one who enjoys मौनम्, मुनिः is one who enjoys contemplation, so that person who has got a contemplative mind, how, योग युक्तः – by the practice of योग, either in this life or in the previous life. So the one who has prepared the mind through the appropriate साधन, सः मुनिः ब्रह्म अधिगच्छति – such a संन्यासि will attain ब्रह्मन्, will attain मोक्ष, न विरेण – न विरेण means before long that person will attain. And therefore कृष्ण's advice is for majority of people गृहस्थ आश्रम is ideal and for a minority, संन्यास आश्रम is ideal and also one person may think that he is fit for संन्यास. That is why I told that, invariably संन्यास is taken with the advice and recommendation of a गुरु who knows, so when there is concurrence between शिष्य and गुरु, then alone संन्यास is given. And that is why the newspaper also we read so many pseudo-संन्यासि news and after reading many such items, any संन्यासि comes also, the public call all those names. So why because such संन्यासि numbers will increase why because they take to संन्यास without making sure that they are ready for that, therefore why risk, therefore गृहस्थ आश्रम is safe, this is कृष्ण's advice. योगयुक्तो विशुद्धात्मा विजितात्मा जितेन्द्रियः ।

योग-युक्तः विशुद्ध-आत्मा विजित-आत्मा जित-इन्द्रियः ।

सर्व-भूत-आत्म-भूत-आत्मा कुर्वन् अपि न लिप्यते ॥ ५-७॥

योग-युक्तः, विशुद्ध-आत्मा, विजित-आत्मा, जित-इन्द्रियः, सर्व-भूत-आत्म-भूत-आत्मा, कुर्वन् अपि न लिप्यते ।

So up to the 6th verse, कृष्ण made a comparative study of both आश्रमs and he said both आश्रमs have plus and minus points, both आश्रमs are equally efficient, but for majority life of activity is better. With this He concludes the topic of lifestyles. Now in the following श्लोक, कृष्ण talks about the साधनs which everyone has to practice irrespective of the lifestyle, wherein there is no option at all. गृहस्थ also must go through those set of साधनs, संन्यासि also must go through those set of साधनs. And what are those stages? Those stages are beautifully described in this verse, it is a verse of साधनs. What to do? What we are supposed to do? Whether we are गृहस्थ or संन्यासि? What is that? कृष्ण is now taking a गृहस्थ and He is talking about the stages of साधनs, because He has already said गृहस्थ आश्रम is superior. Therefore in His mind, a गृहस्थ is in front, so what all stages he should go through.

1) First stage is योगयुक्तः, what do you mean by that, कर्मयोग युक्तः – one should become a कर्मयोगि first as described in the 3rd chapter. I don't want to go to the details of the 3rd chapter, we have already seen, but to put in a nutshell, कर्मयोगि is one, who balances materialistic pursuits and spiritual pursuits. कर्मयोगि is one who does not spend the whole day in earning money only. When the whole life is dedicated to material pursuits and he says I have no time for religion, no time for scriptural study, no time to follow, but time is there for everything else and now the number of things for distractions is so many. A कर्मयोगि knows that every individual is a mixture of matter and spirit, आत्मा is spirit, अनात्मा is matter; देही is spirit, देह is matter, we are all a mixture of both of them. That means our life should have a balance between spiritual pursuit and material pursuit and therefore I should find time for पञ्च महायज्ञs mentioned in the 3rd chapter and this spiritual life is meant for my inner growth. I do have many activities for material acquisitions, nothing wrong, वेद tells acquire money, nothing wrong in it, but don't think that life is only अर्थ-काम प्रधान, life has also got धर्म मोक्ष, are you balancing between those two and it should go in such a way that initially the material pursuit may be more and spiritual pursuit may be less, because he is making his life and he has to therefore he has to climb the corporate ladder, I have to become the manager, general manager, vice president, president, the more you want to climb, the more time. OK initially you may say you don't have time, but the aim is the proportion must gradually change. It may be material pursuit more, but there should be time for spirituality and gradually the spiritual pursuit should become more and more dominant and the last stage of life should be spirituality, spirituality, that is how ब्रह्मचर्य, गृहस्थ, वानप्रस्थ, संन्यास, how beautifully designed. Whether you physically go through the four आश्रमसु or not, psychologically, initially 75% materialism, 25% spirituality. At least, स्वामिजि, no time, to come to the Sunday class itself is a big thing, I touch the गीता book only next Sunday before I come to the class, doesn't matter. But hopefully, you will be able devote more and more time. Not only you have to work in that direction, you should also pray to the Lord, Oh Lord I must be able to gradually

उर्वारुकमिव बन्धनान्मृत्योर्मुक्षीय मामृतात् ॥

Just as a raw mango ripens and until it ripens it holds on to the tree and once it ripens, it falls. In the same way, initially, I am stuck in all these worldly things and minor things and finite things and a time must come I naturally detach from the finite and the materialist things and I am hooked to the spiritual goal and this balancing is called योग युक्तत्वम्, giving importance to inner growth. That is why I have told you before, what I am is more important than what I have, Initially we are only bothered about what I have and whether we want it or not, to just tell the neighbor you purchase it, because there is status symbol, comparison, we should also buy because they have purchased, I am more bothered about what I have and less bothered about what I am. What I am should become more and more important and ultimately a liberated person possesses what,

मूलम् तयोः केवलमाश्रयन्तः पाणिद्वयम् भोक्तुमामन्त्रयन्तः ।

कन्थामिव श्रीमपि कुत्सयन्तः कौपीनवन्तः खलु भाग्यवन्तः ॥
कौपीनपचकम् / यतिपचकम् – २ ॥

शङ्कराचार्य describes a ज्ञानि who doesn't possess anything at all but still he is पूर्णः, therefore ultimately what matters is not what I have but what I am. If this importance is understood, I have become a beginning कर्मयोगि. And this कर्मयोगि will gradually become what विशुद्धात्मा, विशुद्ध आत्मा will get a purer mind where the वैराग्यम् becomes more and more, he depends less and less on external factors, because he has understood that dependence is संसार and independence is मोक्ष. Therefore my aim should be not from dependence to more dependence but my aim should be from dependence to less dependence, not only physically even psychologically. I should become independent, which is called detachment and this detachment or वैराग्यम् is called विशुद्ध आत्मत्वम्, because रागः-attachment is the impurity, detachment is purity and विशुद्ध आत्मा राग रहितः आत्मा, in this context, आत्मा means mind, therefore राग रहितः आत्मा अन्तःकरणम् यस्य. बहुव्रीहि समास, this person has got वैराग्यम्. And then what will happen? Next class we will see that.

In the first six verses Lord कृष्ण clarified अर्जुन's doubt regarding गृहस्थ आश्रम and संन्यास आश्रम and his teaching was that there is a choice between these two आश्रमs and therefore, any आश्रम can lead a person to the destination viz., मोक्ष. But still कृष्ण personally suggests that संन्यास आश्रम is a risky आश्रम if a person is not mentally prepared for that. And it is a riskier आश्रम because it is a one way traffic. A person cannot experiment with संन्यास आश्रम and he cannot say that I don't like, therefore let me come back. In the भागवतम् it is very strongly criticized as a wrong action and strong words are used against it, if a person enters संन्यास आश्रम and renounces his renunciation and the words used are very strong, it is like the भागवतम् uses the word,

स वै वान्ताश्यपत्रपः ॥ श्रीमद्भागवतम् ०७-१७-३६ ॥

such a person is a shameless person like a person eating what he himself has vomited, such a powerful word is used and therefore for an immature person संन्यास आश्रम can prove risky and is riskier because one cannot return back. Whereas in the गृहस्थ आश्रम, risks are less and not only that, after going through गृहस्थ आश्रम a person is given freedom to take संन्यास from गृहस्थ आश्रम itself. When a person enters गृहस्थ आश्रम, for him two आश्रमs are still open, he can continue in गृहस्थ आश्रम and attain मोक्ष or after being in गृहस्थ आश्रम for some time, he can take to संन्यास also, which chance is not there in संन्यास आश्रम, therefore कृष्ण recommends गृहस्थ आश्रम for majority of people, this is the essence of the first six verses of the 5th chapter. Any आश्रम is OK but गृहस्थ आश्रम is preferable. Having clarified that doubt of अर्जुन, now कृष्ण comes to a different topic and that is the topic of साधन and as I have repeatedly said, as far as साधन is concerned there is no choice at all, whether one is गृहस्थ or संन्यासि, one has to initially go through the steps of purification. And therefore in both आश्रमs rituals are prescribed, of course in संन्यास आश्रम the साधनs are of a different nature, but in संन्यास आश्रम also there are साधन for purification. In गृहस्थ आश्रम also there are साधनs for purification, which is called आश्रम धर्म.

स्ववर्ण-आश्रम-धर्मेण तपसा हरि-तोषणात् ।

साधनम् प्रभवेत् पुंसाम् वैराग्यादि चतुष्टयम् ॥ अपरोक्षानुभूति ३॥

शङ्कराचार्य says in his अपरोक्षानुभूति, स्ववर्ण-आश्रम-धर्मेण, everybody can get purity of mind by following his or her own स्ववर्ण or आश्रम, the type of कर्म will defer but the फलम् is uniform, what is the uniform फलम्, चित्तशुद्धि. And having attained चित्तशुद्धि: in both the आश्रमs, all the seekers should thereafter go to Self-knowledge which is वेदान्त श्रवण मनन निदिध्यासनम् and attain मोक्ष, remaining where they are. So these steps of साधन are beautifully presented in the 7th verse. What are the steps everyone should go through irrespective of the आश्रम. And कृष्ण is concentrating on a गृहस्थ, because कृष्ण has recommended गृहस्थ आश्रम, therefore he is keeping in mind a गृहस्थ, a man or women in the society and what is the first stage of साधन,

1) योग-युक्तः – become a कर्मयोगि, योगः here means कर्मयोगः, योग-युक्तः means कर्मयोगेन युक्तः, कर्मयोगि भव and what is the indication of a कर्मयोगि, कृष्ण has talked about that in the 3rd chapter, five-point program he gave,

निराशीर्निर्ममो भूत्वा युध्यस्व विगतज्वरः ॥ ३-३०॥

We saw the five factors or conditions which make a कर्मयोगि. I don't want to go to the details, to put it in brief,

➤ The main indication of a कर्मयोगि is he gives spiritual growth a top priority. Inner growth he gives top priority, even though he knows material well being is required, material prosperity is required, he knows the value of material prosperity but considers spiritual growth as more important than material possessions. As I said before, what matters is not what I have, what matter is what I am. My peace does not depend upon what I have, my peace depends upon what I am, security does not depend upon what I have, security depends upon what I have, happiness does not depend upon what I have, happiness depends upon what I am, कर्मयोगि focuses on this principle.

➤ And having focused on this principle, he dedicates his entire life to the Lord as a पूजा, ईश्वरार्पण बुद्ध्या,

➤ As a dedication to the Lord he does every actions and receives every result of action as ईश्वर प्रसाद.

These are the three conditions which make a कर्मयोगि, giving priority to spiritual growth, dedicating the very life as an offering to the Lord and accepting every experience as प्रसादम् from the Lord. Such a person is called योग-युक्तः and what is the result of this साधन, this साधन changes the personality. So what I am becomes different, while the society is going to measure your success in terms of your possession, वेदान्त measures your success in terms of your personality transformation. कर्मयोग may not bring success as the society sees but कर्मयोग brings success as वेदान्त sees. And what is that transformation?

2) विशुद्ध-आत्मा भवति, विशुद्ध-आत्मा means pure minded. विशुद्ध आत्मा अन्तःकरणम् यस्य. And what is purity of mind? Purity of mind is freedom from all the unhealthy ways of thinking, काम-क्रोधः, लोभ-मोहः, मद-मात्सर्यः, etc., that negative tendencies are the unhealthy tendencies which कृष्ण calls in the 16th chapter, आसुरी सम्पत्, the removal of आसुरी सम्पत् will take place and in its position, दैवी सम्पत् is developed.

दानम् दमः च यज्ञः च स्वाध्यायः तपः आर्जवम् ॥ १६-१॥

We were seeing in the morning class what are the positive virtues. So development of positive virtues and freedom from negative tendencies is विशुद्ध-आत्मा, संस्कृत आत्मा भवति, this is the second stage.

3) And then what is the next stage, विजित-आत्मा जित-इन्द्रियः, so they should go together, आत्मा means here body very interesting: there are two words, विशुद्ध-आत्मा and विजित-आत्मा. In the word विशुद्ध-आत्मा, आत्मा means mind, in the word विजित-आत्मा, आत्मा means body, विजितः आत्मा शरीरम् एन सः विजितात्मा. And जित-इन्द्रियः means the one who has mastered the sense organs. So विजित-आत्मा means the one who has mastered the body and जित-इन्द्रियः means the one who has mastered the sense organs. In short the one who is the master of his own organs, one who is the master of his own organs, his own personality. So विजित-आत्मा, जित-इन्द्रियः and both are important, it is like making use of a river properly. When you have to make use of a river properly, two things are required, one you have to dam the river, otherwise the water will go waste by flowing into the ocean, that is damming the river, but if you dam the river and you don't channelize the water then the water will increase and increase and there will be pressure and then in overpressure the dam will be damned, therefore it involves two things, one is not allowing the water to be wasted, storing and then directing. Similarly, we have got physical energy, we have got sensory energy, we have got mental energy, we have got intellectual energy, In fact, we have so much energy but it is all wasted away, this person stores and channelizes, this is called mastery over one's own organ, so विशुद्ध-आत्मा भवति, जित-इन्द्रियः भवति. Once a person has purified and mastered his organ, he has become a qualified person for Self-knowledge and such a person is called ज्ञानयोग्यः पुरुषः. So the precondition for Self-knowledge is purity and mastery over the organ, purity and mastery over the organs is ज्ञानयोग्यता. Up to this religion comes, the entire religion is meant for ज्ञानयोग्यता प्राप्ति, the entire वेदपूर्व भाग is meant for ज्ञानयोग्यता प्राप्ति and once I have got ज्ञानयोग्यता, the next stage is philosophy comes, from वेद पूर्व I have to go to वेदअन्त, from कर्मकाण्ड I have to go to ज्ञानकाण्ड and that stage is indicated by single word सर्व-भूत-

आत्म-भूत-आत्मा भवति, the कर्मयोगि gets converted into ज्ञानयोगि, the active person gets converted into contemplative person, the extrovert person gets turned towards himself, so he is called सर्व-भूत-आत्म-भूत-आत्मा. And through ज्ञानयोग, what knowledge he will get? That knowledge कृष्ण is presenting in a single word, it is a very significant word. So this ज्ञानयोग involves three stages:

1) The first stage is understanding that I am the Consciousness which is different from the body, is the first stage of ज्ञानम्, I am the Consciousness which is different from the body. To remind you of my example, just as recognizing that the light is something different from the hand, even though light is intimately associated with the hand, light is a separate entity, which survives, which continues even after the hand is removed. Similarly, when I say I am Conscious, Consciousness is something independent of the body. So this we saw elaborately in the 2nd chapter of the गीता from verse no.12 to 25. So you have to remind yourselves of all those portion, I don't want to get into those details now, this is the first stage.

2) The second stage of knowledge is, I the Consciousness behind this body is the same Consciousness behind every body, like the light which is upon this object is the same light which is upon this mike also, this mike also, this book also, the division belongs to the mike and book, in the light there is no division at all, it is one light, one indivisible light, one whole light, one formless light is pervading every formed object. Similarly, there is one formless-Consciousness which is pervading every formed-body, this is the second stage of knowledge. So what is the first stage? The first stage is I am the Consciousness behind my body, the second stage of knowledge is I am the Consciousness behind every body.

3) And there is a third stage also, which कृष्ण will tell in some other context, in this context he does not tell that, therefore I am also going to keep it in suspense, some other context, I will tell that. So

कृष्ण says: सर्व-भूत-आत्म-भूत-आत्मा, ज्ञानयोगि is one who knows that I am the आत्मा behind my body and all the bodies, सर्वभूत आत्मा, I am not only एक भूत आत्मा, भूतम् means शरीरम्, सर्व भूत आत्मा means I am not only behind this शरीरम्, but I am behind सर्व भूतम्,

सर्व-भूतस्थम् आत्मानम् सर्व-भूतानि च आत्मनि ।

यो माम् पश्यति सर्वत्र सर्वम् च मयि पश्यति । ॥ ६-३०॥

We are going to see these details again in the 6th chapter, here note this much, ज्ञानयोगि is one who knows I am the Consciousness behind this body and everybody. Then because of this knowledge, what benefit does he attain? कृष्ण says the benefit is detachment from the body, freedom from देह अभिमान, which is the most powerful thing. I never say I have an incidental body, I always say that I am the body, I may not say I am the body, but every details about myself I give is only from the standpoint of the body. First I tell my age or cover my age, whatever that be and even covering the age is because of देहाभिमानम् only, telling the age is also because of देहाभिमानम्, when you say that I am the son or daughter of so and so, again it is from the standpoint of the body only. In fact, our entire life is governed by देहाभिमान and by this knowledge, the radical shift that take place is I see myself as the Consciousness functioning through the body but not the body itself and once there is detachment from the body, कृष्ण says there is detachment from the actions of the body also. So देह अभिमान त्याग leads to कर्म अभिमान त्याग, because all कर्मs belong to the body alone, all the कर्मs belong to the body, when I identify with the body necessarily I will identify with the कर्मs also. To put in technical language, धर्मी अभिमान will lead to धर्म अभिमान. In fact, शङ्कराचार्य introduces his ब्रह्मसूत्र भाष्यम् only with this basic statement. All our problems are based on two अभिमान, one is the identification with the body and the other is identification with the properties of the body and the whole वेदान्त is tackling this अभिमान. And therefore कृष्ण here says सर्व-भूत-आत्म-

भूत-आत्मा ज्ञानयोगि कुर्वन् अपि न लिप्यते – he is not tainted by any action, he does not identify with any action, even when the body is active, कुर्वन् अपि, like traveling in the car, when the car is going in 80 kilometers per hour, you don't gasp. You are in the car, but the fast running belongs to the car only, you don't have gasping. Similarly, a ज्ञानि does not have कर्म अभिमान, this is called अहङ्कार अभिमान अभाव and this idea we saw in the 3rd chapter also,

अहङ्कारविमूढात्मा कर्ताहमिति मन्यते ॥ ३-२७॥

The one who identifies with the body and becomes a कर्ता and consequently a भोक्ता also. कृष्ण says he is विमूढः and then who is a wise person:

तत्त्ववितु महाबाहो गुणकर्मविभागयोः ।

गुणा गुणेषु वर्तन्त इति मत्वा न सज्जते ॥ ३-२८॥

ज्ञानि is one who is able to objectify his own body as part of this creation. Just as I look upon several other bodies as part of this creation subject to arrival and departure, I read the obituary column with total detachment and I also know the philosophy behind – for coming we all have to leave one day and we are all great philosophers with regard to somebody else's death, why we are great philosophers because we are objective with regard to other bodies, but when you are objective, you accept natural laws, objectivity leads to the acceptance of god's law, whereas subjectivity leads to resistance, protest, anger, depression, against what, God's law. And a ज्ञानि doesn't have subjectivity with regard to his own body and therefore he is able to accept the law of the lord, this body is born, अस्ति, जायते, वर्धते, विपरिणमते, अपक्षीयते, विनश्यति and this is called detachment, न लिप्यते – not affected, This is explained further.

नैव किञ्चित्करोमीति युक्तो मन्येत तत्त्ववित् ।

पश्यन् शृण्वन् स्पृशन् जिघ्रन् अश्नन् गच्छन् स्वपन् श्वसन् ॥ ५-८॥

प्रलपन् विसृजन् गृह्णन् उन्मिषन् निमिषन् अपि ।

इन्द्रियाणीन्द्रियार्थेषु वर्तन्त इति धारयन् ॥ ५-९॥

न एव किञ्चित् करोमि इति युक्तः मन्येत तत्त्ववित् ।

पश्यन् शृण्वन् स्पृशन् जिघ्रन् अश्नन् गच्छन् स्वपन् श्वसन् ॥ ५-८॥

प्रलपन् विसृजन् गृह्णन् उन्मिषन् निमिषन् अपि ।

इन्द्रियाणि इन्द्रिय-अर्थेषु वर्तन्ते इति धारयन् ॥ ५-९॥

युक्तः तत्त्ववित् पश्यन्, शृण्वन्, स्पृशन्, जिघ्रन्, अश्नन्, गच्छन्, स्वपन्, श्वसन्, प्रलपन्, विसृजन्, गृह्णन्, उन्मिषन्, निमिषन् अपि, इन्द्रियाणि इन्द्रिय-अर्थेषु वर्तन्ते इति धारयन् किञ्चित् न एव करोमि इति मन्येत ।

So the wise person's way of life is talked about, which is the result of ज्ञानयोग. So he has gone through कर्मयोग and he has gone through ज्ञानयोग also and now he is a ज्ञानि and he can be either a गृहस्थ-ज्ञानि or संन्यासि-ज्ञानि. If you remember 4th chapter, कृष्ण talked about both ज्ञानिs. So this श्लोक is relevant for both गृहस्थ-ज्ञानि and संन्यासि-ज्ञानि, both quiet-ज्ञानि, withdrawn-ज्ञानि as well as active-ज्ञानि. In our tradition itself we had some ज्ञानिs who are utterly withdrawn, they did not even move away from the आश्रम in which they were, or the locality in which they were, people like रमण महर्षि or तपोवनम्, etc., they were not that active, we also had great ज्ञानिs who are more active than ordinary गृहस्थ. Why शङ्कराचार्य himself is supposed to moved around India several times, बद्रीनाथ you go there शङ्कराचार्य is known, केदारनाथ you go शङ्कराचार्य is known also. And when? 8th century or 7th century. How did you go? If we want to go from here to there we think of which bus etc. But शङ्कराचार्य had gone, he had established मठs, he had debated with so many people, he had written so many Vedantic works, so many devotional works, षण्मत् स्थापन he did, In fact, his activities were much much much more than any गृहस्थ. But what is common to both? Detachment. And therefore कृष्ण says a ज्ञानि always had this knowledge, अहम् न एव

किञ्चित् करोमि, the real-I, the higher-I, the आत्म-स्वरूपम् does not do anything at all, it is अकर्ता. Therefore it is अभोक्ता, it does not do any action because it is incapable of doing any action, exactly like when the hand moves the light does not move at all, the light appears to move, but it doesn't. And even when he understands that I am अकर्ता and अभोक्ता, he allows the body and senses to function in the world according to his designation, because when he doesn't have anything personal to accomplish what will determine his action, the need of the society will determine his action, because the ज्ञानि doesn't have anything to accomplish, he is पूर्ण पुरुषः, he is कृतकृत्यः then what will be the motivation for his action, the motivation will be love and compassion towards the society, the suffering society, the ignorant society, the confused society and not that he entertains love and compassion, ज्ञानम् naturally brings out the love and compassion. As our स्वामिजि beautifully says we need not acquire love, because the innate nature of everyone is love, innate nature of everyone is compassion, but now the love and compassion are suppressed because of selfishness which is due to अभिमान, when the अभिमान goes away he doesn't acquire, but already available love and compassion gets thrown out, just manifested. And how does love and compassion express itself, it expresses itself in the form of action, which is required. If he is surrounded by poor people who require the help, food, clothing, etc., he will provide that, if those things are already there but their needs is knowledge, he will provide the knowledge, भुक्ति मुक्ति प्रदाता च तस्मै श्रीगुरुवे नमः. So if money is required, whatever money he gets he will give; food is required, whatever is required he will give; everything is there but ignorance is there, solid in the society, what will he give, he will give knowledge and therefore, he allows his body-mind-complex to function according to the requirement and all those actions will be धार्मिक actions. Because actions become अधार्मिक because of देह अभिमान. Once देह अभिमान is gone any action will be धार्मिक only, because when selfishness is not there his identification will be with what, the entire world. There is a beautiful श्लोक in मलयाळम्, ‘Oh Lord, I should not have I notion, if at all I have an I notion, that I should be identified with the entire creation and when I am identified with totality, I am God and identified with totality, whatever I do will be God’s action.’ And God can never do अधर्म, a ज्ञानि also is incapable of अधर्म and therefore his actions will continue. What are the actions, पश्यन् शृण्वन् स्पृशन् जिघ्रन् अश्नन्, these five indicate पञ्च ज्ञानेन्द्रिय कर्माणि – seeing, hearing, touching, smelling and tasting, अश्नन् means tasting. So the ज्ञानेन्द्रियs continue to do their कर्म, not that ज्ञानि stops all the कर्मs and Similarly, he allows the कर्मेन्द्रियs also to function, what are they, गच्छन् स्वपन् श्वसन् प्रलपन् विसृजन् गृह्णन् उन्मिषन् निमिषन्, so they all indicate कर्मेन्द्रिय कर्माणि, so प्रलपन् – talking, विसृजन् – excreting, गृह्णन् – taking, उन्मिषन् निमिषन् – even opening the eyes and closing the eyes and श्वसन् – even breathing in and out and स्वपन् – and even reclining or sleeping, all these actions will continue there is no change in action. Not that after ज्ञानम् he walks with the hand, standing upside down, there is no change and not that he eats through the nose or ears, same mouth he will eat, same teeth he chews, everything will be the same, because अर्जुन asks:

Because we all got a notion that a ज्ञानि must be different from other people, some difference must be there! some physical difference we expect or some kind of language difference we expect, or all the time sitting with closed eyes, etc., we expect or he should be looking up, or laughing to himself, etc. And we have got all kinds of funny notions and if anybody is very normal like other people, this person cannot be a ज्ञानि because he is eating with his mouth, a ज्ञानि is one who has ज्ञानम्, other than that there is no difference at all in his activities and this ज्ञानम् brings about a radical attitudinal change towards the life situations. And because of this attitudinal change there is a change in responses also. When one small problem comes an अज्ञानि cries profusely for weeks together, whereas this person as they talk about that stoic philosopher, when a big tragedy took place, he asked what? and the next moment, he remembered the teaching and said So What? That's the difference between an अज्ञानि and a ज्ञानि. Life will have ups and down, but an अज्ञानि is shocked, 'What' he asks and sometimes gets heart attack also and like that person, so he had a weak heart and he got a lottery prize 10 lakhs and somebody had to reveal this to that person and therefore his doctor was called to reveal the news and the doctor called this person and if you get lottery prize etc., what will you do and after preparing the questionnaire for half an hour, he asked - suppose you have got 10 lakhs, what will you do and the patient said that I am surviving because of you, your contribution to my life is so great, that five lakhs I will just give to you. The doctor collapsed and died. Therefore that 'What' indicates the shock. For a ज्ञानि there is nothing called shock, even if it arrives it doesn't take much time for changing from what to so what, that is गीता, गीता is going from what to so what. So उन्मिषन् निमिषन् अपि, इन्द्रियाणि इन्द्रिय-अर्थेषु वर्तन्ते, because he understands that my body is also made up of matter, the world is also made of matter, matter and matter will have to interact, nobody can escape from interaction, some people think peace of mind has to be attained by getting away from the world and they try to close the eyes and ears, मुद्राs are all there, how long you will keep like this and they want to close the mind also in the name of योग, they want to remove every thought from the mind and sit in निर्विकल्पक समाधि permanently so that they can avoid interaction but भगवान् says how long you can escape, because प्रारब्धः कर्म will not allow you to sit in समाधि permanently,

पुनश्च जन्मान्तरकर्मयोगात् स एव जीवः स्वपिति प्रबुद्धः ॥
कैवल्योपनिषत् १३॥

How can we avoid interaction, so a ज्ञानि allows the interaction with the knowledge that इन्द्रियाणि, भौतिक इन्द्रियाणि, इन्द्रिय अर्थेषु, भौतिक विषयेषु, इन्द्रियाणि means sense organs, विषय means sense objects, they will interact and it will produce sensations, stimuli, वर्तन्ते. It will be like that, when the weather is very warm, you will sweat, when the weather is pleasant it is not only pleasant for us but for the mosquitoes also. Therefore they come in plenty, therefore that goes on. Therefore how can you escape from the interaction with the senses, therefore वर्तन्ते इति धारयन्, धारयन् means a ज्ञानि remembers this in and through all the inter actions but in and through all of them what does he remember, you go back to the 8th श्लोक, first line, तत्त्ववित् युक्तः मन्येत. So तत्त्ववित् means ज्ञानि, युक्तः means an integrated person, who is alert person. When you lead a mechanical life गीता is not available to help you in crisis. In mechanical life गीता is useless. But when I lead an alert life then this knowledge is there all the time to protect, that person is called युक्तः, alert, deliberate, conscious, that is what buddhistic people recommend. So they have got special training, everything you practice deliberately, tea drinking it is a big practice, you have to take the tea and then slowly lift, we will finish in two gulps and then bring to the mouth and slowly drink, every action you do deliberately, this is a training. So deliberate life, one who leads is called युक्तः, he always remembers what, अहम् न एव किञ्चित् करोमि. I have got a higher-self, in front of which the lower-I is insignificant and negligible, Continuing;

Verse No .10

ब्रह्मण्याधाय कर्माणि सङ्गं त्यक्त्वा करोति यः ।

लिप्यते न स पापेन पद्मपत्रमिवाम्भसा ॥ ७-१०॥

ब्रह्मणि आधाय कर्माणि सङ्गम् त्यक्त्वा करोति यः ।

लिप्यते न सः पापेन पद्म-पत्रम् इव अम्भसा ॥ ५-१०॥

यः सङ्गम् त्यक्त्वा कर्माणि, ब्रह्मणि आधाय करोति, सः पद्म-पत्रम् अम्भसा इव, पापेन न लिप्यते ।

So what happens to a ज्ञानि was mentioned in the previous two श्लोकs. What happens is: he discovers a higher-I, in front of which the lower-I and its problems will appear small. It is like during the freedom struggle, people were worried about India's liberation struggle, I the Indian was prominent and predominant and because of that they plunged into freedom struggle and received blows. And they were sent to Andaman. You should go the cellular jail and see what all things those people suffered, they could have lead a very very happy life. How punishments were given, how 3rd degree torture methods were used, what made them put up with all those things. Their body is also made up of the same material, not only they went to jail, they said they will go to jail again, even though they have tasted the treatment what made the difference: very simple, they had two 'I's, one the physical-I which certainly suffers and they had another I, ideological-I you call it or call it intellectual-I, whatever you call it I the Indian and I the individual and when that I was predominant, somebody is ruling us we have to work for the national freedom, they found that these sufferings were insignificant. Not that they are absent, but you discover something far superior in front of which this will become smaller. It is like you have got a cup of water in which there is some salt, it is salty water and you want to remove the saltiness from the water and I say that that you should not evaporate and the remove the salt, you have to remove the saltiness, what do you do, you go on adding water it gets diluted and when it is diluted with so much water, then salt is technically there but it is not felt at all. It is not that ज्ञानि doesn't have body pain, when sickness comes biological pain cannot be avoided, ज्ञानम् doesn't give you freedom from biological pain and we don't call biological pain as संसार. What we call as संसार is our psychological problem, a child has got only biological pain, the child does not build upon that, if this pain increases what will it happen, what disease it will be, what treatment it will need, how much money it will cost, thereby how it will affect the family, child doesn't have those problems. So ज्ञानि also goes through ups and downs but what happens is in the discovery of a bigger I, like the freedom struggle person whose suffered the physical pain, but every time they said वन्दे मातरम् once more, but they did not stop वन्दे मातरम्, even though they knew that I am going to get one more pain, what made them do that, it is a discovery of a different I and if this simple elevation from individual to Indian gave them such a strength then what to talk of the expansion of the I, from Indian to I am an Asian, then I am a human being, then I am a living being, then I am the Being, Being means तत् ब्रह्म अहम् अस्मि. So the I expands to such an extent that these become insignificant. This is the ज्ञानि's method of conquering अहङ्कार, but it requires discovering the higher-I which is extremely subtle. And suppose there is a person who cannot discover that subtle-I. What to do? He doesn't understand that आत्मा आत्मा आत्मा you say, we are not able to understand it. Now basic question, the आत्मा is there or is it our imagination, so therefore कृष्ण says until you discover that higher abstract Self, may you develop devotion to the Lord with any form that you like. That is what they say, if you are a not able to depend upon the higher-Self learn to depend upon God, that is why I said world-dependence to God-dependence to Self-dependence. World-dependence to God-dependence is called कर्मयोग and God-dependence to Self-dependence is called ज्ञानयोग. Before coming to Self depend on God. Here रत्नगिरीश्वर is there, He will take care of us, we will surrender to him. With this grace, I will be able to face the ups and downs of my life and therefore कृष्ण comes down in this श्लोक from ज्ञानयोग to कर्मयोग again. And what is the difference between the two, in ज्ञानयोग there is the dependence on higher-Self which is abstract, whereas in कर्मयोग the dependence is upon God as an external principle as राम, कृष्ण, देवी, which is relatively easier. Everybody says द्वैत भक्ति is easier, अद्वैतम् is difficult, कृष्ण says be a द्वैति, no hurry. Only in other religions in one life you have to accomplish everything, so there is a time pressure. In our religion there is no time pressure at all, come very slowly, not in this जन्म, OK, carry forward, try in the next जन्म, you need not write all the exams again, carry forward is there, one paper at a time. And therefore कृष्ण comes down and says: कर्माणि ब्रह्मणि आधाय, until you discover the higher-Self may you depend upon सगुणम् ब्रह्म, ब्रह्मणि means सगुण ब्रह्मणि, सगुण ब्रह्म is what: ईश्वरः, इष्ट देवता. So develop devotion towards an इष्ट देवता and that is why we have got पुराणम्s and पुराणम्s and पुराणम्s and if you read रामायणम्, राम becomes so real to you, it is not an abstract principle; भागवतम् you read, कृष्ण will become so real to you that by reading such scriptures I will discover भक्ति in any particular form of the Lord and once I discover what do I do, surrender to the Lord and not only surrender, कर्माणि ब्रह्मणि आधाय – dedicate all your actions to that Lord. So सर्वाणि कर्माणि ब्रह्मणि आधाय, काम्य कर्मs also you can dedicate, निष्काम्य कर्मs also you can dedicate, सर्वाणि कर्म, if it is an निष्काम्य कर्म you don't expect any result out of it, whatever result comes you give to the Lord itself, I didn't expect any money, but they gave some money, I don't need that money therefore I donated to the very same institution, we often hear. So some award is given, donate the same to that institute. If it is a काम्य कर्म, where I expect the result, receive the result but receive it as what ईश्वर प्रसाद. So this is called ब्रह्मणि सर्व कर्म आधानम्, the details we will see in the next class.

We saw in the beginning of the 5th chapter, that there is a choice with regard to the lifestyle that a person takes to: either प्रवृत्ति मार्ग which is गृहस्थ आश्रम प्रधान or निवृत्ति मार्ग which is संन्यास आश्रम प्रधान. With regard to these two basic आश्रमs, the शास्त्रs give us choice. And later कृष्ण also pointed out that between these two आश्रमs, गृहस्थ आश्रम he recommends for two reasons,

- The first reason is that it is less risky and
- The second reason is after entering गृहस्थ आश्रम a person can still go to संन्यास आश्रम later, but after entering संन्यास आश्रम one cannot come back to गृहस्थ आश्रम.

So because of these reasons कृष्ण recommended गृहस्थ आश्रम as a better option and having talked about the two forms of optional lifestyles, now कृष्ण is talking about the साधनs that one has to go through, in spite of the differences in the lifestyle and the साधन happens to be the same, that if initially साधन is for mental purification or ज्ञानयोग्यता प्राप्ति: and the next stage of साधन is ज्ञान प्राप्ति. A संन्यासि also should get ज्ञानयोग्यता and ज्ञानम्. A गृहस्थ also should get ज्ञानयोग्यता and ज्ञानम्. And for getting ज्ञानयोग्यता one has to take to some activity, because कर्म is the only method of getting ज्ञानयोग्यता. The type of कर्म may vary but कर्म is the only method of getting ज्ञानयोग्यता. In simple language, ज्ञानयोग्यता can be translated as purity. So it can be either कायिकम् कर्म or वाचिकम् कर्म or मानसम् कर्म, according to the availability and situation, one can concentrate more on कायिकम् – physical, वाचिकम् – verbal, or मानसम् – mental. Even doing a मानस पूजा is a कर्म. If a person cannot do physical पूजा for various reasons then the same पूजा can be replaced by मानस पूजा, that is why शङ्कराचार्य has written several मानस पूजास्: शिव मानस पूजा, and देवी मानसपूजा is there, more elaborate,

कल्लोलोल्लसितामृताब्धिलहरीमध्ये

विराजन्मणिद्वीपे

कल्पकवाटिकापरिवृते कादम्बवाटयुज्ज्वले ।

रत्नरत्नम्भसहस्रनिर्मितसभामध्ये विमानोत्तमे चिन्तारत्नविनिर्मितं
जननि ते सिंहासनं भावये ॥ मन्त्रमातृका पुष्पमाला स्तवः ॥

First रत्नसिंहासनम्, thereafterwards अर्घ्यम्, पादम्, नैवेद्यम्, etc., everything wonderful gem श्लोकः शङ्कराचार्य has given, thus chanting this will become वाचिकपूजा, mentally visualizing the meaning of this will become मानसपूजा and all these पूजास will also purify the mind, in short there must be कर्म, कर्म alone can purify. शङ्कर says in विवेकचूडामणि, चित्तस्य शुद्धये कर्म and having practiced कर्म for चित्तशुद्धिः, one will get ज्ञानयोग्यता or purity, thereafterwards one has to come to वेदान्तविचार and वेदान्तविचार alone can give ज्ञानम्. What कर्म gives the other ones cannot give and what the other one gives कर्म cannot give, like different nutrients from different types of food, what wheat can give another particular vegetable, perhaps lemon cannot give, that is why they talk about the balanced diet so that you get all the nutrients. Similarly, purity cannot be gained without कर्म and knowledge cannot be gained without वेदान्तविचार. Therefore कृष्ण says follow कर्म, purify, study scriptures, know and be free. This is the वैदिकमार्ग and thereafter कृष्ण wants to point out, mere mechanical performance of कर्म doesn't guarantee purity. So not only कर्म is important, the method of doing that कर्म, the attitude with which we do कर्म, the attitude with which we look upon the result of the कर्म, they also are important, mere कर्म does not guarantee purification and that is we add a suffix, कर्मयोगः. The योग indicates the proper method of doing कर्म, because of which alone the कर्म will become purificatory thing. Therefore कर्म minus योग cannot purify, कर्म plus योग purifies. Now the question is what are those conditions which will make कर्म into कर्मयोग, which alone we are seeing now in the 10th verse, an important verse, a beautiful verse. कर्माणि ब्रह्मणि आधाय – the first condition is it should be dedicated to the Lord as an offering आधानम् means समर्पणम्, ब्रह्मणि आधानम् means ईश्वरे समर्पणम्, ईश्वरार्पण. This very ईश्वरार्पण dedication itself will bring about a change in the personality. Dedication is not a physical action, because कर्म is not a material you can take and put in front of Lord's photo. How do you dedicate कर्म to the Lord? It is only mentally telling the Lord, Oh Lord, यद्यत्कर्म करोमि तत्तदखिलं शंभो तवाराधनम् ॥ – शिवमानस पूजा ॥, it is a सङ्कल्प which converts कर्म into a worship and what is the advantage of this dedication, the first advantage is whatever I dedicate to the Lord I will do properly, sincerely, wholeheartedly. Because I cannot keep a second hand thing for पूजा. I don't know people do that, it is only for the temple, small plantain is OK. They have got special clothes for the दानम् for श्राद्धम् one sort of cloth etc. It should be the other way around, what I give the Lord should be the best and therefore I will not judge the action, any action is done wholeheartedly, I don't require a supervisor to see. So first the action is done with dedication and second advantage is when there is remembrance of the Lord, dedication to the Lord, that कर्म becomes पूजा, पूजा will purify the mind and therefore सर्वाणि कर्माणि ब्रह्मणि आधाय. Then what should be my attitude to the result, कर्म-फलम्? The attitude will depend upon the type of कर्म that I am doing, there are two types of कर्म, the scriptures prescribe certain कर्म exclusively for spiritual growth, like सन्ध्यावन्दनम्, it does not promise any material benefit, it is exclusively prescribed for spiritual progress, going to temple or any other जप, which I said in the 3rd chapter as पञ्च महा यज्ञाः, otherwise called नित्य नैमित्तिक कर्माणि, otherwise called विहित कर्माणि. There are certain actions, exclusively meant for purification, the ideal example is daily prayer. With regard to such purificatory action I can totally dedicate them to the Lord because there is no material benefit involved in it. It is exclusively meant for चित्तशुद्धिः. So निष्काम कर्म विषये पूर्णतया ईश्वर अर्पणम् and the result will not disturb me also because there is no material result involved for me to get disturbed. Then we have got a second set of actions called सकाम कर्माणि, where we do expecting result, like working in some concern, some company where we expect salary or we are working to build a house for ourselves which we want, not for dedicating to the Lord, for myself, so they all will come under काम्य कर्म and when we are involved in काम्य कर्म, what is the attitude, I have discussed this elaborately in 3rd chapter, I dedicate it to the Lord and then receive the same thing back as ईश्वर प्रसाद, give to the Lord and hand over. Like taking autograph some people bring, स्वामिजि, new गीता chapter we have purchased, please autograph it, so when they give, I am not supposed to keep it for myself, I have to return to them, so then you are taking the very same thing as प्रसादम्. Similarly, salary I keep it in front of the Lord's photo and I take, buy new clothes, keep it in front of the Lord and take and I take a new house or build a new house, I keep the Lord's photo and enter the house taking it as the ईश्वर's temple. Thus in the case of काम्य कर्म, my attitude is ईश्वर अर्पणम् and then take it back as प्रसाद; in the case of निष्काम कर्म, I dedicate it to the Lord because I don't expect anything in return and in both these attitudes, ईश्वर अर्पण and प्रसाद बुद्धि, what is the advantage, anxiety over कर्म-फलम् goes away. In this ईश्वर अर्पण बुद्धि and प्रसाद बुद्धि, what happens, lubrication happens, my life goes smoothly without violent reaction, why there is no violent reaction, because whatever happens is taken as God's will and my attitude towards God is what, God can never be unjust. God can never do injustice and if at all I feel that the benefit I get is disproportionate, improper I only take it that I don't know what are the factors involved, God knows better. Therefore what I get is what I deserve, not what I desire. Once I know that God cannot be unjust, anything that I get is प्रसाद and therefore कृष्ण says सङ्गम् त्यक्त्वा – give up the anxiety regarding future, which is the biggest problem for every householder. In गृहस्थ आश्रम the biggest problem is what: anxiety and they say, whatever happens to me, it is OK, but nothing should happen to my son, daughter or grandson, even when the great grandson becomes nothing should happen to him, so

लोकाः समस्ताः मम पौत्राः च सुखिनो भवन्तु

Let the whole world and my grandson,- as though the grandson is outside the world, in some other world, लोकाः समस्ताः means your wonderful grandson is also included, that extra anxiety is also taken care of, that is called सङ्ग त्यागः. The sign of कर्मयोग is calmness of the mind, the sign of true devotion is calmness of the mind, कर्मयोगि will plan for the future but he is not going to be anxious over the future, this कृष्ण calls सङ्ग त्यागः, therefore अर्जुन, dedicate all your actions to the Lord and give up all your concerns over the future. And then what is the benefit of that, सः पापेन न लिप्यते – he will not be affected by any पापम्, the कर्म will not produce पापम् for him, even if there are certain defects in the action. Suppose I am doing the पूजा for चित्तशुद्धि, in that पूजा any defect comes nothing will happen, but when the same पूजा is done for the material benefit then it can create no result or it can sometimes produce negative result also. So for a कर्मयोगि, पाप भयम् is not there and therefore पापेन न लिप्यते, he is not tainted or affected, therefore his life is like what: पद्म-पत्रम् अम्भसा इव – just as lotus leaf is in water, it is like गृहस्थ, why because it is amidst people, गृहस्थ is one who is amidst people, amidst responsibilities, amidst problems, like the lotus leaf which is in water but it is not tainted, wet by water. So therefore पद्म-पत्रम् अम्भसा, अम्भसा means water, just as he is not affected. Similarly, he will have so many responsibilities, but we can see him smiling, otherwise the problem what we face is what, no smile at all. The price that many people pay for entering गृहस्थ आश्रम is as somebody nicely said, it is a situation in which a person loses bachelor's degree and never gets the Masters. So therefore you can be a गृहस्थ and still continue to smile, because you don't worry too much. Continuing;

Verse No .11

कायेन मनसा बुद्ध्या केवलैरिन्द्रियैरपि ।

योगिनः कर्म कुर्वन्ति सङ्गं त्यक्त्वात्मशुद्धये ॥ ५-११॥

कायेन मनसा बुद्ध्या केवलैः इन्द्रियैः अपि ।

योगिनः कर्म कुर्वन्ति सङ्गम् त्यक्त्वा आत्म-शुद्धये ॥ ५-११॥

योगिनः आत्म-शुद्धये कायेन, मनसा, बुद्ध्या, केवलैः इन्द्रियैः अपि सङ्गम् त्यक्त्वा कर्म कुर्वन्ति ।

So here कृष्ण says कर्मयोग can be at any level – कायिकम्, वाचिकम् or मानसम् according to one's convenience. In our वैदिक religion alone we have got maximum option. If we can do that, you do that; if you cannot do that, you do the next thing; if that is not possible, next thing, पत्रम् पुष्पम् फलम् तोयम्, not all the four, any one of them also, if पत्रम् is not available, पुष्पम्; if पुष्पम् is not available, तोयम्, etc., any of them you offer, भक्त्या प्रयच्छति, भक्ति is important, so thus we have got maximum option, nobody can say I cannot follow कर्मयोग; I am so busy therefore only you should do कर्मयोग. Therefore nobody can say I cannot do कर्मयोग, because in one way or other it is possible, because we have got कायिकम्, वाचिकम् or मानसम्, therefore कृष्ण says: कायेन कर्म कुर्वन्ति योगिनः, योगिनः means कर्मयोगिनः – they perform physical action when they can afford that, those people who cannot afford कायेन, they can do वाचा, so that is not said but we can supply that also वाचा – verbal action, like नाम जप, or पाठयणम्, they all will come under वाक् कर्म, when a person cannot do कायिकम् कर्म, not that the body is well off, out of laziness I should not take to वाक् कर्म. Option you have given so I am doing वाक् कर्म, if you say that, your cholesterol will increase, so therefore better for health wherever possible कायिकम् कर्म should be done, because one of the benefits of कायिक कर्म is beating laziness, because one of the worst enemy of the human being is laziness. I don't say that: शास्त्रम् itself says that:

the greatest enemy of a human being which is there right from birth itself and which is there in your physical body is आलस्यम् and our Hinduism is very convenient, so if you have to go to some place to visit the Lord, they will say, you only have said

and why can't you do a big पूजा if you ask, पत्रम् पुष्पम् फलम् तोयम् he has said and therefore I will give that, so therefore, कायिक कर्म is extremely important, and for those who cannot afford, वाचिक कर्म and then the next one is what, मनसा, मनसा means मानसम् कर्म, all types of meditations, all types of उपासनाs come under मानस कर्म, मानस पायायणम्, मानस जप, मानस पूजा, they all will come under mental activity and then बुद्ध्या – intellectual कर्म which is in the form of विचार, study. So when you are trying to understand the meaning of the गीता, it is an action done by the बुद्धि. So कायेन मनसा बुद्ध्या इन्द्रियैः अपि and with the help of various sense organs, ज्ञानेन्द्रियाणि, कर्मेन्द्रियाणि, etc., through all these organs, योगिनः कर्म कुर्वन्ति केवलैः, केवलैः is important, because when we get success often we claim the success as our accomplishment; it can go to our head, I did, I did, failure if it comes, we blame others, I was not involved much, success if it comes, before the photos I will stand and say I did, I did. Therefore success can lead to arrogance, failure can lead to frustration and disappointments and therefore to avoid arrogance, कृष्ण says केवलैः, even when you succeed remember, you were able to do all these actions because all these organs are a gift from the Lord, therefore that I could think like that, that I could plan like that, that I could implement, there also Lord's grace is involved, that's why in the 3rd chapter, कृष्ण said,

be humble in success and therefore केवलैः means अभिमान वर्जितैः, without अभिमान, without identification, योगिनः कर्म कुर्वन्ति, सङ्गम् त्यक्त्वा – without the anxiety with regard to future, that is the main indication of कर्मयोग, no anxiety, no tension, no stress. Now everywhere we find only stress, stress, that alone is the topic and new new methods are coming from stress relief, people are talking about प्राणायाम, योग, nature trips; we ourselves destroy nature and then to get the nature you have to travel 100 kms and there will be some people who employ themselves to take you to the nature and you have to pay 1,000 dollars and there you are asked to do योगम्, here you didn't do the सन्ध्यावन्दनम् when asked to do, now he goes and that is where you pay 500 dollars to go to some water falls and garden or something and they teach you प्राणायाम. You follow वैदिक life, you don't have the problem at all. Therefore सङ्गम् त्यक्त्वा, giving up worry about the future, आत्म-शुद्धये and all these साधनस are meant for what आत्म-शुद्धि, here आत्मा means mind, therefore आत्म-शुद्धि means चित्तशुद्धि or मन शुद्धि, not the purity of आत्मा, we need not purify the आत्मा, Why? आत्मा is ever pure, therefore in this context आत्मा should not be understood as सत्-चित्-आनन्द-नित्य-शुद्ध-आत्मा, it is not the चैतन्य-रूप-आत्मा, but it is अन्तःकरण रूप आत्मा, that is why गीता is confusing, because one word is used in different meaning, आत्मा sometimes means सत्-चित्-आनन्द आत्मा, sometimes it means mind, in this context it is mind, sometimes it is the physical body also, जितात्मनः प्रशान्तस्य परमात्मा समाहितः । ॥ ६-७॥ there आत्मा means the physical body also, so which meaning we should take we should know, that is why we have developed a special method of studying the scriptural literature, the Western people do not have the method, that is why all their translations go haywire, because they study the dictionary, in dictionary you can take any of the 25 meanings given there. You take a संस्कृत dictionary, take a word प्रतिपत्तिः, but if have a संस्कृत dictionary, you read the word प्रतिपत्तिः,

35 meanings are there, which one will you take? so, to understand the meaning we have a special key called मीमांसा and only by using the मीमांसा method, we can extract the meaning of the scriptures, that is how शङ्कराचार्य has commented upon and then we know where to take आत्मा as body, आत्मा as mind. Similarly, the word योगिनः is there, योगि can be anyone, in this context we will interpret the word योगिनः as कर्मयोगिनः, if you are studying 6th chapter, we will translate योगि as ध्यान योगि, thus the very same word can have different meaning in different contexts, we should use the appropriate meanings, here आत्म-शुद्धि means चित्तशुद्धि, this point has to be very carefully noted, because कृष्ण clearly says कर्मयोग is only for purity of mind, that means what: कर्मयोग cannot give you ज्ञानम्, कृष्ण didn't say that कर्मयोगि will practice this for ज्ञानम्, कृष्ण says कर्मयोग is practiced only for चित्तशुद्धि, that is why शङ्कराचार्य writes in the विवेकचूडामणि,

चित्तस्य शुद्धये कर्म न तु वस्तूपलब्धये । ... विवेकचूडामणि ११ ॥

आत्मज्ञानम् you will never get through कर्म, for which you have to do गुरु मुखतः वेदान्त श्रवणम्, that कृष्ण will tell later.

Verse No .12

युक्तः कर्मफलं त्यक्त्वा शान्तिमाप्नोति नैष्ठिकीम् ।

अयुक्तः कामकारेण फले सक्तो निबध्यते ॥ ५-१२॥

युक्तः कर्म-फलं त्यक्त्वा शान्तिम् आप्नोति नैष्ठिकीम् ।

अयुक्तः कामकारेण फले सक्तः निबध्यते ॥ ५-१२॥

युक्तः कर्म-फलं त्यक्त्वा नैष्ठिकीम् शान्तिम् आप्नोति । अयुक्तः कामकारेण फले सक्तः निबध्यते ।

So in this verse, another beautiful and important verse, कृष्ण says, कर्मयोग also will give peace of mind, ज्ञानयोग also will give peace of mind, but the difference is कर्मयोग will give a relative peace of mind, which is required for coming to ज्ञानयोग and ज्ञानयोग will give you absolute peace of mind. So thus कर्मयोग is like the first aid and the ज्ञानयोग is like the main treatment. You know the importance of first aid, you recently read a news-item that all the auto rickshaw drivers should be taught first aid, if they drive properly no one will need first aid, that is a different matter! Any way they drive like that, therefore they have to be certainly taught. First aid is extremely important for saving the life, but at the same time first aid is called first aid, because it is only first aid. The very fact that it is called first aid indicate that there is a main treatment, then you cannot argue, second aid is there why first aid. So therefore first aid is very important to save the persons and there afterwards one has to come to the main treatment, in spiritual साधन, कर्मयोग is first aid, ज्ञानयोग is the main treatment and therefore कृष्ण tells that here, युक्तः शान्तिम् आप्नोति, युक्तः means कर्मयोगि, कर्मयोगेन युक्तः is called here युक्तः. This is another word which has got several meanings, the word युक्तः occurs in गीता several times and each time it has got a different shade, so here युक्तः means कर्मयोगि. What is the benefit that he will get? शान्तिम् आप्नोति, everyone is telling you know, no peace peace etc., everything is there except peace. Therefore कर्मयोग can give शान्ति, in fact, कर्मयोग alone can give शान्ति, money can never purchase शान्ति, house can never get शान्ति, air-conditioner can never give you शान्ति, they all can give you physical comfort, material possessions can guarantee only physical comfort, if you need mental comfort कर्मयोग alone can help you in the first stage and therefore शान्तिम् आप्नोति and how did he get that शान्ति, नैष्ठिकीम् – which is born out of कर्मयोग निष्ठा, which is born out of commitment to कर्मयोग and how did he get the शान्ति, what is the mechanism, mechanism is कर्म-फलम् त्यक्त्वा – he dropped his concern for the कर्म-फलम्, so कर्म-फलम् त्यक्त्वा means कर्म-फलम् सङ्गम् त्यक्त्वा, that means he has given up the anxiety for कर्म-फलम्. The future can become a bondage also, future can become an assistance also for us. When we are thinking of the future for the sake of planning then future is useful to me, because I can take into account all the possible obstacles and I can provide for all those obstacles and if I intelligently think of the future it will make me more efficient in the present, but at the same time if I am going to think of future and worry, worry with regard to future will make me deficient in the present; future can make me efficient if I use it for planning, future can make me deficient if I use it for worrying. Similarly, past also, past can be used in two ways, when I use my past for regrets, I did it like that, like this or they did it like that, did it like this, etc., if you go on thinking like that, past becomes a burden for me, past makes me deficient, if I don't use the past intelligently. On the other hand, if I learn lessons from the past and become a mature person, an experienced person then the very same past becomes, makes me efficient in the present. So thus if past is properly utilized I become efficient, if past is improperly utilized I become deficient. Similarly, future is properly utilized for planning I become efficient, if it is improperly utilized I become deficient. कर्मयोगि is one who uses his past also, his future also very very intelligently and therefore कर्म-फलम् त्यक्त्वा, future is not a burden for him. On the other hand, अयुक्तः, अयुक्तः means the one who is not a कर्मयोगि, अकर्मयोगि or कर्मि, what happens, he doesn't know how to use the past and future intelligently. So the past is also abused, how? one failure comes, how we abuse the past, one time we fail, then we are going to think OK, this time failure, this time failure, we become pessimistic. So the past leads to pessimism or fatalism, most of the people are fatalistic, if two times they fail they begin to say, what is in our hands everything is in His hands, we are only puppets, He is making us dance and we are dancing, big philosophers we become just failing for two times. So past can lead to pessimism, past can lead to wisdom also. अयुक्तः is one who has got lot of pessimism and not only that, lot of anxiety also about the future and therefore what happens to him, फले सक्तः – all the time concerned, worried about what will happen to me, what will happen to me, so many precautions he has done, but he doesn't know that life is a series of risks. Everything involves risks including crossing the road as long as auto rickshaws and these water lorries, these things are there even crossing the road is risk. Therefore every step being risk if you are going to worry about risk, you cannot do anything and therefore true security is only surrender to God. That is why कृष्ण will tell in the 9th chapter:

तेषाम् नित्य-अभियुक्तानाम् योग-क्षेमम् वहामि अहम् ॥ ९-२२॥

The real security is भगवान् LIC. It is not local LIC, real insurance is भगवान् and भगवान् alone. I don't say you should drop LIC. Keep all securities, but the only real security is भगवान् alone. The moment we understand that there is a very big relaxation. And therefore फले सक्तः, so the अकर्मयोगि all the time worrying about future, because of what काम कारेण – because of the force of his desire, because of the force of his expectation, फले सक्तः, निबध्यते – such a person is a संसारि, a shackled person, a bound person. Therefore अर्जुन, don't be a कर्मि but be a कर्मयोगि. Continuing;

Verse No .13

सर्वकर्माणि मनसा संन्यस्यास्ते सुखं वशी ।

नवद्वारे पुरे देही नैव कुर्वन्न कारयन् ॥ ९-१३॥

सर्व-कर्माणि मनसा संन्यस्य आस्ते सुखम् वशी ।

नव-द्वारे पुरे देही न एव कुर्वन् न कारयन् ॥ ९-१३॥

वशी देही सर्व-कर्माणि मनसा संन्यस्य, नव-द्वारे पुरे, न एव कुर्वन्, न कारयन् सुखम् आस्ते ।

So with the previous verse, कृष्ण has completed the topic of the various stages of साधन, which he started from the 7th verse. Verse no.7 to 12 states the various stages of साधन one should go through, emphasizing the importance of कर्मयोग. Now from the 13th verse, i.e., this verse, up to the 21st verse, कृष्ण is going to talk about ज्ञानयोग, which is the next stage after कर्मयोग, whose importance many people do not know at all and many people think ज्ञानयोग is optional, many people don't know the importance of scriptural study, they all think why to study all those. Isn't it enough if I continue to be a devotee, I follow values, I do my regular पूजाs and I do all these things and lead a normal life, will I not get liberation, should I study the scriptures? This is the basic question. कृष्ण wants to say that it is important, without that one cannot get ज्ञानम्. So when you come to ज्ञानयोग is your choice, that you have to come to ज्ञानयोग is choice-less. You can postpone it you cannot avoid it. Not now after retirement, hope that you will survive and also all your organs will be intact, big hope! So therefore, 13 to 21 is ज्ञानयोग, Self-knowledge which is the central theme of the 5th chapter, कर्मयोग is only an incidental topic, the 5th chapter primarily deals with ज्ञानयोग and what is ज्ञानयोग, कृष्ण has defined that in the 4th chapter,

This is the practice of ज्ञानयोग कृष्ण said in the 4th chapter, what does it mean, ज्ञानयोग is systematic and consistent study of Vedantic scriptures for a length of time under the guidance of a competent गुरु. Systematic and consistent study of the Vedantic scriptures, because there are other धर्मशास्त्र ग्रन्थः, धर्मशास्त्रs will give you only the knowledge of धर्म and धर्म is important for purity of mind, but धर्मशास्त्र cannot give you Self-knowledge, because they don't deal with Self. Or even if they deal with it is only hinted at in a few verses. Therefore consistent and systematic study of Vedantic scriptures which dwell with this knowledge, what knowledge, who am I, what is this world, who is God, what is the relationship between me and world, what is the relationship between me and God, what is the relationship between God and world, why are we created and what is our goal, these basic questions we call Vedantic scriptures, जीव-जगत्-ईश्वर-बन्ध-मुक्ति, these five topics should be there, जीव-जगत्-ईश्वर-बन्ध-मुक्ति, The scriptures which contain these five topics are called Vedantic scriptures in any language. So consistent and systematic study of the Vedantic scriptures for a length of time under the guidance of a competent गुरु is called ज्ञानयोग and when a person goes through this ज्ञानयोग, he discovers a very very important fact and what is that fact, we saw in the 2nd chapter, I am not the body, I am not the mind, but I am the Consciousness who is functioning through the body. I am transacting through the body-mind-complex, but I am not the body-mind-complex. When the body-mind-complex dies or dissolves, I don't die, my transactions stops. Which we experience regularly during sleep, body and mind becomes inactive or passive, I have not died in sleep, if sleep is equal to death we will never go to sleep, we will somehow keep awake even by putting chilli powder in the eye! We are not worried of sleep because I know that sleep is not the end of me, it is the only end of my transactions. And that is why we are ready to sleep anywhere, including, OK, I don't want to say. So therefore I am the Consciousness who is behind the body, the body may end but I don't die at all, not only I am the pure Consciousness, I am अकर्ता and अभोक्ता, I don't do any action at all. Remember the example of the light, the light is on the hand alright, but all the movements belong to the hand alone, the light doesn't move from one place to another, In fact, light cannot move, because it is already pervading and therefore, what does a ज्ञानयोगि do? सर्व-कर्माणि मनसा संन्यस्य, he discovers the fact that I am the actionless आत्मा. Therefore all the actions are transferred to the body-mind-complex, it is a shift in the identification and therefore instead of claiming the actions as mine, I hand over the actions to the body-mind-complex, the body-mind-complex will have to act in the world and it will have to reap the result also. We discussed this elaborately in the 2nd chapter also, in the 3rd chapter also, that is what is said here, सर्व-कर्माणि संन्यस्य. संन्यस्य means a ज्ञानि renounces all actions. How does he renounce the actions? Very important श्लोक it is. शङ्कराचार्य quotes this श्लोक very often, one of the very important श्लोकs of the गीता, how does he renounce the action? He does not physically renounce the action, actions will continue at the body and mental level, but he doesn't claim the actions as his actions, because he is detached from the body-mind-complex and therefore he says I do not act, in my presence the body-mind-complex acts. Previously I said I act, but now the vision is what, in my presence the body-mind-complex acts, not only that, the body-mind-complex cannot avoid action. And therefore मनसा संन्यस्य, he renounces through knowledge, it is internal renunciation, through detachment, not external renunciation, many people chant this verse whenever sickness comes or षष्ट्यब्दपूर्ति or शताभिषेकम् comes. त्र्यम्बकं यजामहे has become a very popular मन्त्र for physical health and longevity. There is nothing wrong in doing that, but the original purpose of the मन्त्र is not for physical immortality, because physical immortality is impossible and whoever claims physical immortality is possible, they themselves have disappeared, they are out. Therefore immortality is not physical, immortality is gained by the knowledge that I am not the mortal body. This knowledge is called attainment of immortality, I am not the mortal body and therefore body's mortality doesn't belong to me, this knowledge is called उर्वारुकमिव बन्धनान्मृत्योर्मुक्षीय . Therefore मनसा संन्यस्य and once I have known that I am the immortal-आत्मा and I have learned to accept the body's mortality, then the greatest advantage is fear of death is gone, which is the biggest fear and therefore how does a ज्ञानि remain, सुखम् आस्ते – there is a relief, there is lightness. What is enlightenment? Making myself light! Light is opposite of heavy, like that mind becomes light, now it is how: it is heavy, ‘स्वामिजि, my mind is heavy’ and therefore I want to get rid of the mind, but wherever I go the mind comes, even if you go to the मानससरोवर the mind will come together, you cannot drop it at चेन्नै. So how to kill the mind, take to alcohol and a time comes when you are not able to continue you are not able to withdraw also, very big problem. You try to get out of the mind by various wrong methods, अशान्तस्य मनोभारः – when शान्ति is not there mind is a भारः. This knowledge removes the भारम् of mind, सुखम् आस्ते वशी, वशी means a ज्ञानि, a man of control, a man of mastery, he remains how: न एव कुर्वन् न कारयन् – without involving in any action directly or indirectly, because he doesn’t do any action, in his presence body-mind-complex acts. Therefore न एव कुर्वन् means neither doing actions directly or न कारयन् – making others act. Some people they don’t act, but they kill others in the home by getting all the work done, that is called कारयन्, making other people turn like a top. आत्मा is neither कर्ता nor कारयिता. More in the next class.

In the first part of the 5th chapter, Lord कृष्ण pointed out that there is a choice with regard to the lifestyle that a person wants to take to, the choice being one of a life of seclusion, a withdrawn life and the other is a life of activity amidst the society. One is called the प्रवृत्ति, the other is called निवृत्ति; one is called गृहस्थ आश्रम, the other is called संन्यास आश्रम. In fact, these two आश्रमs are supposed to be the primary ones, ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम is only a support for गृहस्थ आश्रम and वानप्रस्थ आश्रम is only a support for संन्यास आश्रम, the actual आश्रमs are only two, गृहस्थ and संन्यास and an active lifestyle and a withdrawn lifestyle; a life of possession, and a life without possession. Having pointed out that there is a choice with regard to the lifestyle, कृष्ण pointed out that whatever be one's lifestyles there is no choice with regard to the साधन, everyone has go through two stages of साधनs,

The first stage of साधन being purificatory discipline and for purification the शास्त्र prescribes varieties of activities, some of them are कायिक कर्माणि – physical, some of them वाचिक कर्माणि – verbal, some of them are मानस कर्माणि – mental and in each कर्म we have got choices also. So thus thousands of physical activities, thousands of verbal activities and thousands of mental activities we can choose anyone that is suitable. If one is गृहस्थ आश्रम with lot of wealth he can do enough साधनs in which he can spend the wealth and if a person is poor and incapable of spending money then there are 'cheap' साधनs, which does not involve even a single paisa of expenditure, but still it can purify and therefore according to one's own inclination, according to one's own resources, according to one's own facility one has to do कायिक, वाचिक, मानस कर्माणि to attain ज्ञानयोग्यता. This ज्ञानयोग्यता प्राप्ति is the first stage which a गृहस्थ also should go through, which a संन्यासि also should go through. And having attained ज्ञानयोग्यता, fitness for spiritual knowledge, thereafter one has to enter into ज्ञानयोगः, that is the second stage of साधन which is the discovery of our own higher-Self. We have two selves as it were, one is the lower, inferior, relative I called the ego and the other higher, superior, absolute I. The lower-I, the ego is defined as the body-mind-complex with the reflected Consciousness, borrowed Consciousness, विदाभास सहित कार्य करण सङ्घातः अहङ्कारः, the definition of अहङ्कार, the body-mind-complex or the body-mind-sense-complex, sense organs are also included, this complex with the reflected Consciousness, this is called ego-I. This ego-I is कर्ता, This ego-I is भोक्ता, this ego-I has got सञ्चित कर्म, आगामि कर्म, प्रारब्ध कर्म and this ego-I alone travels from लोक to लोक, body to body, this ego-I alone requires श्राद्ध, तर्पण and all of them are associated with the empirical-I.

And in the second stage of spiritual साधन what we want to do is to discover another superior-I which has no connection with the inferior, ego, relative-I and that I alone we talked about in the 2nd chapter as the Consciousness-principle, the चैतन्य तत्त्वम्, otherwise called the आत्मा तत्त्वम्. And discovering that I is called ज्ञानयोगः which is being discussed from verse no.13 of this chapter up to verse no.21 and there I had discussed the nature of the higher-I in the 2nd chapter, which you have to recollect in this context. What are the features we saw in the 2nd chapter, first we said that

i) Consciousness is an independent principle which is not bound by the limitations of the body, remembering the example, exactly like the light principle, which pervades the hand, but which is independent of the hand. So thus my higher nature is pure चैतन्यम्.

ii) And then कृष्ण pointed out that this Consciousness is एकम्. Bodies are many, minds are many but the Consciousness which pervades the body mind is एकः.

iii) Then कृष्ण pointed out that this Consciousness is therefore only सर्वगतः, it is all-pervading like space.

iv) And then कृष्ण pointed out that even when the physical body is destroyed, the Consciousness will continue to exist but it cannot transact or express because the body is the medium for the expression of Consciousness. Again remembering the light, when there is the hand you can see the light reflected, when the hand is removed the light continues to exist there but you are not able to perceive that light. So thus Consciousness is एकः, Consciousness is सर्वगतः, Consciousness is नित्यः, eternal.

v) And then कृष्ण pointed out in the 2nd chapter that this Consciousness is निर्विकारः, not subject to modification, again comparing the light itself, even when my hand is moving, the light does not move at all, the light has got a seeming movement when the hand is moving, when I am folding my fingers or hand the light doesn't get folded up.

Similarly, कृष्ण said,

न जायते म्रियते वा कदाचिन् नायं भूत्वा भविता वा न भूयः ।

अजो नित्यः शाश्वतोऽयं पुराणो न हन्यते हन्यमाने शरीरे ॥ २-२०॥

The reflecting medium body has got six-fold modifications, like potential existence in the womb of the mother the body has got birth, the body has got growth, body has got transformation, the body has got decay, body has got death, body has षड्-विकारः, but the चैतन्यम् pervading the body is निर्विकारः. And then कृष्ण pointed out in the 2nd chapter, In fact, all those ideas are reinforced in this portion. That is why I am connecting the 2nd and 5th chapter, that is why in the 2nd chapter verses No.12 to 25, I have very very elaborately discussed. And then कृष्ण pointed out that if Consciousness cannot undergo any change it cannot perform any action because action involves change and if I have to do physical action, the physical body will have to undergo change it cannot be motionless. If verbal action is required, mouth has to undergo change or modification. That is we get tired after some time. Some people can speak for one hour, some people 2 hours, even those people after some time they get tired, why because action involves movement, even mental activity requires movement in the form of thought movement. Therefore action is defined as विकारात्मकम् कर्म, चलनात्मकम् कर्म, action requires or presupposes movement. If Consciousness is without modification, Consciousness cannot do any action. Exactly like what: अकाश, among the five elements, the space alone is all-pervading, just as the all-pervading space cannot do any action Consciousness also cannot do. What actions space does, does space move from one place to another? Space does not do any action, cannot do any action. Why because space cannot move at all, even vibration is not possible for the space. And therefore कृष्ण says Consciousness is अकर्ता, you have to remember everything, एकः, सर्वगतः, नित्यः, निर्विकारः, अकर्ता, free from all actions. When I say action, neither good कर्म nor bad कर्म are there, for the higher-Self. Then what about all our पुण्य पापम्, whenever we talk about our पुण्यपापम्, it is referring to which Self, not the higher-Self, but our inferior lower self. And if आत्मा is अकर्ता, natural consequence is it will be अभोक्ता also, because if कर्म are not there, how can there be कर्म-फलम्. यः कर्ता भवति सः भोक्ता भवति, यः कर्मणाम् कर्ता भवति सः कर्मफलानाम् भोक्ता भवति. The doer is the enjoyer. But आत्मा is neither the doer nor the enjoyer. And then कृष्ण wants to say that the wise person is one who has owned up the higher-Self, as his real nature and because of the constant claiming of the higher-Self, the ego has become an insignificant entity for him. Previously the ego appeared extremely important and therefore as a कर्ता, I am obsessed with how many actions I have to do and I am getting old, time is not enough, I have to do over time. So thus as a कर्ता I am obsessed with the actions that I have to do and anxious about the results that I will get, so thus अहङ्कार appeared too big, but in the case of a wise person he learns to look at the अहङ्कार from the mountain called आत्मा. When you look at a coconut tree from the ground it is too big, but when you look at the same tree from a mountain it has become small. All your life's problems will appear very very big if you study from अहङ्कार standpoint, but you look at the same problem from the standpoint of आत्मा, all the problems even the greatest problem will appear like a pin-prick. ज्ञानि has not avoided the problems of अहङ्कार, ज्ञानि looks at his own अहङ्कार from आत्मा's standpoint. If I am looking at the body from अहङ्कार's standpoint naturally I am worried about old age and death and especially when I grow old I am worried about the children how they will survive without me, we think we are taking care of the children, in fact, the fact is without us they will be better off. So therefore, all these problems will appear so big but when I shift my I from the body to आत्मा, then this body to learn to look at objectively and this is one among the millions of bodies and billions of bodies have appeared and disappeared, nothing has happened to the creation, in fact, it is going perfectly well, giants have appeared and disappeared what tragedy is going to happen if one speck of dust disappears from the earth. So thus, the benefit of discovering the higher-Self is I learn to look at the अहङ्कार objectively and therefore the कर्म, पुण्य पापम्s, all of them become insignificant just as the dream becomes insignificant after waking. Dream is very very powerful when we are in dream, but the dream becomes insignificant after waking. And therefore what is the difference between a ज्ञानि and an अज्ञानि. A ज्ञानि is one who claims आत्मा as himself, an अज्ञानि is one who claims अहङ्कार as himself, अहङ्कार means body-mind-complex as himself. Therefore in the गीता, all the descriptions of a ज्ञानि are the descriptions of आत्मा. So a ज्ञानि is described in the form of आत्मा description, why because a ज्ञानि identifies with आत्मा, all अज्ञानि's description will be description of अहङ्कार, because an अज्ञानि identifies with अहङ्कार, therefore what you are depends upon what you identify with. What you are depends upon what you identify with. Identify with your lower-self you are संसारि, identify with your higher-Self you are free, when, here and now. Therefore कृष्ण in the 13th श्लोक points out a ज्ञानि has identified with आत्मा. And since he has identified with आत्मा he doesn't say I am the body, but he says I am in the body, I am pervading the body and I am blessing this body and this body will disappear after some time, but I, who am blessing the body, will not disappear and therefore where is the worry of death, and therefore कृष्ण says he enjoys his life. So सर्व-कर्माणि मनसा संन्यस्य – so all these actions a ज्ञानि renounces by shifting the identification from the body to आत्मा, he doesn't renounce the action but he renounces his अभिमान on action, action renunciation is action अभिमान renunciation. So सर्व-कर्माणि संन्यस्य, he renounces and how does he do that, मनसा, here मनसा means ज्ञानेन, by wisdom and what is that wisdom, I am not the temporary lower-self, the body, I am the higher-Self, the आत्मा, इति अकर्तृ आत्मा विज्ञानेन सर्व-कर्माणि संन्यस्य वशी, वशी means a ज्ञानि, who is a master, स्वामि. As a body I am a slave because as body I am controlled by the external forces, as Consciousness I am the controller of the external forces. As the dream individual I am the creature in the dream, after waking up I am the creator of the dream. So just shifting the I makes a very big difference and therefore, वशी, this master, this ज्ञानि, सुखम् आस्ते – leads his life very comfortably. Other people may be worried about his bodily condition, but he is not worried about who will take care of me in my old age, in the last stage who will give me a drop of water, who will put the rice in the mouth, who will do श्राद्धम् for me, whether the children are there, there are children but there is no boy to do the कर्म, all these worries are from अहङ्कार standpoint, आत्मा doesn't have all these, therefore सुखम् आस्ते, very very comfortable. And if you ask him where are you, he says, नवदारे पुरे, पुरम् means the physical body, the body is compared to a small kingdom, the physical body is compared to a small kingdom and the skin, the outer skin is compared to the city walls, like the wall of China, which goes round China, so that it will protect the kingdom from the external attack. Similarly, we also have got a wall of protection, you know what is that wall, the very skin itself and if all over the kingdom walls are there, you cannot transact with the external world, therefore there should be what, gateways for interaction with the outside world and therefore the physical body has got नवद्वाराणि, 9 gateways and what are the 9 gateways, सप्त शीर्षण्यानि, 7 holes are there on the face for interaction, the शब्दः स्पर्श, रूपः, रसः, गन्धः, sound, forms, smell, taste and touch, from the external world enter the body city, through what gate, the eyes, ears, etc., there are called entrance gate. And we have got two gateways down below, for the removal of the waste from the body, the excretory holes are there, there are exit gate, some gates are entrance gate, one way traffic, the excretory organs only for excretion. but there are certain two way gates also, what is that, mouth, when I am speaking I am conveying my ideas to you, therefore ideas are coming from inside it is going out, exit gate and when you eat food, what is happening, the very same mouth is functioning as entrance gate. So thus body is a wonderful city, with a city wall and 9 gates for interaction and there are roads and roads, you know what are the roads, all the blood vessels are compared to the roads, there are highway roads, aorta, pulmonary artery and since bigger roads are there, all the capillaries are by lanes, small streets, go the North चेन्नै, मैलापुर, we have got bigger roads and we have got smaller roads and often there is traffic jam also, blockage of the blood vessel, then you have to do clearance, angiogram, angioplasty, bye-pass surgery, like the flyovers. Similarly, within the body also, what is by-pass surgery, too much problem, blocked vessels, there are so many workers also, all the प्राणIs are considered to be the workers in the body. And for this body city, who is the king, आत्मा is the king. As long as the जीवात्मा is there to bless the body this body city is live and active, When the blessing is not available the body cannot survive even for a few hours, even the dearest son, he has to come within a few days after the death, otherwise dispose of the body, why because the राज is not there. And therefore who is आत्मा, आत्मा is the राज and a ज्ञानि is identified with आत्मा, therefore we say a ज्ञानि is the master of his body. Therefore देही, the आत्मा, the ज्ञानि, नवद्वारे पुरे, in this body he resides, he pervades and what action does he do, न एव कुर्वन् – Consciousness is अकर्ता, does not do any action, so before the class so many people are coming and going, there are setting up the chairs, spreading the carpet, etc., mike is kept, adjusting this, etc., all these activities are going on blessed by the light principle, the light itself does not do any action, what is the job of the light, illumines the action but it is not involved in the action, this is called साक्षि भावः and since the light only illumines, the light cannot get the good result of good action also, it doesn't have the bad results also, in the light a doctor may do a surgery and save a person, in the same light another pickpocket may pick the pocket, but the light doesn't have the पुण्यम् of the surgery, light doesn't have the पापम् of the picking the pocket, but पुण्य कर्म and पाप कर्म took place when, in the presence of the light, light is required but light is not involved, अकर्तृत्वे सति प्रकाशकत्वम् साक्षित्वम्. So illumining something without involvement is called साक्षि भावः, a ज्ञानि remains as a साक्षि. And not only he doesn't do action, न कारयन् – because action is two-fold, one is direct action, another is indirect action. What do you mean indirect action, instigating another one to do action is called indirect action, direct action, the one who has is called कर्ता, the one who does indirect action is called कारयिता – the instigator. In any criminal action, not only the actor has got crime if there is somebody who has instigated that that instigator also will have to take the punishment, because now-a-days they say, there are hooligans who can be employed, their job is crime, even up to killing and suppose somebody pays the criminal to do the crime, not only the criminal is doing the crime, the one who has instigated him he also is tainted by the crime. Now the question is आत्मा may not be doing any action, thus आत्मा instigates one to do action. If आत्मा is the instigator, every criminal will say what, I didn't do that, the आत्मा which is inside made me do it, like people saying, 'all is God's play', it is a terrible argument if it is not properly understood, people say we are only puppets, we don't do anything, every action is done by भगवान्, you know what is the consequence of such an approach and if we are instrument and भगवान् is doing action through us for all the crimes, who will incur पापम्? The instrument or the user of the instrument? So if a person kills someone with a knife, knife is never punished, the instrument is never punished, the one who has used the instrument alone is punished. Similarly, if you say भगवान् instigates me to do all these things or आत्मा does, आत्मा will have पुण्यम् and पापम्. Therefore कृष्ण says don't blame आत्मा, don't blame भगवान्, आत्मा न काश्यन् – it doesn't instigate also. आत्मा doesn't ask a criminal to do a crime and आत्मा doesn't ask a saint to do a noble action, आत्मा is simply present as the witness, exactly like what, light. Light will illumine, if we have good thinking, in the light we will do good action, but if our mind is not good we will do bad actions in the same light, goodness and badness belongs to the lower-I, the higher-I does not have either goodness or badness,

आत्मा doesn't have पुण्यम् also, पापम् also, therefore न एव कुर्वन् न काश्यन् आस्ते. Continuing;

Verse No .14

न कर्तृत्वं न कर्माणि लोकस्य सृजति प्रभुः ।

न कर्मफलसंयोगं स्वभावस्तु प्रवर्तते॥ ७-१४॥

न कर्तृत्वम् न कर्माणि लोकस्य सृजति प्रभुः ।

न कर्म-फल-संयोगम् स्वभावः तु प्रवर्तते ॥ ७-१४॥

प्रभुः लोकस्य न कर्तृत्वम्, न कर्माणि, न कर्म-फल-संयोगम् सृजति । स्वभावः तु प्रवर्तते ।

In chanting also, there are rules for chanting, so लोकस्य सृजति प्रभुः is there, some people chant it as लोकस्य सृजति प्रभुः, that is not correct. After लोकस्य gap should not be there. Similarly, in second line, स्वभावस्तु प्रवर्तते, they chant without gap here, that is also wrong, here स्वभावस्तु प्रवर्तते, gap should be given. So how do you know where to give the gap and where not to give the gap, either you should learn the rules or you should learn to chant from someone. The rule is when a short vowel is followed by a double consonant there should be a gap, when a short vowel is followed by a single consonant there should not be gap. Look at the first line, लोकस्य सृजति प्रभुः, लोकस्य has got short vowel, vowel consonant we all have learned, in the word लोकस्य the ending letter is a vowel, अ is a short vowel, it is followed by सृ which is a consonant. सृ is made of स and र, स is a consonant, र is a vowel, so सृ comes under consonant plus a vowel, therefore it is only a single consonant, therefore you should read लोकस्यसृजति प्रभुः, that is right, what is wrong reading is लोकस्य सृजति प्रभुः. Are you able to make the difference? लोकस्यसृजति प्रभुः is the right reading. Now coming to the second line, स्वभावस्तु, it is ending in the vowel उ which is short vowel and it is followed by प्र, प्र is a single consonant or a double consonant? In the previous one सृ, it is स plus र, which is vowel, whereas प्र when you say, it consists of प plus र plus अ, it is not प plus र. It is not र vowel, but it is प which is a consonant, then र which is a consonant; र is a vowel, र is a consonant, one should know the difference between र and र, र is a vowel, र is a consonant. Therefore, प्र is a double consonant and since प्र is a double consonant, after the vowel you have to give a gap, therefore what is the right changing - स्वभावस्तु प्रवर्तते and what is wrong chanting - स्वभावस्तुप्रवर्तते. This you have to observe throughout. Where short vowel, where conjunct consonant, double consonant is called conjunct consonant, in संस्कृत just as in English, pronunciation rules are there, for many ‘pronunciation’ itself is a problem, they will say pronunciation, there is no pronunciation, it is pronunciation, pronounce is the verb, the noun is not pronunciation, it is pronunciation, it is n-u-n, like English rules, but in English rules are arbitrary, in संस्कृत they are systematic and logical, therefore if you don't observe those rules, what you do is when I chant, very clearly listen and then exactly reproduce लोकस्यसृजतिप्रभुः, लोकस्यसृजतिप्रभुः, OK. That is aside. Now let us come to the topic. कृष्ण says आत्मा doesn't produce any thing at all, प्रभुः, प्रभुः means आत्मा, which means master, so प्रभुः the आत्मा, न सृजति – does not create anything and what are those things, कर्तृत्वम् – doership. so the body has got natural doership, mind has got natural doership or technically अहङ्कार has got natural doership, आत्मा is not responsible, exactly like what कृष्ण will explain that in the 2nd line, there we will see, the doership is not created by आत्मा, कर्माणि न सृजति – even the objects of action the आत्मा does not produce, आत्मा doesn't produce the कर्ता, आत्मा doesn't produce the कर्म and न कर्म-फलम् संयोगम् आत्मा does not produce the interaction between कर्ता and कर्म-फलम्, it does not produce कर्ता, it does not produce कर्म, it does not produce कर्म-फलम् and it does not produce the interaction or association between कर्ता and कर्म-फलम्. In short, आत्मा doesn't do anything, न कर्म-फल-संयोगम्. OK, if आत्मा doesn't do anything, how come all these are doing actions, who is responsible for all these actions, कृष्ण says स्वभावः तु प्रवर्तते – it is the innate nature of the body to be active, it is the innate nature of the mind to be active, आत्मा does not do, exactly like electricity blesses all the gadgets generally, electricity does not ask the radio to produce sound, electricity does not ask the fan to rotate, electricity blesses all of them, if the fan rotates it is inbuilt nature of the fan which has the potentiality to rotate, it is the inbuilt nature of the radio to bring out the audio, it is the inbuilt nature of the television to do its function, functions are not determined by the आत्मा, functions are the innate nature of the gadget, electricity just blesses. Similarly, here also, the mind does its activities, the senses do their activities, the body does its activities, आत्मा is only a witness. Again remember the example of light, light remaining the same, a criminal does a criminal action, a saint does a saintly action, light is not responsible for the saintliness of the saint or the criminality of the criminal. Therefore don't blame the light, at the same time, don't say that light is not required because in the presence of light alone they can do their respective actions, so स्वभावः तु प्रवर्तते . Continuing;

Verse No .15

नादत्ते कस्यचित्पापं न चैव सुकृतं विभुः ।

अज्ञानेनावृतं ज्ञानं तेन मुह्यन्ति जन्तवः ॥ ७-१५॥

न आदत्ते कस्यचित् पापं न च एव सुकृतं विभुः ।

अज्ञानेन आवृतम् ज्ञानम् तेन मुह्यन्ति जन्तवः ॥ ७-१५॥

विभुः न कस्यचित् पापं, न च एव सुकृतं आदत्ते । अज्ञानेन ज्ञानम् आवृतम्, तेन जन्तवः मुह्यन्ति ।

So in the previous verses, कृष्ण said आत्मा is अकर्ता and अकारयिता, neither आत्मा is a doer nor is आत्मा an instigator. Now in this verse कृष्ण says therefore only आत्मा is अभोक्ता, it doesn't have any पुण्यम् or पापम्,

न पुण्यम् न पापम् न सौख्यम् न दुःखम् न मन्त्रो न तीर्थो न वेदो न यज्ञ ।

अहम् भोजनम् नैव भोज्यम् न भोक्ता विदानन्दरूपः शिवोऽहम् शिवोऽहम्

॥ निर्वाण षट्कम् ४॥

अकाशवत्, just as the space does not get wet when there is rain, the space does not get burned when there is fire, in the same way the space like Consciousness is not tainted by पापम् also and it is not improved by पुण्यम् also. So then we may get a very big doubt, now this seems to be a very convenient teaching, so it seems a criminal did a very big crime and then ran away and then the police caught the criminal and he was tried in the court and before passing the verdict, the criminal quoted this श्लोक, I do not do any कर्म, I do not do any पुण्यम् कर्म or पाप कर्म, I have not killed anyone at all and therefore I should not be given any punishment, in my presence the body only did the action, don't punish me. So this is called the devil quoting the scriptures and fortunately the judge also was well learned in the गीता, so therefore judge also said, yes, it is very true, you are the आत्मा, you are अकर्ता, you are अभोक्ता, you have not done any पापम् at all, therefore you don't require any imprisonment and you cannot be imprisoned also because you are all-pervading, in your presence the body did the crime and therefore I am imprisonment only to the body, so will you be able to accept that. If you are able to withdraw from the body when a wrong action is done, you should be able to withdraw from the body when the body suffers the result of wrong action, when you are doing कर्म you are saying that you are not the body and when the body suffers if you say that you are the body, then it is a problem. Either identify with the body throughout or dis-identify from the body throughout, partial identification is dangerous philosophy. Therefore, at the body level कर्म is there, कर्म-फलम् is there and therefore laws of कर्मs will function. Therefore at the body level I have to be धार्मिक, but I have to own up my पुण्य-पाप अतीत स्वरूपम् at the level of the आत्मा, therefore we should not mix up the higher-Self and the lower-self. And therefore here कृष्ण is talking about from आत्मा angle, I am अकर्ता, अभोक्ता. Then why do people suffer, what is the cause of all suffering? कृष्ण says the cause of suffering is देह अभिमान, the bodily identification, the अहङ्कार identification, to remember the 3rd chapter,

अहङ्कार-विमूढ-आत्मा कर्ता अहम् इति मन्यते ॥ ३-२७॥

It is देह अभिमान which is the cause of all the problems and why is there देह अभिमान, body identification. Because of the ignorance of the higher nature, when I don't know my superior Self, I identify with my inferior self. Therefore कृष्ण says अज्ञानेन आवृतम् ज्ञानम् – because of the ignorance of the higher nature, all the जीवs are suffering. So from this it is very clear that our basic problem is अज्ञानम्. And if अज्ञानम् is the problem what is the solution? There is only one solution, ज्ञानम्, that is going to be talked about which we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 05, VERSES 15-17

After talking about कर्मयोग as the first stage of साधन now Lord कृष्ण is talking about ज्ञानयोग as the second stage of साधन. In कर्मयोग साधन we have something to do and in ज्ञानयोग साधन we have something to know. We should know the difference very clearly. And when I talk about ज्ञानम्, we should remember, it is only the knowledge of आत्मा. In Vedantic context, whenever we talk about ज्ञानम् it means जीवात्मा-परमात्मा ऐक्य ज्ञानम्. Before doing कर्मयोग also we have to take the knowledge of कर्मयोग. कर्मयोग also requires knowledge, knowledge about कर्म, knowledge about कर्मफल and knowledge about the attitude with which we have to do the action. Therefore कर्मयोग also presupposes knowledge but that knowledge is not आत्मज्ञानम्. Therefore the knowledge that is required for कर्मयोग is not the आत्मज्ञानम्. For कर्मयोग we do not discuss the nature of आत्मा, we do not discuss the nature of ब्रह्मन्, we do not discuss the ऐक्यम् between जीवात्मा and परमात्मा. And therefore that knowledge we are not discussing here.

- 1) First we have to gain the knowledge about कर्मयोग which is not आत्मज्ञानम्.
- 2) Having gained the knowledge about कर्मयोग we have to practice कर्मयोग, because gaining the knowledge about कर्मयोग will not liberate us. After gaining the knowledge about कर्मयोग we have to practice कर्मयोग and purify the mind.
- 3) And after purifying the mind, we have to gain the knowledge of आत्मा, that particular knowledge alone is liberating knowledge.

And therefore whenever we talk about ज्ञानम् in the context of गीता, you should remember, it is only one particular knowledge and that is अद्वैत ज्ञानम्, जीवात्मा-परमात्मा ऐक्य ज्ञानम्. All the other forms of knowledge, we do not call knowledge, that we should very clearly remember and that जीवात्मा-परमात्मा ऐक्य ज्ञानम् is discussed from verse no.13 up to verse no.21. Here कृष्ण talked about our higher nature known as आत्मा, which is different from the physical body, which is different from the mind, which is otherwise known as ego. अहङ्कार व्यतिरिक्त आत्मज्ञानम्, अहङ्कार is our lower-self and आत्मा is our higher-Self, about that आत्मा कृष्ण talked about till now, न आदत्ते कस्यचित् पापं न च एव सुकृतं विभुः, this higher nature is अकर्ता, this higher nature is अभोक्ता and therefore it is free from पुण्यम् and पापम् and therefore it is free from संसार and having talked about the higher nature कृष्ण says all our problems are because of the ignorance of this higher nature, like a person who is suffering in dream, he has lost all his money in dream and he is wandering on the street, without food and he is also harassed by other people to get out of the dream suffering, he has to do only one thing, what is that: wake up, to know that: I am comfortable lying down in an air-conditioned room, where power is there, this is to be added! where electricity is there, I don't have any problem. So the dream suffering belongs to the unreal lower-self, the waker is my higher nature which is free from all suffering. And from Vedantic angle, the waker himself is lower-self, compared to which we have got still a higher-Self which is identical with ईश्वर himself. शङ्कराचार्य tells in his मनीषा पञ्चकम्,

ब्रह्मैवाहमिदम् जगत्त्व सकलम् चिन्मात्रविस्तारितम् सर्वम् चैतदविद्याया
त्रिगुणयाशेषम् मया कल्पितम् । ... ॥ मनीषापञ्चकम् २ ॥

I am that परम्ब्रह्म, which has created this whole universe and which has created this small physical body also and having created this world and the body, I have chosen to come down and identify with this body to play a drama; in fact, we are all अवतारम् of Lord, we have created this world and this body and we have chosen to identify with the body and play a drama, but what has happened is, the drama has become damn serious and it has become so serious that we have even forgotten the fact, that we alone are responsible for all this drama, like a person suffering in dream has forgotten the fact that I the waker have created this dream and that is why in कठोपनिषत् we will be seeing the आचार्य says, उतिष्ठत जाग्रत (how long are you going to sleep, how long are you going to suffer in this nightmarish संसार) please wake up and what is our nature, we generally don't wake up, even if we walk up, as we do when we were children, we walk up and roll to the other side and again continue to sleep. Some people get up, sit, drink coffee, bed coffee, without brushing the teeth in yesterday's account and again lie down and sleep. Similarly, in every वेदान्त class, we wake up and thereafterwards, we again go to sleep and therefore कृष्ण says, अज्ञानेन आवृतम् ज्ञानम्. All our problems are because of the ignorance of our higher nature, so अज्ञानेन आवृतम् ज्ञानम्, ज्ञानम् means knowledge, knowledge of what: knowledge of our own higher nature and because of this Self-ignorance, जन्तवः मुह्यन्ति, कृष्ण doesn't want to call us even human being, कृष्ण says जन्तवः मुह्यन्ति, you know what is a जन्तुः, an animal is called जन्तुः and कृष्ण calls us all of us जन्तुः and what is the derivation of the word जन्तुः, पुनः पुनः जायते इति जन्तुः – the one which is subject to repeated जन्म is जन्तुः and when I am identified with body I have got पुनरपि जननम् and therefore an ignorant human being is a जन्तुः only, whereas wise person is no more a जन्तुः, because wise person doesn't say I am subject to birth, what does he say:

अजो नित्यः शाश्वतोऽयं पुराणो न हन्यते हन्यमाने शरीरे ॥ २-२०॥

I am not a जन्तुः subject to birth and death, I am अजः, जन्म रहितम् ब्रह्म and therefore all our problems are because of Self-ignorance. So this verse is a very important verse, because here कृष्ण gives the diagnosis for our संसार रोगः. So because of the ignorance, जन्तवः मुह्यन्ति – they are deluded, because once I am identified with the body, identification is one but the consequences are many. Just to see a few consequences:

First consequence is I become a finite entity, so spatially finite and therefore I have an eagerness to travel all over, I want to see this, see that, I want to go for world tour, I want to see Niagara, I want to see Eiffel tower, therefore inordinate greed to travel because I feel spatially finite, then time-wise also I am finite, when I mistake myself as the body and I do not accept my time-wise infinitude, I don't want to die, I want to survive. And that is why even those people, it seems a person had written to the doctor and family members, 'if I get an incurable disease, please don't treat me,' he has given permission and it was written, but before taking any action the family members and doctors once again asked this person, would you like to survive, would you like to have a treatment or would you like to die, then he changed his opinion and said, I would like to live. So first he says, 'don't treat me, I don't mind dying,' but when actually time comes, 'one more day, one more day, last grandson's thread ceremony is coming and I would like to see with my eyes.' And once that is over something else will come, because nobody wants mortality. Therefore, identification with body leads to spatial limitation, time-wise limitation and thereafter so many other problems also. Therefore कृष्ण calls all of them as मोहः – delusions galore and therefore जन्तवः मुह्यन्ति, संसारम् अनुभवन्ति. Now the question is what is the solution, diagnosis over, now what is the course of treatment, what antibiotics should be taken, what surgery should be done, that is going to be given in the next verse which is also an important verse. 15 and 16 are important. I will tell you why it is important later.

Verse No .16

ज्ञानेन तु तदज्ञानं येषां नाशितमात्मनः ।

तेषामादित्यवज्ज्ञानं प्रकाशयति तत्परम् ॥ ७-१६॥

ज्ञानेन तु तत् अज्ञानम् येषाम् नाशितम् आत्मानः ।

तेषाम् आदित्यवत् ज्ञानम् प्रकाशयति तत् परम् ॥ ७-१६॥

येषाम् तु तत् अज्ञानम् आत्मानः ज्ञानेन नाशितम्, तेषाम् ज्ञानम् आदित्यवत् तत् परम् प्रकाशयति ।

The solution is going to be talked about. In the previous verse कृष्ण said that ignorance is the root cause, अज्ञानेन आवृतम् ज्ञानम्. Now if ignorance is the cause of problem then what should be the solution? The ignorance must be removed. If a particular germ in water has caused the stomach upset, if certain bacteria are responsible for a particular disease, what is the solution? That particular bacterium should be destroyed, for that only they have antibiotics. If ignorance is the bacteria then we should find out a medicine to destroy ignorance. And which antibiotics will destroy ignorance-bacteria, there is only one medicine and that is ज्ञानम्. Ignorance can be destroyed only by ज्ञानम्. शङ्कराचार्य gives the example, just as darkness can be removed only by light. Suppose a person asks a question, there are how many methods to remove darkness, how many methods are there to remove darkness? Suppose somebody comes and tells that by sweeping you can remove darkness and another person comes and tells, do योगासन in the dark room, another person says do meditation in the dark room and another person says chant विष्णुसहस्रनाम in the dark room. With due respect to all these activities, they practice but none of them can remove darkness, because there is only one thing that is opposed to darkness and that is light, शङ्कराचार्य tells this beautifully in आत्मबोध,

विद्याविद्याम् निहन्त्येव तेजस्तिमिरसङ्घवत् ॥ आत्मबोधः ३ ॥

What a beautiful verse. He says action is not opposed to ignorance and therefore action cannot destroy ignorance. Any ignorance. Suppose I have physics ignorance. To remove physics ignorance, I do daily one hour walk in the college, science college and another person says: No, No, No, you should do अष्टोत्तर अर्चन to a physics professor. Physics professaraya नमः! Will your ignorance go? Remember पूजा is a कर्म, अर्चन is a कर्म, उपासना is a कर्म, प्रदक्षिणम् is a कर्म, all those कर्मs have got their own results, we don't say they are useless, all of them have got their own results, but the result cannot be destruction of ignorance. If I want to destroy physics ignorance, what should I do, I have to study physics. There is no other way. Therefore शङ्कराचार्य says, कर्म अविद्याम् न निवर्तयेत्. You may be doing लौकिक कर्म, you may be doing वैदिक कर्म, people say स्वामिजि I get up 3 o'clock in the morning, I do योगासन, I go to the temple, I do पारायणम् and I do सन्ध्यावन्दनम्, I do ब्रह्म यज्ञ, we don't say they are bad, they are excellent, but they cannot remove ignorance problem. Then what can they do, they can purify the mind, you have to attain knowledge to remove ignorance. Now tell me how many paths are there for मोक्ष, only four? Three ? Two or one? If ignorance is संसार कारणम्, मोक्ष can have only one path which is not a path, that path is ज्ञान मार्ग एव. So कर्मयोग leads to liberation, भक्तियोगः leads to liberation, राजयोग leads to liberation, all these things are not acceptable to कृष्ण, not acceptable to वेद also. This many path philosophy is not वैदिक. There are many paths to purify the mind, that is the confusion, there are many paths to purify the mind but there is only one path to liberation. That is why beautifully पुरुषसूक्तम् says:

पुरुषसूक्तम् १७ ॥

There are not many मार्गs to मोक्ष, तमेवम् विद्वान्, विद्वान् means a ज्ञानि, ज्ञानम् alone liberates. And therefore कृष्ण says here: ज्ञानेन तत् अज्ञानम् नाशितम् – knowledge alone destroys that ignorance. Now the question is which knowledge? That is also important, any knowledge cannot destroy any ignorance, any knowledge cannot destroy any ignorance, a particular knowledge can destroy only a particular ignorance, physics knowledge can destroy chemistry ignorance? Physics knowledge can destroy physics ignorance, chemistry knowledge can destroy chemistry ignorance, but none of them can destroy Self-ignorance. He might be a PhD. in physics and chemistry but as far as Self-knowledge is concerned, वेदान्त calls him an educated ignorant person, other people are illiterate ignorant people, these people are educated ignorant people. And therefore कृष्ण very carefully uses the word आत्मनः ज्ञानेन आत्मनः अज्ञानम् नाशितम् – through Self-knowledge alone Self-ignorance is destroyed. Now the next question is how to get Self-knowledge? For this question, कृष्ण does not give an answer here, because he has already given the answer in the 4th chapter and he expects us to remember. If you don't remember I will remind you. In the 4th chapter, 34th verse कृष्ण said:

उपदेक्ष्यन्ति ते ज्ञानं ज्ञानिनस्तत्त्वदर्शिनः ॥ ४-३४॥

So what is the method of getting the knowledge? I have told you several times, systematic and consistent study of the Vedantic scriptures for a length of time under the guidance of a competent आचार्य. The systematic and consistent study of the Vedantic scriptures for a length of time under the guidance of a competent आचार्य is called ज्ञानयोग. By that method one should gain Self-knowledge. Then what will happen, what will that knowledge do? कृष्ण says: तेषाम् – for those wise people, ज्ञानम् तत् परम् प्रकाशयति – so the knowledge will reveal their own higher nature for themselves. So just as a torchlight will reveal an object, similarly, Self-knowledge will reveal for me my own higher nature and a wonderful higher nature. So if it is going to be a miserable nature better not to hear, but here it is going to reveal a nature: you are शुद्ध स्वरूपः, you are ever pure, that is the fact and you are ever secure, that is the fact, you are ever full and complete, that is the fact, you need not depend upon any blessed one to be comfortable. In fact, whatever wonderful things you seek in life they are all within you. Do you seek love, you are embodiment of love, In fact, you need not get from anyone, you can freely give love without the worry of exhausting, go on giving and suppose the other person says I don't love you. I can happily say ‘that is your problem,’ still I love you and not one person but to everyone in the world,

अदृष्टा सर्व-भूतानां मैत्रः करुणः एव च । निर्ममः निरहङ्कारः ॥ १२-१३॥

This wonderful Self you are, that higher-Self the Self-knowledge will reveal. And like what, कृष्ण gives an example, आदित्यवत् – like the Sun. Imagine you are walking on the road in the early morning before sunrise, all over there is darkness and since the place is well illumined and especially you are walking in चैन्नै, where you don’t know where there is hole, whether it is flyover hole, a manhole, hole made for electricity post, for water, how, because the road is not lit up, I fall and suffer and imagine when the Sun rises the whole place is so bright that I don’t fall at all. Similarly, because of inner darkness I am falling everywhere during my life’s journey. For the wise man the whole road is lit up that there is no question of falling down. By falling down I mean figurative falling in the form of anxiety, tension, worry, there is no fall at all, because the life is well lit up. Continuing;

Verse No .17

तद्बुद्धयस्तदात्मानस्तन्निष्ठास्तत्परायणाः ।

गच्छन्त्यपुनरावृत्तिं ज्ञाननिर्धूतकल्मषाः ॥ ५-१७॥

तत् बुद्धयः तत् आत्मानः तत् निष्ठाः तत् परायणाः ।

गच्छन्ति अपुनरावृत्तिम् ज्ञान-निर्धूत-कल्मषाः ॥ ५-१७॥

तत् बुद्धयः, तत् आत्मानः, तत् निष्ठाः, तत् परायणाः, ज्ञान-निर्धूत-कल्मषाः अपुनरावृत्तिम् गच्छन्ति ।

Another beautiful verse. In fact, all these verses are nice from 13 to 21. In this verse, कृष्ण talks about various stages of साधन, that a person has to go through from the LKG of spirituality. So I will rearrange the words for the sake of convenience so that we will get a chronological order of various stages.

1) What is the first stage? तत् परायणाः, तत् means my own higher-Self, independent Self is परायणाः, परायणाः means the ultimate goal of my life. So now I am the lower-self, ego, the अहङ्कारः and what is problem with अहङ्कारः, it depends upon various external factors to be happy and secure. So anybody can upset me, every relationship is subject to strain and problem, because I cannot control the behavior of the other person and the other person's behavior upsets me. I don't know why my husband is like that, or wife is like that, I don't know how and why my children are like that and as the family expands the number of people that can disturb me goes on increasing, that is why somebody nicely said: सर्वम् परवशम् दुःखम् – dependence on external factors is unhappiness because all the time I have to keep on adjusting other people, changing other people and then sometimes they call स्वामिजि also to their house to change their children. In the name of भिक्षा, they call and then indirectly ask questions keeping the child. It is not that they want to know but they want to correct the son; the boy won't listen when they tell, so put everything through स्वामिजि. And the son is intelligent, therefore he directly says "Mother don't try to influence me indirectly." Therefore all the time we are struggling to change other members, change situations, constant adjustment of the knobs of the world and at the age of 90 I come to know that I cannot change the people. What a miserable life and therefore, the intelligent attitude is what is I should be happy and secure not because of external conditions, I should be happy, fulfilled and secure in spite of external conditions. That is called the inner freedom. In fact, this inner free Self is called मोक्ष, this independence is called ब्रह्मन्. Don't think मोक्ष is going to forest or मोक्ष is some event happening after death, मोक्ष is the capacity to be comfortable even when the situations are not to my expectations. And therefore the advantage is I am not afraid of my future. Because I am ready for any type of future, because I know that the future cannot influence my पूर्णता, as कृष्ण said in the 2nd chapter:

तद्वत्कामा यं प्रविशन्ति सर्वे स शान्तिमाप्नोति न कामकामी ॥ २-७०॥

The ocean does not depend upon the rivers for its fullness and if the rivers are going to claim that I am adding water to you, what will the ocean do, suppose the rivers कावेरी, गङ्गा, यमुना etc., it goes and tells the ocean, I am supplying water to you, what will the ocean do, it won't even answer, because the ocean knows the river is not supplying water to the ocean. On the other hand, it is the other way round, ocean water alone gets evaporated and it again pours down as rain and the rainy waters accumulated become the river. So just as the ocean is full, whether the rivers flow or not and whatever be the quality of river also. गङ्गा also merges, our Coovam also merges and what is my full Self. I am like the ocean experiences are like the rivers. Wonderful experiences come and terrible experiences come, experiences do not come at all, like ocean अहम् ever पूर्णः. What a wonderful state of mind it should be! So once I clearly understand the glory of that freedom, thereafter, the effort in my life will be not to change the world, my struggle to change the world, my struggle to change the people will drop. And my aim will be struggle to change myself, what type of change, from the dependent lower-self, I want to discover the independent higher-Self. And once my struggle is to transform myself I have become a spiritual seeker. Until then, I am only a material groper, you know groping - doing something without knowing what to do, I am only a materialistic groper not knowing what to do for peace of mind, but once I have known that Self-transformation is required, I have become what, तत् परायणाः. I have got direction in my life.

2) So what do I want now is not that I want to change my wife, children or grandchildren or governments, I want to change myself and once I attempt that, then what is the next stage, तत् बुद्धयः, I come to the scriptures which talk about my higher independent Self and therefore I come to know that परमात्मा, that higher nature of mind, बुद्धि means here ज्ञानम्, तत् बुद्धिः means आत्मज्ञानम्. In between stages कृष्ण skips कर्मयोग etc., we have to supply, कृष्ण wants to give a broad outline and therefore He skips कर्मयोग and comes to ज्ञानयोग. In ज्ञानयोग what do I discover, I discover my higher nature, so तत् बुद्धयः means आत्मज्ञानिनः, so this is the next stage.

3) Then what is the next stage of साधन? Even after knowing my higher-Self, I don't identify with that higher-Self, I continue to identify with my lower egoistic-self only, because I have fallen in love with my individuality - I as a father, I as a husband, I as a grandfather, I have got so much identification with my body-mind-complex, that I don't want to give it up. Like the slum people, even if government provides them better houses, you know what do they do, the better houses are given out for rent and they come back the same slum. And the bonded laborers are rescued by the Government and they are put in some rescue homes or so and within a month or few weeks, you know what they do, they give up that rescue home and go back to the same old place where they were bonded laborers. We were under the control of British for a few hundred years and when some of the freedom fighters wanted freedom, many of the Indians resisted that and they said: why all that: let them rule itself. Even now there are some people of the older generation who feel British rule is better. So when I am controlled by someone, after some time that slavery itself I get addicted to and therefore I continue to be the अहङ्कार. This is called वासना, देहात्मा वासना and therefore what do I say, I am a संसारि and I have got a higher-Self and that आत्मा is liberated, I am a संसारि. Now after coming to the class, स्वामिजि I come to know that I have got a higher-Self, as if it is somewhere up and that one is liberated. What is the use? So therefore comes the next साधन. What is the next साधन, I have to train myself to switch my identification from the lower individuality, the father-I, the wife-I, the mother-I, the husband-I, all these the MA-I, the Bsc.-I, PhD-I, all these are egoistic-I. In fact, we go to one more extent and say even the devotee-I is an ego. And I am a great devotee I have given so much land to the Lord and some people have got I am a संन्यासि-I, that is a still bigger ego, all of you गृहस्थs should do नमस्कारम्s to me. Of all the four आश्रमs, संन्यास आश्रम is supposed to be greatest आश्रम, I have renounced everything. The शास्त्र says you have renounced everything, but you have not renounced the notion that 'I have renounced everything.' Therefore शास्त्र says:

उभे सत्यानृते त्यक्त्वा येन त्यजसि तत्त्यज ॥ महाभारत, शान्ति पर्व, मोक्ष धर्म ३२९-४०॥

After renouncing everything, the अभिमान that 'I am a great renouncer', that अभिमान also you renounce, but it is not that easy. I have finished गीता, another ego, I have finished ब्रह्मसूत्र also, another ego. So that ego is very very powerful. Even though you constantly say E go, (old E, in English means You) E go, repeatedly you say, it will not easily go, therefore comes the practice of shifting the I from the relative I to the absolute ब्रह्मन्-I. In fact, this takes the longest time. Knowing about the higher-Self is easy, but dropping the अभिमान with the lower-self is not that easy. And therefore कृष्ण says तत् आत्मनः, तत् आत्मनः means identifying with the higher-Self. And in fact, in the traditional stages of साधनs, संन्यास आश्रम is only to facilitate this dis-identification. It is only to facilitate because, when a person takes संन्यास, he cuts off all the relationships, because every relationship invokes a corresponding ego. So wife invokes husband ego, son invokes parent ego, parent invokes son ego, every relationship invokes an ego and therefore in संन्यास आश्रम, says, असङ्गोऽहम्, असङ्गोऽहम्. Then thereafter also संन्यासि ego, गुरु ego, शिष्य ego, they all are there, all of them have to be dropped, any personality is संसार. And therefore तत् आत्मनः means identify with the higher-Self and the higher-Self is father or mother? न तात न माता, न गुरुर्नैव शिष्य, न बन्धुः न मित्रम् nothing is there, that's all from the standpoint of the body, but that does not mean you go home today and tell your spouse that you are no more wife or husband, don't tell all that, as it is there is problem, so having understood the higher nature you decide to play the role of a husband, you decide to play the role of a wife, role of a brother, convert every action into role playing, this is called निदिध्यासनम्. So morning I should remember all my activities are role playing and night I should again remind myself that all these are role playing. So this is called निदिध्यासनम्, तत् आत्मनः.

4) So then the next and final stage is तत् निष्ठाः, so once a person deliberately practices this, शङ्कराचार्य has written many श्लोकs to assist this process, they are all called निदिध्यासन श्लोकs,

मनोबुद्ध्यहंकार चित्तानि नाहम् । न च श्रोत्रजिह्वे न च घ्राणनेत्रे ।

न च व्योम भूमिर्न तेजो न वायुः । चिदानन्दरूपः शिवोऽहम् शिवोऽहम् ॥
निर्वाण षट्कम् १॥

न मे द्वेषरागौ न मे लोभ मोहौ, मदो नैव मे नैव मात्सर्यभावः । चिदानन्दरूपः शिवोऽहम् शिवोऽहम्॥

Every time I repeat this body is an incidental equipment I use. These sense organs are incidental instruments I use. Even this mind and intellect are only incidental media I operate through, I am not the instruments, I am the Consciousness behind the instruments. This when I repeatedly practice, it becomes spontaneous and natural. So when a person gets married from bachelorhood to householder-hood, for some days he doesn't remember, whether he is a bachelor or a householder. After sometime repeatedly practicing, now even in dream he will dream as only a householder. So even though the external change takes place, the internal change takes time. In our case, we all are given different names, when we take a ब्रह्मचर्य दीक्षा, we are given a new name and we ourselves forget our new name and when somebody calls us by that new name we don't respond also, after some time the new name sets in. Then when we are given संन्यास, another new name. So each time the change externally happens quickly but the internal transformation takes time and when the transformation is complete it is called तत् निष्ठाः. So they get established in their higher nature. So can you guess these four stages of knowledge,

- First value for discovering the higher-Self,
- Then the next stage is discovering the higher-Self,
- Then the next stage is learning to identify with the higher-Self and gradually dis-identify from the lower-self,
- And then the fourth and final stage is the identification with the higher-Self becomes natural.

And such people, what will happen to them, they are called ब्रह्म निष्ठाः, they are called ज्ञान निष्ठाः. What will happen to them, ज्ञान-निर्धूत-कल्मषाः – they are free from all the impurities, washed off by knowledge. So all the impurities are gone. And varieties of impurities are there,

- Ignorance is an impurity, and
- After studying the scriptures, doubt is another impurity, they say “everything is fine, but,” that but will always butt in, and
- There afterwards ignorance is also gone, doubt is also gone, but habitual वासनाs, देहाभिमान continues, that is the third impurity. अज्ञान, संशय, विपर्ययः, ignorance, doubt and habitual body identification.

All these come under कल्मषम्. And all these कल्मषम्s are निर्धूतम् – wiped out by the power of knowledge. This is called जीवन्मुक्तिः, so such people enjoy जीवन्मुक्तिः, how long, as long as their प्रारब्ध कर्म is there and once the प्रारब्ध कर्म is over, their body falls off, they don’t die because they are higher-Self which is eternal, the incidental body falls off, and they don’t have पुनर्जन्म. Therefore कृष्ण says, अपुनरावृत्तिम् गच्छन्ति, they attain विदेह मुक्ति, अपुनरावृत्ति means विदेह मुक्ति, they do not have पुनरपि जननम् पुनरपि मरणम् cycle.

More in the next class.

CHAPTER 05, VERSES 17-19

From the 13th verse onwards, Lord कृष्ण has been discussing ज्ञानयोग which is the central theme of this chapter and this ज्ञानयोग alone leads to inner renunciation or inner detachment, which alone is the real renunciation according to कृष्ण. External renunciation can be practiced only to some extent, nobody can totally renounce externally. Even if a person gives up family relationships, even if he gives up his money, job, everything, still he will be staying in some आश्रम or कुटिया which he cannot renounce, still he will have to some food, clothes, etc., which he cannot renounce, externally only partial renunciation is possible, total renunciation is possible only internally. And what is that internal renunciation, discovery of my higher nature, the आत्मा and how the आत्मा is not associated with anything in the creation. Just as the space accommodates everything, the space is not connected to, hooked to anything. If space is connected to any object when the object travels the space also will travel. This nature of space by which it is close to everything but not connected to anything is called असङ्ग स्वभाव. The screen in the movie is असङ्ग स्वभाव, the screen is associated with every scene in the movie but the water in the movie does not wet the screen, fire in the movie does not burn the screen, why? because the screen is असङ्गः, असङ्गः means it is intimately closer but not tainted by anything. And this असङ्गता is the स्वरूपम् of आत्मा and when I recognize my असङ्ग स्वरूपम्, I know I accommodate everything but I am not related to anything. And this understanding of the relationlessness is called संन्यासः and this real renunciation takes place only through wisdom and such a person will move with everyone but is not attached to any person, he loves every person but not hooked to any person, he lives in every place but he is not rooted to any place, which is born out of inner renunciation. And this inner renunciation is possible through ज्ञानम् which is called विद्वत् संन्यासः and because of this reason alone, this chapter itself is called संन्यास योगः, inner detachment through knowledge. And in this 17th verse which we saw in the last class, Lord कृष्ण talked about the stages of this particular wisdom:

1) The first stage is having a value for this wisdom, you cannot pursue something seriously unless you have a value and especially when it is a difficult pursuit you cannot casually approach. If you have to go to मानसरोवर, unless you have a tremendous value you cannot spend thousands of rupees, acclimatize and do lot of things. Not a joke, so when a pursuit is not that easy if I have to put my heart and soul in it, it is possible only when I have a sincere value, which कृष्ण called परायणात्वम् – obsession with Self-knowledge. Somehow I have to attain that. That obsession is called, that deep yearning, as somebody gave the example, when I am under the water for a minute or two how I want to come out and breathe, so that yearning for breathing how much is there, that must be the thirst for that wisdom and that value is called तत् परायणात्वम्.

2) And the next stage is knowing the आत्मा as the Consciousness in the body, it is the second stage and

3) The third stage is learning to identify with the आत्मा as myself. Previously I say I am the body and I have आत्मा and I should have sufficient training to reverse the whole process, instead of saying I am the body, I have आत्मा, I should put it the other way around, I am the आत्मा and I have an incidental body, which will be taken away (this has to be repeated then only one gets a little बुद्धि!) at any time by the Lord without notice. At least for company and rent and all, one month's notice and all is there; भगवान् need not give any notice. Therefore body is an incidental medium possessed by me, I am the Consciousness and

4) That too what Consciousness, eternal Consciousness which the Lord will never take away, In fact, Lord cannot take away. So can you see the stages,

- 1st stage is value for knowledge.
- 2nd stage is knowing that I have आत्मा,
- 3rd stage is owning and claiming I am आत्मा,
- 4th and final stage is this owning up becomes very spontaneous to me.

So in and through all my transactions, I don't forget this truth. Just as a cinema actor or a drama actor may play different roles but in and through all the roles the actor will know who he is behind several roles. Similarly, ज्ञान निष्ठा means I know fatherhood is a role that I play, I am not the father, I am not the mother, I am not husband, I am not wife, all are relative roles. In fact, even I am not a human being, because the humanness is from the standpoint of the physical body only, thus all these personalities and roles should become mere roles only. And this constant effortless awareness is called ज्ञान निष्ठा and how do I know I have that constant awareness, what is the indication of that निष्ठा, any knowledge is spontaneous, if it is accessible to me during crisis. Any knowledge is spontaneous, if it is accessible (not in the class, it is very nice in the class) during the crisis it should be accessible, it is in the notebook or in the cassette record, etc., if you say, what is the use:

अवश्य काले संप्राप्ते न सा विद्या न तद्द्वनम् ॥ सुभाषितम् ॥

पुस्तकस्था च या विद्या – a knowledge which is very well recorded in the books and cassettes and परहस्ते च यत् धनम् – the money which is in some other hands, अवश्य काले संप्राप्ते – when I really need, न सा विद्या न तत् धनम्. It should be available for me and this effortless, spontaneous accessibility, availability indicates अहम् ज्ञान निष्ठा. And what is the benefit, the benefit is I am जीवन्मुक्तः while living and after death I am विदेह मुक्तः, which means I am free from the cycles of पुनरपि जननम् पुनरपि मरणम्. Up to this we saw in the last class. Continuing;

Verse No .18

विद्याविनयसम्पन्ने ब्राह्मणे गवि हस्तिनि ।

शुनि चैव श्वपाके च पण्डिताः समदर्शिनः ॥ ५-१८॥

विद्या-विनय-सम्पन्ने ब्राह्मणे गवि हस्तिनि ।

शुनि च एव श्वपाके च पण्डिताः सम-दर्शिनः ॥ ५-१८॥

पण्डिताः विद्या-विनय-सम्पन्ने ब्राह्मणे, गवि, हस्तिनि, शुनि, च श्वपाके च एव सम-दर्शिनः (सन्ति) ।

In these two verses, कृष्ण talks about the benefit of this knowledge, what type of transformation this knowledge brings about in the seeker's life. So this transformation is not a temporary transformation, but the very way he looks at the people and creations there is a change. Because according to वेदान्त, our problems are not because of the world and the people, our संसार is not caused by the world and people, because in the very same world alone the liberated ज्ञानि also live. It is in the very same world they enjoy आनन्द, the ज्ञानि sings.

सम्पूर्णम् जगदेव नन्दनवनम् सर्वेऽपि कल्पद्रुमाः गाङ्गम् वारि
समस्तवारि निवहाः पुण्याः समस्ताः क्रियाः । वाचः प्राकृतसंस्कृताः
श्रुतिशिरो वाराणसी मेदिनी सर्वावस्थितिरस्य वस्तुविषया दृष्टे परब्रह्मणि ॥
धन्याष्टकम् १० ॥

For a ज्ञानि the whole world is a relaxation ground – नन्दनवनम् and all trees are कामधेनु and all places are वाराणसी, all rivers (including Coovam) are गङ्गा for him. So that means world remaining the same, the people remaining the same if the ज्ञानि can enjoy आनन्द, it means the problem is not with the world but the problem is in the way that we see the world, our perspective. Therefore वेदान्त is not going to transform the world, but वेदान्त is going to transform my perspective of the world and what type of perspective or view I will have with regard to the world. The psychology is this, as somebody nicely said, 'World is like a mirror, world is like a mirror. I see only myself in the world, I am seeing only myself in the world.' Therefore the way I look at the world depends upon the way I look at myself. For example, suppose I am very much bothered about my dressing, how I should dress. For some people it is a very very big issue. They have to stand in front of their bureau, to wear this or that, half an hour to decide which dress is to be worn. So if I am a dress oriented person whenever I come in contact with the people which aspect I will see in them, if I am dress-conscious I will see how the people are dressing, if I am hair-style oriented I will study the hair-style, if I am physical look oriented I will study the physical personality, if I am the emotional personality oriented I will see the emotional personality of people. If I am an intellectual, again I will look for intellectuality in others. And that is why रमण महर्षि tells beautifully in सदृर्शनम्,

अरूप आत्मा यदि कः प्रपश्येत् सा दृष्टिः एका अनवधिः हि पूर्णा ॥ सदृर्शनम् ६ ॥

Even God that you visualize depends upon which aspect of your personality you are obsessed with. If I am obsessed with my physical look, my picturisation of God will be सुन्दरः or सुन्दरी, not more than that, because I am body-oriented, God I picturise as beautiful, if I am an emotional person for me the Lord becomes a symbol of love, compassion, care, etc. If I am a rational person, intellectual I look at the Lord as the omniscient one. Therefore as I look at, so I look at the Lord. If I am सगुण जीवः then ईश्वर also will be सगुण ईश्वरः only, if I understand I am निर्गुण चैतन्यम् then my perception of the God is as निर्गुण चैतन्यम्. Therefore both world and God, I look based on my understanding of myself. And therefore कृष्ण says, a ज्ञानि looks upon himself as what, आत्मा, he looks at the body as वासांसि जीर्णानि यथा विहाय, it is a temporary dress. And if a ज्ञानि looks upon himself as I am आत्मा, then how will I look upon everyone? Same thing, therefore in ज्ञानि's vision everyone is आत्मा, everyone is चैतन्यम् and just as I am the आत्मा with an incidental body, similarly, all of you also are आत्मा with an incidental body, with a superficial quoting and if I look upon you and I as both आत्मा, कृष्ण says there is no difference at all, सर्वत्र सम दर्शनम्. Therefore the benefit of knowledge, कृष्ण says, is सर्वत्र सम दर्शनम् and this सम दर्शनम् is not through the physical eyes, it is through the eye of wisdom. ज्ञान-वक्षुषा, दिव्य वक्षुषा सर्वत्र समम् असङ्गम् सत्-चित्-आनन्दम् चैतन्यम् पश्यति. And what about the physical organ, they will see the differences but the differences are seen as superficial differences. So thus differences will become less pronounced and समत्वम् will become more pronounced. This is the change of perspective which is like a hundred rupee note in the hands of a child and in your hand. For the child, all the papers are the same - सम दर्शनम्, a five hundred rupee note also is a piece of paper, it may tear it and throw or it will try to eat and you do see the paper, not that you are missing the paper, but in and through the paper you see some other thing which is borne out of understanding. In the same way, a ज्ञानि is सम दृष्टि, अज्ञानिs are विषम दृष्टि; a ज्ञानि is अभेद दृष्टि, अज्ञानिs are भेद दृष्टि. This is the essence of the श्लोक, that is सम दर्शनम् is spontaneous. Therefore कृष्ण says, पण्डिताः सम-दर्शिनः. Here पण्डिताः means ज्ञानिs, आत्मज्ञानिs. Even though in English and other languages, the word पण्डितः means a scholar in any field; in school and all we say हिन्दि पण्डित, this and that पण्डित, in other languages पण्डित means a scholar in any field but in the गीता, पण्डिताः means आत्मज्ञानि. And incidentally, this is the explanation of the world पण्डितः which कृष्ण has used in the first verse of his teaching. In the 2nd chapter, 11th verse,

गतासूनगतासूंश्च नानुशोचन्ति पण्डिताः ॥ २-११॥

If you want to know what is the definition of पण्डिताः it is given in this verse, पण्डिताः सम-दर्शिनः. Not through the physical eye, every careful. In physical eyes I do see differences, there are different colors and different forms and different smells, the fleshy eyes are meant to see the differences and suppose the eyes begin to see everything same. If everything is seen as same, it means ready for cataract surgery. This eye if it sees समत्वम् one has to go hospital, if ज्ञान eye sees समत्वम् you are ready for मोक्ष. Therefore don't miss that. पाण्डिताः सम-दर्शिनः, here the word सम means सम आत्म-दर्शिनः. And where do they see this समत्वम्, he gives a big list of widely different things in the world, what are they, विद्या-विनय-सम्पन्ने ब्राह्मणे. So ब्राह्मण is one extreme in this case, ब्राह्मण means a cultured, informed, educated, refined person is called ब्राह्मण, सत्त्वगुण प्रधानः ब्राह्मण and in fact, in बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत् the आचार्य says, the real title ब्राह्मण can be given to only a ब्रह्म ज्ञानि. The other people can be called ब्राह्मणः in the secondary sense of the term, but the primary meaning of the word ब्राह्मण is ज्ञानि.

(तस्मात् ब्राह्मणः) पाण्डित्यम् निर्विद्य बाल्येन तिष्ठासेत् । बाल्यम् च पाण्डित्यम् च निर्विद्य अथ मुनिः अमौनम् च मौनम् च निर्विद्य अथ ब्राह्मणः ॥ सः ब्राह्मणः केन स्यात् । बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत् ३-७-१॥

After श्रवणम्, मननम् and निदिध्यासनम् when a person becomes ब्रह्म निष्ठः he alone deserves the title ब्राह्मणः. So here a ब्राह्मणः, who is endowed with what character: विद्या-विनय-सम्पन्ने, who is very rich person, rich in what, what is the real wealth according to शास्त्र, the real wealth is ज्ञानम्, the material wealth is only secondary wealth, real wealth विद्या धनम् सर्व धनात् प्रधानम्. Because the other wealth can purchase only finite things in the creation, whereas knowledge is the only wealth with which we can 'purchase' the infinite मोक्ष itself and therefore we have this well-known saying:

विद्या धनम् सर्व धनात् प्रधानम्,

In तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् :

द्रविणं सवर्चसम् सुमेध अमृतोक्षितः।

इति त्रिशङ्कोर्वेदानुवचनम् ॥ तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् १-१०॥

So this knowledge is said to be द्रविणं – the wealth and therefore, the world सम्पन्न means ब्राह्मण is one who is rich in knowledge wealth. According to वर्ण-आश्रम धर्म, a ब्राह्मण is not supposed to be materially rich, he is supposed to voluntarily practice poverty, according to tradition. I am not asking you now, according to tradition, a ब्राह्मण has to be voluntarily poor and voluntarily simple. And if he is poor in the material sense of the term, this material poverty is amply compensated by another wealth and what is that wealth, ज्ञान धनम् and therefore विद्या सम्पन्नः – a Brahmin is one who is rich in knowledge wealth and because of this knowledge he has got विनय सम्पन्नः and he is an embodiment of humility, विनयः means humility, अमानित्वम्, because विद्या cannot come without विनयः. As I had said the other day, water will flow only to a lower level from higher level, Similarly, only a humble mind can receive the wisdom. And that is why we indicate the humility by bending, indicating what, when I bend I accept I am in a lower level. And when I bend in front of someone I accept that, the other one is in higher level and therefore अधीहि भगवः, please give me wisdom. Therefore, without humility wisdom cannot come and therefore ब्राह्मण is one who is the embodiment of wisdom and humility. This is the highest in this case. Then कृष्ण talks about the other ones also, then गवि, गवि means in a cow, गौः means a cow, which is very much respected in our tradition, it is considered to be a सात्त्विक animal, that is why गोपूजा is part of our culture,

गवाम् अङ्गेषु तिष्ठन्ति सर्वे देवाः

All the देवs are supposed to be in the body of the cow. That is why even now in the village, whenever they see a cow they will do a प्रदक्षिणम्, because प्रदक्षिणम् to a cow is supposed to be equal to the प्रदक्षिणम् of all the देवताs and therefore the सात्त्विक cow is the second. Why does कृष्ण enumerate all these things, you should know the purpose of all these enumeration - a ज्ञानि sees same आत्मा in all these. What is the third one: हरितानि, हरित means elephant. And that is also very much respected in our tradition. In the temple festivals, elephants come, elephant is worshiped as the embodiment of विनायक, therefore हरित and then शुनि, among the animals, according to tradition, the lowest category is श्व or dog. That is why in the olden tradition they were not keeping, but now-a-days, we should not do and perhaps keep the dog first, because whether there is elephant or cow in the house, a dog is a must! And for many people, the attachment towards the dog is so much, that if you say dog is considered a lower animal, they get angry. Don't get angry, he gives the list, श्व is the dog. And the next one is श्वपाकः, श्वपाकः means an uncultured person, literally it means the one who eats a dog, dog eater. In our culture, meat eating itself is looked down upon, not accepted because it involves हिंसा,

one should not take liquor, one should not eat meat, especially if one has come to the spiritual field. And therefore meat eating itself is considered to be a तामसिक कर्म, which promotes तमो गुण and among the meat eating people also, the dog eater is considered to be the worst one and therefore कृष्ण puts in the spectrum, the dog eater as the last one. So the other side of the spectrum we have got a ब्राह्मण, in this side of the spectrum we have got श्वपाकः, in between all human beings, all animals, we have to include even plants. Now the question is all these are same or different. Very simple, as even we read the list we know they are all widely different. In fact, differences alone are glaringly perceived, how can an elephant and a cow be the same, you see the difference by the size itself. So therefore differences are there, but what कृष्ण wants to say is differences belong to the superficial स्थूल सूक्ष्म शरीर level. The physical bodies are different, the minds are different, even the culture that you talk about, even the character that you talk about belongs to the शरीरम् or आत्मा, so when you say a ब्राह्मण is सात्विक person and a श्वपाकः is a तामसिक person, these two characters, सात्त्विक and तामसिक characters belong to the body or आत्मा? The character belongs to the body alone, some characters belong to स्थूल शरीरम्, some characters belong to the सूक्ष्म शरीरम्, all the गुणs also belong to the शरीरम्, आत्मा is निर्गुणः and therefore all the differences belong to the अनात्मा only and ज्ञानि's vision is focused on आत्मा and therefore सर्वत्र, सर्वेषु शरीरेषु सम दर्शिनः. But we should be very very careful here, when we say a ज्ञानि is सम दर्शि, that सम दर्शनम् is only in the back of his mind, in the subconscious mind this wisdom is like तम्बुर श्रुति, it is constantly going, but he knows that in transaction differences have to be accommodated and dealt with accordingly. Otherwise what will happen, you give a glass of water, सर्वत्र सम दर्शिनः, he will not know which is glass and which is water, he cannot swallow the glass, does it happen? So a wise man knows that at the empirical level, at the transactional level, man is man, women is women, book is book, glass is glass, water is water, he doesn't get confused, व्यवहारे भेदः, therefore their I have to follow what धर्म. So in व्यवहार I have to follow धर्मशास्त्रम् and for following धर्मशास्त्रम् the आत्मज्ञानम् in the background will be helpful. That is why शङ्कराचार्य says in one of his works,

भावाद्वैतम् सदा कुर्यात् क्रियाद्वैतम् न कर्हिचित् । अद्वैतम् त्रिषु लोकेषु
नाद्वैतम् गुरुणा सह ॥

So भावाद्वैतम् सदा कुर्यात् - let the अद्वैत ज्ञानम् be there in the background. In व्यवहार everything has to be treated as it deserves to be treated, क्रियाद्वैतम् न कर्हिचित् and अद्वैतम् त्रिषु लोकेषु नाद्वैतम् गुरुणा सह – after studying the अद्वैतशास्त्रम् from the गुरु, suppose the शिष्य goes and tells, both of us are one, until I have done नमस्कार to you, for a change, why can't you do a नमस्कार to me. Don't ask like that. गुरु is गुरु, he has to be respected. But let the wisdom be there in the background and therefore, सम दर्शनम् is in the subconscious mind, exactly like even if you handle hundreds of ornaments, knowing the difference, bangle is an ornament which has to be put in the hand, chain is an ornament, necklace is an ornament which has to be put on the neck, ring is an ornament which has to be put on the finger, even though I treat the ornaments differently, all the time I know what: सर्वत्र gold दर्शनम् But that gold दर्शनम् does not confuse you, you treat them differently that is called व्यवहारिक भेद, but you are aware of their स्वर्णता. This is called wisdom. Continuing;

Verse No .19

इहैव तैर्जितः सर्गो येषां साम्ये स्थितं मनः ।

निर्दोषं हि समं ब्रह्म तस्माद् ब्रह्मणि ते स्थिताः ॥ ७-१९॥

इह एव तैः जितः सर्गः येषाम् साम्ये स्थितम् मनः ।

निर्दोषम् हि समम् ब्रह्म तस्मात् ब्रह्मणि ते स्थिताः ॥ ७-१९॥

येषाम् मनः साम्ये स्थितम्, तैः इह एव सर्गः जितः, ब्रह्म हि समम् निर्दोषम्, तस्मात् ते ब्रह्मणि स्थिताः ।

So this is another important verse. I don't feel like saying that this is an important verse, because all these verses are very important. So this verse is important from a particular angle, because in the philosophy there is one discussion whether liberation is while living or it is after death. This is one of the discussions in the philosophy. And many philosophers point out that liberation is not possible while living, liberation is only after death and they describe liberation as going to a particular place after death. Either they will say शिव लोक प्राप्तिः, विष्णु लोक प्राप्तिः or some प्राप्तिः, this is how liberation is understood by many people, but in अद्वैतम् we emphasize it is not so, liberation is possible here and now. And in support of this view, we take this particular verse wherein कृष्ण clearly says one gets freedom: इह एव, इह means here, now itself, here and now liberation is possible for whom, तैः सर्गः जितः, तैः means by the people of अभेद दृष्टि, सम दृष्टि, so तैः means समदर्शिभिः, ज्ञानिभिः, by the ज्ञानि, सर्गः जितः, सर्गः means पुनरपि जननम् पुनरपि मरणम् cycle, otherwise called संसार, जितः, means conquered. So संसार is conquered, संसार is overcome, संसार is mastered by the ज्ञानिs here and now, that means संसार doesn't affect them. Why? because there vision has changed, going back to the example that I give when the wave was taking itself to be a wave, imagine wave is self-conscious, so when a wave looks out at itself as a wave, what will be its thinking, I am born out of the ocean and I have got a date of birth and now I am growing older and older and even I am giving chocolates to other waves, today is my birthday, I am also afraid that as a wave I will disintegrate and merge into ocean which is my death, therefore as long as I look upon myself as a wave I am a mortal wave, subject to the power of the wind, because the wind alone decides my birth and death, the wind indicating प्रारब्ध. But imagine the very wave has shifted the vision and instead of mistaking itself to be a wave, it claims that I am water with an incidental form, the wind has not created me, I have been there all the time, wind has only given a shape to me and that shape is incidental and the shape is bound to go. So whether shape is there or not, whether form is there or not, I am the eternal water and even when the Sun evaporates me, I the water will continue in the form of steam or humidity and even when I am pouring down, I continue as a rain and when it pours into streams, I am called rivers, my names are different, but I am the eternal water, then that wave is an enlightened wave. Similarly, here also, because of the shift of the perspective, I am no more subject to birth and death,

न जायते म्रियते वा कदाचिन्... ।

Just as in sleep, I am not transacting through the body, during sleep, my transaction ends, but I continue to survive. The end of transaction is not the end of me. Similarly, during death, this physical body may go away and I will stop transaction through this body, but I am surviving. And therefore the fear of mortality is gone and therefore कृष्ण says सर्गः जितः, mortality or संसार is won over by them, by them means by येषाम् मनः साम्ये स्थितम् - whose mind is established in समदर्शनम्. Even for one moment the wave forgets its true nature, the wave is afraid, I am going towards the shore, if I reach the shore, I will die, nearby the husband wave, wife wave, grandson wave, I have to take leave of all of them, even the momentary slip, I am mortal. So therefore the mind should have the निष्ठा, therefore कृष्ण uses the word सम दर्शने स्थितम्, but not in transaction remember, it is in the subconscious mind. When people ask who are you, he will not say: I am

if you say, that they will just run away. So for worldly transactions say I am son of so and so and I am the son the father, this mother and my degree etc., give the bio-data for worldly purposes, but let there be: all these bio-data are stories, which people will forget in a few decades. And therefore, येषाम् मनः साम्ये स्थितम्, then what is the nature of that सम वस्तु, समम् ब्रह्म, so that सम वस्तु, सम means the same inherent entity which is in every one is called ब्रह्मन्, otherwise called चैतन्यम् and that is why everyone starts by saying what: I am. Whatever qualifications you may add, how do you start your introduction, I am. Therefore what is the common factor in all of them, I am. And the word is I is चित् स्वरूपम्, because a conscious entity alone can say I, table cannot say that, therefore I means Consciousness, am means existence, this Consciousness-existence, सत्-चित् alone is common to all of us, which we are saying I am, so I am refers to what? आत्मा, thereafter we add so many things. Son, daughter, educated, big man, small man, all the later additions belong to either स्थूल शरीरम् or सूक्ष्म शरीरम्. So therefore, that सम वस्तु is called ब्रह्मन्, why is it called ब्रह्मन्, because that Consciousness seems to be in and through every living being, wave has a location, but water does not have a location, because water is in and through all the waves. Similarly, body is located, mind is located, but the Consciousness is in and through all the bodies and mind, therefore how big it is. It is ब्रह्म, ब्रह्म means अनन्तम्.

So that अनन्तम् ब्रह्म is the uniform thread which is inherent in all the people and what is the nature of that ब्रह्मन्? निर्दोषम्, that ब्रह्मन् is ever शुद्धम्. It is ever beautiful, it is ever secure, it is ever pure, why can't you claim the ever pure ब्रह्मन्, why do you claim the ever impure body. Why are you crying attached to the body? Use the body but own up the आत्मा, this is what the ज्ञानि has done, therefore ब्रह्मणि स्थिताः, ज्ञानिs are ever established in ब्रह्मन्.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

Lord कृष्ण has been dealing with the topic of ज्ञानयोग from verse no.13 onwards which runs up to verse no.21. And we saw that ज्ञानयोग is the process of discovering my higher-Self or my real nature and this discovery has to take place in two stages,

i) The first stage is I am not the body-mind-complex, but I am the Consciousness which is pervading the body-mind-complex and which is different from the body-mind-complex. अनात्मा व्यतिरिक्त आत्म-स्वरूपः अहम् अस्मि, क्षेत्र व्यतिरिक्त क्षेत्रज्ञः अहम् अस्मि, this is the first stage of discovery and

ii) Then comes the second important stage in which I discover the fact that I, the Consciousness, who am pervading this physical body is the same Consciousness which is pervading all the other physical bodies also, which means the bodies are many, but the pervading Consciousness is one. And that non-dual pervading Consciousness I am.

And when I discover that my real nature is Consciousness and naturally when I look at you, I also know that your real nature is also Consciousness, because the way I look upon myself will be the way that I look upon you also. If I take myself to be the physical body, I am going to take you also as the physical body, as I said in the last class, as I see myself so I see the world also and if my vision of myself has undergone a radical change, my vision of the world also will change. And in the case of a ज्ञानि, a ज्ञानि sees himself as आत्मा and therefore he sees everyone else also as आत्मा and to remember the example that I gave, the example of many waves in the ocean. And imagine that the wave is a sentient wave, capable of thinking and knowing, if the wave is going to look upon itself as a wave then it will look upon all the other waves also as perishable mortal waves only. And imagine the waves discovers that I am not a wave but my essential nature is water and the wave-ness is only an incidental feature, the incidental wave-ness will come and go but the essential water-ness will not come and go and therefore I am essentially water. If the wave discovers this fact, then the wave will look upon itself as water and the wave will look upon the other waves also as water only. And therefore कृष्ण said,

शुनि च एव श्वपाके च पण्डिताः सम- (आत्मा) दर्शिनः ॥ ५-१८॥

I see the आत्मा the essential nature in me, (the word see is within quotes) 'see' through the eye of wisdom, I see or look upon you as an essentially आत्मा with incidental नाम-रूप. And just as I take myself to be the immortal आत्मा, I will look upon you also as the immortal आत्मा only. If I take myself as शुद्ध आत्मा, I look upon you also as शुद्ध आत्मा, I will address you as pure one, immortal one, beautiful one, wonderful one, ever secure one that is how I will address you because I see myself as नित्य शुद्ध बुद्ध मुक्त स्वरूपः. And having discovered this beautiful inner nature, a wise man will never like to come down to the perishable incidental superficial body nature. Having enjoyed a higher thing how will a person like to think of a lower thing. Having got a wonderful house in a clean area will a person again try to live in slum area and therefore कृष्ण said निर्दोषम् हि समम् ब्रह्म तस्मात् ब्रह्मणि ते स्थिताः, having discovered the pure I the wise people abide in that I only, they don't want to get obsessed with the physical body. They do take care of the physical body as the Lord's property but they are not obsessed with the incidental superficial mortal physical nature. And what is the reason, निर्दोषम् ब्रह्म and समम् ब्रह्म. Up to this we saw in the last class. Continuing;

Verse No .20

न प्रहृष्येत्प्रियं प्राप्य नोद्विजेत्प्राप्य चाप्रियम् ।

स्थिरबुद्धिरसम्मूढो ब्रह्मविद् ब्रह्मणि स्थितः ॥ ५-२०॥

न प्रहृष्येत् प्रियम् प्राप्य न उद्विजेत् प्राप्य च अप्रियम् ।

स्थिर-बुद्धिः असम्मूढः ब्रह्मवित् ब्रह्मणि स्थितः ॥ ५-२०॥

प्रियम् प्राप्य न प्रहृष्येत्, अप्रियम् प्राप्य च न उद्विजेत्, (एवं) स्थिर-बुद्धिः, असम्मूढः, ब्रह्मवित् ब्रह्मणि स्थितः ।

A ज्ञानि even after gaining this knowledge will have to live in the same world, because according to वेदान्त, मुक्ति is here and now, it is now something attained after death. And since मुक्ति is here and now, a जीवन्मुक्त continues to live in the same world and a जीवन्मुक्त's life is governed by what? It is governed by the same laws which govern the life of an ignorant person also. Our lives are governed mainly by three factors, देश, काल and प्रारब्ध. Our life is governed by three forces,

i) One is the place influences the life, the surrounding, the environment, the people, etc. That is देशः, because whether I like or not, I have to face the onslaught of the world and

ii) The second thing I cannot escape is कालः, whether I like or not, the time is flowing and as even the time is flowing the body is aging,

दिनयामिन्यौ सायम् प्रातः शिशिरवसन्तौ पुनरायातः ।

कालः क्रीडति गच्छत्यायुः ॥ भजगोविन्दम् १२ ॥

Whether I like it or not, the कालः will have its say on the body, there are wrinkles, you come to discover that you have so many joints in the body which you never noticed before, suddenly you discover that knee joints are there and then the hair also turns grey, whether you like or not, these are कालः क्रीडति गच्छत्यायुः. Just time has got its onslaught and

iii) The third factor which varies from individual to individual is प्रारब्ध. Because even though देश and काल are the same, if you take two people living in the same चेन्नै, देश is same or in the same house, both are 60 years old, age is also same, but you find that one person at the age of 60 is agile and active, another person at the age of sixty is like hundred year old person, he cannot sit and somehow if we manages to sit getting up is a problem. So देश and काल remaining the same, how come different people have different experiences? You can give only one reason, what is that प्रारब्ध, the पूर्वजन्म कर्म.

So thus three factors are going to influence our life whether we are ज्ञानिs or अज्ञानिs. Therefore कृष्ण says a ज्ञानि's life is also governed by देश काल प्रारब्ध, therefore even he will have to go through ups and downs caused by देश काल प्रारब्ध, which means favorable and unfavorable. And if ups and down are going to be the same for a ज्ञानि and an अज्ञानि then what is the benefit of gaining knowledge. I thought that after knowledge I will not have problems. Now you are saying after coming to the 5th chapter that a ज्ञानि will also have ups and down. Had you told earlier I would not have come to class at all! Then, what is the benefit of gaining knowledge if देश is going to affect, काल is going to affect, even प्रारब्ध is going to affect? So कृष्ण says the difference will be in the response to the situation, ज्ञानम् does not change the situation, ज्ञानम् gives the inner strength to have a balanced response towards both ups and downs and this समत्वम् is the benefit of आत्मज्ञानम्. And therefore कृष्ण says प्रियम् प्राप्य. So a ज्ञानि also gets favorable situations, when प्रारब्ध is fine people love him and adore him, give him nice भिक्षा and all those things, why, if you ask, it is good प्रारब्ध and when such good प्रारब्ध gives such experiences, a ज्ञानि is not carried away by those experiences, because he knows that the experiences are caused by देश काल प्रारब्ध and therefore they will arrive and they will also go away. And therefore, it is not that he rejects them, he appreciates a favorable situation but he is not hooked to or addicted to a favorable situation. And what is the difference between appreciation and not getting addiction? When I get addicted to that I am not prepared to loose that experience. And when that experience is lost I go through a tremendous vacuum, a ज्ञानि is one who appreciates a favorable situation and when that situation goes away it doesn't create a vacuum in him, as we saw in the 2nd chapter, आपूर्यमाणमचलप्रतिष्ठं समुद्रमापः प्रविशन्ति यद्वत् । ॥ २-७०॥

The ocean is ever full, during summer water may get evaporated and during rainy season rivers may pour water into the ocean, whether the water is taken away or added, ocean continues to be पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम्. So that inner fullness continues and therefore कृष्ण says न प्रहृष्येत्, means he doesn't get elated, he doesn't get carried away by favorable situation. And extending the same thing, कृष्ण says अप्रियम् प्राप्य न उद्विजेत्, since he did not lose his balance, during favorable situations, when the unfavorable situation comes he has got the same balance and the best example they give in our पुराणs is the story of राम. One day the news comes that राम is going to become the अयोध्याधिपति, an emperor and राम heard the news and welcomed it and was not carried away by that and next day, because of another reason, the kingdom was taken away, not only he lost the kingdom but he had to go to forest also and when such a news came, the victim was राम, but you find everybody in अयोध्या could not face the situation except the one who is the victim.

सर्वं लोकं अतिगस्य इव लक्ष्यते चित्तं विक्रिया ॥ श्रीमद्वाल्मीकि रामायणम् २-१९-३३॥

वाल्मीकि says in रामायणम्. When राम had to go to forest, न चित्तं विक्रिया, that is the समत्वं बुद्धि and लक्ष्मण becomes so wild and he says I will finish that old man, he has forgotten दशरथ is his father, decency, language everything is thrown to wind, and लक्ष्मण gets so wild and says I am ready to finish off the whole अयोध्या if it is required and I will make you the king. Suppose he finishes the entire अयोध्या and makes राम the king, what is the use, whom will राम rule, that is why it is said that in anger we don't think, लक्ष्मण gets wild and says all kinds of things and then राम talks about the power of प्रारब्ध and he defines प्रारब्ध in simple language as any choice-less situation is प्रारब्ध. And once you have understood it is choice-less, instead of putting forth effort to change the choice-less situation and wasting your time and effort, start putting effort to change your attitude. Either way effort is required, if the situation can be changed effort is required to change the situation, if the situation cannot be changed then also effort is required in what direction, effort is directed towards my own mind and whatever wisdom has to be injected you have to inject and say: Oh mind! face it, getting dejected cannot improve the situation, getting angry cannot improve the situation. Thus ज्ञानम् gives the inner strength to face the situation and therefore अप्रियम् प्राप्य न उद्विजेत्, न उद्विजेत् means he is not depressed also. And all because of what: he says ब्रह्मवित्, all these are possible because he is ब्रह्मवित् – he is the knower of ब्रह्मन्, which means आत्मवित् – he has got Self-knowledge, through Self-knowledge he has discovered this inner strength. And what kind of आत्मविद्या he has got? A mere knowledge is not enough, that knowledge must be a conviction. If conviction is not there, during crisis I will have problems. Many people study वेदान्त for years and then when there is a crisis in personal or family life, they ask why did I get this, why do we get this? The answer is given for years together, either I have worked for this in this जन्म and if I have not worked for this in this जन्म, I am getting the result of पूर्व कर्म, I have been saying this 130753 times and at that time, we nod the head and say ‘so wonderful, स्वामिजि the law of कर्म is fantastic,’ but it just comes superficially. If the law of कर्म is assimilated I will never ask the question, “Why Me”? Whenever problems comes we ask the question why me, this question comes from a mind which has not assimilated the law of कर्म. Once I have assimilated, there is no question of why Me, because I get what I deserve. And therefore let me work to face it in one of the two ways, what are the two ways, if it is a choice-full condition I try to change it, if it is choice-less condition I strengthen to face it and therefore, mere knowledge is not enough to face - the crisis, it should become a conviction. Self-knowledge should be a conviction, law of कर्म should be a conviction. And therefore कृष्ण says, स्थिरबुद्धिः – so this wise person is one of conviction, बुद्धिः means knowledge, not intellect; in this context, बुद्धिः means ज्ञानम् and स्थिर means firm and what do you mean by firm knowledge? Doubtless knowledge, which means I should ask myself “Am I convinced of the fact that I am the Consciousness different from the body”, you need not convince other people, you need not even declare to other people. At regular intervals you have to ask your inner Consciousness am I convinced of the fact that I am the Consciousness different from the body. If I am not convinced then what to do, study further, still not convinced, study further, how long should I study, still you are convinced. If I am not convinced in this जन्म, what to do, study in the next birth, you can do that in installments, but conviction is a must. I should be convinced of the law of कर्म, that nothing happens by chance, nothing happens by accident, everything is perfectly according to law, every experience I go through is perfectly according to Law and if it appears to be injustice it is only because I don’t have the total picture of my life, I don’t have the total picture of even the present life, what to talk of all my past lives and without having the total picture what right I have to talk about justice and injustice and therefore whatever happens is Just. So there are ज्ञानिs who have suffered from diseases, people say I have attended गीता classes for many days: some people if you attend गीता class you will not catch cold, if you have any such expectations, better drop. So people might be great भक्तs, great पूजा they might have done, even ज्ञानिs like रामकृष्ण परमहंस or रामण महर्षि, they had bodily suffering, so we don’t say ज्ञानम् will stop physical ailment, ज्ञानम् will give you the inner strength to face it or to have a proper perspective of that. That is what we are saying and that requires what? Conviction. Therefore स्थिरबुद्धिः, so श्रवणेन ब्रह्मवित् भवति, मननेन स्थिरबुद्धिः भवति, you get knowledge through श्रवणम्, you get conviction through मननम्. What do you mean by मननम्? Raising questions, you keep on raising questions until you have no more questions, because वेदान्त allows you to ask questions. It is not that don't ask questions have faith in me, No. वेदान्त allows any number of questions and until you are convinced, that is why गीता ran into 18 chapters and at the end of the गीता, अर्जुन said नष्टो मोहः स्मृतिर्लब्धा - I am convinced. Until then you can ask any number of questions, questioning and answering is called the process of मननम्. And through मननम् you become what, स्थिरबुद्धिः. And then there is a third problem, even after conviction we have got habitual responses to the situation, I know I should not do this, I know I should not get angry, but स्वामिजि I recognized it only after the tragedy is over. So this is called habitual problems and therefore we have to go through निदिध्यासनम् also which is a deliberate life, constantly in keeping the teaching in your mind and alert life is निदिध्यासनम्, more about निदिध्यासनम् we will study in the next chapter, internalization, assimilation, soaking my personality in this wisdom, that means even when I lead a mechanical life also it should be in keeping with the teaching, it should become spontaneous and such a person is here called असम्मूढः, असम्मूढः means विपरीत भावना रहितः. So thus three stages are talked about: ब्रह्मवित्, स्थिर बुद्धिः, असम्मूढः, through श्रवणम् he becomes ब्रह्मवित्, through मननम् he becomes स्थिर बुद्धिः, through निदिध्यासनम् he becomes असम्मूढः, through श्रवणम् he gets knowledge, through मननम् he eliminates doubts, through निदिध्यासनम् he eliminates habitual negative tendencies. And such a ज्ञानि, what is the benefit that he enjoys, न प्रहृष्येत् प्रियम् प्राप्य न उद्विजेत् प्राप्य च अप्रियम् – ups and downs in life are incapable of shaking him. Such a person is ब्रह्मणि स्थितः – he is called जीवन्मुक्तः, ब्रह्म निष्ठः, स्थित प्रज्ञः of the 2nd chapter. Continuing;

Verse No .21

बाह्यस्पर्शेष्वसक्तात्मा विन्दत्यात्मनि यत्सुखम् ।

स ब्रह्मयोगयुक्तात्मा सुखमक्षयमश्नुते ॥ ७-२१॥

बाह्य-स्पर्शेषु असक्त-आत्मा विन्दति आत्मानि यत् सुखम् ।

सः ब्रह्म-योग-युक्तात्मा सुखम् अक्षयम् अश्नुते ॥ ७-२१॥

बाह्य-स्पर्शेषु असक्त-आत्मा, आत्मानि यत् सुखम् विन्दति, सः ब्रह्म-योग-युक्तात्मा अक्षयम् सुखम् अश्नुते ।

So कृष्ण talks about the transformation the ज्ञानि enjoys as a result of this knowledge. In fact, all these श्लोकाः that is 18, 19, 20 they are all talking about the transformation caused by knowledge, first he said सर्वत्र सम दर्शनम्, विद्या-विनय-सम्पन्ने, that सम दर्शनम् is one transformation. And then conquering mortality or the fear of death is the second benefit, because the fear of death is the basic innate, instinctive fear, so therefore that conquering the fear of death is second transformation. Then the third transformation he gave in the 20th verse is he has the right perspective in facing ups and downs of life, he is prepared for that, like a man who wants to climb Everest, he should be prepared for the different conditions of weather, the altitudes and the consequent changes, he must be prepared, similarly, he has acclimatized himself for the life's ups and down. In fact, this is the first job we have to do before we start the life. Suppose I want to play football and I go for coaching, among varieties of training there is one particular important training and that is how to fall on the ground, because they will be pushed and if you don't want to be pushed, you should stand outside the ground, while you run the falling takes place and you see they know how to fall without getting hurt and not only that, even as they fall they get up, limp once or twice and then start walking and then they running and again they go after the ball. Similarly, the whole life is like a game and there is countless psychological fall, here we are not talking about the physical but psychologically we have to face several falls and we are never preparing ourselves and वेदान्त or ज्ञानम् is only a coaching, so that tragedies come, I do fall, I do get upset, but the thing is what, I don't get permanently hurt and the recovery period also is very short. I cry for perhaps half an hour and again I start my life because life is meant for living, whether others are there with me or not with me, I cannot say he is not there why should I live, she is not there why should I live, that is all foolish things, I have come to make my life, people are there I have to live, people are not there I have to live. This capacity I get. And this inner flexibility is another transformation, mentioned in the 20th verse and in the 21st verse, कृष्ण's talks about ज्ञानि's आनन्द. So ज्ञानि's आनन्द, आनन्द means the fulfillment, the joy that ज्ञानि derives from his own higher nature, आत्मानन्दः, ज्ञानि has learned to tap आत्मानन्द, it is really happens. रामकृष्ण mission आश्रम was there. It seems they didn't have any water resource anywhere and therefore they had to talk to the Government and had to put a long pipeline connecting to some river or some canal and they spend lakhs of rupees and somehow they were getting water and of course when you get water from outside, its own problems, it may come, it may not come, etc., will be there and then one engineer came and he had some machine to find out where water is there, somebody like a water diviner, he came and said why can't you dig here and showed a particular place. In one area of the आश्रम, just where the आश्रम front gate is there and dug there and discovered there is a very huge source of water and that स्वामि was jumping it seems. Until now the water was there or not? It was there, but since it was not discovered there was dependence and the consequent troubles and problems and even if they get that water, it is bonus, even here many of you may have a good bore-well water and when there is some corporation problem, these people with their own good bore-well, they are all स्थितप्रज्ञs. Similarly, आनन्द waters also we can get through the bore-well. We do have a source and that infinite source is our own स्वरूपम्, miserable external sources of water which can dry at any time, not only that the other people can even blackmail me, because once I depend the philosophy is what, blackmail. I will give, I will not give, price increase. Thus an अज्ञानि has got अनात्मा as source of आनन्द, ज्ञानि has got आत्मा as the source of आनन्द and since the ज्ञानि has got an inner source of आनन्द, he does not depend upon any external object. Not that he hates them, he doesn't hate, when they are available corporation water we will use, if they are not available, I have got this आनन्द and कृष्ण says all the pleasures of external objects put together are included in the आत्मानन्द, as we saw in the 2nd chapter,

आनन्द आत्मा ब्रह्म पुच्छ प्रतिष्ठा । आनन्दं ब्रह्मणो विद्वान् । न बिभेति कुतश्चनेति ।

यावान् अर्थः उदपाने सर्वतः सम्प्लुतोदके ।

तावान् सर्वेषु वेदेषु ब्राह्मणस्य विजानतः ॥ २-४६॥

आत्मानन्द is superior to all the अनात्मा आनन्दs put together, why because all the अनात्माs, अनात्माs means sense objects are finite in nature and all the finite objects put together is equal to: finite plus finite plus finite is equal to infinite? No, Finite only. Therefore add all the आनन्दs of the world, that is limited, whereas आत्मानन्द is superior to all of them. Therefore कृष्ण says ब्रह्म योग युक्तात्मा, second line, ब्रह्म योग युक्तात्मा, so the ज्ञानि whose mind is associated with ब्रह्मन्, which taps ब्रह्मानन्द; so ब्रह्म योगः is ब्रह्मज्ञानम्. Here ब्रह्म योगः means ब्रह्मज्ञानम् and ब्रह्मज्ञानम् is the knowledge that I am ब्रह्मन् and the one who has particular knowledge, the word आत्मा means here mind, so ब्रह्म ज्ञानेन युक्तः आत्मा अन्तःकरणम् यस्य, बहुव्रीहि समास, that ज्ञानि whose mind is endowed with ब्रह्मज्ञानम्, which is an eternal perennial source of आनन्द, like people having UPS system - uninterrupted power supply and it is connected to that and when there is a regular power supply they will use and when that power supply goes away it gets automatically connected to UPS and they will continue their computer job and the ज्ञानि has got UAS, uninterrupted आनन्द supply, connected to आत्मा, not that he uses it all the time, when अनात्मा is there he will enjoy, when people are there, things are fine, it is there and when everybody goes away, he won't sit and cry, connected to UAS. आत्मनि एव आत्मना तुष्टः. So things are there, fine; all these we have seen in 3rd chapter very beautifully:

न च अस्य सर्व-भूतेषु कश्चित् अर्थ-व्यपाश्रयः ॥ ३-१८॥

He has got psychological independence with regard to inner fulfillment. What a beautiful life you imagine. Therefore ब्रह्म योग युक्ततमः ज्ञानि, अक्षयम् सुखम् अश्नुते, अक्षयम् सुखम्, अक्षयम् means inexhaustible सुखम् means आनन्द, fullness, पूर्णत्वम्. अक्षय पात्रम् we have heard in महाभारत, how द्रौपदी had the अक्षय पात्रम्, why it is called अक्षय पात्रम्, any amount of food you take still it can give. So imagine like that you have got अक्षय पात्रम् which gives सुखम् and that अक्षय पात्रम् is आत्मा and therefore अक्षयम् सुखम् अश्नुते. Since this आनन्द is infinite आनन्द, कृष्ण says that all the worldly pleasures are included in this आत्मानन्द, because all finite things are included in the infinite, just as when I say India, all the states are included, similarly, in आत्मानन्द, what all आनन्दs are included, you can take all the gross pleasures of eating, subtle pleasures of art, dance, music, science and whatever आनन्द you name, they are all included in आत्मानन्द. It is not that if you have this आनन्द you miss the other आनन्द. Normally we think if you are coming this class, whatever program is there at home, suppose some movie is going, when you are here you miss there, Similarly, one person may think, if I go to spiritual pleasure, will I not miss this wonderful sense pleasures of the world? In fact, many people sympathize with us संन्यासिs, oh me, poor chap, there is no wife, no children, at least he should have taken संन्यास after some time, after enjoying all these! So many people sympathize with us, while inwardly I sympathize with them. What I want to say is: getting spiritual आनन्द is not missing any other pleasures because all the pleasures in the world are included in this and therefore a ज्ञानि does not miss anything in life, only an अज्ञानि in spite of acquiring any number of things he will be missing something and therefore he says, बाह्य-स्पर्शेषु असक्त-आत्मा, this ज्ञानि is not interested in, not obsessed with the external sense pleasures, he does not hate, very careful, he does not hate anything, hatred is as much a weakness as attachment and therefore if a संन्यासि is going to be given a good tasty भिक्षा, he will enjoy nicely, why can't he enjoy, therefore असक्त means not obsessed with them, बाह्य स्पर्श means the sense pleasures, बाह्यम् means external world, स्पर्श means contact, contact with the external world, viz., sense pleasures, असक्तः आत्मा. Here also the आत्मा means the mind, असक्तः means detached, not obsessed and this ज्ञानि who is not obsessed with the external world he will get the आत्मानन्द which is अक्षयम्, अक्षयम् means infinite, Continuing;

Verse No .22

ये हि संस्पर्शजा भोगा दुःखयोनय एव ते ।

आद्यन्तवन्तः कौन्तेय न तेषु रमते बुधः ॥ ५-२२॥

ये हि संस्पर्शजाः भोगाः दुःख-योनयः एव ते ।

आदि अन्तवन्तः कौन्तेय न तेषु रमते बुधः ॥ ५-२२॥

हे कौन्तेय! ये हि संस्पर्शजाः भोगाः ते दुःख-योनयः आदि अन्तवन्तः एव, तेषु बुधः न रमते ।

So with the previous श्लोक, the ज्ञानयोग topic is over which started from the 13th verse. This portion is the central portion of the 5th chapter, verse 13 to 21 is the essence of the 5th chapter, viz., ज्ञानयोगः, otherwise called inner renunciation, inner detachment, being physiologically or mentally independent of the world. Physically he is with everyone, but mentally he is not hooked to anyone, this inner renunciation otherwise called ज्ञानयोग is talked about and the ज्ञानयोगफलम् was also hinted and now in verse no.22 and 23, कृष्ण is going to talk about a साधन, a discipline required for Self-knowledge. Thus two verses are ज्ञानयोग साधन. The details of which we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय
पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 05, VERSES 22-25

With the 21st verse which we completed in the last class, कृष्ण has concluded the topic of ज्ञानयोग, which topic he started from verse no.13. From verse no.7 to 12, कृष्ण dealt with कर्मयोग, from verse no.13 to 21, He dealt with ज्ञानयोग. And this ज्ञानयोग is the central theme of the 5th chapter, which is known here as संन्यास योग, inner renunciation or detachment. Hereafter the 5th chapter is going to wound up. In the following verses beginning from the 22nd, कृष्ण is going to deal with two topics,

- One is the mental preparation required for Self-knowledge, which will be dealt with in verse no.22 and 23 and
- From the 24 onwards, कृष्ण will talk about the benefit of Self-knowledge.

Thus two verses will talk about ज्ञान साधनम् and the rest of the verses will deal with ज्ञानफलम्. And varieties of mental disciplines are discussed throughout the गीता. In these two verses कृष्ण is going to highlight a particular discipline which we will see now. Verse no.22;

ये हि संस्पर्शजा भोगा दुःखयोनय एव ते ।

1) So here कृष्ण talks about the basic human problem, which is the universal problem of every human being, a spiritual seeker has to discern this basic human problem and he should have a sincere desire to get out of this bondage, which alone we call as संसारः. What is that? कृष्ण says, every sense object in the world which we contact through our sense organs is capable of giving us pleasure, fulfillment or happiness and therefore they are called विषयाः, objects of the sense organs which are capable of giving भोगाः or सुखम्. And all those pleasures born out of those sense objects are called by कृष्ण, संस्पर्शजाः भोगाः – pleasures or joys borne out of contact or interaction. संस्पर्शः means interaction, जः means born out of, संस्पर्शजः means born out of sensory contact and भोग means happiness, joy, fulfillment. So संस्पर्शजाः भोगाः means contact-born pleasures. And contact between what and what? The sense organs and the sense objects. We have got five-fold sense organs, eyes, ears, nose, tongue and skin and we have got five-fold sense-objects also, in the form शब्दः स्पर्श, रूपः, रसः, गन्धः. Mere presence of sense objects cannot give pleasure. Similarly, mere presence of sense organs also cannot give pleasure. You require what, the contact between the sense organs and the sense object and because of this whatever pleasure comes is called संस्पर्शज भोग. In fact, the entire world is capable of giving संस्पर्शज भोग. What gives me भोग may not give you pleasure, but you have some other object of pleasure and when I use the word object, it need not be inert objects only, it means living beings also, you enjoy their company, as long as they are around you at home you are happy and you cannot imagine a life in their absence. Even that fulfillment, कृष्ण calls as संस्पर्शज भोग, through the sense organs you have got an emotional contact and therefore an emotional fulfillment. It can be a human being, it can be a pet also. So thus objects, situations and beings, all these put together we call विषयाः and the sense organs are called इन्द्रियाणि, इन्द्रिय विषयाः संस्पर्शजाः भोगाः, all pleasures are born out of इन्द्रिय विषय संस्पर्श. And here कृष्ण here tells that all these pleasures are wonderful, it is like rose, but the problem is every rose has got its thorn. Similarly, all the भोगs have got a problem also, every worldly pleasure is mixed with pain also. And we saw in the उपनिषत् class, three-fold pain,

- No.1 is the pain of acquisition,
- No.2 the pain of preservation and
- No.3 the pain of loss and each pain is more intense than the previous one. If acquisition is दुःखम्, preservation is दुःखतरम् and loss is दुःखतमम् and therefore कृष्ण says दुःख-योनयः एव ते – all those sense pleasures are mixed with pain also. There is no such thing called pure pleasure in the world.

There is no such thing called pure joy. Every pleasure is like a coin, just as every coin has got two sides, every pleasure has got the reverse also, the दुःखम्. And what is the reason for this? कृष्ण gives the reason also, आदि अन्तवन्तः – the reason is all contact born pleasures have got a beginning, whether it is a relationship with another human being or possession of a particular object, the contact has a beginning. Therefore it has got आदि and what is the universal law? The universal law is everything that has got a beginning has got an end also. So आदि अन्तवन्तः, so if their arrival is pleasure their departure will be pain. Suppose the departure is pleasure, some people give happiness when they go away, I told you, some people give happiness wherever they go, some people give happiness whenever they go. If an object gives pleasure by their departure then the very same object will give pain by its arrival. So very simple law, if arrival gives pleasure the departure will give pain, if departure gives pleasure arrival will give pain and the world is full of arrivals and departures. So आदि अन्तवन्तः कौन्तेय, therefore the basic truth that कृष्ण wants to say is that the world or the objects are a mixture of pleasure and pain. So then how to handle that? If the objects are a mixture of pleasure and pain, what are the options for us, what can I do? Here alone we get entrapped. One option is what: we decide to possess the object, this is one object, so one possibility. So when I choose to possess the object, certainly I will get pleasure from that object, but what is the problem. Since every object is mixed with pain I should have the strength to face the pain aspect of the pleasure. But unfortunately my mind is not prepared for facing the consequences, I am prepared for the rose but I have not prepared for the thorn and since I am not prepared it gives pain and consequent problem. Therefore if I decide to have them, the problem is what, I cannot face the consequent pain. Now to avoid this what should I do? Since every object has got pain in it, let me renounce everything, give them up, I will forgo. That is also a problem because when I give up things I face the problem of emptiness of the mind, bankruptcy of the mind, loneliness of the mind, I miss things and people. People complain, I don't have a companion, I should have married. So therefore, if I don't have things there is an advantage alright, those things will not cause pain because I don't possess, but here the problem is what, I have to face the emptiness of the mind if I don't have those objects and it is because of the emptiness of the mind that the people are running after possession. So therefore, if I give up the object I have to face limitations, emptiness, missing. If I possess the objects I will have to face the pains which are mixed with the objects and their pleasures. Now what will you do, either way I am in trouble. Having things also problem, not having things also problem. When I have got lot of work I complain, I am tired, irritating and all and when there are no work at all I complain, I am bored to death, so this is called संसार. Having things also I face problems, not having things also I face problems. In having things what is the problem? Whatever be the pains that the objects will cause, I am not able to withstand and not having the things what is the problem, emptiness is problem and therefore, if I diagnose this problem then I can find the solution, because I will have to one of these two, there is no third way, either I should possess things and suffer the problem of possession or I should dispossess and suffer the problem of emptiness. Which will I choose and I don't have a third alternative also? Now, we have got only two possible solutions.

➤ One solution is what, I should decide not to possess anything. No wife, no children, no money, nothing, I will be एकाकि, अपरिग्रहः, but if I decide to do that, what is the problem I will face, I will miss things in life, there is emptiness, there is craving for belonging, I want somebody to claim as mine, I want somebody to claim me as theirs, somebody should say you are mine, I should want to say somebody that you are mine. शङ्कराचार्य calls it: अहम् येषाम् मम एते problem, these people belong to me and I belong to them. So therefore, one option is I decide not to have the object at all, but if I decide that course of action, I will have to face the loneliness and the only remedy is what, I should discover fulfillment in myself so that I will not feel loneliness, आत्मनि एव आत्मना तुष्टः, यस्तु आत्म-रतिः एव स्यात् आत्म-तृप्तः च मानवः. If I have discovered fulfillment in myself then absence of things, I will not call loneliness, it will be aloneness, it is अद्वैतम्. Therefore one option is what: give up the world but learn to be happy with yourselves. This is called discovery of पूर्णत्वम्, discovery of fulfillment within myself. Therefore if I decide to give up, I should discover the fullness in myself.

➤ What is the other option? स्वामिजि I don't like to give up. I want to have everything, I would like to have wife, children, house, car and In fact, everything, कृष्ण says wonderful, I don't say you should not, if you decide to have things, then what is the problem, the possession will certainly give you pleasures but everyone is going to give equal amount of pain also, if you decide to possess things what should be your solution. You should discover sufficient mental strength to withstand the consequent pain. Sufficient strength if you decide to have children, the children will, right from age one, do lot of things, mischievous children one type of problem and they don't do anything another type of problem and they are very obedient one type of problem, not at all obedient another type of problem.

So develop the mental strength if you decide to possess or develop the पूर्णत्वम् if you decide to give up things and if you don't have these two solutions, the world will cause problems, whether you possess them or whether you renounce them. So I should know how to handle the object, whether I decide to possess or whether I decide to dispossess. If I don't have this remedy the world will cause problem either by their presence also or by their absence also. Now the question is how to discover that पूर्णत्वम् if I decide to give up everything. How to discover the inner strength if I decide to have things and the beauty is: for both there is only one method and that method is Self-knowledge. Self-knowledge will simultaneously give two faculties, you will be able to give up everything and you will have the पूर्णत्वम् or you will be able to possess everything and then face the consequent pains also and that is why once you get the ज्ञानम्, either way it is OK, you decide to have things, no problem, you decide to give up things, no problem. If you don't have Self-knowledge, possession also will be problem, non-possession also will be problem. Interview parents with children - they will be crying: son did it like this, daughter like that, ... complaints and interview parents without children - they are going from temple to temple, somehow I should get a child. So having is also problem, not having also is a problem as long as you don't have inner resources. कौशल्या and दशरथ got राम after doing special याग and राम because of Lord's blessing was born to them and they were the happiest people in the world and when the occasion came that राम had to go the forest, the very same कौशल्या said that it would have been better not to have children. We could have been happy without them. And especially not to have a wonderful son like राम. If it is a useless child going to forest is a blessing, so same कौशल्या once wanted a child and then complains. That means as long as I am ignorant having is also problem, not having is also problem; as long as I am wise having also is not a problem, not having also is not a problem, because the world is a mixture of both pleasure and pain. And therefore बुधः तेषु न रमते – a wise person is one who is not carried away by the pleasures that the world can give, he is not carried away by the pleasures that the world can give. He is aware of both the plus and minus points of the world, so न तेषु रमते, रमते means he doesn't revel, he doesn't get carried away.

शक्नोतीहैव यः सोढुं प्राक्शरीरविमोक्षणात् ।

कामक्रोधोद्धवं वेगं स युक्तः स सुखी नरः ॥ ५-२३॥

शवनोति इह एव यः सोढुम् प्राक् शरीर-विमोक्षणात् ।

काम-क्रोध-उद्धवम् वेगम् सः युक्तः सः सुखी नरः ॥ ५-२३॥

इह एव शरीर-विमोक्षणात् प्राक्, यः काम-क्रोध-उद्धवम् वेगम् सोढुम् शवनोति, सः नरः युक्तः, सः सुखी (भवति) ।

So in the previous verse, the value of mental preparedness was pointed and what is mental preparedness? Mental preparedness for having things or to give up things. Having things also requires mental preparedness, because it will cause its own pain and not having things will also cause a source of emptiness. Unless I know how to handle these two I am going to suffer in life. And this mental preparedness or awareness is one value and then alone I will know the importance of Self-knowledge.

2) Now the second value that कृष्ण highlights in this 23rd verse is handling of रागः and द्वेषः, otherwise called कामः and क्रोधः, रागः means attachment to certain objects, द्वेषः means hatred or aversion towards certain other objects and according to वेदान्त, both are born out of misconceptions. रागः or attachment is born out of the notion that the world will give permanent happiness and security. Attachment towards anything or any person is born out of the misconception that the object or person will give me permanent security and fulfillment and it is a misconception because no object in the creation, no person in the world can give permanent security and fulfillment because everything is (you have to connect it to the previous श्लोक) आदि अन्तवन्तः कौन्तेय, everything is subject to change. So therefore रागः is misconception. Similarly, द्वेषः is also another misconception, aversion is born out of the notion that the world is capable of giving me sorrow, this is also another notion. Because if the world is capable of giving sorrow, the liberated people will not be able to live in the world, but we find that ज्ञानिन्स are those people who live in the same world and they don't have sorrow. So if the world is source of sorrow, everybody should be universally unhappy, every simple thing, suppose a particular music is being played, maybe north Indian music, south Indian music, western music, pop music, now you find in the same house one person is extremely unhappy, that if pop music or something cinema music, that is played; the classical-music-oriented-parents they feel very very unhappy, but the children, the teenagers they are jumping. It is very clear that the music itself is not the source of disturbance, because somebody else is happy and therefore the world is neither a source of joy, nor a source of sorrow and therefore dividing the world into source of joy and source of sorrow, according to वेदान्त is the fundamental misconception. It is I who make the world a source of joy and it I who makes the world a source of sorrow also. And as long as I don't discover this fact, I am going to blame the world. And as long as I blame the world I will try to correct the world, I will try to change the world. In fact, all fashion changes are only because of that. I think that you change the dress, you change the hairstyle, or you put the ear ring in one ear also, both ears also, you feel that it will be fine, but after some time it goes out of fashion and you want to do something else. From this it is very clear that my study or understanding of the world is improper and unfortunately you can never change the world to your parameters. And by chance you change also it is not going to be ideal all the time. And that we know that is why there is constant anxiety also, when everything is very ideal, especially in India, we have that constant fear, evil-eye, I do not know whether it is there elsewhere, because people say that you have got a good husband/wife, wonderful children, both are brilliant, beautiful, enough money, everything, and a few people tell, I begin to feel jittery because of evil-eye and ask to tie something or do something etc. You yourselves feel that ideal conditions will not last long. So therefore we have to know that problem is not with the world, problem is with myself and the moment I recognize that I transcend रागः and द्वेषः, both attachment and aversion. When I look at the world through the spectacles of attachment and aversion I am living in a private world of mine and therefore I am constantly affected. When I remove the राग-द्वेषः spectacles I live in the objective world of God, which is neither source of sorrow nor source of joy, sunrise is happy or unhappy? Ignorant people will say it is happy or unhappy. The one who wants to work will say that it is happy thing, those who will like to permanently sleep they are against sunrise. So the ignorant people will say sunrise is happy or unhappy occasion, wise person will say sunrise is sunrise, sunset is sunset, birth is birth, death is death, growing is growing and declining is declining, association is association, disassociation is disassociation. That world is seen as God's creation without any subjective projections. Until we come to that वेदान्त will not work. वेदान्त requires objectivity, from जीव सृष्टि we have go to ईश्वर सृष्टि, from ईश्वर सृष्टि alone we can go to असृष्टि, that is the absolute; my creation to God's creation to no creation. No creation is the absolute wisdom. Here कृष्ण says we will see that later, now for time being go from your creation to God's creation and कृष्ण accepts that this is not easy thing, because we have subjective orientation and therefore we always judge and dub things as good or bad and it is not easy, therefore कृष्ण says you have to work throughout your life to get out of the hold of रागः and द्वेषः and कृष्ण says you have the entire lifetime to work on it. It is not one year thing or two year thing, you get over it before your die, you can learn वेदान्त next जन्म. You just work on this let it be your lifelong project. Therefore कृष्ण says शरीर-विमोक्षणात् प्राक् – before the fall of the body, fall of the body means death, before the fall of the body, शक्नोति सोढुम् – suppose a person is able to handle, manage, master, काम-क्रोध-उद्धवम् वेगम् – the powerful influences of attachment and aversion, वेगम् means powerful influence, or impulse of काम, desire and impulse of क्रोध or anger. कृष्ण doesn't say you should get rid of them, कृष्ण says you be a master of them. Because in this 3rd chapter, कृष्ण mentioned रागः and द्वेषः will be there in the mind, attachment and aversion cannot be totally wiped out, your aim is only to manage them, handle them. Just like physical body means there will be some sickness, so rainy season comes or winter season comes, all over there is cough, there is a viral fever or madras eye (Conjunctivitis), so something or the other, the physical body cannot be ideally healthy, there is no question of ideal body doesn't exist, but what is health, even if sickness comes, I have got sufficient health to overcome the sickness and continue my journey of life. Similarly, in the mind the रागः and द्वेषः may arise, let them arise but you must be their master, they should not enslave you. So this mastery is here called सोढुम् शक्नोति, the one who can master राग-द्वेष. If a person is able to do that, able to achieve that before death, कृष्ण says सः युक्तः – that person is an organized person, that person is a master of himself. So before you try to manage your company or your organization, before you try to manage your family, first lesson is learn to manage yourselves and when I cannot manage myself where is the question of managing others. And when I say self-management, my own body-mind-complex. And a person who has done that he is called युक्तः – integrated person, sane person, who is not psychologically handicapped, one who is emotionally sound. So he is a sane person, only a sane person can understand वेदान्त. Emotional sanity is the prerequisite for Vedantic knowledge and सः युक्तः, he is an integrated person and सः एव नरः, according to कृष्ण he alone deserves the name a human being. The one who goes by the impulse cannot be called even a human being, because he doesn't have self-controlled. When a dog feels like barking, it barks, it is not going to see whether a गीता class is going nearby, it doesn't have control over itself and that is why it is a dog and if the dog is like that nobody will complain, but if I bark, means talk like barking and later I say I didn't know why I said that: I regret, I should not have told and apologize and again the next day repeats the same thing. कृष्ण says he doesn't deserve the name human being, he is not नरः, there is a doubt whether नरः वा. वा in संस्कृत means question. Is he a human being? If you repeat it नरः वा नरः वा नरः वानर वानर वानरः, he is a वानरः, he is not a human being, वानरः means monkey, therefore सः नरः, not only that सः सुखी – only that person can lead a happy life, he alone can progress inwardly. The other people are given to moods, given to emotional catastrophes and when that itself they are not able to handle, where is वेदान्त, where is ज्ञानयोग, it is all far away. Therefore learn self-management and self-management is राग-द्वेष management. So thus, कृष्ण talked about the psychological preparation for Self-knowledge, Self-knowledge has to take place in the intellect only, knowledge is the job of intellect, but the intellect can function only when the emotions do not overwhelm the intellect. Suppose you had come to the class after a quarrel at home, somebody told don't go to the class, because they want to shop for दीपावलि, then you had a quarrel and fought and then you came, you sit here but cannot understand वेदान्त. So emotional mind has to cooperate with rational intellect, therefore manage your emotions. Continuing;

Verse No .24

योऽन्तःसुखोऽन्तरारामस्तथान्तर्ज्योतिरेव यः ।

स योगी ब्रह्मनिर्वाणं ब्रह्मभूतोऽधिगच्छति ॥ ७-२४॥

यः अन्तः-सुखः अन्तर-आरामः तथा अन्तर्-ज्योतिः एव यः ।

सः योगी ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम् ब्रह्म-भूतः अधिगच्छति ॥ ७-२४॥

यः अन्तः-सुखः, अन्तर-आरामः, तथा यः अन्तर्-ज्योतिः एव, सः योगी ब्रह्म-भूतः ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम् अधिगच्छति ।

So in previous two verses, कृष्ण talked about mental preparation, especially the preparation of the emotional mind, because emotions are extremely powerful. And now from this verse onwards कृष्ण is going to talk about ज्ञानफलम्. So you have to imagine a person has become emotionally sound, he is able to enjoy the possessions also, he is able to enjoy absence of things also. What do you mean by emotional soundness? When things are there you don't complain, when things are not there also you don't complain and what is emotional weakness, when things are there you complain, when things are not there also you complain. You cry for both, not only problem for yourself but for people around also, you distribute sorrow freely. Therefore that emotional soundness to be with or without things a person develops and there afterwards he came to Self-knowledge because of the Self-knowledge he got that inner strength and fulfillment, let us assume. Then what will be the life of that person (man or women, any person). Once a person discovers that inner fulfillment, what will be the life like. कृष्ण says यः अन्तः-सुखः – so a ज्ञानि is one who has discovered fulfillment in himself, अन्तः means the inner essence. अन्तः means अन्तरात्मा, means the truth, so the one who has discovered the fullness or joy in his own true nature, what is the true nature, we saw, आत्मस्वरूपम् and therefore अन्तर-आरामः – and for him the recreation ground, the playground is not outside, all his entertainment also are inside. Before that he required entertainment from VCP, VCR, In fact, all the gadgets are doing what, trying to give you recreation and entertainment. And that is why holiday means you have to plan where to go or what to get because we feel empty and one shutdown if it comes, video cassettes you have to hunt, 4 or 5 cassettes and शिवरात्रि, शिवरात्रि you are supposed to keep awake, doing शिव ध्यानम्, there are special movies for शिवरात्रि, because holiday means I don't know how to spend and I am not happy with myself. What is the benefit of Self-knowledge? I am happy with myself, called अन्तः-सुखः, अन्तर-आरामः and अन्तर्-ज्योतिः एव यः – so the one who is aware of his पूर्णत्वम् all the time, ज्योतिः means awareness or Consciousness, one who is Consciousness of the आत्मा, awareness of his inner fullness, so the one who has never Self-forgetfulness, that means what: as I said before, he can have things and he can be without things also. When he has things he will enjoy their presence, if he is seeking loneliness that is also another bondage, if I am attached to loneliness I will like to be alone when people come you will get angry. Therefore, neither attached to loneliness nor attached to people, the one who can enjoy both and even when he enjoys the presence of things and people he doesn't lose sight of his inner freedom. Therefore, सः अन्तर्-ज्योतिः एव यः, सः योगि – that person is called a real योगि. So योगि means what: a ज्ञानि, wise person, here योग does not mean the one who can stand upside down or one who can bend the body like a rubber ball, that is all very good, that is also योगासन. But here योग is that inner faculty, that wisdom; therefore योगि means a ज्ञानि and what is his status, ब्रह्म-भूतः – he has become one with ब्रह्मन् and he has become 'one with ब्रह्मन्,' not that he has become one but he has discovered the fact that I am really none other than ब्रह्मन्, ब्रह्मन् means what: it is a technical word for fullness. I am full and complete, I don't need anything to be happy, I don't need anything to be secure, so that is called ब्रह्मत्वम्. And how long he will enjoy this, as long as he is alive he will enjoy this. And when the प्रारब्ध कर्म is over the body will fall. And what will happen to him, nothing will happen to him because he has discovered I am not the body, I am not the mind, therefore, previously he was embodied Consciousness, now he is un-embodied Consciousness, which is called विदेहमुक्तिः, कृष्ण calls it ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम्. So ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम् means un-embodied Consciousness, oneness with ब्रह्मन्. Otherwise called विदेह मुक्ति, thus he is free while living, he is free after death also.

लभन्ते ब्रह्मनिर्वाणमृषयः क्षीणकल्मषाः ।

छिन्नद्वैधा यतात्मानः सर्वभूतहिते रताः ॥ ५-२५॥

लभन्ते ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम् ऋषयः क्षीण-कल्मषाः ।

छिन्न-द्वैधाः यत-आत्मानः सर्व-भूतहिते रताः ॥ ५-२५॥

क्षीण-कल्मषाः, छिन्न-द्वैधाः, यत-आत्मानः, सर्व-भूतहिते रताः ऋषयः
ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम् लभन्ते ।

So in this verse also, कृष्ण is talking about the benefit of Self-knowledge, but the beauty of this verse is कृष्ण talks about all these as stages in spiritual evolution. What are the stages that one goes through to attain the spiritual fulfillment, all the stations. On the Bus the destination they will write in the front and the side of the bus they write the routes, intermediary stages that the bus passes through. Similarly, what are the stages that one will pass through? The first stage is क्षीण-कल्मषाः – get rid of the mental weaknesses, कल्मष means impurity, misconceptions, emotional hang ups is called कल्मषाः and basic कल्मषाः is रागः and द्वेषः, thinking that the presence of things will give happiness, that is one problem called रागः and another problem is the absence of certain other things will give happiness which is called द्वेषः, weakness. These are the two basic problems. I am happy because this is there, it is wrong according to वेदान्त, I am happy because it is not there, both are wrong and this राग-द्वेष problem we have to get out and that is why in our religion there is a practice of तपस् or austerity. In austerity what do you do, whatever you use regularly you learn to be without that and initially we will think that without that we cannot, anything, whether it is coffee or onion, some people think whether some people can cook without onion and garlic and they cannot imagine of life of preparation without these two, one रागः and द्वेषः, onion and garlic. And then first day there is no taste at all, second day there is no taste at all and then you find that you can happily survive without those two. So तपस् means you just see the fact that you can be happy without things also. That is called preparation of the mind which is the first stage, then comes the second stage, those details we will see in the next class.

पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 05, VERSES 25-29 Verse No.23;

लभन्ते ब्रह्मनिर्वाणमृषयः क्षीणकल्मषाः ।

छिन्नद्वैधा यतात्मानः सर्व-भूतहिते रताः ॥ ५-२५॥

Lord कृष्ण has talked about ज्ञानयोग in this chapter, in the form of inner renunciation and now in these verses, beginning from the 24th कृष्ण is talking about the ज्ञानयोगफलम्, the benefit of Self-knowledge, in three verses, 24, 25 and 26 and while talking about ज्ञानफलम्, कृष्ण summaries the various stages of spiritual साधन also. ज्ञानयोग is the ultimate means of liberation, but to come to ज्ञानयोग a person has to go through several preliminary stages and therefore कृष्ण wants to talk about various stages that one has to go through. We are seeing that in verse no.25, various stages are talked about, we will rearrange the words for the sake of continuity or progression.

1) First we will take the word सर्व-भूतहिते रताः, which represents a life of values, a life of morals, an ethical life is indicated by सर्व-भूतहिते रताः. Literally the word means being interested in the welfare of all the beings, instead of being a selfish human being, I should expand my mind to gradually identify with other members of the planet to such an extent that I should be able to feel the others' pain also. The mind should become so sensitive that I should be able to feel the pain of others also and only when I begin to feel the others' pain, I will never hurt another human being. Now why am I hurting others, because when I am hurting others I don't feel anything at all, because I am such a gross human being, so I should sensitize my mind that I should be able to feel the emotions of others. The psychologists call it the capacity of empathy, it is considered the fundamental quality, which is the foundation for all the later virtues of life. The entire human character is based on this one capacity and what is that capacity, I should be able to sense the feelings of other people. So when the other person is happy I am able to identify and share the happiness and Similarly, when the other person feels the pain I should be able to appreciate that feeling and share and this capacity of feeling others' feeling is called empathy. And that is here referred to as सर्व-भूतहिते रतत्वम् and initially I learn to feel the feelings of my own family members. In fact, the very purpose of marriage is to develop empathy. So first start with your wife, that itself is in the problem. Once I am able to expand my mind and sense the intense feelings of my wife or husband my mind has expanded to 'we two', from 'one' to 'two' and there afterwards, they encourage having children also, प्रजा च स्वाध्याय प्रवचने च, why should we have children, so that our mind will expand enough to feel the feelings of the children also and like that I should expand,

The short-sighted human being is one who is not aware of his own wife's or the husband's pain and a person of expanded mind is one who can sense the pain of not only the family members, not only the members of the society and includes the animals and plants and such a person will be an embodiment of अहिम्सा and अहिम्सा is supposed to be the महाव्रतम् for spiritual progress. In पतञ्जलि's अष्टाङ्ग योग, the first value emphasized is the अहिम्सा, not hurting other physically or verbally or even mentally. This is where our spirituality begins. So शङ्कराचार्य writes in his commentary, अहिंसकः, it is not that he doesn't hurt others, but he is incapable of hurting others because as even he hurts others he can immediately feel the pain of others and therefore he has to withdraw from such things and thus morality or ethics is the first stage. Without going through धर्म, there is no possibility of मोक्षः and therefore कृष्ण says सर्व-भूतहिते रतत्वम् and once I feel others' feelings I will spend my life in helping others, निष्काम कर्म is natural to a person with a sensitive mind. Only a gross-minded person will ignore the fellow human being but a sensitive minded person will certainly help other people, he may not be able to help financially, he may not be help physically but minimum he will say सर्वे भवन्तु सुखिनः, सर्वे सन्तु निरामया, Oh Lord, let everyone be happy. Even to wish that intimately we require a sensitive mind and therefore सर्व-भूतहिते रतत्वम् पञ्च महायज्ञ or निष्काम कर्म is the first stage.

2) And it will lead to what, क्षीण-कल्मषाः, such a selfless life in which one contributes to others' also in the society, one who follows कर्मयोग, the one who follows पञ्च महायज्ञ will become क्षीण-कल्मषाः – free from पापम्, कल्मषाः means पापम् or दुरितम्, क्षीण-कल्मषाः means free from all दुरितम्. And what is the definition of पापम् according to वेदान्त? Anything that obstructs spiritual journey is पापम्. According to वेदान्त, anything that obstructs our spiritual journey is पापम्. If I do not develop interest for spirituality, even the lack of interest is because of पापम्. The very desire for spirituality is possible only when पुण्यम् is there. ईश्वर अनुग्रहात् एव पुंसाम् अद्वैत वासना. If you should get the desire to listen to गीता (understanding is a different matter), you should have lot of पुण्यम्. And after having desires also there can be several obstacles because of the family situation, health situation or external condition, all these are different types of पापम्s only and when I do निष्काम कर्म all these obstacles will go away like the darkness when the Sun rises. And therefore a person will get conducive conditions for spirituality. Therefore क्षीण-कल्मषाः means free from all the पापम्, obstacles.

3) And then what is the next stage of साधन, यत-आत्मानः, once I develop interest in spirituality which itself is because of पुण्यम्, I have to work for spiritual growth. Because according to वेदान्त, spiritual growth or liberation is not God's will, liberation depends upon our own free-will. It is not that God decides whether I should get मोक्षः or not, if we think God is responsible for our liberation, then the God will become a partial-God, he is giving liberation to some people, he doesn't give liberation to some others. Therefore, Lord will be partial and therefore, as far as God's blessings are concerned it is uniformly available for all, but whether I am willing to make use of God's grace is the question. And making use of God's grace is our free-will. That we are born in this culture where this wisdom is there, God's grace is available, but whether I am tapping it is in my hands. So sunlight may be there but whether I am making use of this solar energy or not is in my hand. कृष्ण will tell in the 9th chapter,

समः अहम् सर्व-भूतेषु न मे द्वेष्यः अस्ति न प्रियः । ॥ ९-२९॥

My grace is uniformly available for all and some people are liberated and some people are not, it is not my mistake, I have made My grace available to all, some people tapped it, some people didn't tap it, tapping Lord's grace is our free-will. And this stage is called यत-आत्मानः – those people who put forth effort in the right direction, so यतः आत्मा एषाम् तै, those people who develop the necessary discipline they acquire the necessary qualification, which doesn't happen; we have to take initiative. विवेक doesn't happen, वैराग्यम् doesn't happen, शमादि षट्क सम्पत्ति does not happen, I have to ask the question, what effort I am putting forth. Our problem is what, we say everything is in His hands and we take to fatalistic thought and say, if भगवान् wants it will happen. 'Without him not even an atom moves,' citation is a convenient quotation for laziness. Most convenient quotation for laziness is everything is in his hands. कृष्ण says: never do that, यत-आत्मानः – you have to take initiative. So this is acquiring the necessary qualifications and not only acquiring the qualifications, working for knowledge also. Just as qualifications don't happen, I have to make them happen by my own effort. Similarly, knowledge also does not happen. We have to take initiative and what is the initiative, कृष्ण said in the 4th chapter, तद्विद्धि प्रणिपातेन seek knowledge, seek teacher, गुरु, seek शास्त्रम्, I have to seek them and I have to work for the knowledge and that is called यत-आत्मानः, those people who acquire discipline and knowledge.

4) Then what will be the next stage, once I do the required साधन, ऋषयः – so these people become ऋषि, having gone through these stages they becomes ऋषि. The stage of purification, stage of discipline, the stage of Self-enquiry, will lead to the stage of knowledge. So ऋषयः means ज्ञानिनः, they become ज्ञानि, the word means ज्ञानि in this context. When you hear the word ऋषि immediately you think of beard, the one who has got a long beard, ऋषि. If beard can make you ऋषि, that is the easiest thing you can do, which means ladies can never become ऋषि. Therefore, beards and काविस have nothing to do with ऋषि, what makes you a ऋषि is ऋषति आत्मतत्त्वम् जानाति इति ऋषि. It is derived from the root √ऋष् to know, so ऋषि means the one who knows. So if you have the knowledge, even though you are amidst the society, coated and booted and suited, still you are ऋषि if you have knowledge. On the other hand, if a person does not have knowledge even if he has got ochre robe, even if he has got a long beard, even if he has got knotted hair, he is only a pseudo ऋषि and therefore कृष्ण says all these people become ज्ञानि. That is the next stage.

5) Then what is the next stage, छिन्न-द्वैधाः – knowledge is beneficial only when it is free from all forms of doubt, doubtful knowledge is as good as ignorance. And therefore acquisition of knowledge is incomplete if all my doubts are not cleared and that is called conviction, निश्चय ज्ञानम्. So knowledge has to be converted into निश्चय ज्ञानम्, how, by removing all doubts. I should ask my own intellect, am I convinced of this teaching. So you need not tell anyone. You should ask your own conscience, you should ask your own inner heart, you say अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि, are you agreeing and generally what will we say: I understand, very clear but there are certain doubts, because Vedantic knowledge is a revolutionary knowledge dealing with me, the world and God. And each one is mind boggling teaching. It says 'I am infinite.' Will we accept that? Very difficult to accept. I should ask the question am I really immortal, just easy to say that सत्-चित्-आनन्द शिवोऽहम् शिवोऽहम्, to sit quiet closing the eyes, विदानन्दरूपः शिवोऽहम् शिवोऽहम् and in one corner of the intellect will say: who has seen this, who knows, I go on repeating शिवोऽहम् शिवोऽहम्. So there should not be even an iota of doubt. So am I immortal? Do I believe or accept my immortality, very difficult. The next thing is वेदान्त says that the Lord that you worship is non-different from you, You are God. Will we accept? Extremely difficult. Then वेदान्त makes another mind boggling statement that this world that you experience is less real than yourselves, it is not as real as you, you are the ultimate reality and the world is not as real as you. Am I ready to accept? Except these three I accept everything स्वामिजि. Only these three are वेदान्त. Therefore that conviction comes by reflection, raising questions and answering. वेदान्त allows any number of questions. Until I am convinced and this process of clearing the doubts is called मननम्. Acquisition of knowledge is called श्रवणम्, removal of doubt is called मननम् and when doubts are removed, I am called छिन्न-द्वैधाः, छिन्न-द्वैधाः means संशय रहिताः, free from doubts, I am convinced. I need not convince other people. I should convince my own intellect, otherwise I will be cheating myself, therefore छिन्न-द्वैधाः, is the next stage. And once a person छिन्न-द्वैधाः, to use the 2nd chapter expression: स्थिरप्रज्ञः, then what will happen?

6) ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम् लभन्ते. Such people have attained oneness with ब्रह्मन्. निर्वाणम् means merger, oneness, ऐवयम्, ब्रह्मणि निर्वाणम् ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम्, निर्वाणम् means एकि भावः. So they attain ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम्. And what do you mean by attaining oneness with ब्रह्मन्. I have told you several times, you should remember that there is no question of merging into ब्रह्मन् in the physical sense of the term, because if you are going to talk about physical merger into ब्रह्मन्, it will mean ब्रह्मन् is elsewhere, I am elsewhere and like the rivers merging into ocean, I have to rush and then become one, but वेदान्त defines ब्रह्मन् as the all-pervading principle, therefore there is no question of physical merger. Then what do you mean by merger into ब्रह्मन्. Very carefully note: merger into ब्रह्मन् is dropping the notion that I am away from ब्रह्मन्, to drop the thought that I am away from ब्रह्मन्. Dropping the notion, dropping the misconception, which is born out of ignorance, so dropping the ignorance-caused notion of distance is called merger.

Can you see various stages,

- First follow values of life,
- Then become pure,
- Then take the initiative for spiritual growth, which involves साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति, गुरु प्राप्ति, attending class, it will all come. Don't give some excuse "स्वामिजि, Besant Nagar was very near, Adyar is a long way." If you want knowledge you should come to कैलास also, I am testing you to see how sincere you are and you are proving that you are sincere by coming here also. So therefore:

त्यजेदकम् कुलस्यार्थे ग्रामस्यार्थे कुलम् त्यजेत् ।

ग्रामम् जनपदस्यार्थे आत्मार्थे पृथिवीम् त्यजेत् ॥ गरुडपुराणम् १-१०४/२ ॥

This is the advice. For saving one family you can sacrifice a member. For saving one village you can sacrifice one family. For saving the nation you can sacrifice one village. For the sake of मोक्ष you must be prepared to sacrifice everything. So therefore all these will come under initiative and

- Then the next stage is gaining knowledge and
- Then next stage is gaining conviction and
- The final stage is merger into ब्रह्मन्.

These are the stages, which will be further clarified in the next verse also. We will read:

Verse No .26

कामक्रोधवियुक्तानां यतीनां यतचेतसाम् ।

अभितो ब्रह्मनिर्वाणं वर्तते विदितात्मनाम् ॥ ५-२६॥

काम-क्रोध-वियुक्तानाम् यतीनाम् यत-चेतसाम् ।

अभितः ब्रह्म-निर्वाणं वर्तते विदित-आत्मनाम् ॥ ५-२६॥

काम-क्रोध-वियुक्तानाम् यत-चेतसाम् विदित-आत्मनाम् यतीनाम् अभितः ब्रह्म-निर्वाणं वर्तते ।

So the same idea of the previous verse is repeated here again just for the sake of clarity. Here also various stages of spiritual growth are pointed out,

1) The first stage is काम-क्रोध-वियुक्तानाम् कामः means desire for acquisition and क्रोधः means anger caused by the obstacle in acquiring things or anger caused by the loss of things acquired. So काम will invariably lead to क्रोधः, we analyzed this in the 3rd chapter very elaborately,

कामः एषः क्रोधः एषः रजः गुण-समुद्भवः ।

महा-अशनः महा-पाप्मा विद्धि एनम् इह वैरिणम् ॥ ३-३७॥

And this management of काम and क्रोध is possible when I know this basic principle of वेदान्त and what is that basic principle? My happiness does not depend upon what I have but it depends upon what I am. So always focus on what I am, not on what I have. So if this is understood our worry for योग and क्षेम will come down, otherwise काम will lead to more and more acquisition and preservation that I will have no time for spirituality. Life will be spent on योग and क्षेम, योग means acquisition, क्षेम means preservation, in this only is our stress and strain and tension because something or the other will not be working. By the time you set-up everything and everything at home is working, your brain has stopped working, you are unfit for Vedantic study, because you are 70 years old. So therefore we can take care of things to some extent, but we cannot dedicate our life for योग-क्षेम and therefore one should know how to manage काम-क्रोध, that is the first stage, which is called the acquisition of वैराग्यम्.

2) And the next stage is यत-चेतसाम् यत-चेतसाम् means those who have integrated their mind, those who have organized their mind, यतम् चेतः अन्तःकरणम् येषाम् ते यत चेतसः तेषाम्, so mind is the instrument with which we have to do the spiritual journey and unless my mind is focused enough I will not be able to pursue spirituality, therefore the focusing capacity otherwise called शमादि षट्क सम्पत्ति, so that all my organs cooperate with me for my spiritual journey, we will be seeing in the कठोपनिषत् class wherein यम धर्मराज will compare our life itself into a journey, body is compared to a car and the sense organs are compared to the wheels and the mind is compared to the steering and intellect is compared to the driver. Only if the car, the wheels, the steering, the driver they are all healthy then alone I can reach destination. Similarly, body must be fit, sense organs must be fit, emotional mind should be fit, intellect must be fit and they should be available for my use and that is called here यत चेतस्त्वम्. An organized personality, an integrated personality. शमादि षट्क सम्पत्ति is the next stage.

3) Then यतीनाम्, so the next stage is becoming a यति, the literal meaning of the word यति is संन्यासि. So one should become a संन्यासि. So don't look at me, 'स्वामिजि what are you saying, we all should become संन्यासि, no way, if you ask us to give up everything, the first thing I will give up is your class.' So संन्यास stands for what: in the olden days, संन्यास आश्रम is exclusively prescribed for concentrated pursuit of scriptural study. ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम and संन्यास आश्रम also have no duties at all. The आश्रम धर्म was so designed that a ब्रह्मचारि has no duty, a संन्यासि also has no duty, for what purpose, so that they can fully commit themselves for scriptural study. And therefore committed study of scriptures is the duty of a संन्यासि. And if a person follows the spirituality in a committed manner then all such people are संन्यासि only. If my priority in life is spiritual growth then I am संन्यासि. It doesn't matter whether I go to office, I earn money, I will be doing all these things, but if my top priority is मोक्ष and ज्ञानम् I can call myself to be a संन्यासि and therefore यति means spirituality is priority. All other things are subsidiary, that is the next stage.

4) Then what is the final stage. विदित-आत्मनाम्, if a person pursues spiritual knowledge with such a commitment, which is nothing but systematic and consistent study of the वेदान्त for a length of time under the guidance of a competent आचार्यः. Always remember this definition, ज्ञानयोग means and systematic and consistent study of वेदान्त for a length of time under the guidance of a competent आचार्यः is ज्ञानयोग and whoever does that he is a संन्यासि. You are all संन्यासिs. And this systematic study will lead to what, clear knowledge and that ज्ञानि is called विदित-आत्मा, विदित-आत्मा means a ज्ञानि. विदितः आत्मा एन सः विदित-आत्मा, बहुव्रीहि समास . All those people become ज्ञानिs as a result of these साधनs. And because of this knowledge, what happens, ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम् वर्तते – so they all have oneness with ब्रह्मन् as a result of this knowledge, merger into ब्रह्मन्. I have explained the word ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम्, in the previous verse itself merger into ब्रह्मन्. And as I said, merger is not a physical event, it is an intellectual event, it is a cognitive event and what is the cognition, what is the knowledge, there is no distance between me and ब्रह्मन्. In fact, अहम् ब्रह्म अस्मि and this merger or oneness is अभितः, अभितः means both ways, what do you mean by both ways, in this context, both ways means this oneness is there before death also and this oneness continues after death also. So मरणात् पूर्वम् अपि मरणात् अनन्तरम् अपि, the oneness before death is called जीवन्मुक्ति, the continued oneness after death is called विदेह मुक्ति. And the general example that is given in the शास्त्र is the pot-space merging into total space. So imagine there is pot, there is space within the pot as well as outside the pot, when I gain knowledge of space, I know that pot space that is the space within the pot is all the time one with the total space, because pot space can never be divided or separated from total space. So thus pot space is one with total space, even when the pot is there and pot space will be one with the total space after the destruction of the pot also. It doesn't make any difference in space, the presence of pot does not create a division in space and absence of pot does not bring the space together also, it was one indivisible whole before also, later also. Similarly, I am one indivisible Consciousness, in the presence of body also, I am one indivisible all-pervading Consciousness, after the fall of the body also, I am one indivisible all-pervading Consciousness. When the body is there it is called जीवन्मुक्ति, when the body has fallen it is called विदेहमुक्ति, ज्ञान will give both. This is the ज्ञानफलम्, Continuing;

Verse No .27

स्पर्शान्कृत्वा बहिर्बाह्यांश्चक्षुश्चैवान्तरे भ्रुवोः ।

प्राणापानौ समौ कृत्वा नासाभ्यन्तरचारिणौ ॥ ५-२७॥

स्पर्शान् कृत्वा बहिः बाह्यान् चक्षुः च एव अन्तरे भ्रुवोः ।

प्राण-अपानौ समौ कृत्वा नास-अभ्यन्तर-चारिणौ ॥ ५-२७॥

With the previous verse, कृष्ण has completed the topic of ज्ञानफलम् and the benefit of ज्ञानम्, जीवन्मुक्ति and विदेहमुक्ति. And in fact, with the previous verse, that is 26th verse, the 5th chapter is over. Because कृष्ण wanted to talk about ज्ञानयोग, he has talked about ज्ञानम्, he has talked about the benefit of ज्ञानम् also, therefore 5th chapter is over, ॐ तत् सत् must have come. But still कृष्ण introduces one more topic at the end and concludes and that is the topic of meditation. And कृष्ण wants to briefly introduce this topic and create interest in अर्जुन's mind, so that he will come for the next chapter also.

So in three verses, He talks about meditation and its results and कृष्ण will elaborate the topic of meditation in the next chapter which is going to be titled ध्यानयोग itself. More about meditation we will be discussing in the next chapter, but since कृष्ण discussing briefly, I will just mention a little bit about it. Meditation is going to be prescribed for the assimilation of the गीता teaching. For the assimilation for the digestion for the internalization of the गीता teaching. Not only it should be there in my superficial mind, this knowledge should go into my subconscious mind even to my unconscious mind. And why do we say so, because most of our reactions in our life come from our inner mind alone, when we get angry, when we get depressed, so we violently react, it is not a thoughtful action, it is not a deliberate action, it is not a conscious action. In fact, very rarely we do conscious action. Most of our actions are mechanical action and after reacting to the situation, thereafterwards we will think, everything is topsy-turvy. Why did I talk like this, why did I do like this? If I have not consciously reacted, how did the reaction come out of me? Why I used such a terrible words against my own father or mother or brother? Why I behaved like that? So when I don't use my conscious mind, what is making me to act is my own subconscious mind or inner mind and the problem is the गीता teaching that I get remains in the conscious mind alone and therefore in our day-to-day life what happens, since we do not use conscious mind most of the time and गीता is where, only in the conscious mind and in our subconscious mind our old संसारि is sitting, the ignorant, the doubtful, that संसारि continues to be inside and therefore I continue to misbehave as before. And therefore the knowledge at the conscious level has to be penetrated into, pushed into, my inner personality, that even when unconsciously I do anything that also is backed by गीता teaching. And how will it happen, you have to do something to mix the knowledge in your entire personality, like mixing the sugar in coffee. You know, so you just tasted coffee and you find that coffee is not sweet or any drink for that matter. You scold the wife, because she is the poor one available for all scolding, therefore you don't put sugar at all, you don't take care of me properly, from beginning itself you are like that, so half-an-hour scolding and she says I have already added sugar and he says no, I drank and there is no sugar at all, then what is the problem, the sugar is down and it is not mixed with coffee. Therefore what is required, not addition of more sugar, already sugar is there, but the added sugar must mix with every droplet of coffee, अधः sugar, मध्यतः sugar, उत्तरतः दक्षिणतः च, अधश्च ऊर्ध्वम् च पृष्ठतः च sugar एवम् coffee मयम् वरिष्ठम्! Similarly, unfortunately the knowledge that I receive remains in one corner, therefore for our day-to-day life this knowledge is not accessible. So how to make it accessible? कृष्ण is going to talk about meditation as a means of assimilation. And कृष्ण briefly talks about the initial steps to be taken for meditation and then He will briefly talk about the process of meditation and then He will briefly mention about the result of meditation, everything in dots and dashes, elaboration in the next chapter. So in this श्लोक, some of the steps of meditation are talked about. What are they: you have to assume some of the steps which will be explained in the next chapter, a person is seated in a comfortable posture and his body is relaxed, all these things are understood, then what should he do, look at the second line, प्राण-अपानौ समौ कृत्वा – he should make the inhalation and exhalation even, समौ means even and relaxed, because the condition of the mind, the condition of the breathing are interconnected. That is why when we have violent emotions we have breathing also is disturbed, which means by managing or regulating the breathing we can regulate our mind also. And therefore before any पूजा or जप, regulation of breathing is kept as an integral part. The पुरोहित् will say प्राणायाम, शुक्लामरधरम् ॐ भूः, and then stops. Why the priest stops after ॐ भूः, because you are supposed to do, he cannot do प्राणायाम for your sake. Therefore you are supposed to say ॐ भूः, etc and do the प्राणायाम. Why प्राणायाम, so that the mind gets quietened. So प्राण-अपानौ समौ कृत्वा – make your inhalation and exhalation, which are नास-अभ्यन्तर-चारिणौ – which move about within your nostrils, make them even, then what about the sense organs, चक्षुः च एव अन्तरे श्रुतोः – withdraw all the sense organs and most powerful sense organs is the eye, therefore may be bring the eyes or the vision between the eyebrows. So bringing the vision between the eye-brows means not looking outward. More details कृष्ण himself will give in the next chapter. I am just giving you only the outline, therefore withdrawing the sense organs, especially the eye, then बाह्यान् स्पर्शान् बहिः कृत्वा – remove all the sense objects from your mind, means don't think of any external object and object includes your relationship also, what will happen to my wife or children or husband or father or mother, drop all of them. So renounce all of them and become a mental संन्यासि, cut of all relationship and have relationship only with God alone. So this is called pushing, displacing the worldly thoughts by entertaining the meditation thought, these are all the initial preparation and some more are there.

यतेन्द्रियमनोबुद्धिर्मुनिर्मोक्षपरायणः ।

विगतेच्छाभयक्रोधो यः सदा मुक्त एव सः ॥ ५-२८॥

यत-इन्द्रिय-मनः बुद्धिः मुनिः मोक्ष-परायणः ।

विगत-इच्छा-भय-क्रोधः यः सदा मुक्तः एव सः ॥ ५-२८॥

यः मुनिः बाह्यान् स्पर्शान् बहिः कृत्वा, चक्षुः च एव श्रुतोः अन्तरे कृत्वा, प्राण-अपानौ नास-अभ्यन्तर-चारिणौ समौ (कृत्वा), यत-इन्द्रिय-मनः बुद्धिः, विगत-इच्छा-भय-क्रोधः, मोक्ष-परायणः (स्यात्) सः सदा मुक्तः एव ।

भोक्तारं यज्ञतपसां सर्वलोकमहेश्वरम् ।

सुहृदं सर्वभूतानां ज्ञात्वा मां शान्तिमृच्छति ॥ ५-२९॥

भोक्तारम् यज्ञ-तपसाम् सर्व-लोक-महेश्वरम् ।

सुहृदम् सर्व-भूतानाम् ज्ञात्वा मां शान्तिम् ऋच्छति ॥ ५-२९॥

यज्ञ-तपसाम् भोक्तारम् सर्व-भूतानाम् सुहृदम् सर्व-लोक-महेश्वरम् माम् ज्ञात्वा शान्तिम् ऋच्छति ।

So further preparations, यत-इन्द्रिय-मनः बुद्धिः – one should withdraw all the sense organs from the external world, इन्द्रिय means senses, मनः means mind, बुद्धिः means intellect all these are यतम् means withdrawn from the external world so that all these are fully available for the job of meditation at hand and विगत-इच्छा-भय-क्रोधः – get rid of all the emotional disturbances. इच्छा means attachment or desire, भयम् means fear, क्रोध means anger, as long as they are there you will sit and only burn within and therefore get rid of all these inner emotions from your mind and your mind is turned towards only one thing, मुनिः मोक्ष-परायणः भवेत् So मुनिः, the meditator should only focus on मोक्षः as revealed in the scriptures, as one's own nature and if a person remains in the teaching, सदा सः मुक्तः एव भवति – then this teaching will be assimilated, that whatever is his lifetime in the background this गीता teaching will be available. And what is the object of meditation, कृष्ण says भोक्तारम् यज्ञ-तपसाम् सर्व-लोक-महेश्वरम् । सुहृदम् सर्व-भूतानाम् माम् – you meditate upon me, upon the Lord. what type of lord, यज्ञ-तपसाम् भोक्तारम् – who is the receiver of all the पूजाs, who is the object of worship, यज्ञ and तपसुः सर्व-लोक-महेश्वरम् – who is the ultimate Lord of the entire creation and where is he situated, सुहृदम् सर्व-भूतानाम् माम् – who is located in the हृदयम् of all the beings. So don't think Lord is elsewhere seated, सर्व-भूतानाम् सुहृदम् शङ्कराचार्य says, हृदयेश्वरं, upon that Lord, ज्ञात्वा – so thinking, meditating upon me, शान्तिम् ऋच्छति – you will attain peace of mind, you will attain both जीवन्मुक्ति and विदेह मुक्ति. So this is the nutshell, each word will be elaborated in the next chapter.

ॐ तत्सदिति श्रीमद्भगवद्गीतासु उपनिषत्सु ब्रह्मविद्यायां योगशास्त्रे श्रीकृष्णार्जुनसंवादे संन्यासयोगो नाम पञ्चमोऽध्यायः ॥ ५॥

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय
पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 05, SUMMARY

Today I will give you a summary of the 5th chapter, which we have just completed. कृष्ण had given the entire गीता teaching in the 2nd, 3rd and 4th chapters of the गीता and in the 5th chapter Lord कृष्ण is summarizing the teaching that he had given in the previous three chapters and therefore, even though this chapter is a small chapter, it is an important chapter which gives the essence of the entire गीता teaching and in fact, the entire वैदिक teaching itself. And this chapter can be broadly classified into four portions,

- 1) The first part dealing with two types of lifestyles. In संस्कृत, we call it निष्ठा द्वयम् and
- 2) Then the next topic that we find is साधन द्वयम्, two types of spiritual disciplines which every seeker has necessarily go through and
- 3) Then the third topic is the benefit of following these two साधनs, साधनफलम्, this is the third topic and
- 4) The fourth and final topic is introduction to meditation as a preparation or as a foundation for the next chapter.

These are the four main topics in the 5th chapter. Now we will briefly see each one of these four topics.

1) The first one is निष्ठा द्वयम्, two types of lifestyles and those types of lifestyles are गृहस्थ आश्रम – the life of a householder and संन्यास आश्रम – the life of a संन्यासि, a renunciate, a monk. In one आश्रम a person possesses everything and he is part of the society, in the other one, the person does not possess anything and he is not part of the society. गृहस्थ आश्रम is called प्रवृत्ति मार्ग, संन्यास आश्रम is called निवृत्ति मार्ग; one involves an active lifestyle, the other involves a withdrawn secluded lifestyle and कृष्ण is emphasizing only these two आश्रमs because the other two आश्रमs are only preparation for these two आश्रमs. ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम is a preparation for गृहस्थ आश्रम and वानप्रस्थ आश्रम is a preparation for संन्यास आश्रम, therefore we don't deal with ब्रह्मचर्य and वानप्रस्थ, we focus only on गृहस्थ and संन्यास आश्रम. And these two आश्रमs alone कृष्ण calls two types of निष्ठा. कृष्ण had talked about this in the 3rd chapter also.

लोके अस्मिन् द्विविधा निष्ठा पुरा प्रोक्ता मया अनघ ॥ ३-३॥

These two forms of lifestyle are given out in the वेदs themselves and in this अर्जुन is confused regarding संन्यास आश्रम and अर्जुन's main confusion is whether संन्यास आश्रम is compulsory for liberation. Whether संन्यास आश्रम is compulsory for liberation and therefore अर्जुन raises a question in the beginning of the chapter and कृष्ण clarifies अर्जुन's confusion. And what is कृष्ण's answer? कृष्ण says संन्यास आश्रम is not compulsory for liberation. As far as the आश्रम is concerned, as far as the lifestyle is concerned, a person can choose anyone of these two lifestyles,

एकमप्यास्थितः सम्यग्बुभयोर्विन्दते फलम् ॥ ५-४॥

A person can take to anyone of the आश्रमs and attain liberation. And therefore there is choice with regard to आश्रमs. Therefore, after ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम, after the lifestyle of study a person has a choice to decide whether I want to become a monk or whether I want to get married and live a spiritual life. And as far as advantages and disadvantages are concerned, as I pointed out before, both आश्रमs have got advantages and disadvantages. In गृहस्थ आश्रम the advantage is money and people are there, which will give at least a seeming sense of security, Whether it will really give or not is debatable, at least it will give a sense of security, because people and possessions are there. Which security a संन्यासि does not have, because he cannot have a possession and he cannot have any relations also? That is why स्वामिजि says, he shaves his head so that you cannot catch him by the hair, uncatchable, in the other आश्रमs शिखा is there, you can catch, ब्रह्मचर्य, गृहस्थ etc., has the tuft by which you can hold the person, संन्यासि you cannot hold. So thus in गृहस्थ आश्रम security is there, संन्यास आश्रम security is not there, but the disadvantage in गृहस्थ आश्रम is what, because there are possessions and relationships there is a responsibility, which can be a big burden. People say, स्वामिजि all my children are not yet married, not yet settled, they are not settled, therefore my mind is unsettled. So responsibility is the minus point of गृहस्थ आश्रम, which responsibility this संन्यासि doesn't have at all. So therefore in one आश्रम security is plus point, responsibility is minus point, in the other आश्रम lack of security is minus point and the absence of responsibility is the plus point, Tell me which आश्रम is better. 'The grass is always greener on the other side of the fence'! A गृहस्थ feels संन्यासि is better off and often संन्यासि feels perhaps I should not have become a संन्यासि. And therefore both आश्रमs have plus and minus point, therefore, there is choice. And once we have to choose there is conflict, wherever choice is involved conflict comes and generally we don't want to choose, because choosing is again taking responsibility. Including dress we don't want to choose. We all ask others and ask their opinion. So अर्जुन also wonders which आश्रम is better for him and therefore कृष्ण gives an advice to अर्जुन and अर्जुन type of people and what is that advice, गृहस्थ आश्रम is better for majority of people.

संन्यासस्तु महाबाहो दुःखमाप्नुमयोगतः । ... ॥ ७-६॥

A person can face even psychological problems if human relationship is not there. In fact, human relationship play a very important role in maintaining mental sanity and when a person doesn't have any such relationship a person can - as one psychiatrist said that I get lot of संन्यासिs as patients, can happen if he doesn't know how to handle the mind and therefore कृष्ण said both आश्रमs are OK for majority of people गृहस्थ आश्रम is better. But that doesn't mean that all the people should take to गृहस्थ आश्रम, those who are prepared and ready they can take to संन्यास आश्रम. So this is the topic from verse no.1 to verse no.6, निष्ठा द्वयम्, आश्रम द्वयम्, where there is a choice.

2) And then the next topic is साधन द्वयम्, two types of spiritual discipline and what are those two disciplines, कर्मयोग साधन and ज्ञानयोग साधन and कृष्ण wants to emphasize that as far as साधनs are concerned there is no choice at all. This is a very important point to remember, कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग are not given as optional means of liberation. So there is a very big misconception prevalent all over, that there are several paths to liberation, कर्मयोग a person can take independently, ज्ञानयोग another person can take, भक्तियोग third person, राजयोग a fourth person and now people are adding to the list, कुण्डलिनी योग, नाद योग, liberation by music, music method, this method, a person can have all those views but you should remember वेद does not support this view. भगवद्गीता also does not support this view. There is no choice with regard to साधन. Then what is the conclusion, everybody requires कर्मयोग, everybody requires ज्ञानयोग also, because what one contributes the other does not contribute. And if both कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग are required, should they be followed simultaneously or one after the other. According to कृष्ण, they should be gradual, one after the other, there is a gradation, in संस्कृत we call it क्रम समुच्चय, क्रम समुच्चय means they should be combined one after the other, chronologically. And if they should be one after the other, what should be order, can I start with ज्ञानयोग and end with कर्मयोग, कर्मयोग is the first stage, ज्ञानयोग is the next and final stage. And why do we put in this order, because कर्मयोग gives the preparation for ज्ञानयोग and ज्ञानयोग gives liberation. This is the वैदिक मार्गः, follow कर्मयोग, prepare yourselves for ज्ञानयोग, follow ज्ञानयोग and thus be liberated and of course it does not mean that a कर्मयोगि should not scriptures at all, we should not say that कर्मयोगि should not attend गीता उपनिषत् classes, that is not the idea, in the first stage, कर्मयोग has prominence, ज्ञानयोग is subdued the study of scriptures, whereas in the later stage ज्ञानयोग becomes dominant. It is only a dominance difference, it is not totally a water-tight compartment. Therefore कृष्ण summaries कर्मयोग साधन from verse no.7 to verse no.12, what is कर्मयोग. And कृष्ण has dealt with this topic elaborately in the 3rd chapter and this कृष्ण summarizes in these verses and what is the essence of कर्मयोग we saw, proper action plus proper attitude is कर्मयोग. And what do you mean by proper action? So we grade the action based on the spiritual progress that it can give,

➤ the actions are graded based on their capacity to give the spiritual progress and what is the gradation, selfless actions come under top grade where the beneficiaries are more. निष्काम कर्माणि, otherwise called सत्त्विक कर्माणि are the top action which will contribute to the maximum purity or spiritual progress,

➤ the next grade is what, सकाम कर्माणि, or राजस कर्माणि which are selfish actions, where the beneficiaries are minimum, maximum will be me and my family, not more than that. So such actions are called राजस कर्माणि or सकाम कर्माणि or मध्यम कर्माणि, they will produce only limited spiritual progress,

➤ then what is the third grade of action, तामस कर्माणि or निषिद्ध कर्माणि or harmful actions, in which I get lot of benefit but the society is injured or harmed by my action and such कर्म are called अधम कर्माणि, not only they don't give spiritual progress, they pull a person down spiritually.

And therefore a कर्मयोगि should give importance to सत्त्विक कर्माणि maximum, next is राजस कर्माणि and तामस कर्म should be nil if possible, that should be the proportion. सत्त्व must be maximum, रजस् middle and तमस् should be minimum or zero, that is called proper action.

And then what is the second part of कर्मयोग, proper attitude and what is the proper attitude, I do all the actions as a worship to the Lord,

लिप्यते न स पापेन पद्मपत्रमिवाम्भसा ॥ ५-१०॥

A very important श्लोक in this chapter, often quoted by शङ्कराचार्य, that is dedicate all the actions to the Lord, whether it is सत्त्विक कर्म, whether it is a राजस कर्म or even if it is तामस कर्म, it should be avoided but even if it is unavoidable then do it as dedication to the Lord. That is why Indian thieves, I don't know in other countries, Indian thieves are also devotees of God. Oh God, I should steal well today and I should not get caught by the police and I will give you a percentage of that in your offering/collection box. So what kind of कर्म it is - तामस कर्म, but even that is done, I tell you, when they do that gradually, certainly the mind will change because association with Lord is capable of transforming the mind and therefore शङ्कराचार्य tells elsewhere in the 18th chapter, even निशिद्ध कर्म, if you are forced to do, do it as an offering to the Lord, भगवान् will create a situation, in which you will not have to do निशिद्ध कर्म later. Therefore what is the proper attitude, dedication to the Lord and not only that the next important thing is whatever be the consequence of the कर्म. सत्त्विक, राजस, तामस कर्मणाम् फलम्, whatever be the consequence, accept it as the प्रसाद of the Lord, the will of the Lord, gracefully accept without resistance, because every experience that we have in life is the result of our own action. This is the most important thing we should remember, every experience in my life is the result of my own actions and suppose we have got intense suffering and when we look into our lives, we have not done any intense पाप कर्म, this is where we get a doubt, I have not done very big पाप कर्म, why should I suffer from such a disease or such a tragedy we always doubt, remember our experiences are not only the result of the actions of the present जन्म, we should remember, we reap the results of our पूर्वजन्म कर्माणि also and do we know what all पापम्s we done in पूर्वजन्म, but भगवान् knows, he has got a master computer which doesn't have Y2K problem. So भगवान् can never fail, so whatever I get I deserve, therefore my only prayer, never ask why me, you should not ask, when you ask me why me, you are indirectly charging भगवान् with injustice. There is no question of why me at all, we should only ask the Lord, Oh Lord! I am aware that what I am going through is the result of my own actions, give me the strength to go through this and learn valid lessons from this experience and this attitude is called पद्म-पत्रम् इव अम्भसा attitude. So thus dedication with regard to कर्मs and प्रसाद बुद्धि or acceptance with regard to कर्मफल is proper attitude. Thus proper action plus proper attitude will make a person a कर्मयोगि. And what will happen as a result of कर्मयोग, the result is the mind becomes spiritually oriented, materialistic tendencies will weaken, spiritual tendencies will be strengthened, interest in गीता will increase, interest in the शास्त्र will increase, instead of a casual approach it will become whole-hearted and sincere approach. And therefore, everyone has to go through purifying action, even a संन्यासि has to go through purifying action, the purifying actions of a संन्यासि will be different from the purifying actions of a householder, the actions will differ, but the aim is what, the mind should become purer and purer. This is the topic from verse no.7 to 12. and कृष्ण traces the stages of progress also, each stage of progress also कृष्ण talks about, we saw the details before. Then having talked about कर्मयोग साधन, कृष्ण talks about ज्ञानयोग साधन, which is the next stage of साधन which is given from verse no.13 to 21, which is also compulsory for all, there is no way of getting out of ज्ञानयोग. Because many people say ज्ञानयोग is a dry path and therefore we should go for wet path. What is the wet path? Wet path is the recognition of आत्मा, which is the real nature, the essential nature, the core nature, the higher nature of the individual, which is called आत्मा and what will be the nature of this discovery, that also कृष्ण hints at, we have seen that elaborately in the 2nd chapter, there we saw the details, आत्मा is of the nature of Consciousness, चैतन्य स्वरूपः आत्मा and then what is the nature of Consciousness, so we have seen a few important features do you remember.

योगयुक्तो विशुद्धात्मा विजितात्मा जितेन्द्रियः ।

सर्वभूतात्मभूतात्मा कुर्वन्नपि न लिप्यते ॥ ७-७॥

i) Consciousness is not a part of the body, not a property of the body or a product of the body.

ii) Then what is Consciousness, Consciousness is an independent entity which pervades and enlivens the body and

iii) The Consciousness is not limited by the boundaries of the body. In short, it is all-pervading and not only that,

iv) Consciousness survives or continues to exist even after the fall of the body and

v) Therefore the Consciousness is only one which pervades all the bodies of the creation, which means bodies are many but the pervading Consciousness is one.

So thus सर्वगतः, नित्यः, एकः it is only one Consciousness. And then कृष्ण said, Consciousness being one and all-pervading like space, it is free from all the actions.

नव-द्वारे पुरे देही न एव कुर्वन् न काश्यन् ॥ ७-१३॥

न कर्तृत्वं न कर्माणि लोकस्य सृजति प्रभुः । ... ॥ ७-१४॥

Consciousness does not do any action, even though in its presence all actions take place, like what, in the presence of space all actions take place but space itself does not do any action. अकाश or another example I gave you, what is the example प्रकाश or the light. Imagine there is one light pervading this area, actions take place in this area, the light only pervades and illumines but light itself does not do any action, good or bad. Therefore Consciousness is अकर्ता and what is the consequence of that, since Consciousness does not do any action, there is no question of reaping the result of action and therefore it is free from पुण्यम्, पापम्, सञ्चित कर्म, आगामि कर्म, प्रारब्ध कर्म nothing is there for Consciousness, न कर्मफल संयोगम् स्वभावस्तु प्रवर्तते,

न आदत्ते कस्यचित् पापं न च एव सुकृतं विभुः,

I don't have पुण्यम्, I don't have पापम्, that is, Consciousness the आत्मा is free from पुण्य-पापम्. And the first stage of ज्ञानयोग is what, identifying this Consciousness, like I gave the example here itself there are two things you should understand, that is the first step. Otherwise when I ask you what is here, you will only say there is a hand, I ask you 100 times you will say only hand only, hand only is there, then I have to tell you that this hand itself is seen because of some other principle which is pervading the hand, if I say that one light will burn inside, then only you will note that here that hand alone but light is also present. So if you were seeing only the hand initially, you have to be drawn to the light also, I have to say that there are two things and there afterwards I have to talk about the nature of light,

- a) That light is an independent entity,
- b) Light pervades and illumines the hand,
- c) Light is beyond the periphery of the hand also,
- d) Light continues even when I remove the hand. I have to recognize the light.

Exactly like light, Consciousness pervades the body and it is distinct from the body, this is the teaching of the उपनिषत्. And this recognition is the first stage. It is only the first stage, totally three stages are there, कृष्ण talks about only two stages here. Third stage we will see later. So what is the second stage? The second stage is learning to identify with the Consciousness as myself. At present we have learnt to identify with the body and this learning is so intense and so ingrained in our mind, that the moment we use the word I, we remember what: I am a male, I am a female, I am so many years old, I am the child of so and so. In fact, you remember all the bio-data associated with the body alone. So therefore we have to do a lot of unlearning. And the new process is learning to identify with the Consciousness and instead of saying I am the body, I have to learn to say that I am the Consciousness pervading the body, this body is subject to arrival and departure, this body belongs to the material world, this body is a temporary gift from the Lord, I can use it for some time as a medium of transaction, but I cannot hold on to it permanently. So thus I have to learn to say that I am the Consciousness in the body, not I am the body. This is shifting the I. And कृष्ण says what is the advantage of shifting this I. कृष्ण says if I know I am the Consciousness different from my body, I will look upon you also as what? Consciousness different from your body, because my perspective of you will be exactly the same as how I look at myself. I told you in the class itself, if I going to give importance to my physical personality, how I look, then naturally whomever I meet, I will only see how his physical personality. As I look upon myself, so I look upon people also. If I am आत्मा different from my body, you all are also आत्मा different from your body, so I am आत्मा, you are आत्मा, therefore what is the difference between us, there is no difference at all.

So the unity of vision, the oneness of vision is only possible through spiritual wisdom. Without spiritual wisdom it is impossible to talk about oneness and even if we talk about oneness it will be only a lip service. On one side we will all say we are Indians, etc., but when we come this side, we will fight and kill others. We can never have a true transformation without getting this wisdom. And not only I see oneness everywhere, the fear of mortality is gone, as long as I am the body there will be fear of mortality, if I am the Consciousness, immortal Consciousness, functioning through this mortal body I will accept the mortality of the body, because it is natural to the body. Body is mortal is not a problem, the problem is not body is mortal, our problem is what, 'I am mortal' is the problem. So mortality happening everywhere, will never create problem. Daily you read the newspaper column, what happens, we are all जीवन्मुक्तs, we are all liberated people. Let mortality be anywhere else, I have no problem, when I am mortal, that is the problem, this वेदान्त changes that notion, I say I am immortal, the body which is different from is and ever will be mortal, there is no method of immortalizing the body. So this is called freedom from limitation or संसार. So with this, कृष्ण concludes the topic of ज्ञानयोग - verse no.13 to 21. Thus कर्मयोग is the first stage, ज्ञानयोग is the second stage, ज्ञानयोग leads to the wisdom, I am full and I am immortal, अहम् पूर्णः.

3) Then from verse no.22 to 26, कृष्ण talks about a particular spiritual value and also कृष्ण talks about the benefit of this knowledge. Many spiritual values are prescribed in the शास्त्रs. कृष्ण highlights one value and that is वैराग्यम्. What do you mean by वैराग्यम्? Understanding the limitations of the dependence on external factors for our happiness. Dependence on external factors for our happiness is a big problem. Why, because external factors are not under my control, the weather is not under my control, the country, the government, and the ruling is not under control, why? our family members certainly are not under our control, our children one need not ask, what about your servant maid, you call them servant, but the secret truth is that you are her servant, because they say, whenever you want call a servant, she interviews you, what are all there in your house, mixie, washing machine, vacuum cleaner, then TV and all the channels are there. If all these are there then I will come. Now tell me who is interviewing whom. As long as I am depending on external factors for my happiness, सर्वम् परवशम् दुःखम्, सर्वम् आत्मशम् सुखम्. Dependence is sorrow. Dependence is sorrow, especially psychological dependence. Physical dependence we cannot avoid, we need food, we need clothing, we need shelter, we cannot avoid but psychological dependence on people, on things and on situations this is called संसार. First we should know that the problem is with us and problem is not with the world. As दयानन्द beautifully says: You are the problem and You are the solution and what is the problem with me, that I depend on those unpredictable factors is my mistake and therefore what is the correction required, go from dependence to independence.

स्थिरबुद्धिरसम्मूढो ब्रह्मविद् ब्रह्मणि स्थितः ॥ ५-२०॥

So drop the dependence on external factors and learn to depend on yourselves for your शान्ति, for your तृप्ति, for your पूर्णत्वम्, for your security, for everything learn to depend on yourselves, yourselves means which self, not the inferior self, learn to depend upon your own higher-Self, which कृष्ण said in the 3rd chapter,

यस्त्वात्मरतिरेव स्यादात्मतृप्तश्च मानवः ।

आत्मन्येव च सन्तुष्टस्तस्य कार्यं न विद्यते ॥ ३-१७॥

Things and people are around wonderful, they are not around equally wonderful, if I have such a mental condition then and then alone I am free and this attitude is called वैराग्यम्, gradually dropping external dependencies, especially psychological. And having stressed वैराग्यम्, कृष्ण talks about the benefit of knowledge, in the form of जीवन्मुक्ति and विदेह मुक्ति, जीवन्मुक्ति means inner freedom, here and now, inner freedom, inner independence, here and now. Why I say inner freedom? Outer freedom is not possible, because externally I am bound by the rules of the world, claiming that I am जीवन्मुक्त, I cannot drive the car in any way that I like. Keep left, everyone is driving, like जीवन्मुक्त, that is a different thing, but we are not supposed to do that. So even a ज्ञानि will have to follow traffic rules, so therefore externally I am bound by the laws but internally I have got freedom from all types of dependencies and the details we have to get from the 2nd chapter of the गीता, स्थितप्रज्ञ लक्षणानि,

वीतरागभयक्रोधः स्थितधीर्मुनिरुच्यते ॥ २-५६॥

So this is जीवन्मुक्ति and how long he will live like that, until the प्रारब्धः कर्म is over the physical body will continue. A ज्ञानि doesn't say that I will continue until my प्रारब्धः is over, a ज्ञानि will not say that why: because a ज्ञानि identifies with what, आत्मा, therefore a ज्ञानि never says I have प्रारब्धः, the worldly people will say ज्ञानि continues, so therefore a ज्ञानि's body is governed by प्रारब्ध and therefore as long as that कर्म is there body survives, when the कर्म is gone body is gone and thereafter he is one with ब्रह्मन् without any individuality, which is called विदेहमुक्ति and कृष्ण calls it ब्रह्म-निर्वाणम्,

So thus वैराग्यम् and जीवन्मुक्ति and विदेह मुक्ति were talked from 22 to 26th and with this the main purpose of the 5th chapter is over.

4) And in the last three verses, 27 to 29, कृष्ण introduces the topic of meditation, which कृष्ण wants to elaborate in the 6th chapter. And therefore the last three verses are बीज श्लोकः, they are seed verses for the tree of 6th chapter to come and this chapter is called संन्यास योगः or कर्म संन्यास योगः, because कृष्ण clarifies what is संन्यास for अर्जुन and what is the clarification, outer संन्यास is not important, inner संन्यास is real संन्यास; external renunciation is not compulsory, inner renunciation is the real renunciation.

CHAPTER 06, INTRODUCTION

Having completed the 5th chapter, now we will enter into the 6th chapter of the गीता which is titled ध्यान योगः or आत्मसंयम योगः and both the words ध्यानम् and आत्मसंयमः, mean the same viz., meditation. Thus the 6th chapter is going to elaborately and comprehensively deal with an important spiritual साधन, viz., ध्यानम् or meditation. Before going into the text proper we will first have some basic ideas regarding meditation as given in the उपनिषत्s, because we should remember that the भगवद्गीता is based upon the उपनिषत्s alone, it is not an independent text. So we should very clearly understand what is the role of meditation in spiritual साधन. And before knowing what is the role or purpose of meditation, we should first clearly know what the meditation is not meant for, because there are so many ideas and misconceptions regarding the role of meditation and therefore first we will see what it is not meant for.

1) First of all we should know that meditation is not a means of liberation. We do not prescribe meditation for the sake of मोक्ष. Why, because according to the Upanishadic teaching, liberation is not a goal to be accomplished at all, liberation is our own intrinsic nature, it is a सिद्ध वस्तु, it is not a साध्यम्. And since मोक्ष is already accomplished fact, it is only a matter for owning up or knowing and therefore the उपनिषत्s clearly say that knowledge alone is the means of liberation. In fact, even knowledge also does not accomplish liberation for us, knowledge reveals the fact that liberation is an already accomplished truth. And that is why in all the उपनिषत्s, it is clearly said:

Liberation is through knowledge. Nowhere it is said liberation is through meditation, therefore the first point to be noted is meditation is not prescribed as a means of liberation.

2) Then the next clarification we should have is that meditation is not prescribed for knowledge also. Meditation is not prescribed for knowledge also because meditation is not considered as a means of knowledge. Meditation is not considered a means of knowledge. In the scriptures, we discuss different means of knowledge and in that discussion, we have enumerated six means of knowledge, known as षट् प्रमाणानि. I don't want to discuss the six means of knowledge here, that we will do or we are doing in the उपनिषत् classes, here it is enough if you note this much that the tradition accepts six means of knowledge: प्रत्यक्ष, अनुमान, उपमान, अर्थापत्ति, अनुपलब्धि and शास्त्रम् and among the six means of knowledge, meditation is not enumerated as one means and therefore meditation is not a प्रमाणम्. Meditation is not a means of knowledge and therefore we should note meditation is not prescribed for knowledge also, either material or spiritual. So what is the first point I said, meditation is not prescribed for liberation, No.2 meditation is not prescribed for knowledge also.

3) Then the third thing that we have to note is for a Vedantic seeker or a spiritual seeker, meditation is not prescribed even for any extraordinary experience or mystic experience. Meditation is not even prescribed for the purpose of any extra-ordinary mystic experience also. What is the reason? The reason is all the experiences, ordinary or extra-ordinary, ordinary or mystic, they deal with only finite realm. Any experience being bound by time can deal with only a finite or limited field bound by time, because all the experiences - ordinary or extra-ordinary are time-bound and therefore, they deal with only the objective universe. They only deal with objective universe - ordinary experiences deal with ordinary objective universe, extra-ordinary experiences deal with an extra-ordinary objective universe, mystic experiences will deal with mystic-objective universe, because all the experiences belong to the objective world alone, the experiencer-subject can never become an object of experience. The experiencer-subject can never become an object of either ordinary or extra-ordinary experience. Very careful: we do not question the possibility of mystic experiences, we are not questioning the possibility of extra-ordinary experiences; what we say is there are mystic experiences, there are extra-ordinary experiences, but what we say is all the mystic and extra-ordinary experiences belong to an objective field, it can never deal with the very subject himself. And since all the experiences deal with objective field, they are all objective knowledge alone, they cannot come under Self-knowledge, they cannot come under Self-knowledge, they cannot come under spiritual knowledge, they will come under material knowledge, objective knowledge only. And since they deal with only objective knowledge they are incapable of giving liberation. And therefore a seeker of liberation should not be after extra-ordinary experiences, a seeker of liberation should not be and cannot be after extra-ordinary experiences, he cannot run after mysterious and mystic experiences, because as long as he is after such experiences he will continue to be in the objective world, he will continue to be within finite world, he will continue to be within अनात्मा, he will continue to be a संसारि and therefore the third point to be noted is for a spiritual seeker, meditation is not prescribed for mystic experiences also. And if at all such experiences come, गौडपादाचार्य tells in his माण्डूक्योपनिषत्, even if such extra-ordinary experiences come reject them as objects and therefore अनात्मा, nothing to do with the Self at all,

गौडपादाचार्य, शङ्कराचार्य's grand-गुरु, you know what is grand-गुरु, like grandfather, गुरु's गुरु, you may get and if it comes also, ask the question, is this an object or is this a subject? And the very fact that the experience arrived and you had the experience and the experience departed indicate that it belongs to what, the objective field, the experiencer does not arrive, does not depart also. And therefore the Self is not an object of mystic experience but Self is the subject behind all the ordinary and mystic experiences, therefore a seeker should be interested in what, more on the Self and not such experiences. And therefore, the third point to be noted is meditation is not prescribed for mystic experiences.

So remember three points,

- i) meditation is not meant for liberation,
- ii) meditation is not meant for knowledge,
- iii) meditation is not meant for mystic experiences also.

So once we have fixed this foundation, the next question is if meditation is not meant for any one of these, 'I thought any of these' is the purpose, whatever I thought of you have negated now. So if meditation is not meant for any of them then for what purpose is meditation prescribed in the शास्त्र, what is the role of meditation? We say meditation has got two roles,

A) The first role of meditation is the preparation of the mind for spiritual knowledge, you can call it cultivation of mind, you can call it refinement of mind, you can call it integration of mind, you can call it organization of mind, call whatever you like, ज्ञानयोग्यता प्राप्तिः. Just as before sowing the seed the land has to be prepared, if tilling the land is required, if fertilizer has to be added, if watering is required, whatever is to be done you do all those things, all are to be done before sowing the seed and therefore we will call it preparatory meditation. We don't say meditation alone prepares the mind, there are several exercises which prepare the mind, and among several exercises meditation is also one of the important exercises, which will tune the mind. And preparatory meditation is called in संस्कृत, उपासना, preparatory meditation is called उपासना ध्यानम्. The word ध्यानम् is a general word and उपासना ध्यानम् means meditation practiced as a preparation for knowledge. And preparatory meditation should come before knowledge or after knowledge, as the very word preparatory says, you wash your hands and plates before eating or after eating, you wash your hands, you wash your plates, you wash your mouth all before you eat food, and so उपासना ध्यानम् and after preparatory meditation what are we supposed to do, we have to gain spiritual knowledge, we have to gain spiritual knowledge not through preparatory knowledge but after preparatory knowledge we have to work for spiritual knowledge. And what should I do, should I meditate? I have already said in the introduction meditation will not give knowledge and therefore when I want knowledge, I have to go after the means of knowledge, which we call in संस्कृतas प्रमाणम् and we have seen meditation is not a प्रमाणम्, therefore there is some other प्रमाणम्, which I think I have discussed before, when I want to see my eyes, I have a peculiar problem, what is that problem, with these eyes I can see everything in the creation except one thing. What is that? The eyes unfortunately cannot see themselves, the seer cannot be seen. what a tragedy! Everybody says you have wonderful eyes, let us assume, beautiful eyes, so therefore I am tempted, but I don't have any method, therefore what do I do, however much I operate my eyes, I cannot get and suppose I use telescope, microscope, whatever scope I use, it will not help, there is only one method, what is that, use a mirror and with the help of the mirror I can see the eyes. Similarly, when I have to see myself, when the knower has to be known, when the experiencer has to be known, my independent attempts will not help me, I may sit in meditation for 24,000 years nothing will happen. It is like using the eyes, I have used for the last 12 years, shall I use another 12 more years? You may use another 12,000 years, your eyes cannot see your eyes, better introduce a mirror. Similarly, when I want Self-knowledge, I have to use an appropriate mirror that is the scriptural प्रमाणम्, which is called शास्त्र प्रमाणम्, which is called शब्दः प्रमाणम्, which is called उपदेश प्रमाणम्, scriptural teachings will serve as a mirror. That is called शब्दः प्रमाणम्. If I use the mirror appropriately, not only mirror is required, the mirror should be appropriately used, then शास्त्र प्रमाणम् will give me knowledge and how should I use the mirror, what is the operation of शास्त्र प्रमाणम्, that alone we discussed in the 4th chapter,

उपदेक्ष्यन्ति ते ज्ञानं ज्ञानिनस्तत्त्वदर्शिनः ॥ ४-३४॥

You have to go through two-fold exercises, known as श्रवणम् and मननम्. शास्त्र श्रवणम् and मननम् is called the exercise called ज्ञानयोग, called वेदान्त विचार, called अध्यात्म योग, called ब्रह्म जिज्ञासा, these are different words and what is the definition of श्रवणम्? The definition of श्रवणम् is systematic and consistent study of the scriptures for a length of time under the guidance of a competent आचार्य. Systematic and consistent study of scriptures dealing with the Self, not any other scriptures, scriptures dealing with the Self, for a length of time, not listening for a half a day, one day, etc., but for a length of time, under the guidance of a competent आचार्य is called श्रवणम् and when this is done appropriately then श्रवणम् produces Self-knowledge. You have to operate this and see for yourselves. See the mirror and you can see your eyes. Suppose you have got doubt, what should I do? I should use the mirror and see for myself whether I can see my eyes. Similarly, use the वेदान्त श्रवणम् and see for yourselves whether Self-knowledge arises or not, it will arise. So श्रवणम् produces knowledge and when as even I listen to the scriptures certainly I will receive the knowledge also, but parallelly, doubts also arise in the mind, not only it produces knowledge but parallelly it produces doubt. Is it true, because Vedantic teaching is so different from what we know that it is unbelievable. Because whatever I am seeking in life, वेदान्त says I already am. I am seeking fullness, वेदान्त says you are full; I am seeking peace, वेदान्त says you are peace; I am seeking security, वेदान्त says that you are secure; I am seeking the truth, that is the greatest thing, I am seeking the truth, वेदान्त says you are the truth; In fact, you alone are the truth, that is the Seer is the truth, the seen is untruth. Anyway I don't want to go into that, that is the teaching and therefore naturally the mind puts umpteen questions, how can I be secure, how can I be truth? So umpteen questions comes and the instruction is don't ask the question immediately, comprehensively listen to the teaching and receive all the important features of the teaching, receive all the important features of the teaching and until you complete that, keep your doubts aside. You can write down, 'स्वामिजि makes this statement, I don't accept.' You can up to maximum, if you feel bad, you can put a comma and say, 'with due respects to स्वामिजि,' respect does not mean that you should accept whatever I say, you can respectfully disagree with me and the teacher will encourage, teacher will say bravo, because teacher is at least sure that he is listening, because to disagree you should listen. Listening is the most difficult task in the world and I get the knowledge but the knowledge is weakened by parallel doubts. The fundamental doubt being, why I should accept the scriptures?, basic doubt, from that onwards you can imagine all possible questions under the sun. And this knowledge is called संशय सहित ज्ञानम्, knowledge but mixed with doubt. It is like pepper and sugar candy and a doubtful knowledge is not knowledge, doubtful knowledge is for all practical purposes ignorance only. Suppose a wire is hanging here, a cable and you want to touch that wire, you ask me: is there power?, is that wire live wire?, I say no, it is not a live wire, you can touch. Then when the other person he is about to touch, I say, 99% I am sure, but 1% there is a possibility. Will you touch? You will get immediate liberation, स्वामि विन्मयानन्द says: spiriticution, like electrocution. Even if 1% doubt is there that 99% knowledge possibility is useless, not even 1% but even 0.0001% is there, it is not knowledge. Therefore the spiritual साधन continues the second stage of spiritual साधन is in the removal of doubt, in the first stage, I am gathering the teaching. And whatever doubts come, I keep aside. In the second stage of साधन is exclusively meant to remove all possible doubt, which is called संशय निवृत्ति, otherwise called मननम् and when I go through this मननम्, I ask questions to myself and then with the data, the teaching that I have received, I myself try to answer my questions. In fact, generally I will be able to do that, that is why they say:

पादम् कालक्रमेण च ॥ सुभाषितम् ॥

The teacher cannot say everything, you learn 1/4th from the teacher and the other 1/4th you have to churn yourselves, reflect on the teaching and you will find the teaching is capable of removing the doubts, only you have to rearrange the teaching, then that answer is there. Only present it differently and if you are not able to solve by yourselves you can ask the co-students, पादम् सब्रह्मचारिभ्यः, because what perspective you don't have the other student may have, therefore in the discussions it will go away, it will go away means not knowledge but doubt will go away. OK. And if that also doesn't solve, गुरु is there and we have got so many books in वेदान्त which raises all the possible questions belonging to the past, belonging to the present, even future possible questions are envisaged in our scriptures and answered. What you are going to ask tomorrow, I am saying it now. We have got 1,000s of books answering all possible questions. And this process of मननम् will convert the knowledge into conviction, which is called दृढ ज्ञानम्, which is called निःसंशयम् ज्ञानम्, which has to be gained not through meditation but only through श्रवणम्, मननम्. You have to use your intellect, because knowledge is the job of the intellect. Knowledge is the job of the intellect, that is why the उपनिषत्s very clearly say:

मनसैवेदमाप्तव्यं ॥ कठोपनिषत् २-१-११॥

Through the intellect alone you have to gain the knowledge, body cannot get knowledge, आत्मा the Self cannot get any knowledge, knowledge has to take place only in one locus and that locus is the intellect alone, who says, the उपनिषत्s point out, मनसा एव इदम् आप्तव्यम् कठोपनिषत्, in मुण्डकोपनिषत् (३-१-९),

एषोऽणुरात्मा चेतसा वेदितव्यः ।

This आत्मा has to be known through the चेतसा, चेतस् means intellect. And again elsewhere in कठोपनिषत् (१-३-१२)

दृश्यते त्वग्रया बुद्ध्या सूक्ष्मया सूक्ष्मदर्शिभः । अग्रया सूक्ष्मया बुद्ध्या दृश्यते । only with the help of the intellect any knowledge has to be gained including the spiritual knowledge and intellect knows only one language and what is that, reasoning, therefore you have to reason it out, remove all doubts and convert it into a conviction and what is the conviction, I am the truth of this creation. I am the substratum of this creation, I have no doubt about that. Whether the other people have doubt or not, I don't care, but for my knowledge to bless me, I should be convinced. Otherwise it will be like the story स्वामि चिन्मयानन्द tells that a person had a feeling that he is a worm, somehow he had a psychological fixation that I am a worm and therefore he had to be treated in a mental hospital and therapist has to bring him and he has to bring a mirror in front and take a worm also and ask him to see who you are, are you like this worm. Then the person said, now it is very clear I am not a worm. Now when he was thinking that I am a worm, he was always afraid of birds, because worm means bird will eat up. and therefore he had a mortal fear of birds and therefore the doctor had to temporarily put him in a place where the birds are not there, therefore keeping the birds aside he had to be taught, you are not a worm you are a human being, you are not a worm you are a human being, श्रवणम् all those things he did. Then the doctor asked: are you sure? Yes, I am very sure. Who are you? I am a human being not a worm and then the doctor was very happy, he said, now you are discharged you can go back. And he came out and saw the first bird and the moment he saw the bird, again he rushed into the hospital and said 'doctor, doctor there is a bird outside.' The doctor said why are you afraid of the bird, don't you know that you are a human being, you are not a worm. Then he said, doctor I know I am human being, but you have not treated the bird. Does the bird know I am a human being? That is the problem. My conviction is independent of others agreeing with me or not agreeing with me, it is others' problem and therefore until that conviction comes, let the whole world say I am a mortal creature, I know that

मयि सर्वम् लयम् याति तद् ब्रह्म अद्वयमस्म्यहम् ॥ कैवल्योपनिषत् १-१९

I am that ब्रह्मन् from which the whole world arises and in whom the whole world rests and unto whom the whole world resolves, that ब्रह्मन् I am. This is called Self-knowledge, how do you get it, श्रवणम् and मननम्, what do you get, दृढ ज्ञानम् निःसंशयम् ज्ञानम्. And people ask isn't it intellectual knowledge? We will say it is intellectual knowledge and every knowledge is intellectual, as दयानन्द स्वामिजी beautifully says: there is no nasal knowledge, knowledge is always in the intellect alone. So now we go through preparatory meditation in the beginning which is called उपासना ध्यानम् and thereafterwards one has to switchover to श्रवणम् and मननम्. Through श्रवणम् and मननम् we will get clear knowledge and this clear knowledge is capable of giving liberation. This clear knowledge is capable of giving liberation, which is a total transformation of my life.

B) So this knowledge is capable of giving liberation or जीवन्मुक्ति which is a total transformation of life. And what do you mean by liberation, it was explained in the 2nd chapter, 3rd, 4th, etc., freedom from राग-द्वेषः, काम-क्रोधः, लोभ-मोहः, मद-मात्सर्यः, freedom from all internal problems, irrespective of external situations the mind is free from problems and this transformation can be called जीवन्मुक्तिः or it can be called saintliness, a person becomes a saint, sainthood. And how can you define saintliness in simple word? Saintliness can be defined in several ways. गीता is full of such definition, but I will put in simplest form, a saintly person is one who is incapable of getting hurt by external situations and who is incapable of hurting other people. Neither he is hurt or disturbed by the ups and downs of the creation or the life and nor he hurts or disturbs anyone. कृष्ण tells in the 12th chapter,

यस्मात् न उद्धिजते लोकः लोकात् न उद्धिजते च यः ॥ १२-१७॥

he doesn't hurt others and he is not hurt by others. You can call it शान्ति, you can call it समत्वम्, you can call it compassion, you can call it love, any number of words you can give, this जीवन्मुक्ति is the benefit of this knowledge. But here there is a problem, this knowledge has to be converted into, has to produce the result of जीवन्मुक्ति, but often we find that even when this knowledge is there we are not free from mental problems. In the normal course, this conviction should give me liberation but often we find that in spite of the conviction my mind does not enjoy the benefit of knowledge. I seem to continue to be as bitter as before, as jealous as before, as frustrated as before, as afraid as before, as संसारि as before in short. So now we have to find out, why the knowledge does not produce the result? Because the scriptures say ज्ञानम् has to produce the result, but in spite of the thorough understanding, doubtless knowledge, I don't find a transformation in my personality, I seem to have the information, but I don't have the transformation. So I have to find out what is the obstacle. It is like what, water is there in the water tank, water is in the water tank and the tap is open, the tap is open, therefore in the natural course by sheer gravitation the water should flow through the tap, but I find water is not flowing. I check up the tap, tap is open, I check up the tank, tank is full.

Now if the tank is full and if the tap is open and the water doesn't flow, what is the problem? The problem is not lack of water, but the problem is there is some obstacle in the tap, which does not allow the water to flow down and if there is some obstacle, what am I supposed to do? Not go on adding more and more water, what is the use of adding more and more water, water is already there, only remove whatever be the obstacle. Similarly, once we again the knowledge very clearly, the intellectual knowledge itself is more than enough, it is capable of producing the necessary transformation, if the transformation doesn't take place there are some obstacles and therefore our aim should be removing the obstacle. Pay attention to the mind, pay attention to your psychological personality, don't look for a new experience, that is not the solution. Looking for a new experience is not the solution, the solution is looking at your own mind and the mind has got certain problems which we call habitual notions. We had certain ideas about ourselves and they are strongly ingrained in the mind which we call विपरीत भावना. And we have gathered many विपरीत भावनाs from childhood itself and they are all there in our deep inner mind, in the subconscious mind, unconscious mind, we have got certain problems, different individuals have got different problems. So if I have been a child with other brothers and sisters and if one of the brothers was very intelligent and getting rank, good mark and all and I have been getting only 35 marks in every subject, just pass, then the family members always praising the other brothers, they need not criticize me but just telling that the eldest son is very good, etc., so you just praise one of the children and the other child is going to feel I am neglected, I am not loved, I am not loved, if this idea that I am rejected is formed deep in the mind, this will continue later also and वेदान्त knowledge will be in one corner and the sense of rejection will be in another corner and therefore bitterness, frustration and anger etc. Like that we have got several habitual problems, either in the form of anger or jealousy or frustration and these habitual notions called विपरीत भावना do not allow the transformation of the knowledge into liberation and therefore what is required is remove these विपरीत भावनाs, remove this habitual notions and this process is called निदिध्यासन ध्यानम्. It is the second type of meditation. The first type of meditation was called उपासना ध्यानम्, which comes before श्रवणम् मननम्, then we have to get into the second type of exercise, which is called निदिध्यासनम्, in which alone the transformation of the personality has to take place and निदिध्यासनम् consists of two exercises,

a) The first exercise is an alert living. All my transactions are in keeping with Vedantic teaching, they are not opposed, वेदान्त friendly living, now we have got eco-friendly everything, even pencil, they will say eco-friendly pencil, that means the pencil has been made in such way that the ecology is not disturbed. Like that, वेदान्त friendly living means all my transactions are not against the Vedantic teaching. Whenever I tend to postpone peace of mind, that is वेदान्त unfriendly, because वेदान्त tells peace is not something far away in time and space for you to go and acquire, peace is your own nature. In fact, if peace is not here it is never in any place. So thus any thought or any transaction is against the teaching I change that way of living, that is called alert living and

b) The second part of निदिध्यासनम् is meditation, in which I exclusively spend some time for revising my opinion about myself. Self-opinion-revision meditation. Until I come to वेदान्त what is my opinion? Everything wrong, I am miserable, I am mortal, I am useless, even if I don't think, I am useless, family members remind me constantly saying that, the society and everything around the society only makes me feel small. So I have such a low self-esteem, that is संसार. I revise my opinion and when the opinion is I am mortal, I meditate: न जायते म्रियते वा कदाचित्, who says I am mortal, I am the Consciousness blessing the mortal body, but I the Consciousness am immortal. Similarly, when I feel I need the world to be happy and complete, I meditate on the fact, I don't need the world and the other hand, the world depends on me. So thus for every unhealthy self-opinion I neutralize with the opposite. This is called आत्मध्यानम्, Self-meditation. It should go deep into my subconscious that even in dream I should see myself as a wonderful free, beautiful, healthy being. This is meditation No.2. The details of which we will see in the next class.

पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 06, VERSES 01-02

In the last class I was talking about the role of meditation for a Vedantic seeker. We should remember that the role of meditation that we are talking about is purely from the standpoint of a seeker of liberation. Our scriptures do discuss meditation from the standpoint of attaining miraculous powers. Varieties of extra-ordinary powers are talked about, both in the पुराणs as well as in the योगशास्त्र and a Vedantic seeker is not at all interested in extra-ordinary powers. From the standpoint of a spiritual seeker even miraculous powers come under bondage or संसार, because they are also subject to limitation, they are also subject to comparison and even they can lead to jealousy and other problems. And therefore in the योगशास्त्रs all miraculous powers are considered to be obstacle to spiritual progress. And therefore a Vedantic seeker is not at all interested in practicing meditation as a means of extra-ordinary powers. We are purely interested in gaining Self-knowledge and the consequent benefit of liberation and fortunately liberation does not require any extra-ordinary powers. We have got ज्ञानिs without powers and we have got people with powers who are pucca अज्ञानिs. In fact, in our पुराणs most of the राक्षसs had extra-ordinary powers and In fact, they abused the powers for the material benefit and therefore that particular chapter we should completely ignore. We are interested in purification of mind, gaining knowledge and assimilating knowledge. And from that angle when we discuss I said meditation has two-fold roles, the first is before the study of scriptures and the other is after the study of the scriptures. Meditation before the study is called उपासना, meditation after the study is called निदिध्यासनम्. The study process itself is called श्रवण मननम् or ज्ञानयोगः. And therefore the entire spiritual journey can be presented in three stages, उपासना, ज्ञानयोगः, निदिध्यासनम्. One has to go through उपासना for preparing the mind and in the last class I talked about उपासना as सगुण ईश्वर ध्यानम्, more about उपासना I will talk about later. उपासना is preparation of the mind, ज्ञानयोग्यता प्राप्तिः, साधन चतुष्टय प्राप्ति or in simple language, purification or integration. And this उपासना should be followed by ज्ञानयोग which is consistent and systematic study of the scriptures for a length of time, under the guidance of a competent आचार्य and this study alone gives Self-knowledge, because scriptures serve as a mirror to give us the knowledge and if one does not gain knowledge by the study of scriptures, there is no way other method of gaining knowledge through any other method. If by using the mirror I cannot see my face, what should I do, suppose I throw away the mirror and do something else, do शिर्षासनम् for one hour. If by using the mirror I do not see my face, I have no other alternative except using the mirror again properly, perhaps there is some dust in the mirror, wipe it and use again or I might not have proper spectacles, therefore take care of your eyes, but there is only method of seeing your face and that is using the mirror and therefore scriptural study is the means of Self-knowledge, the उपनिषत् clearly says

मुण्डकोपनिषत् ३-२-६ ॥

This I call ज्ञानयोग. Therefore उपासना, ज्ञानयोग, निदिध्यासनम्. उपासना prepares the mind, ज्ञानयोग gives knowledge, then निदिध्यासनम्, that is the meditation after ज्ञानम् is meant for the assimilation of ज्ञानम्. I would like to add a few more ideas with regard to the assimilation, because here also several doubts can come. After gaining knowledge by the study of scriptures, a person contemplates on the knowledge received from the teacher. That I am not the body, I am not the mind, I am not the senses, but I am the awareness which is aware of all of them, this ज्ञानम् he gathers from श्रवण मननम् and meditation after knowledge is for what purpose. We should not think that meditation is for converting knowledge into ब्रह्मन् experience. This is one of the general misconceptions, meditation after scriptural study is for the experience of ब्रह्मन्, this is how it is understood, but if you study scriptures properly you will understand that we do not practice meditation for ब्रह्मन् experience. Because scriptures point out that ब्रह्मन् is the only thing which is all the time experienced by me as Consciousness. If there is one thing in life, for whose experience you need not put forth any effort, that fortunately happens to be ब्रह्मन् experience, we saw in केनोपनिषत् (२-४):

प्रतिबोधविदितम् मतम् ...।

Just as I need not put forth any special effort to experience the light in the hall, I need not put forth any special effort to experience Consciousness, because Consciousness is the only thing which is evident all the time. In fact, everything else becomes evident only because of the self-evident Consciousness. To look at a person there I have to turn the face, to look at a person there I have to turn the face, but to experience the light I need not turn my face, wherever I turn I experience every person, because of what, the experience of light. In fact, every word you are hearing now, it is only because of what, you are Consciousness of every word of mine, because of Consciousness and how are you conscious of Consciousness, Do you require another Consciousness to be conscious of Consciousness? No, Consciousness happens to be self-evident and ever evident and that Consciousness is ब्रह्मन् and therefore scriptures point out that you need not work for ब्रह्म अनुभव, therefore meditation after scriptural study is not for experiencing ब्रह्मन्, but meditation after scriptural study is for experiencing the ज्ञानफलम्. Experiencing the benefit of knowledge completely, the benefit of knowledge being, शान्तिः, तृप्तिः, अभयम्, peace, fullness, contentment, fearlessness, security, these are all the experience of what, not ब्रह्मन्, experience of ज्ञानफलम्. For ज्ञानफल अनुभव we have to dwell upon the knowledge, which we call assimilation or ज्ञान निष्ठा or जीवन्मुक्तिः. And how this meditation is to be practiced, कृष्ण himself is going to tell in this chapter, I want to give only the bird's eye-view of the chapter. So thus

- उपासना – meditation No.1, to purify the mind, study of scriptures to attain knowledge and
- Then meditation No.2 to experience - not ब्रह्मन्, to experience the benefit of knowledge, which is nothing but peace and fullness.

The first meditation is called उपासनाम्, the second meditation is called निदिध्यासनम् and the 6th chapter of the गीता is focusing on निदिध्यासनम्, which I translate as Vedantic meditation. The 6th chapter is निदिध्यासन योगः, Vedantic meditation.

Now the entire 6th chapter can be divided into five main topics, the entire 6th chapter can be classified or categorized into five main topics, they are

1) No.1, general preparations for meditation, सामान्य साधनानि, otherwise called बहिरङ्ग साधनानि. General preparations for meditation by which we mean those preparations or those disciplines which are to be observed throughout our transaction, it is not a discipline to be practiced just before meditation, but they are the disciplines to be observed throughout our day-to-day transactions. I will call it सामान्य साधनानि or बहिरङ्ग साधनानि, general discipline. What is the significance of general disciplines I will tell you later, we will note this much here.

2) Then the second topic discussed is specific disciplines or preparations, विशेष साधनानि, which are to be observed just before meditation, not throughout the day but only before we have actual meditation. They are called विशेष साधनानि or अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि or in English, specific preparation.

3) Then the third topic that we find in this chapter is ध्यान स्वरूपम्, the process of meditation. What is meditation? Is it concentrating on something or is it remaining thoughtless - still and silent? Is it destruction of the mind or is it going away from the mind, transcending the mind? In fact, as many people are there so many definitions are also there. So we should know what is meditation. In संस्कृत, we call it, ध्यान स्वरूपम् – the nature of meditation, this is topic three.

4) Then the fourth topic is the benefit of meditation, ध्यानफलम्. Are we going to get miraculous powers like levitation or flying, In fact, some of you may like also, seeing the road condition and the flyovers and over-bridges perhaps you may wonder whether it is worth trying, so that you can just fly into the class or reading other people's thoughts, or predicting the futures. What is expected of Vedantic meditation, ध्यानफलम्, with regard to Vedantic meditation, not उपासना.

5) And then the fifth topic is the obstacles and their remedies during meditation, obstacles of meditation and how to handle those obstacles. In संस्कृत, ध्यान प्रतिबन्ध परिहारौ, प्रतिबन्धः means obstacles, परिहार means remedy; obstacles like sleep, whenever you sit in meditation, you may not get sleep in any other place but one place and one exercise which guarantees sleep is meditation. In fact, it can be used as a cure for insomnia. Like that sleep or distraction of mind, many obstacles are discussed in the शास्त्र. कृष्ण also mentions one obstacle and also tells us how to deal with that. So this is the fifth topic.

Thus five topics are there, general preparations, specific preparations, meditation process, benefit of meditation and finally obstacles and their remedy. These are five main topics. There is a sixth topic also, but it is not directly connected with meditation and therefore I am ignoring, we have only to note these five. Of these five, कृष्ण starts with general preparation. I will tell you the significance of general preparation, why कृष्ण insists upon general preparation. We have got only one mind to do our day-to-day transaction and also to practice meditation. It is not that we have got two mind, when you go out for transaction you insert mind No.1 and you go through all kinds of experiences, anger, frustration, disappointments, irritation and all those things you have and what do you do, before sitting for meditation, that frustrated, disappointed, angry irritated mind you take out and keep in the bureau and then take fresh mind, like in cricket they change the ball after certain over's, so after one day you take a fresh mind and insert, so that you have got a beautiful mind to enjoy meditation. Unfortunately that is not the fact, the mind which has gone through day-do-day transaction the same mind is sitting in meditation and the day-to-day transaction has given a strong imprint, the quarrel with your boss or auto rickshaw driver, whatever it is and they are all strongly there and you sit in meditation you have got the realization of auto rickshaw driver, he comes in front. So when you have got violent emotional upheavals, violent emotional disturbances, during your day-to-day life, those disturbances will influence adversely your meditation. However sincere you are it won't work, today itself you can try, go home and sit in meditation, whatever be the transaction which has created an emotional impact, may be happy or unhappy experiences. Like a person who has played the final of the Wimbledon and that day, both the winner and loser will not sleep, the winner will not sleep because he is extremely happy, the loser will not sleep because he is extremely disappointed. Any emotional upheaval is going to influence your meditation. And therefore कृष्ण tells you should learn the art of keeping the mind in balance, which we call as समत्वम् and by balance we do not mean emotionless mind, we don't mean emotionless mind, because if you are totally free from emotion there is no difference between you and the wall and that is why the parents also ask, if you sit without emotions, why are you sitting like a stone, don't you hear what I am saying. We are not talking about the emotionless mind, we do have emotions, but a mind which does not have violent emotions. We can have emotions which will not be carried forward during meditation or even during class when you come. You had varieties of experiences and suppose you enter the class and then you are able to forget the transaction, then you haven't had too much violent emotions, otherwise you will be sitting in the class but you will be remembering either your wife or, husband, or child, or something or the other. And therefore the first general preparation is what: learning the art of keeping a balanced mind in the relative sense of the term, in संस्कृत, we call it समत्वम्. I am not carried away by sorrowful situations also, I am not carried away by happy situations also, I enjoy but when I do the next job my mind is available for the next job, that is called mental mastery. So this समत्वम् is a precondition for successful meditation. This समत्वम् is one of the preconditions, not the only one, कृष्ण is going to talk about a few more other preconditions, but one precondition that कृष्ण stresses is समत्वम् and now the question is how can I maintain the balance of mind, how to get समत्वम् and if you ask such a question to Lord कृष्ण, he will be disappointed. Lord कृष्ण will be disappointed because कृष्ण has talked about समत्वम् in the 2nd and 3rd chapter.

सिद्ध्यसिद्ध्योः समो भूत्वा समत्वं योग उच्यते ॥ २-४८॥

कृष्ण has presented कर्मयोग way of life as a means of समत्वम्, कर्मयोग is समत्वम् and therefore in the first three verses, कृष्ण talks about कर्मयोग as the art of living, to enjoy a balanced mind, so that when you come to meditation you can forget all your emotional problems, family problems, office problems, all of them you can keep aside and your mind is available for the task at hand. And what is कर्मयोग? कृष्ण has talked about before, but still कृष्ण condenses कर्मयोग in these three verses, with that the 6th chapter begins, कर्मयोग as a means for ध्यानयोग, कर्मयोग as a means for ध्यानयोग as the first general preparation. And we have to note here one point, I have classified the chapter into these five topics, कृष्ण does not make this clear division, because कृष्ण has not come with preparation and he never expected अर्जुन to ask for this class. So therefore it might have been given just like that and therefore the verses are strewn all over, therefore it is our job to do the postman job, what is the postman job, he has got a bunch of letters आन्द्, कर्नाटक sorting out, like that we have to take each verse and put in the appropriate topic. This verse general preparation, this verse specific preparation, this verse the process of meditation, this is our job, but don't worry I will do this job for you, you don't have the problem. With this background, we will enter into the text proper.

Verse No .01

अथ षष्ठोऽध्यायः ।

श्रीभगवानुवाच ।

अनाश्रितः कर्मफलं कार्यं कर्म करोति यः ।

स संन्यासी च योगी च न निरग्निर्न चाक्रियः ॥ ६-१॥

अनाश्रितः कर्म-फलम् कार्यम् कर्म करोति यः ।

सः संन्यासी च योगी च न निरग्निः न च अक्रियः ॥ ६-१॥

यः कर्म-फलम् अनाश्रितः कार्यम् कर्म करोति, सः संन्यासी च योगी च, निरग्निः न अक्रियः च न ।

So chapter begins with Lord कृष्ण's voluntary teaching of meditation and He starts with general preparation and therefore this verse comes under बहिरङ्ग or सामान्य साधनम्, which is कर्मयोग as a method of keeping the mind in equipoise. And what is कर्मयोग we have seen but here कृष्ण sums up, He says, कर्मयोगि is one who considers spiritual growth as the priority in life. Material accomplishments he may value but the value is subservient to spiritual growth. If he has to choose between spiritual growth and material benefit he will vote for spiritual growth alone, even if it involves some material loss, giving up certain material advantages, he will say, I don't mind giving up those benefits. Such a person is called कर्मयोगि, one for whom धर्म and मोक्ष are priority, अर्थ and काम he doesn't criticize, but it is not top priority. He values wealth, he values entertainment in life, certainly there are required but they are not primary. I have given you the example before, when you take curd rice and pickle, which one you are using for which purpose. Generally, exceptions may be there, generally we want to take curd rice and since it is bland you want something hot, therefore you may use a little bit of pickle, it is used but that is also for the benefit of eating the rice. Similarly, money also we do require, entertainments also are OK, but that is not the main thing, I should be spending more time, more energy, more planning, etc., must be in the field of spiritual growth and such a person is called कर्मयोगि. And therefore कृष्ण says, कर्म-फलम् अनाश्रितः, कर्म-फलम् means material benefits of the action, अर्थ-काम advantage, may be name or fame or promotion or extra salary or extra perks, so many things they say, these all you will get on one side, certainly we don't belittle them, they are OK, they are important, we do need but at what cost, that is the question. What do I sacrifice for the sake getting all of them. If the sacrifice is my spirituality itself, better I sacrifice those benefits and vote for spirituality. Such a person is here called योगि. Therefore कर्म-फलम् अनाश्रितः, he does not rely upon, he doesn't focus on material benefit and then what type of actions he undertakes, कार्यम् कर्म करोति यः, कार्यम् कर्म means those actions which are prescribed by the scriptures specially meant for inner growth. Scriptures do prescribe two types of activities, one set of activity is purely for enjoyment, eat well, drink well, all those things, scriptures do talk about, अर्थ-काम प्रधान activities by which you can enjoy life thoroughly. And scriptures do talk about those activities which will primarily contribute to your inner growth, चित्तशुद्धि and those कर्म's we saw in the 3rd chapter as पञ्च महा यज्ञाः, I don't want to get into those details, care of 3rd chapter, we have to remember. Generally speaking, activities in which the beneficiaries are more and more, the अर्थ-काम प्रधान activities, money entertainment oriented activities will personally benefit me and the number of beneficiaries outside is zero, whereas in पञ्च महायज्ञः, not only I benefit, in the process the society also benefits. Such welfare, selfless, beautiful activities are prescribed by which I also benefit the society also grows, they are not destructive and here they are called कार्यम् कर्म, otherwise called नित्य नैमित्तिक कर्म, otherwise called विहितम् कर्म, otherwise called निष्काम कर्म, otherwise called पञ्च महा यज्ञः, activities designed for inner growth, selfless activities. And a कर्मयोगि does those activities and even in those welfare activities a person can desire whether I will get भारतरत्न, पद्मश्री, पद्मभूषण, material benefit, we can see, even that he doesn't see, he does purely for the sake of inner growth, which is invisible, material benefit is concrete and visible, whereas spiritual benefit is subtle and invisible and that is why, we always sacrifice these कर्मसः, सन्ध्यावन्दनम् already dropped on the first day itself, In fact, whatever you sacrifice easily they are spiritual कर्मसः, whatever you keep all the time is materialist कर्म, because the subtle benefits are not tangible. They will ask गीता class you are attending, what benefit you get? Will your salary increase? Again they want some tangible benefit and whatever benefit you get is purely intangible, it is a change of your perspective, how you look at the world, how you look at God, how you look at yourselves, there is a subtle benefit, it is guaranteed, you can see for yourselves. Therefore कर्मयोगि performs पञ्च महा यज्ञः, focusing upon inner growth and कृष्ण says such a कर्मयोगि is a संन्यासि – he is as good as a monk, he is as good as a renunciate, even though he has not renounced the family, even though he has not put on ochre robes, he can be considered to be a संन्यासि. Why he can be considered as a संन्यासि? Because he has renounced the concern for material benefit. And therefore only there is no anxiety. Because what will come maximum? Failure in life. What will come maximum is failure and for a कर्मयोगि failure doesn't matter because, whether you succeed or fail, inner growth is guaranteed. In fact, in failure inner growth is more and that is why in the 2nd chapter, कृष्ण said for a कर्मयोगि there is never a failure because he is growing inwardly, whatever be the external outcome of the action and therefore there is no anxiety, he will say whatever is going to come I am willing to accept it. Accept it as what: ईश्वर प्रसाद, God's will, which कृष्ण said in the 2nd chapter:

सुखदुःखे समे कृत्वा लाभालाभौ जयाजयौ ।

ततो युद्धाय युज्यस्व नैवं पापमवाप्स्यसि ॥ २-३८॥

Comfort and discomfort, success and failure, gain and loss, each experience is a lesson, is a field for learning and therefore he is as good as a संन्यासि. सः योगी च – he is as good as a meditator also. A कर्मयोगि can be termed a meditator. Even though he is not a meditator in the literal sense of the term, because he doesn't sit in a particular place, he doesn't have the posture, he doesn't close the eyes, but still a कर्मयोगि is as good as a meditator. Why the reason शङ्कराचार्य and other commentators write, after all meditation is what? Mind dwelling upon one field is meditation, mind dwelling on one particular field is meditation. A कर्मयोगि is a meditator because he is not agitated about his past experience, he is not anxious about the future, his mind is fully available for the present task, which is not available for the other persons because while he is doing one thing, already his mind is thinking of what will happen, what will happen, therefore even 5% mind is not available. As far as कर्मयोगि is concerned, he plans, before planning he thinks for the future and once he has planned and started implementation, thereafter what is going to be the result he doesn't bother and therefore he has got a fully focused mind and a fully focused mind is a mind in meditation. So a कर्मयोगि is practicing open eye meditation. It is called meditation because God is involved in कर्मयोग, because whatever action he performs he is offering to the Lord, all these you should remember, in the 3rd chapter we saw,

निराशीर्निर्ममो भूत्वा युध्यस्व विगतज्वरः ॥ ३-३०॥

and again in the 5th chapter also

ब्रह्मण्याधाय कर्माणि सङ्गं त्यक्त्वा करोति यः ।

लिप्यते न स पापेन पद्मपत्रमिवाम्भसा ॥ ५-१०॥

he is thinking of the Lord because every action is offered to the Lord. Therefore Lord is there, focusing of the mind is there, then what is it, it is nothing but an open eye meditation and therefore कृष्ण says सः योगि. So thus a कर्मयोगि is a renunciate, कर्मयोगि is a meditator in the real sense of the term. Not only that कृष्ण goes one step further, न निरग्निः, कृष्ण says, suppose there is a संन्यासि who has renounced everything, no wife, no children, no bank balance, nothing and he has put on ochre robe also and he has come out of the house and he is sitting in meditation and he thinks of how many disciples I will get and look around, does any disciple come, when will I start my own आश्रम, when I will have my foreign trip, something like that, these are all the qualifications of a संन्यासि now, he should have an आश्रम, he should be traveling, many people have got those ideas and suppose if I am going to think of those things I am an external संन्यासि but I am not a true संन्यासि, therefore कृष्ण says न निरग्निः, निरग्निः means external संन्यासि, संन्यास आश्रमि is called निरग्निः, अग्निः means rituals, in this context अग्निः means rituals, because all वैदिक rituals involve अग्नि. अग्नि has got several meanings, one meaning is ritual, literal meaning is fire and since fire is used in rituals, अग्नि means वैदिक ritual, निरग्निः means one who has given up all the वैदिक rituals, one who has broken the sacred thread which is a symbol of external संन्यास called आश्रम संन्यास and here कृष्ण says निरग्निः, an आश्रम संन्यासि is न, न means he is not a real संन्यासि, if he is going to think of all other things. On the other hand, a कर्मयोगि is a गृहस्थ, a householder but he is a संन्यासि, because his mind is focused and

Similarly, न च अक्रियः, अक्रियः means an external meditator. Imagine there is a person who sits in a place with proper posture, keeping the body straight and keeping the eyes closed and he has got a माला also. I think कबीरदास says, tongue rolls chanting the नाम and the fingers rolls and the mind rolls all over the world, so from the worldly angle he is a meditator, but since his mind is not focused, कृष्ण tells that quite person अक्रियः means quietly sitting person is not a real meditator, why because he only sitting quietly but his mind is running all over. Like you practice one minute silence in meetings, so in any meeting including parliamentary session, so and so has died therefore let us observe one minute silence and pray for the peace of the soul, whatever it is and you watch your mind and during that one minute you will think of every blessed thing other than that person. So therefore कृष्ण says, such a silently sitting person is not a true meditator but a householder who is active in life, is a meditator if he is a कर्मयोगि with focus. So न निरग्निः न च अक्रियः परन्तु कर्मयोगि एव. Continuing;

न ह्यसंन्यस्तसङ्कल्पो योगी भवति कश्चन ॥ ६-२॥

यम् संन्यासम् इति प्राहुः योगम् तम् विद्धि पाण्डव ।

न हि असंन्यस्त-सङ्कल्पः योगी भवति कश्चन ॥ ६-२॥

हे पाण्डव! यम् संन्यासम् इति प्राहुः तम् योगम् विद्धि, कश्चन असंन्यस्त-सङ्कल्पः योगी न भवति हि ।

In the previous verse, कृष्ण had mentioned that कर्मयोगि is the real संन्यासि and not the ochre robed person. In this verse, कृष्ण justifies that statement. He asked the question, what is renunciation - the real renunciation? कृष्ण wants to say that external renunciation can never be considered a real renunciation. Because Self-knowledge is not connected with the external body but Self-knowledge is connected with the mind or intellect. So by making a few external changes if the mind continues to be the same thing, what is the use? That is why you find that so many people are संन्यासि but they don't find have advantage at all, equal number of worries, equal problems, equal headache, in fact, they begin to regret taking संन्यास and the tragedy is संन्यास is one way traffic, like the flyover traffic. A गृहस्थ can become a संन्यासि, a संन्यासि cannot go back, so many people regret and therefore कृष्ण says the main संन्यास required is संन्यास of the concerns of mind, संन्यास of those things which disturb the mind and one of the main things that disturb the mind is concern about the future, what will happen to me tomorrow, this is one of the major concerns and after marriage, the concern is doubled because not only I think, 'what will I do in future,' but also 'what will wife do in future' and there also thinking is 'if wife dies what will I do and if I die what will wife do,' that is another planning and then what will the children do, after either of us die. So most of the time our problem is सङ्कल्पः, सङ्कल्पः means planning, scheming, worrying about the future only and कृष्ण says as long as person has not tackled that, a person cannot come to Self-knowledge, because quality time is not available for the mind. Even in the class itself, if you are worried about whether you will get an appropriate transport for going back home, as long as I keep up the timing you will be happy, the moment I delay you begin to worry, whether will I get the bus, auto, etc., and indirectly start looking at the clock, next next next, it will go and therefore कृष्ण says a संन्यासि cannot get Self-knowledge if he is worried about the future, a गृहस्थ also cannot get Self-knowledge if he is worried about the future; worry of the future is the obstacle, renunciation of that worry is real renunciation, renunciation of that worry is real renunciation. And a कर्मयोगि has done exactly that and therefore कर्मयोगि fits in with the definition of what, सङ्कल्पः संन्यासि is real संन्यासि, सङ्कल्पः means what: worry about future, concern. And you should always remember, worrying about future is different from planning. I have repeatedly said, but since there can be confusion I am reminding, we are not against planning. Planning is a deliberate action which you can do at a fixed time, worrying is never a deliberate action, it is a mechanical reaction which happens at any time. Can you worry at a fixed time? स्वामिजि I have fixed daily between 6.50 and 7.10 a.m. I have kept as worry routine and you are all happy and 6.50 you should start crying and 7.10 again smile. So there is a difference between planning and worrying, we are never against planning, it is a deliberate action but worry is an obstacle, planning makes you efficient in the present, worrying makes you inefficient in the present and the one who has give up worrying is called a संन्यासि, whatever be the robe that he is wearing. More in the next class.

I had pointed out in the last class that in the 6th chapter of the गीता, भगवान् deals with five important topics with regard to the ध्यानम् or meditation and those five topics are,

- बहिरङ्ग साधनम् or general disciplines to be observed throughout one's transactions so that one can practice meditation successfully. This is बहिरङ्ग साधनम्.
- Then He deals with अन्तरङ्ग साधनम् or specific disciplines to be observed just before the starting of the meditation.
- Then the third topic is ध्यान स्वरूपम्, the actual process of meditation and
- Then the fourth topic is ध्यानफलम्, the benefit of meditation and
- Finally, the fifth topic is ध्यान प्रतिबन्ध परिहारौ, obstacles to meditation and their remedy.

Of these five topics, कृष्ण begins the chapter with the first topic, namely, बहिरङ्ग साधनानि, the general disciplines a meditator should observe and I also talked about the significance of the general disciplines. The significance is this: if we don't have a discipline during our transactions then the mind can go through violent emotional disturbances. And when the mind is disturbed during the transactions, the disturbance forms a deep impression or संस्कार in the mind, it creates a scar and once a deep disturbance संस्कार is formed in the mind that संस्कार will come out whenever the mind is quiet. You can study your mind regularly itself. When your mind is not preoccupied whatever is deep in your subconscious that alone comes out. They are like bubbles under the water or you can imagine a rubber ball or a piece of wood, when you keep it under the water it will remain so, when the hand is removed that wood will surface up. Similarly, in our subconscious mind also there are so many emotions, they are all waiting; now they do not surface because our mind is preoccupied with something. And as long as the conscious mind is involved in deliberate action the subconscious mind will remain underneath, the moment conscious mind takes rest, some relaxation, the subconscious mind is waiting, just to bubble out. And when you try to practice meditation, that is the ideal time, your conscious mind withdraws from preoccupation then the subconscious impression are bound to come. And if during the day I had disturbing emotions they will remain as संस्कारs and during meditation those transactions alone will come and therefore we should find out a method by which violent disturbances are not entertained and I don't allow my subconscious mind to form disturbing संस्कार. And how to do that, how to neutralize the possible scar in the mind? That is by training the mind to have समत्वम्. So as they give the example of the great philosopher - when he heard the news that he has lost all his wealth which was coming in the ship, the ship itself sank and the news came to the philosopher-businessman and they said that you have lost everything. Then the first response was, What? Almost the heart was about to stop. He is a philosopher, he has trained his mind to respond to the situations properly, immediately he recovered, got his balance back and made the second statement, So what? This changing from What to So what requires tremendous mental training and that is समत्वम् and this समत्वम् or tranquility is called कर्मयोगः and therefore कृष्ण talks about कर्मयोग as a method of maintaining the tranquility of mind. The graph of our mind, does not go too high, it does not go too low also, it is almost a balanced graph. And to emphasize the role of कर्मयोग, कृष्ण wants to glorify the कर्मयोगि and कर्मयोगि is none other than a गृहस्थ, a householder and therefore कृष्ण praises a householder. Therefore the 6th chapter begins with the glorification of a householder. What type of householder? कर्मयोगि householder and by way of glorifying a householder indirectly कृष्ण is glorifying कर्मयोग and by way of glorifying कर्मयोग, कृष्ण is glorifying समत्वम्. So you should have the global vision. गृहस्थ

glorification is equal to कर्मयोग glorification, कर्मयोग glorification is equal to समत्वम् glorification. And how does कृष्ण glorify a householder? By pointing out that a householder alone is a real संन्यासि; he gives a title – संन्यासि. So that it means that you are all real संन्यासि and not only that, He says the regular संन्यासिs are not real संन्यासिs and by saying so bumps on my head! So, the conventional संन्यासि is not a real संन्यासि, a householder is the real संन्यासि. Then again कृष्ण points out a conventional meditator is not a real meditator. Who is a conventional meditator? The one who has withdrawn from all the activities and he is sitting in a quiet place by taking to proper posture, closing eye, keeping the body straight - he is a regular conventional meditator. कृष्ण says that conventional meditator is not a true meditator., then who is true meditator? The कर्मयोगि, गृहस्थ is a true meditator. So कृष्ण here goes to the extent of criticizing a संन्यासि for the sake of glorifying a गृहस्थ. So naturally शङ्कराचार्य is a little bit worried while writing a commentary, because शङ्कराचार्य is a champion of संन्यास. If he gets a little chance he will talk about the glory of संन्यास. So it is very interesting when he writes commentary on the गीता, for मनुष्यः, शङ्कराचार्य will write is equal to संन्यासि; for him मनुष्य would be a संन्यासि. Such a vehement intense champion of संन्यासि is naturally disturbed when कृष्ण criticizes a संन्यासि and therefore शङ्कराचार्य adds a footnote: he says don't take this criticism seriously. कृष्ण doesn't want to really criticize a संन्यासि, the purpose is He wants to glorify a गृहस्थ, therefore temporarily he is doing a seeming criticism. This in शास्त्र is called न हि निन्दा न्यायः, this is a methodology used in scriptures. What is the methodology, criticism of something for the purpose of glorifying something else, criticism of something for the sake of glorifying something else; there the focus is not criticism but the focus is on glorification and this is called न हि निन्दा न्यायः. Applying this law, शङ्कराचार्य says कृष्ण is not really criticizing संन्यासि, कृष्ण wants to highlight कर्मयोग. Having glorified a गृहस्थ कर्मयोगि in the first verse, in the second verse कृष्ण is justifying that glorification. Why does he call a गृहस्थ as a real संन्यासि? There must be some reason behind it. Normally seeing, a गृहस्थ cannot be called a संन्यासि because he has not renounced anything. He is very much at home, he has got all the possessions in tact, all the bank balances, shares, landed property, etc., etc., all those things he has and he has got a good कुटुम्ब also and he introduces this is grandson, grand-daughter, daughter-in-law, my son-in-law, and when a गृहस्थ is possessing everything how can कृष्ण say गृहस्थ is a संन्यासि, because the word संन्यासि means a renouncer. Therefore the question comes, what entitles a गृहस्थ to enjoy the name of a संन्यासि? And कृष्ण gives the reason here, कृष्ण says संन्यासि means a renouncer. That is the literal meaning, the word संन्यासि does not say renouncer of what: that is not said, it didn't that say renouncer of wife and children, it doesn't say renouncer of home and job; संन्यासि means renouncer, therefore कृष्ण argues: a कर्मयोगि गृहस्थ is a renouncer because he has renounced his concern for the future. That is the main criterion to become a कर्मयोगि. Because one of the biggest problems or obstacle a person faces in life is the concern about the future, what will happen to me after retirement, at the age of 35 started worrying about retirement, will my children take care of me, will do they श्राद्धम् after my death? So thus the human mind of capable of worrying the one who drops the worry, here the worry is called सङ्कल्पः, constantly being obsessed with future to such an extent that he is not efficient in the present and I was telling in the last class, we have to make a difference between worrying and planning, we don't say we should not plan. What is the difference between plan and worry I told you, plan is a deliberate action which you can do at a stipulated time; what are your plans for the coming year. To note down all those things in the diary, etc., whether it will happen or not is a different matter, at least you can write down and what are you going to do in the business field, in the family field, in the health field, in the financial field? You do it deliberately at a stipulated time, whereas worry is not a deliberate action but it is a reaction or obsession which happens in spite of me. Planning makes me efficient in the present whereas worrying makes me inefficient in the present. A कर्मयोगि is not against planning, he is against worry. And therefore कृष्ण says every कर्मयोगि गृहस्थ, he might have planned but he doesn't worry, therefore he is called सङ्कल्पः संन्यासि, the one who gives up worrying and since he has renounced worry, he can be called a renouncer. That is what is said in the 2nd श्लोक, which I introduced in the last class, यम् संन्यासम् इति प्राहुः तम् योगम् विद्धि पाण्डव, हे अर्जुन! by the word संन्यास or renunciation, I don't mean the conventional renunciation, I don't mean the चतुर्थः आश्रम प्राप्तिः. Because कृष्ण doesn't want to recommend conventional संन्यास in the गीता, In fact, गीता is a गृहस्थ book, the teacher is a गृहस्थ, who is a teacher, कृष्ण, कृष्ण is गृहस्थ or संन्यासि, any doubt, not ordinary गृहस्थ, 16008 wives means what: महाऽऽ गृहस्थ and who is the student, अर्जुन, he is equally great, wherever he goes marries one, therefore अर्जुन is also महाऽऽ गृहस्थ and who has compiled the teaching, व्यासाचार्य is also a गृहस्थ. Therefore remember throughout the गीता, कृष्ण doesn't want to recommend conventional संन्यास, therefore he says, संन्यास is nothing but कर्मयोगम् विद्धि, if you are a good कर्मयोगि you will get all the benefits of a संन्यासि. That is advantageous, you will get the benefit of गृहस्थ आश्रम also and you will get the benefit of संन्यास also. And असंन्यस्त-सङ्कल्पः योगी न भवति – if a person has to become कर्मयोगि he has to necessarily renounced सङ्कल्पः, सङ्कल्पः means I told you obsession with future and how do you define obsession with future? Obsession to such an extent that you are not able to function in the present, as it is said all my limbs are not functioning properly, a very deep concern, worry, that is what we mean by worry. So a person gives up सङ्कल्पः alone is a कर्मयोगि and therefore कर्मयोगि can be called सङ्कल्पः संन्यासि. Continuing;

Verse No .03

आरुरुक्षोर्मुनेर्योगं कर्म कारणमुच्यते ।

योगारूढस्य तस्यैव शमः कारणमुच्यते ॥ ६-३॥

आरुरुक्षोः मुनेः योगम् कर्म कारणम् उच्यते ।

योग-आरूढस्य तस्य एव शमः कारणम् उच्यते ॥ ६-३॥

योगम् आरुरुक्षोः मुनेः कर्म कारणम् उच्यते, योग-आरूढस्य तस्य एव शमः कारणम् उच्यते ।

Now the question is how long should one follow कर्मयोग? Is कर्मयोग is an end-in-itself or is it only an intermediary stage of साधन? We have seen it already in the previous chapter, कर्मयोग is not the ultimate साधन; कर्मयोग is only an intermediary साधन by which a person can attain ज्ञानयोग्यता प्राप्तिः, साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्तिः, a prepared, refined, chastened, sharp mind. कर्मयोग has a plus point that it can purify the mind but we should also know the minus point or limitation of कर्मयोग and that limitation is what? It cannot give liberation and therefore we should have a balanced attitude, because a person can commit a mistake, one person over-emphasizes कर्मयोग and claims that remaining in कर्मयोग I will get enlightenment, this is one extreme. They don't believe in scriptural study, they don't believe ज्ञानम्. According to them, they keep on a doing कर्मयोग and one day like a flash of lightening enlightenment will come, this is one extreme which is also a mistake. The other extreme is a person says कर्मयोग is utterly useless and therefore I will not take to कर्मयोग at all. So one person embraces कर्मयोग totally, another person renounces कर्मयोग totally, both are extremes, कृष्ण says. Then what is the balanced attitude, use कर्मयोग, purify the mind, then transcend or drop कर्मयोग. Just like entering the college, one person says I will never enter the college, his argument is after all finally I have to come out, why enter, why, in the end we have to get out, so why go in: this is the attitude. This is idiocy. Then another person enters college and falls in love with that and says, permanently I will be here, I love my professors etc., very well. Even if you love, professors won't love, they will ask you to get out. So therefore both extremes are incorrect, enter, grow and quit – this is the whole life. And therefore कृष्ण says that everyone should follow कर्मयोग in the initial stage. योगम् आरुरुक्षोः, here the word योगः you should carefully understand because throughout the गीता the word योगः is used in different meanings, we should take the contextual meaning properly. So in the first line the word योगम् means ज्ञानयोगम् or ध्यानयोगम्, to come to self enquiry, to come to Self-meditation a person has to prepare. Meditation can never be the first stage of साधन. No scripture prescribes meditation in the beginning. If you take the भगवद्गीता itself, meditation is not the first chapter, not the 2nd chapter, कृष्ण never teaches meditation. If anybody wants meditation, कृष्ण's advice is to properly study the first five chapters, attend the class, understand the five chapters properly, then and then alone you are fit for meditation. If you take पतञ्जलि योग सूत्र, meditation is never prescribed in the beginning, it talks about 8 stages – अष्टाङ्ग योग, there यम, नियम, आसन, प्राणायाम, प्रत्याहार, धारण, after 6 stages, 7th stage only is ध्यानम् and then समाधि. So many people want to practice only meditation. स्वामिजि don't talk about classes and all, I don't have time to come, tell me when you start the 6th chapter, I will give my phone number, they want to attend the 6th chapter and at the end they want to quit. If the 6th chapter alone is enough, wouldn't कृष्ण be intelligent enough to give the 6th chapter only? If कृष्ण chooses to teach five chapters, कृष्ण means that everyone should study the scriptures before thinking of any साधन especially the meditation साधन. Without the study of scriptures the only meditation one can do is नामजप, mentally. If anybody asks for meditation and they don't want to study the scriptures, you give this meditation i.e., chant राम नाम, कृष्ण नाम mentally, that is the only ध्यानम् one can do without study of the scriptures and therefore कृष्ण says if a person should qualify to come to ज्ञानयोग or ध्यानयोग, one has to first practice what कर्मयोग. In fact, in the पतञ्जलि योग सूत्र, यम and नियम is equal to कर्मयोग only. I will talk about यम नियम in some other context. When I say यम don't be afraid thinking of someone else, यमः means not यमन्, the lord of death; यमः and नियमः means the do's and don'ts with regard to transactions in life. So in our regular transactions which all should be followed they are called नियम, and what all to be avoided they are all called यमः, it will boil down to कर्मयोग only. So therefore, कृष्ण tells योगम् आरुरुक्षोः – if a person wants to purify the mind for ज्ञानयोग, then what should you do, कर्म कारणम् उच्यते – he should first practice कर्मयोग. That is why वेद begins with कर्मकाण्ड, it didn't begin with उपासना, it doesn't begin with निदिध्यासनम्, it begins with कर्म only. Then कृष्ण says how long you should do कर्मयोग. Don't permanently hold on to कर्मयोग, once you have got the necessary preparation you have to grow out of कर्म, योग-आरूढस्य, योग-आरूढः means the one who has accomplished the necessary preparation of mind, integration of mind, साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति if I have accomplished, then what should you do, just as you enter the college and come out, we all entered the womb of the mother and remained there for 10 months and there afterwards what did we do, it is so cozy and comfortable, I need not even search for food, regularly available, I will stay here itself if you say, no mother is ready for keeping the child for more than 10 months and even if mother likes, even if child likes, nature will not allow, the child will be thrown out, that is the law of nature. You can never stick to anything in life, enter into even relationship - you have to enter, grow and grow out of that relationship. Even गुरु शिष्य संबन्धः cannot be permanent, one has to grow out of that relationship. And therefore कृष्ण says योग-आरूढस्य, साधन

प्रक्षालनात् हि पङ्कस्य दूयात् अस्पर्शनम् वरम् ॥ महाभारतम् ॥

चतुष्टय सम्पन्नस्य then what should one do, शमः कारणम् उच्यते – he has to withdraw from कर्म. And the withdrawal from कर्म is in two ways,

1) One is a ritualistic traditional withdrawal which is in the form of taking to संन्यास आश्रम, which is a formal withdrawal. Because a person enters into वैदिक rituals through formal methods only. When a person takes to sacred thread it is getting the formal qualification for many of the वैदिक rites or rituals and if those rituals have served the purpose I can quit the rituals, but quitting also should be done formally, like quitting a job. You cannot suddenly stop going to office, because I don't require to go to office. If you want to quit there is a formality, resignation letter must be given, you should be relieved and they may ask you to continue until another person is trained, some companies ask for 3 months earlier letter also, that is all there. Similarly, I cannot get out of वैदिक rituals out of my whims and fancies; I have to formally do that which is called संन्यास विधिः, where मन्त्रs are chanted and I ask the Lord, 'Oh Lord! I want to get out of the वैदिक ritualistic duties.' Not to do some other अक्रमम्, I want to replace those rituals by Self-enquiry, I want to do more of philosophical enquiry. I formally take permission, this is one form of withdrawal and

2) There is another form of withdrawal in which a person doesn't give up the आश्रम, a person doesn't become a monk in the literal sense of the term but he remains in गृहस्थ आश्रम itself and reduces the amount of activity. So if he was doing rituals for hours together, he reduces the duration or even mundane activities he reduces by handing them over to, delegating the job to someone else. That requires detachment or else we will not leave. 'Even if I give up my life I won't give up the key.' That power, you know, that important bureau key is with me. There is nothing in the bureau, but still I hold on to the key. Key is a tremendous attachment, drop those things and hand over the responsibilities to someone and then gradual withdrawal, this is the second one, which is some kind of a वानप्रस्थ आश्रम.

Therefore either by becoming a संन्यासि or by becoming वानप्रस्थ, they are all technical names, their significance is reduction of extrovertedness. Because an extroverted mind cannot be make Self-enquiry, अन्तर्मुख समाराध्य बहिर्मुख सुदुर्लभा, not in the beginning itself, be extrovert initially to do action then turn away from that. Therefore योग-आरूढस्य तस्य एव शमः कारणम् उच्यते. And having withdrawn from the activities how do I spend my time? Time is spent in more of Self-enquiry, श्रवण, मनन, निदिध्यासनम् becomes dominant. Continuing;

Verse No .04

यदा हि नेन्द्रियार्थेषु न कर्मस्वनुषज्जते ।

सर्वसङ्कल्पसंन्यासी योगारूढस्तदोच्यते ॥ ६-४॥

यदा हि न इन्द्रिय-अर्थेषु न कर्मसु अनुषज्जते ।

सर्व-सङ्कल्प-संन्यासी योग-आरूढः तदा उच्यते ॥ ६-४॥

यदा हि न इन्द्रिय-अर्थेषु न कर्मसु अनुषज्जते, तदा सर्व-सङ्कल्प-संन्यासी योग-आरूढः उच्यते ।

In the previous verse, Lord कृष्ण said one should follow कर्मयोग first which is प्रवृत्ति, then prepare the mind and there afterwards निवृत्ति, withdrawal, so that one can spend more time in ज्ञानयोग. So कर्मयोग first then ज्ञानयोग- प्रवृत्ति मार्ग then निवृत्ति मार्ग. Now the basic question is how do I know that the time has come for this switchover, that I am ready for reducing the action and ready for Vedantic enquiry, how to know? In the case of college at least there is some kind of exam and when I get a pass mark, whether it is 30 or 35, I may write the exam a few times, doesn't matter, but a time comes, at least teachers out of tiredness they pass me. Whatever it is, so let us assume, legitimately I pass there is test to know when I have grown out. In the case of a baby also the nature takes care of. When the time is ready there is the labor pain and the child comes out. Now, a person who is in the कर्मयोग womb when should he come out, how do we know? Can you say that everybody should be a कर्मयोगि for 17 years, 8 months and 23 days, something like that can you stipulate the time? Unfortunately, the rate of inner maturity is not uniform for all, the rate of acquiring inner maturity is not uniform for all, some people become mature within short while, some people even after 95 years, physically 95, but emotionally

वृद्धो याति गृहीत्वा दण्डम् तदपि न मुञ्चत्याशापिण्डम् ॥ भजगोविन्दम् १७ ॥

Even though he has gone through several experiences but still he has not grown out of it, so how can you stipulate the time, there is no uniform time, it varies from individual to individual. So somebody asked an old man it seems: Granny Granny are you ready to marry, then the old man asked, who will give me their daughter in marriage to me? He doesn't say that I don't want, the question is who will give the girl, so this is the condition. And therefore we have to have our own method of examination and therefore कृष्ण gives the litmus test, by litmus test don't imagine that you have to pour some liquid over your head see whether it turns yellow or pink, whatever it is. कृष्ण says यदा हि इन्द्रिय-अर्थेषु न अनुषज्जते – a mature mind is free from obsession with sense pleasures or अर्थ-काम पुरुषार्थs. The word obsession is important, so there is sense pleasures, there is अर्थ and काम, शास्त्र allows a person to fulfill अर्थ-काम पुरुषार्थः but what is highlighted here is a person's mind is constantly thinking of that only, morning also, what should be eaten for breakfast, i.e., the grossest sense pleasure is tongue, by the time breakfast is over planning for lunch, after lunch planning for dinner. All the time अर्थ-काम, entertainment money, entertainment money, so as long the mind is obsessed with money and entertainment वेदान्त cannot appeal to such mind. वेदान्त will appear irrelevant. What is the purpose of this, वेदान्त will appear to be a waste of time. Whereas when there is maturity the mind is not obsessed with that, not that I will not enjoy a nice dish, if you like, eat nicely, the idea is one should not brood on it, suppose it was expected and it doesn't come, somebody promised gulab jamun and he didn't bring it, constant meditation on that and they don't bring and because of that you get so wild. That is the problem. That is why I said preference is one thing, need is quite another thing. A mature mind is free with regard to slaveries in the field of अर्थ-काम पुरुषार्थः. Therefore कृष्ण says इन्द्रिय-अर्थेषु न अनुषज्जते – it is not craving after the sense pleasures and if they do not attract me or appeal to me, very careful not hatred, hating the sense objects is as much an obstacle as craving for them. So a mature person does not hate also nor does he crave. दयानन्द स्वामिजि gives a beautiful example. As a baby I might be playing the game of marbles. Now-a-days we cannot give this example, all computer games only; OK, स्वामिजि gives the example of marbles or toys. During that age I am very very possessive, how many toys I have, how many marbles I have, marble I mean not the floor marble, not that, I am talking about the playing marble - the goli, that you play with. So you are obsessed with that, you meditate on that as a baby. Now what is your attitude towards goli? Suppose your own grandchild or child calls you, there is no friend to play with, so papa come with me for playing goli. What do you do? You don't hate goli and say that if I see that I will get attachment, etc., therefore I will not play. You are not afraid of getting attached to the marble, you will happily play and even you will pretend that oh my son I am getting defeated, etc. You will show interest, you don't hate and in the middle of the game and you are winning and some guest comes and the game is stopped half way. Are you disturbed? Crucial time I was winning, somebody came and spoiled – do we grumble. No. So playing is also OK for you, not playing is also OK for you, that is called transcending.

That is called वैराग्यम्. That is called growing out, that is called maturity. Therefore इन्द्रिय-अर्थेषु न अनुषज्जते – he is not enamored by, tempted by the sense objects and therefore only कर्मसु. कर्म means what: activities for procuring those अर्थ-काम पुरुषार्थः, अर्थ-काम साधनम्. अर्थ-काम is साध्यम्, कर्म is साधनम्, अर्थ-काम is end, अर्थ-काम means अर्थ means wealth, काम means entertainment, these are the goals or साध्यम् and कर्म is साधनम्. कृष्ण says a mature person is neither attached अर्थ-काम साध्यम् nor is he attached to कर्म साधनम्. Neither the means he is attracted to nor the end is he attracted to. If at all he is attracted to, i.e., धर्म मोक्ष पुरुषार्थः. In fact, धर्म पुरुषार्थः, he has grown out, मोक्ष पुरुषार्थः he is. To put in simple language, what is the sign of maturity? Detachment. Detachment is the crucial litmus test for inner growth and such a person is called सर्व सङ्कल्पः संन्यासि and since he is not obsessed with अर्थ-काम, he is not obsessed with their arrival nor is he obsessed with their departure. No doubt, he knows money is required in future, he knows, he has saved some money, but he is not going to think because now-a-days various treatment and their cost, we come to know from the newspapers, angioplasty, Rs.1 lakh, whatever it is, by-pass surgery; now you can imagine, if I get such a disease what will be the expenditure and how much will it cost at that time and now how much I am having, how much interest will I get out of it, etc. So you can worry about all the possible diseases and wonder whether you have sufficient money. In fact, to have a master check up to say nothing is there, you have to spend Rs.10,000. I don't know what is the minimum rate now. So if you are going to worry you can worry any amount. That is why कृष्ण said security never depends upon external conditions, it is purely an inner state of mind. If you feel insecure you can feel insecure with any amount of wealth. In fact, if you have more wealth the very possession of wealth can make you more insecure. Therefore security is an inner state and therefore कृष्ण said

तेषाम् नित्य-अभियुक्तानाम् योग-क्षेमम् वहामि अहम् ॥ ९-२२॥

OK have some wealth, some PF, some shares, some medical insurance, etc you keep, but be very clear none of them is going to give you a total sense of security, therefore better surrender to the Lord, Lord will take care of you and because of this attitude, what does he do, सर्व सङ्कल्पः संन्यासि – he has dropped his worry about future, he is as good as a संन्यासि. In fact, when a person takes to संन्यास आश्रम, what is his future, he has not provided anything for his future, he doesn't own anything, no money, no relationship, what is going to happen in old age, so what does he do, a संन्यासि's only security is भगवान्. If a कर्मयोगि can develop the same sense of security he is as good as a संन्यासि, ready for वेदान्त, so योग-आरूढः तदा उत्थते. Continuing;

आत्मना आत्मानम् उद्धरेत्, आत्मानम् न अवसादयेत् । आत्मा एव हि आत्मानः बन्धुः, आत्मा एव आत्मानः रिपुः ।

So with the previous verse, कृष्ण completes the topic of the first general discipline, बहिरङ्ग साधनम् No.1 and what is that बहिरङ्ग साधनम्? Enjoy equanimity of mind, enjoy balance of mind, avoid extremes reactions, avoid even worry about the future by being a कर्मयोगि. In संस्कृत we call it समत्वम् which is बहिरङ्ग साधन No.1. Now in this verse, कृष्ण is introducing two more important बहिरङ्ग साधनम्, what are they: No.1. Self-effort, प्रयत्न, पुरुषार्थः, using our free-will appropriately. And this verse is an important verse because कृष्ण clearly says we all have our own free-will. This is a very big debate. Is everything predetermined? And unfortunately many people think that everything is already predetermined and we don't have any choice at all and what is going to happen tomorrow भगवान् has written on my forehead and therefore what is the use of doing anything. So this fatalism is never supported by our scriptures but because we talk about fate many people misunderstand that our scriptures talk about fatalism. What is the difference between fate and fatalism? When we talk about fate, we talk about fate as one of the factors which influences the future. So this is a balanced view, what is the balanced view: Fate is one of the factors which will determine my future, and fate is defined as प्रारब्ध कर्म, पूर्व कर्म-फलम्, this is a healthy attitude. Then what is fatalism? Fatalism means fate is the only factor which determines our future. Are you able to see the difference? The healthy attitude is seeing that fate is one of the factors, but not the only factor, but fate is one of the factors. If fate is one of the factors what is the other factor? Our own free-will, our own effort is the second factor. We don't say, fate is not there, but what we assert is fate is not the only factor. So by using the free-will appropriately we will be able to either eliminate the fate or we will be able to reduce the intensity of fate, we do have a free-will. And that is why we divide fate into three types, the powerful fate, then medium and then मन्द or feeble. Powerful ones we cannot stop, medium ones we can manage, feeble ones we can eliminate, all by using what: our free-will and therefore कृष्ण emphasizes the appropriate employment of our free-will in this verse, the details of which we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

Lord कृष्ण in the beginning of the 6th chapter is dealing with the general disciplines to be observed by an individual throughout his transactions so that he will enjoy a mind which is conducive to meditation, which we called सामान्य साधनानि or बहिरङ्ग साधनम्. The first बहिरङ्ग साधनम् that कृष्ण prescribed is maintenance of the poise of the mind, maintenance of समत्वम् of the mind. Even when we go through different kinds of experiences. We do not have a control over our experiences because our experiences are dependent on the external world. And I don't have a control over the external world, I don't have a control over the others behavior. My own family members I do not know how they will behave tomorrow. Even a husband and wife who have been living together for 50 years, they are themselves surprised by a particular behavior from the spouse. So my wife behaves like that or my husband behaves like that, there is a surprise which indicates that the external world is unpredictable and uncontrollable. Since I don't have a say over the external condition, the only thing that I can try to adjust is my own response to those conditions which fortunately is adjustable and that adjustment is brought about by कर्मयोग knob, if you use the कर्मयोग method we will be able to have that poise of mind.

ततः युद्धाय युज्यस्व न एवम् पापम् अवाप्स्यसि ॥ २-३८॥

कृष्ण said that in the 2nd chapter itself, for the first general discipline is try to have a poised mind. And by the word poised mind we mean freedom from violent emotions which will carry me of, by which I get lost in my life, which go out of my control. That 'getting lost' if one can avoid. Sometimes people drive the two wheelers like motor bike or scooter, and when there is some auto-rickshaw or the other is coming, sometimes they lose the balance but if they are good drivers, they don't fall, they are able to recover and continue. Similarly, we may lose the balance but if we can avoid falling down permanently, that is समत्वम्. This emotional immunity, emotional health, the capacity to recover from emotional traumas or scar. If we have got that we are reasonably healthy psychologically. Psychological health is समत्वम्, which is brought about by कर्मयोग, in which the primary help or role is played by the Lord himself. So Lord is the backup. So this समत्वम् was talked up to the 4th verse. Now in the 5th verse, कृष्ण is introducing another important exercise or discipline and that is self-effort, using the free-will appropriately. Because, in our scriptures we accept the existence of a free-will for the human being. There is no free-will for the plant kingdom, they are programmed and conditioned, their behavior inbuilt, there is no choice. In the case of animals also we don't accept a free-will for them and that is why animals do not have choice, therefore animals do not have responsibilities, therefore animals do not have either पुण्यम् or पापम्. The buffalo like human being, who is in the middle of the road and having a conversation in the middle of the road and that is the biggest hurdle and therefore according to शास्त्र, the basic thing is we have a free-will. Here itself there is a problem, because there are many people who do not want to accept a free-will at all, they are fatalistic people, destiny oriented people, according to them, everything is predetermined. And they give the examples that we are all puppets in the hands of destiny or someone. If He pulls this side I go this side, if He pushes that side I go that side, everything is predetermined. And if a person is fatalistic it is extremely difficult to argue with him. To such people we will only say this much, what is that, if a person argues that everything is predetermined, everything is destiny, we will point that 'yes, it is true. Everything is destiny, which we call as प्रारब्धम्.' And we will say that the destiny itself is of two types, good destiny and bad destiny, पुण्य प्रारब्धम् and पाप प्रारब्धम् and we will say that when a person has got a good destiny, his mind will think in such a way that he will accept free-will. If a person has got

पुण्य प्रारब्धम्, if he has a good destiny, that good destiny will influence the mind in such a way that he will accept a free-will and when the destiny is negative, पाप प्रारब्धम्, the very destiny will influence the mind in such a way, that he will not accept free-will and therefore we say those who have got पुण्य destiny will accept free-will. Those who have got पापम् destiny, they will not accept free-will and Lord कृष्ण is addressing those fortunate people, those who have got पुण्यम् and therefore those who accept that there is something called free-will. Because acceptance of free-will is शास्त्र oriented thinking. Acceptance of free-will is शास्त्र oriented thinking, because शास्त्र wants us to accept a free-will. And therefore when we have got पुण्यम्, our mind will think in the line of शास्त्र and therefore we will accept free-will and we will find our own arguments in support of that free-will also and therefore कृष्ण is addressing those पुण्यवान् who accept a free-will. Then once we accept a free-will, then the next question is if there is a free-will, do you accept a destiny in addition to free-will or do you accept free-will only? Because fatalistic people are those who accept only fate or destiny, they don't accept free-will. Then what about those people who accept free-will, do they accept destiny? If you ask, we say, there also we go by शास्त्रम्, when we have got पुण्यम् we go according to शास्त्रम् and when we go according to शास्त्रम् we accept both free-will as well as fate. We don't say free-will alone is there; No. We say that there is free-will also and there is fate also, fate is the result of our own past actions, free-will is the course of action that we choose to take, because of our thinking or because of our बुद्धि. And once we are going to accept fate and free-will as two forces which will determine our future, then the next question is between these two forces which one is more powerful - fate or free-will, (vidiya (विधिया) or madiya (मतिया). In तमिळ् there should be some rhyme, we have to use similar words, vidiya or madiya, both are संस्कृत words and that 'dhi' in तमिळ्, it is pronounced equally, but really speaking when you say

विधि, it is 4th dha ध, विधि and when you say मति, it is first ta त, मति, but as I have told you, तमिक् follows अद्वैतम्. No difference between त, थ, द, ध, therefore vidiya or madiya; everything is only one दि. What will be our answer, our answer is we cannot answer. Our answer is we cannot answer, because every time there is the fate and free-will operating, you cannot predict the result because, every time they come together their relative strength varies from time to time. Because fate is not a uniform force, fate is a force determined by our past actions. Since the actions do not have uniform intensity, the fate also cannot have uniform intensity. And therefore we say fate has got three grades, प्रबल प्रारब्धम्, मध्यम प्रारब्धम्, दुर्बल प्रारब्धम्, according to the intensity of the कर्म-फलम् which depends upon the intensity of कर्म, the fate also is every moment different. Every moment I am facing fate of different grades, प्रबल प्रारब्धम्, मध्यम प्रारब्धम् and दुर्बल प्रारब्धम् and every time I use my free-will, in my operation of free-will also there is an intensity - a casual approach, a serious approach. So there is a grade in the use of free-will also and therefore the result will vary depending upon the type of fate.

- i) When it is प्रबल प्रारब्धम्, then it is so powerful that in front of that the free-will cannot do anything, free-will is helpless. The only thing that the free-will can do is ask for inner strength to face that प्रबल प्रारब्धम् which is going to come exactly like the cyclone prediction. What do the scientists do when the cyclone is approaching? Super cyclone, which they have found out a new, earlier cyclone, now super cyclone; what can the scientists do, we do not have the power to stop the cyclone. Then that does not mean that we should be helpless, what can we do, we can prepare ourselves to fate. That is called intelligence, preparation; you don't stop it. So this is called प्रबल प्रारब्धम्.
- ii) If it is a मध्यम प्रारब्धम्, the free-will can be strong enough to manage that प्रारब्धम्, neither I stop it nor I allow it, but I am able to reduce the impact and manage - is called reduction, management.

- iii) And then comes the third type of fate which is weak enough, in whose case I can put forth sufficient effort, which is called प्रायश्चित्त कर्म and by प्रायश्चित्त कर्म, दुर्बल प्रारब्धम् can be wiped out, can be avoided, can be nullified, can be treated, can be remedied.

Therefore if you ask whether fate can be changed or not, my answer will depend upon the intensity of fate. I will not say it can be remedied, I will not say it cannot be remedied, I will say it is प्रबलम्, no remedy; if it is दुर्बलम्, there is remedy. It is exactly like going to a doctor, I have talked about this before also. If I go to a doctor and ask him, oh doctor can you cure my disease? What will the doctor say, he will never say I can cure, he will never say I cannot cure, what will he say, let me diagnose and find out what type of disease it is, if it is a minor disease, appendicitis something like that, it is just removed and there afterwards, the person lives comfortably. Therefore it is a curable disease. And suppose a person has got pressure problem, sugar problem there is no cure, but what will he say, even though there is no remedy for diabetics, if you do exercise, if you reduce or avoid eating sugar and then what can you do, you don't cure it, you don't suffer it also totally, you can manage, you can live, only observe those पथ्यम्s. So they are called manageable diseases and sometimes a person goes and the doctor says I have to take biopsy. Biopsy name itself gives a fear, (because it is भय अप्सि! which gives fear) and then sometimes they diagnose that it is a third degree cancer or something and we cannot treat it and he closes everything and says you can inform all the people and some time they survive more than other people. That is where medicine is also not able to answer, some cases they say he will survive, next day out, sometime they say he will not survive, all the other people die and this person continues also. That is a different thing, so there is no uniform answer. Similarly, our future is neither totally controlled by fate nor it is totally controlled by free-will, it is going to be the resultant, to use the physics language, it is going to be the resultant of the fate and free-will and therefore free-will has got a contributory role in determining our future and since the free-will has got a contributory role, an आस्तिक पुरुषः, one who follows वैदिक teaching, he always has an attitude that I can take charge of my life and that is why our goals are called पुरुषार्थः. पुरुषार्थः means goals which are sought after by human beings and the goals which are accomplished by human beings. We don't say goals are the gift of the Lord which is thrown on a Christmas day, like Santa Claus. We don't say that भगवान् sits above the cloud and just looks at you and says: have this मोक्षम्, etc. It is not that, मोक्ष is पुरुषार्थः, it is to be chosen and accomplished by me. “And अर्जुन, I expect you to be the chooser of your future and once you believe in free-will and you have decided to choose your future, I am ready to help you”, because Lord can help only those who are willing to put forth the necessary effort. A गुरु can help only those students who believe in themselves, otherwise the students will sympathize with this स्वामि and will say poor स्वामि he is trying to improve me, he doesn't know that I am un-improvable. If you have decided that you are un-improvable, only my cough will increase, nothing is going to happen. Therefore, first you should have faith in yourselves, confidence in yourselves. That is why विवेकानन्द says I define आस्तिक as one who believes in himself or herself. Faith in God is next stage, faith in गुरु is next stage, faith in शास्त्र is next stage, all the other three faiths are valid and useful only if there is faith in myself and therefore अर्जुन, take charge of your life. And once you have decided to take charge of your life, what is the first step? The first step is this: whatever goal you want to accomplish in life you have got the same set of instrument, whatever goal you want to accomplish you have got the same set of instruments - they are your physical body, they are your sense organs, they are your emotional mind and your rational intellect. They are the basic toolkit that you have. You have a body, you have a set of senses, ज्ञानेन्द्रियाणि, कर्मेन्द्रियाणि, you have got a mind, which is capable of having healthy emotions and uplift to you and a mind which is capable of having unhealthy emotions and pull you down; mind is same. And you have got a rational intellect also which can chose a wonderful goal and accomplish it also and which can choose a wrong thing and destroy the life. And this instrument kit, body-mind-senses-intellect कृष्ण calls आत्मा in this context. In this context of 5th verse, कृष्ण uses the word आत्मा by which कृष्ण means the instruments consists of body, senses, mind and intellect. And your success in life depends upon the condition of your instruments. If your instruments fulfill certain basic conditions, you are lucky, you can accomplish any goal, it is like having a car which is in good condition. Imagine the wheels are loose in the car and the steering is good, only once in a while when you turn to the right the car will go to the left, only once in a while; that won't work. Car is very good but the driver is drunk, that is all; No. So therefore, the car should be in good condition then you can reach the destination, if the car is not in good condition you will reach the nearest hospital. This is beautifully talked about in the कठोपनिषत्, wherein body is compared to the vehicle, the sense organs are compared to the horses or the wheels of the car, the mind can be compared to the steering, intellect can be compared to a driver and कृष्ण says fine tune your equipment. If you go to carnatic music program you will watch, the program may be at 6.30. But the musicians will be there half an hour before. Each one holding on to his instrument, the vocalist is fine tuning the तम्बुर, for us all श्रुतिs are same. But he finds fine differences, अद्वैतम् for us, so he makes fine adjustments and the violinist with his instruments, mridangist is banging dum, dum, dum, on his मृदङ्गम् trying to adjust the श्रुति. Why they spend half an hour and if it is hindustani music you had it, they are so much particular about the श्रुति. That when they teach music, सा प सा will take seven years. According to them, in South India, even the greatest musician's सा प सा they will not accept, voice culture they talk about so much. Anyway that is aside, what I want to say is, if the musical concert should be successful, the instruments must be fine tuned. If the local concert requires so much fine-tuning, what about our life which is the grandest and longest concert, which is going to give happiness to me and other members or which is going to be a cacophonous which is going to be disharmonious for myself and others. Therefore कृष्ण says उद्धरेत् आत्मना आत्मानम् – first refine your instruments, integrate your personality. And what do you mean by refinement? Every organ must be healthy, never ignore your health, body, sense organs, mind, mental health is psychological sanity. I should be sane psychologically and above all intellectual clarity with regard to what I want in life, there are several people who are still now, that they might be 57 years old and if you ask them what do you want in life, they will say: don't know, it is groping in darkness and In fact, they spend the entire life without knowing what they really want in life. And therefore every individual organ should be healthy and not only each organ must be healthy, they should all function in coordination. So otherwise, the singer may be singing शङ्कराभरण and the violinist plays कल्याणी and the mridangist is playing तनि आवर्तनम् (Solo मृदङ्गम्) in the middle of the music concert, how will it be, who will stay there. So each individual may be great in his own field. Individual greatness is not enough, but there should be coordination. Many organizations fail even though the members are top, you know why, each one is so intelligent that he can never agree with the other, this is the best guarantee for failure. So similarly, we have to maintain the health and also coordination, which is called ज्ञानयोग्यता प्राप्तिः, I will call it integration, I will call it अधिकारित्वम्. Therefore कृष्ण's first advice, make your instruments healthy and qualified and well directioned. And the beauty here is when I have to refine my equipment, to refine the equipment what equipment I will use? Very interesting, to refine the मृदङ्गम् I use my hands, to adjust the तम्बुर श्रुति I use the hands, therefore to refine the external instruments I use my own instruments. Now if I have to refine my own instruments, what I will do? I cannot have another set of equipment, then there will be infinite regress problem, because to tune these equipments I will require another equipment. To tune that equipment I will require another equipment. Therefore कृष्ण says you integrate the body with the help of the body itself, you refine your mind with the help of mind itself, you refine your intellect with the help of intellect itself, they should integrate themselves. And therefore आत्मना आत्मानम् उद्धरेत् – you integrate your instrument with the help of the very instruments themselves and न आत्मानम् अवसादयेत् – never weaken your instrument because they are the only saving grace. So by unhealthy attitude never weaken your instruments and the basic weakening attitude is what: I cannot grow in life, it cannot be done by me. One विवेकानन्द may accomplish it, one शङ्कराचार्य may accomplish, one रामानन्द may accomplish and you just worship them, it is called deification, you make them extra-ordinary people so that you can continue to be lazy and adamant as before. Anybody who has achieved something make him a hero, extraordinary person so that I can dub myself an ordinary person. Why can't I be extraordinary then, no no no, they are all extraordinary people and we are all ordinary people. So this is called self-diffidence, never entertain self-diffidence, never bring down yourselves, never develop inferiority complex, never be too self-critical, never be too pessimistic; be optimistic, so this is called self-confidence and self-effort. These are two important exercises which is required for all accomplishments, including spiritual accomplishment and then कृष्ण supports that further in the second line, saying आत्मा एव आत्मनः बन्धुः, आत्मा means I told you, your own instruments, body, mind, senses, intellect complex. स्थूल सूक्ष्म शरीरम्, कार्य-करण सङ्घातः, so your own आत्मा is your true friend. So all the गुरुs in the world can only indirectly contribute, all the scriptures can only indirectly contribute, even भगवान् can only indirectly contribute, the direct contributory is yourselves, like a running race, in which your son is involved and you are just there at the end, where the final ribbon is there. So what will you do? Your son is coming, there is another boy who is about to beat him, what can you do, suppose you start running, you cannot, if your son has to win the race, who has to run, your son. Therefore you can do, bravo, you can clap up, you can encourage, you can whip up. You can do everything but they are all indirect contribution; running you can only do, your गुरु, God, scriptures, they are all clapping, what are we doing, we are lying down, कृष्ण says: Get up my dear, start walking, therefore, आत्मा एव हि आत्मनः बन्धुः – you are your true friend and आत्मा एव आत्मनः रिपुः – you alone are your enemy also. So you are your friend, you are your enemy. When you are your friend, you can make the whole world friendly to you and when you are your enemy you will convert the whole world inimical to you. It all depends upon our approach and therefore आत्मा एव रिपुः आत्मनः. Continuing;

अनात्मानस्तु शत्रुत्वे वर्तेतात्मैव शत्रुवत् ॥ ६-६॥

बन्धुः आत्मा आत्मानः तस्य येन आत्मा एव आत्माना जितः ।

अनात्मानः तु शत्रुत्वे वर्तेत आत्मा एव शत्रुवत् ॥ ६-६॥

येन आत्माना एव आत्मा जितः, तस्य आत्मानः बन्धुः आत्मा, अनात्मानः तु शत्रुत्वे आत्मा एव शत्रुवत् वर्तेत ।

In the previous verse, Lord कृष्ण said I am my friend, I meaning my body-mind-sense-complex and I am my enemy, again meaning body-mind-sense-complex. Now कृष्ण is explaining that further. How can I myself be my friend and how can I myself be my enemy also? Isn't it contradictory? Because 'friend'ness and 'enemy'ness, they are all opposite attributes, how can opposite attributes remain in one and the same object? Normally we find a person who we claim as our friend, we don't claim him as our enemy, you say Mr. X is my friend and Y is enemy or Y is friend and X is enemy. You don't say one and the same person is a friend and an enemy. That being so, how can we say I am the friend and I am the enemy? For that कृष्ण gives the answer, which is the universal law. Any instrument is both our friend and our enemy, any instrument that we use in life, whether it is a knife, whether it is electricity or whether it is atomic energy or whether it is our own LPG gas cylinder, OK, I will use kitchen logic itself. Is LPG gas cylinder or enemy? It is both friend and enemy, how can it be, any instrument is a friend to me if I know how to handle it, how to manage it, how to operate it. A well managed instrument which is under my control is friend to me. That is why atomic energy is a blessing, electricity is blessing, knife is blessing; In fact, advancement in every science is a blessing. When? When we know how to use that advancement. On the other hand, the very same instrument is a deadly enemy to me if I don't know how to use it, I can get electrocuted if I don't know how to handle. If I don't close the LPG cylinder properly, how many accidents we hear, the gas can spread and the whole place can catch fire and the persons can die. The same atomic energy which is giving electricity to us, is the very same atomic energy which killed millions in Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The car which is taking us to destination is the very same car, which is responsible for accidents and death also and therefore, managed body-mind-complex is my friend, unmanaged body-mind-complex is my enemy. Body-mind-complex under my control is my friend, the body-mind-complex which is beyond my control becomes my own enemy. I don't what to do, whatever body wants I give, whatever sense organs want I give, whatever the emotions want I give. I consider it is my friend, but I don't know what I am getting enslaved to my own organs and a time comes when I cannot even proceed further nor withdraw. Like any addiction, If I continue the addiction the addiction destroys me, if I try to withdraw from the addiction withdrawal systems create problems for me. Who has created that condition? I have created that condition and therefore कृष्ण says, बन्धुः आत्मा आत्मनः तस्य येन आत्मा एव आत्मना जितः, so आत्ममयम्, it is difficult to translate. I will put in simple English. One's own body-mind-complex is a friend when they are under one's control, जितः means mastered, controlled and by control we don't mean suppression. Very careful, वेदान्त never prescribes suppression, control means mastery. I don't stop them, we need not and we should not stop the sense organs, they are not meant for stopping. Control means directing them, if I have the capacity to direct I have got control, whereas अनात्मनः तु, अनात्मा means uncontrolled body-mind-complex, it is a peculiar usage, अनात्मा here means अजितात्मा, the person for whom the body-mind-complex is not under control, a licentious person who doesn't know the difference between freedom and license, who goes according to his whims and fancies, for such a person आत्मा एव शत्रुवत् वर्तेत – his own body-mind-complex becomes his own enemy. Like what, शत्रुवत्, like an external enemy. It is like having a set of militants within one's own country, fifth column like. When the naxalites are creating problems in आन्ध्र or the Mujahideens are creating problem in Kashmir valley, handling is extremely difficult because they are within the country. Even bombing becomes very difficult, if it is a neighboring country, we can use the bomb, if necessary atom bomb, but when it is within one's own country it is difficult. Similarly, when the enemy is within myself, handling is going to be difficult and therefore the real victory is self-victory, that is all the management sciences are uniformly coming to the conclusion that without self-management, you cannot manage anything, whether it is family management, company management, or national management, we can forget that if you cannot manage yourselves, your senses, your thoughts and therefore managed instrument is friend, unmanaged instrument is enemy. Continuing;

जितात्मनः प्रशान्तस्य परमात्मा समाहितः ।

शीतोष्णसुखदुःखेषु तथा मानापमानयोः ॥ ६-७॥

जित-आत्मनः प्रशान्तस्य परमात्मा समाहितः ।

शीत-उष्ण-सुख-दुःखेषु तथा मान-अपमानयोः ॥ ६-७॥

जित-आत्मनः प्रशान्तस्य परम-आत्मा शीत-उष्ण-सुख-दुःखेषु तथा मान-अपमानयोः समाहितः (भवति)।

Let us assume that a person has integrated himself or herself. Such a person who has attained self-management, कृष्ण calls जितात्मा, जितः means won over, controlled, managed and what is managed, आत्मा, आत्मा here means body-mind-sense-intellect-complex, so जितात्मा means the one who has learnt the art of self-discipline, self-integration, self-attunement, self-orchestration, self-management and therefore only प्रशान्तस्य. How do I know how I am master of myself? What is the sign? कृष्ण says प्रशान्तः – the more I win a victory over myself, the more my life is calmer, that is the acid test, otherwise, my mind will be turbulent and which I don't myself has any say at all. Therefore, जितात्मा is a प्रशान्तः पुरुषः and कृष्ण called such a person, योग-आरूढः, साधन चतुष्टय सम्पन्नः, ज्ञानयोग्यः, such a person is not liberated, liberation requires what, with regard to that we don't comprise, liberation requires Self-knowledge, so a person who has learnt manage himself is now ready, he has got admission for Vedantic enquiry. Until then, that person cannot person cannot benefit from Vedantic enquiry, In fact, वेदान्त will not even appeal to such a person. Only when I have come to this stage I will see वेदान्त has some relevance to my life and not only that, कृष्ण tells for such a prepared person, वेदान्त is a walkover. So they talk about three types of mind compared to three types of fever.

- One is called coal, an intellect which is like the coal;
- An intellect which is like the plantain stem बुद्धि and
- कर्पूर बुद्धि, camphor type.
- Suppose you have got these three things, plantain stem, कर्पूरम् and coal.
- Suppose you light up a camphor, what happens, immediately it catches fire;
- When you light up a piece of coal, it will catch fire, you have to very very carefully protect it and after some time, the fire will be retained and
- Suppose you have got a plantain stem, not only it won't catch fire, but it will put out this fire also.

Similarly, the Vedantic students are considered to be three types, मन्द, मध्यम, उत्तम, when the preparations have been ideally done, तत् त्वम् असि, thank you, walk out, job is over, that's what the student was in केनोपनिषत्(२-२),

नाहम् मन्ये सुवेदेति नो न वेदेति वेद च ।

he said that and got up and walked off. The other students are wondering whether teaching has started, for him it was over and there is the मध्यम, he says I understand वेदान्त but in life, day-to-day life I find it difficult, it is all very nice, in विद्या मन्दिर, on Sunday evening it is very good, outside it doesn't work, that is called coal-बुद्धि and then plantain stem-बुद्धि is that even the teacher begins to forget वेदान्त when he starts teaching those people, I know you are all of camphor type only. And therefore कृष्ण said परमात्मा समाहितः- for such a prepared student परमात्मा is very very evident, he grasps the teaching as it is even taught, श्रवण मात्रेण ज्ञानम् भवति, महावाक्य श्रवण मात्रेण

ज्ञानम् भवति, प्रतिबोध विदितम् मतम्, it will be understood in one line. Once that understanding is very clear, then what is the benefit, जीवन्मुक्ति is the benefit and therefore अर्जुन where should you start, first develop self-belief in free-will, you have to start there. That future is in my hands, I should accept. And there afterwards I should develop self-confidence and there afterwards I should put forth self-effort and first stage of self-effort is attunement of my own instruments and then everything will be taken care of. This is going to be the development, the details of which we will see in the next class.

In this 6th chapter which is dealing with the topic of meditation, first Lord कृष्ण is talking about the general preparations to be followed by a meditator. These general preparations we call बहिरङ्ग साधनानि or सामान्य साधनानि and Lord कृष्ण emphasized four such disciplines:

1) The first बहिरङ्ग साधनम् is learning to maintain a balanced mind during the day-to-day transactions. If the mind reacts violently during day-to-day transactions, those reactions will be registered in the mind and naturally during meditation those registered reactions will again be replayed and only those reactions will come during the time of meditation and therefore avoidance of violent reactions is discipline No.1, which we called समत्वम् and one can maintain the समत्वम् by following the कर्मयोग principles which कृष्ण mentioned in chapter 3.

2) Then the second बहिरङ्ग साधन or general discipline that कृष्ण highlighted is self-confidence. Because if a person does not have confidence in himself, then any help coming from outside will not be of any use at all. Whether it is a grace of the Lord ईश्वर कृपा or whether it is grace of the teacher - गुरु कृपा or whether it is grace of the scriptures - शास्त्र कृपा, all these graces will be of some use only if there is self-grace and self-grace is nothing but self-confidence. I can follow the spiritual path and I will be able to progress, this faith is required which we call आत्मकृपा. Therefore this is the second value is self-confidence.

3) Then the third discipline कृष्ण talked about is self-effort. If a person is fate oriented person, destiny oriented person, we cannot talk anything to that person, because he is going to resign everything to destiny. And such people will argue that if God wants me to get liberated then I will get liberation, if God doesn't want me to get liberated anyway my effort is useless. This argument is very interesting, if God has decided that I will get liberated effort is not required, because God has decided. If God has decided that I will not get liberation then my effort is useless. In first case, effort is not needed; in the second case, effort is useless, either way I need not do anything. This is a fatalistic approach. कृष्ण does not accept this approach. कृष्ण says individual effort is required. In fact, individual effort alone will help in tapping the grace of the Lord and therefore, the third value is self-effort. So poise of mind, self-confidence, self-effort and

4) Then fourthly कृष्ण talked about another important discipline also and that is self-management or self-mastery. And what do you mean self-mastery. Every organ that is given to me is an instrument given by, gifted by the Lord to me. The physical body is an instrument, the sense organs of knowledge and action are instruments, my mind is a wonderful instrument and above all my intellect is the most powerful instrument and by using these instruments I can accomplish anything in life: धर्म, अर्थ, काम, मोक्ष, all the four पुरुषार्थs are accessible to me if only I am willing to put these organs into proper use, which requires

First the organs should be healthy in themselves. An unhealthy body, an unhealthy mind and intellect cannot accomplish anything, on the other hand, they will be a burden for me. Therefore every organ should be healthy and

No.2, all the organs must function in coordination, otherwise the effort of one organ will be neutralized by the opposite effort of another organ. Imagine your intellect has decided to attend the गीता class, this is a decision on the part of the intellect and let us hope it is right decision and you have come here and now the mind should cooperate with me, which means you should have a relaxed mind, a non-wandering mind, which is available behind the ears to listen to my words. If the mind refuses to cooperate with you and it is wandering all over, how many people have come, what all dress they are wearing, suppose you are going to be bothered about all that, you are here, but you don't hear. So now what is the problem, intellect has made the decision, mind refuses to cooperate. Then the decision of the intellect becomes a waste and therefore the sense organs should cooperate, the mind should cooperate, in short all the organs should function in harmony, this is self-mastery. The health and harmonious function of the organs is self-mastery.

कृष्ण tells if these four are there then spirituality will be successful. What are the four - equanimity, self-confidence, self-effort and self-mastery. Self-mastery the word self means body-mind-sense-complex is called sense. And therefore कृष्ण tells in the 7th verse, which we are seeing in the last class, जित-आत्मनः प्रशान्तस्य, suppose a person follows all these four principles, means what, जित-आत्मनः – he has self-mastery (here आत्मा means body-mind-sense-complex, not सत्-चित्-आनन्द आत्मा) जितात्मा means the one who has mastered, the one who is in charge of his life or her life. And as a consequence of that what is the type of mind this person will enjoy, प्रशान्तस्य – a person whose mind is generally relaxed, which is free from violent turmoil's at the thought level, which is free from stress and strain and extrovertedness, such a mind is called प्रशान्तः. What is the advantage for him, परमात्मा समाहितः – for such a person recognizing the self, recognizing the reality is very very easy, because he can make use of the scriptures to his advantage and knowing the आत्मा is the easiest job, easier than going anywhere in the world. If you have to go to बटिनाथ, lot of effort is required, 10,000 feet high, lot of problems are there, but if you have to know the आत्मा, the truth of yourselves, in fact, it is very very easy, if only you are able to go according to scriptural teaching. Why do we say it is very very easy, because the scriptures reveal आत्मा as none other than the Consciousness which is available all the time? If it is a mysterious object, only available at a particular time, you have to work for it. If the scriptures are going to talk about something, which is available only at a particular time or state, then you have to work hard. There are many mysterious experiences talked about which requires meditation and going to different levels of mind and only when your mind is at that level you can experience that particular object. They talk about experiencing different लोकोs, higher worlds, higher beings, higher देवताs, they are not naturally available now, the mind will have to go to a different state like समाधि to experience the mysterious object, whereas the आत्मा, the truth, the scriptures reveal is not something available at a mysterious or particular state alone. The उपनिषत्s point out that आत्मा does not require going to any other state of mind. Then what is आत्मा? आत्मा is the conscious-principle, which is available in all particular states of mind, whether it is waking state, dream state, sleep state or समाधि state or people talk about तुरीयम्, तुरीयातीतम्, तुरीय अतीत अतीतम्, whatever be the state. आत्मा is something which is available all the time. In what form it is available? It is available in the form of Consciousness and what we are asked to do is this Consciousness is available along with the thoughts in the mind, we have to only turn our attention from the thought aspect of mind, the changing thought aspect of mind to the changeless Consciousness. Even now, as you are listening to the word, in your mind there are two things, as you are listening to my words, in the mind thoughts are occurring, every word is creating a thought in your mind and you are grasping the thought, you are understanding or not understanding, you are accepting or not accepting, the thoughts are variable but in and through the variable thoughts there is one non-variable constant principle. Can you guess what is that constant principle? That is none other than the Consciousness-principle, because I am conscious of the first thought, conscious of the second thought, conscious of the third thought, the thoughts vary but the Consciousness does not. Like what? The light that is pervading the hall, the people are coming and going but in and through the arrival and departure of the people, what is one common factor, the light because of which I am aware of the arrival of people, as well as the departure. In fact, if there is one principle which is ever available that is Consciousness. And therefore, we need not go to a mysterious state to recognize Consciousness, it is available in the most ordinary waking state. What is required is only the turning the attention from the thought to the Consciousness. Like the example I give when I ask you what is here, you will all say, there is hand and when I ask what else is there, you may say, lines are there on the hand and what else is there, you may say, nails are there, you will tell everything except one thing, the most important thing, because of which you are seeing the hand, you know what is that, the light because of which you see the hand. And when I talk about the light, you are not experiencing a new thing. When I am talking about light, you are not experiencing a new thing, but you are turning your attention to something which is all the time experienced. So my words are not introducing a new principle, my words are only turning your attention to already ever evident light principle, which light is different from the hand. Similarly, वेदान्त is not revealing a new आत्मा, but वेदान्त is turning your attention to the already ever evident Consciousness and why should I turn your attention, because at present my attention is in the thoughts which are occurring in the mind. Either I am worried about काम वृत्ति, क्रोधः thought, or greed thought, or this thought or that thought, instead of turning my attention to a particular thought in the mind, I am turning my attention to the Consciousness because of which every thought is aware. And therefore what is वेदान्त? Switching the attention from the changing thoughts to the changeless Consciousness. And this turning the attention is possible only when the mind is relaxed mind, a calm mind and a subtle mind. A mind which is turbulent and which is extrovert, it will be bothered about the changing worries and changing anxieties in the mind, but it cannot turn the attention to the changeless thought and therefore a lot of effort is required to enjoy a relaxed mind, a highly dynamic, active, result oriented, ambition gripped mind wants to make use of every second and achieve this or that, that mind is not relaxed. वेदान्त requires प्रशान्तस्य. First of all he should listen to the teacher. For that itself a little relaxation is required. An extrovert mind cannot listen. कृष्ण tells when the mind is relaxed, परमात्मा – the Self which is none other than the Consciousness and when does it obtain, प्रतिबोध विदितम् मतम्, केनोपनिषत् beautifully says that आत्मा is evident all the time. You don't have to go to a special meditation to experience the आत्मा. Just as I don't have to go to a special meditation to recognize the light, because the light is experienced in and through every experience. Similarly, the Consciousness does not require any special state of mind or any special meditation, it is all the time available. Therefore कृष्ण says समाहितः, समाहितः means ever evident and the beauty is the person who has a relaxed mind, if you ask him whether Consciousness is evident or if you ask him when is the Consciousness evident, that person will ask a counter question, tell me when is the Consciousness not evident? In fact, missing the आत्मा requires effort. It is not possible. That is why he uses the expression, सम् आहितः, सम् means very very clearly evident. And this recognition has to be done in two stages:

1) The first stage is turning the attention from thought to Consciousness, like turning the attention from hand to the light, Similarly, in our mind also, changing thoughts are there, changeless Consciousness is there, वेदान्त is shifting the attention from the changing thought to the changeless Witness. This is the first part of the साध.

2) Then there is the second and more important part and what is that? When I recognize Consciousness or turn my attention to Consciousness, my tendency will be to say that I am the body-mind-complex and I have Consciousness. This is our initial approach. Who am I, I am the body-mind-complex. And what do I have, I have the Consciousness which illumines my thoughts. Now वेदान्त says that you have to train your mind and reverse the approach. Instead of saying that I am the body-mind-complex and I have Consciousness, what should I do? I have to reverse it and claim I am the Consciousness-principle and the body-mind-complex is an incidental instrument used by me. This is the biggest shift and most important shift. In fact, meditation is meant for this particular shift alone, I have to change my orientation, because throughout when I give my bio-data, bio-data is body-mind oriented bio-data. I have to scrap that by knowing that that is not my bio-data, then what is my bio-data, स्थूल-सूक्ष्म-कारण शरीराद् व्यतिरिक्तः अवस्थानयसाक्षी पञ्चकोश विलाक्षणः सत्त्विदानन्दस्वरूपः सन् यः तिष्ठति सः आत्मा । Remember the five points I gave regarding Consciousness:

- i) Consciousness is not a part, product or property of the body,
- ii) Consciousness is an entity distinctive from the body, which pervades the body,
- iii) Consciousness is not bound by the dimensions of the body,
- iv) Consciousness survives even after the body goes and
- v) The surviving Consciousness cannot transact, not because it is absent, but because the medium of transaction is not there.

This is the description of Consciousness and that Consciousness is my nature. And this we can easily know through our day-to-day experience also. During sleep we exist but we don't transact. But the end of transaction is not the end of my existence. If end of transaction is the end of existence, what will happen, during sleep I am dead, but I know during sleep I am not dead, I am very much alive even though I don't do any transaction. Extend this to death also. After death also I don't transact but non-transaction is not non-existence. And therefore I exist all the time either with transaction or without transaction, transactions come and go, the transacting instruments come and go, but I, the Consciousness, am eternally unaffected. So this is called आत्मज्ञानम्. This is called discovering the real I. This is called owning the real I. And when I own up this real I, what is the benefit I will get, कृष्ण says समः भवति, we have to supply, समः भवति means this wise person is the same unaffected by what, शीत-उष्ण-सुख-दुःखेषु. This wise person is unaffected by all the pairs of opposites happening in his life, like heat and cold, favorable condition and unfavorable condition, none of them will shake him and not only that and तथा मान-अपमानयोः. मानम् and अपमानम् is a very big issue, we are very worried about our social status and respect, what will our children do, what will we do if they do like this, like that, etc. So we are not even bothered regarding children's future, we are only bothered only about our name and our family's name if such and such thing happens. That self-respect is so much, that when that is affected by अपमानम्, there are people who even commit suicide. So thus our life is constantly tormented by all these opposite experiences and ज्ञानम् gives immunity against all this. Therefore, मान-अपमानयोः समः भवति, शीत-उष्णयोः समः भवति, सुख-दुःखयोः समः भवति, समः means what unaffected. Continuing;

ज्ञान-विज्ञान-तृप्त-आत्मा कूटस्थः विजित-इन्द्रियः सम-लोष्ट-अश्म-काञ्चनः योगी युक्तः इति उच्यते ।

So this disciplined person goes through two stages of Self-knowledge,

- the first stage is called ज्ञानम् and
- the second stage is called विज्ञानम्.

We have seen these two words in the 3rd chapter also, ज्ञान विज्ञान नाशनम्, while talking about काम-क्रोध we saw these two words, ज्ञानम् and विज्ञानम्. These two words have got different meaning according to different contexts. I will give you a simpler meaning here, based on what I said before.

When you say I am the body and I have Consciousness, it is ज्ञानम्. So Consciousness is taken as part of the body and we take ourselves to be the physical body. This is called ज्ञानम्. Why it is called, at least I know that there is Consciousness. Earlier, I was not even aware of that also. So at least I know this much that I am the body and I am endowed with Consciousness, which is a distinct principle, which pervades and illumines the body.

And then what is विज्ञानम्? विज्ञानम् is instead of saying that I am the body and I have-Consciousness, I change it and say, I am the Consciousness-principle and I have got this body as a temporary instrument of knowledge, like the spectacle. The spectacles have got these two glasses, when I put on I am able to see and transact with the world, when I remove the spectacles I don't transact, but remember, but I continue to exist. In the same way, our body and mind are like the two glasses of this spectacle and when I use the body and mind, I have the waking state experience or dream state experience, when the body and mind are relaxed and resolved, I don't have waking and dream state, therefore I don't have any transaction, but even without transaction I continue to exist and therefore body and mind are more an instrument than myself. And this attitudinal change, the change of identification, is called विज्ञानम्.

The first is like परोक्ष ज्ञानम्, the second is अपरोक्ष ज्ञानम् and only when the shift takes place, ज्ञान विज्ञान तूष् आत्मा, only when I shift my I or identification from the body to आत्मा then alone my sense of limitation will go. People may ask, "why should I shift my identification, I am happy to claim I am the body, why should I know the आत्मा and there afterwards struggle and drop my identification with the body and develop a new identification with आत्मा, why all these headaches? Why can't I identify with my body itself?" For that Vedantic answer is if you are comfortable with body identification, wish you all the best, we are not interested in changing your identification, but the problem is as long as I am identified with the body, there is the first fear of mortality, the fear of old age, the fear of disease, the fear of death, not after fifty or sixty years, but it is a constant companion, throughout the life and not only we are afraid of our own death and old age, we are afraid of the death of the near and dear ones, in fact, संसार is fear of death and some people may say that I am not afraid of death, then I will say it is fear of old age, then some people may say I am not afraid of old age also, then I will say, it is fear of disease, all these are called संसार and if you say I am comfortable with all this fear, you don't require वेदान्त. But if you say, they are affecting me, then better handle this problem and unfortunately there is no medicine which can cure all the diseases and if at all there are medicines which cure diseases, they in this process will produce iatrogenic diseases, diseases caused when you take treatment. So you took a medicine for headache and headache went and stomach pain comes and still worse, headache continues and stomach pain was added. There is no medicine for all diseases, there is no medicine for old age. There is a science called gerontology. How to stop aging process and all the gerontologists are old now, and many of them dead also. So studying gerontology they grew old faster, I don't know and there is no medicine which can immortalize the body. For this three basic problems there is no remedy. If you are ready to face this problem, wonderful, otherwise, better come to वेदान्त and discover the fact that you are something higher than this decaying body, this changing mind. You are नित्य शुद्ध बुद्ध मुक्त स्वभाव, ever free, ever eternal, ever un-decaying, ever secure, ever beautiful, ever full higher-

I. If you want to discover, वेदान्त says: may I help you? as in the railway station, may I help you. What is this counter for? Not to go after any person, if anybody wants help it will be given. And what is the solution? The only solution is you have to discover the आत्मा which is different from the body. Then what is the benefit? Fun fun. The life is relaxed, no fear of death, imagine, no fear of old age, no fear of diseases. Because they belong to my incidental shell of the body, they don't belong to the real me. ज्ञान-विज्ञान-तृप्तः, तृप्तः means contented, happy, fulfilled. And विजित-इन्द्रियः who will be able to get this knowledge, विजित-इन्द्रियः – only the person who has mastered himself, mastered himself means mastered the body-mind-complex, that person alone will become ज्ञान-विज्ञान-तृप्तः आत्मा, आत्मा here means mind, the one whose mind is fully satisfied with this wisdom and therefore कूटस्थः, कूटस्थः means unshaken by any event that happens in his life, this is another problem. We can never predict our future. भगवान् has covered our eyes, I don't know what is going to happen tomorrow, why tomorrow, tonight itself, why tonight, next moment. Future is unpredictable and there are certain things which are predictable but not controllable, they predict that a cyclone is going to hit such and such coast, severe cyclonic storm formed. It may hit Ongole, or Orissa, or something they are able to predict, but we don't have the resources to control the cyclone. Therefore future is either unpredictable or even if it is predictable it is uncontrollable and therefore there is constant anxiety, because any event can come as a shock. Because I don't know and what is the best armor against these unpredictable events. कृष्ण says knowledge alone is the only कवचम् and a wise person is not shocked by any event possible. कूटस्थः means like the rock of Gibraltar, so strong. That is why in Indian tradition, when a boy gets the sacred thread and when the girl gets married, both of them have to do a particular ritual, and that ritual is called अश्मारोहणम्, stepping over the stone, they keep a rock or stone and the मन्त्र is chanted and the boy has to put his foot on that rock. Similarly, during wedding the girl has to step on the rock and during that time, you know what is the मन्त्र chanted, आतिष्ठ इमम् अशमानम् ॥ हिरण्यकेशी गृह्य सूत्र ॥

Oh! Boy, Oh Girl! you please step on this stone, for what purpose, अश्मा इव त्वम् स्थिरो भव

May your mind be strong enough to welcome all kinds of situations in life, because the boy is leaving home to गुरुकुल, wherein he has to face all types of different people and in the case of girl it is still totally different, leaves her home and goes to a new house, she doesn't know, in Indian culture, she doesn't what the husband is, because it is arranged marriage or at least they move and know and they don't know who the brother-in-law is, sister-in-law is, mother-in-law is, father-in-law is. Therefore it is like entering a jungle, don't take negatively, but what I mean that unless I am strong every experience will become traumatic experience. कृष्ण says for a wise person no experience is a traumatic or shocking experience, he is unshaken and such a person is called, युक्तः इति उच्यते, such a wise person is called a योगि. योगि in the real sense of the term. Because normally we use the word, for anyone who is an expert in योगासन. So if he can stand on his head or do a few exercise, we say he is a great योगि. कृष्ण says they are all superficial योगिs, the real योगि is one who has got this wisdom and then as a result of this wisdom, what type of mind, he enjoys, योगी सम-लोष्ट-अश्म-काञ्चनः, सम means equanimous, the same type of mind, equanimous mind towards what: towards three things, लोष्ट, लोष्टः means a clod of earth, mud is called लोष्टः, which doesn't have any value, the valueless mud, then अश्म, अश्म means stones or bricks, which have got some value, because you can build a house and then the next one, काञ्चनः, काञ्चनम् means gold, which has got such value. So towards all these things, one the least valued and the most valued and all the other things, the intermediary things, towards all of them the wise man has got समत्वम्, he has got the same attitude. What do you mean समत्वम्, does it mean that he will see all of them in the same way. If you are going to see all of them in the same way, it only means, there is some cataract in the eyes, it is not that they have got cataract in their eyes. It is not that you have got wisdom, you have got cataract better you go to the doctor at the earliest. Therefore in perception differences are seen, but only there is a difference in understanding which you call here as समत्वम् and we can understand it as freedom from रागः and द्वेषः, attachment and aversion. He knows the value of every object and he uses them appropriately also, but he doesn't have either रागः or द्वेषः. And why he doesn't have राग-द्वेष? Attachment is towards an object which is going to improve my status. When do I get attached to someone? Because that object or person gives me happiness, gives me security, gives me fullness, then naturally I am attached to that. So attachment is when the object improves my status. Then hatred is towards which object? When an object is going to decrease my status, reduce my happiness, reduce my security, then I have got hatred. Then a ज्ञानि is free from both of them, you know why, because for a ज्ञानि पूर्णत्वम् or fullness does not come from an external object. He is not fulfilled because of the presence of object, his fulfillment comes from where, not because of money, not because of house, not because of status, not because of wife, or parents or anything. I am full because of what: my nature happens to be full and if I am already full, no object can increase my fullness, no object can decrease my fullness, आपूर्यमाणम् अवल-प्रतिष्ठम्, just as the ocean is ever full, the world cannot affect my fullness and therefore if things come, wonderful, if things go away, equally OK. आगते स्वागतम् कुर्यात् whatever comes in my line, welcome, गच्छंतम् न निवारयेत् anything is going away, our own children, when they depend on us, we are very very happy and when they become independent and they try to go away, then we are unhappy, then only we know that we are dependent on children's dependence on us, how peculiar you see, we are dependent on children's dependence upon us and when the children become independent we get angry. This is called the problem of dependence; wisdom makes me independent, psychologically independent.

Lord कृष्ण is discussing the topic of बहिरङ्ग साधन, i.e., the general disciplines to be observed by a person who wants his meditation to be successful. He talked about समत्वम् as one discipline, equanimity. Then he talked about the importance of self-confidence, आत्मविश्वास, आत्मश्रद्धा, otherwise called आत्मकृपा, I should have my own grace and my grace is in the form of confidence in myself. Very important. Then कृष्ण talked about self-effort, even though we acknowledge and appreciate the role of God's grace, self-effort can never be replaced by God's grace. self-effort is in addition to God's grace and therefore कृष्ण emphasized self-effort also, which is प्रयत्नः and then कृष्ण talked about self-integration of various personalities, the physical personality, the psychological personality, the intellectual personality, an individual is a composite of all these personalities and each personality is capable of positively or negatively influencing the other personality. For example, psychological personality can affect physical personality. What are psychosomatic diseases? They are nothing but diseases at the level of the physical personality caused by emotional problem. Similarly, the other personalities also will influence and therefore there must be integration of all the layers, this is self-integration. And then कृष्ण now says that if a person takes care of all these disciplines then the Self-knowledge is very very easy. जित-आत्मनः प्रशान्तस्य परमात्मा समाहितः, Self-knowledge becomes a walk over. And then कृष्ण talks about the benefit of gaining the Self-knowledge, which is in the form of total change of my perspective of the world and because of the change of perspective the world is no more capable of binding me. Because according to वेदान्त, the world does not have an intrinsic capacity to bind me, to persecute me, to torment me, the world or the people around don't have an intrinsic capacity to disturb me, I am giving the power to the world to disturb me. And how do I give the power to the world to disturb me? By an unhealthy perspective, by looking at the world in an unhealthy manner I allow the world to hook me. Therefore, the hook or key is in my hand. And it is this change of perspective which is brought about by Self-knowledge and this change of perspective can be presented in several ways. कृष्ण here presents it as सर्वत्र सम दर्शनम्. सम-लोष्ट-अश्म-काञ्चनः, because there is an intrinsic समत्वम् in the entire creation. Just as in several ornaments, in spite of superficial differences there is one समत्वम् in all the ornaments, which is nothing but, it is all gold, gold and gold. Even though ornaments are known by different names and they have different forms and functions, नाम-रूप-कर्म भेदs are there, but the essential substance is one. When my vision is focused on नाम-रूप-कर्म, name, form and function, I see difference and plurality, whereas when my vision is focused on the substance behind them, I see here also gold, here also gold, here also gold. Similarly, the ज्ञानि has learnt to see the fundamental substance of the whole creation. And therefore everywhere he sees that समम् ब्रह्म or सम आत्मा, we have seen this idea in the 5th chapter,

विद्या-विनय-सम्पन्ने ब्राह्मणे गवि हस्तिनि ।

शुनि च एव श्वपाके च पण्डिताः सम-दर्शिनः ॥ ७-१८॥

निर्दोषं हि समं ब्रह्म तस्माद् ब्रह्मणि ते स्थिताः ॥ ७-१९॥

This सम दर्शनम् is the change of perspective. So सम-लोष्ट-अश्म-काञ्चनः. And because of that the benefit that he enjoys is कूटस्थः, कूटस्थः means unshaken by the experiences in life. Like the example of the stoic philosopher that when he lost all his properties in business, first his response was what have I lost everything? And since he was a wise person, after two minutes he recovered and just added another word, what is that, so what. 'What' is संसार, 'So what' is मोक्षः, this is the only difference; put so everywhere, but remember to add that 'so' you require tremendous inner transformation. That is what is achieved by this knowledge, कूटस्थः means unshaken. Up to this we saw in the last class. Continuing;

सुहृत् मित्र-अरि-उदासीन-मध्यस्थ-द्वेष्य-बन्धुषु ।

साधुषु अपि च पापेषु सम-बुद्धिः विशिष्यते ॥ ६-९॥

सुहृत् मित्र-अरि-उदासीन-मध्यस्थ-द्वेष्य-बन्धुषु साधुषु अपि च पापेषु सम-बुद्धिः विशिष्यते ।

In the previous verse, Lord कृष्ण said that this wise man has got समत्वम् with regard to inanimate things, जड प्रपञ्चः, because सम-लोष्ट-अश्म-काञ्चनः, all these are inert things of the creation. In this verse कृष्ण says not only ज्ञानि has समत्वम् with regard to the जड प्रपञ्चः, अचेतन प्रपञ्चः, he has got सम दर्शनम् with regard to the चेतन दर्शनम् also, the living beings also. Because equanimity with regard to living beings is more difficult and especially with regard to human living beings समत्वम् is extremely difficult because we have lot of expectations from other human beings and therefore if you move with someone we easily tend to develop either राग or द्वेष or क्रोध, something or the other, therefore here कृष्ण says a ज्ञानि has overcome विषम दर्शनम्, with regard to other human beings also and he gives a wide range of human beings. In the previous chapter, कृष्ण talked about a wide range of living beings, ब्राह्मणे गवि हस्तिनि, elephant he took, dog he took, a brahmin he took, a dog eater he took, different living beings were taken, here in the 6th chapter, among human beings themselves how many varieties are there, he gives a list. What is that variety?

- i) सुहृत् – those good people who are the well-wishers of everyone. So सुहृत् means स्वभावेन हित आशंसी by his or her very own nature he is the well-wisher of everyone. Therefore when anyone needs any help his mind naturally goes to help him. So स्वभावेन, naturally without any condition or expectation the one who is a well-wisher is सुहृत्.

- ii) Then मित्रम्, मित्रम् means another good person, but he is not स्वभावेन हित आशंसी, but स्नेह वशेन हित आशंसी because the other person is known to me and therefore I will help and if the other person is unknown I don't want to help. Therefore the second person is a conditional helper, the first person is an unconditional helper, so मित्रम्.
- iii) Then the third one is अरि, so you have to split the verse properly, the word अरि you will not see in the verse, but you will get it if you split it properly, सुहृत् मित्र-अरि-उदासीन, अरि+उदासीन becomes अर्युदासीन and अ is hidden in the word मित्रम्, therefore don't search for अरि and that is because of सन्धि rule. So अरि means an enemy, परोक्षम् अप्रियः. So the one who is not in front of me, but who does harm, indirect harmer, the one who harms is an enemy.
- iv) Then the next type of person is उदासीनः, उदासीनः means an indifferent person, he doesn't good to me, he doesn't do any harm to me, he doesn't bother about my existence at all, this indifference the one who has got is called उदासीनः, विवदमानयोः उपेक्षकः उदासीनः. When there is a problem between two people and if I don't want to interfere at all and I don't want to help also, either of them, then I am called उदासीनः, indifferent.
- v) Then the next type of person is मध्यस्थ, मध्यस्थ is विवदमानयोः हित आशंसी. When there are two people having problems, this person is interested in the well-being of both of them. If I am interested in the well-being of only one then I am पक्षपाति, but if I am interested in the well-being of both then I am a mediator, I am a मध्यस्थः, like the UN coming when there is some problem, they become मध्यस्थः.
- vi) Then the next one is द्वेष्यः, the one who is hateful, द्वेष्यः, द्वेष योग्यः, a person whose behavior is such that it will only generate hatred in my mind. Such a behavior, the one who has got, the one provokes hatred, the one who generates hatred by his or her behavior is called द्वेष्यः, द्वेष्य योग्यः, प्रत्यक्षम् अप्रियः. अरिः is परोक्षम् अप्रियः, द्वेष्यः is प्रत्यक्षम् अप्रियः and

- vii) Then there is another type of person, बन्धुः, बन्धुः means a relative, the one who is related to me through my family is called बन्धुः, the one who is connected, बध्यते इति बन्धु the one who is connected by family relationship.
- viii) And finally साधुः, साधुः means a noble person who follows धर्म, धार्मिक पुरुष in general. Previously we had the word सुहृत् which means who is doing some good action to others, but here the word साधुः means whether he is helping others or not, there may not be an opportunity; You can do help when? When there is somebody needing help, but even when there is no help needed, a person who lives a life of values, that person is called साधुः, धार्मिक पुरुषः.
- ix) Then पापेषु, पापः means the one who leads a life of अधर्म, so unrighteous person, अधार्मिक पुरुष. These are the types of people that we have. In fact, if you search we will have more varieties also.

And what is ज्ञानि's attitude? Towards all of them, सम-बुद्धिः विशिष्यते, the ज्ञानि has got सम-बुद्धिः, he has got the equanimity. Now this can put some questions in our mind. How can I see all the people equally when one person is a criminal and another person is a saint, how can I look at both of them equally? Does it mean that I should do नमस्कार to the criminal also? Therefore what does it mean? The सम-बुद्धि must be understood very well. I have discussed this in the 5th chapter itself, विद्या-विनय-सम्पन्ने, I have explained, but being important I will like to remind that again. This समत्वम् can be looked from two angles,

a) One is the philosophical angle; philosophical angle means ज्ञानि looks at the true nature of everyone which is the आत्मस्वरूपम्. All the differences in character belong to the अनात्मा alone, the body-mind-complex alone, but behind the body-mind-complex everyone has got one reality which is God. God or आत्मा is uniformly present in everyone and therefore everyone is innately good only. There is no criminal in the world. According to वेदान्त, there is no criminal in the world because everyone is noble, everyone is saintly. So saintliness is the nature of everyone, nobility is the nature of everyone, we have got only crimes which are only incidental impurity on the saintly person, no one is innately criminal, everyone is innately lovable, beautiful person, but upon that person there is some incidental impurity, which impurity can be removed. On the removal of impurity even the worst criminal is a lovable person. शङ्कराचार्य gives an example in विवेकचूडामणि, the example of a piece of sandal wood. Sandal wood is innately fragrant. It has got only fragrance as its nature, but when the sandal wood is kept wet for some time and it is not used at all, because of the wetness a coating of moss is formed over the sandalwood and that coating is so foul smelling that it overpowers the innate fragrance of the sandalwood and if I am going to superficially look at the sandalwood and say that it is foul-smelling and I throw away, I am committing a mistake. What is required is a little bit of rubbing. When the superficial coating goes away it emanates fragrance again, there is a beautiful वासना. And therefore, we all have got unhealthy behavior caused by ignorance and error. Ignorance is also removable, error is also removable, because of the superficial quoting of अज्ञान and अध्यास now we are so foul-smelling, राग-द्वेषः, काम-क्रोधः, लोभ-मोहः, मद-मात्सर्यः, in fact, every criminal has got this coating and in fact, everyone has got crime in a milder form or an intense form and a ज्ञानि is one who has recognized this fact and therefore his philosophy is simple, everybody is lovable, this is the basic. Nobody deserves hatred in the creation, अद्वेष्टा सर्व-भूतानाम्. Therefore, as far as a person is concerned that person deserves what, love and upon that person there is a temporary encrustation of what: misbehavior or crime and as far as that wrong action is concerned even that does not deserve hatred, action requires appropriate treatment. Person requires love, wrong behavior requires what: appropriate treatment - person also doesn't deserve hatred, wrong action also doesn't deserve hatred; person requires love, wrong action requires the appropriate treatment. The appropriate treatment may be साम दान भेद or even दण्ड. Even when the punishment is given, punishment is not backed by hatred, punishment is painful treatment just as the doctor's treatment is sometimes painful. And therefore a ज्ञानि's vision is what: समत्वम् and what is समत्वम्, everybody is beautiful आत्मा, सत्यम् शिवम् सुन्दरम् आत्मा and that does not mean he will treat the criminal and saint equally, when he faces the criminal, you remove the crime, whatever is the step to be taken he will take, if it is advising, he will do, if it is threatening, he will do, if it is imprisonment, that also he will recommend, but there is no iota of hatred, exactly like a mother treating the child appropriately, whatever be the treatment given to different children there is one uniform attitude, one child requires punishment perhaps, another child does not require punishment, but there is no uniformity, what is that: love, love, love. So this is the समत्वम् from philosophical angle.

b) Then the समत्वम् can be understood from another angle also, that is समत्वम् is freedom from रागः and द्वेषः, neither attachment, nor hatred. And why he does not want attachment or hatred? Both attachment and hatred are forms of dependence alone. When I say I am attached to this clock or watch, what does it mean? I am dependent on the presence of the watch for my peace and happiness. So attachment is nothing but depending upon the presence of an object. When I am attached to X, I want the X to be around me. What is hatred? Hatred is another form of dependence, dependence on what: dependence upon the absence of that object. So when I say I hate some one, what do I expect? I want that person to get lost. That means I want the absence of that person, therefore dependent on what, the absence of that person to be comfortable and attachment means I want the presence of that person to be comfortable. Therefore both attachment and hatred are dependence upon the presence and absence of things and beings and a ज्ञानि is समः means, he doesn't have both attachment and hatred, that means he doesn't mind the presence of things also and he doesn't mind the absence of things also and therefore, साधुषु अपि च पापेषु सम-बुद्धिः विशिष्यते. Continuing;

Verse No .10

योगी युञ्जीत सततमात्मानं रहसि स्थितः ।

एकाकी यतचित्तात्मा निराशीरपरिब्रह्मः ॥ ६-१०॥

योगी युञ्जीत सततम् आत्मानम् रहसि स्थितः ।

एकाकी यत-चित्त-आत्मा निराशीः अपरिब्रह्मः ॥ ६-१०॥

योगी रहसि स्थितः एकाकी, यत-चित्त-आत्मा, निराशीः, अपरिब्रह्मः (च सन्) सततम् आत्मानम् युञ्जीत ।

So with the 9th verse, कृष्ण temporarily concludes the topic of बहिरङ्ग साधनम्, the general disciplines to be observed and he also emphasized the बहिरङ्ग साधनम् by saying that if a person follows these disciplines then Self-knowledge is easier and by that he will change the very perspective of the world and enjoy equanimity. And therefore अर्जुन, if you want Self-knowledge and change of perspective you have to start with what: these बहिरङ्ग साधनानि, the first बहिरङ्ग साधनम् being कर्मयोग itself. And this बहिरङ्ग साधन topic is not totally over, कृष्ण will again bring some more general discipline, in the later portion of the 6th chapter, for the time being he has stopped the बहिरङ्ग साधन topic and now he is entering अन्तरङ्ग साधनम् topic, from verse no.10 up to verse no.15. 10 to 15 अन्तरङ्ग

साधनानि. And what do you mean अन्तरङ्ग साधनम्, specific disciplines to be observed just before meditation, while बहिरङ्ग साधन is to be observed throughout all our transactions, अन्तरङ्ग साधन need not be observed throughout the day, just before the meditation these specific disciplines are to be observed. And in this अन्तरङ्ग साधन, कृष्ण discusses eight stages or eight steps and if we observe these steps, then the meditation will be very very effective; without these steps meditation will not effective, we will be sitting for some time, but everything other than meditation will take place. And the meditator will not get peace of mind, the other people will get peace of mind because this person is quiet, anyway it is useful. What are those 8 stages? Here also does not systematically develop, the ideas are jumbled up ideas, therefore we have to sort out to see properly.

1) The first point to be observed is देशः, the place of meditation. And कृष्ण suggests let the place a secluded place, where the disturbances are not there, to the extent possible, wherever you go, there will be either loudspeakers or dogs, something or the other will be there, but to the extent possible try to get far, far from the maddening crowd. Therefore seclusion is point No.1. Then कृष्ण says try to be alone, this joint meditation if you are not careful it may end up in wonderful gossip. Like children plan joint study. Not all children, some children and they do everything other than study. There is a possibility, if they are able to do together joint meditation has got its own benefit, both advantages and disadvantages are there, in group meditation one disadvantage is if you doze off others will see. If you are alone you can afford to do that, no problem. So therefore, कृष्ण says, एकाकी – alone you meditate. Let it be secluded place, be alone. Then let the place be spiritually and physically clean. Physical cleanliness you can appreciate because otherwise insects will be there, mosquitoes will be there and other things will be there. And by spiritual purity we mean that the place should contribute to spiritual thinking. It should be associated with spirituality. So that by the law of association, like you go to an आश्रम or temple or your own पूजा room, by the law of association you think of the Lord or spirituality. Suppose you go to the dining hall, very clean alright, even if it is very very clean the moment you go the thought will be 'vada' ध्यानम्, meditation on 'idlis' and 'dosais' only, that will only come. शङ्कराचार्य also adds a place which is naturally spiritual or artificially made spiritual, like sacred rivers, etc., गङ्गा तीरम्, if you cannot go to गङ्गा, we have only Coovam तीरम्, you cannot go there and meditate, then शङ्कराचार्य says that you artificially create an atmosphere by having the pictures of महात्माs, pictures of gods or writing of महात्माs, you light up a lamp, and so when you have those things then you think of spirituality and therefore point no.1: a place which is spiritually clean, physically clean, secluded and without any other people, that is you alone. This is देश नियम, stage No.1.

2) Then the 2nd one कृष्ण doesn't talk about, which we have to supply is: कालः, the time of meditation. Generally, in the tradition they say early morning is ideal for meditation, because the advantage is that yesterday's worries have been diluted by sleep, if not gone, at least it has become diluted. That is why sleep is a very big gift of the Lord, however sorrowful a person may be, a good sleep will certainly reduce the impact of that. Therefore early morning because of the sleep yesterday's worries have been diluted today's worries have not yet started, that is why better you don't read the newspaper before, if you read the newspaper gone, in meditation you will get only those things. Therefore, yesterday's worry gone, today worries have been started, that junction is early morning and therefore that time is considered to be सत्त्विक कालः, ब्राह्म मुहूर्तः and therefore that is सात्त्विक time, where the mind is neither राजसिक or तामसिक. The mind is not तामसिक because I have slept well and the mind is not राजसिक because I have not started the day-to-day activity, because even the mind's state is determined by the Sun, even the scientists they do talk about the body's metabolism being connected to the sun-rise and sun-set, as the sun becomes more and more powerful, the body also become more and more active, it becomes राजसिक and it is required, otherwise we will be sleeping only. Therefore along with the sun our activity should increase. As the sun sets, we will find that we also gradually lose our dynamism. So early morning, neither राजसिक nor तामसिक, but it is सत्त्विक काल. This is the general rule, but we should remember that it is not a compulsory rule. Because from individual to individual, the conveniences vary and therefore we say any time in which you are relaxed and not sleepy, that is ideal for meditation, whether it is two p.m. in the afternoon or whether it 12 midnight, we don't care, what is important is mind is neither too much wandering nor the mind is drowsy. That alert, non-extrovert mind is called सत्त्विक mind. Whenever you have such a mind, meditate. Suppose somebody says, mind is never like that, so then you fix up a time and then make the mind सत्त्विक by practice, taking other routine into account you fix up a time and then the make the mind सत्त्विक by sheer practice. That is काल नियमः and what about the duration, not only time is important, even duration, with regard to duration also we are not very insistent, because quantity is not important, quality is important. So therefore if you try to do too much meditation, you will find you may be sitting for three years, you will find that in 60% you might have unknowingly dozed and another 30-40% you might have worried about all other things. Therefore, why go on lengthening. Therefore, even 15-20 minutes more than enough. That is काल नियमः.

3) Then the third step कृष्ण talks about is आसनम्. Where should you be seated, which means that you should be seated, that is the first condition; 'can I stand and do' you shouldn't ask that, OK, so therefore you won't get balance and if you doze off, you will break your head by falling down. Therefore for the safety of your head better you sit down. And sit down also we don't insist, if your knees cannot bend. Such issues they never discussed in those days, chairs were not there perhaps. Therefore we say if you can sit down, it is well and good, if you cannot sit down, sit anywhere you are comfortable, because we are not concentrating on this aspect, our main aim is what is mind does and therefore sit down, if possible. And when you are sitting down, कृष्ण says have an आसनम् and कृष्ण talks about the आसनम्, consisting of three layers, one is the deer skin, another is the दर्म grass and another is a piece of cloth, the details we will see when the verse comes, he also talks about the preparation of the आसन. And कृष्ण says that every meditator must have his own or her own आसनम्, not for sharing. The principle behind this prescription is that the आसनम् should be neither too soft nor too hard. If it is too soft your back will bend, it won't be straight; if it is too hard it will pain and you will be meditating on the pain. So therefore let it neither be too soft nor too hard. Let it be neither too high nor too low, if it is too high you may fall down, if it is too low insects may come. So this is the आसन prescription. So now-a-days you get very thick clothes are available, special आसन्स are there, no difficulty at all, you need not go in search of deer skin. So देश, काल, आसन.

4) No.4, the posture of the body, शरीर स्थितिः. कृष्ण says you should sit steadily which means you should have a maximum base area. If the legs are kept as much a part as possible you have got a wide base area, when you have got a wide base area the posture is more steady. So keeping a wide base. And then कृष्ण says keep the body, neck and head straight and then let it be relaxed, not tense; so this is the posture.

5) Then the fifth item that कृष्ण talks about is, प्राण साम्यं, प्राण साम्यं means even breathing, the breathing should be relaxed and even, smooth and even, because breathing and our thoughts are interconnected, शास्त्रयोः द्वयी शक्तिमूलका, because the thoughts are connected to the ज्ञान शक्ति and then the breathing प्राण is connected to

क्रिया शक्ति and but both of them are connected to the basic माया शक्ति and therefore both are interconnected; so the simple example, like the four legs of a table or a desk. If you want to pull the desk all the four legs will come, I need not hold all the four. No, you just hold one leg of the desk and pull, what about the other three, it will come, because they are connected to one plank. So therefore, if the breathing is disturbed thoughts are disturbed, if the breathing is smooth and slow and even the mind also is even. That is why when we are extremely disturbed the breathing also is disturbed and therefore, प्राण साम्यं, this step कृष्ण does not mention in the 6th chapter, but he has mentioned in the 5th chapter itself,

स्पर्शान् कृत्वा बहिः बाह्यान् चक्षुः च एव अन्तरे भ्रुवोः ।

नास-अभ्यन्तर-चारिणौ प्राण-अपानौ समौ कृत्वा, प्राण अपान means inhalation and exhalation must be rhythmic, this is प्राण साम्यं, this is the fifth stage.

6) Then the sixth step is इन्द्रिय निग्रहः – sensory restraint, because sense organs are capable of influencing the mind, because every sense organ is a gateway through which alone the world enters your mind. It is a very good door, शब्द स्पर्श रूप रस गन्धः, all the five enter, that is why when you sit in meditation and somebody is making masala dosai, whether you like it or not, it goes, so today in our home masala dosai has been made, then you have got the dosai ध्यानम्. Therefore what to do with sense organs, कृष्ण says may you deliberately withdraw the sense organs by turning the mind away and then कृष्ण specifically treats the sense organ of eye, because the eyes are the most powerful sense organ. And dealing with the eyes is a little bit difficult also, because if the eyes are open whether you like or not, whatever is in front of the eyes will enter. You see an ant and from the ant you will be reminded of the sweet, then you will wonder about so many things. So if eyes are open distraction. Why can't I close the eyes. Gone, as it is we tend to sleep, and when the eyes are closed, by the law of association we may tend to sleep. And therefore कृष्ण says let the eyes be half-closed as though looking at the tip of your nose, as though looking at the tip of your nose means partially closed, so this is the इन्द्रिय निग्रहः. Six steps - So देश, काल, आसन, शरीर स्थिति, प्राण साम्यं, इन्द्रिय निग्रहः.

7) Then the seventh step is मनो निग्रहः. As we go further it becomes tougher also, the mind has to be withdrawn from mundane fields, it should be taken away from all the worldly roles you play in life, the thoughts connected with you as husband, as wife, as father, as employer, as neighbor, as a business person, so you have got several personalities and along with each personality there is a set of anxieties, worries and therefore I should shed, I should die to all those roles of life. That is why in some books they say, become mentally a संन्यासि. Tell yourselves that you are not father for 15 minutes, later you pick up your worries, for 15 minutes I am not father, not husband, be a संन्यासि or if at all you are particular about relationship, relate to either God or to your गुरु, because these are the two relationships which has no problem. With God no problem, with गुरु I hope no problem, if there is problem, renounce गुरु also during meditation. In कैवल्योपनिषत् it is said: गुरुम् प्रणम्य, you invoke the गुरु, because when गुरु is invoked the teaching is reminded by the Law of association, because it is in the context of spiritual teaching I am related to गुरु, not that I have got a रुद्राक्ष business contract or anything, it is field of Self-knowledge and therefore if at all you want relationship, meditate as a शिष्य or meditate as a भक्त or meditate as a संन्यासि. शिष्य role, भक्त role, or संन्यासि. Any other role headache, head will roll. So this is called the withdraw of the mind and you can make use of your devotion to the Lord for that, surrender to the Lord, if you have worried about your children, tell yourselves, Lord is there to take care of them,

15 minutes you hand over your responsibilities to God, this is मनो निग्रहः, the details कृष्ण will say later.

8) Then the 8th step and the last is: बुद्धि निश्चयः, बुद्धि निश्चयः means conviction regarding the necessity and the utility of meditation. I should be convinced of meditation, that it will help me in absorbing the teaching, without conviction if I sit I will be restless, because I feel that time is going I have so much work to do and therefore it will become a mechanical routine, like some people doing पूजा, सन्ध्यावन्दनम्, etc., kada kadaand finish. There will not be wholehearted, therefore what will you do, sitting in meditation also you will plan - after going to office I have to do this, that and meditation will be a planning session. Therefore I should be convinced of the role of meditation. Therefore शास्त्रिय study becomes important and if you study शास्त्र you will know, how उपासना is important, निदिध्यासन is also important, this is called बुद्धि निश्चयः. So with this conviction you sit in meditation, withdraw the sense organs, withdraw the mind, now you are fully available for the actual meditation.

These 8 steps are not meditation, OK, these 8 steps are specific preparation, that is why called it अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि. The details we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदत्त्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 06, VERSES 10-13

In the first nine verses of the 6th chapter, Lord कृष्ण dealt with some important general disciplines, बहिरङ्ग साधनानि, to be observed by a person who wants to practice meditation. And in this list of साधनस, कृष्ण included equanimity of mind, self-confidence, self-effort and self-integration. All these are important, if a person wants to be successful in meditation. And these disciplines are to be observed not at a particular time but throughout the daily transactions. Having talked about these बहिरङ्ग साधनस in these nine verses, now कृष्ण has entered the topic of अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि, the specific disciplines to be observed just before the practice of meditation and this topic is from verse no.10 up to verse no.15, which I introduced in the last class. And I pointed out that कृष्ण is prescribing eight-fold steps to be observed just before meditation and those 8 steps are

- 1) देश – choosing the right place,
- 2) कालः – choosing the right time,
- 3) आसनम् – choosing the appropriate seat over which one has to sit and meditate,
- 4) शरीर स्थितिः – the posture of the body at the time of meditation,
- 5) प्राण साम्यम् – evenness of the breathing process or rhythmic breathing,
- 6) then इन्द्रिय निग्रहः – the withdrawal of sense organs from the external world, then मनो निग्रहः, देश, कालः, आसन, शरीर स्थितिः, प्राण साम्यम्, इन्द्रिय निग्रहः,
- 7) then मनो निग्रहः – seventh stage, withdrawal of the mind from worldly feel or worldly roles that I play and then finally and most importantly,
- 8) बुद्धि निश्चयः – intellectual conviction regarding the role of meditation in spiritual साधन.

These are the 8 factors that कृष्ण is talking about, but कृष्ण does not systematically arrange them, all these 8 topics are mixed together and some of the topics are even repeated. With this background we will study the verses. In the 10th verse, कृष्ण begins the discussion: योगी सततम् युज्जीत – a meditator should regularly practice meditation. So it is not in fits and starts, just like the regular physical exercise, they insist that regularity is important. If you do for a few days now and then in the month of June you do a few days and then in November you do a few days, it will not give you full benefit, for any physical exercise to be beneficial regularity is important. कृष्ण applies the same principle with regard to ध्यानम् also, therefore he uses the word, सततम् – regularly, सततम् आत्मानम्, आत्मा means the mind, one should apply the mind in meditation. And in which place, रहसि स्थितः – in a secluded place, which I enumerated as the first item, देश, कृष्ण uses the word रहसि स्थितः, रहसि means a secluded place, not accessible to others. And how many people should do meditation together? कृष्ण says एकाकी. Don't have another person, because the other person may distract you. And therefore एकाकी सन् रहसि स्थितः. And कृष्ण doesn't talk about the appropriate time, that we have to supply, सत्त्विक काले युज्जीत and what should be condition of the mind and body, यतचित्त-आत्मा, चित्तम् means mind, आत्मा in this context means physical body, चित्तम् means mind and आत्मा in this context means body, one should keep the body and mind controlled, under one's own control; so यतम् means discipline. And that is why in the पतञ्जलि's योगशास्त्र, they don't prescribe meditation in the beginning, meditation is prescribed only in the later stages. He talks about 8 stages, यम, नियम, आसन, प्राणायाम, प्रत्याहार, धारण, ध्यान, समाधि. You can find कृष्ण talking about all of them. यम and नियम is conduct-regulation, without character the mind cannot be quiet, a characterless mind will be a disturbed mind and therefore यम and नियम talk about the regulation of one's conduct or behavior. And then आसन is keeping the body fit, because you can forget your body only when the body is fit, when you wear the shoe and the shoe fits your feet perfectly, you don't even feel that you are wearing the shoe, but if the shoes are not fitting, then one corner of the mind is always turned towards that, because there is discomfort, therefore, the law is when the shoe fits you forget the shoes. When your body is fit you can forget the body. Therefore आसन are prescribed in the अष्टाङ्ग योग so that your body is pliable, healthy and fit, so that when you sit for 45 minutes or 20 minutes, why even five minutes, it can sit in one posture without zig-zagging. So therefore आसन is for physical fitness and that is indicated here यतचित्त-आत्मा – may you keep your body fit by practicing योग आसन. योग आसन is a wonderful system. Now only they are recognizing this all over the world and in many medical institutions, योग is also made an integral part, not only आसन even प्राणायाम. Thus आसन and प्राणायाम help me in keeping the body fit and under my control, यतचित्त-आत्मा. निराशीः, आशीः means desire, निराशीः means without desires, which means without binding desires. शास्त्र allows legitimate non-binding desires, like a parent, being interested in the growth and well-being of the children is very legitimate, but it should be maintained non-binding. What do you mean by non-binding? Those desires do not create anxiety in your mind. And how to get rid of the anxiety? There is only one way, that is शरणागति, Oh Lord, you take care of my children, I will do what I should and what I can, but ultimately my children's future is not totally under my control, there is the society, there is the TV, there is the MTV, so many things are there, so many extraneous influences and the child itself has got its प्रारब्धः and therefore I am only one of the contributors, I am not the controller of the future of my family members and therefore I contribute my best and leave the rest to the Lord. If I do that my desires are non-binding desires, non-binding desires are non-poisonous desires. A poisonous desire is a disturbing desire and therefore कृष्ण says, at least during the time of meditation surrender all your desires at the feet of the Lord so that you have got a calm mind. And then अपिग्रहः, परिग्रहः means possession and अपरिग्रहः means non-possession, शास्त्र always emphasizes a simple living; high thinking generally goes with simple living. Why do we say simple living is required for high thinking? If it is a luxurious living then there are so many possessions with me and then naturally the mind is bothered about their maintenance, because योग is always followed by क्षेम. In fact, all our worries are only for these two things, योग means accomplishment, क्षेम means maintenance. So either I am worried about getting things, or I am worried about maintaining things; reduce both of them. Reduction of योग is called निराशीः, reduction of क्षेम is अपरिग्रहः; lead a simple life. In fact, शङ्कराचार्य defines अपरिग्रहः as संन्यास. So reduce your possession means renounce the world, but even if one renounces the world and becomes a संन्यासि then also there are minimum possessions, dress is there, पादुका is there, रुद्राक्ष माला is there, now very costly than even gold, so therefore, even if we have some possessions with regard to those possessions don't have ownership. Always tell in your mind that these belong to the Lord. I am only a possessor for worldly purposes, for legal purposes, but really speaking I am only a trustee, the Lord has given them for my temporary use and the Lord will take them back. And if I don't have that ownership, ownership flat, where there is ownership, you are flat, that is called ownership flat, anyway, you can have flats or apartments, now flats are replaced by apartments - from British English we are gradually shifting to American English. So therefore whatever you possess, at least at the time of meditation you tell, none of them belongs to me. Even your relationship, children, grandchildren, you practice telling, they are children of God. I am only given an opportunity to be with them, In fact, to learn the art of loving. Unless I have got an opportunity how will I learn, therefore Lord wants to train me in the art of loving, therefore they are the children of God, temporarily given but they do not belong to me, as somebody nicely said, children are not of you, but they have come to the world through you, the appropriate preposition is not “of”, if you put ‘of’ – relationship, belonging ship and once you put “of” you will be off. Therefore अपरिग्रहः, reduce possessions and with regard to the minimum possessions also give up the sense of ownership. Have the idea of trusteeship. So अपरिग्रहः, these are all the conditions, these are all not meditation, these are all preparation, preparation is so much big that there is a doubt whether one will come to meditation.

Verse No .11

शुचौ देशे प्रतिष्ठाप्य स्थिरमासनमात्मनः ।

नात्युच्छ्रितं नातिनीचं चैलाजिनकुशोत्तरम् ॥ ६-११॥

शुचौ देशे प्रतिष्ठाप्य स्थिरम् आसनम् आत्मानः ।

न अति-उच्छ्रितम् न अति-नीचम् चैल-अजिन-कुश-उत्तरम् ॥ ६-११॥

शुचौ देशे प्रतिष्ठाप्यः कृष्ण gives another condition with regard to the place of meditation. I told you that कृष्ण has not systematically arranged, therefore in the previous श्लोक he gave one idea regarding देश and in this श्लोक, he is giving another job. It is our job to collect all these ideas and put together. In the previous श्लोक, what was the idea given? रहसि स्थितः – the place should be secluded. In this verse, कृष्ण says शुचौ देशे and that secluded place should be clean physically and also clean spiritually and spiritual cleanliness means the place should trigger, the place should invoke only religious or spiritual thoughts in your mind. So choose either a naturally sacred place or choose an artificially sacred place, any place can be made artificially sacred by lighting a lamp, lighting an incense stick, if you don't have asthma problem (incense stick can disturb), keep the photos of महात्माs or देवताs, keep the writings of great people, they are all making the place spiritually pure, ennobling places, that is called शुचि देशः and then कृष्ण comes to the third factor, आसनम्. So the next step is fixing up the आसनम्. What should be the type of आसनम्? चैल-अजिन-कुश-उत्तरम्, so three layers of आसनम् - the first layer is कुश grass or दर्भ grass, which is considered to be sacred grass, so which is a type of long grass which can be dried up and now-a-days even they are making आसनम्s out of it, neatly stitched and according to the tradition, we believe that कुश grass can give concentration, because कुश grass has got a sharp edge symbolizing the sharpness, convergence, that is why we have an idiom in संस्कृत, कुशाग्र बुद्धि, कुश अग्र बुद्धि, the intellect which is sharp like the tip of कुश grass and mythologically also, they say it can induce concentration and therefore they had the कुश grass and over the कुश grass, अजिनम्, अजिनम् means deer skin, deer skin also they considered a sacred thing. In fact, when a वैदिक student takes the sacred thread, he has to take the अजिनम् also, अजिन धारणम् and therefore there is a special मन्त्र to take the अजिनम्, he was using as a dress also, he was also using as a आसनम् also and when he takes the अजिनम्, they chant a मन्त्र, that this deer skin should protect me from negative forces.

इयम् दुरुक्तात्परिबाधमाना शर्म वरुथम् पुनती न आगात् प्राणापानाभ्याम्
वतमाभरन्ती ॥ बोधायनगृह्यसूत्रम् २-७-१३॥

So there is certain मन्त्रs for दण्ड धारणम्, मौञ्जि धारणम्, अजिन धारणम्, etc., therefore it is considered a sacred thing. Therefore a layer of कुश and a layer of अजिनम्. And over that, there is a third layer, what is that, चैलम्, चैलम् means a piece of cloth, otherwise on the deer skin there will be hair and the sharp hair can prick and then your meditation will be disturbed, therefore over the deer skin it is spread, these put together is the आसनम्. So चैलम्, अजिन, कुश-उत्तरम्. शङ्कराचार्य carefully says, the order is also important, first कुश, then अजिनम्, then चैलम्, don't reverse it, if you reverse it on the top will be कुश grass, that will prick you, therefore don't reverse, the order must be maintained. Now after reading this you might get confused

स्वामिजि, now where to go for deer skin or we supposed to hunt and kill a deer, therefore we should remember, we need not literally follow these instructions, we have only to take the spirit behind it. The idea is there should be an आसनम्, which is neither too hard nor too soft, that is the only idea, we need not get all these things. If they are there, wonderful, otherwise also wonderful. And where should this आसनम् be fixed? न अति-उच्छ्रितम् न अति-नीचम् – it should not be too high, it should not be too low, if it is too high one may fall and break the head, if it is too low insects may come. And such an आसनम्, आत्मनः आसनम्, कृष्ण says your own आसनम्, here आत्मनः does not mean सत्-चित्-आनन्द आत्मा, सत्-चित्-आनन्द आत्मा doesn't have any आसनम्, it is all-pervading, so here, आत्मनः is reflexive pronoun, one's own आसनम् one should use, which means every meditator should have his own or her own private exclusive आसनम्. Just as they say in tradition, slippers cannot be exchanged; they have the शास्त्र विधि. Similarly, here also, आसनम्, what should you do, स्थिरम् प्रतिष्ठाप्य – may you fix that आसनम् firmly. Why firmly, because if you use a plank, wooden plank, in those days they used to use, now also the plank is used and you will find that it will be all plain in the beginning, but after some time, the plank will shake, it will not be even and suppose you sit on that आसन, like the see-saw chair you will be moving like that, कृष्ण says don't choose such आसन्s, it should be स्थिरम्, steady. So thus, three items we have seen, देश, काल we supplied and आसनम्. Further:

Verse No .12

तत्रैकाग्रं मनः कृत्वा यतचित्तेन्द्रियक्रियः ।

उपविश्यासने युञ्ज्याद्योगमात्मविशुद्धये ॥ ६-१२॥

तत्र एकाग्रम् मनः कृत्वा यत-चित्त-इन्द्रिय-क्रियः ।

उपविश्य आसने युञ्ज्यात् योगम् आत्म-विशुद्धये ॥ ६-१२॥

शुचौ देशे, न अति-उच्छ्रितम्, न अति-नीचम्, चैत-अजिन-कुश-उत्तरम्, आत्मानः स्थिरम् आसनम् प्रतिष्ठाप्य तत्र आसने उपविश्य मनः एकाग्रम् कृत्वा, यत-चित्त-इन्द्रिय-क्रियः (सन्) आत्म-विशुद्धये योगम् युज्यात् ।

तत्र आसने उपविश्य, तत्र in the first line, आसने उपविश्य in the second line, after fixing the आसनम् one should be seated on the आसनम्, तत्र आसने उपविश्य, यत-चित्त-इन्द्रिय-क्रियः – one should withdraw from all the activities, चित्तम् means the mind, इन्द्रियम् means the sense organs, both the ज्ञानेन्द्रियम्, the sense organs of knowledge and कर्मेन्द्रियाणि, the organs of action, क्रियः means their functions, यत means they are all restrained, one should deliberately consciously restrain the mind and sense organs, you give an auto suggestion to your own mind, now I have an appointment with myself. In our busy schedule we keep appointment with so many people and during one appointment, when somebody else comes, what do you do, wait outside. So we are very strict and particular, similarly, here also, tell your mind this is the time for myself, I have time for everything in life but I am not taking the interest of myself and therefore I withdraw from all other activities. And having withdrawn the mind from the world, what should I do, stilling the mind is not the aim, having withdrawn from other objects I have to direct my mind towards the chosen object of meditation. Like building a dam, so I stop the river water from being wasted by flowing into the ocean, so when I build a dam the water is conserved and that stored water is channelized for irrigation purposes, otherwise the water will go waste. Similarly, the mind has got tremendous energy which we are wasting through unnecessary worries, in meditation I stop the wasteful flow of mental energy and then that stored mental energy or thought I direct towards a chosen thing. Therefore कृष्ण says एक अग्रम् – by converging the mind. So meditation is like a lens, when the sun rays are traveling parallelly they don't have that much energy, but you use a lens and all the beams of the sunlight are converged on a point, then the energy is so much that that energy can burn an object. What an ordinary sunlight cannot do, the converged sunlight can do. In fact, one of the methods of lighting the fire in the वैदिक sacrifice is by using lens, one method is अरणि मथनम्, another method is using lens. Similarly, here also, through meditation I converge. Therefore मनः एकाग्रम् कृत्वा, युज्यात् – one should practice meditation, योगम् युज्यात्, योगम् means ध्यानम्. And what is the purpose of meditation, आत्म-विशुद्धये, आत्म-विशुद्धये, here the word आत्मा means mind, विशुद्धिः means purification, आत्म- विशुद्धिः means purification of mind. So from this it is very clear, that कृष्ण does not prescribe meditation for knowledge, he doesn't say practice meditation to get Self-realization, कृष्ण doesn't prescribe meditation for realization, because according to us Self-knowledge has to come only through the study of scriptures, वेदान्त शास्त्र विचारेण ज्ञानोत्पत्ति. As I said in the introduction itself, meditation cannot, does not and will not produce any new knowledge. Then it is meant for what: removing the impurities of the mind, the impurity being two-fold, मलम् and विक्लेषः, मलम् means unhealthy ways of thinking, राग, द्वेष, काम, क्रोध, लोभ, मोह, मद, मात्सर्य etc., are called मलम्, uncultured thoughts, unrefined thoughts, indecent thoughts are called मलम्. And विक्लेषः is the second impurity which is extrovertedness of the mind, restlessness of the mind, therefore, for removing the मलम् and for removing the विक्लेषः, मल विक्लेष रूप अशुद्धि निवृत्त्यर्थम् ध्यानाभ्यासः and after purifying the mind, one has to necessary study the scriptures for knowledge. Then the next question comes, suppose a person practices meditation after the study of scriptures, when what is the purpose? Because in my introduction I said, meditation can be either before scriptural study or after. If it is before, it is called by a technical name उपासनाम्, if it is after scriptural study it is called निदिध्यासनम्. The purpose of उपासनाम् is what, मल विक्लेष निवृत्तिः. Now after Vedantic study, after receiving the knowledge अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि, suppose a person practices meditation, then what is the purpose, he says then also it is for purification only. Purification from what, from which impurity? We say, even after Vedantic knowledge we have got the habitual वासना of body identification which is called देह वासना, देह अभिमान वासना, otherwise called विपरीत भावना, otherwise called विपर्यय. And as long as those habits are there knowledge cannot help me. It is like you shift one of your books or anything, we often rearrange things in our house, bureau we shift from here to there, we take some book from here to there, you just shift, after shifting you will find that after a few days again you go back to the old place. Why is it because of ignorance? It is not ignorance because you have rearranged the place, if somebody else had done, at least you are ignorant I can say, but even after deliberating changing, next day I go to the same place, that is called habit and similarly, that body identification is an entrenched habit, therefore in meditation I have to train my mind, I am not this body and the removal of this देह वासना is called आत्म-विशुद्धये. So thus, whether it is before study of scriptures or after the study of scriptures meditation is for purification only, not for realization. Continuing;

Verse No .13

समं कायशिरोब्रीवं धारयन्नचलं स्थिरः ।

सम्प्रेक्ष्य नासिकाग्रं स्वं दिशश्चानवलोकयन् ॥ ६-१३॥

समम् काय-शिरः-ब्रीवम् धारयन् अवलम् स्थिरः ।

सम्प्रेक्ष्य नासिक-अग्रं स्वम् दिशः च अनवलोकयन् ॥ ६-१३

कृष्ण comes to further details. Here He talks about the posture. I said in the last class that sitting down is the ideal posture for meditation, sitting down on the ground with folded legs and making the maximum base area of the leg. That is keeping the knees as apart as possible, so that there is a wide base area which will give you steadiness and balance and as I said, this is ideal. By saying this is ideal, what I mean is it is not compulsory, because there are many people who cannot sit down. Either because there is no habit or because there are knee joint pains, arthritis, so many things, all these problems are there, therefore if you are not able to sit down, sit anywhere, even if it is easy chair, are even if you lie flat we don't mind, make sure that you meditate and don't end up snoring, that is all. So therefore, any prescription is a suggestion, no prescription is a commandment, you know why, because meditation is not actually the posture, meditation is the job that you do with your mind, like a student studying. There is one student who has got an ideal study room, because the father is a rich father, therefore he has been given special study and special desk, special table lamp, etc. But do you think that just because all those are there, the student should study, No. Because they are all extraneous things, they are not compulsory; a dull student can sit in that and need not study anything, on the other hand, there are students who do not have study room and they will be able to study and so study is a job of the mind, all the other conditions are suggestions not commandments. If it suits a person one can follow, otherwise one need not follow them. And therefore, sit in any posture and then what should be the condition of the upper part of the body? Up to hip we have said he should be seated with folded legs. From hip onwards, above, what should be the condition, कृष्ण says, समम् काय-शिरः-श्रीवम् – the upper body should be erect, काय, काय means the body from hip to neck, is called काय, then श्रीव means the neck, शिरः means the head, these three must be in one straight line, perpendicular to the ground. It should be 90° to the ground, no acute angle, obtuse angle, only right angle, समम् काय-शिरः-श्रीवम्, again this comes by practice. And this straightness is prescribed because only when the body is straight, the breathing will be smooth and even. Now health is connected to the appropriate posture, after long study they have found that we human beings have got a big problem, because we are vertically growing and standing unlike the animals. And animals all called तिर्यक् in संस्कृत, तिर्यक् means they are horizontal and their growth is also horizontal. Human beings alone - four legs became two legs, first two legs changed into the hands and then this monkey gradually they became erect, Homo erectus, so then you find that we are standing. And they say we have to pay very big price for this and the biggest price is your backbone is taking the weight, because of that invariably we get into back problem and now they are finding that therefore appropriate posture becomes important and therefore lot of research is going, a special science has come – ergonomics; you have heard economics, purely studying what type of chair is suited, because 8 hours a day, 10 hours a day he will be typing and you will find spondylosis, so occupational hazard, each one has got this problem and therefore even breathing will be proper only when the body is erect. And therefore, keep the body erect. And we will be initially erect, starting will be OK, then slowly sagging, it requires some training. Even musicians should also give importance to the posture because, they say from नाभि हृत् कंठ रसना, from नाभि music should come and if one is not erect it will not come properly. Many musicians sag, if you sit straight only music will come. समम् काय-शिरः-ब्रीवम् धारयन्. Then अचलम् स्थिरः – it should be firm and steady, erect; so firm and erect, so अचलम् स्थिरः. So this is the आसन, that is शरीर स्थिति. So देश, काल, आसन, शरीर स्थिति. Then what should be the condition of the sense organs? So withdraw the sense organs from the sensory field. And how do you withdraw the sense organs, how can you withdraw the ears, maximum ears can be plugged, what will you do the nose which smells anything around, you cannot plug the nose also. So therefore, withdrawing the sense organs means withdrawing the mind from the sense organs, withdrawing the mind from the sense organs. And among the sense organs the most powerful one is the eye and therefore कृष्ण gives special attention, दिशः च अनवलोकयन् – so don't see here and there, what is here, what is there, don't look here and there. These are all indications of mental restlessness, when the mind is restless, you will find looking here and there and that is why कृष्ण said that अचलम् स्थिरः, you should keep the head स्थिरः but even if you have keep the स्थिरः, eye balls can move, like in भरत नाट्यम्, so therefore don't move the eye balls also, दिशः च अनवलोकयन्. Then what to do with the eyes? कृष्ण says: नासिक-अग्रं सम्प्रेक्ष्य, because some job has to be given like children, you have to give some job or they will be doing some mischief, best way is to give some job to the child, Similarly, कृष्ण says, look at the tip of the nose, नासिक-अग्रं सम्प्रेक्ष्य. Then the next doubt will be whose nose, this question should not come because in the beginning he has said, एकाकी. Otherwise every time you meditate, you will require someone to look at this nose tip. And what will that poor person do, so कृष्ण says, स्वम् नासिक-अग्रं - your own nose tip; स्वम् नासिक-अग्रं सम्प्रेक्ष्य. Somebody asked, what will Japanese people do, they don't have tip at all, OK. So that is why you should remember, these commandments are not strict commandment, you have to take the spirit, therefore शङ्कराचार्य writes, you are as though looking at the tip of the nose, which means eyes are partially closed. शङ्कराचार्य nicely writes, you are not meditating on the tip of the nose, you don't get चित्तशुद्धि by nose-tip meditation. So, therefore, partially closed eyes. So thus, इन्द्रिय निग्रहः. Then कृष्ण doesn't talk about breathing regulation in this context, as I said in the last class, कृष्ण has talked about it in the previous chapter end, that we have to bring here. In the 5th chapter towards the end, कृष्ण said,

प्राण-अपानौ समौ कृत्वा ॥ ५-२७॥

In fact, there is another confusion also here, if you remember the 5th chapter you will get confusion. If you don't remember you are lucky, because in the 5th chapter, कृष्ण says, look at between the eye brows, चक्षुः च एव अन्तरे भ्रुवोः, here कृष्ण says look at the tip of the nose. Now tell me, where should I look, the very fact that कृष्ण is not consistent indicate कृष्ण is not very particular about where you look, whether tip of the nose or gap between the eyebrows, don't bother too much about those details, what is important is your eyes do not distract you, that is the spirit and even if you want to close your eyes, perfectly OK, gently close your eyes and there कृष्ण said, प्राण-अपानौ समौ कृत्वा, make sure that your breathing is slow, rhythmic and even. In fact, they say प्राण विक्षणम् is a very good discipline, as different from प्राण आयाम, प्राणायाम is regulation of breathing, प्राण विक्षणम् is observation of the breath and when I observe, observe means what, I am aware of the breathing process, the very awareness of the breathing process makes it smooth and even. So that is called प्राण विक्षणम्. So thus कृष्ण has talked देश, काल, आसन, शरीर स्थिति, इन्द्रिय निग्रहः and प्राण साम्यम्, then what are left, मनो निग्रहः and बुद्धि निश्चयः, which he will be talking about in the following verses and which we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 06, VERSES 14-17

Lord कृष्ण is dealing with the अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि, the immediate preparations to be taken care of before meditation. There we saw the role of the

- देशः, choosing the appropriate place,
- कालः, choosing the appropriate time,
- आसनम्, fixing the appropriate आसनम् in appropriate manner and then the posture of the body, शरीर स्थितिः and
- Then he talked about इन्द्रिय निग्रहः, the withdrawal of the sense organs from the external world;
- Paying extra attention to the eyes, सम्प्रेक्ष्य नासिक-अग्रं स्वम्, so the eyes should be as though looking at the tip of the nose, the idea being the eyes are partially closed or the eyes are fully closed and
- Then कृष्ण mentioned the प्राण साम्यम्, which was not said in the 6th chapter, but at the end of the 5th chapter He had said

स्पर्शान् कृत्वा बहिः बाह्यान् चक्षुः च एव अन्तरे भ्रुवोः ।

प्राण-अपानौ समौ कृत्वा ... ॥ ५-२७॥

प्राण and अपान meaning exhalation and inhalation, they should be even and smooth. So these are the six stages we had seen. कृष्ण has to talk about मनो निग्रहः and बुद्धि निश्चय also, He will deal with them in the following verses. We have seen up to the 13th verse. कृष्ण continues with the same topic in the 14th also.

Verse No .14

प्रशान्तात्मा विगतभीर्ब्रह्मचारिव्रते स्थितः ।

मनः संयम्य मच्चित्तो युक्त आसीत् मत्परः ॥ ६-१४॥

प्रशान्त-आत्मा विगत-भीः ब्रह्मचारि-व्रते स्थितः ।

मनः संयम्य मत्-चित्तः युक्तः आसीत् मत्-परः ॥ ६-१४॥

स्थिरः (भूत्वा) काय-शिरः-ग्रीवम् अचलम् समम् धारयन् स्वम् नासिक-अग्रं सम्प्रेक्ष्य, च दिशः अनवलोकयन् प्रशान्त-आत्मा विगत-भीः ब्रह्मचारि- व्रते स्थितः, मनः संयम्य, मत्-चित्तः मत्-परः युक्तः आसीत् ।

So what should be the condition of the mind. The mind has disturbances from two quarters, one is from our past experiences, we might have regrets, bitterness, anger irritation, etc., which can surface during meditation. Because the mind is full of वासनाs or experiences, they all remain deep within and when the mind is quiet at the time of meditation, all the problems within can surface. During day-to-day transactions they don't surface, because the mind is preoccupied. But in meditation when we withdraw the mind from the external world, the conscious mind is free now and therefore from the subconscious mind our past experiences can come up and disturb, this is the regrets of the past. And कृष्ण says we should how to handle that, never allow the past to disturb you. From the past experiences we can learn, it is very good, in fact, we get maturity from experiences, but if I don't know how to handle my past then every experience can create a disturbance. And therefore, having learnt from the past experiences surrender all of them to the Lord. Every painful experience, every failure, every insult, all of them you surrender to the Lord and tell the Lord that you have given those experiences for my inner growth only. Every experience is meant for my inner growth, therefore I have no regrets, I don't have any anger towards anyone, I don't have hatred towards anyone, I surrender all my past experiences to the Lord after absorbing knowledge from them. Because past can two-fold job, it can do good also, it can do bad also. Past does good to me, if I am willing to learn from the past. At the same time, past can be a burden if these experiences trigger bitterness, inferiority complex, guilt, anger, irritation, hatred. If the past experiences generate these negative emotions, past becomes a dead weight on my shoulders. I will not be able to go forward, each experience will pull me back. स्वामिजि, we are unable to forget that, forget that and we tell also, I can never forgive that person. I am ready to forgive everyone, but not this person, thinking him itself my BP shoots up. Remember, when you hate someone the sufferer is not the hated one, the sufferer is the hater. Hatred is an obstacle to the hating person, hatred is never an obstacle to the hated person. Often he doesn't even know that you are hating or that person is dead and gone; even now we have that anger. Therefore never do that; forgive everyone. Like they have on special days, they leave all the people from the prison, mass freedom, so they release many prisoners, like that you take all the people whoever has done any harm to you, bring all of them in front of your eyes, and you tell I forgive everyone and whatever experience I had, it is the will of God meant for my inner growth. Through problems God tests us to bring out the best in us. Every pain is only for polishing, thus if I am ready to give up the past burden, I enjoy a mind, what type of mind, प्रशान्त-आत्मा, relieved, it is like taking a ton of weight from the mind, therefore, give up regrets over the past, past is over. Now the next disturbance is 'स्वामिजि, my worry is not about the past, my worry is about the future.' What will happen to my son, daughter, son-in-law, grandchildren, that is the worry about the future, again surrender the future to the Lord. Tell the Lord, Oh Lord! whatever I am going to face in future is the result of my own कर्म, I cannot blame anyone, I am responsible for my future and therefore I cannot escape my future and therefore I don't resist, I welcome my future whether it is positive or negative. And when I say my future, it includes the family members, we cannot determine our children's future, we can contribute our might, but what happens to the children, it is not totally in mind hand and I pray to the Lord only this much, whatever be the type of future, Oh Lord, give me the strength to face that. And not only the strength to face but also to learn from those experiences. परीक्ष्य लोकान् कर्मचितान्, it requires a particular mind to learn from adversity. And therefore give me a सात्त्विक mind which will take the teaching and forget the experience, like the mythological swan, हंस पक्षि, which will take the milk and give up, or it is pongal season, you take the sugar cane in the mouth and munch, take the juice and spit out. Similarly, every experience I should take inside, take the essence that is learning and forget the experience. And if I have got such an attitude, which attitude? Welcome To The Future, big board is written, welcome, आगते स्वागतम् कुर्यात् and such a mind does not have concern regarding future, it is relaxed mind. Therefore कृष्ण says in meditation don't bring your future to the mind. So what should you do? विगत-भीः, भीः means anxiety, concern, worry, विगत means they are all given up. So past does not disturb me, future does not disturb me, that means the present is fully available for me to utilize for meditation. Normally the present is not available, because the present is afflicted by past and future, when I handle these two, the present time is available for meditation. Therefore कृष्ण says, प्रशान्त-आत्मा विगत-भीः. Then what next, ब्रह्मचारि-व्रते स्थितः, ब्रह्मचारिव्रतम् or ब्रह्मचर्यम् is defined in several ways in several contexts. One definition that is given that we can see for ब्रह्मचारि is ब्रह्मचारि is a student of scriptures, ब्रह्मचारि is a student of the scriptures, because the word ब्रह्म means the scriptures, the वेदs and चारि means leading a way of life for studying the scriptures and for studying the scriptures very well and to absorb the teaching, the scriptures prescribe several disciplines and all those disciplines together are called ब्रह्मचर्यम्. The disciplines to be followed by any student of scriptures for getting maximum benefit out of the study and among many disciplines, one discipline that they followed is this: in ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम, when he is a student he does not have any relationship except three, a वैदिक ब्रह्मचारि in गुरुकुल, he has got only three relations, no other relations. And what are those three relations? Relationship with God which is the basic, which you cannot give up, relationship with the गुरु, the teacher and finally the relationship with the शास्त्रम्, the scriptures. He doesn't have any other relationship, he relates to the teacher as a student and of course studies the scriptures and during that he invokes the grace of the Lord, सह नौ अवतु सह नौ भुनक्तु ... तेजस्विनावधीतमस्तु, etc., I need the grace of the Lord. So only these three basic relationship, this is generally indicated by the tuft, like the Ariel, it has got connection to the three and that is why at the time of संन्यास आश्रम, they remove the tuft breaking even these three relationships.

न गुरुर्नैव शिष्यम् ॥ निर्वाण षट्कम् ७॥ न शास्ता न शास्त्रम् न शिष्यो न शिक्षा न च त्वम् न चाहम् न चायम् प्रपञ्चः स्वरूपावबोधो विकल्पासहिष्णुः तदेकोऽवशिष्टः शिवः केवलोऽहम् ॥ अथ दशश्लोकी ७॥

When he discovers अद्वैतम्, there is no relationship, because relationship requires minimum two. When द्वैतम् is not there, एकः शिवः केवलः अहम्, that is the ultimate; but during the study, he keeps these three basic relationships and that is why in ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम also, there is scriptural study, no worldly relation, in संन्यास आश्रम also, scriptural study, no worldly relation; whenever there is study, our tradition cuts the relationship. Now don't get frightened, what I am saying is: at least at the time of scriptural study, or at least at the time of meditation, I should cut all the relationship, tell yourselves, I am not a father now, I am not a mother, I am not a husband, I am not a wife, I am not a son, I am not a daughter, I am not a son-in-law, daughter, whatever relationship, especially the disturbing relationship cut it all, temporarily become a mental संन्यासि. In कैवल्योपनिषत्, this advice is given,

अत्याश्रमस्थः सकलेन्द्रियाणि निरुध्य भवत्या स्वगुरुम् प्रणम्य ॥
कैवल्योपनिषत् ७ ॥

अति आश्रमस्थः don't be a गृहस्थ at the time of meditation, because even though the word गृहस्थ means the one who remains in the house, generally it is the other way round, (are you understanding?) गृहस्थः literally means the one who remains in the house, but the fact is the one in whom the house remains, it is not that we are not sitting on the house, or inside, but the house is sitting. That is why people say,

स्वामिजि, there is a problem when we lock also, if we don't lock also problem. We are in ऋषीकेश, but we carry 31/7(whatever be that), we go with all that, without buying the ticket. Everyone is carrying the house, carrying the children, grandchildren, all we are carrying and that is why कृष्ण said at the end of the 5th chapter, स्पर्शान् कृत्वा बहिः बाह्यान्, send all of them out, ask them to evacuate. Tell your wife to get out, from where? your mind, not from your house. Don't tell aloud but tell your wife to get out of my mind, husband to get out of my mind, children get out, only temporarily, then take everything. So that is called ब्रह्मचर्य व्रतम्. Having only these three relationships, temporarily renouncing all the worldly relationships or becoming a temporary mental संन्यासि is called ब्रह्मचारि व्रतम्. And you will find that there is a tremendous relaxation, because our mind is cut into hundreds of piece, each part of mind is stuck in one relationship, one portion will be thinking of the daughter, one portion to son, one portion to uncles, each bit of mind is stuck all over. कृष्ण says, bring them all, let them be available to you. Therefore मनः संयम्य – withdraw the mind from all those relationship, all these roles. Then now the mind is available, for what purpose? कृष्ण says: मत्-चितः, invoke this relationship which you don't invoke at all, because there is no time and what is that relationship, मत्-चितः, somebody sang 'at least a half-a-minute do you find to keep the mind at the lotus feet of the Lord,' therefore मत्-चितः, fix the mind upon the basic relationship in your life and that is relationship with God; because your relationship with God alone continues जन्म after जन्म. The only permanent relationship is with God, all the other relationships are temporary, in our preoccupation with temporary relationship we are losing sight of the permanent relationship and therefore कृष्ण says at least for some time may you invoke me, who is सृष्टि, स्थिति, लय कर्ता of the whole creation and also of you. Just as rivers come from the ocean and go back to the ocean, you have come from Me and your destination is Me, don't forget that, don't forget the purpose for what you have come, do everything else, don't forget what you are here for. Therefore, मत्-चित्तः means dwelling upon Me, the Lord; युक्तः – with an integrated mind, that mind which is converging, so युक्तः means which is converging upon, the convergent mind, आसीत – may you sit in meditation. And what is the goal of the meditation? मत्-परः – keeping me not only as an object of meditation, but also as the destination of the life, therefore मुमुक्षु सन्, may you practice meditation. युञ्जन्नेवं सदात्मानं योगी नियतमानसः ।

शान्तिं निर्वाणपरमां मत्संस्थामधिगच्छति ॥ ६-१५॥

युञ्जन् एवं सदा आत्मानम् योगी नियत-मानसः ।

शान्तिम् निर्वाण-परमाम् मत्-संस्थाम् अधिगच्छति ॥ ६-१५॥

एवं सदा आत्मानम् युञ्जन्, नियत-मानसः योगी निर्वाण-परमाम् मत्-संस्थाम् शान्तिम् अधिगच्छति ।

How long this should be practiced? कृष्ण says, this should be consistently and regularly and for a long time this should be practiced. योगी सदा आत्मानम् युञ्जन्, योगी means meditator, आत्मा here means the mind, not सत्-चित्-आनन्द आत्मा, but the mind and युञ्जन् means fixing the mind, the meditator must fix the mind upon the Lord and fixing the mind is nothing but fixing the thoughts, fixing the mind is nothing but fixing the thoughts, which means may your thoughts be centered on the Lord, एवम्, एवम् means as described before in the previous verse a meditator should dwell upon the Lord. Now the question is what type of Lord? I had told you before that in your scriptures the Lord is presented in three different ways depending upon the level of the student, मन्द, मध्यम and उत्तम. At the मन्द level, first stage, God is personal God with a particular form like राम रूपम्, कृष्ण रूपम्, देवी रूपम्, it is called एकरूपम् ध्यानम्. And when a person is advanced then the very same Lord becomes विश्वरूपः, अनेकरूप, which means I see the lord as the very creation itself, भूः पादौ यस्य नाभिर्- वियदसु-रनिल-चन्द्रसूर्यौ च नेत्रे, sun and moon are his eyes etc., we will be seeing the description later more. Therefore the एकरूप ध्यानम् मन्द अधिकारि, for मध्यम अधिकारि अनेकरूप ध्यानम् and once a person is still advanced and he has studied the उपनिषत्s or वेदान्त for him is prescribed अरूप ध्यानम्, transcending both one form and many form we come to formless ईश्वर and when one comes to formless God, the meditator-meditated division disappears, the द्वैतम् will get converted to अद्वैतम्, भेद उपासनाम् or ध्यानम् gets transformed into अभेद ध्यानम्; for एकरूप ध्यानम् also भेदम् is there, in अनेकरूप ध्यानम् also there is भेद, अरूप ध्यानम् when you come:

ज्ञातृज्ञानज्ञेयभेदः परे नात्मनि विद्यते ।

विदानन्दैकरूपत्वादीप्यते स्वयमेव हि ॥ आत्मबोधः ४१॥ this division is not there, so this according to the level the way we perceive God differs. Now the question is in the 6th chapter, कृष्ण is talking about which one, एकरूपम्, अनेकरूपम्, अरूपम्? The answer is कृष्ण is talking about अरूप ध्यानम् alone. He is talking about the highest form of meditation, how do you know, don't ask, कृष्ण himself will clarify that later. Therefore, meditate upon Me, who is in the form of a very आत्मा itself, आत्म-संस्थम् मनः कृत्वा He will tell later.

Therefore, योगी युज्यात्. And how should he practice the meditation?
नियत-मानसः – with self-restraint, i.e., without distraction. Then what will he get, because the ultimate the question is what will I get, शान्तिम् अधिगच्छति – so more the meditation the more peaceful the mind will be. And what is the source of that peace? कृष्ण says मत्- संस्थाम् अधिगच्छति, the peace which is coming from the Lord, When the peace is coming from the set-up, what is the problem? When the peace comes from the set-up the problem is whenever set-up is reversed – set-up reversed becomes upset – so whenever set-up becomes upset then the mind is upset, that is what we are telling mind is upset means set-up has turned upside down. So if your peace depends upon your relations you are in trouble, because relations change. If your peace depends upon your job you are in trouble. If your peace depends upon any blessed thing in the world, there is risk, but when the peace is coming from the Lord there is no question of losing that peace, therefore मत्-संस्थाम् शान्तिम् means नित्याम् शान्तिम् कठोपनिषत् says:

तम् आत्मस्थम् येऽनुपश्यन्ति धीराः तेषाम् शान्तिः शाश्वती नेतरेषाम् ।
कठोपनिषत् २-२-१३॥

Only those people will get permanent peace, all the other people cannot get peace of mind at all. Either peace will be a fake peace or it will be temporary peace; real peace comes from Me alone, कृष्ण tells मत्-संस्थाम् शान्तिम् अधिगच्छति. And not only it gives शान्तिम्, which is otherwise called जीवन्मुक्तिः, after death also he will become one with me, निर्वाण-परमाम्, निर्वाणम् means विदेहमुक्तिः, निर्वाण-परमाम् means culminating in विदेहमुक्ति. So this meditator will get जीवन्मुक्तिः which will culminate in विदेहमुक्ति and विदेहमुक्ति is simply defined as freedom from पुनर्जन्म, so he will get freedom. Continuing;

नात्यश्नतस्तु योगोऽस्ति न चैकान्तमनश्नतः ।

न चातिस्वप्नशीलस्य जाग्रतो नैव चार्जुन ॥ ६-१६॥

न अति अश्नतः तु योगः अस्ति न च एकान्तम् अनश्नतः ।

न च अति-स्वप्न-शीलस्य जाग्रतः न एव च अर्जुन ॥ ६-१६॥

हे अर्जुन! अति अश्नतः तु न योगः अस्ति, एकान्तम् अनश्नतः च न, अति-स्वप्न-शीलस्य च न, जाग्रतः च न एव ।

With the previous श्लोक, कृष्ण has completed for the time being the अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि. More अन्तरङ्ग साधनम् He will talk again later. I said बुद्धि निश्चयः is also अन्तरङ्ग साधन, that we have not yet seen, which will come later. Now in the 16th and 17th verse, कृष्ण is again coming back to बहिरङ्ग साधनानि. As I said before, it is not a prepared speech and therefore some ideas he remembers, he includes later. He adds a few more बहिरङ्ग साधन and what is बहिरङ्ग साधन, I hope you remember, general disciplines to be followed throughout the day. And in these two श्लोकs, कृष्ण is emphasizing moderation in everything as an important discipline, never get carried away by anything, never indulge in anything too much, never get addicted to something like paper reading, radio (it has gone) television watching, whatever you do never get addicted and overdo; the golden means, मध्य मार्ग is important for a meditator, for a spiritual seeker in general. And He talks about moderation with regard to eating, moderation with regard to activity, moderation with regard to sleep, these are the three main types of moderation that कृष्ण talks about in these two verses. अति अश्नतः योगः न अस्ति – the one who overeats can never succeed in spirituality, especially in meditation. So overeating is not only not good from the standpoint of health but from the standpoint of religious rule also overeating is considered a type of पापम्. Not only many other people starve, because some place people die of overeating, obesity and in some place, people die of malnutrition or poverty. See how भगवान् is working. If he distributes evenly both can be safe. In fact, there is a मन्त्र called अघमर्षणसूक्तम्, which is part of महानारायण उपनिषत् and it is a सूक्तम् supposed to be chanted during स्नानम्. When we take स्नानम्, we are supposed to wash off all our पापम्, not only we wash off our physical impurity, but स्नानम् we are converting into a religious ritual and washing off the पापम्s also. That is why it is called अघम् मर्षण सूक्तम्, अघम् means पापम्, मर्षणम् means destroying, सूक्तम् means prayer and there so many sins are enumerated, I did these all अक्रमम् yesterday, let it be washed off, don't think that the slate is clean and I can start again today.

अत्याशनादतीपाणात् यच्च उग्रात् प्रतिग्रहात् । तन्मे वरुणो राजा पाणिना ह्यवमर्शतु ॥१३॥

सोऽहमप्यपापो विरजो निर्मुक्तो मुक्तकिल्बिषः । नाकस्य पृष्ठमारुह्य गच्छेत्ब्रह्मसलोकताम् ॥६०॥

यश्चप्सु वरुणः स पुनात्वघमर्षणः ॥ अघमर्षणसूक्तम् ६१॥

It is a longer सूक्तम्. But this particular line I chanted says अति अशनात्, yesterday one of the पापम्s I did was overeating. Not only I overate at the time of breakfast, lunch, dinner, but between also, because now fridge is available and therefore time pass, as in train what time pass means- popcorn. Why it is called time pass, just go on eating, so thus, the mouth is always busy, if nothing is available put chewing gum and go on munching. In between eating anything is never accepted, not only it is bad for health, शास्त्रम् says it is पापम्. And therefore, here कृष्ण warns don't overeat. But some people confusion is what is overeating? They don't know the difference, looks normal, in the previous days we were sitting down and eating and therefore when the stomach is half full, you won't be able to reach the plate, so then you can get up. Now that the dining table has come, the gap between the mouth and the food is small, you go on eating without feeling the tightness. Therefore how am I to know? So the शास्त्र says,

पूरयेत् अशनेन अर्धम् तृतीयम् उदकेन तु वायु सञ्चरण अर्थाय चतुर्थम् अवशेषयेत्

Divide your stomach into four portions, in a concept wise, divide mentally and half of the stomach i.e., two quarters should be filled with solid food, पूरयेत् अशनेन अर्धम्, then the third quarter should be filled with liquid, like water or butter milk and what about the fourth quarter, just leave it, चतुर्थम् अवशेषयेत्, leave it, so that the food can get mixed up, if it is totally full, it cannot mix up properly, so चतुर्थम् अवशेषयेत्. Now the problem is how do I know when it is half full, any measurement, like the scale in the auto rickshaw to measure the petrol, do you have something to put inside and take the measurement, what to do? When you can eat some more, stop it, that is the very simple thing, when you can eat some more, stop it. And if that is also not clear, the best method is scientific method, one day you eat to your full, 12 dosas, (don't tell that it is too less!) assume you are able, that for calculation, next time you make it six, the idea is after eating you should not feel discomfort, before eating you have got discomfort due to hunger and after eating you have got discomfort due to overeating, it should not come, after eating the hunger discomfort should go away but eating discomfort should not come. That is called moderation in eating, that is very very important, मित आहारः. So कृष्ण says, if a person does not follow this discipline he cannot be a spiritual person and then कृष्ण equally warns, न एकान्तम् अनश्नतः – don't fast too much also, which is also against nature, our system cannot take too much of fasting. That is why you find that all those people who fasted too much in their younger days, they will get into all kinds of problems, primarily ulcer, it is against शास्त्र, therefore if you keep moderation itself it is good, if at all you want to fast it can be only once in a while, for that only एकादशि is there, once in a while शिवरात्रि and whether it should be total fasting or liquid diet or fruits only फलाहारम्, etc. फलाहारम् means varieties of food they think. It is exactly फल आहारम्, संस्कृत फलम्, not तमिळ्, according to the system we can practice any type of fasting, but overdoing this also कृष्ण is against, therefore एकान्तम् एकान्तम् means totally too much, the one who does not eat also cannot practice meditation, whenever he closes the eyes, idli will come in front, because too much hunger, if you close eyes food thought will come, that is also not correct. Then what about sleep? न च अति-स्वप्न-शीलस्य – the one who sleeps too much also cannot succeed in meditation and जाग्रतः न एव – and one who doesn't sleep at all, he wants to practice 8 hour meditation and therefore goes to bed at 12 o'clock and then gets up to 3 o'clock, 3 hours or 2 hours sleep, it is not enough for the sleep, if you don't give sufficient sleep to the system and you meditate, what will happen, body knows how to take sleep, therefore during meditation all deficiencies of sleep will be made up, you will have nice sleep in meditation or else you will be sleeping in the class, class will become a nice sleeping hour. Therefore give the system its due and it varies from individual to individual, even though normally days 7 and 7-1/2 hours sleep is required for everyone, depending upon age, depending upon constitution it varies, that sufficient amount should be given and those who do not do that, योगः नास्ति, they can't succeed in meditation.

युक्ताहारविहारस्य युक्तचेष्टस्य कर्मसु ।

युक्तस्वप्नावबोधस्य योगो भवति दुःखहा ॥ ६-१७॥

युक्त-आहार-विहारस्य युक्त-चेष्टस्य कर्मसु ।

युक्त-स्वप्न-अवबोधस्य योगः भवति दुःखहा ॥ ६-१७॥

युक्त-आहार-विहारस्य कर्मसु युक्त-चेष्टस्य, युक्त-स्वप्न-अवबोधस्य योगः दुःखहा भवति ।

So the same topic moderation in everything, युक्त-आहार – moderation in eating, विहार – moderation in resting or recreation, entertainment. So a human mind requires some diversion, you cannot concentrate on something all the time, unless you are prepared for that. Generally the mind after half an hour reading you need something, like the children, mind requires diversion and it is accepted in the शास्त्र, but the शास्त्र says that should be also in moderation. It should be like pickle, pickle is taking for curd rice, you don't curd rice for pickle. Similarly, entertainment is required, music season comes, attend for music or drama, have some light reading, perfectly alright, but I should know when to stop it. Entertainment cannot be twenty-four hours a day. That is why they say, the principle of TV is news, entertainment and education, but the problem is what, education channels is never used and the entertainment channel becomes dominant, in some houses morning they switch on and leave it and it will be running and some people will be watching, for some time. And therefore entertainment moderation and युक्त-चेष्टस्य कर्मसु – moderation in activity also, you can be committed to your profession wonderful but if you are going to be fully involved in the profession, you know workaholic and you don't have time for anything at all, no time for children, no time for husband, no time for wife and that is why families also goes haywire. Because the cement that keeps the family together is the time-together, togetherness is extremely important, that is very important, to listen to गीता no time, उपनिषत्s you need not ask, that is again priorities confusion. So priority confusion is a big problem and unfortunately the शास्त्रs are not prominent now to remind the people and all the books and magazines are only emphasizing work and achieve to climb the corporate ladder and then what, fall down. So it is terrible, because nothing else is shown. Our scriptures constantly say that is not the be all and end all of life and warning comes on and off, to get that warning you should have some time to listen, he doesn't have time to listen. And therefore कृष्ण says, always dedicate some time for सत्सङ्ग, some महात्मा you meet they will remind or study scriptures, or go to some आश्रम, some pilgrimage, you should be always reminded of what is the goal, what for I have come, what am I doing, tally both on and off. And therefore कृष्ण says कर्मसु युक्त-चेष्ट – the one who is moderate in actions also. And युक्त-स्वप्न-अवबोधस्य – and one who is moderate in sleep and waking and dreaming also, OK and only to that moderate person, योगः दुःखहा भवति, very careful योगः दुःखहा भवति, योग will become sorrowful, so this word has to be carefully understood, दुःखहा, हा means destroyer, दुःखम् हन्ति, नाशयति इति दुःखहा, नकारान्त पुल्लिङ्ग दुःखहन् शब्द, दुःखहा दुःखहनौ दुःखहनः दुःखहनम् दुःखहनौ दुःखघ्नः दुःखघ्ना दुःखहभ्याम् दुःखहभिः, (a little difficult declension, that is दुःखम्!!). So दुःखहा, it will become the destroyer of sorrow, that means source of peace. So meditation will become a source of peace, that is the destroyer of sorrow only for a person of moderation. For other people meditation will create only headache. More in the next class.

पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 06, VERSE 18

In the first 17 verses of the 6th chapter which we have completed, Lord कृष्ण elaborately dealt with the बहिरङ्ग and अन्तरङ्ग साधनs of meditation, बहिरङ्ग साधन meaning the general preparations or disciplines to be observed throughout the life and अन्तरङ्ग साधन means specific disciplines to be observed just before meditation and both these साधनs contribute to the success of meditation. And having dealt with these two साधनs, now in the following verses, कृष्ण talks about ध्यानस्वरूपम् and फलम्. ध्यानस्वरूपम् means the actual process of meditation and ध्यानफलम् means the culmination of the meditation process. And in dealing with this topic, the teacher here is closely following the system presented by the अष्टाङ्ग योग of पतञ्जलि. पतञ्जलि is a great ऋषि, who has presented a beautiful system for the practice of meditation and for the integration of the personality, which is called योगशास्त्रम्. And this पतञ्जलि's योगशास्त्रम् has got two parts, one is the practice of meditation and the other is the philosophy which is called योगदर्शनम्. Thus पतञ्जलि's योगशास्त्रम् has two parts, one is the practical part of meditation and the other is the theoretical part of the philosophy. In this the philosophy part is not accepted by the Vedantic tradition. The योग दर्शनम्, the योग philosophy is rejected by the tradition because it is against the वैदिक teaching. व्यासाचार्य in his ब्रह्मसूत्र specifically mentions that योग philosophy is not acceptable to us. The reason is it is not in keeping with वैदिक teaching. Even though philosophical part is rejected, the practical part of meditation and the preparation are acceptable to us and therefore व्यासाचार्य as well as शङ्कराचार्य clearly says, we accept पतञ्जलि's योग अभ्यास, योग practice we accept, but पतञ्जलि's योग philosophy we don't accept. And since the योग अभ्यास, the practice of meditation is acceptable, it is heavily borrowed in our traditional works. In our पुराणs like भागवतम्, व्यासाचार्य has borrowed from पतञ्जलि's system of योग practice and in the भगवद्गीता's 6th chapter also, the author व्यासाचार्य (who is the author of the गीता? कृष्ण or व्यास? you will have doubt, कृष्ण taught to अर्जुन but compiled by व्यासाचार्य in his महाभारतम् and therefore व्यासाचार्य, the author of the गीता), the compiler of the गीता, borrows the योग method of meditation heavily in the 6th chapter of the गीता. And since it is heavily borrowed in our tradition and since it is a very very useful system, I will briefly talk about the योग system of meditation and this system is popularly known as अष्टाङ्ग योगः – meditation in eight steps. अङ्ग means limb or step or stages and this is a wonderful system for integrating the whole personality, because it takes care of our physical personality, अन्नमय कोश; it takes care of our प्राणमय कोश, the energy personality and it takes care of the mental, the मनोमय कोश and it also takes care of विज्ञानमय कोश, is a wonderful integrating system, highly appreciated and शङ्कराचार्य talks about that also. The first one is called यमः, the second one is called नियमः and these two steps take care of our way of life, which can be taken as बहिरङ्ग साधन. यम and नियम deal with our way of life determines our mental makeup. Our lifestyle determines our mental makeup, if you are a highly reacting type of person, our mind is generally restless and therefore when we sit for meditation, we cannot. And therefore पतञ्जलि also accepts that we have to tone, discipline our general lifestyles, which is called यम and नियम. यम emphasizes the things to be avoided in our day-to-day life to enjoy a calm mind. And नियम talks about the things to be followed in our day-to-day life, in simple language, the do's and don'ts. The विधिs and the निषेधs. In fact, I recently talked about it, in my New Year talks, calling it 10 commandments of Hinduism. The 10 commandments consist of 5 don'ts and 5 do's. पतञ्जलि talks about the 5 don'ts in the यम, first stage, अहिम्सा, सत्यम्, अस्तेयम्, ब्रह्मचर्यम्, अपरिग्रहम्.

1) अहिम्सा means avoidance of injuring others, nonviolence. So the first one is giving up of violence - physical, verbal or mental. Why we should give up violence, because when we take to violence the environment gets disturbed and when the environment is disturbed, it is again going to come back to myself only. We should remember, world is a mirror, you smile at the mirror, the image will smile at you, you frown, it will frown, what you do to the mirror, the mirror image will do to you; always remember, world is a mirror, whatever you do to the world, it is going to come back to you, not in a visible manner, but in an invisible manner. Therefore, if I do violence, I will have to be the victim of violence later. Appreciating the principle it is said, give up violence, physical, verbal and even mental. So first don't.

2) The second one is सत्यम्, giving up speaking untruth, अनृत वर्जनम्, giving up falsehood both at the thought level and more at the verbal level.

3) अस्तेयम्, अस्तेयम् means non-stealing. Never possess anything which does not legitimately belong to you. Any unfair deal is stealing. Any benefit I get through any unfair deal that benefit comes under stolen benefit. Whether the other people recognize it or not, भगवान् recognizes what is stealing. If somebody deserves a particular amount as salary and I don't give what is the deserved salary, the money I save by reducing the salary will come under stealing. If you say that you didn't steal, भगवान् will say that you didn't pay proper salary, which amounts to salary. So therefore stealing need not mean actual stealing but any benefit I get through unfair deal. Therefore, give up stealing; this is the third one.

4) ब्रह्मचर्यम्, ब्रह्मचर्यम् means giving up the inappropriate attitude towards the opposite sex. If it is a male, the male should give up all inappropriate attitudes towards the female. Similarly, the female should give up all the improper, inappropriate attitude towards the male, that will come under ब्रह्मचर्यम्, giving up of inappropriate relationship with the opposite sex is called ब्रह्मचर्यम्. So अहिम्सा, सत्यम्, अस्तेयम्, ब्रह्मचर्यम्.

5) अपरिग्रहः, परिग्रहः means possessing too much, amassing wealth, disproportionate to wealth case. Even if I am legitimately earning, according to शास्त्रम्, even the legitimately earned wealth one cannot own beyond a limit, he has to share in the society and when there is no sharing, there will be big imbalance between the rich and the poor, which will lead to Naxalite problem, Veerappan problem, people will rob and then they will distribute to the poor. Therefore अपरिग्रहः means non-possession.

These are all the five don'ts. Then comes the five do's called नियम. They are

1) शौचम्, शौचम् means purity within and without, internal and external purity is called शौचम्.

2) सन्तोषः means contentment with whatever I legitimately earn, never compare with the other people,

यत्लभसे निजकर्मोपात्तम् वित्तम् तेन विनोदय वित्तम् ॥ भजगोविन्दम् २ ॥

Never compare. This is सन्तोषः, contentment, शौच, सन्तोष,

3) स्वाध्यायः, scriptural study is the next compulsory duty.

4) Then तपः, तपः means austerity, simple living, non-pompous living, non-luxurious living, simple living, austere living, observing moderation, युक्त-आहार-विहारस्य we saw before and

5) ईश्वर प्रणिधानम्, ईश्वर प्रणिधानम् means surrender to the Lord. And what do you mean by surrender to the Lord? Surrender to the Lord means surrendering to the laws of कर्म, Lord means the laws of कर्म, which keeps the universal harmony, not only physical orderliness there is a moral order also and according to the universal physical and moral law and order, which is भगवान्'s whatever we experience in life is what we legitimately deserve. Every experience that I go through, right from the happiest moment up to the most torturing situation, when we see the extreme pain in cancer and other diseases and the person doesn't die also and tremendous pain also, this is the worst you can imagine, from the happiest experience to the unhappiest experience everything happens according to the moral order of the Lord and surrendering to the Lord is accepting the law of कर्म and what do you mean by acceptance, I don't resist any experience. I don't criticize any experience, I don't criticize the Lord for my experience, I accept whatever I receive as the will of God. We can try to improve the future, because future has not yet come, but whatever has already come is ईश्वर's will, that acceptance of ईश्वर's will is acceptance of Law of कर्म, is acceptance of every bit of my experience. And what do you mean by acceptance? You may ask: स्वामिजि whether I like it or not I have to accept it, you need not advise me to do that, because what cannot be cured, (shedding tears we will be saying this 'what cannot be cured has to be endured, therefore why do you ask me to accept, because I have no other choice, it has come, what to do if you say,') by acceptance we mean not allowing the experience to create bitterness in the mind, anger in the mind, hatred in the mind, hatred towards oneself, jealousy towards another, it has affected me and not him, so jealousy, hatred, anger, inferiority complex these negative emotions I don't allow to take place. Not allowing that experience to generate this negative emotions is called acceptance. Cheerful acceptance is possible, it is painful but I don't have complaints. Because what I get is what I deserve, I cannot blame anyone in the world and if at all I pray to the Lord, the prayer is Oh Lord! give me the strength to face the inevitable, this is called शरणागति, प्रणिधानम्, प्रपत्तिः, surrender, this is the fifth one, शौच, सन्तोष, तपस्, स्वाध्याय, ईश्वर प्रणिधान, purity, contentment, austerity, scriptural study, surrender to the Lord.

And of these five नियमs, the last three नियमs put together is known as क्रिया योगः, which is another name for कर्मयोग. So तप स्वाध्याय ईश्वर प्रणिधानानि क्रिया योगः. So there is one institution which is propagating क्रिया योग, in America it is very popular, SRF, Self-Realization Fellowship, they use the word क्रिया योग, क्रिया योग is nothing but a thing taken from पतञ्जलि's योग सूत्र and according to पतञ्जलि's योग सूत्र, what is क्रिया योग, तपस् plus स्वाध्याय plus ईश्वर प्रणिधान is equal to क्रिया योग, which is called in the भगवद्गीता as कर्मयोग. So these ten commandments - five things to be avoided and five things to be followed - make me a moral person, an ethical person, a gentle person, a cultured person, a refined person, a decent person, if I follow यम and नियम and they come under what, the बहिरङ्ग साधन for meditation. An indecent person, an unrefined person cannot sit in meditation because his own actions will disturb the mind. So thus यम and नियम come under बहिरङ्ग साधन according to पतञ्जलि. यम No.1, नियम, No. 2. यम subdivision five, नियम subdivision five.

Then the third step of अष्टाङ्ग योग is आसन – training oneself to sit in a posture for a length of time. It requires a training, sitting down once upon a time we thought it was easy because everybody was doing that, but now after the chair came we got so much used that sitting down is very difficult. I remember one boy he is an Indian settled in America and he came and had his उपनयनम् in our आश्रम and स्वामिजी asked me to teach सन्ध्यावन्दनम् and the first step is आचमनम्. For आचमनम् you have to fold the legs and sit and do. There itself the problem started, he can't fold his legs and sit, no chair, and he is not very old and all, because there is no practice, therefore, remember folding the leg is not an easy thing. You can be happy; you are doing a great feat. And thereafter in a particular posture if I can sit for minimum 20 minutes without changing the legs, (don't worry, I will not watch out for all these things) without changing the posture, without movement if you can sit for 20 minutes, it is called आसन सिद्धि, that is the training, आसन.

Then the fourth step is called प्राणायामः, आसन deals with अन्नमय कोश, प्राणायाम deals with प्राणमय कोश and प्राणायाम is disciplining or regulating the breathing, which also कृष्ण talked about in the 5th chapter end and therefore प्राणायाम is regulation of breathing, just as a bird can be captured in a cage and the bird which is captured in a cage cannot fly out, it is encased, Similarly, प्राणायाम encages your mind within your body itself, जाल पक्षिवत् रोध साधनम्, so the outgoing mind is brought to your body, so this is प्राणायाम, the fourth step.

Then the fifth step is प्रत्याहार, which means withdrawal of the sense organs from the external world, the wandering senses are withdrawn, which कृष्ण talked about in the previous verses and how one should withdraw all the sense organs and also the eyes should be withdrawn, it should be as though looking at the tip of the nose, all will come under प्रत्याहार. प्रत्याहार is a yogic terminology corresponding to the दम of वेदान्त. In वेदान्त दम word is used, once upon a time in तत्त्वबोध class we used the words शम, दम, उपरम, तितिक्षा; दम means sense control in वेदान्त शास्त्रम्, in योगशास्त्रम् प्रत्याहारः is sense control, both are synonymous. So these three steps, आसन, प्राणायाम and प्रत्याहार will come under अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि, यम and नियम are बहिरङ्ग साधनानि; आसन, प्राणायाम and प्रत्याहार, these three are अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि. Can you see the difference, why we are calling like that: because यम and नियम are disciplines to be observed throughout the day, whereas आसन, प्राणायाम and प्रत्याहार are the disciplines not to be observed throughout the day, suppose now in the class if you are doing प्राणायाम, if you practice प्राणायाम in the class, class will be out. Therefore you don't practice that now, just before meditation only you practice, therefore these come under अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि, immediate preparation. And thereafterwards come the last three stages, धारण, ध्यानम् and समाधि, which stands for the ध्यान स्वरूपम्. What is the nature of meditation if you ask, it consists of three stages, धारण, ध्यान, समाधि put together is called the ध्यान स्वरूपम्. And these three put together is given a technical name by पतञ्जलि and that name is आत्म-संयमः or mere संयमः. In पतञ्जलि's योग सूत्र it is said, त्रयम् एकत्र संयमः, त्रयम् means three, which three, धारण, ध्यान and समाधि put together is called संयम, which is the actual meditation. Thus of the 8 steps,

- i) First two are बहिरङ्ग साधन and
- ii) The next three are अन्तरङ्ग साधन,
- iii) The last three are actual process of meditation.

Now these three stages alone कृष्ण is talking about in the following verses, धारण, ध्यान, समाधि stage or संयम stage is talked about. Now the question is what are these three?

धारण means turning the mind away from the world and fixing on the object of meditation. Literally धारण means focusing, fixing, holding is called धारण. It is exactly like taking a picture, I just adjust my camera and make sure that the person who is to be photographed falls within that particular square or circle, whatever it might be, (many people don't know where the circle is,) then I click that, that is called धारण. And the object of meditation will vary according to the level of student, before वेदान्त श्रवण, before the study of वेदान्त, object of meditation is any इष्ट देवता; in the योगशास्त्रम्, they talk about various चक्रs also,

मूलाधाराम्बुजारूढा पञ्च वक्त्राऽरिथ संरिथता । ॥१०६॥

आज्ञा चक्राब्ज निलया शुक्लवर्णा षडानना ॥१०७॥

In ललितासहस्रनाम, the देवी स्वरूपम् in each चक्र one has to imagine the चक्र, चक्र means a wheel like thing, a diagram and you have to imagine the चक्र and the deity and upon the deity we have to focus the mind. But that is not compulsory, it can be an external deity also, a photo, a picture or even sun or a flame of light, but the condition is it should be related to god. Then alone it is called ध्यानम्. There is no question of atheistic meditation, meditation means theistic only. If I have don't relation to god it will not be called ध्यानम्, it will be only called an exercise in concentration. I can practice that, I can draw a picture and then a put a dot in front in the middle and I can learn to look at that winking the eye, it is an exercise in concentration, but we won't call it ध्यानम्. To name it ध्यानम्, what is the prerequisite, it should be associated with god. That is why ध्यानम् is defined as सगुण ब्रह्म विषय मानस व्यापारः, a mental activity associated with god. If any mental activity is meditation, our worry will become meditation, so it should be a mental activity and it should be associated with god. From this it is very clear that removing the thoughts also we are not recommending, because if you remove all the thoughts, where is mental activity? There should be thought, there should be mental activity for meditation, the only difference is in our day-to-day life mental activity is in the worldly field, whereas in meditation mental activity is in spiritual field. There should be thought, without thought you cannot call it meditation at all. So therefore, I focus the mind on the object which is called धारण.

Then the next stage is called ध्यानम्, ध्यानम् means retaining the mind in the focused object, retaining the mind or the thought in the focused object is called ध्यानम्. धारण and ध्यान are very close, धारण is focusing, ध्यान is retaining, exactly like taking the picture, I have to focus and there afterwards without shaking I have to keep until I click and this is called ध्यानम्, retaining. And naturally, when I try to retain my mind in the object I am not going to succeed in my attempt, the mind will slip off and then what should I do, कृष्ण will tell, again it will go, like a small baby, again it has to be dragged, like that, when the mind runs out again I bring back. So this tug-of-war, this effort to retain is called ध्यानम् where will is involved, effort is involved, failure is involved, again bringing back the mind is involved, this whole process of retaining is called ध्यानम्, retaining where, in the object of meditation.

And the 8th stage is called समाधिः, समाधिः means natural absorption in the object of meditation where the distractions have ended. In the ध्यान stage, distraction comes and goes, there is a struggle, समाधि is the end of the struggle when the mind dwells in the object of meditation without disturbance. In संस्कृत we call it, विजातिय प्रत्यय अनन्तरित सजातिय प्रत्यय प्रवाहः, it only means the flow of similar thoughts unobstructed by dissimilar thoughts, समाधि means the constant flow of similar thoughts. Similar thoughts means godly thoughts, it need not be the same thought, it has to be similar thoughts, every thought should be associated with god, if I am looking at the picture of god, first I may see the face or the eyes, next I may see the mouth of the Lord, even though the object of meditation has changed from the eyes to the mouth, both are connected to what, god alone. Similarly, at one moment I see the Lord as सर्वज्ञ, omniscient, another moment I see the Lord as omnipotent, even though there is a difference between omniscience and omnipotence, both are connected with the Lord only. Thus you can change your thoughts, but all the thoughts should be connected to the Lord, thoughts can be changed, but it should have relationship to the Lord and that is called what सजातिय प्रत्यय प्रवाहः, similar thoughts to the exclusion of dissimilar thoughts. Dissimilar thoughts mean what, suppose you come to the Lord गुरुवायूरप्पन् and in his hand there is the butter, you think of the price of the butter now and then you think of the government and all the price-hike, etc., that will come under विजातिय प्रत्यय and you see the flute and some relation of yours playing the flute, what happened to him, what happened to his marriage plans which was going on for a long time etc, then the ध्यानम् is gone, from flute you have gone to another route, that will become what, the विजातिय प्रत्यय.

उपदेशसारम् ७ ॥

आज्यधारया, they give the example the flow of ghee from one vessel to another, when the ghee flows because it is viscous liquid there is no gap in between, just as unbroken flow is there, similarly, this is called what, समाधि.

So all the three are almost the same. And what is the central aim of these three, my mind has to dwell upon the Lord. And suppose a person has studied वेदान्त and he has gone beyond सगुण ईश्वर, he has gone beyond formed god, personal god, he has understood अहम् ब्रह्म अस्मि, then for him the object of meditation is not personal god, but the object of meditation is निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म, it is अहम् ब्रह्म अस्मि. There also thought is required, mind is required, thought flow is required, but what type of thought, अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि and if you want you can change also, but what type of change, अहम् शुद्धोऽस्मि, मुक्तोऽस्मि, अनन्तोऽस्मि, all are connected with what: आत्मस्वरूपम्. Suddenly if it comes to अहम् husband अस्मि, if it comes, it is विजातिय, it should not come, you should never become a husband in meditation, later you can, आत्मा you become, Similarly, I am father अस्मि, am mother अस्मि, not allowed, अहम् शुद्ध चैतन्यम् अस्मि, चित्-आनन्द रूपः अस्मि, शिवोऽहम्, शिवोऽहम् अस्मि. This is called Vedantic meditation. In the first meditation god is outside as an object, in the second meditation god is non-different from me. Even though the object of meditation differs, the method is same, the flow of thought related to the object of meditation. These are the eight steps of अष्टाङ्ग योग and if a person follows these अष्ट अङ्गs, where will it culminate? Where will it culminate is the question.

In the योगशास्त्रम्, they discuss this. Now, the eighth step we saw I called समाधि and what is समाधि, I am observed in the object of meditation, राम, कृष्ण, etc. But since there is an effort involved, since there is a will involved, in one corner of the mind there is a division involved, where I see myself as the meditator and I see the Lord as an object of meditation and therefore समाधि, the 8th step is called सविकल्प समाधि, where the division between the subject and the object is pronounced, it is manifest, it is evident, like watching a movie. When you have entered the movie theatre, for some time you are aware that I am in a theatre and it is a movie and you are watching Jurassic park, whatever it might be and you will find that as you get observed in the movie, you begin to forget the fact that you are sitting in a theatre, gradually you get transported to the environment of the picture and I as a separate entity is forgotten, even the process of watching movie is forgotten, I have become one with the set-up. That is called एकिभावः, to become one with that, mingled with that and how do I know that I have lost myself and I have got involved in the movie, how do I know, my reactions to the movie gets more pronounced, when the dinosaur is attacking, charging in front, you dug your head or you try to run away or when the hero and villain are fighting, you hit your neighbor, you are lost, subject-object division has been temporarily resolved.

ध्यातृ ध्याने परित्यज्य क्रमाद् ध्येयैक गोचरम् ।

निवात दीपवच् चित्तम् समाधिर् अभिधीयते ॥ पञ्चदशि, तत्त्वविवेकाख्यम् ७७॥

I have become one with the object of meditation and this absorption wherein I forget the surrounding, I forget the fact that I am in a particular place doing this job, everything you forget, that self-forgetfulness is called निर्विकल्प समाधि. In the निर्विकल्पक समाधि also thoughts are there, meditator is there, but because of the absorption both are not prominently felt.

वृत्तयस् तु तदानीम् अज्ञाता अप्य् आत्म गोचराः ।

स्मरणाद् अनुमीयन्ते व्युत्थितस्य समुत्थितात् ॥ पञ्चदशि, तत्त्वविवेकाख्यम् ७८॥

In पञ्चदशि, विद्यारण्य beautifully says, we never talk about a thoughtless state, even in निर्विकल्पक समाधि thoughts are there, but they are not felt because I am so absorbed. This निर्विकल्पक समाधि is the consequence of the 8th steps, अष्टाङ्गयोगफलम्. सविकल्पक समाधि is the 8th step, निर्विकल्पक समाधि we don't call it the 9th step, because it is the destination, therefore you don't call it a step, therefore 8 steps and one फलम्. So यम, नियम, आसन, प्राणायाम, प्रत्याहार, धारण, ध्यान, सविकल्पक समाधि these are the 8 steps and by traveling through them, what is the destination I reach, निर्विकल्पक समाधि, is the culmination, which कृष्ण is talking about in this portion. He is concentrating here on धारण, ध्यान, समाधि. And here the only difference is कृष्ण is not talking about meditation on personal god, कृष्ण is talking about आत्मध्यानम् here, meditation on my own nature, this we can apply for personal god also, but here the theme is not कृष्ण, राम or anyone, आत्म-संस्थम् मनः कृत्वा न किञ्चित् अपि चिन्तयेत्, which means I entertain only those thoughts which reveal my nature. So self-revealing thoughts, there are several meditation मन्त्रs in our tradition:

मनोबुद्ध्यहंकार चित्तानि नाहम् । न च श्रोत्रजिह्वे न च घ्राणनेत्रे ।

न च व्योम भूमिर्न तेजो न वायुः । विद्वानन्दरूपः शिवोऽहम् शिवोऽहम् ॥
निर्वाण षट्कम् ॥

I am not the body, I am not the mind, I am not the sense organs, I am not even these thoughts, but I am the witness-Consciousness which is of the nature of विद्वानन्दरूपः. There are several contemplation verses written by आचार्यs, if we don't how to utilize it, our ready made fast-food, we have got fast-food Vedantic restaurant, you can take to ready made. And for this कृष्ण gives an example, the example of a steady flame which is not disturbed by wind. When there is a flame in an enclosure, which is protected from the breeze the flame there you might have watched, it remains steady without flickering, Similarly, in ध्यानम्, my mind continuously think I am असङ्गः, I am free from bondage, I am free from problems, all these things, this is the essence, which comes from verse no.18 onwards up to verse no.19; two verse 18 and 19 deals with धारण, ध्यान, समाधि. The exact meaning we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय
पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 06, VERSES 18-19

After discussing the general and specific preparations to be taken care of by a meditator, now कृष्ण is coming to the topic of the actual process of meditation, viz., ध्यान स्वरूपम् is talked about from verse no.18 onwards. And this actual process of meditation consists of three stages I said, viz., धारण, ध्यान and समाधि. धारण is focusing the mind upon the object of meditation, which is nothing but entertaining a thought dealing with the object. When I focus a mind upon an object, focusing happens only in the form of a relevant thought modification. There is no other focusing of the mind other than entertaining that thought. Focusing on a tree means there is a thought for which tree is the object. In संस्कृत, we call it वृक्ष आकार वृत्ति, वृक्ष means tree, आकार means of the form of वृत्ति means a thought modification. So when I entertain वृक्ष आकार वृत्ति, my mind is focused on वृक्षः, घट आकार वृत्ति is focusing on घटः. ईश्वर आकार वृत्ति is focusing on ईश्वर, आत्म आकार वृत्ति is focusing on आत्मा. So wherever I want to focus the relevant आकार वृत्ति, तत् तत् आकार वृत्तिः एव तत् तत् विषयक धारणम्. And thereafterwards, trying to retain that flow of the same thought, वृक्ष आकार वृत्ति can stand for a moment alone, because every thought has got only a momentary life. No thought can continuously exist it has got a momentary existence, therefore in ध्यानम्, what I try is after entertaining वृक्ष आकार वृत्ति, I try to have the next वृत्ति also वृक्ष आकार वृत्ति, the next वृत्ति also वृक्ष आकार वृत्ति, this is technically called सजातिय प्रत्यय प्रवाहः – the flow of similar thought, each thought dealing with the same object. This attempt is called ध्यानम्. As a result of this attempt which involves effort, which involves initiative, which involves deliberation, if a person follows naturally after some time the mind gets into the groove of a similar thinking, sheerly by habit, which you can experience if you have attended any अखण्ड नाम भजन्. In अखण्ड नाम भजन्, the same नाम is repeated. Either हरे राम, हरे राम, or ॐ नमः शिवाय, same नाम we are supposed to repeat without break it is अ-खण्ड, अखण्डम् means without a break, if the mind repeats that हरे राम मन्त्र for one hour, (you can try also) then the mind gets into that groove and that thought pattern is registered in the subconscious mind. Like the children, winding the key for their toy car, they go on doing that, that spring action is created there. Similarly, that deliberately entertained thought gets deeply registered in the subconscious mind and that is why after the अखण्डनाम, you go home at home you may be doing varieties of activities, but in the background हरे राम, हरे राम or ॐ नमः शिवाय will be ringing. In fact, if a particular advertisement song is repeatedly played in TV perhaps that will be more familiar than अखण्ड नाम. Where do we do अखण्ड नाम? We do only TV नाम, then you will find even though you don't like the tune of that music, when it repeatedly goes into your ears, you will find unknowingly you will be signing that blessed song even when you are doing something else. The mind has the capacity to form वासनाs, impressions. पञ्चदशिकार विद्यारण्य says:

वृत्तीनाम् अनुवृत्तिस् तु प्रयत्नात् प्रथमाद् अपि ।

अदृष्टासकृद् अभ्यास संस्कार सचिवाद् भवेत् ॥ पञ्चदशि, तत्त्वविवेकाख्यम् ५७ ॥

संस्कार means वासनाs, by the strength of that वासना that particular thought continues. It is like for pedaling the cycle for some time and thereafter you don't cycle, but because of the momentum of the initial effort the cycle continues to run for some time. The same thing happens to the thought cycle also, and once that वृत्ति continues my willpower is not required and any वृत्ति which takes place without our effort is called सूक्ष्म वृत्ति, any वृत्ति that occurs in our mind without deliberate effort is called सूक्ष्म वृत्ति. The ॐ नमः शिवाय मन्त्र which goes in your head throughout the day is a सूक्ष्म वृत्ति. सूक्ष्म वृत्ति means subtle thoughts. And when the subtle thought is taking place in your mind you are not even aware of that, because you are not focusing your attention and this is called absorption in a particular thought and in this absorption these subject-object-effort division is not felt. Exactly as in deep sleep state. In sleep state, the subject-object division is not felt, but still there is a thought modification taking place in sleep. It is not a deliberately entertained thought, but it happens in the sleep, how do you know that such a thought took place in sleep, because after waking up we say I slept well and to have that experience, we should have gone through a thought modification and that thought modification is called सूक्ष्म वृत्ति and it is this सूक्ष्म वृत्ति, the subtle thought which registers the experience in the dormant mind and which alone we are alone activate in waking. Now the same thing can happen with regard to any thought, including अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि वृत्ति also. Therefore after धारण and ध्यानम्, when the deliberate thought gets the momentum, after some time the will is not required and therefore because of the sheer momentum the thought continues and that thought is called सूक्ष्म वृत्ति in which the subject-object division is not manifest. Subject-object division is there, but it is not manifest at that time and this state of the सूक्ष्म वृत्ति continuation, this state of the subtle thought continuation is called absorption or समाधि and since the division is not manifest in that state it is called निर्विकल्पक समाधि. निर्विकल्पक समाधि is a state of divisionlessness. What division? Subject-object-instrument division. When we say that it is a state of divisionlessness, we don't mean the divisions are absent, but we say the divisions are in unmanifest form and one of the वेदान्त आचार्य gives the example of water in which salt is dissolved, in that water salt is there, because I myself have added the salt, but since it has become one with the water, experientially salt is not there, experientially means visibly salt is not there, (you can feel its taste) visibly salt is not there, but you know there is salt. In the same way, in absorption thoughts are there but the thoughts are like the dissolved salt, they are there and they are capable of doing their functions, but they are not dominantly experienced. Such a state is called निर्विकल्पक समाधि. And कृष्ण wants to talk about धारण, ध्यान

and समाधि in these verses. With this background, we will see the meaning of verse no.18.

Verse No .18

यदा विनियतं चित्तमात्मन्येवावतिष्ठते ।

निःस्पृहः सर्वकामेभ्यो युक्त इत्युच्यते तदा ॥ ६-१८॥

यदा विनियतम् चित्तम् आत्मनि एव अवतिष्ठते ।

निःस्पृहः सर्व-कामेभ्यः युक्तः इति उच्यते तदा ॥ ६-१८॥

यदा विनियतम् चित्तम् आत्मनि एव अवतिष्ठते सर्व-कामेभ्यः निःस्पृहः तदा युक्तः इति उच्यते ।

विनियतम् चित्तम्, so the mind is first withdrawn from the external objects. And what do you mean by withdrawing the mind? Is it that the mind has physically gone somewhere and you are going to drag the mind physically? When I say I withdraw from that object it only means the thought connected with that object is no more entertained. Withdraw the mind from office, what that means? Not that you have left the mind in the office, forgot to take it and came to the class, No. Mind is with you only, then what do you mean by saying withdrawing the mind from office? when I say your mind is in office it only means office आकार वृत्ति is entertained. The thought modification is relevant to the office and when I say withdraw the mind from office, I mean don't entertain office वृत्ति. So in आत्मध्यानम् my mind has to withdraw from अनात्मा, which means every thought connected with the अनात्मा, every thought connected with the objective universe I remove from my mind. So this thought of home, thought of wife, thought of money, thought of this, thought of that, anything connected with अनात्मा and अनात्मा consists of three things, the whole world is अनात्मा, the body is अनात्मा, your mind is also अनात्मा which means you should never entertain any thought connected with the world, connected with the body, connected with the mind; you should not think these three. If you remove those अनात्मा आकार वृत्तिs it is called

चित्तम् विनियतम्, विनियतम् means restrained, withdrawn, pulled back withheld. How does it take place? सर्व-कामेभ्यः निःस्पृहः – only by developing detachment from अनात्मा, because your thought is always directed towards the object of attachment. If you are attached to a particular person the most, then that person hovers in your mind all the time. If it is son-attachment, son आकार वृत्ति, anywhere you go, even if you go to बट्टिनाथ it will come. Therefore, your thought is governed by your राग and द्वेष and therefore सर्व-कामेभ्यः निःस्पृहः – having detached from every object, कामः means object of attachment. That is why meditation requires detachment. Sitting for meditation with attachment will be only sitting, but everything else except meditation will take place. Therefore सर्व-कामेभ्यः निःस्पृहः सन्, having detached from the object, don't ask me how to get detachment, you are supposed to be experts in that, because I have already dealt with that topic before and if you have not known that, in some other context, I will explain, because this is not the place of that topic, I take for granted that you know how to detach, कृष्ण will be talking many times in the गीता, how to do that. Therefore सर्व-कामेभ्यः निःस्पृहः सन्, चित्तम् विनियतम् भवति. And when the mind is rid of अनात्मा आकार वृत्ति, now the mind is free. It is just like when you are holding something in your hand, you cannot hold another thing, you are keeping one book and I want to give you another big book, – if it is small, you can keep it also – but it is another big book, what will you do, you keep the earlier book down and your hand is free, then you can take another book. Similarly, when the mind is preoccupied with the objective world, how can that mind be available for आत्मध्यानम्? And therefore, withdraw the mind from the world and then what should you do, आत्मनि एव अवतिष्ठते – the mind abides in आत्मा, the mind dwells in आत्मा. What do you mean by mind dwelling in आत्मा? So you should not take it in the physical sense, it is just like you know, an object is abiding or is located on the table, fine, because now this is not on the table, when it is placed on the table, you can say it is abiding, located on the table. Now we talk about mind abiding in आत्मा, what do we mean? Can you say mind is located somewhere, आत्मा is located here, you pull the mind and then fix it with the आत्मा using fevicol, is it a physical job of fixing the mind upon the आत्मा? It is never possible because आत्मा being the all-pervading Consciousness, mind is never away from आत्मा, there is no question of mind coming to आत्मा, because the entire creation is resting in आत्मा alone, because आत्मा is defined as space-like Consciousness which is all-pervading, therefore the mind can never go out of आत्मा, if the mind can go out of आत्मा, you can fix it back to आत्मा. So the question is if the mind cannot go out of आत्मा, what do you mean by the mind-abiding in आत्मा? Remember, whenever we talk about mind dwelling on something it only means you have a thought corresponding to that object. If my mind dwells on बद्धिनाथ, it means I have thoughts related to बद्धिनाथ, therefore if the mind has to abide in आत्मा, what does it mean? The mind should entertain the thought modification, which thought is associated with आत्मा. So आत्म-निष्ठा नाम आत्म आकार वृत्तिः एव. And that is why I repeatedly say Vedantic meditation is not thoughtlessness, yogic meditation is thoughtlessness. The योग philosophy talks about the culmination of meditation as a thoughtless state, whereas in वेदान्त, we don't accept or approve of that, it is not the thoughtless is not possible, but it is of no use except that mind gets relaxation. Whether your mind gets relaxation or not, others get relaxation when you sit in meditation. Therefore, thoughtlessness we don't give much importance, we give importance to thought. And what type of thought? Thought centered on आत्मा and what are they like? I am the conscious-principle by which the world is known, by which the body is known, by which the mind is known and by which even this thought is known and not only the thought is known, even the thoughtless state is known by the awareness alone. And this awareness or Consciousness which is the witness of the thoughtful mind as well as the thoughtless mind, I am. This itself is a form of thought, OK. What is the form of thought? The witness of the thoughtful and thoughtless mind, I am. This is one form of thought I entertain and like that several thoughts possible. These thoughts arise in Consciousness, but they cannot disturb the Consciousness, like my hand moving in the light, but the light is not disturbed by the hand, the light illumines the hand, but light is not disturbed. Similarly, I the Consciousness illumine the thought, witness the thoughts, but the thought themselves do not disturb me. This is called असङ्गत्वम्. So अहम् असङ्गः is one form of thought, अहम् साक्षि is another form of thought and the thoughts arrive and depart but I never arrive and depart, exactly like the people enter the hall, the light illumines; all the people vacate the hall, the empty hall is illumined by the light. People come and go, hall gets filled up and vacated, but the light illumines the full hall as well as vacated hall. Our mind is like the hall, the thoughts are like the people and Consciousness is like the light, “I” never come.

/ नोदेति नास्तमेत्येका संविदेषा स्वयम् प्रभा ॥ पञ्चदशि, तत्त्वविवेकाख्यम् ७ ॥

These are all what now I have been talking and you have been listening and as even you listen your mind should have entertained relevant thought and all those thoughts are dealing with what, आत्मा or अनात्मा. All the thoughts that you have been entertaining is dealing with आत्मा, this is called अखण्ड आकार वृत्ति. अखण्ड आकार वृत्ति means any thought pattern connected with the Consciousness, साक्षि. And entertaining this thought pattern is called आत्मनि अवस्थानम्, this is called dwelling in आत्मा, abiding in आत्मा, not thoughtlessness, but the thought pattern which I presented now. You can have infinite thought pattern, like that, अहम् एकः, अहम् असङ्गः, अहम् रूप रहितः, I am formless, I illumine the formed body, but myself am formless, like the light illumines the formed hand, but the light itself is formless.

Thus अहम् अरूपः, अहम् साक्षि, अहम् असङ्गः, अहम् नित्यः, अहम् शुद्धः, all these are called आत्मध्यानम्. Therefore कृष्ण says आत्मनि एव अवतिष्ठते, the mind abides in आत्मा entertaining the relevant thoughts and that state is called युक्तः इति उच्यते and that is called योगः and that is called समाधिः and that is called absorption. And as I said in the last class, that समाधि itself is divided into two, when effort is involved it is called सविकल्प समाधि, because ego is dominant, effort means individuality is pronounced and once the effort is entertained for some time and when it becomes effortless process, like pedaling the cycle, first two minutes, effort and then you can see that every cyclist is in निर्विकल्प समाधि only. So युक्तः इति उच्यते, युक्त means absorbed. And what is the state of mind like, an example is given in the next verse.

Verse No .19

यथा दीपो निवातस्थो नेङ्गते सोपमा स्मृता ।

योगिनो यतचित्तस्य युञ्जतो योगमात्मनः ॥ ६-१९॥

यथा दीपः निवातस्थः नेङ्गते सोपमा स्मृता ।

योगिनः यत-चित्तस्य युञ्जतः योगम् आत्मानः ॥ ६-१९॥

यथा निवातस्थः दीपः न इङ्गते सा उपमा, आत्मानः योगम् युञ्जतः यत-चित्तस्य योगिनः, स्मृता ।

What is the example? Suppose a lamp is lighted, either a candle light or any lamp not the electric bulb, but the flame. When that lamp is kept in the open place, the flame is on, but the flame flickers because of the disturbing breeze and in which direction the flame will go will depend upon the breeze, sometimes it goes in this direction, sometimes in that direction. So a flickering lamp is an unprotected lamp which is disturbed by external breeze. In meditation also, our thought is like flame and when we are entertaining that thought, even though I think of that object of meditation I am not allowed to retain that thought, because within moments some other thought comes and sometimes we don't even know that we have drifted away, it goes away without our knowledge and you may have been meditating upon next year's plans. If I do that, they will do that, then what will I do, what then, how to. etc., he will get job, she will be married and then I can think of attending the camp next year... this is the ध्यानम् and the beauty is I am not even aware, and somebody rings the bell or phone and then only I remember I am supposed to be meditating. So this is called the flickering mind, because of the external influence and when the mind is protected what happens? It is like protecting the lamp from the breeze by providing a glass enclosure and when such an enclosure is there to protect the flame from breeze, then the flame is how, steady flame like a one stick it stays there. In fact, it is very interesting to watch that flame. So कृष्ण says that this steady flame can be taken as an example for निर्विकल्पक समाधि, the flame is corresponding to the thought, which thought, अखण्ड आकार वृत्ति, आत्मा thought and the steadiness of the flame indicate that my आत्म आकार वृत्ति is not disturbed by the अनात्माकार वृत्ति. Now the question is: in the case of the flame I can provide glass enclosure. Now in the case of the mind, what enclosure I will provide? Suppose I provide a glass enclosure, what will happen, mind cannot be stopped by the glass case, mind being a subtle instrument, you require another type of enclosure which is called वैराग्यम् and भक्ति, भक्ति and वैराग्यम् are the enclosures. And what do you mean by भक्ति and वैराग्यम्, any way I should not sidetracked, even though it is not in this verse and कृष्ण is going to deal with that latter, I will just give a clue, कृष्ण discusses this later.

All our worries are because we cannot face the future, all our worries are because we cannot face the future and two types of future, the actual future and the imaginary future. In fact, imaginary future threatens more than the actual. Suppose I fall sick, now I am fat and well, what will happen if I fall sick and my son is in America, thus the worry of future is the cause of disturbance, therefore surrender to the Lord. And the then second disturbance is attachment, if I don't worry about myself, I worry about my family members, what will happen to them and how can I help them? So whenever such thought comes you tell yourselves that they will be better off without me, OK. I think that I am going to improve their lot, often they are not interested in our health and in the name of interest you only create more problem, remember, they will be taken care of by God. More about that we will see later. Thus by भक्ति-वैराग्य enclosure, we have to protect the mind. Therefore कृष्ण says: निवातस्थः दीपः यथा – a lamp kept in a protected place, secure place, remains unflickering, न इङ्गते – remains without a flicker, सा उपमा स्मृता – this flickerless flame is the example, is the illustration, is the model. Example for what? यत-चित्तस्य – example for the restrained mind, well-directed mind, well-disciplined mind and what is that disciplined mind doing, आत्मनः योगम् युञ्जतः – which is practicing आत्मध्यानम्, योगम् means ध्यानम्, आत्मनः योगम्, आत्मध्यानम्, युञ्जतः means practicing, which is an adjective to the mind. So unflickering flame is an example for the restrained-mind of a योगि, which mind is engaged in आत्मध्यानम् and this is called समाधि. So युञ्जतः योगम् आत्मनः. Thus ध्यान स्वरूपम् was talked about in these two verses. And now in the following verses 20 to 23, कृष्ण talks about the culmination of ध्यानम्, which he called निर्विकल्पक समाधि, that is going to be defined in the following श्लोकs. Seven definitions or features are to be given for निर्विकल्पक समाधि, which is the consequence of अष्टाङ्ग योगः. And remember this निर्विकल्पक समाधि is possible in any field, there is no mystery involved in it, there is no mysticism involved in it, because निर्विकल्पक समाधि or absorption is a natural faculty we all have. In fact, we had this in full measure when we were babies. Have you seen the babies, when they see the ant or cockroach and the baby wants to catch that, you try to distract baby in any way, nothing will happen, even if you show the hand in between also, no flicker, न इङ्गते, the child has got only that and it is a faculty we lost in the name of growing and even now rarely that happens. Generally it happens when we worry, that is called worry-समाधि, absorbed in worry, even after coming to the class. How do you know स्वामिजि if you ask: you are looking at the carpet itself and sitting without listening to the lecture, that is how you know that the student has lost the class, staring at an object they are gone, today's class is gone. I understand whether they understand it or not, generally it happens in worry. When you read an absorbing book, that means it takes your attention and when you are watching the one day match and at the last ball and one run and the last wicket and India playing against Pakistan, then you know sitting at the edge of the table and you are glued to TV and anybody calls you, you get so wild, you know what is it, निर्विकल्पक समाधि. What I want to say is don't attach any mysticism or mystery to that, it is a faculty which we have and which can be directed in any field, in Vedantic meditation, we are using that to dwell upon my own nature that I am not the body, not the mind, I am their witness and this निर्विकल्पक समाधि is going to be given seven definitions in the following verses, those definitions we will in the next class.

Lord कृष्ण has been talking about the Vedantic meditation closely following the stages of meditation given in the अष्टाङ्ग योग of पतञ्जलि and now he is discussing the actual process of meditation and its culmination. And as I said in the last class, the culmination of meditation is mental absorption in the object of meditation. And mental absorption is defined as the flow of the same thought or similar thought. The flow of similar thought is called सजातिय प्रत्यय प्रवाहः, सजातिय means similar, प्रत्यय means thought, प्रवाहः means flow. In Vedantic meditation, the flow of thought should be dealing with the very nature of आत्मा and आत्मा has got different features as we saw in the previous chapters, you can change the thought from one feature of आत्मा to another feature of आत्मा, but you should not change from आत्मा to any other object. So we have got a boundary and the boundary is the various features of आत्मा alone should be meditated upon. That is आत्मा चैतन्य स्वरूपः, आत्मा नित्यः, आत्मा एकः, आत्मा एकः, आत्मा सर्वगतः. These different features of आत्मा, कृष्ण has already discussed in the 2nd chapter, in the 4th chapter and in the 5th chapter, especially in the 2nd chapter, from verse no.12 to 25 कृष्ण has already discussed different features of आत्मा and I have to bring what I have heard from my गुरु. And that is why we should remember Vedantic meditation is impossible without studying वेदान्त under a गुरु. A non-Vedantic student cannot practice आत्मध्यानम्. A non-Vedantic student cannot practice आत्मध्यानम्, he should have studied वेदान्त under the guidance of a गुरु for at least some length of time and that is why कृष्ण himself is introducing Vedantic meditation after five chapters of teaching. Suppose a person is a non-Vedantic student, he can practice other forms of meditation. Like mental पूजा to the Lord, mental chanting of various prayers, they are called उपासना ध्यानम्, I will talk about this at the end of this chapter and we will practice some meditations also. We will have guided meditation sessions after completing this class. So a non-Vedantic student cannot practice other different forms of meditation, but आत्मध्यानम् can be practiced by only a Vedantic student and a Vedantic student has learned the different features of आत्मा from the गुरु and गुरु has pointed out how आत्मा is the nature of Consciousness, नित्यः, सत्यः, सर्वगतः, असङ्गः, एकः, अकर्ता, अभोक्ता, all these he has heard and he is supposed to have understood. And if he has not understood, he should not practice आत्मध्यानम्, he should again listen to the गुरु until he is able to grasp the different features of आत्मा and during meditation his aim is whatever he has grasped from the teacher that he has to relive. It is like going to बद्रीनाथ, you enjoyed the हिमालय vision beautifully, you come back to चेन्नै and during summer, when it is too hot, you imagine the snow peaks of बद्रीनाथ. At least let there be coolness in the mind when it is 41 degrees in चेन्नै. Now you can relive बद्रीनाथ, you can recollect that experience only if you have visited बद्रीनाथ. And therefore meditation is not thinking of a new thing, but meditation is recollecting whatever we have collected earlier. Therefore this Vedantic student mentally goes back to the class, वेदान्त श्रवणम् and what all he has heard he has to bring to the mind and he has to see that I am the witness of my thoughts and I am of the nature of changeless Consciousness and I am not affected by the type of thoughts, these are all different features and when my mind continually dwells on that, it is called सजातिय प्रत्यय प्रवाहः. And without distracted by विजातिय प्रत्यय, विजातिय प्रत्यय means a dissimilar thought. And this सजातिय प्रत्यय प्रवाहः, this flow of thought alone gradually becomes stronger and stronger and more and more effortless. So there is a gradation in my involvement in that thought. Just as when you think of your future program, then you just think of that and sometimes you totally get absorbed in that thought, the same thing we are going to employ in Vedantic field and since this commitment or involvement gradually absorbs me, the योगशास्त्र puts it in three grades. Even in the class also when you come, first few minutes you are not in the class, seeing this side and seeing whoever has come and whoever has not come and whether your friend has come, that is called collecting the mind, it is a beautiful expression, collecting the mind which is scattered in the bus-stop. one portion is still in the bus stop, some portion in the flyover, and some portion in the inauguration of the other flyover, you will have to forcibly bring all that scattered thoughts and by the time you collect all that, for some people it takes twenty minutes. So this collection of the mind leads to gradual absorption and therefore it is presented in the धारण stage, where there is the attempt, ध्यान stage the success is coming and समाधि stage, when I am fully absorbed and there also I said सविकल्प समाधि is I am absorbed deliberately and then निर्विकल्पक समाधि is I am absorbed spontaneously in which my willpower is not required. When will is required there is सविकल्प, when the will is not required it is निर्विकल्प. And this निर्विकल्पक समाधि is supposed to be the culmination of the अष्टाङ्ग योगः and therefore the 8 stages are called अङ्ग and the निर्विकल्पक समाधि is called अङ्गि, the 9th one is अङ्गि, the destination, the eight ones are the अङ्गs, the stepping stones and कृष्ण wants to define that समाधि in these verses beginning from 20 to 23, 7 definitions of समाधि or culmination or योगफलम्, अष्टाङ्गयोगफलम्. So what are those we will see, verse no.20;

Verse No .20

यत्रोपरमते चित्तं निरुद्धं योगसेवया ।

यत्र चैवात्मनात्मानं पश्यन्नात्मनि तुष्यति ॥ ६-२०॥

यत्र उपरमते चित्तम् निरुद्धम् योग-सेवया ।

यत्र च एव आत्माना आत्मानम् पश्यन् आत्मानि तुष्यति ॥ ६-२०॥

So in this verse, two definitions are given. What is the first definition?

1) वित्त उपरमणम् – total tranquility of mind, total relaxation of mind can be defined as समाधि. That is why the very word समाधि is given different संस्कृत derivations and one derivation given is समा धि यस्मिन् सः समाधि, समा means equanimous, tranquil, quite like a waveless lake. Imagine a lake when there is no breeze outside, the lake is without even a ripple. कालिदास in one of his literature when he wants to talk about a calm lake, he compares it to the mind of a ज्ञानि. Normally we compare the other way round, because in those days ज्ञानिs were plenty and available for comparison. Now ज्ञानिs are not there and therefore you have to use other comparison. मानसरोवर, that is supposed to be a calm vast, blue and beautiful and cool lake, like what, like the mind of a ज्ञानि. Therefore, what is the first definition, समा धि, धि mind, समा means tranquil, that state in which the mind is tranquil. This is one derivation. There is another derivation which I will tell later, remember this derivation in this context. And how is the mind tranquilized, not by using tranquillizers, that is not the method and by this special exercise, what is the exercise, वित्तम् निरुद्धम् – the mind is withdrawn from the entire अनात्मा प्रपञ्च, withdrawn from the world, withdrawn from relations, withdrawn from all the worldly roles, like husband status, wife status, father status, mother status, each role I play has a set of problems, set of joys is also there, I am not questioning that, don't say स्वामिजि only problems you are telling, but in meditation problems only come. Therefore every role has got set of attendant problems, therefore, the role has to role away. That is why it is called role. So don't be anyone of them. So this is called withdrawing.

न मृत्युर्न शङ्का न मे जातिभेदः पिता नैव मे नैव माता न जन्मः ।

न बन्धुर्न मित्रं गुरुर्नैव शिष्यं ॥ निर्वाणं षट्कम् ॥

No बन्धु, no मित्रम्, no father, no mother, temporarily, don't get frightened, during meditation you come out of that, that is called निरोधः, निरोधः means withdrawing, withholding and निरुद्धम् वित्तम्.

How do you do that? योग-सेवया – by practicing the अष्टाङ्ग योग method, because अष्टाङ्ग योग is specially designed for this purpose. Just like they talk about the chair, specially designed chair for your back, everything they talk about special design, अष्टाङ्ग योग is specially designed. Therefore, योग-सेवया, सेवा means don't think of eating, here सेवा means अभ्यास, practice. By the practice of the other five अङ्गs, यम, नियम, योग-सेवा means, यम नियम आसन प्राणायाम प्रत्याहार सेवया and these five stages are called अन्तरङ्ग, बहिरङ्ग साधनानि, by practicing that, चित्तम् निरुद्धम्, the restrained mind becomes what, उपरमते – abides, remains calm, it is in deep silence. It enjoys inner silence. And this tranquility born out of mental restraint is the first definition. In संस्कृत, we will use the word, चित्त उपरमणम्, उपरमणम् means abidance, tranquility, चित्तम् means mind.

2) Then what is the second definition of समाधि? Look at the second line आत्मानम् पश्यन्. Now silencing the mind is not our aim, if you only silence the mind you will get temporary tranquility, you will not get Vedantic benefit. Remember we are talking about Vedantic meditation, practicing silence will not become Vedantic meditation and therefore what is more important is having silenced the mind, in the silent mind we have to bring the Vedantic teaching. In the silent mind we have to bring the Vedantic teaching.

न च व्योम भूमिर्न तेजो न वायुः । विदानन्दरूपः शिवोऽहम् शिवोऽहम् ॥
निर्वाण षट्कम् ॥

You have to know the meaning of this and tell or else it will become simple पारायणम्. I have to see the meaning of this मन्त्र, because this मन्त्र says अहम् शिव अस्मि, मङ्गल स्वरूपः अस्मि, पूर्ण स्वरूपः अस्मि, आनन्द स्वरूपः अस्मि, which means that the mind is not a passive mind, the mind has got what thought, what type of thought, Vedantic thoughts are to be entertained which is called सजातीय प्रत्यय प्रवाहः. And this alone कृष्ण says, आत्मानम् पश्यन् – one should see the

आत्मा, one should see the आत्मा as revealed by the गुरु during the श्रवणम्. During the श्रवणम् of वेदान्त one should see the आत्मा, one should see the आत्मा, how as revealed by the गुरु and शास्त्र at the time of श्रवणम्. That is why I am repeatedly emphasizing without वेदान्त श्रवणम्, वेदान्त ध्यानम् is not possible, without वेदान्त श्रवणम्, वेदान्त ध्यानम् is not possible. Suppose a person says I want to meditate on आत्मा. Then I ask him what is आत्मा? He says I don't know. How can you meditate upon something which you don't know? Without knowing the आत्मा if you meditate it will be imagination, you will dwell upon varieties of your whimsical imagination, it will not be called Vedantic meditation, Vedantic meditation presupposes Vedantic study and therefore आत्मानम् पश्यन्, seeing the आत्मा; Where does he see the आत्मा? आत्मनि – in his mind he has to see the आत्मा, which means he has to recollect the teaching. If during श्रवणम्, the video cassette recorder is functioning, VCR, during ध्यानम् what is functioning, VCP. Suppose without recording anything, if you play, what will come, you play, nothing will come, silence only will come. Therefore VCP can function only if VCR has been utilized. Now when you are listening what is functioning, hopefully, VCR. You are recording, registering and when you go home and bring out the teaching to your mind, what are you practicing, Vedantic meditation. You can do that with open or closed eyes, I don't care how you do it, but you bring out. Like the cow chewing the cud. And therefore आत्मानम्, so the आत्मानम्, means the आत्मा, आत्मनि means in the mind, आत्मानम् refers to Self and आत्मनि refers to the mind and आत्मना, (all आत्ममयम्, don't get confused) there is a third word आत्मना, आत्मना means with the help of the mind itself. Because thought is involved, without Vedantic thoughts there is no Vedantic meditation. Therefore with the help of the mind one should see the आत्मा in the mind itself. And आत्मा is in the mind, in what form, आत्मा resides in the mind as the witness of your thoughts. Therefore

साक्षि चैतन्य रूपेण अन्तःकरणे आत्मानम् अन्तःकरणेन पश्यति. So what is the second definition of समाधि, आत्म दर्शनम्. And what is the advantage of this, by recollecting the श्रवणम् what benefit I get, if you ask; suppose you have got a clock which ticks. During the day time the clock is ticking or not? Certainly ticking. But do you notice that ticking sound? You don't. Why? Because there are so many other sounds overwhelming the ticking sound and when you go to bed, or when you sit in meditation and you have closed your room and all the other sounds are gone, what happens, the tickling of the clock appears to be more prominent. Now can I say, the ticking of clock has become prominent? No, because the ticking is of the same intensity. It is not that in the night the ticking sound is more and during day time is ticking sound is less, No. The ticking sound is uniform during day and night, but during the day time that sound is overpowered by disturbances, whereas in the night the sound is prominently felt. Similarly, in निदिध्यासनम् the advantage is I have removed all the other noises from the mind. The noises generated by the father I, each worry is a mental noise, remember each worry is a mental noise, having removed all the worries when I bring the teaching, the teaching has got more impact. In a silent mind the teaching has got greater impact and therefore it becomes stronger and stronger. To give another example, if it is a पौर्णमि day, in the evening by 5.30 or 6 itself full moon will be visible in the sky. But if you have to see the full moon you have to pay attention, you have to look at the sky and you have to look for the full moon, because it is not very bright. And as the time goes the moon becomes brighter and brighter and brighter and on a full moon day during midnight you get up and go outside, you need not look for the full moon, in fact, you get the full impact of the full moon. Now can I say the moon has become brighter during the night, really speaking, the brightness of the moon remains the same. But in the evening the brightness is overpowered by the daylight and as the daylight recedes the obstacles recedes, then the moon light becomes powerful and powerful. Similarly, during श्रवणम् itself knowledge does take place. Every student gets the teaching during श्रवणम् itself. In निदिध्यासनम्, he brings the same teaching in a silent mind, in a withdrawn mind then the teaching becomes more and more powerful, ज्ञानम् becomes ज्ञान निष्ठा. It is strongly registered and therefore आत्मनि आत्मानम् आत्मना पश्यति, therefore the second definition can be called आत्म दर्शनम्. What is the first definition? चित् उपरमणम्, the second definition is आत्म दर्शनम्. And because of this आत्म दर्शनम्, what is the benefit that I enjoy? तुष्यति – one feels the joy of पूर्णत्वम्, one feels, one owns up the joy of पूर्णत्वम्. When I am invoking my worldly personality I am always अपूर्णः, as the father I always feel that I have not done everything I ought to have done, till the second son becomes alright, I will not have peace, some children will always be doing some mischief. So therefore every other personality has got some complaint or the other, the only complaintless personality is my आत्मस्वरूपम् and when I invoke my आत्मस्वरूपम्, I am invoking my पूर्णत्वम् and when I invoke my पूर्णत्वम्, आत्मनि एव आत्मना तुष्टः. So therefore, आत्म दर्शनम् is the second definition or आत्म दर्शनं जन्य तुष्टि also can be taken. Continuing;

Verse No .21

सुखमात्यन्तिकं यत्तद् बुद्धिब्राह्ममतीन्द्रियम् ।

वेति यत्र न चैवायं स्थितश्चलति तत्त्वतः ॥ ६-२१॥

सुखम् आत्यन्तिकम् यत् तत् बुद्धि-ब्राह्मम्-अतीन्द्रियम् ।

वेति यत्र न च एव अयम् स्थितः चलति तत्त्वतः ॥ ६-२१॥

In this verse, two more definitions are given, of the total 7 definitions two are over, the next two comes in this श्लोक.

3) So what is the third definition? आत्यन्तिकम् सुखम् – the highest आनन्द one owns up, the highest आनन्द, आत्यन्तिकम् means limitless आनन्द, सुखम् means आनन्द, आनन्द means fulfillment, which is totally different from the experiential sense pleasures. All the experiential sense pleasures are finite, in terms of time, in terms of place and in terms of quality; qualitatively they are finite and spatially and time-wise. The evident finitude is time-wise finitude, every experiential pleasure is time bound. That is why people always say that day I had greatest joy and they use the past tense, indicating what, when I say 'then it was, now it is not there.' I had ecstatic bliss, I was blissed out, blissed and either he was out, or later bliss was also out. Any experiential pleasure is time bound, any sense pleasure is also time bound and not only bound by time and also limited by quality, it can be always be improved. If it is music, you will say that that day he sang very well but it was never equal to that musical concert that day. That day I was in an inspired mood, therefore it was out of world and thereafter I have been trying to capture that mood, I have never been able to. So qualitatively gradation will be there in all experiential pleasure, whereas this आनन्द is a totally different आनन्द, it doesn't come under experiential pleasure at all. It is an आत्यन्तिकम् सुखम्, the limitless आनन्द, which is different from experiential pleasure. If it is an आनन्द obtaining in समाधि only then only it will be limited pleasure. Suppose if a person says I get the highest pleasure in समाधि, it will be limited or limitless, saying 'in समाधि' means 'out of समाधि' problem. That is why somebody wrote, in समाधि I had the greatest bliss, having enjoyed that bliss when I came out, I felt that the whole life is a pain and it was like hundreds scorpions stinging my body. Who wants that समाधि, if later I am going to suffer scorpion stings, who wants that. So we are not talking about experiential pleasure, but what is it, कृष्ण says, बुद्धि-ब्राह्मम् – it is an आनन्द born of knowledge, बुद्धि means knowledge or intellect, it is an आनन्द born of wisdom, born of knowledge, what knowledge, I am पूर्णः, I was पूर्णः and I will ever be पूर्णः, during the meditation I am पूर्णः, then when I get, अपूर्णः, then trouble, after coming out also पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात् पूर्णम् उदत्त्यते ।

पूर्णस्य पूर्णम् आदाय पूर्णम् एव अवशिष्यते. Don't get up and go, so पूर्णम् alone. So therefore आनन्द born of knowledge is permanent, because knowledge can never be displaced by time, knowledge can never be displaced by any worldly experience, you have got the knowledge 2+2 is equal to four, so this knowledge you have when you are happy or when you are unhappy? When you are happy, 2+2 is equal to four and when you are unhappy 2+2 is equal to four only. So any experience cannot displace knowledge, therefore if my आनन्द comes from wisdom, that knowledge can never be shaken and it is that पूर्णत्वम्, fulfillment, sense of fulfillment born of wisdom is called आत्यन्तिकम् सुखम्, so which is बुद्धि-ग्राह्यम् and therefore only अतीन्द्रियम्, अतीन्द्रियम् means it is beyond sense pleasures, because sense pleasures are invariably finite. And therefore the third definition of समाधि is आत्यन्तिक सुखम्, owned up. वेति, in the second line, the verb वेति is there, that verb has to be connected to the first line, that is why कृष्ण does not use the word, experiences pleasures. कृष्ण uses the word, he knows the pleasure, indicating the आनन्द is in the form of knowledge or wisdom.

4) Then comes the fourth definition in the second line, यत्र अयम् स्थितः न तत्त्वतः चलाति. Remaining in this, in this absorption or abiding in this आत्मा, one does not deviate into अनात्मा, because he has trained to abide in the आत्मा, like a person who learns cycling, you might have learned during your younger days in the football ground when the game is not going on, there is nothing to distract you and the one who helps you learn cycling is behind you catching, therefore he also gives the rules and regulations, how to hold the handle bar and how look straight and how to sit straight, how to be समम् काय-शिरः-ब्रीचम् and then you observe all the rules and then comfortably fall, while falling also we follow all the rules said above - you fall holding on to the cycle keeping body, neck and all straight you fall, with the all the attention you fall. This you have to practice for some days and then what happens: you become cycle निष्ठा. Once you are cycle निष्ठा, you take out on the street at the beach road during night when there is no traffic and then gradually you go to the other street and then you reach a stage when you can go through Govindappan naicken street, that terrible street in North चेन्नै, there you get accidents even while walking and you can find people driving there and with one hand in handle bar and holding some many things in the other hand and talking with a friend, parallel driving it is called, they go and then let there be auto-rickshaw, cycle rickshaw, baby anything comes they won't fall, let the heaven come down they will not fall, this is called निष्ठा, a person who practices this he will never get out of this knowledge even during intense transactions in life, in the worst crisis and any time. This is called तत्त्व निष्ठा. Therefore तत्त्वतः, तत्त्व here means what आत्मा, तत्त्वम् means आत्मा, चलाति means deviate, न चलाति means one does not deviate from his higher nature. In fact, thereafter, the life becomes a drama, just as a person who plays a different roles in a drama, he doesn't forget what he is in his green room and suppose he is so identified with the drama, what to do, we have to take him to the green room and tell him that you are not the beggar, you are only the playing the role of the beggar, at the end of the drama you are going to get more money also. So he has to go to green room often to remind him that I am none of these roles; going to green room is called निदिध्यासनम्. And how long he has to go, until he can play the role without losing or forgetting his real nature. In the 5th chapter, we saw it,

प्रलपन् विसृजन् गृह्णन् उन्मिषन् निमिषन् अपि । ... ॥ ५-९॥

Whatever be the transaction he doesn't lose sight of his centre of gravity. And यत्र स्थितः सन् – remaining in which समाधि, one does not thereafter deviate from the true nature and if during transactions one doesn't deviate it is called सहज समाधि. When I deliberate practice that it is समाधि, when effortlessly I am in that, like that cyclist, cyclist is in what, सहज समाधि. OK. Every cyclist who is driving on the road without even paying attention to his cycle, he is in सहज समाधि with regard to what: the centre of gravity of cycle. Here a ज्ञानि is in the centre of gravity of himself. Therefore the fourth definition is तत्त्व निष्ठा or स्थितप्रज्ञ, to remind you of the 2nd chapter. Continuing;

Verse No .22

यं लब्ध्वा चापरं लाभं मन्यते नाधिकं ततः ।

यस्मिन्स्थितो न दुःखेन गुरुणापि विचाल्यते ॥ ६-२२॥

यम् लब्ध्वा च अपरम् लाभम् मन्यते न अधिकम् ततः ।

यस्मिन् स्थितः न दुःखेन गुरुणा अपि विचाल्यते ॥ ६-२२॥

In this कृष्ण gives two more definitions.

5) When a person owns up this पूर्णत्वम् of the आत्मा, I am पूर्णः, I don't lack anything in life, I don't need anything in life to be complete. When I own up that पूर्णत्वम्, thereafter I don't miss anything in life and since I don't miss anything in life, whatever I enjoy because of my पुण्यम्, they all will become a luxury in life. I don't need any one of them and when I don't need and I have got that, that is it called luxury, what is the definition of luxury: luxury is that which you enjoy when you have and which you don't miss when you don't have, Isn't it. Luxury is that which you thoroughly enjoy when available and you don't miss when it is not available. And what is need, opposite of luxury is what: need, what is need, need is that which you don't recognize when it is there and which you very badly miss when it is not there. When you don't have a car at all and you are used to auto-rickshaw, bus, all transport and one day somebody gives you a lift, you thoroughly enjoy, who will not enjoy it, but you know next day नटराज service only i.e., walking or bus or whatever it may be but you don't miss the car because you are used to whatever that transport is and one day it comes it is luxury, somehow you regularly come from your grandfathers' time onwards you are used to car, now you never look upon the car as luxury at all, it is such a necessity when it is around you don't feel you are having a car and when it is not there you very very badly miss it. This is the difference between luxury and need. Luxury is that whose presence you enjoy, whose absence you don't miss; need is that whose presence you don't recognize, whose absence you very badly feel. For a ज्ञानि, everything in life is luxury, every blessed thing in life is luxury. Therefore, when they are around, he will thoroughly enjoy and when they are not, he is not going to miss it. दयानन्द स्वामिजि talks about the संन्यासिs in ऋषीकेश. The संन्यासिs in ऋषीकेश live on भिक्षा only and there are a few institutions established by devotees, who regularly give भिक्षा to these संन्यासिs and since they regularly give भिक्षा, it will be only two items, roti and dal, that is the भिक्षा, only change is in the night you say dal and roti and you only reverse it, that is it and there are used to that, that is what संन्यास आश्रम is, they are used to that and when there is a tourist season, devotees go to the आश्रम and they say we want to give a special भिक्षा, once a year or once in a lifetime. They don't mind paying 10,000 or 20,000 rupees and they call all the संन्यासिs and give them gulab-jamun, puri and this and that and they will really eat well also. Puri and all not counted, chappathis in inches, they will eat well and they know tomorrow I have to go back to roti and dal. That is called independence. So thus कृष्ण says यम् लब्ध्वा – having owned up this पूर्णत्वम्, अपरम् लाभम् – all the other aims in life, all other accomplishments in life, become what, न अधिकम् मन्यते – they are not very great gains, they are avoidable, they are not needed gains, one can go without those gains also. Therefore any other gain is insignificant. OK. All other gains becomes insignificant in front of this accomplishment and therefore what is the fifth definition, आत्यन्तिक लाभः, it is the highest gain in front of which all the other gains are insignificant, too small.

6) And then comes the sixth definition, यस्मिन् स्थितः – remaining in this आत्म-निष्ठा, in this center of gravity, in this nature of oneself, न विचाल्यते – one is not shocked by, shaken by even the गुरुणा दुःखेन – even the worst tragedy in life. It is a stage remaining in which one is not shaken by even the worst tragedy, nothing is capable of shaking him. Even if he asks ‘What’ hearing some unfavorable news, if he has asked What, next moment he will say: ‘So What.’ Even what may be terrible news, later he asks ‘So What,’ because he knows all other things in life are subject to arrival and departure. Therefore गुरुणा अपि, गुरुणा means even the worst sorry, the heaviest sorrow. गुरु-दुःखम् heavy sorrow, not the sorrow caused by the गुरु. So here गुरु is not a noun, it is an adjective, even by the heaviest sorrow he is not shaken. And therefore आत्यन्तिक दुःख निवृत्ति, total freedom from sorrow. More in the next class.

Lord कृष्ण has been talking about Vedantic meditation as a means of assimilating the Self-knowledge. We should remember that कृष्ण does not prescribe meditation for acquiring Self-knowledge, because according to us meditation cannot give Self-knowledge. शङ्कराचार्य in his ब्रह्मसूत्र भाष्यम् clearly points out that Self-knowledge has to take place only from the गुरु उपदेश or the systematic Vedantic teaching given by the गुरु. And if Self-knowledge does not take place while listening, there is no chance of gaining Self-knowledge in any other way. If श्रवणम् does not give knowledge, one has to do the श्रवणम् again. If second time listening also doesn't work, one has to listen again. If that also doesn't work, again - entire one hour I can repeat that. And if throughout life this doesn't take place, next life continue. शङ्कराचार्य says वेदान्त वाक्यादेव आत्मज्ञानम् उदेति. And therefore meditation is not prescribed for gaining knowledge, meditation is prescribed for internalizing, assimilating the knowledge which has been already gained. And the reason is assimilated knowledge alone will nourish you. Just as when you eat food, what nourishes your body is not the amount that you eat, what nourishes your body is the amount that you digest, digested food nourishes the body, not eaten food. There are people who have problems in their absorbing power, whatever they eat through one hole goes through the other hole and therefore the body will suffer from malnutrition in spite of eating. Similarly, what we listen is not going to bless, what is going to bless is what we assimilate. स्वामि विन्मयानन्द nicely says, "you have gone through 10 उपनिषत्s. Wonderful. How through उपनिषत्s have gone through you?" OK. That is more important. You have gone through many उपनिषत्s, that doesn't bless, but how many उपनिषत्s have gone through you. In fact, one उपनिषत् is assimilated that is more than enough. And therefore Vedantic meditation is purely for assimilation of this knowledge and the assimilation is accomplished by dwelling upon the teaching that I have received. In fact, श्रवणम् replayed is निदिध्यासनम्. श्रवणम् replayed mentally is निदिध्यासनम् and that निदिध्यासनम् or Vedantic meditation कृष्ण is talking about and in this he was talking about the stages of धारण, ध्यान and समाधि. First I withdraw my mind from worldly personality. And bring the mind to Vedantic teaching, that bringing the mind to the teaching is धारण and then trying to dwell upon the teaching continuously is ध्यानम् and when I am absorbed in the teaching which talks about my higher nature and I am so absorbed that I forget all my relative personality. I as the father or mother, brother or sister, husband or wife, all those personalities should become insignificant and incidental personality. And अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि, अहम् आत्मा अस्मि must be my primary personality. Now what is happening is my world personality is dominant and I the ब्रह्मन् is dominant for one hour a week. Sunday between 6 and 7 अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि and at all other times it is अहम् महासंसारि अस्मि. It should be reversed, as some Western author, Pierre Teilhard de Chardin, beautifully says, “We are not human beings having a spiritual experience; we are spiritual beings having a human experience.” Don’t look for a spiritual experience, when you are looking for a spiritual experience, you are what, you are human being seeking a spiritual experience. That is the worst thing that can happen. On the other hand, through teaching, what we have to assimilate is: I don’t seek spiritual experience, I want to own up the fact that I am spiritual being all the time, human experience is something which comes and goes. So the primary should become secondary and the secondary should become primary and dwelling upon the teaching for this purpose is called धारण, ध्यान, समाधि, whose culmination is in total absorption. Absorption in what? I am सत्-चित्-आनन्द स्वरूपः अस्मि and this absorption alone is called निर्विकल्पक समाधि, which is योगफलम्, अष्टाङ्गयोगस्य फलम् is this absorption or निर्विकल्पक समाधि and कृष्ण is defining the निर्विकल्पक समाधि by giving seven different features. He gives seven definitions for निर्विकल्पक समाधि from different angles, which topic started from verse no.20.

1) And the first definition that we saw was चित्त उपरमणम्, निर्विकल्पक समाधि. It is a state of absorption in which the mind is totally relaxed, tranquil, at home, at peace, at poise. In fact, we called it चित्त उपरमणम्, चित्त means mind and उपरमणम् means quietude. And when you use the word चित्त उपरमणम्, we do not mean a thoughtless state, but we mean that there are no disturbing thoughts. We are not talking about thoughtless state, the mind thinks of my higher nature and enjoys or owns up the higher nature that there is no disturbance in the mind. You should not think that thought is a disturbance. For example, one hour you are listening to the class, in your mind thoughts take place or not? If you say, No, I will be in trouble. One hour I talk and nothing happens in your mind, it means what? What will happen to me? Since I have learned वेदान्त and therefore saved. You are having the thought, because as even I use words, the words are entering your mind and they are generating thought and they are becoming knowledge for you, knowledge is also a thought, but it is not a disturbance. If knowledge thought is a disturbance you will have to say, one hour स्वामिजी disturbed us. I hope you won't. It is not disturbance and therefore, thought does not mean disturbance, you can have thoughts with a quiet mind. In fact, in the class thoughts are taking place and you are enjoying and relaxing. And therefore निदिध्यासनम् is a quiet mind with Vedantic thought, it is not a quiet thoughtless mind, but a quiet mind with Vedantic thoughts. In fact, it is a quiet mind because of Vedantic thoughts and this quietude is definition No.1.

2) That the second definition we saw was आत्म दर्शनम्. So a state in which one is invoking in his mind his own knowledge that he has received, I am not the body, I am not the senses, I am not the mind, I am the Consciousness-principle, different from the body, pervading and illumining the body. This owning up of my nature is आत्म दर्शनम्. This was the second definition.

3) Then the third definition was in verse no.21, आत्यन्तिकम् सुखम्, it is highest happiness, in which I own up the fact that my very nature is happiness. It is not an experiential happiness, experiential happiness is finite because it is time bound. On the other hand, it is a happiness born out of the knowledge that I don't miss anything in life, I don't lack anything in life, I don't have any imperfection, this very understanding gives me a sense of fulfillment, that knowledge born fulfillment is called आत्यन्तिकम् सुखम्, third definition.

4) Then the fourth definition was तत्त्व निष्ठा, by which we mean that it is a state in which a person abides in his true nature, that he will not slip out of his स्वरूपम् even during transaction. So this is called not losing the centre of gravity. I gave you an example, when a cyclist moves, an experienced cyclist moves whatever gymnastics he does, especially you see in a circus, he does all kinds of gymnastics but he doesn't get out of the centre of gravity and in life the centre of gravity is अहम् सत्-चित्-आनन्द स्वरूपः, that is called तत्त्व निष्ठा, सहज समाधि, that is the fourth definition.

5) The fifth definition we saw was आत्यन्तिक लाभः, it is the greatest accomplishment in life, In fact, greatest accomplishment in life is coming back to myself; going in search of peace all over, discovering the fact that peace and fullness is my very nature. And that is why मोक्ष is called in तमिळ्, as veedu. Whatever we do, we want to come back to where? We want to come back home where you are at home. It has come. Similarly, a person discovers his स्वरूपम् he has got sense that I have come back to where I have to come back. So this is called आत्यन्तिक लाभ, highest gain in life.

6) Then the sixth definition is आत्यन्तिक दुःख निवृत्तिः, that gaining which a person doesn't know how to grieve in life, there is no more sorrow in life, even the worst crisis does not shake him. Because he is very clearly aware that the whole अनात्मा consists of body, mind and the world and at the level of अनात्मा unpredictable fluctuations anytime will take place. At the physical level any kind of change, the worst being death itself, he is aware that it is a probability. Similarly, at the mental level, Similarly, at the world level, since he has appreciated the अनात्मा as it is and since he is mental prepared for any kind of विकार at अनात्मा level, nothing comes as a shock for him and even if there is a passing question of: what, it is soon converted to: So What. Even the greatest, even the worst tragedy may create a passing reaction, what, next moment he recovers himself. This is the sixth definition, आत्यन्तिक दुःख निवृत्तिः, total freedom from sorrow. Up to this we saw.

7) Now कृष्ण is going to give the seventh and final definition of योगफलम्.

Verse No .23

तं विद्याद् दुःखसंयोगवियोगं योगसंज्ञितम् ।

स निश्चयेन योक्तव्यो योगोऽनिर्विण्णचेतसा ॥ ६-२३॥

तम् विद्याद् दुःख-संयोग-वियोगम् योग-संज्ञितम् ।

सः निश्चयेन योक्तव्यः योगः अनिर्विण्ण-चेतसा ॥ ६-२३॥

योग-सेवया निरुद्धम् चित्तम् यत्र उपरमते, च एव यत्र आत्माना आत्मानम् पश्यन् आत्मानि तुष्यति, यत्र यत् तत् बुद्धि-ग्राह्यम्-अतीन्द्रियम् आत्यन्तिकम् सुखम् वेति, (यत्र) च स्थितः अयम् तत्त्वतः न एव चलति, यम् च लब्ध्वा, ततः अधिकम् अपरम् लाभम् न मन्यते, यस्मिन् स्थितः गुरुणा अपि दुःखेन न विचात्यते, तम् दुःख-संयोग-वियोगम् योग-संज्ञितम् विद्याद्, सः योगः अनिर्विण्ण-चेतसा निश्चयेन योक्तव्यः

So the 7th definition is a technical definition which definition is given to avoid a confusion. A confusion can come out of the third definition which कृष्ण has given before. The third definition was आत्यन्तिक सुखम् and a person may think that this knowledge and practice of समाधि is going to bring about highest happiness in life and if we are going to think that the greatest happiness is going to come as a result of ध्यानम्, we are committing a big mistake because anything that comes in time will definitely be lost in time.

जातस्य हि ध्रुवः मृत्युः ध्रुवम् जन्म मृतस्य च । ॥ २-२७॥

Any happiness, whether it is sense pleasure or whether it is pleasure born out of meditation, if the pleasure is generated during meditation, then it will last as long as meditational conditions are there and when I am out of meditation, that समाधि आनन्द will also go away. And that is why वेदान्त says: never seek mystic pleasures. Even mystic pleasure वेदान्त is not going to emphasize because even mystic pleasure since it arrives at a time, will be subject to loss. That is why those people who claim that I had the greatest bliss in निर्विकल्पक समाधि, they themselves say that when they came out it was intense pain because that आनन्द went away and they described that intense pain is like thousand scorpions stinging all over. Now if समाधि सुखम् is going to lead to scorpion prick, who will want it. Therefore even mystic bliss if it arrives, it is subject to time and therefore कृष्ण wants to say that, infinite आनन्द should be that which never arrives. If it should be infinite आनन्द, it should never arrive at a time, at a place, or in a particular condition. Infinite आनन्द is possible only if it is already here and now. Infinite by definition is that which is here and now. Then how to get infinite आनन्द? After finishing everything you are asking this question? If you get it, you will lose it and therefore in वेदान्त, when we say infinite आनन्द प्राप्ति, it only means you remove the superimposed sorrow upon our स्वरूपम्. It is not getting a new thing, but it is removing the obstacles to own up our nature, it is exactly like a doctor giving you health by treatment. This example is given by आचार्य, when a doctor treats you, he never gives you health. No doctor gives you health, no doctor need give you health; health is natural, whereas disease is a incidental thing which we have acquired, which is unnatural, which is an intruder and when I get back my health, which health I have not accomplished, doctor has removed what: whatever be the obstacle to natural health, that obstacle, that intruder has been removed by medicine. When the intruder toxin is removed I have not got back health, I have come back to what, my natural state. That is why in संस्कृत, health is defined as being natural, स्वस्थः, स्वस्थः means what remaining in one's own nature and health is defined as स्वास्थ्यम्. Similarly, आनन्द is our nature. And when are enjoying आनन्द, we have not acquired anything, we are only in our natural state, sorrow is something which we have acquired by our wrong thinking and misconception and by वेदान्त we are only removing the sorrow microbes or sorrow bacteria through the antibiotics called आत्मज्ञानम्. So आत्मज्ञानम् dose, weekly once or weekly twice if you take, sorrow goes away, आनन्द you don't get, but you own up. And therefore कृष्ण says दुःख-संयोग-वियोगम्, समाधि is remaining in the natural state of पूर्णत्वम्, by negating the unnatural sorrow, every sorrow you analyze, you will find it is unnatural, because either it belongs to body or it belongs to the mind or it belongs to the world. None of them is your true nature, therefore every sorrow you take and hand over to अनात्मा, either to the world or body or mind. Then what is my स्वरूपम्? विदानन्दरूपः शिवोऽहम् शिवोऽहम्. And therefore what is समाधिः? दुःख-संयोग-वियोगम् – dissociation from association with sorrow, do you understand, dissociation from association with sorrow. We have associated ourselves with sorrow because of our ignorance and that wrong association we give up, we don't develop a new association with happiness because we need not associate with happiness, why, because happiness happens to be our स्वरूपम्. Therefore what is the seventh definition? दुःख-संयोग-वियोगः, disassociation from association with unnatural sorrow and this is called योग-संज्ञितम्, this is called योगः, निर्विकल्पक समाधिः. So with this, the seventh definition is also over.

Now कृष्ण is giving an advice to all Vedantic students, सः निश्चयेन योक्तव्यः – one should practice this योग by going through बहिरङ्ग साधन, I hope you have not forgotten, by going through अन्तरङ्ग साधन, then by going through धारण and ध्यानम्, one has to practice this. Because otherwise the study will be what, mere verbal gymnastics, it will not bring about any transformation. Information of गीता is not what we want, but transformation of personality is what we want. If I don't transform myself, what is the use of the knowing one more text, गीता is finished, उपनिषत् finished, ब्रह्मसूत्र will also be finished soon and then everybody in the family complains this person is terrible, therefore what is the use. Therefore I have to transform and therefore सः निश्चयेन योक्तव्यः, निश्चयेन means with perseverance, because it requires time and we have got a lot of commitment and therefore the first thing that we sacrifice is what, वेदान्त. So what is वेदान्त, easy definition: that which is sacrificed first. Any other job we will not leave, but the first casualty is this. And therefore we have to value this meditation and practice योगः and how अनिर्विण्ण-चेतसा – with a mind which is un-depressed, which does not develop any pessimism, without any self-diffidence. Because only when you sit in meditation all the subconscious problems will surface, during our regular activities, our worries will not come because we are busy with our activities. Therefore our worries will remain in the subconscious, when you sit in meditation and remove all the other thoughts, the subconscious worries which are all sitting waiting for an opportunity, they all will come; son will come and stand in front, mentally and daughter and then somebody who has died before, all these will come and therefore for many days if you sit for meditation, but we do everything other than meditation and therefore it can create frustration. And therefore कृष्ण says: never get frustrated, allot the time for dwelling on the teaching. Even if you are not successful it doesn't matter, allot the time, work on it, अभ्यास is required. Therefore with an un-depressed mind, with an unfrustrated mind, with an optimistic mind, with an enthusiastic mind may you practice this meditation. Continuing;

Verse No .24

सङ्कल्पप्रभवान्कामान् त्यक्त्वा सर्वानशेषतः ।

मनसैवेन्द्रियग्रामं विनियम्य समन्ततः ॥ ६-२४॥

सङ्कल्प-प्रभवान् कामान् त्यक्त्वा सर्वान् अशेषतः ।

मनसा एव इन्द्रिय-ग्रामम् विनियम्य समन्ततः ॥ ६-२४॥

सङ्कल्प-प्रभवान् सर्वान् कामान् अशेषतः त्यक्त्वा, मनसा एव इन्द्रिय-ग्रामम् समन्ततः विनियम्य, कृष्ण talked about ध्यानफलम् in these verses, beginning from the 20th verse up to 23rd. Now कृष्ण is not totally satisfied and therefore once again he goes back and talks about ध्यान स्वरूपम्. What exactly is the practice of meditation, what should be we be doing at the time of meditation? That He repeats. He has talked about before in the form of धारण and ध्यान and समाधि, the same topic he repeats for reinforcement. So what are we supposed to do during meditation? कृष्ण says, first turn the mind away from the worldly thoughts, about the external world, about the family members and about your business conditions and about the physical body, turn the mind away from all those, both regarding past and future. Therefore He says, सर्वान् कामान् त्यक्त्वा, here काम means your future plans and expectations, we are expert planners, next moment, next moment, next moment; rarely we live in the present. As somebody said, 'a person constantly lives in absentia,' he is not there, because today I am living in tomorrow mentally, that means today I am not even aware and doing what, preparing for tomorrow and tomorrow what do I do, prepare for tomorrow, day after tomorrow prepare for the day after day after and then suddenly यमधर्मराज comes, then you say I have been preparing all along, I have never lived, he says: you can talk about it all in the next जन्म, now come here. If life-long you prepare then when do you live and therefore enough of future planning, for 20 minutes drop your future plans. Let whatever happen, let the sky fall nothing will happen, nothing is going to happen. Therefore कामान् त्यक्त्वा, drop all your castles in the air, wishful thinking, wool gathering, stop all of them, at least for 20 minutes and how to do that, स्वामिजि I will love to, but I am not able to do that, He says, सङ्कल्प-प्रभवान्, any thought is not powerful in the beginning, any thought is not powerful in the beginning, any thought arises in the mind is only feeble like a ripple in a lake. How is a wave formed? A full-fledged is never formed suddenly, you just go to the beach and watch, you will find that constantly because of the wind the wave becomes bigger and bigger and without the support of the wind the ripples cannot become a wave. Similarly, all your future plans also, initially rises in the form of a feeble thought, then what do we do, then we keep on fanning. So this fellow is not even married, he thinks of what type of wife, where to buy the house, what to name the baby.. . So too much projects and therefore in the beginning itself tell I don't want to encourage that now. कृष्ण said this in the 2nd chapter.

सङ्गात् सञ्जायते कामः ॥ २-६२॥

And Similarly, anger is also a thought built-up. Jealousy is also a thought build-up. One thought cannot be anger, one thought cannot be jealousy, one thought cannot be depression. You repeatedly think and then alone it ends up into depression. Here what do you do, कृष्ण says, at the seed level itself divert your mind. However, bleak our future may appear never get depressed, never allow that thought to arise, सङ्कल्प-प्रभवान् is adjective to काम, प्रभवान् means born out of सङ्कल्प, सङ्कल्प means our cooperation. Every negative thought we have encouraged. The first negative thought happens, but continuation of that is with our signature alone. कृष्ण says don't put your signature.

Once you do that the mind is not available for healthy feeling and सर्वान् सङ्कल्प-प्रभवान् कामान् त्यक्त्वा, give up and इन्द्रिय-ग्रामम् विनियम्य – withdraw the sense organs which are the gateways through which the external world enters your mind and disturbs, and therefore close the gate so that external world does not enter your mind and therefore, मनसा एव – with the help of your mind itself, इन्द्रिय-ग्रामम्, इन्द्रिय-ग्रामम् means the group of sense organs, ग्रामम् means not village in this place, literally ग्राम means any group is called ग्राम. A village is called a ग्राम because there is a cluster of houses are there, families are there, therefore it is called ग्राम. Therefore you can use the word ग्राम as a suffix to any word, इन्द्रिय-ग्रामम्, a cluster of sense organs, विनियम्य – having withdrawn from the external world, समन्ततः – completely, totally. Then what should we do, कृष्ण reminds:

Verse No .25

शनैः शनैरुपरमेद् बुद्ध्या धृतिगृहीतया ।

आत्मसंस्थं मनः कृत्वा न किञ्चिदपि चिन्तयेत् ॥ ६-२५॥

शनैः शनैः उपरमेत् बुद्ध्या धृति-गृहीतया ।

आत्म-संस्थम् मनः कृत्वा न किञ्चित् अपि चिन्तयेत् ॥ ६-२५॥

धृति-गृहीतया बुद्ध्या शनैः शनैः उपरमेत्, मनः आत्म-संस्थम् कृत्वा, किञ्चित् अपि न चिन्तयेत् ।

So here कृष्ण says the withdrawal must be done gradually. One cannot suddenly go to आत्मा, because आत्मा is the subtlest nature of mind and therefore the mind cannot suddenly turn from the grossest world to the subtlest आत्मा. Just as you want to go from ground floor to first floor, you are not त्रिविक्रम अवतार to keep the leg on the first floor. Therefore you require so many intermediary stages. It is called अरुन्धती दर्शन न्याय or शाखा चन्द्र न्याय, making the mind gradually subtler and subtler. Therefore what do you do? First you turn away the mind from the grossest external world by reminding yourselves that nothing in the world belongs to me. Everything in the world is given for my use. Just like, you have got internet room, computer room, and you pay for an hour and use it and get the benefit and come away. Anywhere you go use it and come away. Similarly, the whole world along with the your wife and children and grandchildren and possessions and money, everything is given temporarily for your inner growth and therefore I don't want to claim anything. The moment you drop claiming things, mind is withdrawn. Mind dwells upon an object with which we have total अभिमान, either अहम् अभिमान or मम अभिमान. I am yours, you are mine - is all very nice, but nothing is yours, nothing is mine, everything belongs to only One, you know that One, Lord alone. We are fundamentally related to Lord or परमात्मा only, that is the only permanent One, permanent tie that we have, the moment I put that in my mind, attachment is dropped and there is a relaxation. Even without me they will be well-off. In fact, without me they will be better off. That is the fact, secret fact. So the lizard thinks it seems moving upside down on the ceiling, the lizard thinks that I am supporting the ceiling. If lizard claims that what will we say, you smile, this is the same thinking - without me the family won't run, without me the society won't run, without me they will suffer - is not all true. Nobody is indispensable. And even if you cry for someone, you will cry for one day, one week, one month, one year and there afterwards you don't even remember. And therefore withdraw from the external world. Then come to the body. Then you claim, 'OK, they are all not mine, but body is mine.' What do you have to do? You have to dwell upon the body and also dismiss the body as अनात्मा, that is also made of matter only. Therefore you withdraw from world to अन्नमय कोश, अन्नमय कोश to प्राणमय, प्राणमय to मनोमय, मनोमय to विज्ञानमय, विज्ञानमय to आनन्दमय. Don't ask what are these पञ्चकोशs. I assume that you have attended the introductory classes. In short, in simple language, from body to mind, from mind to Consciousness. Body is gross, mind is subtle, mind is gross, Consciousness is subtle. Suddenly you cannot come to Consciousness, turn your attention to the body, then come to your mind, in the mind when you watch you will see only thoughts, you will be bothered by the thoughts alone, then from that the next jump is the subtlest jump, I am not the thoughts or the mind, I am aware of the thoughts and the mind. Before the thoughts arrive, I am, during the presence of thoughts, I am, the thoughts subside thereafter also I am, therefore I am not even the thoughts, I am the witness-Consciousness. This is the subtlest final jump. And therefore कृष्ण says you have to do it very gradually without jerk, therefore शनैः शनैः, पञ्च कोश विवेक द्वारा, slowly and steadily, means अन्नमय to प्राणमय, प्राणमय to मनोमय, etc., step-by-step, with बुद्धि, with an intellect. What type of intellect, धृति-गृहीतया – which has got the willpower to sustain the journey? Otherwise when you come to body you may suddenly get lost in the body. Some back pain or something, then you think of the back pain and think of the doctor, doctor said something, ... happened to the doctor and then you go from something to something and therefore you should be extremely alert not to be carried away at any level. From स्थूल शरीरम्, the body, I should be able to come to the mind and in the mind I should not be lost in thoughts, I should be able to own up myself as the witness-Consciousness of the thoughts. And then what should I do? You can't be asking then, then. Once you come to आत्मा the journey is over. आत्म-संस्थम् मनः कृत्वा – once the mind has come to आत्मा, let the mind dwell on the आत्मा, by seeing the different features of आत्मा, the features I talked about before,

- i) I am the Consciousness different from the body is one type of meditation,
- ii) I am the Consciousness pervading the body is another type,
- iii) I am the Consciousness which goes beyond the body is another type,
- iv) I am the formless Consciousness is another type,

v) I am uncontaminated Consciousness is another form, just निर्गुण, निष्कल, नित्य, निरञ्जन, निराकार, निर्विकल्प, so many words are there, which I should have learnt from the scriptures. That is why I said this meditation is impossible without attending the classes, otherwise निर्गुण, you will not know the meaning. Therefore in the class from a गुरु you should have heard these words and you should have understood the meaning of निर्गुण, नित्य, निरञ्जन, असङ्ग, सत्य, शुद्ध, निर्विकार. Then you take anyone word and dwell upon that, अहम् असङ्ग चैतन्योऽस्मि. Therefore मनः आत्म-संस्थम् कृत्वा. Now the question is how do you do that? The exact word used by कृष्ण is mind should remain in आत्मा - this is advice; mind should remain in आत्मा. I have discussed this before, but being very important I am reiterating the same point. What do you mean by mind remaining in आत्मा? Does it mean that mind is sitting somewhere and you go on pulling like this clip which has to remain on the desk. Clip is away, desk is away and therefore if the clip has to remain on the desk, a process of action is involved, I have to bring the clip down and place on the desk, that is how clip remains on the desk. Similarly, can you say आत्मा is sitting here, mind is on the ceiling and you have to bring the mind and you have to make the mind seated on the आत्मा. That is not possible because, आत्मा the चैतन्यम् is where: आत्मा being all-pervading, mind is never away from the आत्मा, in fact, nothing is away from the आत्मा, just as nothing is away from space, nothing can be away from space, therefore mind is already in आत्मा, therefore why should I place the mind on आत्मा. So you should understand placing the mind upon आत्मा is entertaining thoughts which are centered on आत्मा, placing the mind on आत्मा is nothing but entertaining thoughts which are centered on आत्मा. When you are thinking of बद्दिनाथ, I will say that your mind is in बद्दिनाथ. If I say your mind is in your house, what does it mean, not that your mind has gone, your thoughts are about your house. Therefore mind remaining in an object means, the thoughts of the mind are about that object. If the mind has to dwell on आत्मा, it means you should have thoughts which are centered on आत्मा, like what, अहम् आत्म-स्वरूपः अस्मि, which is a deliberate thought entertained and I am the witness of all the thoughts, including अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि thought and even when the thoughts are changing, I the Consciousness do not change. These are all deliberate thoughts centered on myself and therefore कृष्ण says, मनः आत्म-संस्थम् कृत्वा – let your thoughts be आत्मा centered thoughts, technically it is called अखण्ड आकार वृत्ति, आत्मा centered thoughts are called अखण्ड आकार वृत्ति, may you entertain such thoughts only, न किञ्चित् अपि चिन्तयेत् – don't think of anything else. To put in technical language, विजातीय प्रत्यय अनन्तरित सजातीय प्रत्यय प्रवाहः, the flow of आत्मा thoughts to the exclusion of अनात्मा thoughts is called ध्यानम्. In fact, for one hour when you listen to this class your mind is dealing with what, this आत्मस्वरूपम्. Therefore actually your concentrated listening itself is a form of meditation. Don't think that you have to keep the body straight then alone is meditation, you have to close your eyes then alone is meditation, one hour your attentively listen to the class your mind doesn't go elsewhere, your other personalities are not invoked, you are doing what, श्रवणम् is a form of meditation only and meditation is re-living the श्रवणम् only. More we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुद्व्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

शनैः शनैरुपरमेद् बुद्ध्या धृतिगृहीतया ।

आत्मसंस्थं मनः कृत्वा न किञ्चिदपि चिन्तयेत् ॥ ६-२५॥

So उपरमेत्, one should gradually withdraw the mind from अनात्मा, all the objects, because in this meditation we want to dwell upon the very subject itself. So here the meditation is on the meditator, here the meditation is on the meditator himself, I want to dwell upon my own nature. Since it is a subjective meditation, all the objective thoughts should be gradually eliminated. The objects are divided into three:

- i) the first object is external world because it is an object of my experience,
- ii) the second object is my physical body itself which is also an object of my experience,
- iii) the third object is my own mind which is also an object of my experience.

So world is object of experience, body is object of experience, even mind is an object of experience. And in meditation what do I do? Initially my attention is on the world, then I shift my attention to the body, then I shift my attention to the mind and then I shift my attention to what? the very observer of the mind, i.e., I - the awareness, the witness-Consciousness-principle. And it takes time, you can come to the body perhaps it is easier, even when it comes to the body, now and then it will go to the first son, second daughter, third son-in-law, again you have to bring to the body, again it will run outside. And then you come to the mind, then varieties of emotions distracts you, so your depressions, your fears, your anger, your hatred, your jealousy, your anxiety, they are all what, things in the mind, that is why people ask 'स्वामिजि, the moment I sit in meditation, all kinds of worries come.' So they are all lying there, which I have been ignoring my turning the attention to the external world. It is only escapism. So when I sit in meditation those things come, there I have to very carefully handle, all the emotions are also part of the mind which I am not, all the emotions also are part of the mind, which I am not. There are many emotions which are under my control and there are many emotions which are not under my control. So therefore emotions will come. In Vedantic meditation, I don't try to control my emotions. In Vedantic meditation, I try to objectify my emotions. I try to stand aloof from my emotions and try to see that they also do not belong to me. So body has got its nature, mind has got its nature and I am different from both of them. And some people get some pleasant experience, 'स्वामिजि, it is very nice.' That pleasant experience also belongs to the mind only because when the mind is quietened that experience came, when the mind was turbulent that experience was not there, when the mind is quiet that experience came, therefore that experience also belongs to the mind alone, therefore, I should tell myself even this pleasant experience belongs to अनात्मा, I should not get lost in this experience. In माण्डुक्य कारिका, गौडपादाचार्य says enjoying the pleasantness in meditation is also an obstacle and he calls that obstacle as रसास्वाद, रसम् means pleasant, in our area when something is very nice we say it is so sweet, very nice, pleasant. आस्वादः means enjoying, even enjoying the pleasant feeling of meditation is an obstacle because the pleasantness also belongs to the quiet mind. We are talking about what, not the pleasant condition, we are talking about the witness of the pleasant condition, which was there before meditation, which witness is there after meditation. I want to own up the witness- आत्मा. I don't want to enjoy pleasant experience in meditation. Here the meditation is for owning up the knowledge, not for any special experience. Vedantic meditation is only for owning up this knowledge, not for any special experience and even if special experience comes I should tell that I have nothing to do with this experience, this is also आयाराम, गयाराम;

who wants. It is as much a sensory pleasure as an ice-cream is. Ice cream is pleasant if you like at the time of eating, ice cream also ends. Similarly, in meditation you feel pleasant, meditation also ends, who wants that experience, it is another bondage. On the other hand, meditation becomes worthwhile if I own up the teaching in meditation and what is that teaching: I am the witness of the mind and all its ordinary and extraordinary experiences, I am the witness of the mind and its all ordinary and extraordinary experiences, none of them belongs to me. Therefore कृष्ण says, शनैः शनैः उपरमेत् – one should withdraw, with the help of what: बुद्ध्या – with the help of the intellect which has the backing of this teaching. That is why Vedantic meditation is possible only by a student of the गीता उपनिषत्, a non-student can never practice meditation; that is why if anyone asks me स्वामिजि teach me meditation, I generally say, five types of meditations are there, I told you in the introduction, of this any one of them of the four you can practice, but if the fifth if you have to practice, you have to necessarily become a student of वेदान्त. Why, कृष्ण adds, बुद्ध्या, Vedantic meditation is practice with the help of the intellect which has the teaching behind it. What teaching, I am neither the mind nor the experiences of the mind. And not only the intellect is required, धृति-गृहीतया – an intellect which is supported by willpower, supported by willpower. If the willpower is not there I will get attached to the pleasant experiences, they are all temptations. All the pleasant experiences are temptations, they come under अनात्मा. Why they come under अनात्मा, because they are subject to arrival and departure, all pleasant experiences. Therefore धृति-गृहीतया, backed by willpower one should withdraw from अनात्मा. And what should you do? आत्म-संस्थम् मनः कृत्वा, having withdrawn from all other things the mind should abide in the आत्मा, मनः आत्म-संस्थम् कृत्वा, the mind should rest on the आत्मा, abide on the आत्मा. So here also the question comes how does the mind abide on आत्मा? I have already discussed, but you should remember here also, when I say that the clip is resting on the desk, you know that now the clip is not resting, through a process you can bring down and now the clip is resting. Now can you say that the mind is also now not resting on the आत्मा and by meditation I have to drag the mind, keep it on the आत्मा, put fevicol or cello tape or something, is it a physical process? You should know that, there is no such event happening because, everything in the creation rests already on आत्मा only. आत्मा being all-pervading Consciousness, nobody need bring the mind, nobody need bring the mind and keep on the आत्मा, because like space, आत्मा is everywhere. You can keep the clip on the desk, suppose I ask you to keep the clip in the space, what should you do, what will be your answer, clip is already in space, if it is out of space then you have to bring. Therefore the question comes what is meant by the mind resting on anything? Mind rests on anything by entertaining a thought centered on that thing. Mind resting on the Lord is nothing but mind entertaining the thought of the Lord, mind resting on हिमालय is nothing but the mind entertaining the thought of हिमालय, that being so, the mind resting on आत्मा is nothing but the mind entertaining the thoughts centered on the Self. And what are the thoughts centered on the self, अहम् चैतन्य स्वरूपः अस्मि, I am of the nature of Consciousness, I pervade the body and mind as Consciousness, I enliven the body and mind as Consciousness, the body and mind are only medium for my experience and this medium can arrive and depart. Without these media I won't experience the world, but even without them I, the Consciousness continues to exist. In waking body medium is available, I experience you, in sleep the body and senses are not functioning, I don't experience you. So the experience comes and goes, the experiencer I the Consciousness am eternally present. So I am eternal Consciousness, I am all-pervading Consciousness, I am undivided Consciousness, I am untainted Consciousness. These are all what, mind abiding in Myself. This is called अखण्ड आकार वृत्ति, all thoughts centered on आत्मा is called अखण्ड आकार वृत्ति, because there is no subject-object division. Who is the thinker I am the thinker. Who is the thought-about? I Myself. So therefore आत्म-संस्थम् मनः कृत्वा means what: entertain the thoughts centered on your nature. And then what else I should do? न किञ्चित् अपि चिन्तयेत् – don't disturb that thought, don't distract yourselves by entertaining any other thought, न किञ्चित् अपि चिन्तयेत् मेअन्स् don't think of anything else, anything else means anything other than the आत्मा, you don't say, here the confusion comes, न किञ्चित् अपि चिन्तयेत् many people mistake as total thoughtlessness, we don't approve of total thoughtlessness, we say don't entertain any thought other than the Self-thought. The Self-thought is a must in meditation, otherwise it is called blind समाधि. Blind समाधि means absolute thoughtless, in संस्कृत it is called अन्ध समाधि, जड समाधि, अज्ञान समाधि, you don't get any benefit, you will get a deep relaxation and whether you get the benefit or not, the other people will get the benefit when the others meditate, because less troubled. So therefore that meditation does not give any spiritual benefit, total thoughtlessness does not give any spiritual benefit, it will give some psychological benefit, it will give some physical benefit, you may be rejuvenated, the meditation becomes spiritual only when the thought centered on the Spirit, आत्मा is there. Therefore आत्म-संस्थम् मनः कृत्वा न किञ्चित् अपि चिन्तयेत्. Continuing;

ततस्ततो नियम्यैतदात्मन्येव वशं नयेत् ॥ ६-२६॥

यतः यतः निश्चरति मनः चञ्चलम् अस्थिरम् ।

ततः ततः नियम्य एतत् आत्मानि एव वशं नयेत् ॥ ६-२६॥

चञ्चलम् अस्थिरम् मनः यतः यतः निश्चरति, ततः ततः एतत् नियम्य आत्मानि एव वशं नयेत् ।

That is why we say that even while studying the scriptures, when the teacher is talking about आत्मस्वरूपम्, the nature of the self, if the student is going along with the teacher and the student also entertains the same thought as the teacher, the teacher says You are Consciousness, what should the student think, student should not say, ‘you are Consciousness’, the student should convert the second person into the first person, that much person-shifting is necessary. So when the teacher says You are Consciousness, the student also understands the significance of the teaching, I am a conscious being and the teacher is revealing the fact that as the conscious being I am ever free. And if the student follows that remember the very श्रवणम् is meditation, not that you should sit in an आसनम् and keep the body straight, if the body straight, half closed eyes, they are all supportive systems, but what makes the meditation is आत्माकार वृत्ति, therefore the श्रवणम् itself is ध्यानम्, if it is an active श्रवणम् in which the student closely goes behind. And that is why one of the great आचार्यसुःश्वराचार्य, a direct disciple of शङ्कराचार्य says, even if one does not separately sit in meditation, it is not compulsory, repeated श्रवणम्, repeated listening to the teaching itself is a form of meditation only. Therefore we should not have the thinking that meditation means आसन, straight, etc., you should not think, they are all incidentals, meditation means the mind dwelling upon the teaching consistently. And here in this श्लोक, कृष्ण says when the mind is dwelling on the teaching the distractions are bound to come. अर्जुन himself will complain later, हे कृष्ण! my mind is worse than a monkey:

my mind is अति चञ्चलम् and I don’t think I will be able to restrain the mind and कृष्ण says don’t feel bad if your mind is restless, because everybody mind is restless, you are not alone. Then at least there is some समाधानम्, so everyone has this problem. This is a universal problem, that is why it is incorporated in the गीता itself. So कृष्ण says चञ्चलम् मनः निश्चरति – the fickle restless extrovert mind will go out, निश्चरति means like the child it will run away, the mother keeps on her lap, like a spring the child gets up and run. So चञ्चलम् मनः – the restless, fickle, volatile mind निश्चरति – it goes out, यतः यतः – because of various sense objects distracting the mind, because of one sense object or the other. It may be to hear the horn of the car and suddenly you remember your car which has been given for service and never given back and from that you will think of the new car that you wanted to buy and then you think of whether to buy Indica or Maruti, which car you want, then you go on and on, you are supposed to be doing आत्मध्यानम्, but ending up in car ध्यानम्. So कृष्ण says it is natural, don't feel guilty, it is very very natural. Therefore यतः यतः means because of any external factor mind will stray away. And external factor need not be inanimate, it can be a person also, suddenly you remember your husband, wife or father or mother, or children, any blessed thing, living or non-living, or the pet dog. For some people that is loved more than the family members. Anything, in fact, in भागवत, जडभरत gets distracted by a deer, can you imagine, he had so much determination that he gave up his kingdom, or the entire family he gave up and one deer became very dear, that is why it is called dear, then he started you bringing up the deer and all the time भागवतम् it is beautifully described, all the times he thinks of that, wherever he goes he thinks that deer what it will be doing and at the time of death also, it is deer ध्यानम् and in the next जन्म, he becomes a deer; so it can be anything. When the mind is distracted what should one do? ततः ततः नियम्य – withdraw the mind from those respective objective, so withdraw the mind from those respective objects by telling yourselves that nothing belongs to me for me to get obsessed with them. Obsession comes because of ownership. And therefore never own anything, even though for worldly purposes you may own a house or car, I don't ask you to sell it, you don't come and stand before me saying because of me you sold everything, where can I give you accommodation. I don't want you to sell your house and car, let ownership be a functional ownership but in the innermost heart let it be remembered nothing belongs to me, everything is a temporary gift from the Lord, Lord has blessed me with certain things and using those things I have to grow, I should not get stuck, I should not fall in love with a particular school and permanently remain there. If you do that which teacher will be happy; the student says he loves me very much so permanently sit there. Loving the teacher is one thing and remaining in the class permanently is another thing. Love the teacher but get out, teacher himself wants, other students will come and therefore all the time remember this: ownership is the cause of obsession, obsession is the cause of distraction and distraction is the obstacle. And therefore, ततः ततः नियम्य, you can tell, Oh Lord everything is yours, Oh Lord everything is yours, तन मन धन सब् कुछ तेरा, it should not be merely verbal, but it should come from the innermost heart, which should include my own physical body, what to talk of wife or child or husband, my own physical body I don't want to own, my own mind I don't want to own, not I don't want, I don't own. So नियम्य. Then what should you do? आत्मनि एव वशम् नयेत् – again bring the mind back to the आत्मा, अखण्ड आकार वृत्ति अभ्यासम् कुरु. So आत्मनि एव वशम् नयेत् means bring the mind to the field of आत्मा. Continuing;

उपैति शान्तरजसं ब्रह्मभूतमकल्मषम् ॥ ६-२७॥

प्रशान्त-मनसम् हि एनम् योगिनम् सुखम् उत्तमम् ।

उपैति शान्त-रजसम् ब्रह्म-भूतम् अकल्मषम् ॥ ६-२७॥

प्रशान्त-मनसम् शान्त-रजसम् अकल्मषम् ब्रह्म-भूतम् एनम् योगिनम् हि उत्तमम् सुखम् उपैति ।

What will be the result of this practice? So ध्यानफलम् कृष्ण mentions in these verses. प्रशान्त-मनसम् हि एनम् उत्तमम् सुखम् उपैति – the benefit of this meditation is the highest peace will come to that person, उत्तमम् सुखम् means the greatest peace, the peace that passeth all understanding, a peace which is not determined by external conditions. Any other type of peace that I enjoy is because I add, as long as I add because that peace is conditional-peace. Conditional-peace is not peace, anything conditional is not real, this is one Vedantic lesson that you should always remember, anything conditional is fake. If you say I am secure because there is money, वेदान्त calls it conditional security, because it is ‘because of’ money and conditional security is not real security because anytime it can go and what can go away is not real. Similarly, conditional peace, conditional happiness, conditional fulfillment. The benefit of Vedantic meditation is unconditional peace. So here उत्तमम् means unconditional, निर्येक्षम्. And I am peaceful, why if somebody asks, the ज्ञानि’s answer will be because that is my very nature. If you ask fire why are you hot, what will fire say, because that is my nature, if you ask water why are you hot, it will say that because I am in contact with fire and it will not last long also. But fire is hot unconditionally, therefore permanently. Similarly, I am peaceful unconditionally, therefore I am permanently peaceful, peacefully rich, peacefully poor, peacefully with house, peacefully without house, peacefully with people, peacefully without people, peacefully young, peacefully old, peacefully black haired, peacefully white haired also or any other color. So this is उत्तमम् सुखम् उपैति, this is the फलम्, the details of which we will see in the next class.

CHAPTER 06, VERSES 27-28

In this 6th chapter of the गीता, Lord कृष्ण is elaborately discussing the topic of निदिध्यासनम्, otherwise known as Vedantic meditation and we should remember that this निदिध्यासनम् is relevant and meaningful only after the study of वेदान्त, which is called श्रवणम् and मननम्. The actual Self-knowledge has to take place only at the time of श्रवणम्. The systematic study alone has to produce the knowledge in the mind. Just as when I look into the mirror, if the mirror is clean and placed in front of me properly, I can get a real picture of my face in the mirror, if my eyes are not defective. In the same way, a गुरु presents the Vedantic teaching, which is like the mirror kept in front of the student, the verbal mirror. And if this teaching is properly presented and if the listener has got a defect-free mind, this very teaching can and will generate the knowledge in the mind and therefore we should remember knowledge is only through श्रवणम्. Vedantic meditation is not meant for the rise of knowledge. Vedantic meditation is not meant for the rise of knowledge, the knowledge has to arise through the teaching and then this has to be followed by my मननम्, which has to remove any trace of doubt with regard to the teaching, any trace of doubt with regard to the fundamentals aspect of वेदान्त, ब्रह्म सत्यं जगन्मिथ्या जीवो ब्रह्मैव नापरः, ब्रह्मन् is the substratum of the world and the world is dependent on ब्रह्मन् and ब्रह्मन् the substratum is none other than myself. With regard to these fundamentals teachings of the वेदान्त, I should not have any trace of doubt and removal of doubt is possible only through the method of reasoning, because doubt belongs to the intellect and intellect knows only the language of reasoning. So thus श्रवणम् and मननम् should do the job of producing knowledge. Therefore, निःसंशय ज्ञानम्, conviction regarding Vedantic teaching has to take place through श्रवणम् and मननम् only. And if this conviction has taken place through श्रवणम् and मननम्, what is the role of निदिध्यासनम् or Vedantic meditation, I have said before: Vedantic meditation is meant for enjoying the benefit of knowledge, न तु ज्ञान सिद्ध्यर्थम् परन्तु ज्ञानफल सिद्ध्यर्थम्. Because our problem is we seem to know and understand the teaching, but the promised benefit doesn't seem to be in me, because the scriptures present that a ज्ञानि is free from various emotional problems:

दुःखेष्वनुद्विग्नमनाः सुखेषु विगतस्पृहः । वीतरागभयक्रोधः ॥ २-५६॥

ज्ञानि's state of mind is talked about in the scriptures. When I look at myself from the stand point of those descriptions I feel that between me and a ज्ञानि it is not matching. Therefore we doubt our knowledge. कृष्ण wants to say that there is no defect in knowledge, what we lack is not knowledge, but we lack is the benefit of knowledge and the benefit of knowledge is शान्ति, freedom from anxiety, sense of fulfillment, freedom from jealousy, hatred, अद्वेष्टा सर्वभूतानाम्, etc. And therefore the role of निदिध्यासनम् is removing the block between ज्ञानम् and ज्ञानफलम् and what is the block between knowledge and the benefit of मनः शान्ति? The block is our habitual ways of thinking, our habitual ways of looking at ourselves. We are habituated to look at ourselves as a physical person or as an emotional person, or as an intellectual person, whereas वेदान्त has taught us that physical body is not ourselves. Therefore the physical identification, emotional identification, etc., are our habitual way of looking at ourselves. And not only we are habituated to look at ourselves in a particular सांसारिक fashion, because of that our way of looking at the life's events - loss of job, loss of money, separation from a person - even the way we respond to the life's events is habitual. So thus the way we look at ourselves, the way we look at the world and the way we look at God, we have got a habit. So our problem is not of ignorance, our problem is our habitual ways of responding. दयानन्द स्वामिजि beautifully tells: that when in India, when स्वामिजि was taken to someplace, he just enters the car and in India the driving is right hand driving and therefore, naturally, generally he sits in the front side, therefore he goes to the left side of the car and opens the door and sits, because the steering is on the right side. And when goes to America, स्वामिजि goes here and there and automatically when स्वामिजि goes and open the left front door, there the steering is there. Oh I am in America and this steering is on the left side therefore I am supposed to go to the right. Now is this behavior born of ignorance or habit? It is not ignorance, every one of us knows that here it is LHS, there it is RHS. Therefore our whole behavior is in a particular orientation and this is developed not in one year or two years or even in one जन्म, but it is in अनादि अविद्या वासनया, (as we say in श्रावणी पौर्णिमा) अनादि अविद्या वासनया, वासना means habitual response. And therefore निदिध्यासनम् is to invoke my Vedantic personality and learn to re-look into myself, in the light of वेदान्त, learn to relook into your family situation in the light of वेदान्त if you have a complaint about your son or daughter or son-in-law or daughter-in-law or husband or wife, you have to re-look into that family problem in the light of Vedantic teaching and we should learn to rename it, I will no more call it a problem. So naming it is getting hooked and that is why they are changing even the names because, verbalization, vocalization indicates our ways of thinking and that is why when they want to give the news for deaf people, they will say you should not call deaf, but hearing impaired. What does it mean, deaf only? Why change the word, because word represents our thinking. A change of the very language will bring about a change in our ways of thinking. Therefore I look at the family member whom I have been calling problem problem problem and I learn to say that it is not a problem. In the light of वेदान्त it is not a problem, it is a situation caused by various factors including प्रारब्ध. Similarly, look at the office situation, look at any situation, including Government and I should see, re-see through the goggles of वेदान्त and I should say as they say in Transactional Analysis, I am OK, you are OK. Either we say you are not OK, I am

OK or you are OK, but I am not, otherwise we tell both are not OK. What is wisdom? Everyone is OK. So this relooking in the light of Vedantic teaching and seeing that there is no problem at all, there are various situations to be faced and acted upon with success or without success, but that also cannot be called a problem. Even the word success and failure is a word we have invented, only कर्म-फलम् is there. Imagine two people are together running a business and one person expected five percent profit, another person expected fifteen percent profit and the profit was 10%. And now the first person is going to say that it is wonderful, I expected 5% and got more, like children getting marks. One is very happy to get 93%, because he was expecting only 85% and another is so disappointed, why I expected 99% but I got 93% only. The result remaining the same, one calls it success, one calls it failure, one is depressed another is elated. Therefore most of our responses are born out of tagging, which is born out of thinking, which is born out of our knowledge or ignorance. So वेदान्त is a painful, time-consuming re-assessment of our situations in life and in that reassessment I should be able to say I am happy not because of situations, but in spite of situations. I told you about one स्वामि who lost his eyes because of diabetics and eyes are considered to be most important organ, people consider it as a shock and tragedy. You meet that स्वामिजि, he is so bubbling that he consoles those people who have eyes and he says my गुरुवायूरप्पन् thinks that it is enough seeing this rubbish. I have got my Lord in my heart and I can see all the time, otherwise people have to bother in meditation, how to handle the eyes, whether to see the nose or the eyebrows, I don't have that problem, because which distracts and he bubbles and some doctor said that there is a possibility of recovering the sight and are you interested, he said no and I don't want. So situations remaining the same you can make any situation in the life, this is called अभिभवः, अभिभवः means you don't solve the problem, you dissolve it. I will give you an example. When you look at the sky during the day time, there the stars are there in the sky or not? Is the stars are coming in the night or is it in the day time also. Any doubt? The stars are there all the time but during the day-time, the stars are not absent, but they are as though absent because their light is overpowered by the light of the Sun. In this I have not removed the stars, but the star's light is अभिभूतम्, overpowered. In the same way, वेदान्त gives me a new vision and new fulfillment, in the light of the fulfillment which is like the sun my problems do not go away, but all these problems get what, overshadowed by this new perception of myself. So if there is physical sickness it will continue. The members of the family are not going to change, because you study गीता. They will continue to be as cantankerous and problematic as before, but your site changes, like the astrologer said, you have got the शनि problem for 6 months, then what will happen after that, you will get used to that. So when you get used to then you don't feel its presence. Similarly, वेदान्त does अभिभव of the ego's problems, they become insignificant, they become too small in front of the पूर्णत्वम् that I have discovered and this अभिभव is the job in meditation. I look at every problem of mind and see it as insignificant to the extent that it is as good as non-existent like what, the stars during day-time, they are as good as absent. And that is said as the निदिध्यासनम् and once I change my perspective, the so-called problems are no more problems and therefore the anxiety that those problems came, that anxiety is not there. My future continues to be unpredictable, in fact, everybody's future is unpredictable, whose future is predictable, who is sure whether we will be there or not tomorrow. Don't worry, we will be there, स्वामिजि is talking like this, don't feel like that, the whole life is unpredictable including ज्ञानि's life. If he is starting a big आश्रम, it is unpredictable and a ज्ञानि's life is more unpredictable because it has to depend upon public. Therefore both remaining the same, previously the unpredictability gave me an anxiety but now the very same unpredictability does not give the anxiety. This is called ज्ञानफलम्. So a ज्ञानि's peace of mind is not because his future has become predictable, a ज्ञानि's freedom from anxiety is not because of predictability, but in spite of unpredictability. And this is called जीवन्मुक्तिः and this जीवन्मुक्ति you can enjoy only if you do this new exercise. What is the exercise, studying your life's situations again and again in the light of this new teaching. And that process is called निदिध्यासनम्. So निदिध्यासनम् is not a thoughtless state, निदिध्यासनम् is not looking for some mystic experiences, निदिध्यासनम् is not going to bring a new flow of आनन्द, like the कुद्रातम season. Don't expect anything to happen, it is none of them, it is relooking at myself and the world in the light of the teaching, which changes the perspective and response and therefore there is peace of mind. In भागवतम्, they describe how कृष्ण looked at all the यादवस quarreling, fighting and killing each other. And कृष्ण sees right in front of his eyes the शापम् coming through, you know the story how the शापम् came that you are going to fight and die and कृष्ण is the Lord himself and कृष्ण could not stop his family members fighting and dying one by one. Soon he is also going to join the majority, he is also going to be shot. And भागवतम् describes कृष्ण's perception of that events, leaning on a tree with his hands on his knees, he looks at the whole event with a smile, it is a choice-less situation, even for भगवान्. What भगवान्? Omnipotent, Omniscient कृष्ण choicelessly sees the event of every family member dying one by one. And what was कृष्ण's response, a smile, not that he is happy about it, but the thing is he looks at the situation, a choice-less situation has to happen. Where there is a choice कृष्ण will certainly take an action. Therefore a ज्ञानि does take an action where it has to be, a ज्ञानि does accept where it is choice-less. So the world and the life will continue. The change is where, not in the world, not in the people, not in the body but in the way of perception and the way of response and this शान्ति कृष्ण talks about in the 27th verse. कृष्ण says उत्तमम् सुखम् उपैति – this ज्ञानि enjoys the highest आनन्द, contentment, पूर्णत्वम्, it is not an ordinary सुखम् born out of an external changing, fluctuating, unpredictable factor, but it is an आनन्द born out of the knowledge that I am पूर्णः. When he uses the word I, you know the meaning of the word I, not the physical I, not the emotional I, not even the intellectual I, but I the आत्मा am पूर्णः. So उत्तमम् सुखम् उपैति. What type of ज्ञानि? Not the one who has done श्रवणम्, मननम् alone, but the ज्ञानि who has struggled and used the Vedantic knowledge to look into every aspect of his life. It is just like, if you want to change a राग in carnatic music, you have to go to the स्वरः which go make the राग. You cannot change the राग without changing the स्वर. If I want to change the shape of this hall, I will have to take every brick and rearrange. Similarly, if my life has to change every thought in my mind has to change, my life consists of only a series of thinking, what is sorrow, it is a thought, what is jealousy, it is a thought, what is frustration, it is a thought. So how you define your life is purely joining the bundle of thoughts that you entertain every moment, right from the morning when you miss the coffee. Of course you respond by a thought, that is your life, one thought is not your life, but your life is nothing but all the thoughts put together and if you have to change the building, the bricks have to change, if you have to change your life, your very thought process has to change, which is a time consuming process and this ज्ञानि has done that. So time is required, effort is required. Therefore कृष्ण describes that ज्ञानि, प्रशान्त-मनसम् – the one whose mind is free from unhealthy thought processes, in the form of anxiety, fear, jealousy, etc., every unhealthy thought he has consciously and deliberately handled, managed and therefore he is not thoughtless, but his thoughts are undisturbing thoughts, thoughts do not disturb the mind. In fact, for one hour you are listening to my talk during which your mind has to entertain thoughts, even I am talking each word, I am presenting an idea to you and that idea is generated in your mind in the form of what: thought alone. Now is this thought a burden to you? If it is burden you will not come here, one hour it is burdensome, No. Thought is not संसार, you need not eliminate any thought, that is why wise man is described in the 12th chapter as a man of compassion, compassion is a thought pattern and compassion is not संसार, love is not संसार, generosity is not संसार, burdening thoughts are replaced by the thoughts which are not a burden and that is called शान्त वृत्ति, they are called सात्त्विक वृत्ति, सात्त्विक वृत्ति means they are light in your mind, they sit light in your mind, they are not a burden to you and such a mind ज्ञानि enjoys, अशान्तस्य मनो भारः – mind is a burden for a person who doesn't have peace of mind. If there is no peace in the mind, everything will be भारम्, if peace is there mind is light; on the other hand mind is a wonderful instrument with which I can study, I can love people, I can help. So therefore you can have peace, peace is your choice, is it not correct? The programs are all from गीता, it is your choice, don't curb your mind, don't destroy your mind in the name of मनो नाशम्, don't destroy the mind. If you keep it alright you will enjoy, it is a privilege, it is a blessing, it is a gift from the Lord, that which disturbs, the unclean thoughts, remove it and it will be fine. A ज्ञानि enjoys what type of mind, प्रशान्त-मनसम् शान्त-रजसम् and how did he enjoy or how does he enjoy such a mind, by removing रजसिक वृत्ति, what is रजसिक वृत्ति, disturbing thought - क्रोध, लोभ, मोह, मद, मात्सर्य. So neighbor's child has got good marks, our child has failed, or OK with 70% and the other one has got 97%, why have jealousy, congratulate him well. It is difficult but we can do that, somebody has got better, somebody has less, these are all तारतम्यम् is the law of creation, congratulate openly, admire, done well, wonderful, etc. So शान्त-रजसम् means disturbing, burdensome thoughts are शान्तम् and how did he achieve that, by निदिध्यासनम्, what is निदिध्यासनम्, relooking into situations in the light of Vedantic teaching; some intellects are very brilliant, some intellects are not so brilliant, like bodies are healthy and some bodies are not healthy. So let me enjoy what I have rather than compare with others. And therefore शान्त-रजसम् and अकल्मषम्, कल्मष means तामस वृत्ति, are also subsided, तामस वृत्ति means मोह वृत्ति. So विद्यारण्य स्वामि in पञ्चदशि says: सात्त्विक वृत्ति is called शान्त वृत्ति, रजस वृत्ति is called घोर वृत्ति, तामस वृत्ति is called मूढ वृत्ति, मूढम् means full of delusion and confusion. They are also not there. Therefore अकल्मषम् means neither तामसम् predominant mind, शान्त-रजसम् means not रजस् predominant mind, रजस् and तमस् are subservient to what, सात्त्विक mind, सात्त्विक mind is indicated by प्रशान्त-मनसम्. And such a ज्ञानि who is now योगि, योगि means meditator and you should remember, this relook, reorientation is to be done compulsorily, is not forgetting the problem, forgetting the problem doesn't solve, forgetfulness - if you say that, the problem is not going anywhere, it is inside, it is like the fire which is somewhere here and you don't want to be disturbed by the fire and therefore you cover it with some newspaper, that will catch up slowly and become a conflagration. Our aim is not forgetting the problem, forgetfulness is not solution, you are putting in your deep conscious mind and whenever time comes, ideal time comes you will start crying with a flood of tears, only you have to see someone who is very close to you, we people face it, they will come for seeking advice and they start crying saying स्वामिजि, etc., because they could not share it with anyone, that is why we say, we are all Swiss banks, all private accounts, secret accounts, we cannot speak out, it will spread, what will happen if it spreads, what will happen to my daughter's marriage. So therefore we are only just hiding in our subconsciousness, that is not the solution. But I should see it my past, my future I see it with the torchlight of वेदान्त I should see it and therefore what I want to say is, this निदिध्यासनम् is compulsory, but that you should sit in पद्मासन. समम् काय-शिरः-ग्रीवम्, keeping the neck straight, etc., the posture is not important. If you love to do that in a comfortable posture, you do. We are interested in what: the child studying, is he studying lying in the easy chair or is he sitting समम् काय-शिरः-श्रीवम् and sleeping, etc., why should you bother. If he is sleeping, sitting straight, what is the use? So even if you are going to sit straight or lie down, we don't insist upon the posture. So therefore don't think that when someone says meditation, it is sitting in पद्मासन in a tight legged way in the ground. What is important is even if you are walking in the beach and then revising your perspective, that is meditation. You are lying down on your bed and again restructuring your perspective, that is also meditation only. So meditation is transformation of your very thinking process is meditation. So such a योगि, योगि means meditator, निदिध्यासक and ब्रह्म-भूतम् – who has become one with ब्रह्मन्. Who has become one with ब्रह्मन् means these are all fundamentals, you should not think that ब्रह्मन् is sitting there and you should do meditation and slowly dissolve and at last merged into ब्रह्मन्. Don't think, ब्रह्म-भूतम् means what? Instead of identifying with अनात्मा, he has learned to own up the आत्मस्वरूपम्, instead of claiming body as I, instead of claiming mind as I, he looks upon them as instruments of transactions, I am the चैतन्यम् behind these instruments. This shifting the first person singular is called ब्राह्मी-भावः, therefore ब्रह्म-भूतम्. What is the benefit of that meditation, उत्तमम् सुखम् उपैति. Continuing;

Verse No .28

युञ्जन्नेवं सदात्मानं योगी विगतकल्मषः ।

सुखेन ब्रह्मसंस्पर्शमत्यन्तं सुखमश्नुते ॥ ६-२८॥

युञ्जन् एवम् सदा आत्मानम् योगी विगत-कल्मषः ।

सुखेन ब्रह्म-संस्पर्शम् अत्यन्तम् सुखम् अश्नुते ॥ ६-२८॥

एवम् सदा आत्मानम् युञ्जन् योगी विगत-कल्मषः ब्रह्म-संस्पर्शम् अत्यन्तम् सुखम् सुखेन अश्नुते ।

So the same idea is presented in a different way, अत्यन्तम् सुखम् अश्नुते, in the previous श्लोक it was said, उत्तमम् सुखम् उपैति, same idea He says here, अत्यन्तम् instead of उत्तमम्, अश्नुते instead of उपैति. So he gets infinite आनन्द, शान्ति, contentment, पूर्णत्वम्, this person attains. Who? This योगि. This शान्ति is not ज्ञानम्, this शान्ति is ज्ञानफलम्. What did meditation do, meditation did not produce even शान्ति, ज्ञानम् has to automatically produce शान्ति, but our ways of thinking was an obstacle and through meditation, what we did, we removed the obstacle, ज्ञानम् naturally gave शान्ति, like opening the tap. when I open the tap, I am not bringing down the water, water coming down is the result of what, not my effort, what coming down is the result of भगवान्'s law, What law, law of gravitation. But in the tank, जलम् should be there, if जलम् is there in the tank it should come in the tap, you need not even do प्रार्थना to the Lord, natural. But if you say it didn't come in my house tap, there is an obstruction, opening the tap is not bringing down the water, opening the tap is removal of the obstacle for the natural flow. Similarly, ज्ञानम् means शान्ति, it is there. ज्ञानम् has to flow down in the form of शान्ति alone, but this शान्ति flow if it doesn't come, we have closed the tap. What is that: our habitual ways thinking. So by निदिध्यासनम् this habitual thinking if we eliminate, शान्ति I don't produce, the natural शान्ति which is the consequence of ज्ञानम्, that just flows. When I say flows, don't think that it will gush down from somewhere and it will flow through your eyes, flow is only a figurative expression, I seem to discover more and more शान्ति, I seem discover more and more शान्ति. Previously a situation produced too much of अशान्ति. But now the same situation brings it a little less and again any transformation is gradual, this transformation is also not an overnight process, not that you keep on meditating and you never had an शान्ति till a particular day and on a particular day night 12.37, floodgates of शान्ति was opened, like opening the red hill gates. Don't think like that, any transformation is gradual, this ज्ञानम् producing शान्ति is also a slow, gradual transformation. Just as our physical change is a gradual process, not that immediately after birth you become 80 kilos; first 2-1/2 kgs and then gradually 30, 40, 50kgs and now I don't how to stop this. वेदान्त is also like that, initially you have to initiate the flow and there afterwards you will find that the वेदान्त jells and you do see that the शान्ति seems to gradually increase and therefore अत्यन्तम् सुखम् अश्नुते and who attains this सुखम्, योगि, योगि means the Vedantic meditator, the one who gives quality time to change his ways of thinking. So he is called योगि and how does he does he bring out this transformation, एवम् आत्मानम् सदा युञ्जन्, it is like physiotherapy, in physiotherapy you have to repeatedly do for the hand to function, you have to do exercising and the fractured hand will start functioning and Similarly, this is a psycho therapy like thing, it is a time consuming process, In fact, more time consuming because mind is a subtler equipment, hand is outside and you can make it alright by exercising, mind cannot be done like that, it is a process which requires initiative. Therefore He says एवम् – in this manner, as said before, आत्मानम् युञ्जन्, आत्मा here means mind, आत्मा means mind, युञ्जन् means regulating the mind, reorienting the mind, transforming the thought process. Of course in the light of Vedantic knowledge gained through श्रवणम् and मननम्, what will happen, विगत-कल्मषः – this योगि is gradually free from his unhealthy habits of thinking, unhealthy habits are called विपरीत भावना, विपर्यय. So all these विपरीत भावनाs will get gradually erased. Everything like anger is a विपरीत भावना, frustration is a विपरीत भावना. We are so great experts that naturally we get frustrated, no effort is required, because well established, frustration-निष्ठा. So therefore विगत-कल्मषः, कल्मषः here means विपरीत भावना, habitual negative thinking. So Wayne Dyer of America wrote, Your Erroneous Zones, a beautiful book, he calls it Your Erroneous Zones in your mind, each one is an erroneous zone, you have to handle and if you do that the achievement you can have is: he wrote another book, The Sky's the Limit, like that कल्मषम् means what unhealthy habits of thinking, विगतः means what they gradually come down. So विगत-कल्मषः, आत्मानम् एवम् युञ्जन्, When, सदा, so when you find time you sit in a place and ask the question: what are the disturbing issues, you can keep grading, there are certain strongly disturbing issues which has been there, perhaps years together, which requires special attention, like two types of diseases, for certain diseases OPD is enough, outpatient ward, you need not get admitted, see the doctor and eat two pills, it requires only taking pills now and then, but for certain problems he will advise for immediate admission in the hospital, 35% or 75% block, then you have to get surgery done. Similarly, there are mild issues in which case you have to only be alert in your day-to-day transactions. That is also निदिध्यासनम्, but there are certain issues for which general alertness is not sufficient, you have to get admitted, means what: you have to sit and ask the questions: Oh mind why are you disturbed by that and look at in the light of वेदान्त, ask the question, can you change the situation or is it choice-less, if you can change better work on changing rather than working on worrying and if you cannot change at all, learn to reorient the mind to withstand the changeless situations. Thereafter one should not talk about that situation again and again, because after knowing that it cannot be changed, what is the use of talking, I stop talking about the disturbing situation, I talk about the change required in my mind to withstand the situation, that is a worthwhile effort. If I am talking a picture in a camera and suppose the distance is not sufficient, some more distance is required, I can ask you to go back and suppose you cannot go behind, कोडैकनाल hills, you cannot go behind, what you do, you go behind, create distance, either you go or I go, if choice-less situation has come, I know situations cannot be changed, therefore start working on what, your own mind and toughen it and tougher it gets, lesser the impact of the choice-less situation will be. Therefore the world if you can, otherwise change your mind, stop complaining and worrying. So therefore, this विगत-कल्मषः सदा, सदा means regular alertness plus particular attention for serious worries. And if this is done, this योगि attains what? अत्यन्तम् सुखम् अश्नुते. Is it difficult? सुखेन, really speaking it is not a difficult thing, it is very easy, it only requires some application, some initiative, anything will appear difficult in the beginning, if you don't sit down for years together, sitting down is also a project or else even you are not even aware that you are sitting down, you don't remember. So anything is only an appropriate application, then, सुखेन, सुखेन means अनायासेन, effortlessly we grow in वेदान्त and we see the result also. जीवन्मुक्ति is an experienced result, because मनः शान्ति is not something which is elsewhere, who will know whether my mind is शान्तम् or not, you alone. So शान्ति is something I experience here and now and it is कृष्ण's guarantee card. So सुखेन अश्नुते and this आनन्द comes from where, not from external world, ब्रह्म-संस्पर्शम् – which is born out of association with ब्रह्मन्, my owning up of ब्रह्मन्. ब्रह्मन् means आत्मन्, आत्मन् means my higher nature. So this आनन्द is born out of my owning up of my higher nature. So literally संस्पर्शम् means contact with ब्रह्मन्, if you literally take that ब्रह्मन् is sitting there and you are here etc., like the electric cord connection, one plug point in ब्रह्मन् and one point in your body and the आनन्द slowly flows, don't think like that, here संस्पर्श is only a figurative word, born out of, owning up my स्वरूपम् and that आनन्द he enjoys. Now does it mean that he should not enjoy the आनन्द of the world? No. शास्त्र does not ban विषयानन्द; as long as it is धार्मिक. Not that ज्ञानि should not see or hear a beautiful music program, as he is enjoying ब्रह्मानन्द and should not enjoy विषयानन्द! not like that. You have got sense organs, there are many legitimate विषयानन्द you can have perfectly alright, but the advantage is what, once I have got ब्रह्मानन्द, it is like having a generator inside, as long as विषयानन्द, the corporation power is available you use it, when that goes off, oh current is gone you say, you don't worry, start your generator.

Similarly, when विषयानन्द is there certainly a ज्ञानि is going to appreciate the beauty, but when it goes he is not worried because it is automatically connected to the ब्रह्मानन्द, अत्यन्तम् सुखम् अश्नुते, this is called जीवन्मुक्ति. More about which we will see in the next class.

पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER-6, VERSES- 29-32

Lord कृष्ण is talking about the benefits of Vedantic meditation in these verses and Vedantic meditation is dwelling upon the Vedantic teaching, which I have received from the गुरु. And by dwelling upon the Vedantic teaching, the teaching gets thoroughly assimilated into my personality and the indication of the assimilation of this teaching is I don't forget this teaching even at the time of worldly transactions. When the teaching is not assimilated, it will be available for me only at the time of श्रवणम् and once I put on my slippers and go home, the teaching also disappears and my old personality comes. This is the indication of unassimilated teaching. It is not that I don't have ज्ञानम्, I have ज्ञानम् and I can clearly present the ज्ञानम् to others also, but the ज्ञानम् does not help me during transaction, especially during crisis or problem. And this knowledge we are not interested in because, a knowledge which doesn't help me in day-to-day life is useless knowledge, 'a drawing of the vegetable cannot be used for the cooking.' It actually means, just knowing something is not the same as being able to do it.' Therefore it is not enough that I receive the teaching, I should be able to assimilate also and the only way of assimilation is spending time. Unless you are willing to spend time on this teaching there is no way of assimilation. Just as when they construct the wall or a roof, to make the wall and roof well-set, they do the job of curing i.e., pouring water. The more the water is poured and gets absorbed in the wall or roofing the more well set it is and therefore the question is am I willing to give time for वेदान्त. And giving time is निदिध्यासनम्. And the benefit of giving time is my personality gets cured personality, the teaching sinks and the indication is in and through all the transactions I don't forget the teaching. And what is that teaching which I don't forget. कृष्ण reminds us of the teaching, the three layers of teaching which I had mentioned before:

- i) The first stage of teaching is I am not the body-mind-complex, but I am the Consciousness inhering the body-mind-complex. I am the आत्मा not the अनात्मा, I am the देही not the देह, I am the Spirit not the matter and
- ii) The second stage of teaching is I, the Consciousness, which inheres this body, not only inheres this body, but the very same Consciousness is inherent in all the bodies. Therefore I the Consciousness is in every body. First lesson is I the Consciousness am different from the body and pervading the body, the second level of teaching is not only I pervade this body, but I pervade, I inhere every body and
- iii) The third and final level of teaching is in fact, I am not in every body, in fact, I am not in every body, on the other hand, all the bodies are in Me - the space like Consciousness. When I say I am in every body, it is called अन्तर्यामित्वम्, when I say every body is in me, it means सर्व आधारत्वम्. Thus आत्मा is सर्व अन्तर्यामि, then later stage is आत्मा is सर्व आधारः or अधिष्ठानम्. It is like understanding this space I have told you before. First I talk about the space which is other than the wall, which is confined within this room. I say space is that which is available within this room in which all the people are accommodated. And then I tell the space is not only in this room, space is in every room. And finally I say In fact, space is not within the hall, on the other hand, all the halls are within the one all-pervading space. When you say space is within the room, it is called अन्तर्यामित्वम्, when you say all the rooms are in one-all-pervading space, it is called सर्व-आधारत्वम्.

These three levels, आत्मा is different form body, देह विलक्षणः, आत्मा is देह अन्तर्यामि, आत्मा is सर्वदेह आधारः. This vision not only I should assimilate, I should never forget this even when the worst tragedy strikes my life. If I have to remember this during difficult moments, it is possible only under one condition, I have to remember it when there are no problems. Isn't it. If you invest money in the bank when you are comfortable, then you can take that money during crisis. What you invest alone what you can draw. If during the crisis, you want to draw from this knowledge, when you don't have crisis you have to invest in the form of निदिध्यासनम्, in the heart you have to keep on telling then the mind will get saturated with this knowledge. Then during the crisis you need not even deliberately draw, this knowledge will come and therefore निदिध्यासनम् is giving solid time for वेदान्त. The more you can give the more you are investing, the more you are investing the more you can draw. It is a very simple economic law. And this योगि has done that and therefore कृष्ण says,

Verse No .29

सर्वभूतस्थमात्मानं सर्वभूतानि चात्मनि ।

ईक्षते योगयुक्तात्मा सर्वत्र समदर्शनः ॥ ६-२९॥

सर्व-भूतस्थम् आत्मानम् सर्व-भूतानि च आत्मानि ।

ईक्षते योग-युक्त-आत्मा सर्वत्र सम-दर्शनः ॥ ६-२९॥

योग-युक्त-आत्मा सर्वत्र सम-दर्शनः, आत्मानम् सर्व-भूतस्थम् सर्व-भूतानि च आत्मानि ईक्षते ।

योग-युक्त-आत्मा – is the name of this ज्ञानि, आत्मा means the mind, a ज्ञानि whose mind is युक्तः, युक्तः means disciplined or saturated with this knowledge. So with whatever field of knowledge the mind is saturated with, the mind will naturally think of that. If you are a musician dedicated to music, wherever you go your mind will musically think, even when the baby cries, you will interpret in terms of music, सा रि ग म प द नि सा, even in it's crying you will see the स्वर. Why, because you have dedicated your life. And if you are a scientist as Newton was sitting under a tree and an apple falls, what will we do, immediately swallow, because we are established in eating - food निष्ठा. Therefore when apple fell we don't ask why it fell, only a scientist who is interested in the laws of the universe, even in the fall of the apple he tries to think of an universal laws. If you are an engineer you will study that aspect, if you are a Vedantin you will only think Vedantically. And therefore युक्तः means saturated with the Self-knowledge, because of what, योगेन – because of the consistent practice of निदिध्यासनम्, by giving quality time to the thought of वेदान्त. Therefore योग means निदिध्यासनम्, युक्तः means saturation, आत्मा means mind, योग-युक्त-आत्मा means the one whose mind has reached Vedantic saturation through Vedantic meditation. And such a person, सर्वत्र सम-दर्शनः – because he is used to dwelling upon आत्मा all the time, even when he interacts with the people he doesn't lose sight of the आत्मा in everyone, the essential nature in everyone. And therefore सर्वत्र means in every human being he sees the common feature, like the thread in and through all the beads of a माला, the invisible thread keeps all the मालाs together, there is the inherent चैतन्यम्, the life principle, the Consciousness-principle, which is inherent in all. “He sees” (within quotes) not physically, but he appreciates. Therefore सर्वत्र सम-दर्शनः means सर्वत्र आत्म-दर्शनः. And it does not mean that he does not see differences, certainly he sees physically differences, certainly he sees the emotional and intellectual differences, but in and through the differences he does not lose sight of the oneness of आत्मा. Just as in and through all the ornaments, what do you see, सर्वत्र सम-दर्शनम्, even when you see bangle, when you see the chain, you know the bangle is different from the chain, chain is different from ring, but you all see the one gold inherent in all these ornaments. How do you know that, that is why you carefully preserve, because you know gold is valuable, therefore gold दर्शनम् is सम-दर्शनम्, in and through the differences at the name and form level. So सर्वत्र सम-दर्शनः योग-युक्त-आत्मा ज्ञान निष्ठा, he is no more a ज्ञानि, but he is ज्ञान निष्ठा. And what is his vision? सर्व-भूतस्थम् आत्मानम् – he sees the आत्मा as residing in every living being. Just as a person appreciates the space as present in every room, every hall, every pot, every cup, the space is within the hall. Similarly, आत्मा is within everyone, this is सर्व अन्तर्यामित्व दर्शनम्. And he also sees सर्व-भूतानि च आत्मनि, the reverse vision, what is reverse vision, instead of saying space is within the hall, you begin to say, all the halls are - not only halls, - all the planets, all the stars, all the galaxies they are in one space. Similarly, आत्मा is not in the body, all the bodies are in the आत्मा, सर्व-भूतानि, भूतम् here means body or शरीरम् and सर्व-भूतानि all the bodies आत्मनि in the आत्मा he sees. And he is aware of this fact, what is that, आत्मा is imperishable and the bodies are perishable, अनात्मा is perishable. And when he is looking for security in life, which we need, we certainly require entertainment, entertainment is available in अनात्मा, आत्मा cannot give you any entertainment. Therefore when you want to enjoy variety, when you want to appreciate beauty, make use of अनात्मा and when the अनात्मा or the perishable things of the world are disappearing and when you are looking for something permanent, then you cannot rely on the body part, that is the mistake we commit, a ज्ञानि never commits that mistake, he knows when security is needed hold on to आत्मा, when आनन्द is needed hold on to आत्मा, when limitlessness is needed hold on to आत्मा and anything else other thing than that you want change the channel, अनात्मा, only two channel, अनात्मा and आत्मा channel. So you should know how to shift the channel depending upon your need and the greatest tragedy of human being is he expects security from insecure things, insecure people, insecure relationship, he needs security. And when he has wrong expectations disappointment is the result. And that is why कृष्ण said in the 2nd chapter:

न असतः विद्यते भावः न अभावः विद्यते सतः । उभयोः अपि दृष्टः अन्तः ॥

ज्ञानि knows what to seek from where. If he is hungry he will not go to आत्मा, आत्मा will not help you there; if you are hungry you have to go for भवती भिक्षाम् देहि. But when you want permanence, when you want immortality don't expect that at the body level. Body is mortal, don't expect permanence in relationship level, you will be in trouble. Therefore, सर्व-भूतस्थम् आत्मनि पश्यति सर्व-भूतानाम् आत्मनि च पश्यति सर्वत्र सम-दर्शनः ज्ञान निष्ठा. And how did he get this benefit, only by one method, giving time for वेदान्त, Continuing;

Verse No .30

यो मां पश्यति सर्वत्र सर्वं च मयि पश्यति ।

तस्याहं न प्रणश्यामि स च मे न प्रणश्यति ॥ ६-३०॥

यो माम् पश्यति सर्वत्र सर्वम् च मयि पश्यति ।

तस्य अहम् न प्रणश्यामि सः च मे न प्रणश्यति ॥ ६-३०॥

यः माम् सर्वत्र पश्यति, सर्वम् च मयि पश्यति, तस्य अहम् न प्रणश्यामि, सः च मे न प्रणश्यति ।

Here in this verse, कृष्ण gives a small note. He is just briefly referring to a topic which He will discuss only later elaborately. And it is the topic of भक्ति. कृष्ण has not dealt with the topic of भक्ति in these chapters. Only from the 7th chapter He is going to discuss the topic of भक्ति, but कृष्ण wants to briefly refer to that here and therefore He says that this appreciation of आत्मा everywhere is the greatest form of भक्ति. This appreciation of आत्मा everywhere, in and through every body and also knowing the fact that the आत्मा which is in every body is the आत्मा in this body also and that आत्मा is my real nature and therefore I am that आत्मा which is everywhere. So कृष्ण wants to say सर्वत्र आत्म दर्शनम् is सर्वत्र ईश्वर दर्शनम् and this is the highest form of भक्ति and therefore highest form of भक्ति is possible only through Self-knowledge. Any form of भक्ति practiced before Self-knowledge is lower form of भक्ति. In lower form of भक्ति, Lord is not everywhere, Lord is confined to a place with a particular form. And Lord is subject to arrival, give दर्शनम् to the devotee and make the devotee excited and then the very same Lord tests the devotee by disappearing and making the devotee cry. In भागवतम्, the गोपीका गीतम् description is there, where they cry Lord left me. So the very idea that the Lord can arrive and depart indicate I see the Lord as a finite entity subject to arrival and departure and such a form of भक्ति is a wonderful form of भक्ति as a stepping stone, but it is only a inferior भक्ति called अपरा भक्ति, द्वैत भक्ति or भेद भक्ति. And after this अपरा भक्ति I have to gain Self-knowledge, आत्मज्ञानम् and through that, I begin to recognize the आत्मा everywhere and कृष्ण says the all-pervading आत्मा is really भगवान्. A personal god is not real भगवान्. It is only माया मानुष वेशः. कृष्ण himself talks about that later, He says people think I am a human being. अवजानन्ति माम् मूढाः, strong word he uses, अवजानन्ति माम् मूढाः मानुषीम् तनुम् आश्रितम्, they think I am a person with a particular form not knowing परम् भावम् अजानन्तः. And what is higher form of the Lord, आत्मस्वरूपम् is the higher form of the Lord. And therefore आत्म दर्शनम् is equal to ईश्वर दर्शनम्. And therefore कृष्ण says यः माम् सर्वत्र पश्यति, यः means what the very same ज्ञानि of the previous verse, in the previous verse what did He say, he sees the आत्मा everywhere and कृष्ण says that the ज्ञानि sees the Lord everywhere and if you combine these two verses, what is the idea you get, seeing आत्मा everywhere is seeing the Lord everywhere and if आत्मा is चैतन्य स्वरूपम्, God is also चैतन्य स्वरूपम्, not an inert body, born to देवकी born on a particular day - जन्माष्टमि and going to स्वर्ग on another day. That is not the real कृष्ण. If you say I love that कृष्ण there is nothing wrong, but वेदान्त wants to say that is not the ultimate. Then what is the ultimate, यः माम् सर्वत्र पश्यति, सर्वत्र means सर्व-शरीरेषु. भगवान् is there in every body as what, the very Consciousness. So when you feel the sentiency of the body you are in touch with God, you are in touch with God. All these details कृष्ण himself will say later, you need not close the eyes to see the Lord, In fact, you are experiencing the Lord in the form of the very life principle in every living being. And not only he sees the Lord in everyone, he sees the reverse also, what is that, he sees everyone in the Lord, he sees everyone means all the bodies in God: विश्वाधारम् गगन सदृशम्, so Lord is comparable to गगनम्, आकाशम्. If Lord is comparable to space, what is the form of God, it cannot be कृष्ण form, cannot be राम form, it cannot be देवी form, it should be formless, the real all-pervading God is formless आत्मा only. Then why we do worship form? We have to worship form because to appreciate formless God, the mind has to be sensitized, the mind has to be made subtle. Until the mind is subtle we require a formed God and once we have prepared the mind we should know formed God is not the ultimate, the formless God alone is the real one and a ज्ञानि appreciates that Lord, where? Everywhere. And what is the advantage of this appreciation. If you see the Lord as the very आत्मा in everyone, including this body, what is the advantage, the advantage is you are ever with the Lord. There is no question of Lord coming and then showing you the hand and blessing I gave वरम्, etc. and there itself, तत्रैवान्तर्दधे प्रभुः and आवाहयामि. Not only भगवान् comes and goes, we also invite भगवान्,

अस्मिन् हरिद्राबिम्बे श्रीमहागणपतिम् ध्यायामि । आवाहयामि ॥

When we call him and poor भगवान्, he has to come and thereafter, after giving two small lumps of sugar candy we say यथा स्थानम् प्रतिष्ठापयामि. Daily सन्ध्यावन्दनम् also, उतमे शिखरे देवि भूम्याम् पर्वतमूर्धनि, thereafter गच्छ देवि यथासुखम् गायत्री invited, गायत्रीम् आवाहयामि सावित्रीम् आवाहयामि and put them inside (I am telling all these only for those who do the सन्ध्यावन्दनम्!), at the end of सन्ध्यावन्दनम्, Oh गायत्री देवि गच्छ, please come again. So poor God has been made miserable, limited, finite entity, subject to your invitation and dismissal, do you think that such a God will be the ultimate truth. Never, the all pervasive Lord can never be subject to arrival. Therefore कृष्ण says, तस्य for such a ज्ञानि devotee, for such a ज्ञानि devotee, अहम् न प्रणश्यामि – I will never disappear, I will never go away from him, he will never miss the Lord. And that is why he cannot be threatened by any human being, he cannot be blackmailed by any human being, because Lord is within or else what we will do, we say, if you do like this, we will leave you and go. So therefore in every relationship people threaten and blackmail because we are emotionally dependent, a ज्ञानि cannot be threatened, if anybody says, I will reject you, he will say, 'Let the passions and bonds pass-by, who cares!' Why should I dependent on anyone when I have Lord with me permanently, who will never reject me and who cannot reject me. That is why they said: I think Birbal or somebody told Akbar, that you are superior to God, because you can do something which God cannot do, so you are more powerful than God, you can do something which God cannot do. So the King was very happy for the way he was praised. What is that only I can do and God cannot do? You can banish any one out of your kingdom, whereas God cannot banish anyone out of his kingdom (why, didn't you understand?). So even the omnipotent God cannot reject you because, where will He push you, wherever you are pushed, He is there, 'He' is within quotes, Ladies don't get wild, he or she, there is no he or she or it, it is beyond gender.

नासन्न सन्न सदसन्न महन्न चाणु न स्त्री पुमान्न च
नपुंसकमेकबीजम् । धन्याष्टकम् ६ ॥

When you go to the highest form of Lord it is beyond all these gender, number and all those things. Therefore कृष्ण says for that devotee I never disappear. Not only that, सः च मे न प्रणश्यति – he also doesn't disappear from me, he doesn't get away from me, we are in separable one. Whereas in all other forms of भक्ति, God comes into my life and God goes away, whereas in the case of a ज्ञानी भक्त, God and himself are inseparable. In the 7th chapter, कृष्ण will say, ज्ञानी तु आत्मा एव मे मतम्. In fact, inseparable is not the word, I am he, he is I. So सः च मे न प्रणश्यति. Here the word प्रणश्यति means does not disappear from me, णश-अदर्शने, the root √नश् in संस्कृत means to disappear, to be away from me. So what is the benefit of निदिध्यासनम्, you become the greatest भक्त of the Lord. Continuing;

Verse No .31

सर्वभूतस्थितं यो मां भजत्येकत्वमास्थितः ।

सर्वथा वर्तमानोऽपि स योगी मयि वर्तते ॥ ६-३१॥

सर्व-भूत-स्थितम् यः माम् भजति एकत्वम् आस्थितः ।

सर्वथा वर्तमानः अपि सः योगी मयि वर्तते ॥ ६-३१॥

यः एकत्वम् आस्थितः सर्व-भूत-स्थितम् माम् भजति, सः योगी सर्वथा वर्तमानः अपि, मयि वर्तते ।

And at this level of highest भक्ति the expression of भक्ति also differs, previously I looked upon God as a person with all the limitations and weaknesses of human beings, because I looked upon God also as a human being - hungry, thirsty, even dirty and therefore my expression of भक्ति also was in that manner. I have to take bath because I become dirty. And therefore when I look upon God also as a human being, He should also be bathed regularly,

स्नानम् समर्पयामि । स्नानानन्तरम् आचमनीयम् समर्पयामि । वस्त्रम् समर्पयामि । वस्त्रार्थम् अक्षतान् समर्पयामि ।

So God requires dress to protect Him from impurity and आभरणार्थम् अक्षतान् समर्पयामि, God also requires decorating like me, all those things, षोडश उपचार depends upon my appreciation of God as a person but when I know the impersonal ultimate absolute God, I see all the उपचारs are really अपचारs. If someone comes near you and you say: please take bath and come, if you say that what is it, it is an insult, indirectly saying that you are impure. शङ्कराचार्य wrote a beautiful work called परा पूजा and in that परा पूजा he says, Oh Lord! how can I offer you आसनम्. In fact, you are the substratum on which the whole cosmos is resting and how can I offer a 2/2 or one feet palanquin, it is my limited narrow mind which thinks of offering आसनम्, offering पादम्, offering अर्घ्यम्, washing the hand, washing the feet to the Lord who is handless and feetless,

यत् तददेश्यम् अब्राह्मम् अणोत्रम् अवर्णम् अचक्षुः श्रोत्रम् तदपाणिपादम् ।

नित्यम् विभुम् सर्वगतम् सुसूक्ष्मम् तदव्ययम् यद् भूतयोनिम् परिपश्यन्ति धीराः ॥ मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-१-६ ॥

And therefore in fact, the offering the regular पूजा appears meaningless and irrelevant to him and even inviting God is meaningless for him, because he need not invite God because God has never been away from him. And therefore a ज्ञानि's expression of devotion is appreciation of the very nature of God. Very ज्ञानम् itself is the expression of भक्ति. Therefore He says, यः this ज्ञान निष्ठा, this greatest भक्त of mine, माम् भजति – worships me, not in the regular form of षोडश उपचार पूजा with एकादश द्रव्यम् अभिषेकम् and all, he will not do that and how does he worship, the very perception of me everywhere is the expression of भक्ति. So एकत्वम् आश्रितः सन् भजति, resorting to the vision of the Lord to oneness, so resorting आश्रितः means resorting to the vision of what, एकत्वम् अद्वैतियत्वम्, the infinite nature of the Lord. And where is it located, सर्व-भूत-स्थितम् and which Lord is present in every living being as the very life because of which they are alive and therefore सर्व-भूत-स्थितम् चैतन्य रूपम् ईश्वरम् एकत्व दृष्टिम् आश्रितः, remaining in अद्वैत दृष्टि he worships me, there is no special action of devotion. And that is why when they take to this ज्ञानम् and they take to the संन्यास आश्रम, they need not do any form of regular worship. In the four आश्रम scheme, संन्यासि need not do any formal worship, if a संन्यासि has a मठ to which devotees come, for the sake of devotees he may do पूजा, but it is a compromised practice, but as far as a संन्यासि is concerned he doesn't have any पूजा at all, because his पूजा is in the form of the very ज्ञान यज्ञ he does, the very appreciation of the Lord is his पूजा. And therefore सर्वथा वर्तमानः अपि, even though he doesn't practice any regular religion as people practice, with पूजा room, पूजा द्रव्यम्, he doesn't do with all that and he doesn't perform any other rituals like सन्ध्यावन्दनम्, अग्निहोत्रम्, etc. and he appears the most irreligious person, he doesn't do anything, whether भक्ति has gone, that is why people think वेदान्त means भक्ति is gone, his भक्ति has reached invisible dimensions. At home also, initially you express your love in the form of kissing, embracing etc., when you are a child and thereafter even though you don't express, in Indian culture, there is no question of regular phoning up and saying I love you I love you, etc., (you have to do that only when things are in doubt) and regular card needs to be sent, birthday, mother day card, father day card, valentine card I love you card and it ends with valentine day! When there is true love it need not, I don't say I should not, it need not be also, ज्ञानि's भक्ति is the most highest and refined भक्ति, which is never expressed in the regular form. And therefore, सर्वथा वर्तमानः अपि – whatever be the lifestyle such a ज्ञानि chooses, whatever be the आश्रम that he is in, he might be in ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रम or he might be in गृहस्थ आश्रम doing business or he might be in वानप्रस्थ आश्रम, what profession you have, what type of lifestyle you have that doesn't matter, you can be where you are doing your own duties the transformation is within. External transformation is not compulsory, internal transformation is important. सः योगी – such a ज्ञानि, such a ज्ञान निष्ठा, मयि वर्तते – he is in me, he need not go to temples to see God, because for him God is not confined to a temple, an initial stages we require, the higher stages the whole creation is the abode of the Lord. That is why they tell the story also, when a ज्ञानि was sleeping in a temple and he was stretching his leg towards the शिवलिङ्ग there, all the other devotees said: it is a sacrilege, how can you stretch your leg towards the Lord, because for that devotee the Lord is in that direction. Therefore the ज्ञानि wanted to teach a lesson, therefore the ज्ञानि said, you can turn my leg to a direction where God is not there and this person turned the leg, then he saw another शिवलिङ्गम् appeared there, again he turned the direction another शिवलिङ्गम् appeared there, in symbolic form and then he understood that there is no question of this direction or that direction, I don't say that you should also doing that right now saying स्वामिजि has said so.

That is the ripe stage of ज्ञानम्. And therefore सः योगी मयि वर्तते – he is always in me, I am always in Him, we are inseparable. Continuing;

Verse No .32

आत्मौपम्येन सर्वत्र समं पश्यति योऽर्जुन ।

सुखं वा यदि वा दुःखं स योगी परमो मतः ॥ ६-३२॥

आत्मा-उपम्येन सर्वत्र समम् पश्यति यः अर्जुन ।

सुखम् वा यदि वा दुःखम् सः योगी परमः मतः ॥ ६-३२॥

हे अर्जुन! यः आत्मा-उपम्येन सर्वत्र सुखम् वा यदि वा दुःखम् समम् पश्यति, सः योगी परमः मतः ।

So here कृष्ण says a ज्ञानि's mind expands to such an extent that he identifies with all the bodies as his own body. Previously he was identified with one body only, now he knows I am the आत्मा, not only behind this body, I am the very आत्मा behind all the bodies. And therefore all the bodies becomes like my bodies, my hands and my legs. And because of this universal identification, कृष्ण says a ज्ञानि cannot hurt anyone, because hurting any living being is as though hurting himself, because of universal identification. Previously I could comfortably hurt anyone except my own body, but now it is not possible. Therefore a ज्ञानि becomes an embodiment of compassion, an embodiment of sympathy, an embodiment of अहिम्सा, because if anyone feels pain he also is capable of sensing the pain of everyone, he has that empathy by which he intensely appreciates the pain of everyone and therefore he cannot pain anyone, he cannot cause pain to anyone and if there is pain to anyone then immediately and automatically he goes to his rescue. And therefore कृष्ण says आत्मा-उपम्येन सर्वत्र पश्यति – he looks at every living being as himself, because the same आत्मा is in everyone. So आत्मा-उपम्येन, taking himself as a standard he looks at every living being. समम् पश्यति यः अर्जुन – he doesn't have any partiality or selfishness, he does not consider his body as more important than other bodies, because all the bodies he equally identifies with, therefore समम् पश्यति यः अर्जुन. And therefore he follows this universal value, what is the universal value, what I don't want others to do to me I should not do to others, because others are exactly like me. If I don't want to be hurt, nobody wants to be hurt and therefore I cannot be the cause of hurt in the case of anyone and therefore, समम् पश्यति यः अर्जुन सुखम् वा यदि वा दुःखम् – so whether it is with regard to सुखम्, that means what, if I am happy, if I have got something favorable I am happy. Similarly, when any human being has got something favorable, a ज्ञानि is able to be happy with others' happiness, not going to become jealous, I didn't get, he got, no jealous, because he identifies with everyone, for anybody is happy it is as though his happiness, anybody is sorrowful it is as though his sorrow. And therefore the universal identification of a ज्ञानि is indicated, universal love of a ज्ञानि is indicated. So सुखम् वा यदि वा दुःखम् सः योगी and such a ज्ञानि is परमः – is the greatest person in the world, he is the greatest योगी, he is the most accomplished person. And therefore, the benefit of knowledge is universal love. There is a general complaint that pursuit of वेदान्त is selfishness, because one is working for one's own liberation and especially if he takes to संन्यास the society complains that he doesn't contribute to the society, he wants to go to the forest, he wants to get Self-knowledge, he wants to get liberated, it is selfishness people think, but कृष्ण says a ज्ञानि is never selfish, In fact, he withdraws from one family so that he can identify with all the families of the world. He withdraws from one house, so that he can identify with all houses. He breaks a few finite relationships so that he can be related to the whole world, it is a withdrawal for the sake of expansion. I don't want to belong to a few people, I want to belong to the whole universe. Therefore Self-knowledge is a withdrawal for expansion, Self-knowledge is a withdrawal from finite, so that I can expand to identify with the whole world. Therefore शास्त्र says either don't identify with anyone, or identify with everyone, what is tragedy is you identify with only a few people, we two, for us two or one; as they talk of three levels – (a) we two, for us two, (b) we two, for us one, then (c) we ourselves are children so why children for us? Therefore वेदान्त says, don't identify with four people, संन्यास is withdrawal from limited identification so that I can have limitless identification. You destroy your narrow I to replace it with universal I, a ज्ञानि cannot say I am an Indian, I am a tamilian, I am an Asian, because all these are narrow minded I should identify with

माता तु पार्वती देवी पिता देवो महेश्वरः बान्धवाः शिव भक्ताश्च स्वदेशो (not India) भुवनत्रयम्.

I belong to the whole creation and every living being belongs to me, this expansion, this universal love, this universal compassion is the result of ज्ञान निष्ठा.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 06, VERSES 33-34

With the 32nd verse of the 6th chapter, Lord कृष्ण completes the topic of ध्यानफलम्, i.e., the benefit of Vedantic meditation. In these 32 verses of the 6th chapter, कृष्ण had dealt with

- 1) ध्यान बहिरङ्ग साधनानि, general disciplines to be observed by a meditator,
- 2) then ध्यान अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि, specific disciplines to be observed just before starting the meditation,
- 3) then कृष्ण talked about the ध्यान स्वरूपम्, the actual process of meditation consisting of धारण, ध्यान, समाधि. To put in simple language, dwelling upon the Vedantic teaching, which has been received from the गुरु,
- 4) and then the fourth and final topic that we saw was ध्यानफलम्, the benefit of practicing the meditation.

And the benefit that कृष्ण mentioned was the knowledge received at the time of श्रवणम् or learning from the teacher, the knowledge gets totally assimilated into the personality. And it gets assimilated to such a level, that it transforms my core personality and because of the transformation of my core personality my very perceptive of life, my perspective towards the world and people, my very attitude to the varieties of experiences in life will undergo a radical change. And this healthy attitudinal change is the result of Vedantic meditation and because of this transformation the world which could disturb before loses its capacity to unsettle me. Because according to वेदान्त, whether the world should disturb me or not is not determined by the world but it is determined by me alone. It is I who has to decide whether I should allow the world to disturb me or not. So the Vedantic project is changing the world to my what you call, likes and dislikes but making the world incapable of disturbing me and this conversion takes place purely because of attitudinal change and change of attitude is definitely because of change of understanding of myself and the world and this is called ज्ञान निष्ठा. So thus through श्रवणम् and मननम् one gets ज्ञानम्, through निदिध्यासनम् one converts ज्ञानम् into ज्ञान निष्ठा and कृष्ण said as a result of this, there is सम-दर्शनम् and there is the highest आनन्द and the devotion towards the Lord reaches its peak and the final benefit कृष्ण mentioned was universal compassion. These are all the benefits of निदिध्यासनम् which is otherwise called जीवन्मुक्ति, I am no more under the tyranny of the world and its people. And this inner psychological freedom is जीवन्मुक्तिफलम्. So thus four topics have been completed in the first 32 verses, बहिरङ्ग साधनम् and अन्तरङ्ग साधनम्, ध्यानस्वरूपम् and ध्यानफलम्. Now we are entering the fifth topic with regard to the meditation, which is also an important topic and कृष्ण is going to discuss this based on a question from अर्जुन and as an answer to अर्जुन question, the fifth topic is going to be introduced, we will enter into that.

अर्जुन उवाच ।

योऽयं योगस्त्वया प्रोक्तः साम्येन मधुसूदन ।

एतस्याहं न पश्यामि चञ्चलत्वात्स्थितिं स्थिराम् ॥ ६-३३॥

यः अयं योगः त्वया प्रोक्तः साम्येन मधुसूदन ।

एतस्य अहम् न पश्यामि चञ्चलत्वात् स्थितिम् स्थिराम् ॥ ६-३३

हे मधुसूदन! यः अयम् योगः त्वया साम्येन प्रोक्तः, एतस्य स्थिराम् स्थितिम् चञ्चलत्वात् अहम् न पश्यामि ।

5) The fifth topic which we are going to deal with is from this verse 33 up to verse no.36 and the topic is the obstacles to the practice of meditation and their remedies. The obstacles to the practice of meditation, ध्यान विघ्नाः, ध्यान प्रतिबन्धाः, ध्यान अन्तरायाः, अन्तराय means प्रतिबन्धम्; and परिहारः and the solutions for them. And in our scriptures four types of obstacles are mentioned. And this has been discussed in माण्डूक्य कारिका written by गौडपादाचार्य. It has got four chapters at the end of the 3rd chapter, गौडपादाचार्य deals with meditation, viz., naming it मनो निग्रहः,

मनसो निग्रहायतमभयं सर्वयोगिनाम् ।

दुःखक्षयः प्रबोधश्चाप्यक्षया शान्तिरेव च ॥ गौडपादीयकारिकाः ३-४०॥

There he discusses meditation in 10 verses, naming it मनो निग्रहः, disciplining the mind. Because undisciplined mind is an obstacle to enjoy the benefit of the Vedantic study. If the mind is undisciplined Vedantic study remains intellectual and it does not benefit me in my day-to-day life. It is not the lack of knowledge, but it is the obstacle in the form of indiscipline of the mind and therefore मनो निग्रहः, mastery, management or discipline is prescribed, not for all, but only for certain people. And who are those certain people, those whose study वेदान्त, understand वेदान्त and directly enjoy the benefit of शान्ति, अभयम्, etc., that is a mind which is relaxed, which is free from tension, which is light, which is happy, which is secure. If I am able to enjoy the benefit straight from the study of वेदान्त, it means I don't have the obstacle in the form of mental indiscipline. When should I infer mental indiscipline? When I study वेदान्त and वेदान्त remains in one corner and in my day-to-day life my emotional problems continue. Thus I have a got a double personality, one side I brilliantly declare अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि and not only declare I can quote all the उपनिषत्s left and right and In fact, I can give wonderful lectures also and even I become popular as a गुरु also. Suppose all these are there, but emotionally I am frustrated, unhappy, tension, worried, that means what, there is a gap between what I know and what I am. If I have got these symptoms, my problem is what, not lack of knowledge but my problem is lack of mental discipline and therefore वेदान्त says, you require a separate exercise for mental discipline called मनो निग्रहः and therefore Vedantic meditation is not compulsory for all, only in the case of those people where they find a gap between what I know and what I am. If you feel that there is no use after studying वेदान्त, the problem is elsewhere. And since this problem is also for many people, शास्त्र discusses मनो निग्रहः as a disciplined to be practiced after the study of वेदान्त. Now the question comes, how come only some people have this problem and some people do not have the problem. They listen to the scriptures, as even they listen and gain the knowledge, they enjoy the benefit of स्थिरप्रज्ञ, दुःखेषु अनुद्विग्न-मनाः सुखेषु विगत-स्पृहः । ॥ २-७६॥

They don't feel the necessity of meditation, why it is so for some people? For that also, शास्त्र gives the answer, before studying वेदान्त, शास्त्र has prescribed certain qualifications, what is that qualification called: do you remember? साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति. When a student studies वेदान्त with साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति, with the eligibility prescribed, श्रवणम् मात्रेण स्थिरप्रज्ञ जीवन्मुक्तिश्च लभ्यते. For them निदिध्यासनम् is not necessary. It is not that शास्त्र says, they themselves get the benefit, therefore they don't see the necessity. But generally, we go through the back doors without acquiring the qualifications, we study वेदान्त and therefore for the unqualified people Vedantic study should be followed by compulsory Vedantic meditation. This शङ्कराचार्य makes very clear in his commentary of गौडपाद कारिका and कृष्ण also gives this meditation because कृष्ण knows अर्जुन has the problem. And not only that, अर्जुन himself confesses that I have this problem, I have the knowledge but I don't get the benefit that is promised. And therefore in the माण्डुक्य कारिका, in the name of मनो निग्रहः Vedantic meditation is prescribed and their four obstacles are mentioned and कृष्ण does not deal with all the four obstacles here. So कृष्ण does not deal with all of them here, I thought I will just briefly mention them, लयः, विक्षेपः, कषायः and रसास्वादः, these are the four obstacles which stand in between me and my meditation.

- a) लयः means the dullness of the mind or sleepiness of the mind. This is one universal complaint, when we sit for meditation, स्वामिजि we end up dozing. And many people guilty, you need not feel because this is a universal problem and that is why whenever we have group meditation we switch off the lights, so that your face is saved. So sleep is a common problem and that is called तमस् dominant.
- b) And the second obstacle is called विक्षेपः, the mind is not under active but the mind is overactive, the other extreme. So instead of sleeping it is hyper active, therefore it travels all over the world, it thinks of everything else except वेदान्त, thinking all other things except the main purpose. This is called विक्षेपः, wandering mind, extrovertedness of the mind.
- c) And the third one is called कषायः, कषायः means the mind getting into a state of stuntedness, inactivity. The mind becomes non-functional i.e., it is neither asleep nor does it wander, it just comes to a state that it does not function at all, it is the स्तब्धि भावः, it is called, there is another text book dealing with this topic, that is हृक्-हृय विवेक, there विद्यारण्य discusses, he calls this स्तब्धि भावः, mind gets stupor. When you hear a shocking news what happens to the mind? The mind stops. It doesn't know how to react, sometimes when people get a very tragic news, they don't react at all, they don't even cry. There was a poem 'Home they brought her warrior dead,' when the warrior's dead body is brought, his wife doesn't cry, not because she is जीवन्मुक्तः, but it is so deep a shock that the mind doesn't know how to react. It is a state of stunned condition, we say sometime 'got stunned.' Suppose you turn behind and you see a huge elephant standing without the mahout, a wild elephant standing when you turn, you will not know for a minute what to do, whether to run or to stand there itself, etc. It is called stunned state, स्थब्धि भावः, is called कषायः. Now in that poem which comes, so many people think that if a person keeps a deep grief inside the mind, without expressing the sorrow it can kill that person, suppressed trauma or sorrow can even kill a person and therefore they try to make her cry. Different people say different things, she refuses. And then an old lady comes, brings the child and push the child to the lap of the mother. Suddenly she thinks of that man, what will I tell my son when he grows up and she starts weeping in torrents, tears comes. So in our culture also that making the person cry is there. The idea is in extreme emotions the mind has the capacity to fold. It is exactly like in an accident when the pain goes beyond a limit, the brain has the capacity to fold that you don't feel the pain at all, the pain mechanism is temporarily stopped, because it has reached beyond the limit, it is just like fuse wire, automatically the fuse gets cut off. We have got a physical fuse wire, in extreme accidents you will the body will not feel pain, the brain closes. This is not only at the physical plane, it happens at emotional level also, in extreme situations, the mind knows how to stop its functioning and therefore the pain goes inside and when will the pain come, after some time, the pain comes when we are ready to receive, it is a God-built mechanism. When such pains are there, when such traumatic experiences are there the mind can get stunned, शङ्कराचार्य defines it राग-द्वेष-बीजम्, strong likes and dislikes in potential form stuns the mind, that is why in extreme happiness also, suppose you didn't expect your son to come from America, he says he will not come and suddenly you open the door and he is standing in front, playing fun and he comes and you say I didn't know what to do as if the hands and legs are numb, not only in pain, in extreme happiness also we don't know what to do. So thus intense राग-द्वेष in potential condition is called कषायः and when it gets activated in meditation then the mind goes to a state of stunned condition called कषायः.

d) And then comes the last one, रसास्वादः. The state of meditation itself gives some relaxation and some pleasant feeling, because mind is relaxed, intellect is relaxed, body is relaxed, there is a pleasure, there is a comfort, there is a joy which is called रसः. And this joy is not आत्मानन्द or ब्रह्मानन्द, because this joy experienced during meditation only is a conditional joy. You enjoy it at the time of meditation, at the time of quietude and you enjoy and when you come out, the joy goes out. So therefore, a pleasure that is experienced only during meditation is not मुक्ति or ब्रह्मानन्द. The definition of ब्रह्मानन्द is sense of completeness and fullness which is there throughout. And therefore, when I get that pleasure I should not be enamored by that pleasure, if I am carried away by that pleasure it becomes an obstacle for Vedantic assimilation. And therefore it is called रस आस्वादः, it is something like a sensory pleasure, another form of sensory pleasure, it is an obstacle. And not only that, when a person begins to enjoy that pleasure, he or she feels that I should be sitting in meditation all the time. Then you don't feel like coming and taking up your duty, then if any duty comes you get angry. If anybody calls you get angry, if phone rings you get angry, if a friend comes you get angry, you want all the time sit cozily in meditation, therefore it becomes an addiction. And therefore Vedantic meditation is not to enjoy happiness in a particular condition but to be full and complete in and through all the conditions. If withdrawal gives you pleasure it is conditional pleasure, a ज्ञानि's आनन्द is पश्यन् शृण्वन् स्पृशन् जिघ्रन्. Therefore रसास्वादः, enjoying meditation pleasure is an obstacle. Then what should you do, instead of enjoying the pleasure you have to dwell upon the teaching, which says you are आनन्द, not only during meditation but also during an active life.

So these are four obstacles and what are the remedies. गौडपाद himself says: the sleep should be countered by two methods, one is removing the cause of sleep and also by practice. So what are causes of sleep? So the शास्त्र discusses everything, no job for us, everything they have discussed, only we have to read, but unfortunately it is in संस्कृत. And what is that, बहु अशन अजीर्ण; बहु अशनम् means over eating, with a full stomach you go to meditation, all the blood circulation is in the मध्य प्रदेश therefore उत्तर प्रदेश is gone, switched off. So बहु अशन. And the next one is अजीर्ण, so if there is अजीर्णम्, they say stomach is मन्दम्. When stomach is मन्दम्, बुद्धि also becomes मन्दम्; so अजीर्ण. निद्रा शेषः, निद्रा शेषः means there is a backlog of sleep, that is your body requires certain amount of sleep, if you don't give the required amount of sleep, in your over enthusiasm you get up at 2.30 a.m. and practice meditation till 6 a.m. Your body and mind wants sleep but force them to do meditation, what will they say, I will see you, you are going to go to the गीता class, I will catch you there and wake up, therefore give the devil its due, like that whatever is required amount of sleep you give. So these are all removing the cause. निद्रा शेषः बहु अशन अजीर्णादि निवारण द्वायेण. That is one thing. The second thing is अभ्यासः, the mind is never habituated to meditation, mind goes by the law of association, Pavlov law - you ring a bell and give food to the dog, second day you ring and give food, third time you ring the bell, the dog begins to look for food, dog is not necessary, we are also like that, law of association, time comes we get hungry. Similarly, what is our association, you sit quietly, you withdraw from all activities, you withdraw the sense organs also, you close your eyes, all these things you do, generally for what purpose, only during sleep you do all these things. Therefore the mind associates closing the eyes and withdrawal from the activities with the sleep alone. Therefore in meditation when you do all these things, mind thinks, Oh he is going to sleep sitting, the mind has to be trained and the mind should know that this is the time of meditation. So by अभ्यासः the mind learns. This is the method of remedying the problem of sleep. The next one is विक्षेपः, how to handle a wandering mind. For which the solution prescribed by गौडपादाचार्य is अभ्यासः वैराग्याभ्याम् तत्सिद्धिः. Again अभ्यासः practice and वैराग्यम् he presents, about which I will mention later because कृष्ण himself is going to deal with these obstacles. I will deal with it when कृष्ण himself does it and I don't want to independently deal with that. And the third obstacle is as I said कषायः. When the mind has got hidden complaints, suppressed sorrows, guilt, pain, anger, jealousy, which I could not express due to various reasons. Then those things can stultify or stun the mind. Therefore when I sit in meditation the mind can be immobilized because of suppressed emotions. And often the problem is I don't know which emotion I have suppressed and therefore the only thing we can do is what, keep quiet and wait for the suppressed emotion to surface, only when it surfaces we will know what is the problem? In 1953 my wife made this statement. Now it is 2000. 1953 wife behaved like this, that anger I am carrying even now. The mind is a wonderful computer capable of storing all these experiences. So many good things have happened all that is not stored, these negatives things are only stored in a deep way and it will smart-suffer and that is why they will surface later when there is ideal condition. When people decide to stay alone in आश्रम, it can surface, because the other problems are not there. Normally, in गृहस्थ आश्रम life we have got present problems, therefore past problems cannot surface. So when you don't have any more present problems, you get to a quiet life in an आश्रम, some of them can emerge. You should not suppress them, if you feel like crying, cry out. That is why many people you will find, that when they go near the भगवान् they will cry, when they go to the स्वामिजिs, they will cry, we experience that, they cry in torrents, because of something. So गौडपाद says

सकषायम् विजानीयात् ...॥ ३-४४॥

If there are suppressed emotions you let the steam out and if you want to shout, go the beach and shout. If you want to cry, cry. Whatever you want to do, just release. Don't suppress. सकषायम् विजानीयात्. A few meditation sessions will be crying sessions, anger sessions, jealousy sessions for just releasing. So सकषायम् विजानीयात्. Finally रसास्वादः, रसास्वादः is to be tackled by proper discrimination. That this pleasure that I enjoy in meditation is also a conditional pleasure I should not become a slave of. On the other hand, I have to remind my nature, I am पूर्णः not at the time of meditation, but I am पूर्णः all the time, I am असङ्गः, all the time. So thus, विवेकः, discrimination is the remedy for रसास्वादः problem. So these are the solutions. Now अर्जुन is talking about only one obstacle here, what is that, wandering mind. Here अर्जुन complains, हे मधुसूदन! अयम् योगः त्वया प्रोक्तः, so this meditation of dwelling in the Vedantic teaching, deliberate dwelling in the Vedantic teaching, especially the teaching that I am the आत्मा, everything else is अनात्मा, body belongs to the world, mind belongs to the world and they are subject to the laws of creation and laws of कर्म also, this आत्म-अनात्मा विवेक, which I am supposed to invoke repeatedly during meditation you have taught me, अयम् योगः ध्यान योगः त्वया प्रोक्तः, in what form, साम्येन – in the form of सम आत्म दर्शनम् – dwelling upon my real nature which is ever uniform, ever the same. That is my चैतन्य स्वरूपम्, I as a witness-Consciousness am changeless, the body changes, the mind changes, they are all objects of my Consciousness, I am the subject who is the witness of all of them and therefore I am सम चैतन्यम् अस्मि. This सम-दर्शनम्, आत्म वृत्तिः you have taught me. But my problem is what, एतस्य अहम् स्थिराम् स्थितिम् न पश्यामि – I am able to receive the wisdom from you and I am able to understand also, because my intellect is reasonably good. You don't require extraordinary intellect to receive Vedantic teaching, therefore अर्जुन says, I am an अधिकारि enough to receive this teaching, but my problem is what, it doesn't remain in my mind; I am not able to retain, reception is there, retention is not there. That is why we divide the students into three types based on reception and retention - उत्तम, मध्यम, अधम. उत्तम has got both, both means what: reception, that means he receives the teaching and retention, the teaching is available even during the worst crisis and therefore he has the immunity, he has the withstanding capacity, shock absorber is there, he is उत्तम अधिकारि with reception, retention capacity. The other extreme is अधम अधिकारि and what is the definition of अधम अधिकारि, the one who doesn't have both, neither reception nor retention, in fact, there is no reception what can he retain. So therefore अधम अधिकारि is not able to receive the teaching itself, it goes beyond, I don't understand anything, only if you understand the question of whether it is retained or not arises, he doesn't understand at all. So this is अधम अधिकारि. मध्यम अधिकारि is in between and majority will come under that only, what is that, reception is there, they understand and they give the certificate to the teacher also, you are a good teacher, such a nice teacher, that we are able to receive स्वामिजि, but along with the slippers our old personality comes, the ego-I overpowers अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि I, the small-I overpowers the big-I. And अर्जुन says I also come under that category, I am मध्यम अधिकारि, therefore my problem is what, स्थिराम् स्थितिम् – retention continued presence of this knowledge, न पश्यामि. So in meditation also, I start with the thought of वेदान्त for two minutes and thereafter I have a world tour, without any paisa expenditure, I have a free ride all over and all because of what, चञ्चलत्वात्. अर्जुन has deciphered his problem, he doesn't have perhaps लय problem, or रसास्वादः or anything, his problem is what, चञ्चलत्वम्, that is called रजोगुण प्रधानत्वम्. अर्जुन's problem is not तमो गुण, but his problem is what, रजोगुण, रजोगुण means wandering mind and therefore I have a problem. He expresses this problem more clearly in the next verse.

Verse No .34

चञ्चलं हि मनः कृष्ण प्रमाथि बलवद् दृढम् ।

तस्याहं निग्रहं मन्ये वायोऽपि सुदुष्करम् ॥ ६-३४॥

चञ्चलम् हि मनः कृष्ण प्रमाथि बलवत् दृढम् ।

तस्य अहम् निग्रहम् मन्ये वायोः इव सुदुष्करम् ॥ ६-३४॥

हे कृष्ण! मनः बलवत् दृढम् चञ्चलम् प्रमाथि, अहम् हि तस्य निग्रहम् वायोः इव, सुदुष्करम् मन्ये ।

And this mental problem of hyper activity is so intense in my case and not only in my case, it is the general rule also. So अर्जुन describes the mind here, हे कृष्ण! मनः चञ्चलम् – the mind is highly active, fickle wandering, so चञ्चलम् and प्रमाथि – it is not only turbulent in itself, it makes all the other organs also turbulent. So it churns the entire personality, माथि is derived from the root √मथ्, मथन्ति to churn. So मथ् means churning rod, mind is like a churning rod, मथ् is inside the curd and when you are churning it the whole thing become turbulent. Similarly, when the mind is turbulent, it expresses at the external level also, mental fickleness or turbulence expresses at the verbal level. When I am emotionally disturbed mouth become active, either talking mouth or eating mouth, so people eat or talk or do both. So therefore verbal activity increases when there is lot of disturbance. That is why you can see sometimes on the road people will be talking and you will look for someone to whom they are talking, there will be none, you will find that they are talking alone, because the pressure is so much here in the neck, like volcano it comes out. Not only it churns वाचिकम् the वाक् इन्द्रियम्, it also churns the other इन्द्रियम्s also, the eyes also you will find, when I don't have concentration in the mind the eyes also wander, that is another indication, if I have got concentration I can fix my eye on a particular person, even during conversation you can find that some people cannot look at you and converse continuously, they will looking here and there, therefore the eyes roll and the legs also, they walk up and down, extreme emotions, you want to think of a solution, why can't you sit down, you walk up and down, because when the mind is highly active, the body becomes active. As even we saw in the first chapter, when अर्जुन was extremely disturbed, it overflowed into the इन्द्रिय and body level. Therefore प्रमाथि means it activates all the organs, पञ्च ज्ञानेन्द्रियाणि, पञ्च कर्मेन्द्रियाणि, all of them it churns, makes active and बलवत्, it is so powerful, even though intellectually you argue – “mind sit quiet, by worrying future is not going to change.” Suppose you are restless you have to catch a flight or train and you are standing in the traffic signal, you just do honk, honk or doing something, but whatever you do the traffic signal will come only when it has to come. So even if the intellect tells worry is useless, worry will not change the situation, intellect tells the mind, but the mind does not obey. So mind becomes so powerful to conquer even the intellect. In normal course, mind is supposed to be as we saw in कठोपनिषत्, mind is comparable to the reins and the intellect is comparable to the driver, normally intellect is more powerful than the mind. But you will find that if the mind is used to certain forms of thinking, mind is so powerful that even if you console yourselves, you say, स्वामिजि I understand that one should not worry, but deep inside the stomach is churning like a turbulent ocean, it is saying buk buk, what to do, I tell also: you are ब्रह्मन्, I tell also, you are ब्रह्मन्, you are नित्य शुद्ध बुद्ध मुक्त स्वभावः, but the churning in the stomach continues, that is also happening. So what is wrong, so therefore it is बलवत्, it conquers my wisdom, my intellect and दृढम्, दृढम् means what, it is so firm in its own field of worrying or anxiety. So when commentator beautifully says: सहस्र वासनाभिः, because worrying is a वासना, like initially when I choose to drink coffee, initially it is my intellectual decision and therefore I decide whether to drink it or not and if I don't give the coffee, the only the mind is obsessed, but later you find, if I take sufficiently for a few months or something, then the body itself gets used to that, there afterwards you decide, I should not drink, the withdrawal symptoms are felt at the body level, why because I have created them, now even though I don't want them to happen, initially I created but now it is no more under my control. Similarly, certain ways of thinking initially we generate, there afterwards the mind knows how to go in that groove. And even though you decide to stop, mind will heckle at you and it will continue to do what it wants to do. This is a peculiar situation of split personality, every Vedantin has to go through, intellect tells nothing to worry, mind just keeps worrying and this is called orientation or वासना and the only solution is we have to reorient the mind and reorientation and conquering withdrawal systems is a painful affair, we have to go through. Like a person who decides to stop drinking, even though intellect has decided, he has to go through the painful process, lot of problems, depression, this and that, for weeks or months or years together to remain sober they say. In fact, according to वेदान्त, all of us are drunk, drunk means because of this emotional orientation, this worrying, fearing, these are all habits and no habit can be broken suddenly, it requires lot of initiative, lot of planning, lot of time. Just as this person has to be some time admitted into the hospital, that is called meditation and then he has to face all of them and get out, similarly, get out of fear complex, getting out of depression all these things will take time, this process in the शास्त्र is called वासना क्षयः and until that comes, the mind is firm in its own groove of reacting, remember the example I gave, to that stoic philosopher, when he was told you have lost all the property, he asked what, that what is the वासना reaction and then suddenly he remembered गीता class, OK, did he attend don't ask, he remembered the wisdom, one minute or two minutes he took, depends, then he said: So What. That what to So What, the time distance has to become lesser and lesser and that is directly proportional to वासना क्षयः, it requires time, no other way and therefore until then, it is दृढम्, it is firm, in its own root of emotion and because of this, हे कृष्ण! तस्य निग्रहम् सुदुष्करम्, weaning the mind from its own habitual responses I find extremely difficult, दुष्करम् means difficult, सुदुष्करम् means extremely difficult like what, वायोः इव – like controlling the wind. Can you stop the wind? You cannot, just as the wind cannot be stopped because it is not a concrete object to be stopped by the hand, Similarly, the mind is a subtle sensitive powerful instrument, you cannot just order the mind and say, stop worrying, I just smile at you and continue. Therefore अर्जुन says that it is extremely difficult when I find it difficult just as they say, if I am not able to quit with my willpower, I have to admit myself in the institution required, de-addiction institution. Similarly, here also हे कृष्ण! you have to help me,

शिष्यः ते अहम् शायि माम् त्वाम् प्रपन्नम् ॥ २-७॥

Take me out of my habitual emotional unhealthy responses and tell me how to do that. Those details we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 06, VERSES 34-37

Lord कृष्ण in the first part of this 6th chapter has comprehensively discussed the topic of meditation consisting of four parts,

- i) The general disciplines required for successful meditation,
- ii) The specific disciplines required for successful meditation,
- iii) The actual process of meditation and
- iv) Finally the benefits of meditation,

बहिरङ्ग साधन, अन्तरङ्ग साधन, ध्यानस्वरूपम् and ध्यानफलम्. Now after completing this topic अर्जुन is raising a question which is regarding the obstacles in the practice of meditation and as I said in the last class, the scriptures do discuss the topic of obstacles, four of them, but in this context अर्जुन's specifically mentions a particular obstacle during meditation and कृष्ण presents the remedy and therefore the present topic is ध्यान प्रतिबन्ध परिहारौ, obstacle to meditation and its remedy. And the obstacle that अर्जुन mentions is the wandering nature of the mind and because of the wandering nature, one is not able to focus the mind in a particular field and meditation happens to be focusing the mind, by which I am supposed to dwell upon Vedantic teaching and if I should be able to dwell on the teaching the mind should have the focus, but the doesn't have the focusing capacity and therefore it wanders all over. And this nature of the mind is called विक्षेपः, चञ्चलत्वम्, the waywardness of the mind. And this अर्जुन is presenting in verse no.33 and 34 and अर्जुन points out that I have got sufficient mental steadiness to receive your teaching. I don't have a problem with regard to the understanding of वेदान्त, I am not that bad, I am not अधम अधिकारि, I am मध्यम अधिकारि – intermediary, i.e., I am able to receive but I am not able to retain it in the mind and as long as I don't practice this meditation, I will have ज्ञानम्, but ज्ञान निष्ठा won't be there and as long as ज्ञान निष्ठा is not there, there won't be transformation in my personality. And therefore meditation is a must for me but I am not able to practice that, what should I do? And even I if try to handle my mind I find that it is a slimy thing, if you try to catch a fish how it will slip away, it is such a peculiar instrument that I am not able to discipline, manage or control the mind. And therefore in desperation, अर्जुन cries in front of the Lord in the 34th verse, which we were seeing in the last class, with tears he says, हे कृष्ण! मनः चञ्चलम् – the mind is highly fluid, highly wayward, wandering, extrovert, outgoing and it doesn't go out as I want, it just goes out as it decides, it is चञ्चलम्, highly fluid and प्रमाथि, not only it is all the time turbulent, its disturbance it passes on to the sense organs and the body. So the disturbance is so violent that it overflows into the sensory and body level and that is why when the mind is disturbed even our hands and legs will not keep quiet, either we will be shaking our legs or the hands will be churning. It's all expression of the inner disturbance. This nature of the mind is called प्रमाथि, प्रमाथि means disturbing the other organs also, transferring the disturbance to the sense-organs and the body and not only it is चञ्चलम् and प्रमाथि, it is बलवत् – it is very strong. I thought that mind is my instrument and therefore I am the master of the mind, because it is called अन्तःकरणम्, करणम् means instrument, instrument must be controlled by the possessor, the master and therefore I thought I am the master, but only when I try to discipline the mind I come to know that I am not the master, I am a helpless servant and therefore it is बलवत्. Even though the intellect tells don't do this, the mind says you are right, but I will do as I like. Thus it is very very strong, I am not able to convince and persuade the mind, विचारेण अपि जेतुम् अशक्यम्. श्रीधर स्वामि defines the बलवत्त्वम् of the mind as विचारेण अपि जेतुम् अशक्यम्, it is not listening even by arguing with the mind and persuading and not only it is strong, it is दृढम्, दृढम् means firm in its own particular pet field. If the mind is hovering around a particular topic, a particular person, a particular incident, I try to take the mind away from that field, don't think about that, he might have insulted you but you can think about that after the class, etc. So I try to tell the mind, come away from this topic, however much I pull, like the fly in the jack fruit it gets stuck and it doesn't come away however much I pull and therefore its hold on external world, अनात्मा is very very strong. So बलवत् means independently it is strong, दृढम् means its hold on a particular field is firm. And unless I pull the mind from the अनात्मा, how can I channelize the mind to आत्मा, if you have got two minds it will be convenient, one mind will be at home, another will be in the class. You can distribute it, but unfortunately it is not possible, if the mind is stuck in अनात्मा it cannot channelize towards the आत्मा, it can do only one job at a time. Therefore an extrovert mind cannot practice आत्मध्यानम् and therefore it is दृढम् and because of these powerful qualifications of the mind for चंचलत्वम् it is wayward, it is turbulent and it is strong and it is firm, because of these powerful qualifications, अहम् मन्ये – I consider सुदुष्करम् – it being extremely difficult, almost bordering to impossible. What is difficult, तस्य निग्रहम्, निग्रहम् means disciplining, managing the mind I consider to be the most difficult thing. That is why they say in the scriptures, मनो जयः is the biggest victory in life. You may win over every other thing, you may conquer everything else, but have you managed your own mind, that is the real success of life. And हे कृष्ण! I don't think that success is that easy and since I am not able to manage by myself, I will require a management consultant, what management, mind management consultant, I want. So तस्य निग्रहम्, तस्य means मनसः निग्रहम् सुदुष्करम् मन्ये, दुष्करम् means difficult, सुदुष्करम् means extremely difficult like वायु, like controlling the wind. Continuing;

श्रीभगवानुवाच ।

असंशयं महाबाहो मनो दुर्निग्रहं चलम् ।

अभ्यासेन तु कौन्तेय वैराग्येण च गृह्यते ॥ ६-३५॥

असंशयम् महाबाहो मनः दुर्निग्रहम् चलम् ।

अभ्यासेन तु कौन्तेय वैराग्येण च गृह्यते ॥ ६-३७॥

हे महाबाहो! मनः असंशयम् चलम् दुर्निग्रहम्, हे कौन्तेय! (तत्) तु अभ्यासेन वैराग्येण च गृह्यते ।

Now कृष्ण is presenting the remedy or the method in these verses, 37 to 39, that is विक्षेपः परिहारः, the परिहारः for the problem of विक्षेपः. The first thing that कृष्ण does as an intelligent teacher is to point out that it is not a unique problem of one human being. विक्षेपः or the extrovertedness of the mind is not a problem of a particular human being, it is a universal problem and because it is a universal problem only, शास्त्र itself discusses the problem and once we know that I am not the only one having the problem, the others also have the same problem, it's a big relief. OK, I have told you the example, if there is no power in your house, what is the first job you do, you will see in your neighbor's house. And if in the neighbor house also there is no power, you will feel that you have reached मोक्ष, they also are equally suffering. OK fine, the situation remaining the same, once you know that there are other people in the same boat there is a relief. Therefore they say, first acknowledge a problem then you know how to handle; accept the problem then the remedy will come, God will give the solution. That is what they give also in the Alcoholic anonymous, they say you please accept that I have this problem and I am not able to get out of it and if you accept and surrender, help will come from outer source. Whatever you call the outer source by whatever name you call, the God or power or anything, accept the problem. Similarly, here also, you accept the problem at least you won't have the sense of guilt, therefore कृष्ण consoles अर्जुन, अर्जुन you are not alone, suppose God forbid, suppose you go to नरकम् and you meet your friend, OK. You will feel happy, that at least a friend is here, this is the psychology. So हे महाबाहो! हे अर्जुन! कृष्ण is indirectly teasing अर्जुन, महाबाहो means what: you are powerful enough to conquer all the external enemies but you don't have the inner strength to handle your own mind; better you develop that inner strength. So हे महाबाहो! असंशयम्, what you say is definitely true, there is no doubt about in the truth of what you say. And what is your statement, मनः दुर्निग्रहम् चलम् – mind is highly fickle, wayward and outgoing and therefore it is दुर्निग्रहम् – it is not easily manageable. This is a fact, accept it. But what is the consolation? It is difficult to handle but it is not impossible to handle, there is a very big difference. It is difficult to handle but it is not impossible to handle, that means you can handle your mind if you are willing to adopt proper methods, which is called उपायः, मनो निग्रहः उपायः. उपायः means the strategy, for what, मनो निग्रहः – mental discipline. And what are the उपायs or methods? There are two methods, which is said in the पतञ्जलि's योग सूत्र also, अभ्यास वैराग्याभ्याम् तत् सिद्धिः. So the same thing also you find हे कौन्तेय! अभ्यासेन, अभ्यास means by proper practice. I will explain it later, you first note the method. अभ्यासः is method No.1 and वैराग्यम् is method No.2. OK. What is अभ्यासः? Now we should remember that mind will always dwell upon anything without distraction in which it has got interest, this is the basic principle. The mind can dwell upon anything without distraction if only the mind has got interest in that. If I love reading novels, you will find that I just get involved in that, I forget everything, I am absorbed, I easily attain निर्विकल्पक समाधि in that, I don't know hunger, I don't know thirst, I don't know anything. If I love cricket match, because I don't know from hereafter whether you will love at all, because you don't know which one is fixed match and fixed catch, so if you love and this is a one day cricket and last over and six runs to win, and that too India v/s Pakistan, then what happens to your concentration, you have got the fullest concentration and that too effortless. Can anyone say I don't have concentration, nobody can complain I don't have concentration, everybody has got concentration, the question is in what? For one it is a movie, for another is game, for another one it is something else. And therefore if I develop interest in a particular field the mind will enjoy dwelling in that, in spite of distraction. And how do you develop interest in any particular field, by knowing its value, its greatness, its superiority, how it is wonderful for me. So therefore, concentration requires interest, interest or love and love requires developing a value for that. And how do you develop a value, only by trying to understand its superiority and this process is called विवेक अभ्यासः. See the superiority of something by repeatedly reading about it, talking about it, sharing it, you develop a value for that, that is called नित्य-अनित्य वस्तु विवेकः. So develop healthy habits by knowing the greatness of what you call धर्म, by knowing the greatness of मोक्ष I naturally will develop an interest in धर्म and मोक्ष and this is called विवेक अभ्यासः. That is all about the study of scriptures. Scriptural study initially talk about the superiority of God and how depending on God is only the worthwhile thing in life and how dependence on any other unpredictable factors in life is going to be risky. The more I understand that dependence on unpredictable fluctuating factors is unintelligent and dependence on the predictable and infinite God is alone worthy in life. If you don't understand that you will get a few kicks to understand, परीक्ष्य लोकान् कर्मचितान्. And later we have to understand that dependence on God ultimately is dependence on myself, because God is not anywhere outside, the Lord is non-different from me, not away from myself, therefore God-dependence is Self-dependence, Self-dependence is independence, independence is मोक्ष. And therefore the scriptures talk about our journey from world-dependence to God-dependence to Self-dependence, which is otherwise called independence. What is wrong if I continue in world-dependence? I should know that there is a risk in world-dependence because world is highly fluctuating, fleeting, perishable and depending on a fluctuating thing is a risky thing. Thus dwelling upon these facts and any time you have faced sorrow, you try to equate you will find that sorrow has been always because of depending upon something on which I should not have really depended, like a drowning man catching hold of straw, how meaningless it is. And thinking in these lines, what is नित्यम्, what is अनित्यम्, what is ever secure, what is never secure, what is strong, what is weak. This नित्य-अनित्य वस्तु विवेक, the शास्त्रम् alone teaches and with the help of the शास्त्र when I dwell on the topic and also my lifestyle is designed in such a way that I learn the habit of more and more God-dependence. Later we will see

कथयन्तः च माम् नित्यम् तुष्यन्ति च रमन्ति च ॥ १०-३॥

God-dependence is a habit which we can develop, which is a healthy habit which we can develop and religious life is nothing but developing the healthy and good habit of God-dependence. And when I get used to this healthy habit, you develop any healthy habit it will naturally replace unhealthy habit. If you want to de-addict yourselves, form good addiction, even गीता class addiction is a good addiction, it is an addiction but it is a healthy addiction. In शास्त्र it is called शुभ वासना, develop शुभ वासना, develop healthy habits, you will find unknowingly effortlessly you grow out of, you get out of अशुभ वासनाः, दुर्वासनाः. And this inculcation of healthy habit is विवेक अभ्यासः and because of this development of healthy habit the natural and consequential giving up of unhealthy habit. What is unhealthy habit, depending upon the perishable is unhealthy habit, so you live amidst the perishable, because life is amidst the perishable, you live amidst the fluctuating ones, that you cannot avoid, but don't psychologically lean, I give the example of a card board chair. Suppose there is a chair made out of cardboard and it is very nicely designed, colorful papers are stuck and very attractive. Now what should you do, you can do anything, you can keep it in your showcase, nicely decorated, you can do everything except one thing, what is that, don't sit over that. What will happen, you will fall down, that is all. I don't say you should destroy that chair,

I only say that you don't sit over the chair, then on which chair I should sit, that which can hold 98 kilos of your body, whatever be your weight, similarly, the only chair you can sit on is God, any other chair is cardboard chair. Therefore, that sitting means emotional dependence and giving up of that emotional dependence, that weakness is called giving up of that weakness is called, वैराग्यम्. So sitting on a strong chair is विवेक, coming out of the weak chair is वैराग्यम्, if the mind gets used to that, mind is addicted to that, in meditation also I love to dwell upon the same topic which I have developed the habit of. And therefore कृष्ण says अभ्यासेन, dwell upon the शास्त्र, dwell upon values, dwell upon God as destination, dwell upon your own true nature which is permanent and develop an interest in that. People say वेदान्त is a dry subject, but once you learn to love it, in fact, that is the most juicy subject in the creation and therefore अभ्यासेन means विवेकेन and वैराग्येन, your mind is rechannelized from world to God or अनात्मा to आत्मा and in meditation also you do the same thing. Continuing;

Verse No .36

असंयतात्मना योगो दुष्प्राप इति मे मतिः ।

वश्यात्मना तु यतता शक्योऽवाप्तुमुपायतः ॥ ६-३६॥

असंयत-आत्मना योगः दुष्प्रापः इति मे मतिः ।

वश्य-आत्मना तु यतता शक्यः अवाप्तुम् उपायतः ॥ ६-३६॥

असंयत-आत्मना योगः दुष्प्रापः, वश्य-आत्मना यतता तु उपायतः अवाप्तुम् शक्यः, इति मे मतिः ।

So the same idea कृष्ण is clarifying further. विवेक and वैराग्य are only the two methods by which the mind changes its interest from something perishable to something imperishable, something fake to something real. And if that mind has not practiced विवेक and वैराग्य, such a mind is called असंयतात्मा mind. So आत्मा here means mind, असंयतम् means not channelized, channelized from the perishable to imperishable, from the unhealthy to healthy, from अर्थ काम प्रधान to धर्म मोक्ष प्रधान. This re-directing if it is not done such a mind is called प्राकृत अन्तःकरण. It always goes by external charms, it is carried away by, so असंयतात्मा – the one who has not redirected, rechannelized the mind, for such a person योगः दुष्प्रापः – the meditation is impossible because even if he sits in meditation his value is for something cheap in the creation, therefore he will sit in पूजा room but the mind is in something unworthy, unworthy in the sense, something inferior. Therefore योगः दुष्प्रापः, it is inaccessible, this is my conclusion. Whereas when you have got interest for something you don't have sit in पद्मासन, you don't have to close your eyes, wherever you go your mind will be only dwelling upon that, whatever I love the mind effortlessly dwells on that, पश्यन् शृण्वन् स्पृशन् जिघ्रन्, it will think of that only. Similarly, when I have got a value for this spirituality the mind will naturally run towards that. So दुष्प्रापः इति मे मतिः. They give the example of a new mother, a new mother means what: a mother who has given birth to the first baby, for second one she gets experienced. So the first young baby and then the mother may do umpteen transactions, पश्यन् शृण्वन् स्पृशन् जिघ्रन्, whatever transactions she does the mind is always around that baby only. Even if she is a working mother, even if she is doing something in the office, her mind will be on the child at home. Should she sit in meditation to think of the child, In fact, for her the problem is to take the child out of her mind, because she loves the child, she has a value for the child and she feels that because of the child I enjoy motherhood. Similarly, here also, if that value is there he becomes वश्य-आत्मा, वश्य-आत्मा is संयतात्मा, first line, असंयतात्मा, second line संयतात्मा, संयतात्मा means the one who has got विवेक and वैराग्यम्, the one for whom the priorities in life are very clear. So far such a person and the यतता and one who strives for dwelling upon the teaching, the one who strives to sit in meditation, gives some quality time for वेदान्त, sit in meditation means what: the one who is willing to give quality time to वेदान्त, because of the recognition of its utility in life, otherwise they will ask, whether they will get promotion in office, or else will I get this or that, because वेदान्त and गीता will not give materialistic concrete benefit, therefore he must be sensitive enough to see the abstract benefits of गीता and the उपनिषत्. Therefore यतता पुरुषेण, by such a person of विवेक and वैराग्यम्, शक्यः अवाप्तुम् उपायतः, अवाप्तुम् शक्यः – meditation is possible, for whom, who has disciplined the mind through these two उपायs, what are the two उपायs, विवेक वैराग्य उपायतः वश्य-आत्मनः and therefore read the scriptures, dwell upon this basic teaching of our scriptures, world-dependence to God-dependence to Self-dependence. Don't get stuck in world-dependence, it is a very risky. Like depending upon the corporation water. So everybody wants to have a bore-well, why, you have got some other thing to fall back upon. Similarly, in life, you have everything, nothing wrong. कृष्ण doesn't say run away from everything, you have everything, but they are all corporation water, remember, you should have a bore well, which has got permanent supply, which is dependable bore-well and that is called ईश्वरः and later the very same ईश्वर we will introduce as आत्मा and later we will introduce that आत्मा as your own true nature. You have to go a long distance, but you have to start somewhere. Continuing;

Verse No .37

अर्जुन उवाच ।

अयतिः श्रद्धयोपेतो योगाच्चलितमानसः ।

अप्राप्य योगसंसिद्धिं कां गतिं कृष्ण गच्छति ॥ ६-३७॥

अयतिः श्रद्धया उपेतः योगात् चलित-मानसः ।

अप्राप्य योग-संसिद्धिम् काम् गतिम् कृष्ण गच्छति ॥ ६-३७॥

हे कृष्ण! श्रद्धया उपेतः अयतिः, योगात् चलित-मानसः, योग-संसिद्धिम् अप्राप्य, काम् गतिम् गच्छति?

With the previous verse कृष्ण concludes his answer to अर्जुन's question. अर्जुन's question was how to handle the problem of wandering mind, the problem of restlessness during meditation, विक्षेपः how to handle and कृष्ण has given the solution. What is the solution, विवेक and वैराग्यम्, which means develop an interest in the object of meditation, which is possible only by reading those books which talk about the glory of those objects and also सत्सङ्ग, having friends who have got such values. Because that सङ्ग also influences, if I am moving with a person who considers money alone can give happiness, sooner or later, I will begin to say, money is god. So कृष्ण does not talk about सत्सङ्ग here, but सत्सङ्ग is also considered very important, because whatever my friend values, knowingly or unknowingly I also develop a value for that. That is why शङ्कराचार्य said,

सत्सङ्गत्वे निस्सङ्गत्वम् निस्सङ्गत्वे निर्मोहत्वम् ।

निर्मोहत्वे निश्चलतत्त्वम् निश्चलतत्त्वे जीवन्मुक्तिः ॥ भजगोविन्दम् ९ ॥

निस्सङ्गत्वम् means वैराग्यम्. Thus even what you call deciding the friends with whom you move, that you changes your value, because there are people who do not have regular escapisms of life, but still they are very happy. Because if you are used to certain regular entertainments, after some time you will think that without them life is nothing. Anything you get addicted to after some time you cannot think of your life without those addictions, but when you see some people, they don't have any of those addictions and they don't miss anything in life, in fact, they are happier for that, then we begin to what you call reconsider our priorities, we can be happy and we won't miss even if we give up those things. So thus सत्सङ्ग is also very important, but कृष्ण doesn't say here, विवेक and वैराग्यम्, this is the solution and instead of विवेक, he uses the word, अभ्यासः. So with this ध्यान प्रतिबन्ध and परिहार topic is over. In fact, with this actually the 6th chapter dealing with meditation is over. ॐ सत् तत् should have come, but अर्जुन again comes with a question and the most unfortunate thing is in spite of all the encouragement given by कृष्ण, अर्जुन continues to be a pessimistic person and therefore he begins to feel that, I don't think it is possible for me to manage my mind. Even though कृष्ण has given a solution, perhaps the solution may work for other people, but for me and that too in this जन्म, I don't think I will get it. Even if स्वामिजि is optimistic, they try to make स्वामिजि also pessimistic, स्वामिजि you don't know me properly. And this pessimism or self-diffidence is also another human weakness. That's why in the beginning of the 6th chapter, कृष्ण said उद्धरेत् आत्मना आत्मानम् न आत्मानम् अवसादयेत्, never look down upon yourself, never be diffident. Because if I don't have self-confidence, आत्मकृपा is not there then even God cannot help, because we will argue with God also. Argue what? I cannot succeed in this life. Therefore even God will become helpless, गुरुs will become helpless, शास्त्रम् will become helpless, if you have decided that I cannot accomplish this and therefore कृष्ण repeatedly tells faith in oneself is important, but in spite of that, अर्जुन continues to be diffident, therefore his conclusion is – 'in this life, I am not going to get मोक्ष,' he is very sure about it. And since in this life, I am not going to get मोक्ष, his plans are about next life, because he has decided this life is not going to work and therefore he wonders assuming that I take next birth, which is going to be definite, because I am not going to get liberation. His worry is, all the साधनs that I have done in this life, whatever little साधन, will all be wiped out and next जन्म, I have to again start from LKG or will all the साधनs of this life will be brought forward, (as they say while calculating) in the next जन्म, I need not study from the 1st chapter of the गीता, as we have studied up to 6th can I continue from the 7th chapter onwards? So what is my lot in my next birth. Why he is worried? Because he is very sure that in this birth I am not going to get liberation, he has concluded and therefore because of अर्जुन's pessimism, he raises this question in the verses 37, 38 and 39th, three verses अर्जुन's pessimistic questions.

And those people who failed in spirituality, that means who struggled in spiritual field, but did not succeed, all those people are here called योग-श्रष्टः, योग-श्रष्टः means what: failure in exam, attempted but not succeeded. The other people are not going to face because they never attempted and of course the जीवन्मुक्तः they don't have the problem of failures, failures come for whom, the one who has attempted only. Therefore all these spiritual failures we call योग-श्रष्टः and अर्जुन's question about this योग-श्रष्टः, what will happen to him or her in the next जन्म. That is here in the 37th verse, first he describes a योग-श्रष्टः, who is he, योगात् चलित-मानसः – he has fallen from spirituality, which means he didn't succeed in his or her spiritual साधन. So here योग means what spiritual साधन, अध्यात्म योगः, चलित-मानसः means what: he has fallen, slip-out, that is called चलित-मानसः. And why he could not succeed, अयतिः – because of his insufficient effort. He put forth effort alright, but the effort was not sufficient. What is the proof? The effort was not sufficient, he has failed. The very fact that he has failed indicates that effort was insufficient. Therefore अयतिः means अल्प प्रयत्नः – a person of insufficient effort. And why the effort was not sufficient? Because of various obstacles, because there are many people who want to put forth lot of effort, but because of various reasons obstacles come. स्वामिजि I think I should do, but I am not getting time at all, attending the class itself is a great effort, where is the question of revision or kivision. Therefore the obstacles can come from three sources, आधिदैविक प्रतिबन्धः – supernatural forces, planets, therefore राहु केतु शनि comes and obstructs, or आधिभौतिक प्रतिबन्धः – obstacles from surroundings or आध्यात्मिक प्रतिबन्धः – obstacles form oneself in the form of ill-health, etc. Suppose I lose my hearing capacity, what to hear? So therefore, because of आध्यात्मिक, आधिभौतिक, आधिदैविक प्रतिबन्धाः सन् सः अयतिः भवति, अल्प प्रयत्नः भवति. But even though he could not put forth sufficient effort, श्रद्धया उपेतः, that person is very sincere, it is not that he gives lame excuses, it is not the lack of interest, but in spite of sincerity. So श्रद्धया उपेतः, there is value for spiritual life, but could not follow because of some obstructions one after the other. So श्रद्धया उपेतः and therefore योगात् चलित-मानसः, योग-भ्रष्टः, what will happen to him, योग-संसिद्धिम् अप्राप्य, योग-संसिद्धिम् means मोक्षफलम्, संसिद्धि here means the फलम्, the फलम् of what योगः, योग means spiritual साधन, the फलम् of spiritual साधन is what मोक्षः and this मोक्षफलम् अप्राप्य – this person could not attain मोक्ष, in spite of sincerity, because of various reasons. अप्राप्य योग-संसिद्धिम्, because sometimes गुरु is not available, गुरु got and I was thinking of starting something, but there was a transfer of job and therefore I went to another place, where nothing is available. So therefore I had interest, गुरु was not there, when गुरु was there, there was no interest for me, all these should combine, all these are there, but no health. That is why they say,

मनुष्यत्वम् मुमुक्षुत्वम् महापुरुषसश्रयः ॥ विवेकचूडामणि ३ ॥

To be born a human being and to be interested in spirituality and to have an opportunity for pursuing spirituality, requires lot of पूर्वजन्म पुण्यम्. So because of some obstacles he could not attain the फलम् हे कृष्ण! काम् गतिम् गच्छति? what is the lot of that person? So will he have a lower birth or will he have a human birth again, what will be his next birth like, कृष्ण has to answer this question because we cannot know what is our next birth. Therefore हे कृष्ण! काम् गतिम् गच्छति? Question in desperation and pessimism. And he himself explains his pessimism, that also, justifies his pessimism, there are some people who argue how I will not get मोक्ष, कृष्ण is wanting to do all struggles to bring अर्जुन to मोक्ष, but अर्जुन is like that adamant horse, is not moving at all. So अर्जुन explains or justifies his pessimism in the next verse, which we will see in the next class.

Lord कृष्ण has comprehensively discussed all the aspects of meditation, especially Vedantic meditation which has to be practiced after a thorough study of Vedantic scriptures and nowhere else we find such an elaborate discussion of meditation and therefore 6th chapter is important from this particular angle. And He has even dealt with the topic of obstacles in meditation, especially the obstacle of mental distraction and also He talked about the remedy. And कृष्ण said that if a person should be successful in meditation he has to develop detachment from the world. Without वैराग्यम् or detachment meditation will not be successful and without meditation, वेदान्त cannot be assimilated and without assimilation we will not get the full benefit called जीवन्मुक्ति. And therefore we find वैराग्यम् or detachment is given a very important position in the scriptures. And when कृष्ण concluded in this manner, अर्जुन looks at himself and sees whether he will be able to develop total detachment and practice meditation and assimilate and somehow unfortunately अर्जुन is not very confident of himself and therefore he becomes very pessimistic with regard to the attainment of liberation in this जन्म itself. And this is not अर्जुन's problem only, this is the universal problem. When a seeker comes to the spiritual field and sees the prescribed साधनs, he becomes extremely pessimistic - I don't think we ordinary people can ever attain liberation. There are a few people, may be one शङ्कर, one रामकृष्ण, one रमण, they are all somewhere else, we are all somewhere else, all these will not work. So thus, pessimism is one of the common obstacle for every seeker and therefore whether अर्जुन had this problem or not, अर्जुन identifies with the majority of humanity and presents his problem and he presents the question in these verses, 37,38 and 39, of which we completed the 37th verse, in which अर्जुन said, suppose there is a person, he has come to spirituality, he thought he has grown out of religion and therefore he dropped all the कर्मs, temples and all other things and then he came to ज्ञान मार्ग, relinquishing कर्म मार्ग and in ज्ञान मार्ग he had total faith but because of one obstacle or the other, may be physical obstacle called आध्यात्मिक प्रतिबन्धाः, may be environmental प्रतिबन्ध called आधिभौतिक प्रतिबन्धाः, may be unseen obstacles called आधिदैविक प्रतिबन्धम्, because of some obstacle or the other he could not pursue the path of knowledge. So अयतिः means अल्प प्रयत्नः, a person of incomplete effort, not because of lack of faith, faith is there, sincerity is there, but because of obstacle one could not. And therefore naturally, ज्ञानफलम् of मोक्ष he could not attain. Then at least can he attain the कर्म-फलम् of स्वर्ग. अर्जुन feels that he will not get कर्म-फलम् also, because he left the कर्म and spend the कर्म time for ज्ञान, with the hope that he wants to get a result which is higher. I don't want स्वर्ग and came to मोक्ष and he dropped स्वर्ग and also he didn't get मोक्षम्, which is called typical त्रिशङ्कु. त्रिशङ्कु left the earth for the sake of attaining heaven and he was not granted visa in the स्वर्गलोक, in the airport itself he was turned off and therefore he came down and विश्वामित्र said don't come here and go up and विश्वामित्र pushing up, इन्द्र pushing down, and so was in between. Similarly, कर्म-फलम् भूत स्वर्ग अपि नास्ति, ज्ञानफल भूत मोक्षः अपि नास्ति, will he not become a त्रिशङ्कु. Therefore he asks योग-संसिद्धिम् अप्राप्य, योग-संसिद्धिम् means ज्ञानफलम्, ज्ञानफलम् means मोक्ष, अप्राप्य means not getting. What will be the lot of that person and अर्जुन himself clarifies his pessimism further. A very logical pessimism, the pessimistic people have got their own logic to support pessimism. Why I will not be successful, why can't he find some logic for optimism. No, we are experts in pessimism, अर्जुन does that in the following verses, we will read verse no.38.

Verse No .38

कच्चिन्नोभयविभ्रष्टश्छिन्नाश्रमिव नश्यति ।

अप्रतिष्ठो महाबाहो विमूढो ब्रह्मणः पथि ॥ ६-३८॥

कच्चित् न उभय-विभ्रष्टः छिन्न-अश्रम् इव नश्यति ।

अप्रतिष्ठः महाबाहो विमूढः ब्रह्मणः पथि ॥ ६-३८॥

हे महाबाहो! ब्रह्मणः पथि अप्रतिष्ठः विमूढः उभय-विभ्रष्टः छिन्न-अश्रम इव न नश्यति कच्चित्?

In the previous verse अर्जुन had said that this seeker of insufficient effort will not attain मोक्ष because he could not put forth full effort, then we have to supply another idea, which is not said here and what is that? Because he came to ज्ञान मार्ग he did not perform कर्म which will have given him स्वर्गलोक. So कर्म-फलम् रूप स्वर्गः अपि नास्ति. This idea अर्जुन didn't say, we have to supply. Why he didn't have स्वर्ग, because स्वर्ग is the result of कर्म-फलम्. Why he doesn't have कर्म-फलम्, because he doesn't have कर्म. Why he doesn't have कर्म, because he spend all the time in ज्ञान मार्ग. So therefore कर्म-फलम् रूप पुण्यम् अपि नास्ति and therefore what is his condition, अप्रतिष्ठः, second line, अप्रतिष्ठः means he doesn't have the support of पुण्यम् which could have given him स्वर्ग, he doesn't have the support of ज्ञानम् which could have given him मोक्ष, therefore अप्रतिष्ठः means पुण्य ज्ञान रहितः, कर्मणः अभावात् पुण्य रहितः, ज्ञानस्य अभावात् मोक्ष रहितः, these two support he doesn't have, therefore अप्रतिष्ठः. अर्जुन himself further explains the word अप्रतिष्ठः in the first line, उभय-विभ्रष्टः. So he is free from support means he is free from two-fold support, उभयम् means two supports and what are the two, कर्म द्वारा पुण्यम् and ज्ञान द्वारा मोक्षः and from both he has fallen. विभ्रष्टः and therefore what will be his lot, छिन्न-अश्रम इव नश्यति. So his condition can be compared to a small cloud-let मेघः, which has got separated from the big, huge, vast cloud. When the cloud is big enough then the wind cannot destroy the cloud, dissipate the cloud or disperse the cloud, because it is a vast cloud. Maximum what can the wind do, it can only carry the cloud from one place to other. But imagine a small portion of cloud gets separated from the big body of cloud it has become a weakened cloud and when that cloud gets separated, what will the wind do, you have to watch, that days we used to see the sky, now no time, there is no time to stand and stare, so we see only the cinema stars, not the real stars. That is why you find in Vedantic literature, all the examples were taken from nature, because they were staying in the आश्रम, river-bank, mountain, you find all examples are from nature. Therefore if you watch the cloudlet, you will find gradually because of the powerful wind it gets dissipated, dispersed and after some time it completely disappears. Similarly, this seeker he doesn't have the support of the धर्म, support of ज्ञानम् also, now he has become a weak individual. And that is why in those days they did not allow a person to take to संन्यास that easily. Their worry was, at least in गृहस्थ आश्रम the mind has got some occupation, this has to be done, that has to be done, there is something to do, you have got children to bring up, they should be settled, functions will come, festivals will come, therefore mind has got some hold in society. Imagine a person gets out of the society and he doesn't have the support of a गुरु or आश्रम, what will happen, the mind does not have कर्म hold, the mind does not have शास्त्र hold, शास्त्रम् has been dropped, स्वधर्म has been dropped, the mind will dwell upon what, only sensory pleasures or other immoral things and a person can end up a मिथ्याचारि and that person can fall. And that is why they said संन्यास is such an आश्रम, it is highly risky because one can go out of both शास्त्रम् also and वर्ण-आश्रम धर्म also and therefore अर्जुन says that, उभय-विभ्रष्टः, like the cloudlet will he not get into destruction, छिन्न-अश्रम्, अश्रम् means मेघः, अपः बिभर्ति इति अश्रम्, अप् means जलम्, श्रम् means holder, अप् श्रम्, water holder, In fact, your water tank can be called अश्रम्, cloud can also be called अश्रम् because it holds the water, what is the proof, rain comes, that is the proof, Therefore अश्रम् is equal to मेघः. So like a cloudlet will he not perish, अप्रतिष्ठः. हे महाबाहो! हे कृष्ण! विमूढः ब्रह्मणः पथि – having fallen from the path of ब्रह्मन्. So ब्रह्मणः पथि means ब्रह्म मार्गः, ब्रह्म मार्ग means ज्ञान मार्गः, having fallen from ज्ञान

मार्ग and you have to supply, having fallen from कर्म मार्ग also, will he not perish; this is अर्जुन's fear. Continuing;

Verse No .39

एतन्मे संशयं कृष्ण छेतुमर्हस्यशेषतः ।

त्वदन्यः संशयस्यास्य चेत्ता न ह्युपपद्यते ॥ ६-३९॥

एतत् मे संशयम् कृष्ण छेतुम् अर्हसि अशेषतः ।

त्वत् अन्यः संशयस्य अस्य चेत्ता न हि उपपद्यते ॥ ६-३९॥

हे कृष्ण! मे एतत् संशयम् अशेषतः छेतुम् अर्हसि, हि त्वत् अन्यः अस्य संशयस्य चेत्ता न उपपद्यते ।

So अर्जुन is desperate now, he says, हे कृष्ण! I have a great fear, why I came to वेदान्त, हे कृष्ण! एतत् संशयम् छेतुम् अर्हसि – you should destroy this doubt of mine, because if I am going to be a त्रिशङ्कु, at least from next week onwards instead of coming to the class, at least I can try to do some पूजा, even though मोक्ष may not come at least some पुण्यम् may come. So now I am not doing पूजा and class also I am not understanding (you are understanding!) so I don't seem to understand, suppose अर्जुन type of students are there, not you, if knowledge also doesn't come out of these classes and at least I could have done some विष्णुसहस्रनाम पारायणम् or पूजा जपम् etc., I could have done, now that also is not there, this also is not there, एतत् संशयम्, this त्रिशङ्कुत्वम् संशयम्, this doubt of self-destruction or spiritual fall, एतत् संशयम्, एतत् संशयम् for grammar students, एतत् संशयम् is really speaking grammatically wrong, because संशयम् is masculine gender, एतत् is neuter gender, therefore एतत् संशयम्, एतम् संशयम् should be said. But since it is coming from व्यासाचार्य's pen, we give him the benefit of doubt and say it is आर्ष प्रयोग, it is a poetic license for big people, not for us, for big people it is allowed. So एतत् is equal to एतम्. In fact, in some books, they correct it and write एतम् itself. एतम् संशयम् कृष्ण and according to them this is printing mistake. Whatever it is, this doubt of mine, छेतुम् अर्हसि – you have to destroy because my further attendance of class itself is dependent on your answer to my question. It is a crucial thing. So एतम् संशयम्, छेतुम्, छेतुम् means destroy, remove, अर्हसि and don't give a vague answer, अशेषतः – completely, clearly. And why am I asking you, because त्वत् अन्यः छेत्ता न हि उपपद्यते – there cannot be any person other than you who can destroy this doubt. Why अर्जुन says so, because this person will spiritually fall or not can be determined only in the next जन्म. Whether he will go to स्वर्ग or whether he will get मोक्ष or whether he will miss both of them and go to a lower जन्म, these are all questions of after-birth and what will happen to us in the next जन्म we don't know. why, even in this जन्म we don't know what will happen next year or tomorrow itself. So भगवान् alone is कर्म-फल धाता, therefore he alone is fit enough to answer this question and therefore what type of जन्म such a person will get later. And therefore you should answer. So thus in these three verses अर्जुन's pessimistic question has been given. Now कृष्ण is going to give an optimistic answer, we will read happily.

Verse No .40

श्रीभगवानुवाच ।

पार्थ नैवेह नामुत्र विनाशस्तस्य विद्यते ।

न हि कल्याणकृत्कश्चिद् दुर्गतिं तात गच्छति ॥ ६-४०॥

पार्थ न एव इह न अमुत्र विनाशः तस्य विद्यते ।

न हि कल्याण-कृत् कश्चित् दुर्गतिम् तात गच्छति ॥ ६-४०॥

हे पार्थ! न इह न एव (च) अमुत्र तस्य विनाशः विद्यते । हे तात! हि कश्चित् कल्याण-कृत् दुर्गतिम् न गच्छति ।

So first कृष्ण gives consolation to अर्जुन. अर्जुन don't worry, we will see the result later, first I am telling you don't worry and then he gives the answer. I will give you the gist of the answer. The idea is this: Suppose a person comes to ज्ञान मार्ग, what is ज्ञान मार्ग, serious study of scriptures, श्रवण, मनन, निदिध्यासन and certainly it is different from the regular कर्म of सन्ध्यावन्दनम्, नामजप, etc., you are not doing those regular religious activities now, at this moment you are studying the गीता or उपनिषत् as the case may be. Now the शास्त्र says, वेदान्त श्रवणम् has got two-fold benefits, one is called मुख्य फलम् or primary benefit and the second is called अवान्तर फलम् or secondary benefit or by-product. So when in certain industries they manufacture something, not only they get the primary benefit but they get lot of secondary benefit like by-product. A coconut tree you have, main benefit is coconut, but how many other benefits are there. In fact, you can write an essay of three hundred page, that is why coconut is called पूर्णफलम्, any part of it is useful. So when you plant a mango tree the primary benefit you expect is mango fruit, but there are so many by-product, you get the shade of the tree and the temperature will be lesser, whether you have read in the newspaper, in the theosophical society area, where there are plenty of trees, they have found that the temperature is 2 or 3 degrees lesser to other parts of the वैष्णव, because of the roots of the tree retain some water and therefore in the surrounding area there is some coolness. This is what benefit, अवान्तर फलम्, by-product, shade is अवान्तर फलम् and mango leaves अवान्तर फलम्, thus we have got by-product, in the same way वेदान्त श्रवणम् also has got a मुख्य फलम् and an अमुख्य फलम्. What is the मुख्य फलम्? If a person has got all the qualifications, the मुख्य फलम् will come and that is ज्ञानम्, the qualifications are there, the मुख्य फलम् will be: I understand गीता and suppose a person doesn't have sufficient qualifications and therefore a person does not understand the teaching and even then there is a secondary फलम्, that is called पुण्यम्. कृष्ण himself tells that in the 18th chapter, शृणुयात् अपि यः नरः, one who just allows the गीता to pass through his ears, without knowing संस्कृत if गीता पारायणम् is done, the very vibrations of the गीता if it has fallen on him, सः अपि मुक्तः शुभान् लोकान् प्राप्नुयात् पुण्य-कर्मणाम् वेदान्त श्रवणम् produces पुण्यम्. So if you have done a special पूजा or सहस्रनाम पारायण, what पुण्य it would have given the same amount of पुण्य a गीता listener is going to get as a by-product. So that means what: either you will get ज्ञानम् and पुण्यम् or you are going to get minimum पुण्यम्, ज्ञानम् if it comes then मोक्षम्, ज्ञानम् if it doesn't come then पुण्यम्, पुण्यम् if you get, स्वर्ग is going to come, therefore what is your position now, either मोक्ष or स्वर्ग. So you can come to the next class, so for just coming here and managing to sit somehow for one hour, the best result is मोक्ष and the minimum is स्वर्ग, अर्जुन why are you worrying? That is what कृष्ण's question is. हे पार्थ! तस्य विनाशः न विद्यते, for a ज्ञान मार्गि, a person who has come to शास्त्र श्रवणम्, there is no downfall at all, इह वा अमुत्र वा – either in this जन्म or after death, before मरणम् or after मरणम् there is no question of spiritual fall. What is the reason, because कल्याण-कृत् कश्चित् – such a person happens to be मङ्गल कर्ता, he is doing a noble action, even listening to गीता is a मङ्गल कर्म, which कृष्ण called in the 4th chapter, as ज्ञान यज्ञ. So that is why स्वामि विन्मयानन्द, when he started teaching गीता in the public, he called ज्ञान यज्ञ, गीता ज्ञान यज्ञ: and initially when the people heard यज्ञ, they thought there is going to होमकुण्ड, priest, etc. Even now there are people have this doubt, why this title is given, this is not विन्मयानन्द's naming, भगवान् कृष्ण himself says this is ज्ञान यज्ञ. Even though no होमकुण्ड is involved, even though no oblations are involved, this ज्ञान यज्ञ will give as much पुण्यम् as any other वैदिक कर्म. And that पुण्यम् is the minimum result that one will get. But if he has got qualification he won't require this पुण्यम्, because ज्ञानम् itself is going to give him मोक्ष. Therefore कल्याण-कृत् is equal to मङ्गल कर्ता, कल्याणम् does not mean marriage, in संस्कृत language कल्याणम् means मङ्गलम्, any sacred action is called कल्याणम् and since marriage is considered to be one of the sacred rites, marriage is also called कल्याणम्, otherwise the word कल्याणम् means any मङ्गल कर्म. Therefore you can say daily or every Saturday Sunday evening we are going to कल्याणम्, nothing wrong, because this is also कल्याणम् only. So कल्याण-कृत् कश्चित् दुर्गतिम् तात गच्छति – such a person will never have a downfall. Certainly he will go up only whether to स्वर्ग or मोक्ष, that alone is the question, there is no question of downfall. हे तात! तात literally means father, in general it is vocative case - a term of affection addressed to a junior or senior; in English it is difficult to translate. Continuing;

Verse No .41

प्राप्य पुण्यकृतां लोकानुषित्वा शाश्वतीः समाः ।

शुचीनां श्रीमतां गेहे योगभ्रष्टोऽभिजायते ॥ ६-४१॥

प्राप्य पुण्य-कृताम् लोकान् उषित्वा शाश्वतीः समाः ।

शुचीनाम् श्रीमताम् गेहे योग-भ्रष्टः अभिजायते ॥ ६-४१॥

योग-भ्रष्टः पुण्य-कृताम् लोकान् प्राप्य, (तत्र) शाश्वतीः समाः उषित्वा, शुचीनाम् श्रीमताम् गेहे अभिजायते ।

So in these verses, कृष्ण tells what happens to such a seeker after death. Before death he continues the spiritual साधन and therefore that is not discussed here. कृष्ण is discussing the मरण अनन्तर गति of such a person. Such a person means, योग-भ्रष्टः, that is he could not succeed in spirituality, he made a noble, serious, sincere attempt but he could not succeed. What will happen to that person after death. And as I said before, he has acquired पुण्यम् because of what, the very वेदान्त श्रवणम्, the very गीता श्रवणम्, the very गीता पाठायणम् has given him पुण्यम् as a by-product, as a secondary result and as a result of that पुण्यम् he will go to heaven and therefore पुण्य-कृताम् लोकान् प्राप्य, here पुण्य-कृत means those people who have done great यागs, वाजपेय याग, सोम याग, doing such big कर्म's which लोकs they go, the very same लोक this person also goes, even though he has not done any of those rituals, his very study of the गीता is equivalent to all the यागs and यज्ञs and नामजपम् and मधुसूदन सरस्वती स्वामि quotes a verse and he says that one minute of वेदान्त श्रवणम् is equal to hundrends of यागs (you are listening to 60 minutes!) and it is equal to giving the

दानम् of the entire earth, not one acre or two acre, the entire earth is gifted, all those पुण्यम्s will come by वेदान्त श्रवणम्, the idea is that this itself is equal to a sacred कर्म only. Therefore पुण्य-कृताम्, so वैदिक कर्म कृताम् लोकान् स्वर्गादि उत्तम लोकान् प्राप्य. And not only he will attain those लोकs, शाश्वतीः समाः उषित्वा and he will remain there, reside there for many years. समाः means वर्षाणि, संवत्सराः, संवत्सरान् – द्वितीया बहुवचनम्, समा, समे, समाः; समाम्, समे, समाः; आकारान्त स्त्रीलिङ्ग द्वितीया बहुवचनम्, here the word समा does not mean समम्, equal, here it is आकारान्त स्त्रीलिङ्ग समा, means संवत्सरान्, वर्षाणि. शाश्वतीः means countless number of years, उषित्वा – he resides and not a mere resident, those enjoyments of the स्वर्गलोक also he will get, all those pleasures having enjoyed. Then, his primary desire was what, his desire was not enjoying स्वर्गलोक, he studied गीता उपनिषत् etc., for मोक्ष only and therefore भगवान् gives him or her an appropriate birth for continuing the spiritual साधन and therefore He says योग-श्रष्टः and this योग-श्रष्टः, who was a failure in his पूर्वजन्म, that योग-श्रष्टः अभिजायते – he is reborn. Where is he reborn? There are two possibilities, first possibility is शुचीनाम् श्रीमताम् गेहे – he will be born in the family of a prosperous and cultured parents. So शुचिः here means culture, धर्म is there, values are there, religion is there, he is a religious family, cultured family given to noble कर्मs and not only born in a cultured family, श्रीमताम् गेहे – in a prosperous family also and why कृष्ण says so, because only in such a family there is a scope for further pursuit of spirituality. Suppose there is poverty then naturally one has to struggle for the basic needs of life, where is वेदान्त, so when you know that there is slum colony where food is not there, you cannot go and talk about साधन चतुष्टय सम्पन्न अधिकारिणाम्, मोक्ष साधनभूतम्, तत्त्वविवेक etc., etc., to them, they will beat you, you cannot go there because basic human needs should be fulfilled. Therefore भगवान् will give a such a family where basic means are provided. Here prosperity means basic needs are there. But suppose there is prosperity but no culture, money without culture is dangerous, because all the money will be used for another type of spirituality, another type of spirit, clubs, higher society, higher strata, they will go there, so late night sleep only, late morning waking up only, no religion, no पूजा, nothing, that is In fact, worse, it is better to be born poor. And therefore he will be a cultured and prosperous family which is ideal for further spiritual साधन, he can do more of निष्काम कर्म, he can do more of service because धर्म is there in the mind, money is there, when धर्म and अर्थ come together I will use all the money for noble activities. निष्काम कर्म will be more and all those कर्मस will give what, more purity and साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति. In the पूर्वजन्म he failed only because of incomplete qualifications, now that all those qualifications will be completed in the next जन्म. Therefore शुचीनाम् श्रीमताम् गेहे योग-भ्रष्टः अभिजायते, this is possibility No.1. Then there is a second possibility which is still rarer, what is that: कृष्ण says:

Verse No .42

अथवा योगिनामेव कुले भवति धीमताम् ।

एतद्धि दुर्लभतरं लोके जन्म यदीदृशम् ॥ ६-४२॥

अथवा योगिनाम् एव कुले भवति धीमताम् ।

एतत् हि दुर्लभतरं लोके जन्म यत् ईदृशम् ॥ ६-४२॥

अथवा धीमताम् योगिनाम् एव कुले भवति, यत् एतत् ईदृशम् जन्म लोके दुर्लभतरं हि ।

अथवा, this is the second possibility for a योग-भ्रष्टः, after the स्वर्गलोक अनुभव where will he or she will be born? योगिनाम् कुले भवति, योगि means ब्रह्म ज्ञानिनः, those who are already ज्ञानि, so in the family of ज्ञानि and who may not be and who will not be prosperous in the literal sense, because they lead a simple life only and therefore शङ्कराचार्य says, they are born in a poor family, but the family of ज्ञानि and when there is ज्ञानम् poverty will not be considered a curse. When there is ज्ञानम्, poverty will not be considered a curse, it will be considered as an ideal thing for following तपस् and you don't have to specially practice संन्यास, because you have to have something to renounce, therefore I need not work for संन्यास, भगवान् has Himself made me born as a संन्यासि, therefore he will take as भगवान् decided संन्यास. And if food is not available he can practice उपवास. It will be considered a blessing, less possession means less worry, he sees it as freedom from worry and therefore in such families of ज्ञानिs such a person will be born. धीमताम् योगिनाम्, धीमताम् and योगिनाम् should be connected, धीमताम् योगिनाम् means wise sages. The advantage is he need not go in search of गुरु, because father or mother is गुरु, how convenient it is, so the भृगुवल्लि of तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् is in the form of dialogue between father and son, how nice it will be if it is so, now they are fighting. So other than that it will be a dialogue of वेदान्त, instead of fighting and quarreling. So धीमताम् योगिनाम् कुले भवति. But कृष्ण says, एतत् जन्म लोके दुर्लभतरम्, such a birth as a child of a ज्ञानि is दुर्लभतरम्. Why, why it is rare, because ज्ञानिs themselves are rare,

तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् ३-१-१॥

मनुष्याणाम् सहस्रेषु कश्चित् यतति सिद्धये ।

यतताम् अपि सिद्धानाम् कश्चित् माम् वेति तत्त्वतः ॥ ७-३॥

ज्ञानिs themselves are rare and to be born to a ज्ञानि, that ज्ञानि must be what type of ज्ञानि, गृहस्थ-ज्ञानि he should be, because in संन्यासि-ज्ञानि there is no possibility. So ज्ञानिs are there, among them also there should be गृहस्थ-ज्ञानिs, still rare, still less and in that family birth is rarer. So यत् ईदृशम् जन्म लोके तत् दुर्लभम्, दुर्लभतरम्. In the previous श्लोक, शुचीनाम् श्रीमताम् गेहे is दुर्लभम्, this is दुर्लभतरम्, previous one itself is difficult, this one is still more difficult, to be born prosperous cultured family is a great blessing, there is lot of money, you can do lot of good कर्म and you have a value for service also, it is a rare birth only. Now what is the next question? OK, I get a conducive जन्म for spiritual साधन, then the next important question is, should I start the spiritual साधन from scratches or will it be the continuity of what I have already done. Suppose I have studied up to 6th chapter now should I start from 1st chapter or can I continue from the 7th chapter onwards? Like transfer they ask whether can I go to the next class or should I sit in the same class only? Similarly, the basic question is should I start spirituality from scratches or whatever I have acquired in this जन्म will be brought forward, b/f, that is the question, we are so particular about time and कृष्ण is going to say that it is brought forward, that means you are born with the फलम्, the spiritual result which you have acquired in this जन्म, which means that person is born with advanced spirituality, that person is born as a spiritually evolved person, In fact, such people are called spiritual geniuses. So from this we come to know a very important thing, the spiritual genius of this जन्म is a योग-भ्रष्टः of previous जन्म. Every spiritual genius of this जन्म, they are all योग-भ्रष्टः of previous जन्म. That is why somebody nicely said, the best way of catching a bus is by giving up the previous bus. If you miss the previous bus, for the next bus you are sufficiently early, if you miss the bus of this जन्म, you are going to be sufficiently early in the next जन्म, that means spirituality starts from early life itself, that is going to be said in the next श्लोक.

तत्र तं बुद्धिसंयोगं लभते पौर्वदेहिकम् ।

यतते च ततो भूयः संसिद्धौ कुरुनन्दन ॥ ६-४३॥

तत्र तम् बुद्धि-संयोगम् लभते पौर्व-देहिकम् ।

यतते च ततः भूयः संसिद्धौ कुरुनन्दन ॥ ६-४३॥

हे कुरुनन्दन! (सः) तत्र तम् पौर्व-देहिकम् बुद्धि-संयोगम् लभते, ततः च भूयः संसिद्धौ यतते ।

तत्र, तत्र means in the new जन्म, either in a prosperous cultured family or poor wise person's family, whatever be the family, there, तम् बुद्धि-संयोगम् लभते – this जीव gets associated with the spiritual maturity which he had acquired in the previous जन्म, whatever spiritual gains he had made including qualification, whatever be the amount of विवेक, whatever be the intensity of वैराग्यम् and whatever knowledge he had acquired, all of them his mind will discover as he grows up. And therefore बुद्धि-संयोगम् means associated with the knowledge and spiritual maturity of पूर्वजन्म, पौर्व-देहिकम् – which he acquired in the previous body. Why it is so? Because according to शास्त्र, between two जन्मs the physical body alone is different, the mind is not different. When a person dies now in this जन्म he gives up only the physical body, the mind does not die, सूक्ष्म शरीरम् does not die, therefore the सूक्ष्म शरीरम् has got all the पुण्यम्, विवेक, वैराग्यम्, that mature सूक्ष्म शरीरम् travels and it takes another body and when the body is a baby body, the mind cannot express itself, but when the body grows to 12 years, 13 years, 14 years, then the mind, which mind, spiritual mind, evolved mind, mature mind of previous जन्म which has been continuing that blooms. That is why we say a mother never gives birth the mind of the child, a mother gives birth to only the body of the child. Every child comes with its own mind, its own वासनाs, its own inclinations, that is why to the same parents if there are four children, you will find their inclinations vary. One child shows spiritual inclination from early childhood which spiritual inclinations even the parents don't have, In fact, they discourage the child from the path of spirituality, not necessary they will say, but the child becomes so spiritual, how does the child gets the spirituality, mother might have given some background, but remember all the children are born to the same parents and the same environment is there and you find that another child becomes a नास्तिका, not only no interest in शास्त्र or religion, he or she becomes a नास्तिका, how do you explain this wide disparity in two children born to same parents. You can give only one answer, i.e., the child has come with its own वासनाs and this वासना will remain dormant in early ages, because in 3rd year how can the child express it, but when the child becomes 10, 11 or 15 or 20, it varies from child to child, you will find that the dormant वासनाs becomes manifest, the child gets interested in spiritual books and questions are spiritual, we call the child spiritual genius, but from शास्त्र angle, the child is योग-भ्रष्टः of पूर्वजन्म. Therefore पौर्व-देहिकम् बुद्धि-संयोगम् लभते and how do you know a child is a spiritual genius, how to do know, will it be written on the forehead, how do you know, only from the type of inclination and that is why you will find at any time, if you study the age of people in Vedantic pursuit, we have got all the ages, see in this class itself, there are young, middle aged, old, very very old, etc., and there are still people who are older than all of you, but still no interest in spirituality or anything, fully immersed in what, TV program, one after the other, still there are people who never come anywhere near spirituality. So therefore age we cannot talk about because, we are talking about the age of the body, age of the mind is different from the age of the body, that is why we talk of वयोवृद्धः and we talk about ज्ञान वृद्धः, ज्ञान वृद्धः means even though body is young, mind is mature. So if you want to calculate the age, how should you calculate? Add last जन्म along with the present one i.e., now if you are 15, then previous जन्म's 80 years is slogged. Now if you get interest in spirituality at 15 then remember the age as 95. Body is 15, but 95 years of spiritual maturity. In fact, not even 95, we have not gone to still earlier births.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदत्त्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

In spite of Lord's कृष्ण's encouragement, अर्जुन became very pessimistic with regard to his own spiritual journey. The reason is that अर्जुन understood that spiritual journey involves knowledge and spiritual knowledge involves the refinement of the mind, management of the mind or the purification of the mind. And when अर्जुन looks at his own mind he feels that it is not possible at all to be the master of his own mind, because mastery of the mind is perhaps the most difficult mastery. As they say the greatest victory in life is the victory over one's own mind. And कृष्ण says is a prerequisite, that it is a necessary condition for spiritual knowledge as well as the assimilation of the knowledge and therefore अर्जुन feels that if mastery of mind is a prerequisite, a necessary condition, I don't think I will be ever to accomplish that. And therefore he feels that in this life it is out of question. And since he has pessimistically concluded that in this life I am not going to make it he has started thinking about the next life, like some children, if they have not written well in one particular examination they think of the next attempt, even before the result comes and sometimes to their utter surprise they get very good marks. अर्जुन also feels like that and therefore he wants to know what will happen to such spiritual failures which is technically referred to as योग-भ्रष्टः and that was अर्जुन's question which is the last topic of the 6th chapter. And कृष्ण has begun his answer from verse no.40 onwards up to verse no.46, it is कृष्ण's answer to such a question and कृष्ण points out that a person who has come to spiritual journey there is no question of spiritual fall at all. शङ्कराचार्य in his commentary makes a very important statement, अध्यात्म संस्कारस्य नाशः नास्ति. Once the spiritual teachings or thoughts put in the mind then they can never be destroyed, they are so powerful that spiritual वासनाs, शुभ वासनाs cannot be destroyed. What maximum can happen is that there can be a temporary stagnation, because of other wanderings and meanderings, there may be a temporary stagnation and just as the glowing embers of the fire may be covered by ash, like the glowing embers of the fire which is temporarily covered by ash, it looks as though not fire but you do a little bit of fanning the fire comes again. Similarly, once you have put spiritual वासनाs, they can never be destroyed and therefore there can be a temporary stagnation and again the spiritual student will pick up the thread from the next जन्म and he will easily attain मोक्ष and as I said in the previous class this spiritual failure of this जन्म becomes the spiritual genius of the next जन्म. It is like the advantage in tennis game, you know, after 40-all, Wimbledon final is going on, Patrick Rafter v/s Pete Sampras, good that you came here, so therefore advantage means what he has to only win one game because already one he has got. So in this life he is already advantage he has hit, next जन्म, he has to only another hit, मोक्ष final, get the cup of जीवन्मुक्ति and even if he has failed in spirituality in this जन्म, कृष्ण said that the very ज्ञानयोग gives him पुण्यफलम् as a by-product and as a result of the पुण्यफलम् he will enjoy the heavenly world and again come back here because भूलोक or मनुष्य जन्म alone is ideal for spiritual pursuit. In कठोपनिषत् there is a मन्त्रः

यथाऽऽदर्शे तथाऽऽत्मनि यथा स्वप्ने तथा पितृलोके ।

यथाऽप्सु परीव दृष्टे तथा गन्धर्वलोके छायातपयोरिव ब्रह्मलोके ॥कठोपनिषदत् २-३-७॥

Spiritual knowledge can be clearly attained only in two लोकs, of the fourteen लोकs in the 12 लोकs knowledge is not attainable or will not be clear, only in two लोकs knowledge can be clearly attained, you know what are those two लोकs, मनुष्यलोक and ब्रह्मलोक . And naturally we will tell that we will see in ब्रह्मलोकs, as we are experts in postponement and why can't we try in ब्रह्मलोक , शङ्कराचार्य in his भाष्यम् writes, no doubt ब्रह्मलोक is an ideal place to get ज्ञानम्, but for going to ब्रह्मलोक visa is almost impossible. And what about getting मनुष्य जन्म, getting मनुष्य जन्म is also extremely difficult, but you need not work for मनुष्य जन्म because I hope we are already मनुष्यs and therefore having enjoyed the pleasures of heavenly लोकs as a result of the by-product पुण्यम् this योग-श्रष्टः will come to मनुष्यलोक and he will get, he or she (both have to be included) will get ideal conditions for the continuation of the spiritual journey. And how can he get continuation? Continuation requires two conditions, first condition is there should be a scope for spiritual study. You cannot get anywhere on the earth, there are places beyond वैदिक culture, everywhere वैदिक knowledge is not available, therefore the first thing there should be an environment for scriptural study. And more important, even if there is an ideal environment available I should have interest, I should have an interest and therefore कृष्ण says this योग-श्रष्टः will have both, first he will have a family condition and social condition which are ideal for spiritual pursuit, गुरुs will be available, शास्त्र will be available, classes will be available, all these are required. Suppose गुरुs are there and they are observing मौनम्, they may be great and they may be greatest ज्ञानिs, but he is a मौनि, what can you do. So he should be a communicating गुरु, not only that I should have inclination. In fact, often I experience this, I will be conducting classes in some colony and you will find that people will come from all over चेन्नै, sometimes even from काञ्चीपुरम् they come to attend the classes, but people from that colony will not come, just they have to get down, at least they should see whether they will get white chickpeas, why can't they try, whether white chickpeas or Almond will be available. No. They don't have interest, therefore in some cases, environment is there interest is not there, in some cases, there is a deep thirst but there is no opportunity. But for योग-श्रष्टः both will be there. Therefore तत्र तम् बुद्धि-संयोगम् लभते, तत्र indicates in that ideal environment. India is an ideal environment because in India we have spiritual culture. We go anywhere there is spirituality, you go to mountains there are temples, in caves there are temples, it is spiritually-oriented country and here also further values for religion, साधुs, scriptures etc is required. Therefore तत्र indicates environment is there and what is the next thing, बुद्धि-संयोगम् लभते – a spiritual inclination must be there and this person, योग-भ्रष्टः, gets the spiritual inclination in very early life, ब्रह्मचर्य आश्रमे एव, while people do not get this inclinations after ब्रह्मचर्य, गृहस्थ आश्रम, even after all आश्रमs, many people don't get, but this योग-भ्रष्टs will be spiritual geniuses, they will get inclination in early life. It is not only in the field of spirituality, any genius in any field is a भ्रष्ट in the पूर्वजन्म. If there is a 10 year boy or girl, becoming a musical genius, remember he has struggled in पूर्वजन्म. And therefore, spiritual genes. And once he has got this inclination, he has got the advantage and if you could know what is tennis, even after coming to advantage a person can lose the match because of negligence. So there are games in which having won two sets and the third set, even having come to advantage, match point, blow out that and then people lose the match and championship. Therefore remember even after coming to advantage a tennis player cannot be negligent. Similarly, a spiritual genius cannot take the life for granted, if he is negligent this life may be lost and therefore, what should he do, he has to use the free-will to promote the spirituality in which he already has an inclination. This spiritual interest cannot be taken for granted, it has to be protected and it has to be fanned and it has to be nourished, like nourishing a flame, if a lamp is lit and if it is not protected, the breeze will put it out, like that the seeker will nourish this spiritual flame and therefore कृष्ण says भूयः ततः यतते. So what is the subject of the sentence, you have to comply, योग-भ्रष्टः, this योग-भ्रष्टः of previous जन्म strives more, भूयः, but the thing is since he has got the advantage of पूर्वजन्म the effort required is much less, it is like swimming along with the current. When the current is favorable to you, you have to only float and move very little, then you will find that a little bit swimming you have reached 50 feet, while the other people are struggling against the tide, the spiritual genius is along the tide, straight, only with a little effort he is progressing swiftly, therefore भूयः यतते, for what, for संसिद्धौ – for the culmination of the journey for the success of the spiritual journey, संसिद्धौ, निमित्त सप्तमि, it is the seventh case, निमित्त सप्तमि, for the case of spiritual success he strives, but the effort required is lesser only. It is like when you start pedaling the cycle, the first few feet you have to pedal hard, then once it has got a momentum it will move on itself and in fact, after some time, you need not even pedal, it will continue, संसिद्धौ हे कुरुनन्दन! अर्जुन, therefore be happy, you are in the right direction, be optimistic.

बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत्, शारीरिक ब्राह्मणम्, it beautifully says when the जीव travels not only the जीव takes all the कर्मs, not only the जीव takes all the उपासनाs, the जीव takes पूर्वप्रज्ञा च, पूर्वप्रज्ञाs means वासनाs also it carries and that is here indicated by the word बुद्धि-संयोगम्, बुद्धि here referring to that वासना संयोगम्, शुभ वासना, अध्यात्म वासना, while everybody is wondering how to make more and more money, this person doesn't seem to have too much value for all these things, he knows that they are all not important, but he cannot spend 24 hours a day sweating and toiling only for the sake of money, he cannot think of that, he looks for spiritual books, he will look for spiritual program, ochre robe there is some attraction, कावि is a little attraction for him, whereas for others it is an allergy and he himself cannot explain why there is this inclination, I find myself with this inclination, I don't have an explanation, the only explanation must be what, in पूर्वजन्म we might have done something, that must be. Therefore पौर्व-देहिकम् – the वासनाs which have been acquired in the पूर्व देह, पूर्व देह means पूर्वजन्म, acquired in the पूर्वजन्मs with those वासनाs he gets connected, which you may call as in the genetic mapping, now as they are doing, in that mapping spiritual genes will be there. For some other people jeans are there, some people love jeans, this people have

जिज्ञासुरपि योगस्य शब्दब्रह्मातिवर्तते ॥ ६-४४॥

पूर्व-अभ्यासेन तेन एव हियते हि अवशः अपि सः ।

जिज्ञासुः अपि योगस्य शब्द-ब्रह्म अतिवर्तते ॥ ६-४४॥

तेन एव पूर्व-अभ्यासेन सः अवशः अपि हियते, हि योगस्य जिज्ञासुः अपि शब्द-ब्रह्म अतिवर्तते ।

And how does this spiritual inclination express itself? In the current जन्म, wherever there is a field of spirituality, wherever there is anything connected with spirituality this person is unknowingly attracted, which you can see in any spiritual lecture also, there will be elderly people and there will be youngsters also. Why all youngsters don't come, only some youngsters come and the interesting thing is the parents themselves discourage, why at this age, why गीता and all now? When you suffer in life and a great tragedy strikes then only you should take up गीता. Somebody should die, after getting frustrated only you should take. That is why they ask us also, what happened स्वामिजि? Some tragedy should take place to come to this line. So this is an unfortunate thing, it need not be. A person because of पूर्व वासना without any tragedy, without any reason, a person can be happily attracted to spirituality. And therefore पूर्व-अभ्यासेन, because of पूर्व वासना, तेन एव, because of the पूर्व वासना, हियते, हियते means this person is drawn, sucked, attracted to anything connected with spirituality, अवशः अपि सः, अवशः means what even without his will, without his deliberate plan, unknowingly, helplessly, even if he wants to turn materialistic because of pressure outside, we will find that he cannot survive there for long. I think they say of अरबिन्दो or someone whose parents did not want to be in Indian culture at all, they liked the western culture. Therefore he was protected away, saved from Indian culture and he was given western education and was sent to England and there also of course materialistic atmosphere and there he comes in contact with people who are working for the freedom of India, India Club or something and he gets associated with those people and he begins to feel that if I working for the freedom of my motherland, should I not know about what is India, what is its culture, what is its history, philosophy and then he gradually gets sucked into that and he comes here and comes to freedom struggle and goes to Pondicherry and becomes a योगि. You go into any materialistic society if the spiritual fire is there nobody can stop and if the spiritual fire is not there however much you blow “fu, fu, fu”, it will not come. That is why to such people allow them to be materialistic, nothing wrong, just ask them to be devotees. Have faith in God, surrender to God, seek the guidance of God even to enjoy materialistic pleasures, allow them, because spiritual maturity, as स्वामि विन्मयानन्द beautifully says: spiritual maturity is not a revolution, it is an evolution. You cannot force it on your child, just because you like गीता you cannot force, you can only provide the conditions and they have to develop spiritual interest and in the case of this person, he is dragged and because of this extra current, the extra force of पूर्व वासना, what will happen, जिज्ञासुः अपि, he starts only as a casual student, he may not be that serious, but he starts as a जिज्ञासु, जिज्ञासु means out of curiosity, or perhaps as a hobby. Somebody wanted to call me for शिक्षा and later I came to know that that person’s intention was what you know, he is going abroad for business and he has come to know that when he goes abroad, there are many foreigners interested in Indian philosophy, culture and spirituality and therefore they ask it seems, what is Hinduism, what is अद्वैतम्, it seems and when they ask questions and if I say I don’t know, I don’t know, that will not be good and therefore I have to answer them. Not that I am interested, but because I have to answer when I travel on business, some tips on Hinduism he wants and he doesn’t want to come to me and learn, but wants to give a meal to स्वामिजि and get some tips. Some people may start even in that manner and if that fire is there, like a कर्पूरम् (कर्पूर बुद्धि, Coal-बुद्धि, Plantain stem-बुद्धि), so कर्पूरम् - camphor, you show the flame it catches fire, coal means you have to keep it in the flame for a long time, on the tip of the coal small dot, then fu, fu, fu you blow and it will come slowly and the third one is plantain stem-बुद्धि, there if you keep flame, not only it will not catch fire it will put out the available flame also. Thus there are some powerful students who will put out the teacher's knowledge also. So in this case, योग-श्रष्टः is camphor student, just show the fire and it will be a conflagration. So जिज्ञासुः अपि योगस्य, योग means spirituality, शब्द-ब्रह्म अतिवर्तते – very quickly he transcends शब्द-ब्रह्म, शब्द-ब्रह्म is a technical word which indicates कर्मकाण्ड of the वेदs and कर्मकाण्ड of वेदs indicate finite results, because कर्मकाण्ड deals with अनित्यफलम्. And this person transcends कर्मकाण्ड means what he transcends अनित्यफलम्, he transcends अनित्यफलम् means he attains नित्यफलम्, therefore शब्द-ब्रह्म अतिवर्तते means मोक्षम् प्राप्नोति. He will attain नित्यफलम्. So transcending कर्मकाण्ड is coming to ज्ञानकाण्डम्, coming to ज्ञानकाण्डम् means coming to मोक्ष, he will attain मोक्ष very quickly. Continuing;

प्रयत्नाद्यतमानस्तु योगी संशुद्धकिल्बिषः ।

अनेकजन्मसंसिद्धस्ततो याति परं गतिम् ॥ ६-४५॥

प्रयत्नात् यतमानः तु योगी संशुद्ध-किल्बिषः ।

अनेक-जन्म-संसिद्धः ततः याति पराम् गतिम् ॥ ६-४५॥

ततः प्रयत्नात् यतमानः संशुद्ध-किल्बिषः योगी तु अनेक-जन्म-संसिद्धः पराम् गतिम् याति ।

What happens to that योग-श्रष्टः in this जन्म? योग-श्रष्टः's present जन्म's journey is talked about here. योगी means योग-श्रष्टः of the previous जन्म and the spiritual genius of this जन्म is here called योगी. So who has got advantage, advantage योग-श्रष्टः and this योगी and how does he feel this advantage, how does this spiritual genius or the advantage expresses itself. कृष्ण says संशुद्ध-किल्बिषः – who is free all impurities, किल्बिषम् means impurities, मलम् and संशुद्ध-किल्बिषः means freed from impurities, निर्मल अन्तःकरणः, शुद्ध अन्तःकरणः and how does mental purity express itself, how do you know mental purity is there are not, is there any purity meter, like lactometer, संशुद्धो meter, what is the reading, 7, OK, whether something is there like that? We have already seen in the beginning of the 6th chapter that the indication of the purity is natural inclination for spirituality, indication of purity is natural inclination for spirituality. Therefore संशुद्ध-किल्बिषः means this person with this natural inclination. And how did he get this natural inclination, is it because the Lord is partial, it has come in the young age itself, why it didn't come to me? Is it that Lord is partial? कृष्ण wants to make it very clear. The different grades of purity is not because of God's whim and fancy, if it is determined by God, then God will become partial. He makes one a spiritual genius, another a musical genius and making me an idiot. That God will not be respectable God. Therefore कृष्ण says that this advantage he enjoys not because of भगवान् but अनेक-जन्म-संसिद्धः, he has acquired it, just like some people saving money like in a हुण्डि (charity box), one rupee, two rupee, in each जन्म, in spiritual हुण्डि he has deposited and अनेक-जन्म-संसिद्धः. So this person who has attained refinement, संसिद्धि means refinement, maturity, clarity with regard to course of life, clarity with regard to what is limited goal, what is pseudo goal, what are fake things, clarity is there, that is called refinement, he cannot be hoodwinked by the pseudo pleasures of life, he looks for something really solid. So in everything fake is there, many people cannot differentiate it. Therefore he cannot be hoodwinked by fake goals of धर्म-अर्थ-काम, he is for only the real goal of परम पुरुषार्थ of मोक्ष. This is called संसिद्धि, clarity regarding the primary goal of life, this he has attained as a result of what, अनेक जन्म पुण्य कर्म. So अनेक-जन्म-

संसिद्धः, संशुद्ध-किल्बिषः योगी. Now in this जन्म, he requires what, only limited effort, therefore प्रयत्नात् यतमानः तु. To put in the language of the children's examination, there are two type of children: one set of children they cover the portions daily, they refine it daily and understand and during examination, they have only to revise, browse through and they are ready. There are some other children, they want to have gala time till March and then in April-May study up to 12 a.m. of 1 a.m. and sleep off in the examination hall and therefore you sleep off in the examination hall. Thus there are some human beings who wants to do everything in one life it doesn't work, whereas the others, they have prepared gradually and therefore for them the spiritual journey is a browsing through, no struggle, no effort, other people think that spiritual journey is walking on razor's edge, whereas for this person it is the most enjoyable thing in life. In fact, for this person other things appear boring and therefore अनेक-जन्म-संसिद्धः प्रयत्नात् यतमानः – striving further with the advantage of previous जन्म and striving further in this जन्म, पराम् गतिम् याति – he effortlessly reaches the destination of मोक्ष, here पराम् गतिम् means जीवन्मुक्ति, ज्ञान निष्ठा, ततः, ततः means consequently, as a result of the limited use of free-will. In fact, whatever injunctions, rules the scriptures gives they are natural to him, whatever is श्रुति विधि, injunctions of the श्रुति, whatever श्रुति asks him to do, he naturally likes to do, don'ts he doesn't like to do naturally. In fact, his रागः- द्वेषः tallies with श्रुति's विधि निषेध, like they say this योगि, sick person, he loves ghee and the doctor comes and he says that you have to take medicine, what is the medicine, ghee, allopathic doctor doesn't prescribe ghee, he will say, ghee is cholesterol. Similarly, for this योग-भ्रष्टः, राग-द्वेषः tallies with विधि निषेध.

तपस्विभ्योऽधिको योगी ज्ञानिभ्योऽपि मतोऽधिकः ।

कर्मिभ्यश्चाधिको योगी तस्माद्योगी भवार्जुन ॥ ६-४६॥

तपस्विभ्यः अधिकः योगी ज्ञानिभ्यः अपि मतः अधिकः ।

कर्मिभ्यः च अधिकः योगी तस्मात् योगी भव अर्जुन ॥ ६-४६॥

योगी तपस्विभ्यः अधिकः, ज्ञानिभ्यः अपि च अधिकः मतः, योगी कर्मिभ्यः (च) अधिकः, तस्मात् हे अर्जुन! (त्वं) योगी भव ।

In fact, with the previous verse, कृष्ण's answer to अर्जुन's question is over. I said up to 46th verse, it is up to 45th verse, योग-भ्रष्टः question is over. And therefore अर्जुन need not be pessimistic because as I said, the minimum you are going to get for attending गीता class, minimum you are going to get is स्वर्ग and the maximum you are going to get is मोक्ष in this जन्म or in the next जन्म. Suppose somebody asks, that स्वामिजि suppose some पूर्व सञ्चित कर्म पापम् comes, done some time back like killing a snake, they say mostly about snake killing in the horoscope reading, नाग दोषम्, some सञ्चित पापम् it comes and intervenes. What will happen, the शास्त्र says, even if there are some सञ्चित पापम्s, this spiritual संस्कारs are so powerful that they give a stay order to सञ्चित पापम्. This spiritual संस्कारs of this जन्म is so powerful that they can keep पूर्वजन्म सञ्चित पापम् at bay, they don't destroy, to destroy one needs ज्ञानम्, therefore they will keep the सञ्चित पापम्s at bay, in the next जन्म he will directly go to the spirituality, gain ज्ञानम् and सञ्चित पापम् will be destroyed and therefore you need not even worry about सञ्चित पापम्, सञ्चित पाप विनाशन लिङ्गम् तत् प्रणमामि सदाशिवलिङ्गम्. So thus, one need not be pessimistic, therefore never ask the question, when will I attain मोक्ष or will I attain मोक्ष, stop the question, enjoy the spiritual journey. Like reading a big book, one thing you can do is enjoy every page, another thing that you can do is, the moment you get the book in hand, look at the number of last page: 737. Oh ,737 pages who will read all this and thus stopped reading. So worrying he loses even the present, why do you see the last page, read a page a day. Similarly, don't ask the question, स्वामिजि will I get liberation in this birth or next birth, in the next birth will you yourselves come as my गुरु, don't have these questions, enjoy the spiritual journey optimistically. Thus the question is answered with the 45th verse and now in these two verses, कृष्ण is coming back to the topic of meditation for concluding. So in these two verses कृष्ण wants to glorify Vedantic meditation, and therefore he is glorifying Vedantic meditator, so that when the meditator is glorified, the meditation is glorified. And therefore he talks about many साधकs and He says among all the all the साधकs, the greatest one is Vedantic meditator because he is on the threshold of liberation and all these साधकs he calls by the name योगी. And who are the various योगीs, कृष्ण enumerates,

- i) तपस्विभ्यः (तपस्विनः), तपस्विs are those seekers who are committed to उपासना, one set of योगीs or spiritual seekers, spiritual aspirants, तपस्वि means उपासकs, सगुण उपासकs, they are one group of seekers.
- ii) Then ज्ञानिभ्यः (ज्ञानिनः), ज्ञानिs are who are committed to श्रवणम् and मननम्, so श्रवण मननम् कर्तारः, so they are another set of योगीs or seekers and
- iii) Then who are the third one, कर्मिभ्यः, कर्मिs are those who are committed to कर्मयोग, those who are committed to कर्मयोग, those who are committed to उपासना, those who are committed to श्रवण, मनन and
- iv) Finally the fourth one is those who are committed to निदिध्यासन, Vedantic meditation.

So कर्म, उपासना, श्रवण, मननम्, निदिध्यासनम्, in these five steps in whatever step you are, you are a योगी, कर्म step, उपासना step, श्रवण step, मननम् step, or निदिध्यासनम् step, all of them are called योगीs only, but among all these योगीs कृष्ण says those who are in the निदिध्यासनम् step, the fifth and final step, they are the greatest one because they are closest to the destination, because they have already crossed the first four steps कर्म उपासना, श्रवण, मननम्, these four they have crossed, they are in the fifth step and the next step they have to keep is in मोक्ष, the destination.

- Whereas the one who is at कर्म level is inferior because he has to cross to उपासनाम्, श्रवणम् and मननम्.
- The one who is at उपासना level he has to still go through श्रवणम् and मननम् and निदिध्यासनम्.
- The one who is at श्रवणम् level he has to still go through मननम् and निदिध्यासनम् and
- The one who is at मननम् level he has to go through निदिध्यासनम् level,
- The one who is at the निदिध्यासनम् level is the closest to the destination.

And therefore कृष्ण says तपस्विभ्यः योगी अधिकः, here योगी means Vedantic meditator, निदिध्यासन योगी is superior to सगुण उपासक, ज्ञानिभ्यः अपि योगी अधिकः, this Vedantic meditator निदिध्यासन योगी is superior to even ज्ञानि, very careful, here ज्ञानि means one at श्रवण मनन stage, निदिध्यासनम् person has crossed श्रवण and मनन stage, therefore they are at higher level, whereas those who are at श्रवणम् and मननम् are in lower level, therefore ज्ञानिभ्यः अपि, श्रवण मनन कर्तृभ्यः अपि योगी निदिध्यासक अधिकः, superior, कर्मिभ्यः च अधिकः योगी, again योगी means निदिध्यासनयोगी is superior to even कर्मि, In fact, कर्मि are in the first stage, they have to cross four stages. And therefore अर्जुन, if you want मोक्ष you have to not only do श्रवणम्, I am गुरु alright, गुरु can help in श्रवणम्, in fact, in श्रवणम् predominant role is played by the गुरु, the शिष्य has to only make himself or herself available, you have to give your mind, the teacher can fill up, but the mind should be empty only then it can be filled, if the student comes with already full mind nothing can work. So he should keep aside all the notions, total confusion reading so many books, the teacher has to take more time to removing the rubbish, therefore keep aside all your personal, what you call prejudices, your information keep aside, come with a clean open mind, गुरु will fill up. And therefore, here a ज्ञानि refers to श्रवण मनन कर्ता and कृष्ण says that it is not enough that you listen to me, गुरु may be the greatest and his teaching may be the best, but still निदिध्यासनम् गुरु cannot do for शिष्य, your meditation I myself will do, the गुरु cannot say, it won't work, your assimilation you have to do, therefore अर्जुन, I can only teach you, but assimilation you have to work for. तस्मात् योगी भव अर्जुन, therefore निदिध्यासक भव. Therefore don't stop with mere listening, between one Sunday and another Sunday class at least try to spend some time to recollect, to revise to think to assimilate, what you have heard and try to find out what I know and what I am, are they closer. So self-examination let it go on. And now कृष्ण concludes in the 47 verse, once again glorifying the meditator.

Verse No .47

योगिनामपि सर्वेषां मद्गतेनान्तरात्मना ।

श्रद्धावान्भजते यो मां स मे युक्ततमो मतः ॥ ६-४७॥

योगिनाम् अपि सर्वेषाम् मत् गतेन अन्तर-आत्मना ।

श्रद्धावान् भजते यः माम् सः मे युक्ततमः मतः ॥ ६-४७॥

सर्वेषाम् अपि योगिनाम् यः श्रद्धावान्, मत् गतेन अन्तर-आत्मना माम् भजते, सः मे युक्ततमः मतः ।

Almost the same idea as in the previous verse. कृष्ण says the meditator is the greatest साधक because he is closest to the destination. So in the previous verse कृष्ण only said the meditator is the greatest, now here he answers meditator of what: because meditation can be on anything, even for murder they use the word pre-meditation. So what they meditate on? Therefore कृष्ण says, यः मत् गतेन अन्तर-आत्मना श्रद्धावान् माम् भजते, the one who meditates on me, the Lord, the आत्मा, कृष्ण परमात्मानम् भजते, भजते means ध्यायति, the one who meditates upon God, God as what, if you just go back to the 6th chapter, in the previous verses, you will know that God as the very आत्मा, not God as a person located in a place, because कृष्ण has said आत्म-संस्थम् मनः कृत्वा न किञ्चित् अपि चिन्तयेत्, one should not meditate on कृष्ण as a person, but as कृष्ण परमात्मा, so यः मत् गतेन माम् भजते. And that too how श्रद्धावान् – with all श्रद्धा, that meditation will help me in becoming ज्ञान निष्ठ, in becoming जीवन्मुक्त, faith in the efficacy of meditation, and मत् गतेन अन्तर-आत्मना – with his mind absorbed in me, here अन्तरात्मा means mind, मत् गतेन means absorbed. So with a mind absorbed in me that means with total concentration, so with total concentration and commitment the one who meditates upon me, the परम आत्मा, सः युक्ततमः – he is the greatest साधक or योगी, among whom, सर्वेषाम् योगिनाम् – among all the योगीs. Among all the योगीs means the one who practices कर्म or उपासना or श्रवणम् or मननम्, in all these group, this निदिध्यासक योगी is युक्ततमः, तमः is superlative degree, so he is the greatest योगी, yogiest, योगी, yogier, yogiest, our English, so युक्ततमः इति मे मतः, this is my teaching.

ॐ तत्सदिति श्रीमद्भगवद्गीतासु उपनिषत्सु ब्रह्मविद्यायां योगशास्त्रे श्रीकृष्णार्जुनसंवादे आत्मसंयमयोगो नाम षष्ठोऽध्यायः ॥ ६॥

Thus is concluded the sixth chapter of the भगवद्गीता which is titled ध्यानयोगः because the central theme of this chapter is ध्यानम् which means meditation and that too निदिध्यासन ध्यानम् निर्गुण ध्यानम् is highlighted in this chapter and in some books the title is given as आत्मसंयमयोगः also which is also a proper title only because आत्मा means mind संयम means regulation. So आत्मसंयमयोगः means the topic of mental regulation, mental disciplining because the sixth chapter deals with regulating the mind and directing the mind to the field of Vedantic teaching. Therefore, whether you call it as आत्मसंयमयोगः or ध्यानयोगः both are correct only.

CHAPTER 06, SUMMARY

Today I will give you a summary of the 6th chapter of the गीता. The 6th chapter deals with one of the most important topics of the entire spiritual discipline, viz., meditation. And in my introduction, I talked about the role of meditation in spiritual साधन. I pointed out that meditation is two-fold, one is the meditation to be practiced before one exposes oneself to the Vedantic teaching, which is called वेदान्त श्रवणम् and this meditation which is to be practiced before वेदान्त श्रवणम् is called preparatory meditation and we call it उपासनाम् and उपासनाम् prepares the mind for doing the वेदान्त श्रवणम्. And therefore a person has to practice उपासना first and then prepare the mind through that and come to वेदान्त श्रवणम्. I talked about varieties of उपासनाs which is generally defined as सगुण ईश्वर ध्यानम्, dwelling upon the Lord with attributes - सगुण ईश्वर ध्यानम् उपासनाम्. And after this उपासनाम् when a person does the वेदान्त श्रवणम् it will lead to Self-knowledge and you should remember, Self-knowledge has to take place only through गुरु-उपदेश. And this will definitely take place if a person has prepared the mind through उपासना, वेदान्त श्रवणम् is bound to give Self-knowledge. And suppose a person has not done उपासनाम् before, naturally the mind is not fully qualified and when such a person who is under qualified or unqualified, when a such a person listens to the Vedantic teaching, certainly the knowledge will take place, but the knowledge will not be that powerful and the knowledge cannot be assimilated into the system, like oil in water the knowledge will stand separate from the personality, there will be a gap between what that person knows and what that person is, that actual ideal rift or difference will be there. It is not because of the defect of the teaching but because mind has not been prepared through उपासना. And if it is an under prepared mind and does the वेदान्त श्रवणम्, ज्ञानम् will take place, but ज्ञान निष्ठा, assimilation doesn't take place. And therefore what we have to do, the Vedantic श्रवणम् should be followed by another type of meditation which is called Vedantic meditation or निदिध्यासनम्. निदिध्यासनम् will be compulsory for one who has not done उपासनाम्. If sufficient उपासना has been done, वेदान्त श्रवणम् itself is sufficient, निदिध्यासनम् is not compulsory, but for those who have avoided उपासनाम् will have to follow श्रवणम् by निदिध्यासनम् and निदिध्यासनम् is defined as निर्गुण ईश्वर ध्यानम्, while उपासनाम् is defined as सगुण ईश्वर ध्यानम्, निदिध्यासनम् is defined as निर्गुण ईश्वर ध्यानम् and निर्गुण ईश्वर ध्यानम् is nothing but आत्मध्यानम्, because निर्गुण ईश्वर happens to be the very चैतन्यम्, आत्मस्वरूपम् and this we can call Vedantic meditation and in this Vedantic meditation a person dwells upon the teaching received during श्रवणम् and this dwelling is done for a length of time so that the knowledge enters my mind, enters my subconscious personality, in short, it irrigates my whole personality so that I and the knowledge have become one and thus Vedantic meditation does not produce knowledge but Vedantic meditation helps in the assimilation of knowledge, it is not the cause of ज्ञानम्, but it is cause of ज्ञान निष्ठा. So now if you put these three disciplines in perspective, I can give you three statements,

- उपासना gives ज्ञानयोग्यता,
- श्रवणम् gives ज्ञानम्,
- निदिध्यासनम् gives ज्ञान निष्ठा.

This is the essence, उपासना gives ज्ञानयोग्यता, श्रवणम्, वेदान्त श्रवणम्, not something else, वेदान्त श्रवणम् gives ज्ञानम्, in fact, वेदान्त श्रवणम् alone can give ज्ञानम् and निदिध्यासनम् gives ज्ञान निष्ठा and the word ध्यानम् is a common word used for उपासनाम् also and also for निदिध्यासनम्, preparatory meditation is also called ध्यानम्, assimilatory meditation is also called ध्यानम्. But if you want to make a distinction, the first one is उपासना ध्यानम्, the last one is निदिध्यासन ध्यानम्. And naturally the question will be what is the topic of the 6th chapter, if you call it ध्यान योगः, is it उपासना ध्यानम् or निदिध्यासन ध्यानम् and I told you in the introduction that it is

निदिध्यासन ध्यानम्, Vedantic meditation is the subject matter of 6th chapter. And why does कृष्ण introduce Vedantic meditation here, because कृष्ण feels श्रवणम् has already been done by अर्जुन in the 2nd chapter, 3rd chapter, 4th and 5th chapters, four chapters he has eaten and this chapter is for assimilation, for दहनम् of what has been eaten in four chapters has to be digested. Therefore Vedantic meditation is the subject matter of the 6th chapter and this topic has been very exhaustively dealt with in this chapter and we don't find this much analysis in any other part of the scriptures and therefore this chapter is very important. Now the entire chapter can be divided into six portions and those six portions are

- 1) No.1, बहिरङ्ग साधनानि, in English, general disciplines to be observed by a person throughout the day for successful meditation. In simple language, general disciplines, बहिरङ्ग साधनानि,
- 2) The second topic is अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि, in English, it means specific disciplines to be observed just before the practice of meditation, specific disciplines, अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि,
- 3) Then the third topic is ध्यान स्वरूपम्, the actual process of meditation, what exactly is meditation, in संस्कृत, ध्यान स्वरूपम् and
- 4) Then the fourth topic is ध्यानफलम्, the benefit of meditation. When I say meditation it is Vedantic meditation, निदिध्यासनम्, whenever I say ध्यानम्, it should be taken as निदिध्यासनम्, निदिध्यासन बहिरङ्ग साधनानि, निदिध्यासन अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि, निदिध्यासन स्वरूपम्, निदिध्यासनफलम्, फलम् means the benefit for the topic,
- 5) Then the fifth topic is ध्यान प्रतिबन्ध परिहारौ, the obstacles to meditation and their remedies, प्रतिबन्ध means obstacles and परिहार means remedy. This is the first topic and in fact, the five topics alone are dealing with meditation,

6) The sixth topic is an incidental and aside topic and that is योग-भ्रष्टः, a question which came because of अर्जुन's pessimism, in spite of कृष्ण's encouragement. Even after कृष्ण's teaching if अर्जुन got this pessimism, than what about us? So in spite of कृष्ण's encouragement अर्जुन becomes pessimistic and कृष्ण just consoles अर्जुन, which topic is called योग-भ्रष्टः topic.

These are the six topics. Now I will give you a brief note on each topic,

i) First one is बहिरङ्ग साधनानि, which is dealt with in verses 1 to 9 and 16 and 17, you will find बहिरङ्ग साधनानि, general disciplines.

➤ In general discipline, कृष्ण includes कर्मयोग as a very important discipline for successful meditation, a कर्मयोगि alone can practice meditation successfully, a कर्मि cannot practice meditation, he can sit in meditation but everything else other than meditation will be happening. And what is the reason? कृष्ण says कर्मयोगि is one who is able to accept all the actions that he has to do in life without grumbling. One of the source of mental disturbance is doing things without loving that job, when I keep on doing things without having a love for that there is a split in my personality, mind doesn't want to do, body has to do, as like getting rid off credit/loan, which means there is a stress and strain. Whereas कर्मयोगि accepts all the actions with what, ईश्वर अर्पण बुद्धि, not only कर्मयोगि loves whatever he has to do because of the position in the family, in the society, in the organization, he also accepts all the consequences of his action. Not only कर्म he accepts, he accepts कर्म-फलम् also, कर्म he accepts with ईश्वर अर्पण भावना, कर्म-फलम् he accepts with प्रसाद भावना and because of this ईश्वर अर्पण प्रसाद भावनाs, कर्मयोगि enjoys a stress free mind. In fact, कर्मयोग is the best method of stress management and such a mind which is stress-free, कृष्ण calls समत्वम् योग उच्यते, कर्मयोगि enjoys a mind which is free from violent reactions, not at the time of meditation but throughout, if there is one violent reaction during the day that trauma in the mind will create such a strong imprint that even during night you sit in meditation that daytime argument with the auto rickshaw fellow or argument with the boss, or wife or children, any violent reaction creates an imprint and it will come when you are sitting in meditation, कर्मयोगि avoids violent reaction. I don't say कर्मयोगि avoids reactions, if कर्मयोगि totally avoids reactions, he need not come to ज्ञानयोग, कर्मयोगि avoids violent reactions, they don't seriously disturb his mind, therefore when he sits in meditation he can forget those incidences and concentrate on the topic of meditation. Therefore कर्मयोग is a must for a ध्यान योगि, a meditator. Therefore कृष्ण emphasizes कर्मयोग in the beginning of 6th chapter:

स संन्यासी च योगी च न निरग्निर्न चाक्रियः ॥ ६-१॥

In fact, कृष्ण tells such a कर्मयोगि is as good as a संन्यासि, so कर्मयोग is बहिरङ्ग साधन No.1.

➤ Then the second बहिरङ्ग साधन कृष्ण emphasizes is self-confidence, never look down upon yourselves. We all are God's creations and we all belong to the Lord and that qualification is enough for us to feel great, even if I don't have any qualification, I am great because I belong to the Lord. Some people you know say that they belong to a big family, my grandpa was घनपाठि, but what did you study if you ask, he will say that गायत्री itself is doubtful, but still he just claims my grandpa is घनपाठि and therefore I feel proud that somebody in the generation has done something. So similarly, we all belong to what:

माता तु पार्वती देवी पिता देवो महेश्वरः बान्धवाः शिव भक्ताश्च स्वदेशो भुवनत्रयम् ॥

We belong to very big family, whose head is भगवान्, why can't we feel proud. Therefore never look down upon yourselves, you can accomplish things in life and if you feel diffident, inject confidence by surrendering to God, seeking the grace of Lord, ईश्वर कृपा is there to push you, गुरु कृपा is there to push you, शास्त्र कृपा is there, three engines are working to push you, don't lie down like the buffalo which doesn't get up at all even after beating. So therefore, be confident, उद्वेत् आत्मना आत्मानम्. So discipline No.2, बहिरङ्ग साधन. This is not only for spiritual goal, but even for material goal, you require confidence, don't be fatalistic, fatalism is un-Vedantic. We think कर्म theory is fatalism, this is the biggest misconception. Nowhere in the वेदs, fatalism is talked about, it always says take charge of your life.

➤ The third value that कृष्ण emphasizes in बहिरङ्ग साधन is self-control, when you are using any instrument, you should have control over the instrument, whether you are driving a car, or whether you are using a musical instrument, you can be successful only when the instrument is under your control and कृष्ण says भगवान् has given the best instrument for you in the form of the body, wonderful human body, how many things the hand can do, you can sit and write, what all things you can do with the hand, minimum you can start with beating, slapping people and thereafter so many things, infinite things, so wonderful body भगवान् has given, wonderful ज्ञानेन्द्रियs, wonderful कर्मेन्द्रियs, wonderful अन्तःकरणम्. So many instruments are there, they will help if you keep them under your control, don't be a slave of these instruments. Then if you are a slave they will control you, but if you are a master you can accomplish anything, remember, the कठोपनिषत् रथ कल्पना which we saw in the उपनिषत् class. Therefore what is the next discipline, कर्मयोग, self-confidence, self-controls, self means body-mind-sense-complex.

➤ Then the fourth discipline that कृष्ण emphasizes which is very important is moderation in everything. Never indulge in anything too much. No doubt भगवान् has given a wonderful world for your enjoyment only, sense pleasures are allowed, शास्त्र itself talks about that but nothing should be overdone. If taken in excess even nectar is poisonous. Anything in excess is dangerous, whether it is working, or whether it is resting, or whether it is sleeping or whether it is eating or whether it is talking or whether it is not talking, be moderate in everything. If you don't know whether you have control or not, once in a while say: No to that. Only when you try saying No, you will know whether you are a slave or not. Whatever you do regularly, one day you just say no and see, if there is a protest it means gradually you are enslaved, anything and therefore the golden middle path or moderation:

युक्तस्वप्नावबोधस्य योगो भवति दुःखहा ॥ ६-१७॥

न अति अश्रुतः तु etc. Thus four disciplines are emphasized in बहिरङ्ग साधन, कर्मयोग, self-confidence, self-control and moderation, this is topic No.1.

ii) Then the next topic अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि, specific disciplines to be observed just before meditation, which topic is discussed verse no.10 to 15. 10 to 15 is अन्तरङ्ग साधनानि. And here we saw eight items to be taken care of, eight-fold factors to be taken care of. What are they?

◆ No.1. is Place of meditation, the place should be clean, the place should be secluded, the place should be invoking spiritual thoughts in you, it should be associated with spirituality. As I said in the class, if you are sitting in the dining room, even if it is very clean the thought will be associated with what, only food. So therefore let the place be associated with spirituality. So this is the place factor.

◆ No.2. is Time factor. Choose a time when the mind is सात्त्विक. What do you mean by सात्त्विक, it means your mind is neither राजसिक nor तामसिक, राजसिक means over acting, running all over the world, that is राजसिक, तामसिक means what: becoming inactive, dozing. Therefore your mind should not be dozing also, your mind should not wandering also, it should be alert and available for the job that you want to give. This alert mind, non-extrovert alert mind is called सात्त्विक mind. And whenever you enjoy that mind, choose that time. Don't tell - स्वामिजी my mind is never like that. If you find that your mind is never like that, try to create such a mind by choosing that time, like early morning or evening and you practice, you will be able to get it. So therefore right time, No.2 factor.

◆ Third factor is Proper seat for sitting on. Because according to शास्त्र, we should not sit on the floor, on bare ground we are not supposed to sit, we should have an appropriate आसनम् which is exclusively ours, not for sharing, not like tooth paste, one paste tube is OK, I don't think the brush will be shared, exactly like that, have your own आसनम् and use it only for this meditational purpose and कृष्ण said, it should be neither too high nor too low. Neither too soft nor too hard, comfortable आसनम्, this is the third factor. Place, Time, Seat.

◆ Then the fourth factor is condition of the body, Body condition. कृष्ण said you should sit down if possible, you have to add, you should sit down if possible, if not possible sit wherever you can comfortably and if you are sitting down, folding your legs, with maximum base area and then keep your body, neck and head in straight line, but not stiff, it is straight but not stiff; just relaxed way. This is the fourth factor, condition of the body. So place, time, seat, body condition.

◆ No.5 condition of the Sense organ. They are very powerful, capable of dragging you, neighbors conversation if you can hear it will go there only. TV song, it will be drawn to, need not in your house, in neighbors house also. Therefore, withdraw all the sense organs, let the eyes be partially closed. कृष्ण said it should be as though looking at the tip of the nose, or as though looking between the eyebrows, भ्रुवोः मध्ये चक्षुः च एव अन्तरे. In the end of the 5th chapter he gave that clue and in the 6th chapter, सम्प्रेक्ष्य नासिकाग्रम् स्वम्, either this end of the nose or the other end of the nose, but the idea is that you should not be concentrating on the nose. Then it will become nose meditation. So the eyes are as though looking, mind is not behind the eyes, eyes are in the direction, but mind is not behind the eyes. So this is the 5th condition, conditions of the sense organ.

♦ No.6. condition of the Breathing, प्राण-अपानौ समौ कृत्वा नास-अभ्यन्तर-चारिणौ, breathing should be smooth and slow, even समौ कृत्वा, it should not be disturbed breathing, because according to शास्त्र, breathing and mind are interconnected, if there is a disturbed breathing it will disturb the mind also. In fact, by controlling the breathing, one can control the mind also,
वायु-रोधनात् लीयते मनः जालपक्षिवद्रोधसाधनम् ... ॥ उपदेशसारम् ११॥

वायु-रोधनात् लीयते मनः रमण महर्षि gives in his उपदेशसारम् वायु means प्राण, रोधनात् means disciplines, वायु-रोधनात् means thorough प्राणायाम, लीयते मनः, mind can be quietened, like what, जाल पक्षिवत् रोध साधनम् – just as a caged mind cannot fly. Similarly, प्राणायाम cage will not allow the mind to fly all over and that is why in all our rituals, ॐ भूः, they will say, you have to catch the nose, means प्राणायाम you practice. Why, प्राणायाम is part of the ritual, because when you are doing any ritual, mind should be within that field. So thus, what is the 6th factor, condition of the breathing.

♦ Then the 7th factor is the condition of the Mind. What should be condition of the mind, become mentally a संन्यासि, don't get frightened. OK. Become mentally a संन्यासि means drop all your relationship at least for 15-20 minutes, and dropping the relationship means drop all your roles, don't be a father or mother, husband or wife, brother or sister, any role has got headache, any role has headache, therefore drop all your roles you should have only one role, either be a भक्त, भगवान् will not give problem, either be a भक्त during meditation or be a शिष्य, I hope गुरु doesn't give problem or be a शिष्य during meditation. So this is mental withdrawal from all the सङ्ग, this is the seventh condition and

♦ The 8th and final condition is the condition of the Intellect बुद्धि: and what is the condition, intellectually I should be convinced of the value of meditation. If I don't have conviction I will look upon those fifteen minutes as a waste of time, because time has become most rare thing in life, no time at all, you can see even at the class, even before the end of the class, even before पूर्णमदः, people get up, because so much is to be done. In fact, if I am able to take one hour a week it is a great achievement for me. To keep you bound for an hour in a week, that is a great credit, so time has become so valuable now, in fact, people write Time is Money, and it seems in America and all, payment is by hour, one hour गीता class, how many dollars I will loose? I should be convinced time spent in this is worthy, I should not get benefit in terms of rupees and paisa, but I am getting a benefit in terms of my personality transformation for which I should know that my peace of mind does not depend upon what I have, my peace of mind depends upon what I am. Therefore intellectual conviction is also a condition. Therefore what are the conditions, place, time, seat, condition of body, sense organs, breathing, mind and intellect, these are the 8 factors to be taken care of, these are all not meditations, these are the factors to be taken care of before meditation. This is topic from 10 to 15.

iii) Then from verses 18th to 32nd, कृष्ण talks about ध्यान स्वरूपम् and ध्यानफलम्. ध्यानस्वरूपम् means the process of meditation and what is the process of meditation? Mind dwelling upon a chosen object is meditation, which means the mind is there in meditation, mind is functioning in meditation and mind entertains thought in meditation, therefore never think meditation is silencing the mind. Vedantic meditation is not silencing the mind, it is not stopping the mind, it is not curbing the mind, it is not restraining the mind, but it is directing the mind, which means thoughts are there, but the thoughts are dealing with the subject matter that I choose. And here what is the subject-matter? Whatever I have learned from the scriptures and what have I learnt? So the body is not the real I, it is an incidental what you call appendage which should be there for a few years and will disappear. Similarly, sense organs, Similarly, the mind, they are all instruments that I handle, my higher nature is the very चैतन्यम्, the Consciousness-principle, which is aware of all of them. And if you remember the 2nd chapter from verse no.12 to 25, I have talked about the nature of आत्मा, आत्मा नित्यः, सत्यः, एकः, सर्वगतः, असङ्गः, अकर्ता, अभोक्ता, all these you are supposed to remember, in 2nd chapter I have elaborately dealt with. And whatever you have received, they are not for forgetting, but they are meant for reliving. The class, वेदान्त श्रवणम् is the recording process, Vedantic meditation is the replaying, what you have recorded. So during श्रवणम्, VCR is functioning, video cassette recorder and during the निदिध्यासनम्, what is functioning, VCP is functioning, when you are playing if it comes blank, some time happens, you have very carefully recorded, but nothing came, निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म has been recorded, अशब्दम्, अस्पर्शम्, अरूपम्, अव्ययम्. So in meditation, if blank comes it means VCR has not functioned properly, so attend the classes regularly and attentively, listen properly, retain and relive. And in this कृष्ण talked about three stages,

- धारण is focusing the mind on the chosen subject,
- ध्यानम् is retaining the focused condition and
- Then समाधि is what: absorption in that particular subject matter. So focusing, retaining and getting absorbed; in focusing and retaining will is involved, but once you are absorbed then will is not required. As I said when you read a book, initially we have to draw your mind, once you are engrossed, in English we have that beautifully word, once you are engrossed you forget the surroundings, self-absorbed. So you just get absorbed. It is not a new peculiar mystic thing, we have that absorption power, in TV program, in novel reading, in listening to neighbor's secret, in all that we have got absolute समाधि, that समाधि only you have to bring here, we require only shifting, we don't have to gain a new capacity, whatever capacity you have just use that wherever necessary. Thus धारण, ध्यान, समाधि, getting absorbed in the teaching, ब्रह्म सत्यम् जगत् मिथ्या, अहम् ब्रह्मैव न अपरः.

And कृष्ण gave the example also. What is the example, like the flame which is kept in a breezeless place, a protected flame doesn't flicker. Similarly, the mind is dwelling in the teaching. And कृष्ण gave seven definitions for समाधि also, from verse no.20 to 23, he gave seven definitions. समाधि is that stage, in which

- 1) चित्त उपरमणम् – mind subsides, mind is absorbed in itself,
- 2) Second definition is आत्म दर्शनम्, the one's mind is absorbed in the आत्म दर्शनम्, owning up one's own higher nature,
- 3) Third definition is आत्यन्तिक सुखम्, one enjoys maximum आनन्द because I am seeing my own higher nature. It is looking into the mirror, how happy we are, whenever get chance we look into the mirror, therefore I am looking into my own nature, आत्यन्तिक सुखम् and
- 4) Then तत्त्व निष्ठा, being established in one's own real nature, तत्त्व is the fourth definition,
- 5) आत्यन्तिक लाभ, it is a stage in which one has attained highest in life and
- 6) Then आत्यन्तिक दुःख निवृत्तिः, it is a stage in which one has withdrawn from, one is free from all the sorrows.

7) And then finally कृष्ण defined दुःख-संयोग-वियोगः, a stage in which a person is no more identified with the pains of अनात्मा. So the details we can refer back, beautiful seven definitions of समाधि कृष्ण gave, they all come under the actual process of meditation.

iv) And then कृष्ण discusses ध्यानफलम्. In the same portion, i.e., from 18 to 32, both topics are there, ध्यानफलम् means the benefit of meditation, the benefit is transformation of the personality, the way I look at the world, the way I look at the events in life, the way I look at myself, everything is completely transformed, the world does not undergo any change, but my way of looking at the world changes. And the greatest benefit of this perspective change is सर्वत्र सम दर्शनः – freedom from राग-द्वेषः. So neither am I attached to anything in the creation, attachment is no more my weakness nor do I hate anything intensely, राग-द्वेष अतितत्वम् or सम-दर्शनम्, सर्वत्र सम-दर्शनः. I might have preferences in life. As I said, preferences are different from राग-द्वेषः. I will prefer to have a cup of coffee is one thing, I need a cup of coffee is quite different. If you say I prefer, it is available, welcome and good or else, OK. Either way it is OK. But when I say I need it means if that is not available, I become non-functional. So ज्ञान निष्ठा might have preferences in life, but he is not a slave of any object, any situation or any person. The toughest thing is getting out of attachment towards people, that is the final detachment. So this राग-द्वेषः अतितत्वम् or सर्वत्र सम-दर्शनम् is presented as the main benefit. A few more benefit कृष्ण mentions, but the main one is सम-दर्शनम् and समत्वम् alone is called शान्ति, equanimity, poise. This is ध्यानफलम्, which can be otherwise called जीवन्मुक्तिः.

v) Thereafter from verse no.33 to 36, कृष्ण talks about the obstacles to meditation. Even though many obstacles are discussed in the शास्त्र, here in the 6th chapter, कृष्ण deals with one obstacle and that is विक्षेपः – wandering nature of mind, restlessness of the mind, विक्षेपः प्रतिबन्धः. And कृष्ण gives a two-fold remedy which is वैराग्यम् and अभ्यास. अभ्यास means practice. So practice of the meditation, practice makes a man perfect, sheer अभ्यास will improve the meditation. And the second one is वैराग्यम् वैराग्यम् means reducing the राग-द्वेषः slavery, राग-द्वेषः are one of the very powerful enemies of the spiritual seeker and therefore repeatedly कृष्ण will say learn to handle your likes and dislikes, attachment and aversion you have to handle, they are your no.1 internal enemies. In fact, according to शास्त्र, externally there are no enemies, if anybody is able to disturb you, you have allowed that person to disturb by either having either रागः or द्वेषः. If I have an attachment to a person he will disturb by going away, the attachment is there. Suppose I have got attachment to the clock, the clock can disturb me when it goes away. If I have a hatred to the clock, this clock will disturb me how by coming towards me, this clock or watch gets the capacity to disturb me only because I have provided it the capacity by having either रागः or द्वेषः. If I don't have either, this is a neutral clock and therefore, handling राग-द्वेषः is one method and practice is another method, to deal with the विक्षेपः. This is ध्यान प्रतिबन्ध परिहारः, obstacle and remedy from 33 to 36.

vi) Then from 37 to 45 is the last topic. With the previous topic the meditation part is over, In fact, 6th chapter is over with 36th verse, this is only an appendix or aside topic based on अर्जुन's question. What was अर्जुन's question? Suppose we fail in our spiritual journey and die before attaining मोक्ष or ज्ञानम्, what will happen to me in my next birth? अर्जुन's worry is since I have not done enough कर्म, I won't get स्वर्ग also and since I have not succeeded in gaining knowledge, no मोक्ष also, will I not have a downfall spiritually? This was अर्जुन's question for which कृष्ण gave an elaborate answer, he said: one thing let it be clear, whoever comes to spiritual line, he has got only two फलम्s, possibility, if he gains knowledge wonderful, he will get मोक्ष, if he doesn't get knowledge, because of the sheer पुण्यम् of listening to the scriptures, he is going to enjoy स्वर्गफलम्. Therefore minimum स्वर्ग, maximum मोक्ष, wonderful. I am telling you, minimum स्वर्ग, maximum मोक्ष and not only that person will enjoy स्वर्ग, if he is a failure, if he is a योग-भ्रष्टः, after स्वर्ग enjoyment he will get a very conducive birth to continue the spiritual journey, not from the beginning but from where he left in this जन्म and since he has got advantage of पूर्वजन्म वासना, his spiritual journey will start earlier and not only it will start earlier, it will be faster and he will effortlessly attain ज्ञानम् and मोक्ष and therefore never be pessimistic, enjoy your spiritual journey. With this कृष्ण concludes the योग-भ्रष्टः topic.

And then in the last two श्लोकs 46 and 47, कृष्ण concludes the 6th chapter coming back to meditation once again, because that is the main topic of the 6th chapter and कृष्ण says one who is practicing Vedantic meditation is the higher योगी, because he is nearest to मोक्ष. कर्मयोगि, उपासनायोगि, श्रवण योगि, मनन योगि, निदिध्यासन योगि, among these five योगिs, the other four are farther from मोक्ष whereas निदिध्यासन योगि is in the fifth and final step, it is next step to liberation only. And therefore अर्जुन don't stop with श्रवणम् practice Vedantic meditation, even if you don't practice the आसन, posture etc., doesn't matter, in some form or the other may you dwell on the teaching. So with the glorification of Vedantic meditation कृष्ण concludes this discourse. And this chapter is called ध्यानयोगः or आत्म-संयम योगः, because the central theme is directing the mind towards Vedantic teaching. हरिः ॐ.

ॐ सदाशिव समारम्भाम् शङ्कराचार्य मध्यमाम् अरुमदाचार्य पर्यन्ताम्

CHAPTER 07, VERSES 01-02

The भगवद्गीता consisting of 18 chapters is broadly classified into three sections which I had mentioned before, the first section consists of the first six chapters and the second section consists of six chapters from the 7th to 12th and the final section consists of the last six chapters from the 13th to 18th. And since each section consists of 6 chapters, in संस्कृत it is known as षट्कम्, षट्कम् means a group or part or section consisting of 6 members. Like पञ्चकम् consisting of five, दशकम् consisting of 10, षट्कम् consists of six, that is why there is a well-known work by शङ्कराचार्य, known as निर्वाण षट्कम् it is called षट्कम् because it consists of six verses. Thus any group consists of six members is called षट्कम्, thus the गीता has got षट्क त्रयम्, three षट्कम्s, known as प्रथम षट्कम्, मध्यम षट्कम् and चरम षट्कम्. प्रथम means the first one, मध्यम means the middle and the चरम means the final. And if you study the subject matter of each षट्कम्, you can see certain important topics are highlighted in each षट्कम्. And if you study the प्रथम षट्कम्, you can find three topics highlighted. I have mentioned before, I will remind you don't worry. Then the मध्यम षट्कम् also has got three prominent topics, similarly, the चरम षट्कम् also has three prominent topics. What are the three topics within the प्रथम षट्कम्, the topics are

i) No.1 जीव स्वरूपम् – the nature of the individual. This was discussed almost in every chapter of the प्रथम षट्कम्, in the 2nd chapter, the 3rd chapter, the fourth, the fifth, in all of them, the nature of the individual was discussed and pointed out that the individual is not the body, individual is not even the mind or sense organs, the essential nature of the individual is the चैतन्यम् which is contained within the body-mind container. Thus the body and mind are presented as the containers, the superficial cabinet and within the body mind cabinet is the real individual known as सत्-चित्-आनन्द आत्मा and this सत्-चित्-आनन्द was brilliantly discussed in the 2nd chapter, from verse 12 to 25, in the 3rd chapter, पञ्च कोश विवेक was done,

इन्द्रियाणि पराण्याहुरिन्द्रियेभ्यः परं मनः ।

मनस्तु परा बुद्धिर्यो बुद्धेः परतस्तु सः ॥ ३-४२॥

In the 4th chapter also, the चैतन्य आत्मा was pointed at अकर्ता and अभोक्ता, in the 5th chapter also

नवदारे पुरे देही नैव कुर्वन्न कारयन् ॥ ५-१३॥

Consciousness is the essential nature of the individual, which does not do any action. So this सत्-चित्-आनन्द आत्मा which is जीव स्वरूपम् was one of the topic which was there throughout the प्रथम षट्कम्, the first six chapters.

ii) Then the second prominent topic that we found in the प्रथम षट्कम् is कर्मयोग as a very important spiritual साधन, in fact, the first stage of spiritual साधन. And कर्मयोग was talked about in the 2nd chapter, the well-known कर्मण्येवाधिकारस्ते, the oft-quoted श्लोक comes from the 2nd chapter, the entire 3rd chapter was dedicated to the discussion of कर्मयोग. Similarly, in the fourth, in the fifth, all beautiful कर्मयोग श्लोकs we had in the 5th chapter also, In fact, it is your home work to find what are the कर्मयोग topics in the six chapters and what are the जीव स्वरूपम् topics or verses in the six chapter, all these are your home work, I am just giving you hint. In the 6th chapter also, the very beginning was कर्मयोग,

ब्रह्मण्याधाय कर्माणि सङ्गं त्यक्त्वा करोति यः ।

लिप्यते न स पापेन पद्मपत्रमिवाम्भसा ॥ ५-१०॥

अनाश्रितः कर्म-फलम् कार्यम् कर्म करोति यः ।

सः संन्यासी च योगी च न निरग्निः न च अक्रियः ॥ ६-१॥

And what was the definition of कर्मयोग, proper action plus proper attitude is कर्मयोग. So thus कर्मयोग is the second highlighted topic in the प्रथम षट्कम्, not प्रथम अध्याय, careful प्रथम षट्कम्, consisting of six chapters. Thus जीव स्वरूपम्, topic No.1, कर्मयोग, topic no.2.

iii) And the third topic which was highlighted throughout the first six chapters is the importance of the individual effort, the individual initiative, tapping the free-will, which is very very important because there is a very big misconception that कर्म theory of Hinduism is fatalism. Many people have misunderstood the law of कर्म as fatalism, that our पूर्व कर्म has already decided our life, everything is written already on the forehead, ललाटलिखिता रेखा परिमार्ष्टुम् न शक्यते. Many people misinterpret Hinduism as a fatalistic religion and they go one step further and say that India is still lagging behind because of the fatalism of Hinduism, a very very unfortunate charge, accusation. So very have to carefully note that Hinduism and law of कर्म does not mean fatalism, the law of कर्म says that the present is the result of the past, if that is true, the future is the result of the present action that you choose to do. And therefore you have to take charge of your future, you are responsible for your future, all the four destinations of life, धर्म, अर्थ, काम, मोक्ष, all the four destinations are called पुरुष अर्थ, which means goals chosen by human beings, not goals determined by some despotic God sitting above the clouds. No, God does not decide your future, you have to choose your goal, work and accomplish and कृष्ण emphasized that by saying उद्धरेत् आत्मना आत्मानम्, you have to lift yourselves and God does not say I am going to be an irresponsible spectator, God says I am willing to assist you, but you have to take the initiative. Thus the role of free-will, the role of individual choice and effort has been highlighted throughout the प्रथम षट्कम्, even the well-known कर्मणि एव अधिकारः ते, indicates the free-will only, अधिकार means what? Human rights. You have to the right to choose the course of action. And if you have a right to choose the action certainly you are contributing to the result also. By choosing the action you may not totally determine the result, but you are heavily contributing to the result and that is why we have the well-known sayings like: ‘Watch your thoughts it will become your words and then actions, watch your words and actions they become your habits, watch your habits they become your character, watch your character it becomes your destiny.’ Therefore destiny is decided by character, which is decided by habit, which is decided by your words and actions and which are decided by your thoughts. Therefore watch your thoughts and direct your thoughts and by directing your thoughts in the present, you are ultimately determining your destiny. And therefore, the third topic highlighted is: the role of individual effort, in संस्कृत it is called पुरुष प्रयत्नः. Thus जीव स्वरूपम्, कर्मयोगः and पुरुष प्रयत्नः, these three topics are highlighted in the प्रथम षट्कम्, which we have just completed.

We have done six chapters, accepted? Last class only I did the summary, therefore we have completed the प्रथम षट्कम् and we are at the door step of the मध्यम षट्कम् and if you study the मध्यम षट्कम्, the middle section, from the 7th to 12th chapters, here also we can find three topics are highlighted. It is inhering, सूत्रे मणिगणाः इव, like the सूत्रम् you will find the three-stringed-strand or three stranded-string you can find inherent in the मध्यम षट्कम्. And what are the three topics, just as जीव स्वरूपम् was highlighted in the प्रथम षट्कम्, in the मध्यम षट्कम्,

a) ईश्वर स्वरूपम् will be highlighted, the nature of God. While जीव स्वरूपम् is nothing but the microcosm, ईश्वर स्वरूपम् represents the macrocosm. If जीव स्वरूपम् is व्यष्टि, the ईश्वर स्वरूपम् is समष्टि. Therefore throughout the six chapters, कृष्ण talks about the definition of God, the nature of God, the function of God, the glory of God, all God only, whereas in the first six chapters, you don’t find much of ईश्वर, it is not totally absent, you can find here and there, but it is not discussed much. With this awareness you go back and read first six chapters, you will find that God is not much there at all, whereas in the 7th chapter, right from the first verse, God dominates the teaching. Therefore ईश्वर स्वरूपम्. And while discussing जीव स्वरूपम् we saw the container and content aspect, the body-mind-complex is the container, the cabinet, but the essential जीव is सत्-चित्-आनन्द आत्मा we said. Similarly, for ईश्वर also we have two aspects the container superficial aspect of God and then the essential inner nature of God, देह and देही, शरीरम् and शरीरी, अनात्मा and आत्मा. Just as जीव as a mixture of अनात्मा and आत्मा, ईश्वर is also a mixture of both, सगुण निर्गुण स्वरूपम्, जड चेतन स्वरूपम्. We are going to see, I will not tell everything, then there will not be anything left later. So ईश्वर स्वरूपम् is topic No.1.

b) Then the second topic is the साधन of उपासना. In the प्रथम षट्कम्, कर्मयोग साधन is highlighted, whereas in the मध्यम षट्कम्, उपासना साधन is highlighted. उपासना meaning meditation on God, ईश्वर ध्यानम्. While कर्मयोग is शरीर प्रधान, physical body is active in कर्मयोग, whereas उपासना is मन प्रधान, we are gradually going from the grosser instrument to the subtler instrument. In कर्मयोग, you are heavily active serving the society, contributing through पञ्च महायज्ञs, whereas in उपासना you learn to withdraw and focus. So सगुण ईश्वर ध्यानम् उपासना. This is the second topic, उपासना.

c) Then what is the third topic, highlighted in the मध्यम षट्कम्, that topic is the grace of God as an important item or factor in the spiritual growth of the individual, ईश्वर अनुग्रह, ईश्वर कृपः. While in the प्रथम षट्कम्, the highlight was upon individual effort, in मध्यम षट्कम्, कृष्ण gives a warning, don't think by your effort alone you can accomplish everything, don't be arrogant, be confident, but don't be overconfident. So when we highlight the प्रयत्न aspect, we say that diffidence is not correct, but at the same time we say overconfidence is also not correct, neither under-confidence (no such word, I am just saying), neither under-confidence nor over-confidence, but confidence.

Over-confidence means the idea that I can do anything, when a person has that attitude, भगवान् at the appropriate time will give a big knock. And when failures come one after the other, this person will go from one extreme to the other and he will say: Nothing is in my hand, everything is predestined. So why do you go from over-confidence to fatalism, over-confidence is not necessary, fatalism is also not required, may you have the middle path, what is that: I accomplish things with my effort backed by the grace of the Lord. This is the balanced attitude. I accomplish things through my effort, backed by, boosted by the grace of the Lord and that is why before every class we start with what? ध्यान श्लोक and what is the purpose of the ध्यान श्लोक, even though I have put forth my effort and I have successfully come to the class, if my study should continue unobstructed, I require the grace of the Lord also. And therefore कृष्ण emphasises ईश्वर अनुग्रह. In fact, right from the first verse of the 7th chapter, अनुग्रहः comes, शरणागति, प्रपत्तिः, ईश्वर कृपा. So this is the third topic.

Now what are the three topics? ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, ईश्वर उपासना and ईश्वर कृपा, these are the three topics to be highlighted and the chapter that we are going to enter, the 7th chapter is a beautiful and comprehensive chapter which gives the entire teaching in a beautiful way. Even though it is a small chapter, it is a very comprehensive and powerful chapter. With this background, we will enter the 7th chapter.

Verse No .01

अथ सप्तमोऽध्यायः ।

श्रीभगवानुवाच ।

मय्यासक्तमनाः पार्थ योगं युञ्जन्मदाश्रयः ।

असंशयं समग्रं मां यथा ज्ञास्यसि तच्छृणु ॥ ७-१॥

मयि आसक्त-मनाः पार्थ योगम् युञ्जन् मत् आश्रयः ।

असंशयम् समग्रम् माम् यथा ज्ञास्यसि तत् शृणु ॥ ७-१॥

हे पार्थ! मयि आसक्त-मनाः मत् आश्रयः (त्वं) योगम् युञ्जन्, माम् समग्रम् यथा असंशयम् ज्ञास्यसि, तत् शृणु ।

The first three verses happen to be introductory verses. Lord कृष्ण points out here, what is the subject matter of the 7th chapter as well as the chapters up to the 12th. He says समग्रम् माम् ज्ञास्यसि – if you follow My teaching the result will be ज्ञानम् of My nature, माम् ज्ञास्यसि means you will come to know Me. So imparting My knowledge to you, My knowledge means what? Here कृष्ण represents God. Therefore, so here knowing Me means knowing God. Therefore by following this and the other chapters you will get ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. And the ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is also two-fold and therefore कृष्ण says समग्रम् माम् – you will know Me completely, because later कृष्ण is going to say that I have got a higher nature as well as a lower nature. The lower nature is the visible physical nature of God, like राम शरीरम्, कृष्ण शरीरम् which people worship as God. In fact, majority of devotees when they think of God, they think only God in a particular form, particular body. That is why the very ध्यान श्लोकम् describe what, the physical form only. कृष्ण says that the visible, tangible, physical form known as सगुण स्वरूपम् is only my lower nature, because it is subject to arrival on जन्म अष्टमि day through देवकी and it is subject to स्वर्गारोहणम् after the अवतार कार्यम् is over and this सगुण स्वरूपम् is confined to a particular place also, time-wise limited, space-wise limited, this is my lower nature. कृष्ण will call this अपरा प्रकृतिः, सगुण स्वरूपम्. And अर्जुन I have got a higher nature also, which is invisible, intangible, eternal, all-pervading nature which is called the निर्गुण स्वरूपम्, परा प्रकृतिः. And only when you know both, सगुण and निर्गुण स्वरूपम्, finite and the infinite nature of God, your ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is complete. And therefore through this chapter, I am going to give you both सगुण ज्ञानम् as well as निर्गुण ज्ञानम्. And therefore समग्रम् माम् means सगुण निर्गुणम् रूपम् माम्, सोपादिक निरुपादिक रूपम् माम्, ज्ञास्यसि – you will come to know if you study the following six chapters. And how am I is going to teach, कृष्ण is advertising, असंशयम् ज्ञास्यसि – I will teach you so thoroughly, I am such a good teacher, कृष्ण says, I am not saying, कृष्ण says I am such a good and confident teacher, that I will impart the knowledge, doubtlessly, असंशयम् ज्ञास्यसि, असंशयम्, for grammar student, it is an adverbial usage, therefore it is a अव्ययम्, adverb qualifying ज्ञास्यसि, असंशयम् ज्ञास्यसि – do know for certain without any doubt. And what are the conditions? He is going to give the condition He has said what he will do. Now He is saying I can do my job properly, only when you fulfill certain conditions. What are they?

1) मयि आसक्त-मनाः सन् – you should have desire to know Me. If you don't have a desire, you are going to be bored with that topic. They say the board of directors, who are they: those who are generally bored, therefore if you do not have interest then naturally you will get bored, and therefore you won't be alert, therefore you won't capture and therefore you should have desire and you will have desire to know only if God is your destination. Because whatever is your destination and whatever you love, you want to know more and more and therefore कृष्ण presents that I or God must be the goal of that seeker. Then the next question is: should God be the goal or मोक्ष be the goal, which goal should I have? All the time you have been telling, मोक्ष must be the goal, मोक्ष must be the goal. Now tell me, should मोक्ष be the goal or should God be the goal? Our answer is God and मोक्ष are identical. In the language of spirituality we present the destination of मोक्ष, but the very same मोक्ष in religious language is symbolized as भगवान्. Because what do you mean by मोक्ष? What is the ultimate goal of every person? He wants independence, he wants security, he wants आनन्द, he wants peace. Therefore peace, security, fulfillment, these are the destinations of everyone. And भगवान् says भगवान् or Lord alone represents total security because भगवान् is infinite, infinite alone is ever secure, isn't it? Anything finite is bound by time and space, anything bound by time and space is subject to fluctuations and destruction. Even the stars cannot escape destruction, they might have a very long-life, but you ask the astronomers, they will say that even the Sun will collapse after some time, the only saving grace is when the astronomers say some time, their some time will be a few billion years! Therefore we are saved. But remember, the stars explode which is known as nova and supernova, which indicates what, anything finite is insecure. Seeking security from finite thing is the most unintelligent approach, the only security is in the infinite and the infinite is called in religion भगवान् and the infinite is symbolized in a particular form, because infinite is abstract and an abstract infinite cannot be conceived and therefore it is given कृष्ण form, राम form, the form is not infinite, but the form symbolizes infinite and therefore Lord means infinite, infinite means eternal security, eternal peace, eternal independence, eternal infinitude, which is called मोक्ष, therefore remember मोक्ष and भगवान् are synonymous and therefore कृष्ण says, अर्जुन if you are seeker of मोक्ष, you are seeker of Me, the Lord. And therefore मयि आसक्त-मनाः – with your mind fixed upon Me as your ultimate destination, you work, fixing your mind upon me the Lord as the ultimate destination you should work, which is called devotion or भक्ति. Therefore मयि आसक्त-मनाः, condition No.1. All powerful conditions. Then what about all other destinations that we have, getting admission for children, getting them married, working for grandchildren, till now you worked for children now you are working for grandchildren, whatever it is, they are destinations, but they are all incidental destination, but not the ultimate. How do you that they are incidental and not ultimate? When you fulfill that particular goal, certainly you will get peace of mind, got admission, OMG; thanks god marriage will over, you will get peace of mind alright but immediately after that you will start with the next story, that itself shows that journey never ends. So what you have fulfilled is getting down in an intermediary station for a cup of coffee and after the coffee you have to enter the train and journey. Therefore all other worldly accomplishments are intermediary stations, your journey will end only when you discover पूर्णत्वम् by accomplishing मोक्ष or God. And therefore, मयि आसक्त-मनाः, don't lose sight of the goal;

2) योगम् युञ्जन्, योग means all the required साधनs, कर्मयोग is a साधन, उपासनायोग is a साधन, श्रवणम् is a साधन, here योग represents all the required साधनs depending upon my level. So all children cannot be admitted into the same class, depending upon the level of the student he is admitted in the first standard or sixth standard or tenth standard or graduate stage, depending upon what, which level the person is. Therefore depending upon my need I have to take to कर्म, or उपासना, or श्रवणम्, whatever is required, may you do. So योगम् युञ्जन् means practicing the relevant साधन, which indicates the individual effort. Don't say भगवान् will take care, what I have to do, I have to do. Suppose I am hungry, you pray, भगवान् may bring food and भगवान् may even put it in your mouth if you are so lazy, but ultimately the swallowing you have to do, it cannot be pushed down with a stick in your throat, you have to swallow. Therefore योगम् युञ्जन् means put forth your effort, but at the same time,

3) मत् आश्रयः, that is the crucial expression, मत् आश्रयः means you have to take the grace of the Lord also. Don't be arrogant, don't be overconfident, don't challenge God. One thing a devotee should know is never challenge God and therefore what do you do, मत् आश्रयः means taking refuge in God. When the train is climbing a mountain, there are two engines, one in the front to pull, another behind to push, then alone the train will go because it is an uphill task. Similarly, spiritual growth is an uphill task, we think we are growing, but family members they say, no use स्वामिजि in spite of his coming to गीता class, I don't see any change, you say I have improved, I don't want what you say, what the family members say. Because they only are the victims, because they know better where you stand. So the spiritual growth is only by millimeter by millimeter only and therefore you require two engines, one is पुरुषः प्रयत्न engine in front and the मत् आश्रयः, ईश्वर अनुग्रह engine behind, both should somehow help you reach the destination, therefore मत् आश्रयः, this is called शरणागतिः, this is called भक्ति and these are only presented in a nutshell, each idea is going to be magnified by कृष्ण. These are the capsules, each word is like a time bomb, each word is going to be magnified later, so if you do all these things.

So now what are the three conditions: No.1 keep God as your destination, which means peace of mind, which means fulfillment in life, which means permanent security, which means independence, that is God. So keep

- God as your goal no.1.
- No.2 do what you have to do, self-effort and
- No.3 is always seek the grace of the Lord.

If you are fulfilling these three conditions you are bound to reach the destination and know what समग्रम् माम् ज्ञास्यसि – you will certainly know me and attain me. Because the secret is: I am not going to tell you the secret, but I will tell, I don't want to keep it in suspense, knowing itself is going to be attaining Me, that is the secret, knowing the Lord will be equivalent to attaining, ब्रह्मविद् आप्नोति परम्, when you know God you know that God has never been away from me, but that is secret, we will separately tell, you will know and attain God, यथा ज्ञास्यसि तत् शृणु – that is what is going to be topic and therefore carefully listen: Continuing;

Verse No .02

ज्ञानं तेऽहं सविज्ञानमिदं वक्ष्याम्यशेषतः ।

यज्ज्ञात्वा नेह भूयोऽन्यज्ज्ञातव्यमवशिष्यते ॥ ७-२॥

ज्ञानम् ते अहम् सविज्ञानम् इदम् वक्ष्यामि अशेषतः ।

यत् ज्ञात्वा न इह भूयः अन्यत् ज्ञातव्यम् अवशिष्यते ॥ ७-२॥

अहम् इदम् सविज्ञानम् ज्ञानम् ते अशेषतः वक्ष्यामि, यत् ज्ञात्वा इह भूयः अन्यत् ज्ञातव्यम् न अवशिष्यते ।

कृष्ण continues with the introduction. कृष्ण said in the first verse, you are going to get ईश्वर ज्ञानम् completely and I explained what is complete knowledge, complete knowledge means both the higher निर्गुण स्वरूपम् and the lower सगुण स्वरूपम्, both knowledge I am going to give you. So सगुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् both I am going to give. And here सगुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is given a technical name, ज्ञानम् and निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is given another technical name, विज्ञानम्. So विज्ञानम् is not science here, here विज्ञानम् does not mean material sciences, here विज्ञानम् means निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. So कृष्ण says अहम् ज्ञानम् वक्ष्यामि – I shall impart to you, सगुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् also and सविज्ञानम् – I shall also impart to you निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. And the beauty is another secret. The beauty is when a person is at सगुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् level, that person will see a division between God and the devotee, at सगुण level there is a difference between God and devotee, when a person elevates himself and knows the निर्गुण स्वरूपम्, to his utter surprise he finds the difference between God and the individual is removed. It is like looking at the wave and ocean. As long as you look at the wave and ocean, from the name and form standpoint they are different, names are different, one is called wave, other is called ocean, forms are also different, wave has got a small wavy form, whereas ocean has got a vast magnitude. So when you are absorbed in the name form level, you see the difference and you go to the essential nature of both, wave is essentially water, ocean is essentially water, H₂O, सत्-चित्-आनन्द and you find that wave and water are no more distinct. Similarly, सगुण ज्ञानम् means भेद ज्ञानम्, निर्गुण ज्ञानम् means अभेद ज्ञानम्, can you understand two words, भेद means difference between God and जीव and अभेद means oneness. So thus ज्ञानम् is equal to भेद ज्ञानम् and विज्ञानम् is equal to अभेद ज्ञानम्,

ज्ञानम् is equal to द्वैत ज्ञानम्, विज्ञानम् is equal to अद्वैत ज्ञानम्, I am going to give you both द्वैतम् and अद्वैतम्, how, अशेषतः, अशेषतः means thoroughly, totally, scrupulously, like that thoroughly analyze until you say, I have understood and it is enough, until you say that I will वक्ष्यामि अशेषतः. And what is the benefit of this knowledge, यत् ज्ञात्वा न इह भूयः अन्यत् ज्ञातव्यम् अवशिष्यते – having gained this knowledge you have nothing more to know, your intellect will get total satisfaction, all your intellectual questions will resolve. A person experiences संसार at three levels,

- There are gross people for whom संसार is only at the physical level, they talk about their diseases, they talk about their old age, they talk about their death, all the time their संसार is at the grossest body level and
- Then are some other advanced people, they are not bothered about the physical condition but they feel the emotional needs of life more, they say स्वामिजि I am very fine, my health is very good, my children take care of me very well, but they don't spend time with me, they don't even ask whether I am alive or not, why can't they ask me, How are you? So the need is no more physical, but the emotional deprivation, that is why they look for something, anybody comes they want to talk. So thus emotional need for love, care, compassion, enquiry, companionship, these are all emotional needs. And as long as I depend on external factors for emotional fulfillment I am a संसारि. First person is a grosser संसारि, because his are physical dependence, this person is an emotional संसारि and
- Then there is subtler and higher संसारि, his need is not physical or emotional, his is intellectual. Most of the scientists come under that, they have got burning questions regarding the creation, when did the creation come? We will wonder, what is there for me, we feel that such questions are waste of time or when did the first human being come? Study the skeleton, going under the earth, they want to know, how did life start? What is the individual? What is Consciousness? Is death the end of a living being or something more? These burning philosophical questions afflict them, they have no time to talk to their wife also, and they don't feel the need. That is what I told you know, the wife was crying, don't you see tears in my eyes, can't you recognize, you don't spend time with me at all, then this fellow is a chemistry research person, I know what it is, it is NaCl H₂O, the tears are nothing but water with some salt, if it goes into your mouth, you feel salty, if you have not tried, try next time. So for him he doesn't see the emotional deprivation in the tears, he sees the chemical components of the tears, because his worry is intellectual.

वेदान्त solves this संसार at all the three levels, it gives you emotional fulfillment, it gives you even intellectual fulfillment, you find all the fundamental questions regarding जीव, जगत् and ईश्वर get resolved,

भिद्यते हृदयग्रन्थिः छिद्यन्ते सर्वसंशयाः ॥ मुण्डकोपनिषत् २-२-८ ॥

Therefore अर्जुन this chapter is worth studying, therefore come to the next class also.

CHAPTER 07, VERSES 02-04

In the first three verses of the 7th chapter, Lord कृष्ण is introducing the subject matter of the 7th chapter as well as the following chapters up to the 12th chapter and as I said in the introduction, the primary theme of all these six chapters including the 7th is ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, the nature of God, who is God or what is God, this is very elaborately discussed in these chapters. And this knowledge of God, कृष्ण introduces by the name of ज्ञानम् and विज्ञानम्, ज्ञानम् referring to the lower nature of the God and विज्ञानम् referring to the higher nature. You will be getting the details later. Lower nature represents सगुण स्वरूपम्, the nature with attributes, form and higher nature is the formless or निर्गुण स्वरूपम्. And when the Lord is seen with form, certainly there will be duality because once form comes divisions also come, anything that has got form is limited within space and therefore there will be plurality and therefore सगुण स्वरूपम् will be द्वैत स्वरूपम् or भेद स्वरूपम्, divisions cannot be avoided and that is why gods themselves are presented in our शास्त्रs as राम, कृष्ण, विनायक, etc., where form comes, plurality comes. Thus सगुण स्वरूपम् means भेद or division is involved. Therefore it is within the plane of द्वैतम्, which is presented as the lower nature of God. Higher nature is without attributes, without any गुण which means without a form also and once you knock off all attributes including form, naturally there cannot be any division, just as the space has no form and in space there is no division also and when we come to formless space, we have come to अद्वैतम् or अभेद. Similarly, when we come to formless God, all the divisions will dissolve even the division between the devotee and God also will dissolve. And therefore higher nature means अद्वैत स्वरूपम्, lower nature means द्वैत स्वरूपम्. Thus lower, सगुणम्, द्वैतम्, they are all synonymous, higher, निर्गुणम् and अद्वैतम्, they are all synonymous. And since the higher nature is without any attributes, it will be too abstract for a beginner either to conceive or worship. How can you conceive of a formless attributeless God and how can you express your devotion to such a Lord? And therefore higher abstract ईश्वर is incomprehensible for a beginner, therefore everyone has to start from lower सगुण concrete ईश्वर, concrete ईश्वर means not made of concrete, I mean opposite of abstract, where it is tangible, form is there, अदरं मधुरं वदनं मधुरं नयनं मधुरं, beautiful eyes, beautiful lips all descriptions are there, which is tangible which you can conceive. And therefore the scriptures prescribe ज्ञानम् as the first stage and विज्ञानम् as the next stage and therefore everybody should travel from सगुणम् to निर्गुणम्, from द्वैतम् to अद्वैतम्, from concrete to abstract, from ज्ञानम् to विज्ञानम्. And therefore कृष्ण said: अर्जुन don't worry, I will give you both ज्ञानम् as well as विज्ञानम्. Therefore he said, ज्ञानम् ते अहम् सविज्ञानम्, द्वैतम् as well as अद्वैतम्, I will reveal both, सगुण as well as निर्गुण, I will reveal both, अशेषतः, completely, doubtlessly, convincingly, rationally, logically, I will reveal. यत् ज्ञात्वा न इह भूयः अन्यत् ज्ञातव्यम् अवशिष्यते. This knowledge will be so comprehensive and so complete that all your intellectual questions regarding the world, God and yourselves will be answered. Human intellect wants to know three basic things, that curiosity, that thirst for knowledge is there in every human intellect even from our young age we have this question. We want to know what is world, we want to know what is God. First, is there a God and if there is one, what is the nature of the God. So questions regarding the world, questions regarding God and questions of course regarding myself, why I am born, after birth, after everything is over, why I am born, where I am going, thus question regarding myself also are always there and we have asked these questions to our parents and they without knowing the answers has said shut up and therefore having asked enough, we have dropped those questions and not only that, other worries, the very survival is a problem now, so other worries have occupied the mind and displaced these fundamental questions now. And until these questions are answered, human curiosity will be there, this is intellectual संसार and कृष्ण says this intellectual संसार will go, you will know what is God, what is world, what are you and also the relationship among these three. All these things I am going to give. So big advertisement, before the program comes, trailer, something like that, कृष्ण is giving the trailer here. So यत् ज्ञात्वा न इह भूयः अन्यत् ज्ञातव्यम् अवशिष्यते. Those of the Upanishadic students, if you remember मुण्डकोपनिषत्, the question asked was what is that knowing which everything else is known, that fundamental wisdom is called परा विद्या and परा विद्या is that विद्या, knowing which all your intellectual curiosity subsidies and it is based on that मुण्डकोपनिषत् that कृष्ण writes here, एक विज्ञानेन सर्वम् विज्ञानम्. Up to this we saw in the last class. Continuing;

Verse No .03

मनुष्याणां सहस्रेषु कश्चिद्यतति सिद्धये ।

यततामपि सिद्धानां कश्चिन्मां वेति तत्त्वतः ॥ ७-३॥

मनुष्याणाम् सहस्रेषु कश्चित् यतति सिद्धये ।

यतताम् अपि सिद्धानाम् कश्चित् माम् वेति तत्त्वतः ॥ ७-३॥

मनुष्याणाम् सहस्रेषु कश्चित् सिद्धये यतति यतताम् सिद्धानाम् अपि कश्चित् माम् तत्त्वतः वेति ।

So in this verse, कृष्ण is talking about the glory of this knowledge, ईश्वर ज्ञान प्रशंस, the glory of the knowledge of God, both in his lower and higher nature, सगुण निर्गुण ईश्वर स्वरूप ज्ञान प्रशंस. And the knowledge is glorified in our scriptures in several ways, in this verse, कृष्ण says this knowledge is extremely rare. So the glory of this knowledge is its rareness itself. Because we know, when something is extremely rare we would like to possess that and then show to our neighbors and they should try to get all over and miserably fail and then we feel very happy. This is human psychology, you want to have something which nobody has, this is human psychology. कृष्ण also uses the same thing: this knowledge is a rare one that very few people have it. And why is this knowledge very rare? Because majority or people are busy pursuing so many other things in life. The scriptures talk about four पुरुषार्थs, धर्म, अर्थ, काम and मोक्ष; अर्थ meaning security or wealth, काम meaning entertainment, धर्म means पुण्यम् for higher लोक and मोक्ष meaning inner freedom. Of these four पुरुषार्थs, you will find majority of people are busy running after either अर्थ, or काम, or धर्म, very few people are interested in मोक्ष. And even if you talk about मोक्ष, they will say we will take care of that after fulfilling धर्म-अर्थ-काम, so when the waves subside in the ocean they want to take bath, Similarly, they go on postponing, rarely few people desire for मोक्ष, this is called मोक्षेच्छा. So first very few have मोक्षेच्छा and even if a person develops a desire for मोक्ष, most of them don't know what is the means of attaining that मोक्ष, that inner freedom how it comes, they do not know and therefore they are carried away by so many things and therefore among the desirers of मोक्ष also, very few people know the method and what is that, ईश्वर ज्ञानात् एव मोक्षः, majority doesn't know. And a few people know, I want मोक्ष and for मोक्ष I require ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. Now filtered, number of people wanting मोक्ष few, among them number of people who want ईश्वर ज्ञानम् still less and among those people who are interested in ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, majority does not know how to get ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. So therefore they try all kinds of things for getting knowledge, not knowing what is the method and the only method of gaining ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, which कृष्ण himself presented in the presented in the 4th chapter is,

उपदेक्ष्यन्ति ते ज्ञानं ज्ञानिनस्तत्त्वदर्शिनः ॥ ४-३४॥

The only means of getting ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is गुरु शास्त्र उपदेश श्रवणम्. So श्रवणम् or enquiry into, or exposing oneself to the teaching of the शास्त्र by a competent आचार्य. So गुरु शास्त्र उपदेश श्रवणम् is the only method of knowledge and majority of people do not know, a few people know this. If there are five billion people, I don't know, it has become six I think, out of this four billion is not interested in मोक्ष; of 1 billion, fifty percent they want, but they do not know ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is the means. And half of that, they know that ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is the means but they do not know गुरु शास्त्र उपदेश is the means, therefore they are also gone. After filtering, there are only very few who know that शास्त्र विचार is important. And then कृष्ण says among those people, because of some पुण्य, who have recognized the importance of शास्त्र विचार, there also majority do not understand what is taught. From that itself one percentage gone, after filtering all these, how many people are there? Very very few people have this knowledge. And therefore this is the rarest form of wisdom. So कृष्ण says मनुष्याणाम् सहस्रेषु – among thousands and millions of people, कश्चित् – only some rare people यतति – strive in the right direction, in the right direction means what: गुरु शास्त्र उपदेश श्रवणम् is the right direction, exposing oneself to the scriptural teaching is called here प्रयत्नः and for what, सिद्धये, सिद्धि means inner freedom, inner security. Because according to शास्त्र, ultimately insecurity is only a notion in our mind born out of ignorance, insecurity is a sense and that is why as long as we don't attack that inner sense of insecurity, whatever be the security you have outside that will never give the sense of security, because really security does not come from outside. And especially in India, people will know this very well, one of the prime ministers was killed by security. So therefore insecurity is not a fact but it is a notion in our mind and any notion can go through knowledge alone and that freedom from insecurity gained by knowledge is called सिद्धिः. So this सिद्धि very few people try. And सिद्धानाम् अपि, so here सिद्धानाम् means साधकानाम्, very carefully we have to note, in this context सिद्धानाम् means साधकानाम् – among those seekers also, यतताम् – who are striving in the right direction, they have understood the problem is within, not the external security, not money, not house, none of them, there are all required for survival but not for security. So a few people have understood and they want to get rid of inner sense of security, but among them also very few people succeed in discovering that inner security and therefore यतताम् अपि and even among those who strive in the right direction, कश्चित् – a few people माम् वेति – gain my knowledge. Here My knowledge means ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. So very few people gain ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, तत्त्वतः – in reality, in totality, which should include both सगुण, निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. Having glorified this knowledge, कृष्ण wants to enter the topic proper hereafter.

भूमिः, आपः, अनलः, वायुः, खम्, मनः, बुद्धिः एव च अहङ्कारः इति अष्टधा भिन्ना मे इयम् प्रकृतिः ।

With the 3rd verse, the introduction part is over. Now कृष्ण enters into the central teaching from the 4th verse up to the 12th verse we get the main teaching of the 7th chapter. In fact, one of the most important portions of the entire भगवद्गीता, wherein we get ईश्वर स्वरूप revelation, revealing the nature of God. And you should remember all these teachings is purely based on the Upanishadic teaching. कृष्ण does not add even one single idea of his own, the whole teaching is borrowed from the उपनिषत् alone. That is why we should remember, there is no कृष्ण philosophy at all, there is only Upanishadic teaching which is given a further revival by Lord कृष्ण. And therefore to understand these verses, you should keep some of the essential teachings of the उपनिषत् in mind. With the Upanishadic background you can understand these verses and therefore I will just give you a view of the teaching as given in the उपनिषत्s. All the उपनिषत्s define God as जगत् कारणम् – the cause of the universe, ईश्वर is defined as जगत् कारणम्, the cause of the universe. And once you talk of about the cause of something, you should know that everything has got a two-fold cause, any creation requires a two-fold cause. If you take this very desk itself, you require two causes, one is the raw material out of which the desk is made. Therefore any creation requires a raw material in संस्कृत it is called उपादान कारण – material cause. And what is the second thing? A raw material does not become a product by itself. If I bring the raw material like wood or iron and keep there in an almirah or in a room, after two three days, it is not that the raw material gradually assembles itself and becomes a table, if it happens wonderful. And Similarly, even for cooking, not that you buy all the raw materials and keep it in the kitchen, by evening, before coming to the class, you keep everything, wheat-flour or something and come to the class. And when you go back all chapattis have come, wonderful it will be, all ladies will be happy. Unfortunately no raw material by itself becomes the product, you require an intelligence principle which is responsible for the conversion of the raw material into an appropriate effect and this second principle, the intelligent principle is called the intelligent cause or the निमित्त कारणम्. Thus every creation involves उपादान कारणम् and निमित्त कारणम्, anything, you take this dress, there is a निमित्त कारणम्, weaver is involved and there is उपादान कारणम्, cotton is involved. The hall you take, the निमित्त कारणम्, the intelligent person or the architect or the engineer, whatever you call and उपादान कारणम्, bricks and mortar and all those things. Now the उपनिषत्s point out that the Lord is the cause of the universe and before the creation came into being, this Lord which is the cause of the creation or who was the creation alone was existent. So before the creation evolved there was the Lord alone and when we say the creation, it includes even time and space, because remember, time and space are also integral parts of the creation. Therefore the whole creation along with time and space evolved later and before its evolution, God alone was there. And if God alone was there, what type of cause the Lord will be? Problem! If you say God is the intelligent cause, your question will be what, what is the material cause? If you say God is the material cause, your question will be what is the intelligent cause? And therefore the scriptures point out that since God alone was there, God happens to be both the intelligent as well as the material cause of the creation. God happens to both the intelligent and material cause of the creation. From the standpoint of the intelligent cause we say God created the world, from the standpoint of the material cause we say God evolved into this universe. As intelligent cause, God is the creator and as the material cause, God Himself has evolved into this creation. And then the next question will be how can I accept this fact? It looks like a cock and bull story, because normally I see intelligent cause is separate, material cause is separate; carpenter is different, wood is different; weaver is different, cotton is different; mason is different, bricks are different; cook is different, rice is different; any doubt, rice is the material cause and the cook is the intelligent cause, they are not identical. So the question will come, how can the one and same principle be both the intelligent and material cause of the creation? The उपनिषत् expects us to ask such intelligent question. Very rarely we ask, we all ask only irrelevant questions like an idiot and not intelligent questions, so the उपनिषत्s expects us to think and ask very intelligent questions, how can one entity serve as both. For that the उपनिषत् answers, the general law is that the intelligent and material causes are different, but there are exceptional cases where both happen to be one and the same, both means what: intelligent and material cause, rarely can become one, because every rule has got an exception. And what is that exception, मुण्डकोपनिषत् says, those who have attended the मुण्डकोपनिषत्, hope you remember:

यथोर्णनाभिः सृजते गृह्णते च यथा पृथिव्याम् ओषधयः सम्भवन्ति ।

यथा सतः पुरुषात् केशलोमानि तथाऽक्षरात् सम्भवतीह विश्वम् ॥

What is the example, the spider is the example. Any living being you take, it builds a place for stay, a residence for itself out of external raw material. You will build a house and the raw material is from outside, birds build nest, they build raw materials from outside, but have you ever studied a spider which spins the web, the spider's silk or web is supposed to be of a most unique creation. So much research is going into that now, because we find that it is the lightest material and the most strongest material also and they want to create even bullet proof vests out of that or something similar to that, so much research, which we complain, when there is so much web around, one of the wonders of the creation, scientists declare, anyway that is aside. Now when the spider wants to spin the web where does it find the raw material, where does it find, it has got the material also within itself and therefore we can say spider is not only the intelligent cause of the web, it is also the material cause of the web and in संस्कृत, such a case is called अभिन्न निमित्त उपादान कारणम्, it is a technical word, अभिन्न निमित्त उपादान कारणम् means what: a condition in which one cause happens to be both the intelligent and material cause and the Lord is both the intelligent and material cause of this wonderful creation. And now the next question is what is the nature of such a God, जगत् कारणम्? And in the उपनिषत् and in keeping with that Lord कृष्ण also pointed out that Lord consists of two principles, two principles put together is God, which is symbolized in our religion as अर्धनारीश्वरः, अर्धनारीश्वरः represents the two principles of God and these two principles are known differently by different names in the उपनिषत्. कृष्ण names these two principles as the परा प्रकृति, the higher principle and the अपरा प्रकृति, the lower or inferior principle. PP and AP, OK for shortening, if you are writing notes. You cannot write every time परा प्रकृति and अपरा प्रकृति, class will be over, then you should have your own dictionary. When I was studying, many places I had written PB and after much time, when I was seeing, I was wondering whether it is Physical body or परम् ब्रह्म, for both we write परम् ब्रह्म, like that you should not have confusion later, you may have shorthand, and also a key. So PP means परा प्रकृति, higher nature; AP means अपरा प्रकृति and both of them put together is ईश्वर. Now we have to understand what are the features of these two principles. These two principles have got some common features as well as some uncommon features. First we will know what is the common feature, the common feature is that both of them are beginningless principle, they are eternal, they are never created or destroyed, just as the scientists point out matter can never be created, matter can never be destroyed, we can only transform matter. When a candle burns nothing is lost, you might have heard the saying, what does it mean, the law of conservation of energy and matter. In keeping with this principle, the उपनिषत् also points out that this PP and AP, both of them are अनादिः, नित्यः, neither created nor destroyed, this is the common feature. Now we have to find out what are the uncommon features. Many uncommon features are described in the उपनिषत्s, I will mention four of them for our present consideration.

1) The first difference between the higher and lower nature is the परा प्रकृति is चैतन तत्त्वम्, it is conscious-principle and according to our scriptures, Consciousness can never be created or destroyed. Consciousness can never be created or destroyed. Fortunately some of the scientists are coming around to agree to that. So Consciousness is the nature of परा प्रकृति, whereas अपरा प्रकृति is अचेतन तत्त्वम्, it is of the nature of जड, it is material-principle, matter-principle. While one is spirit, the other is matter, while one is Consciousness, the other is inert, this is the first difference. And matter also is never created or destroyed. Therefore what is the what lesson we learnt - Consciousness is never created or destroyed, matter is also never created or destroyed, this Consciousness-matter mixture is called God.

2) Then the second difference परा and अपरा प्रकृति is Consciousness in its pure form is without attributes, physical or chemical, those who are science students you will know, those who do the salt analysis, when you have to find out the physical attributes and chemical attributes, you see which group it is, first group, second group and hydrogen sulphate you pass through, whether the precipitate comes, also some of you might have seen and having studied physical and chemical properties you say this is copper sulphate, this is calcium carbonate. So physical and chemical properties belong to matter, Consciousness does not have any physical or chemical properties, in संस्कृत, निर्गुणम् चैतन्यम्, whereas अपरा प्रकृति, the lower nature, the material nature is सगुण स्वरूपम्, which has got all the properties that you know, that you find, that you discover and that is why some of the scientists have come to the conclusion that all our studies which are based on the physical and chemical properties will deal with only matter, Consciousness will never be available for scientific study. We deal with matter. Consciousness is never available for study and some scientists say that it will never be available for scientific study, it will be an eternal mystery. If they are available to us, we will say that it is not a mystery, come to उपनिषत्, we have an answer. So one is निर्गुणम्, the other is सगुणम्.

3) Then what is the third difference between परा and अपरा प्रकृति? The उपनिषत्s point out that this चैतन, निर्गुण तत्त्वम् is free from all modifications, it never undergoes change, the Consciousness-principle can never undergo any change under any condition. In fact, whatever changes we are talking about are at the matter level alone, brain can change, body can change, matter can change. Therefore in

संस्कृत, परा प्रकृति is निर्विकार तत्त्वम्, without modifications. And अपरा प्रकृति is सविकार तत्त्वम्, सविकार means what subject to modifications, continuous modifications. In fact, nothing is stationary in the creation. Even when you think that this wall is stationary they declare that within the atom of the wall, all the electrons protons neutrons they are violently changing and in Tao of Physics written by Fritjof Capra, to symbolize the ever changing world, you know what he has chosen, he has taken our नटराज for that, नटराज is constantly dancing and there is one तमिळ् song also, aren't you tired of dancing? नटराज represents eternal material dance of this creation, continuous harmonious dance of creation, it is सविकार, this is the third difference. So what is the first and second: चैतन तत्त्वम् - अचेतन तत्त्वम्, निर्गुण तत्त्वम् - सगुण तत्त्वम्, निर्विकार तत्त्वम् - सविकार तत्त्वम् and

4) The fourth and final for the time being is the परा प्रकृति is said to be सत्यम्, independently existent, conscious-principle, चैतन तत्त्वम् is always independent, whereas the अचेतन तत्त्वम्, जड तत्त्वम् will have to depend upon the चैतन तत्त्वम् for everything. So therefore this is said to be सत्यम् or स्वतन्त्रः and the अपरा प्रकृति is मिथ्या, परतन्त्रः, अस्वतन्त्रः. These are the differences between अपरा and परा प्रकृति, these two put together is ईश्वर and this ईश्वर is the cause of the creation. So can you withstand, some more I have to develop. Now you imagine a state before evolution, you imagine the state before the evolution of the creation when God alone was there, both the परा and अपरा प्रकृति features, principles were there together and out of that God, takes place the evolution of this world. Now the scriptures talk about this evolution very elaborately, it is called सृष्टि प्रकरणम् and here in the 7th chapter, कृष्ण presents the evolution in two stages, just like a seed becoming a plant, which is an intermediary stage and there afterwards the plant becomes the full fledged tree, exactly like that, this creation also evolves in two stages. And how does it happen? This evolution which is called in modern science cosmology, it is a very big topic and it is also a mind-boggling topic, cosmology and there are theories and theories and theories of cosmology right from the Big Bang theory onwards and so many theories and so many new theories displacing the old one and both will get PhD also. Because you cannot verify, how do you know what happened at the time of Big Bang, it is all speculative, therefore there is nothing to prove. So not only the scientists have done, all our Indian philosophers and our scriptures have done and here कृष्ण presents the evolution based on the साङ्ख्य philosophy. There is one of the well-known philosophy or दर्शनम् in our tradition and one such is the साङ्ख्य दर्शनम्, presented by कपिल मुनि, which is slightly different from the वैदिक evolution. साङ्ख्य differs, but even though it differs, we can utilize for our discussion and therefore कृष्ण presents and according to this, the creation comes in two levels, the first level is one परा प्रकृति and one अपरा प्रकृति, that is the प्रलय stage, deluge stage and the intermediary stage, what happens, this one अपरा प्रकृति, multiplies itself into eight-fold principle, one अपरा प्रकृति multiplies itself into like amoeba, amoeba multiplies by division, have not you heard this, like that अपरा प्रकृति becomes what, अष्टधा अपरा प्रकृति, which is intermediary stage and what happens to the परा प्रकृति, nothing happens. Why nothing happens to परा प्रकृति, because we have said परा प्रकृति cannot undergo any modification. Therefore the Consciousness-principle remains the same, the material aspect alone multiplies into अष्टधा and therefore in the intermediary stage, there are how many factors, eight-fold अपरा प्रकृति, plus one-fold परा प्रकृति, totally 9, this is the intermediary stage of whom: God, you should not forget भगवान्, this is the intermediary stage of God and there afterwards comes the final explosion, final magnification wherein the अष्टधा प्रकृति multiplies into the manifold universe,

आकाशाद्वायुः । वायोरग्निः । अग्नेरापः । अद्भ्यः पृथिवी ।

पृथिव्या ओषधयः । ओषधीभ्योऽन्नम् । अन्नात् पुरुषः ॥ तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत्
२-१-२ ॥

And once पुरुषः come, all mischiefs, all problems will start, that is called संसार, OK. So अपरा प्रकृति, the eight-fold अपरा प्रकृति becomes the manifold creation. Therefore whatever material aspect you are seeing in front of you, they are all what, the अपरा प्रकृति aspect of God. And then what happens to परा प्रकृति, nothing happens and where is that परा प्रकृति now, where is that परा प्रकृति now we are running running running कृष्ण says stop running, that परा प्रकृति is You the observer. So the very जीव तत्त्वम्, the very observing conscious-principle, you are conscious or unconscious, any doubt, very you who are the observer is परा प्रकृति and whatever is observed is अपरा प्रकृति, this is going to be the development, assimilate this much. We will continue in the next class.

After introducing the subject matter in the first three verses, Lord कृष्ण has entered into the serious discussion of ईश्वर स्वरूपम् from verse no.4 which goes up to verse no.12 and कृष्ण defines God as the cause of the universe, especially the material cause of the universe. Even though the Lord happens to be the intelligent cause also, but in this context, the Lord is stressing the material cause aspect, which means just as the material cause alone evolves into the effects, God alone evolves to become this creation. In short, the entire creation is a manifestation of the Lord. And then naturally the question comes, what is the nature of such a God. And in the last class I pointed out that the Lord is a mixture of two principles known as the higher principle, the परा प्रकृति and the lower principle, the अपरा प्रकृति and both of them happen to be beginningless, eternal and they have got certain fundamental differences which we saw,

- The higher principle is conscious-principle, the lower principle is inert-principle,
- The higher one is निर्गुण without properties, the lower one is सगुण, with properties,
- The higher one is not subject to any change, which means it is beyond time, whereas lower one is subject to change, time is an integral part of matter, whereas Consciousness is beyond time and finally,
- The higher principle is the independent principle called सत्यम् technically and lower principle is dependent on the higher principle, therefore it is called मिथ्या.

Thus चेतन-अचेतन, निर्गुण-सगुण, निर्विकार-सविकार सत्य-मिथ्या, this परा and अपरा प्रकृति put together is God, symbolically presented in our religion as अर्धनारीश्वरः तत्त्वम्. And this mixture existed even before the evolution of the world. And then कृष्ण wants to talk about how the universe evolves, emerges out of this mixture. This emergence or evolution doesn't take place suddenly, but it takes place gradually in two stages. Just as a seed becomes a plant and then becomes a tree, just as an embryo becomes a baby and then becomes an adult. Similarly, the creation has two stages and कृष्ण is presenting the intermediary stage in the two verses 4th and 5th, which I was explaining in the last class, when there is an evolution from the 1st to 2nd stage, the परा प्रकृति remains the same, because परा प्रकृति, the Consciousness by nature is not affected by काल.

सान्द्रानन्दावबोधात्मकम् अनुपमितन् कालदेशावधिभ्याम् निर्मुक्तम् नित्यमुक्तम् निगमशतसहस्रेण निर्भास्यमानम् ।

In नारायणीयम्, in the first verse भट्टथिरि defines God काल देश अवधिभ्याम् निर्मुक्तम्, beyond time space parameters and because of this reason, the परा प्रकृति continues to be one changeless principle and therefore only indivisible principle also, because for division a thing must fall within space. Change is possible only when something is within time and the division is possible only when one thing is within space and what is beyond time and space, is unchanging and indivisible, therefore the higher principle remains undivided and unchanged. Whereas the lower principle called अपरा प्रकृति which is the basic matter-principle, which you may choose to call energy also, doesn't matter, that divides itself into eight-fold principle, अष्टधा अपरा प्रकृतिः. So we have got nine principle in between, in the intermediary stage, one परा प्रकृति and 8 अपरा प्रकृति, is the like the plant stage of the creation. And then in the final stage what happens the eight-fold अपरा प्रकृति further magnifies and expands to become the multifarious creation consisting of everything - the galaxies, the solar system, the planet, the continents and ultimately even the body which is also modified matter and even the mind comes under modified matter only. According to scriptures mind is also matter only, the only difference being it is subtle matter. You should remind yourselves of तत्त्वबोध, which I had taught you as an introductory text, those who have not studied better study it, those who have studied better refresh it. There we talked about the nature of the mind,

यस्तिष्ठति तत्सूक्ष्मशरीरम् ॥ तत्त्वबोधः १८॥

In short what I want to tell you is mind also is subtle matter and therefore the mind is a product of अपरा प्रकृति, body is a product of अपरा प्रकृति and the entire visible creation is also a product of अपरा प्रकृति, but what we are experiencing now is the final product, but कृष्ण is now talking about not the final product, but he is talking about the intermediary stage. That is described, look at the श्लोक, so कृष्ण enumerates the eight-fold अपरा प्रकृति which is matter-principle or energy-principle or inert-principle consisting of what भूमिः, भूमिः means the earth, आपः the waters, अग्नौ means fire, वायुः means air and खम् – the space, the पञ्च महा भूतानि, the five elements. But here also we have to note in our scriptures they talk about two types of पञ्च महा भूतानि, one type of पञ्च महा भूतानि is called स्थूल भूतानि, the tangible, the concrete five elements and these concrete elements are the final products, but before the arrival of the concrete elements they have got an abstract form, which is सूक्ष्म पञ्च महा भूतानि, the subtle elements, which also we have seen in तत्त्वबोध, therefore I don't want to go to the details. In English subtle elements and gross elements, subtle elements are intermediary products, gross elements are the final product. In this verse कृष्ण is talking about what, not the final stage, therefore we have to take these five as subtle elements. Therefore भूमिः means सूक्ष्म भूमिः, the invisible earth, आपः – the सूक्ष्म जलम्, the invisible water principle, Similarly, सूक्ष्म अग्नौ, सूक्ष्म वायु and सूक्ष्म खम्, खम् means अकाश, the subtle space. And not only these five subtle elements, another three more principles which are known here as मनः, बुद्धिः and अहङ्कारः and these three principles are based on the साङ्ख्य philosophy, you can understand it as an intermediary stage of matter. So these are technical words, you should not take मनः as this mind, this mind is a final product, we are not talking about the individual human mind, here the word मनः is a technical word, बुद्धिः also is not intellect, it is a technical word, even अहङ्कारः, all these three are jargons existing in साङ्ख्य philosophy. So you can understand it as three matter-principles, intermediary stage. Just as we have got technical words in any science; suppose they talk about inflation in economics, what is the meaning of inflation, it is totally different from inflation of a cycle tube or football, there inflation is to pump air, what is meant by freezing the accounts of cricket stars, freezing the accounts means all the account books to be kept in refrigerator? There the word freezing is a jargon occurring in that particular science, thus every science has got its own jargon, here the word मनः, बुद्धिः and अहङ्कारः are words occurring in साङ्ख्य philosophy. I don't want to go into the technical details and शङ्कराचार्य in his commentary, makes some corrections also here, instead of taking मनः, बुद्धिः and अहङ्कारः. शङ्कराचार्य says मनः should not come, it should be replaced by the word अव्यक्तम्. So thus we have got अव्यक्तम्, महत्, अहङ्कारः and पञ्चभूतानि, three plus five eight principles together making the intermediary stage of अपरा प्रकृति. And at this stage remember, all these fourteen लोकs have not come to existence, all our physical bodies have not come to existence, these are all the subtle stage, like they talk about in Big Bang theory, what was the condition of the universe, one hundredth of a second after Big Bang and then one tenth of a second after Big Bang and then after one second, after one hour and after so many hours, something like that, it is cosmology, साङ्ख्य cosmology. And these 8 put together is called अपरा प्रकृति. So He says, भिन्ना अष्टधा प्रकृति, this is the अपरा प्रकृति, divided eight-fold, भिन्ना means divided. Now कृष्ण wants to introduce परा प्रकृति, the higher nature. Because only I have introduced परा प्रकृति, कृष्ण has not yet introduced, therefore he is going to do that in Verse no.5;

Verse No .05

अपरेयमितस्त्वन्यां प्रकृतिं विद्धि मे पराम् ।

जीवभूतां महाबाहो ययेदं धार्यते जगत् ॥ ७-५॥

अपरा इयम् इतः तु अन्याम् प्रकृतिम् विद्धि मे पराम् ।

जीव-भूताम् महाबाहो यया इदम् धार्यते जगत् ॥ ७-५॥

हे महाबाहो! इयम् अपरा (प्रकृतिः अस्ति) इतः तु अन्याम् जीव-भूताम् मे पराम् प्रकृतिम् विद्धि, यया इदम् जगत् धार्यते ।

An important and significant verse from Vedantic angle, कृष्ण says इयम् अपरा, so the eight-fold material principles mentioned in the previous verse is called अपरा, here the word इयम् indicates the eight-fold principle mentioned in the previous verse, i.e., the 4th verse, is called अपरा प्रकृति, अपरा means अपरा प्रकृति, the lower nature. Because according to our scriptures, matter is also inferior, energy is also inferior, because both matter and energy come under अचेतन तत्त्वम्, inert-principle. Whereas the scriptures consider Consciousness as superior because according to the scriptures, Consciousness is neither matter nor energy. Many people mistake Consciousness as a form of energy, no शास्त्र does not look upon Consciousness as a form of energy, because energy is subject to change, mechanical energy, electrical energy, magnetic energy all these are inter-convertible, electrical energy is converted into mechanical energy in the fan and it is converted into sound energy, energy is subject to modification, whereas Consciousness is that principle which is not subject to modification. Therefore Consciousness is neither matter nor energy. Then what is Consciousness? Consciousness is Consciousness. Therefore He says: मे पराम् प्रकृतिम् विद्धि – may you know my higher nature, which is other than matter and energy, which is beyond scientific study, which is beyond our observation, which is beyond the physical and chemical laws. Some of the scientists themselves have concluded that Consciousness is beyond physical and chemical laws of nature. It is beyond the law. Therefore that विद्धि – may you know. And where is that परा प्रकृति located? That परा प्रकृति also is very much within this creation only, just as अपरा प्रकृति is here, परा प्रकृति is also very much within this creation. And where is it? Whatever is changing you should put into अपरा प्रकृति list and you have to search and find out परा प्रकृति, you have got a new project, find out परा प्रकृति and a clue has been given, ‘Who Will Become A Millionaire!’ OK. I am very much up-to-date. So you have to find out, I will not give you one crore and all, now what should you do, look at the whole creation, whatever you see or come across is subject to modification, even space according to Einstein, according to the scientists, it is expanding, which means even space is changing. Therefore you can rule out everything, because all of them are changing, therefore they come under what: अपरा प्रकृति, you are in search of what? परा प्रकृति. Then having ruled out the world, you come to your own body and what do you find, the body is also going out of shape in spite of all your effort for keeping it fine and slim, body is changing, then what about mind, you don’t have ask, violently changing, therefore body is अपरा प्रकृति, mind is अपरा प्रकृति, world is अपरा प्रकृति. In fact, whatever I observe is अपरा प्रकृति. कृष्ण tells that there is परा प्रकृति, here and now, find it out. This fellow says I am searching all over, where to find? Then कृष्ण reveals the answer, because they could not answer, so कृष्ण says whatever you experience is अपरा प्रकृति, then what is परा प्रकृति, You, the experiencer is परा प्रकृति. Because you the experiencer or conscious-principle or inert-principle, if you are the experiencer, you have to be what, Consciousness-principle only and therefore the observer, जीव is परा प्रकृति. The observed शरीरम् is अपरा प्रकृति, the observed mind is अपरा प्रकृति, but the observer जीव, the awarer, the experiencer, the ‘I’ am परा प्रकृति, तत् त्वम् असि. That is why it is said that this verse is important, because this contains महावाक्यम् in that. And therefore कृष्ण wants to say that the whole creation is a mixture of परा प्रकृति the experiencer and अपरा प्रकृति the experienced; परा प्रकृति the observer and अपरा प्रकृति the observed, this is the creation. Therefore He says हे महाबाहो! हे अर्जुन! the powerful one, it is not enough that you have a powerful arms, better you have a powerful intellect, हे महाबाहो! जीव-भूताम् विद्धि – may you know the परा प्रकृति as the very जीव, means what: the very Consciousness, the experiencer behind the body-mind-complex. Just as the electricity, the invisible one is blessing the fan and enlivens it, activates it, just as the electricity the invisible principle is behind this gadget activating it, this inert body-mind-complex is enlivened and activated by the touch of Consciousness, that Consciousness is my higher nature. So जीव-भूताम् विद्धि. And what is the glory of that Consciousness, यया – because of that spirit alone, Consciousness can be called spirit and I don't want to use that word, you may think of some other spirit, OK, so therefore take it in the proper sense, because of that spirit, because of that Consciousness-principle alone, इदम् जगत् धार्यते – the entire inert material universe is sustained, maintained. At the physical body level, the Consciousness is experienced in the form of very life principle. If you have any doubt, touch your body, the body is sentient, means what: the body is blessed by the Consciousness-principle and as long as there is life the body is together and functioning, the moment the life principle is not there the body disintegrates, the dearest body has to be disposed at the earliest, now this body is bathed, dressed and perfumed and all kinds of things are done, it is together, but without life this will disintegrate. Extend this the cosmic level, the whole cosmos is in harmony only because of the intelligence principle, the चैतन्य तत्त्वम्, the world is functioning as though a cosmic human being, because of the परा प्रकृति alone, the world is in harmony. And that is why in our religion, we look up the universe itself as a cosmic person, the visible part of the creation is अपरा प्रकृति, the invisible sustaining principle is called परा प्रकृति and the creation itself is called a cosmic person. That is why, we have पुरुषसूक्तम् which means the cosmic person, translated into तमिळ्, it becomes Perum-All, this is Chinna-All and the whole cosmos is Perum-All, combine it, becomes what Perumal, i.e., भगवान्. So यया इदम् जगत् धार्यते, धार्यते means sustains. Continuing;

Verse No .06

एतद्योनीनि भूतानि सर्वाणीत्युपधारय ।

अहम् कृत्स्नस्य जगतः प्रभवः प्रलयस्तथा ॥ ७-६॥

एतत् योनीनि भूतानि सर्वाणि इति उपधारय ।

अहम् कृत्स्नस्य जगतः प्रभवः प्रलयः तथा ॥ ७-६॥

सर्वाणि भूतानि एतत् योनीनि इति, उपधारय । अहम् कृत्स्नस्य जगतः प्रभवः तथा प्रलयः (अस्मि)।

In this verse कृष्ण talks about the conversion of the intermediary stage into the final cosmos. Because in the previous two verses, he had talked about only the intermediary stage consisting of one परा प्रकृति and eight-fold अपरा प्रकृति, that is the plant stage as it were and now कृष्ण says from this plant stage alone the huge tree of cosmos consisting of gross elements and as well as the elementals, the gross elements means what: the gross अकाश, वायु, अग्नि, आपः, पृथिवी and not only the elements, the elementals, elementals means what: those products which are formed by the combination of the elements. What is the example for an elemental? Our body itself is one of the combination assembly. We have got earth in the body, body is made up of refined mud, remember, some time we say clay is only in the head, but according to शास्त्र, the whole body is made up of clay, may be some extra in the head, I don't know, it is only fine earth, like porcelain and all, it is refined and there is water in the body, In fact, water alone gives the shape to the body and then there is fire in the body in the form of temperature, you may go to कैलास or बद्रि, where the temperature maybe one degree, but the body maintains the temperature, अग्नि तत्त्वम् is there, वायु is there in the form of life breath and अकाश is there, OK, empty space is there, sometimes in the head or certainly in the stomach, off and on space is there. In short, body is an elemental, in संस्कृत an elemental is called भौतिकम्, element is called भूताम् and elemental is called भौतिकम्, कृष्ण says out of this plant stage came, भूत भौतिक प्रपञ्चः. So सर्वाणि भूतानि – all the things and beings that you experience from the minutest micro organism to the most evolved human body, everything, एतत् योनीनि – has its cause as me, the परा-अपरा प्रकृति. So here एतत् means what परा-अपरा mixture, योनि means what: the source. So the परा-अपरा mixture alone is the source of the entire creation and this परा-अपरा mixture is called God. And therefore God alone has evolved in the form of this creation. So कृष्ण is revolutionizing the concept of God. Until we study this our concept of God is what: a person, sitting beyond the cloud, either शिव sitting in कैलास or विष्णु lying on the आदिशेष, क्षीरसागर is there, the milky ocean and then he goes on creating and dumping down, he makes earth and dumps down and little bit plants and then stars, then sun, the moon, the planets. So we have an idea, that idea is in the beginning stage, because we cannot appreciate God in his true nature in the beginning. Therefore the scriptures introduce God in three levels, God as a person, God as the universe and God as the निर्गुण चैतन्यम्, the propertyless Consciousness, the abstract truth. God as abstract truth very few people can appreciate, therefore it is never presented in the beginning. God is presented as a person in the beginning, then as the universe, then the absolute. Now कृष्ण says don't look up God as a person, learn to look at everything as my own manifestation. Therefore सर्वाणि इति उपधारय, उपधारय means assert in your mind, digest, assimilate this teaching. And not only the whole universe evolves out of me, the whole universe rests in me alone. And what is the fate of this universe? So the scientists who are studying the cosmology, they are talking about the Big Bang theory, that also whether right or wrong, lot of controversy and according to this theory creation at the time of Big Bang started evolving and expanding and they say that even now the universe is expanding, now what they are worried or wondering at is whether this expansion will be eternal or will it stop and if it stops, it will stop permanently or will it reverse back. Some people talk of big crunch, Big Bang opposite is big crunch, means what the whole thing will expand, reach a stage and thereafter the whole will again come back to singularity, they call it singularity and again expand. This is what they are wondering. According to scriptures this evolution of the world later will have to be reversed, so सृष्टि स्थिति will be followed again by प्रलयम् and at प्रलय time what will be there, again परा प्रकृति and अपरा प्रकृति and then what will happen, again it will expand, don't worry, each one will take infinite time, not tomorrow or day after, certainly not in our life time and again it will contract; expansion, existence and contraction; evolution, existence and involution; Big Bang, existence, big crunch. This कृष्ण had indicated in the 2nd chapter, if you remember.

अव्यक्त-निधनानि एव तत्र का परिदेवना ॥ २-२८॥

Everything goes back to unmanifest condition. Again from unmanifest condition it will come to manifestation and again. And if you want a mini सृष्टि-स्थिति-लयम्, भगवान् has given a sample, micro and what is that, daily it happens, during the morning time when we wake up, all our activities evolve from us, thoughts evolve, actions evolve, the moment we wake up. And during the night everything is withdrawn into ourselves, actions are withdrawn and thoughts are withdrawn, not permanently; next morning again start, next night again close. Therefore the whole creation is a cyclic process. And when did the whole thing start? We are particular to know that only, when it all started? When we talk about a cycle, understand it is a not line, only with regard to a line we can talk about beginning and end, with regard to a cycle or circle you can never talk about beginning and end and therefore the scriptures say, it is an eternal process, अनादि अनन्त, the cycle will not end but you can get out of the cycle, that is called मोक्ष. You have got into merry-go-round, which will never stop, no switch, merry-go-round after some time becomes sorry-go-round, first few rounds fine, then you just want to come out. So you ask someone to switch it off, they say that there is no switch off, the only way is what, you jump out, it will continue, this is called मोक्ष. Therefore कृष्ण says अहम् कृत्स्नस्य जगतः प्रभवः – I am the source, उत्पत्ति स्थानम्, प्रभवः means उत्पत्ति स्थानम्, the origin of the entire universe. And not only I am प्रभवः, तथा प्रलयः – in the same way I am the resolution ground also, I am the graveyard of this creation, the whole thing will come to Me alone. So I throw out and I resolve and in the scriptures they give another example to assimilate this, it is exactly like our projection of the dream universe. If you can imagine the process of dream, out of your mind emerges the vast dream world, which has got not only creations or लोकs, but you generate even time and space out of your mind; remember the dream time is different from the waker's time and that is why within a few minutes dream, according to scientists dream last for 1-1/2 minutes or something. Even the longest dream it is only for a short while, they called it REM – Rapid Eye Movement. At that time, the dream projections come, even though the dream is for 1-1/2 minutes from waker's time, you will find within that time he will get married, have children and grandchildren, in 1-1/2 minutes, these can all happen for flies. But how can human being have grandchildren in 1-1/2 minutes, if you ask then the answer is the dream time range is different from waker's time and who created that dream time, my mind created the time, my mind created the space and when I wake up, what do I do, I just swallow the whole thing - I am the सृष्टि कर्ता, I am the स्थिति कर्ता and I am the लय कर्ता, with regard to the dream time, space and object. Similarly, God is सृष्टि-स्थिति-लयम् कर्ता of the whole cosmos and therefore सृष्टि-स्थिति-लय कारणम्. Continuing;

Verse No .07

मतः परतरं नान्यत्किञ्चिदस्ति धनञ्जय ।

मयि सर्वमिदं प्रोतं सूत्रे मणिगणा इव ॥ ७-७॥

मतः परतरं न अन्यत् किञ्चित् अस्ति धनञ्जय ।

मयि सर्वम् इदम् प्रोतम् सूत्रे मणिगणाः इव ॥ ७-७॥

हे धनञ्जय! मतः परतरं अन्यत् किञ्चित् न अस्ति । सूत्रे मणिगणाः इव इदम् सर्वम् मयि प्रोतम् ।

Normally, when we study the creation, we observe one law. And what is that: every cause has got its own cause. If you take our own parents, we are the products with regard to whom are parents are the cause, but what do we discover, the parents themselves have got a cause, who are the grandparents and with regard to grandparents they become an effect, a product and what about the grandparents, they are cause with regard to parents, but the grandparents themselves are effects with regard to great-grandparents. Thus the general law that we observe is every cause has got its own cause. Since we are observing this in the creation, our question will be what, if God is the cause of the creation, then we will raise the question, who is the cause of God, who are the parents of God? कृष्ण says, I am the parent-less-parent of this creation, I am the causeless-cause of the creation, because I am never an effect of anything and that is the reason I told in the introduction itself, परा प्रकृति is अनादि, अपरा प्रकृति is अनादि, अनादि means beginningless, परा प्रकृति, the conscious-principle is beginningless, अपरा प्रकृति, the inert-principle is beginningless and therefore their combination is what: God, therefore God also must be what, beginningless and therefore God doesn't have anyone, Godder than the God is not there or else God, Godder, Goddest will come. And this alone in the पुराण and all they say, there is a song also, I don't hear this that often now, ‘Oh dear, but for parents one wouldn’t pass through so much of afflictions’, it is a beautiful तमिऴ् song, So there was a great musician, वसन्त कोकिलम्, this generation may not know, she has sung that song, very beautiful song, Oh Lord शिव you have suffered a lot, one has beaten, this has been done, that has been done, if only you had parents, they would have come to your rescue, you don’t have parents and therefore you are suffering; it is not suffering and all, what I say is thus the devotee brings out his feeling. But there what is the philosophical teaching involved, God doesn’t have parents means; that’s why somebody said पार्वती is lucky because she doesn’t have a mother-in-law! To put in modern language, if there are any mother-in-laws please don’t get angry with me; some time some mother-in-law comes and says: स्वामिजि you always criticize mother-in-law only and why can’t you for a change criticize the daughters-in-law also. You should have a balanced vision, so just a joke, don’t take seriously. Therefore He says, मतः अन्यत् परतरम् किञ्चित् न अस्ति, परतरम् means another cause, there is no other cause for Me, I am the ultimate cause, I am the absolute cause of the creation. And now in the 2nd line, he comes to a very important corollary, these are all important philosophical ideas revealed here. For that I have to go an example. I said God is the material cause of the creation, therefore God alone has evolved to manifest as the creation. Now we have to remember a general law, what is that, material cause is inherent in all the products, material cause is inherent in all the products. In fact, all the products exist only because of the inherent material cause, like what, all the earthen wares are pots exist because of what, the clay which is inherent in all pots, all the ornaments are existing only because of the inherent gold, remove the gold, no ornaments. If you have any doubt, at the end of the class give me the gold and take away your ornaments, is it possible, not possible, if you take the inherent wood, the furniture cannot be there. कृष्ण says: I being the material cause of the creation, I am the अन्तर्यामि, I am the inherent principle, the cause of whom the whole world is together and कृष्ण gives an example, just as a माला has got the inherent thread which is keeping all the beads together, when you look at the माला, the beads are visible, but you know that, within the visible beads, is what, the invisible सूत्रम्, सूत्रम् means the thread and because of the thread alone the माला is there, without that there is no माला. Similarly, I am inherent in the creation, so सूत्रे मणिगणाः इव, just as the beads are threaded together by the string, Similarly, the whole universe is threaded together because of this string called God. And therefore if somebody asks where is God, what should be your answer, you should not answer, you should ask a counter question, where is not. The details in the next class.

After introducing the subject matter in the first three verses of this 7th chapter, now from the 4th verse onwards, Lord कृष्ण has entered into the main theme of the 7th chapter, not only the 7th chapter, the entire middle section of the गीता, that is up to the 12th chapter. And one of the central themes of the middle sections is ईश्वर स्वरूपम् or the nature of God, what is God and what is the function of God? And we saw God is defined as जगत् कारणम्, the cause of this universe. And when we say जगत् कारणम्, both the intelligent cause of this creation as well as the very material cause of the creation, which means not only God has created the world, but being the very material cause, God himself has evolved into this universe. Therefore the main idea that कृष्ण wants to convey is that the entire cosmos is the manifestation, the evolved form of the Lord. Don't imagine, God as a person sitting in a place, but learn to understand that the very universe is the manifestation of the Lord. And when I learn to look at the very world as the manifestation of God, that vision is called विश्वरूपदर्शनम् and this विश्वरूपदर्शनम् not only requires the understanding of this teaching, but it also requires the inner maturity to learn to look at this very world as ईश्वर's manifestation. Until we study this portion, our assumption is that God is a person and ईश्वर दर्शनम् is coming in contact with a personal God. Until we understand the middle section of the गीता, our assumption is that God is a person and we think, ईश्वर दर्शनम् is coming personally in contact with a personal God. कृष्ण wants to remove this idea from our mind and कृष्ण wants to refine our understanding and He wants to present ईश्वर दर्शनम् as nothing but the maturity to look at the very creation as the Lord विश्वरूप, for which कृष्ण is preparing from the 7th chapter. In the 7th, 8th and 9th and 10th chapters कृष्ण prepares our mind so that in the 11th chapter, we don't ask for the arrival of God, but we understand that God has already arrived in the form of अकाश, वायु, अग्नि, जलम्, पृथिवी. So thus not only I should understand what is God but I should reorient the mind to see the very world as God. When I look upon God as a person, it is एकरूप ईश्वरः, कृष्ण doesn't want us to confine to एकरूप ईश्वरः, कृष्ण want us to appreciate the अनेकरूप ईश्वर. The entire गीता is aiming at अनेकरूप ईश्वर दर्शनम्, विश्वरूप ईश्वर दर्शनम् and कृष्ण considers this ईश्वर दर्शनम् as superior because एकरूप ईश्वरः or personal God is subject to arrival as well as departure. And therefore there is a happiness of perception and there is an unhappiness of separation also as given in the भागवतम्, गोपी's attitude, so they have got विरह गीतम्, called गोपीका गीतम्, they were so upset because कृष्ण appeared and disappeared. And when कृष्ण disappeared, they cried, the only difference is they cried in राग, that is the only difference, when we cry, श्रुति will not be there, रुरुदुः सुस्वरम् राजन्, it is said in भागवतम् (गोपीगीतम् १०-३२-०१/०२), रुरुदुः means they cried, how did they cry, that is the difference between them and us, सुस्वरम्, melodiously cried, because of कृष्ण दर्शन लालसाः and because of their crying Lord again appeared, तासाम् आविरभूत् शौरिः स्मयमान मुखाम्बुजः, with a smiling face, पीताम्बरधरः स्रग्वी साक्षात् मन्मथ मन्मथः. So this beautiful कृष्ण appeared all smiles, again कृष्ण disappeared, all crying, we don't decry that devotion, that is wonderful, that is beautiful, it has got its own charm, but that is lower level of appreciating God. And therefore कृष्ण wants to take us to a higher level which is seeing the very world as विश्वरूप. And what is the advantage of such an ईश्वर दर्शनम्, there is no question of disappearance. Wherever I see, whatever I see, सर्वम् विष्णु मयम् जगत्, सर्वम् शिव मयम् जगत्, सर्वम् देवी मयम् जगत्. This विश्वरूपदर्शनम् is going to be presented, for that alone भगवान् introduces himself or God as जगत् कारणम्. And then कृष्ण pointed out that this ईश्वर consists of two aspects or अंशs, अंश द्वयम्, one is called the परा प्रकृति, the Consciousness part, the चेतन अंशः and अपरा प्रकृति, the अचेतन अंशः, the higher and lower nature put together, Consciousness and matter put together is God. And how does this God evolve into the universe. कृष्ण said that it happens in two stages,

- In the initial stage, it is one परा प्रकृति and one अपरा प्रकृति, then in the intermediary stage, the अपरा प्रकृति divides itself into eight-fold अष्टधा प्रकृति, परा प्रकृति continues one only and
- Then in the final stage the eight-fold अपरा प्रकृति becomes the manifold creation. And then also the परा प्रकृति continues to be one and the same and in this creation.

Wherever you see the changing matter, you appreciate it as the अपरा प्रकृति of ईश्वर and wherever you see Consciousness which you can feel in your body, if you have doubt, you can touch. And because of Consciousness alone, you are able to hear my words, that invisible, inherent Consciousness-principle, because of which

येन रूपम् रसम् गन्धम् शब्दान् स्पर्शश्च मैथुनान् ।

एतेनैव विजानाति किमत्र परिशिष्यते । कठोपनिषत् ॥ २-१-३ ॥

We saw somewhere, where, yesterday, that principle because of which you are aware of my words, that invisible changeless awareness principle is परा प्रकृति; the changing body-mind-complex is अपरा प्रकृति. And then कृष्ण says whatever is other than these two, that belongs to you, you can take, other than which two, Consciousness and matter, what is there and this alone is symbolized by the महाबलि story, with one step the Lord has measured the entire परा प्रकृति, with another step the Lord has measured the entire अपरा प्रकृति and there is nothing else other than what, your ego, that is the problem, which claims this is my body, this is my mind, this is my property. Therefore भगवान् takes the third step and removes that ignorance, the ego, to indicate that there is nothing other than God. This the systematic destruction of जीव and the जगत्, there is neither जीव nor जगत्. Can you understand, can you understand, the जीव means the individual you, जगत् means the world, your possessions. कृष्ण wants to say that there is neither जीव nor जगत् other than ईश्वरः, तन मन धन सबकुछ तेरा(thou art my all in all), you do आरति in express mode and take the प्रसाद, remember that it is a highly philosophical आरति मन्त्र, तन मन धन सबकुछ तेरा, तेरा means you alone are there, there is nothing other than God. This is the teaching, which we are seeing now, very very important portion, in which we are seeing the 7th verse, मतः परतरम् न अन्यत् किञ्चित् अस्ति धनञ्जय. अर्जुन there is nothing called effect other than cause, there are no ornaments other than gold, there are no furniture other than wood, there are no walls other than bricks, there are no waves and oceans and rivers other than water. Then what are waves,

वाचारम्भणम् विकारो नामधेयम् ॥ छान्दोग्योपनिषत् ६-१-४॥ river is only a name, there is no substance called river. Therefore the teaching is there is no product other than cause and the Lord being the cause, the world being the product, कृष्ण wants to say the world is only a word, remove the 'I' from the world, world is only a word, there is no substance called world, then what is the substance, the substance is only the cause and what is that cause, God. Therefore He says मयि सर्वम् इदम् प्रोतम् सूत्रे मणिगणाः इव – just as the thread is inherent in the beads, I am the सर्व अन्तर्यामि. In fact, there is one name for भगवान्, that is सुत्रात्मा, why is भगवान् called सुत्रात्मा, just as the thread is inherent in the entire माता, without the thread माता cannot exist, Similarly, भगवान् is the thread inherent in the creation. Up to this we saw. Continuing;

Verse No .08

रसोऽहमप्सु कौन्तेय प्रभास्मि शशिसूर्ययोः ।

प्रणवः सर्ववेदेषु शब्दः स्वे पौरुषं नृषु ॥ ७-८॥

रसः अहम् अप्सु कौन्तेय प्रभा अस्मि शशि-सूर्ययोः ।

प्रणवः सर्व-वेदेषु शब्दः स्वे पौरुषम् नृषु ॥ ७-८॥

हे कौन्तेय! अहम् अप्सु रसः, शशि-सूर्ययोः प्रभा, सर्व-वेदेषु प्रणवः, स्वे शब्दः, नृषु पौरुषम् अस्मि ।

कृष्ण wants us not only to understand this fact, but कृष्ण wants our attitude also to change accordingly. Any attitudinal change is based on understanding. If you have got love and reverence for your parents, how does it come, the more you think of the fact of what all things they have done, proportionally in keeping with that understanding I develop the attitude of reverence. Any attitude is based on knowledge; that is why when you meet a totally unknown person, what is the attitude that you have, it is neutral, neither रागः or द्वेषः, that is उदासीन भाव, औदासीन्यम्. But as you move with that person, suppose you know that he is a man of principles, he has sacrificed so much, he has done so much to the society, you read the biography of गान्धिजी or any such person, because you have the knowledge, then you develop what, reverence, you read the biography of Veerappan, now fresh hot hot topic, so I can easily quote that, what comes, blood boiling. If you don't know anything you don't have an attitude. Therefore remember, attitude is based on knowledge. As you understand the world so you entertain the attitude and as your understanding of the world undergoes a change, correspondingly there should be an attitudinal change also. When I look upon world as world, my attitude is रागः or द्वेषः, but when I understand the world as विश्वरूप, the manifestation of God, then what is my attitude, reverence. In fact, the basic teaching of Hinduism is reverence to the creation as manifestation of God. In fact, you can spend your whole life to develop this reverence, Hinduism has fulfilled. You see all the prayers, रुद्रम् which is supposed to be one of the most potent and beautiful prayers. What is रुद्रम्, many people think that रुद्रम् has the highest philosophy. No, रुद्रम् is only विश्वरूपदर्शनम्. If you read the translation of रुद्रम्, very interesting, you will find I do नमस्कार to Lord शिव who is in the form of mud, मृदाय नमः, who is in the form of leaf, that also two leaf, dry leaf, and who is fresh leaf also, you will find that everything in the creation is enumerated and we are asked to look at everything reverentially and when the Sun rises in the morning, don't look at it as a matter-principle, even if you look at it as matter, it is what, matter, what is matter, matter is अपरा प्रकृति, असौ यस्ताम्रो अरुण उत बभ्रुः सुमङ्गलः । ये चे मार्गे रुद्रा अभितो दिक्षु । ॥

श्रीरुद्रप्रश्नः १-७ ॥

असौ यः ताम्रः अरुणः I do नमस्कारम् to Sun, which has got red color, yellow color, white color, at every stage, I reverentially worship the Sun. Knowledge can be gathered immediately, but attitudinal change takes time, like eating food is immediate and especially now-a-days people are so many busy, they finish off a dozen idlis in two minutes, eating is simple, but if the whole thing should be digested it takes hours. Similarly, we have got two-fold job, understanding the teaching and also bringing about an attitudinal change, perspective change and this project is divination of the world, this is our project. And when the world is seen as world it will persecute you, it will disturb you, it will create fear. So the world as world will cause संसार, but the very same world as ईश्वर will not cause any संसार. In fact, this is the first मन्त्र of ईशावास्योपनिषत्, ईशावास्यम् इदं सर्वम्. May you learn to look upon the very world as ईश्वर स्वरूप, ईश्वर भावनया आच्छादनीयम्, paint the world with ईश्वर भावना. What a wonderful painting! Paint the world with ईश्वर भावना and therefore कृष्ण says what should you do hereafter. In the following verses, He asks you to bring about a attitudinal change, रसः अहम् अप्सु कौन्तेय, अर्जुन, when you drink water, you just don't look upon it as water, but the very essence of water, because of you are alive, that very essence is remember Myself, रसः means what the essence of water, the very basic taste of water is called रसः, that essence I am and that is why in the early morning सन्ध्यावन्दनम्, we worship water, आपो वा, those who do the सन्ध्यावन्दनम् will remember,

आपो वा इदं सर्वं विश्वा भूतान्यापः प्राणा वा आपः पशव आपोऽन्नमापोऽमृतमापः

सम्राडापो विराडापः स्वराडापश्छन्दोऽस्यापो ज्योतीष्यापो यजुष्यापः सत्यमापः

सर्वा देवता आपो भूर्भुवः सुवराप ओम् ॥ महानारायणोपनिषत् २९-१ ॥

आपो हि ष्ठा मयोभुवस्ता न ऊर्जे दधातन । ऋग्वेदः १०-९-१॥

Oh waters you are not waters, you are Lord and Oh Lord you bless me with that knowledge, so that I will be able to look at everything as ईश्वर स्वरूपम्. In fact, that is my destination, the ultimate goal of my life is learning to look at everything as God. Therefore अहम् अप्सु रसः अस्मि हे कौन्तेय! हे अर्जुन!; शशि-सूर्ययोः प्रभा अस्मि, I am the light, radiance, the brilliance in the sun and the moon, शशि means moon, सूर्य means the sun, प्रभा means the brilliance. In fact, this brilliance or light alone is worshiped in the most famous गायत्री मन्त्र, which is considered to be the essence of all the four वेदs, that गायत्री मन्त्र is prayer addressed to the light in the sun, the light symbolizing the conscious-principle परा प्रकृति, so तत् सवितु वरेण्यम् भर्गः, भर्गः means प्रभा. Literally भर्गः means the destroyer of darkness. So I am worshiping that brilliance, sunlight, which represents Lord, because of which light of Consciousness alone, धियो यः नः प्रचोदयात्, that Consciousness alone makes my inert brain into a live knowing instrument. So therefore, I look upon the sunlight (not the soap Sunlight), that is also भगवान्, sunlight and moonlight. And प्रणवः सर्व-वेदेषु, I am the प्रणवः, प्रणवः means ॐकारः, which is considered to be the essence of all the वेदs. So वेदs are condensed at three levels, the first level condensation is गायत्री मन्त्र and that is why it is considered that chanting the गायत्री is equivalent to the chanting of the whole वेदs. We have done the entire वेद पाठायणम् when you chant गायत्री and later the गायत्री is further condensed into व्याहृति, called the भूः, भुवः, सुवः मन्त्र. So वेद condensed is गायत्री, गायत्री condensed is व्याहृति – भूः, भुवः, सुवः and later the व्याहृति is also further condensed and that is अ, उ and म, joined together becomes ॐ. So वेद condensed is ॐकार and ॐकार diluted is वेद, just like you have got some condensed fruit juice, which you pour water again and again and you keep on giving to hundreds of people. Only one bottle and go on adding, why because it is supposed to be the सार,

यो वेदादौ स्वरः प्रोक्तो वेदान्ते च प्रतिष्ठितः ।

तस्य प्रकृतिलीनस्य यः परः स महेश्वरः ॥ उत्तरगीता १८ ॥

So ॐकार is the essence of the वेदs, कृष्ण says that ॐकार is also Myself, so सर्व-वेदेषु प्रणवः; शब्दः खे – and I am the essence of the all-pervading space, which is शब्द तत्त्वम्, the sound principle is supposed to be the essential nature of आकाश. So I am खे खे means आकाशे, शब्दः - that is called शब्द ब्रह्मन्,

शब्दब्रह्ममयी चराचरमयी ज्योतिर्मयी वाङ्मयी नित्यानन्दमयी निरञ्जनमयी तत्त्वमयी चिन्मयी ।

तत्त्वातीतमयी परात्परमयी मायामयी श्रीमयी सर्वैश्वर्यमयी सदाशिवमयी मां पाहि मीनाम्बिके ॥ मीनाक्षीस्तोत्रम् ८ ॥

चराचरमयि, शब्द ब्रह्ममयि you are शब्द ब्रह्मन्, therefore the sound you are; and पौरुषम् नृषु – so you are the very manliness or humanness in every human being, that essential nature which makes a human being, a human being, that essential nature, you are. Continuing;

Verse No .09

पुण्यो गन्धः पृथिव्यां च तेजश्चास्मि विभावसौ ।

जीवनं सर्वभूतेषु तपश्चास्मि तपस्विषु ॥ ७-९॥

पुण्यः गन्धः पृथिव्याम् च तेजः च अस्मि विभावसौ ।

जीवनम् सर्व-भूतेषु तपः च अस्मि तपस्विषु ॥ ७-९॥

च पृथिव्याम् पुण्यः गन्धः, विभावसौ च तेजः अस्मि, सर्व-भूतेषु जीवनम्, तपस्विषु च तपः अस्मि ।

So पृथिव्याम् पुण्यः गन्धः – the essential nature of पृथिवी, the earth is its fragrance or smell. Among the five elements the earth alone has got गन्धः गुण, the other four elements do not have गन्ध. So आकाश has got शब्द गुण, वायु has got शब्द and स्पर्श, स्पर्श means touch, अग्नि has got शब्द, स्पर्श and रूपम्, visible, जलम् has got शब्द, स्पर्श, रूप and रस, unique and पृथिवी has got शब्द, स्पर्श, रूप, रस and unique one is गन्ध. The other four elements cannot have गन्ध, स्वामिजि our corporation water has got many गन्ध, don't say that, pure water does not have गन्ध and if you get all kinds of smell, it is because it is mixed with all kinds of पृथिवी, chlorine, etc. So therefore and there also कृष्ण is very careful, smell is of two types, कृष्ण says fragrance I am in the earth, because earth by itself is fragrant, only because of we polluting the earth it has got all foul smell and you can feel that fragrance when there is a fresh rain and if you have got mud, you will not get in city, because all tar road. In the villages, wherever mud is there, when the first rain comes a beautiful earth fragrance is felt. So therefore I am the वासना in the earth, the पृथिवी; तेजः अस्मि विभावसौ, विभावसौ means अग्नि तत्त्वम् and तेजः means the heat principle in the fire, the essential nature of fire is heat, even the form and color may not be available all the time, in the hot water you cannot see the fire but you can feel the heat of the fire and therefore तेजः means the heat and that heat principle I am and जीवनम् सर्व-भूतेषु – the very life principle, because of which a living being is a living being, without which a living being is a dead corpse, शिव minus life, remove the इ, in शिव remove the इ, you go home and think well, therefore the body becomes a dead corpse (शव), that life-principle I am.

That is why our basic religion is: respect all life principles, that is the uniqueness of our religion. In many other religions, they think all other living being are meant only for one purpose, स्वाहा, our consumption and they have got a convenient philosophy, animals do not have souls, plant do not have souls. Therefore भगवान् has created, according to them, all animals and plants for what purpose, our consumption and if they want to protect the animals and plants, it is not because of respect for life, but for the sake of our consumption and enjoyment, whereas Hinduism is talking about ecological protection, because every plant has got life principle, the आत्मतत्त्वम् is there. And therefore respect everyone, therefore that जीवनम् I am in every living being; and तपस्विषु तपः च अस्मि – among the human beings there are some who are more evolved. In the previous verse, he talked about general human beings, पौरुषम् नृषु, there नृषु means the human being in general, they also ran, like that, common ones. But there are some evolved beings, they are called तपस्विनः, because of their तपस्, because of their perseverance, because of their commitment they have accomplished something, either materially or spiritually and in those तपस्विस I am तपः, I am the austerity in the austere people, I am the saintliness in the saintly people. Therefore तपस्विषु तपः च अस्मि, if you study these two verses, कृष्ण has covered all the पञ्चभूतs, पृथिवी, जलम्, अग्नि, आकाश, वायु, you supply. In short, we look up the five elements themselves as God, that is why I told you the other day we have five temples, each temple dedicated to one one भूत, आकाश लिङ्गम् in विदम्बरम्, वायु लिङ्गम् in काळहरित, अग्नि लिङ्गम् in तिरुवन्नामलै, जल लिङ्गम् in जम्बूकेश्वरम्, तिरुवनैकवल and पृथिवी लिङ्गम् in काञ्चीपुरम्. What does it mean? I learn to look or see the five elements themselves as ईश्वर's manifestation, all these indicate what, attitudinal change. Continuing;

Verse No .10

बीजं मां सर्वभूतानां विद्धि पार्थ सनातनम् ।

बुद्धिर्बुद्धिमतामस्मि तेजस्तेजस्विनामहम् ॥ ७-१०॥

बीजम् माम् सर्व-भूतानाम् विद्धि पार्थ सनातनम् ।

बुद्धिः बुद्धिमताम् अस्मि तेजः तेजस्विनाम् अहम् ॥ ७-१०॥

हे पार्थ! माम् सर्व-भूतानाम् सनातनम् बीजम् विद्धि, अहम् बुद्धिमताम् बुद्धिः अस्मि, तेजस्विनाम् तेजः ।

Look at the second line, बुद्धिमताम् बुद्धिः अस्मि – I am the very intelligence principle behind the intelligent people. There are some people who are extra-ordinarily intelligent and their glory is because of their intelligence, that intelligence I am. That means what: because of my blessing alone the intelligent people are enjoying the intelligence and Similarly, तेजस्विनाम् तेजः अस्मि – I am the boldness, the valor in the valorous, in the bold people. So boldness stands for that capacity because of which a person is able to overcome obstacles, that is called boldness, पराक्रमः, bulldozer capacity, what is bulldozer, anything comes it pushes and goes forwards, whereas our car or cycle, the least obstacle it stops. Similarly, there are some people, slightest suspicion of obstacle they will withdraw, but there are some people who have the capacity, come what may, they conquer the obstacle and go forward, that is called पराक्रमः, आक्रमः means overcoming, पर means any obstacle, human or non-human and that is called तेजस्, brilliance or boldness and that पराक्रमः in people also I am. And from all these things, we have to derive certain important corollary also,

i) because the essential nature of everything is God, if we have got any of these virtues, like boldness, like intelligence, like austerity, like knowledge, if anyone of these virtues is in me, I should remember they really do not belong to me, but they are the manifestation of God. Therefore the credit does not go to me, but it goes to the Lord alone, therefore the more I appreciate God the more humble I will become. Humility born of knowledge will remain, but without proper understanding humility will be only a show, outside they will be humble and inside they will be arrogant, real humility will come only when this is understood. And that is why in केनोपनिषत् we had this story, when the देवस got a victory over असुरस, even they become arrogant claiming that we have attained, accomplished the victory and then you know the story, how भगवान् came in the form of a mysterious यक्ष and to find out this Lord, the mysterious God, अग्नि

देवता comes and the Lord places a blade of grass and asks अग्नि to burn and the arrogant अग्नि thinks that I have got the infinite heat, I can raise my temperature and this is just a dry blade of grass and अग्नि goes on trying but the blade of grass doesn't burn. Then he recognizes the heat principle in अग्नि is भगवान्'s glory, better you accept. Then वायु देवता comes, already air is so much, वायु देवता what will have, lot of air, puffed with air. Then the Lord asks what he can do and shows the same blade of grass and asks him to lift this dry grass, then वायु also attempts and miserably fails. All these to show that the essential nature of everything is भगवान्. Therefore if you get any degree, any honor or anything glorious is there and when somebody praises you, better remember God and if you get any award also, place it in front of the Lord. This is one corollary, understanding ईश्वर will give you humility. Ignorance of ईश्वर will lead to arrogance.

ii) And the second advantage is which is equally important, that when I see glory in any other person also I will never become jealous. When does jealousy come, when I compare my glory (which is not there, my assumed glory) to another person's glory. And I find that the society is glorifying that person more than me; better award, better degree, better salary, better appreciation; comparison leads to jealousy, which is terrible, jealousy is the worst form of diseases, because it burns you eternally. When I appreciate God I can never have jealousy because all the glories belong to only soul and if I can sing well (I cannot), if I can sing well and you can sing well, I am not going to compare because, both the capacity belongs to one God and we too are only empty pipelines. We don't have any glory. Somewhere there is a thick pipeline and somewhere there is a thin pipeline. In thick pipeline, there is lot of water come and in thin pipeline there is less water, but whether it is more water or less water, all water belongs to only one soul, the water tank. Similarly, we are all only pipes and all the glories belong to only one central water tank and that is ईश्वर. So wherever I see any glory let me learn to congratulate, if a person sings better than me, I go and appreciate, I am able to see Lord's glory in you. Therefore humility is one result and non-jealousy or appreciation is another benefit of ईश्वर ज्ञानम्.

Then come to the first line, कृष्ण says सर्व-भूतानाम् सनातनम् बीजम् विद्धि. In fact, this should be read at the end, which is the summing up line, but anyway कृष्ण gives it here, बीजम् means the seed, the primal cause, the basic cause. We use the word primal cause because the causes can be divided into two types, one is the intermediary cause or relative cause and the other is the ultimate or absolute cause. For example, our parents are the cause of us, therefore certainly they are कारणम्, but they are not the ultimate cause, they are all intermediary cause because they themselves have their cause and grandparents have their cause, therefore, whatever is an intermediary cause, that is आपेक्षिक कारणम्, but God is not आपेक्षिक कारणम्, but it is the absolute primal cause and how do you define primal cause, the absolute cause is that which is the cause of everything but which itself is not the cause of anyone. Therefore causeless cause, God is parentless parent, he is fatherless father of the creation, motherless mother of the creation, causeless cause of the creation. Therefore कृष्ण says सर्व-भूतानाम् बीजम्, which is सनातनम्, सनातनम् means which doesn't have a beginning, अनादि कारणम्. So never ask the question, one small boy used to come to this class, at the end he came and ask, 'स्वामिजि, what is the cause of God?' Because that comes to the mind, so when we think of any cause, we come to know that cause has got some other cause, so when I say God is the cause, people ask the question, what is the cause of God, कृष्ण knows that you will ask the question, therefore he puts the adjective सनातनम् बीजम् – I am the eternal cause, I am the causeless cause of the creation. More we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

In the 7th chapter, from verse no.4 onwards, Lord कृष्ण has been talking about ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, the nature of God and the Lord pointed out that ईश्वर consists of two parts, one is the higher nature, which is of the nature of Consciousness and the other is lower nature, which is of the nature of matter and this चित्-जड-मिश्रम्, this mixture consisting of चित् and जड or चेतन-अचेतन अंश द्वयम् is the nature of God and this ईश्वर happens to be the basic cause of the universe from whom the universe arises, in which the universe rests and into whom the universe resolves. And while studying this aspect that is God as the cause of the universe, we have to remember an important law and that law is whatever be the composition of the cause, the same will be the composition of the effect also. In संस्कृत it is presented as कारण गुणाः कार्ये अनुवर्तते, the features of the cause inhere the effect also. If out of a lump of gold we create ornaments, then the composition of the gold and the ornaments will be the same, which means if gold has got six percent copper in it, then the ornaments also will have the same percentage of copper. This is not only in the case of the regular products that we make, even when we study the character of children, we find that the character of the parents inhere the children. Since Father and mother are involved, परा and अपरा प्रकृति, I don't want to say, who is परा प्रकृति and who is अपरा प्रकृति and get the wrath of one section of the students, that you can decide! Just as परा and अपरा प्रकृति are there, here also every child has the parents and we know that the children inherit the characters of father as well as mother. In fact, when the child is born, one of the important job of the visitors is to find out which one the child resembles, a big quiz, 'Who Will Become A Millionaire!' Is the child like the father or the mother and some people like to compromise and say that nose is like the father, etc. and brain is like the mother, I don't know which is better, because we know that not only in good features even with regard diseases like pressure, sugar, etc., parents' diseases get transferred to the children. All these indicate the important law, what is the कारण गुणाः कार्ये अनुवर्तते. If this law is remembered, we can say ईश्वरस्य गुणाः, कारणभूत ईश्वरस्य गुणाः कार्यभूते प्रपञ्चे अनुवर्तते. And since ईश्वर is a mixture of चेतन तत्त्वम् and अचेतन तत्त्वम्, the universe is also a mixture of the conscious-principle as well as the inert-principle and therefore कृष्ण claims here that whatever glories are there in the creation all of them ultimately belong to me alone, because I am the essence, the सार of the creation and कृष्ण wants that a total transformation should take place in our mind, so that hereafter when we look at the creation we don't look at it as the world but we look at it as the manifestation of चेतन अचेतन मिश्र भूत ईश्वरः. And this vision, as I said in the last class, is the विश्वरूपदर्शनम् of ईश्वर and Lord कृष्ण is gradually preparing us for this दर्शनम्, so that in the 11th chapter we will have the culmination of विश्वरूपदर्शनम्. And here कृष्ण makes a small difference, when we say the whole creation is the manifestation of the Lord we know that not only the wonderful things are the manifestation of the Lord, even the terrible things also are ultimately the manifestation of the Lord only. But कृष्ण is very diplomatically, very intelligently suppressing the negative aspect, and he is claiming only the glorious and wonderful thing as himself. What is the purpose of this deliberate suppression? Because already we find it difficult to develop devotion to God. If भगवान् is going to claim all the negative things also as himself, one will never develop devotion. Therefore at the initial stages we learn to look at the positive side of the creation and learn to appreciate it as ईश्वर until we get maturity and once we are sufficiently mature we will be able to expand enough to include not only the positive, but also the negative. In short, we will be able to look at the totality of the creation, which requires a lot of maturity. And the beauty is once we are sufficiently mature you will find that a part of creation as negative is really speaking, is not negative at all, it is also as beautiful and required as the positive things. In fact, they are not opposed to each other, they are complimentary pairs. Therefore we cannot hate a segment, hating a part of the creation is immaturity. For example, we look upon birth as मङ्गलम् and we always look at death as अमङ्गलम् and we don't want to talk about the death of people, especially death of family members and especially the death of very close people and especially the death of ourselves, because we think it is अमङ्गलम्. अमङ्गलम् means inauspicious and negative and according to शास्त्र, we look upon death as अमङ्गलम्, not because death is inauspicious but it is because our mind is not mature enough to look at death also objectively. And therefore कृष्ण will not initially talk about death as himself and then he will run away from कृष्ण, he will initially talk about सृष्टि and स्थिति only and once our mind is sufficiently mature, we will know that everything is भगवान् only, there is no question of good and bad, they are only complimentary pairs in the creation and that is the ultimate विश्वरूपदर्शनम्, but here कृष्ण is deliberately suppressing the so-called negative things. I won't call them negative, but the so-called negative and that is why, He says, verse no.10 we were seeing in the last class:

बुद्धिर्बुद्धिमतामस्मि तेजस्तेजस्विनामहम् ॥ ७-१०॥

I am the intelligence in the intelligent people, you should not talk about dullness in the dull people. You don't want to talk about that until we are able to get sufficient maturity. Similarly, तेजः तेजस्विनाम् अहम्. In short, I am the seed of the entire creation. Up to this we saw in the last class. Continuing;

Verse No .11

बलं बलवतां चाहं कामरागविवर्जितम् ।

धर्माविरुद्धो भूतेषु कामोऽस्मि भरतर्षभ ॥ ७-११॥

बलम् बलवताम् च अहम् काम-राग-विवर्जितम् ।

धर्म-अविरुद्धः भूतेषु कामः अस्मि भरतर्षभ ॥ ७-११॥

अहम् च बलवताम् काम-राग-विवर्जितम् बलम् अस्मि, हे भरतर्षभ! भूतेषु धर्म-अविरुद्धः कामः (अहम् अस्मि)।

The same idea is continued. हे भरतर्षभ! is another title of अर्जुन, भरत means the descendants of भरत, the भरत वंश जनाः is called here भरत, ऋषभ means श्रेष्ठ, so भरत वंश श्रेष्ठ, हे अर्जुन! who is the greatest in your family. If भीम is the student, कृष्ण will have said the same thing, the idea is the student should feel fine, when you feel fine, you understand well, that is the psychology, a happy mind absorbs and therefore teacher uses these techniques, you are wonderful, you are beautiful, whether you are not, He encourages the students. हे सौम्य! is oft used उपनिषत् expression, हे सौम्य! pleasing one. So हे भरतर्षभ अर्जुन, बलवताम् अहम् बलम् अस्मि – in the strong people, I am the very strength, because of which they enjoy the glory and status and therefore I am बलम्, the सारः, the essence, because the basic principle is कारणम् is the सारः of कार्यम्, cause is the सारम्, the essence of the effect. If you extend it, you can put it in any context, strength is the essence of all the strong people and therefore I am the strength. But कृष्ण wants to divide the strength into two types: one is positive strength, which is responsible for positive effects, constructive things, that also requires strength and the second is negative strength, brutal strength, अधार्मिक strength, which is the cause of all destruction. And having divided this strength into these two, constructive and destructive strengths, in the पुराणसु we will find all the राक्षससु also had strength but it is destructive, the strength of हिरण्यकशिपु, हिरण्याक्ष, रावण, all of them and we also see strength in आञ्जनेय, in राम etc. What is the difference, one is constructive and the other destructive and therefore कृष्ण very intelligently says I am the constructive strength in the strong people. And what is the definition of constructive strength, धार्मिक बलम्, positive strength. कृष्ण beautifully defines, it is free from काम-राग-विवर्जितम् – strength which is not backed by selfish desires. Only when selfishness dominates, the strength will become destructive, because to become great I have to suppress and destroy others. So काम means desires, selfish desire and राग means attachment. Therefore a strength which is free from, which is not polluted by काम and राग, is the pure strength. What is the difference between काम and राग? काम is desire with regard to an object which is not yet acquired by me, so when this watch is in the shop, I have not bought this watch, I have a desire for this watch, अप्राप्त विषये कामः and the moment I buy the watch, there is no more the problem of desire, because it is already my watch. And therefore now कामः is converted into what, रागः means attachment to this watch. Therefore प्राप्त विषये रागः, अप्राप्त विषये कामः, before buying it is desire, after buying it is attachment. This कामः and रागः are the poison and that strength which is free from both of them is pure strength and कृष्ण says that pure strength I am. And not only that, in the 2nd line He says, हे अर्जुन! I am in the form of कामः, the desire also in the people who have desires, I am in the form of कामः also, in the people with desires, in the desire ridden people, I am the very desire. Now it is confusing. In the previous line कृष्ण said I am the strength which is not polluted by desire, that means in the previous line, desire was presented as an impurity and that is why he said strength must be free from the impurity called desire. Now in the second line, कृष्ण says, I am desire also, that means what I am impurity also, because in the previous line desire is an impurity, how to resolve this problem? Just as we divided strength into two types, we have to know that desires are also of two types, desires are also of two types one is called धार्मिक desire or कामः and the other is अधार्मिक कामः, those desires which will help me grow spiritually, constructive desires and those desires which will pull me down spiritually, destructive desires, अधार्मिक कामः. So if I have a desire to do some service to others, to do my duty, to help other people, they are also what desires only, but they are desires which will help me grow positively. In fact, ultimately desire for मोक्ष is also a desire which will come under pure or impure desire? If desire for मोक्ष is impure desire, then the first lesson in the spiritual class should be what, don't have desire for मोक्ष, then why should one do साधन. In fact, while talking about the four-fold qualifications of the spiritual seeker, the 4th qualification mentioned is मुमुक्षुत्वम्, the desire for मोक्ष, desire for values, desire for साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति, desire for गीता class, all धार्मिक or अधार्मिक desires? Any desire which will promote spirituality is धार्मिक कामः, any desire which will promote your inner growth is धार्मिक कामः and that is why even desire to earn wealth, शङ्कराचार्य tells in तैत्तिरीय, even desire for money can be a wonderful desire, provided, I want to earn plenty of money for what purposes, just to keep it under lock and key and enjoy only and then that becomes अधार्मिक इच्छा, but when I want of plenty of money for sharing with others, for helping the society, for पञ्च महा यज्ञाः, even that धन इच्छा becomes धार्मिक इच्छा, in तैत्तिरीय शङ्कराचार्य beautifully says.

धनम् धर्मार्थम् धर्मः चित्तशुद्ध्यर्थम् चित्तशुद्धिः ज्ञानार्थम् ज्ञानम् मोक्षार्थम् ।

Money can be used for noble activities, noble activities will be useful for purification of mind, purification will be useful for knowledge, knowledge will be useful for liberation, thus even desire for wealth can be a धार्मिक इच्छा and कृष्ण says such a धार्मिक desire I am and therefore He says: हे अर्जुन! अहम् कामः अस्मि and what type of desire, धर्म-अविरुद्धः कामः – I am the noble desire in the noble people, भूतेषु means मनुष्येषु, धार्मिक पुरुषेषु, I am the noble desire. Continuing;

Verse No .12

ये चैव सात्त्विका भावा राजसास्तामसाश्च ये ।

मत् एवेति तान्विद्धि न त्वहं तेषु ते मयि ॥ ७-१२॥

ये च एव सात्त्विकाः भावाः राजसाः तामसाः च ये ।

मत्तः एव इति तान् विद्धि न तु अहम् तेषु ते मयि ॥ ७-१२॥

ये च एव सात्त्विकाः राजसाः तामसाः च भावाः, ते मत्तः एव इति तान् विद्धि, अहम् तेषु न (अस्मि), तु ते मयि (वर्तन्ते) ।

Until now, Lord कृष्ण talked about the external world, which is a product of the Lord and therefore which is a manifestation of the Lord. Now कृष्ण points out not only the external world, even the internal world of thoughts is a product of the Lord alone. Therefore He says: भावाः, भावाः means अन्तःकरण परिणामाः, the inner world of thoughts, inner world of वृत्तिs, are called here भावाः, चित्त परिणामाः and these thoughts are also a product of ईश्वर only and according to the scriptures, even thoughts are inert by themselves, but they appear to be sentient because of the pervasion of परा प्रकृति. And therefore in the mind there are two parts, one part is the changing thought and the other part is the changeless Consciousness, the Consciousness part belongs to परा प्रकृति, the changing thoughts belongs to the अपरा प्रकृति. But the problem is the thought and Consciousness are so intimately intertwined that we are not able to discriminate them. To remember our example, what is here, all of us will say, hand, then what else is there. In the hand, nails are there, what else is there, fingers are there, what else is there, lines are there, what else is there, bacteria or dust, that is there. In fact, we will enumerate everything missing one thing. What is that, the light which is not part of the hand, but which is a distinct entity, the light and hand are intimately mixed together. Of these two principles, the hand is the moving part, the light is the motionless part. Similarly, the scriptures point out, within our mind also there are two things, one is the changing thought which is changing every moment. In fact, right from the first word that I uttered, your mind has been changing. In fact, your mind has to entertain thoughts in keeping with the movement of my words. Every word I utter should generate what, it has to enter through your ears and you should know the meaning and in accordance with the meaning a thought should take place. And how are my words moving, fast and what about your thoughts, suppose your thought is permanently stable, what first word I uttered that only remains, imagine, imagine my plight, not your plight, imagine my plight. In पञ्चदशि, विद्यारण्य compares thoughts to a greatest, greatest dancer of the world. How the dancer moves the hands and legs so fast, Similarly, the mind assumes thoughts after thoughts, the thoughts are varying but there is one thing which is not varying at all, what is that, I am conscious of your first sentence, conscious of your second sentence, conscious of your third sentence, conscious, conscious, conscious, no sentence and even when the mind is blank without thoughts, I am conscious of what, the blankness of the mind. Therefore what is continuously and changelessly present, the Consciousness is present which is called परा प्रकृति, because whatever doesn't change is परा प्रकृति and what is अपरा प्रकृति, whatever changes is अपरा प्रकृति and what is changing, thoughts. And कृष्ण says अर्जुन, every thought that rises in your mind is my own अपरा प्रकृति and then we saw before that परा प्रकृति is निर्गुणम् and अपरा प्रकृति is सगुणम् and this अपरा प्रकृति is supposed to have three गुणs, सत्त्व, रजस् and तमस्. सत्त्व standing for knowledge faculty and रजस् standing for dynamism or activity and तमस् standing for dullness or delusion. So knowledge, activity and delusion, सत्त्व, रजस् and तमस् are three गुणs belonging to अपरा प्रकृति and now the thoughts which are products of अपरा प्रकृति, they also will have three गुणs. By applying the same law, what is the law, कारण गुणाः कार्ये अनुवर्तते and since अपरा प्रकृति has got three गुणs, every product of अपरा प्रकृति has three गुणs, the entire material universe has got three गुणs, the body has three गुणs, the mind even the thoughts can be categorized into सात्त्विकाः भावाः, सात्त्विक वृत्तयः, standing for thoughts of knowledge, सात्त्विक or noble thoughts also you can say. More about the three गुणs we will be studying in the 14th chapter. Here कृष्ण indicates only three गुणs, since we will be seeing the details later I am not going to the details. Here सात्त्विकाः means noble thoughts, रजसाः भावाः, रजसाः means intermediary thoughts, राजसिक thoughts or dynamic thoughts you can take and then तामसाः भावाः, thoughts of delusion, मोह वृतयः. शङ्कराचार्य generally comments as सुख-दुःख-मोह वृतयः. In short, varieties of thoughts occur in the mind and all of them arise from where? कृष्ण says मत्तः एव तान् इति विद्धि – all those mental states are also born out of Me alone, which part of Me, the अपरा प्रकृति part of Me alone. And here शङ्कराचार्य makes a small note, because this line can be misunderstood and misinterpreted also and शङ्कराचार्य's job is: wherever people can misinterpret there add a note. Now here कृष्ण has said all forms of thoughts are born out of Me alone, which means I am responsible all forms of your thoughts. Now very convenient and wonderful. So when we get violent anger or when we get jealousy, when we get destructive thoughts and cause problems and when other people come and complain and ask me to be responsible, I can easily answer, don't blame me at all because भगवान् has said in the गीता that He is responsible for all the thoughts. So therefore if you want to criticize, criticize भगवान्, I am innocent. Such a misinterpretation is possible, so that we can continue to be irresponsible by putting all the अक्षता on the Lord, we can be irresponsible. Therefore शङ्कराचार्य says भगवान् is only the सामान्य कारणम् for the rise of thoughts, is the only the general cause for the origination of the thoughts, whereas you and your बुद्धि and your free-will is the विशेष कारणम्, the specific cause for the type of thoughts. Therefore भगवान् is सामान्य कारणम्, you are the विशेष कारणम्. And what is the difference between सामान्य and विशेष? I will give you an example. What is the general cause of this hall, it is a product, this particular hall or auditorium. We can say brick and cement is the सामान्य कारणम् for the hall to come here, because without brick and cement this hall cannot come. Therefore brick and cement are called what, सामान्य कारणम्. In fact, it is the cause not only for this hall, but all the halls, In fact, all the houses also. But even though brick and cement is the cause for all the halls, what particular shape this house should have, what should be the pattern of the house, whether it should be rectangular, whether it is square etc., that is not determined by the brick and cement, I have to decide what should be the pattern of the house and therefore my desire becomes, my plan becomes विशेष कारणम् and that is why from owner to owner, the pattern of the house differs, not because brick and cement differ, because that is the सामान्य कारणम् for all, but the houses differ why, the विशेष कारणम् is different. Or to give you another example, any number of example, petrol is the सामान्य कारणम् for the movement of the car, the fuel, fuel is the सामान्य कारणम् for the movement of the car, but whether the car should move on the road or on the pavements or anywhere else, the direction of the car is not determined by the petrol, it is determined by the particular driver. Therefore petrol becomes सामान्य कारणम्, driver becomes विशेष कारणम्. Similarly, for our thoughts also, God is the सामान्य कारणम् and our discrimination is the विशेष कारणम्. Here कृष्ण is referring to the सामान्य कारणम्, you should not mix up with विशेष कारणम्. Therefore मतः सामान्य कारणात् एव सर्वम् इति विद्धि. And then कृष्ण concludes न तु अहम् तेषु ते मयि, this entire creation being a product born out of Me, it is dependent on Me, the cause. Because the law is any effect depends upon the cause for its existence, कारणम् विना कार्यम् न तिष्ठति. Try to remove gold and have ornaments, not possible, try to remove wood and have furniture, not possible. Because the existence of the effect always depends upon the cause and therefore the effect depends upon the cause whereas the cause does not depend upon the effect, because even if the whole world is destroyed the cause ईश्वर will continue to exist. And therefore कृष्ण says अर्जुन I don't depend on the world, but the world depends on me. I don't depend on the world, that is why during प्रलयम्, even when the whole world is resolved, I continue to exist. And therefore He says तेषु, तेषु means कार्य पदार्थेषु अहम् न आश्रीतो भवामि न आश्रयामि, I don't depend upon the products, the world, whereas ते – the worldly products or the entire world is मयि आश्रीताः वर्तन्ते – they depend upon me. And since the Lord has independent existence, the Lord is called सत्यम् and since the world has got dependent existence, the world is called मिथ्या. Therefore I am सत्यम्, the world is मिथ्या, Continuing;

Verse No .13

त्रिभिः गुणमयैः भावैः एभिः सर्वम् इदम् जगत् ।

मोहितम् न अभिजानाति माम् एभ्यः परम् अव्ययम् ॥ ७-१३॥

त्रिभिर्गुणमयैर्भावैरेभिः सर्वमिदं जगत् ।

मोहितं नाभिजानाति मामेभ्यः परमव्ययम् ॥ ७-१३॥

एभिः त्रिभिः गुणमयैः भावैः इदम् सर्वम् जगत् मोहितम्, (अतः) एभ्यः परम् अव्ययम् माम् न अभिजानाति ।

With the previous verse कृष्ण concludes the topic of ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, the nature of God. And what are the main points mentioned here:

- God is a mixture of परा-अपरा प्रकृति, that is चेतन-अचेतन तत्त्वम् is No.1.
- The second feature is God alone is the सृष्टि-स्थिति-लय कारणम् of the world, is the creator, the preserver and the destroyer, सृष्टि-स्थिति-लय कारणम् is the second important feature.
- And the third important feature is God being the cause, He alone manifests as the entire world and therefore world is the manifestation of God, the world is divine. This is what I call विश्वरूपः ईश्वरः, this is the third important feature.
- And fourth and final thing is since God is the cause and the world is the effect, God has independent existence, therefore सत्यम्, the world has dependent existence, therefore मिथ्या, तदनव्ययत्वम् आरम्भणशब्दादिभ्यः ॥ ब्रह्मसूत्र २-१-१७ ॥

व्यासाचार्य writes a very important portion of ब्रह्मसूत्र based on this idea, it is called आरम्भणाधिकरणम्, in ब्रह्मसूत्र, तदनन्यत्वम्. So with this ईश्वर स्वरूपम् topic is over.

Now in the following verses, that is the 13th verse कृष्ण wants to point out why the human beings suffer in the world, when everything is God why should there be suffering in the world, why do people get frustrated, संसार कारणम् किम्, is the question for which कृष्ण gives the answer in the 13th verse. First I will give you the essence of this verse, very important verse. We say very important because this gives the diagnosis all our mental problems and diagnosis is very important if the treatment should be successful. Without diagnosis you cannot go on trying all the medicines possible in all the system. In allopathy what all the medicines are there in the shop, give me all one dose, so whatever medicine is there I will take; only one dose and immediately close, that is the only thing can happen. You cannot afford to take any treatment without diagnosis. And In fact, even though this is the fundamental principle of all-treatments, In fact, the greatest wonder is we have been doing exactly that only. We have never really analyzed why sorrow comes in life, we never analyze, we are not interested in analysis also and without analyzing we keep on trying this solution, I thought education will give me happiness, there afterwards I thought getting a job will give me happiness and after job, parents say you should get settled, settled means unsettled, settled means get married. So then after marriage I thought I will be happy, then I discover it is worse sometimes, OK, not always, then I thought that children will make everything fine, children are born, then I thought their education and their marriage will settle the problem, They are settled and it goes on and on, till death we don't know why we have mental problems, depression, anxiety, fear, sorrow, irritation, anger, jealousy, because we are treating the disease called भवरोग without diagnosis. And what is the diagnosis, कृष्ण gives in this verse. What is that, I briefly tell, that कृष्ण has pointed out that the whole universe is a mixture of two things, परा प्रकृति of ईश्वर and अपरा प्रकृति and परा प्रकृति happens to be, I hope you remember, चेतन निर्गुण निर्विकार तत्त्वम्. We said परा प्रकृति is the Consciousness-principle which is without any property, without any change, changeless, formless, propertyless, Consciousness is परा प्रकृति. And what is अपरा प्रकृति? अचेतन, सगुण, सविकार तत्त्वम् is अपरा प्रकृति, changing propertyed or attributed matter-principle is अपरा प्रकृति. Now since अपरा प्रकृति has all the properties, it is very much perceptible for our sense organs. Because अपरा प्रकृति has properties, properties means what sound, form, smell, taste, touch, all these properties are there. Therefore अपरा प्रकृति is visible to our sense organs, whereas परा प्रकृति being without शब्द, स्पर्श, रूप, if you remember कठोपनिषत्: अशब्दम् अस्पर्शम् अरूपम् अरसम् अगन्धम्, परा प्रकृति is invisible formless principle. So one is invisible and the other is visible and when there is a mixture of visible and invisible principles, we are always attracted to what, the visible changing अपरा प्रकृति alone. And therefore कृष्ण says we are distracted by अपरा प्रकृति to such an extent that we lose sight of परा प्रकृति, the higher nature, exactly like my example, you are so much carried away by the hand and its motion that you will always are distracted away from what, the very light principle. And that is why you take it lightly. You never say that. In a movie, the screen is the motionless substratum but once the movie is on, you are so much observed in the changing characters that you loose sight of what, the changeless screen and once you miss the परा प्रकृति, कृष्ण says, you are in trouble. And therefore, our problem is losing sight of परा प्रकृति, परा प्रकृति अज्ञानम् एव संसारस्य कारणम्, this is what कृष्ण is going to say in this verse, which we will see in the next class.

07, VERSES 13-16

With the 12th verse of the 7th chapter, Lord कृष्ण completed the description of ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, the nature of God, which topic He started from the 4th verse. And in this portion, He has pointed out that the entire creation is the manifestation of the Lord, consisting of the changeless spirit-principle and changing matter-principle, spirit meaning Consciousness and this matter-principle, He called अपरा प्रकृति, the inferior nature and the Consciousness-principle, the higher superior nature. Wherever we experience change and properties, we can blindly say it is अपरा प्रकृति of the Lord and with this norm when we study the creation, the whole external world, our own physical body, our own mind, even the thoughts and feelings, they all come under the changing अपरा प्रकृति, the formless changeless witness-Consciousness alone comes under परा प्रकृति. Having given this much description, now कृष्ण enters into the crucial subject matter, when everything is God and divine why should the human being suffer संसार. We are not talking about a particular human problem, but we are talking about the general human problem of संसार, because of which one feels incomplete, one feels insecure, one feels the need for a support, this sense of incompleteness, something lacking without being specific, some kind of discomfort or uneasiness and also insecurity, incompleteness and insecurity. This is the universal problem. Different people try to solve this problem in different ways by acquiring things, by increasing relationship, by extending the family, by having more position, name, fame, etc. We try to get out of this problem, but the truth is nothing really seems to work. And this problem, fundamental problem is called संसार. कृष्ण is diagnosing the disease called संसार and suggesting a remedy. And therefore these two verses are important, the 13th verse is the diagnosis and the 14th verse is the tablet or injection, whatever you call. What is the problem I was trying to explain in the last class. The problem is this. The superior nature of the Lord happens to be formless, colorless, changeless principle and therefore generally we miss the परा प्रकृति, the higher nature. Because all our organs are meant to perceive and register the changing object with properties. And therefore the problem is परा प्रकृति is not available for our perception. That is why it is called अप्रमेयः, स्वप्रकाशः is not necessary now, अप्रमेयः, अप्रमेयः means not available for seeing, hearing, smelling, tasting, touching, Why? परा प्रकृति doesn't have शब्द, स्पर्श, रूप, रस, गन्ध. How can you perceive a निर्गुण object? And not only we don't perceive or recognize the परा प्रकृति, we don't even attempt to know the परा प्रकृति, because we are kept busy always by this wonderful, tempting, beautiful, attractive अपरा प्रकृति. And that is why कृष्ण is going to later call अपरा प्रकृति as मोहिनी, just as in the पौराणिक story, how मोहिनी came and all the असुराs were attracted by मोहिनी, I don't want to tell the story because you all know it and because they were attracted by the मोहिनी, what did the असुराs lose, अमृतम्, अमृतम् symbolizes what, the knowledge of परा प्रकृति and मोक्ष, both we miss, why because the wonderful मोहिनी called अपरा प्रकृति keeps us busy all the time. I am always preoccupied with this changing universe, of sound and color and form and smell and taste. If I am not preoccupied with the universe, I am preoccupied with the body, (decorating about it), therefore bothered about the body so much, books and books are written, how to maintain the hair, we are bothered more about what is outside the head rather than inside the head. So therefore hair care and skin care and nail care and this care and that care, the body keeps us eternally busy, otherwise the thoughts in the mind, the emotions, the feelings which also belongs to अपरा प्रकृति. Thus the world and the body and the mind are so wonderfully attractive that a person is carried away by them and because of this preoccupation, he is never interested in परा प्रकृति, who wants it. Therefore कृष्ण tells in the 13th verse, त्रिभिः गुणमयैः भावैः इदम् सर्वम् जगत् मोहितम् – so because of the अपरा प्रकृति endowed with त्रिभिः

गुणमयैः, attracted either by सत्त्वगुण or रजोगुण or तमोगुण, in the 14th chapter we will see how each गुण is responsible for our bondage and because of this त्रिभिः गुणमयैः भावैः, भाव represents not only the external objects, according to शङ्कराचार्य, भाव represents the emotions also because of that, इदम् सर्वम् जगत्, 99.99% of the world, except some rare ones,

परान्चि खानि व्यतृणत् स्वयंभूस्तस्मात्पराऽपश्यति नान्तरात्मन् ।

कश्चिद्भारः प्रत्यगात्मानमैक्षदावृतवक्षुर्मृतत्वमिच्छन् ॥ कठोपनिषत् २-१-१॥

We saw in कठोपनिषत् recently only. And therefore सर्वम् जगत् here means all the people of the world. The world जगत् means the humanity. If the animals are carried away, we cannot complain because they are not meant to come to परा प्रकृति, you don't expect a cow to study वेदान्त, only a human beings have the faculty to study, but they don't the time or the inner leisure to think in those lines:

बालस्तावत् क्रीडासक्तः तरुणस्तावत् तरुणीसक्तः

वृद्धस्तावत् चिन्तासक्तः परमे ब्रह्मणि कोऽपि न सक्तः ॥ भजगोविन्दम् ७ ॥

And therefore मोहितम्, deluded and therefore what happens माम् एभ्यः परम् अव्ययम् न अभिजानाति – they do not come to know, they do not even attempt to know, माम् – Me, Me means, which Me, the higher Me, the superior Me, एभ्यः परम् means गुणेभ्यः परम्, निर्गुणम्, so निर्गुणम् माम्, परा प्रकृति रूपम् माम्, चैतन्य रूपम् माम् and अव्ययम् – which is never subject to change, which is शाश्वतम्, this people don't know. Now the question is what is the harm if I don't know the परा प्रकृति, what is the harm? In fact, I find अपरा प्रकृति is wonderful and it is capable of providing everything to me or for me, so if I can manage my life with the help of अपरा प्रकृति itself, why at all should I waste my precious time in the pursuit of परा प्रकृति? For that शास्त्र answers, you should know that अपरा प्रकृति cannot give some of our basic needs of life, अपरा प्रकृति can never give some of the fundamental needs of our life.

1) The first thing that we need is पूर्णत्वम्: fulfillment, completeness we expect, we have a yearning for that and that पूर्णत्वम् अपरा प्रकृति cannot give because, everything within अपरा प्रकृति is finite in nature, because it is bound by time and space. And if पूर्णत्वम् is not there, शान्ति will not come, fulfillment in life will never come, fulfillment and peace go with पूर्णत्वम् and शास्त्र points out that परा प्रकृति alone has got पूर्णत्वम्, anything within अपरा प्रकृति happens to be finite and therefore there will be constant sense of अपूर्णत्वम्, as long as you hold on to अपरा प्रकृति only. So शान्ति if you need, peace if you need, choice is yours, so if you want peace, पूर्णत्वम्, fulfillment, you have to necessarily go to परा प्रकृति alone, that is No.1.

2) The second thing is everything that obtains in अपरा प्रकृति is in constant flux. It is subject to time and therefore nothing is शाश्वतम् in अपरा प्रकृति, nothing is शाश्वतम् in अपरा प्रकृति and since शाश्वतम् means permanent, nothing is permanent in अपरा प्रकृति. And therefore if you hold on to anything in अपरा प्रकृति, after some time it will give way, it will end, it will disappear and since everything within अपरा प्रकृति will end, it can never give you security, nothing in अपरा प्रकृति can give security because, whatever you hold on to is attacked by time, as शङ्कर said in भजगोविन्दम्,

मा कुरु धन जन यौवन गर्वम् हरति निमेषात्कालः सर्वम् । ॥ ११ ॥

Just because you have money, just because you have people around, just because you occupy a higher post now, don't have गर्वम्, because हरति निमेषात्कालः सर्वम् and therefore one thing a human being wants is something changeless, as an anchor in his life. We want something permanent to hold on to, holding on to something permanent we can play with the impermanent. If you want to take a dip in a gushing river गङ्गा, in हरद्वार you want to take a dip, in fact, it is very enjoyable and interesting, because in a flowing river alone you will have that freshness and it is a cold water and it will refresh you, but if you want to dip in that river and enjoy, nothing wrong in enjoying, the first thing you should look for is what, something to hold on to and that is why on the shore they have kept the chain, iron chain and holding on to iron chain, you can go on dipping, playing and enjoying, do whatever you want, but one thing hold on to chain. And why you are boldly holding on to, because of the faith that, In fact, one of the students, long before I took the students to बद्रीनाथ and that person there also there was facility for bath and chain and he just took the chain and the chain gave way, but thank God there was lot of rocks and he was held there and he was pulled. So in a flowing river you require a non-flowing chain. If you want hundreds of changing relationship, at least you require one changeless relationship. So that all the other relationships continue or not you hope at least you can hold on to one relationship. Therefore human mind requires something permanent and the unfortunate thing is we try to stick to something belonging to अपरा प्रकृति and expect that to be permanent and the tragedy strikes at the most unexpected moment. What we thought is permanent, gives away and suddenly we feel the ground underneath is disappearing. Imagine, that is what happens in mountaineering, all have got tents and it will have been fixed properly, deeply driven, tied the rope and everything is fine, but what happens you know, the whole chunk, that area, that itself will break and fall, what will you do. So therefore we require something शाश्वतम् to hold on to and that शाश्वत वस्तु is called भगवान्, especially the higher aspect, the परा प्रकृति and if we have got that chain called the Lord then the worldly life is enjoyable, you can repeatedly take a dip and you are not going to expect anything to be permanent because you know in अपरा प्रकृति nothing can be expected. But let anything go away, I know, I have got that chain called God and कृष्ण says this is the one unintelligent people miss and therefore terribly suffer. And therefore He says मोहितम् deluded they expect शाश्वतम् from अशाश्वतम्. So this is the trouble with humanity. Therefore what is the solution? Don't hold on to अपरा प्रकृति, hold on to परा प्रकृति, you need not renounce अपरा प्रकृति. Use अपरा प्रकृति is playing around, use परा प्रकृति for security, in chain you cannot dip. Only chains are there, no water, mere परा प्रकृति will be boring, therefore there should be the river, but there should be the chain also, the flowing river should have a chain. Similarly, अपरा प्रकृति is the river, परा प्रकृति is the chain, hold on to that and play with अपरा प्रकृति, it can never threaten you, because it is not unexpected. So the solution he is going to give in the next श्लोक, we will see,

Verse No .14

दैवी ह्येषा गुणमयी मम माया दुरत्यया ।

मामेव ये प्रपद्यन्ते मायामेतां तरन्ति ते ॥ ७-१४॥

दैवी हि एषा गुणमयी मम माया दुरत्यया ।

माम् एव ये प्रपद्यन्ते मायाम् एताम् तरन्ति ते ॥ ७-१४॥

एषा दैवी गुणमयी मम माया हि दुरत्यया । ये माम् एव प्रपद्यन्ते, ते एताम् मायाम् तरन्ति ।

So in this context only I remember an experience I had during that बट्टि-केदार trip only. You have to cross many mountains, they will have cut a path, bridle path and sometimes you see a mountain, the path will go around, but you see that it is a small hill, instead of going the roundabout way, just cross over and climb over and you have saved a lot of distance, but the most dangerous thing is, the hills appear very small but if you try to climb only it is very really big and I was going in front, nobody was around and I thought that before the other people come I will just go like that and I just climbed a little bit and found that it is going on and on and suddenly I slipped and when I slipped I started coming down because it is a slope and I just, naturally, tried to get a hold and therefore I put one leg there and there I found lot of dry leaves had fallen and therefore you keep the leg there, that leg goes and therefore what do you do, you try to keep the other leg, that also goes, because there also dry leaves, whole area is full of dry leaves, then when both legs go forward, what do you do, fall down and you hope that you will have a hold with the hand and you keep the hand down and there also the dry leaves and then you have got only four limbs, two legs and two hands and you just keep down the other hand, there also dry leaf and now I find myself on all the fours on dry leaves and having a beautiful skating or whatever it is and I see that I am coming down helplessly. Why because if you want to stop, you want something to hold which is motionless and thank God, after a distance I found one tree was half broken and the stump of the tree was there and it was deep rooted and till then, maybe a few feet or 10 feet or 15 feet, I was slipping, I just came down. Now I am laughing, but at that time you know what was happening. So down below I see a mountain tribal was shouting, why are climbing such trees, it is dangerous, I know I should not but what will I do now. Therefore what saved me was something which is motionless. In fact, this is संसार, wherever you hold to is to is dry leaves, we think that it is a शाश्वतम्, the only support, remember कृष्ण says, is Me alone. So before tragedy strikes better hold on to Me, that is the solution He gives here, एषा माया – this अपरा प्रकृति which is सगुण, सविकार, सविकल्प अपरा प्रकृति is माया, माया means capable of deluding the human mind, tempting the human mind, taking the mind away from the Lord. People will think why should there be religion, why should there be God, we can manage everything by ourselves, this arrogance comes because things are going nicely now and therefore it is माया, माया means मोहिनी, it deludes, how, turning the mind away from the परा प्रकृति to अपरा प्रकृति and दुरत्यया – it is so powerful a deluding principle that we can never transcend that by our own intellect, it is superhuman, it cannot be ordinarily crossed over, because we don't even know that we are deluded and therefore दुरत्यया means it cannot be easily conquered and why because गुणमयी

– because it has got three गुणs to trap, either तमोगुण will trap or रजोगुण or सत्वगुण, in one trap or the other everybody will get caught. So how these गुणs trap a person, I am not going to the details, because in the 14th chapter it will come. If I tell here itself, you won't come for the 14th chapter, so therefore I will keep it secret. Therefore गुणमयी and where is that अपरा प्रकृति located, दैवी – it belongs to me, the परा प्रकृति, the only one upon which the अपरा प्रकृति is dependent is परा प्रकृति, so it belongs to me, the higher lot. And what is the solution, कृष्ण says the only solution is ये माम् प्रपद्यन्ते – those people who surrender to me, who take shelter in me humbly, without being arrogant, 'I don't require God or religion' without saying that humbly understand that संसार we cannot cross independently we require ईश्वर कृपा and that ईश्वर alone will give गुरु, relay race, ईश्वर will get you to गुरु, गुरु will give you the शास्त्रम्, don't hold on to me but the शास्त्रम्, the teaching, so from teacher to the teaching and the शास्त्र will handover you to YOURSELVES, you will discover that security ultimately in yourselves, but to start with you have to depend upon God alone. And therefore माम् एव ते प्रपद्यन्ते – those who surrender to me, those who practice भक्ति, ते एताम् मायाम् तरन्ति – so they alone will cross over this माया, भक्तs alone will cross over this माया. So therefore what is the solution, भक्ति is the solution, which कृष्ण calls here प्रपत्तिः, otherwise शरणागति, all these words are synonymous, भक्ति, प्रपत्तिः or शरणागतिः. Then naturally the next question will be: what exactly is भक्ति and this कृष्ण himself will clarify later, there we will see the details, भक्ति has to go through three stages, कृष्ण will point out:

- 1) In the initial level of भक्ति, I use the Lord as a means for worldly ends, for अर्थ, काम, धर्म, etc., this is the lowest form of भक्ति called मन्द भक्ति, where God is the means, worldly things are the end.
- 2) Then gradually that भक्ति has to evolve and become more and more mature and मन्द भक्ति should give way of मध्यम भक्ति, in which the Lord is no more a means for worldly end, but God is the end-in-itself, because I have discovered the limitations of all other things, that is when a person goes from world-dependence to God-dependence, because I know that nothing in the world is dependable, when I discover that, God becomes the goal of my life, which is called मध्यम भक्ति.

3) And then comes the final level of भक्ति, उत्तम भक्ति, where God is neither the means nor the end, the God is I myself, because means is also different from me, end is also different from me, God is neither the means nor the end. Ultimately

ईश्वरः सर्वभूतानाम् हृत्-देशे अर्जुन तिष्ठति । ॥ १८-६१॥

The real Lord that you are seeking is never away from you. That is I myself.

These are the three levels of भक्ति, which one has to go through and only when a person comes to उत्तम भक्ति, one will get liberation or total freedom. So we have to start with मन्द भक्ति, graduate to मध्यम भक्ति and culminate in उत्तम भक्ति, in उत्तम भक्ति, one gets liberation. It is that भक्ति that is pointed out here.

Verse No .15

न मां दुष्कृतिनो मूढाः प्रपद्यन्ते नराधमाः ।

माययापहतज्ञाना आसुरं भावमाश्रिताः ॥ ७-१५॥

न माम् दुष्कृतिनः मूढाः प्रपद्यन्ते नर-अधमाः ।

मायया अपहत-ज्ञानाः आसुरम् भावम् आश्रिताः ॥ ७-१५॥

मायया अपहत-ज्ञानाः आसुरम् भावम् आश्रिताः दुष्कृतिनः मूढाः नर-अधमाः माम् न प्रपद्यन्ते ।

So here points out that the many people do not take recourse to the भक्ति साधन because they don't have the पुण्यम्. Even to come to भक्ति a person require a पूर्वजन्म पुण्यम्. कथम् अकृत पुण्यः प्रभवति, in सौन्दर्य लहरि शङ्कराचार्य says अकृतपुण्यः कथम् प्रभवति, if पुण्यम् is not there, first thing he will not be born in a culture which talks about मोक्ष. He will be born in a materialistic culture, where the whole life is अर्थ-काम प्रधान, therefore I should have sufficient पुण्यम् to be born, first to be born as a human being and there in a culture which talks about four पुरुषार्थs, most of the culture talk about only two, अर्थ and काम and thereafter above that to speak of धर्म and then मोक्ष and not only that I should get interested in that,

मनुष्यत्वम् मुमुक्षुत्वम् महापुरुषसंश्रयः ॥ विवेकचूडामणि ३ ॥

All these things I require पुण्यम्, कृष्ण says many people don't have that पुण्यम् to come to this. Therefore कृष्ण says दुष्कृतिनः, there are many who don't have the पुण्यम्, they have sufficient पुण्यम् to be born as a human being but not sufficient पुण्यम् to come to भगवान् or the शास्त्र. Therefore दुष्कृतिनः means पापिनः, पापवन्तः and because of that, what do they do, मायया अपहृत-ज्ञानाः – they are deluded by the माया, which keeps them busy in the pursuit of अर्थ and काम, money and entertainment or else how do you account for so many channels in the TV. And 24 hours movie, movie channel alone, this channel alone, that channel alone, we can all the time spend in front of TV, entertainment, if not then office, either earn or entertain yourselves. This is the trick of माया, माया keeps you busy and it will never allow you to come near any महात्मा, anywhere a शास्त्र, सत्सङ्ग, or lectures like this, there will be no interest at all, why, because it is the glory of the माया, मायया अपहृत-ज्ञानाः, ज्ञान means discrimination, their discriminative power is robbed away by माया, माया means अपरा प्रकृति. If they had discrimination, a little bit discrimination, they can easily discern that all these things are perishable, because he has seen many people having money and losing everything, having position and losing everything, having people and being deserted by them, constantly he is seeing impermanence, but he doesn't apply that in the case of his life, why, that is the job of the माया. It will all come for them and not for me. Until he gets some bitter experience he never turns his mind, that is the job of माया, मायया अपहृत-ज्ञानाः. And therefore only मूढाः – utterly deluded, delusion is taking the impermanent to be permanent, अनित्यम् नित्यत्वेन भावयति अतस्मिन् तत् बुद्धिः अध्यासः. This is called शोभना अध्यासः in शास्त्र, शोभना अध्यासः means what? Superimposition of the wrong things on the object. Therefore मूढाः. Knowing that we will be deluded भगवान् has given गुरुs and शास्त्रs. He knows we will be caught, therefore भगवान् has kept गुरुs and शास्त्रs, in the creation in the world,

सह-यज्ञाः प्रजाः सृष्ट्वा पुरा उवाच प्रजापतिः । ॥ ३-१०॥

Like a manual coming along with the gadget, what to do and what not to do, do's and don'ts with regard to various instruments. We have got gas in the house, how to carefully handle, otherwise it is dangerous, Similarly, गुरुs and शास्त्रs are there, but this person will be arrogant, अविद्यायामन्तरे वर्तमानाः स्वयम् धीराः पण्डितं मन्यमानाः। ॥ मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-२-८ ॥

मुण्डकोपनिषत् describes this बृहस्पतिः, they do not know anything, but they think they know everything, so why should I approach anyone, why should I study the scriptures, therefore they don't take the help available for them, help in the form of गुरुs and शास्त्रs. And therefore they become नर-अधमाः, नर-अधमाः means the meanest people, the lowliest among the human being and why they are नर-अधमाः, this human life can purchase or accomplish the highest goal of मोक्ष, but they miss that highest goal and use that precious human life for accomplishing ordinary thing, like using the sandalwood as fuel. Do anyone use sandalwood as fuel? Similarly, this wonderful human life, which can get the highest, they use for getting the lowest of thing, therefore they are नर-अधमाः, indiscriminate people and not only that, कृष्ण says, आसुरम् भावम् आश्रिताः, they get into problems for themselves as well as others, because when I use my life for procuring अर्थ and काम, I will find that any amount I get I will not be satisfied, न वितेन तर्पणीयो मनुष्यः ॥ कठोपनिषत् १-१-२७ ॥

we saw in कठोपनिषत्, any amount we get we will not get satisfied and therefore there is always an ambition, a desire for more and a time will come when we cannot fulfill our desires by legitimate earning. Because our earning increases in a particular proportion, it increases or decreases, let us assume, that there is a monthly increment or yearly increment, but the increase of desire is not proportional, therefore a time will come when we clearly know that earning by right means and fulfilling our desires will not work and once we begin to see that fact and the pressure of desire is so much and therefore what we will do, some adjustment, some here and there, cutting corners, compromise and initially it pricks because we have a conscience and if we do a thing for some time that conscience becomes blunt and blunt and blunt and we don't mind doing anything for the sake of money. Otherwise see the match fixing, what do you need more, why should these cricketers fix the match when their earning is so much, in fact, so much earning that they have got that for three generations or five generations and adored by the society, but there afterwards never possible to recover also, life is gone, that South African captain imagine, his life is totally gone, so much earning, in India I don't know what is the earning amount they get, I think in India also they get a lot of money, advertisement money, and this money and that money, but any amount and then you begin to compromise and therefore once life becomes अर्थ-काम प्रधान, अधर्म will start. And कृष्ण calls it आसुरीक स्वभाव, आसुरम् भावम् आश्रिताः, they will gradually compromise with धर्म.

महा-अशनः महा-पाप्मा विद्धि एनम् इह वैरिणम् ॥ ३-३७॥

All these problems will come and therefore they are the most unfortunate people, whereas there are some people who are पुण्यवान्, they are talked about in the next verse.

Verse No .16

चतुर्विधा भजन्ते मां जनाः सुकृतिनोऽर्जुन ।

आर्तो जिज्ञासुरर्थार्थी ज्ञानी च भरतर्षभ ॥ ७-१६॥

चतुः-विधाः भजन्ते माम् जनाः सुकृतिनः अर्जुन ।

आर्तः जिज्ञासुः अर्थार्थी ज्ञानी च भरतर्षभ ॥ ७-१६॥

हे भरतर्षभ! अर्जुन! आर्तः, जिज्ञासुः, अर्थार्थी, ज्ञानी च (इति) चतुः-विधाः सुकृतिनः जनाः माम् भजन्ते ।

Whereas there are some other people who have got some पुण्यम्. So हे अर्जुन! जनाः सुकृतिनः, as opposed to दुष्कृतिनः in the previous verse, दुष्कृति are अभक्तः, सुकृतिनः are भक्तः and these भक्तः can be classified into four types, चतुर्विधा, based on their motive, based on their purpose, we can classify all the devotees into four types, हे अर्जुन! चतुर्विधा and what are those four types,

1) आर्तः, crisis भक्तः, OK. Crisis भक्तः means what: when there is a crisis, not for the Lord, when there is a crisis for them, suddenly devotion comes from nowhere. So Oh Lord somehow remove my stomach pain, somehow take me out of this mess, then if you do that and immediately a contract, this is called contract भक्ति, business भक्ति, सकाम भक्ति, commercial भक्ति, this is how भक्ति starts. कृष्ण calls them आर्तः – a person in distress, in difficulty and this starts from childhood itself, whenever we have a tough subject, examination and we have not studied properly, or we have studied only certain chapters, we want the questions to come from only those chapters, because we have mugged up only those three lessons and teachers also say that there will not be question from these chapters. So that is आर्तः, examination-आर्ति it is called, those days you find special नमस्कार, temple visit, all those things are there and we have got so many examples in the पुराण also,

आर्तत्राणपरायणः सः भगवान् नारायणो मे गतिः ॥

वात्सल्यादभयप्रदानसमयादार्तिनिर्वापणा

दौदार्यादयशोषणादगणितश्रेयःपदप्रापणात् ।

सेव्यः श्रीपतिरेव सर्वजगतामेकान्ततः साक्षीणः

प्रह्लादश्च विभीषणश्च करिण्ड पाञ्चाल्यहल्या ध्रुवः ॥ मुकुन्दमालास्तोत्रम् १६ ॥

There are six examples in our शास्त्रs to show that the Lord will rescue a person when he is in distress, if that person surrenders to the Lord. Therefore Lord has a special title, आर्तत्राण परायणः नारायणः, so crisis-management Lord and who are the examples, विभीषण, प्रह्लाद, ध्रुवः, पाञ्चाली, अहल्या, all these examples are there, he is भक्त No.1.

2) The second one अर्थार्थी, I am the changing the order for convenience, अर्थार्थी, this person is not crisis-भक्त, he doesn't want a crisis for भक्ति, whenever he starts something, a business, or something or the other and he wants to get profit or benefit then he goes to the Lord. So the first one is दुःख निवृत्त्यर्थम्, the second one is सुख प्रप्त्यर्थम्, one is for removal of a problem, another is for getting something, either for getting or getting rid, so is called अर्थार्थी, so when the business starts, he does special पूजा and all and there is a big photo of लक्ष्मीदेवी and all, सरस्वती will not come near, big लक्ष्मीदेवी and there is a special लक्ष्मीदेवी with a huge pot, pot full of gold coins and then those are falling down, what happens if she is keeping it, therefore it is falling down and then right underneath his table is there, so the gold coins साक्षात् from the लक्ष्मी's hands falls on his table. This is another type of भक्ति, it is called अर्थ अर्थी भक्ति, अर्थी means desirer, अर्थ means wealth, one who is desirous of wealth, profit, position, etc. And both of them together we call मन्द भक्ति, both these people have got भक्ति, which we call as मन्द भक्ति or सकाम भक्ति, because this भक्त is not interested in God, he is only using God for getting what he is interested in. So God is not an end for him, God is only a means and you love the means more or end more, think of! You love the means more or end more, you love the end only more than the means. Why, because one the end is accomplished, means is often given up also. If there is an alternative means we will give up this also. Therefore God is a give-upable (I don't know whether such word is there), So God is a means.

3) Then comes the third type of भक्त, जिज्ञासुः, the one who is interested in knowing more about God and attaining the God himself. So जिज्ञासुः भक्त is a person for whom God is the goal itself, not a means, therefore dearer, that is why we call it मध्यम भक्ति, otherwise called निष्काम भक्ति. So he doesn't ask for this and that, he says Oh Lord I want you and nothing else and for getting you I am ready to sacrifice everything else also. This is the जिज्ञासुः.

4) And the fourth and final variety is our hero, ज्ञानी, ज्ञानि means the भक्त who has discovered that the Lord is never away from him, who has accomplished the Lord and he is उत्तम भक्तः, the highest भक्तः, for whom God is neither साधनम् nor साध्यम्, साधनम् means the means, साध्यम् means the end. For him God is सिद्धः, which means it is already accomplished, सिद्धः means I myself. More in the next class.

After dealing with ईश्वर स्वरूपम् consisting of परा and अपरा प्रकृति in the initial part of this chapter, कृष्ण pointed out the cause of संसार or human problems in the 13th verse and the cause that He pointed out is misplaced searching on the part of the human being. Seeking security from the insecure objects of the world, seeking permanence from the impermanent objects of the world, seeking fulfillment from the finite objects of the world, seeking happiness from the sorrowful or sorrow giving objects of the world, this misplaced seeking is the cause of misery. And since our expectations are wrong-expectations and therefore they are never fulfilled in life, and leading to depression and sorrow and once I have diagnosed this problem then I will go in the right direction. अपरा प्रकृति cannot give security and fulfillment and permanence, परा प्रकृति alone can give security and permanence. Having discussed the संसार कारणम् in the 13th verse, कृष्ण started discussing the solution from the 14th verse which runs up to verse no.19. 14 to 19 is संसार निवृत्ति कारणम्. So what is the remedy for the problem of संसार and this remedy कृष्ण calls ईश्वर प्रपत्तिः, ईश्वर शरणागति, or ईश्वर भक्तिः, devotion to Lord कृष्ण presents as the solution. Naturally the next question will be what exactly is भक्ति and therefore he begins the topic of भक्ति and starts elaborating on the topic and also dealing with various stages of भक्ति. First कृष्ण pointed out that many people do not turn to भक्ति because they don't have sufficient पुण्यम् for that and therefore they remain नास्तिकाs, they don't believe in God and therefore they turn away, but there are some blessed ones and because of their पुण्यम्, they turn towards God. Even though they don't know what exactly is the nature of God, until we know the real nature of God scriptures temporarily present various forms of God for our worship. Just as in Mathematics until we find an answer to a problem, we say suppose it is X. X only represents the solution and keeping that X, you start working and at the end, you find out X is equal to so and so. Similarly, we have got personal gods or formed gods or इष्ट देवता which are like the X of mathematics, until I know what exactly is God, I hold on to that ईश्वर. And then कृष्ण pointed out that those people who surrendered to the Lord or God in the form of this इष्ट देवता can be classified into four types:

आर्तः जिज्ञासुः अर्थार्थी ज्ञानी च भरतर्षभ ॥ ७-१६॥

In verse no.16 which we saw in the last class, these devotees can be classified into four and what are those four varieties:

1) आर्तः, is the first variety who uses the Lord only in crisis, In fact, he requires a problem to be a devotee. As कुन्ती asked, Oh Lord give me continuous problem so that I will not forget, this is called आर्तः भक्ति, we can say दुःख निवृत्त्यर्थम् भक्ति and generally people start with this devotion only, as I said, as children we have got भक्ति whenever some problem comes, the mother introduces and as I said especially before tougher examination there is real भक्ति and there is nothing wrong and that is why many people consider religion is only for weaker people. There is a conception like that. Because generally we go to the Lord when we have a crisis and we are not confident enough of solving that, we go to some temple or some स्वामि or somebody or the other, therefore this is the majority, you go to any temple, they all have got a petition, like the prime minister they have petitions, petitions are there, because we generally see आर्त भक्ति prevalent, many people think that भक्ति is only for weak people because that is how it begins.

2) And later, the आर्त भक्ति gets promoted to अर्थार्थी भक्ति, not only for solving the problem, but for my progress in life, for my material accomplishments also I use the भक्ति, he is called अर्थार्थी.

3) And then the third type is जिज्ञासुः भक्त, the one who considers that the Lord himself is the end, while आर्त and अर्थार्थी uses the Lord as a means for worldly ends, जिज्ञासुः is the only one who considers the Lord not as means, but as an end-in-itself.

4) And a ज्ञानि is one for whom God is neither a means nor an end, but God is I myself, the traveler, wherein the seeker becomes identical with the sought.

Now here कृष्ण has presented these four as four types of people or four types of भक्तस, we can read the very same verse from another angle also, not as four types of भक्तस but four stages of भक्ति in one and the same person. So instead of taking as four different types of भक्तस, we can say one and the same person goes through these four stages of भक्ति. Initially I start my भक्ति as an आर्तः and अर्थार्थी, for दुःख निवृत्ति and सुख प्राप्ति and as I said, Lord is the means and these material ends are the goals. Then once I use the Lord and भक्ति for material ends, after some time I become more mature and the maturity is I understand that the worldly things cannot give me security, fulfillment and happiness and once I have understood the limitations of the world, I continue to be a भक्त, but I am no more सकाम भक्त but I become a निष्काम भक्त, where my goal becomes God. So this is my own evolution in the भक्ति ladder. And a जिज्ञासुः भक्त is one who is really informed to a great extent. For a जिज्ञासुः भक्त, certain factors are very clear, the first thing is:

➤ For him one thing is very clear, God alone can give me security and happiness, this is doubtless for him.

➤ Then the second factor that is very clear is God can be accomplished only in terms of ज्ञानम्, accomplishing God is not a physical event, it is not a travel in time, accomplishment of God is in terms of knowledge. Because if God is all-pervading, I don't have to travel for reaching the all-pervading God. Previously I thought God is a person, sitting in वैकुण्ठ or कैलास, but I have got sufficient knowledge that God is omnipresent, why should I travel to reach the omnipresent

God and therefore what I require is not a physical journey, but what I require is a discovery of the Lord who is here and now and this discovery alone is called accomplishment, therefore ईश्वर प्राप्ति is equal to ईश्वर ज्ञान प्राप्ति:. Previously I said I want God, now I say I want knowledge of God and that is why this person is called जिज्ञासुः, जिज्ञासुः means desirer of the knowledge of God.

➤ And then he knows another important factor, जिज्ञासुः भक्त is a very evolved भक्त, so all these steps remember. So he knows I want God alone, then he knows I want God knowledge alone, then he also knows that ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is possible only in a purified mind and therefore he says for ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, I want purity of mind. Therefore I want God, for that purpose I want knowledge of God, for that purpose I want purity of mind and therefore जिज्ञासुः भक्त continues to be a religious person, but he uses religion for purity of mind and this conversion is conversion of a religious person into a spiritually religious person. What is the difference between a religious person and spiritual person, a doubt may come, because we have two types of religious people, materialistic religious people and spiritual religious people. आर्तः भक्त and अर्थार्थी भक्त, these two people are religious alright, but they are materialistically religious, because they use religion for materialistic purpose, whereas जिज्ञासुः भक्त is also a religious person, but he uses religion for what? Oh Lord, I should get purity of mind, every पूजा he does, every नमस्कार he does, every temple he visits, he utilizes this for purity. Purity is meant for what, ज्ञानम्, ज्ञानम् is meant for what, attainment of God, attainment of God is meant for what, for getting पूर्णत्वम् and security. And therefore जिज्ञासुः भक्त is a कर्मयोगि, कर्मयोगि means a spiritually religious person, whereas कर्मि is one who is materially religious person. And this जिज्ञासुः भक्त is initially a कर्मयोगि, because he wants purity of mind and this जिज्ञासुः भक्त becomes later ज्ञानयोगि for getting ज्ञानम्. Therefore कर्मयोगि is जिज्ञासुः भक्त, ज्ञानयोगि is जिज्ञासुः भक्त, he is a spiritually religious person, he wants only ईश्वर ज्ञानम् and ईश्वर प्राप्ति, this is the third stage and therefore जिज्ञासुः भक्त's travel is very long, कर्मयोग for purification is not for a day or two but for months and years, he is a कर्मयोगि, जिज्ञासुः भक्त and after purification he has to go through ज्ञानयोग, ज्ञानयोग means what? The study of scriptures, for what purpose, for gaining ईश्वर ज्ञानम् and that also is elaborate life, just जिज्ञासुः भक्त has to travel a lot.

➤ And finally he gets converted into what: a ज्ञानि भक्तः. Having successfully completed कर्मयोग and ज्ञानयोग, जिज्ञासुः भक्त gets converted into a ज्ञानि भक्त, he has discovered the Lord and what is the discovery of the Lord, the Lord is never away from me. And therefore since the Lord is never away from me, द्वैत भक्ति gets converted into अद्वैत भक्ति. I am never away from the Lord, the Lord is never away from me. So thus आर्तः, जिज्ञासुः, अर्थार्थी, ज्ञानि, these four can be understood as the four levels of भक्ति, which everyone has to go through. And since everyone has to go through these four levels, we need not feel bad if we are आर्तः भक्त, because कृष्ण accepts that everyone has to go through these four levels. Why should feel bad if I am an आर्तः भक्त, people ask 'स्वामिजि I am a गीता student. Can I go to the temple and pray for removal of some diseases,' nothing wrong, you can go to temple and you can also have a prayer, if this disease goes away I will do तुलाभारम्, अङ्गप्रदक्षिणम्, you need not feel any inferiority complex, you can happily be an आर्तः भक्त, but what कृष्ण wants is don't be a permanently a आर्तः भक्त, gradually. You can go to the school, nothing wrong in it, but what is wrong is sitting there itself. That is what is the problem, entering आर्तः भक्ति is not a problem, but permanently sticking to आर्तः भक्ति is a problem and gradually become अर्थार्थी भक्त, gradually become जिज्ञासु भक्त, gradually become a ज्ञानि भक्त and our scriptures are so generous. You can take even many जन्मs for that. In this whole जन्म you can be a आर्तः भक्त, nothing wrong, at least in the next जन्म become अर्थार्थी भक्त, at least try to finish in four जन्मs. So therefore never feel bad to ask something to the Lord, happily ask, but your aim should be transcending one level to another. Continuing;

Verse No .17

तेषां ज्ञानी नित्ययुक्त एकभक्तिर्विशिष्यते ।

प्रियो हि ज्ञानिनोऽत्यर्थमहं स च मम प्रियः ॥ ७-१७॥

तेषाम् ज्ञानी नित्य-युक्तः एक-भक्तिः विशिष्यते ।

प्रियः हि ज्ञानिनः अत्यर्थम् अहम् सः च मम प्रियः ॥ ७-१७॥

तेषाम् नित्य-युक्तः एक-भक्तिः ज्ञानी विशिष्यते । अहम् हि ज्ञानिनः अत्यर्थम् प्रियः (अस्मि), सः (ज्ञानी) च मम प्रियः (अस्ति)।

So कृष्ण has talked about four types of भक्त or to put it in another languages, four levels of भक्ति. Once there are four types and four levels, naturally our mind will compare. The human intellect's job is what, comparison, anything you take you compare, this is human nature. Therefore the question will be among the four types of भक्तs, who is the greatest or among the four levels of भक्तिs which is the highest. And now कृष्ण says तेषाम् ज्ञानि विशिष्यते – among the four types of भक्तs or four levels of भक्तिs, ज्ञानि भक्ति or ज्ञानि भक्त is विशिष्यते, he is the greatest one, he alone excels all others. So this is a very important thing that we have to note because this श्लोक removes many misconceptions. First misconception is what, people think that I can follow भक्तियोगः without coming to ज्ञानम्, this is the one of the biggest misconception. They say ज्ञानम् is the most difficult thing, ज्ञानयोग is the driest साधन and in कलियुग ज्ञानयोग is not possible and therefore I will come comfortably follow भक्ति. Here कृष्ण removes that idea, if you have to follow भक्तियोगः you have to ultimately come to ज्ञानम्. So a भक्ति योगि cannot escape from ज्ञानम्, he has to come to ज्ञानम्. Initially he can confine to कर्मयोग alright, but having attained the purity he will have to come to ज्ञानम्. And coming to ज्ञानम् means what? What do you mean by coming to ज्ञानम्, people think coming to ज्ञानम् means meditation, another misconception, coming to ज्ञानम् does not mean meditation because in meditation you can reproduce only what you already know, you can go on repeating that you already know, how can you know something new through meditation and therefore what is ज्ञानयोग, कृष्ण has already said in the 4th chapter.

ज्ञानयोग means systematic study of scriptures under the guidance of a competent आचार्य, coming to ज्ञानयोग means systematic study of scriptures, what types of scriptures? Those scriptures which deal with the lower as well as higher nature of God. Not only the सगुण ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, we should study that scripture which deals with the निर्गुण स्वरूपम् also. So many people talk about भागवतम्. In fact, भागवतम् is a wonderful scripture which deals with both सगुण कृष्ण and निर्गुण कृष्ण but the problem is they filter the निर्गुण portion. They will talk about अजामितोपाख्यानम्, जडभरतोपाख्यानम्, all the उपाख्यानम्s are there, the story part is beautifully described and when there is the higher nature, quietly they skip, like the school teachers leaving certain portion, saying this will not come in examination and if at all it comes, leave it using your choice and write the simple ones, you have got a choice, you can leave it out. No. You have to study both the सगुण and निर्गुण, अपरा and परा and therefore coming to ज्ञानम् means systematic study of scriptures. And also this removes another misconception that whoever is a ज्ञानि, he cannot have भक्ति, this is the biggest misconception. If ज्ञानम् comes भक्ति goes away. Some people complain also, स्वामिजि after studying वेदान्त my भक्ति is going. If the भक्ति going then we are only studying वेदान्त but not understanding, really if it is understood भक्ति will never go away, in fact, कृष्ण asserts that a ज्ञानि alone is the greatest भक्त and therefore this is very important, तेषाम् – among all forms of devotees, ज्ञानि विशिष्यते, वेदान्त ज्ञानि, अद्वैत ज्ञानि, परा प्रकृति ज्ञानि, निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानि विशिष्यते and why does he excel, the reason is given, नित्य-युक्तः – because he is ever established in my nature, he is ever steadfast. Because in द्वैत भक्ति, God is subject to arrival and departure, he comes, gives दर्शनम्, blesses and goes away. Therefore my association with the Lord is subject to arrival and departure, whereas in this भक्ति, the Lord is never away from me, therefore I am also never away from God. Therefore he is नित्य युक्तः, ईश्वर निष्ठा and एक भक्तिः – he is एक भक्तः means अद्वैत भक्तः, अभेद भक्तिः he has got. So here also a beautiful aspect we have to remember. So about love, there is a discussion in बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत्. Which one a human being loves most? There is a discussion, which one a human being loves most and then the उपनिषत् comes to the conclusion, there is only one thing everyone loves the most. And you know what is that one thing, you know what is that one thing, people will say that it is husband, wife, or the only child, or dear mother, or dear father, he will enumerate everything, the उपनिषत् clearly says,

न वा अरे पत्युः कामाय पतिः प्रियो भवति आत्मनस्तु कामाय पतिः प्रियो भवति ।

न वा अरे जायायै कामाय जाया प्रिया भवति आत्मनस्तु कामाय जाया प्रिया भवति ॥ बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत् २-४-७ ॥

No one loves anyone, everyone loves oneself only, is a very disturbing fact, because we were thinking that all our family members. And that is why we also, especially from Western things that is coming, regularly say that I love you, why you have to say regularly I love you, because always fear, doubtful and now there are articles coming, how to keep your husband with you all the time, how to keep your wife with you all the time. All the time there is a fear that he or she may leave me and go, why because everybody is interested in one's own happiness only, as long as those external factors are conducive we love that, once they are not conducive, like a hot potato, everything is rejected; this is truth, the bitterest truth.

यावत् वित्तोपार्जनं सक्तः तावन्नित्यं परिवारो रक्तः ।

पश्चाज्जीवति जर्जरं देहे वार्ताम् कोऽपि न पृच्छति गेहे ॥ भजगोविन्दम् ७ ॥

As long as I am a productive earning member I have got some extra respect. Whether you need coffee, tea, etc., once retired you attend yourselves. So that is why many people in old age feel rejected, just they wonder, I was respected until now, I think respect is coming down. Therefore the fact is everybody loves oneself, nobody loves anything else, even if anything else is loved it is only conditional love and what is the condition, that object of love should be favorable to me. Its favorability is the condition, the moment it becomes unfavorable, I try to get out. If I cannot get out, I pray, somehow I should get out. And the शास्त्र goes one step further, even love of God, when God is an object other than You, even love of God is conditional. And when a भक्त suffers, his भक्ति becomes you know wavery, today something was telling me, it is a lady, स्वामिजि I had so much devotion and I faced problem after problem so I was wondering what is the use of devotion, whether God is there or not, I got doubt, therefore I dropped going to temples, I threw away all my photos. So that means what I want to love God as long as he or she is favorable to me and therefore Self-love is the highest object-love is conditional, therefore inferior. Now therefore the उपनिषत् says what a beautiful logic you see, if love towards God must be the highest, if love towards God must be the highest, it is possible only under one condition, can you guess, if love towards God must be the highest, it is possible only under one condition, I have given you the clue, Self-love is the highest I have given. If love towards God must be highest, the Lord should not be away from or different from me. When I and God become identical, God love be equal to Self-love and since Self-love is the highest, God love will be the highest and for a ज्ञानि, God and self have become one and therefore for a ज्ञानि alone, God love is equal to Self-love and therefore it is the highest love, एक-भक्तिः विशिष्यते. A beautiful topic, worth meditating upon. It is based on the बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत् approach, it is a beautiful portion, so एक-भक्तिः विशिष्यते. And भगवान् says, प्रियः हि ज्ञानिनः अत्यर्थम् – so a ज्ञानि is the greatest devotee because for a ज्ञानि I am the dearest one and why for a ज्ञानि I am the dearest, can you see the logic, for a ज्ञानि, also he is the dearest one, but since a ज्ञानि has identified Myself with him, I become dearest to him. Therefore अहम् प्रियतमः and not only that, अहम् सः च मम प्रियः and मम सः प्रियः, so अहम् ज्ञानिनः अत्यर्थम् प्रियः and सः मम अत्यर्थम् प्रियः. I also love a ज्ञानि as the closest to me, so a ज्ञानि is dearest to me, I am dearest to a ज्ञानि, because both have become identical. Continuing;

Verse No .18

उदाराः सर्वे एवैते ज्ञानी त्वात्मैव मे मतम् ।

आस्थितः स हि युक्तात्मा मामेवानुत्तमां गतिम् ॥ ७-१८॥

उदाराः सर्वे एव एते ज्ञानी तु आत्मा एव मे मतम् ।

आस्थितः सः हि युक्त-आत्मा माम् एव अनुत्तमाम् गतिम् ॥ ७-१८॥

एते सर्वे एव उदाराः (सन्ति), ज्ञानी तु (मम) आत्मा एव (अस्ति इति) मे मतम् । सः हि युक्त-आत्मा अनुत्तमाम् गतिम् माम् एव आस्थितः (अस्ति)।

So when कृष्ण mentioned this, the other types of devotees may feel bad. भगवान् has voted for the ज्ञानि and therefore भगवान् doesn't like us, we may feel, therefore कृष्ण says, don't worry, I love all devotes, एते सर्वे एव उदाराः – all devotees are indeed great, whether it is आर्तः, अर्थार्थी, जिज्ञासु or ज्ञानि, all are great devotees only but difference is ज्ञानी तु आत्मा एव मे मतम् – ज्ञानि happens to be identical with me, in the case of other भक्त's, भक्त and God are different and therefore love towards God is conditional only, invariably conditioned. Therefore ज्ञानी तु आत्मा एव मे मतम्, this is a महावाक्य श्लोक, where the ऐक्यम्, oneness between ज्ञानि and भगवान् is revealed. And what is the greatness of this person? सः हि युक्त-आत्मा – and he is the one who has got a committed mind and integrated mind, which is very clear about the goal of life, viz., Liberation or मोक्ष. Therefore he is a person of commitment, he is a person for whom the destination is very clear and direction is माम् अनुत्तमाम् गतिम् आस्थितः – he has come to the highest goal of life, which is myself, so माम् आस्थितः, he has come to the highest goal of life, गतिः means goal, अनुत्तमाम् means the highest. कृष्ण will explain this later, in the case of आर्तः भक्त, अर्थार्थी भक्त etc., they have different goals alright, but those goals are inferior and finite goals, therefore by the grace of Lord they may get. In fact, in भागवतम् there is a beautiful story, a couple who do not have children, they pray to a ऋषि that somehow we want a child only, we don't want anything, including मोक्ष. Therefore now I want only a child and especially in a culture where the look down upon a women if she doesn't have a child. Socially, she faces a lot of problems and therefore this lady prays for a child and the ऋषि says OK, I have given and then the ऋषि goes away and after some time something happens and the child dies; where birth is there, death also can happen. We do read many cases where the child dies and then this couple cries and the same ऋषि comes and then the ऋषि gives a special boon that you can talk to your child who has gone to another लोक and then the couple they address the child, we are your parents, you are our child and the child asks the question, which parent you are talking about, because you can talk about a particular parent only from the standpoint of a particular body, but you know that in many जन्मs we had many bodies and with regard to each body we had parents and since the child has dropped the body, so the relationship is broken. Then only they recognized that all these accomplishments are only relative.

ऋणानुबन्धरूपेण पशुपत्तिस्तुतालयः । ऋणक्षये क्षयम् यान्ति तत्र का परिदेवना ॥ सुभाषित ॥

Even the best relationship is subject to arrival and departure, then they ask for the wisdom and they are given the knowledge. Therefore any other gain in the world is inferior only which means subject to end, whereas अहम्, कृष्ण tells that Lord is not a relative accomplishment, this is the highest one. Continuing;

Verse No .19

बहूनां जन्मनामन्ते ज्ञानवान्मां प्रपद्यते ।

वासुदेवः सर्वमिति स महात्मा सुदुर्लभः ॥ ७-१९॥

बहूनाम् जन्मनाम् अन्ते ज्ञानवान् माम् प्रपद्यते ।

वासुदेवः सर्वम् इति सः महात्मा सुदुर्लभः ॥ ७-१९॥

ज्ञानवान् बहूनाम् जन्मनाम् अन्ते 'वासुदेवः सर्वम्' इति (अनुभूय) माम् प्रपद्यते । सः महात्मा सुदुर्लभः ।

So here कृष्ण himself admits that these four stages of भक्ति a person cannot go through in one जन्म itself. It takes time, it takes maturity and therefore बहूनाम् जन्मनाम् अन्ते, initially when I am suffering from problems, imagine, water is not there and भगवान् comes and asks, do you want water or Me, what will we say, we will say anyway You are eternal, anytime I can take you, wait, this is urgent, therefore I will see you later, give me water now. Therefore, when we have got pains and problems our first aim is removal, that is why स्वामि विवेकानन्द or somebody said, in front of a hungry person even God has to come with only bread, not with गीता, उपनिषद्, साधन चतुष्टय सम्पन्न अधिकारि, etc., who wants साधनम् or चतुष्टयम्, I am hungry. Therefore when there are problems in life, first we will try to get rid of that only, it is natural and thereafter gradually we begin to use भक्ति for various worldly accomplishments. When we have got so many desires, how can I talk about मोक्ष. So काम is important, that is why we have accepted काम पुरुषार्थ also. In fact, the entire वेदपूर्व भाग is nothing but using भक्ति to fulfill your worldly desires. You use भक्ति for that, there is no पापम् is सकाम भक्ति and then having accomplished so many things, we get bored, diminishing returns as they say. We have seen everything स्वामिजि, I have understood, the world is only that much, if you ask his age, he says 93. So therefore I have understood everything that the world is this much only at 93 years old, doesn't matter, at least now some realization took place, better luck next birth. And there afterwards I want मोक्ष but I don't know, there is again struggle and therefore having gone through several जन्मs. Then you will get a doubt? स्वामिजि that means I have to go through several जन्मs now? कृष्ण has said several जन्मs, but he didn't say beginning from when. So why do you take it as beginning from this जन्म, you can assume that you have already started several जन्मs before and this the last. You can take it anyway. So don't be pessimistic. So therefore, बहूनाम् जन्मनाम् अन्ते – at the end of many जन्मs alone one will begin to value मोक्ष, valuing मोक्ष is needed for maturity, मनुष्यत्वम्, मुमुक्षुत्वम्. And therefore at the end of many जन्मs, ज्ञानवान् भवति – a person becomes a ज्ञानि, that is the 4th level of भक्ति he comes to and how he become ज्ञानवान्.

And माम् प्रपद्यते – and he attain Me, he becomes one with Me, he merges into Me or the gap between him and me is removed and what is his ज्ञानम्, he attains ज्ञानम् alright, what is the type of ज्ञानम्, वासुदेवः सर्वम् – so वासुदेवः alone is everything. So वासुदेव is everything means what? Who is वासुदेव? Because वासुदेव we understand generally as what, Mr. V. कृष्ण, son of वसुदेव. So वासुदेवः सर्वम् does it mean personal God कृष्ण is everything? It is logically impossible. If you are talking about a personal God कृष्ण, you know that personal God is finite in nature, spatially finite, time-wise finite, जन्म अष्टमि beginning is there and also स्वर्गारोहण end is there and Similarly, physically also personal god is limited and that is why we got away from गोपी and again he went to गोपीs, therefore personal कृष्ण cannot be everything and therefore, the आचार्यs give a different meaning to the word वासुदेव. Here वासुदेव does not refer to the finite personal God, but the infinite ब्रह्मन्, wherein वासुः means सत्-रूपम् ब्रह्म, the Lord who is in the form of very existence principle, we will see the details some time later, just hinted here, वासुः means सत्-रूप ईश्वरः. How do you know that: वसन्ति सर्वाणि भूतानि अस्मिन् इति वासुः, so वासुः means that existence principle in which all beings exist. And देवः means चित्-रूप ईश्वर or ब्रह्म, दीव्यति स्वयम् प्रकाशते इति देवः. Therefore वासुः means सत्-रूप, देवः means चित्-रूप, वासुश्च असौ देवश्च सत्-चित् रूपम् ब्रह्म is here वासुदेवः and that is why in the 4th chapter, ब्रह्म-अर्पणम् ब्रह्म हविः ब्रह्म-अग्नौ ब्रह्मणा हुतम् । ॥ ४-२४॥

So he knows कृष्णपरमात्मा, the formless कृष्ण is in the form of the entire creation, सर्वम् इति ज्ञानवान् – such a knowledge he has got and सः महात्मा – such a ज्ञानि alone is महात्मा, the greatest seeker, the greatest person, the noblest soul and सः सुदुर्लभः – such a person is extremely rare, कृष्ण has said in the beginning of this chapter:

मनुष्याणां सहस्रेषु कश्चिद्यतति सिद्धये ।

यततामपि सिद्धानां कश्चिन्मां वेति तत्त्वतः ॥ ७-३॥

Many people don't want मोक्ष, among those who want only a few people come to this stage of भक्ति and therefore he is the rarest, अर्जुन, may you strive to become a ज्ञानि भक्त, of course, starting from आर्तः भक्त, but end with this. More in the next class.

CHAPTER 07, VERSES 20-22

Having talked about the problem of संसार in the 13th verse of the 7th chapter, कृष्ण talked about the remedy for संसार, from verse no.14 up to 19th. The problem of संसार कृष्ण presented was that the human being basically seeks three things, one is security, another is permanence and the other is fulfillment in life or happiness. Security, something permanent to hold on to and fullness or पूर्णत्वम् or you may call it आनन्द, these three things every human being basically seeks. But the problem with the human being is he does not know where to find them, he does not know the sources of these three basic things. The source happens to be परा प्रकृति, the higher nature of God and since one does not know the higher nature of God, he searches for these three things in the lower nature or the perishable creation. And unfortunately all these three things are not available in the creation; the world cannot give security because it itself is bound by time, the world cannot give permanence because it is all the time changed by time and the world cannot give पूर्णत्वम् or आनन्द because everything in the creation is अपूर्णः or finite. छान्दोग्योपनिषत् beautifully says:

न अल्पे सुखम् अस्ति ॥ छान्दोग्योपनिषत् ७-२३-१ ॥

अल्प वस्तु cannot give happiness, because happiness is the expression of पूर्णत्वम्, so

यो वै भूमा तदमृतम् ॥ छान्दोग्योपनिषत् ७-२४-१ ॥

पूर्ण वस्तु can alone give आनन्द, अपूर्ण वस्तु cannot give आनन्द or fulfillment. Even if it seems to give आनन्द, it is only a fake आनन्द, that is why when one actually gets into that one does not find any आनन्द. And because he doesn't know the real source he is expecting these three things from the world where it is not there and since his expectations are wrong expectations all the expectations fail and this failure leads to sorrow, depression, disappointment, frustration, all these consequences put together we call संसार. And then what is the remedy, कृष्ण said the remedy is भक्ति alone and then he elaborated the भक्ति and therefore भक्त alone will be able to fulfill this basic earning of security, permanence and पूर्णत्वम्, a भक्त alone will be able to fulfill. Then कृष्ण wants to clarify that further and for that purpose, he divided भक्त into four types, आर्तः, अर्थार्थी, जिज्ञासुः and ज्ञानि. And he said among these four भक्त, only the 4th भक्त will be able to fulfill these three urges. The first three are great only,

आस्थितः स हि युक्तात्मा मामेवानुत्तमां गतिम् ॥ ७-१८॥

The 4th type of ज्ञानि भक्त alone will become successful. And therefore the aim of a seeker is becoming a ज्ञानि भक्त and a ज्ञानि भक्त knows where to tap to get these three things. What are those three things, security, permanence and fulfillment and he said it will take time, initially a person cannot directly become a ज्ञानि भक्त, he has to go through stages:

बहूनां जन्मनामन्ते ज्ञानवान्मां प्रपद्यते ।

वासुदेवः सर्वमिति स महात्मा सुदुर्लभः ॥ ७-१९॥

It is a long journey but one has to become a ज्ञानि भक्तः, a ज्ञानि भक्त means a wise devotee. This much we saw in the last class, with the 19th verse, the topic of भक्ति as remedy for संसार, संसार निवृत्तिः उपाय रूप भक्ति, that topic is over. Now कृष्ण is entering another topic from the 20th verse, we will enter.

Verse No .20

कामैस्तैस्तैर्हृतज्ञानाः प्रपद्यन्तेऽन्यदेवताः ।

तं तं नियममास्थाय प्रकृत्या नियताः स्वया ॥ ७-२०॥

कामैः तैः तैः हृत-ज्ञानाः प्रपद्यन्ते अन्य-देवताः ।

तम् तम् नियमम् आस्थाय प्रकृत्या नियताः स्वया ॥ ७-२०॥

तैः तैः कामैः हृत-ज्ञानाः स्वया प्रकृत्या नियताः (अज्ञानिनः) तम् तम् नियमम् आस्थाय अन्य-देवताः प्रपद्यन्ते ।

In the following portions, कृष्ण is going to classify भक्ति broadly into two types, सकाम भक्ति and निष्काम भक्ति, सकाम भक्ति and निष्काम भक्ति these are the two classifications of which कृष्ण is going to deal with सकाम भक्ति, from verse 20 up to verse 26. He will talk about both the plus points of सकाम भक्ति, the advantages and he will also talk about the minus points of सकाम भक्ति. It is an objective presentation of what is what and then from verse no.27 to 30, कृष्ण will talk about निष्काम भक्ति and also its advantages. Therefore we get a compare and contrast study of सकाम, निष्काम भक्ति. Now what is the general meaning of these two words? भक्ति we can roughly translate as devotion and worship of God. So the attitude of devotion and the act of worship, both together we call भक्ति.

1) And सकाम भक्ति means using भक्ति as a means for finite ends of the creation, of the world, using भक्ति, i.e., devotion and worship as a means for accomplishing finite goals of life. In the शास्त्र all the finite goals are classified as धर्म, अर्थ, काम पुरुषार्थ, अर्थ means all types of material wealth which is one form of finite goal, why it is finite goal, all forms of wealth will end, get exhausted. Similarly, काम means all forms of sense pleasures or entertainments come under काम, that is another form of finite goal, because that will also end. And धर्म means all forms of पुण्यम् which will take a person to higher worlds after death, भू लोकः, भुवर्लोक, सुवर्लोक, महर्लोक, etc., and according to शास्त्रs, all the higher लोकs are also finite in nature. So therefore धर्म, that is पुण्यम्, अर्थ, काम, they all will come under what finite goal. And to generalize we can say, anything other than God is finite goal, because God alone is beyond time and space, everything other than God falls within time and space and whatever falls within time and space is finite and therefore everything other than God is finite goal. So finite goals we can present in different forms, धर्म-अर्थ-काम finite goals, if you use कठोपनिषत् language, all forms of प्रेयस् is finite goal, if you have to put in religious language, everything other than God is finite goal and if you want to present in Vedantic language, all material things are finite goals, all अनात्मा, all material things are finite goals because all materials are subject to destruction. And सकाम भक्ति means a भक्ति through which I seek finite goals, in simple language we can say materialistic भक्ति, business भक्ति, commercial भक्ति. I will do this, in return, you give me that, not even in return, first you give me that, he wants to be very safe, play safe, you don't want to risk, I will keep that money in my पूजा room, you cure my disease and then I will give. Somebody promised a ring it seems to तिरुपति वेङ्कटाचलपति, I will give this diamond ring, if this is cured and Lord is very very truthful and honest and therefore he fulfilled his contract and cured. Then he had to give it and then he thought, see when I promise, what will be the price of the ring, now the ring is much much much more costlier and therefore I have said that I will give the ring, now I will give the equivalent of that ring, instead of the ring. And on the day of promise it was a few thousand, now it is double and then what he did and he took the money and he put in the हुण्डि and if you are smart, वेङ्कटाचलपति wants to prove that he is smarter and when he dropped the money, the money and ring both fell into the हुण्डि, OK. यत् गत्वा न निवर्तन्ते, you cannot collect back that. So therefore generally we are business भक्त, commercial भक्त, contract भक्त, this कृष्ण calls सकाम भक्ति.

2) Then the second type of भक्ति is निष्काम भक्ति, निष्काम भक्ति is a भक्ति which is not used for material end. There is no desire for material end. निष्काम भक्ति does not mean total desirelessness. In निष्काम भक्ति also there is a desire, in निष्काम भक्ति also there is a desire, but the desire is for infinite or for God. So निष्काम भक्ति is a सकाम भक्ति, निष्काम भक्ति is a सकाम भक्ति in which a person is no more interested in धर्म, अर्थ or काम, no more interested in finite ends, no more interested in material ends, but he is interested in infinite, i.e., security, fulfillment and permanence. This is निष्काम भक्ति, मुमुक्षु भक्ति is निष्काम भक्ति, बुभुक्षु भक्ति is सकाम भक्ति.

And having talked about both these भक्तis, कृष्ण wants to say both are OK, but ultimately you should know that निष्काम भक्ति is superior to सकाम भक्ति and ultimately you have to come to निष्काम भक्ति. You take your own time, but you have to come to. This is what कृष्ण wants to convey in these verses. But for this purpose, कृष्ण uses a symbolic language, what is that, in the भगवद्गीता, कृष्ण points out that He, the Lord कृष्ण represents the infinite. In the भगवद्गीता, Lord कृष्ण symbolizes the infinite मोक्ष and all other gods represent finite ends in the भगवद्गीता, because even though कृष्ण as a personal God is a finite only. As a personal God कृष्ण is finite or infinite? You should not have a doubt, कृष्ण has a date of birth and date of departure and कृष्ण has got a finite size, He has got a form and therefore any personal God is finite only, but a personal God can symbolize the infinite, very careful, personal God is finite, but a personalized God can symbolize the infinite, exactly like the flag is very small, but a small flag can symbolize the vast country. What is the size of the flag you know, what is the size of India you know, even though flag is not India, flag represents India. Therefore you learn to superimpose India on the national flag and then when August 15 comes, January 26 comes and at other times, Olympic, if some medal comes, you do that, anyway one came, great. And we have got in our religion, any number of symbols, because deities are countless in our religion, राम is there, कृष्ण is there, शिव is there, वैष्णवदेवता is there, अय्यप्पा is there, 33 crore it is said, countless देवताs are there, each देवता is finite, but any finite देवता can represent the infinite and the general convention is depending upon the type of scripture the representation will change. If you read शिवपुराणम्, then who is the hero of शिवपुराणम्, don't crack your head, who is the hero of शिवपुराणम्, Lord शिव and therefore in शिवपुराणम्, Lord शिव will represent infinite and all other gods will represent finite goals and if you go to भागवतम्, विष्णु will represent the infinite, poor शिव will be a part of विष्णु, then go to देवी भागवतम्, it is women's lib, देवी is the ultimate, Lord शिव, ब्रह्म, विष्णु etc., they are all at the feet. Similarly, if you take सुब्रह्मण्य's or any पुराणम्, therefore you remember, no deity is infinite, any deity can be used by us to invoke the infinite and therefore, which deity is superior will be determined by what, which deity is superior will be determined by your invocation. If my इष्ट देवता is कृष्ण will represent infinite for me and all others will be what finite and if my इष्ट देवता is गणेश, गणेश will represent infinite and all the others will be finite. That is why I give the example of the cheque leaf. In the cheque book there are so many leaves. Which leaf is superior and which leaf is inferior, more valuable or less valuable, I ask you, I give the cheque book, what will be your answer, before writing all leaves are the same, after writing which leaf is more valuable, will be determined by what you write, if the first leaf you write one rupee and in the second you write, one lakh rupees, the second is superior. If in the first you write one lakh and in the second one you write one rupee, then naturally the first leaf is superior. Therefore tell me, विष्णु is great or शिव is great, people are quarrelling even now, वैष्णवs claim विष्णु alone is great, शैवs claim शिव alone is great, our शास्त्रs say that both have not understood the वैदिक teaching, who is great depends upon your invocation. In the भगवद्गीता, कृष्ण represents infinite and therefore all the अन्य देवताs represent finite goals of life. And therefore in the following portions, सकाम भक्ति will be presented as अन्य देवता भक्ति, symbolically सकाम भक्ति means अन्य देवता भक्ति and अन्य देवता भक्ति means what: worship of any God other than कृष्ण and निष्काम भक्ति will be equal to what, कृष्ण भक्ति will represent निष्काम भक्ति, where the goal is what, कृष्ण the infinite and in शिव पुराण, शिव भक्ति will be निष्काम भक्ति and the goal will be शिव the infinite and विष्णु भक्ति and गणेश भक्ति will be what, अन्य देवता भक्ति, inferior भक्ति. Keeping this symbolism, we have to read the following श्लोकs and first कृष्ण will talk about अन्य देवता भक्ति, otherwise known as सकाम भक्ति. So He tells in this verse, कामैः हत-ज्ञानाः अन्य-देवताः प्रपद्यन्ते – there are some भक्तs, they are interested only in finite ends, कामैः means धर्म-अर्थ-काम इच्छया, either they want wealth or they want entertainment or they want पुण्यम् and higher लोकs and because of these various desires, what do they worship, अन्य देवता भजन्ते – they worship other finite deities, each finite deity can give only one finite result. For example, लक्ष्मी देवी will represent only one finite end, what is that, only wealth and another देवता will represent only health, अश्विनि देवता or धन्वन्तरि देवता and another देवता, सूर्य देवता will represent only the power of perception, गणेश देवता will represent only freedom from obstacles. Thus each देवता giving a finite result is worshiped by this सकाम भक्त and अन्य देवता भक्तः and one will say नवग्रह also. Go to राहु temple, go to केतु temple (whether it is there?) or whatever temple, go to शनीश्वर temple, that is the most respected temple in the entire India, if you say शनि everyone will be भक्ति मयम्. Some people going to this deity and that deity, all for what, either for removal of a particular problem or attainment of a particular result, प्रपद्यन्ते अन्यदेवताः, because of their intense desire. And because of this desire, what happens, हत-ज्ञानाः – their discriminative power is stultified, obstructed, blunted and why do we say that their discriminative power is blunted, if they think a little bit they can easily know that, even if the finite desires are fulfilled they cannot give lasting happiness because those objects of desire will go away. Why it will go away, because they are finite, therefore they can give me only a temporary fulfillment, the fulfillment will not last long, they don't have that farsightedness. There हत-ज्ञानाः means these people are shortsighted people, who cannot see beyond their nose. Therefore हत-ज्ञानाः, मूढाः, अल्प-बुद्धयः, मन्दाः, अन्य देवताः प्रपद्यन्ते, they are सकाम भक्तs and then once you seek finite ends through भक्ति, you have to follow all the rules of पूजा, conditions are many, because you seek a benefit, there are so many conditions. So they will say you have to do the पूजा at a particular time, you have to go that temple, you have to take one lime, two limes or three limes, all these and you have to go for seven weeks, I don't know, you know better, therefore there are so many temples, particular days are there, how you should approach and if the wedding of son or daughter is desired you have to go to that temple, give a माला and keep one माला with you, (don't ask स्वामिजि, how you now, I have not tried that) therefore this माला you keep and that माला made for the wedding and exchange that माला, etc. So many. So therefore every rule you have to observe. आहार नियम, नैवेद्य नियम, which deity will like which particular नैवेद्य, not what you like, they will say, which particular dress should be given and what color, green dress, yellow dress, all those things are there. And therefore कृष्ण says, तम् तम् नियमम् आस्थाय – they very religiously observe all those rules for the sake of getting that benefits. So here तम् तम् is repeated to indicate the respective rule associated with that respective देवता, so तम् तम् नियमम् आस्थाय, all because of what, स्वया प्रकृत्या नियताः – because they are whipped up by their own राग-द्वेषः, because of intense राग-द्वेषः alone, either they want to get something, or they want to get rid of something else, for getting also one type of पूजा, for getting rid also another type of पूजा. All because of what, राग-द्वेषः, here प्रकृति means स्वभाव and स्वभाव means personal like and dislikes and even if somebody talks about मोक्ष they don't have time at all to think, because they are busy running after this and that and राग-द्वेषs are not one or two and they are infinite and anywhere you turn, every advertisement is meant to hook you with one रागः or the other. Therefore they are controlled, they are enslaved by their own काम. Continuing;

Verse No .21

यो यो यां यां तनुं भक्तः श्रद्धयार्चितुमिच्छति ।

तस्य तस्यावलां श्रद्धां तामेव विदधाम्यहम् ॥ ७-२१॥

यः यः याम् याम् तनुम् भक्तः श्रद्धया अर्चितुम् इच्छति ।

तस्य तस्य अचलाम् श्रद्धाम् ताम् एव विदधामि अहम् ॥ ७-२१ ॥

यः यः भक्तः याम् याम् तनुम् श्रद्धया अर्चितुम् इच्छति, तस्य तस्य ताम् एव श्रद्धाम् अहम् अचलाम् विदधामि ।

So this सकाम भक्त, who wants to fulfill various personal desires will go to the scriptures to find out which देवता will fulfill that desire. And we have got a huge literature, वेदपूर्व भाग is the vast literature which presents countless देवताs to fulfill countless desires,

पशुकामश्चिन्वीत । वृष्टिकामश्चिन्वीत । आमयावी चिन्वीत ।

ब्रह्मवर्चसकामस्स्वर्गकामश्चिन्वीत । ॥ तैत्तिरीय-आरण्यकम् ॥

do you want to glowing skin, glowing skin, because now lot of beauty parlors are there for men also and women also, because I want shining skin, even for that शास्त्र prescribes,

ब्रह्मवर्चसकामः चिन्वीत । ॥ तैत्तिरीय-आरण्यकम् ॥

So therefore भक्तः तनुम् अर्चितुम् इच्छति, तनुम् means a particular deity and it will vary from literature to literature, a person has some disease, if he is a विष्णु भक्त they say to worship धन्वन्तरि मूर्ति, they will not say मृत्युञ्जय, because वैष्णवs you know, they have got a deity, विष्णु associated deity to remove diseases and another person will you say chant त्र्यम्बकं यजामहे मन्त्र, which is मृत्यु, मृत्यु देवता पूजा, another person will say अश्विनि कुमार presides over आरोग्यम्, another person will say आरोग्यम् भास्करात् इच्छेत्, Lord सूर्य represents आरोग्यम्. Thus you choose one of them, सूर्य or धन्वन्तरि or मृत्युञ्जय or अश्विनि कुमारs, thus सकाम भक्त will take to one of these deities. And कृष्ण says सकाम भक्ति is also a valid भक्ति. Therefore, their desires will be certainly fulfilled, but what is the condition, श्रद्धया अर्चितुम् इच्छति, if one worships a particular deity to fulfill a particular desire certainly the desire will be fulfilled, but you should have faith in that,

मन्त्रे तीर्थे द्विजे देवे दैवज्ञे भैषजे गुरौ । यादृशी भावना यस्य सिद्धिर्भवति तादृशी ॥

There are seven items which will give you benefit directly proportional to your faith, higher the faith, higher the benefit, no faith, no benefit and in that ईश्वर भक्ति is also included and therefore श्रद्धया अर्चितुम् इच्छति. And what will happen, तस्य तस्य श्रद्धाम् अचलाम् विदधामि – I reinforce his भक्ति, I reinforce his भक्ति by fulfilling his desire. अहम् अचलाम् विदधामि, because faith is reinforced only in one way, how is faith reinforced, when your desire is fulfilled naturally it is reinforced, next time problem comes again you run and not only you run you propagate the message also and another person runs and another person runs also. And that temple becomes popular, so even temples have got जातकम्s, for some time they become popular, another time nobody goes there; not only temples even स्वामिs, if स्वामिs fulfill the desire of the devote then all these space is not enough, you will find a long queue, मोक्ष मोक्ष you say, limited number only comes, you have to fulfill that. And therefore कृष्ण says I fulfill the desire and thus reinforce his devotion, his श्रद्धा. And here you have to make an important note, कृष्ण says I will fulfill his desire, actually they are doing पूजा to whom, अन्य देवताः, finite देवताs, so therefore कृष्ण must be saying those deities will fulfill the desire, but instead of saying those deities will fulfill कृष्ण says I fulfill their desires. Why does कृष्ण says so, what is the significance of this statement? For that you should remember, in the भगवद्गीता, कृष्ण represents the totality, the infinite deity and all other deities represent what: finite deities, therefore in भगवद्गीता, शिव is finite or infinite? Finite. Don't worry, शिव will not get angry, because he knows शास्त्र, in भगवद्गीता गणेश is finite, कृष्ण is infinite. Now since कृष्ण represents infinity and all other देवताs are finite देवताs, all the other देवताs will become a part of कृष्ण, because all finite things are part of the infinite. All the finite should be included in the infinite or not, if it is not included in the infinite what will happen, the infinite won't be infinite and therefore all the देवताs will become part of कृष्ण and since all the देवताs are part of कृष्ण, the infinite, any worship you give to a part it will go to the whole, कृष्ण alone is receiving every worship that is offered to any deity. That is what is said in the famous श्लोक, आकाशात् पतितम् तोयम् यथा गच्छति सागरम् । सर्वदेव नमस्कारः केशवम् प्रति गच्छति ॥

In this श्लोक, who represents infinite, केशवम् प्रति गच्छति, केशव represents the infinite, all the others are finite and therefore शिव पूजा will go to कृष्ण, गणेश पूजा will go to कृष्ण and since the पूजा is received by कृष्ण, not directly, but through various other देवताs, the पूजाफलम् is also given by whom, कृष्ण also gives पूजाफलम् also. But कृष्ण will not give पूजाफलम् directly and how does he give, through whichever deity he received the gift through the same deity he gives the फलम् also. Therefore the शिव भक्त thinks that he has worshipped and शिव has blessed him but what is the fact, through शिव the पूजा went to कृष्ण and through शिव कृष्ण gave the फलम् also. All the other देवताs will become the pipelines and कृष्ण will become the ultimate deity and therefore कृष्ण says that I bless every भक्त through that particular deity. But remember, if you are शिव भक्त you need not get disturbed because of that, because in the शिव पुराणम् if you see what will be said, शिव receives all the पूजा through other देवताs. Now how you should convert logically? We should forget शिव and विष्णु, logically you have to convert, the infinite God receives all the पूजा through finite form, that infinite God you call कृष्ण, you call शिव, you call देवी, you call Jesus, you call Allah, you call father in heaven, we don't bother about the name, but we are interested in knowing that whether you see it as infinite or not, that is what is important. Invocation is important, not the form. And that is why, you take any अष्टोत्तर अर्चन, you find that certain names will be common for all, the description will be different in अष्टोत्तर, शिव description will differ, विष्णु description will differ, but certain नामs will be common, अनन्ताय नमः, in all अनन्त will come, अनन्तः means infinite,

सर्वगताय नमः, all-pervading, how many all-pervading gods are possible. If विष्णु is also infinite, शिव is also infinite, विष्णु and शिव are two different names for one infinite God. That is why in विष्णुसहस्रनाम itself one of the नाम is what,

सर्वः शर्वः शिवः स्थाणुः ॥ श्रीविष्णुसहस्रनामस्तोत्रम् १७॥

When that is so, how can you say I will worship only विष्णु, I will not go to शिव temple, I will not even utter the name शिव, I will not do नमस्कार to a person who puts विभूति. So therefore कृष्ण says अहम् तस्य तस्य श्रद्धाम् अचलाम् विदधामि. Continuing;

Verse No .22

स तया श्रद्धया युक्तस्तस्याराधनमीहते ।

लभते च ततः कामान्मयैव विहितान्हि तान् ॥ ७-२२॥

सः तया श्रद्धया युक्तः तस्याः राधनम् ईहते ।

लभते च ततः कामान् मया एव विहितान् हि तान् ॥ ७-२२॥

सः तया श्रद्धया युक्तः तस्याः राधनम् ईहते, ततः च मया एव विहितान् तान् कामान् लभते हि ।

Now since one infinite God fulfills the desire of the devotee through that particular deity, the devotee is going to say that शिव fulfills my desire and therefore शिव is 'boon-bestower'. Boon-bestower means what: he is working God and another person who worships another deity, his desire also will be fulfilled and he will say गुरुवायूरप्पन् is 'boon-bestower', another person will say that the बालाजि is the real fulfiller and another person will say that श्रीनाथजि is, श्रीनाथ is a very popular deity in Gujarat area and you go further North, further North, there is another different deity, each person thinks that my God is superior. मन्नाथः श्रीजन्नाथः, my God is superior he thinks and कृष्ण says I allow him to entertain such a conclusion and therefore He says: सः तया श्रद्धया युक्तः, now because of the fulfillment of the desire his भक्ति has been reinforced now, for a शिव भक्त शिव भक्ति is reinforced, for a गणेश भक्त गणेश भक्ति is reinforced. And that is why even if anyone wants to chant a मन्त्र, they want to do some जप, generally if some आचार्य wants to give a जप, what does he does, he asks what is your इष्ट देवता? That is how the जप should be given. If my इष्ट देवता is कृष्ण it is perfectly alright to take a कृष्ण मन्त्र, the आचार्य who gives the कृष्ण मन्त्र may be a शिव भक्त or देवी भक्त, but he doesn't want everybody to become a शिव भक्त or देवी भक्त. Any भक्ति is OK. So if you ask नमः शिवाय is superior or नारायणाय is superior, all नामs are great. What is important is where your mind is attracted. Whereas some other आचार्यs they don't ask the question, they say you take शिव मन्त्र, because that is his इष्ट देवता, so some institutions give some standard इष्ट देवता, now in that the problem maybe what, this person chants a मन्त्र and his mind goes to another deity. So one lady came and complained स्वामिजि I have been given नमः शिवाय मन्त्र, but my इष्ट देवता is गुरुवायूरप्पन् and therefore I have got constant conflict. I say this मन्त्र and I try to visualize शिव but only गुरुवायूरप्पन् comes, all kinds of problems. Therefore, we can choose any particular नाम associated with any particular deity, it will bless, therefore कृष्ण says, reinforced शिव भक्ति or कृष्ण भक्ति or देवी भक्ति and that person will develop. And because of that what does He do, तस्याः राधनम् ईहते – he wants to do more worship of that deity राधनम्, he wants to do more राधनम्, राधनम् means अराधन and more worship he does naturally the benefit will also be more, so ततः कामान् लभते, he is able to fulfill more and more desires because of that भक्ति. And then कृष्ण once again reminds that all those desires are fulfilled by whom, you think शिव is fulfilling or देवी is fulfilling, कृष्ण says they are not fulfilling the desires really, because they are all finite देवताs, but I, the infinite Lord am fulfilling through that particular deity, मया एव विहितान् कामान्, so मया एव विहितान् means which are fulfilled by me alone. Therefore I am the ultimate receiver all पूजा and I am the ultimate fulfiller of all the desires also. More we will see in the next class.

Lord कृष्ण is, in this portion of the 7th chapter, differentiating सकाम भक्ति and निष्काम भक्ति. सकाम भक्ति is a devotion and a form of worship of the Lord, through which a person seeks material ends in the form of either धर्म, अर्थ or काम or to use the Upanishadic expression seeking प्रेयस्. And कृष्ण wants to point out that निष्काम भक्ति as that form of devotion and worship through which the person seeks the spiritual end, which is called मोक्ष, or in the Upanishadic language, श्रेयः. To contrast सकाम भक्ति and निष्काम भक्ति, first कृष्ण is dealing with सकाम भक्ति. And as we were in the last class कृष्ण is presenting सकाम भक्ति in a symbolic language. Because a सकाम भक्त seeks only finite material ends, because all material ends are finite, so since a सकाम भक्त seeks only finite material ends, कृष्ण symbolically presents सकाम भक्ति as worship of finite deities. Worship of finite deities in the 7th chapter represents सकाम भक्ति, symbolic language and a निष्काम भक्त seeks the spiritual end which is infinite and therefore symbolically कृष्ण presents निष्काम भक्ति as the worship of the infinite Lord. Therefore परिच्छिन्न देवता भक्ति or अपूर्ण देवता भक्ति is सकाम भक्ति, अपरिच्छिन्न देवता भक्ति is निष्काम भक्ति. Now the next question is: who is finite deity and who is infinite deity, because you are talking about अपूर्ण देवता and पूर्ण देवता. If you analyze, every deity has got a form as described in the scriptures, therefore there is no question of infinite deities, because the very picturisation of deity indicates that it is finite. Therefore it is a contradiction to talk about infinite form, because form means finite. Therefore what can be infinite deity, what can be finite deity is the question, for which we give the answer, any deity can be infinite deity if we choose to invoke the infinite in that deity. On the other hand, if you choose to invoke the finite thing then the deity is called finite deity. Therefore राम also, if you talk a form, it is finite, कृष्ण also form-wise finite, गणपति also form-wise finite, all the देवताs described in the स्मृति श्रुति पुराण इतिहासः, they all have got a form as described in the ध्यान श्लोक, क्षीरोधन्वत् प्रदेशे शुचिमाणि वितसत् सैकते मौक्तिकानाम् । ॥

श्रीविष्णुसहस्रनामस्तोत्रम् ॥

The very ध्यान श्लोक gives a picture or form of the deity and from the ध्यान श्लोक we know that it is finite only, but upon the finite we have a choice to invoke, to visualize, to imagine, to superimpose the infinite, just upon a small flag we can invoke the nation which is much much more vaster than the flag. And if you invoke infinite in कृष्ण form, कृष्ण becomes infinite God for you and if you are a गणेश भक्त, गणेश will represent infinite, as far as the नामावलिs are concerned it will have both infinite नामs, infinite नामs means what: the नामs revealing the infinite and there will be certain other नामs which indicate the finite also. Almost अनन्ताय नमः is one of the नाम for every deity and in the भगवद्गीता, since Lord कृष्ण is the main deity, for us in the context of भगवद्गीता कृष्ण becomes पूर्ण अवतार, people talk about पूर्ण अवतार, there is no question of पूर्ण अवतार or अपूर्ण अवतार, every अवतार is पूर्णम्, every अवतार is a अपूर्णम्, whether it is पूर्णम् or अपूर्णम् depends upon how you invoke. And then कृष्ण says a सकाम भक्त can worship the finite देवताs, who are other than Lord कृष्ण, he calls them अन्य देवता भक्त and the one who is seeking infinite, in the भगवद्गीता will be called कृष्ण भक्त and having said this much, कृष्ण says अन्य देवता भक्तs, i.e., the devotees of other deities can worship them and seek finite benefit, like राहु worship, केतु worship. All the नवग्रहs are worshipped for what, for a particular result, for 7-1/2 Saturn, therefore a person wants to get out of that and कृष्ण says there is nothing wrong in worshipping the finite देवताs for a finite result and their worship is valid and their desires will be fulfilled. But when their desires are fulfilled, it appears as though the finite देवताs are blessing the devotee. कृष्ण says finite देवताs are seemingly blessing the devotees, but really speaking, those देवताs are not blessing, why the finite देवताs have blessing power because of whom, because of me who represent the infinite. And therefore the infinite कृष्ण is giving the blessing power to all the finite देवताs and those finite देवताs in turn are blessing the devotee and therefore who is really blessing the devotee. कृष्ण says, I, the infinite alone, I am blessing everyone through varieties of देवताs, all those देवताs will become only postman. You know postman. When you receive the money order, suppose the neighbor talks to the postman, why you are very partial, you are giving money only to those people and not to me, what will be the postman's answer? He will say I am not giving the money, even though visibly, apparently I am giving, there is someone somewhere else and that person, your son or brother or father, that person is giving the money through the postman. Thus every परिच्छिन्न देवता is like a postman only, they are only intermediaries, कृष्ण alone is the ultimate receiver of all the worship and कृष्ण alone is the ultimate कर्म-फल धाता also. That is why at the end of the 5th chapter, कृष्ण said

सुहृदम् सर्व-भूतानाम् ज्ञात्वा मां शान्तिम् ऋच्छति ॥ ५-२९॥

I am the ultimate receiver of all the पूजाs, just as the flowers offered into the river goes into the ocean only, any नमस्कार done to any finite देवता will go to कृष्ण and कृष्ण will bless the devotee through that particular deity. This is all to show that कृष्ण is infinite, all the other देवताs are finite. Therefore if you want मोक्ष, whom should you go to? In the context of भगवद्गीता you have to go to कृष्ण alone. If it is नवरात्रि, I am reading देवी भागवतम्, in the context of देवी भागवतम् if you want to मोक्ष, whom should you go to, देवी. So therefore, don't be enamored by the form, no form is superior, no form is inferior, what is inferior and superior is determined by what you invoke in that form and therefore कृष्ण says in verse no.22, which we were seeing in the last class, in the second line: लभते च ततः कामान् मया एव विहितान् हि तान्, लभते, अन्य देवता भक्तः लभते, so the devotees of the other finite deities will certainly get their desires fulfilled, so अन्य देवता भक्तः, कामान् लभते, here काम should not be translated as desire, but here काम represents the desired end, the object of desire, काम्यते इति काम, कर्म व्युत्पत्ति, so कामान् विषयान् लभते. And what does the devotee think, he thinks my इष्ट देवता has blessed me he thinks, like a person thinking postman is giving money, a child thinking, but a parent knows, postman doesn't give, but somebody in मुम्बई, in America, in London, but that person is invisible. Similarly, behind the visible deities, परिच्छिन्न देवताs, I am there. Therefore मया एव विहितान्, विहितान् means given by, blessed by, offered by, or sanctioned by, that is nice, sanctioned by, I alone give the ultimate sanction, so मया विहितान्, मया here represents कृष्ण, the infinite God. So, in short, कृष्ण says, सकाम भक्ति is valid, सकाम भक्ति will also be successful, these are all the plus points of सकाम भक्ति. Because कृष्ण wants to talk about both the plus points of सकाम भक्ति and later he is going to talk about the minus points of सकाम भक्ति. Because कृष्ण's intention is not to make us सकाम भक्तs, but कृष्ण wants us to ultimately become निष्काम भक्तs, therefore not only He talks about the plus point, but He talks about minus points which we have to focus later. What are the plus points? It is valid, it is allowed, it is OK, it is not sinful, there is nothing wrong if you ask anything from God. People say that you should not ask anything from God, and they even say 'God knows.' So God knows 'you want many things,' but which one you want who has to decide, only you have to decide. If God has to decide, He will decide मोक्ष only. In fact, He is ready to give मोक्ष but when a person is eager to have a child, somehow I want to have a baby, I don't have one, so a couple, who are very very particular to have a child. Suppose भगवान् comes and says I will give मोक्ष, what will the couple say? मोक्ष is eternal, we don't want that now, we can see that later, we want a baby now. So therefore what you want God cannot decide and if God has to decide He will decide only one thing, which is good for all of us and what is that, मोक्ष and God knows, even if He gives मोक्ष many are not ready to take it. स्वामिजि, now there is a water problem in the house, I want water first and मोक्ष later. Therefore what you want भगवान् cannot decide, what you want you alone have to decide. That is why in the शास्त्र, सङ्कल्प is presented before every पूजा. Otherwise if God knows what do you want, why should शास्त्र prescribe a सङ्कल्प? The very purpose of सङ्कल्प is for you to decide and see. And there is nothing wrong in seeking any particular फलम् that you want, you need not feel inferior, if you ask for a small little thing. And therefore, सकाम भक्ति is OK, but need not feel bad about it, it is not sinful, it is valid and it will produce the result, if the पूजा is properly done. That is why very big If. Because once it is a सकाम पूजा, I think we saw in the previous class, the rules and regulations are many. कृष्ण will emphasize this point very often, in सकाम पूजा, rules and regulations become very very important, to be carefully and minutely observed. And if anyone of them is violated the result cannot come. So observe the rules then it will produce the result. So up to now we have got the plus points of सकाम भक्ति, now we are going to enter into the minus points, what is that:

अन्तवत्तु फलं तेषां तद्भवत्यल्पमेधसाम् ।

देवान्देवयजो यान्ति मद्भक्ता यान्ति मामपि ॥ ७-२३॥

अन्तवत् तु फलम् तेषाम् तत् भवति अल्प-मेधसाम् ।

देवान् देव-यजः यान्ति मत् भक्ताः यान्ति माम् अपि ॥ ७-२३॥

तेषाम् अल्प-मेधसाम् तत् फलम् तु अन्तवत् भवति, देव-यजः देवान् यान्ति, मत् भक्ताः अपि माम् यान्ति ।

So कृष्ण has presented the benefits. Now he wants to give a statutory warning, you now have in the cigarette packet, first they will advertise, I think advertisement is banned perhaps. So the advertisement is very big, 'Every Puff A Promise' or something like that, OK, promise of what nobody knows, that is safe statement, 'Every Puff A Promise,' that is written in bold letters, in big letters it is written and then in invisible letters, 'statutory warning: cigarette smoking is injurious to health.' कृष्ण is doing exactly that, He says सकाम भक्ति is wonderful, it is enjoyable, you can fulfill your materialist desires, therefore the sense pleasures certainly you can get, but there is a problem. What is that? This we have discussed in the Upanishadic class and in गीता also, I think I have discussed this, every worldly gain, every materialist gain has got certain intrinsic दोष, which we classified into three varieties. Every materialistic end, either belonging to this world or even स्वर्गलोक, it has got intrinsically three defects. What are those defects I have talked about?

1) The first defect is दुःख मिश्रितत्वम्, all worldly accomplishments or pleasures are mixed with equal amount of pain also, just as the two sides of the coin, all worldly pleasures have got pain. How is it mixed with pain, first there is pain in accomplishing that, fighting all competition, 'Who Will Become A Millionaire!' Even to enter the competition you have to fight, competition, heavy competition. Therefore the first thing is acquisition involves struggle, anxiety, tension, worry, fear, jealousy, whether the other person will beat me. Once I have acquired, there is the pain of preservation. योग is followed by क्षेम, the preservation has got equal amount of problem. So अर्जने दुःखम् रक्षणे दुःखम् and then however much you struggle to preserve it, in spite of your effort and care, everything will be lost in time, all material accomplishments will be lost in time and the ultimate loss also will give pain and the pain will be directly proportional to the pleasure I derive. कृष्ण said in the 5th chapter,

Every worldly pleasure is a potential pain, this is called pain born out of नाश, अर्जने दुःखम्, रक्षणे दुःखम्, नाश दुःखम्, therefore it is mixed with दुःखम्, we call it दुःख मिश्रितत्वम्, negative point No.1.

2) And the second defect in all the worldly accomplishment is अतृप्तिकरत्वम्, since every accomplishment is finite in nature, limited in nature, we never choose to enjoy what we have got, we always think of the next higher possibility. What the other person has, and always there are someone, some people who have got more than me and therefore I never enjoy what I have, I always suffer from the disease of comparison and comparison invariably leads to inferiority complex and jealousy, this is called dissatisfaction. In कठोपनिषत् नविकेतस् makes a very bold statement,

न वित्तेन तर्पणीयो मनुष्यः । ॥ कठोपनिषत् १-१-२७ ॥

No human being will be satisfied with any amount of wealth, otherwise why should there be corruption at higher level, lower levels understandable, why at higher levels, satisfaction never comes. So the second defect is what: अतृप्तिकरत्वम्, my beggarliness continues. As दयानन्द स्वामिजी beautifully says, he is a poor rich man or a poor moneyed man, previously he was poor without money, now he is poor with money, the poverty, the inner bankruptcy will not go, because finite plus finite is equal to infinite? No, finite plus finite plus finite is equal to finite only. Therefore since all these accomplishments keep me in finite level, my distance from infinity is the same, what is the distance between hundred rupees and infinite and what is between a million rupees and infinite, the distance is same. Therefore I continue to be अपूर्णम्. Therefore I travel from अपूर्णम् to अपूर्णम् in material accomplishments. So what is the second defect? अतृप्तिकरत्वम्.

3) And the third and final defect we have seen, it is what: बन्धकत्वम्, once you are used to those accomplishments, that status, that name, that fame, that attention, having enjoyed that we can never think of losing them, it leads to some form of addiction. That is why after retirement for some time we suffer, because that importance, of course importance in society is gone, previously I had a position, even in family suddenly I find position is gone, so therefore,

सम्भावितस्य च अकीर्तिः मरणात् अतिरिच्यते ॥ २-३४॥

Where does it come, भगवद्गीता, सम्भावितस्य च अकीर्तिः मरणात् अतिरिच्यते, having enjoyed those things I get addicted to them, that without them I cannot imagine a happy life. This addiction or slavery or weakness is the third defect.

And all these are the result of what, सकाम भक्ति. Therefore what कृष्ण wants to say is सकाम भक्ति will keep a person in संसार only. In सकाम भक्ति there is material progress, but in सकाम भक्ति there is spiritual stagnation; materially it is positive because there is progress, because of सकाम भक्ति he fulfills his desires. Therefore money is there, family is there, everything is there, there is progress, but from spiritual angle, सकाम भक्ति will keep a person in spiritual stagnation. That means what: he doesn't come down, there is no spiritual fall in सकाम भक्ति, because सकाम भक्त is not committing a sin, therefore there is no spiritual fall, but there is no spiritual progress, therefore neither fall nor progress, there is stagnation. In निषिद्ध कर्म there is spiritual fall, in निष्काम कर्म there is spiritual growth, in सकाम कर्म there is neither spiritual growth, nor spiritual fall, but there is spiritual stagnation; spiritual stagnation means संसार will continue. I am a religious संसारि. So an atheist cries everywhere because of संसार, this religious सकाम भक्त cries in front of God, the crying will continue, one cries in front of God, one doesn't cry in front of God, crying continues why: because he is a religious संसारि, why because he is a सकाम भक्त. This is what is said in this श्लोक, तेषाम् – so these people who are सकाम भक्त are अल्प-मेधसाम् – they are unintelligent people, indiscriminate people, why, because through the very same worship, they could have sought the infinite मोक्ष, but instead of seeking the infinite from the Lord they have chosen the finite result. So we have to imagine भगवान् has two pockets, in one he has got infinite that is श्रेयस्, in the other pocket there is finite, प्रेयस्, both भगवान् has got in his pocket and both his hands are inside the pocket so that he can immediately give the benefit to the devotees and then He wants to see what a devotee asks after the नमस्कारम्, so this person says water problem should be solved, another person says someone in the family should be married, another says that tender I should get, another says I should get entry into 'Who Will Become A Millionaire!' everything except मोक्ष. Therefore भगवान्'s one hand is busy, giving giving, giving, the other hand is stuck in the मोक्ष pocket, nobody is asking and He is ready to give free. Therefore He says अल्प-मेधसाम् – unintelligent people, they have chosen a wrong destination, नित्य-अनित्य वस्तु विवेक रहितानाम्, therefore वैराग्य रहिताणाम्, therefore आर्त अर्थार्थी भक्तानाम्, they are those unintelligent ones and फलम् – they will get the result in the form of money, name, fame position, people, they will get those results, but what is the tragedy, अन्तवत् तत् – means what it is finite in nature, money will be exhausted, even the highest position you have to vacate. That is why in the 9th chapter, which is very very parallel to the 7th chapter, कृष्ण will say, even इन्द्र will have to vacate his position and become ordinary member in चेन्नै. ते तम् भुवत्वा स्वर्ग-लोकम् विशालम् क्षीणे पुण्ये मर्त्य-लोकम् विशन्ति । you have to come back, back to Coovam bank and उपनिषत् goes one step further, even that is not guaranteed, it says

इमम् लोकम् हीनतरम् वा विशन्ति ॥ मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-२-१०॥

he may get even an inferior जन्म. Therefore अन्तवत् means finite in nature. And whose mistake it is: कृष्ण says don't blame me, my hands are in both the packets and I am ready to give anyone of them, प्रेयस् or श्रेयस्, but you have chosen the wrong goals, therefore don't the put the अक्षता on my head, don't blame me. So कृष्ण says, देवान् देव-यजः यान्ति – worshipers of finite देवताs will get finite results which means सकाम भक्ताः अन्तवत् फलम् प्राप्नुवन्ति. So worshipers of finite deities is a symbolic language for सकाम भक्ति. So सकाम भक्तs will attain finite result, देवान् यान्ति, here the word देव represents again finite result, like higher position. Because according to the scripture, all the gods in heaven are none other than the ordinary जीवs only, who have got the exalted position because of their पुण्य कर्म, that is why यम धर्म राज said.

जानामि अहम् शेवधिः इति अनित्यम् नहि अध्रुवैः हि तत् ध्रुवम् प्राप्यते । ॥
कठोपनिषत् १-२-१० ॥

even यम धर्म राज is a post, you can become यम धर्म राज, already you might be यम. Similarly, you can become इन्द्र, you can become anyone, it is a finite post, even ब्रह्माजि is a finite देवता post you can become and even that ब्रह्माजि will have to vacate that post, there will be a last day when he will have to get down. Therefore देव-यजः, सकाम भक्ताः देवान् परिच्छिन्न फलम् यान्ति, whereas मत् भक्ताः – my devotee, my worshipers, worshipers of कृष्ण, the infinite, who represent निष्काम भक्ताः, the intelligent ones, विवेकिनः, जिज्ञासु भक्ताः, मुमुक्षवः, साधन चतुष्टय सम्पन्नः, those real ones, माम् अपि यान्ति – they come to Me. Here Me does not represent finite कृष्ण's शरीरम्. कृष्ण's शरीरम् is finite or finite? कृष्ण's body is finite, therefore going to कृष्ण means attainment of the infinite represented by finite शरीरम्. कृष्ण's body symbolizes the infinite ब्रह्मन्. So मत् भक्ताः, निष्काम भक्ताः, माम् यान्ति means पूर्णताम् यान्ति, मोक्षम् यान्ति, जीवन्मुक्तिम् लभन्ते. Continuing;

Verse No .24

अव्यक्तं व्यक्तिमापन्नं मन्यन्ते मामबुद्धयः ।

परं भावमजानन्तो ममाव्ययमनुत्तमम् ॥ ७-२४॥

अव्यक्तम् व्यक्तिम् आपन्नम् मन्यन्ते माम् अबुद्धयः ।

परम् भावम् अजानन्तः मम अव्ययम् अनुत्तमम् ॥ ७-२४॥

मम परम् अव्ययम् अव्यक्तम् अनुत्तमम् भावम् अजानन्तः अबुद्धयः माम् व्यक्तिम् आपन्नम् मन्यन्ते ।

So here कृष्ण talks about two types of people, one set of people who have not understood God properly and the other set who have understood God properly. Previously while talking about the nature of God, कृष्ण pointed out that I have got two aspects, one is परा प्रकृति, the चेतन तत्त्वम्, and the अपरा प्रकृति, the जड तत्त्वम्; the चेतन अंश and अचेतन अंश. The चेतन तत्त्वम्, the Consciousness aspect is called the higher nature of God and the अचेतन जड तत्त्वम् is the lower nature of God. Now those ignorant people are ones who see only the inferior nature of God and mistake the physical body of the Lord to be the real God. The physical body of God is अपरा प्रकृति or परा प्रकृति, the physical body of God? Don't ask me what is परा प्रकृति and अपरा प्रकृति, I will be in trouble, that is why you have to keep revising the previous portions to get the full benefit. So कृष्ण's body comes under matter-principle only, therefore it is only अपरा प्रकृति. And when I look upon God as a personality, with the body, I take God as one who is subject to arrival and departure. So departure means the visible body will again become what, after स्वर्गारोहणम्, after the अवतार job is done, Lord कृष्ण disappears; in the भागवतम् कृष्ण departure and disappearance is said. So at the time of अवतार, the शरीरम् comes and after the अवतार, the शरीरम् goes, therefore the अपरा प्रकृति ईश्वर is subject to arrival and departure. Therefore if I say God comes and goes, I am talking about which aspect of God, परा or अपरा प्रकृति? I am only talking of अपरा प्रकृति, that is the material bodily aspect of God, that is why I am talking about arrival and departure. In fact, गोपीs had this problem only constantly and you talk about hide and seek; Lord comes, गोपीs are ecstatic, Lord goes, गोपीका गीतम्, I have told you the other day, therefore God comes, happy, God goes, unhappy, therefore it is आया राम गया राम God and whoever is talking about arriving and departing God, they only know the अपरा प्रकृति of the Lord and कृष्ण says they are ignorant people, they are unintelligent people, they are deluded devotees. Whereas those higher devotees, who know परा प्रकृति aspect of ईश्वर, which is Consciousness-principle. Is that God, i.e., the higher aspect of God subject to arrival and departure? Is Consciousness subject to arrival and departure? It is never subject to arrival and departure, because it is all-pervading and not only it is all-pervading, Consciousness is one thing which is evident all the time. Isn't it? Consciousness is that which is evident all the time, स्वयम् प्रकाश रूपम्, नित्य प्रकाश रूपम्, अनावृत चैतन्य रूपम्. Things can be covered, if you are talking about a thing being covered, you are able to talk about the covering of a thing, because of what, because you are aware that is covered, that means what: Consciousness is one which is never covered by anything at any time. In fact, you are able to talk about all covers or coverings, because of what: the Consciousness,

जाग्रत्स्वप्नसुषुप्तिषु स्फुटतरा या संविदुज्जृम्भते ॥ मनीषापञ्चकम् १॥

And therefore the wise people know that God is here and now, all the time evident as what: the Consciousness in me.

प्रतिबोध विदितम् मतम् ॥ केनोपनिषत् ४ ॥

So they do not talk about God arriving, they do not talk about God departing, only unintelligent people talk about the arriving, departing God. He says: अबुद्ध्यः, अबुद्ध्यः means the unintelligent people, who mistake the Lord as the अपरा प्रकृति, the physical body, मन्यन्ते – they have got a misconception, so अबुद्ध्यः, the unintelligent unenlightened, uninformed devotees, have got a misconception of the Lord and what is the misconception, अव्यक्तम् व्यक्तिम् आपन्नम् – they think that Lord is अव्यक्त, अव्यक्त means has disappeared now. And again व्यक्तिम् आपन्नम् – the Lord has appeared now. In fact, in the पुराणम्, you will always read, the devotees performs तपस् for the Lord to appear. And the Lord will appear, in TV and all you can nicely see, out of nothing the Lord comes and says Oh! भक्त, I am very very pleased by your तपस्, what do you want. Then he asks: I should not die. Then after whatever blessing he wants and after he has been given the boon, again तत्रैवान्तर्दधे प्रभुः, the Lord disappears. Therefore the unintelligent people talk about the appearance and disappearance of God, which corresponds to what, the body, the physical God alone appears and disappears. And why they have such a misconception, अज्ञानन्तः – because they don't know the higher nature of God, which is the not physical, which is not the body, which is not even the mind, which is not पञ्च भौतिक, which doesn't have date of birth, which doesn't have date of death, that higher nature, they don't know, परम् भावम्. And what is that higher nature, चैतन्य स्वरूपम्, which is everywhere all the time and ever evident, in fact, you are able to listen to every word of mine, because you are a conscious-principle. If you are conscious of the first word, you had conscious. You are conscious of the second word, you have the conscious and suppose I stop talking, what is there, silence. Are you conscious of the silence or not? If you are not conscious of silence, you cannot talk about silence. Therefore, whether there are thoughts or no thoughts, whether there are sounds or no sounds, forms or no forms, Consciousness is always there, that Consciousness is there परम् भावम्, that सत्-चित्-आनन्द स्वरूपम्, सत्यम् ज्ञानम् आनन्द ब्रह्म स्वरूपम्, अज्ञानन्तः, they don't know and what is the glory of that nature, अव्ययम् – it is never subject to change, whereas कृष्ण's physical body is only an inferior form of कृष्ण, because it is subject to change, he was a baby कृष्ण, then boy कृष्ण, then youth कृष्ण and there afterwards disappearing कृष्ण, therefore it is व्यय स्वरूपम्, whereas the higher चैतन्य स्वरूपम् is what, अव्ययम् स्वरूपम्, ever changeless, निर्विकारम्. And अनुत्तमम्, अनुत्तमम् means unsurpassable, the highest. So न विद्यते उत्तमम् यस्य तत्, बहुव्रीहि, that which is the highest form, अपरा प्रकृति is only lower form, सकाम भक्त holds on to the अपरा प्रकृति, the lower form of God, निष्काम भक्त alone knows the superiority of the higher form.

Verse No .25

नाहं प्रकाशः सर्वस्य योगमायासमावृतः ।

मूढोऽयं नाभिजानाति लोको मामजमव्ययम् ॥ ७-२५॥

न अहम् प्रकाशः सर्वस्य योग-माया-समावृतः ।

मूढः अयम् न अभिजानाति लोकः माम् अजम् अव्ययम् ॥ ७-२७॥

योग-माया-समावृतः अहम् सर्वस्य प्रकाशः न । अयम् मूढः लोकः अजम् अव्ययम् माम् न अभिजानाति ।

So in the previous verse कृष्ण said, कृष्ण has got higher nature, what is that, Consciousness and it is ever evident. कृष्ण has got a lower nature, what is that: the physical body, which is subject to arrival and departure. Now one may have a doubt, if you don't have, we will create that doubt, what is that? If Consciousness is ever evident and if Consciousness is the higher nature of God, how come the people miss the ever evident higher nature? And how come people are running after the inferior lower nature? Majority of devotees want to have ईश्वर दर्शनम्, I want to see the Lord, when they want to see God, they want to see inferior nature or superior nature? The very fact they say I want to see God, they have the picturisation of अधरम् मधुरम् नयनम् मधुरम् वदनम् मधुरम्, etc. One lady told I want to have the रास dance with कृष्ण, that is my desire, that is my program, what about मोक्ष? We can see that later, I want to have रास क्रीडा with कृष्ण. So therefore most of the people are interested only in the formed and finite God, why, if the infinite Consciousness is always available, why do people vote for the inferior one, कृष्ण says योग-माया-समावृतः. So the lower nature or अपरा प्रकृति, that is the material nature of God is always attractive, it is beautiful, अधरम् मधुरम्, so beautiful शब्द, the sound of the flute, beautiful स्पर्श, beautiful रूपम्, beautiful रस, beautiful गन्ध, the अपरा प्रकृति is always attractive. And therefore a person becomes extrovert, interested in that form. Therefore योग-माया-समावृतः, so योगमाया means that माया which consists of three गुणs, योग here means combination, combination of what, गुण, three गुणs, which is called माया, so योग माया means त्रिगुणात्मिका माया which belongs to the what, the अपरा प्रकृति and this माया is always मोहिनी, very very tempting and therefore आवृतः – so deluded by, tempted by, seduced by, carried away by, robbed by योग-माया-समावृतः, their intellect is what, the thinking power is clouded. That is why people talk about ‘fall in love’, why do you use the word ‘fall’, I don’t know, it is indirectly indicated, why can’t a person rise in love, it doesn’t happen. So therefore enamored by some finite aspect or the other. Therefore, समावृतः, अहम् सर्वस्य न प्रकाशः – my higher nature is not evident because of extrovertedness, because of delusion. And therefore मूढः, even if people are interested in God, they are interested in formed God, they are interested in सगुण ईश्वर, they are not interested in formless निर्गुण ईश्वर; to get interested in that, you require some discrimination. More in the next class.

From the 20th verse of this chapter, the seventh, Lord कृष्ण is dealing with the topic of सकाम भक्तिः, a भक्ति or worship through which a person seeks everything other than God, the infinite. First कृष्ण talked about the plus points of सकाम भक्ति and the plus points are that सकाम भक्ति is also perfectly OK, it is not sinful to entertain सकाम भक्ति. By सकाम भक्ति, a person does not spiritually fall. And not only that, सकाम भक्ति is very much valid and if it is properly practiced, सकाम भक्ति can give the फलम् also. All these are the plus points of सकाम भक्ति. Thereafter, कृष्ण talked about the minus points of सकाम भक्ति, in verse no.23 and the minus point is that सकाम भक्ति however sacred and great it may be it can give only finite result either money or children or possession or position or the highest लोकs it can give, but one should remember that all of them are finite in nature and being finite in nature, they can give only pleasure for a limited time. And since they can give pleasure only a limited time, a time will come when those joys will have to be lost and when those pleasures are lost certainly they will give you pain. And therefore every finite pleasure according to वेदान्त is potential pain. And the pain that they can give will be directly proportional to the pleasure that one gains. And therefore all सकाम भक्तis will keep a person within संसार only, which involves temporary pleasure, again pain, again temporary pleasure, संसार will continue in सकाम भक्ति. A person may not fall alright, but a person will not spiritually grow through सकाम भक्ति. And therefore what should an intelligent person do, if he is far-sighted enough and if he knows that all finite things are potential pain, an intelligent person should seek only the limitless one, which alone can give permanent security, which alone can give permanent peace, which alone can give permanent happiness. So the next question is what is that infinite goal which is free from all these limitations, for which Lord कृष्ण says that infinite Goal I have already introduced before, which is परा प्रकृति, My own higher nature. Everything falling within अपरा प्रकृति, अपरा प्रकृति means matter, everything falling within matter field will be finite, परा प्रकृति alone is infinite. Therefore one should seek परा प्रकृति. Then the natural next question is where is this परा प्रकृति available, where can I find it, कृष्ण says for this also I have given the answer before. And what is that answer, परा प्रकृति is the चैतन्यम्, the Consciousness-principle, which is everywhere including your own body. कृष्ण said this: जीवभूतां महाबाहो ययेदं धार्यते जगत् in the 5th verse of this chapter. कृष्ण had pointed out, परा प्रकृति is the higher nature of God, परा प्रकृति is the infinite, परा प्रकृति is चैतन्य स्वरूपम् and that चैतन्यम् is in every one. In fact, because of that Consciousness alone I am aware of everything including my body and my mind and thought. And therefore the infinite source of peace and happiness is where, it is closest in my very heart, in my very mind it is there. So the next question will be what, if the infinite is very much available closest, how come people run after finite goals of life? When infinite peace is my own courtyard, why should I go in search of finite? When I got water underneath in my house, just available for tapping, perennial source of ground water is available, why should I run after the miserable Corporation heavily chlorinated sewage mixed water, which is put in some water tank and fight for procuring it and why should I go after, when I have got perennial source of peace and security? कृष्ण says, there can be only one reason, what is that reason, when I have with me, I should not seek it outside, if I am seeking outside, it can be only one reason and that is sheer ignorance of this fact. This fact is covered from my eyes, this fact is covered from my mind, this fact is veiled and that is why we have to dis-cover, discovery means what: disssing the cover, dissing means dismissing. So we require discovery because there is covering. And the next natural question is who is responsible for this cover, for which कृष्ण gives the answer in 25th verse, which we were seeing in the last class. न अहम् प्रकाशः सर्वस्य

योग-माया-समावृतः. So योगमाया, my own माया शक्ति has got the covering power, आवरण शक्ति. And this idea also is not a new idea, कृष्ण has given this in the 13th verse of this chapter.

मोहितं नाभिजानाति मामेभ्यः परमव्ययम् ॥ ७-१३॥

Because of the power of माया, because of the three गुणS of माया, we miss our original nature and we are enamored by the three गुणS of माया, three गुणS of अपरा प्रकृति. And where are they, the three गुणS are in the outside world and three गुणS are in the form of my very body and the three गुणS are in the form of my mind, because mind is matter, body is matter, world is matter, I am enamored by matter and miss the Consciousness, the spirit. And therefore अयम् लोकः मूढः – the whole world is deluded by the attractive matter and miss the Consciousness. So मूढः अयम् न अभिजानाति – he doesn't recognize the fact that the very source of fullness is in his own body, मूढः अयम् न अभिजानाति. And there are people called water diviners, dowsers, dowsing they say and they will be able to find out where water is there, they use some material and they have got some special character in the body and they can fix up and they can say that water is down and if you make use of them, you can dig the well and access the water. Similarly, the गुरु- water diviners, they are ready to inform you that whatever you are seeking you have got underneath you and how to dig the bore-well they know, श्रवणम्, मननम्, निदिध्यासनम्, all these are not my idea. शङ्कराचार्य gives this in विवेकचूडामणि.

आप्तोक्तिम् खननम् तथोपरिशिलाद्युत्कर्षणम् स्वीकृतिम्

निवशेषः समपेक्षते नहि बहिः शब्दैस्तु निर्गच्छति । ॥ विवेकचूडामणि ६५ ॥

So that the source of आनन्द, the source of peace is within you, there is a method of digging and owning that peace. Even though गुरुS are there to help, this person tempted by the materialism he doesn't have time to come to the गुरु, he doesn't have time for शास्त्र. And therefore disowning what he has, he runs after the very same thing, externally. So what should we call him, मूढः, उपनिषत् is most impatient, it says विमूढः, कृष्ण is compassionate, therefore says मूढः, उपनिषत् says विमूढः means what, filtered Idiot, मूढः अयम् न अभिजानाति लोकः – the entire world is busy and bigger the city more you are busy, go to मुम्बई, my God, so busy, rush and go to America, still busier you are. And they criticize you are all lousy people, therefore busy, busy, busy, no time for the primary pursuit of life. We have forgotten for what we have come here, therefore कृष्ण is so angry. Therefore he says, लोकः, here लोकः means the people of the world, do not recognize Me, Me means परा प्रकृति, which is अजम्, birth-less and अव्ययम्, deathless, the eternal Me they don't have time to pursue. Continuing;

Verse No .26

वेदाहं समतीतानि वर्तमानानि चार्जुन ।

भविष्याणि च भूतानि मां तु वेद न कश्चन ॥ ७-२६॥

वेद अहम् समतीतानि वर्तमानानि च अर्जुन ।

भविष्याणि च भूतानि माम् तु वेद न कश्चन ॥ ७-२६॥

हे अर्जुन! अहम् समतीतानि वर्तमानानि च भविष्याणि च भूतानि वेद ।
कश्चन तु माम् न वेद ।

So in the previous verse कृष्ण said the whole world, that is the entire humanity is deluded by माया, that is why माया is called मोहिनी, deluder. So naturally the question comes, if माया is deluding everyone then will it not delude the Lord also because after all Lord is intimately associated with माया, the अपरा प्रकृति, because he has told before, दैवी हि एषा गुणमयी मम माया दुरत्यया, माया is my own माया, He has said, therefore will it not delude the Lord also. The question will come, because, if there is a book in between, because of the book if you cannot see me, because your vision is obstructed, the same thing holds good for me also, Isn't it? Because of the book covering you cannot see me, then naturally, because of the very book I will also not be able to see you. Therefore, will not माया cover the Lord will be the question. कृष्ण says, that is not there, I am the master of माया, whereas you are the slave of माया, that is the difference. I am the master of माया, therefore even though माया is closest to Me, I am the controller, whereas you are deluded by माया. So स्वामि चिन्मयानन्द gives a beautiful example. It seems a father was taking the child on the road, then a person was coming in the opposite direction and policeman was holding him. Therefore the boy asked his father, who is he? The father said, this person is a thief that is why a policeman is nearby to take him to prison, then after person, another person was coming with two policeman, then he asked who is he, he said that he is a bigger thief and therefore there are two policemen, therefore he will not run away. Then the child made a beautiful law, what is that, more the number of policeman around bigger the thief. Then he saw the President coming, surrounded by too many policemen. Then the child said, daddy daddy, biggest thief of the country is going. Then the father has to tell, thief is also surrounded by police, the President is also surrounded by the police, but the difference is one is the controller, the other one is the controlled. President is the controller of the policeman, whereas the thief controlled by the police. Similarly, माया is around me also, माया is around God also, God is the controller of माया, why because he is God and I am controlled by माया, that is why I am called the जीव. Therefore कृष्ण says अहम् वेद – I know I don't have the problem of ignorance, I know both परा प्रकृति as well as अपरा प्रकृति in its entirety. So वेद अहम्, what भूतानि – all the beings, the entire creation I know thoroughly, I don't have the limitation caused by माया, समतीतानि वर्तमानानि भविष्याणि, समतीतानि means the past, वर्तमानानि means the presents, भविष्याणि means the future, all the three words are adjective of भूतानि, so समतीतानि भूतानि, वर्तमानानि भूतानि, भविष्याणि भूतानि, past beings, present beings, future beings. In short, the entire creation, I know, I don't have the problem caused by माया, whereas कश्चन माम् न वेद – whereas the जीव does not know Me, especially my परा प्रकृति, therefore कश्चन here refers to जीवः, जीवः मायया आवृतः सन् न वेद. Therefore जीव has the problem of ignorance, ईश्वर doesn't have the problem of ignorance and therefore what, जीव suffers from संसार. That is explained.

Verse No .27

इच्छाद्वेषसमुत्थेन द्वन्द्वमोहेन भारत ।

सर्वभूतानि सम्मोहं सर्गे यान्ति परन्तप ॥ ७-२७॥

इच्छा-द्वेष-समुत्थेन द्वन्द्व-मोहेन भारत ।

सर्व-भूतानि सम्मोहम् सर्गे यान्ति परन्तप ॥ ७-२७॥

हे परन्तप भारत! सर्व-भूतानि इच्छा-द्वेष-समुत्थेन द्वन्द्व-मोहेन सर्गे सम्मोहम् यान्ति ।

So the जीव has missed the infinite God who is residing in himself, infinite peace which is within himself, infinite security which is within himself he has missed, when, right from the time of birth itself. Therefore कृष्ण says the second line, सर्व-भूतानि सम्मोहम् सर्गे यान्ति, सर्गे means what at the time of birth itself every जीव is affected by ignorance. And since I do not know that the peace and happiness are within myself, I seek the very same peace and happiness outside. Thus begins the life of extrovertedness, बालस्तावत् क्रीडासक्तः. First I seek happiness and security from toys as baby. Then as I grow up, motor cycles and what you call, computer games this and that and then a little bit grown up, wife and children through them I seek, little bit more grown up I seek something else, तरुणस्तावत् तरुणीसक्तः वृद्धस्तावत् विन्तासक्तः, throughout the life he is extrovert, he never asks the question, perhaps what I seek may be within myself, he doesn't have even that suspicion. In fact, he falls dead, but he never finds that what he wants is within himself. Therefore the entire world is deluded because of ignorance and not only that, the more the scientific advancement is they try to make me more and more extrovert only, they increase the number of channels, increase number of entertainment, increase the possibility of traveling, you travel the whole world for Rs.99. Then immediately you think, it is good, world tour for Rs.99 only, then rest of life, you pay Rs.1,000 monthly, that is shown in a smaller print. So thus, you will find that you are kept busy throughout, never allowing you the time for Self-enquiry. And therefore He says, द्वन्द्व-मोहेन – whole world is deluded by द्वन्द्व, द्वन्द्व means pairs of opposites, caused by what रग-द्वेषः, इच्छा and द्वेषः, I divide the world into two, this is the source of joy, this is the source of sorrow, which is my own delusion. And having divided the world into two, the whole life I am interested in acquiring what I consider as a source of joy and I am busy getting rid of the things I consider source of sorrow, so सुख हेतुम् प्रति प्रवृत्तिः दुःख हेतु विषये निवृत्तिः, getting and getting rid, acquiring-disposing, acquiring-disposing, this is called प्रवृत्ति - निवृत्ति activities, born out of what, रग-द्वेषः. And since the delusion is born out of रगः-द्वेषः pair, it is called द्वन्द्व-मोह, द्वन्द्व-मोह means रग-द्वेषः pair caused मोह. And because of this delusion born out of रगः and द्वेषः, the whole world is running here and there. As far as वेदान्त is concerned it doesn't look upon the world as either cause of happiness or cause of sorrow. World is neither cause of happiness nor the cause of sorry. Cause of happiness is what knowing myself, cause of sorrow is what, not knowing myself. Sorrow and happiness are both centered on me. Self-ignorance being cause of sorrow, Self-knowledge being cause of happiness, this I don't know, therefore I put the responsibility on the world and go on adjusting, change the people, change the car and now-a-days people change the wives also and husbands also and if they are not available for change, change your body, change your hairstyle; oneday you have mustache, next day remove it, change the strap of the watch, change this and that, we go on adjusting the world thinking that a change of situation will make me better. And I am so busy that there is no time for solving the real problem, so सम्मोहम् सर्गे यान्ति परन्तप. This is the lot of humanity, but there are some blessed people, somehow, they are different from the majority, who are they, the गीता students.

Verse No .28

येषां त्वन्तगतं पापं जनानां पुण्यकर्मणाम् ।

ते द्रष्टुमोहनिर्मुक्ता भजन्ते मां दृढव्रताः ॥ ७-२८॥

येषाम् तु अन्तगतम् पापम् जनानाम् पुण्य-कर्मणाम् ।

ते द्रष्टु-मोह-निर्मुक्ताः भजन्ते माम् दृढ-व्रताः ॥ ७-२८॥

येषाम् पुण्य-कर्मणाम् जनानाम् तु पापम् अन्तगतम्, ते दृढ-व्रताः द्रष्टु-मोह-निर्मुक्ताः माम् भजन्ते ।

But there are blessed people who have done some पुण्य कर्म either in the previous जन्म or in this जन्म and because of the पुण्य कर्म they do in the form of पञ्च महायज्ञः prescribed in the 3rd chapter we saw, their mind gets purer and purer and therefore their पापम्s, obstacles get lesser and lesser. So पुण्य-कर्मणाम् जनानाम् पापम् अन्तगतम् – in the case of those people who have done some पुण्यम् their पापम् becomes lesser. And what is the indication of the reduction of पापम्? They begin to think. They begin to think, that means what? They begin to think means what? Until then they were not thinking. Did you understand? If not, it means that you were not thinking. कृष्ण says when पापम् comes down only we begin to think, ‘what am I doing?’ If adjusting the world can give me happiness, I should have discovered happiness long before, I have been busy adjusting from my childhood, I am now so many years old, you can fill up, 70 or 80, I have done so many things, but even now I am not happy. In fact, I feel like singing, ‘Back to those bygone days’ (in Tamil), those days seems to be wonderful. In spite of so many achievements, children are there, grandchildren are there, minimum achievements, other achievements are there or not, so many things I have acquired, but my problems continues, perhaps my direction is wrong, if my direction is right at least I should have stumbled upon the solution. The very fact my, what you call, the disturbance continues, anxiety continues, worry has worsened, tension need not be asked, I require sleeping pills, therefore, for something must be wrong,

परीक्ष्य लोकान् कर्मचितान् ब्रह्मणो निर्वेदमायात् ॥ मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-२-१२ ॥ once that purity comes he feels like asking someone, 'is there some other direction, do we have some other goal in life, is it merely अर्थ and काम or do I have something else'. And the moment the enquiry begins, the moment the purity comes, भगवान् begins to give direction. Their delusion subsided and they begin to understand सुखम् and दुःखम् are not outside, the problem is not outside the problem is within me. As दयानन्द स्वामिजि gave a talk, the Problem is You, the Solution therefore is You alone. So once the direction is turned towards myself then I have become spiritual. Until then, there was other spirituality!!! he was taking to that spirituality, the real spirituality is when I turn towards myself. कृष्ण says when the पापम् ends, ते दण्ड-मोह-निर्मुक्ताः भवन्ति - they are no more deluded, they have got नित्य-अनित्य वस्तु विवेकः, therefore they have got इह-अमुत्रः फल भोग वैराग्यम्, they have got, they have diagnosed the problem of life. And what is the problem, I don't know who I am, that is the only one, that is the fundamental problem. Without knowing what I am, I have been doing everything else, like a drunk I have been doing that and therefore what do they do, माम् भजन्ते - they begin to seek me, the परा प्रकृति. Not the अपरा प्रकृति personal God, but the परा प्रकृति, they begin to seek, which is called ब्रह्म अन्वेषणम्, seeking the infinite, which is called निष्काम भक्ति. Therefore because of confusion people are सकाम भक्तः, once clarity of thinking comes, one will become निष्काम भक्त. Then the next question is what is निष्काम भक्ति, which we will enter. Continuing;

Verse No .29

जरा मरणमोक्षाय मामाश्रित्य यतन्ति ये ।

ते ब्रह्म तद्विदुः कृत्स्नमध्यात्मं कर्म चाखिलम् ॥ ७-२९॥

जरा-मरण-मोक्षाय माम् आश्रित्य यतन्ति ये ।

ते ब्रह्म तत् विदुः कृत्स्नम् अध्यात्मम् कर्म च अखिलम् ॥ ७-२९॥

ये माम् आश्रित्य जरा-मरण-मोक्षाय यतन्ति, ते तत् ब्रह्म, कृत्स्नम् अध्यात्मम् अखिलम् कर्म च विदुः ।

Where does निष्काम भक्ति begin? When I know that world is neither the cause of sorrow nor the cause of happiness and when I know that I am the cause of both sorrow and happiness. How do I become the cause of both? When I have got a wrong understanding about myself, misunderstood-I is the cause of sorrow, rightly understood-I is the cause of happiness. Like when a rope is understood and seen as a rope it is not the cause of fear, but when the very same rope is misunderstood as snake it frightens. Similarly, when I am misunderstood I become the cause of sorrow, when I know myself I am the cause of happiness. Once I have this clarity, then my attempt will be what, to know myself, जिज्ञासा भक्ति begins. Therefore कृष्ण says, जरा-मरण-मोक्षाय – for attaining मोक्ष, freedom, from what, जरा मरणम् – freedom from संसार. संसार consists of what, many problems, but the most prominent problems, frightening problems are जरा and मरणम्, old age and death. These are two things we dread. We never want to die, we will tell, we are not afraid of death, till it comes near, when the death comes nobody wants and even if one is not frightened of death one is certainly frightened of old age. They say ‘स्वामिजि, I should die instantly’, I should go to bed and in sleep I should die, why, I am frightened of old age, where all the faculties go away and mind is fully active and it has got enough matter for worrying also. What else you need and you cannot share the worry because everybody else is busy. And they know that once they ask: How are you, you will start from 1917. Who has time for that? And you don't remember that you have told this story. Therefore repeatedly like a broken gramophone record, they will be telling the same thing. Therefore nobody to share, I have got so much to share, I cannot do anything, this is a mental problem, जरा is the worst संसार. So if you want to मोक्ष, मोक्ष is from जरा-मरण-मोक्ष. For this मोक्ष, ये यतन्ति – some people work for that immortality, work for that freedom, माम् आश्रित्य – by taking shelter in Me, i.e., seeking my grace, there are some people who want to go beyond काल, जरा and मरणम् represents time. Going beyond time means going beyond matter, matter and time are inseparable. So going beyond old age and death means, going beyond time, see the logic, going beyond time means going beyond matter, going beyond matter means, going beyond अपरा प्रकृति, going beyond अपरा प्रकृति is going to परा प्रकृति. Some people work to attain परा प्रकृति, ते विदुः – they certainly discover the परा प्रकृति, which is the source of immortality, which is the source of security, which is the source of peace, which is the source of happiness, that some rare people discover, ते विदुः. That means what: they will know both the अपरा प्रकृति as well as परा प्रकृति, of the Lord. Until now when they were worshipping personal God, they only knew अपरा प्रकृति. Now they know the formed अपरा प्रकृति as well as the formless परा प्रकृति, they know the सगुण ईश्वर, they know the निर्गुण ईश्वर. In fact, they know the Lord, in totality, ते विदुः. But here, कृष्ण does a small mischief, what he wants to say is: These निष्काम भक्तः will ultimately know both परा and अपरा प्रकृतis, this is what He wants to say. And you should remember परा and अपरा प्रकृतis are what, the higher and lower nature of God. But instead of using these two words, कृष्ण uses a set of new technical words, which he has never discussed before. कृष्ण could have said what, they will know both परा and अपरा प्रकृति of Me. But instead of saying that, he introduces a set of new term and naturally अर्जुन will not understand and naturally अर्जुन will ask questions, naturally we can go to 8th chapter. This is कृष्ण's trick to keep you coming to the classes, therefore this परा and अपरा प्रकृति put together is presented with a new set of technical terms, what are they, ब्रह्म is technical term No.1, which will be explained only in the 8th chapter. Then the next technical term he uses is कर्म. So ते तत् ब्रह्म कृत्स्नम् विदुः - they will know ब्रह्मन् completely, then अखिलम् कर्म विदुः - they will know कर्म completely. What is कर्म कृष्ण doesn't explain, he will explain only in the 8th chapter. So, these people will know ब्रह्म, these people will know कर्म, second term, then अध्यात्मम् - they will also know completely what अध्यात्मम् is. What is the meaning of अध्यात्मम्? अध्यात्मम्, I also don't want to explain, then you will not come for the 8th chapter, therefore the 8th chapter अर्जुन will ask what is ब्रह्मन्, what is कर्म, what is अध्यात्मम्? That is coming, therefore be patient, we will see the details there, therefore an ईश्वर ज्ञानि will know these three factors and not only these factors, he will know some more, what are those some more?

Verse No .30

साधिभूताधिदैवं मां साधियज्ञं च ये विदुः ।

प्रयाणकालेऽपि च मां ते विदुर्युक्तचेतसः ॥ ७-३०॥

साधिभूत-अधिदैवम् माम् साधियज्ञम् च ये विदुः ।

प्रयाणकाले अपि च मां ते विदुः युक्त-चेतसः ॥ ७-३०॥

ये साधिभूत-अधिदैवम् साधियज्ञम् च माम् विदुः ते युक्त-चेतसः प्रयाण-काले अपि च माम् विदुः ।

Not only they will know the previous three factors, they will know the following three factors also. What are those three, अधिभूतम्, अधिदैवम्, अधियज्ञम् च. So these three factors also they know, in short, they will know six factors. What are the six factors: ब्रह्म, कर्म, अध्यात्मम्, अधिभूतम्, अधिदैवम्, अधियज्ञम्, all these six factors they know. But you know what is the secret, all these six factors put together is nothing but परा प्रकृति plus अपरा प्रकृति, but the very same

परा-अपरा प्रकृति mixture कृष्ण is presenting in the form of these six technical terms. And not only he will know these six technical terms or the six factors, कृष्ण adds one more, this wise man or wise women, (women's lib day) let us be safe, so this wise person will not only know these six factors completely, the wise person will remember them at the time of death also, प्रयाण-काले अपि च माम् – this wise person will remember Me, consisting of परा and अपरा प्रकृति or consisting of these six factors, the wise person remembers at the time of death also. Naturally, this will also create a question in अर्जुन's mind, why should कृष्ण talk about ईश्वर स्मरणम् at the time of death, we are now happily alive and we hope that the मरण कालम् has not come now. Why should कृष्ण specifically mention ईश्वर स्मरणम् at the time of death? From that we get two questions, is there any significance in ईश्वर स्मरणम् at the time of death. That is question No.1. Second question is how can a person, remember God at the time of death? Because at the time of death we will remember everything except God. Because we have got so many incomplete jobs, this deposit that deposit, etc., bill is there, key is here, to whom all I have lent money (from whom I have borrowed is forgotten completely), so we have got so many things and so many people we would like to meet, grandson – granddaughter, so who will remember God. So कृष्ण is talking about प्रयाण काल ईश्वर स्मरणम् which seems to have some significance, therefore the question is what is the significance of that and how to remember God at the time of death. Naturally, अर्जुन will ask seven questions in the next chapter, what ब्रह्म, what is कर्म, what is अध्यात्मम्, what is अधिभूतम्, what is अधिदैवम्, what is अधियज्ञम् and how to remember God at the time of death? Thus these two श्लोकs are the seed for the next chapter. Therefore कृष्ण says here, प्रयाण-काले अपि, प्रयाणम् means death, not here दिल्ली, वेन्नै, मुम्बई, etc., of course they are also प्रयाणम्, but this is bigger प्रयाणम्. So प्रयाण-काले अपि, at the time of death also, युक्त-चेतसः – those devotees of disciplined mind, because to remember God that too at the time of death requires tremendous discipline and therefore they are युक्त-चेतसः, युक्त-चेतसः is the name of the people who have got the disciplined mind and those people माम् विदुः, विदुः means स्मरन्ति. They remember Me at the time of death also and who are they, निष्काम भक्ताः. So with this कृष्ण concludes the topic of सकाम भक्ति, निष्काम भक्ति, differentiation and with this the 7th chapter is getting over, with the seed for 8th chapter, like 'to be continued' as in TV, two people will be in conversation and you will want to know, they will say next week, certainly you will watch that, कृष्ण is using that 'to be continued' technique here.

ॐ तत्सदिति श्रीमद्भगवद्गीतासु उपनिषत्सु ब्रह्मविद्यायां योगशास्त्रे श्रीकृष्णार्जुनसंवादे ज्ञानविज्ञानयोगो नाम सप्तमोऽध्यायः ॥ ७॥

Thus is concluded the seventh chapter of the भगवद्गीता which is titled ज्ञानविज्ञानयोगः.

CHAPTER 07, SUMMARY

Today I will give you a summary of the 7th chapter. As I had indicated before, the 7th chapter happens to be a turning point in the format of गीता teaching. In the first six chapters, Lord कृष्ण focused on certain topics and now from the 7th chapter onwards कृष्ण is going to focus on a different set of topics. In the first six chapters, three topics were generally dealt with, viz., जीव स्वरूपम्, जीव प्रयत्नः and कर्मयोगः; जीव स्वरूपम् meaning the essential nature of the individual, in whose analysis कृष्ण established that the individual is neither the perishable body nor the changing mind, but the changeless Consciousness is the nature of the individual. This was done almost in every chapter, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th. Then कृष्ण highlighted on the role of individual effort so that we don't have a dangerous fatalistic approach. One of the pitfalls of the human pursuit or human life is the tendency to become fatalistic, especially when we face a few problems. When we face a few failures we conclude that nothing is in our hands, everything is controlled by someone, things have been already written on the forehead, we are only simple puppets in the hands of someone. This is the most dangerous fatalistic approach which is fatal, spiritually fatal. Therefore कृष्ण gives a strong warning in the first six chapters: never take to this fatalistic approach, it is not that everything is predetermined, you have got control over your future, you can take charge of your life. कृष्ण doesn't say I have got total control. कृष्ण says I am not totally helpless. कृष्ण doesn't say I have total control, कृष्ण only says I am not totally helpless, I do have a contributory role in deciding my future and therefore take charge of your life. You are responsible for your future, this is called जीव प्रयत्नः, पुरुष प्रयत्नः or assertion of the free-will, which is the unique faculty of a human being. Thus जीव स्वरूपम् was topic one, जीव प्रयत्न was topic two and the third topic was कर्मयोग as a very important spiritual साधन for one's spiritual growth. This कर्मयोग साधन also was highlighted up to the end of the 6th chapter.

From the 7th chapter onwards, the topics are going to change and I said three topics are going to be newly and freshly highlighted, first one being ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, the nature of God and the second being ईश्वर अनुग्रह, the role, the contributory role of ईश्वर's grace. While the individual effort has a very important contributory role, equally important is the role of ईश्वर अनुग्रह. This is the second topic, not only in the 7th chapter, but in the following chapters up to 12th. And then the final topic कृष्ण will highlight is the उपासना साधन, the discipline of meditation upon God in any particular form. ईश्वर उपासनाम्, otherwise called सगुण ध्यानम्, ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, ईश्वर अनुग्रह, ईश्वर ध्यानम्, these three are going to be focused. With this background we have to study each one of these six chapters, with this background we will try to summarize the 7th chapter.

➤ कृष्ण introduces the subject matter in the first three verses. So straightaway he makes it very clear, I am going to deal with the nature of God. And the knowledge of the nature of God, i.e., ईश्वर स्वरूपम् ज्ञानम्, he divides into two, ज्ञानम् and विज्ञानम्. ज्ञानम् referring to the सगुण ईश्वर knowledge, the knowledge of the formed-ईश्वर and विज्ञानम् referring to the knowledge of the higher formless- ईश्वर, निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्; विज्ञानम् भवति, सगुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् ज्ञानम् भवति and हे अर्जुन! I am going to give you both ज्ञानम् and विज्ञानम्. And then कृष्ण glorifies this knowledge, don't approach this knowledge as a time pass, because Sunday is a holiday, nothing else to do, take it seriously, because it is a very very rare knowledge, very very valuable knowledge. In fact, it is the liberating knowledge, a knowledge which gives you fulfillment at all the levels, emotional fulfillment as well as intellectual fulfillment. And thus कृष्ण gives the introduction by mentioning the subject matter as well as the glory of knowing that.

➤ Having introduced in the first three verses, from the 4th verse up to the 12th verse, कृष्ण discusses the main topic of this chapter, as well as the five chapters, viz., ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, which is very important subject matter. First कृष्ण defines God. What is ईश्वर? कृष्ण says ईश्वर is that principle which consists of two factors known as परा प्रकृति and अपरा प्रकृति, ईश्वर is that one principle which consists of two aspects, two features, two अंशs known as परा प्रकृति and अपरा प्रकृति. In simple English Spirit-principle and matter-principle. Only thing is when I use the word Spirit, don't take any other spirit, Spirit means Consciousness-principle. And what are the common features and uncommon features of these two? You should remember all throughout the गीता study, the common feature is that both of them are beginningless, Consciousness is never created, never creatable. It is eternal principle and the second is matter also is never created, never creatable. Even according to the modern science, by the law of conservation of matter, we know even an ounce of matter cannot be created by all the scientists in the world. Therefore परा प्रकृति, the Consciousness is अनादि, अपरा प्रकृति, the matter is अनादि, this अनादि चेतन तत्त्वम् plus अनादि अचेतन तत्त्वम्, this mixture is called अनादि ईश्वरः. Therefore don't ask when did ईश्वर come? ईश्वर didn't come. He is not gone. This is information No.1, the nature of God. Then कृष्ण gives an additional and important knowledge and what is that, this ईश्वर, who is a mixture of परा and अपरा प्रकृति is the cause of the entire universe. In fact, this ईश्वर alone has evolved into the universe. This ईश्वर alone manifests as the universe. In technical language we say ईश्वरः जगत् उपादान कारणम्. कृष्ण does not present ईश्वर as a person sitting somewhere and going on creating things and dubbing like making chapattis or something, go on a creating and dumping. Therefore ईश्वर does not create the world and dump it down, but ईश्वर himself evolves into the form of the world. And technically it is called, the उपादान कारणम्, जगत् सृष्टि, स्थिति, लय कारणम् ईश्वरः or जगत्

कारणम् ईश्वरः. Then having said this much, कृष्ण derives some important corollary from this information or knowledge, which is important for the future development of the teaching. What is that? If ईश्वर is the cause, God is the Cause and world is the effect, an important corollary we get is, there is no world separate from God. There is no world separate from God, because God himself is appearing or manifesting as the world which means world is another name for God himself in a different configuration. If we cannot understand this, I don't think you cannot understand, we can take any example and understand. If gold is the cause and ornaments are the effect, we can very easily conclude that there are no ornaments separate from gold. There is no substance called ornament ornament is non-substantial, the only substance that is there is gold alone. Then what does the word ornament indicate? The word ornament does not indicate a new substance, but the word ornament indicates the same substance gold but in a different manifestation. What was previously called gold in one condition is called ornament in another condition, there is no substantial difference but there is only अवस्था भेदः, configuration difference, like ice, water and steam, these three do not have substantial difference, all these three are H₂O, the difference is only in अवस्था भेदः, one is in solid state, another in liquid, another is in gaseous state. And therefore कृष्ण says अर्जुन don't take this world for granted, don't look down upon the world, because the world is my own अवतार as it were. If राम is an अवतार of God, कृष्ण is another manifestation of God, the very world itself is an अवतार of God which is very easily available for whom, the world अवतार is available for whom, you should ask me the question for whom it is not available. For having राम अवतार दर्शनम्, you might have to do lot of तपस्, त्यागराज had to do, 96 crores राम नाम, thus you have to do lot of तपस् for the experience of राम अवतार, कृष्ण अवतार. But without any तपस् one अवतार of the Lord, one manifestation of the Lord that is accessible to everyone is

विश्वरूप अवतार, this is called विश्वरूप अवतार. And therefore कृष्ण said when you look upon the world, if you remember this fact, which fact, God alone is appearing as the world, then you look at the world as divinity, it is no more a secular world, it is no more a mundane world, but it is a divine world and therefore कृष्ण said

प्रणवः सर्ववेदेषु शब्दः स्वे पौरुषं नृषु ॥ ७-८॥

Open the eyes, भगवान्, open the ears, भगवान्, nose you smell, भगवान्, 'Even the feather (due to its blackness) of the crow reminds me of you Oh कृष्ण' (a Tamil song). This is called सर्वम् विष्णु मयम् जगत्, if you are a शिव भक्त, सर्वम् शिव मयम् जगत्. And therefore, God is in the form of the world is the important derivation. And then comes another technically important understanding. If the world is manifestation of God, the world also must consist of परा and अपरा प्रकृति, because if ईश्वर is a mixture of two, the world also must be a mixture of two. Therefore what is अपरा प्रकृति and what is परा प्रकृति here? कृष्ण says whatever you experience is अपरा प्रकृति, matter only; the world is matter, अपरा प्रकृति, the body is matter, अपरा प्रकृति. That is why bio-chemistry is possible, all chemicals only, outside it is chemistry, the same chemicals inside is bio-chemistry, that is the only difference, outside chemistry, inside bio-chemistry. So world is अपरा प्रकृति, body is अपरा प्रकृति, even mind is अपरा प्रकृति, because mind is also subtle matter only, that is why change in body chemistry can often affect your psychological condition. That is why psychiatrists often give chemical medicine for what problem, depression tablet, depression is an emotional problem, why are you giving chemicals for that, they say and they have proved that a difference, a change in bio-chemistry can change your emotion. From this it is very clear that mind is also what: subtle chemicals only, subtle matter. Therefore world is अपरा प्रकृति, body is अपरा प्रकृति and mind is अपरा प्रकृति then where do I find the blessed परा प्रकृति? Search and search! कृष्ण says never search for परा प्रकृति, you will never come across परा प्रकृति. Then what is परा प्रकृति? The very searcher, the very I, the experiencer of the world, experiencer of the body, experiencer of the mind, that I, the observer Consciousness-principle is परा प्रकृति. जीवभूतां महाबाहो ययेदं धार्यते जगत्. When the Consciousness obtains before the creation evolves, it is called परमात्मा. When the very same Consciousness is available after the creation comes, in our body, the very same Consciousness is called जीवात्मा. सृष्टेः पूर्वम् परमात्मा, सृष्टेः अनन्तरम् जीवात्मा इति उच्यते. Consciousness is ever the same. So this is the ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, discussed from verse no.4 up to 12.

➤ Then from verse no.13 to 19, कृष्ण deals with the topic of संसार कारणम् and संसार परिहारः. what is the cause of human misery, the cause of human worries, human anxieties, human fear? In simple language, संसारः and only he diagnoses the disease, he also gives the tablet, the medicine. What is the bacteria and what is the antibiotics. What is the cause of संसार? कृष्ण says when the Lord or the world is available in the form of अपरा प्रकृति, the matter-principle and in the form of परा प्रकृति, we human beings are preoccupied with only अपरा प्रकृति. We heavily spend our life in the pursuit of अपरा प्रकृति, we heavily lean upon अपरा प्रकृति, for our security, for our happiness, for our fulfillment, unfortunately we are depending on the अपरा प्रकृति or material aspect of the world. What is the wrong in that. The problem is अपरा प्रकृति by nature being matter, matter by nature being changing, अपरा प्रकृति will never remain steadily. Any part of अपरा प्रकृति, let it be body, let it be mind or let it be anything in the world, it can never remain the same, it is heavily fluctuating. And fluctuation means I can never keep the ideal condition all the time. Generally ideal conditions don't come, some problem will be there somewhere. Ideal condition is like ideal gas in chemistry, it doesn't exist, only for writing in the book, there is no such thing like ideal gas, like pure gold doesn't exist. Pure gold means 99.9999999%. Similarly, perfect ideal अपरा प्रकृति you can never order and even by some good luck and पुण्य, even if all conditions are favorable you cannot retain. Either there is a problem in योग, acquiring or in क्षेम, maintaining. As somebody said first we work for status, then we work for quo, quo means what status quo; working for status is called योग, working for quo is called क्षेम. This is our struggle. And invariably miserably we fail because अपरा प्रकृति is subject to birth, growth, transformation, decay and death ultimately. And therefore leaning upon an insecure thing is never going to give me security and therefore expecting security from अपरा प्रकृति is संसार. It is like trying to extract oil from sand. You can crush any amount, but no oil will come, why, because it should be there to come. अपरा प्रकृति can never give permanence, because it is not there in that and therefore कृष्ण says अपरा प्रकृति can be used only for fun, only for enjoyment, only for game, only for appreciation, handle अपरा प्रकृति but when you want to dependence, psychological or emotional security and fulfillment, turn towards something permanent and only permanent thing is परा प्रकृति. You need not reject अपरा प्रकृति, you need not throw away अपरा प्रकृति. I have given you an example, when a beautifully decorated cardboard chair is there, you can use it in keeping kolu (step-by-step rows of idols kept during नवरात्रि). In your show case you can keep, you need not destroy it, you do everything, you can give it as a wedding gift, everything, except one thing, what, don't sit over that chair. So when I say that don't sit over that chair, I don't ask you to hate the chair, I don't ask you even to renounce the chair, you can keep it in your pocket, you carry all over, but after bringing to the class, don't try to sit on it, some people bring chair, try cardboard chair. Similarly, use अपरा प्रकृति for sport, use परा प्रकृति for fulfillment and security. It is this trick, this solution people don't know. Therefore they are trapped,

मोहितं नाभिजानाति मामेभ्यः परमव्ययम् ॥ ७-१३॥

परम् अव्ययम् means परा प्रकृति, न अभिजानाति means they don't know the परा प्रकृति shop which alone sells security. You can go to all the T Nagar shops for buying all the clothes, ornaments, all those things. For that one should not go to परा प्रकृति shop, for दीपावलि shopping go to अपरा प्रकृति shop. You should go to appropriate shop for appropriate things, अपरा प्रकृति shop is useful, use it, but don't ask for security from अपरा प्रकृति shop. So then what is the remedy for this problem, कृष्ण presents the remedy as surrender unto Me:

दैवी ह्येषा गुणमयी मम माया दुरत्यया ।

मामेव ये प्रपद्यन्ते मायामेतां तरन्ति ते ॥ ७-१४॥

प्रपत्तिः, शरणागतिः or भक्तिः He presents as the remedy. But when we say भक्ति is the remedy, we should very very carefully understand, otherwise it will create a very big confusion, because in the beginning of the 2nd chapter, in the 11th verse, we have said:

अशोच्यानन्वशोचस्त्वं प्रज्ञावादांश्च भाषसे ।

गतासूनगतासूंश्च नानुशोचन्ति पण्डिताः ॥ २-११॥

There in the 2nd chapter, I talked long before, I don't know whether you remember, I will give a 4th chapter reference,

श्रेयान्द्रव्यमयात् यज्ञात् ज्ञान-यज्ञः परन्तप ।

सर्वम् कर्म-अखिलम् पार्थ ज्ञाने परिसमाप्यते ॥ ४-३३॥

In those portions, we have ascertained that ज्ञानम् is the only remedy for संसार. We didn't say ज्ञानम् is one of the remedies, we didn't say. ज्ञानम् is the remedy and ज्ञानम् is the only remedy for संसार. Now here we are coming and saying that भक्ति is the remedy, are we not contradicting, this student should ask the question. If the student doesn't ask, the teacher will ask. Do you accept that there are alternative remedies also, do we accept that there are many paths for liberation, multi-path theory it is called. Some people say one path, some people say two paths, some people say three paths - कर्म भक्ति ज्ञानम्, another person says four paths - कर्म भक्ति ज्ञानम् राज, राज means राजयोग and another person says fifth path, कुण्डलिनी योग, another person says sixth path, SKY - Simplified कुण्डलिनी योग. Now tell me, what do you mean? You should have consistency in your teaching, that is called समन्वय, an ideal teacher is one who never misses the importance of समन्वय, which means no statement should be contradicted. How do you say भक्ति is remedy. For that our answer is भक्ति is not one particular साधन, भक्ति is a series of साधनs which has to culminate in ज्ञानम्, भक्ति is not a particular साधन, but it is the name of a range of साधनs which has to culminate in ज्ञानम् and when the भक्ति culminates in ज्ञानम्, we call it ज्ञान रूप भक्तिः. So what are the साधनs or what are the series of साधनs which constitute भक्ति, we will discuss later. कृष्ण doesn't go elaborately here, in the 12th chapter we will discover that, where we will show that भक्ति is not a particular साधन, but it is a range, series of साधनs which has to culminate in ज्ञानम्. And therefore when we say भक्ति is remedy, what do we mean, भक्ति which culminates in ज्ञानम् is the remedy for संसार and कृष्ण himself knows that we will have this confusion and therefore कृष्ण clarifies,

आर्तो जिज्ञासुरर्थार्थी ज्ञानी च भरतर्षभ ॥ ७-१६॥

तेषां ज्ञानी नित्ययुक्त एकभक्तिर्विशिष्यते ।

प्रियो हि ज्ञानिनोऽत्यर्थमहं स च मम प्रियः ॥ ७-१७॥

So भक्ति has to go through various stages and ultimately भक्त should get knowledge and that भक्त is called a ज्ञानि भक्त. The other भक्तs who are in the process of the journey, they are called either आर्त भक्त, अर्थार्थी भक्त, जिज्ञासु भक्तs, they are all only in the process, they will not be free from संसार. आर्त भक्त is संसारि, have no doubt, write in bold letters, अर्थार्थी भक्त is संसारि, जिज्ञासु भक्त is संसारि. Then only when traveling through various stages of साधन (which we will be seeing later, I am suspending it, so that you will come to the 12th chapter, that is all secret), therefore we will get the ranges five levels कृष्ण will tell there. Five levels of भक्ति and when it culminates in ज्ञानम्, the भक्त will become a ज्ञानि भक्तः. He alone is liberated from संसार, because a ज्ञानि भक्त alone knows परा प्रकृति. अर्थार्थी भक्त, आर्त भक्त, जिज्ञासु भक्त, none of them knows परा प्रकृति, therefore they continue to lean upon अपरा प्रकृति only, a ज्ञानि भक्त alone knows the source of security, which is परा प्रकृति. And कृष्ण says, this is a long-term process.

वासुदेवः सर्वमिति स महात्मा सुदुर्लभः ॥ ७-१९॥

So it is a long journey, therefore you have to start somewhere, even starting from आर्त भक्ति. I hope you remember what is आर्त भक्ति, worshipping God only when you are in crisis, in मलयाळम् they say as a joke, ‘until one crosses the bridge one calls “नारायण” and once the bridge is crossed, then it is “कूरायन”, meaning that नारायण or the Lord is forgotten!.’ So only when I am in crisis, I remember गुरुवायूरप्पन्, बालाजि, we all know where we get what, for marriage this temple, for money, stomach ache, all this is in the list, for this problem that temple that problem this temple. कृष्ण says you have to start somewhere. Therefore भक्ति culminating in ज्ञानम् is the remedy for संसार, this is the topic from verse 13 to 19.

➤ Then the next topic from 20 to 26 कृष्ण wants to deal with two forms of भक्ति, based on one’s motive. He divides भक्ति in two forms based on the motive and they are सकाम भक्ति and निष्काम भक्ति. कृष्ण wants to point out that both of them are OK, but ultimately one has to graduate to निष्काम भक्ति. निष्काम भक्ति is impossible without going through सकाम भक्ति initially. First भक्ति should come means, it will be a business भक्ति, a contract भक्ति; you do this, I will give you, after you finish the job. Payment is only after you deliver the goods money will be given, very very smart business people we are. We will keep the money here, finish the job and take it. कृष्ण says सकाम भक्ति is the only means to arrive at निष्काम भक्ति. Therefore, निष्काम भक्ति is impossible without सकाम भक्ति and सकाम भक्ति is incomplete without coming to निष्काम भक्ति. This is the secret. This कृष्ण wants to convey. Therefore from first from verse no.20 to 26, कृष्ण deals with सकाम भक्ति. What is the definition of सकाम भक्ति? Any form of worship through we seek only the अपरा प्रकृति benefits, अपरा प्रकृति is what: matter, अपरा प्रकृति benefit means what: material benefits. Therefore things, money, name, fame, status, position, possession, relation, in fact, everything that we generally ask comes under अपरा प्रकृति. In short, whatever is subject to arrival and departure is अपरा प्रकृति and any form of worship done for the accomplishment of those material ends, called in शास्त्र as धर्म-अर्थ-कामः, otherwise called प्रेयः, in कठोपनिषत् language. And कृष्ण talks about the brighter side of सकाम भक्ति as well as the darker side, both He says. What is the brighter side? सकाम भक्ति is not sinful, it is not पापम्, so you need not feel bad if you are सकाम भक्त. You can go to any God and ask for anything in the world, instead of asking the local who will never fulfill. Instead of falling at anybody's feet fall in the feet of the Lord. Why should you fall at the feet of the local. 'Whether extolling humans bound by egotism comforting, wealth is very comforting or the service in the holy presence of Lord श्रीराम comforting.' Therefore why fall at the feet of the, what you call, 'extolling humans bound by egotism', why should I fall at the feet of local people with all kinds of weakness. Therefore brighter side is सकाम भक्ति is not sinful. Then सकाम भक्ति is always valid and fruitful. भगवान् will answer your prayers, if you have done the सकाम भक्ति properly and if you don't have any obstacles for that, that is there. Suppose somebody feeds me food, because I am hungry, but if I have got digestion problem, this is my problem. Similarly, भगवान् will bless, but if I have some obstacle, that is a different issue, but सकाम भक्ति is valid and fruitful. These are the brighter aspects. Then what is the darker side, as I said before itself, all the accomplishments belong to अपरा प्रकृति, therefore you can never permanently hold on to them. अन्तवत् तु फलम् तेषाम् तत् भवति अल्प-मेधसाम् । No अपरा प्रकृति gain you can hold on to. At any time, it will leave you high and dry. And not only that, even before it actually leaves our mind is so imaginative that we constantly think of possible loss. We will only worry about the loss, In fact, we don't enjoy. दयानन्द स्वामिजि beautifully says, when you drink the cola, with the straw, you have to look down or otherwise it will not go up, it is like that. Now you are sucking the cola, whatever the taste it is you are enjoying that. Why can't you enjoy, no, you look at the level which unfortunately falls in your eyes and therefore instead of drinking and enjoying, you think that the level is coming down and final the 'purr' sound comes and finish. Therefore, not only in future it gives you trouble even in the present there is a constant sense of the fear of loss, these are all the darker side of सकाम भक्ति.

➤ Having said this much, कृष्ण comes to his favorite topic of निष्काम भक्ति from verse no.27 to 30. 20 to 26 सकाम भक्ति, 27 to 30 निष्काम भक्ति and निष्काम भक्ति is a भक्ति, in which a person uses भक्ति for the accomplishment of परा प्रकृति or for the discovery of परा प्रकृति or for spiritual growth, everything a निष्काम भक्त does is primarily meant for inner spiritual growth; not that he doesn't want money, he looks upon that as a by-product, an incidental secondary thing we need but my primary focus is on inner growth. Even simply going to office, salary is incidental, my service and my consequent inner growth is the primary. Therefore कृष्ण said:

ते ब्रह्म तद्धिदुः कृत्स्नमध्यात्मं कर्म चाखिलम् ॥ ७-२९॥

निष्काम भक्त's are interested in going beyond time. जय means old age, मरणम् means death, both are caused by what काल or time,

मा कुरु धन जन यौवन गर्व हरति निमेषात्कालः सर्वम् । ... ॥
भजगोविन्दम् ११ ॥

कालो जगत् भक्षक. Therefore going beyond जरा and मरणम्, that is old age and death is going beyond time and the only thing beyond time is परा प्रकृति. Therefore मोक्ष means discovery of परा प्रकृति and those who use भक्ति for that discovery they are called निष्काम भक्ताः and such निष्काम भक्तः will ultimately discover the Lord in his totality, that means what: both अपरा प्रकृति and परा प्रकृति they will understand, both सगुण and निर्गुण they will understand, both the matter and the spirit they understand,

उभयोः अपि दृष्टः अन्तः तु अनयोः तत्त्व-दर्शिभिः ॥ २-१६॥

And therefore कृष्ण wants to conclude by saying निष्काम भक्त will have total ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, but कृष्ण does a mischief, what is that: instead of using the word ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, consisting of परा and अपरा प्रकृति, कृष्ण uses a set of new technical words. What are the technical words - six of them He uses, कर्म, ब्रह्म, अध्यात्मम्, अधिभूतम्, अधिदैवम्, अधियज्ञम्, six factors, In fact, the secret is all the six factors put together is परा plus अपरा प्रकृति only. Just like in our school examination. So there was a question, in which all states you get chukku (dried ginger)? But in our lesson they have taught, where all we get ginger, OK and if you don't know, ginger alone is chukku, what do you say, the teacher has only taught where ginger grows, but he has not told us where chukku is available. So it is only नाम भेदः, न तु वस्तु भेदः, Therefore अर्जुन doesn't know what these six factors are only परा and अपरा प्रकृति, therefore he is blinking, that is what कृष्ण wants. And then अर्जुन himself will ask what are these things, कृष्ण can reply. But the lesson we have to note is निष्काम भक्त will attain liberation. With this this chapter is over and the chapter is called ज्ञान विज्ञानयोगः because it deals with the knowledge of ईश्वर both in his अपरा and परा प्रकृति form.

CHAPTER 08, VERSES 01-05

Having completed the 7th chapter, we will now enter into the 8th chapter of the गीता. The 8th chapter is primarily based on the last two verses of the 7th chapter. We saw in the 7th chapter, in the last two verses, कृष्ण introduced certain technical words without explaining them to अर्जुन. He introduced six terms: ब्रह्म, कर्म, अध्यात्मम्, अधिभूतम्, अधिदैवम् and अधियज्ञम्. And after introducing these six terms, कृष्ण also talked about remembering God at the time of death. And naturally it creates a curiosity in the mind of अर्जुन, why should कृष्ण talk about ईश्वर स्मरणम् at the time of death. Naturally there must be some significance for that expression. All put together in अर्जुन's mind, seven questions arise. Six questions dealing with the six technical terms and the seventh question dealing with the significance of remembering God at the time of death. And the entire 8th chapter is devoted to answering these seven questions arising from अर्जुन. And by way of answering अर्जुन's questions, कृष्ण introduces the important topic of उपासना otherwise called सगुण ईश्वर ध्यानम्. I had said that in the middle section of the गीता, that is from 7th to the 12th chapter, कृष्ण highlights the साधन of उपासना. While in the first six chapters कर्मयोग साधन is highlighted, in the middle part of the गीता, उपासना is to be highlighted and this topic कृष्ण deals with in the 8th chapter and therefore the chapter begins with अर्जुन's questions based on the last two verses, with this background, we will enter into the chapter proper.

Verse No .01

अथ अष्टमोऽध्यायः ।

अर्जुन उवाच ।

किं तद् ब्रह्म किमध्यात्मं किं कर्म पुरुषोत्तम ।

अधिभूतं च किं प्रोक्तमधिदैवं किमुच्यते ॥ ८-१॥

किम् तत् ब्रह्म किम् अध्यात्मम् किम् कर्म पुरुषोत्तम ।

अधिभूतम् च किम् प्रोक्तम् अधिदैवम् किम् उच्यते ॥ ८-१॥

हे पुरुषोत्तम! तत् ब्रह्म किम्? अध्यात्मम् किम्? कर्म किम्? अधिभूतम् किम् प्रोक्तम्? अधिदैवम् च किम् उच्यते ?

अर्जुन उवाच, अर्जुन asked the following seven questions based on the verse 29 and 30th of the 7th chapter. So the first question is तत् ब्रह्म किम्? ब्रह्मन् the term was mentioned in the 29th verse, ते ब्रह्म तत् विदुः कृत्स्नम्. There कृष्ण used the word ब्रह्म. Therefore अर्जुन wants to know, किम् तत् ब्रह्म? What do you mean by ब्रह्म? Similarly, अध्यात्मम् किम्? What is the meaning of the technical term अध्यात्मम्? Which was also introduced in the 29th verse, second line, अध्यात्मम् कर्म च अखिलम्, therefore what is अध्यात्मम्, question No.2. Then the third question is किम् कर्म? What do you mean by कर्म? Even though it has got a dictionary meaning of action, but technically what is the significance of the word कर्म, this is question No.3. Then the 4th question is, अधिभूतम् च किम् प्रोक्तम्? Oh Lord what is the meaning of the word अधिभूतम् which occurs in verse no.30 of the 7th chapter, साधिभूताधिदैवम्? There कृष्ण has introduced the word. And then the fifth question is अधिदैवम् किम् उच्यते? And what is referred to as अधिदैवम्, this word also is introduced in the 30th verse of the 7th chapter. हे पुरुषोत्तम! पुरुषोत्तम is not the sixth question. पुरुषोत्तम is अर्जुन addressing the Lord. So हे कृष्ण! please answer these five questions. And then two more words are there. Therefore one more verse in which अर्जुन's question continues, we will read:

Verse No .02

अधियज्ञः कथं कोऽत्र देहेऽस्मिन्मधुसूदन ।

प्रयाणकाले च कथं ज्ञेयोऽसि नियतात्मभिः ॥ ८-२॥

अधियज्ञः कथम् कः अत्र देहे अस्मिन् मधुसूदन ।

प्रयाण-काले च कथम् ज्ञेयः असि नियत-आत्मभिः ॥ ८-२॥

हे मधुसूदन! अत्र अस्मिन् देहे अधियज्ञः कः कथम् (च अस्ति)? प्रयाण-काले च नियत-आत्मभिः कथम् ज्ञेयः असि ?

Now comes the 6th question, अधियज्ञः कः, who is अधियज्ञः or what is अधियज्ञः? which is also mentioned in the 7th chapter, 30th verse. And there अर्जुन adds another question also, 6(a) and 6(b), so the question is what is अधियज्ञः, there itself he adds a clause, कथम् अस्मिन् देहे वर्तते and how does अधियज्ञः reside in the body? You don't know how अर्जुन thought it resides in the body, when अर्जुन doesn't know what अधियज्ञः is, how does he know it resides in the body. Perhaps he has heard somewhere and therefore he raises the question how does अधियज्ञ reside in the body. So this is a side question of the 6th one. And then comes the 7th and final question, there also you have to see 7(a) and 7(b), what is the main question, what is the significance of remembering God at the time of death? Is there any significance at all and if there is a significance, what is that? That is question No.1. 7(a) and there itself the question is how can a person remember God at the time of death. Even when we are very much alive, we are finding it difficult to remember God and especially if we sit in meditation, we remember everything except God, when it is so difficult during normal days, how can I manage to remember God,

प्राण प्रयाण समये कफवातपित्तैः कंठ अवरोधन विधौ स्मरणम् कुतः ते ॥
पाण्डवगीता/ प्रपन्नगीता ५२ ॥

So when all faculties are failing, how am I to remember the Lord at the time of death? If there is any technique Oh कृष्ण teach me that technique also. That is said here, प्रयाण-काले, प्रयाण-काले means at the time of the final journey, when we are taking leave of the all the near and dear ones, so प्रयाण-काले, not the local journey, but अन्तिम प्रयाण-काले कथम् ज्ञेयः असि. How are You to be remembered? ज्ञेयः here means ध्येयः. How are You to be remembered? By whom? नियत-आत्मभिः – by committed people, by integrated people, by the people of self-control. There must be a tremendous control over the mind to remember the Lord at the time of death, therefore how can self-controlled people remember God at the time of death. This is the 7th question regarding अन्त-काल स्मरण. हे मधुसूदन! again मधुसूदन is not the eight question, मधुसूदन is addressing the Lord, हे कृष्ण! who has destroyed the असुर known as मधु. So मधु राक्षस नाशकः मधुसूदन. In philosophical symbolism, they take the word मधु as all the कर्म also. In मुण्डकोपनिषत्, the word मधु is used in the meaning of कर्म-फलम् also. And if you take मधु as all the कर्म, मधुसूदनः means the destroyer of all the सञ्चित, आगामि, प्रारब्ध कर्म, therefore the one who gives मोक्ष. So that is the philosophical significance of the word मधुसूदन, हे कृष्ण! please answer these questions. So thus the 8th chapter begins with अर्जुन's question and Lord कृष्ण has exam, exam season for कृष्ण also, he has to answer now, not any two or three or like choosing one of the four answers given, you know. So कृष्ण doesn't any choice like that, he has to explain each one. कृष्ण has no problem.

Verse No .03

श्रीभगवानुवाच ।

अक्षरं ब्रह्म परमं स्वभावोऽध्यात्ममुच्यते ।

भूतभावोद्भवकरो विसर्गः कर्मसंज्ञितः ॥ ८-३॥

अक्षरम् ब्रह्म परमम् स्वभावः अध्यात्मम् उच्यते ।

भूत-भाव-उद्भव-करः विसर्गः कर्म-संज्ञितः ॥ ८-३॥

अक्षरम् परमम् ब्रह्म, स्वभावः अध्यात्मम् उच्यते, भूत-भाव-उद्भव-करः विसर्गः कर्म-संज्ञितः ।

i. The first question was: What is ब्रह्मन् and कृष्ण gives the answer परमम् अक्षरम् ब्रह्म. The word अक्षरम् means the imperishable principle, न क्षयति न नश्यति इति अक्षरम् and the adjective परमम् means the highest, the greatest imperishable principle is called ब्रह्मन्.

And why कृष्ण adds the adjective परमम्? If कृष्ण uses the word अक्षरम् only, it may be mistaken as alphabetic letter also. Because the word अक्षरम् can refer to any alphabetic letter. That is why initiation into alphabet is called अक्षर-अभ्यासः and in संस्कृत alphabet is called अक्षरमाला. Therefore a person may take अक्षरम् as a letter. By adding the adjective परमम्, the greatest and the most supreme अक्षरम्, कृष्ण wants to say, don't take the ordinary alphabet but take the ultimately imperishable entity. The root √क्ष् is to perish, क्षयति इति क्षयः, perishable one is क्षयः, अक्षरम् means the imperishable one. In fact, ब्रह्मन् is called अक्षरम् in the मुण्डकोपनिषत्.

अथ परा यया तदक्षरमधिगम्यते यत्तदद्रेश्यमग्राह्यमगोत्रमवर्णमवक्षुःश्रोत्रं तदपाणिपादम्।

नित्यं विभुं सर्वगतं सुसूक्ष्मं तदव्ययं यद्भूतयोनिं परिपश्यन्ति धीराः॥
मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-१-७/६॥

In मुण्डकोपनिषत्, ब्रह्मन् is known by the name अक्षरम्, that is here referred to. And what is that principle which is imperishable? There is only thing that is imperishable, that is सर्वगत चैतन्य तत्त्वम्, Consciousness is the only entity which remains imperishable, matter is subject to decay and destruction and that is why our very body is decaying and dying every moment. To put in the 7th chapter language, अपरा प्रकृति is perishable, परा प्रकृति, the चैतन्य तत्त्वम् alone is imperishable. Therefore what is ब्रह्मन् - the eternal Consciousness is ब्रह्मन् and the very word ब्रह्म means बृहत्तमत्वात् ब्रह्म. It is derived from the root √बृ, to mean big and ब्रह्म means that it is superlatively big, that it is superlatively limitless entity, अनन्त तत्त्वम् is called ब्रह्मन्. So with this कृष्ण has answered first question very very briefly. कृष्ण does not elaborate because, this ब्रह्मन् has been talked about as परा प्रकृति in the 7th chapter. Therefore if you want to know more about ब्रह्मन् go back to the 7th chapter, परा प्रकृति topic. Where does it come, from verse no.4 to 10, I am telling that also, so you can go back to see that topic. And because कृष्ण's teaching begins with the word अक्षरम् ब्रह्म, the very chapter is called अक्षर ब्रह्म योगः. The chapter does not begin with that word, chapter begins with किम् तत् ब्रह्म, but कृष्ण's teaching begins with अक्षर ब्रह्म परमम्. Therefore the chapter is called अक्षर ब्रह्म योगः.

ii. Then कृष्ण comes to the second question. What was the second question, what is अध्यात्मम्? कृष्ण says स्वभावः अध्यात्मम् उच्यते, the very all-pervading Consciousness must be existing within the individual body also. If the Consciousness is all-pervading, it must be within the body also. And when the Consciousness is seen within the body, that is called अधि आत्मम्, or अध्यात्मम्. The word आत्मा here means शरीरम्, अधि आत्मम् means obtaining within the body. So thus Consciousness looked from the angle of समष्टि or total, it is called ब्रह्म. When the very same Consciousness is looked from the standpoint of the individual body, it is called अध्यात्मम्. So the word, स्वभावः means the inner essence, the Consciousness within. ब्रह्मन् is परमात्मा, अध्यात्मम् is जीवात्मा; ब्रह्मन् is the Consciousness from macro angle, अध्यात्मम् is the Consciousness from the micro angle; Consciousness is the same, two different words are used because of two different terms of reference. And this is very common for us also, a person remaining the same when he is looked from the stand point of the wife he is called the husband, when the same person is looked from the standpoint of the children he is called the father or parent and when looked from the standpoint of the parent he himself is called son or child. How can one and the same person be called father, son, grandfather, husband, brother? This is called शब्द प्रवृत्ति निमित्तम् in technical language, in simple English, the point of reference when it differs, the नाम, the name also differs. Thus Consciousness is called परमात्मा, Consciousness is called जीवात्मा, depending upon macro and micro point of reference. So with this second question is answered.

iii. Then what is the third question, what is कर्म? कृष्ण gives the answer, भूत-भाव-उद्भव-करः विसर्गः, विसर्गः refers to all the activities. All the actions, deliberate actions of human beings which are responsible for the future creation. All the deliberate activities of human beings which are responsible for the future creation is called कर्म. Because according to our scriptures creation is not an accident, creation is not an accident, creation is a clean incident caused by previous factors or action. For if I am born here with a physical body, it is not an accident, it is a result of what, my own past कर्म. Similarly, you are born because of your कर्म, the individual birth is because of individual कर्म, the birth of humanity is because of the कर्म of the humanity. So therefore कृष्ण says भूत-भाव, भूत-भाव means the insistence of living beings, उद्भव-करः means that which brings about, so भूत-भाव-उद्भव-करः means that which brings about the existence of every living being. Not only humans, a mosquito is there with a mosquito body, because of what, its कर्म and a dinosaur is because of its कर्म. And not only my कर्म determines by body, it also determines by parentage. Why I should get such and such parents, wonderful parents or terrible ones. And why I should get such and such brothers and sisters, my कर्म and why should I be born in India, my कर्म, I don't want to say good or bad. There are people who think it is bad कर्म, there are people who think it is good कर्म, I don't want to qualify, but one thing is definite, it is because of your कर्म. And the beauty is I get a set of parents by my कर्म, my parents get me as their child because of their कर्म. And similarly, I get wonderful disciples like you, because of my good कर्म and you get a teacher like me because of --- you can decide, --- कर्म. So thus, everything that happens is the result of our actions and when you take the creation as a whole, we say the present creation is the result of the past creation. And the past creation is the result of its past creation and the future creation will be result of the present creation. And therefore what is कर्म, सृष्टि कारणम् कर्म.

Therefore remember, the creation has come into being not because of भगवान्'s wish, the creation has come to being because we have asked for that. Therefore never put the अक्षता on भगवान्'s head. That is what we are seeing in ब्रह्मसूत्र now. भगवान् is not responsible for the creation. The type of creation and the necessity of creation is because I have asked for it by my good, bad, mixed action. पुण्येन पुण्यम् लोकम् भवति, पापेन पापम् भवति, उभाभ्याम् एव मनुष्य लोकम्. And if fourteen लोकs are there, not because भगवान् wants fourteen लोकs, but because we have done varieties of कर्मs requiring the fourteen लोकs. We do such terrible action necessitating a नरक environment and also we do wonderful actions necessitating a wonderful heaven and we also manage to mix up and necessitating मनुष्यलोकs. Thus everything is कर्म ordered and therefore कर्म is defined as सृष्टि कारणम्. That is here presented as भूत-भाव-उद्भव-करः and विसर्गः means action. My contribution, is called कर्म-संज्ञितः. So with this three questions are answered. Now we are going to the next verse and further questions are answered.

Verse No .04

अधिभूतं क्षरो भावः पुरुषश्चाधिदैवतम् ।

अधियज्ञोऽहमेवात्र देहे देहभृतां वर ॥ ८-४॥

अधिभूतम् क्षरः भावः पुरुषः च अधिदैवतम् ।

अधियज्ञः अहम् एव अत्र देहे देह-भृताम् वर ॥ ८-४॥

हे देह-भृताम् वर! क्षरः भावः अधिभूतम्, पुरुषः अधिदैवतम्, अत्र देहे च अहम् एव अधियज्ञः ।

So कृष्ण answers three more questions here.

iv. अधिभूतम् किम्, what is अधिभूतम्? Here कृष्ण answers. Every perishable thing in the creation is called अधिभूतम्, क्षरः भावः, भावः means an entity. So thus any object that you experience is अधिभूतम्, because it is क्षरः, क्षरः means as opposed to अक्षर seen before, अक्षर means imperishable, therefore क्षरः means perishable. All the five elements come under the अधिभूतम्, the sun, moon stars, etc., come under अधिभूतम्, everything like rivers, mountains, they all come under अधिभूतम्. Even our physical bodies come under अधिभूतम्, because the bodies also are perishable, क्षरः भावः, any doubt? It is perishable. That is why we look for security, if it is imperishable we don't require security. Therefore the entire perishable material world is called अधिभूतम्. So the 4th question is answered.

v. Then he goes to the fifth question, अधिदैवम्, अधिदैवतम् कृष्ण defines as पुरुषः, here the word पुरुषः means the हिरण्यगर्भ, पुरुषः means हिरण्यगर्भ and हिरण्यगर्भ in शास्त्रिय language means the total Consciousness associated with the total mind. And therefore associated with total knowledge. If you remember तत्त्वबोध, समष्टि सूक्ष्म शरीर सहित चैतन्यम् is हिरण्यगर्भ, Consciousness associated with total subtle body. If you don't know or remember what is subtle body, you take it as mind, therefore Consciousness associated with the total mind is called हिरण्यगर्भ. And that हिरण्यगर्भ alone is called a presiding deity from the standpoint of every organ. So the presiding deity of the eye is सूर्य देवता, so चक्षुषः सूर्यः and the presiding deity of the ears is what देवता, श्रोत्रस्य दिक् देवता. So thus we have got presiding deities for every organ, all the presiding deities put together is called हिरण्यगर्भ, that हिरण्यगर्भ is called अधिदैवम्.

vi. And then the sixth question: अधियज्ञः. अधियज्ञः कृष्ण says अहम् एव, अहम् means कृष्ण the Lord Himself, ईश्वर is अधियज्ञः, अधियज्ञः is ईश्वरः. And what is the definition of ईश्वर in तत्त्वबोध? If you remember तत्त्वबोध, ईश्वर is defined as Consciousness associated with the total कारण प्रपञ्च. And what is the definition of कारण प्रपञ्च, the whole universe in potential form. So before the creation evolves, whole creation existed in potential form, otherwise called शक्ति, otherwise called माया and that शक्ति plus the Consciousness is called ईश्वरः. And who is that ईश्वरः? कृष्ण says don't see here and there, I am that ईश्वरः, I am the cause of the entire universe. Therefore अधियज्ञः

अहम् एव, I am the seed of the universe. And that Lord alone in पौराणिक symbolism, they say after the प्रलय comes, when everything is destroyed, then on a leaf, a banyan leaf Lord कृष्ण floats, it is said. What does the water and the banyan leaf represent? It is nothing but the seed form of the universe and Lord कृष्ण represents the Consciousness-principle, Consciousness plus potential universe is called ईश्वर. In science language, Consciousness plus basic energy is ईश्वर. So with this, the 6th question is also answered. And अर्जुन had asked an additional question also there and where does the Lord reside, the अधियज्ञः, the ईश्वरः. Can you differentiate अधिदैवम् and अधियज्ञम्? समष्टि सूक्ष्म शरीर सहित चैतन्यम् अधिदैवम्, समष्टि कारण शरीर सहित चैतन्यम् अधियज्ञः, हिरण्यगर्भ is अधिदैवम् and ईश्वर is अधियज्ञः and where is that ईश्वर? So where can I find him? कृष्ण says, अत्र देहे देह-भृताम् वर. अर्जुन addressed कृष्ण as मधुसूदन, कृष्ण says I will also address you as देह-भृताम् वर, the greatest human being. There is no loss in saying, so that अर्जुन will be very happy and it is also true also. अर्जुन was a great person. So, हे अर्जुन! the greatest one, the Lord resides in every body. In the 10th chapter, कृष्ण will say,

अहम् आत्मा गुडाका-ईश सर्व-भूत-आशय-स्थितः । ॥ १०-२०॥

and in the 18th chapter, कृष्ण will say,

ईश्वरः सर्व-भूतानाम् हृत्-देशे अर्जुन तिष्ठति । ॥ १८-६१॥

And because the Lord resides in every human being, Lord is called नारायणः, नारम् means all the living beings, नाराणाम् जीवानाम् समूहः नारम्. नारम् is not fiber, नारम् means जीव समूहः and अयनम् means the residence. So every living being is the residence of the Lord, therefore where is the Lord, अत्र देहे वर्तते, प्राज्ञ रूपेण, again if you remember तत्त्वबोध, विश्व तैजस and प्राज्ञ, प्राज्ञ रूपेण ईश्वरः अस्मिन् देहे वर्तते. Then is the Lord there in कैलास and वैकुण्ठ or not? He is there also, the Lord is everywhere, the Lord happens to be in the heart also. And then why is he known as अधियज्ञः? अधियज्ञः means residing in the heart, the Lord is associated with every action you do, यज्ञः means every prayer or पूजा or action you do. In what way the Lord is associated with our यज्ञs, our पूजाs. He is the receiver of the पूजा, as we saw in the 7th chapter. And not only he is the receiver of the पूजा, he also gives the पूजाफलम्, remember the 7th chapter

तस्य तस्याचलां श्रद्धां तामेव विदधाम्यहम् ॥ ७-२१॥

Any पूजा done by anyone I receive the पूजा, I give the कर्म-फलम्. Therefore यज्ञ भोक्तृ रूपेण and कर्मफल धातृ रूपेण and as the receiver of the पूजा and as the giver of the result, I remain in the heart of everyone. And therefore you need not bother. Whether my good actions will be registered in God's diary or not, because far away He is there, is it not? Don't think that it will not be visible to Him because of that. Every small action you do, good or bad, it is immediately registered and the Lord, according to the law of कर्म, will punch the result and punch your nose if required. So therefore every experience you go through is कर्म-फलम् coming from Lord. For a वैदिक person, every experience is my कर्म-फलम्, therefore I cannot complain to anyone - Why me? Why this suffering comes? Why this enjoyment comes? There is no question, I am reaping the result of my own action. But I don't remember all those past actions? I have told you, you don't remember last class itself, therefore where is the question of remembering. But non-remembrance does not mean non-performance, that is to be understood. Non-remembrance does not mean non-performance. Whether I remember or not, what I have done, I have done and therefore I have to dearly pay the price, given by whom, अधियज्ञः. So अधियज्ञः means कर्म-फल धाता. So with this the sixth question is also answered. Now remains the seventh question. Verse no.5;

Verse No .05

अन्तकाले च मामेव स्मरन्मुक्त्वा कलेवरम् ।

यः प्रयाति स मद्भावं याति नास्त्यत्र संशयः ॥ ८-७॥

अन्त-काले च माम् एव स्मरन् मुक्त्वा कलेवरम् ।

यः प्रयाति सः मत् भावम् याति न अस्ति अत्र संशयः ॥ ८-७॥

यः च अन्त-काले माम् एव स्मरन् कलेवरम् मुक्त्वा प्रयाति, सः मत् भावम् याति, अत्र संशयः न अस्ति ।

In the previous two verses, 3 and 4, कृष्ण answered all the six questions very briefly.

vii. And now कृष्ण wants to answer the seventh question very elaborately. In fact, the rest of the chapter beginning from verse no.5 up to the last verse no.28, कृष्ण is answering the seventh question. For six questions two verses and for one question 5 to 28, 24 verses, both inclusive, don't ask how 24. Because by way of answering this question, कृष्ण wants to introduce an important topic I said. And what is that topic, ईश्वर उपासनाम्, ईश्वरः means the Lord with attributes, सगुण ब्रह्म ईश्वरः. And this Lord with various attributes as described in the scriptures can be meditated upon and it is considered a very important spiritual साधन and this सगुण उपासनाम् can give two-fold result, depending upon the motive or attitude with which it is done. So broadly this सगुण उपासनाम् is divided into two types, सकाम सगुण उपासनाम् and the other is निष्काम सगुण उपासनाम्.

a) सकाम सगुण उपासनाम् means उपासना done for material benefits, material benefits belonging to इहलोक, material benefits belonging to परलोक; to go to the heaven I can practice उपासना and for a better birth I can practice उपासना, in this जन्म itself for getting various benefits like health, wealth, status etc., I can practice उपासना and above all to accomplish सिद्धिs or miraculous powers उपासना can be practiced. That is why you will find many उपासकs are सिद्धs. They will say I am an आज्ञनेय उपासक, I am a देवी उपासक, I am such and such देवता उपासक. And as a result of उपासना, this person gets extraordinary powers like capacity to predict the future. In fact, many people go there, In fact, people go there only. Because they have got a particular day, when they say that deity is entering them and then whatever question you ask, when will my business improve or when will this disease go, how many people stand in line, that person during that person is able to predict and suggest परिहारs and reading the minds of other people, all these come under varieties of सिद्धिs. Hundreds of सिद्धिs are enumerated in the पुराणs, in भागवतम् and all, knowing the past, knowing the future, knowing the past जन्म of mine, past जन्म of yours, (as though the existing problem is not enough?) and also capacity to see what is underground, water divining, what is inside without digging you can see, countless सिद्धिs are mentioned, all the result of what, सकाम सगुण ईश्वर उपासनाम्.

b) And then there is another ईश्वर उपासनाम्, which comes under निष्काम सगुण ईश्वर उपासनाम्. Practice of सगुण ईश्वर उपासनाम्, उपासनाम् means meditation. Remember, practice of this उपासनाम्, not for material benefit, but for spiritual benefit:

नास्था धर्मे न वसुनिचये नैव कामोपभोगे यद्यद्भव्यम् भवतु भगवन् पूर्वकर्मनुरूपम्।

एतत्प्रार्थ्यम् मम बहुमतम् जन्मजन्मान्तरेऽपि त्वत्पादाम्भोरुहयुगता निश्चला भक्तिरस्तु ॥ मुकुन्दमाला ॥

One devotee says: Oh Lord I am remembering you not for अर्थ, not for काम, not for पुण्यम्, I am not interested in anyone of them, because I know they are all perishable in nature. I have got only one goal and that is the spiritual goal called मोक्ष or religious language, God himself is my goal. I want to attain oneness with you, ईश्वर इवयम् प्राप्ति, otherwise called मोक्ष and this उपासना requires वैराग्यम्, naturally, because as long as I have got कामs, I will use my भक्ति only for the fulfillment of them. A विरागि भक्त becomes a निष्काम उपासकः and this निष्काम उपासकः can take two different courses or direction. One direction is he practices निष्काम उपासना for a long time, which is सगुण ईश्वर उपासनाम्. And having practiced this उपासना, he becomes very well qualified for निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, in this जन्म itself. So one course is what, सगुण उपासनाम्, preparation of the mind, dropping सगुण उपासनाम् and entering into निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, परा प्रकृति ज्ञानम् and by gaining निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् in this जन्म itself I attain मोक्ष, which is called सद्योमुक्तिः, this is one option. The second option is a person continues in सगुण उपासनाम् and he is not confident of coming to निर्गुणम्; he is allergic to निर्गुणम्, because निर्गुणम् means attributeless ब्रह्मन्, I don't understand at all, if a person is allergic to निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् he continues the सगुण उपासनाम् throughout the life and at the time of death also he remembers सगुण ईश्वर and prays to the Lord, Oh Lord, I want मोक्ष and nothing else. And as a result of such उपासना he will go to ब्रह्मलोक and get ज्ञानम् there. Instead of gaining निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् here, he gets the ज्ञानम् there. This second course is called क्रममुक्तिः and कृष्ण is going to deal with the क्रममुक्ति topic here, the details of which we will see in the next class.

CHAPTER 08, VERSES 06-09

Based on the last two verses of the 7th chapter, अर्जुन raised seven questions in verse no.1 and 2 of this 8th chapter and कृष्ण started answering them from the 3rd verse onwards. In the 3rd and 4th verses, कृष्ण briefly answered all the six questions and from the 5th verse, कृष्ण wants to elaborately answer the 7th question, which is dealing with the remembrance of the Lord at the time of death. अन्तकाल ईश्वर स्मरणम् or प्रयाण काल ईश्वर स्मरणम्. And this is going to be answered in the rest of this chapter. And by way of answering this question, कृष्ण proposes to deal with the important topic of सगुण ईश्वर उपासनाम् as a साधन. सगुण ईश्वर उपासनाम् means meditation upon God with attributes. स गुण means with attributes, ईश्वर उपासनाम् means meditation of God, which can be taken as either राम उपासनाम्, कृष्ण उपासनाम्, देवी उपासनाम्, with any attribute. By attribute I mean the personality, a particular form, a particular color, number of heads, number of hands we have got. In fact, every ध्यान श्लोक gives the description of the Lord in a particular form. And in the last class, I pointed out that the सगुण उपासना can be first classified into two types based on the motive and they are सकाम सगुण उपासना and निष्काम सगुण उपासना. सकाम उपासना is the practice for all worldly goals other than spiritual goals. So it can be अर्थ, काम or धर्म, which will benefit me in this जन्म or which can benefit me in the next जन्म. And as I said in the last class, even various miraculous powers can be attained through such उपासनाs and that is called सकाम उपासना. निष्काम उपासना is that meditation which is exclusively utilized for spiritual growth by which I mean acquiring the required qualifications totally and asking for the appropriate opportunity for getting मोक्ष; anything connected with मोक्ष I call spiritual growth. And this निष्काम सगुण उपासना itself can be divided into two types. In one person practices निष्काम उपासना for acquiring all the qualifications for entering into निर्गुण ज्ञानम्. Because we have seen in the 7th chapter that सगुण ईश्वर is not the ultimate reality. सगुण ईश्वर is only empirical व्यवहारिक सत्यम् or if you want to use strong word, it is also मिथ्या only, निर्गुण ईश्वर which was called परा प्रकृतिः in the 7th chapter, that alone is the ultimate reality and we have to come to the ultimate निर्गुण ईश्वर. Without that no मोक्ष is possible and therefore a person can follow सगुण उपासना, prepare the mind very well, then switchover from सगुण उपासना to निर्गुण ज्ञानम्, उपासना to ज्ञानयोग, by which we mean वेदान्त श्रवण मनन निदिध्यासन. Therefore what is one method? Practice निष्काम उपासना, acquire the required qualifications well, then switchover to निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् and attain मोक्ष in this life itself, which is called सद्योमुक्तिः or जीवन्मुक्तिः. सद्योमुक्तिः means what, instant liberation, like fast food, instant idli, instant साम्बर, instant मोक्ष in this life itself. This is one course of साधन a person can take to. There is another alternative method also, what is that, a person follows सगुण उपासना and afterwards he has to come to निर्गुण ज्ञानम्, but somehow he finds he is not able to switchover to निर्गुण ईश्वर, because it is not that easy. You can visualize the Lord with attributes, but how can you visualize the Lord without शब्द, स्पर्श, रूप, रस, गन्ध. There is nothing. In fact, in the 12th chapter, कृष्ण himself will admit,

वलेशः अधिकतरः तेषाम् अव्यक्त-आसक्त-चेतसाम् ॥

अव्यक्ता हि गतिः दुःखम् देहवद्धिः अवाप्यते ॥ १२-७॥

Appreciation of and enquiry into the निर्गुण ईश्वर requires very very subtle सूक्ष्म बुद्धि, दृश्यते त्वग्रया बुद्ध्या सूक्ष्मया सूक्ष्मदर्शिभिः ॥ कठोपनिषत् १-३-१२ ॥

And if the mind is not ready for निर्गुण ईश्वर it will not appeal to that person. Then what should that person do? No doubt he wants मोक्ष, no doubt he wants to become one with God, he does not have interest in any other material goal, he is a निष्काम पुरुषः, he is मुमुक्षु पुरुषः, but his mind is not ready for निर्गुण विचारः. Then what should that person do? कृष्ण says that there is a solution, keep your fire of enthusiasm or desire for liberation, maintain your निष्कामत्वम् or वैराग्यम् very well and continue the सगुण उपासना throughout the life. One need not come to निर्गुण विचार, continue to be attached to your कृष्ण, your राम, your गणपति, whoever it is, but when you meditate make sure that it is निष्काम मुमुक्षु उपासना. And because of this intense desire for ईश्वर प्राप्ति a person will be able to successfully continue and naturally at the time of death also a person is going to remember what he values more. At the time of death a person is going to remember only that which he values the most in his or her life and being a सगुण उपासक, at the time of death also, he will remember only the सगुण ईश्वर and as a result of that what will happen, something will happen. What is that something, certainly he will not get liberation in this life because he has not come to the higher ईश्वर. Therefore liberation is ruled out, but because of his intense desire for God he is supposed to go to ब्रह्मलोक, don't ask how do you know, I didn't see, Lord कृष्ण says which I totally believe. And that जीवात्मा will go through a special path, which we will see later, शुक्ल मार्ग and that जीव will go to ब्रह्मलोक, OK. What will happen in ब्रह्मलोक? Again कृष्ण says, I have not seen. A person who is desirous of मोक्ष alone goes to ब्रह्मलोक, he will get there ideal conditions for निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, which he carefully avoided in this जन्म, that he can very successfully pursue, the conditions will be provided, guaranteed by God and the scriptures point out that and there निर्गुण ज्ञानम् is not imparted by an ordinary mortal स्वामि, but it is imparted by साक्षात् चतुर्मुख ब्रह्माजि himself. He will be conducting classes there and ब्रह्माजि, the four heads representing the वेदs, certainly he must be far far superior teacher and he will never get tired, because four heads, (he can always change the head, side to side!) and you are also supposed to not to get tired at all, therefore not weekly ones, continuously you can listen, no hunger, no thirst and mind also is ideal, body will cooperate, you can sit also (that is also to be told. Otherwise knee joint pain complain will be there). So

परस्यान्तम् कृतात्मानः प्रविशन्ति परम् पदम् ॥ कूर्म पुराणम् २६९॥

This is what is said in the शास्त्र and this निष्काम उपासक goes to ब्रह्मलोक , attains ज्ञानम्, निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् there and attain liberation and this course of liberation is called क्रममुक्तिः. The first one is called अक्रममुक्तिः (don't mistake अक्रममुक्ति), सद्योमुक्तिः or जीवन्मुक्तिः. And कृष्ण says a निष्काम उपासक can follow either of the method and the 8th chapter is going to specialize on क्रममुक्तिः. So this is one unique chapter which deals with क्रममुक्तिः, whereas 7th chapter, 9th, 10th etc. कृष्ण is going to highlight what, मुक्ति here and now. कृष्ण wants to point out: Don't postpone liberation, because you don't what will happen after death. There may be traffic jam and then we don't know. Therefore having got a wonderful human birth, follow निष्काम उपासना, gain ज्ञानम् and be free here and now. That is कृष्ण's primary advice. But in this chapter, कृष्ण takes a diversion and He is going to highlight क्रममुक्तिः. With this background we have to study the verses herein. Look at the verse 5th, second line, यः प्रयाति, so यः refers to निष्काम सगुण उपासक, so who practiced सगुण ईश्वर meditation, like राम ध्यानम्, कृष्ण ध्यानम्, देवी ध्यानम्, throughout the life, never came to निर्गुण ब्रह्म at all, वेदान्त विचार he did not come out, but throughout he has attached to his इष्ट देवता. And such a सगुण उपासक, प्रयाति – suppose he dies and कलेवरम् मुक्त्वा – and leaves this physical body and travels, travel is definite because he has not attained मोक्ष and therefore the उपासक's जीव will leave this physical body and travel and how come we don't see, because it is सूक्ष्म शरीरम् and therefore we don't see (better we don't see, better not to see or otherwise you will see who is going where, why all that, as such it is difficult to manage those we are seeing why do you desire for all such things). So therefore कलेवरम् मुक्त्वा, कलेवरम् means शरीरम्, so leaves this physical body and travels. What will happen to him? अन्त-काले, अन्त-काले means at the time of death, अन्त means final, last moment. So suppose a सगुण उपासक dies leaving this physical body in the last moment of death, how, माम् एव स्मरन् – of course, remembering Me only. सगुण Me or निर्गुण Me? सगुण Me alone, Me (not me) भगवान्, remembering the Lord. So माम् एव स्मरन्, एव is to emphasize, remembering Me and Me alone. And what will happen to him? मत् भावम् याति – he will certainly get क्रममुक्तिः. So here मत् भावम् refers to क्रममुक्ति, the intermediary stages कृष्ण doesn't describe here, we have to fill up the blank, he goes to ब्रह्मलोक, attains knowledge there and gets liberation. And suppose a person asks what is the guarantee? कृष्ण says I am giving you the guarantee card, अत्र संशयः न अस्ति – there is no doubt about that, such a devotee will come to Me alone. Continuing.,

यं यं वापि स्मरन्भावं त्यजत्यन्ते कलेवरम् ।

तं तमेवैति कौन्तेय सदा तद्भावभावितः ॥ ८-६॥

यम् यम् वा अपि स्मरन् भावम् त्यजति अन्ते कलेवरम् ।

तम् तम् एव एति कौन्तेय सदा तद्त् भाव-भावितः ॥ ८-६॥

हे कौन्तेय! यम् यम् वा अपि भावम् स्मरन् अन्ते कलेवरम् त्यजति, सदा तद्त् भाव-भावितः (सः) तम् तम् एव एति ।

Naturally the question will be suppose a person does not remember God and remembers something else, what will happen to that person after death? For such a possible question, कृष्ण gives a general reply and what is that reply, the next जन्म of a person will depend upon the remembrance at the time of death. As the famous proverb goes, “As a person thinks, so a person becomes.” It is a very very powerful law, which is a fact. It is not a law applicable only after death, but it is a law applicable within this life itself - as a person thinks, so he becomes,

यः यत् श्रद्धः स एव सः ॥१७-३॥

स यथाकामो भवति तत्क्रतुर्भवति । यत्क्रतुर्भवति तत्कर्म कुरुते ।

यत्कर्म कुरुते तदभिसम्पद्यते ॥ बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत् ४-४-७॥

And I have told you another beautiful proverb which I like, “Watch your thoughts; they become the words. Watch your words, they become your actions; watch your actions, they become your habits; watch your habits, they become your character; watch your character, for it becomes your destiny.” Therefore your ultimate destiny or future condition is already determined by the type of thought which I am entertaining. Even though the thought seems to be too feeble, but when they are continued they can decide your future. And what कृष्ण wants to emphasize here is not only this law is applicable within one life, it is applicable with regard to next जन्म also. We saw in मुण्डकोपनिषत्,

कामान् यः कामयते मन्यमानः स कामभिर्जायते तत्र तत्र । ॥ मुण्डकोपनिषत् ३-२-२ ॥

With whatever desire of objects or environment a person dies, he will find himself in such a set-up and with such an object and that is why they have the story of the जडभरत उपाख्यानम् also, how he had noble intention to pursue spirituality and got attracted to a small deer, deer became dear and he is OK that he protected and after it grew up he could have let it out, but he started meditating. You have to read that story in भागवतम्, then a time comes when he is only obsessed with that deer and naturally at the time of death also he is worried who will take care of it after I die, just as we worry, forgetting that things will be better off after we go. So this is the human psychology, and then जडभरत is supposed to have born as a deer. Whether it really happened or not is the question, but what is the lesson that is taught. And this important lesson कृष्ण imparts in this श्लोक. कलेवरम् अन्ते त्यजति – suppose a person drops the physical body at the time of death. How? यम् यम् भावम् स्मरन् – remembering various objects in his mind, any particular object, any particular goal in mind, remembering, then, तम् तम् एव एति – he will certainly attain only such a birth which is in keeping with the person's thought process. So यम् यम् भावम् स्मरन् त्यजति, तम् तम् भावम्, भावम् means such a condition, he attains. हे कौन्तेय! this is the most important law, अर्जुन may you remember. Now we will have a thinking. It is very nice now, we can easily find a loophole, we are very good in finding loopholes, what does कृष्ण say, at the time of death, whatever you think that will determine your next birth. Therefore I should be bothered about only the last thought, so until death I can do any अक्रम I want and when I know death is going to come, then what to do, think of the Lord or whatever you want, we want to cheat the Lord, भगवान् says, अर्जुन that won't work, because of many reasons.

a) The first reason is how do you know what is your अन्त-काल? Will यमधर्मराज send a letter that on such and such date and such and such time you will die? So we don't know whether यमधर्मराज decides or local auto-rickshaw or water lorries decide. I don't know. So therefore, there is no question of planned thinking at the time of death, that is No.1 problem.

b) And the second problem is the thought of a person is based on two forces. One is the will of the person and the other is the वासना of the person. Our thought process is governed by our will and our वासना. वासना means what, our habit, our संस्कारs, our mental impressions. Now at any time, the thought that we have in our mind will be decided by one of the two. And sometimes the will becomes successful, sometimes the वासना becomes successful, which you will know when you try to sit in meditation. The will decides राम राम राम and the वासना decides everything else other than that. So there is a constant clash between will and वासना, will planning one thing and वासना deciding one thing and as we grow older and older, the वासना become more and more powerful, because they have a momentum which is caused by 50 years, 60 years, 70 years of habitual thinking. Whether you are thinking or not, they go on. As we grow older वासना becomes stronger, our subconscious is saturated with thought which we have dumped in the last so many years and the will becomes feebler and feebler. And even when we are young we are finding it difficult to think what we want, then what to talk of the moment of death. It is almost impossible for us to control our thought process. And therefore कृष्ण says the only alternative method is what, your वासनाs must be शुभ वासनाs, godly वासनाs. You have to saturate your subconscious with ईश्वर चिन्ता, दैवी सम्पत् and then alone even if your will is feeble or not there or even if the person is in coma where will is not there, the subconscious will have what, only what he has trained. And therefore कृष्ण says don't try to deceive me, that will not work out, if you have to think of the Lord at the last moment preparation should start from: next year don't tell, next month don't tell, next week don't say, not next day, not next hour, the preparation should start from now. Rehearsal for death it is called. People don't like this topic but these are all bitter facts which we have to face, better be prepared to face them.

And therefore कृष्ण because He is interested in our well-being, He is discussing this topic even though we will not like. Therefore, He says सदा तत् भाव-भावितः, भावितः means soaked in, saturated with, influenced by, तत् भावः means ईश्वर चिन्ता, तत् means ईश्वर, भाव means भावना or चिन्ता, भावितः means repeated thinking, which is saturated. And when should you do? सदा – so by constant practice make your subconscious a divine or godly oriented subconscious. That is why one great devotee, called अप्स्य दीक्षितर् he wanted to find out what is in subconscious. One method of finding out is स्वप्न. Dream will give a clue to what is inside and what people talk in dream, but it will be hazy. So therefore one method is dream. So he wanted to find out what is in his subconscious and therefore he took a particular milk, erukkum milk, from a tree called erukku {Calotropis gigantea (Crown flower)) and if you take that a person will be temporarily off-balance, it is said. Don't try that, it is how it is said, that is how the story goes and then he called his disciplines and he said when I am not in my senses whatever comes out of me you please note down. (Can we do it, what all dirt will come out, whom and all we will curse, donkey, money, etc., all you have suppressed) and he brings out and it comes as a great स्तुति or hymn on Lord शिव, his इष्ट देवता, it is called उन्मत्तस्तोत्रम्. He was उन्मत्त, from that only the flower is called 'oomatham poo'(धतूरा, Datura stramonium, thorn-apple plant) came. So उन्मत्तस्तोत्रम्, or उन्मत्त दशकम् or शतकम्, they say. So it is because he has practiced such a devotion, therefore अर्जुन सदा तत् भाव-भावितः – be ever committed your ultimate goal of God. Continuing;

तस्मात्सर्वेषु कालेषु मामनुस्मर युध्य च ।

मय्यर्पितमनोबुद्धिर्ममिवैष्यस्यसंशयम् ॥ ८-७॥

तस्मात् सर्वेषु कालेषु माम् अनुस्मर युध्य च ।

मयि अर्पित-मनः-बुद्धिः माम् एव एष्यसि असंशयम् ॥ ८-७॥

तस्मात् सर्वेषु कालेषु मयि अर्पित-मनः-बुद्धिः (भव), माम् अनुस्मर, युध्य च । (एवं) असंशयम् माम् एव एष्यसि ।

Therefore अर्जुन my advice to you is सर्वेषु कालेषु माम् अनुस्मर – therefore अर्जुन may you always remember me, then alone your subconscious will be saturated with my thought. Then naturally the next question will be if I remember the Lord all the time, how can I do my family duties, office duties, I will have to apply my mind in my duties? If you try to remember and if you are accountant, calculating things, everything will go wrong, you lose your job. Therefore how am I to remember the Lord all the time, should I drop all my duties, should I become a संन्यासि, so that right from morning till night I can remember You only? Therefore कृष्ण says, I don't ask you to drop your duties, your responsibilities, your worldly activities, I don't ask you to drop, you have to continue that also, युध्य च, because कृष्ण knows, अर्जुन is trying to escape from the war, now he gets a wonderful chance, as कृष्ण says always remember me, therefore OK, I will go away from here, anyway I want to go away from the battle and say राम राम and sit down and how can I fight? Therefore कृष्ण knows, so immediately therefore He says: युध्य च – you have to fight also, fight means for अर्जुन the advice is fight, not that you all should fight. So here fight is symbolic of स्वधर्म अनुष्ठानम्. So may you follow or fulfill your duties, discharge your duties also. Then the next question will be what, how can I do two jobs simultaneously? You ask me to perform my duty also, and you ask me to remember the Lord also, how can I do both of them? The mind can do only one job at a time. So I remember I met some person, who was claiming to be some kind of religious person, he has been told to say all the time नमः शिवाय or something and he was telling नमः शिवाय, नमः शिवाय and when that person met me, he asked question, where are you coming from and then नमः शिवाय, ... नमः शिवाय, how can I answer. After questioning should he not wait for the reply? Isn't it? So therefore some problem is there, otherwise such a question should not be asked: where are you coming from then नमः शिवाय, ... नमः शिवाय, what do you do, नमः शिवाय, ... नमः शिवाय, where did you get संन्यास from, नमः शिवाय, ... नमः शिवाय. What answer can I give? So what do you mean by doing both simultaneously. See the conscious mind cannot do two jobs simultaneously, the conscious mind cannot do two jobs simultaneously. It has to be committed to one thing only. But even when the conscious mind is dedicated to some work, in the subconscious mind, in the background we should be clear about the ultimate priorities of life. So what कृष्ण wants to say here is: Let in the background, your goal be very much remembered. Therefore, the subconscious have ईश्वर चिन्ता and the conscious can perform the worldly duties and when you have time away from worldly duties, at that time your conscious mind also; when you are listening to me, your conscious mind should listen or subconscious mind should listen, your conscious mind should listen. In the subconscious mind we generally worry, that is what is running तम्बुर श्रुति. Is it possible if you ask, every musician does that only. He has got a तम्बुर श्रुति behind and you will find he adjusts also, but when he is singing the song, naturally his mind has to be applied for that particular thing and especially when the वित्त स्वरम् you can sing straight, but when the कल्पना स्वरम् comes and difficult पल्लवि comes, certainly the mind has to be applied. Then what happens to श्रुति, the conscious mind is involved, but in the background the तम्बुर श्रुति is kept in mind. How do you know, how do you know, otherwise you will not be able to listen, अपश्रुति will come, if that is possible for a musician or I give the example of the train journey, when you are traveling in the train, in the intermediary station you get down and buy masala dosa or vada and you have change also and you give and get back. You do everything, but one corner of the mind remembers what, intermediary station, any horn you hear, any bell you hear, any whistle, suddenly see your train is going, you don't forget, you are traveling towards some other destination, masal vada is good but that cannot be destination of life. In the same way, do everything, earn money, get married, nothing wrong, have children, bring them up, have them married, do second babysitting – i.e., grandchildren, everything you do as required, but in and through all of them let not the primary goal be forgotten. Therefore तस्मात् सर्वेषु कालेषु माम् अनुस्मर – may you remember Me the goal and also perform your duty. And मयि अर्पित-मनः-बुद्धिः – so with your mind and intellect committed to Me, Mind and intellect means your emotional personality is committed to the Lord, by which कृष्ण means let your emotional needs be also fulfilled through ईश्वर. Learn to emotionally depend upon God rather than depending on the mortals around. Because I don't how long the mortals will be around, why because they are mortals. Therefore how can I heavily lean on something whose availability is unpredictable and make my life risky. Therefore love everyone, but for your emotional need may you depend upon your सगुण ईश्वर. That is called emotional application. So if you see त्यागराज song, most of the time he talks only with राम, because to talk to others is a headache, he knows that, therefore any talk he does with राम. You can also talk to your Lord, of course in a closed room, otherwise people think, after attending the गीता classes some screws are becoming loose! Therefore don't do it openly, but in closed door you do, perfectly all right, this is emotional application. And also बुद्धिम् – may you be rationally also convinced. Because the physical personal God symbolizes the truth, symbolizes immortality, symbolizes love, symbolizes compassion, symbolizes steadiness. Therefore the physical form we don't say is the ultimate truth, but the physical form represents the highest reality and that is called the intellectual conviction. And once you are able to appreciate the abstract truth, then the God with form is optional for you. You have it, enjoy. You don't have it. But until then you require a support, आत्मबन्धम्. Therefore be intellectually convinced and emotionally hooked to ईश्वर, and माम् एव एष्यसि – if you follow this lifestyle you will certainly attain Me alone. असंशयम् – again कृष्ण gives guarantee, don't doubt me, because we know, the other people's guarantee, what it is, as somebody said, 'the politicians are those who shake your hands before your elections and shake your confidence after elections.' We know that nobody in the world is reliable. Therefore we extend that to God also. Therefore God says don't put Me in that pedestal, I am reliable. Continuing;

अभ्यासयोगयुक्तेन चेतसा नान्यगामिना ।

परमं पुरुषं दिव्यं याति पार्थानुचिन्तयन् ॥ ८-८॥

अभ्यास-योग-युक्तेन चेतसा न अन्य-गामिना ।

परमम् पुरुषम् दिव्यम् याति पार्थ अनुचिन्तयन् ॥ ८-८॥

हे पार्थ! अभ्यास-योग-युक्तेन न अन्य-गामिना चेतसा अनुचिन्तयन् दिव्यम् परमम् पुरुषम् याति ।

So we have to supply प्रयाण-काले – at the time of death, a सगुण उपासक अनुचिन्तयन् – remembers the Lord, what type of Lord, परमम् पुरुषम् दिव्यम् – the Lord which is the highest reality and the Lord who is known as पुरुषः, पुरुषः word has two meaning, I think I have told you. One meaning is पुरि शेते इति पुरुषः (पुरौ शेते इति पुरुषः) – the one who resides in the heart of everyone. पुरि or पुरौ means the body, शेते means dwells, resides, पुरुषः, the indweller of all. And the second meaning पूरयति सर्वम् इति पुरुषः, पूरयति means the one who spreads, the one who fills up the whole world, from that only the word पूर्णम् comes. So that all-pervading indweller who is परमम् – the absolute reality, and दिव्यम्, so दिव्यम् means the one who is the चैतन्य स्वरूपम्. So that Lord a सगुण उपासक remembers at the time of death. How? चेतसा – with a mind. What type of mind? अभ्यास-योग-युक्तेन – which has the strength of practice, regular exercise. Because the mind is able to do, because of regular rehearsal, अभ्यास means what practice, repetition, अभ्यास योगः means the साधन of अभ्यास, I think in तमिळ् also they use अभ्यासम्, practice makes a man perfect, so that practice is called अभ्यास-योग, युक्तेन – a mind which is endowed with the strength of practice, the support of practice with such a mind and therefore only न अन्य-गामिना – with a mind which is undistracted, with a such a mind the सगुण उपासक remembers Me. And याति and it is very very natural, it is not extraordinary, I have heard that mathematics prodigy रामानुजम्, he had an early death, he was suffering from some disease, I think TB or something and he was in his deathbed and somebody went and he asked what is your car No. at the time of death, we may ask the bank number etc., but he asked about the number of the car and when he said that number, he said this is the only number which has got two different cube root form or something, for us mathematics is allergy. At the time of death, he remembers the uniqueness of the car number, I forget what he said, it has come unique number, presented in the form of cube root of something or like that. How he is able to do that, because of अभ्यास-योग-युक्तेन. So whatever you love, whatever you value your mind automatically will think of that, if you have valued the highest truth then you should think of that, which is represented of God and thinking of that God, याति, याति means he will attain or merge into that Lord. So thinking of God he merges into God and here merges into God means क्रम मुक्तिम् प्राप्नोति. More we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

Answering the 7th question of अर्जुन from the 5th verse of this chapter, Lord कृष्ण is dealing with the topic of अन्त-काल ईश्वर स्मरणम्. The significance of remembering God at the time of death and as a part of this topic, कृष्ण is dealing with सगुण ईश्वर उपासनाम्. And सगुण ईश्वर उपासनाम् is meditation upon the Lord with attributes. And here the उपासक that is kept in mind is निष्काम उपासक, an उपासक who has only a spiritual goal, who does not have materialist desires or to put in another language, who has got वैशग्यम्. And this निष्काम उपासक can take to two different courses of life, one is practicing निष्काम उपासना for some time and thereafter switching over the साधन to the वेदान्त विचारः or निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. So from सगुण to निर्गुण, from उपासना to ज्ञानम्. And ज्ञानम् is in the form of वेदान्त श्रवण मनन निदिध्यासनम्. And by following that ज्ञानयोग, a person gets liberation here and now, which is called जीवन्मुक्तिः. And this जीवन्मुक्तिः topic, कृष्ण is keeping aside now for the 9th chapter, but He is talking about another course that the निष्काम उपासक can take to and in this he continues in निष्काम उपासना throughout the life without coming to वेदान्त विचारः or निर्गुण ईश्वर, because of any reason. We are not bothered about the reason, either he feels he is not subtle enough or qualified enough to appreciate निर्गुण or he might not have an appropriate आचार्य to enter into वेदान्त विचार, or he might not have sufficient health for that. Thus due to any obstacle a person may not be able to come to निर्गुण ईश्वर विचार, in which case he continues in सगुण ईश्वर as निष्काम उपासना with वैशग्यम् for ईश्वर प्राप्ति he continues. And कृष्ण says, naturally since he has a great value for ईश्वर प्राप्ति at the time of death also his mind dwells upon what he values most, what he considers as top priority in life. For a निष्काम उपासक, ईश्वर प्राप्ति is the top priority, therefore at the time of death also he remembers and a result of that that person after death leaves the physical body here, carries the subtle body and goes to ब्रह्मलोक . And in ब्रह्मलोक he has to enter into निर्गुण ईश्वर विचार. There is no escape from वेदान्त. You have to definitely come to वेदान्त without escape. So nobody can escape निर्गुण ईश्वर विचार, because that is the ultimate root to liberation and in ब्रह्मलोक he is supposed to get ज्ञानम् and as a result of that ज्ञानम्, he attains liberation, which is called क्रममुक्तिः. And it is this क्रममुक्ति, कृष्ण is dealing with throughout the 8th chapter. Therefore you should remember, in the 8th chapter निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is not the subject matter, it is kept aside, for the time being. And naturally the question will come, how can a person remember Lord at the time of death,

अवरोधन विधौ स्मरणम् कुतः ते ॥ पाण्डवगीता/ प्रपन्नगीता ५२ ॥

So how can I remember, because I don't have any control over myself, now itself whether I have control over myself is doubtful? So for that question, कृष्ण himself gives the answer, it will become effortless if your devotion goes to your subconscious mind. By conscious meditation if a person pushes the ईश्वर स्मरण to the subconscious mind, at the time of death even if conscious mind is not operative, from the subconscious mind whatever is there in saturation that will surface. And therefore He said in the 8th verse, which we completed in the last class, अभ्यास-योग-युक्तेन. That is why I told you repeatedly 'Watch your thoughts it will become your words and then actions, watch your words and actions they become your habits, watch your habits they become your character, watch your character it becomes your destiny.' So therefore alert life from now itself is called अभ्यास योगः. And with a mind which is strengthened by अभ्यास-योग and therefore with an undistracted mind when a person remembers the Lord, he will attain क्रममुक्ति. Up to this we saw क्रममुक्ति. Continuing;

Verse No .09

कविं पुराणमनुशासितारं अणोरेणीयांसमनुस्मरेद्यः ।

सर्वस्य धातारमविन्त्यरूपमादित्यवर्णं तमसः परस्तात् ॥ ८-९॥

कविम् पुराणम् अनुशासितारम् अणोः अणीयांसम् अनुस्मरेत् यः ।

सर्वस्य धातारम् अविन्त्य-रूपं आदित्य-वर्णम् तमसः परस्तात् ॥ ८-९॥

So here कृष्ण talks about the attributes of the Lord who is remembered by the निष्काम उपासक at the time of death: ईश्वर गुणः, ईश्वर कल्याण विशेष. What are the attributes that are mentioned here? Each word is an attribute of the Lord. कवि, पुराण, अनुशासिता, अणोः अणीयान्, सर्वस्य धाता, अविन्त्य-रूप, आदित्य-वर्ण, तमसः परस्तात् वर्तमानाः. Eight attributes are mentioned here. From this it is very clear that the निष्काम उपासक must be in touch with the scriptures, otherwise he will not know all these things. So what are the attributes?

a) कविः, कविः means सर्वज्ञः, omniscient, the all illuminating principle, because the Lord is seen as the total mind. So कविः, the omniscient one.

b) पुराणम्, पुराणः, the most ancient one, the one who is never created, the one who is the creator of everyone but the one who himself is uncreated and therefore पुराणम्, here पुराणम् means the ancient one. Not भागवतम् पुराणम्, not in that sense, here पुराणम् is used as an adjective, our पुराणम्s are also called पुराणम्s, because they are also ancient ones; so पुराणम्.

c) Then the next one is अनुशासितारम्, अनुशासिता means the one who gives the कर्म-फलम् to all the जीवs according to the laws of कर्म. And when we talk about the laws of कर्म, not only the physical laws we take into account most importantly we take into account the moral laws also. So in keeping with all those laws the one who gives कर्म-फलम्, therefore कर्म-फल धाता.

d) Then the one who is अणोः अणीयांसम् – the one who is subtler than even the subtlest atom, which means the one who is not available for any sense organs or any sensory perception. So the one who is beyond शब्द, स्पर्श, रूप, रस, गन्ध. So from this it is very clear that a physical form that we attribute to the Lord is only symbolic, exactly like national flag, the flag is not India but the flag represents India. Similarly, the formfull God represents the formless reality, the formless beauty, the formless immortality, the formless peace, the formless security, In fact, everything that we seek in life, that is symbolized as God. These are the things that we seek, peace we seek, security we seek, fullness we seek, all these are abstract goals and these abstract goals are concretely symbolized as the physical God and therefore अणोः अणीयांसम्, whose real nature is formlessness.

e) And then in the second line, सर्वस्य धातारम् – the one who is the substratum, the support of the entire creation, being the very cause of the creation. Just as ocean is the very substratum for all the waves and bubbles, they all rise in the ocean, rest in the ocean and resolve in the ocean. Similarly, the Lord is विश्व आधारम् and in Vedantic context, we use the word, सत्-रूपम् सत्ता, the one who is the very existence principle.

सत् एव सोम्य इदम् अब्र आसीत् ॥ छान्दोग्योपनिषत् ६-२-१॥

सन्मूलाः सोम्येमाः सर्वाः प्रजाः सदायतनाः सत्प्रतिष्ठाः ॥
छान्दोग्योपनिषत् ६-८-४ ॥

In छान्दोग्योपनिषत्, that Lord is presented as the very existence principle which supports all. But to understand the existence principle, we require a subtle intellect and therefore we symbolize the ‘सत्’ in a particular form, but existence has no form at all. Therefore सर्वस्य धातारम्.

f) And अचिन्त्य-रूपम् – the one who is incomprehensible, the one who is beyond our thoughts, the one who cannot be objectified by the mind. The reason being, one can give many reasons, mind can visualize only the attributes, mind is a instrument meant to study only the attributes. And therefore the mind cannot function in a field where the attributes are not there. Just as the best car cannot move in the ocean and the best ship cannot move in the land, because ships are not meant for the land and the cars are not meant for the ocean, mind is not meant for a field which is beyond attributes. Therefore mind cannot conceive of that. And the second reason is God cannot be ultimately objectified because, God happens to the very subject who objectifies everything. So such unobjectifiable God is temporarily objectified by adding attributes,

निर्विशेषम् परम् ब्रह्म साक्षात् कर्तुम् अनीश्वराः ।

ये मन्दाः तेऽनुकम्प्यन्ते सविशेषनिरूपणैः ॥ अप्यस्य दीक्षितर् ॥

For those people who cannot conceive of the attributeless truth, for those मन्दाः, the उपनिषत् calls them मन्दाः, for them the उपनिषत् comes down and presents the attributed God. Steeping over the attributed we have to go to the attributeless. Therefore अचिन्त्य-रूपम्.

g) And आदित्य-वर्णम् and the one who is bright like the Sun, the one who is the illuminator of everything like the Sun. If you remember, recently in कठोपनिषत् we saw

सूर्यो यथा सर्वलोकस्य चक्षुः न लिप्यते चाक्षुषैर्बाह्यदोषैः ।

एकस्तथा सर्वभूतान्तरात्मा न लिप्यते लोकदुःखेन बाह्यः ॥ कठोपनिषत् २-२-११॥

Just as one Sun illumines everything, God is that one Consciousness because of which we are conscious of everything else. Therefore आदित्य-वर्णम् is स्वयम् प्रकाश चैतन्य स्वरूपम्, so the one who is all-illuminating Consciousness.

h) And तमसः परस्तात् and which is unaffected by even darkness. This is the difference between the sunlight and the आत्म ज्योतिः. What is the difference between सूर्य ज्योतिः and आत्म ज्योतिः? The Sunlight can illumine everything, except one thing, it cannot illumine darkness. स्वामि विन्मयानन्द nicely says: somebody went and told Sun God it seems: There is a beautiful girl, Miss Darkness, so you can get married (it is just a story). Therefore the Sun God thought, somehow I should meet that Miss Darkness, so Sun God asked it seems where is Miss Darkness, then they said it is on the other side of the earth, so the Sun started running after Miss Darkness. Still the Sun is going round and round, that is why sunrise and sunset, Bachelor Sun wants to marry Ms. Darkness because in संस्कृत, the word darkness is feminine gender, निशा is feminine, some people keep the name निशा also, I know how this word came. निशा means darkness. Anyway, I hope there is no one here, निशा means darkness. OK. Leave it aside. So what is the problem? Sun can illumine everything but it can never illumine darkness, that is the limitation of the Sun; but Consciousness is a superior light which can illumine the darkness also. In fact, if this room becomes dark, not now, you have to continue the class, how do you know it is dark, you are conscious of darkness, that means Consciousness illumines the existence of darkness also which means it is not driven away by darkness, it is not affected by darkness and therefore it is called तमसः परस्तात्, the one who is illuminator of both.

Such a God, the निष्काम उपासक meditates, अनुस्मरेत् यः, so यः here means निष्काम उपासक and अनुस्मरेत् means he repeatedly remembers. Not only throughout the life but at the time of death also. And this verse is grammatically incomplete, because यः अनुस्मरेत्, whoever remembers, it is incomplete. So you have to grammatically complete by adding He attains the Lord. यः अनुस्मरेत् सः परमम् पुरुषम् याति, so this we borrow from the previous verse. सः परमम् पुरुषम् याति. That means he gets which मुक्ति, not जीवन्मुक्ति, he gets क्रममुक्ति. Continuing;

प्रयाणकाले मनसाऽचलेन भक्त्या युक्तो योगबलेन चैव ।

भ्रुवोर्मध्ये प्राणमावेश्य सम्यक् स तं परं पुरुषमुपैति दिव्यम् ॥ ८-१०॥

प्रयाण-काले मनसा अचलेन भक्त्या युक्तः योग-बलेन च एव ।

भ्रुवोः मध्ये प्राणम् आवेश्य सम्यक् सः तम् परम् पुरुषम् उपैति दिव्यम् ॥

कविम्, पुराणम्, अनुशासितारम्, अणोः अणीयांसम्, सर्वस्य धातारम्, अचिन्त्य-रूपं, तमसः परस्तात् आदित्य-वर्णम् (विद्यमानं पुरुषं), प्रयाण-काले, अचलेन मनसा, भवत्या युक्तः योग-बलेन च एव भ्रुवोः मध्ये सम्यक् प्राणम् आवेश्य, यः अनुस्मरेत् सः तम् परम् दिव्यम् पुरुषम् उपैति ।

So here कृष्ण talks about the निष्काम उपासक remembering God at the time of death. So what are the things that he practices, when, प्रयाण-काले, so प्रयाण-कालम् means at the time of death. What does he do? Second line, भ्रुवोः मध्ये प्राणम् आवेश्य, so प्राण means the very life principle, the पञ्च प्राणः, he withdraws from every organ of the body and he has to bring the प्राण to हृदयम् and from the हृदयम् he has to direct the प्राण through a special नाडि called सुषुम्ना नाडि. It is not mentioned here, but in other places it is said

शतम् चैका च हृदयस्य नाड्यस्तासाम् मूर्धानमभिनिःसृतैका ।

तयोर्ध्वमायन्नमृतत्वमेति विष्वङ्गन्या उत्क्रमणे भवन्ति ॥ कठोपनिषत् २-३-१६ ॥

In कठोपनिषत्, the details are given. We have to remember that here, प्राण is brought into हृदयम् and the प्राण is directed through a special channel called सुषुम्ना नाडि and the channel is supposed to open on the top of the head and that opening is called ब्रह्म रन्द्रम्, ब्रह्म रन्द्रम् means passage to ब्रह्मलोक . So like a rocket which is forcibly released on a trajectory on a particular course. Similarly, प्राण has to be released through that passage and from this ब्रह्म रन्द्र, there is a route, which we will see, which is known as शुक्ल गति, and through that the जीवात्मा travels and this शुक्ल गति is supposed to take him to ब्रह्म लोकः. For all these things he has to prepare. Therefore, प्राणम् आवेश्य; भ्रुवोः मध्ये – he has to bring the प्राण to a place between the eyebrows which represents सुषुम्ना नाडि, because it is supposed to travel through the middle of the head and directly behind the भ्रु देशः. Now the question is how can I withdraw the प्राण? That too at the time of प्राण leaving the body? So, how can I have so much control over the प्राण to withdraw it, to bring it to the heart, send through the सुषुम्ना नाडि, it all seems impossible. So कृष्ण says, योग-बलेन च एव, if a person wants क्रममुक्ति not only he must be a great उपासक, he also must be a great योगि, he must have practiced अष्टाङ्ग योग and he must have practiced lot of प्राणायाम and through that, he must be able to control all the प्राण and you know it is possible also. There are many people who can control the so-called involuntary action, what involuntary for us, for us most of the actions are involuntary. Anyway action which are considered involuntary like heartbeat etc., by the practice of योग, he can control the so-called uncontrolled and therefore कृष्ण says उपासक must be a योगि, if he wants क्रममुक्ति. What about जीवन्मुक्ति? To come to निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् and attain मुक्ति here, the greatest advantage is you need not be a योगि. Now you can decide what do you want? So if you postpone that is the punishment, if you postpone you should be a tremendous प्राणायाम practitioner having total control over your system and therefore कृष्ण adds योग-बलेन by the strength of his योग practice he must be able to withdraw the प्राण and direct through this सुषुम्ना नाडि and while doing all these things, he has to do some more things, here he has to do something else also, what is that, मनसा अचलेन – he should enjoy a mind which is very very steady, when at the time of death, not only he should be able to withdraw the सूक्ष्म शरीरम् or प्राण, he should be able to have perfect balance of mind, therefore अचलेन मनसा, so with an undistracted mind and if you ask how is it possible, again you have to add, योग-बलेन. Thus योगशास्त्र is meant for योगः चित्त वृत्ति निरोधः, for disciplining the thoughts is the योग, therefore निष्काम उपासक, steadies the mind. And then what is the next thing he has to do, (not yet finished) भवत्या युक्तः – he must be endowed with total devotion towards Me which means his intense urge should be for ईश्वर प्राप्ति and nothing else and how is it possible, योग-बलेन, for each thing you have to add - योग-बलेन he has control over प्राण, योग-बलेन he can withdraw the mind and योग-बलेन he can direct the mind towards the Lord, in the form of any इष्ट देवता, that is not said here, we can understand it as in the form of any इष्ट देवता, राम रूपम्, कृष्ण रूपम्, देवी रूपम्, etc. And by such उपासना, what will he get, सः परम् पुरुषम् दिव्यम् उपैति – as a result of such an ईश्वर स्मरण, he will attain the Lord himself, what type of Lord, another description, परम् पुरुषम् दिव्यम्. I have given the meaning of the word पुरुष before, the one who indwells in every one and one who fills up the whole creation, such a Lord and परम्, the one who is the highest, देश-काल-वस्तु परिच्छेद शून्यम्, the one who is limitless one and दिव्यम्, the one who is स्वयम् प्रकाश चैतन्यम्, the one who is of the nature of Consciousness, such a Lord he will attain, how क्रममुक्ति, not directly, go to ब्रह्मलोक, attend ब्रह्माजी's classes, gain knowledge and attain मोक्ष. यदक्षरं वेदविदो वदन्ति विशन्ति यद्यतयो वीतरागाः ।

यदिच्छन्तो ब्रह्मचर्यं चरन्ति तत्ते पदं सङ्ग्रहेण प्रवक्ष्ये ॥ ८-११॥

यत् अक्षरम् वेद-विदः वदन्ति विशन्ति यत् यतयः वीत-रागाः ।

यत् इच्छन्तः ब्रह्मचर्यम् चरन्ति तत् ते पदम् सङ्ग्रहेण प्रवक्ष्ये ॥ ८-११॥

वेद-विदः यत् अक्षरम् वदन्ति, वीत-रागाः यतयः यत् विशन्ति, (ब्रह्मचारिणः) यत् इच्छन्तः ब्रह्मचर्यम् चरन्ति, तत् पदम् ते सङ्ग्रहेण प्रवक्ष्ये ।

Here कृष्ण talks about the glory of the Lord. यत् अक्षरम् वेद-विदः वदन्ति. So this destination, that is God, all the वेद-विदः, वैदिक learners, the experts in the scriptures called as अक्षरम्, अक्षरम् means the absolute reality, यत् अक्षरम् in the मुण्डकोपनिषत्, the ultimate reality is called अक्षरम्, so

यया तत् अक्षरम् अधिगम्यते ॥ मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-१-७ ॥

So अक्षरम् means the imperishable one, the infinite means which means the only source of security, the only source of happiness and the only source of fullness. This वेद-विदः वदन्ति, वेद-विदः means the one who has studied the scriptures, they talk about that. यत् यतयः विशन्ति – which is accomplished by committed seekers. So literally the word यतयः means संन्यासिनः and संन्यासि represents the one who pursues this spiritual goal, single mindedly to the exclusion of every other thing. Always संन्यास represents priority for spirituality and whoever gives top priority to spiritual goal, he or she is a संन्यासि. We are not talking about the external संन्यास here, but we are talking about people of priority. So यतयः विशन्ति, is that Lord whom these committed seekers accomplish. And what is their qualification? वीत-यगाः – who have turned away from the finite goals of life, because they have attempted all other goals and they have found that everything other than God is finite, they come under अपरा प्रकृति, God alone represents the परा प्रकृति and therefore everything is finite and therefore what remember, cardboard chair, I hope you will not forget. Cardboard chair, you can do everything except sitting over. Similarly, everything in the creation you can handle, you can use, you can be nearby except expecting emotional security from that. If you want security, that अक्षरम् alone can give and therefore these people understood the limitation, turned away from the finite and turned towards the infinite one and यत् इच्छन्तः ब्रह्मचर्यम् चरन्ति – and desiring this spiritual goal alone the seekers follow the life of ब्रह्मचर्यम् and in this context, ब्रह्मचर्यम् means the committed study of scriptures, गुरुकुल वासलक्षणम् ब्रह्मचर्यम्, ब्रह्म means scriptures, चर्यम् means dwelling in the scriptures, because scriptures alone help us in discovering that reality and this is the nature of that ब्रह्म. And कृष्ण says about the nature of that ईश्वर, अहम् सङ्ग्रहेण प्रवक्ष्ये – I shall briefly define the nature of that ईश्वरः and he promises to define the nature of ईश्वर here, but he gives the definition later only in verses 20, 21 and 22. There he will give the definition of ईश्वर, but here he promises to give the definition, तत् पदम् सङ्ग्रहेण प्रवक्ष्ये – I shall define that God briefly. And we might forget कृष्ण's promise but कृष्ण remembers it and he will give it later; पदम् means goal or destination. Continuing;

मूर्धन्याध्यात्मनः प्राणमास्थितो योगधारणाम् ॥ ८-१२॥

सर्व-द्वाराणि संयम्य मनः हृदि निरुध्य च ।

मूर्ध्नि आधाय आत्मानः प्राणम् आस्थितः योग-धारणाम् ॥ ८-१२॥

I said before that God in his real nature is formless and since it is difficult to conceive of the formless God, the scriptures present a concrete symbol to visualize the formless, which is called in the language of उपासना an आलम्बनम्. आलम्बनम् means a concrete symbol to represent an abstract object of meditation. And this आलम्बनम् or symbol is of two types, one is called प्रतिमा आलम्बनम् and the other is called प्रतीक आलम्बनम्. प्रतिमा आलम्बनम् is a symbol which has got all the limbs or organs like a head, hands, legs etc., where the Lord is personified. So if there is a राम विग्रह, राम picture that picture becomes what, प्रतिमा आलम्बनम्. Similarly, कृष्ण प्रतिमा आलम्बनम्, because have the description also.

क्षीरोधन्वत् प्रदेशे शुचिमणि विलसत् सैकते मौक्तिकानाम् । or

मेघश्यामं पीतकौशेयवासं ॥ ॥ श्रीविष्णुसहस्रनामस्तोत्रम् ॥

And they give the description of the hands and various weapons which are held in the hand, all those descriptions are given, they become what, प्रतिमा आलम्बनम्. When the symbol doesn't have any organs or limbs like a शिवलिङ्ग. For a शिवलिङ्ग, there is no hand, leg or anything and therefore it will become what प्रतीक आलम्बनम्; a flame is प्रतीक आलम्बनम्. And for विनायक when you have the turmeric powder, just make a lump out of turmeric powder and अस्मिन् हरिद्राबिम्बे श्रीमहागणपति ध्यायामि, thereafter, आसनम्, अर्घ्यम्, पादम्, etc., who is विनायक, a lump of turmeric powder and in that lump there is no organ. And therefore it becomes what प्रतीक आलम्बनम् and the scriptures say you can use any आलम्बनम् you like, that is how you choose your इष्ट देवता and suppose you don't like a personal God, some people say, personal God I have no appeal and if you don't want प्रतिमा, you can have a प्रतीक, you can take a flame, a flame can represent and once such important आलम्बनम् or symbol given by the scriptures is ॐकार आलम्बनम्. ॐकार is an आलम्बनम् given by the scriptures themselves, we saw in कठोपनिषत्:

एतद्ध्येवाक्षरं ब्रह्म एतद्ध्येवाक्षरं परम् । एतद्ध्येवाक्षरं ज्ञात्वा यो यदिच्छति तस्य तत् ॥

एतदालम्बनं श्रेष्ठमेतदालम्बनं परम् । एतदालम्बनं ज्ञात्वा ब्रह्मलोकेमहीयते ॥ १.२.१६-१७ ॥

Thus ॐकार is an आलम्बनम् and when you visualize God in ॐकार, it is called ॐकार उपासना. ॐकार उपासना is a meditation in which I invoke the Lord in ॐ. And it is considered a very well-known उपासना and therefore almost in every उपनिषत्, ॐकार उपासना is talked about, these two मन्त्रs are कठ I quoted and मुण्डकोपनिषत्.

धनुर् गृहीत्वौपनिषदं महारुद्रं शरं ह्युपासा निशितं सन्धयीत ॥

प्रणवो धनुः शारो ह्यात्मा ॥ मुण्डकोपनिषत् २-२-३,४ ॥

ॐकार is talked about. In तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत्, ॐकार उपासना is talked about and since ॐकार उपासना is very popular in scriptures, कृष्ण also borrows ॐकार उपासना and talks about that in these two verses. 12 and 13 talk about ॐकार उपासना. And when कृष्ण talks about ॐकार उपासना, remember, it is only a sample that is given, it is not compulsory that everyone has to do ॐकार उपासना, it is a choice. Instead of ॐकार, one can choose कृष्ण, राम, सरस्वती, लक्ष्मी, any deity can be chosen, you should have a concrete symbol for the abstract God. And all these he should practice throughout the life and also at the time of death. That is said here: सर्व-द्वाराणि संयम्य, मरण काले, OK, at the time of मरणम्, he has to withdraw from all the sense organs, he has to shut all the sense organs, because sense organs are the gateways through which the world gate-crashes into your mind without your permission and once the world enters your mind then each one will trigger a line of thinking and therefore if you have to remember God, shut the sense organs, so सर्व-द्वाराणि संयम्य; मनः हृदि निरुध्य – bring the mind to your heart, in which the Lord is visualized. शङ्कराचार्य in a prayer verse known as शिवशङ्कर अष्टकम्, he prays to Lord himself:

अतिभीषण कटुभाषण यमकिङ्करपटली कृतताडन
परिपीडनमरणानमसमये ।

उमया सह मम चेतसि यमशासन निवसन् हरशङ्कर शिवशङ्कर हर मे कर दुरितम् ॥

श्रीशिवशङ्कर अष्टकम् अथवा यमभय निवारण स्तोत्रम् १ ॥

Can you understand. अतिभीषण at the time of death, Oh शिव, all the यमकिङ्करs are coming, यमदूतs are coming and not using polite words, अतिभीषण कटुभाषण, threatening me and criticizing me for wasting my time, यमकिङ्करपटली कृतताडन परिपीडनमरणानमसमये, making lot of noises they come and at that time when I am terribly frightened, when my will is very weak, at the time what should you do, now itself I am booking you, what should you do, उमया सह मम चेतसि यमशासन निवसन्, you should come into my heart and not alone, उमया सह मम चेतसि यमशासन, the Lord is addressed beautifully, the Lord is here called यमशासनः, which means he is यम to यम, there was one cinema, I didn't watch, just saw the title, I don't know what is its contents, काल कालः. Therefore यमकिङ्करs come, You the यमशासन should come and dance in my heart, that the यमदूतs will bolt, just run away. That is why we seek the grace of the Lord also, it is a beautiful शिवशङ्कर अष्टकम्, 8 verses, in all of them, हरशङ्कर शिवशङ्कर हर मे कर दुरितम्. It is a beautiful prayer. And therefore मनः हृदि निरुध्य – having withdrawn the mind and placed in the heart, मूर्ध्नि आत्मनः प्राणम् आधाय, the same old story, the प्राण should be withdrawn from their respective centers and it should be brought to the top of the head, मूर्धा (मूर्धन्), the top of the head, where the सुषुम्ना नाडि emerges out. And what should the mind be doing at that time, योग-धारणाम् आस्थितः – so one should practice the यौगिक concentration, धारण means focusing, dwelling, concentrating. How is it possible, if you ask, it should have been practiced earlier and then once the time comes, I know that all these things are going to go away, any way, therefore, I should seek my way out, I have till now done everything for the family, now let me look for my way, so a person should practice योग-धारणाम्, which is ॐकार उपासना. And what is that ॐकार उपासना, he said in the next verse, which we will see in the next class.

पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 08, VERSES 13-18

From the 5th verse of this 8th chapter, Lord has been answering अर्जुन's question regarding remembrance of the Lord at the time of death. प्रयाण-काल ईश्वर स्मरणम् and the method of that practice and the significance of that स्मरणम् and also the benefit of that ईश्वर स्मरणम्. And we saw that to remember the Lord at the time of death a person has to be a निष्काम उपासकः, उपासकः means the one who practices meditation on ईश्वर with attributes, therefore we say सगुण उपासकः. And not only he has to be a meditator of ईश्वर he also must have recognized the fact that the highest possible in life is ईश्वर प्राप्ति itself, because ईश्वर alone is the infinite one. The form that we attribute to ईश्वर is of course finite, but the finite form symbolizes the Lord who is the infinite. We don't take the symbol as God we take symbol as the representative of God, because we know that the symbol is finite and therefore taking a particular finite symbol he knows Lord as the infinite represented by the symbol and he considers that infinite God as the primary goal of life. असतो मा सद्गमय, everything else other than God is असत्, God alone is सत्, तमसो मा ज्योतिर्गमय, everything other than God is तमस्, God alone is ज्योतिः and मृत्योर्मा अमृतङ्गमय, everything other than God is मृत्यु means mortality, God alone represents immortality. And the person who has this top priority, we call him निष्काम उपासकः and we have been seeing in these verses, this निष्काम उपासकः remembers God at the time of death also. And according to the Law which कृष्ण said: यम् यम् भावम् स्मरति तम् तम् भावम् प्राप्नोति. As a person thinks so he becomes and since the निष्काम उपासकः thinks of God he becomes one with God. And how he becomes one with God we saw before and कृष्ण himself will clarify later, after death this निष्काम उपासकः will go ब्रह्मलोक and in ब्रह्मलोक he will get निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् and as a result of that ज्ञानम् he will get जीवात्मा परमात्मा ऐक्यम्. And this method of ईश्वर प्राप्ति we call by the name क्रममुक्तिः. So अन्त-काल ईश्वर स्मरणम् will lead to क्रममुक्ति. This is the topic. And I said in the last class, even though infinite God is only one, the finite symbols representing the Lord, the symbols can be many. Symbols are finite and they can be many. And therefore in our scriptures many symbols are given. Some of them are personal God, like राम, कृष्ण, etc., which we called प्रतिमा symbol and there are symbols which are non-personal also, which we called प्रतीक symbol, like flame as a symbol, like शिवलिङ्गम् as symbol, like सालिग्राम as a symbol and in that list ॐकार also is a प्रतीक symbol, in संस्कृत called प्रतीक आलम्बनम्. And a निष्काम उपासकः can practice ॐकार उपासना and through ॐकार he remembers the Lord. And having remembered the Lord through ॐकार throughout the life, at the time of death also he utters ॐ and dies. A राम भक्त with the name राम in his mouth, a कृष्ण भक्त dies with the name कृष्ण. Can अभक्त dies with all words like अय्यो (alas), something comes whatever he has been practicing. You know the story, a person was about to die and पार्वती wanted to help that person and therefore पार्वती requested परमेश्वर to bless him, परमेश्वर said he doesn't want us because depends upon other things. Still पार्वती after all universal mothers, she said that they should have some consideration for him and we should bless. Then परमेश्वर said that both of us will go near him at the time of death. If he dies with the word अम्मा (mother) in the mouth, you should help, you are the mother; if he says अप्पा (father) and dies, I will help, because I am Universal father, जगतः पितरौ वन्दे पार्वतीपरमेश्वरौ. This was the contract/deal between पार्वती and परमेश्वर and both of them went near the person who is dying. And then at the time of death he started the word ॐ, then they were not sure, because अप्पा also starts with ॐ, अम्मा also starts with ॐ, both were ready thinking he may call one of us and then he died saying neither अप्पा nor अम्मा, but cried अय्यो and left the प्राण. Lord शिव looked at पार्वती and smiled, this is what it is. Even if you are willing to rescue, generally the humanity doesn't want depend on God, they want to depend on the परिवारs and possessions and as long as they have got confidence in them, let them try. And that is why they say instead of अस्यो, say राम, कृष्ण, शिव, etc., some नाम should be uttered. So कृष्ण is going to take the example of ॐकार उपासना in the following verses, which we will read now. Verse 13;

Verse No .13

ओमित्येकाक्षरं ब्रह्म व्याहरन्मामनुस्मरन् ।

यः प्रयाति त्यजन्देहं स याति परमां गतिम् ॥ ८-१३॥

ओम् इति एक-अक्षरम् ब्रह्म व्याहरन् माम् अनुस्मरन् ।

यः प्रयाति त्यजन् देहम् सः याति परमाम् गतिम् ॥ ८-१३॥

सर्व-द्वाराणि संयम्य, मनः च हृदि निरुध्य, मूर्ध्नि आत्मानः प्राणम् आधाय, योग-धारणाम् आस्थितः, ओम् इति एक-अक्षरम् ब्रह्म व्याहरन् माम् अनुस्मरन्, यः देहम् त्यजन् प्रयाति, सः परमाम् गतिम् याति ।

So what does this निष्काम ॐकार उपासकः will do at the time of death is the topic. And you should remember throughout this discussion, this उपासकः has never come to निर्गुण ईश्वर, he has not come to वेदान्त ज्ञानम्, therefore he doesn't have अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि इति ज्ञानम् and therefore from Vedantic angle this person will come under अज्ञानि only. Even though he is a very informed person with regard to all other things, even though he is very informed with regard to उपासना, he is ignorant with regard to one particular thing, what is that, the essential oneness between the जीवात्मा and परमात्मा, he does not know. And if he has already that knowledge, he need not bother about क्रममुक्ति at all, because with this knowledge itself liberation is guaranteed here and now. All these क्रममुक्ति topic is only with regard to an अज्ञानि, regarding ऐक्यम्. Therefore remember, this अज्ञानि निष्काम उपासकः uses ॐकार for remembering the Lord in his own concept with his own attributes. So ओम् इति व्याहरन् – so he utters the word ॐ which is एक-अक्षरम् ब्रह्म, which is एक-अक्षरम्, which is mono syllabled word revealing ब्रह्मन्. So एक-अक्षरम् means a word of one syllable, because ॐ is only one syllable and which reveals ब्रह्मन् that एक-अक्षरम् ब्रह्म ॐ इति व्याहरन्, utters. It does not mean that everyone has to utter ॐ, whatever he has practiced throughout the life that नाम he has to utter. And suppose a person says I have not practiced anything, that is why कृष्ण is warning, start practicing now itself, राम राम राम start, that is why in our culture even when they yawn they say कृष्ण कृष्ण कृष्ण, anything practice and therefore whatever नाम I have practiced that I have to utter, the ॐकार उपासकः utters ॐ इति व्याहरन्, व्याहरन् means uttering the word and through this word अनुस्मरन् – he remembers, not any finite thing in the world, because none of them is going to accompany him. ‘The relatives stay behind in the house. The wife comes up to the street. The son accompanies you to the (funeral) ground. But who comes with you till the end?’ So all the others are going to drop me in one stage or other, because they cannot help me, that is their limitation, and therefore remembering God who is the only help, यः प्रयाति – so the one travels with God accompanied by, assisted by God, through a special path, निष्काम उपासकः has a special route which कृष्ण will explain later, it is called शुक्ल गति यः प्रयाति – the one who travels, देहम् त्यजन् – having dropped the physical body here and the traveling is done by what, the physical body, the स्थूल शरीरम् is dropped here and it is burnt down, therefore there is no question of physical body traveling and there is no question of आत्मा traveling also, आत्मा the Consciousness cannot travel because it is all-pervading, therefore what travels is the subtle and causal body in which all the पुण्य-पाप कर्म are stored. It is that one which travels, which alone we call the soul or जीवः and therefore this जीवः consisting of सूक्ष्म शरीरम् and of course the reflected Consciousness, it travels and where does it travel? सः याति परमाम् गतिम् – such a जीवात्मा travels towards the highest goal of life, viz., क्रममुक्ति. So the travel is towards क्रममुक्ति, by which we mean going to ब्रह्मलोक and gaining knowledge and liberation. Continuing;

अनन्यचेताः सततं यो मां स्मरति नित्यशः ।

तस्याहं सुलभः पार्थ नित्ययुक्तस्य योगिनः ॥ ८-१४॥

अनन्य-चेताः सततम् यः माम् स्मरति नित्यशः ।

तस्य अहम् सुलभः पार्थ नित्य-युक्तस्य योगिनः ॥ ८-१४॥

हे पार्थ! यः नित्यशः अनन्य-चेताः (सन्) माम् सततं स्मरति, तस्य नित्य-युक्तस्य योगिनः अहम् सुलभः (अस्मि) ।

So the question comes, how all these things are possible, especially at the time of death? For that कृष्ण's answer is in this verse, which he has already dealt with before. It is by sheer अभ्यास or practice. And what is the practice? All the time remembering the fact that everything that I am associated with belongs to the Lord alone and I have been given an opportunity to be with various people so that I can learn to love them, it is a field, an exercising field to learn loving other people. Not to get security from them, not for taking anything from them, we will only be training in giving care, love, compassion and my training all the time is that it belongs to the Lord and I am using, I have been given a nice opportunity. And when the time of separation comes also, my thinking is that everyone belongs to the Lord and therefore Lord has to take care of everyone. Our worry is if we go away, what will happen to them, they will be stranded and they will be in trouble. Our scriptures point out, in fact, if they are in good condition, not because of you, it is in spite of you and therefore when we are off, situations will be generally better only. Therefore if you have any such feeling hand over everything to the Lord, योग-क्षेमम् वहामि अहम्, then your mind will not dwell here. These all requires a lot of practice and therefore कृष्ण says here, यः माम् नित्यशः स्मरति – suppose a person remembers me all the time and remember God represents the totality only. Personal God is only for convenience, but what personal God represents is the totality, everything belongs to the macro, this is the awareness. Therefore यः माम् स्मरति – the one who remembers this fact that there is no individual separate from the total, there is no wave separate from ocean. If wave claims I have a separate existence it is ignorance on the part of the wave. An enlightened wave never claims individuality, it knows that there is nothing separate from ocean. With this awareness, यः माम् नित्यशः स्मरति, regularly reminds this fact. That is why I repeatedly tell this example, a wave is always permanently related to the ocean, a wave is fundamentally related to the ocean alone, because it rises from the ocean, it exists in the ocean and it resolves into the ocean. And not only in this birth, if the wave takes a पुनर्जन्म, again it is born out of what, the ocean and therefore, wave's permanent relationship is with the ocean only. The relationship between any two waves is only temporary, between one wave and the other wave the relationship is incidental and temporary, in my preoccupation with incidental relationships I should not lose sight of the fundamentals. The fundamental relationship makes me a भक्त, incidental relationships make me a husband, wife, father, mother, brother, sister, in-laws, etc. So all the roles that you play are incidental and you have to play those roles, nobody says that you should deny them. But remember that fundamental is with the Lord. The one who remembers, how, अनन्य-चेताः – without being distracted by, without being side-tracked by the incidental roles that he plays, the one who remembers in the background like तम्बुर श्रुति. Just as a musician does not lose sight of तम्बुर श्रुति, the moment तम्बुर श्रुति is lost sight of, अपश्रुति comes. Then the music will not be music, not only you cannot enjoy the music for others also it will be terrible. And therefore, अनन्य-चेताः, in the background the one who remembers, तस्य – for such a निष्काम उपासकः, हे पार्थ! अहम् सुलभः – I am the easiest person to remember. Just as a person who is attached to money always remembers money, whatever he does, similarly, if I know the value remembrance is easier. Your mind remembers what you value most in your life and नित्य-युक्तस्य योगिनः – it is easy for that उपासकः, who is नित्य-युक्तः, who is ever integrated, ever balanced, ever clear about his priorities in life and योगिनः – and who is a seeker, so here योगि means उपासकः योगि. Continuing;

मामुपेत्य पुनर्जन्म दुःखालयमशाश्वतम् ।

माम् उपेत्य पुनः-जन्म दुःख-आलयम् अशाश्वतम् ।

न आप्नुवन्ति महात्मानः संसिद्धिम् परमाम् गताः ॥ ८-१५॥

परमाम् संसिद्धिम् गताः महात्मानः माम् उपेत्य, पुनः दुःख-आलयम् अशाश्वतम् जन्म न आप्नुवन्ति ।

With the previous verse, कृष्ण concludes his answer to the seventh question of अर्जुन, regarding अन्त-काल ईश्वर स्मरणम्. Now in the following verses, he wants to deal with some important topics connected with this discussion. From this verse, that is 15th up to 22nd verse, कृष्ण wants to talk about two types of human goals. Two types of possible human goals, one human goal he calls God and the other human goal he calls world, God and world. You can understand them as the infinite and the finite, the spiritual and the material. And he wants to point out that for an intelligent person, God alone becomes the primary goal, for only the indiscriminate one everything other than God becomes the goal. And why we say God is the right goal to be chosen, he wants to give the reason. I have discussed this before also. With regard to all finite goals or accomplishments there are three defects or allied problems, like the thorn going along with rose, they are all wonderful goals alright, but they have traps also. What are the three-fold दोषs, do you remember?

a) The first दोष is दुःख मिश्रितत्वम्, they have got pleasure in them, but equally they are mixed with pain also. The pain in the form of acquisition, the pain in the form of preservation and the pain in the form of ultimate loss. If acquisition gives me pain, preservation is more pain and the loss is the greatest pain. This is दोष No.1.

b) And second दोष with all finite goals is being finite they will never give total satisfaction, because always you know there is something bigger than that. So if I have got Rs.100, I always miss 1,000. If I have 1,000, I always miss Rs.10,000. Any amount I get, there is no satisfaction at all.

न वित्तेन तर्पणीयो मनुष्यः ॥ कठोपनिषत् १-१-२७ ॥

9 year old boy नचिकेतस् tells in कठोपनिषत्. Therefore what is the second problem, any amount of money I have, I will look upon myself as middle class only. स्वामिजि, we are all middle class people. Only 5 bungalows and 6 cars are there and if you go on insisting maximum he will say, upper middle class. Even though the whole world says that they are rich people, he doesn't feel, because he has got who in his mind you know, Bill Gates. No तृप्ति. Therefore अतृप्तिकरत्वम् is the second problem, that is why match fixing. Remember.

c) Then the third and final one is बन्धकत्वम्, once I learn to depend on external factors, I only become weaker and weaker. I become enslaved by that, this is the third दोष.

कृष्ण indicates all these defects with regard to any goal other than God and कृष्ण says God alone represents पूर्णत्वम्, independence. Because when you choose God as your goal, ultimately you are going to discover God not outside, we introduce God as an outside entity but ultimately when you choose God as your goal, you are going to introduce God as what, तत् त्वम् असि, therefore ultimately God-dependence is going to become self-dependence, because God is not going to be away from me. Therefore God represents तृप्ति, God represents security, God represents fulfillment. And therefore choosing God is the wisest choice, कृष्ण wants to declare in these verses. Now, comparison between two goals, God and world. He says: माम् उपेत्य –

if a person attains Me the Lord, then what is the advantage? महात्मानः – those great people, those successful people who have made a wise choice in their life, such महात्माs, पुनर्जन्म न आप्नुवन्ति – they never come to finitude again, they never come to mortality again, they don't have ups and downs in life. In the case of any other accomplishment I am on the top of the world, like the cricketer, so he is going through a bad patch, what is bad patch, 2nd ball out. Sometimes in good form, the whole world praises, so many man of the matches and he is on top. Then thereafter again come down, just like a floating log, up and down happens with regard to other goals. Here पुनर्जन्म means finitude, न आप्नुवन्ति – these people do not come to. And what does finitude represent, दुःखालयम्, which is only a source, a temple of sorrow. We have heard temple of शिव, राम, कृष्ण etc., कृष्ण coins a new word, दुःखालयम्. Why this word आलय he uses? In रामालय, राम is permanently established through प्राणप्रतिष्ठा, not temporary यथा स्थानम्, etc., but permanently. In शिवालय, शिव is permanently there and in the finite world of संसार, the only permanent thing is what: दुःखालयम्. It is only a source of dissatisfaction. And अशाश्वतम् – which is fleeting, which is impermanent and such finitude, otherwise called संसार, महात्मानः न आप्नुवन्ति – these intelligent people do not come to that. Then what will happen to them? परमाम् संसिद्धिम् गताः – they have accomplished the highest goal of पूर्णत्वम्, they have accomplished मोक्ष. Continuing;

आब्रह्मभुवनाल्लोकाः पुनरावर्तिनोऽर्जुन ।

मामुपेत्य तु कौन्तेय पुनर्जन्म न विद्यते ॥ ८-१६॥

आब्रह्म-भुवनात् लोकाः पुनः-आवर्तिनः अर्जुन ।

माम् उपेत्य तु कौन्तेय पुनः-जन्म न विद्यते ॥ ८-१६॥

हे अर्जुन! आब्रह्म-भुवनात् (सर्वे) लोकाः पुनः-आवर्तिनः (सन्ति), हे कौन्तेय! माम् उपेत्य तु पुनः जन्म न विद्यते ।

What about heaven? Because we have heard about heaven, anything that is wonderful we say heavenly. So what about heaven, a question comes. In some religions they define heaven eternal heaven. Here कृष्ण clearly declares there is no such thing called eternal heaven, heaven also comes under finite goal only. And in our scriptures we have got six heavens, भुवर्लोक, सुवर्लोक, महर्लोक, जनलोक, तपोलोक and सत्यलोक, six levels of heaven and in each higher level the pleasures are higher, security is better, it is finer and finer and highest is ब्रह्मलोक and कृष्ण says even that ब्रह्मलोक cannot guarantee total security, ब्रह्मलोक also comes under finite goals only, which means you can go there, enjoy and then you have to return back, return back to चेन्नै or still worse. And therefore He says: हे अर्जुन, लोकाः पुनः-आवर्तिनः – all the fourteen लोकs exist within time and space. There is only one thing which is beyond time and space, which is ईश्वरः, otherwise called ब्रह्मन् in Vedantic language, he will talk about that later. There is only one thing which is unlocated, whereas the other लोकs are within time and space, that is why you have to travel to reach them. So the very fact that you have to travel indicates that it is not available here and what about ब्रह्मलोक, He says आब्रह्म-भुवनात् – up to ब्रह्मलोक, even ब्रह्माजि is not permanent. Even ब्रह्माजि, the creator is not permanent, In fact, it is the name of a post only, like prime minister or president and having enjoyed that post for some time, even ब्रह्माजि will have to vacate. So if ब्रह्माजि has to get security, even he has to depend upon ज्ञानम् alone. And therefore everything is ephemeral, whereas माम् उपेत्य तु कौन्तेय – हे अर्जुन, if you come to Me, who is beyond time and space, माम् उपेत्य तु कौन्तेय पुनर्जन्म न विद्यते – there is no question of the infinite becoming finite again, therefore that alone will give you permanent security. सहस्रयुगपर्यन्तमहर्षद् ब्रह्मणो विदुः ।

यत् ते अहोरात्र-विदः जनाः सहस्र-युग-पर्यन्तम् ब्रह्मणः अहः युग-सहस्र-अन्ताम् रात्रिम् (च) विदुः ।

So in these verses, कृष्ण talks about the duration of ब्रह्माजि's life. His longevity is discussed here, ब्रह्माजि, I am using the word 'जि', it is not a संस्कृत word, it is हिन्दि, to differentiate it from ब्रह्मन्, the formless reality. In संस्कृत two words are there, one is ब्रह्म or ब्रह्मन् which is the निर्गुण ब्रह्म, which is beyond time and space and there is another word ब्रह्मा, with long आ. That ब्रह्मा means सगुण ब्रह्मा, who is Mr. सरस्वती, i.e., सरस्वती's husband, therefore who is described as चतुर्मुख ब्रह्मा, that ब्रह्मा is finite. Therefore to differentiate these two निर्गुण and सगुण, निर्गुण is called ब्रह्मन्, the सगुण is called ब्रह्माजि for our convenience. So what is the duration of ब्रह्माजि's life? कृष्ण says, 2,000 चतुर्युग of the human beings is equal to 1 calendar day of ब्रह्माजि. How is it! 2,000 चतुर्युग! I hope you know what is चतुर्युग and I hope you know what is युग. So युग is a duration of time, like month, year, etc., युग is a duration and we have got four युग - कृत युग, त्रेता युग, द्वापर युग and कलियुगः. And what is the युग in which we are now? The कलियुग. And the duration of कलियुग, according to the scriptures is 4,32,000 years, that is the scriptural calculation. 4,32,000 years constitute कलियुग. This is the 4th one. The previous one is called द्वापर युग and it is supposed to be double the duration of कलियुग, so 8,64,000 years. And then the 2nd one is त्रेता युग, कृष्ण came at the end of द्वापर युग only, रामावतार was in त्रेता युग. The duration of त्रेता युग is supposed to be 3 times कलियुग, $3 \times 432,000 =$ calculate it at home. Then कृत युग is supposed to be four times कलियुग, so therefore what about one चतुर्युग, you have to multiply and add and if you do that, the total will come to 43,20,000 years. For कलियुग 4,32,000 to that an extra zero is enough; if you add one time, two time, three times, four times, its total is 10 times. So therefore 43,20,000 years is supposed to be the duration of one चतुर्युग, like that if 2,000 चतुर्युग is completed then ब्रह्माजि will tear of one day (tear off one sheet from his daily calendar). And like that ब्रह्माजि has got 100 years of life. So for one year 365 days we have to multiply by 365 and then you have to multiply by 2,000 चतुर्युगs and then you have to multiply by 43,20,000 years. So many years will be life of ब्रह्माजि. Now what is the present age of ब्रह्माजि? In all the सङ्कल्प we say: ब्रह्माजि is running 51st year. He is more than 50 years, one hair must have turned grey, ब्रह्मणः परार्धं द्वय काले, परार्धम् means 50 years, ब्रह्माजि has got परार्धं द्वयम् means, two fifty years, two fifty years he has got and now द्वितीय परार्धे and this the first day of the 51st years and in the first day he has got 2,000 चतुर्युगs and this is the 27 or 28th चतुर्युग, अष्टविंशतितमे कलियुगे, in the 2,000 चतुर्युगs, 28th चतुर्युग is going. Now you can calculate how many चतुर्युगs more he has to cross, and what is the total life. Of these 2,000 चतुर्युगs, 1,000 चतुर्युगs ब्रह्माजि keeps awake and another 1,000 चतुर्युगs is asleep. That is what is said here, सहस्र-युग-पर्यन्तम् – a duration of 1,000 चतुर्युगs, here the word युग must be translated as चतुर्युग, so 1,000 चतुर्युग duration is ब्रह्मणः अहः, अहः means day time, 12 hours of ब्रह्माजि and what about night, युग-सहस्र-अन्ताम् रात्रिम् – another 1,000 चतुर्युगs will be the duration of night of ब्रह्मा, here also ब्रह्मा means ब्रह्माजि, ब्रह्माजि's चतुर्युग, चतुर्युग of ब्रह्माजि, Who knows all those things, अहोरात्र-विदः जनाः – those people who have studied the scriptures in which all the लोकs are talked about, such people only know these details. Then what happens during the day and night of ब्रह्माजि, that is going to be said in the next verse.

Verse No .18

अव्यक्ताद् व्यक्तयः सर्वाः प्रभवन्त्यहरागमे ।

रात्र्यागमे प्रलीयन्ते तत्रैवाव्यक्तसंज्ञके ॥ ८-१८॥

अव्यक्तात् व्यक्तयः सर्वाः प्रभवन्ति अहः आगमे ।

रात्रि आगमे प्रतीयन्ते तत्र एव अव्यक्त-संज्ञके ॥ ८-१८॥

अहः आगमे सर्वाः व्यक्तयः अव्यक्तात् प्रभवन्ति, (पुनः) रात्रि आगमे तत्र अव्यक्त-संज्ञके एव प्रतीयन्ते ।

So what happens during ब्रह्माजि day and night? कृष्ण wants to point out that it is very similar to our day and night. When our day begins, then our world of interaction also begins. So now we have got interactions, activities, knowledge, emotions, it is a fully active world with देश, काल and पदार्थ. Now I have got space, I have got time and I have got people and I have got interaction and I have got consequent responses also. In fact, my life begins when I wake up. And the moment I go to sleep, what happens, my whole world of plurality is resolved for me. In my deep sleep state, देश is resolved, time, काल is resolved and द्वैतम्, the world of plurality is resolved and therefore all the transactions are resolved and therefore all the सुख दुःख emotions are also resolved. That is why we called निर्विकल्पक अवस्था, stage of निर्विकल्प, undifferentiated state, but the only difference is when I go to sleep, only my world of plurality is resolved. For other people who are awake the world continues, the transaction continues. So my private world rises when I rise and my private world resolves when I go to sleep. But in the case of ब्रह्माजि, this happens at the macro level. When I sleep, it is called लयः and when ब्रह्माजि sleeps, it is called प्र-लयः, प्र means macro. When I sleep it is micro, micro means लयम्, macro means प्रलयम्. And what do you mean by प्रलयम्? It is not my subjective world that resolves, when ब्रह्माजि goes to sleep the whole creation resolves into unmanifest condition, like individual's sleep. My private world is not destroyed, it goes to only dormant condition, because when I wake up next day, everything comes, along with the worry duality comes, time comes, space comes and worry also comes. Therefore when I go to sleep, my private world is not destroyed, but it goes to dormant condition. Similarly, during ब्रह्माजि's sleep, the whole creation goes to अव्यक्त अवस्था. That is what is said here, रात्रि आगमे – look at the second line first, when ब्रह्माजि's night comes, सर्वाः व्यक्तयः प्रलीयन्ते – all these individuals are resolved, प्रलीयन्ते, into what condition, अव्यक्त-संज्ञके – to a state of unmanifest. Because scientifically also matter cannot be destroyed, you can never create matter, you can never destroy matter. Even in an atomic explosion, if matter is destroyed, it gets converted into energy condition. So what do you mean by destruction? From visible condition it goes to invisible condition. When you are boiling water, water disappears from the vessel, but it is not destroyed, but it remains in the atmosphere in the form of invisible vapor. Similarly, the whole concrete visible universe at the time of प्रलयम्, gets converted into unmanifest matter, you may call it energy, but we will call it प्रकृति or माया or अव्यक्तम्. This is ब्रह्माजि goes to sleep. And अहः आगमे – again when ब्रह्माजि wakes up the energy is again converted back into matter, the invisible is converted into visible, the non-dual is again converted to duality, again activity begins. So व्यक्तयः सर्वाः अव्यक्तात् प्रभवन्ति – out of the unmanifest again they become manifest. Thus the world goes in a cyclic form of manifestation and unmanifestation, expansion-contraction, evolution-involution. Like our heart saying lub-dub, the whole universe continues in a cyclic form, eternally. More in the next class.

From the 15th verse of this 8th chapter up to 22nd verse Lord कृष्ण is comparing two forms of human goals. One attainable through कर्म, varieties of actions, लौकिक and वैदिक, scriptural and non-scriptural, secular and religious activities. They can give one set of results and the other type of goal attainable through निष्काम उपासना. And कृष्ण wants to point out that कर्म-फलम् is finite and उपासनाफलम् is infinite. You should remember throughout this chapter, that ज्ञानम् is kept aside during the 8th chapter. We are not making a comparative study between ज्ञानम् and any other साधन, the comparative study is only between कर्म and उपासना. And कृष्ण wants to establish that if one has to choose between कर्म-फलम् and उपासनाफलम्, उपासनाफलम् is superior to कर्म-फलम्. And how is it so, he wants to point out that कर्म can give all types of results up to ब्रह्मलोक प्राप्तिः and one can even get ब्रह्माजि's position but all those goals are finite, both time-wise and space-wise. देश काल परिच्छिन्नम्. Whereas when a person practices निष्काम उपासना, as a result of that he will get क्रममुक्ति, which is going to ब्रह्मलोक and from there reaching God. Therefore here we should remember, निष्काम उपासनाफलम् as क्रममुक्ति or ईश्वर प्राप्ति. And ईश्वर or Lord comes under infinite result. Therefore कर्म-फलम् is परिच्छिन्नम्, whereas निष्काम उपासनाफलम्, क्रममुक्ति is अपरिच्छिन्न. This is the idea कृष्ण wants to convey through the verses beginning from the 15th to 22nd. While talking about the finitude of कर्म-फलम् or material results, he is taking up the highest goal possible within time and space. The highest goal possible within time and space he wants to study and he wants to point out that even that highest goal happens to be finite in nature. And what is that: ब्रह्मलोक प्राप्तिः or getting the post of ब्रह्माजि and कृष्ण accepts that ब्रह्मा has got a very very long-life, I admit. But He wants to point out later that even the longest life will end one day, therefore it comes under परिच्छिन्न फलम् only. For this purpose, He talks about the duration of ब्रह्माजि's life. So He said in सहस्र-युग-पर्यन्तम्, i.e., 17th verse he said, ब्रह्माजि's one day is equal to 2,000 चतुर्युग's of human being and therefore it appears as though ब्रह्माजि's life is infinite, but कृष्ण wants to point out that even the seemingly infinite life is really not infinite, even ब्रह्माजि will have a last day to vacate. And while talking about that, कृष्ण gives an incidental information and what is that, when ब्रह्माजि's day begins the whole creation starts or emerges and when ब्रह्माजि's night comes the whole creation resolves. Just as when the individual wakes up, the individual's world also wakes up, his emotions, his relations, his interactions, his pleasures, his pains, his pursuits, the subjective universe of the individual arises when the individual wakes up and when the individual goes to sleep, his private world is resolved. And that is why the individual's sleep is called लयः. Whereas when ब्रह्माजि, the macro, he wakes up and sleeps, the world that resolves and emerges is not the private world of the individual, but the objective world emerges and resolves. And therefore He said in verse 18, which we saw in the last class, अहः आगमे अव्यक्तात् सर्वाः व्यक्तयः प्रभवन्ति, व्यक्तयः means individual things and beings of the creation is called व्यक्तयः, they all arise or emerge. Emerge from where? अव्यक्तात् – from their potential condition. And where were they resting in potential form? They were with ब्रह्माजि himself, so ब्रह्माजि carries the whole thing in potential form and then throws out as it were. And it is not an unknown thing, we throw our dream world from our own mind, our today's dream is potentially there in our mind, in what form, वासना रूपेण, impression रूपेण वर्तते and we throw out the dream world, dream time, dream space and dream objects and then we have a duration for the dream and then we withdraw into our own mind. In the same way, ब्रह्माजि withholds the creation and again throws out. And that withheld form is called अव्यक्तम्. And this is very important thing to be noted, we had got a parallel idea in the 2nd chapter.

अव्यक्त-निधनानि एव तत्र का परिदेवना ॥ २-२८॥

The same idea is repeated here. This is important, because we get a corollary from this verse. What is the corollary? The universe is never created by anyone. We should never use the word creation, which is one of the biggest misnomers, confusing word, because nothing can be created, nothing can be destroyed. Even the scientific law is matter can never be created or destroyed. That being so, how can we talk about the creation of the world? वेदान्त never accepts the creation of the world. And since we do not accept the creation, we need not answer the question why भगवान् created. Only on accepting that भगवान् created the world, we have to answer that question. According to वेदान्त, creation is eternal, 'creation' word should not be used, the world is eternally there. Nobody including God has created and nobody including God can create. It is impossible because it is against the fundamental law of conservation of matter and energy. Then how are we to understand this so-called creation. The word creation must be replaced by the word manifestation. The world was always there, God did not create, it was there in potential form and the potential matter. The potential world in time acted upon by time undergoes a modification and the unmanifest modified becomes manifest. It is caused by what? Time, which is an integral part of the creation; time is an integral part of the matter, matter and time can never be separated. You can never conceive of matter without time nor can you ever conceive of time without matter. That is why we are not able to say anything about the condition before Big Bang, we will not be able to. And therefore कृष्ण beautifully says: अव्यक्तात् – from अव्यक्तात्, from unmanifest condition all manifest things come acted upon by time and then what will happen and again acted upon by time all the manifest will again go back to unmanifest condition. Then what will happen. Again come back to manifest. Then what will happen. Again will go back to unmanifest. Then I can go up to 7 o'clock. So therefore we say, the creation is an eternal manifestation-unmanifestation process, whose beginning or end can never be talked about. If you call manifest as the beginning, you can choose to call unmanifestation as the end but the end is not the end of the universe. Therefore कृष्ण says: रात्रि आगमे प्रलीयन्ते तत्र एव अव्यक्त-संज्ञके. Up to this we saw. Continuing;

रात्र्यागमेऽवशः पार्थ प्रभवत्यहरागमे ॥ ८-१९॥

भूत-ग्रामः सः एव अयम् भूत्वा भूत्वा प्रलीयते ।

रात्रि आगमे अवशः पार्थ प्रभवति अहः आगमे ॥ ८-१९॥

हे पार्थ! सः एव अयम् भूत-ग्रामः अवशः (सन्), भूत्वा भूत्वा रात्रि आगमे प्रलीयते (पुनः) अहः आगमे प्रभवति ।

So if the universe goes to unmanifest condition and again comes to manifestation, what will happen to all the जीवs, all the individuals? कृष्ण says the individuals will also have the same destiny. Means what? They also will go to unmanifest condition in which all the जीवs will remain potentially inactive dormant like the hibernation of some animals, we all will go back to hibernation. And after remaining in potential form for how many युगs, 1,000 चतुर्युगs and again the जीवs will emerge with their own कर्मs पुण्यम् and पापम् intact. How will it be, what will be the experience like, Suppose you want to know, how will we remain during प्रलयम् and how will we come back again, suppose you want to taste प्रलयम्, भगवान् has given a sample. Stimulated experience. Like the astronauts have on earth itself they have to undergo training, where the upper space things will be stimulated, no gravitational force, how to float, like that भगवान् wants to give a taste of प्रलयम्. In fact, you get it regularly when, you know the answer, when we go to sleep. What happens to our individuality? Our ego is resolved, our knowledge, our ignorance, our happiness, unhappiness, pleasure pain all of them are in resolved condition and they remain dormant, not destroyed. How do you know, they are dormant and destroyed? For example English knowledge or गीता 8th chapter knowledge, I will come to my condition. Suppose in tonight's sleep, all the 8th chapter knowledge destroyed, then next class I have to again start with the same topic. But how am I able to continue with the same topic, during sleep your knowledge is not destroyed, it goes to potential condition. In the same way, during प्रलय all the जीवराशिs goes to potential condition and again come back in the next सृष्टि. Therefore कृष्ण says, सः एव अयम् भूत-ग्रामः – the same multitude of जीवs. The same group of जीवs, the same multitude of जीवs, we will all go to dormant condition and that we will we do and the same set of जीवs will again come back, भूत्वा भूत्वा, by repeating this expression कृष्ण says it is an eternal process. Again प्रलय, we go back to potential condition, again we will comeback. That means what: no new जीव is created. No new जीव is created. The same set of जीवs are circulated. So like thermostat, there is a JIVO-STAT, which will keep all the जीवs in constant numbers. Now this will create immediately a doubt. In all question answer sessions this is asked, what is that? If no fresh जीवs are created, how do you explain population explosion, because new new जीवs are coming? For that we should remember, whenever we are talking about the number of जीवs, or increase in population, we are taking into account only human जीवs, but remember when we use the word जीव it includes all the human beings, all the insects, (you have to count all the ants in this hall) all the insects, all the mosquitoes, all the plants and not only upon earth, we have got fourteen लोकs, देवs, असुरs, they are all जीवs and what we say is the total number of जीवs will be the same, not the total number of human जीवs, the distribution of the जीवs may and will vary. That is why स्वामि चिन्मयानन्द used to tell a nice joke whenever such a question comes. Previously plenty of forests were there, therefore many wild animals were living, all the forests were destroyed and wild animals were hunted by people like Veerappan, those animals like lions and tigers, could not survive and therefore they got converted into human beings! That is why we have got tigers and lions, lionesses (both have to be told equally – it is a joke, don't take seriously), scorpions and cobras in human body, because everything has come as humans by mistake. Therefore the number of जीवs are the same. No new जीवs can be created because, if a new जीव has to be created, what type of body will be given. भगवान् will have confusion, भगवान् can give us a body, based on what, our past कर्म. So भगवान् has got a norm to determine the body for myself, because I have happily existed in the previous सृष्टि and therefore based on that भगवान् can give a मनुष्य शरीरम् or पशु शरीरम्, but when a fresh जीव is created, since past कर्मs are not available, why past कर्मs are not available, fresh जीवs and if past कर्मs are not available, what will be the basis or which the body will be detected. You cannot say भगवान् will take a lot and then give somebody. No. Remember the body is not determined by भगवान्'s wish, the body is determined by पूर्व कर्म, a fresh जीव will never have a पूर्व कर्म, therefore it is not possible. And this defect is called कृतहान अकृताभ्यागम दोष. Then will come another natural question, if a fresh जीव cannot be created, because पूर्व कर्म is not possible, then what will be the next question. When we were created first what was the basis. OK, fresh जीव cannot be created as पूर्व कर्म is not there, (do you understand the question, or else you will not understand the answer). Fresh जीवs cannot be created as पूर्व कर्म is not there, we are now created because of our पूर्व कर्म. Now the question is when we were created first, what was the basis? For that the answer given is, we were never created first, all the जीवs are अनादिस. That is why in श्रावणी पौर्णिमा सङ्कल्पम्, we start with

अनादि अविद्या वासनया पशु पक्षि मृगादि योनिषु पुनः पुनः अनेकधा जनित्वा

केनापि पुण्यकर्म विशेषेण इदानीं तन मानुष्ये द्विजन्मविशेषं प्राप्तवतः ॥ उपाकर्म महा सङ्कल्पः ॥

Therefore, the set of जीवs are अनादि and fresh set of जीवs are not created and therefore the same जीवs go through manifest and unmanifest condition and therefore कृष्ण says, सः एव that means, the same set of जीवराशि; भूत्वा भूत्वा प्रलीयते. And when they do get resolved, रात्रि आगमे. If it is a cyclic go round process, why can't we call it merry-go-round, as if in some trade fair, so that is very nice, so that can be called merry-go-round, because I can choose to get in and get out but I find this cycle a helpless one and therefore merry-go-around becomes sorry-go-around and therefore कृष्ण says अवशः – helplessly, I find I am here and whether I like or not I have to die. Therefore अवशः पार्थ प्रभवति, again the जीव is born, अहः आगमे, just mortality cannot be escaped as long as you choose time bound result. Continuing;

परस्तस्मात्तु भावोऽन्योऽव्यक्तोऽव्यक्तात्सनातनः ।

यः स सर्वेषु भूतेषु नश्यत्सु न विनश्यति ॥ ८-२०॥

परः तस्मात्तु भावः अन्यः अव्यक्तः अव्यक्तात्सनातनः ।

यः सः सर्वेषु भूतेषु नश्यत्सु न विनश्यति ॥ ८-२०॥

यः तु सर्वेषु भूतेषु नश्यत्सु न विनश्यति, सः, तस्मात् अव्यक्तात् अन्यः, अव्यक्तः सनातनः परः भावः (अस्ति)

Up to the previous verse, कृष्ण has talked about all the finite result, which will come under the field of matter and any result which falls within matter is bound by time and therefore it will have two conditions, manifest and unmanifest. In संस्कृत, it is called manifest matter and unmanifest matter, which you may call energy. So energy becomes matter and matter becomes energy and again energy becomes matter. Now कृष्ण says: there is another goal which a human being can achieve, which is beyond both these. Both these means what, the manifest matter and the unmanifest matter, कार्य प्रपञ्च and कारण प्रपञ्च, व्यक्त प्रपञ्च and अव्यक्त प्रपञ्च. The अव्यक्त or कारण प्रपञ्च is otherwise called माया. Therefore माया becomes the world, the world becomes माया, world is also matter, माया is also matter and both of them exist within time. And कृष्ण says there is another thing which is beyond both, which कृष्ण calls unmanifest No.2. So manifest matter, unmanifest matter, unmanifest matter, we will call unmanifest No.1 and He says other than these two, there is another one, which is unmanifest No.2 and that is nothing but the Consciousness-principle. That Consciousness which is the witness of the unmanifest condition of matter as well as the manifest condition of matter and that witness-Consciousness does not fall within the witnessed field. Because the observer is different from and beyond the observed. And if you have to understand this, we can make use of our own daily experience of three states. In the waking and dream states, there is world, there is time and there is space. The material world conditioned by time and space, I am experiencing in the waking. In the dream state also, I experience a material world conditioned by time and space and when I go to sleep state, the whole material world is resolved and the time and space also go to unmanifest condition and there is total blankness, but even at that time there is someone who is aware of that condition. Who is aware of that? I am aware. How do you know I am aware? Because when I wake up I am able to talk about the blank state, that means I was continuing unchangeably, even when the duality came and the duality resolved, I remained unaffected by that. This observer of the matter, this observer of the change is the changeless Consciousness-principle, which is beyond time and space. Consciousness does not fall within time. Consciousness does not fall within space. Consciousness therefore does not fall within matter and therefore Consciousness does not fall within the physical and the chemical laws and that is why the scientists who are struggling to understand Consciousness in terms of the physical and chemical laws, they are not able to get head or tail. And some of the scientists have already started saying that Consciousness is beyond the physical laws, is beyond chemical laws, is beyond even location. Consciousness cannot be located. Why it cannot be located, whatever exists within space can be located. Consciousness does not fall within space therefore it is unlocatable. And who is that unlocatable Consciousness, that which is the witness of all these things and कृष्ण says that witness-Consciousness is God, सत्यम् ज्ञानम् अनन्तम् ब्रह्म, which was called परा प्रकृति in the 7th chapter. Then what about various forms what we attribute to God? We say that all the forms attributed are only in the initial stages, because a gross mind cannot appreciate the subtlest Consciousness.

ये मन्दाः तेऽनुकम्प्यन्ते सविशेषनिरूपणैः ॥ - अप्स्य दीक्षित् ॥

Human intellect cannot conceive of something which is beyond time and space. Therefore until the intellect gets sufficiently sensitized, until it is sufficiently prepared we have to attribute a form. Therefore now we say God is कृष्ण, राम, etc., and if you ask where He is, you say safely that He is in वैकुण्ठ, कैलास, etc., but our ultimate approach is God is शुद्ध चैतन्य स्वरूपम्. And हे अर्जुन! I want to you to discover oneness with that God. That is the aim of all the religious and spiritual struggle. This is the idea, important verse, परः तस्मात् अव्यक्तात् अन्यः अव्यक्तः, we talked about one अव्यक्तः, which is nothing but unmanifest matter, other than that unmanifest matter there is something else, which is a third entity. So what are the three entities?

- Manifest matter No.1,
- Unmanifest matter No.2, you may call energy and
- Third one is Consciousness which is beyond manifest and unmanifest matter.

Therefore अन्यः अव्यक्तः, Consciousness-principle and what is its nature, सनातनः, it can never be affected by time. Any matter is affected by time, Consciousness is the only thing, which witnesses time, which witnesses the arrival of time, which witnesses even the dissolution of time in sleep, but which is never affected by time. And what is not affected by time is called immortal. And therefore He says, सनातनः, it is timeless and where is that Consciousness present, He says यः सः सर्वेषु भूतेषु नश्यत्सु न विनश्यति – it does o't perish, सर्वेषु भूतेषु नश्यत्सु – even when all the beings perish. Perish means what: again goes to unmanifest condition. And where it is located, you can never answer that question because, Consciousness is not located in space. In fact, we go one step further and say, time and space are located in Consciousness. In fact, it is mind-boggling, space is located if you say what is the meaning, that everything is located in space, how can you intellectually conceive the location of space? But when say space is located in Consciousness, what we mean is Consciousness is not located in space. That is the meaning. So where is it, no answer, where is God, there is no answer, because the very question is based on the misconception, that God is someone located in space and when is God, it cannot be answered, because it is location in time. And how does God function, even that cannot be answered, because the question how means cause and effect, which is also within time and space, in the field of God, even cause-effect concept cannot enter. So 'when', you cannot ask, 'where', you cannot ask, 'how', you cannot ask, 'why', you cannot ask, all these questions can be answered only with regard to a thing which is time space and causality. Anyway कृष्ण doesn't dwell upon this topic, if you want to dwell upon this topic, you have to go to उपनिषत्s, उपनिषत्s alone enjoy dwelling on this topic, because गीता is supposed to be a diluted subject matter and therefore this subtler topic, कृष्ण will just hint at and leave. If you remember कठोपनिषत्, definition of ब्रह्मन्

अन्यत्र धर्मात् अन्यत्राधर्मात् अन्यत्र अस्मात् कृताकृतात् । १-२-१४ ॥ which is beyond the concept of causality, so ब्रह्मन् is not a joke and we have to go to that ब्रह्मन्. When we say go, again a problem, because go is again a concept in time, space and travel. That is why any word you use in वेदान्त you get trapped, because intellect can function only in the field of time space causality, that is why we say it is a matter to be understood. Continuing;

Verse No .21

अव्यक्तोऽक्षर इत्युक्तस्तमाहुः परमां गतिम् ।

यं प्राप्य न निवर्तन्ते तद्धाम परमं मम ॥ ८-२१॥

अव्यक्तः अक्षरः इति उक्तः तम् आहुः परमाम् गतिम् ।

यम् प्राप्य न निवर्तन्ते तत् धाम परमम् मम ॥ ८-२१॥

(यः) अव्यक्तः (भावः) अक्षरः इति उक्तः, तम् परमाम् गतिम् आहुः, (ज्ञानिनः) यम् प्राप्य न निवर्तन्ते, तत् मम परमम् धाम (अस्ति)।

कृष्ण talks more about God, the limitless goal, the real goal of life, which is worth attempting, which is अव्यक्तः. अव्यक्त means अव्यक्त No.2 mentioned in the previous verse. And what is अव्यक्त No.2 mentioned in the previous verse? Consciousness-principle and this Consciousness or चैतन्यम्, अक्षरः इति उक्तः – is also known in the scriptures as अक्षरः, अक्षरः literally means imperishable, imperishable means timeless, imperishable does not mean it remains in time permanently, imperishable does not mean it remains in time permanently. No. Imperishable means it is time-less. You cannot define it in terms of time. अक्षरः इति उक्तः, this is the word used in मुण्डकोपनिषत् (१-१-५/६)

अथ परा यया तत् अक्षरम् अधिगम्यते. And what is the definition of that Consciousness,

यत् तददेश्यम् अग्राह्यम् अगोत्रम् अवर्णम् अचक्षुः श्रोत्रं तदपाणिपादम् ।

नित्यं विभुं सर्वगतं सुसूक्ष्मं तदव्ययं यद् भूतयोनिं परिपश्यन्ति धीराः ॥

It is called अक्षरम्, colorless, form-less, smell-less, taste-less, touch-less, etc. And अर्जुन तम् परमाम् गतिम् आहुः – accomplishing such ब्रह्मन् is the real goal, because only then you will go beyond time and space. Any located place you go then you are within space, whether you call it वैकुण्ठ, whether you call it कैलास, whether you call it ब्रह्मलोक, you have a concept of a particular place, it is within space and therefore time, therefore it cannot be called liberation. That is why we say liberation is not going to any place at all. So then what is that liberation? Liberation is going to ब्रह्मन्. स्वामिजि again, I am just looking for your response, going to ब्रह्मन्? “going” within quotes, so तम् परमाम् गतिम् आहुः – that is considered to be the ultimate destination, यम् प्राप्य न निवर्तन्ते – “reaching” (again in quotes) reaching which one does not return. Then how do you reach that ब्रह्मन्? It should not involve travel, because the moment you talk of travel you have come to the field of time and space. And you have to reach ब्रह्मन् and you should not travel, it is possible only in one way and that is through wisdom, that ब्रह्मन् has never been away from me, will never be away from me, ब्रह्मन् is that Consciousness-principle which happens to be I myself. So you reach ब्रह्मन् in the form of claiming ब्रह्मन् as myself. ज्ञानम् एव ब्रह्म प्राप्ति. So through Knowledge will I reach ब्रह्मन्? Through knowledge you don’t reach ब्रह्मन्, through knowledge you drop the notion that ब्रह्मन् is away. Knowledge you don’t reach ब्रह्मन्, through you drop the notion that ब्रह्मन् is away. So all these are the important fundamentals of वेदान्त which you have to reflect more and more. Therefore He says, यम् प्राप्य न निवर्तन्ते – reaching whom one never returns, तत् मम परमम् धाम – and that alone that means that Consciousness alone is my supreme nature, literally means supreme abode, here abode means nature. Because if you talk abode in the literal sense again you get into problem of what, time and space. Therefore here abode means स्वरूपम्. So, कृष्ण, राम etc., are my inferior nature, अपरा प्रकृतिः, because they exist within time and space, whereas Consciousness is my परा प्रकृतिः which is beyond time and space. So start with my अपरा प्रकृतिः, but one day you have to recognize the परा प्रकृतिः. So तत् मम तद्धाम धाम तत् मम परमम् धाम. Continuing;

Verse No .22

पुरुषः स परः पार्थ भक्त्या लभ्यस्त्वनन्यया ।

यस्यान्तःस्थानि भूतानि येन सर्वमिदं ततम् ॥ ८-२२॥

पुरुषः सः परः पार्थ भक्त्या लभ्यः तु अनन्यया ।

यस्य अन्तः-स्थानि भूतानि येन सर्वम् इदम् ततम् ॥ ८-२२॥

हे पार्थ! भूतानि यस्य अन्तः-स्थानि (सन्ति), येन इदम् सर्वम् ततम्, सः तु परः पुरुषः अनन्यया भक्त्या लभ्यः (अस्ति)।

So the nature of ब्रह्मन् which is beyond time and space is presented again here, हे पार्थ! सः परः पुरुषः – so this अव्यक्त No.2, this Consciousness-principle is called परः पुरुषः, so He is the supreme पुरुषः, supreme ब्रह्मन्, the highest reality, the absolute truth. I have given two meanings of the word पुरुषः and you have to recollect it in this context. This absolute ब्रह्मन्, यस्य अन्तः-स्थानि भूतानि – in which ब्रह्मन् alone rests all the beings, the idea is ब्रह्मन् does not exist within the creation, on the other hand, the whole creation rests in that ब्रह्मन्, so भूतानि, विश्वाधारम् गगनसदृशम्. You should not go for मेघवर्णम्, if you go, you go to अपरा प्रकृति. That is why all our prayers, the beauty is they will give both the lower form as well as the higher form and you can choose according to your level. If you don't like गगनसदृशम्, गगनसदृशम् means what space like God, if you cannot conceive of that, मेघवर्णम् शुभाङ्गम्, you can keep. Thus both सगुण and निर्गुण aspects are told. Here in Him alone all the beings rests and येन सर्वम् इदम् ततम् – and by this Consciousness the whole creation is pervaded. Because if you talk about the existence of anything, Consciousness must be present there. How, can you guess how, because, to talk about the existence of something, you require what, Consciousness, because how can you talk about something without being aware of that and therefore existence presupposes knowledge, knowledge presupposes Consciousness and therefore whatever you talk about, Consciousness must be there. Therefore येन by that Consciousness the whole creation is pervaded and that is ब्रह्मन् कृष्ण himself feels that many people may feel that this is too high a subject matter, which goes many feet beyond the head. Very very subtle. “I find in the भागवतम् दशम स्कंधम् is very nice. So there कृष्ण as a baby plays and He does रास क्रीडा, destroys असुरs and just goes like that and that is better, but this is too high,” if any person feels कृष्ण feels don’t get disheartened everybody can come to the level of appreciating, but what is required is sincere desire to that. So कृष्ण says अनन्यया भक्त्या लभ्यः – you can to निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म, by your निष्काम भक्ति, once you understand that alone is the ultimate goal, because anything else falls within what time and space and therefore mortality, I am no more interested in mortality the tyranny of time, जन्म मृत्यु जरा व्याधि, then जन्म मृत्यु जरा व्याधि. But once you have understood tyranny of time and once you have sincerely voted for the timeless ब्रह्मन्, you are called a निष्काम भक्त or a मुमुक्षु and with this sincere desire you continue your सगुण भक्ति, sooner or later, you will get the qualifications required for that निर्गुण भक्ति. Therefore He says अनन्यया भक्त्या निष्काम भक्त्या सः पुरुषः लभ्यः, that ब्रह्मन् is attainable. So with this कृष्ण completes his comparative study of God as higher goal and world as the lower goal. And an intelligent person will vote for god and not for world and if you vote for God, you should become a निष्काम उपासक and you should not vote for कर्म, this is the idea, details of which we will be seeing in the next class. More in the next class.

Lord कृष्ण made a comparative study or more precisely a contrast study of two possible destinations of a human being. Even though human goals are innumerable and even though पुरुषार्थs themselves are supposed to be four in number, धर्म-अर्थ-काम-मोक्ष, कृष्ण broadly classifies all the possible goals including धर्म-अर्थ-काम-मोक्ष into two varieties only. And those two varieties are the infinite ones and the finite one. You cannot imagine a third possible goal, because every goal has to be either finite in nature or infinite. If you take even धर्म-अर्थ-काम-मोक्ष, धर्म, अर्थ and काम will come under finite. Because धर्म means पुण्यम् and any amount of पुण्यम् you acquire, it is born out of finite actions, therefore धर्म is finite. Similarly, अर्थ, any amount of wealth you acquire will come under finite, because it is the result of finite action. And Similarly, काम, all the sources of entertainments, all the sources of pleasures including the fourteen लोकs, including साक्षात् ब्रह्मलोक itself, including the very post of ब्रह्माजि, all those sources of pleasures also will come under finite, they might have a very long duration of existence, but even the longest duration is finite in nature. Just as we say in astronomy, that our Sun will also explode in future, because all stars will have to explode, called nova or supernova. And naturally our Sun also being one of the stars will explode in future. When we read we will get but frightened but one advantage in astronomy is that they calculate time in millions of years. If they soon it will explode, soon will mean a few millions of years. For us we are concerned about only the next 30 years, that is what we want, whatever be the number. So therefore they might have a very long duration, but that is also finite. So therefore all goals can be divided into finite and infinite. Finite goals can be called materialistic goals or अनात्मा and infinite goals can be called spiritual goals or आत्मा, otherwise called भगवान् in this chapter. And therefore कृष्ण's conclusion is God alone is शाश्वतम्, other than God everything else is अशाश्वतम्. And therefore an intelligent person should not try to hold on to अशाश्वत वस्तु, an intelligent person must seek शाश्वत ईश्वर alone. And therefore may you choose God as your goal. This is what कृष्ण's advice or teaching is. And to drive home this point, he just discussed this elaborately from verse no.15 to verse no.22. And when we say God is the destination, initially we present God as a person situated in some लोक, like वैकुण्ठ or कैलास, that is OK to think of initially, but कृष्ण wants to remove that idea because, if God is a person located in a place even God will come under finite goal bound by time and space. And therefore ultimately God must be understood as someone which is not bound by time and space and anything that is not bound by time and space has to be formless principle and therefore कृष्ण defined God as formless, Consciousness-principle, which is beyond manifest matter and unmanifest matter, otherwise called energy. God is neither matter nor is God energy. Many people think God is a form of energy. We don't accept even that because it is illogical, if God is a form of energy, it will be subject to transformation, because all forms of energy transforms; mechanical energy, electrical energy, magnetic energy, light energy, heat energy, they are inter-convertible, transformable. If God is also a form of energy, it will come under time, transformation means time. Therefore God is neither matter nor energy, but God is aware of the changing matter and the changing energy and the witness God is not subject to change at all. This changeless Consciousness-principle which is beyond matter and energy is God and this God is infinite and this God should be your destination. This is the content of the verses from 15 to 22. Up to this we saw. Continuing; Verse 23;

Verse No .23

यत्र काले त्वनावृत्तिमावृत्तिं चैव योगिनः ।

प्रयाता यान्ति तं कालं वक्ष्यामि भरतर्षभ ॥ ८-२३॥

यत्र काले तु अनावृत्तिम् आवृत्तिम् च एव योगिनः ।

प्रयाताः यान्ति तम् कालम् वक्ष्यामि भरतर्षभ ॥ ८-२३॥

हे भरतर्षभ! यत्र काले तु प्रयाताः योगिनः अनावृत्तिम् आवृत्तिम् च एव यान्ति, तम् कालम् वक्ष्यामि ।

Having talked about two types of destination in the previous verses, now from this verse, i.e., 23rd verse onwards, कृष्ण talks about two types of मार्गs or paths which will lead to the two forms of destinations. Because destination means must be path and if there are five destination there must be five routes. That is why we call route no.27, because without route you cannot have destination. Therefore यदि साध्य द्वयम् वर्तते, तर्हि मार्ग द्वयम् अपि स्यात्. What are those two मार्गs कृष्ण wants to talk about? And once you talk about two types of paths leading to two types of destination, then the next topic will be two topics of travelers, who will take to two types of paths reaching two types of destination. So two travelers, two routes, two destinations. Two destinations have been talked about, now what should be said, two routes and two travelers, that is going to be topic from 23 to 27. Of these first we are going to deal with two मार्गs. कृष्ण introduces them in this verse. यत्र काले योगिनः प्रयाताः यान्ति, so प्रयाताः means traveling by two routes, here the word काल refers to मार्ग, very careful, it is a confusing expression, the word काल refers to मार्ग, so यत्र काले means येन मार्गेण प्रयाताः – so traveling through two different routes, योगिनः यान्ति, योगिनः means the seekers, the travelers, the pilgrims, योगिनः means the travelers, यान्ति reach two types of destinations, what are they, अनावृत्तिम् आवृत्तिम् च एव, अनावृत्तिः means infinite goal from where there is no return, अनावृत्तिः means non-returnable goal which indicates नित्य मोक्ष प्राप्तिः, otherwise we can understand as क्रममुक्तिः, so अनावृत्तिम् means क्रममुक्तिः, नित्य ईश्वर प्राप्तिः. And the other destination is आवृत्तिम्, आवृत्तिः means returnable goal where they go with return ticket, they cannot permanently stay there. Even as they give the onward journey, In fact, they ask when are you going to return and only when you are going to return, visa will be given, that returnable goal is called finite goal, लोक प्राप्तिः. So those two मार्गs which will lead to नित्य प्राप्तिः and अनित्य प्राप्तिः, तम् कालम्, here also carefully note, तम् कालम् means तम् मार्गम्, those two routes are मार्गs, अहम् वक्ष्यामि – I shall teach you हे अर्जुन! And these two paths will be later called शुक्ल मार्ग – the brighter path, because it leads to God, it is brighter path and the other one is called कृष्ण मार्ग – it is darker path, a gloomy path, because a person will go to a destination where there will be pleasures alright, but after enjoying the pleasures one has to come back. That is various higher लोकs. And that path, which will lead to higher लोकs is called कृष्ण मार्ग, otherwise called देव यानम् and पितृ यानम्, कृष्ण is going to explain them;

Verse No .24

अग्निर्ज्योतिरहः शुक्लः षण्मासा उत्तरायणम् ।

तत्र प्रयाता गच्छन्ति ब्रह्म ब्रह्मविदो जनाः ॥ ८-२४॥

अग्निः ज्योतिः अहः शुक्लः षण्मासाः उत्तर-आयणम् ।

तत्र प्रयाताः गच्छन्ति ब्रह्म ब्रह्मविदः जनाः ॥ ८-२४॥

अग्निः, ज्योतिः, अहः, शुक्लः (पक्षः), षण्मासाः उत्तर-आयणम्, तत्र (काले) प्रयाताः ब्रह्मविदः जनाः ब्रह्म गच्छन्ति ।

So in this verse कृष्ण defines the brighter path called शुक्ल मार्ग or शुक्ल गति or देव यानः. And तत्र, in the second line, तत्र means देव यानेन, शुक्ल मार्गेण प्रयाताः – so those who go via शुक्ल मार्ग, through शुक्ल मार्ग, ब्रह्म गच्छन्ति – they will attain ब्रह्मन्, they will attain ईश्वर or they will attain क्रममुक्तिः, here the word ब्रह्म refers to क्रममुक्ति प्राप्तिः, gradually going to ईश्वर. How I have explained before, they go to ब्रह्मलोक and in ब्रह्मलोक they will get अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि इति ज्ञानम्, which they escaped by not attending the classes. So, that one they are forced to get and then having got the knowledge अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि, they will get liberation. Therefore शुक्ल मार्गेण प्रयाताः, प्रयाताः means traveling people, ब्रह्म गच्छन्ति. And what is the nature of this शुक्ल मार्ग, here कृष्ण identifies the शुक्ल मार्ग, in a particular way based on the Upanishadic literature. The वेदs talk about the शुक्ल मार्ग and कृष्ण मार्ग; in the 10 उपनिषत्s they are discussed and in ब्रह्मसूत्र, very elaborately discussed. And while talking about these two paths, the scriptures point that there are guides to help these travelers in those two मार्गs, because we don't know what is ahead and what is behind and we cannot take the local road map and therefore we cannot know what is the मार्ग properly, therefore वेद says there are special देवताs to welcome. And not only that, they will welcome, they guide up to a particular distance and thereafter handover to the next guide, like the European tour and like, you go to the next country, next set of guides take over and you visit that country and go to the next one and another set of guides, Similarly, देवताs guide this seeker to reach ब्रह्मलोक . And who are those देवताs who will guide, the celestial tourist guide? The उपनिषत् itself names them, कृष्ण is giving the names of those देवताs in the first line, अग्निः, ज्योतिः, अहः, शुक्लः, उत्तर-आयणम्, five देवताs are the guides for this traveler. अग्नि देवता, ज्योतिर्देवता, अहर्देवता, अहः means day time literally, but in this context, day time does not represent time at all, it is the name of the देवता. Similarly, शुक्लः refers to शुक्ल पक्ष देवता, the presiding deity of शुक्ल पक्ष. Similarly, उत्तरायणम्, उत्तरायण देवता, उत्तरायण consists of six months, when the sun is going towards north, as even the sun is going from east to west, you know that there is a shift, because of which we call उत्तरायणम् and दक्षिणायनम्, उत्तरायणम् consists of six months and the Lord governing this law of this Sun's movement, it is called a देवता. देवता refers to the intelligent principle governing the law of nature. So we have got gravitational देवता, because it is a law, there must be an intelligent principle governing that law and every law is presided over by a corresponding intelligent principle, which we call देवता and all the देवताs put together is called हिरण्यगर्भ तत्त्वम्, but individual aspect is known by सूर्य देवता, चन्द्र देवताs, etc. These five देवताs preside over or guide the seeker who travels through शुक्ल

मार्ग and by this मार्ग, this traveler goes. Now the next question is: Who is the traveler? Who is given the traveling ticket? Whether everyone can get it? if you ask, the उपनिषत्s says, No. They are special people who alone will be entitled for this travel, for this route and who are they? ब्रह्मविदः जनाः, ब्रह्मविदः जनाः means सगुण ब्रह्म उपासकाः, ईश्वर उपासकाः, those who meditate upon ईश्वर with attributes, with form. Which means what: those people who merely perform rituals they will not get the ticket for this route. So, they will be sent through कृष्ण गति, just going and coming. Therefore, mere कर्मिs will not get शुक्ल गति. What about ज्ञानिs? Will ज्ञानिs get the ticket for शुक्ल गति? If I keep the exam, I will put this question. But don't worry, I will not have any exams. Remember ज्ञानिs also will not get शुक्ल गति because they need not attain क्रममुक्ति, because they have attained liberation here and now, we saw yesterday, अत्र ब्रह्म समश्नुते. Therefore ज्ञानिs will not get क्रममुक्ति after death, because ज्ञानिs have got मुक्ति here itself and कर्मिs will not get क्रममुक्ति also, कर्मिs means ritualists. Ritualists will not get क्रममुक्ति also, ritualists will not get जीवन्मुक्ति also, they will go through other routes, but this is neither for कर्मिs nor for ज्ञानिs, only for the उपासकs, to go to ब्रह्मलोक s, gain ज्ञानम् and liberation. Therefore ब्रह्मविदः, very carefully note, सगुण ईश्वर उपासकाः, not ब्रह्म ज्ञानिs. So thus we have got the route and also traveler. What is the route, शुक्ल गति, who is the traveler, सगुण ईश्वर उपासकः. Now we have to see the other route. Verse no. 25;

Verse No .25

धूमो रात्रिस्तथा कृष्णः षण्मासा दक्षिणायनम् ।

तत्र चान्द्रमसं ज्योतिर्योगी प्राप्य निवर्तते ॥ ८-२५॥

धूमः रात्रिः तथा कृष्णः षण्मासाः दक्षिण-आयनम् ।

तत्र चान्द्रमसम् ज्योतिः योगी प्राप्य निवर्तते ॥ ८-२५॥

धूमः, रात्रिः, तथा कृष्णः (पक्षः), षण्मासाः दक्षिण-आयनम्, तत्र (काले प्रयाताः) योगी चान्द्रमसम् ज्योतिः प्राप्य निवर्तते ।

So second line तत्र, traveling by the second path, so तत्र प्रयाताः, प्रयाताः should be supplied, प्रयाताः means traveling by that path, तत्र means तेन मार्गेण and this is the second मार्ग कृष्ण has not named the route here, He will give the name later only, but we can note the name, तेन कृष्ण मार्गेण. So तत्र is equal तेन कृष्ण मार्गेण गताः, traveling by that not-so-brighter routes, like most of our streets there will be no lights, but if there are lights it will not be burning. So that is called कृष्ण मार्ग, therefore you can decide whether you travel by शुक्ल or कृष्ण. So तत्र प्रयाताः योगी प्राप्य, so योगी here योगि refers to the कर्मी, the ritualistic people, who don't practice उपासना. They do their duties very well, they do lot of service and all, they do lot of rituals, lot of पूजाs, so naturally they will get पुण्यम् alright, but the पुण्यम् is of a lower quality, because they have not done उपासना which is supposed to be higher साधन, any mental साधन is supposed to be of higher quality than any physical साधन. Because mental साधन is more difficult because mind runs all over, physical साधन you can do पूजा very fast, because mind can be anywhere. So therefore mere ritualists will get पुण्यम् but of a lower order and therefore he goes through तत्र कृष्ण मार्गेण and reaches us चान्द्रमसम् ज्योतिः, he reaches only स्वर्गलोक, otherwise known as चन्द्र लोक, which is lower than ब्रह्मलोक . Because in the पुराणs, you must have heard, I must have told you also, above भूलोक, the higher लोक is supposed to be भुवर्लोक, महर्लोक, जनलोक, तपोलोक and सत्यलोक or ब्रह्मलोक , ब्रह्मलोक is the highest लोक through which the उपासकः will get क्रममुक्ति, but the ritualist will never go to ब्रह्मलोक , they will go to only to the lower लोकs. Lower लोकs means between भूलोक and ब्रह्मलोक s, all those intermediary लोकs are called स्वर्गलोकs and that स्वर्गलोक he reaches and this कृष्ण मार्ग is also presided over by देवताs and who are those देवताs, the list is given, don't ask how do you know, we have not seen, it is all described in the वेद. And we accept वेद because, वेद does not lie unlike us. वेद tells the truth and therefore it is truth only. What are the देवताs? धूमः, धूमः देवता, literally the word धूमः means smoke, but here it is the name of the देवता, धूमः देवता, रात्रिः, literally means night, but here it refers to रात्रिः देवता, Similarly, कृष्णः, कृष्णः in this context means कृष्णः पक्ष देवता, not वासुदेव कृष्णः, here कृष्णः means कृष्णः पक्ष देवता, कृष्ण पक्ष means the dark fortnight and then षण्मासाः दक्षिणायनम्, दक्षिणायन देवता. So these four देवताs are given as a sample. In the उपनिषत्s, especially in छान्दोग्य and बृहदारण्यक the list is more extensive, but कृष्ण here gives only a few as a sample and guided by these four देवताs this person will go to स्वर्गलोक. And if he is going to स्वर्गलोक, why do you call it a gloomy path, should not it be a brighter path, स्वर्ग means people should be happy, why do you call the path to heaven as dark path? कृष्ण says the reason is प्राप्य निवर्तते. The bad news is that he will go and enjoy alright, but once the पुण्य gets exhausted he will come down, becoming more miserable, because here our body very much used to mosquitoes, very much used to our corporation water in which all kinds of things are mixed up, including sewage water. And in spite of taking all these things we survive and having enjoyed better health in स्वर्ग, the moment you come down, the mosquito bite and not only that even you don't enjoy that because you will count down. So, I will come soon, I will come soon, therefore it is not bright compared to the क्रममुक्ति. So compared to शुक्ल मार्ग, कृष्ण मार्ग is certainly is inferior and therefore it is dark like the black spot in the Sun. Really speaking the black spot is not black spot at all, it is really bright, but it is black spot because, compared to other parts it appears black. Similarly, in कृष्ण मार्ग is blacker or darker compared to शुक्ल गति. So thus we have got the second मार्ग which is called कृष्ण मार्ग and who is the traveler, योगी and in this verse, carefully note, the word योगी means a ritualist, non उपासकः ritualist is called योगी in this verse. In संस्कृत, कर्मी or to be precise, केवल कर्मी. And now कृष्ण sums up these two मार्गs in the next verses.

Verse No .26

शुक्लकृष्णे गती ह्येते जगतः शाश्वते मते ।

एकया यात्यनावृत्तिमन्ययावर्तते पुनः ॥ ८-२६॥

शुक्ल-कृष्णे गती हि एते जगतः शाश्वते मते ।

एकया याति अनावृत्तिम् अन्यया आवर्तते पुनः ॥ ८-२६॥

जगतः एते हि शुक्ल-कृष्णे गती शाश्वते मते । एकया अनावृत्तिम् याति अन्यया पुनः आवर्तते ।

So कृष्ण is giving the name in this श्लोक only. In the previous two श्लोकs, He indicated the presiding देवताs, but not the name of the path. He gives the name here, एते गती शुक्ल-कृष्णे – these two paths are known by the name शुक्ल, you have to add the गती, शुक्ल गती: and कृष्ण गती:, otherwise शुक्ल मार्ग and कृष्ण मार्ग, otherwise देवयानम् and पितृयानम्. And when were these two roads created? He says जगतः शाश्वते मते – these two मार्गs have been created along with the universe, not in between like putting a new road, after creation भगवान् thought to lay two new roads. No. It is not a later added route, but along with the creation itself these routes have been made because along with the creation वेद has come and along with the creation the कर्म उपासना teaching also has been given and along with the creation human beings also have come and therefore along with the creation these two types of साधकs are also there, therefore these two मार्गs must be there. And therefore जगतः शाश्वते मते – these are two eternal paths, which come along with the creation and which will go only at the time of प्रलयम् and again when the next सृष्टि comes, again these two मार्गs will come. Therefore they are as eternal as the universe itself and of these two मार्गs, एकया अनावृत्तिम् याति – by following one path, which one, you cannot put anyone, शुक्लया, एकया means शुक्लया गत्या – by following शुक्ल गति, अनावृत्तिम् याति – a person will get क्रममुक्तिः by going via ब्रह्मलोक . ब्रह्मलोक is the transit point, like in London, Frankfurt, etc. So a transit point in ब्रह्मलोक , a stopover, क्रममुक्ति. जीवन्मुक्ति is direct flight, no stopover in between, straight flight, not like Indian Airlines. एकया अनावृत्तिम् याति. अन्यया, through the other one, कृष्णया गत्या. So here the word अनावृत्ति refers to क्रमया मुक्ति, ईश्वर प्राप्ति, the goal of non-return. And अन्यया, through the other path, i.e., कृष्णया गत्या, आवर्तते पुनः – a person will definite go to स्वर्गलोक, because even though he has not done उपासना, he has done noble कर्म, he has done service to the society, he has done lot of पूजा, he has done duties, therefore certainly he has acquired पुण्यम्, therefore he will go to स्वर्गलोक, but the minus point is what: having exhausted he will आवर्तते, come back, आवर्तते पुनः and here the previous two verses have got certain confusing aspects and therefore these two verses are discussed in ब्रह्मसूत्र. Wherever there is a possible confusion in गीता or उपनिषत्, ब्रह्मसूत्र will analyze and resolve the confusion. What is the confusion? In the previous two श्लोक, कृष्ण mentions उत्तरायणम् and शुक्ल पक्ष and day-time and कृष्ण says whoever dies in those times, उत्तरायण-काले or शुक्ल पक्षे or अहः daytime, a person will go to क्रममुक्ति. So the confusion that can come is we may think the time of death will determine whether we will get शुक्ल गति or कृष्ण गति, if you read the verse superficially, it appears as though if you die in उत्तरायणम्, you die in शुक्ल पक्ष or you die during day time, you will get शुक्ल गति. Similarly, if you study the 25th verse, it appears as though if you die in दक्षिणायनम्, कृष्ण पक्ष or night time, it appears as though you will get कृष्ण गति. Therefore it appears as though the time of death will determine the direction of travel, because the word काल is used there. After elaborate analysis in ब्रह्मसूत्र, it has been established that time of death does not determine the direction of the journey, but it is the quality of life that determines the direction of the journey, it is not the time of death at all. And several arguments are given, I am not going to the details, just one argument is this, in the 24th verse, उत्तरायणम्, शुक्ल पक्ष and daytime are mentioned and in the 25th verse, दक्षिणायनम्, कृष्ण पक्ष and रात्रिः are mentioned. Suppose a person dies in उत्तरायण कृष्ण पक्ष, what will happen, because according to 24th verse, उत्तरायण मरणम् means शुक्ल गति, according to 25th verse, कृष्ण पक्ष मरणम् is कृष्ण गति, उत्तरायण कृष्ण पक्ष is there or not? Basic doubt should not come. So भगवान् will be confused. Similarly, according to 24th verse, शुक्ल पक्ष मरणम्, शुक्ल पक्ष is उत्तरायण, suppose we take and according to 25th night time is given as indicated of कृष्ण गति. Suppose a person dies during शुक्ल पक्ष रात्रिः, शुक्ल पक्ष रात्रिः comes or not, any doubt? On शुक्ल पक्ष रात्रिः a person dies, according to 24th verse, शुक्ल पक्ष मरणम् should give शुक्ल गति and according to 25th verse, a रात्रि मरणम् should give कृष्ण गति, शुक्ल पक्ष रात्रिः मरणम् confusion will come. So never interpret these two श्लोकs as referring to the time of death at all. Not only that if the time of death will determine the higher goals there will be problems. How many criminals die in उत्तरायणम्, Everyone will get शुक्ल गति how many saints die in दक्षिणायनम्, for them कृष्ण गति means what happens? And not only that people can do अक्रमम् and commit suicide in उत्तरायणम्, still easier, he will get क्रममुक्ति, like LTTE people, bite the potassium cyanide. So therefore, time of death will not determine your future, it is the quality of life. This is the conclusion made in ब्रह्मसूत्र. And कृष्ण himself makes it very clear in 26th verse, शुक्ल-कृष्णे गती हि एते they refer to मार्ग, not the time at all. Continuing;

Verse No .27

नैते सृती पार्थ जानन्योगी मुह्यति कश्चन ।

तस्मात्सर्वेषु कालेषु योगयुक्तो भवार्जुन ॥ ८-२७॥

न एते सृती पार्थ जानन् योगी मुह्यति कश्चन ।

तस्मात् सर्वेषु कालेषु योग-युक्तः भव अर्जुन ॥ ८-२७॥

हे पार्थ! एते सृती जानन् कश्चन योगी न मुह्यति, तस्मात् हे अर्जुन! (त्वं) सर्वेषु कालेषु योग-युक्तः भव ।

Here कृष्ण says I have talked about two destinations, two paths and two types of travelers very clearly. Having known the difference between these two, एते सृती जानन्, सृती means what गती, गती means what मार्गो, so एतौ मार्गौ जानन् – having clearly known these two paths, in what way, one path leading to better future, क्रममुक्ति, other path leading to only inferior future, पुनर्जन्म, having clearly understood, योगी कश्चन न मुह्यति – an intelligent seeker will never get confused. An intelligent seeker will never vote for the wrong path, like election. Therefore the Republicans have also given the speech, the Democrats have also given the speech, now you have to choose the right one, there confusion is there, here no confusion should be there. योगी means विवेकी, an intelligent seeker will not get confused with regard to कर्म मार्ग and उपासना मार्ग, whether I should become a mere ritualist or whether I should add उपासना also. So whether I should become a कर्मी or whether I should become a उपासकः, such a doubt should not come to an intelligent seeker. And अर्जुन you come under which group, intelligent or unintelligent? कृष्ण says अर्जुन I assume that you are an intelligent seeker and therefore what you should do, become a उपासकः, तस्मात् सर्वेषु कालेषु. And therefore अर्जुन, may you choose उपासना, no doubt you have to do कर्म, you doubt you have to do your duties, no doubt पञ्च महायज्ञाः are there, let कर्म go on, but add to your कर्म, सगुण ईश्वर उपासना also. Therefore सर्वेषु कालेषु – at all times beginning from now onwards, योग-युक्तः भव, here योगः means what: सगुण ईश्वर उपासना युक्तः भव. May you choose उपासना. Here we should be very careful, when I am asked to choose between कर्म and उपासना, I have to choose उपासना. But remember, in the 8th chapter of the गीता, ज्ञानम् is not contesting the election. If ज्ञानम् comes to the picture, then ज्ञानम् is superior to both कर्म and उपासना, therefore you should remember, ज्ञानम् is kept aside in the 8th chapter.

Because ज्ञानम् is निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, that is not brought in here, it was talked in the 7th, it will be taught in the 9th, but in the 8th chapter which is a unique chapter, the comparison is between कर्म and उपासना. If I am forced to choose between two: like our two corrupt parties, between two corrupt parties you have to choose the less corrupt. Similarly, here, between कर्म and उपासना you have to choose, better choose उपासना, it is superior to कर्म, योग-युक्तः भव, सगुण ईश्वर उपासकः भव, हे अर्जुन! and then with this कृष्ण has concluded the discussion of two मार्गs and also two types of travelers. And now कृष्ण concludes by glorifying क्रममुक्तिः, which is accomplishment of God himself. Because remember whether it is जीवन्मुक्ति or क्रममुक्ति, a seeker reaches what, God alone, whether it is direct flight or in between stopover, the destination is the same. Therefore in क्रममुक्ति also one reaches God, in जीवन्मुक्ति also. Now therefore कृष्ण glorifies God as the destination.

Verse No .28

वेदेषु यज्ञेषु तपःसु चैव दानेषु यत्पुण्यफलं प्रदिष्टम् ।

अत्येति तत्सर्वमिदं विदित्वा योगी परं स्थानमुपैति चाद्यम् ॥ ८-२८॥

वेदेषु यज्ञेषु तपःसु च एव दानेषु यत् पुण्य-फलम् प्रदिष्टम् ।

अत्येति तत् सर्वम् इदम् विदित्वा योगी परम् स्थानम् उपैति च आद्यम् ॥

योगी इदम् विदित्वा, वेदेषु यज्ञेषु तपःसु दानेषु च एव यत् पुण्य-फलम् प्रदिष्टम्, तत् सर्वम् अत्येति, आद्यम् परम् च स्थानम् उपैति ।

Second line, योगी इदम् सर्वम् विदित्वा, here योगी means what: means the सगुण ईश्वर उपासकः, the intelligent, he has understood what I have taught throughout this chapter. And therefore having clearly understood this teaching this सगुण ईश्वर उपासकः follows उपासना and by way of that, परम् आद्यम् स्थानम् उपैति – so he votes for क्रममुक्ति and attains God. Here God is described as परम् आद्यम् स्थानम् – the supreme and beginningless abode or destination. So आद्यम् means सर्व कारणम्, परम् means the highest and स्थानम् means destination, which is none other than नित्य ईश्वरम् उपैति and what is the glory of this नित्य ईश्वर. कृष्ण says this result is greater than all the कर्म-फलम्, उपासनाफलम् is greater than all the कर्म-फलम् and a few कर्मs are enumerated here. वेदेषु – so the कर्म in the form of वेद पारायणम्, it is a form of कर्म, यज्ञेषु – performance of rituals, तपःसु – practice of several types of vows, व्रतम्s, दानेषु – charities, in all these and more कर्मs, यत् पुण्य-फलम् प्रदिष्टम् – so the वेद promises पुण्य-फलम्, but तत् सर्वम् अत्येति – the उपासनाफलम् transcends, is superior to all these कर्म-फलम्s. So the उपासनाफलम् is superior to all the कर्म-फलम्, because कर्मफल gives finite स्वर्ग, उपासनाफलम् gives नित्य ईश्वरः. And therefore अर्जुन don't miss the opportunity, take to सगुण ईश्वर उपासना and remember the Lord all the time, at the time of death also may you remember Lord and then you will attain मोक्षः. So thus कृष्ण has indirectly answered the 7th question of अर्जुन also: प्रयाण-काल ईश्वर स्मरणम्.

ॐ तत्सदिति श्रीमद्भगवद्गीतासु उपनिषत्सु ब्रह्मविद्यायां योगशास्त्रे श्रीकृष्णार्जुनसंवादे अक्षरब्रह्मयोगो नाम अष्टमोऽध्यायः ॥

So thus is concluded the 8th chapter titled, अक्षरब्रह्मयोगः. In fact, the better title for this chapter might be प्रयाण-काल स्मरण योगः, but still perhaps they did not want us to remember प्रयाण-काल (may be we will get fear) since कृष्ण's teaching begins with the word अक्षरम् ब्रह्म परमम्, that is how कृष्ण begins his teaching and therefore this chapter is called अक्षरम् ब्रह्म योगः and in some books this chapter is titled, तारक ब्रह्म योगः, both are OK.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 08, SUMMARY

Today I will give you a summary of the 8th chapter of the गीता. The 8th chapter happens to be in the middle section of the गीता. The middle section is the portion between the 7th chapter and 12th chapters, the middle six chapters are called the middle section or मध्यम षट्कम्. And in this मध्यम षट्कम् one of the साधनs highlighted is उपासना or उपासनाम्. So this topic begins from the 7th chapter and runs through all the six chapters up to the 12th. And it is one of the important spiritual साधनs, exactly like the कर्मयोग साधन of प्रथम षट्कम् and ज्ञानयोग साधन of अन्तिम षट्कम्, the last section; उपासना is an important spiritual साधन. And उपासना is defined as सगुण ब्रह्म विषय मानस व्यापारहः. उपासना is primarily a mental activity. Physical activity cannot be called उपासना. There is a misconception that पूजाs can be called उपासना. Remember, पूजा cannot be called उपासना because, पूजा is primarily a physical activity, therefore it will come under कर्मयोग only. And all types of जप and पाठयणम्, they also come under कर्मयोग only, उपासना is the name of that साधन which is done by the mind as an instrument. That is why I called it मानस व्यापारहः and what type of mental activity. Any mental activity cannot be called उपासना, if any mental activity becomes उपासना, worrying also will become उपासना and we are experts. I am doing constant उपासना, it will mean and therefore it is specified सगुण ब्रह्म विषय मानस व्यापारहः, it is a mental activity associated with ईश्वरः, that is the primary criterion, it should be a mental activity and that too a mental activity associated with ईश्वर and what is ईश्वर, सगुण ब्रह्म. So ईश्वर endowed with attributes. So we are not talking about निर्गुण ब्रह्म and it is सगुण ब्रह्म or सगुण ईश्वर and this सगुण ब्रह्म विषय मानस व्यापारहः, this उपासनाम् is one of the important topics of मध्यम षट्कम्. And this उपासना is of two types, one is सकाम उपासना, in which a person practices this for material benefits, either material benefits belonging to this world or the material benefits belonging to the other world, इहलोक परलोक फलानि, like स्वर्गलोक प्राप्ति, etc. And remember going to higher लोकs also will come under material benefits only because, higher लोकs means superior material pleasures. And इहलोक फलम् means all this worldly results including miraculous powers, powers to do miracles also will come under material benefits, remember, miracles have nothing to do with spirituality. There is not even an iota of smell of spirituality in miracles, it will also come under इहलोक material benefit only. This a person can accomplish by practicing सकाम उपासना. And there is another form of उपासना, which is निष्काम उपासना, in which a person practices the same meditation, सगुण ब्रह्म विषय मानस व्यापारहः, but with hankering after material benefit. So without इहलोक परलोक फल इच्छा, a person can practice निष्काम उपासना. And this निष्काम उपासना is the primary topic of the middle section. कृष्ण is not keeping in mind सकाम उपासना at all in the गीता, कृष्ण deals with the topic of निष्काम उपासना primarily. That is an उपासना which is meant for the inner growth of a person, which is meant for the spiritual progress of a person. निष्काम उपासना is practiced by a person who values spiritual growth more than material accomplishments and this निष्काम उपासना is divided into two types. In one, a person practices निष्काम उपासना for a length of time, which will give sufficient spiritual maturity or inner growth or spiritual qualification. The qualifications which are required for ज्ञानयोग अभ्यासः and if a person has acquired those qualifications, known as साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति, technically then he withdraws from निष्काम उपासना and turns his attention towards ज्ञानयोगः or वेदान्त विचारः, which does not come under उपासना. In what way, ज्ञानयोग is different from उपासना. उपासना concentrates on सगुण ईश्वर, whereas ज्ञानयोग concentrates upon निर्गुण ईश्वर, the attributeless ब्रह्मन्. And this निर्गुण ईश्वर is persuaded not by meditation but through वेदान्त श्रवण, मनन, निदिध्यासन; ज्ञानयोग means going to an आचार्य,

उपदेक्ष्यन्ति ते ज्ञानं ज्ञानिनस्तत्त्वदर्शिनः ॥ ४-३४॥

As told by कृष्ण, ज्ञानयोग involves वेदान्त श्रवणम्, consistently for a length of time under the guidance of a competent आचार्य. And this will give the knowledge of निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म or निर्गुण ईश्वर and then by practicing मननम्, this knowledge is consolidated, made free from all the doubts in the intellect and by निदिध्यासनम्, this निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is assimilated, all these are done in this life itself. So thus practice निष्काम उपासना, acquire qualifications, withdraw from निष्काम उपासना, apply yourselves in वेदान्त विचार or श्रवण मनन निदिध्यासन and attain निर्गुण ब्रह्मज्ञान निष्ठा and by acquiring ज्ञान निष्ठा, a person gets liberation, here and now, which is called सद्योमुक्तिः or जीवन्मुक्तिः. And having attained जीवन्मुक्ति and enjoyed the benefit of जीवन्मुक्ति throughout the life, at the end of प्रारब्ध this ज्ञानि dies and after the death the ज्ञानि does not have any travel at all, there is no शुक्ल गति, there is no कृष्ण गति, there is no गति at all, a ज्ञानि is one with the Lord, here and now. This is one route of निष्काम उपासना, which we call सद्योमुक्ति route or जीवन्मुक्ति route. And this is the निष्काम उपासना topic, which कृष्ण wants to highlight in the गीता, because he wants all of us to get liberation, here and now, not postponing, unlike posthumous benefit. And therefore निष्काम उपासना as a means of जीवन्मुक्ति is the primary साधन, कृष्ण deals with in the 7th chapter, in the 9th chapter, in the 10th, in the 11th and in the 12th also. Whereas in the 8th chapter alone, in the odd man out chapter, the unique and peculiar chapter, कृष्ण deals with निष्काम उपासना of another type. And what is that: a person practices निष्काम ईश्वर उपासना or meditation, he doesn't want any material benefit other than मोक्ष and the difference is he continues निष्काम उपासना throughout the life. Whereas the other person practices निष्काम उपासना and changes the direction and comes to what: ज्ञानयोग, whereas in the second type, a person does not come to निर्गुण ईश्वर

ज्ञानम् at all, he does not come to वेदान्त श्रवणम् मनन etc., at all. Why, whatever be the reason, either he feels he has not qualified enough to think of निर्गुणम् or he doesn't get an आचार्य for निर्गुण ईश्वर विचार or some other problem it may be, a person continues निष्काम उपासना throughout the life and because of that his mind is imbued with ईश्वर चिन्तन. Which ईश्वर? सगुण ईश्वर, either in the form राम, कृष्ण or देवी and naturally at the time of death also his mind thinks of only God, because what you value most in life that is remembered at the time of death. And because he is a निष्काम उपासक and because he values ईश्वर the most, at the time of death also ईश्वर चिन्तन alone takes place, which ईश्वर, सगुण ईश्वर, he doesn't know वेदान्त, he doesn't know निर्गुण ब्रह्म, he doesn't know अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि, therefore technically speaking, this उपासक is an अज्ञानि उपासक only and when this अज्ञानि निष्काम उपासक dies, all the conditions are important, an अज्ञानि and निष्काम उपासक dies remembering God, what happens to him, that is the topic of the 8th chapter. And कृष्ण says such an उपासक will not get liberation here and now, because he is an अज्ञानि, but as a result of the उपासना this निष्काम उपासक will travel through a special path called शुक्ल गति and he will go to special लोक called ब्रह्मलोक and by the time he goes to ब्रह्मलोक, he is ready to change the track, from where to where, from सगुण ईश्वर to निर्गुण ईश्वर. And therefore the ज्ञानयोग which he avoided in मनुष्य जन्म, the ज्ञानयोग which he avoided in मनुष्य जन्म he is ready to practice in ब्रह्मलोक, in a very very conducive and better atmosphere, where the power will not go like this, where the teacher is also better off, ब्रह्माजि himself and therefore effortlessly gains निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, as अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि and as a result of this knowledge he attains liberation in ब्रह्मलोक and thereafter he doesn't have पुनर्जन्म. And this particular route of निष्काम उपासना is called क्रममुक्तिः, कृष्ण wants to talk about क्रममुक्ति in the 8th chapter. And कृष्ण does not want to suggest क्रममुक्ति for us. As far as कृष्ण is concerned, कृष्ण wants us to vote for which मुक्ति, सद्योमुक्ति or जीवन्मुक्ति in this life itself, but out of academic interest, for the sake of information he wants to give us the knowledge of क्रममुक्ति. Therefore the 8th chapter can be called क्रममुक्ति chapter, whereas the 7th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th are not क्रममुक्ति chapters, but अक्रममुक्ति chapter, अक्रममुक्ति don't misunderstand, are जीवन्मुक्ति or सद्योमुक्ति chapters. This is the uniqueness of the 8th chapter. With this background we have to study this chapter.

A. Now in the first four verses, कृष्ण answers some of the questions asked by अर्जुन. अर्जुन asks seven questions, based on the 7th chapter. What are the seven questions? What is अध्यात्मम्, what is अधिभूतम्, what is अधिदैवम्, what is अधियज्ञम्, what is ब्रह्मन्, what is कर्म and what is the significance of remembering God at the time of death, which I termed in संस्कृत, प्रयाण-काल ईश्वर स्मरणम्. These are the seven questions अर्जुन asks based on कृष्ण's teaching in the last chapter. These seven expressions were used by कृष्ण himself in the last two verses of the 7th chapter, that is 29th and 30th verses.

i) & ii) And कृष्ण deals with the first six questions very briefly, in the 3rd and 4th verses कृष्ण answers them very briefly, which he pointed out that अध्यात्मम् and ब्रह्मन् are one and the same Consciousness-principle, the all-pervading Consciousness-principle is known by the name अध्यात्मम् and ब्रह्मन्. And why two names for one and the same Consciousness? Two names from the angle of observation. Just like one and the same member of the family is known as father from the standpoint of the son and the very same person is called brother from the standpoint of another person. The man is not different, but based on the angle of observation the same person is called, father, brother, husband, son, brother-in-law, son-in-law, all the same and one person. Similarly, one Consciousness looked at from the micro level, individual level is called अध्यात्मम्, whereas the very same Consciousness looked from macro level, from the universal level it is called ब्रह्मन्. So words are different, but the meaning is the same.

iii) And then कृष्ण pointed out that अधिभूतम् is nothing but the material universe, made of five elements. So भूतम् means not भूतम् प्रेतम् पिशाच, not that भूतम्, भूत refers to पञ्च भूतम्, अधिभूतम् means the material universe made up of five elements, the perishable material universe is called is अधिभूतम्

iv) Then अधिदैवम् is the हिरण्यगर्भ तत्त्वम् or the total mind governing the material universe. Just as the individual body is governed by the individual mind, because it is your mind that is driving this body, the mind told you bring the body to the school, then the body came, suppose the mind tells go away right now, you will get up and go, but thank God, mind doesn't say so. For just as the individual body is governed by the individual mind, Similarly, the total अधिभूतम् is governed by the total mind, which is called हिरण्यगर्भ तत्त्वम्, which is called अधिदैवम्. So अधिभूतम्, अध्यात्मम्, अधिदैवम्, ब्रह्म four words कृष्ण explains.

v) Then अधियज्ञः, कृष्ण points out is the name of ईश्वर तत्त्वम्, who is one step above even हिरण्यगर्भ, that ईश्वर तत्त्वम् as कर्म-फल धाता, presiding over the laws of कर्म. So यज्ञ refers to कर्म and अधियज्ञ means the lord presiding over the laws of कर्म, presiding over the laws of कर्म means giving appropriate कर्म-फलम् in the form of पुण्यम्, in the form of पापम्. And where is that Lord seated, कृष्ण says that Lord is in your own body with a diary noting every action you do, every word you speak, immediately registered in Lord's computer, which will never be affected by virus. So अधियज्ञ is कर्म-फल धाता, ईश्वरः.

vi) Then finally कृष्ण defined कर्म as that which is responsible for the creation, it is the पुण्य-पाप कर्म of the people which is responsible for the manifestation of creation, because पुण्य-पापम् can be exhausted only through सुखम् and दुःखम्. And सुखम् and दुःखम् you can have only when there is a body and there is a world. Without body-world interaction पुण्य and पाप cannot be exhausted and therefore पुण्य-पाप कर्म necessitates the creation of the body and the world. And since there are innumerable जीवs with innumerable पुण्य-पापs the Lord has to create innumerable bodies with innumerable set-up for interaction. Remember, every mosquito that is biting you is based on the law of कर्म, mosquito's पुण्यम् gets exhausted and yours पापम्, both tallies, remember for mosquito it is पुण्यम्, for you it is पापम्. So it is a very beautiful cosmic intertwined network and that is called कर्म. So thus in two verses कृष्ण beautifully अध्यात्म, अधिदैव, अधिभूत, अधियज्ञ, ब्रह्म, कर्माणि, six topics, leaving only one question, i.e., प्रयाण-काल ईश्वर स्मरणम्, because कृष्ण wants to elaborately deal with this topic.

vii) And then from 5th verse up to the 14th verse, कृष्ण deals with the seventh question, viz., the significance and method of remembering God at the time of death. What is the significance that कृष्ण points out: He says, whatever is remembered at the time of death indicates the predominant personality of the individual. Your personality can be determined by the last thought. Why do we say so, because as we grow older our willpower becomes weaker and weaker and therefore our thoughts in old age are governed by the वासनाs or habits that we acquire throughout the life. Initially will is stronger, वासना is weaker, as we grow older and older it is reversed. Will is weaker and वासना is stronger. And that is why you need not go into anything. Even in the formation of any addiction you will find first time you take to a habit your will is stronger, first cigarette, first liquor, first coffee, your will is stronger, in fact, it is very easy to say No. But once a person has been careless and taken to that, one वासना is formed, because he has experienced it and whatever be the experience it has registered in the form of संस्कार and the second time because of the संस्कार the need is more, will has become slightly weaker. Then 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, months together, years together, the will with respect to that, the same person may have willpower with regard to other thing, but with regard to the addiction the willpower becomes all most nil and that is why in the alcohol anonymous prayer they say, surrender to God because your will with regard to this is demolished. It requires built up of the will, remember, how much effort is required and therefore, initially will is stronger habit is weaker, but as you grow older and older, habit becomes stronger, will becomes weaker and therefore our final thought is governed by our habit. And our habits are determined our lifestyle and therefore my personality or lifestyle will determine my last thought. And therefore कृष्ण says the last thought is an indicator of the lifestyle of a person and therefore the last thought determines the next जन्म. So

तं तमेवैति कौन्तेय सदा तद्भावभावितः ॥ ८-६॥

And therefore what is the significance of प्रयाण-काल स्मरणम्, it determines or indicates the next जन्म. The next question is: what is the method of प्रयाण-काल स्मरणम्; how to influence my final thought? The answer you must know by now. Since towards our old age our will becomes weaker and weaker and since our वासनाs are going to become stronger and stronger, develop good वासनाs right from now:

शुभ-अशुभाभ्याम् मार्गाभ्याम् वहन्ती वासना-सरित् ।

पौरुषेण प्रयत्नेन योजनीया शुभे पथि ॥ योग वसिष्ठ सार संग्रह २-६ ॥

The mind can go through either शुभ or अशुभ वासना, in your younger ages you have got the control to direct. Therefore practice good words, goods thoughts right now and once you do that then your subconscious mind is saturated with मङ्गल वासना or मङ्गल संस्कार. Therefore even if one is in comma, where the thoughts we do not know at all, these संस्कार will determine the thought pattern of the comatose mind and that mind will have only शुभ वासना and naturally the direction of the travel also will be शुभ गति, which means ईश्वर प्राप्ति: and therefore what is the method, develop good habits right from now.

तस्मात्सर्वेषु कालेषु मामनुस्मर युध्य च ।

मर्यापितमनोबुद्धिर्मिवैष्यस्यसंशयम् ॥ ८-७॥

Read good books, even if you are watching movies watch good movies, I don't know whether it s there at all; Exorcist, if you close your eyes, भूतम्, the hollow man, already hollow, the hollow man will come, next जन्म what, hollow man. So therefore what you read, what you utter, what you see and the people that you move with, that all be noble and good so that they will generate शुभ वासना, सत्सङ्गत्वे निस्सङ्गत्वं निस्सङ्गत्वे... नारद says in his भक्तिसूत्र,

दुःसङ्गः सर्वथैव त्याज्यः ॥ नारदभक्तिसूत्रम् ४३॥

Choose your company carefully; you need not hate people but we can keep like cobra, you need not hate cobra but keep safe distance. Similarly, we need hate people but our company we can choose. Therefore सर्वेषु कालेषु and initially it requires some effort, but after some time that will become habit and once it has become a habit, even if the conscious mind is involved in लौकिक कर्माणि, the subconscious mind will have only noble thoughts. And then कृष्ण points out that for remembering God you can use any particular symbol or इष्ट देवता, because Lord does not have any form but for the sake of thinking and meditation, choose any आलम्बनम्, यम or कृष्ण and कृष्ण introduces ॐकार as one of the possible आलम्बनम्. And then कृष्ण says a निष्काम उपासक uses that आलम्बनम् or symbol to remember God throughout the life and at the time of death also, because of his natural habit the mind withdraws from the external world as भीष्म did at the time of death, he sent away all his people. Enough of inter-action, whatever I have to tell I have told, where all the accounts are there, in which bank money has been kept, all have been told. Now he calls Lord कृष्ण, 'please come and stand in front of me, let me think of you and die.' What a control! कृष्ण says, निष्काम उपासक can effortlessly remember the Lord and as a result of that, he will attain क्रममुक्तिः.

This is the topic from verse no.5 to 14, so significance and method of प्रयाण-काल ईश्वर स्मरणम्.

B. Then verse no.15 to 22, कृष्ण talks about two types of goals that a person can choose. One goal being God himself, I am using the word Himself, because some word I have to use, you can take it herself also. OK. After all God doesn't have any gender in the ultimate sense, therefore, goal as God himself and the every other goal other than God, God and not God, world, these are the two possibilities. And कृष्ण wants to point out God symbolizes immortality, God symbolizes security, that is one of the names of the Lord is अच्युत, अच्युताय नमः, what a beautiful नाम. Remember, any कर्म begins with आचमनम् and in the आचमनम् the first नाम is अच्युताय नमः, अच्युत means the one who does not slip from the nature of immortality, न विद्यते च्युतिः यस्य, reliable goal. Therefore God symbolizes immortality, God symbolizes security, God symbolizes peace and God symbolizes happiness. Doesn't every human being seek this goal only? So everyone seeks these four only through money, through people, through possessions, all the time I look for what, security, safety. So God is only security, only peace once you say, a person should really choose God as the goal and the possibility is all the other goals. And कृष्ण says if a person chooses any other goal it is a risky proposal, because every other thing is subjected to time and space and therefore you may enjoy their presence and company but the most difficult thing is either it will go away from me or I will go away from that. So like that person who said, I have built a house which can never be destroyed. Then that संन्यासि told, house will not be destroyed, but you will be destroyed, you will die, so therefore.

आब्रह्मभुवनाल्लोकाः पुनरावर्तिनोऽर्जुन ।

all these fourteen लोकs and the higher positions also will come under time and space and therefore there is nothing wrong in using them, nothing wrong in handling them, but something is wrong if you depend on them. Remember my example, the cardboard chair which is beautifully decorated is wonderful. You keep it in the show case, you use it for your kolu (doll-show), you can do everything, except one thing, what is that, don't sit over that. Similarly, we are not against the world or people or position or possessions, they are all gift from God, use them, but for your security, peace and happiness don't depend on these ephemeral ones, hold on to ईश्वरः. And therefore infinite goal and finite goal, these are the two possible goals of human life; one is called श्रेयस्, another is called प्रेयस्, one is called spiritual goal, another is called material goal. This is the topic from verse no.15 to 22.

C. Then from verse no.23 to 27, कृष्ण talks about two types of paths leading to these two types of goals and what are the two paths, one is called कृष्ण गति which will lead a person to finite goal. Even different लोकs up to ब्रह्मलोक, excluding ब्रह्मलोक, up to ब्रह्मलोक it can lead to various goals, but what is the problem, it will be enjoyable alright, but there will be a day of return,

ते तम् भुक्त्वा स्वर्ग-लोकम् विशालम् क्षीणे पुण्ये मर्त्य-लोकम् विशन्ति ।
॥ १-२१॥

So कृष्ण गति takes to higher लोक other than ब्रह्मलोक, a person enjoys and returns and suppose a person says I don't mind returning, then say, wish you all the best, go and come, a tourist. I know that, I will like to have a sight-seeing in स्वर्ग, not wrong, nothing wrong, but you have to return and then the other path is शुक्ल गति, which will lead this person to ब्रह्मलोक as I said in my introduction and in ब्रह्मलोक he will get, ब्रह्मलोक itself is finite but in ब्रह्मलोक he gets ज्ञानम्, which will take him to मोक्ष, which is called क्रममुक्तिः or God. So शुक्ल गति will take a person to God through क्रममुक्ति. So these are the two paths known as कृष्ण गति and शुक्ल गति and then कृष्ण also talks about two types of travelers, because if two destinations are there and two paths are there, there should be two travelers and who are those travelers, the one who goes through कृष्ण गति i.e., the darker path is called कर्मि, a ritualist. One who performs noble कर्मs, which includes social service, पञ्च महायज्ञ, so the one who does all forms of noble actions will go through कृष्ण गति, enjoy the higher लोकs and return, whereas the person who follows शुक्ल गति, the brighter path which leads to God, the seeker is उपासक, निष्काम उपासक, will travel through शुक्ल गति and attain God in the form of क्रममुक्तिः. But the most important point to be noted here is we are only talking about कर्मि and उपासक, who is not there in the race, in this particular race, we have not included ज्ञानम्. Just as Kasparov is not playing in दिल्ली tournament, he is a separate person he is not coming in this. Similarly, here, ज्ञानम् does not come to picture at all, therefore here an अज्ञानि कर्मि and an अज्ञानि उपासक, अज्ञानि of what? Ignorance of निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म, both of them have not come to ज्ञानयोग, they have followed कर्म, they have followed उपासना, both of them have not come to ज्ञान, ज्ञानि is excluded from the 8th chapter. He is hero of the 9th chapter. So thus कर्मि and उपासकs will go to these two destinations. This is the topic from 23rd to 27th.

D. And in the 28th verse, कृष्ण concludes this discussion. If we have to choose between कर्म and उपासना, which one is better is the question, ज्ञानम् is not in the race. If we have to choose between कर्म and उपासना, कृष्ण wants to say, उपासना is better because it will give a person क्रममुक्तिः or oneness with God after death, whereas a कर्मि will not get क्रममुक्ति also and of course he will not get जीवन्मुक्ति or कर्मि will have neither मुक्ति, whereas उपासक will at least get क्रममुक्ति and therefore अर्जुन an intelligent person will उपासना between these two.

नैते सृती पार्थ जानन्योगी मुह्यति कश्चन ।

तस्मात्सर्वेषु कालेषु योगयुक्तो भवार्जुन ॥ ८-२७॥

वेदेषु यज्ञेषु तपःसु चैव दानेषु यत्पुण्यफलं प्रदिष्टम् ।

अत्येति तत्सर्वमिदं विदित्वा योगी परं स्थानमुपैति चाद्यम् ॥ ८-२८॥

In the last verse कृष्ण glorifies the योगी, योगी means निष्काम उपासक who will attain God which is superior all other ephemeral goals of life. Thus by glorifying निष्काम उपासक and क्रममुक्ति, कृष्ण concludes this discourse and this chapter is called अक्षर ब्रह्म योगः, because that is the word with which कृष्ण's teaching begins in this chapter.

ॐ तत्सदिति श्रीमद्भगवद्गीतासु उपनिषत्सु ब्रह्मविद्यायां योगशास्त्रे श्रीकृष्णार्जुनसंवादे अक्षरब्रह्मयोगो नाम अष्टमोऽध्यायः ॥ ८॥

CHAPTER 09, VERSES 01-04

We have completed the 8th chapter which is a unique chapter dealing with the topic of क्रममुक्ति which is an important topic discussed in the उपनिषत्सु themselves. And therefore since कृष्ण wants to give a comprehensive teaching covering all the topics of the उपनिषत्सु, कृष्ण includes the क्रममुक्ति topic also in his teaching. And in this क्रममुक्ति topic a person is asked to follow सगुण ईश्वर उपासना throughout the life and a person need not come to वेदान्त at all, because वेदान्त deals with निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् which some people may find either difficult or may not be able to follow and therefore without coming to वेदान्त a person follows सगुण उपासना and even dies thinking of only मोक्ष or ईश्वर as the goal and such a person will not have पुनर्जन्म at all, which means पुनर्जन्म in this लोक, he will go to ब्रह्मलोक and attain ज्ञानम् and मोक्ष from there. But as I said in the previous class, कृष्ण is not interested in promoting क्रममुक्ति. He wants to introduce क्रममुक्ति only as a topic of academic interest, because क्रममुक्ति is meant for inferior seekers. And कृष्ण feels अर्जुन doesn't come under that category and I also consider that you come under inferior seekers category, you are all superior अधिकारिs and therefore for such seekers कृष्ण wants only मुक्ति here and now, in this जन्म itself, which we call जीवन्मुक्तिः or सद्योमुक्तिः, because we will like to live a happy life here. After death whether we will be reborn or not that is the botheration later and it is not even verifiable. Whereas here the benefit is something verifiable and therefore कृष्ण wants to emphasize only जीवन्मुक्ति or सद्योमुक्ति and assuming we are also interested in जीवन्मुक्ति alone, the course of our discipline will be slightly different. And in what way it will be different? We are not going to confine to सगुण उपासना throughout the life, we confine to सगुण उपासना for some time and we would like to spend more time on निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, which means वेदान्त श्रवण मनन निदिध्यासनम्, which will give जीवात्मा-परमात्मा ऐक्य ज्ञानम् in this life itself and we will be able to enjoy जीवनमुक्तिः. And therefore in the following chapters, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th, कृष्ण is going to prescribe उपासना as a means of coming to वेदान्त विचार in this life itself. And what is that knowledge that should be acquired through वेदान्त विचार that also कृष्ण prescribes. In fact, the 9th chapter primarily concentrates on वेदान्त विचार or निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. And having presented निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् as a means of liberation here and now, कृष्ण will prescribe सगुण उपासना as a stepping stone to be utilized. This is going to be the approach of the 9th chapter. It is a beautiful and a comprehensive and complete chapter and this chapter is very similar to the 7th chapter of the गीता, In fact, as even you study the 9th chapter, we can compare this with the seventh. With this background we will enter the chapter proper.

Verse No .01

अथ नवमोऽध्यायः ।

श्रीभगवानुवाच ।

इदं तु ते गुह्यतमं प्रवक्ष्याम्यनसूयवे ।

ज्ञानं विज्ञानसहितं यज्ज्ञात्वा मोक्षयसेऽशुभात् ॥ ९-१॥

इदम् तु ते गुह्यतमम् प्रवक्ष्यामि अनसूयवे ।

ज्ञानम् विज्ञान-सहितम् यत् ज्ञात्वा मोक्षयसे अशुभात् ॥ ९-१॥

यत् ज्ञात्वा (त्वं)अशुभात् मोक्षयसे, (तत्) तु इदम् गुह्यतमम् विज्ञान-सहितम् ज्ञानम् अनसूयवे ते प्रवक्ष्यामि ।

Lord कृष्ण introduces the subject matter in the first three verses. He says the subject matter is going to be ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, that is going to be the subject matter of the 9th chapter. And what type of ईश्वर ज्ञानम्? ईश्वर consisting of both His inferior nature as well as superior nature. Remember the 7th chapter, अपरा प्रकृति as well as परा प्रकृति, अपरा प्रकृति meaning the सगुण स्वरूपम्, the nature of the Lord with attributes. Any personal God comes under अपरा प्रकृति because there is name and form. Even the विश्वरूप form of God will come under अपरा प्रकृति, because even the विश्वरूप consists of names and forms. So whatever consists of names and forms and whatever is subject to change will come under inferior nature, why, it is subject to time and change. And then what is परा प्रकृति, the higher nature of the Lord which is beyond time and space, which is the absolute nature, which is called चैतन्य स्वरूपम्, which is called परा प्रकृति. If you remember the 7th chapter, निर्गुण निर्विकार निर्विकल्प चेतन रूपम् परा प्रकृतिः. The higher nature is attributeless, changeless, divisionless, Consciousness is the higher nature of God. Then what is the lower nature, सगुण सविकार सविकल्प अचेतन स्वरूपम्, it is full of attributes, it is full of modifications, it is full of divisions and it is material in nature. And कृष्ण says: हे अर्जुन! In this chapter I am going to give you the knowledge of both अपरा and परा प्रकृति. And the knowledge of the higher nature of God is called विज्ञानम् and the knowledge of the lower nature of God is called ज्ञानम्. Therefore I am going to give you both ज्ञानम् and विज्ञानम्. So this itself indicates that this chapter is similar to 7th chapter, because the 7th chapter was titled, what is the name of the title (you should remember at least the title)? The 7th chapter is titled ज्ञान विज्ञानयोग, which means सगुण ईश्वर निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. And when you gain the knowledge of सगुण ईश्वर, you will be in the field of division or द्वैतम्. When you have got सगुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् certainly you will see the differences between ईश्वर and you, therefore always सगुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् will come under भेद ज्ञानम् or द्वैत ज्ञानम्. God is different, I am different; God is perfection, I am imperfection; God is great, I am miserable; this is always सगुण, whereas when a person comes to the higher nature of God, since there are no attributes at all there will be nothing to differentiate between

God and me. Therefore when I come to विज्ञानम्, it will be अभेद ज्ञानम् or अद्वैत ज्ञानम् and हे अर्जुन! I will give you both भेद and अभेद ज्ञानम्, I will give you both द्वैत and अद्वैत ज्ञानम्, both सगुण and निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, this is what I am going to impart to you. Therefore He says इदम् विज्ञान-सहितम् ज्ञानम् अहम् प्रवक्ष्यामि – I shall clearly teach you. कृष्ण is so confident of his teaching ability. He says I will teach nicely and don't worry. प्रवक्ष्यामि. And what is the glory of this teaching? Advertisement is required, only then people will get attracted, but it is not false advertisement but it is real glory, this is गुह्यतमम् – it is the rarest knowledge which you cannot ordinary get anywhere. In fact, very rarely people talk about ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, who is interested in ईश्वर. You know, once I was conducting classes in Govindappan Naikan street, I don't know whether you have gone to that area, some time I used to go early for the classes and then the place of classes will not be open. So therefore I have to stay somewhere. So I used to look for some place and anywhere you go it is crowded, even walking you will get into accidents between people and people. Then I found that there is one temple there and when I go to the temple, God alone, not a nestling is there. Huge temple, nobody there, everybody is busy running here and there, very interesting to watch, but you find nobody in the temple. So very rarely people are interested in talking about ईश्वर स्वरूपम् and even if there are people interested, they love only talking about सगुण ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, very rarely are people interested in the higher निर्गुण स्वरूपम्. And therefore कृष्ण says, this is the topmost secret, गुह्यतमम्, the greatest secret. And कृष्ण uses the word secret because, the moment you say secret, everybody is interested. So I am going to teach you free of cost, कृष्ण says. And not only it is the rarest and greatest knowledge, यत् ज्ञात्वा अशुभात् मोक्षयसे – it is not a mere study for the sake study, you get a lot of practical benefits out of this wisdom, because people always ask for practical benefits that is useful, please tell, because we cannot spend time on something which is worthless. Therefore कृष्ण gives a promise, यत् ज्ञात्वा – gaining this knowledge you will be released, मोक्षयसे from अशुभात्, अशुभम् means अमङ्गलम्. अमङ्गलम् means संसारः, you will be released from संसार, which consists of all kinds of psychological problems - राग-द्वेषः, काम-क्रोधः, लोभ-मोहः, मद-मात्सर्य, etc., Got over. So all kinds of agony, pain that you have, it will all go away, you will have a free life, which is called जीवनमुक्तिः you will get. That is the benefit of this knowledge. And why have I chosen you, Oh अर्जुन, because कृष्ण is voluntarily giving, there is no अर्जुन उवाच in this chapter. अर्जुन has not even asked, कृष्ण himself says, voluntarily I will teach you and कृष्ण gives you the reason, I choose you because: अनसूयवे ते अहम् वक्ष्यामि – you have got the rarest of quality which is required for a student and what is that quality, a non-critical approach, असूय means listening with a critical mind, exclusively to find fault or to test the teacher or to find out whether the teacher knows as much as I know, with different negative attitude one can listen, which I call intellectual arrogance, which is a very powerful weakness. If we have some intelligence and if we have read some scriptures there is a possibility of विद्या गर्वम्. We find even in उपनिषत् students, गार्ग्य in बृहदारण्यक उपनिषत्, a student is called दम्नबालाकिः, arrogant बालाकि is his title. So intellectual arrogance is a weakness people can easily develop and with that if I listen I will always find fault and who is going to be the loser, I am going to be the loser and therefore be intellectually humble. And even if you are not able to accept some part of the teaching, have a open mind and give the benefit of the doubt to शास्त्र and आचार्य and always think that I might not have understood properly, rather than saying scriptures are defective, question your understanding, not questioning the very teaching itself. It is a very important attitude called श्रद्धा, open mindedness. In 4th chapter, कृष्ण emphasized that, श्रद्धावान् लभते ज्ञानम् and अर्जुन you have got that attitude, therefore you are called

राजविद्या राजगुह्यं पवित्रमिदमुत्तमम् ।

प्रत्यक्षावगमं धर्म्यं सुसुखं कर्तुमव्ययम् ॥ १-२॥

राज-विद्या राज-गुह्यम् पवित्रम् इदम् उत्तमम् ।

प्रत्यक्षा-वगमम् धर्म्यम् सुसुखम् कर्तुम् अव्ययम् ॥ १-२॥

इदम् (ज्ञानं) राज-विद्या, राज-गुह्यम्, उत्तमम्, पवित्रम्, अव्ययम्, प्रत्यक्षा-वगमम्, कर्तुम् सुसुखम्, धर्म्यम् च (अस्ति)

कृष्ण continues with the glory of this knowledge. ज्ञान महिमा, ईश्वर ज्ञान महिमा is the topic continued here also, राज-विद्या, this knowledge, ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is the royal knowledge, it is greatest knowledge among all the disciplines of knowledge. In मुण्डकोपनिषत् it is called परा विद्या and why is it called राज-विद्या, you can give several reasons.

i) One is this is the knowledge with deals with the higher निर्गुण स्वरूपम्, which is the only reality or सत्यम्, whereas all other branches of knowledge deal with only the changing creation or even the changing aspect of the Lord, which comes under माया or मिथ्या. So therefore this knowledge deals with reality, all the other disciplines of knowledge deal with the unreal or मिथ्या, therefore this is glorious.

ii) And secondly, this is the only liberating knowledge which will give you fulfillment at all levels. Because we have sense of limitation at different levels.

➤ Physical sense of limitation, so not satisfied with my physical personality. And therefore constantly I have to do plastic surgery.

➤ Then there is dissatisfaction with my psychological personality. I am not loved by all people. I am not loved by this person, I am not cared for by anyone, my son doesn't respect, my daughter does not talk to me, these are psychological deprivations which will cause another set of problem. Even though physically I am comfortable, financially also comfortable, like a man came and told me – 'स्वामिजि, my children provide me everything, the moment I sneeze, they call doctor, such a wonderful children, everything I need is there, but my only complaint is: They don't spend some time talking to me.' It is a problem. So psychologically finding dissatisfied.

➤ Still there is greater dissatisfaction for the intellectual, an intellectual person wants to understand the creation in its totality. And there are many questions unanswered, even though he has studied a lot and therefore intellectual dissatisfaction is another sense of limitation. Generally it comes to the scientists only, we don't have such problem, where do we have time to think about how the world came, when did Big Bang happen, when did the first human being appear - 5 million years before or 6 million? We will say, what does it matter to me, when he came, who is interested in that, doesn't care, dinosaur existed or not, why did the dinosaur disappear. Is it because of change in climate or meteoric hit or what it is, big issue, we don't know such thing exists or not. So for a rational person, sense of limitation at intellectual level.

वेदान्त is one wisdom which destroys the limitations at all the levels. Emotional problems also it solves, intellectual problems also it solves. That is why in the 7th chapter, He said

यत् ज्ञात्वा न इह भूयः अन्यत् ज्ञातव्यम् अवशिष्यते ॥ ७-२॥

You don't have anything to know further for intellectual satisfaction, it gives total intellectual satisfaction also and therefore it is greatest knowledge, राज-विद्या and at the same time it is राज-गुह्यम्, it is the greatest secret. Not easily available,

श्रवणायापि बहुश्रुतार्यो न लभ्यः शृण्वन्तोपि बहवो यम् न विद्युः ।

आश्चर्यो वक्ता कुशलोस्य लब्धाश्चर्यो ज्ञाता कुशलानुशिष्टः॥ कठोपनिषत्
१-२-७ ॥

In the 2nd chapter, we saw,

आश्चर्यवत् पश्यति कश्चित् एनम् आश्चर्यवत् वदति तथा एव च अन्यः ।

आश्चर्यवत् च एनम् अन्यः शृणोति श्रुत्वा अपि एनम् वेद न च एव कश्चित् ॥ २-२९॥

This teaching is not available for most of the people and it is a great wonder, व्यासाचार्य says greater wonder is in spite of learning for 25 years, there are many people who manage not to understand. Still greater wonder, I didn't say that, व्यासाचार्य says: श्रुत्वा अपि एनम्, it continues to be a secret even after study, so what more greater secret you want. Therefore राज-गुह्यम्, गुह्यनाम् राज राज-गुह्यम्. In संस्कृत it is a special kind of compound, called राज-दन्तादि compound, गुह्यनाम् राज राज-गुह्यम्, विद्यानाम् राज राज-विद्या. Then what is the next glory of this wisdom, पवित्रम् – it is the greatest purifier in the creation which removes all the impurities in the form of कर्मs, सञ्चित, आगामि कर्मs, impurities in the form of कर्म which means पुण्य-पाप कर्माणि and impurities in the form of राग-द्वेषः काम-क्रोध, the psychological impurities and the worst impurity called ignorance, अज्ञानम्, all the impurities it destroys and therefore it is पवित्रम्. In the 4th chapter, कृष्ण said,

न हि ज्ञानेन सदृशम् पवित्रम् इह विद्यते । ॥ ४-३८॥

And therefore it is not ordinary purifier, उत्तमम् पवित्रम् – it is the greatest purifier. Because once we use this method of purification the advantage is not only the present impurities will go away, but in future we will not acquire impurity, whereas if you go and take a गङ्गा स्नानम् you will remove all impurities, but it doesn't guarantee freedom from future impurities. So after गङ्गा स्नानम् you start acquiring fresh ones, from the गङ्गा banks itself, whereas this knowledge not only removes past impurities and it is a guarantee against future impurities also. Therefore उत्तमम् पवित्रम् it is. And प्रत्यक्ष-अवगमम् – and it is available directly here and now. It is not a promise after death which is the most disadvantageous thing because you cannot verify, how will I know, I can always get away, guarantee anything and get away this is not like that, प्रत्यक्ष-अवगमम् means it is directly experienceable, the benefit can be experienced here and now, मनः शान्ति can be experienced here and now. Therefore प्रत्यक्ष-अवगमम् Then धर्म्यम् – it is in keeping with वैदिक teaching. So this is important because in our tradition we always consider वेद as the basic source of knowledge and therefore always any system of teaching, which is in keeping with the वैदिक teaching is acceptable in our tradition we will call it स्मृति, but if anything is not in keeping with वैदिक tradition we will find that it cannot survive in India. Just take Buddhism as an example, बुद्ध is considered one of the greatest human being, everybody glorified and he has done so much, in spite of all his glories one minus point was there basic, what is that: he rejected the वेदs, बौद्ध दर्शनम् is called नास्तिक दर्शनम् and in our tradition, नास्तिक means not non-believer of God, नास्तिक means non-believer of the वेदs, because of this one basic mistake Buddhism however great it was, could not survive here. It just spread and grew everywhere else, but here in the very source, birthplace, it is not able to survive, वेद विरुद्धत्वात् and now-a-days people do not know the importance of वेद, but when कृष्ण is teaching अर्जुन, that was a very important condition, it must be वैदिक and therefore कृष्ण is afraid and even कृष्ण's teaching will be acceptable, in spite of कृष्ण being अवतार the teaching will be acceptable only if it is in keeping with वैदिक tradition. That is why in the 4th chapter beginning कृष्ण tells

इमं विवस्वते योगं प्रोक्तवानहमव्ययम् । विवस्वान्मनवे प्राह मनुरिक्ष्वाकवेऽब्रवीत् ॥ ४-१॥

एवं परम्पराप्राप्तमिमं राजर्षयो विदुः । स कालेनेह महता योगो नष्टः परन्तप ॥ ४-२॥

स एवायं मया तेऽद्य ॥ ४-३॥

कृष्ण doesn't claim originality of his teaching, He says अर्जुन you accept my teaching not because I am an अवतार. Even अवतार's status is not a criterion, कृष्ण says it is because it is in keeping with the वैदिक teaching. Because बुद्ध himself is accepted by many people as one of the अवतारs, बुद्ध शरीर जय जगदीश हरे, you have heard that, but even though बुद्ध is accepted as an अवतार, if the teaching is not in keeping with the श्रुति, युक्ति and अनुभव, in India it cannot survive. And कृष्ण knows that, therefore He says: धर्म्यम्, धर्मः means वैदिक teaching,

चोदनालक्षणोऽर्थो धर्मः ॥ जैमिनी सूत्र १-१-२॥

the definition of धर्म is वैदिक teaching. And धर्म्यम् means in keeping with वैदिक teaching. धर्मात् अनपेतम् धर्म्यम्, वैदिकम् इत्यर्थः. Therefore अर्जुन, it is in keeping with the वेदs. And सुसुखम् कर्तुम् – gaining this knowledge and the जीवन्मुक्ति is far easier, सुखम् means what comfortable, सुसुखम्, very comfortable, you can get निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् and जीवन्मुक्ति more comfortably than क्रममुक्ति, because for क्रममुक्ति what are the rules to be followed, do you remember the 8th chapter, not only you have to do उपासना throughout, with consistently, more importantly at the time of death you have to sit in proper position (now itself it is difficult, you are not able to sit properly) at the time of death you have to sit, मूर्ध्नि आधाय प्राणम्, you have to withdraw all the प्राणs and sense organs and bring it to the heart and then you have to force it through the सुषुम्णा नाडि and carefully release it through ब्रह्म-रन्ध्रम् and hope that there are no traffic jam in शुक्ल गति and then you go to ब्रह्मलोक and there also you have to attend these classes, you cannot help, so क्रममुक्ति is really tough. Compared to क्रममुक्ति which is more difficult and unpredictable and ज्ञानम् and जीवन्मुक्ति is easier and you can get the benefit here. And therefore कृष्ण says, सुसुखम्, compared to क्रममुक्ति, जीवन्मुक्ति is far easier. And then finally अव्ययम् – this knowledge is imperishable in terms of its result, फल दृष्ट्या अव्ययम्, which means one will get the benefit of मोक्ष which is permanent benefit unlike attaining higher लोकs, higher लोकs is also a फलम्, but it is not अव्ययम्, it is not inexhaustible, it is व्ययम् only. Means what: after exhausting the कर्म-फलम्,

ते तं भुक्त्वा स्वर्गलोकं विशालं क्षीणे पुण्ये मर्त्यलोकं विशन्ति । ॥ ९-२१॥

We are going to see in this chapter. Like a meteor he will land in lower लोकs. And therefore, कर्तुम् सुसुखम् अव्ययम्, such a wonderful ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, अर्जुन I am going to be impart may you listen carefully. All to turn the attention of the seeker. Like a magician, he will not do the magic immediately, he will come with a lot of dress and remove one by one and then dance, there will be lot of music and then only from the cap he will start taking clothes from the hat, lot of show, कृष्ण is also a master magician, He gives a lot of introduction for this knowledge.

अश्रद्धधानाः पुरुषा धर्मस्यास्य परन्तप ।

अप्राप्य मां निवर्तन्ते मृत्युसंसारवर्त्मनि ॥ ९-३॥

अश्रद्धधानाः पुरुषाः धर्मस्य अस्य परन्तप ।

अप्राप्य माम् निवर्तन्ते मृत्यु-संसार-वर्त्मनि ॥ ९-३॥

हे परन्तप! अस्य धर्मस्य अश्रद्धधानाः पुरुषाः माम् अप्राप्य मृत्यु-संसार-वर्त्मनि निवर्तन्ते ।

कृष्ण says that in spite of all the glorification that I have done and also all the glorification of this wisdom obtaining in the scriptures themselves, unfortunately, many people do not resort to this ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. Even though it is greatest and even though it is freely available in most of the places, in many आश्रमs, in many institutions it is given free, whereas any other course, Java, whether Java or Sumatra whatever it might be, two hours a week, two months course, Rs.60,000 big queue is there still. कृष्ण says this is the greatest wisdom and easily available and gives highest joy and security, but still many people do not vote for this, why because, they are not able to trust this, because something is so cheaply given, you wonder, like somebody told, स्वामिजि if a boy is willing to get married without dowry, suppose, then everybody begins to wonder and thinks, there must be some problem I think, or else how can a boy is so cheaply available, therefore there must be some defect and they reject him. Similarly, when you promise the highest benefit and they think there must be something fishy here and therefore they don't want to trust this, therefore He says पुरुषाः अश्रद्धाः – many people do not have श्रद्धा in the efficacy of this teaching. So धर्मस्य अस्य, here धर्म means what: this teaching, ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, very careful, here the word धर्म does not mean धर्म-अर्थ-काम, it doesn't refer to पुण्य also, in this context धर्म means Vedantic teaching, ब्रह्मविद्या is called धर्मः, ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is called धर्म and many people do not have faith in the efficacy of this teaching. And what is going to happen to them. So कृष्ण sympathizes with them, He says, all such people अप्राप्य माम् – they lose the opportunity to attain Me, they miss Me which is the infinite आनन्द, I am infinite आनन्द, infinite security, I am infinite itself, they lose the opportunity to attain Me, that is मोक्ष, they miss.

इह चेदवेदीदथ सत्यमस्ति न वेदिहावेदीन्महती विनष्टिः । ॥ केनोपनिषत् २-७ ॥

The loss of the Infinite is infinite loss. And then suppose you say next birth, after all I am a Hindu, therefore I have got a next birth and therefore I can do that there, you know we are experts in postponing, so we say: 'if I miss out in this life, I don't know what sort of a life I will have.' How do you know that your next जन्म is going to be a मनुष्य

जन्म and how do you that you will get all the opportunity to learn and therefore they miss a rare opportunity. And then what is going to be their lot, निवर्तन्ते, निवर्तन्ते means निश्चयेन वर्तन्ते, they will definitely continue. In this context, निवर्तन्ते means निश्चयेन वर्तन्ते. Normally निवर्तन्ते, they return, here it does not mean return, here it means “continued existence” in मृत्यु-संसार-वर्त्मनि – they remain in the course of संसार, which is nothing but पुनरपि जननम्, पुनरपि मरणम्, acquiring things and losing things and again acquiring and again losing this eternal struggle, ‘Neither end for troubles nor for journey’, they continue. So मृत्यु-संसार-वर्त्मनि, मृत्यु-संसारः means a संसार which consists of मृत्यु as the main problem. मृत्युयुक्तः संसारः मृत्यु-संसारः, संसार has many problems, many problems means disease, decay, separation, loss, so many other things are there, but what is the worst problem in संसार, मृत्यु, mortality is the greatest source of fear, that is why whenever we want to talk about fear, we say he is mortally afraid, so which is a permanent sense of insecurity throughout the life, in such an insecure life he continues as a result of this. Continuing;

मया ततमिदं सर्वं जगदव्यक्तमूर्तिना ।

मत्स्थानि सर्वभूतानि न चाहं तेष्ववस्थितः ॥ ९-४॥

मया ततम् इदम् सर्वम् जगत् अव्यक्त-मूर्तिना ।

मत्-स्थानि सर्व-भूतानि न च अहम् तेषु अवस्थितः ॥ ९-४॥

अव्यक्त-मूर्तिना मया इदम् सर्वम् जगत् ततम् । सर्व-भूतानि मत्-स्थानि (सन्ति), अहम् च तेषु न अवस्थितः (अस्मि)।

With the previous verse, the introduction part is over. And in the introduction, कृष्ण introduced the subject matter, namely ईश्वर ज्ञानम् and he talked about the glory of this knowledge. And he also talked about the most important qualification, viz., श्रद्धा or अनसूय. That alone in तमिळ् they write अनुसूया and keep the name अनसूया, not अनुसूया, it is अनसूया, अनसूया is अत्रि's wife. And why अत्रि has got अनसूया, अत्रिः means न विद्यते त्रिः यस्य, the one who has transcended the three. What are the three, स्थूल, सूक्ष्म, कारण शरीर त्रयम्, the one who has transcended or you can say सत्त्व, रजस् and तमोगुण the one who has transcended, he will never have the problem of असूया. So, whoever is अत्रि, his wife will be अनसूया, that is the symbolic significance अत्रि and अनसूया. Anyway that is aside and incidental. Having introduced the subject matter, कृष्ण enters the subject matter from the 4th verse and this is the central theme of the 9th chapter, which begins with the 4th verse and it goes up to 10th; 4th to the 10th is the main topic of the 9th chapter. In fact, one of the important portions of the entire गीता, which contains the essence all the उपनिषत्s. So कृष्ण wants to talk about the nature of God, especially the higher nature of God. So the first definition of the higher nature of God: परा प्रकृति is अव्यक्त मूर्तिः ईश्वरः, God in his higher nature is attributeless or formless. The word व्यक्तम् means इन्द्रिय गोचरम्, इन्द्रियैः व्यज्यते इति व्यक्तम्, derived from the root √व्यञ्ज् to be revealed, व्यक्तम् means that which is perceptible to any one of the sense organs, इन्द्रिय गोचरम् and अव्यक्तम् means अनिन्द्रिय गोचरम्, which means not perceptible to any sense organs, if the object has got the property of the sound then it is perceptible to the sense organs, viz., the ears, if there is स्पर्श गुण it can be known through the skin, if there is रूप गुण it is perceptible to the eyes, if there is the रस गुण then it is perceptible to the tongue, if it has got गन्ध गुण it is perceptible to the nose; Lord in his higher nature is not perceptible to any sense organs means अशब्द, अस्पर्शम्, is the Lord. If you remember कठोपनिषत् (१-३-१५),

अशब्दम् अस्पर्शम् अरूपम् अव्ययम् तथा अरसं नित्यम् अगन्धवत् च यत्

अनाद्य अनन्तम् महतः परं ध्रुवं निचास्य तम् मृत्यु-मुखात् प्रमुच्यते ॥

Lord is free from all attributes, which means if you have experienced God in any particular form then it is only the lower nature of the God, कृष्ण मूर्ति, राम मूर्ति etc., means what: a form which has got dark color, कृष्ण मूर्ति means a form which is dark, कृष्ण was dark and द्रौपदी is also called कृष्णा means dark, that means what: there is a रूपम् for the Lord. That is why it was said in केनोपनिषत्, if you have experienced God as an object it is only lower form of God, it is certainly God, that दर्शनम् is indeed great and that भक्त is to be congratulated, but still from Vedantic angle, if you had दर्शनम् of God then it is not the real one, because केनोपनिषत् says, नेदम् यदिदमुपासते ॥१-७॥ Then how do you experience the higher God? Higher God is not an object of experience, because it is free from all the attributes. Therefore what is the first feature of ईश्वर, अव्यक्त रूपः. And once you understand that the Lord is formless where will he be located? You cannot have location. When will that Lord come? That Lord can never come, that Lord can never go also, therefore in our पूजा, what we do,

अस्मिन् हरिद्राबिम्बे श्रीमहागणपति ध्यायामि । आवाहयामि ॥

I invite the God and at the end of the पूजा, ruthlessly, यथा स्थानम् प्रतिष्ठापयामि. I cannot do permanent पूजा and all, one time I can give नैवेद्यम् and then I ask Him to go back, so all these things are possible with regard to finite, personal आया-राम गया-राम God. Certainly it is perfectly OK, to start with such ईश्वर, but that cannot be the ultimate one, the ultimate is discovery of a Lord who can never come and who can never go and once I discover that God, there is no question of losing that God. भगवान् will leave me - that thought or fear is not there, there is no विरह गीतम् also, विरह गीतम् means what: भगवान् has left me, one गोपी cries, because भगवान् went to other गोपीs, all these things are not there. That is higher nature of God, अव्यक्तम्. And the next glory or feature of that God is therefore only इदम् सर्वम् ततम् – all-pervading, ततम् means व्याप्तम्, सर्वम् व्यापकम्, the first feature is निर्गुणम्, the second feature is सर्वम् व्यापकम्, निर्गुणम् is here called अव्यक्तम् and सर्वम् व्यापकम् is here referred to as ततम्, तन् to pervade, तजोति, to pervade, from that only सन्तति word has come, सन्तति, that is which is flowing, परम्परा, to pervade or to flow, this is the second feature. Then कृष्ण introduces one more feature in the second line, which we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय
पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 09, VERSES 04-08

In the first three verses of the 9th chapter, Lord कृष्ण introduced the subject matter, viz., ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. This is one of the themes of the middle sections of the गीता. In the first six chapters, कृष्ण focused on जीव स्वरूपम् and from the 7th to 12th chapters, कृष्ण is focusing on ईश्वर स्वरूपम्. And while talking about the nature of ईश्वर, कृष्ण wants to deal with the higher nature of the Lord, which was called in the 7th chapter परा प्रकृति, as well as the lower nature of the Lord known as अपरा प्रकृति. By higher nature what we mean is that which is beyond the conditionings of time and space. So that which is the absolute principle, which is the relative empirical world and therefore that which is not subject to time and space and therefore consequently not subject to division, change, etc. So divisionless, changeless, timeless, spaceless, absolute form of God. And by the lower nature what we mean is that which is within time and space, and therefore which is empirical in nature and therefore which is subject to division, change, etc. In the Upanishadic text books, the higher nature of God is called ब्रह्मन् and the lower nature of God is called माया. So here we get both the topic of ब्रह्म स्वरूपम्, which is the higher nature and माया स्वरूपम्, which is lower nature and the knowledge of the higher nature is called विज्ञानम् and the knowledge of the lower nature is called ज्ञानम्. कृष्ण say I will deal with ज्ञानम् and विज्ञानम्. And having introduced both, कृष्ण is initially dealing with the higher nature, which was called परा प्रकृति in the 7th chapter and which is called ब्रह्मन् in the उपनिषत्स. And therefore these verses from the 4th verse up to 10th verse, we get a description of ब्रह्म स्वरूपम् and therefore this is the essence of all the उपनिषत्स and कृष्ण condenses in these seven verses.

- i) And in the 4th verse, which we completed in the last class, कृष्ण said the higher nature of God is formless, अव्यक्त मूर्ति means formless, literally speaking it means not available for any sense organs.

इन्द्रियैः न अभिव्यज्यते इति अव्यक्तम्, that which is not revealed by sense organs, which means it doesn't have any properties which is perceptible through the sense organs, like शब्द, स्पर्श, रूप, रस and गन्ध. If the property of sound is there it will be available for the ears, if the property of touch is there it will be available for the skin and if there is the property of रूपम् or आकार, eyes can see, शब्द स्पर्श रूप रस, if रस गुण taste is there it will be accessible to the organ of tongue and if there is any fragrance, smell to the higher Lord, you can feel the fragrance wafting, coming from the Lord. By using the word अव्यक्तम्, कृष्ण says the higher nature of the God is beyond all the properties, शब्द, स्पर्श, रूप, रस, गन्ध रहितम्. But for our simple understanding we will present formless.

ii) Then the second feature of the higher nature or ब्रह्मन् that कृष्ण highlighted in the 4th verse is ततम्, ततम् means सर्वगतम्, तन् means to pervade or spread, ततम् is the past participle form of that, it is pervaded all over, सर्व गतम्, which means it doesn't have any spatial limitation which is a natural consequence of अव्यक्तम्, because in the previous description कृष्ण had said that the higher nature doesn't have a form, if there is no form it means there is no boundary. To have a form is to have a boundary, because the form is determined by what? The boundaries only. So whether this hall is a square or a rectangle, how do you decide, the moment I ask whether it is a square or rectangle, immediately you will look at the boundaries of the hall, because the boundaries determine what form is. Since भगवान् is formless, it means भगवान् is boundless and therefore भगवान् is all-pervading. Therefore if somebody asks, is the Lord in वैकुण्ठ or कैलास, what should be our answer, what should be answer, you can certainly say Lord is in वैकुण्ठ, but if you stop with that it will be a wrong statement, because if you say Lord is in वैकुण्ठ, you are automatically excluding the भूलोक. Therefore you have to refine that statement. You cannot say Lord is not in वैकुण्ठ, that is also wrong, what should you say, Lord is in वैकुण्ठ also. Add an expression “also”, which means Lord is everywhere and therefore Lord is here and now you need not travel to reach the Lord. You need not travel to merge with the Lord, if at all there is a merger it is only the wisdom that the Lord is never away from me. So in वेदान्त, merger is the wisdom that the Lord is never away. Dropping the notion of division is merger. Why, because Lord is ततम्, ततम् means व्याप्तम्. This is the second feature we saw.

iii) And the third feature that कृष्ण says here is मत्-स्थानि सर्व-भूतानि न च अहम् तेषु अवस्थितः – the whole world is resting in Me. सर्व-भूतानि – all the things and beings, they are all मत्-स्थानि – they are resting in Me, I am विश्वाधारः, That is why

शान्ताकारम् भुजगशयनम् पद्मनाभम् सुरेशम् विश्वाधारम् गगनसदृशम्

In one श्लोक itself you can see: भुजगशयनम् when you say: Lord is located in a place, भुजगशयनम् दयानन्द स्वामिजि says, the first spring cot in the world, coiled serpent is what: spring cot. So you have located the Lord in a particular place, that भुजग is called is milky ocean that is for the beginner student, LKG students. For the advanced student the second line gives a description, विश्वाधारम्. You see the reverse, previously we said snake is the आधार for the Lord, भुजगशयनम् means the Lord is lying on the snake, snake is the आधार, the support in the first line, in the second line it says, विश्वाधारम्. In fact, a snake does not support the Lord, the truth is that the Lord is not supporting the snake alone, the Lord is supporting the whole creation. And therefore where is the Lord, गगनसदृशम्, he must be all-pervading. That is beautifully presented here, मत्-स्थानि सर्व-भूतानि – I am the supporter of the universe. At the same time, न च अहम् तेषु अवस्थितः – I am not supported by the world; I am ever the supporter, I am never the supported. So I am supportless supporter of the whole universe. Therefore the third feature of the higher nature of God is जगत् आधारः or जगत् अधिष्ठानम्. What are the previous two things, the Lord is formless, No.1, Lord is all-pervading No.2. Lord is the support of all this is the third feature of ब्रह्मन्. Continuing; Verse no. 5;

Verse No .05

न च मत्स्थानि भूतानि पश्य मे योगमैश्वरम् ।

भूतभृन्न च भूतस्थो ममात्मा भूतभावनः ॥ ९-५॥

न च मत्-स्थानि भूतानि पश्य मे योगम् ऐश्वरम् ।

भूत-भृत् न च भूत-स्थः मम आत्मा भूत-भावनः ॥ ९-५॥

भूतानि च मत्-स्थानि न (सन्ति), मे ऐश्वरम् योगम् पश्य । (अहम्) भूत-भृत् (अपि) भूत-स्थः न । मम आत्मा च भूत-भावनः (अस्ति) ।

कृष्ण says here, भूतानि न मत्-स्थानि – In fact, the world or the beings do not rest in Me. So the beings do not rest in me, they are not in Me at all. So this is one of the problematic lines here, because कृष्ण is straightaway contradicting what He said in the previous verse. What did He say in the previous verse? You don't have sufficient time for forgetting, just now I told you. So if there is a contradiction between two chapters, you may not feel, because when you study the first chapter you don't know second and when you study the second, generally first is forgotten, therefore no contradiction is felt. In fact, गीता has several such seeming contradictory lines, but this is the most unique seeming contradiction because, they are placed very close, in the previous श्लोक not even first line, second line, even that much time is not given, in the previous श्लोक second line कृष्ण said: All beings are in Me. In this श्लोक first line He says: all beings are not in Me. How do you account for this? So this is a big problem for all the commentators who analyze the गीता and several people try to explain this in several ways, you cannot say कृष्ण is contracting, that means कृष्ण will become a bad teacher, a thinking person will not do contradiction. Therefore शङ्कराचार्य beautifully resolves the contradiction. Suppose you say there is a thing existent, so X is existent there and in the next moment he says X is not existent there, both are statements coming from the intelligent person, therefore you have to accommodate both statements, you cannot reject one and accept the other, because both are coming from the Lord himself. शङ्कराचार्य says only one way, what is that between these two statements. X is existent also must be validated. X is non-existent also must be validated. How do you validate both? शङ्कराचार्य says X is seemingly existent. So X is seemingly existent. That means what: from one angle it is existent, because for appearance it is very much there and therefore you have to accept the existence but on closer enquiry, you find that it has got only seeming existence and therefore you say it is nonexistent. Therefore anything, apparently existent or anything seemingly existent will come under this in between category. And what do you mean by in between category? From one angle it seems to exist, but from another angle it is really nonexistent. And do we have such cases? You have plenty. So give me one example. You can give several example, one example is our own dream experience. If somebody asks, dream is existent or non-existent, you will have to give the answer, it is existent first, why, because you have experienced the dream intimately. And at the time of the experience of the dream it was very very tangibly, frighteningly, nightmarishly real. And that is why you go to bed also after doing the prayer, what prayer, दुःस्वप्न, दुःशकुन, etc., we have wonderful prayers, because when you have nightmarish dream it is capable of frightening you. Therefore it is there or not, it is there enough to frighten you and especially when you are actually in dream. So from dreamer's angle it is existent, but when you wake up and start looking at the dream from a higher standpoint, who is the higher one, the waker, from dreamer standpoint it is frighteningly real or happily real, (may be good one) and when you wake up to your real nature, you know that whatever you dreamt did not really exist at all, there was no object other than your own thought. So the tiger you dreamt in dream is nothing but a thought in your mind, there was no external object. And therefore dream is there or not, from dreamer's angle it is there, from waker's angle it is not there; from a lower order of reality it is there, from a higher order of reality it is not there and this unique thing is called in वेदान्त, मिथ्या. मिथ्या means experientially available, but factually non-existent. Anything experientially available, apparently available, capable of invoking responses from you, but at the time factually on waking from a higher angle it is not there. Such a thing is called seemingly existent, in वेदान्त, it is defined as सदसदभ्याम् अनिर्वचनीयम्. You cannot say it is there, you cannot say it is not there also, you cannot say it is not there because it frightens you, you cannot say it is, because when you wake up it is not seen. Otherwise all the lottery you won or the 'Who Will Become A Millionaire!' contest you won, in dream, that money will be available for you on waking, it doesn't give you benefit, bank balance remain the same, but in dream it gave you enough happiness. Therefore that which has got an existence of a lower order of reality is called मिथ्या. Therefore by accepting the universe and rejecting the universe, कृष्ण is pointing out that world does exist, but it has got a lower order of reality, from this body standpoint the world is existent, but from ब्रह्मन्'s standpoint the world is non-existent and this is called मिथ्या जगत् and who is the Lord or ब्रह्मन्? ब्रह्मन् is the support of this मिथ्या जगत् and therefore ब्रह्मन् or the higher nature of God is called मिथ्या जगत् अधिष्ठानम्. Do you feel familiar, मिथ्या जगत् अधिष्ठान. So in ललितासहस्रनाम, one of the नाम is मिथ्या जगत् अधिष्ठानम्. मिथ्या does not mean it is not there, मिथ्या does not mean it is there, मिथ्या means it is अनिर्वचनीयम्. So therefore कृष्ण says न च मत्-स्थानि भूतानि पश्य मे योगम् ऐश्वरम् – may you appreciate my higher योग. And what is my higher योग, my higher nature? In वेदान्त, the higher order of reality is called पारमार्थिक सत्यम्, the worldly order of reality is called व्यावहारिक सत्यम्, empirical reality is non-existent from the standpoint of the absolute reality, this is वेदान्त, empirical reality is not nonexistent from the standpoint of absolute reality, empirical reality is existent from the standpoint of the ordinary worldly perception. And therefore this is My higher nature, may you recognize ब्रह्म सत्यम् जगत् मिथ्या, Vedantic essence कृष्ण gives here. Not only that, this is the third feature, so I am formless, I am all-pervading, I am the substratum of the मिथ्या universe.

iv) Then what is the fourth feature: कृष्ण says: मम आत्मा भूत-भावनः भूत-भृत् – I am the सृष्टि, स्थिति, लय कारणम् of this entire universe, such as the waker is the सृष्टि, स्थिति, लय कारणम् of the dream world. The dream world comes out of me and the irony is I create the dream world and who is frightened and I myself get frightened. I saw the hollow man, you know the movie: I didn't see it and the hollow man is imprinted in the mind and in the dream from the hollow of the head, hollow man comes and frightens me and it becomes my Frankenstein. And then when I wake up what happens to the dream world, where does it go, does the tiger run away to the forest, No, the entire dream world is resolved into the waker. In the same way, कृष्ण says, this universe is like a dream from the stand point of ब्रह्मन् or the higher nature of God and from that Lord the universe rises like dream, exist like dream and resolves like dream. Therefore मम आत्मा, आत्मा here means higher nature, परा प्रकृतिः is भूत-भावनः, भावनः is सृष्टि कारणम्, भावयति उपादयति इति भावनः, भूत means what: the entire creation. So I am the सृष्टि कर्ता. And not only that, भूत-भृत्, भृत् means the स्थिति कर्ता. Just as the waker is the supporter of the dream world. You cannot say, let the dream world continue, I will wake up, go to the office and come back and continue the dream. No, once you wake up the dream world cannot be sustained. Therefore you project, you support, Similarly, ब्रह्मन् projects, ब्रह्मन् supports:

यतो वा इमानि भूतानि जायन्ते । येन जातानि जीवन्ति ।

यत् प्रयन्त्यभिसंविशन्ति । तद्विजिज्ञासस्व । तद् ब्रह्मेति । ॥
तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् ३-१-३ ॥

That Upanishadic idea is revealed, I am the स्थिति कारणम्, भूत-भूत् is equal to स्थिति कारणम्. Then you have to supply the third one, not only I am the सृष्टि कारणम् and the स्थिति कारणम्, I am also the लय कारणम्, I swallow the whole universe, including time and space.

यस्य ब्रह्म च क्षत्रम् च उभे भवत ओदनः। मृत्युः यस्य उपसेवनम् क इत्था वेद यत्र सः ॥ १-२-२७ ॥

We saw in कठोपनिषत्, I swallow everything, including time and space, that is why the Lord is beyond time and space. If the Lord is within time and space, Lord cannot swallow the time. Time will have swallowed the Lord. But now Lord can swallow time, because Lord is beyond time therefore I am लय कारणम् च, at the same time न भूत-स्थः – I am the supporter of the creation but I am not supported by the creation, न च भूत-स्थः means I don't depend on the world, that means the world cannot exist without me and I cannot (you cannot say) I can exist without the world. That is the definition of the सत्यम्. सत्यम् can exist without मिथ्या, मिथ्या cannot exist without सत्यम्. Dream cannot exist without waker suppose you say, waker cannot exist without dream, then all the time you will be dreaming. What will happen to me, you will be all be dreaming and you will be in your dream world. So it will be pitiable condition for me. You exist without dream, but dream cannot exist without you. Lord can exist without the world, world cannot exist without the Lord. This is called सत्य-मिथ्या संबन्धः, अधिष्ठान-अध्यास संबन्धः in the Upanishadic literature. Continuing;

यथाकाशस्थितो नित्यं वायुः सर्वत्रगो महान् ।

तथा सर्वाणि भूतानि मत्स्थानीत्युपधारय ॥ ३-६॥

यथा आकाश-स्थितः नित्यम् वायुः सर्वत्रगः महान् ।

तथा सर्वाणि भूतानि मत्-स्थानि इति उपधारय ॥ ३-६॥

यथा सर्वत्रगः महान् वायुः नित्यम् आकाश-स्थितः (अस्ति), तथा सर्वाणि भूतानि मत्-स्थानि (सन्ति), इति (त्वं) उपधारय ।

So in this कृष्ण introduces the fifth feature of the Lord or ब्रह्मन् and

v) The fifth feature introduced here is असङ्गत्वम् – unsullied nature, untainted nature. So the idea is, in the previous verse कृष्ण had said I support the whole universe, the universe is resting in me. So naturally one will wonder, if the Lord is associated with the universe and the universe is upon the Lord, whatever impurities and defects are there in the world it may affect the Lord. Suppose a dirty object is kept on your lap, you have got a fresh new dress. Will you like to keep it, you won't. Why because if your dress is going to support an impure object, the impure object will sully you. So naturally we will have a doubt, भगवान् is holding the entire creation which is full of all problems, so many people are there, with defects पुण्यम् पापम् and all those things, will it not affect the poor Lord? कृष्ण says, that is not the case. I accommodate everything but I am not tainted by anything. This nature is called असङ्गत्वम् and what is the example, कृष्ण gives the example of आकाश, it is a beautiful example, आकाश or space is the nearest example for ब्रह्मन्. Space also is formless, the real ईश्वर is also formless; space is also all-pervading, the real ईश्वर, by 'real' what I mean is the higher nature of Lord, is also all-pervading; space accommodates everything, everything is in space. Similarly, the Lord accommodates everything. Fourthly, even though space accommodates everything, space is not burned by fire, wet by water,

अच्छेद्यः अयम् अदाह्यः अयम् अवलेद्यः अशोष्यः ॥ २-२४॥

You cannot cut space, you cannot burn space even though fire is in space. So this nature of space is called असङ्गत्वम्. Similarly, the Lord accommodates everything including all अक्रमम्s that are going in the world, but Lord is not tainted by क्रमम् and अक्रमम्. That is what we saw in कठोपनिषत्,

अन्यत्र धर्मात् अन्यत्र अधर्मात् अन्यत्र अस्मात् कृतं अकृतात् । १-२-१४ ॥

So the goodness of the world also does not get associated with the Lord, the badness of the world also. Therefore the Lord is good or bad - if asked what is the answer we should give? Normally we tend to say the Lord is good, but कृष्ण here says, the real God is beyond good and bad, because good and bad belongs to the relative empirical world in which pairs of opposites are there. If Lord comes within the pairs of opposites, Lord will again be within the empirical world of time and space. And therefore here कृष्ण says I am neither beautiful nor ugly, neither good or bad, neither पुण्यवान् or पापवान्, who am I, beyond द्रन्दातीतम् गगनसदृशम्. And therefore, He gives the आकाश example. वायुः आकाश-स्थितः – the space accommodates वायु तत्त्वम् or wind, of course the spaces accommodates everything, but कृष्ण takes wind, वायुः and what type of वायुः, in some places वायु is fragrant वायु coming from some place where incense stick is kept and then there is वायु coming from Coovam river, wafting. So it is दुर्गन्ध वायुः, सुगन्ध वायुः, this is the nature of वायुः, आकाश accommodates सुगन्ध वायुः as well as दुर्गन्ध वायुः, foul smelling as well as fragrances, but आकाश doesn't become either सुगन्ध or दुर्गन्ध. If आकाश becomes सुगन्ध or दुर्गन्ध, whenever you come to that place you will get, is it not, both of them belong to वायु but not to आकाश, therefore He says: वायुः आकाश-स्थितः – वायुः is located in space, नित्यम् – always and not only that सर्वत्रगः – वायुः moves everywhere, महान् – being vast or great. But in spite of वायुः moving with good and bad smell आकाश is असङ्गः, तथा – in the same way, सर्वाणि भूतानि मत्-स्थानि – so good people also are there, bad people also are there, good smells, bad smells, everything, but I am not affected, मत्-स्थानि इति उपधारय – may you ascertain this, may you be convinced of this. सर्वभूतानि कौन्तेय प्रकृतिं यान्ति मामिकाम् ।

कल्पक्षये पुनस्तानि कल्पादौ विसृजाम्यहम् ॥ ९-७॥

सर्व-भूतानि कौन्तेय प्रकृतिम् यान्ति मामिकाम् ।

कल्प-क्षये पुनः तानि कल्प-आदौ विसृजामि अहम् ॥ ९-७॥

हे कौन्तेय! सर्व-भूतानि कल्प-क्षये मामिकाम् प्रकृतिम् यान्ति । पुनः कल्प-आदौ तानि विसृजामि ।

In the fifth verse, कृष्ण had pointed out that the Lord or He is सृष्टि स्थिति तय कारणम् of this entire universe. That is given further explanation in these two verses. So seven and eight is the explanation of जगत् कारणत्वम् of ब्रह्मन्, how does the Lord create? So here कृष्ण says, before I create this universe, the universe was already existent in me in unmanifest form or potential form, because nothing can be newly created. According to the law of conservation of matter and energy, nothing can be newly created, even an ounce of matter cannot be created by anyone including God. Even though God is omnipotent, even an ounce of matter cannot be created. Therefore God says, I don't create a world at all, the world was already existent in me. But only difference is what, not in this unfolded manner, the world was existent in seed form, potential form, unmanifest form, just as a huge tree, existing within a seed or as a baby exists in the womb of the mother. So when a look up at a grown up child and the mother says. This is my son, that fellow is one foot above the mother. And then you wonder, how can such a big person be in the stomach of the mother, even though he is so big now, previously he was a tiny fetus who was existing in unmanifest form. So in the DNA, they say the information contained in the smallest DNA is so much, that 300 books of information can be extracted out of it, because the child's or the man's all the features must be there encoded. If your hair has to turn grey at the 43rd year, remember it is already coded in your DNA. That is why genetic engineering is becoming so important, because many of the diseases are already there in genetics, but we do not know. That is why for every mother and father it is the nightmare, the child should grow without any defect, we don't know whether the ears are functioning, the eyes are functioning, above all whether brain is functioning, after 5 years, after 7 years, after 10 years, so many things come up. Why we don't know, not because they are absent, they are already there in the genetics, but in what form, अव्यक्त रूपेण. Similarly, कृष्ण says all the details of this universe is already coded in me in अव्यक्त रूपम्, that unmanifest universe is called प्रकृति or माया, world in seed form, matter in potential form. You may call it energy, we don't mind and this unmanifest universe evolves into manifestation. We have seen this in previous chapters also, in the 2nd chapter, in the 8th chapter,

अव्यक्त-निधनानि एव तत्र का परिदेवना ॥ २-२८॥

अव्यक्तात् व्यक्तयः सर्वाः प्रभवन्ति अहः आगमे ।

रात्रि आगमे प्रतीयन्ते तत्र एव अव्यक्त-संज्ञके ॥ ८-१८॥

The world comes to manifestation and again it goes back to unmanifestation, like the lub-dub of the heart, the creation also expansion and contraction, unfoldment and foldment. And if you wonder whether it is possible, you can extend it to your dream world. Now your dream of tonight, tonight you are going to get some dream, I hope that you are not already in, OK, tonight you are going to get some dream. Remember everybody gets dream, there are some people who say I don't get dream, it is another dream! OK. Everybody gets dream, some people recognize. Some people don't recognize. It is scientifically proved, dream is universal. Now what is the dream, all the dream that you have are nothing but the impressions that you will have gathered from your observation and experience. You can never dream what you have not experienced, you can have a peculiar permutation combination. So the man-body and buffalo-head, the combination will be mind and brain might do, but you have experienced a buffalo, you have experienced a man and if at all you say no no no, I saw something which I have never experienced, then I say you have forgotten it. And still if you claim, no no no, I have never experienced, I am damn sure, I say that you have experienced it in your previous जन्म, because mind continues from previous जन्म, therefore today's dream is already in the waker, in what form, in potential form. Today's dream of yours is already in your mind in potential form, already VCR has worked, VCR means video cassette recorder. You have recorded in your mental tape and the VCR operation will stop the moment you go to bed. And VCR operation will be replaced by VCP. And what will be played, whatever has been recorded. Therefore what I want to say is your dream is potentially there in you, the waker. Similarly, the dream like world is in ब्रह्मन्, in unmanifest form, which is called माया or प्रकृति. And कृष्ण says in My presence, in the presence of ब्रह्मन् the whole creation rises and resolves. Look at the श्लोक, He says, हे कौन्तेय! हे अर्जुन! are you listening, are you awake. So he is addressing to see whether he is awake or dosing!!! See because for कृष्ण there is only one student in front. Now here some are sleeping, I need not bother; at least I hope few are listening, but one अर्जुन goes to sleep, hundred percent students sleeping. And therefore कृष्ण has to off and on address are you listening, are you awake. So हे कौन्तेय! अर्जुन सर्वभूतानि प्रकृतिम् यान्ति – all the beings come back to Me alone, in what form, प्रकृति form, unmanifest form, otherwise called माया form, so प्रकृतिम् यान्ति मामिकाम्, मामिकाम् means not मामि, मामिकाम् is the संस्कृत word, belonging to Me, that is the प्रकृति which is dependent on Me, just as the manifest world is dependent on Me, the unmanifest प्रकृति also is dependent on Me. Just as the manifest dream is dependent on the waker, Similarly, the unmanifest dream वासनाs, the imprint, वासनाs or संस्कारs are also dependent on the waker. So the imprint becomes dream, dream again becomes the वासना, I am the substratum for both. Similarly, कृष्ण says the world resolves into प्रकृति which is dependent on Me, मामिकाम्. And when does this happen, don't get frightened, कल्प-क्षये, not in the near future, at the end of a कल्प, a ब्रह्माजि's day which is 2,000

चतुर्युगः। So therefore at the end of a कल्प, कल्प is the name of a duration of a vast time. So when we talk about creation, the dimensions or measurements will be very big. I don't know whether you read a news-item today: hair miss, so a meteorite went very close to earth, that you think that it was on the earth, very close means what: only 8 lakhs kilometers near. But from those people's that measurement is close and if it had hit any of the city, city will be flat. So you know how our life is dangling and 100s of meteors are going all the time. So in their cross fire, like militants cross fire children die, some people die, Similarly, meteorites cross fire a few cities can disappear, it will be equal to so many Hiroshima like bomb. Similarly, here also, कल्प-क्षये means it is not going to be in the near future, you need not be frightened. So they all resolve into Me and कल्प-आदौ – at the beginning of the next कल्प; creation never ends permanently, there is no permanent end for the creation, it is only temporary rest for the creation, again it will come, When? कल्प-आदौ – when ब्रह्माजि gets up after 1,000 चतुर्युगः, when ब्रह्माजि gets up again the creation comes, अहम् विसृजामि. Verse No .08

प्रकृतिं स्वामवष्टभ्य विसृजामि पुनः पुनः ।

भूतग्राममिमं कृत्स्नमवशं प्रकृतेर्वशात् ॥ ९-८॥

प्रकृतिम् स्वाम् अवष्टभ्य विसृजामि पुनः पुनः ।

भूत-ग्रामम् इमम् कृत्स्नम् अवशम् प्रकृतेः वशात् ॥ ९-८॥

(अहम्) स्वाम् प्रकृतिम् अवष्टभ्य प्रकृतेः वशात् अवशम् इमम् कृत्स्नम् भूत-ग्रामम् पुनः पुनः विसृजामि ।

So this verse is also explanation of the जगत् कारणत्वम्, which was given in the fifth verse. So the topic is the same, so He says, अहम् पुनः पुनः विसृजामि – in a cyclic process I repeatedly create this world, so that is why very important, in वेदान्त creation is a cyclic process, it is not a linear process. If you look at the creation in a linear fashion, what do you mean linear fashion, like a line having a beginning and having an end, you will have endless logical problem, which we will study in माण्डुव्य कारिका. You will have endless logical problems if you accept a linear creation, it is not scientifically explainable also and therefore in वेदान्त we say creation is an eternal cycle, manifest and unmanifest, manifest unmanifest and cycle does not have a beginning or end, a line has a beginning and end point, a circle doesn't have a beginning or end and therefore never ask the question when did the creation begin, it is an illogical question and therefore we cannot be a give a logical answer. Like they say the question, if somebody asked a question it seems, if an unstoppable bullet hits an impenetrable wall what will happen, if an unstoppable bullet hits an impenetrable wall what will happen, you can never give an answer, because the question is wrong. Because if the bullet is unstoppable the wall cannot be impenetrable, the wall will be penetrated and if the wall is impenetrable the bullet cannot be unstoppable; it is an illogical question. For an illogical question there cannot be a logical answer. Therefore to ask the question when did the creation originate is illogical and therefore कृष्ण says, it has been on and on and on and on and on, I can go until the end of the class, on and on. So अहम् पुनः पुनः विसृजामि, but if I have to create I have to make use of what: प्रकृतिम् स्वाम् अवष्टभ्य – with the help of प्रकृति which is the potential universe, just as without the संस्कार or वासनाs I cannot dream. For dream to come I require what, some imprint in the mind is required. Similarly, ब्रह्मन् cannot create unless the creation is there in potential form, that potential form is called प्रकृति. And therefore taking resort to प्रकृति or माया I create what: इमम् कृत्स्नम् भूत-ग्रामम् – this entire multitude of things and beings, ग्रामम् means multitude, not village here, ग्राम means multitude, village is called ग्राम means because there is multitude of houses. Otherwise in संस्कृत, the word ग्राम means multitude of anything. So here it is भूत-ग्रामम्; कृत्स्नम् – in its entirety, I create again and again and what type of things and beings they are, अवशम् – the helpless beings, so I cannot stop it. So even that is why committing suicide is not a solution, committing suicide will not put an end, In fact, in the next जन्म there will be still worse problem, because committing suicide itself is a पापम्, therefore one more पाप is created, next जन्म more suffering. Nobody can stop this process. One can only get out of this process which is called मोक्ष. It is like that big wheel, giant wheel, it is switched on, it will go on and on, you cannot stop the giant wheel but you can jump out of it, that is called मोक्ष. There is no switch off, it will be going on, only you jump out. How? By attending the class. ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

From the 4th verse of the 9th chapter that we are seeing now, Lord कृष्ण is dealing with the important topic of ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, the nature of God. And this topic is discussed up to verse no.10 and ईश्वर स्वरूपम् has already been introduced in the 7th chapter, wherein we found that the Lord has a higher nature which is called परा प्रकृति or ब्रह्मन् and the Lord has a lower nature which is called अपरा प्रकृति or माया. And of this the ब्रह्म स्वरूपम् alone is the real nature of God and that ब्रह्म स्वरूपम् is being described in all these verses. And that is why we can take this portion as the essence of all the उपनिषत्s. And we have already seen some of the features of the higher nature of God.

i) First one that was pointed out was अव्यक्तः ईश्वरः, the Lord in His real nature is not available for any sense organs; He is supra-sensory, which means the Lord is free from the five-fold properties of शब्द, स्पर्श, रूप, रस and गन्ध. And if we experience the Lord with any of these properties, then it may be the Lord but it is not the higher nature of Lord, we have experienced the lower nature, in fact, any experienced Lord is of the lower nature. So अव्यक्तत्वम् is the first feature and

ii) The second one we saw is सर्वगतत्वम्, since the Lord does not have form, the Lord does not have boundaries or limits and therefore the Lord has to be all-pervading, सर्वगतत्वम् is the second feature we saw, in the 4th verse.

iii) Then कृष्ण pointed out Lord in his higher nature is the support or the substratum of the entire visible universe, the material universe, जगत् अधिष्ठानत्वम्. It is a very important feature because the higher nature of God is said to be Consciousness, the world is material in nature, therefore when I say God the higher nature is substratum of the world, what I indirectly mean is Consciousness is the substratum of matter. Consciousness is the stuff of matter, Consciousness is the essence of matter, which means there cannot be matter without Consciousness. Normally we think there cannot be Consciousness without matter. But here कृष्ण says it is the other way round, Consciousness can exist independent of matter, matter cannot exist independent of Consciousness, that means Consciousness is सत्यम्, matter is मिथ्या, therefore the Lord is मिथ्या जगत् अधिष्ठान स्वरूप, this is the third feature we saw.

iv) Then the fourth feature that we saw is असङ्गत्वम्, even though the Lord is the substratum sustaining the whole creation, the Lord is not tainted by the various impurities of the creation, the Lord is unsullied. In तमिक् we have a beautiful expression, masilamani (मासिलामणि), some people have the name also. What is मासिलामणि? मासु इत्ला मणि, crystal. Masu means impurity, Illa means what? Illada – not, Mani – crystal. Lord is like the crystal which is never tainted by any impurity, शुद्ध-स्फटिक सङ्काशम्, शुद्ध-स्फटिक सङ्काशम् is the first name of the Lord given in the श्रीरुद्र ध्यानश्लोक, so therefore the Lord is असङ्गः, unsullied and unsulliable, is the fourth feature, असङ्गत्वम्.

v) Then the fifth feature that we saw was जगत् सृष्टि स्थिति तय कारणम्, Lord the higher nature of Consciousness is the fundamental cause or source out of which the whole creation arises, the whole creation rests and the whole creation resolves, जगत् सृष्टि स्थिति तय कारणम्. In fact, this is nothing but paraphrasing the well-known उपनिषत् मन्त्र,

यतो वा इमानि भूतानि जायन्ते । येन जातानि जीवन्ति ।

यत् प्रयन्त्यभिसंविशन्ति । तद्विजिज्ञासस्व । तद् ब्रह्मेति । ॥

तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् ३-१-३ ॥

That definition कृष्ण presented, this is the fifth feature. And then the Lord gave some details about the creation. How does the creation come and how does it resolves? And what did He say there? He said, the creation is not freshly produced by Me, because of the Law of conservation of matter and energy, nothing can be newly created by anyone, even by God. Therefore God says: I don't produce fresh matter, the material universe was already there in Me in my higher nature in potential form and that potential form alone is called the माया शक्ति or the lower प्रकृति of the Lord. So the higher nature includes the lower nature of matter in potential form. And matter in potential form is called here प्रकृति or माया, therefore the world existed in the form of माया in Me and this माया alone evolves into this creation and dances about for some time and again this प्रपञ्च gets resolved into माया form. So माया becomes प्रपञ्च, प्रपञ्च becomes माया; माया is unmanifest matter, प्रपञ्चम् is manifest matter. Thus unmanifest matter becomes manifest matter, which is called सृष्टि and manifest matter again comes back to unmanifest matter, which is called लयम्. What about God? He is neither unmanifest matter nor manifest matter, Lord is the Consciousness which supports the whole phenomenon of the material evolution and devolution or involution, if we want. And if you ask when did the whole thing begin? कृष्ण says don't ask that question, because you cannot talk about the beginning because it is a cyclic process, the unmanifest becoming manifest and manifest becoming unmanifest. And therefore He said, which we saw in the last class, verse no.8, प्रकृतिम् स्वाम् अवष्टभ्य विसृजामि पुनः पुनः. The word पुनः पुनः is a significant word, meaning again and again. And when you repeat the word again and again, it means what: because you cannot go on telling, कृष्ण tells it twice. And in संस्कृत grammar, it is वीप्सा. वीप्सा means you use the expression twice and when you use the expression twice, it refers to eternity. Therefore पुनः पुनः means पुनः पुनः ... पुनः. So अनादिः अनन्तः. In fact, this process does not happen in time, but the time itself happens within this process. So that is why we are not able to talk about the concept of time beyond or before the Big Bang. We cannot talk about time, you cannot talk about space, you cannot talk about even causality. Therefore this phenomenon is not in time, but time itself if within this phenomenon,

मायाकल्पित देशकालकलना वैचित्र्यचित्रीकृतम् ।... दक्षिणामूर्तिस्तोत्रम्
२ ॥

Therefore कृष्ण said पुनः पुनः, this happens. Up to this we saw in the last class. Continuing;

उदासीनवदासीनमसक्तं तेषु कर्मसु ॥ ९-९॥

न च माम् तानि कर्माणि निबध्नन्ति धनञ्जय ।

उदासीनवत् आसीनम् असक्तम् तेषु कर्मसु ॥ ९-९॥

हे धनञ्जय! तेषु कर्मसु असक्तम् उदासीनवत् आसीनम् माम् तानि कर्माणि च न निबध्नन्ति ।

So in this कृष्ण talks about the final feature of ईश्वर, the 6th description of ईश्वर He gives by way of answering a possible doubt. When the Lord says I am the creator of the universe the Lord seems to perform an action. And what is that action, the very production of the universe itself seems to be an action and if Lord is सृष्टि कर्ता, Lord will have कर्तृत्वम् and if Lord is a कर्ता, the Lord will have to become what a भोक्ता, the enjoyer of the result of action. A doer will have to become an enjoyer also. As you do so you reap. And Lord must be in a bigger trouble because, because of the creation of the universe alone many living beings are suffering. If there was only प्रलयम् all the time, if this world, these people, all these things were not there we will not have any problem at all to face, but many people are facing varieties of problems all because of what, because of His creation. You will find that whenever you have got a serious problems, you ask the question, why did the Lord do all these things? Could he not kept quiet saying शिव शिव? He could not remained quiet. And he creates with a lot of problems including mosquito and He creates bodies for us and then he seems to enjoy our suffering, the Lord seems to be sadistic Lord and if Lord is doing such an action, he will have to pay the price also. So this doubt may come for which कृष्ण gives the answer, I am अकर्ता and अभोक्ता, I am neither the creator nor the destroyer and therefore you cannot attribute any action or result to me. And therefore He says, हे धनञ्जय, हे अर्जुन! तानि कर्माणि माम् न निबध्नन्ति – all those actions: सृष्टि स्थिति लय कर्माणि, which includes killing people in old age, death also is the job of the Lord, which gives pain to so many people, it is the job of the Lord alone. So therefore सृष्टि कर्ता, स्थिति कर्ता, लय कर्ता, even though actions are taking place, those कर्म do not bind me at all. Now the question is what is the secret? Lord seems to do everything at the same time the कर्म do not accrue to him, how does He manages? He doesn't give up the कर्म. But at the same time he continues the कर्म but he is not bound by the कर्म, what is the secret? He gives the secret here, तेषु कर्मसु असक्तम् – I am not identified with, attached to, involved in those कर्म. कर्तृत्व अभिमान is not there. And therefore if I have to get out of the shackles of कर्म I need not stop the actions, actions can continue but what is to be handled, the अभिमान, अहङ्कार-ममकार अभिमान alone. And therefore तेषु कर्मसु असक्तम्. And then how do I remain, उदासीनवत् आसीनम् – I am as though an indifferent person, I am an uninvolved person, I am detached from them and from this कृष्ण is giving the clue for us also. We also can continue to be involved in action, as said in the 5th chapter,

पश्यन् शृण्वन् स्पृशन् जिघ्रन् अश्नन् गच्छन् स्वपन् श्वसन् ॥ ७-८॥

Therefore अभिमान त्याग is the secret of अकर्तृत्व and अभोक्तृत्वम्, not कर्म renunciation, कर्म cannot be renounced, कर्म need not be renounced. कर्माणि अभिमान alone has to be renounced. And whoever has done that, he is free from कर्म-फलम् also. Continuing;

Verse No .10

मयाध्यक्षेण प्रकृतिः सूयते सचराचरम् ।

हेतुनानेन कौन्तेय जगद्विपरिवर्तते ॥ ७-१०॥

मया अध्यक्षेण प्रकृतिः सूयते सचर-अचरम् ।

हेतुना अनेन कौन्तेय जगत् विपरिवर्तते ॥ ९-१०॥

हे कौन्तेय! मया अध्यक्षेण प्रकृतिः सचर-अचरम् सूयते, अनेन हेतुना जगत् विपरिवर्तते ।

Remaining detached, remaining without अभिमान is called साक्षि भावः and this साक्षि भावः कृष्ण explains here, हे अर्जुन! I do not willfully do anything. In My presence, in the presence of the साक्षि, माया or matter does its function. Therefore मया अध्यक्षेण – because of the presence of Me as the presiding principle, exactly like the light that has pervaded this hall. The light illumines the hall and the light helps in various actions that are taking place in the hall, but the light does not influence the type of action, in the presence of the light actions take place, actions can be good action, actions can be bad action, goodness and badness of the action will not taint the light. So if light is not involved why can't we switch off the light? That is not possible, light is required but light will not be affected by the कर्म-फलम् of the actions taking place. This is called साक्षि भावः. Therefore He says, in My presence. And when कृष्ण says in My presence, what is the meaning of mine, very careful, it does not refer to कृष्ण शरीरम्, कृष्ण शरीरम् is what: lower nature, it is visible. So when कृष्ण says, in My presence, He refers to what, that all-pervading Consciousness which is formless, which is untainted, that Consciousness is here to as Me, in My presence, प्रकृतिः, प्रकृति means what: the basic matter called माया, which was called अपरा प्रकृति in the 7th chapter. So just as in the presence of electricity every gadget will do its function. Electricity does not request the gadgets to do a particular function, electricity blesses the gadget, the gadgets will do what function, it is not the function as determined by the electricity, but the gadget does the function according to its nature. If it is the bulb, the function is what: illuminating. If it is mike, the functioning becomes amplification; if it is fan, the functioning becomes rotation. So according to the nature of the gadget, the functions will go on, electricity is only a सामान्य कारणम्. Electricity does not will or wish a particular action. Similarly, when there is a सात्विक brain or सात्विक mind, it will do its function blessed by Consciousness, a राजसिक mind will do its function blessed by Consciousness, a तामसिक criminal mind will do the criminal action, the criminality is determined by the nature of the mind, the blame cannot go to what, the blame cannot go to the Consciousness-principle or God. This is to be remembered because, people always ask, if God is in everyone, how come there are criminal thoughts in the people? God does not determine the nature of thought, God enlivens the instrument depending upon the nature of the instruments the thoughts are generated accordingly, therefore He says, प्रकृति, the basic matter evolves, स्रूयते, स्रूयते means produces, projects, evolves, into what: सचर-अचरम् जगत् – so this whole universe consisting of the mobile and the immobile one, the moving and the stationary one. In short the entire creation of things and beings. And therefore हे अर्जुन! हेतुना अनेन – because of my sheer presence alone the whole drama is going on. That is why if the light goes off, let us hope that it does not, the drama stops, even though the light does not play the role of a teacher, the light does not play the role of a student, light is not directly involved in the transaction, the presence of the light is required. विद्यारण्य स्वामि, a great Vedantic आचार्य in पञ्चदशि devotes an entire chapter to give this example, नाटक दीप प्रकरण. So God is like the light, does not play any role in the transaction. But the presence of the Lord is required, like the presence of the light for the transaction to take place and therefore अनेन हेतुना – in My presence, जगत् विपश्चित् – the entire universe revolves. So that means everything is in motion, all the planets are in motion, the entire solar system is in motion, the entire milky way is in motion, In fact, everything is in violent motion, all because of what, My presence. Verse No .11

अवजानन्ति मां मूढा मानुषीं तनुमाश्रितम् ।

परं भावमजानन्तो मम भूतमहेश्वरम् ॥ ९-११॥

अवजानन्ति माम् मूढाः मानुषीम् तनुम् आश्रितम् ।

परम् भावम् अजानन्तः मम भूत-महेश्वरम् ॥ ९-११॥

भूत-महेश्वरम् मम परम् भावम् अजानन्तः मूढाः मानुषीम् तनुम् आश्रितम् माम् अवजानन्ति ।

With the previous verse, कृष्ण concludes the description of the ईश्वर स्वरूपम् and in the conclusion, He highlights the fact, that ईश्वर is अकर्ता and अभोक्ता. And therefore we cannot blame the Lord for our problems, we cannot Lord is unjust, because nothing is happening according to the plan or will or wish of the God, God is an interfering presence. Then why do we suffer? Our fate, we have invited our own suffering by being a कर्ता in the past we are now भोक्ता in the present. And therefore we should never blame the Lord, injustice is taking place why should I worship the Lord, many believers become non-believers when they suffer and often the suffering the continues in spite of their prayers and they say Lord has not answered the prayer and therefore Lord is not there and therefore tomorrow onwards I will not do पूजा. One lady came and told, 'I threw away all my books, I put in waste paper basket, did not give even to the paper-walla, even that much respect I didn't want to give, I just put in waste paper basket,' why because her daughter didn't get married, poor God, therefore I don't believe in God. What a terrible thing! God has to get her daughter married, as though He is sitting for that only! So therefore these are all misconception, prayer can produce some पुण्यम् as a result of our action, but even if some पुण्यम् is produced by our prayer if our पापम् is overwhelmingly higher than the prayer produced पुण्यम्, then what is going to overtake, पापम् will overtake, it is not that prayer goes waste, prayer has produced the पुण्यम्, but that produced पुण्यम् is not sufficient because prayer is 2-1/2 minutes and that too thinking so many things and looking at different things in the world. So it is neither qualitatively nor quantitatively great and I want in 1-1/2 minutes prayer I want everything to come. Therefore, it is not all understanding the principle of prayer and the role of prayer. It can neutralize only when the prayer produced पुण्यम् is more than the पापम् that I have, if prayer fails, what are we to understand, my पापम् is superior and therefore in today's tennis match or cricket match the पापम् won. So not knowing the principle of prayer, people blame. कृष्ण says I am अकर्ता, अभोक्ता. Having given the description of the higher nature of God up to verse no.10, now in the 11th verse, कृष्ण is changing the topic and the topic is संसार कारणम्, why do we have problems. Why do we have problems? कृष्ण wants to say that the problems are because we expect permanence from the impermanent, wrong expectation No.1. We expect permanence from the impermanent. We expect security from the ever insecure. We expect पूर्णत्वम्, otherwise called आनन्द from अपूर्ण, the finite. It is our wrong expectation which is the cause of problem. If a person wants security, if a person wants peace and happiness and security, he should go to something which is permanent, which is पूर्णम् and what is that, the higher nature of God. So higher nature means the formfull or formless? The formless higher nature, कृष्ण says, nobody understands and comes to My higher nature, they are holding on to the lower finite perishable nature. Therefore कृष्ण says the problem is with the people that is there confusion and therefore He gets almost wild and He says मूढाः, मूढाः means what: confused people, ignorant people who are not able to differentiate नित्यम् and अनित्यम्, नित्य-अनित्य वस्तु विवेक रहिताः. That is how शङ्कराचार्य begins his भजगोविन्दम्, भजगोविन्दम् भजगोविन्दम् गोविन्दम् भजमूढमते ।

सम्प्राप्ते सन्निहिते काले नहि नहि रक्षति दुकृष्करणे ॥ भजगोविन्दम् १ ॥

So whatever you possess cannot help you for attaining permanence because they themselves are perishable,

अमृतत्वस्य तु नाशास्ति वितेनेति ॥ बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत् २-४-२ ॥

And you are going to see in कैवल्योपनिषत्,

न कर्मणा न प्रजया धनेन त्यागेनैके अमृतत्वमानशुः ॥ १-३ ॥

None of them can give peace and security, if you think they will give, you try, suffer and come back, we will wait and therefore कृष्ण says मूढाः परम् भावम् अजानन्तः – they do not know my निर्गुण स्वरूपम्, they do not know my formless स्वरूपम्, so परम् भावम् means what: परा प्रकृति, the higher चैतन्य स्वरूपम्; अजानन्तः – they do not know. Why they do not know? This another thing people ask, why they do not know. They do not know anything. Why should we particularly ask about परम् भावम्, we are born with ignorance alone, not only ignorance of the higher nature of God, we are born with the ignorance of English, we are born with the ignorance of तमिक्, we are born with the ignorance of everything. In fact, that is our capital with which we are born. What is maximum there? Ignorance. Ignorance we don't acquire, we find ourselves with ignorance. And as we grow, we go on removing one one ignorance, by putting forth effort to know. So having ignorance is not sin, perpetuating ignorance is our problem. Similarly, the ignorance of the higher nature of God continues because we never attempted to remove that ignorance. And how do we remove that ignorance? By gaining knowledge! You will know the निर्गुण स्वरूपम्, not just if you sit with closed eyes, you will get only sleep. You cannot know निर्गुण स्वरूपम् by sitting idle, निर्गुण स्वरूपम् you know by using the appropriate method: that alone again we saw yesterday, वेदान्त श्रवण मनन निदिध्यासन. वेदान्त devotes to help us in gaining this knowledge and to these people, वेदान्त means allergy and therefore they think this study is a waste of time, they do not know its value. And therefore they are ignorant of ब्रह्मन्: ब्रह्म अज्ञानिनः. And since they do not know My higher nature, naturally, they are going to take My lower nature as the real God. And what is My lower nature? मानुषीम् तनुम् आश्रितम् – My lower nature is My personal form, कृष्ण form, राम form, वेङ्कटाचलपति form, देवी form, any form. Form means lower nature, because we have seen higher nature is अव्यक्तम्, beyond sense perception. Whatever is within sense perception is lower nature of God. And not only it is within sensory perception, it is also finite, limited. And not only it is limited spatially, the form of God is limited even time-wise, there is a date of birth, either अष्टमि or नवमि and there is a date of स्वर्गाशेहणम् also, if you come thereafter स्वर्गाशेहणम् and so how can this be My higher nature, therefore He says, मानुषीम् तनुम् आश्रितम् मूढाः, the ignorant people resort to or take to My human form and taking the human form as the real form, अवजानन्ति, they are really degrading Me. They think that they are glorifying Me. शङ्कराचार्य writes a परापूजा, a beautiful श्लोक and he says Oh Lord in the name of षोडश उपचार, I am doing षोडश अपचार only. But I do out of ignorance, because when you are beginning the पूजा, what is the first thing you do, you invite God, आयातु वरदा देवी अक्षरम् ब्रह्म समितम् । गायत्रीम् छन्दसाम् मातेदम्

ब्रह्म जुषस्व नः । ॥ उपाकर्म ॥

आयातु or आवाहयामि, the आवाहनम् means inviting the Lord from Lord's location to our idol, the very invitation indicates what, the Lord is there, He is not here, शङ्कराचार्य says this is the first अपचारम् and thereafter आसनम् समर्पयामि, you want to give seat to the Lord, शङ्कराचार्य asks do you want to give a 2x2 आसनम् to the Lord, Lord is the आसनम् on which whole creation is seated, अपचार No.2 and there afterwards: अर्घ्यम् समर्पयामि, पादम् समर्पयामि, washing the hands, washing the feet, washing the head (स्नानम्, etc.). शङ्कराचार्य says where are limbs for the Lord, the formless Lord cannot have any limbs at all and not only limbs cannot be there, when you are giving for water for washing, what does it mean, what does it mean, when do you wash, when there is impurity, when Lord is नित्य शुद्ध स्वरूपः, where is the question of cleaning, therefore the very attempt to cleaning is indirectly saying that, if I say: you all take bath and come near, it is like that. Don't worry, I will not say like that, it is an insult, thus, he says every उपचार is अपचार, it does not mean that you should stop all your पूजाs from tomorrow, because people are waiting for some excuse, स्वामिजि himself said that. Therefore it is not necessary hereafter. What we say is you start with सगुण मूर्ति पूजा, because निर्गुण cannot be visualized by a beginner. What शङ्कराचार्य criticizes is, begin with personal God or formed God but we should not end with that, सगुण is the best beginning, but it cannot be the culmination, culmination should be in the निर्गुण, साकारम् to निराकारम्, सगुणम् to निर्गुणम्, अपरा to परा, अचेतनम् to चेतनम्. And कृष्ण says these people do not know that. Therefore in the name of glorifying, they are only degrading me, अवजानन्ति means they are disrespecting me. And as long as they do not know the higher nature, what will be the problem, they will not seek security and पूर्णत्वम् from the higher nature, which is the only source of security. निर्गुण ब्रह्म is the only source of security, why, what is the logic behind it, anything other than निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म is सगुण माया and anything that is within सगुण माया is matter. And anything that is material is subject to fluctuation and you hold on to a fluctuating body how long it will stand and therefore you hold on to various people hoping that they will be around, अस्ति, जायते, वर्धते, विपरिमते, विनश्यति and then we complain, he has left, he has left, etc., doesn't भगवान् has the eyes or ears. "I am calling you Oh Lord don't you hear me?" भगवान् says, "In गीता I have said so many things, did it not fall in your ears? I have said all these things very clearly in गीता, you don't listen to My गीता and you want Me to listen to your crying." Is this not अक्रमम्? Please understand, 'don't hold to changing fluctuations situations, fluctuating objects, fluctuating people, means what dying, decaying, changing ones.' What will happen if I hold on to that, you will suffer, remember, cardboard chair, the whole world is a cardboard chair, you can use it for every other purpose, except sitting. Similarly, you can never lean on the world and the संसार is caused by the leaning on the changing. This is संसार कारणम्, therefore He says परम् भावम् अजानन्तः. What is that परम् भावम्? मम भूत-महेश्वरम् which is the highest Lord. Lord means the substratum or the controller of all the beings. So that the निर्गुण स्वरूपम् they do not know, they do not lean. So naturally what happens?

Verse No .12

मोघाशा मोघकर्माणो मोघज्ञाना विचेतसः ।

राक्षसीमासुरीं चैव प्रकृतिं मोहिनीं श्रिताः ॥ ९-१२॥

मोघ-आशाः मोघ-कर्माणः मोघ-ज्ञानाः विचेतसः ।

राक्षसीम् आसुरीम् च एव प्रकृतिम् मोहिनीम् श्रिताः ॥ ९-१२॥

(ते) मोघ-आशाः मोघ-कर्माणः मोघ-ज्ञानाः विचेतसः मोहिनीम् राक्षसीम् आसुरीम् प्रकृतिम् च एव श्रिताः ।

So having talked about the संसार कारणम् in the 11th verse, now in the following verses beginning from the 12th up to the 19th, कृष्ण is talking about various types of people who approach the problem differently. Some people approach the problem sensibly and intelligently, because they have diagnosed the problem. So they are intelligent people, since they have diagnosed the problem they have got a direction in life and what is the diagnosis, don't lean on the perishable psychologically, it is risky, then learn to lean on the Lord. That is why I have told I think before, world-dependence to God-dependence to Self-dependence. So I have to change the object of dependence from world to God. That is going in the right direction. But कृष्ण says, many people or most of the people have not diagnosed the problem, because of their wrong thinking and unfortunately they don't learn from their experience, they depend on some object and the object goes away, they are left high and dry and crying. And what do they do, when one perishable object goes away, they switchover to another perishable thing again, like giving up smoking and taking to betel leaves. So one addiction is replaced by another addiction, one finite dependence is replaced by another finite dependence. Should not I learn from my bitter experience? कृष्ण says they do not, most of the people are dumb ones. And how does it happen? The details are beautifully given, the human pursuits, any form of human pursuit has got three stages. Any human action has got three stages, जानाति, इच्छति and यतते. First stage is knowing activity, before any activity I should have the knowledge about the result of that activity. Therefore knowing activity is the first activity, early morning I see the newspaper to decide what should I do; today is sunday, evening what should I do, therefore you go through that. You know there are different programs. This is knowledge. Then of several things you desire one particular goal, ज्ञानम् gives way to इच्छा, any desire is based on knowledge. Can you desire something which you don't know? Suppose I say do you want bandam, what bandam? स्वामिजि do you want, don't ask what is bandam, do you want or not, you won't not answer because you should not what it is to desire. Whatever you know you may not desire, poison we know, whatever you desire, you know, OK: whatever you know you don't desire, whatever you desire is a known object, therefore ज्ञानम् gives way to desire and desire leads to action. So ज्ञान शक्ति to इच्छा शक्ति to क्रिया शक्ति, throughout the life, this is our process. So therefore all our pursuit begin where, at the cognitive level, at the understanding level. So if I don't have proper understanding things in the world, the possible course of life, if I don't clear understanding, ज्ञान शक्ति is abused, इच्छा शक्ति will be abused, क्रिया शक्ति will be abused and we get into problems. And therefore कृष्ण says many people are misinformed or uninformed because they don't study the scriptures. That is why scriptural study becomes very fundamental necessity to get a direction in our life. That is what is going to be said, which we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

Lord कृष्ण described ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, the nature of God, from verse no.4 up to the verse no.10 of the 9th chapter and especially the higher nature of the Lord. The 7th chapter he talked about the lower nature, अपरा प्रकृति, which is सगुण स्वरूपम् and then the higher nature परा प्रकृति, the निर्गुण स्वरूपम्. In the 9th chapter beginning He focused upon the higher nature, परा प्रकृति. And in the 11th verse, कृष्ण pointed out that the ignorance of the higher nature of the Lord alone is the cause of संसार. परा प्रकृति अज्ञानम् एव संसारस्य कारणम्. How can the ignorance of परा प्रकृति become the cause of संसार? Because परा प्रकृति, the higher nature alone is beyond time and space, देश, काल अतीतः स्वरूपम् and therefore only if we hold on to परा प्रकृति, then alone immortality is possible. Other than परा प्रकृति you hold on to any other thing, any other अपरा प्रकृति स्वरूपम् then it will come within time and space. It will come within the realm of माया only and anything that falls within माया is subject to change – अस्ति, जायते, वर्धते, विपरिमते and विनश्यति. And therefore as long as a person does not seek परा प्रकृति, anything he accomplishes within अपरा प्रकृति he will continue to be a संसारि. And that is why we say even in कर्मकाण्ड, a person who is religious, who performs rituals and who goes to higher लोकs, even those लोकs fall within देश, काल – आब्रह्म-भुवनात् लोकाः पुनः-आवर्तिनः. And therefore only when a person knows the real nature of God and holds on to the real nature he can be free from संसार. But this fact majority of people do not know and therefore they hold on to finite thing and loose it and suffer and the unfortunate thing is that they don't learn and they hold on to another finite thing and again suffer. So thus परा प्रकृति अज्ञानम् or ईश्वर स्वरूप अज्ञानम् एव संसारस्य कारणम्, He said. And then from the 12th verse onwards up to the 19th verse, कृष्ण talks about different types of people. There are some people who have diagnosed this problem, that the problem of ignorance they have diagnosed. And once we know ignorance is the cause of संसार, we know the solution is परा प्रकृति, ज्ञानम् एव and once that is clear, ज्ञानम् is the solution, for ज्ञानम् I require the necessary qualification and therefore साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति will become my immediate goal and for साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति, I have to follow कर्मयोग and उपासना, thus I know what my course of life is, because clarity is there, I have to follow कर्मयोग, I have to follow उपासना, I have to acquire necessary qualifications, I have to follow ज्ञानयोग, I have to attain ज्ञानम् and by way of that I have to remove ignorance and I have to be मुक्तः.

बहुशाखा ह्यनन्ताश्च बुद्धयोऽव्यवसायिनाम् ॥ २-४१॥

कृष्ण said that there are some people who are very clear who have diagnosed the problem and they are taking to the right course, but there are many other people who are still groping in darkness. They do not know what exactly they want. And they think this is the goal for some time and acquire it and they find that they do not get what they wanted. And then the replaced the goal with another one, again acquired and no satisfaction. So these people are confused people, कृष्ण talked about the confused people, unlucky and unfortunate ones in verse no.12. And why they are confused, because their thinking is not clear. In कठोपनिषत् we saw that the body is compared to a chariot, sense organs are compared to the horses, mind is compared to the reins and intellect is compared to the driver. A journey will be in the right direction if the driver is informed properly. Similarly, if my intellect has got clear understanding, things will be clear and that is why we say, just as अर्जुन had कृष्ण to guide him, if we have got scriptural guidance we will get right knowledge and right direction. But most of the people do not come to the scriptures and therefore, they have wrong knowledge, they have wrong desires and therefore they have wrong results and therefore they suffer in संसार. I was telling in the last class, our course of life takes three stages, जानाति, इच्छति and यतते. First you have got an understanding about the goal, that is जानाति. And इच्छति, I desire for accomplishing the goal. And यतते means I strive to attain that goal. So ज्ञानम्, इच्छा and प्रयत्नः, that is how ज्ञान शक्ति, इच्छा शक्ति and क्रिया शक्ति. Of these three, if the first one ज्ञानम् is improper, then the desires also will be improper and if the desires are improper, my efforts also will be improper and if efforts are improper, then what will be result of the effort. So

यथाकामो भवति तत्क्रतुर्भवति । यत्क्रतुर्भवति तत्कर्म कुरुते । यत्कर्म कुरुते तदभिसम्पद्यते ॥ ४-४-७ ॥

बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत् beautifully presents. These confused people कृष्ण says they have wrong knowledge, wrong desire, wrong effort and therefore wrong result. That is given here, विचेतसः, विचेतसः means those people who do not have विवेक शक्ति, whose सत्त्वगुण is overpowered, they are called विचेतसः, अविवेकिनः. And the problem is we are all अविवेकिः, indiscriminate people only, knowing this alone the scriptures have come to assist us, but because of our intellectual arrogance neither we will know by ourselves nor we will expose ourselves to the teaching of the scriptures. मुण्डकोपनिषत् criticizes them:

अविद्यायामन्तरे वर्तमानाः स्वयम् धीराः पण्डितं मन्यमानाः।

जडघन्यमानाः परियन्ति मूढाः अन्येनैव नीयमाना यथान्धाः ॥
मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-२-८ ॥

Neither do they know nor will they take the help of the scriptures, why, intellectual arrogance. Therefore विमूढाः, मोघ-ज्ञानाः – they have got all wrong understanding and expectations and what are the wrong expectations - everything impermanent is mistaken as permanent, they think power is permanent, position is permanent, people around will be permanent, above all, money think permanent,

मा कुरु धनं जनं यौवनं गर्वं हरति निमेषात्कालः सर्वम् । ... ॥
भजगोविन्दम् ११ ॥

So this they do not know, therefore they have wrong expectation of security from insecure, permanence from the impermanence. And therefore मोघ-आशाः – and therefore they have got vain desires, so futile knowledge, worthless knowledge they have and therefore their desires also are futile desires and if the desires are मोह, futile and worthless and what will be their actions, मोघ-कर्माणः – so their actions also will be futile, that means they will not get what they expect, because it is wrong expectations. And then what will happen, we saw in the 3rd chapter:

कामः एषः क्रोधः एषः रजः गुण-समुद्भवः ।

महा-अशनः महा-पाप्मा विद्धि एनम् इह वैरिणम् ॥ ३-३७॥

When they have wrong desires any amount of accomplishment will not quench the desires, they will only nourish more desires and convert them into greed and greed will lead to what, more and more काम्य कर्म's. Therefore कृष्ण says राक्षसीम् आसुरीम् प्रकृतिम् श्रिताः, their actions will be काम प्रधान actions or क्रोधः प्रधान actions, either their actions are born out of attachment or their actions are born out of hatred. So राक्षसी and आसुरी, the difference is: one is रागः प्रधान, another is द्वेषः प्रधान. And when it is रागः प्रधान or काम प्रधान actions then they will take to illegal methods, because desires are more and by legitimately earning you cannot fulfill all the desires and therefore mind will think, why can't we adjust a little bit, adjust means: match fixing. Even though they have got lot of money the greed will turn a person to take to immoral actions. So that is called राक्षसी प्रकृतिः, greedy स्वभाव, immoral activity, selfish activity and आसुरीम् च एव and when I have got so much greed and I find any competitor obstructing my goal then comes the philosophy cut-throat competition means destroy the other people. And therefore what started with रागः will end up in द्वेषः, काम will get converted into क्रोधः, from selfish activities I take to harmful activities, so thus राग-द्वेष प्रधान कर्म's will dominate my life. What about पञ्च महायज्ञ, nothing like that in his life, everything will go away and therefore नित्य नैमित्तिक कर्म also will drop, why because there is no time, I would like to use that time also to earn more money. And therefore, राक्षसीम् आसुरीम् च एव प्रकृतिम्, प्रकृतिम् means character or स्वभाव, श्रिताः – they take to, which is मोहिनीम् – which will delude the people, which means they get into a vicious cycle. Because of non-discrimination the काम्य निषिद्ध कर्मs increase and because of the increase of काम्य निषिद्ध कर्मs, discrimination will get further stifled. And when the discrimination gets further stifled or overpowered, काम्य निषिद्ध कर्मs will still increase and when they increase, again बुद्धि will get further spoiled and when further spoiled, more harmful action, more harmful action, more loss of discrimination. Thus a person gets into a vicious cycle of wrong action, loss of discrimination, more wrong action, more loss of discrimination and ultimately delusion and they loose even their conscience. That is how criminals are born, initially they have prick of conscience, but more these actions are repeated, that prick also goes away and not only it goes away, intellect begins to justify the compromise of values. When we compromise with the values initially there is a prick, somehow you managed that, second time lying will not be pricking that much, third lie still lesser, fourth lie no prick at all, fifth lie I begin to justify, sixth lie I say it is required in कलि युग, if one has to live one has to do like this and once you have reached that stage almost a person has become incorrigible, better luck next birth, because बुद्धि-नाशात् प्रणश्यति. There is a beautiful श्लोक, वनानि दहतो वह्नेः सखा भवति मारुतः । स एव दीपनाशाय कृशे कस्यास्ति सौहृदम् ॥ सुभाषितानि ॥

When the fire is burning, you know huge conflagration of forest fire, you find the wind becomes the friend of the fire, when the fire was a small flame then the wind is the enemy, but once the flame has become a conflagration the very same wind becomes a friend. So what is the law, if you cannot defeat the enemy, then join. Similarly, when we take to the काम्य निषिद्ध कर्मs initially, राक्षसीक, आसुरीक कर्मs initially, our बुद्धि can stop them, but if we let it go and allow it to grow then the intellect cannot stop the compromise with values. And then the intellect will begin to join and justify the violation and such people are called राक्षसीक people and आसुरीक people. Continuing;

महात्मानस्तु मां पार्थ दैवीं प्रकृतिमाश्रिताः ।

भजन्त्यनन्यमनसो ज्ञात्वा भूतादिमव्ययम् ॥ ९-१३॥

महात्मानः तु माम् पार्थ दैवीम् प्रकृतिम् आश्रिताः ।

भजन्ति अनन्य-मनसः ज्ञात्वा भूतादिम् अव्ययम् ॥ ९-१३॥

हे पार्थ! दैवीम् प्रकृतिम् आश्रिताः महात्मानः तु माम् भूतादिम् अव्ययम् ज्ञात्वा, अनन्य-मनसः (मां) भजन्ति ।

So in the previous verse कृष्ण talked about the misguided people who are groping in संसार and who are getting more and more bogged down in संसार whereas there are some other fortunate people because of their पूर्वजन्म पुण्यम् they are born in a proper atmosphere where there is scripture guidance is there and elders have value for the scriptures and therefore there is value for नित्य नैमित्तिक कर्मs like prayer, सन्ध्यावन्दनम्, etc. Therefore what happens to them that is said: हे पार्थ, अर्जुन, महात्मानः, महात्मानः means पुण्यवन्तः, सत्त्व प्रधानः, they are born in a cultured family where there are religious values and therefore the regular prayers etc., are part, not in the evening and morning, not in the TV show and the TV goes on running whether anybody watch or not, so that is not; दैवीम् प्रकृतिम् आश्रिताः – they have to be of सात्त्विक nature in which पञ्च महायज्ञs are compulsory, is part of life, it is a धार्मिक life, it is scripture based life and when a person takes to such a way of life, what happens is: because of the grace of the Lord and because of the सत्त्वगुण प्रधान, a person develops नित्य-अनित्य वस्तु विवेकः. He understands sooner or later that everything other than God is perishable,

शश्वन्नश्वरमेव विश्वमखिलं निश्चित्य वाचागुरोः

नित्यं ब्रह्म निरन्तरं विमृशता निर्व्याज शान्तात्मना । ॥ मनीषापञ्चकम् ३

It doesn't take one full life time if we lead a religious life, a religiously alert life, परीक्ष्य लोकान् कर्मचितान् takes place. Every experience in my life teaches a valid lesson. And what is that valid lesson, I should not seek security from the world, I should seek security only from God. I should seek पूर्णता, not from the world, only from God. I should seek peace of mind, not from the world and people, but only from God. This wisdom, otherwise called नित्य-अनित्य वस्तु विवेकः, these people develop. And therefore कृष्ण says महात्मानः – so they are the great people who have got विवेक, because of what, दैवीम् प्रकृतिम् आश्रीताः, as opposed to राक्षसीम् and आसुरीम्. राक्षसीम् and आसुरीम् represent रजः प्रधान or तमः प्रधान, दैवीम् प्रकृतिम् refers to सत्त्वः प्रधान. काम्य कर्मस are lesser, निषिद्ध कर्मस are still lesser, निष्काम कर्मस are more, that is mind purifying कर्मस are more in their life, दैवीम् प्रकृतिम् आश्रीताः; माम् ज्ञात्वा – they have understood me to be the ultimate refuge, the ultimate shelter, only the safe ground, माम् ज्ञात्वा, What type of Me? भूतादिम्, भूतादि means जगत् कारणम्, I am the ultimate cause of all beings and ultimate cause means what: the causeless cause is called ultimate cause and that means what the Lord is beginningless, अनादिः. And not only the Lord is अनादिः, अव्ययम्, Lord is अनन्तः च, without exhaustion or end, the one who is beginningless or endless which means the one who is infinite. And other than the Lord everything else is finite. Remember, what example, cardboard chair. Use the cardboard chair for everything except sitting, other than भगवान् use anything, but never lean psychologically on any one of them. What will happen if you lean? Try and see. You will know at the appropriate time. Better to learn by projection itself, without actually going through traumatic experiences. Intelligent people learn from other people's suffering, the unintelligent people require their own suffering to turn towards the Lord. अर्जुन required the imaginary death of भीष्म and द्रोण, not actual death, the very imaginary death of भीष्म and द्रोण, they won't be there tomorrow, then only he thought of Lord. Should we require some such experience, if you are intelligent, even before experiencing trauma we learn to lean on the Lord, therefore, ज्ञात्वा भूतादिम् अव्ययम्; भजन्ति, भजन्ति means they start seeking, their journey begins. And how, अनन्य-मनसः – without any distraction, व्यवसायात्मिका बुद्धिः. They may earn money, they may go through गृहस्थ आश्रम, they may go through वानप्रस्थ आश्रम, but as our शास्त्र has beautifully named, even married life is said to be an आश्रम. What do we think generally, आश्रम is only in the forest. In our tradition, even married life is called आश्रम because, even married life is meant for what, वित्तशुद्धि alone. अर्थ is incidental, काम is incidental, धर्म and मोक्ष are the primary goals. धर्म is immediate goal and through धर्म, मोक्ष is the ultimate goal, अर्थ and काम are incidentally fulfilled. This they don't forget and therefore अनन्य-मनसः, this is called अव्यभिचारिणी भक्तिः and in what all ways they pursue the Lord, further description.

नमस्यन्तश्च मां भक्त्या नित्ययुक्ता उपासते ॥ ९-१४॥

सततम् कीर्तयन्तः माम् यतन्तः च दृढ-व्रताः ।

नमस्यन्तः च माम् भक्त्या नित्य-युक्ताः उपासते ॥ ९-१४॥

(ते) नित्य-युक्ताः भक्त्या माम् सततम् कीर्तयन्तः यतन्तः च दृढ-व्रताः नमस्यन्तः च माम् उपासते ।

So how do they pursue the goal of ईश्वर is pointed out here. दृढ-व्रताः – they are the people of firm resolve. What is the resolve? I want to attain ईश्वर or मोक्ष. They are तीव्र मुमुक्षवः, that is called दृढ-व्रताः, दृढम् स्थिरम् अचात्यम् व्रतम् येषाम् ते दृढव्रताः. And even if we take firm resolve often it can become something like the new year resolve, you know new year resolve, many people take new year resolve it will work one day, two day, one week and thereafter back to square one. And therefore it is not like that, they remind their resolve. That is why we have got various व्रतम्s in our religion. Unlike some other religion not once in a while, we have got some occasions where एकादशि is followed by प्रदोषम् and thereafter शिवरात्रि will come. So you have व्रतम्s after व्रतम्s to remind for what purpose we have come. And therefore सततम् कीर्तयन्तः – they talk about the primary goal as often as possible which is called सत्सङ्ग. They are associated with those people who also are मुमुक्षुs because your friends will determine your personality. If a money-oriented man you move with constantly all the time ‘Who Will Become A Millionaire!’. Even in स्वप्न it will come. So therefore सत्सङ्गः सर्वदा कार्यः, they will remind you. So सततम् कीर्तयन्तः माम् – they constantly talk about this goal only which means they select their friends, they choose their friends, सततम् कीर्तयन्तः माम् talking about Me alone and यतन्तः – and they start preparing themselves. Its like Olympic gold medal. Not that easy. In India we have got such a population and getting one bronze medal we are jumping up and down; it is not that easy, you ask anyone they will prepare for the next olympics now itself. And therefore यतन्तः means the most difficult thing is acquiring साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति. In fact, ज्ञानम् is easy, कृष्ण himself said सुसुखम् कर्तुम् अव्ययम् in the beginning of this chapter. So ज्ञानम् is easy if we are qualified. Therefore what is the difficult part of वेदान्त साधन? Acquiring the qualifications and for that when should you start right now, therefore यतन्तः. So कर्मयोग is the preparation, उपासना is preparation, acquiring ethical values is preparation, everything you do is preparation only. Therefore यतन्तः putting forth appropriate effort. And not only that भक्त्या माम् नमस्यन्तः – they also know that mere effort is not sufficient because we are too small in the creation and there are so many hidden factors, unknown factors, endless obstacles are possible - आध्यात्मिक, आधिभौतिक, आधिदैविक प्रतिबन्ध, श्रेयाम्नि बहु विघ्नानि there will be so many प्रतिबन्धs for good works. And therefore mere प्रयत्न is not enough, we also require ईश्वर अनुग्रह. These मुमुक्षुs know very well and therefore they constantly surrender to the Lord. If you remember, I had told you in my introduction to the seventh chapter, I have told you one thing that in the first six chapters of the गीता the individual effort is highlighted, then in the next six chapters, i.e., from the 7th chapter to the 12th chapter the importance of ईश्वर कृपा is highlighted. Therefore प्रयत्न is important, अनुग्रह is important, only when both go hand in hand we can succeed. Therefore गीता starts with पार्थाय प्रतिबोधिताम्; ध्यान श्लोक is recited. Both of them are beautifully highlighted in this verse by the words यतन्तः in the first line and नमस्यन्तः in the second line. यतन्तः indicates the role of freewill, नमस्यन्तः indicates the role of grace. So is freewill important or grace important? Both are equally important. If you discard freewill you are fatalistic person, if you discard अनुग्रह you are an arrogant person. To अनुग्रहम् if you say no, arrogance; to freewill if you say no it is fatalism; we should neither be fatalistic nor arrogance, we should know our effort is important; ईश्वर's grace is also important, balanced approach. And नित्य-युक्ताः; नित्य-युक्ताः means ever disciplined, ever steadfast, commitment is indicated by this. That is their entire personality. If you take sport personality not only their mind is constantly think about it, they want to have a diet also, they have got a nutritionist working for them, they have psychologist working for them, they keep the files of various rivals. In tennis and all they have to study which rival has got what weakness. You cannot just go out with the racket, I should know how this person plays. Therefore time is spent for that, body is working in that direction, my diet is adjusted for that and there are psychiatrist working for that. Thus at all levels: अन्नमय, प्राणमय, मनोमय, विज्ञानमय even आनन्दमय, at all levels there is only one focus – मोक्षम्, मोक्षम्, मोक्षम्. Therefore नित्य-युक्ताः उपासते – they pursue, they seek.

एकत्वेन पृथक्त्वेन बहुधा विश्वतोमुखम् ॥ ९-१५॥

ज्ञान-यज्ञेन च अपि अन्ये यजन्तः माम् उपासते ।

एकत्वेन पृथक्त्वेन बहुधा विश्वतोमुखम् ॥ ९-१५॥

अन्ये च अपि ज्ञान-यज्ञेन यजन्तः एकत्वेन, पृथक्त्वेन, बहुधा विश्वतोमुखम् माम् उपासते ।

I have kept God as my goal. Now this understanding of God also gradually evolves. So my initial appreciation of God is of one type, then my understanding transforms and at each stage my appreciation of God varies. And we can see three levels of understanding. In the beginning stages, God is presented as the creator of the world, we say Lord creates the world. In शास्त्रिय language we say Lord is the निमित्त कारणम्, the intelligent cause, just as the carpenter creates the furniture, just as the weaver creates the fabric, Similarly, God creates the world, and therefore we get an idea of God, somebody like carpenter, any creator a mason, or a creator or a weaver or a goldsmith, who keeps on producing the world and of course that Lord must be सर्वज्ञ, सर्वशक्तिमान् and therefore you represent the Lord with many heads also (because more knowledge). So symbolically you present, चतुर्मुख, पञ्चमुख, षण्मुख, representing what, omniscience. The four heads of ब्रह्माजि represent the four वेदs and you get a picture of an omniscient Lord with a particular form, it is a personal God you visualize, like विष्णु in क्षीर सागर,

क्षीरोदधन्वत् प्रदेशे शुचिमणि विलसत् सैकते मौक्तिकानाम् ।

मालाकृत्पासनस्थः स्फटिकमणि निर्भैर्-मौक्तिकैर्-मण्डिताङ्गः ।

शुभ्रैश्चै रदभ्रै रुपरिविरचितैर्-मुक्त पीयूष वर्षैः

आनन्दी नः पुनीया दरिनलिन गदा शङ्खपाणिर्-मुकुन्दः ॥

You have got a क्षीरोधन्वत् प्रदेशे, क्षीरोधन्वान् means क्षीर सागर and you have got picture of विष्णु and if you are a शिव भक्त, you have a picture of शिव, this is how your appreciation of God starts. And once you have progressed a little bit, then the शास्त्र is ready to introduces the next higher level of understanding, because if God is taken as a person certainly that Lord will be limited spatially. He is there means what: He is not here and therefore once you are ready intellectually to appreciate the next level, शास्त्र says God, we don't say: creates the world, we say God becomes the world,

सोऽकामयत । बहुस्यां प्रजायेयेति । स तपोऽतप्यत । स तपस्तप्त्वा । इदं सर्वमसृजत ॥

यदिदं किंच । तत्सृष्ट्वा तदेवानुप्राविशत् । तदनु प्रविश्य सत्त्वं त्यक्त्वाभवत् । तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् २-६-४ ॥

Lord became everything. So now where is the Lord? They say the Lord himself is appearing as this universe. Lord himself is appearing as this universe, In fact, this universe with multifarious form is the form of the Lord which we call विश्वरूप ईश्वरः. In विष्णुसहस्रनाम you can see that in the next श्लोक. भूः पादौ यस्य नाभिर्-वियदसु-रनिल-चन्द्रसूर्यौ च नेत्रे ... । In the beginning क्षीरोधन्वत् प्रदेशे, we said He is there. Now what are we saying: there is no there or here, In fact, the भूमि is the feet of the Lord, the sky is the body of the Lord, the heaven is the head of the Lord. So where is God, if I ask, where is God, what should you answer, where is God not, you should not say वैकुण्ठ, वैकुण्ठ is the first lesson, now you can say in वैकुण्ठ also. Because everything is God's form. We are going to get that in the 11th chapter of गीता, in 7th chapter also, कृष्ण hinted.

रसः अहम् अप्सु कौन्तेय प्रभा अस्मि शशि-सूर्ययोः । ॥ ७-८॥

etc. This is the second stage. And if we keep this appreciation for some time then we are ready for still higher stage, because in this you can get further doubt, if you say God is everything then Coovam also is God, criminal is also God, disease also God, how can God have negative attributes, you may have doubts. If you say God has only positive attributes, what is the problem: He will be limited, if He has to be limitless He should include negative attributes also and if we include the negative attributes you have an intellectual problem, how can God have negative attributes, the problem is only when you think!! Generally we don't think, therefore it is OK, we just listen and go, if you happen to think, शास्त्र has to answer or you can give the general answer and if you ask such question, वेदान्त expects that question and answers by saying: Lord does not become the creation, Lord appears as this creation and therefore all these are appearances of the Lord, the real Lord is free from all these appearances. परम् भावम्. Therefore Lord has no form at all. So you start with एक रूप ईश्वर and then you advance to अनेकरूप ईश्वर: and then you advance to अरूप ईश्वर:. These are the three levels, एकरूपम्, one form to many forms to no form. कृष्ण says everyone has to go through all these levels of भक्ति. You may not now like अरूप ईश्वर, who wants that, if you don't like अरूप ईश्वर doesn't matter have अनेकरूप ईश्वर. If you say: No No No, that also is not acceptable, have एकरूप ईश्वर:. See what He says: अन्ये एकत्वेन माम् उपासते – some people seek and worship Me एकत्वेन, as the non-dual ultimate ब्रह्मन्, here एक means अरूप ईश्वर:, so

सत् एव सोम्य इदम् अब्र आसीत् एकम् एव अद्वितीयम् ॥छान्दोग्योपनिषत् ६-२-१॥

So अरूप ईश्वर:, some people seek through what method, ज्ञान यज्ञेन – by taking to ज्ञानयोग, वेदान्त विचार:, advanced seekers, so they are interested in

अशब्दम् अस्पर्शम् अरूपम् अव्ययम् तथा अरसम् नित्यम् अगन्धवत् च यत् ।

अनाद्य् अनन्तम् महतः परम् ध्रुवम् निचाय्य तम् मृत्यु-मुखात् प्रमुच्यते ॥ कठोपनिषत् १-३-१७ ॥

Through वेदान्त विचार, they seek अरूप ईश्वरः and there are some people who feel they are not ready for that, therefore what do they do, विश्वतो मुखम् उपासते – they worship अनेक अरूप ईश्वरः, Lord with multifarious form, In fact, all your forms are Lord's forms,

ॐ सहस्र शीर्षा पुरुषः सहस्राक्षः सहस्र पात् । विश्वतश्चक्षुरुत विश्वतोमुखो विश्वतो हस्त उत विश्वतस्पात् ।

सम् बाहुभ्याम् नमति सम्पतत्रैः द्यावा पृथिवी जनयन् देव एकः॥ ... तन्मे मनः शिवसंकल्पमस्तु,

In महान्यास you might have heard, विश्वतो चक्षुः, विश्वतो मुखः, the Lord with faces everywhere, it means what: every face is the face of the Lord. Some people worship in that form, but there are some others who feel that also as difficult. And therefore they want an isolated God, who is located in one place, who has got a precise form which is distinct from all other forms, So पृथक्त्वेन – in a distinct form, they say this हरे राम, हरे कृष्ण people, they are so obsessed with कृष्ण, they don't approve of even राम, even though राम and कृष्ण are only two अवतारः or manifestation of विष्णु, they will approve कृष्ण and I hear they have even modified the मन्त्र, instead of singing हरे राम हरे राम, they sing हरे कृष्ण हरे कृष्ण. They were telling it seems that स्वामि चिन्मयानन्द, he used to give गीता ज्ञान यज्ञ, गीता talks he propagated and he started an आश्रम in मुम्बई and in the आश्रम the main deity was शिव. Now this हरे कृष्ण people were criticizing it seems. He has got all the money by talking about कृष्ण, through कृष्ण's name he has earned money and in the end he built शिव temple! कृष्ण will punish him. So they are so much specific about that particular form that they don't approve of other forms also, कृष्ण says doesn't matter to begin with, but sooner or later we should be able to get over such fanaticism, but beginning it is OK. Therefore पृथक्त्वेन, so एकरूप worship, विश्वरूप worship, अरूप worship, through all these people seek Me. More in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 09, VERSES 16-17

Lord कृष्ण gave a beautiful description of ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, the nature of God from verse no.4 up to verse no.10. And when He described the nature of God, He was giving the description of the higher real nature of God, which was called परा प्रकृति in the 7th chapter and this higher nature of God is identical with सत्यम्, ज्ञानम्, अनन्तम्, निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म. So throughout these chapters, we should remember, when we use the word God as the goal of life we are using the word God in the meaning of the higher nature of God. And this is the general rule. Whenever God is presented as the goal of life, we should understand the word God as the higher nature of God, परा प्रकृति, otherwise called निर्गुण ब्रह्म. When we are talking about God in the context of worship then the worshipped God, the invited God, the God with different number of hands and legs and heads, there in the context of worship we refer to the lower nature of God. So the word God is loosely used in our scriptures, even in the भागवतम् we find in the context of worship, God generally refers to the formed, finite, lower form and when we present God as the goal of life we should remember that it refers to the higher nature, because the goal has to be infinite. A finite form of God can never be the goal of a seeker. उपनिषत् is very very clear, you can be attached to a finite form for worship, but you can never take the finite form as the destination. केनोपनिषत् repeatedly says,

तदेव ब्रह्म त्वम् विद्धि नेदम् यदिदमुपासते ॥ केनोपनिषत् १-७॥

the worshipped, formed, finite God should be used as an intermediary step, the destination God is invariably the formless one alone. And the description of that destination God, the formless God was given from verse no.4; that is why in the beginning itself कृष्ण said मया ततम् इदम् सर्वम् जगत् अव्यक्त-मूर्तिना, अव्यक्तम् means formless, colorless, smell-less, tasteless, touch-less is अव्यक्तम्, therefore the destination God is अव्यक्तम्. And having described that God in these verses, 4th to 10th, in the 11th verse कृष्ण said the ignorance of that God – the real destination of life, the ignorance of that God is the cause of all human problems. Because when that God, that God means the higher nature, the destination God is not known to Me, I will keep everything else as my destination. When the real, worthwhile, purposeful destination is not known I am certainly going to have everything else as my destination and unfortunately all the other things cannot be real destination because, they won't give permanent peace of mind, they won't give permanent security, therefore there is a thrill and kick like you buying any new gadget - for a few days you will, with extra attention, be glued to it. If it is a video, how many video tapes are there in your house, when you bought you were thrilled, and watched including your wedding video. One week, two week it is fine thereafterwards it is all boring, then all the tapes will be sticky. Initially you go and watch, after some time as they say diminishing returns. Any other goal after sometime it will be boring and therefore the संसार and the struggle, further fresh goals, further struggle will continue, therefore not knowing the real goal, the real destination of God is the problem. So what should be the solution? Knowing the real destination and accomplishing, ईश्वर ज्ञानम् तत् द्वारा ईश्वर प्राप्तिः एव महत् लक्ष्यम्. Having mentioned this in the 11th verse, from the 12th verse कृष्ण categorized the type of people, the entire humanity into two. So the majority of people are the ignorant ones and therefore they do not know the real destination of God, पूर्णत्वम्, real peace, real security, real happiness they don't know. Therefore life is, as they say when they define philosophy, they jocularly say: it is like a blind man looking for a black cat in a dark room in which that cat is not there. This is philosophy they say. These ignorant people they will be groping in life not knowing what exactly they want. If somebody interviews them and ask what do you want, they will say that is what is not known. So either confused or constantly switching over from one thing to another, what is the ultimate goal, what is the intermediary goal there is no direction, like a rudderless boat it is wallowing. कृष्ण strongly criticized them, मोघ-आशाः मोघ-कर्माणः मोघ-ज्ञानाः विचेतसः. And if they are in any other culture it is understandable, because they don't have guidance, but being born to this वैदिक culture where beautiful guidance is available and the आचार्य परम्परा is still alive and kicking, in spite of all these help there are some people who manage to struggle and grope in darkness. And कृष्ण pitied them and then He said there are some few one:

मनुष्याणाम् सहस्रेषु कश्चित् यतति सिद्धये ... ॥ ७-३॥

In the 7th chapter he said, same idea He repeats here; I have told you before, 9th and 7th chapters are almost parallel chapters. So here He said महात्मानः तु माम् पार्थ दैवीम् प्रकृतिम् आश्रिताः । भजन्ति अनन्य-मनसः – some lucky ones, पुण्यवन्तः, they have understood that God is The Ultimate Goal. Not that they don't have worldly duties or ambitions to be fulfilled, they do have lot of other pursuits, but they know they are secondary goals to be completed and then you have to work on the main one. You have to understand this and do that. Like getting down in the intermediary station, while traveling in the train you may get down and buy idli, vada, dosai, etc., and eat. In each station if one buys and eats then only the train journey is complete! So whether you are hungry or not, once you get down in a station one has to eat! You do get down and you do lot of transactions, but you know that the journey has to continue. Similarly, you may choose to get married, you may choose to get children, grandchildren, educating them all those things but this person knows they are stepping stones or secondary ones, but the ultimate is very clear. And these people worship God and their understanding of God varies depending upon their level of maturity. And as I said in the last class, in the beginning stage God is एकरूप ईश्वरः, i.e., Lord is a personal God with one form which he loves, इष्ट देवता रूपम् and then as he continues to study the scriptures and continues to take guidance from the आचार्यs, his appreciation of God transforms and he understands that God with a form will have to be necessarily finite; Lord being infinite, He must include all forms. And can you guess what is one form which includes all forms? If there is one form which includes all forms it has to be either spherical form or elliptical forms should have all the forms. That is why if you take a dough or plastic thing, which you can mould into several forms, when you join all of them you get what, a lump, a lump means what: spherical form and that is why we have got for a विष्णु भक्त the सालिग्राम is there, for a शिव भक्त शिवलिङ्ग is there, which has got almost a spherical shape indicating that all forms are included in that. And that is why the universe also, everything you find is spherical, भूगोलः and therefore एकरूप भक्ति gives way to अनेकरूप भक्ति, one cosmic form of Lord, विश्वरूप form of Lord in which all forms are included, which we will see elaborately in the 11th chapter. And then if he survives and if he remains in that and he assimilates that विश्वरूप ईश्वरः, विराट् ईश्वर, then he appreciates the Lord in a still higher form, higher form being no form. अनेकरूप ईश्वरः to अरूप ईश्वरः, the formless principle which is the culmination there cannot be anything beyond that. Therefore our journey is एकरूप to अनेकरूप to अरूप. In एकरूप you are a द्वैतिन् where the Lord and you are clearly distinct, in अनेकरूप भक्ति you are विशिष्टाद्वैतिन्, because the Lord is all forms and your form is also included in it. I am not different form God, I am part of God. When you come to अनेकरूप, you have graduated to विशिष्टाद्वैतम् from द्वैतम्. And then when you go to अरूपम् there is not even a question of part and whole, it is one indivisible totality, where there is no difference between me and God; to अरूप ईश्वर when you come, you have come to अद्वैतम्.

शान्तं शिवमद्वैतं चतुर्थं मन्यन्ते स आत्मा स विज्ञेयः॥ माण्डूक्योपनिषत्
७॥

That is the end. कृष्ण says a devotee goes through all these stages. एकत्वेन पृथक्त्वेन and विश्वतोमुखत्वेन. एकत्वेन refers to अरूपम्, विश्वतो मुखम् is अनेकरूपम्, पृथक्त्वेन refers to एकरूपम्. Up to this we saw. Continuing;

मन्त्रोऽहमहमेवाज्यमहमग्निरहं हुतम् ॥ ९-१६॥

अहम् क्रतुः अहम् यज्ञः स्वधा अहम् अहम् औषधम् ।

मन्त्रः अहम् अहम् एव आज्यम् अहम् अग्निः अहम् हुतम् ॥ ९-१६॥

अहम् क्रतुः, अहम् यज्ञः, अहम् स्वधा, अहम् औषधम्, अहम् मन्त्रः, अहम् एव आज्यम्, अहम् अग्निः, अहम् हुतम्,

So generally, they classify the students also into three grades based on the type of ईश्वर that he appreciates. If it is एकरूप he is the मन्द अधिकारि, lowest grade, LKG. अनेकरूप, he has come to मध्यम, in between and then if it is अरूप ईश्वर he appreciates he is उत्तम अधिकारि. मन्द to मध्यम to उत्तम. And now कृष्ण assumes that most of the गीता students are in the मध्यम category. कृष्ण doesn't assume a मन्द category at all. So assuming that अर्जुन and others are भक्तs of intermediary levels, they have to learn to appreciate God in any particular form and that is why we are willing to worship any deity. षण्मत्त स्थापनम्, शङ्कराचार्य did only to remove the idea of superiority of one deity to another, whether शिव is greater or विष्णु is greater; our शिव is greater says the horizontal ones, our विष्णु is greater says the vertical ones. So all those things शङ्कराचार्य says never compare, never say this is superior or that is superior, which one you are attracted to you can have a इष्ट देवता, but never look upon the others. This is called अनेकरूप भक्ति. And कृष्ण wants to explain or elaborate the विश्वरूप भक्ति in these verses, 16 to 19. Four verses are the विश्वरूप ईश्वर वर्णनम्. Even though एकरूप and अरूप भक्ति also are there, but कृष्ण chooses to elaborate the middle one, the विश्वरूप

भक्ति. And what is विश्वरूप भक्ति? Learning to look at everything in the creation as the manifestation of the Lord; everything. But there we may get slight difference. Initially we take only those things which are beautiful, which are respectable, which are valuable in creation, those things we take and we learn to see them as God. We should not start with scorpion, or cockroach rather than scorpion. If you say cockroach is God, you will begin to hate God himself. So initially we don't take the द्वेषः विषयाः, we take the रागः विषयाः, anything respectable. That is why we start with माता, पिता, गुरु, दैवम्, start looking at the parents themselves as expression of God. 'Mother and Father are the first known Gods.' Next you go to the school, therefore गुरु and thereafter anything sacred, cow, which had so much role to play in those days, cow was respected, thus everything you take. And since rituals were predominant in those days and everything connected with rituals was very sacred, कृष्ण takes those ritual connected things and says all of them are Myself. What are they, look at them, because life started with कर्मकाण्ड. Therefore people were soaked in daily rituals, therefore He takes them and says learn to look at them as God, अहम् क्रतुः, everything is विश्वरूप वर्णनम्. This is the seed of विश्वरूप वर्णन here, gradually कृष्ण will increase this topic and in the 11th chapter will be climax of विश्वरूपदर्शनम्, all these are like trailers hoping that you will come for the 11th chapter. For that he is showing this. So, I am क्रतुः, क्रतुः means श्रौत कर्म, श्रौत कर्म means rituals and prayers prescribed by the वेदs which are the original scriptures, primary scriptures. And कृष्ण says the ritual itself I am. So normally what do we say, through the ritual God is worshipped, here we don't say God is worshipped through the rituals, we say God himself is the ritual also, क्रतुः. अहम् यज्ञः, यज्ञः means स्मार्त कर्म, स्मार्त कर्म means rituals and prayers prescribed by the secondary non-वैदिक scriptures. They are called secondary scriptures because they draw substance from the वेदs. वेद has got its own validity, whereas non-वैदिक scriptures have no validity of their own, their validity is based on what: वेदs. स्मृतis, इतिहासs, पुराणs, are all borrowed sanctity from the वेदs. Even भगवद्गीता is sacrosanct not because of itself, according to our tradition गीता is sacred because it follows the वैदिक teaching. That is why repeatedly कृष्ण says अर्जुन you should accept the गीता not because I say, you accept the गीता because it is based on the वैदिक teaching tradition. वेद means in our tradition is even superior to God as it were or at least as sacred as God. Because God himself we come to know through what: वेदs. So वेदs are the revealers of God and therefore स्मार्त कर्म means rituals based on the secondary scriptural literature. All the पौराणिक functions, In fact, many of our festivals are based on पौराणिक incidences, right from the दीपावलि onwards. It is not a वैदिक based, it is in पुराण, in that only नरकासुर, सत्यभामा, etc., are all there, but still it is sacred because it is originally based on the वेदs. Then स्वधा अहम्, स्वधा is the offerings given to the forefathers or ancestors, पितृ श्राद्ध समये दीयमान is called स्वधा, because when the पितृ rituals are done, ancestral rites are done, they give oblations or offerings using the word स्वधा. When they give to देवताs it is स्वाहा, when they give to पितृs it is called स्वधा. Therefore स्वधा refers to offering given to the ancestors. And कृष्ण says that also I am. तर्पणम्, पिण्डम् etc., food of the forefathers. Then अहम् औषधम्, औषधम् means the food eaten by the human beings is called औषधम्. The food eaten by us is called औषधम् because it is derived from ओषधि or plant kingdom. औषधम् means what: that which is born out of ओषधि, a plant product is called औषधम्. In those days medicines also were called औषधम्, because they were all which products, not synthetic. आयुर्वेद is all what: based on plants only or herbs. 'One who has seen thousand roots is a semi-doctor' they say in Tamil. Then after some time it became like this: One who has killed thousands is a semi-doctor!! All root based or herbal based and therefore medicine is also called औषधम् and food is also औषधम्. And really speaking, according to our tradition the real medicine is food only. Food properly consumed can serve as a preventive for all diseases and if it is properly consumed it can cure diseases also. Somebody said that in those days they ate food as medicine, now-a-days people eat medicine as food, because so many tablets, green, yellow, black. So many of them, 7-8 in the morning and afternoon another 21 tablets, why because we did not eat food like medicine, now we are forced to eat medicine like food, three times a day. Therefore food is medicine, औषधम् and that food also is God and therefore when food comes don't take for granted and don't gulp down immediately. Now you can see in any function as they serve, before the end of the line is reached the first people finish what is served on the leaf. This server has a problem, a doubt whether he served this leaf or not, because the leaf is empty. He says don't do that, when we sit in a group, when all these things are served and अन्नम् is served and also परिषेचनम् is served then you pray to food. If it is buffet also.

अन्नम् न निन्द्यात् । अन्नम् न परिचक्षीत । ॥ तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् ३-७-१/ ३-८-१ ॥

Therefore, why because

अन्नम् ब्रह्म रसो विष्णुः भोक्ता देवो महेश्वरः ।

इति सञ्चिन्त्य भुञ्जानः अन्नदोषैः न लिप्यते ॥ श्रीलटकन तनय श्रीमन्मिश्रभाव विरचिते भावप्रकाश - पञ्चमं दिनचर्यादिप्रकरणम् - १३१ ॥

अन्नम् is ब्रह्म and the nutrition which is inside the अन्नम्, carbohydrates, proteins, fat, salt, minerals all these nutritions that is विष्णु, because विष्णु is the nourisher. Therefore the रस is विष्णु and the digestive रस which destroys the food, that is its job, destroys the food means what: converts into various nutritions, that भोक्ता the consumer is शिव within. Therefore ब्रह्म and विष्णु are outside, शिव is inside. शिव is the consumer of food. Thus everything is divine. So start training your mind as early as possible, that is why after what you call उपनयनम्, ब्रह्मचारि is asked to do that, that the divinization takes place. Therefore I am food. And मन्त्रः अहम्, whether you are offering food to the देवताs, through श्रौत स्मार्त कर्म or whether you are offering food to the ancestors through पितृ कर्म, or whether you are offering food to yourselves, in the form of eating, regular eating, all these are sacred rituals, which should go along with मन्त्र. That is why in छान्दोग्योपनिषत् it is said that when you eat food you are offering food to the digestive fire, the वैश्वानर तत्त्वम् or the Lord, who is inside, therefore it is called प्राणाग्निहोत्रम् ritual, our eating is called in the scriptures as प्राणाग्निहोत्रम्. In the regular अग्निहोत्रम् the offering is done to the fire outside, in eating offering is done to the fire, which fire: digestive fire, inside. Therefore eating is one type of अग्निहोत्रम्. That is why you can say I am regular performer of प्राणाग्निहोत्रम्. Don't tell what प्राणाग्निहोत्रम् is. You tell everyone "I am a नित्याग्निहोत्रि!!!" Because we all eat very regularly. Therefore अहम् मन्त्रः, what I want to say is all the offering go with मन्त्रः, even before eating you have to do प्राणाय स्वाहा, अपानाय स्वाहा, that मन्त्रः also I am, that मन्त्रोऽहम् अहम् एव आज्यम्, आज्यम् means ghee or the clarified butter which is offered in rituals that also I am. अहम् अग्निः, I am the very fire into which the offering is done, because अग्नि according to our scriptures is a देवता, who is a courier service देवता. You know what is courier service, whatever you give is delivered to that address, अग्नि देवता has got a wonderful courier service, whichever देवता you want to offer anything, you need not know the address of that देवता, what should you do, you offer into the अग्निः, अन्नये स्वाहा । प्रजापतये स्वाहा । परमेष्ठिने स्वाहा । इन्द्राय स्वाहा । वरुणाय स्वाहा ।

You offer where? What is the postbox? अग्निः and he, without any postal strike delivers to the respective address.

अग्निम् दूतम् वृणीमहे होतारम् विश्ववेदसम् । अस्य यज्ञस्य सुकृतुम् ॥
अन्नये नमः ॥ ऋग्वेदः सूक्तम् १-१२-१॥

अग्निम् दूतम् वृणीमहे, अग्नि is a दूतः, a messenger, through whom I can give everything to various देवताs and that अग्निः, the carrier; that is why another name of अग्निः is हुतवहः, in that name itself meaning is hidden. It means courier service हुतवहः, वहः means carrier, वहति इति वहः, हुतम् means what: anything you want to give to any other देवता, हुतम् वहति इति हुत वहः, that अग्नि, the messenger god also I am and not only the messenger god I am, whatever is carried by him, that material also I am and the very action of offering I am, therefore अहम् हुतम् हुतम् means the action of offering, हवन कर्म, OK. What is the essence of this entire verse? I am everything. Can it not be said like that? Then it will not stick to your mind. So you have to dwell on that topic. Continuing;

Verse No .17

पिताहमस्य जगतो माता धाता पितामहः ।

वेद्यं पवित्रमोङ्कार ऋक्साम यजुरेव च ॥ ९-१७॥

पिता अहम् अस्य जगतः माता धाता पितामहः ।

वेद्यम् पवित्रम् ओङ्कारः ऋक्-साम यजुः एव च ॥ ९-१७॥

अहम् अस्य जगतः माता, पिता, धाता, पितामहः, वेद्यम् (वस्तु), पवित्रम् (वस्तु), ओङ्कारः, ऋक्, साम, यजुः एव च (अस्मि)।

अहम् अस्य जगतः पिता, all these verses continue with the same topic. What is the topic? विश्वरूप ईश्वरः, God is everything. So अहम् अस्य जगतः पिता, पिता means father. So I am the father, the parent of this creation, from Me alone the whole creation has originated and not only I am the father, because once you say father, you will ask who is the mother, So He says माता, I am mother also, because the Lord is अर्धनारीश्वर, father and mother, two-in-one, in that age itself two-in-one. So I am both father and mother, which means I am the निमित्त कारणम् च उपादान कारणम् च, I am the intelligent cause behind the creation and I am the very material cause of the creation, अभिन्न निमित्त उपादान कारणम् अहम् अस्मि. Then the next question we will ask is, if God is the father of everyone, who is the father of God? पितामहः अपि अहम् एव, I am the grandfather also, which means I don't have a father who has created Me, I am the ultimate father, I am fatherless father, which means I was never born, I am the causeless cause of the creation. That is why somebody said, पार्वती is very lucky, because she doesn't have any father-in-law and mother-in-law. She doesn't have that problem. Some other problem might be there, I don't know. Then धाता, I am the dispenser, distributor of everything to the जीवs according to their कर्म-फलम्. Anything that is to be given to a जीव, I decide. What type of body you should get, male or female, animal or human, health or sick body, I decide the body that you should have and what is the longevity and during the life also what all you should get, everyone of you, not only human beings, even every animal and insect what they should get, I alone determine. From this we should know that whatever we receive is coming from the Lord's hand. And what is the hand of the Lord, what is the hand of the Lord, the law of कर्म, it is not the whim and fancy of the Lord. If it is Lord's whim and fancy, we will try to alter it by giving it something, that something we are experts, giving something in His hand we get what we want. All those will not work there. So therefore according to the law of कर्म, I give everyone:

अनेककर्तृभोक्तृसंयुक्तस्य प्रतिनियतदेशकालनिमित्तक्रियाफलाश्रयस्य ॥ शाङ्करभाष्यम् ब्रह्मसूत्र जन्माद्यधिकरणम् ॥

at the right place at the right time to the right person, what experience is to be given, I know. So therefore whatever experiences you get is what you deserve and determined by a God who is never unjust. There is no injustice in God's rule, if you feel at any time that I am getting some suffering without deserving, because स्वामिजि I have not killed even an ant (that is a lie, for which you should be punished!) That statement itself is a bluff, assuming that you have not killed even an ant, you are talking about your कर्म of a few years before, last 5 years or 10 years. You don't remember what happened last week, even if you remember you can think of the कर्म of only last few years', but remember we are receiving the कर्मफल for कर्म of several जन्मs. So who are we to judge God and ask "Oh! Lord why are you punishing me, I have not done any harm at all?" This means this person has not understood the law of कर्म. The one who has assimilated the law of कर्म will never ask the question, "why me Oh God." Everyone is living nicely. That is the greatest trouble for him. The thing is that he is suffering is OK, but the others are not suffering like you. If they are also suffering then my suffering will be a little less! So two types of tragedy, one tragedy is bad happening to me, greater tragedy is good happening to others. So therefore there is no question of why me, whatever happens to me is what I deserve given by a just God, there is no injustice in the creation. Whatever is the news-item you read, if the innocent people are suffering, again it is according to Lord of कर्म. That doesn't mean let them suffer I don't go to help. No, whatever help I can do I do that. That is a different thing, but what happens is according to the law of कर्म. That is indicated here, धाता, धाता means कर्म-फल धाता. Then वेद्यम् – I am the ultimate thing to be known. In the 13th chapter, He calls ज्ञेयम्, वेद्यम्, in the 13th it is ज्ञेयम्, in माण्डुक्य उपनिषत् it is विज्ञेयम्. So the ultimate thing to be known, knowing which alone your intellect quest will end. We have not only physical hunger, not only we have emotional hunger; what is emotional hunger? People should love me, do you love me, do you love me, you have to keep on asking and they have to keep on saying: I love you, I love you, I love you or else doubt arises, last two days he didn't say, something is called emotional hunger and there is the final one, the intellectual hunger we all have that intellectual hunger to know, why this creation, what is this creation, who am I, is there a God, if there is one what is His nature, these questions, in fact, we had as children these questions and we asked our parents and they said shut up and do your home work, because they didn't know the answer, so having asked a few times, we just put it in the waste paper basket, but where there is a chance to ask we will all ask these fundamental questions:

and all these intellectual hunger will be quenched only when you know that one thing and therefore it is called वेद्यम्. पवित्रम्, पवित्रम् means the greatest purifier, पुनाति इति पवित्रम्, पावयति इति पवित्रम्, purifier and that is why when they do rituals, they put that दूर्ध्वा grass also as पवित्रम्, indicating that if you wear that you are spiritually purified. It is an invisible purifier, not that wearing that you need not take bath, it is not purifier in that sense, even though you are in चेन्नै and suffer the water problem daily. It is the purifier of the सूक्ष्म शरीरम्, पवित्रम् will not purify the स्थूल शरीरम्, for that you have take bath in the water and Lord is the greatest purifier, पवित्रम्. ओङ्कारः, I am the ओङ्कारः, the essence of all the वेदs, the crux of all the वेदs, I am ओङ्कारः. It is said elsewhere, that the वेदs are first condensed in गायत्री form and that is why, वेद is called ब्रह्म, वेद is also called ब्रह्म, the ultimate reality is called ब्रह्म, वेद is also called ब्रह्म, in fact, ब्रह्मचारि means the one who leads a life to study ब्रह्म, there ब्रह्म means वेद, in ब्रह्मचारि, ब्रह्म means वेद, वैदिक student and since गायत्री is condensed form of वेद, गायत्री is also called ब्रह्म and that is why when a ब्रह्मचारि is initiated it is called ब्रह्मोपदेश, which means गायत्री उपदेश and through that वेदोपदेश, it is वैदिक teaching. And this गायत्री is further condensed in the form of three व्याहृति मन्त्रs, भूः, भुवः and सुवः, that is the condensed form of गायत्री, वेद condensed into गायत्री and गायत्री condensed into व्याहृति. So like we are getting smaller and smaller, like the phone is getting smaller, tape recorder is getting smaller, that days, even the fan regulator was 2" by 2." everything is becoming smaller and smaller, the scriptures have also becoming like that, big वेद, गायत्री, व्याहृति, micro chip and व्याहृति is further condensed, synchro chip or micro-micro chip and from each व्याहृति, one one letter is taken अ, उ and म and if you combine it becomes ॐ. Because according to संस्कृत, combination rule, अ plus उ is ओ, अ plus उ is equal to ओ and म् remains as it is and अ plus उ plus म् becomes ओम्. And keeping that in mind some people write spelling of ओङ्कारः also AUM to connect अ उ म्. AUM, but the problem is once you write AUM, how will you pronounce, ayum, nothing wrong in writing that spelling, but pronunciation should not be ayum, but pronunciation should be ॐ alone, whether you spell it as ॐ or as AUM, pronunciation should be ॐ, अ plus उ in संस्कृत is ओ and therefore ॐ becomes what, one syllable condensation of the huge voluminous वैदिक literature and therefore how powerful should be the ओङ्कारः मन्त्र and therefore कृष्ण says that ॐ I am. And once ॐ is diluted, what will happen? Like you have the fruit juice, keep in your fridge and thereafter you take a spoon and just add one liter and distribute it and so condensed. that condensed one and then you add water and expand. Similarly, if you take वेद and take condensed वेद, ॐ and diluted ॐ is what, वेदs and therefore, if condensed ॐ I am, हे अर्जुन! the diluted, elaborated, magnified वेदs also I am, I say that I am the author of the वेदs, I will say and I am the very वेद itself. That is why we respect वेद to such an extent, भगवान् वेदः. And because of that alone in the Sikh religion also, that गुरु ग्रन्थ साहिब, that ग्रन्थ itself is worshipped, because शिख् tradition is वैदिक tradition only, in fact, the very word शिख् is what, is not sick in the sick people, शिष्यः for them the ष will not come properly, सहस्र शिख् पुरुष they will chant, in the north, ष becomes ख, so शिष्यः has become शिख्, because they are followers of गुरु ग्रन्थ साहिब and therefore, the scriptures themselves are seen as the Lord in our tradition, I am ऋग्वेदः, I am सामवेदः and I am यजुर्वेदः. I have defined the three वेदs before, ऋग्वेद is a वेद in which ऋक् मन्त्रs are there and ऋक् मन्त्र is a मन्त्र which is a metrical composition, which is in the form of poetry, poetic composition is ऋक् मन्त्र, whereas यजुर्वेद is a वेद consisting of यजुर् मन्त्रs and यजुर् मन्त्र is a मन्त्र in prose form; so ऋक् is पद्य रूपम्, यजुर् is गद्य रूपम् and then साम means music, therefore सामवेद is a वेद in which साम मन्त्रs are there, which means there are मन्त्रs which is set of music, they never say साम पारायणम्, they say सामगानम्; यजुर् गानम्, ऋक् गानम् they don't say, that is पारायणम्, I am the साम वेद, what about अथर्वण वेद, अथर्वण वेद also I am, अथर्वण वेद is not mentioned here because अथर्वण वेद primarily contains लौकिक or worldly activities, not much used in ritualistic activities and therefore generally not mentioned, but I am all the four वेदs also. More in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 09, VERSES 18-20

In these verses of the 9th chapter, beginning from the 12th verse up to the 19th verse, Lord कृष्ण is talking about संसार निवृत्ति उपायः, the means of attaining freedom from संसार, otherwise known as मोक्ष उपायः and the means that is given by the Lord here is भक्तिः, भक्ति as a solution to संसार निवृत्ति. But when we say भक्ति is the means of liberation we should be extremely careful in understanding, here the word भक्ति does not refer to any particular साधन but it refers to a range of साधनs consisting of three levels. We will be seeing these levels of भक्ति in the 12th chapter very elaborately, but here we should note it as an important point when भक्ति is presented as a means of liberation, भक्ति consists of three levels of साधन and those three levels are कर्म लक्षण भक्ति, उपासना लक्षण भक्तिः and ज्ञान लक्षण भक्तिः, The first stage of भक्ति is in the form of कर्मयोग which will purify the mind, then one has to graduate to the उपासना लक्षण भक्ति, भक्ति in the form of meditation by which a person gets the integration of the mind and then one has to necessarily go through the final ज्ञान लक्षण भक्तिः which is nothing but भक्ति in the form of वेदान्त श्रवण मनन निदिध्यासन. In विवेकचूडामणि, शङ्कराचार्य beautifully defines this भक्ति, स्वस्वरूप अनुसन्धानम् भक्तिरित्यभिधीयते ॥ ३१॥

The third and final level of भक्ति is not in the form of पूजा, not in the form of पायायणम्, not in the form of social service, the final level of भक्ति is in the form of enquiry, with the help of scriptures or उपनिषत्s I make an enquiry into the essential nature of the Lord. And only when one goes through कर्म + उपासना + ज्ञान रूप भक्ति, that भक्ति alone will lead to liberation, it is not any one of them. This is one point we have to remember all the time, भक्ति divorced from knowledge can never give liberation, because all the उपनिषत्s are uniformly insistent on the fact that ज्ञानात् एव कैवल्यम्. We will be seeing in the कैवल्योपनिषत् also,

सम्पश्यन् ब्रह्म परमम् याति नान्येन हेतुना ॥ कैवल्योपनिषत् १-१० ॥

नान्यः पन्था विद्यतेऽयनाय ॥

Other than ज्ञानम् there is no method and therefore when we say भक्ति is a means of liberation we should understand that that भक्ति whose final stage is in the form of ज्ञान यज्ञः. If you remember the 4th chapter, कृष्ण pointed out

श्रेयान् द्रव्यमयात् यज्ञात् ज्ञान-यज्ञः परन्तप ।

सर्वम् कर्म-अखिलम् पार्थ ज्ञाने परिसमाप्यते ॥ ४-३३॥

All your यज्ञs and पूजाs should culminate into enquiry, विचारः, systematic study of scriptures, that is the subtlest form of भक्ति, therefore what you are going through now is a form of भक्ति, you should not think भक्ति is only if तालम् and होमम् are there, that is also भक्ति but ultimately वेदान्त विचारः is the highest form of भक्ति, therefore भक्ति is equal to the means of liberation, means कर्म plus उपासनाम् plus ज्ञानम् or विचारः is equal to means of liberation. This is one point, this we will be studying very elaborately in the 12th chapter. कृष्ण himself tells, on that strength only I am telling this, कृष्ण himself tells that in the 12th chapter, that is why the chapter itself is titled there, भक्तियोगः. The second important point to be noted is: when we say भक्ति is the means of liberation, certainly भक्ति is directed towards the Lord, because where is the question of भक्ति without an object of भक्ति, devotion. And this object of भक्ति also gradually evolves as the भक्ति evolves. So when I start my भक्ति, my appreciation of the Lord, the object of devotion is a very gross appreciation and my भक्ति should evolve, the culmination of which will be the ideal form of भक्ति and only when that भक्ति is evolved into that form, it will lead to liberation. What do you mean by the evolution of भक्ति? This also I had indicated in my previous classes, in the initial level of भक्ति the object of devotion, God is एक रूप ईश्वरः, God is a person for me, sitting, located in वैकुण्ठ, कैलास, गोलोक वृन्दावनम्, (कृष्ण Consciousness people have a special लोक called गोलोक वृन्दावनम्. There will be many cows). So then it is वृन्दावनम्, कृष्ण will be there, dance will be there, their concept of God is always personal. And according to scriptures it is grossest form of भक्ति and this भक्ति should evolve and the personal God should expand to become what अनेकरूप ईश्वरः, otherwise विश्वरूप ईश्वरः, where the Lord is not located in one place but the Lord is everything. If you read the translation of रुद्रम् you will find very interesting. Lord शिव who is in the form of tree, who is in the form of mud, who is in the form of green leaf, the one who is in the form of dry leaf, whatever ordinary materials are there in the whole world, all that is शिव only,

नमो लोप्याय चोत्प्याय च नम ऊर्वाय च सूर्याय च नमः पर्ण्याय च
पर्णशृङ्गाय च नमोऽपगुरुमाणाय चाभिघ्नते च नम आस्त्रिखदते च प्रस्त्रिखदते च ॥ श्रीरुद्रप्रश्नः ९-१ ॥

Just read the translation, you will find that शिव is सर्वम् शिव मयम् जगत्, therefore भक्ति should evolve into अनेकरूप भक्ति and that is not enough, again further I have to go and appreciate the Lord as one beyond both एकरूपम् and अनेकरूपम्, but the Lord who is in अरूपम्, अशब्दम् अस्पर्शम् अरूपम् अव्ययम् तथा अरसम् नित्यम् अगन्धवत् च यत्।

अनाद्य् अनन्तम् महतः परम् ध्रुवम् निचार्य तम् मृत्यु-मुखात् प्रमुच्यते ॥
कठोपनिषत् १-३-१७ ॥

So therefore, the appreciation of God changes and mode of भक्ति also changes. How does the mode of भक्ति change? कर्म to उपासनाम् to वेदान्त विचारः, this is the change in the mode of my expression of devotion and not only the mode of devotion varies, the object of devotion, the Lord's nature also varies and what is the culmination of भक्ति, culmination of भक्ति is nothing but the Lord in his formless nature is none other than myself,

शिव एव सदा जीवो जीव एव सदा शिवः । वेत्यैक्यमनयोऽस्तु स आत्मज्ञो न चेतः ॥ अद्वैतानुभूति ७४॥

जीव एव शिवः शिव एव जीवः. In तमिळ् both will be written and spelt similarly, because 'ज' is not there, therefore what is the culmination of भक्ति, अहम् ब्रह्म अस्मि इति ज्ञानम्. So भक्ति gives liberation means भक्ति culminating in अद्वैत ज्ञानम् gives liberation. What is the proof for all these things? Where do you get all these ideas? If you ask, in 7th chapter we ourselves have seen this:

आर्तः जिज्ञासुः अर्थार्थी ज्ञानी च भरतर्षभ ॥ ७-१६॥

तेषाम् ज्ञानी नित्य-युक्तः एक-भक्तिः विशिष्यते । ॥ ७-१७॥

There while enumerating भक्तः, कृष्ण says, the greatest भक्त is one who has gained the knowledge अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि. So this is the second point. The mode of भक्ति has three levels, कर्म plus उपासना plus विचारः. The object of भक्ति has three levels, एकरूप, अनेकरूप, अरूप. And such a भक्ति will give liberation. And of this कृष्ण is here describing अनेकरूप भक्तिः from verse no.16, अनेकरूप भक्ति or विश्वरूप ईश्वरः is described, of which we have seen the 16th and 17th verses. Now we will enter into the 18th verse which continues with the topic of विश्वरूप ईश्वरः, अनेकरूप ईश्वरः. Even the crow is also नन्दलाल, because crow is also dark, black and कृष्ण is also black. In effect the word कृष्ण in संस्कृत means black only. So when I see a crow, whom should I see, कृष्ण, how, that is the development, so 9, 10th, 11th chapters we will find विश्वरूपदर्शन अभ्यासः. So we are now going through a training period and what is the training, see God everywhere. स्वामिजि it is very difficult, who says it is easy. It is difficult only, but it is worth the effort. We will read verse 18.

Verse No .18

गतिर्भर्ता प्रभुः साक्षी निवासः शरणं सुहृत् ।

प्रभवः प्रलयः स्थानं निधानं बीजमव्ययम् ॥ ९-१८॥

गतिः भर्ता प्रभुः साक्षी निवासः शरणम् सुहृत् ।

प्रभवः प्रलयः स्थानम् निधानम् बीजम् अव्ययम् ॥ ९-१८॥

(अहम्) गतिः, भर्ता, प्रभुः, साक्षी, निवासः, शरणम्, सुहृत्, प्रभवः, प्रलयः, स्थानम्, निधानम्,

अव्ययम् बीजम् (च अरिम्) ।

So कृष्ण gives a list of things here and points out that all these things are I myself or ईश्वरः only. So we have to say गतिः ईश्वरः or कृष्णः, भर्ता कृष्णः, प्रभुः कृष्णः, साक्षी कृष्ण, in short सर्वम् कृष्ण मयम् जगत्. If राम नवमि comes, सर्वम् राम मयम् जगत्, therefore we don't have any partiality or favoritism, any नाम you give that is the name of the Lord. So we will see the meaning of each one of them. So गतिः, गतिः means a destination, a goal which is kept in mind by every person, we can say कर्म-फलम्, कर्म-फलम् is always the goal of a person. How do you say कर्म-फलम् is a goal, because every person is busy doing what कर्म and why does he do कर्म, just because he enjoys, no no, nobody does कर्म for enjoyment, every कर्म a person does only for the sake of a particular फलम्, therefore every कर्ता has कर्म-फलम् as his destination and in संस्कृत, destination is called गतिः, therefore गतिः is equal to destination or कर्म-फलम् and every कर्म-फलम् I am, that means what: success is one type of कर्म-फलम् and what is another, failure is another type of कर्म-फलम् and कृष्ण boldly says, I am the कर्म-फलम्, which means what: success also I am, failure also I am. Therefore never reject failure, rejection of failure is rejection of God; working for success is very good, working for success is very good, but be prepared to welcome failure when it comes; this alone कृष्ण said in the 2nd chapter,

सिद्ध्यसिद्ध्योः समो भूत्वा ॥ २-४८॥,

सुख-दुःखे समे कृत्वा लाभ-अलाभौ जय-अजयौ । ॥ २-३८॥

Therefore all good and bad, any experience you get learn to accept it as God himself. And even if there is some difficulty experienced and some even biological pain, once there is no resistance, then psychological sorrow is not there, biological pain we cannot stop, discomforts we cannot stop, but we can stop worry and sorrow by avoiding resistance, resistance always produces heat. You know in physics, whenever there is a wire with a lot of resistance, temperature increases, it gets heated up. Therefore गतिः ईश्वरः. Then भर्ता, भर्ता literally means sustainer and in this context it means कर्म-फल धाता, I am the one who gives the कर्म-फलम् and why कृष्ण says I am the giver of कर्म-फलम्, because to determine the कर्म-फलम् the result of any action, I should take into account all the laws of creation. Every action produces a result depending upon infinite number of factors. You ask the meteorologists, he knows. To predict rain, he takes 160 factors or so and he says tomorrow rain comes and tomorrow everything other than rain comes, that means what: he is not just bluffing, if we listen to their prediction, we feel that we can also make the prediction, tomorrow rain may or may not come, it might be with thunder or without thunder, it will be here and there. For this I have to study meteorology! It looks funny, but remember, even to say that he is taking into account so many factors and still why does it fail, because there are still hidden unknown factors. Only omniscient person or principle can perfectly determine the कर्म-फलम् and there is only one omniscient one that is ईश्वरः; जीव can never be कर्म-फल धाता. Therefore कृष्ण says I give you the result, so earlier what was said, I am the कर्म-फलम् and the next He says I am the giver of the कर्म-फलम्, that means what: how can you ever reject any कर्म-फलम्. “Thy will be done”, they say in Christianity, whatever you decide that will happen and I accept. I will never ask a question why me. Why it should not fall on the neighbor’s head and why it should fall on my head. Never ask the question, Lord can never be unjust. He is the भर्ता, sustainer. प्रभुः, प्रभुः means the one who is the master, who is capable of doing this job, because to become the कर्म-फल धाता, Lord must have omniscience and also omnipotence and that शक्ति is there and therefore he is प्रभुः, प्रभवति इति प्रभुः, it is derived from the root प्र √भू, प्रभवति means to be capable, to be competent, so प्रभुः means the competent one, to do what: कर्म-फल दानम्. Then साक्षि, while I am doing all this mischief of giving varieties of कर्म-फलम् to people, even through natural calamities भगवान् is giving only कर्म-फलम्, that is why earthquake remaining the same, all the जीवs don't get uniform experience. That varies, because of what: again कर्म-फलम्, पुण्य-पाप भेदः and therefore I do all these kinds of mischief but at the same time from my original nature standpoint, चैतन्य दृष्ट्या, स्वरूप दृष्ट्या, अहम् साक्षि अस्मि, पश्यन् शृण्वन् स्पृशन् जिघ्रन् अश्नन् गच्छन्, from the standpoint of माया शक्ति I do everything, from my own standpoint I am mere witness. If you remember the 7th chapter, अपरा प्रकृति दृष्ट्या I do everything, परा प्रकृति दृष्ट्या I am साक्षि,

साक्षी चेताः केवलो निर्गुणश्च ॥ श्वेताश्वतर उपनिषत् ६-११ ॥

Then निवासः, निवासः means I am the abode of everything, I am विश्व आधारः, शान्ताकारम् भुजगशयनम्, पद्मनाभम् सुरेशम् विश्वाधारम् गगनसदृशम्, I am the very आधार of the world. In one श्लोक itself you see, भुजगशयनम् means I am lying on the भुजग, a snake, therefore in the first line the snake is supporting the Lord, poor भगवान्, a personal God is lying on भुजग snake. दयानन्द स्वामिजि says, the first spring cot in the world, coiled, snake is coiled, therefore in the first line, what is the आधार, snake is the support and Lord is supported by the snake. But in the second line the whole thing is reversed, in fact, Lord is not lying on the snake, on the other hand the whole creation is resting on the Lord. So therefore, निवासः, निवसति अस्मिन् सर्वम् इति निवासः. Then शरणम्, शरणम् means shelter, refuge. So when every other person in the world rejects me, when every other person is not able to help me, when I become helpless, as अर्जुन became in the battleground,

I am the ultimate refuge for everyone, that means what आर्त त्राण पायायण, I am the protector of the person who surrenders to Me, so the story of ध्रुव or प्रह्लाद or द्रौपदी or गजेन्द्र all these stories indicate and Lord is a two-fold protector, the Lord protects from incidental problems that a person faces, like द्रौपदी or गजेन्द्र and also Lord is protector from ultimate crises i.e., संसार. To give incidental protection Lord has to only kill that person concerned, like that गजेन्द्र and the crocodile is destroyed, but when the संसार crocodile, when the संसार crocodile is tormenting me and I surrender to the Lord then भगवान् sends सुदर्शन चक्रम्, दर्शनम् means ज्ञानम्. So by सुदर्शन चक्रम् called 'अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि', through तत्त्वमसि महावाक्य उपदेश he sends and destroys the crocodile of संसार. So incidental protection, ultimate protection, both I give, therefore शरणम्, शीर्यते दुःखम् अस्मिन् इति शरणम्. शरणम् by definition means that in whose presence we are free from our problems, सुहृत् means a well wisher, सुहृत् and मित्रम् they make a subtle difference, we have seen in the 6th chapter.

सुहृन्मित्रार्युदासीनमध्यस्थद्वेष्यबन्धुषु ।

साधुष्वपि च पापेषु समबुद्धिर्विशिष्यते ॥ ६-९॥

So in the 6th verses we saw two words, सुहृत् and मित्रम्, what is the difference? When I know someone and because of my acquaintance and familiarity, I helped him. That kind of help to a known person and also with the idea, that if I help him today he may help me tomorrow, therefore the person is known person and there is also an expectation, प्रत्युपकारम् अपेक्ष्य उपकर्ता मित्रम्, whereas सुहृत् is one who helps another person even if that person is unknown. He says that person is a deserving case and then he helps. And not only he helps even an unknown person, he helps without expecting any return, प्रत्युपकारम् अनपेक्ष्य उपकर्ता सुहृत् and what is the Lord, Lord comes under सुहृत् category, he doesn't expect any प्रत्युपकारम् and we are also ready for that, we should get it free. So therefore, they say that a person promised a house to the Lord, his very very palatial house to the Lord if the problem is solved; he promised during the crisis. If the problem is solved the palatial house is to be offered. Thinking that Lord will not solve it (he thought that the Lord is like us) and by mistake or whatever may be the reason the problem was solved. Now how to solve, new problem has come. So how to manipulate and escape? So what he did, see where the बुद्धि goes you see, he had a cat in the house and he said that I want to sell house or equivalent to that money also can be given and therefore, he said the house and the cat both together are available for sale. Both you have to purchase together, the house costs Re.1. The cat cost Rs.9,99,999 or something. The cat and house together is Rs.10 lakhs. So you have to buy them together and then what was his promise? To give house to the Lord. And through house how much I got? Re. 1. And Re.1 he said I will give to the Lord. Now think of the intelligence. This is human mind, but still भगवान् is going to help and therefore सुहृत्. Then next one प्रभवः, प्रभवः प्रलयः स्थानम्, प्रभवः means सृष्टि कारणम्, स्थानम् means स्थिति कारणम्, प्रलयः means लय कारणम्. These three words put together means सृष्टि स्थिति लय कारणम्, I am the substratum out of whom the creation arises, in whom the creation rests, and into whom the creation resolves. Then निधानम् – I am the storehouse, the repository of everything in the creation. Not only everything, even every knowledge also. So suppose scientists are going to discover certain new theorems or laws which nobody has discovered, what about the knowledge? Does it exist or not? Because nobody has invented that. Our शास्त्र says that even before invention of that knowledge, that knowledge exists in the creation and where does it exist, in the Lord it exists and therefore knowledge is also a discovery. In fact, we don't produce knowledge we only remove ignorance. Every knowledge is a discovery and where does it exist? In God. Therefore I am the storehouse of all things, all beings, all forms of knowledge. And not only that, अव्ययम् बीजम् – I am the inexhaustible seed of this universe. Inexhaustible seed out of which infinite things appear.

Therefore the difference between निधानम् and बीजम्, one can be taken as the repository of all the कर्म-फलम्s, which are in potential form, सञ्चित रूपेण and अव्ययम् बीजम् can be taken as everything and being in the creation, I am the inexhaustible seed. In short, I am everything. Continuing;

Verse No .19

तपाम्यहमहं वर्षं निगृहाम्युत्सृजामि च ।

अमृतं चैव मृत्युश्च सदसत्त्वाहमर्जुन ॥ ९-१९॥

तपामि अहम् अहम् वर्षम् निगृहामि उत्सृजामि च ।

अमृतम् च एव मृत्युः च सत् असत् च अहम् अर्जुन ॥ ९-१९॥

हे अर्जुन! अहम् तपामि, अहम् वर्षम्, निगृहामि उत्सृजामि च, अहम् एव अमृतम् मृत्युः च, (अहम् एव) सत् असत् च (अस्मि) ।

So now कृष्ण comes to something which is recognized by all the people, whose importance everyone knows and what is that, सूर्यः. So what is the role played by the Sun in our very existence we know, the very earth exists because of the Sun, the very earth is energized because of the Sun and we survive because of the Sun and Sun at the right distance, if it comes little nearer, burned, if it goes little back, frozen, at the right distance and then in the form of season, in various forms the Sun is important and that is why in our daily prayers Sun is taken as manifestation of ईश्वरः, प्रत्यक्ष दैवम्. In सन्ध्यावन्दनम्, both in the morning and afternoon,

मित्रस्य चर्षणी धृतः श्रवो देवस्य सानसिम् । सत्यं चित्रश्रवस्तमम् ॥

मित्रो जनान् यातयति प्रजानन् मित्रो दाधार पृथिवीम् उत द्याम् ।

मित्रः कृष्टीर् अनिमिषाभि चष्टे सत्याय हव्यं घृतवद् विधेम ॥
कृष्णयजुर्वेदः, तैत्तिरीय संहिता, ३-४ प्रपाठकः ४, ३-४-११ अनुवाक ११-७

The whole thing is the glory of सूर्यः and afternoon:

आ सत्येन रजसा वर्तमानो निवेशयन्नमृतम् मर्त्यञ्च ।

हिरण्ययेन सविता स्थेनाऽऽदेवो याति भुवना विपश्यन् ॥ कृष्णयजुर्वेदः, तैत्तिरीय संहिता, ३-४ प्रपाठकः ४, ३-४-११ अनुवाक ११-२ ॥

Beautiful मन्त्रs, I don't know how many of you remember. सन्ध्यावन्दन मन्त्रम्. And evening since the Sun has set, it is वरुण मन्त्र. So what I want to say is Sun is taken as a representative of God, because the more you think of the role of Sun, ultimately if you want inexhaustible energy you will have to go to solar energy, all the other conventions things are going to be in trouble, they are all depleting, we have to either directly get from the Sun or we should try to stimulate the process of the Sun and produce similar form of energy. So the more you think of Sun your hands will go and therefore कृष्ण says that Sun, remember, I am. Whatever you touch He says I am. So अहम् तपामि, सूर्यरूपेण, in the form of Sun, I alone energize and if you to have to heat the room or heat something, how much gas is required for boiling the water, at the cost of the gas now imagine the Sun, heat and what is the charge, free and what to do, criticize, Sun is too hot we criticize, we don't know the value. Go to हिमालयs, go to Siberia or go to कैलास मानसरोवर, then your respect for Sun will increase. Because the moment the Sun sets temperature will suddenly come down, minus. Therefore I heat and energize the universe. And not only that, I do lot of other things also, why heating the earth, I heat the oceanic waters and evaporate and if the oceanic waters have to be evaporated how many cylinders you require! Lord Sun does evaporate the whole ocean and tons and tons and tons of pure water, not salt-mix, pure water is thrown upwards, free of cost and suppose they condense and pour into the ocean itself, useless, वृथा वृष्टिः समुद्रेषु वृथा तृप्तेषु भोजनम् । - सुभाषितम् (what is the use of feeding one who has already eaten, like that if the rain happens in the ocean, what is the use, no use).

Not only the Sun, the Lord has to evaporate the waters He has to transport those waters to the land. And all these tons and tons of waters are transported, what is the transport, वायु भगवान्, सूर्य भगवान् evaporates, वायु भगवान् transports and then at the right place and time it condenses and you get purest water, if at all water is polluted it is our contribution, acid rain our contribution, we pollute and now they are talking about harvesting the rain, ultimately भगवान् alone has to help and Lord कृष्ण says, when all these things happen seasonally don't take them for granted. When summer is very hot appreciate that, it is required for evaporation; then the rain is pouring in the rainy season don't take it for granted, appreciate भगवान्. Therefore he says, अहम् वर्षम् निगृह्णामि, वर्षम् means rainy waters I absorb through the sunlight or the heat, so निगृह्णामि. Then what do I do, taking it to the land, उत्सृजामि च – I release those waters, निगृह्णामि means I absorb, उत्सृजामि I release, all with the help of Sun and Wind and because of this alone अमृतम् च एव मृत्युः च. So this has two meaning, one is relative meaning, empirical, another is philosophical meaning. Relative meaning is: I am the cause of survival because through the rains I am the producer of food and because of food alone people escape from मरणम्, therefore I am the cause of अमृतम् means I am the cause of survival, by providing what, अन्नं दानेन. And suppose I withdraw my blessing, I don't do निगृह्णामि and उत्सृजामि I don't do, there are no rains, what happens, there is drought and every year you read, because of the drought people, cattle, they all die, therefore कृष्ण says, I am the cause of मृत्यु also, by producing drought. So I am responsible for prosperity and survival and I am responsible for drought and death also. How do I do that, by giving the rain and by not giving the rain, both I am. This is from empirical angle. From philosophical angle: I am the cause for both mortality and immortality. So here mortality means ज्ञानम्. So I am the cause of immortality, in the form of ज्ञानम्. I give ज्ञानम् and give immortality to the seekers and I am the cause of mortality also, when I don't bless the people or through अज्ञानम्. So मम सत्त्व गुण द्वारा अमृतस्य कारणम्, मम तमो गुण द्वारा अहम् एव मृत्यु

कारणम्, I am the cause of both, mortality and immortality. Then सत् असत् अहम् एव, the word सत् and असत् have several meanings, we will take a simpler meaning in this context. सत् means manifest creation, concrete creation, visible creation, मूर्त प्रपञ्चः, व्यक्त प्रपञ्चः; असत् means the unmanifest, abstract, the अमूर्त प्रपञ्च. For example, the physical body is the manifest one, the subtle body and the causal body are unmanifest, both concrete and abstract creation I am. Continuing;

त्रै-विद्याः सोमपाः पूत-पापाः माम् यज्ञैः इष्ट्वा स्वर्गतिम् प्रार्थयन्ते । ते पुण्यम् सुरेन्द्र-लोकं आसाद्य, दिवि दिव्यान् देव-भोगान् अश्नन्ति ।

With the previous verse, that is the 19th verse, the topic of भक्ति as a means of liberation is over. And you should very carefully note what it means, भक्ति हि मोक्ष साधनत्वेनः

मोक्षकारण सामग्र्याम् भक्तिरेव गरीयसी ।

स्वस्वरूपानुसन्धानम् भक्तिरित्यभिधीयते ॥ विवेकचूडामणि ३१ ॥

भक्ति as a means. Now from this verse, 20th verse up to the 29th verse कृष्ण wants to talk about two types of भक्ति. भक्ति has two modes or two types and what are they, सकाम भक्ति and निष्काम भक्ति and what do you mean by that? सकाम भक्ति is a भक्ति through which a person seeks either अर्थ or काम, that is सकाम भक्ति. A भक्ति which is utilized for material ends. कृष्ण doesn't want to say which one you should choose. He objectively presents, these are the two forms of भक्ति, which one to use you have to decide. The choice is yours, I am here to give you what is the means and what is the end, सकाम भक्ति will give you अर्थ, अर्थ means all types of worldly security and काम, all types of worldly entertainment. भक्ति can give materialistic ends and if it is निष्काम भक्ति, a person chooses the same भक्ति and he says I am not interested in अर्थ or काम because I know their limitation and therefore I want to use the same भक्ति, whether it is कर्म or उपासना, I want to utilize it for मोक्ष or things connected with मोक्ष, both will come under निष्काम भक्ति, a निष्काम भक्त seeks मोक्ष or things allied to मोक्ष. What do you mean things allied to मोक्ष? साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति should come, we pray: Oh Lord! May I have purity of mind, May I develop all the virtues which are required for knowledge and if I have all the qualifications I can pray for opportunity to study the शास्त्रs, because without शास्त्र विचार where will I go, because that is the guiding principle. Therefore Oh Lord give me an opportunity for शास्त्र विचार, that is also निष्काम भक्ति and I have got शास्त्रम् in my hand, but no गुरु, that means what you have got a coco cola but you don't have opener, without opener you have to just sit, without being able to enjoy it. Similarly, शास्त्र coco cola can be opened only by गुरु, special opener, that is called सम्प्रदाय. सम्प्रदाय is शास्त्र, coco cola or pepsi opener (I am not supporter of only coco cola) you can pray for a गुरु. If you are not satisfied with गुरु, you can pray for better गुरु, all these things will come under निष्काम भक्ति. कृष्ण wants to talk about a comparative study of सकाम निष्काम भक्ति. So भक्ति starts with सकाम भक्ति in verse no.20 and 21. He starts with सकाम भक्ति because majority comes under सकाम भक्त. How do you differentiate? Will there be a special color in the body or anything, सकाम भक्ति is white or yellow? How do you know who is सकाम भक्त or how does God know? It is based on the सङ्कल्प, the motive with which you express your भक्ति. If it is a religious activity, motive is indicated by ममोपात्त समस्त दुरित क्षय द्वारा, धान्यम् धनम् पशुम् बहु पुत्र लाभम् शत संवत्सरम्, a very big list, even by mistake मोक्ष won't come there. So many things will be there, can't they also add मोक्ष to that list? मोक्षम् अपि, it is not even last item! So if it is religious activity the सङ्कल्प will indicate, if it is non-religious activity, your motive, when you do business, what is the purpose of your business somebody asked, you can say for money making or you can say money making is incidental, but through this I want the वित्तशुद्धि, वित्तशुद्धि is my primary aim and incidentally I require money to run the show. If it is वित्तशुद्धि प्रधान activity, it is निष्काम and if it is money प्रधान activity, it is सकाम and here कृष्ण says, most of the people are interested in pleasure, pleasure hunt. But and according to the वैदिक scriptures, the highest form of pleasure is what, heaven, in the olden days. Now America, by hook or crook, land there and if a lady is pregnant, make sure that the child is born there, land there and have the delivery of the child there! Therefore, we consider being born in India is a curse and I heard some Indians abroad will feel shy to say that I am of Indian origin. So it is heaven bound universe, which कृष्ण says they will have heaven, but they will come back. Details in the next class.

Having talked about भक्ति in general as a means of मोक्ष, now कृष्ण is talking about two types of भक्ति, सकाम भक्ति and निष्काम भक्ति. We have analyzed this topic in the 7th chapter already. I had pointed out that the 9th chapter is very very close to the 7th chapter. There I had pointed out that the भक्ति can be classified into three levels based on the motive that a person has or the way that a person looks at the Lord and the three levels of भक्ति are मन्द भक्ति, मध्यम भक्ति and उत्तम भक्ति. At the level of मन्द भक्ति, I look upon God only as a means for getting my worldly ends, for getting worldly benefits like health or weath or property or freedom from disease I used Lord purely as a means. भगवान् is the साधनम् and the worldly things are the साध्यम्. And this form of भक्ति is called मन्द भक्ति, this form of भक्ति is called the lowest form of भक्ति, because I don't love God for the sake of God, I love God for the sake of some other worldly benefit and whenever we love someone for the sake of some other thing that love is a fake love. When somebody loves me for the sake of borrowing money from me and as long as I lend money he loves me, he says you are इन्द्र, चन्द्र, great स्वामि, whatever it is and I wanted to test that person and stop giving money and gradually the friendship also is broken, his love is also broken. Now you ask the question, did that person love me for my sake or for the sake of money. So when I have money somebody loves, when I have no money the same people don't love, then it is very clear that they love money rather than me. This is a simple अन्वयव्यतिरेक logic. I have money people love, I have no money people don't love; it is very clear, people love money and not me. Similarly, when I love God for the sake of worldly benefit, that love of God cannot be treated as true love, because that love is directed towards the worldly benefit and I love God incidentally because he is supposed to fulfill my worldly desires. So thus the lowest form of भक्ति is that in which God is the means. And after this kind of मन्द भक्ति, a person becomes more and more mature and begins to understand that God is superior to all the worldly things that I can accomplish, God is superior to all the worldly things I can accomplish and therefore, my attitude towards God changes. Until now I worshipped God taking God as a means for other ends. Now I change the party, I say instead of loving God for the sake of the world, I begin to love God as an end-in-itself. So God is no more means but God is that end for me and if at all I use the world, the world is no more end. Now the world has become the means, a total reversal with regards to means-end perception, which is a radical change and this change is called मध्यम भक्ति, in which God becomes the end. And the first भक्ति, मन्द भक्ति is called otherwise सकाम भक्ति and मध्यम भक्ति is called निष्काम भक्ति, because while I worship Lord I don't ask for any of those worldly things. These are the two levels of भक्ति, कृष्ण is going to emphasize in these verses and there is a third level of भक्ति also, which is called उत्तम भक्ति. In the मध्यम भक्ति, I look upon God as the end and certainly the love for God is superior to the love for the world, because the world is means, God is the end, love for the end is certainly superior to the love for the means. But वेदान्त goes one step further. When you love God because it is a goal for you, I will ask the question why do you want to keep God as your goal, why can't you keep money, why can't you victory, why can't you keep presidency, some other thing, why do you want to keep God as your goal? Then the answer he will give is, if I attain God I will be happy. So why does a devotee desire to attain God, that is again for the benefit of his own happiness and therefore superior to the love of goal is the love of oneself, because I love the goal not for the sake of the goal itself, I love the goal for the sake of myself only. If the goal will not give me happiness, then what will I do, change the goal. So therefore, as long as you see Lord as the goal certainly you love God, but that love of God is also lesser than, lesser than what, lesser than the love for oneself. It is a very beautiful approach, you have to meditate on this idea. Love for the end is superior to the love for the means and love for oneself is superior to the love for the end, because I love the end for whose sake, not for the sake of the end but for the sake of myself and therefore in the highest level of भक्ति, God is neither the means nor the end, I have to discover God as myself. And when God and self becomes identical the love or devotion has reached the climax, which is called अद्वैत भक्ति, अभेद भक्ति, परा भक्ति, ज्ञान भक्ति. This कृष्ण talked about in the 7th chapter,

उदासः सर्वे एव एते ज्ञानी तु आत्मा एव मे मतम् । ॥ ७-१८॥

अर्जुन all types of all kinds of devotees are certainly great, but the greatest devotee is that ज्ञानि who is none other than myself, ज्ञानि तु आत्मा एव मे मतम्. So therefore, what are the three levels that we have to go through,

- i) First God is the means called सकाम भक्ति,
- ii) Then God is the end, which is called निष्काम भक्ति and thereafter
- iii) God is myself, which is अद्वैत भक्ति.

Now all these three levels कृष्ण is talking about. First we are taking सकाम भक्ति, 20 and 21 talks about the मन्द भक्ति. And what do the मन्द भक्तs or सकाम भक्तs do? They worship the Lord alright and the Lord comes and asks what do you want and they think a lot (without thinking if they ask it is ununderstandable, but they think a lot) and afterwards asks for the wrong thing. That is called मोह or delusion. कृष्ण talks about that, त्रै-विद्याः सोमपाः पूत-पापाः यज्ञैः माम् इष्ट्वा, they are all great भक्तs, त्रै-विद्याः – informed in all the three वेदs, सोमपाः – they have performed सोम याग which I explained in the last class and they have offered सोम रस to the अग्नि and they have taken सोम रस प्रसाद also and therefore they are called सोमपाः, पाः means those who consume the प्रसाद. सोमम् पिबति इति सोमपः and because of this सोम रस पानम्, it should be taken only as part of याग, separately taken it will be a liquor, they are not supposed to take it separately, only as part of the याग and in the form of a प्रसाद, when they take, they become what, पूत-पापाः, they are all free from all the पापम्, they acquire enormous amount of पुण्यम्. So they have been given a blank cheque and भगवान् says you can write anything, I am ready to give anything. You want world I am willing to give, you want God I am willing to give. So both are ready, you can choose anyone, as we saw in कठोपनिषत्,

श्रेयः च प्रेयः च मनुष्यम् एतः तौ सम्परीत्य विविनक्ति धीरः । कठोपनिषत्

both ends are there, but what do these people do, स्वर्गतिम् प्रार्थयन्ते, गतिः means goal, destination and स्वर् means स्वर्ग, so स्वर्गतिम् means स्वर्ग गतिम्, स्वर्गफलम्, गति means फलम्, so स्वर्गति, means स्वर्ग फलम् प्रार्थयन्ते. And as far as भगवान् is considered, he doesn't have any choice. That is why you should always remember, what you get in life is not determined by भगवान्, we generally think whatever we are getting भगवान् is giving, if भगवान् is responsible for the choice of your experience, then certainly that भगवान् will become partial भगवान्, because for some people He gives a happy life, for some people He gives unhappy life, भगवान् will be partial. Therefore remember, भगवान् does not chose what He should give, then भगवान् is like what, a shopkeeper, whatever you want you ask, your goal is to be decided by you only, your गुरु cannot decide, your parents cannot decide, भगवान् cannot decide. भगवान् says I am willing to give whatever you want and therefore whatever you get is chosen by whom, you have asked for it, therefore never blame the stars, because we are very good to blame others. As somebody said: 'To err is human but to blame someone is more human.' So therefore we always say it is because of the wife or husband or children or neighbor. My child gets good marks, but because of the company of the neighbor's child he is spoilt, but the same complaint your neighbor also gives! So therefore never make anyone responsible for your lot, you are responsible for whatever you are going through now. Therefore भगवान् says these people instead of seeking God, they seek स्वर्ग, I want to enjoy. What will भगवान् do, भगवान् cannot force. स्वर्ग is not good, why are you asking that, I will give you मोक्ष, this person will reject मोक्ष, he is like a baby who has got gold biscuits and real biscuits, real biscuit means eatable biscuits. Now you take a gold biscuit and eatable biscuit, gold biscuit also they swallow, I read in today's paper itself, people swallow that also. Normally it is not eaten, gold biscuit and eatable biscuit and take it to a baby. You ask the baby what do you want, the baby will ask for the eatable biscuit, it will ask what can I do with the gold biscuit, poor child doesn't know that gold biscuit can buy millions of eatable biscuits, this is called नित्य-अनित्य वस्तु विवेकः नास्ति. And we laugh at the children, but we are doing the same thing, world is the eatable biscuit, God is the gold biscuit. From the Lord you can buy millions and millions of the worldly आनन्द, we don't know. So if the mother is going to force the child to take the gold biscuit, the child will cry only, therefore what will the mother do, OK, hopefully, the child will grow up later and ask for the right biscuit, but now let me give this biscuit to the child. Similarly, भगवान् also decides to give the स्वर्ग, eatable biscuit and the मोक्ष, gold biscuit is lost and therefore कृष्ण says, ते सुरेन्द्र-लोकम् आसाद्य – those unintelligent people those सकाम भक्तः, those मन्द भक्तः, सुरेन्द्र-लोकम् आसाद्य, आसाद्य means reaching, attaining, the world of इन्द्र. What is the world of इन्द्र? स्वर्ग लोकः, so सुरेन्द्र-लोकम्, स्वर्गलोकम् आसाद्य. What type of सुरेन्द्र-लोकम् it is? पुण्यम् सुरेन्द्र-लोकम्, पुण्यम् means पुण्य फल रूपम् or sacred, the sacred heaven which is full of joy, full of sense pleasures. So eternal December season, in तमिळुनाडु music season, the weather is also fine and there is all over music. Go from this सभा to that सभा and in between they eat at Woodlands or in the सभा canteen and they feel the vadai sambar is better than the music concert, they go for that. So therefore, 'When there is food for the ear, give a little also to the stomach.' Imagine that you do this throughout the life, that is स्वर्गलोक, you go from one place to another, खावो पीयो मजा करो (Eat, drink and make merry) only. Therefore अश्नन्ति, He himself says, अश्नन्ति – they consume, they partake, देव-भोगान् – all the heavenly pleasures, celestial pleasures in the heavens दिवि, स्वर्ग लोके, देव-भोगान् – pleasures enjoyed by other gods, this person also partakes and they are all दिव्यान्, दिव्यान् means supernatural extra- ordinary, you cannot even imagine such pleasures, दिव्यान् means अलौकिकान्, अलौकिक सुखम् they will enjoy. When we hear this description, it appears as though this सकाम भक्त's have made the right choice, they have chosen heaven, of course not now, after death, first qualification is you should die, that is understood, after death they go to स्वर्गलोक. So isn't it a right choice, कृष्ण is going to examine that in the next verse.

Verse No .21

ते तं भुक्त्वा स्वर्गलोकं विशालं क्षीणे पुण्ये मर्त्यलोकं विशन्ति ।

एवं त्रयीधर्ममनुप्रपन्ना गतागतं कामकामा लभन्ते ॥ ९-२१॥

ते तम् भुक्त्वा स्वर्ग-लोकम् विशालम् क्षीणे पुण्ये मर्त्य-लोकम् विशन्ति ।

एवम् त्रयी-धर्मम् अनुप्रपन्नाः गत-आगतम् काम-कामाः लभन्ते ॥ ९-२१॥

ते तम् विशालम् स्वर्ग-लोकम् भुक्त्वा, पुण्ये क्षीणे (सति) मर्त्य-लोकम् विशन्ति । एवम् त्रयी-धर्मम् अनुप्रपन्नाः काम-कामाः गत-आगतम् लभन्ते ।

So कृष्ण says their choice seems to be wonderful choice, certainly they go to a wonderful world and they will enjoy wonderful pleasures and that too not for a short while, for very many long years. Therefore कृष्ण says, ते तम् स्वर्ग-लोकम् भुक्त्वा, भुक्त्वा, so they enjoy the heavenly pleasures there, whatever you imagine in the world those pleasures are there and not only that, every देव has got supernatural powers also, which means सङ्कल्प मात्रेण, by mere visualizations they can order all the pleasures. And how big is this स्वर्ग-लोकम्, will it be crowded like चैन्नै with traffic jam and all? No, विशालम् स्वर्ग-लोकम्, therefore it is not at all crowded, each one can have a huge mansion, such a vast स्वर्गलोक सुखम्, स्वर्ग-लोकम् they enjoy. Up to this is the brighter aspect of सकाम भक्ति. And generally people see the brighter aspect only, like seeing the rose and not seeing the thorn behind it. What is this thorn, कृष्ण is going to describe. This स्वर्गलोक is given only for the पुण्यम् that has been earned by कर्म, this स्वर्ग सुखम् is given not free of cost, you have to pay through your nose. OK, for every milligram of pleasure you have to spend in heavenly dollars, not our rupee, heavenly dollars called पुण्यम् and how did you earn the पुण्यम्, through your कर्म, what type of कर्म, सोम यागादि कर्म and this money is earned through कर्म, the earned money will be limited only. Any amount you earn and save, it will be a limited amount only, it cannot be infinite amount of money and the tragedy is, in स्वर्गलोक you can only spend पुण्यम्, you cannot earn fresh पुण्यम् or else as in America you can get scholarship and assistance ship etc., and they earn also, but in स्वर्गलोक it is only भोग भूमि. It is never a कर्म भूमि, which means the earned पुण्यम् will be gradually depleted, gradually exhausted. So the bank accounts, पुण्यम् bank accounts becomes lesser and lesser and that means one day, whatever पुण्यम् has taken you to स्वर्ग, that whole पुण्यम् gets exhausted, visa expires. Then what will happen, at least in other countries, you may try to evade and somehow overstay, continue, in other places you can do that but in स्वर्ग, the heavenly police and heavenly computers are well maintained that the person is identified and what will happen, कृष्ण tells पुण्ये क्षीणे सति – when all the heavenly पुण्यम्s are exhausted, मर्त्य-लोकम् विशन्ति, back to चैन्नै with mosquitoes. So previously I stayed with celestial, now my company is mosquito. So therefore क्षीणे पुण्ये मर्त्य-लोकम् विशन्ति and मुण्डकोपनिषत् says, even मर्त्य-लोकम् is not guaranteed, it all depends upon what is the next कर्म that is fructifying, if the next fructifying कर्म is inferior type even मनुष्यलोक is not guaranteed, the उपनिषत् says

नाकस्य पृष्ठे ते सुकृतेऽनुभूत्वेमम् लोकम् हीनतरम् वा विशन्ति ॥
मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-२-१० ॥

And therefore you have to come back. OK, so what? So what if you ask the problem is any object which gives you pleasure by its company, the very same object will give you pain when it goes away from you, any object which gives joy by association, the very same object gives sorrow because of dissociation, very very natural. If you are watching a movie, very interesting one and in the middle the current goes, you don't have generator also, now even they have that, now if you have generator and suppose generator also goes, you get so wild and your anger is directly proportional to the enjoyment that you derive. Therefore having enjoyed like people who stay in America for long time, they criticize India left and right, they might have lived here, then they write letters also, letters to the editors, it is put in the positive sense only. But the mind is such that having enjoyed something it cannot settle for anything lesser than that and therefore the withdrawal symptom it is called, is extremely painful. Therefore मर्त्य-लोकम् विशन्ति, they come back to the दुःख लोकम्. And then what they have to do, he is like an addicted person, who after the effect of the addiction is gone, there is a tremendous withdrawal symptom, again he has to go back to the same condition. Therefore somehow get money and try to go to the same condition, whether it is drug, alcohol or anything and again the effect goes and again do that, it goes on and on, कृष्ण says, every संसारि is like an addict, does कर्म, enjoys, loses everything, again does कर्म, enjoys, loses everything, कर्म, फलम्, जन्म, again कर्म, फलम्, जन्म, कर्म, फलम्, जन्म, गत-आगतम् काम-कामाः लभन्ते. Therefore एवम् – in this manner, त्रयी-धर्मम् अनुप्रपन्नाः – those people who follow the ritualistic portion of the वेदs, the कर्मकाण्ड portion of the वेदs and with what attitude, काम-कामाः – with an aim of pure enjoyment, sensory enjoyment, worldly pleasures, काम-कामाः here means विषय कामाः, first काम means विषय, काम-कामाः means विषय कामाः, a person who is interested in sensory pleasures, such people do all the पूजा, etc., but use पुण्यम् earned for the sake of the perishable pleasures. And therefore what is their lot, गत-आगतम् लभन्ते. So the consequence is गतम् आगतम् च, गतम् means what: स्वर्ग गमनम्, आगतम् means भूलोक आगमनम्, again स्वर्ग गमनम्, again भूलोक आगमनम्, in between नरक गमनम्. And again भूलोक आगमनम्. One has to come to भूलोक at regular intervals. Why, because all earnings you can do here only, in the other 13 लोकs, whether it is 6 upper लोकs, or 7 lower लोकs, all the 13 लोकs are only for exhaustion of your earnings, in the lower लोकs you exhaust your पापम्, in higher लोकs you exhaust your पुण्यम् and again if the bank balance has to be built up, you have to come to भूलोक. Therefore गमनागमनम्. This is called autobiography of a संसारि, I have told you, it is biography of an auto. What does auto do, गत-आगतम्, to the stand, Anna Nagar and again come back to the stand and then to T Nagar, so it is going round and round, that is why it is called autobiography. OK, that is my interpretation. Right! Continuing;

अनन्याश्चिन्तयन्तो मां ये जनाः पर्युपासते ।

तेषां नित्याभियुक्तानां योगक्षेमं वहाम्यहम् ॥ ९-२२॥

अनन्याः चिन्तयन्तः माम् ये जनाः पर्युपासते ।

तेषाम् नित्य-अभियुक्तानाम् योग-क्षेमम् वहामि अहम् ॥ ९-२२॥

अनन्याः चिन्तयन्तः ये जनाः माम् पर्युपासते, तेषाम् नित्य-अभियुक्तानाम् योग-क्षेमम् अहम् वहामि ।

In the previous two verses, कृष्ण talked about सकाम भक्त or मन्द भक्त, for whom God is only the means, world is the end. Now in this important verse, often quoted verse, भगवान् talks about the मध्यम भक्त, the निष्काम भक्त, for whom God is not a means for other things,

God is the means also, the end also. God is the end, that is the highlight, OK. And when God is the end the love for God will be certainly superior, you know why, because if you study your mind, your mind is obsessed with the end alone, your mind is never obsessed with the means. When you want to go to दिल्ली and when you are traveling by the train or flight, you will certainly go to the respective station, airport or railway station, you purchase the ticket, you do everything, but throughout the journey your mind is going to dwell on what, who has come to the station, whether the elder sister or younger sister, how to go from the station, if they don't come, how is the weather going to be there when I reach? You are travelling here but your mind is soaked with the end thought only. Not only travel, anything you want to build a house, you do all the transactions, meet the contractor and you talk to the contractor, you never fall in love with the contractor because the contractor is only a means that is what I think. Now you only dwell upon the house, when is he going to finish it, when will he give, whether he will give it or not, etc., etc. These are all done, transactions go on but your mind is absorbed in the end. Similarly, here also, in the case of मध्यम भक्त, he does all the worldly transactions but the absorption in the ultimate goal of his life, that is called भगवान् in पौराणिक language, that is called मोक्ष in Vedantic language, that is called तीव्र मुमुक्षुत्वम् in Vedantic language, that is called जिज्ञासु भक्ति in the 7th chapter language. And therefore since the end occupies the mind, it is so powerful that it displaces all the other things from your mind. It displaces, imagine, you have a important function next week, you are going to conduct the wedding of your daughter after 7- years of horoscope hunting, you have been looking for that, you might do everything, your mind is going to dwell or you are a new mother and have a young baby and it is the first one, you do all transactions but your mind absorbed in that, that is called अनन्य भक्ति, a भक्ति in which the absorption into the Lord displaces all the other secondary goals of life. The other goals of life are not ignored, very careful, even though you have the thought of the दिल्ली, you go to the right railway station, you go the Central, you don't end up in Egmore, you never commit mistake there, you purchase the ticket and you go to the right platform also, (you will not enter into a different train) and show the ticket, you do all those things, but they are all in a subdued level, compared to one thought that is there, दिल्ली that job in दिल्ली, businessman business thought, musician musical thought. So therefore, absorption into the Lord does not mean ignoring of one's family duties. कृष्ण is not talking about disregarding or disrespecting one's duty, they are being done properly, but when I have to choose the goal of life, I vote for "This is my ambition in life" and that is there in my subconscious all the time. And therefore अनन्याः – without any other goal occupying the mind, जनाः माम् पर्युपासते, जनाः means मध्यम भक्ताः, निष्काम भक्ताः, जिज्ञासु भक्ताः माम् पर्युपासते – they worship me without any other goal, other than मोक्ष, OK. Then what about the worry regarding the worldly what you call duties and other things, because we have to earn, we have to take care of the family, children, grandchildren, because this person is absorbed, what will he do for his योग and क्षेम, योग means acquiring whatever is required is योगः, अप्राप्यस्य प्राप्ति, like the basic needs of life, food, clothing, shelter and the second thing is क्षेम, क्षेम means प्राप्यस्य रक्षणम्, protecting whatever I have acquired. Acquisition and preservation these are the two basic pursuits in human life. If you just look back what you have been doing is either acquiring or preserving, these two only we have been doing. But what has happened is, कृष्ण's worry is, we spend the whole life for this that we have no time to think of anything higher. So all the five days or six days we are busy, especially if they are working people we are busy and there are only two days, weekend, they are weakened, (rightly named). So they are so weakened therefore you only want entertainment, we cannot think of गीता, उपनिषत् because it demands your attention, you don't want to read such books where बुद्धि is required, you want to read only those books where बुद्धि is not required, Stardust! So therefore only dusty thing, so that you don't require बुद्धि, you will only lose whatever you have. Again Monday comes and busy up to Saturday, Sunday you do lot of things and again Monday comes,

दिनयामिन्यौ सायं प्रातः शिशिरवसन्तौ पुनरायातः ।

कालः क्रीडति गच्छत्यायुः तदपि न मुञ्चत्याशावायुः ॥ भजगोविन्दम् १२

20th century is going away, every day we are going closer, closer to what, यमधर्मराज, closer to यमधर्मराज we are not aware. Therefore कृष्ण tells you have to take care of योग क्षेम to some extent, but total योग क्षेम you can never, you can never provide, perfect security human beings can never provide because everything in life is insecure, the President, the Prime Minister and they have got the security and a prime minister gets killed by the security, what will you do. So therefore, thinking that I can provide perfect security is the greatest myth in life and therefore whatever is to be taken care of you take care of, but you have to fill up the gap only by one method, what is that, surrender to the Lord, to the extent possible I have done but I don't want to brood over it and worry over it all the time, भगवान् will take care of, does not mean that we should be irresponsible people, whatever is humanly possible I do and whatever I acquire there is sense of insecurity, whether it is enough or not, inflation, after 10 years monthly Rs.10,000/- will be sufficient or not, doubt. So you can calculate, calculate, calculate and die, you don't even enjoy. Therefore where is the limit to the security. Therefore take care of a little and leave it to the Lord. Then what is the advantage, you can attend गीता class, the advantage is your mind is available for something beyond local योग क्षेम, even if you have perfect योग क्षेम you are going to die anyway, therefore why I should spent the whole life for that, therefore take care of योग क्षेम to some extent and leave the rest to the Lord. Now our next worry is: Is Lord reliable? Because we know nobody around is reliable, because at crucial moment they will drop us, you know that. Since we have experienced that the human beings are unreliable, people wonder whether God is like anyone of us. भगवान् says No. If there is one reliable one, that is only Me. So योग-क्षेमम् वहामि अहम्, I am the real LIC. The other local LIC will catch fire, require another LIC. When Life Insurance itself burns what will you do, therefore I will take care of your योग क्षेम, don't worry, but what is the condition, I will take condition, under one condition, is very very careful, तेषाम् नित्य-अभियुक्तानाम् – those who are very committed to the goal of Myself, for them the goal is the Lord and nothing else, अभियुक्ताः means steadfast, committed, for those people, they are called जिज्ञासु भक्तः, तीव्र मुमुक्षु or मध्यम भक्तः, I will take care of their योगः and क्षेमः. It is a very very practical श्लोक which भगवान् provides, because every person has a sense of insecurity in the mind. Normally गृहस्थ should be secure, insecurity should be felt by संन्यासिः, because only for संन्यासिः there is no one, only संन्यासिः has got no relationship, he has broken, if at all worry should be there, संन्यासिः should worry and those संन्यासिः don't worry and a गृहस्थ who has got children and grandchildren and money and this and that, that he worries indicates that security does not depend upon your external possessions, it depends upon your state of mind, without anything to possess you can feel secure, with everything to possess you can feel insecure and the greatest beauty is what, we get children for our security and there afterwards we grow old we begin to worry the children's security, now tell me, they are security for us? Or we are security for them? If you say that both are mutually secured, that means both are insecure, it is like I am telling you that I will give you Rs.10 loan if you give me Rs.10 loan, then we will happily live. Remember two beggars cannot depend on each other, two insecure members can never give mutual security, therefore all the insecure members should draw security only from one ever secure entity and that is called भगवान् and therefore कृष्ण gives a guarantee card, कृष्ण also gives a guarantee card, for how many months, not for three or six months, it is eternal guarantee, you trust Me you will be safe, you trust Me you will be safe, Continuing;

Verse No .23

येऽप्यन्यदेवताभक्ता यजन्ते श्रद्धयान्विताः ।

तेऽपि मामेव कौन्तेय यजन्त्यविधिपूर्वकम् ॥ ९-२३॥

ये अपि अन्य-देवता-भक्ताः यजन्ते श्रद्धया अन्विताः ।

ते अपि माम् एव कौन्तेय यजन्ति अविधि-पूर्वकम् ॥ ९-२३॥

अपि ये अन्य-देवता-भक्ताः श्रद्धया अन्विताः यजन्ते, ते अपि हे कौन्तेय! अविधि-पूर्वकम् माम् एव यजन्ति ।

So in the previous verse कृष्ण said, the निष्काम भक्त are those who worship Me. Now does that mean that every seeker of मोक्ष should worship कृष्ण, does it mean that one should not worship other देवताs? So there is a question regarding who is inferior देवता, who is superior देवता, etc., the problem comes, which is a big problem in our religion, whether शिव or विष्णु? In some places, whether शिव or शक्ति, trouble in the house itself, so therefore father or mother, you or me. So therefore people have this difficulty and therefore कृष्ण wants to clarify that, I have clarified this in the 7th chapter in the verse यः यः याम् याम् तनुम् भक्तः. I just remind you briefly, that any form of God is finite in nature, because form means finite, therefore कृष्ण form or शिव form or विष्णु form, a personal deity has to be necessarily finite only. But in any particular form, we can invoke a finite power or the infinite itself, what we invoke is purely in our hand. So the value of a deity depends upon what, our invocation, I gave you an example also, do you remember, the value of a cheque leaf depends upon what you write on it, first leaf is superior or second leaf is superior, we have to say after it is written, before writing all the leafs are of equal value, provided the money is in the bank, of course, Similarly, here also all the देवताs are equal, finite only, but when I invoke infinite, then कृष्ण in whom infinite is invoked will become the superior-most God and all the other देवताs will become finite. If you invoke infinite in शिव, शिव will become infinite, all others will become finite. In the भगवद्गीता, कृष्ण represents infinitude, therefore कृष्ण tells I should be worshipped, even if I worship any other देवता also, it will come to me alone, because all the finite are included in the infinite, this is going to be said, we will see in the next class.

पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 09, VERSES 23-27

In the portions of the 9th chapter, beginning from the 22nd verse up to 29th verse, Lord कृष्ण is classifying भक्ति into two types based on the motive with भक्ति is expressed or practiced. The motive behind भक्ति can be two-fold with regard to the ignorant people. We are not taking into account a ज्ञानि whose भक्ति is absolutely motiveless. The motiveless भक्ति of a ज्ञानि is not taken into account. A ज्ञानि doesn't have a motive because he has nothing to accomplish. He doesn't want to attain even मोक्ष because already accomplished मोक्ष and he is not interested in धर्म-अर्थ-काम because, धर्म-अर्थ-काम being finite and मोक्ष being infinite, all the finite accomplishments are included in the infinite and therefore a ज्ञानि doesn't want धर्म, अर्थ, काम or मोक्ष,

न एव तस्य कृतेन अर्थः न अकृतेन इह कश्चन ।

न च अस्य सर्व-भूतेषु कश्चित् अर्थ-व्यापाश्रयः ॥ ३-१८॥

कृष्ण said in the 3rd chapter. Therefore a ज्ञानि भक्ति is motiveless भक्ति, that ज्ञानि is not considered in this context. Here we are discussing भक्ति is an अज्ञानि and therefore who will necessary have some motive, some axe to grind and based on the motive, भक्ति is classified into two, one is called सकाम भक्ति, in which the person, an अज्ञानि worships the Lord for the sake of everything else other than God. He worships God, he does नमस्कार to God and when God asks what do you want, he will enumerate everything other than God. So his attitude is let God be where he is. There is a saying "God is in heaven, everything is fine here." So such a भक्ति is सकाम भक्ति, such a भक्ति is motivated by the desire for धर्म-अर्थ-काम, put together in कठोपनिषत् was called प्रेयस्, interested in materialist desires. Whereas निष्काम भक्ति is also a motivated भक्ति, very careful, the निष्काम भक्ति of an अज्ञानि, we are not taking about the भक्ति of a ज्ञानि, निष्काम भक्ति of an अज्ञानि is also a motivated भक्ति. Then why do you call it निष्काम भक्ति, how can you say निष्काम when you say motivated? निष्काम

भक्ति is a भक्ति in which the भक्त is not interested in anything other than God. So why is it निष्काम, he is not interested in anything other than God. Therefore it is called निष्काम भक्ति but even in that निष्काम भक्ति, there is a motive and what is that, Oh Lord, I don't want anything other than you. As one devotee offers a beautiful prayer:

नास्था धर्मे न वसुनिचये नैव कामोपभोगे यद्यद्भव्यम् भवतु भगवन्
पूर्वकर्मनुरूपम् ।

एतत्प्रार्थ्यम् मम बहुमतम् जन्मजन्मान्तरेऽपि त्वत्पादाम्भोरुहयुगता
निश्चला भक्तिरस्तु ॥ मुकुन्दमाला ॥

Oh Lord, I have no interest in धर्म, no interest in अर्थ, no interest in काम, न आस्था, आस्था means I don't care, न वसुनिचये नैव कामोपभोगे, then with regard to that what it is my motive, यत् यत् भव्यम् भवतु भगवन् पूर्वकर्मनुरूपम् – according to my कर्म, whether money can come or go,

यत्लभसे निजकर्मोपात्तम् वितम् तेन विनोदय वितम् ॥ भजगोविन्दम् २ ॥

If I want to ask something from you what is that I want, त्वत्पादाम्भोरुहयुगता निश्चला भक्तिरस्तु – I am interested only in You. Of course in religious language, devotional language, the devotee will say I am interested in “You.” But in वेदान्त, “You” does not mean a personal God, because personal God is as finite as any other thing, so there “You” means a finite form which represents सत्यम्, ज्ञानम्, अनन्तम् ब्रह्म. Thus when I seek nothing but God, who represents infinite ब्रह्मन्, when I become a तीव्र मुमुक्षु, it is called निष्काम भक्ति of an अज्ञानि. So this सकाम, निष्काम भक्तis of an अज्ञानि are differentiated in this portion and कृष्ण's indirect advice is: May you graduate from सकाम भक्ति to निष्काम भक्ति. And this is indicated in a symbolic language, that symbolic language you should understand to interpret these verses properly. What is that symbolic language?

i) In the भगवद्गीता, कृष्ण represents the infinite Lord, the infinite one or मोक्ष and all the other gods represent finite देवताs, representing all the finite goals of life, like money, लक्ष्मी देवता is a finite देवता representing only money aspect, Similarly, सूर्य देवता is a finite देवता representing only the power of vision. So thus all the other देवताs represent limited goals of life, whereas कृष्ण represents the limitless. Even though कृष्ण form is finite, but it symbolizes the infinite, remember in the 7th chapter, I gave you the example of cheque book. In the cheque book the first leaf is more valuable or the second leaf is more valuable? What is your answer? First you fill up thereafter I will say. All the leafs are equal, but if you write Re.1 in the first leaf and Rs.1 lakh in the second leaf, I will choose what, the second leaf. Therefore the leaf by itself is neither superior nor inferior but what you write will indicate. Similarly, कृष्ण शरीरम् is one cheque leaf, राम शरीरम् is another finite form, all the रूपम्s are finite, but what do you invoke, invocation is filling up the cheque book. If in the कृष्ण शरीरम् you invoke सत्यम् ज्ञानम् अनन्तम् ब्रह्म, कृष्ण will represent. As I said in भगवद्गीता, कृष्ण is पूर्णम् ब्रह्म. And therefore कृष्ण says instead of worshipping other finite देवताs you can worship Me, Myself because all the देवताs are included in me. What is the reason? By the simple logic that infinite includes all finites. And therefore कृष्ण says any देवता a person worships all those worship will not go that particular देवता, but through that देवता it comes to me alone. Just like a person touches any limb of mine, I will not say he is touching the hand or leg, I will say he is touching me because I include all the limbs. Therefore point No.1, any worship goes to कृष्ण. In शिव पुराण what will we say: any worship goes to शिव, in देवी भागवतम् what will you say: any worship will go to देवी, which one is correct? everything is correct if you understand the principle behind it. And if you choose देवी as your इष्ट देवता, for you देवी will become the infinite देवी. For the first point, any worship goes to कृष्ण only.

ii) The second point: Any result given is not by those देवताs, any blessing given comes from कृष्ण alone, only thing is through that particular देवता कृष्ण blesses all people. Therefore कृष्ण receives all the worship through the देवताs, कृष्ण blesses all the people through the देवताs.

iii) Then the next principle that we have to understand in the symbolic language is this. Since all the other देवताs represent only finite powers, by worshipping those देवताs a person can get only what benefit, finite benefits only. They have got only limited powers. If सूर्य देव is worshipped, like the specialist you go to ophthalmist and cannot complain about tooth ache, then he will say it is not my department, go to dentist they are specialists, they can only deal with their department. लक्ष्मी can deal with only money, knowledge it should be सरस्वती, हस्तयोः इन्द्र. Thus any देवताs can bless you with only a finite result. And therefore people can go to those देवताs only for finite result, therefore worship of those देवताs will come under सकाम भक्ति. What is the principle, you should understand clearly, other देवताs can give only finite result, and therefore people go to the other देवताs only for finite results and therefore it will come under सकाम भक्ति. And people can go to which deity for infinite result, if you want infinite result you cannot go to any other देवता, because they cannot give, you have to go to whom, in the भगवद्गीता context you have to go to कृष्ण only then you will get the infinite result. And therefore कृष्ण भक्ति represents निष्काम भक्ति in the context of भगवद्गीता. Therefore, कृष्ण भक्ति is निष्काम भक्ति, अन्य देवता भक्ति, अन्य देवता means any deity other than कृष्ण, अन्य देवता भक्ति represents सकाम भक्ति. If you read शिवानन्द लहरि, you have to see fully, शङ्कराचार्य says, all the other देवताs are like the hull of the rice grains, for they will fly off when blowed, whereas शिव alone is solid one, all the other gets some benefit because of what: शिव. Therefore in that context, शिव भक्ति will represent निष्काम भक्ति and all the other देवता भक्ति will represent सकाम भक्ति, remember this principle and read this verse you will understand.

कृष्ण says, ये अपि अन्य-देवता-भक्ताः – so there are people who are worshippers of other gods, other gods other than Me. How do they worship, श्रद्धया अन्विताः यजन्ते – they are worshipping with faith with the idea that that देवता, the नवगृह places and there also you know who is the popular ब्रह्म, you all know, many don't know where the other ब्रह्म are there, but one ब्रह्म everybody knows, शनि of Thirunallar, put mustard, salt, etc., etc. Therefore कृष्ण says when people worship those ब्रह्म देवताs, etc., they do not know the fact that worship does not go that देवता at all, really speaking through them it is coming to Me alone, because शनि is included in Me. So ते अपि माम् एव कौन्तेय यजन्ति – so those people are worshipping Me alone, I told you in the last class,

आकाशात् पतितं तोयम् यथा गच्छति सागरम् । सर्वदेव नमस्कारः केशवम् प्रति गच्छति ॥

Some कृष्ण भक्त has written, if शिव भक्त had written, he would have written शत श्रीरुद्रम् प्रति गच्छति, whether it is wrong or right, that is also right. So ते अपि माम् एव कौन्तेय यजन्ति. But what is their problem, अविधि-पूर्वकम् – they are ignorant of this fact, अविधि means अज्ञानम्, in this context it has a very special meaning, अविधि means अज्ञानम्, they are ignorant of what fact, ignorant of the fact that all the finite देवताs are included in Me, by worshipping Me they have worshipped all the other देवताs, they don't know.

Verse No .24

अहं हि सर्वयज्ञानां भोक्ता च प्रभुरेव च ।

न तु मामभिजानन्ति तत्त्वेनातश्च्यवन्ति ते ॥ ९-२४॥

अहम् हि सर्व-यज्ञानाम् भोक्ता च प्रभुः एव च ।

न तु माम् अभिजानन्ति तत्त्वेन अतः च्यवन्ति ते ॥ ९-२४॥

अहम् हि सर्व-यज्ञानाम् भोक्ता च प्रभुः एव च (अस्मि), माम् तु तत्त्वेन न अभिजानन्ति, अतः ते च्यवन्ति ।

So the idea is further clarified. अहम् सर्व-यज्ञानाम् भोक्ता, I am the receiver of all forms of worship offered to any other देवता. So I am the receiver, भोक्ता means receiver. It is just like we handing over the money to the post office, even though physically we are handing over to the post office, it is going to the person concerned. Similarly, all the देवताs are like postal people only, they have to ultimately hand over the thing to Me, because if they want to bless their devotee, that blessing power comes from Me only. Just as a cabinet minister enjoys the ministerial power blessed by whom the Prime Minister. How do you know, the moment reshuffling happens and one Minister is removed of the post, that Minister cannot have any such power and therefore this देवताs have to come to Me and I alone give them the power to bless their devotee, therefore भोक्ता अहम् एव and not only that, प्रभुः एव च and I have got the necessary powers to fulfill their desires. Not those finite देवताs. So the power to the finite देवताs are given by Me alone with which they bless their devotee. But all these inner workings they don't know, न तु माम् अभिजानन्ति – those people do not understand Me clearly, तत्त्वेन – in my true nature, that अविधि-पूर्वकम् of the previous verse is explained here न तु माम् अभिजानन्ति. I told you अविधि means अज्ञानम्, that meaning is clarified here, they do not know Me in reality. So by saying that they do not know My real nature, कृष्ण indirectly conveys I have got two natures, because कृष्ण says they do not know My real nature, that means what? He has two natures, one is the superficial unnatural nature and the other is essential real nature. What is the superficial unreal nature? The physical form, the finite form is the superficial unreal nature, because it is temporarily taken by the Lord on a अष्टमि day. It was not before, it was not there, it was not there means not that कृष्ण was not there, that particular शरीरम्, माया मानुष वेषम् was not there before अष्टमि and it will not be there after स्वर्गारोहणम् and therefore मानुष वेषम् is unreal and that कृष्ण himself tells in the गीता, अवजानन्ति माम् मूढाः मानुषीम् तनुम्

आश्रितम्, seeing my physical human form the deluded people think that I am a particular finite person, but what is my real nature, परम् भावम् अजानन्तः, my real nature is:

अशब्दम् अस्पर्शम् अरूपम् अव्ययम् तथा अरसम् नित्यम् अगन्धवत् च यत्।

अनाद्य् अनन्तम् महतः परम् ध्रुवम् निचाय्य तम् मृत्यु-मुखात् प्रमुच्यते ॥
कठोपनिषत् १-३-१७ ॥

It is formless, attributeless, सत्-चित्-आनन्द स्वरूपम्, that these people don't understand, माम् तत्त्वेन निर्गुण स्वरूपेण न अवजानन्ति. So instead of knowing my पूर्ण स्वरूपम्, they take my अपूर्ण स्वरूपम् only. And therefore what happens? Even if they worship Me, leaving the other देवताs, even if they worship Me, they don't ask for the infinite, because they don't know my higher nature, therefore even after coming to Me, they ask for what, Rs.5 increment. So they say you know, there was a milkman who did lot of तपस् and Lord came and he asked I want permanent source of milk. Therefore the Lord said, So be it!. Then he saw a huge lake of milk, clean milk, pure milk and the Lord said, not only you have got so much milk, you can go on taking and distributing, the milk will be same, it will not become less, it will not get depleted. Then the milkman said wonderful oh Lord, you have blessed me. Then the Lord went. But then the milkman called the Lord again immediately, Lord, don't go away, I forgot to ask another important thing. If I have got this much milk, pure lake of milk, you should bless me with another lake of water, because, for regular supply I need water also. Therefore, even if it is the ocean, the dog will drink it by licking only, even if there is so much water the dog can only lick and drink. Similarly, going to भगवान् we can ask for infinite, but still our दरिद्र बुद्धि, even the Lord is willing to give infinite free of cost, he is going to say it is free of cost, but still except that we will ask for perishable ephemeral things. Therefore, भगवान् says, My hands are in both pockets, one pocket is in infinite and the other in finite, I am ready to give both, but people do नमस्कार and ask for finite things. Only one hand of mine is active, the other hand is almost paralyzed, because I have been never able to use that hand to distribute from the मोक्ष pocket, no use at all, nobody asks even by mistake, therefore कृष्ण is disappointed, व्यवन्ति ते – they fall, having come to Me, having got an opportunity for asking the infinite, they don't ask out of sheer indiscrimination, sheer foolishness, they don't ask, therefore they fall into the संसार. Continuing;

Verse No .25

यान्ति देवव्रता देवान्पितृन्यान्ति पितृव्रताः ।

भूतानि यान्ति भूतेज्या यान्ति मद्याजिनोऽपि माम् ॥ ९-२५॥

यान्ति देव-व्रताः देवान् पितृन् यान्ति पितृ-व्रताः ।

भूतानि यान्ति भूत-इज्याः यान्ति मत् याजिनः अपि माम् ॥ ९-२५॥

देव-व्रताः देवान् यान्ति, पितृ-व्रताः पितृन् यान्ति, भूत-इज्याः भूतानि यान्ति, मत् याजिनः अपि माम् यान्ति ।

Then a question will come, OK people don't ask for मोक्ष, but the Lord knows that मोक्ष is the best gift. Therefore Oh Lord, even if we don't ask why can't you give us मोक्ष, because you know better, you could have chosen to give मोक्ष. कृष्ण says that won't work, because of two reasons.

i) One reason is in human birth, the Lord has given us free-will unlike animal birth. Animals cannot choose their goals, they are instinctively programmed to pursue certain basic thing, they will pursue that and they will die. You interview any dog that is running on the street, where are you going, they will say in तमिळ्, “street dogs have no work yet no time to wait.” So it runs here and there as though important conference it is going to attend, nothing like that, it goes there and comes back, it doesn't have any other goal of life, whereas human being has got a free-will that means he can choose his goal and he should choose his goal. God will not interfere in our choice, God's role is only giving us the information of what are the goals available and which goal can be reached by which path. And if you refuse to use your choice, it indirectly means that you don't want to utilize the privilege of human birth. And if you refuse to utilize the privilege of human birth, indirectly you are declaring, what are you declaring: Oh Lord, my mistake I have come to human birth, please put me back to animal birth, that is the declaration if you refuse to choose, therefore I can never refuse to choose whether you मोक्ष or not, whether you should get मोक्ष or not only one can decide and who is the one, you alone, भगवान् says I can assist you but you have to choose. And therefore मोक्ष is whose choice, not भगवान्, it has to be your choice, this is one reason, that God doesn't give मोक्ष.

ii) And the second reason is suppose you don't choose मोक्ष and God gives मोक्ष. If you are not interested, you will refuse to receive, because any give and take involves two people. I cannot give you anything if you are going to refuse to receive. I can say the गीता classes I want to conduct it is available, but I can give these classes only if at least one or two people come, I cannot go on talking alone. People will put me somewhere, therefore I cannot give you if you are not willing to receive, therefore even God is helpless remember. Even God is helpless, even if God wants to give you मोक्ष, if you are going to say that first solve the water problem, then we can wait for मोक्ष because it is eternal.

Therefore कृष्ण says, what you want you have to choose, I am willing to assist you and therefore He says, देव-व्रताः देवान् यान्ति – worshippers of देवताs will get only the result of देवता प्राप्ति or anything equivalent to that. Like worshippers of लक्ष्मी, will get what, लक्ष्मी, wealth. That is why anybody who wants to do business, what photo gives, लक्ष्मी deity, that too what लक्ष्मी, लक्ष्मी with a good pot full of gold coins. And that too not straight, it is tilted and not only titled, the coins are falling down and it is kept above the table, so that straightaway the money falls on your table. Therefore money worshippers will get money; therefore देव-व्रताः देवान् यान्ति, पितृ-व्रताः पितॄन् यान्ति – worshippers of ancestors पितृ देवता, they will go to the पितृलोकः and get those benefits. This is based on the famous Upanishadic statement,

तम् यथायथा उपासते तथैव भवति । ॥ मुद्रलोपनिषत् ३-३ ॥

whatever you worship unknowingly you will become that. That is why in our tradition, we want to give good heroes to our children, why we are propagating पुराणs and giving them noble heroes, because when the children are attracted by such heroes, they will be thinking of them and therefore unknowingly their character is also imbibed, because as you think so you become. If they are going to watch that Arnold Schwarzenegger (unpronounceable name), always with a gun, you constantly watch, the children will take anything as gun, pencil, pen and will always say: ta ta ta ta. Then if Michael Jackson is the hero they will be doing that. So therefore पितृ-व्रताः पितॄन् यान्ति. यत् भावम् तत् भवति is one statement, तम् यथायथा उपासते तथैव भवति is another statement. Then भूत-इज्याः भूतानि यान्ति, भूत-इज्याः means worshippers of भूत-गणs, भूत-प्रेत-पिशाच-यक्ष-यमदूत-शाकिनी-डाकिनी-सर्प-श्वापद-वृश्चिक. So many देवताs are mentioned, some of the देवताs are worshipped by going to श्मशानम्s, i.e., the cremation ground et., many black magic people worship such देवताs also. And what will happen to such people? They will end up becoming such. So तामसिक deities attain तामसिक goals, by worshipping राजसिक deities one will go to राजसिक goals. And whereas कृष्ण says मत् याजिनः – those who worship me, who represent ब्रह्मन्, सत्यम् ज्ञानम् अनन्तम्, who represent मोक्ष, पूर्णत्वम्, शान्ति, मत् याजिनः माम् यान्ति – they will come to Me only, Me representing what, मोक्ष itself. पत्रं पुष्पं फलं तोयं यो मे भक्त्या प्रयच्छति ।

तदहं भक्त्युपहतमश्नामि प्रयतात्मनः ॥ ९-२६॥

पत्रम् पुष्पम् फलम् तोयम् यः मे भक्त्या प्रयच्छति ।

तत् अहम् भक्ति-उपहतम् अश्नामि प्रयत आत्मानः ॥ ९-२६॥

यः पत्रम् पुष्पम् फलम् तोयम् भक्त्या मे प्रयच्छति, (तस्य) प्रयत-आत्मनः भक्ति-उपहतम् तत् अहम् अश्नामि ।

In the scriptures, सकाम भक्ति is also talked about, निष्काम भक्ति is also talked about, सकाम rituals are also talked about, निष्काम rituals are also talked about. For example, सन्ध्यावन्दनम् is निष्काम ritual, it is purely meant for spiritual progress, वित्तशुद्धि, गुरु प्राप्ति, ज्ञान प्राप्ति, मोक्ष प्राप्ति. Whereas पुत्रकामेष्टि याग is meant for what, is like asking who wrote वाल्मीकि रामायण, not कम्ब (author of Tamil version of रामायण), वाल्मीकि रामायण was written by वाल्मीकि, so पुत्रकामेष्टि is for पुत्र प्राप्ति. So both types of rituals are there and we observe one principle, depending upon the result that we want to achieve there are rigors rules and regulations in performing the rituals. If you want the result, the scriptures point out that you have to do this पूजा in this manner. The time of पूजा is prescribed, the place of पूजा is prescribed, the deity is prescribed, the नैवेद्यम् is prescribed, even the dress is prescribed, how many priests should be there, how much दक्षिणा should be there (that is my choice - you should not say), everything is fixed and you have to obey the rules and if you violate any rule immediately you have to do प्रायश्चित्तम्. For some of the violation the प्रायश्चित्तम् is that all the properties you have to give as दक्षिणा, what a terrible प्रायश्चित्तम् and higher the result you expect, the more complicated the कर्म becomes, because, as the action is so the result is every action has got an equal result (we need not say opposite here!) equal means proportional result, You give more दक्षिणा, more result, more मन्त्रs, more आवृत्तिs, more दक्षिणा. So therefore the general principle is what, the higher the benefit that you seek the more complicated and involved and complex the rituals are. So naturally, what will we think, when you want infinite result, extrapolating the graph, when you want infinite result, what will you think, so higher the result, more complicated it is. So when you want the highest result, the पूजा will be, according to our extension, we expect the पूजा to be the most complicated, because the result is the highest. कृष्ण says the beauty is when you want the highest result, the पूजा is the least complicated. In fact, there is no complication, it is the simplest पूजा, सकाम भक्ति involves maximum number of rules, whereas in निष्काम भक्ति all the rules are loosened. You can do any number of mistakes, not that you should do mistakes. Suppose you are chanting विष्णुसहस्रनाम, if you are chanting for a particular result, then you have to observe all the result and if you don't observe, you may not get the result and it is even threatened, sometimes it can be counterproductive also. But suppose you are chanting the very same सहस्रनाम for the sake of चित्तशुद्धि, गुरु प्राप्ति, मोक्ष प्राप्ति, then any number of mistakes you commit, it doesn't matter. नैवेद्यम् any kind of नैवेद्यम्, shortcut नैवेद्यम्, any kind of flower you keep it doesn't matter. But what is the condition, your motive should be not any one of the finite, but infinite. So कृष्ण says here, पत्रम् पुष्पम् फलम् तोयम् प्रयच्छति. A निष्काम भक्त, who is a मुमुक्षु भक्त, who wants God as the result of his पूजा, he offers anything, without any precondition and what can be offer, he can पत्रम् – he can offer a leaf, like तुलसि, विल्व or anything, पुष्पम् – any flower, फलम् - any fruit, तोयम् – or even a spoonful of water. Anyone of them a निष्काम भक्त can offer. But what is important, भक्त्या प्रयच्छति, here भक्त्या means निष्काम भक्त्या प्रयच्छति, to use the 7th chapter language, it comes under which type of भक्ति, आर्त, अर्थार्थि, जिज्ञासु or ज्ञानि? If he is a आर्त or अर्थार्थि, it will come under सकाम भक्ति because he wants a particular result and we are not talking about ज्ञानि here, therefore that is also ruled out. So if three are ruled out, who is left out, जिज्ञासु भक्त, मुमुक्षु भक्तः, who is an अज्ञानि alright, who is a संसारि alright, but who wants liberation or God. Therefore भक्त्या, निष्काम भक्त्या प्रयच्छति. And कृष्ण says:

प्रयत आत्मानः, such a person is a person of purified mind. What is purification of mind here, he doesn't have desire for finite goals, that is the purity, रागः रहितः, निष्कामत्वम् is the purity. So प्रयत आत्मानः प्रयतम् means शुद्धम्, आत्मा means here mind, मनः. So प्रयत आत्मा means शुद्ध चित्तः, प्रयत आत्मानः means शुद्ध चित्तस्य, बहुव्रीहि, शुद्धम् चित्तम् यस्य. So since he has got such a निष्काम भक्ति, अहम् अश्नामि – I receive that offering, even though it is a very very inferior offering I receive that offering, because it is offered with भक्ति-उपहतम् – it is offered with a love for Myself. Because when you worship the Lord for the sake of worldly end, your love is where, I have analyzed this in the 7th chapter, when God is the means and the anything else is the end, my real love is in the end and not in the means, nobody loves the means, everybody loves the end only. You love the bus how long, until you reach the destination, thereafter, you don't pray that the bus should go properly, nothing should happen to it, etc., what do you think, I have got down from the bus, let anything happen. So you are interested in the destination not in the means. So when भगवान् is the means in सकाम भक्ति, your love is a fake love, but निष्काम भक्त is doing पूजा for the sake of Lord. Therefore his love for Me is the real love and therefore I receive that love, even on the Valentine's Day. So therefore you should give that card to Me, so भक्ति-उपहतम्, अहम् अश्नामि and therefore the flower, etc., becomes only a spoon and what you are offering through that is the love. Therefore spoon is not important whether it is silver spoon or golden spoon, you are interested in what, what is there in silver spoon that is what you are interested in. Similarly, कृष्ण says I don't bother whether the medium that you use for offering love, whether the medium is flower or leaf I don't care, because through that medium you are giving me the pure love. Therefore, I accept that. Continuing;

Verse No .27

यत्करोषि यदश्नासि यज्जुहोषि ददासि यत् ।

यत्तपस्यसि कौन्तेय तत्कुरुष्व मदर्पणम् ॥ ९-२७॥

यत् करोषि यत् अश्नासि यत् जुहोषि ददासि यत् ।

यत् तपस्यसि कौन्तेय तत् कुरुष्व मत् अर्पणम् ॥ ९-२७॥

हे कौन्तेय! यत् करोषि, यत् अश्नासि, यत् जुहोषि, यत् ददासि, यत् तपस्यसि, तत् मत् अर्पणम् कुरुष्व ।

Suppose a person says I don't have पत्रम्, पुष्पम्, फलम्, तोयम्, etc. I am in a desert/ Gulf country, (I don't know the condition there), no पत्रम्, no पुष्पम्, no फलम् and like चेन्नै no तोयम्, तोयम् means water, then what shall I do. कृष्ण says, even if you don't have any special thing for offering to Me, doesn't matter, you will be consuming things. So you will have food for you, you will drink water, you will do some work, therefore whatever you are associated with may you offer that to Me, as अर्पणम्. Therefore He says यत् करोषि – any कर्म that you do, any लौकिक कर्म that you do, even working in the office, कायेन वाचा मनसेन्द्रियैर्वा । बुद्ध्यात्मना वा प्रकृतिस्वभावात् । करोमि यद्यत्सकलम् परस्मै । नारायणायेति समर्पयामि ॥ ॥ श्रीमद्भागवतम् ११-२-३६॥

Any work, most mundane work that you do you dedicate to the Lord and it can function as a पूजा. So therefore offer every action to Me. But Lord is at home and my work is at the office, how to offer if you ask: Lord is at home, only that is your problem - when you are in office you won't be at home and if you are at home you won't be in the office, that is your problem, but भगवान् is not at home, भगवान् is at home also. So the Lord being everywhere you don't require anything, you invoke, close your eyes and think that Oh Lord let this कर्म be ईश्वर प्रीत्यर्थम् अस्तु, मयि सर्वाणि कर्माणि संन्यस्य. So this is most beautiful religious way of life, unique to वैदिक tradition, in all other traditions, that particular place is important, direction is important, for us you can do पूजा at anywhere and anytime. And यत् अश्नासि – whatever you eat you offer to the Lord, whatever you cook daily offer to the Lord and if you say that I am busy I cannot keep in the पूजा room, no time, etc., OK, when it has come to your plate, before you gulp it down, before you finish it off, close your eyes for a moment and imagine the Lord is अहम् वैश्वानरः भूत्वा प्राणिनाम् देहम् आश्रितः । ॥ १७-१४॥

The Lord is inside your stomach, offer that food to the Lord inside the stomach and it is called प्राणाग्निहोत्रम्. And you can even claim that I do नित्यम् अग्निहोत्रम्, even though the secret is what, you are eating, so यत् अश्नासि, यत् जुहोषि – whatever नित्यकर्म you do, जुहोषि means offerings you do, whether it is सन्ध्यावन्दनम् or any other पूजा you do and यत् ददासि – whatever charity you offer, earth quake relief fund you are offering, even you can convert that into पूजा, if you remember all those earth quake victims are also God, because God is there in them also. Just a change in attitude, nothing special, change in attitude and यत् तपस्यसि कौन्तेय – whatever तपस् you do, if you are fasting to reduce your obesity, overweight. Therefore you are fasting in some way, so many thinning parlors are there, when you fast there, you imagine it is एकादशि उपवासम्, convert into उपवासम्, यत् तपस्यसि कौन्तेय. What is important, तत् मत् अर्पणम् कुरुष्व – dedicate it to me, which is not a physical job it is only an attitudinal change and this is called निष्काम भक्ति which will lead you to liberation. How will you lead to liberation, that कृष्ण will offer in the next श्लोक, which we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदत्त्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 09, VERSES 28-30

Lord कृष्ण is dealing with the topic of सकाम भक्ति and निष्काम भक्ति from verse no.20 to 29. कृष्ण is not against सकाम भक्ति. We should very clearly remember that सकाम भक्ति is not a पाप कर्म. सकाम भक्ति is not a निषिद्ध कर्म, सकाम भक्ति does not bring down a person, सकाम भक्ति is only an obstacle to spiritual progress. सकाम भक्ति will not bring down but it will keep a person in spiritual stagnation. That is why we divide कर्मs into three types, सात्त्विक, राजस, तामस. सात्त्विक one will take a person spiritually up, तामस one is that which will bring a person spiritually down, सात्त्विक takes up, तामस will take down, राजस is that which will not take up also, which will not bring down also, it will keep a person in spiritual stagnation. A person will be getting the material result. सकाम भक्ति is a form of राजस भक्ति only. It will give material result to a person, but it will be an obstacle to spiritual growth. Therefore कृष्ण does not say that you should straightaway give up all the काम्य कर्मs, because many people get a doubt after studying this portion, स्वामिजी, we are doing पूजा for children's admission or we are doing पूजा for curing this disease, we have taken this vow to go to तिरुपति for this particular some purpose, many such vows are there, काम्य कर्मs are there, कृष्ण does not say that one should drop all of them, all of a sudden. The aim is a very very gradual transformation, the negative निषिद्ध कर्म should be dropped straightaway, पाप कर्मs should be dropped straightaway, but काम्य कर्मs should be gradually reduced. So with regard to काम्य कर्म, gradual reduction and they should be replaced by निष्काम कर्म or सात्त्विक कर्म, which means I utilize the कर्म for spiritual growth. If at all I ask something from the Lord, I say ज्ञान वैराग्य सिद्ध्यर्थम् or चित्त शुद्ध्यर्थम् or शास्त्र विचारार्थम् or निदिध्यासन प्राप्यर्थम् or ज्ञान निष्ठा सिद्ध्यर्थम् or शास्त्र अविस्मरणार्थम्, शास्त्र अविस्मरणम् means not forgetting the गीता, prayer for that. So therefore if we have some desires, especially a गृहस्थ will have lot of duties to be fulfilled and when there are lot of obstacles certainly there will be tendency to approach the Lord and there is nothing wrong, but we have to gradually grow out of them. And such a भक्ति is निष्काम भक्ति. And as I said in the last class, in निष्काम भक्ति also there is desire, but it is not materialist desire. So निष्काम means freedom from materialist desires, but there is a spiritual desire for anything that promotes मोक्ष. And even asking for help, so that I can pursue spiritual साधन, even prayer comes under spiritual prayer only. Just because you seek help it doesn't become materialistic, for what purpose you are seeking help,

ॐ भद्रं कर्णेभिः शृणुयाम देवाः । स्थिरैरङ्गैस्तुष्टुवांसस्तनूभिः ।

Similarly, even asking wealth really cannot be said to materialistic desire because, for what purpose am I asking for wealth, because after all money is a means which can be used for spiritual purpose also or material purpose also. If I am asking for wealth so that I can do पञ्च महायज्ञs, I can spend the money for noble causes by which I will get वित्तशुद्धि, even धन इच्छा will become spiritual desire. Therefore ultimately what is materialist desire, what is spiritual desire, we only know what is our motive and any desire through I want to purity and ज्ञानम् we call as निष्काम भक्ति, मुमुक्षु भक्ति. And कृष्ण pointed out, in सकाम भक्ति rules of worship should be very strictly followed, formalities are to be maintained, if not the सकाम पूजा may not give the result or may even become counter-productive, whereas when it is निष्काम भक्ति and पूजा all the rules and regulations become secondary, the attitude becomes important. So when two people who love each other extremely well and when they meet, what formality is there, there is no formality. So when there is some distance only, you have to feel the protocol, all these things, etc. So for a मुमुक्षु भक्त, the भक्ति for the Lord is of a different type of dimension and therefore rules are secondary. How do you know, कृष्ण says, पत्रम् पुष्पम् फलम् तोयम्, give whatever you like, they tell the महाभारत story, how विदुर removed the banana and gave the banana peel to the Lord.

मार्गावर्तित पादुका पशु-पतेरङ्गस्य कूर्चायते गण्डूषांबु निषेचनम्
 पुर-रिपोर्दिव्याभिषेकायते किंचिद्भक्षित मांस-शेष-कबलम् नव्योपहारायते
 भक्तिः किम् न करोत्यहो वन-चरो भक्तावतंसायते ॥ शिवानन्द लहरी ६३
 ॥

शङ्कराचार्य tells in शिवानन्द लहरी, how कण्णप्प, the greatest devotee used the slipper to mark the eye. You know the story, I will not go into the details, he used the mouth as अभिषेक पात्रम् and straightway spat the water, गण्डूषांबु निषेचनम्, normally it is supposed to be अशौचम् (that doesn't mean that I will do that, don't say I will also strat), किंचिद्भक्षित मांस-शेष-कबलम् नव्योपहारायते – what he had eaten, the remnants he uses becomes नव्य उपहारायते, the greatest offering, भक्तिः किम् न करोत्यहो वन-चरः, वन-चर means hunter, भक्त अवतंसायते – he becomes a gem of a भक्त. So all the पौराणिक stories indicate that. कृष्ण therefore says भक्त्या प्रयच्छति and not only निष्काम भक्ति is expressed in the form of a specific पूजा, निष्काम भक्ति is expressed in the form of a very different lifestyle itself. It is a not a mere पत्र पुष्प फल समर्पणम् in the morning or evening, निष्काम भक्ति transforms the very way of life. How does it transform,

यत्करोषि यदश्नासि यज्जुहोषि ददासि यत् ।

यत्तपस्यसि कौन्तेय तत्कुरुष्व मदर्पणम् ॥ ३-२७॥

Every action becomes an offering at the feet of the Lord and when it is offered at the feet of the Lord, what is the feet of the Lord, the entire creation consisting of the Laws of कर्म. So my action is offered into the creation which has the network of the laws of कर्म, the laws alone are the feet of the Lord and when I take back the actions, the कर्म has been converted into कर्म-फलम्. And since the creation is भगवान्'s feet, कर्म-फलम् becomes ईश्वर प्रसादः. And therefore the future events are always welcome for me. For a निष्काम भक्त, there cannot be a concern, there cannot be an anxiety, anxiety comes when I am particular about only a type of future, only this type of future should come to me, any other type of future I will not accept. So when there is a resistance with regard to a particular possibility in future there is concern, anxiety; for a निष्काम भक्त whatever comes is welcome. And therefore,

यत्करोषि यदश्नासि यज्जुहोषि यत् ददासि यत्तपस्यसि तत् सर्वम् ईश्वर अर्पणम् ।

And we have to add the corollary, if all these are ईश्वर अर्पणम् their consequences are ईश्वर प्रसादम्. Thus as a कर्ता I do ईश्वर अर्पणम्, as a भोक्ता I have the ईश्वर प्रसाद भावना and this is निष्काम भक्ति. Now when we read this, we should be reminded of some other topic we studied before, when I talk about ईश्वर अर्पण भावना and प्रसाद भावना we should be reminded of a topic we studied before, long before in the 2nd and 3rd chapters and what was the topic? कर्मयोगः, योगस्थः कुरु कर्माणि सङ्गम् त्यक्त्वा धनञ्जय ॥ २-४८॥

Then in the 3rd chapter,

मयि सर्वाणि कर्माणि संन्यस्याध्यात्मचेतसा । निराशीर्निर्ममो भूत्वा युध्यस्व विगतज्वरः ॥ ३-३०॥

So while defining कर्मयोग in the 2nd and 3rd chapters, कृष्ण said कर्मयोग is ईश्वर अर्पण भावना and प्रसाद भावना. Here कृष्ण says निष्काम भक्ति involves ईश्वर अर्पण भावना and प्रसाद भावना, join these two together, what is our conclusion, कर्मयोग is identical with निष्काम भक्ति, कर्मयोग and निष्काम भक्ति are synonymous. Then why these two different names? From the stand point of the action it is called कर्मयोगः and from the standpoint of the attitude it is called निष्काम भक्ति. साधना दृष्ट्या कर्मयोगः, भावना दृष्ट्या निष्काम भक्तियोगः. And therefore, कृष्ण said, तत् कुरुष्व मत् अर्पणम्, ईश्वर अर्पणम्. And where is that ईश्वर, if somebody asks, we should not answer the question, you should ask a counter question, where is ईश्वर not. Remember, when somebody wrote, 'God is nowhere', he is a नास्तिका, 'God is nowhere', now this devotee came, very correct and this nowhere he just gave a gap, put a line after now, he put a hyphen. Now what does it mean, now-here. Where? In yourself.

ईश्वरः सर्वभूतानाम् हृत्-देशे अर्जुन तिष्ठति । ॥ १८-६१॥

Therefore for निष्काम भक्ति, a temple is not required, shrine is not required, you can practice it everywhere, this thought is important. Up to this we saw in the last class.

Verse No .28

शुभाशुभफलैरेवं मोक्षयसे कर्मबन्धनैः ।

संन्यासयोगयुक्तात्मा विमुक्तो मामुपैष्यसि ॥ १-२८॥

शुभ-अशुभ-फलैः एवम् मोक्षयसे कर्म-बन्धनैः ।

संन्यास-योग-युक्त-आत्मा विमुक्तः माम् उपैष्यसि ॥ १-२८॥

एवम् (कृते सति) शुभ-अशुभ-फलैः कर्म-बन्धनैः संन्यास-योग-युक्त-आत्मा विमुक्तः (भूत्वा) मोक्षयसे माम् उप-एष्यसि ।

So what is the result of निष्काम भक्ति or कर्मयोग is pointed out. So here what कृष्ण says is every कर्म or every पूजा that you do can give you two forms of पुण्यम्, any पूजा that you do, any service that you do can give you two forms of पुण्यम्. One is the materialist पुण्यम्. What do you mean materialistic पुण्यम्? All the material well beings one will get through that पुण्यम्, lot of money, lot of people around, good house, 24 hours running water, so these are all materialistic advantages if a person has purely because of पुण्यम् only. In one house water is there, in other house not there, it is our fate, पुण्यम् and पापम्. Similarly, going to स्वर्ग is materialistic पुण्यम्. Thus your पूजा can produce materialistic पुण्यम्, both here or hereafter or the very same पूजा can give spiritual पुण्यम् also, because of spiritual पुण्यम् alone you are born in a culture where spirituality is there. So when you are born in a rich country where you have got all the facilities, imagine any country, richest country and you are born with richest parents, child of Bill Gates. Certainly there must be some पुण्यम् or else how can one get all the enjoyments, therefore that is also पुण्यम् and also another form of पुण्यम् is we may have water problem, we might have mosquitoes but still to be born in a culture where spirituality is there, शास्त्रम् is alive, आचार्यs are available, to be born in this culture many people think we have done पापम्, carefully note, we have done पुण्यम्, what पुण्यम्, spiritual पुण्यम्. So because of spiritual पुण्यम् a spiritual environment comes, because of spiritual पुण्यम् alone we get spiritually oriented parents. It is a greatest पुण्य because right from childhood we get those संसार, whereas for the other children it is swimming against the current, because the parents are too materialistic. So that is पुण्यम् and getting an opportunity to study the शास्त्रम् is spiritual पुण्यम्.

दुर्लभम् त्रयमेवैतत् देवानुग्रहहेतुकम् । मनुष्यत्वम् मुमुक्षुत्वम् महापुरुषसंश्रयः ॥ विवेकचूडामणि ३ ॥

So to be born a human being is because of पुण्यम्, to get a desire for मोक्ष is a spiritual पुण्यम् and to get association with गुरु is spiritual पुण्यम्. Thus पूजा can give you any one of these two पुण्यम्s, but you cannot ask for both, you cannot say I want both, you have to choose one of the two. A निष्काम भक्त converts all the पूजा into spiritual पुण्यम्. And therefore he renounces, he is not interested in material पुण्यम् and of course, he is free from material पापम् also and therefore निष्काम भक्त transcends both पुण्यम् and पापम्. So शुभ-अशुभ-फलैः मोक्षयसे, अर्जुन you will be freed from शुभफलम्, i.e., पुण्यफलम्, here पुण्यम् means material पुण्यम् and from अशुभ-फलैः – from पापम् also you will be free. Why he will not get पापम्? We have said that when it is निष्काम भक्ति even when the rules are violated he will not get the पापम्. Very big advantage. If you are doing निष्काम भक्त्या विष्णुसहस्रनाम पारायणम्, even if there are pronunciation mistakes भगवान् will correct it and listen to it. But with सकाम भक्त्या you are doing every rule is important. And therefore for a निष्काम भक्त even violations of rules will not produce प्रत्यवाय पापम् and he doesn't seek materialistic पुण्यम् also. Therefore he transcends both. Then we may wonder, transcending पापम् may be good, but transcending पुण्यम् how can you say good. So कृष्ण says, कर्म-बन्धनैः – both पुण्यम् and पापम् are bonds only. So in the beginning stages we say पापम् is bondage, पुण्यम् is good, but once we have become sufficiently mature we say पुण्यम् is also bondage because, पुण्यम् also keeps a person within पुनरपि जननम् पुनरपि मरणम् cycle. So that is why in the उपनिषत्s, it is said

तदा विद्वान् पुण्य पापे विधूय ... ॥ मुण्डकोपनिषत् ३-१-३॥

If you say मोक्ष, it is beyond पुण्य-पाप. For कर्म-बन्धनैः – bonds of कर्म in the form of शुभ and अशुभ he transcends. And who is he? The निष्काम भक्त is given a title, because now it is the season of title, पद्मभूषण, etc. So कृष्ण also gives a title to निष्काम भक्त or कर्मयोगि and what is that title, संन्यास-योग-युक्त-आत्मा. He is both a संन्यासि and a योगिः. निष्काम भक्त or कर्मयोगि has got both संन्यास and also योग. What does it mean? संन्यास means renunciation. How do you say कर्मयोगि associated with renunciation, he is very much in the world and very much doing कर्म. He is said to be endowed with renunciation because he is able to renounce his materialistic desires and use the पूजा for inner growth. And therefore the काम त्याग makes him a संन्यासि without कषाय वस्त्रम्. कृष्ण said in the 6th chapter,

अनाश्रितः कर्म-फलम् कार्यम् कर्म करोति यः ।

सः संन्यासी च योगी च न निरग्निः न च अक्रियः ॥ ६-१॥

यम् संन्यासम् इति प्राहुः योगम् तम् विद्धि पाण्डव ।

न हि असंन्यस्त-सङ्कल्पः योगी भवति कश्चन ॥ ६-२॥

If we drop the anxiety regarding the materialistic things it is a great renunciation. If you drop that anxiety what will happen to my security, suddenly you will get afraid, because material things give me security. For which कृष्ण has answered before, I don't whether you remember, अनन्याः चिन्तयन्तः माम्, he is able to drop the obsession with money, because he knows two things, by any amount of money insecurity will not go away, because insecurity has nothing to do with possession, it is a problem of the mind, it is something to do with the mind and not what you have. Because a person with minimum wealth can feel secure and a person with maximum wealth can feel maximum insecure. The निष्काम भक्त knows this fact and therefore he has got Lord to give him the sense of security and therefore he is not bothered about that,

यत्लभसे निजकर्मोपात्तम् वित्तम् तेन विनोदय वित्तम् ॥ भजगोविन्दम् २ ॥

Therefore he has got संन्यास. Then why he is called योग, why do we say that he has got योग, योग here refers to action. So he is associated with action and at the same time he is not associated with materialistic desires and therefore, he is called संन्यास-योग-युक्त-आत्मा, he is interested more in the inner growth and what will happen to him, विमुक्तः – he will soon become liberated, such a निष्काम भक्त, such a कर्मयोगि will become liberated. How, we should be very careful, so if we say कर्मयोगि will get liberated, then does it mean that ज्ञानयोग is not required. Because of majority of people ज्ञानयोग is allergy, somehow we should avoid that. So therefore all the commentators make it a point to add, कर्मयोगि does not directly get liberated, but via ज्ञानयोग विमुक्तः भवति. So he will get purity of mind, then he will get desire for वेदान्त विचार, then he will get a गुरु, then he will get ज्ञानम्, thus सत्त्व वित्तशुद्धि, गुरु प्राप्ति, ज्ञान प्राप्ति द्वारा, by this route he will become liberated. And then what will happen, माम् उपैष्यसि – having liberated he merges into Me, he becomes one with Me. This also must be carefully understood. What do you mean by merges? Don't imagine that this निष्काम भक्त slow...ly goes and भगवान् is standing there and he goes embraces, don't imagine like that, There is no physical merger because भगवान् is never away from us, we are never away from the Lord. Then what do you mean by merger? Merger is dropping the misconception that the Lord is away from Me. The dropping of the wrong notion is the ऐक्यम् with the Lord, there is no other ऐक्यम् other than dropping the notion. And how do you drop any notion or misconception? By knowledge. So the moment I get knowledge, the wrong thought that God is away from me goes away, I come to know God is close, that God is not close but closer, in fact, God is not even closer, God is closest, In fact, God is not even closest, अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि, तत् त्वम् एव, त्वम् एव तत् (we saw yesterday), so this distance, notional distance goes away. Careful! not national distance, notional distance goes away, so माम् उपैष्यसि – he will attain Me. Continuing;

Verse No .29

समोऽहं सर्वभूतेषु न मे द्वेष्योऽस्ति न प्रियः ।

ये भजन्ति तु मां भक्त्या मयि ते तेषु चाप्यहम् ॥ १-२९॥

समः अहम् सर्व-भूतेषु न मे द्वेष्यः अस्ति न प्रियः ।

ये भजन्ति तु माम् भक्त्या मयि ते तेषु च अपि अहम् ॥ १-२९॥

अहम् सर्व-भूतेषु समः, मे द्वेष्यः प्रियः च न अस्ति, (परं)तु ये माम् भक्त्या भजन्ति, ते मयि, (च) अहम् अपि तेषु (च)।

In the previous verse, Lord कृष्ण said: निष्काम भक्त will merge in Me by which कृष्ण implies that the सकाम भक्त will not merge in Me. It is understood, when there are two people and you say this person is intelligent, what is the meaning, saying indirectly, two people, just pick one, it often happens at home, when two children are there, mother or father says: this boy is very intelligent, never do that, the other boy gets terribly rejected. Similarly, कृष्ण has said here निष्काम भक्त merges into Me, which implies सकाम भक्त will not merge, therefore a doubt can come. What is the doubt? भगवान् is partial, because some people he takes, merges, embraces, etc., unto himself, some भक्तs He takes unto himself, whereas other भक्तs He keeps safe distance. Isn't it partial. So this doubt may come, how come only some people get liberation, some people or many people don't get liberation. Many songs are also there, Oh Lord, why can't you take Me unto you. So one भक्त used to do that it seems, daily comes to the temple, Oh Lord, take me unto you, I want to merge into you, he was continuously standing there and repeating and the पूजारी got irritated, because he has to close the temple and go home, he was not leaving, he tried all different methods, it was not working, so at last what he did, one day he stood behind the idol and the भक्त said: Oh Lord, please take Me, so then he said, the पूजारी behind: Oh dear भक्त, I am satisfied with your भक्ति, so I am going to fulfill your wish, when you come tomorrow I will take you unto me, you will not return back home, next day, no sight of the भक्त anywhere around, all are blabbering. Therefore, कृष्ण says: I am not the one who decide whether you should get मोक्ष or not, the problem is not with My readiness, I am ready to give मोक्ष to anyone at any time if he or she wants, but the problem is most of the people do not want. I told in one of the साधन camps, I just sent one person, please go to every room, some context like this came, I said go to every room and say: स्वामिजि is willing to give मोक्ष to all of you, only condition is hereafter you should stay here itself in the आश्रम and then I requested him to get me a list of all persons interested. Everyone gave one excuse or the other, I will go back and set right the accounts or I will set right that and come back, etc., I will come after 3 months, I will come after 1 month. No One. Therefore कृष्ण says, the problem is not with Me but you are really not interested, that is the fact. Therefore कृष्ण says: सर्वभूतेषु अहम् समः – I am the same with regard to every being, that means what: I am not partial to anyone, I am not going to give extra blessing to someone and less blessing to someone else,

दृशा द्राघीयस्या दरदलित नीलोत्पल रुचा दवीयांसम् दीनम् स्नपा कृपया मामपि शिवे ।

अनेनायम् धन्यो भवति न च ते हानिरियता वने वा हर्म्ये वा समकर निपातो हिमकरः ॥ सौन्दर्य लहरी ५७ ॥

शङ्कर says in his सौन्दर्य लहरी, the moonlight falls everywhere equally whether it is a dirty point or a beautiful house. Therefore कृष्ण says My grace is equal for all. And in fact, I cannot give more to someone, I cannot even withdraw, just as sunlight is natural, sun cannot withdraw or give. Similarly, grace of the Lord is equal to all. Then where is the difference, how much we are willing to tap. Therefore our effort will determine the amount of grace that I am going to tap. So grace is already included in effort. So when you are building a house, you are building the walls and within the walls what is available, space is available. Primarily you are interested in what, in the wall or inside space? Primarily interested in the living room, you want the space only, but you need not work for the enclosed space, you have to work only for building the wall. After building the wall, you need not invite space separately, as even wall is built enclosed space is available. Similarly, ईश्वर कृपा need not be separately invited you put forth your effort, the grace is automatically included in that. And therefore कृष्ण says my grace is uniformly available to all, मम द्वेष्यः न अस्ति – there is no one who is hateful to me, whom I hate, द्वेष्यः न अस्ति. Then what about favorite? न प्रियः – there is no favorite also, no one is more dear, everyone is same. If everyone is same, how come some people only get liberation and some don't get? कृष्ण says the difference is not caused by Me, but the difference is caused by the choice of the भक्त. And that is why we say, मोक्ष is determined by your will and not God's grace, because God's grace is already available to all. So we need not work for that, the only differentiating factor is: Is your will ready to choose Lord as the goal? Therefore कृष्ण says, ये माम् भक्त्या भजन्ति, so those विवेकिs, those साधन चतुष्टय सम्पन्न अधिकारिs, who seek me as the goal. In the 7th chapter, I said God can be used as a means for worldly goals or God can be used as an end-in-itself. The one for whom the God is the end is called निष्काम भक्त, मुमुक्षु भक्त, he is referred to here, those who worship Me with निष्काम भक्ति, मुमुक्षु भक्ति, मयि ते – In fact, they are already existing in Me, तेषु च अपि अहम् – I am existing in them, which means both of us are one and the same. So I am in them, they are in Me, we are never separate, because they discover the fact that there is no distance at all and therefore मोक्ष is a पुरुषार्थः, मोक्ष is something attained through your choice. Continuing;

Verse No .30

अपि चेत्सुदुराचारो भजते मामनन्यभाक् ।

साधुरेव स मन्तव्यः सम्यग्व्यवसितो हि सः ॥ ९-३०॥

अपि चेत् सु-दुः-आचारः भजते माम् अनन्य-भाक् ।

साधुः एव सः मन्तव्यः सम्यक् व्यवसितः हि सः ॥ ९-३०॥

सु-दुः-आचारः अपि माम् अनन्य-भाक् भजते चेत्, सः साधुः एव मन्तव्यः, सः हि सम्यक् व्यवसितः (अस्ति)।

With the previous verse, the comparison and contrast of सकाम भक्ति and निष्काम भक्ति, that topic is over, which started from the 20th verse up to 29th, are the differences between सकाम and निष्काम भक्ति. And now in the final portion of the 9th chapter, from 30th onwards and up to the end, 34th, कृष्ण is talking about the glory of भक्ति and what is the greatest glory of भक्ति? भक्ति is a साधन which can be started at any stage of life, unlike ज्ञानयोग, ज्ञानयोग cannot be started at any stage that you like, because it requires lot of preparatory disciplines, whereas to become a भक्त you don't require any qualification and what is the reason, because भक्ति itself has got several stages and you can pick up from any stage, the first stage being आर्त भक्ति itself. आर्त भक्ति do you remember, in 7th chapter. What is आर्त भक्ति, when you are afraid you use भगवान्, especially before exam भक्ति will overflow. Because whenever a person is afraid or he needs some support, use भगवान् and they have found that it works, it simply works, psychologically and statistically they have proved that a भक्त has got more confidence that even in the case of terminal diseases, he is able to enjoy a better confidence and because of the very confidence, his immunity is better and therefore the medicine works faster. Simple भक्ति, so thus an आर्त भक्त or a person in distress can start and even a materialistic person can start भक्ति. If he wants to start a factory, I say do a पूजा you will get more profit, he will do immediately. So even a materialistic person can practice भक्ति and of course a spiritual student is जिज्ञासु भक्त, thus depending upon the spiritual evolution everybody can start any one level of भक्ति. In fact, in the 12th chapter, कृष्ण is going to divide भक्ति into five levels and it starts from the highest level. If you cannot practice the 5th one, try 4th, if not then try 3rd, not possible try 2nd, if not possible try 1st, if that also not possible better luck next birth, because the first one is possible for all, that is how भक्ति has been designed and therefore कृष्ण says भक्ति can be started by anyone. And if this intellect is not sharp enough भगवान् is also defined according to the level of intellect, we will start with एकरूप भक्ति and if you are little bit mature, we will introduce अनेकरूप भक्ति and if you are finally ready for intellectual analysis, we will introduce अरूप ईश्वर also. Thus depending upon your level you always have a slot. This is one point कृष्ण highlights here. And there is one more point, that's very important that is highlighted and what is that, almost every human being suffers from the problem of mental guilt, guilt means what: I have done lot of mistakes, I have done lot of पापम्s. There is a conscience behind me, all the time judging my action, because I know what is right and what is wrong, as दयानन्द स्वामिजी says, what is right and what is wrong need not be taught, simple common sense is enough. Even a thief knows stealing is wrong, without being educated even, how does he know, because of the simple reason, what I don't want others to do to me, I should not do to others and because he knows it is wrong only, he is doing that action in secret! Had it been right then he would have straightaway walked and took away whatever he wants. The host was watching millionaire and he lost whatever he had. Why should a thief come stealthily, because he knows that it is wrong, therefore conscience is common sense based right-wrong norm, if common sense based norm standard of what is right and wrong. And this conscience which is common sense based norm will always judge my action, eternal judgment, whether भगवान् will come and judge you on the last day or not, judgment day, our conscience is judging and not only constantly forming self-opinion and the most of the time, we are aware of only our mistakes that we have committed and this produces lot of guilt and that is why many people are afraid to go to the temple and even to the स्वामिs, I don't have the eligibility they say and that is why in every religion, there is confession, the confession is purely to neutralize the guilt, guilt can be a very very big problem. And even in spiritual path guilt can be a problem, I can always conclude, 'I cannot follow the spiritual path, even if I follow I will not succeed,' I have concluded, because of what, guilt. That is why in the 6th chapter it is said that we require four कृपाs, do you remember, आत्मकृपा is grace of oneself, ईश्वर कृपा is required, गुरु कृपा is required, शास्त्र कृपा is required and what is आत्मकृपा, guilt free mind, which is confidence. Even if I have done mistake I can correct and grow spiritually, because every saint has a past and every sinner has a future. So why should I feel bad and this mind has got आत्मकृपा. So your grace is a mind which is confident and therefore कृष्ण wants to pump confidence into every student. Don't say that I cannot do it, say I can. Therefore He says सु-दुः-आचारः अपि – even the worst sinner can come to भक्ति with confidence, दुःस्वभावः means what: a person of evil, corrupt conduct, सु-दुःस्वभावः means what: extremely corrupt person, who has done all the पापम्s including पञ्च महा पातकम्. Even he need not be worried. What is the condition, भजते. Suppose he comes to Me, भजते माम् अनन्य-भाक् – without any wavering in the mind, with अनन्य भक्ति, with total surrender, if that person comes, the day he has decided to change, दयानन्द स्वामिजि beautifully says: nobody can change another person. I can never change you. But if you have decided to change, nobody can stop it, it will happen. I can assist you if you have decided to change, this is the principle. And therefore कृष्ण says a person who has decided he is as good as a saint. Even though he has only decided, the very decision is a turning point in his life. As somebody nicely said, it is not where you stand that matters, it is in which direction you are standing that matters. If you are closest to God also, if you are walking in the opposite direction you are going farther, on the other hand, even if you are farthest if you are towards you are going towards Me. Therefore direction is more important, not the actual location. So never compare with others, be proud that you are in the right direction. Therefore साधुः एव सः मन्तव्यः, साधुः here is not तमिक् साधु - not a person not knowing anything, साधुः means a saintly person. Why, सम्यक् व्यवसितः हि सः – because he has made the right resolve in life, he has reoriented his life, he has reshuffled the priorities in his life and therefore be confident, start भक्ति, at any level depending upon your position. More in the next class.

Lord कृष्ण completed the topic of the comparison of सकाम भक्ति and निष्काम भक्ति with verse no.29 and now from the 30th verse up to the end of this chapter, कृष्ण is talking about the glory of devotion. And we saw the 30th verse in the last class, wherein Lord कृष्ण mentioned that भक्ति is glorious because any person at any level of spirituality can start with भक्ति. Either he can start as a आर्त भक्त, which is the beginning. Whenever there is problem we can take recourse to the Lord. This is आर्त भक्ति. Because whenever there are problems a person is mentally weaker, he requires a support and Lord is ever available support. In fact, one of the names of the Lord is आर्त त्राण परायणः, the one who is committed to helping the people who are in crisis. And then gradually you can graduate to अर्थार्थि भक्ति and then जिज्ञासु भक्ति and ज्ञानि भक्ति, thus whatever be your level of spirituality you can start with भक्ति. And Lord कृष्ण says, the moment a person has decided to take the help of the Lord, then itself he can be called a साधु पुरुषः, because it requires a little bit of humility, a little bit of understanding that however great we are, our free-will has its limitation. No doubt human being is very powerful. No doubt, human being can achieve lot of thing. But however great a human being is he has his limitation. The moment I understand the limitation of my free-will, my wisdom tells me take the help of an external factor. दयानन्द स्वामिजी beautifully says: ‘wisdom is seeking help when it is required,’ it is foolhardy and arrogance not to take the help when it is required. And this intelligent person has understood the limitation and therefore has decided to take the help of the Lord, even if it is meant for material purposes. That itself is a great step. There is no rule that you have to surrender to the Lord only for spiritual help. The scriptures point out that it is intelligence to surrender to the Lord even for material help. And once a person surrenders to the Lord and then he will find there is an extra strength in his mind. As I told you the other day, they have statistically proved that religious people have got more emotional strength and not only they have more emotional strength, they have statistically proved that they have got more immunity and resistance even in physical level. Therefore I do seek a transformation. Once I see a transformation and inner strength, my devotion will increase, when the devotion increases, naturally my strength will be more, thus you get into a cycle, not a vicious cycle, an auspicious cycle, more devotion, more strength, more strength, more devotion, so it becomes a healthy addiction, until then he was addicted to unhealthy practices, now he is de-addicting himself from other inferior things and he is practicing a positive addition. What is that: addiction to devotion, it is an addiction but worth having and soon we will get over even that addiction. Whether we should get over or not is a different question, but if you see it as an addiction we will get over that also, but he has got into a healthier addiction. And therefore कृष्ण says साधुः एव सः मन्तव्यः, you can call him a saint, like a वाल्मीकि, he is a saint, why, because he has taken the right resolve, सम्यक् व्यवसितः, व्यवसितः means what: one who has taken a निश्चय, व्यवसाय means निश्चय, व्यवसितः means a person of निश्चय. And what is the निश्चय? I am going to take the help of Lord only. Then what will happen to him or her, that is going to be said in the next verse.

Verse No .31

क्षिप्रं भवति धर्मात्मा श्वच्छान्तिं निगच्छति ।

कौन्तेय प्रतिजानीहि न मे भक्तः प्रणश्यति ॥ ३-३१॥

क्षिप्रम् भवति धर्म-आत्मा श्वत् शान्तिम् निगच्छति ।

कौन्तेय प्रतिजानीहि न मे भक्तः प्रणश्यति ॥ ३-३१॥

हे कौन्तेय! (सः) क्षिप्रम् धर्म-आत्मा भवति, श्वत् शान्तिम् निगच्छति, मे भक्तः न प्रणश्यति, (इति त्वं) प्रतिजानीहि ।

So what will happen to that person who has decided to turn to the Lord for help? कृष्ण says: सः क्षिप्रम् धर्म-आत्मा भवति – he will soon become a धर्म प्रधान person. So धर्म आत्मा, आत्मा means mind, धर्म-आत्मा means a person whose mind values धर्म more than अर्थ-काम. Until then he was only considering अर्थ and काम, money and entertainment as the primary things in life. Soon he become more mature and he grows out of the अर्थ-काम delusion, not that he should reject them totally, but they are not primary thing. They are like pickle, you know pickle, you can take, nobody says that you should reject the pickle. But the question, whether you are taking the pickle for curd rice, or whether you are taking curd rice for pickle. If pickle becomes the main dish and curd rice becomes the side dish, there is something wrong. Similarly, अर्थ and काम should not be primary, they should be like pickle, but the main pursuit in life is धर्म, धर्म means what: values and मोक्ष. And therefore कृष्ण says क्षिप्रम् – before long he will stop to be an आर्त भक्त, he will stop to be an अर्थार्थि भक्त, he will gradually become a जिज्ञासु भक्त. So धर्म-आत्मा means जिज्ञासु भक्त, the one who uses devotion for inner growth. And once he has become जिज्ञासु भक्त, the next stage is very natural and what is the next stage, a ज्ञानि भक्त he becomes, what is the meaning of the word जिज्ञासु भक्तः. जिज्ञासु भक्तः means a devotee who is interested in knowing the nature of God, ईश्वर ज्ञान इच्छवान् भक्तः. And once there is an intense desire to know what exactly is God, because I have understood that God is the only source of peace, security and happiness, that is the background, the only source of peace, security and happiness is God. In religion we call God, in philosophy we call ब्रह्मन्, once I know that I am interested in knowing ब्रह्मन् अथातो ब्रह्म जिज्ञासा and once I have that sincere desire, कृष्ण will tell in the 10th chapter, from somewhere शास्त्रम् comes. Just as when the flowers bloom from somewhere, what comes, the bee comes. Flower need not send post card, please come. No, once it has bloomed bees naturally it comes, Similarly, you bloom into a साधन चतुष्टय सम्पन्न अधिकारि, गुरुs will come in search of you, कृष्ण will tell this in the 10th chapter,

तेषाम् सतत-युक्तानाम् भजताम् प्रीति-पूर्वकम् ।

ददामि बुद्धि-योगम् तम् येन माम् उपयान्ति ते ॥ १०-१०॥

Because भगवान्'s law is any genuine desire should be fulfilled. If you have a thirst as a natural desire, भगवान् has to provide with water in the creation. If hunger is there, भगवान् has to provide food in the creation. If you have to breath oxygen, we will destroy oxygen that is a different thing, भगवान् has to provide. Similarly, if you have a thirst for ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, भगवान् has to provide a गुरु, therefore कृष्ण says शास्त्र will come, गुरु will come, ideal situations for learning will come, ज्ञानम् will come, you will be converted into a ज्ञानि भक्तः. Then what कृष्ण says शश्वत् शान्तिम् निगच्छति, the moment you become a ज्ञानि भक्तः you are a wise person and what will wisdom give to you, कृष्ण has said in the beginning itself, गतासूनगतासून्ध नानुशोचन्ति पण्डिताः, wisdom means grief will go away from life. And therefore कृष्ण says शान्तिम् निगच्छति – such a भक्त will attain peace of mind and what type of peace, not a fleeting peace, शश्वत् शान्तिम् – ever lasting peace of mind, a peace of mind, which will not be disturbed by the upheavals that happen in that person's life, शश्वत् शान्तिम् निगच्छति. So then कृष्ण feels whether अर्जुन will accept all these things? All this are a blind promise or is it all true? So कृष्ण therefore gives a promise, a very important oft quoted line, कौन्तेय प्रतिजानीहि – अर्जुन take my promise and not only you should take this promise from Me, you have to declare, publicize this promise through all the media, radio, TV, internet (now you have to include all of them), all over the world you publicize this promise of mine and what is that promise, न मे भक्तः प्रणश्यति – a devotee of the Lord will never have a spiritual fall, very careful, he will never have a spiritual fall, material ups and downs are bound to come through प्रारब्ध. But he will never fall spiritually, only higher and higher and higher. Therefore मे भक्तः न प्रणश्यति, this is my promise and therefore become my devotee. Continuing;

Verse No .32

मां हि पार्थ व्यपाश्रित्य येऽपि स्युः पापयोनयः ।

स्त्रियो वैश्यास्तथा शूद्रास्तेऽपि यान्ति परां गतिम् ॥ ९-३२॥

माम् हि पार्थ व्यपाश्रित्य ये अपि स्युः पाप-योनयः ।

स्त्रियः वैश्याः तथा शूद्राः ते अपि यान्ति पराम् गतिम् ॥ ९-३२॥

हे पार्थ! ये अपि हि पाप-योनयः स्त्रियः वैश्याः तथा शूद्राः स्युः ते अपि माम् व्यपाश्रित्य, पराम् गतिम् यान्ति ।

So कृष्ण wants to point out that even those people who have got certain disadvantages or handicaps, even those people can take to भक्ति and attain liberation. So disadvantaged people also can take to भक्ति and attain liberation. By disadvantage we mean any type of handicap, physical handicap or emotional handicap, or intellectual handicap, (nothing is understood स्वामिजि, if you say, it is intellectual handicap) or, environmental handicap or parental handicap, a person born to a parent who is a नास्तिका, an atheist or imagine even a प्रह्लाद who is born to a हिरण्यकशिपु an असुर, who never has devotion, In fact, he says: you should never say नारायणाय नमः, you should say हिरण्यकशिपवे नमः only. So with all this नास्तिक्य disadvantage also, a person through devotion can attain liberation. Therefore कृष्ण says पार्थ – हे अर्जुन! माम् व्यपाश्रित्य ते अपि पराम् गतिम् यान्ति, ते अपि means what: even the disadvantaged people, handicapped people, people with lot of spiritual obstacles, so ते अपि, प्रतिबद्धाः अपि, पराम् गतिम् यान्ति, परा गति means what: मोक्ष. So even those disadvantaged people attain the highest goal of liberation, provided what, instead of depending on themselves alone, if they depend upon themselves what is the problem, since they have the handicap, they will not be able to makeup, but they have done an intelligent thing, what: माम् व्यपाश्रित्य, if I cannot walk by myself what do I do, you say walking stick, use a crutch or hold on to somebody's hand. Similarly, these people depend upon Me, व्यपाश्रयः means dependent, लक्ष्मी नृसिंह मम देहि करावलम्बनम्, शङ्कर wrote a set of श्लोकः करावलम्बस्तोत्रम्, शङ्कराचार्य did not have any disadvantage, he didn't have पूर्वजन्म पाप very much and he had everything ideal and he knew that everybody will not be like this and therefore he wrote many स्तोत्रम्, one is beautiful करावलम्बस्तोत्रम्, करावलम्ब means what: the support. So taking to करावलम्ब even those disadvantaged people attain liberation. And the question is who are the disadvantaged people? कृष्ण wants to give four samples, I will just give you the running meaning, don't get angry with me, later I will explain it, this is a controversial line.

i) The first disadvantaged people is पाप-योनयः – people of sinful birth, that means people who do not have a conducive atmosphere for spirituality, the ideal example being प्रह्लाद himself, because the family advantage was not there. In fact, having a spiritual family is a very very big advantage, otherwise for a child it is an opposite current, spirituality and religious life we have to imbibe from early childhood. In fact, we say in the शास्त्र, that even from pregnancy the child imbibes that trait. So imagine the parents are नास्तिकाः, so that becomes an obstacle, why I am born to such family, some पापम् I have done, thus पाप-योनयः means people who do not have a conducive atmosphere, No.1.

ii) Then the second example is स्त्रियः, स्त्रियः means women; don't say स्त्रियः पाप-योनयः, it should not be taken like that, पाप-योनयः is one set of people who do not have conducive atmosphere, that is over, OK. Ladies careful and the next group: स्त्रियः, women, this second set of disadvantaged people, naturally the question will come what is the disadvantage which I will tell later.

iii) Then the next group is वैश्याः, वैश्याः means वैश्यः, so वैश्यः, from the ब्राह्मण, क्षत्रिय, वैश्य, शूद्र group, वैश्याः and

iv) Then शूद्राः, this is the fourth category.

All these four are disadvantaged people in the sense, they have to swim against the current. Now why, कृष्ण enumerates स्त्रियः, वैश्याः, शूद्राः. Now the first thing we should understand is this: वेदान्त is primarily a pursuit of wisdom and wisdom is something which is connected with your mind and intellect only, it is connected with the your सूक्ष्म शरीरम्, it has nothing to do with the physical body. Physical body is not going to gain knowledge. Therefore whenever we are talking about qualification or disqualification we are not bothered about the physical personality, because physical personality has nothing to do with knowledge. That is why in तत्त्वबोध, when we talked about qualification we did not talk about height, we did not talk about weight, we did not male or female gender, it was only said साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति and all the qualifications are connected with what, the subtle body or the mind. Therefore when we talk about स्त्रियः, वैश्याः and शूद्राः, we should remember, it has nothing to do with the physical स्त्रित्वम्, physical वैश्यत्वम् or physical शूद्रत्वम्, it is talking about three types of inner personality. We are not talking about whether a person is physically women or physically man. Then we have to find out what type of personality is meant by स्त्रि, what type of personality is meant by वैश्य and what type of personality is meant by शूद्र. I will use the word स्वभाव स्त्रित्वम्, स्वभाव वैश्यत्वम् and स्वभाव शूद्रत्वम्, not शरीर स्त्रित्वम्, शरीर वैश्यत्वम् and शरीर शूद्रत्वम्. We are not bothered about the physical gender.

a) Now what is the स्वभाव स्त्रित्वम्? It refers to an overwhelming emotional personality, which obstructs the rational thinking, a personality in whom emotions dominates over reason, मनोमय कोश dominates over विज्ञानमय कोश, because according to शास्त्र, विज्ञानमय कोश reasoning or rational thinking should have control over our emotion. If emotions are going to control over reason, that person is an emotional person. And such an emotional personality will have lot of problem with Vedantic knowledge. What is primary problem? An emotional personality always values personal relationships and personal attachment. It wants to be personally associated with someone and personally someone should love me, there must be someone whom I can tell: I love you and someone should regularly tell me: I love you, this need, this emotional prop is very important, whereas in वेदान्त, we talk about growing out of सङ्ग or relationship, because we want to come to this knowledge that अहम् असङ्गम् ब्रह्मास्मि, असङ्गोऽहम्, असङ्गोऽहम्, असङ्गोऽहम् पुनः पुनः, न मृत्युर्न शङ्का न मे जातिभेदः पिता नैव मे नैव माता न जन्मः । न बन्धुर्न मित्रम् गुरुर्नैव शिष्यम् चिदानन्दरूपः शिवोऽहम् शिवोऽहम् ॥ निर्वाण षट्कम् ७॥

I am beyond all this सङ्ग, because सङ्ग means bondage. Therefore वेदान्त requires transcending सङ्ग. And an emotional mind clings on to सङ्ग, therefore such an emotional mind, even if it renounces all the worldly सङ्गs, it will hold on to गुरु. गुरु will become a physical security, that is equally dangerous, गुरु will have problem. When he comes to God, an emotional mind always wants a personal God. Because personal God fulfills some of the emotional needs, अधरम् मधुरम् वदनम् मधुरम्. So it wants again relationship with the Lord, as father, or mother, or child, something or the other, therefore that emotional mind can hold on to सगुण personal God only, whereas climax of वेदान्त is what: God should be beyond even personal limitations, emotional mind can never reach निर्गुण ब्रह्मन् and therefore वेदान्त becomes a problem, वैराग्य becomes a problem for an emotional mind. Therefore whoever has got such a mind is called स्त्रि mind, even a male if he has got such a mind, Vedantically that person is a स्त्रि. Therefore what is the first type of mind, an emotional mind.

b) Then वैश्याः, if you remember the 4th chapter analysis we have defined वैश्य स्वभाव as a राजसिक mind, an outgoing mind, which wants to earn, which wants to acquire, which wants to accomplish, which is a commercial mind. So even if it comes to religion, even if you come to ऋषीकेश you will be interested in रुद्राक्ष व्यापारम् and conclude that there is a good profit there, it is everywhere profit only, the commercial mind, that is वैश्य mind. It has nothing to do with जाति or birth, even a महा ब्राह्मण by birth if he is commercial minded, he will come under गुण-वैश्यः. Here we are not talking about जाति-वैश्यः, we are talking about गुण-वैश्यः. So गुण स्त्रि over, गुण-वैश्यः over.

c) Then what is the third one, शूद्राः. शूद्राः, we saw in the 4th chapter as तमोगुण प्रधानः. So one who is given to indolence, laziness and animalistic living, who has got one philosophy as we say in हिन्दि, खावो पीयो मजा करो, eat drink and make merry. So that is तमसिक mind, very close to animals. So such a mind again is गुण-शूद्रः. We are not talking about जाति-शूद्रः, a जाति-शूद्रः may be a गुण-ब्राह्मण, a जाति-ब्राह्मण may be a गुण-शूद्रः, I have given in the details in the 4th chapter, I don't want to get into the discussions, I hope you are satisfied with the explanations, OK,

गुण स्त्रि, गुण-वैश्यः, गुण-शूद्रः. गुण स्त्रि means more emotional than rational, गुण-वैश्यः is commercial minded, गुण-शूद्रः is indolence, whoever has this personality he or she is a disadvantaged person and कृष्ण says even these disadvantaged people if they surrender to God they will be able to change their character. Even if he or she has got a womanish mind, they will be able to transcend attachment and especially attachment the children for ladies, always difficult, others will get out, you will get out, but for women more strong biological call also, I don't know whether I told, a lady having only one son said: should I be detached from my son to get मोक्ष. And she said: if I have to be detached from my son then I don't want मोक्ष, I will be better detached from what: मोक्ष. Like that smoker: he was regularly reading the book: cigarette smoking is injurious to health, it is injurious to health, etc. And he said at last I gave up: what if you ask - reading that magazine. Like that an emotional mind says, if मोक्ष requires detachment from near and dear ones, better I will be detached from मोक्ष. I want to cling such a mind finds it very difficult, कृष्ण says to such people my advice is, be attached to your children also and give Me (भगवान्) some attachment, then sooner or later, I will take you away from worldly attachment. Therefore ते अपि यान्ति पराम् गतिम्. So what is the essence of this verse: भक्ति will help advantaged people as well as disadvantaged or handicapped people. Continuing;

Verse No .33

किं पुनर्ब्राह्मणाः पुण्या भक्ता राजर्षयस्तथा ।

अनित्यमसुखं लोकमिमं प्राप्य भजस्व माम् ॥ ९-३३॥

किम् पुनः ब्राह्मणाः पुण्याः भक्ताः राजर्षयः तथा ।

अनित्यम् असुखम् लोकम् इमम् प्राप्य भजस्व माम् ॥ ९-३३॥

किम् पुनः पुण्याः भक्ताः ब्राह्मणाः तथा राजर्षयः? (तस्मात् त्वं) अनित्यम् असुखम् इमम् लोकम् प्राप्य, माम् भजस्व ।

So if गुण-शूद्रs and गुण-वैश्यः can attain liberation in spite of their handicaps – mental, inner handicap, what to talk of गुण-ब्राह्मणः and गुण-क्षत्रियः, who have got advantage from birth and what is the definition of गुण-ब्राह्मण and गुण-क्षत्रिय do you remember? गुण-ब्राह्मण is सत्त्वगुण प्रधान, by birth he is spiritually oriented. There is no craving for अर्थ-काम, he is a गुण-ब्राह्मणः because of his पूर्वजन्म साधन. गुण-क्षत्रियः is the one who is the रजसिक person, extrovert active alright but there is a difference between गुण-क्षत्रिय and गुण-वैश्य. What is the difference? गुण-क्षत्रिय is selflessly active, whereas गुण-वैश्यः is selfishly active. A selfish active person will not grow spiritually, a selfish active person will spiritually stagnate, he will grow materially because every pie, he will take to himself, every pie I earn I will keep for myself only. Not a single pie दानम्. Even if someone asks, he will direct to the neighbor saying that he is a great donor, etc. So selfishly active person may materially grow but he will spiritually stagnate, such a person is called गुण-वैश्य, but गुण-क्षत्रियः is also active, but he or she is selflessly active, therefore every action contributes to the external world. Therefore such a person will purify the mind very quickly and his life will become a कर्मयोग, गुण-वैश्य's life is कर्म, गुण-क्षत्रिय's life is कर्मयोगः. Therefore sooner or later he will come to ज्ञानम् and attain liberation. And therefore गुण-ब्राह्मण and गुण-क्षत्रिय are advantaged people, certainly भक्ति will help with them quicker. Therefore कृष्ण asks the questions: किम् पुनः, if the disadvantaged people themselves will get benefit what to talk of advantaged people. The advantage in tennis you remember, once you have got the advantage, only one point you need to win, but for the other person he should get two. So these people are advantaged गुण-ब्राह्मण and advantaged गुण-क्षत्रिय. So ब्राह्मणाः पुण्याः, पुण्यः means what: those who are सात्त्विक minded, virtuous, naturally धार्मिक, adjective is ब्राह्मणाः and remember ब्राह्मण is गुण-ब्राह्मण and not जाति and then राजर्षयः – what to talk of गुण-क्षत्रियाः. So राजर्षि means गुण-क्षत्रिय who are also भक्त, who are your devotees, should I talk about them? I need not talk, they will certainly attain liberation. Therefore what is the conclusion, whether you are advantaged or disadvantaged, don't bother. Start भक्ति. Therefore He says: हे अर्जुन! माम् भजस्व – so may you worship Me. Even as an आर्त भक्त it is OK. Start somewhere, may you worship Me and then we may say that I will start after retirement, now I am too busy. कृष्ण says what is the guarantee that you will survive till then, better don't postpone, अनित्यम् लोकम् प्राप्य – you have come to an अनित्य लोक, a world of finitude, world of mortality, you can never postpone good thing, therefore start, if you don't have much time, start for 10 minutes, you sit there and chant a few prayers, even if you don't study गीता, उपनिषत्s etc., it doesn't matter, start with a simple prayer, early morning get up, (not that I am telling don't come to the next class!!) talking about the other people, if they cannot do all those things they need not, get up early that itself is a big challenge, get up early in the morning, take a bath and before starting your day, before starting your coffee, just go in front of the Lord and do नमस्कार and pray for all round growth, physical, emotional, intellectual and spiritual. You must start somewhere, one minute is enough, one minute at the feet of the lord, even half a minute, not even one minute, start somewhere, so अनित्यम् लोकम्. And not only it is अनित्यम् असुखम् लोकम् – it is full of problem, therefore don't postpone because you don't know what all problems will crop up, health problems may come, if you want to read eye problem may come, if you want to hear lectures ear problems may come. We don't know, therefore in this fleeting-problem-riddled world the best thing that you can do is spend some time for spirituality, the rest will be taken care of and कृष्ण concludes in the 34th verse:

Verse No .34

मन्मना भव मद्भक्तो मद्याजी मां नमस्कुरु ।

मामेवैष्यसि युक्तवैवमात्मानं मत्परायणः ॥ ९-३४॥

मत्-मनाः भव मत्-भक्तः मत्-याजी माम् नमस्कुरु ।

माम् एव एष्यसि युक्त्वा एवम् आत्मानम् मत्-परायणः ॥ ९-३४॥

(त्वं) मत्-मनाः मत्-भक्तः मत्-याजी (च) भव, माम् मत्-परायणः (सन्) नमस्कुरु एवम् आत्मानम् युक्त्वा माम् एव एष्यसि ।

So the lifestyle of a भक्त is beautifully delineated in this श्लोक. It is a beautiful verse, a popular verse. If somebody asks: 'who is a भक्त, what is the type of life that he leads,' that is beautifully defined here. So five factors are mentioned here, I will arrange the words for the sake of development.

i) मत्-भक्तः भव – develop devotion or love towards Me, develop भक्ति towards Me and I have said before that Lord can be looked upon as a means to worldly end or Lord can be looked upon as an end-in-itself. In the beginning stages you need not look up God as an end, doesn't matter: भगवान् is ready to accept that, you have your own worldly goals,

धान्यम् धनम् पशुम् बहु पुत्र लाभम् शत संवत्सरम् ... ॥ ऋग्वेदसंहिता २-६-२७ ॥

All those things are there. Therefore, you learn to love God at least as a means for the fulfillment of worldly ends, which we call as सकाम भक्ति or आर्त, अर्थार्थी भक्ति. And when you use Lord for worldly ends certainly you will find it successful. Because as I told, even it has been statistically proved that a person who is religious, whatever be his concept of God, there is a general peace of mind and therefore better resources for a भक्त. And that is why कृष्ण said, in whatever form you worship Me I will fulfill your desire. So this is the first stage: use भगवान् as an assistant, your assistant for worldly goal, this is मत्-भक्तः. In fact, in all the पुराणs that is predominantly presented.

ii) Then next you have to graduate to मत्-परायणः. You understand that the worldly goals have their limitations, they cannot really give me peace, they cannot really give security, they cannot really give happiness, because they themselves are insecure in nature, how can an insecure human being give security, how can an insecure money give security, how long, how much time it takes for the earthquake to destroy everything, a few seconds only, not even one minute, a few seconds, what security we have and all the documents themselves get lost or burnt who knows and therefore understand that peace, security and happiness have got only one source or one locus, that is called God or ब्रह्मन्. Therefore may you take ब्रह्मन् as the goal of life and when God is converted into your goal you are called मत्-परायणः. So परम् अयनम् means what: ultimate goal of life. So from साधन, भगवान् has become साध्यम्, the goal.

iii) Then what is the next stage, मत्-मनाः भव. Once भगवान् has become the primary goal, your mind does not or should not lose sight of the goal. It should keep the ultimate goal in your mind all the time, in your preoccupation with incidental goal of earning money, building house, getting married, getting children, getting grandchildren, you have so many commitments, nothing wrong, but in and through your preoccupation don't forget for what purpose I am living. And this is called मत्-मनाः भव – keep me in your mind, in your subconscious mind as the goal, just as a musician never loses sight of the तम्बुर श्रुति. That doesn't mean he is all the time hearing तम्बुर, therefore no music at all, what is he doing, listening to the तम्बुर श्रुति carefully. No, who will sit in front of him. So you expect him to sing well, राग, कल्पना स्वर, रागम् तानम् पल्लवि, with difficult ताल, so the deliberate thinking is involved, but whatever the musician does in the back of his mind the तम्बुर श्रुति he doesn't lose sight. Similarly, don't forget your destination, तीव्र मुमुक्षुः भव, this is the third stage, what is that, non-forgetfulness of the goal.

iv) Then what is the next one, मत्-याजी भव – convert everyone of your actions into worship of the Lord, contributing to spiritual growth, utilize every moment for spiritual growth. Whatever you do, remember, यत् करोषि यत् अश्नासि यत् जुहोषि ददासि यत्, even eating can be converted into a purificatory right, very simple, what to do, you should not eat immediately what all is served. So in some places, they start serving here and after serving the last leaf and you turn, this first leaf is empty. They don't know whether they have served or not. Don't do that, wait for a minute, do नमस्कार and acknowledge that it is Lord gift and remember God and eat, then eating becomes a spiritual साधन. Thus convert everything into a spiritual a साधन, a यज्ञ. Even sense pleasures can be converted into यज्ञ. We saw in the 4th chapter, द्रव्य-यज्ञाः तपो-यज्ञाः, अपाने जुहति प्राणम्, etc., care of 4th chapter. Therefore मत्-याजी भव means worship Me through every action of yours, become a कर्मयोगि, this is the 4th definition.

v) What is the fifth and final: माम् नमस्कुरु. Naturally you will progress spiritually if you are following these four steps you will certainly grow spiritually, but remember, when you grow spiritually don't become arrogant Pride goes before a fall. Therefore remember all the time: whatever growth I am getting is because of the grace of the Lord and in future also my success requires the grace of the Lord. Therefore माम् नमस्कुरु, surrender to Me, so under my shelter you follow all the spiritual साधन. So thus मत्-याजी indicates the use of free-will, माम् नमस्कुरु indicates the importance of grace. Free-will is also important, ईश्वर अनुग्रह is also important, both should go hand in hand. So thus what are the five conditions to be a भक्तः

1. Develop devotion to Me,
2. Make Me as your ultimate goal,
3. Don't lose sight of Me as the goal,
4. Convert every moment of your life into a purificatory exercise and
5. Always surrender to the Lord and do everything with Lord's blessings.

If these five conditions are fulfilled, what will happen to you कृष्ण says, एवम् आत्मानम् युक्त्वा – thus engaging yourselves in this devotional life, religious life, वैदिक life, माम् एव एष्यसि – you will certainly attain Me alone, you will certainly attain मोक्ष. So thus भक्ति will take every person to मोक्ष whatever be the level of the person. Therefore let everyone start with devotion and initial stages, the real nature of God need not be known, God can be imagined as a person, then gradually from एकरूप you can go to अनेकरूप then you can go to अरूप; start somewhere.

CHAPTER 09, SUMMARY

I will give you a summary of the 9th chapter of the गीता. The 9th chapter of the गीता is very similar to the 7th chapter and very much different from the 8th chapter and therefore Lord कृष्ण wants to show the difference of the 9th chapter from the topic of the 8th chapter. In the 8th chapter, सगुण ईश्वर उपासना was elaborately described. सगुण ईश्वर उपासना means meditation upon the Lord with various attributes, various virtues and this सगुण ईश्वर उपासना has the capacity to give liberation in an indirect manner. This method of getting liberation in an indirect manner is called क्रममुक्तिः and this क्रममुक्ति was discussed in the 8th chapter. And in this a person practices सगुण ईश्वर उपासना throughout the life, without coming to the निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, without coming to ब्रह्मज्ञानम्, he avoids निर्गुण ज्ञानम् and confines himself or herself to सगुण उपासना and we know that सगुण उपासना cannot directly lead to liberation and therefore it has to lead to liberation only in an indirect way. And what is that indirect method, as a result of सगुण उपासना a person travels after death. He will not merge in ईश्वर or ब्रह्मन्, he will not get जीवन्मुक्ति, he will not get विदेह मुक्ति also, but he will travel after death and go to ब्रह्मलोक . And how do we know, certainly we cannot see all these things, we come to know of these through scriptures. And scriptures point out that this सगुण उपासक will get all the ideal conditions for निर्गुण ज्ञानम् in ब्रह्मलोक . What he successfully avoided here, he will have to face in ब्रह्मलोक , which means वेदान्त श्रवण, मनन, निदिध्यासनम् he can convertibly do in ब्रह्मलोक in very conducive circumstances and that too given by not an ordinary आचार्य, but by चतुर्मुख ब्रह्म himself and when the conditions are वेदान्त ideal and the teacher is wonderful that उपासक will get निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, in ब्रह्मलोक and as a result of that knowledge he will become liberated. So this method of liberation is called क्रममुक्ति. And what is the uniqueness of क्रममुक्ति, a person will not come to ज्ञानयोग in मनुष्य जन्म. A person will confine to only सगुण उपासना throughout. And as I said before, कृष्ण is not interested in prescribing क्रममुक्ति for us. Why he is not interested in prescribed क्रममुक्ति? क्रममुक्ति is postponement of the liberation to ब्रह्मलोक . As far as कृष्ण is concerned, He wants us to enjoy liberation in this जन्म itself and therefore He wants to prescribe सद्योमुक्ति, as opposed to क्रममुक्ति, he wants to prescribe सद्योमुक्ति which means liberation here and now, जीवन् एव मुक्ति is called सद्योमुक्ति. सद्यः means instant, like instant idli, instant sambar, instant sevai, if you can have all these things instant, why not liberation? So like fast food restaurant, we have got fast liberation restaurant. And in this method what do we do, we practice सगुण उपासना and having practiced सगुण उपासना for some time and having acquired enough qualifications or योग्यता we switchover to निर्गुण ज्ञानम् in this जन्म itself, instead of postponing to ब्रह्मलोक . And switching over to निर्गुण ज्ञानम् is nothing but वेदान्त विचारः, उपनिषत् विचारः, श्रवण मनन निदिध्यासनम्, because in the उपनिषत् the nature of the Lord discussed is निर्गुण nature,

यत् तददेश्यम् अब्राह्मम् अगोत्रम् अवर्णम् अचक्षुः श्रोत्रम् तदपाणिपादम् । ॥
मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-१-६ ॥

अशब्दम् अस्पर्शम् अरूपम् अव्ययम् तथा अरसम् नित्यम् अगन्धवत् च यत् । ॥ कठोपनिषत् १-३-१५ ॥

उपनिषत् also discusses the nature of God, but not the सगुण nature but निर्गुण nature, studying the निर्गुण स्वरूपम् of ईश्वर is ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, otherwise called ज्ञानयोगः. And as a result of ज्ञानयोग, a person will attain what: निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, the knowledge of the higher nature of God. सगुण स्वरूपम् is considered lower nature, inferior nature. In the 7th chapter, what was the word used, what was the name attributed to the सगुण, inferior nature, अपरा प्रकृति. And for the निर्गुण higher nature of Lord, name given was परा प्रकृति. And this परा प्रकृति ज्ञानम् a person attains here and now and as a result of that one enjoys जीवन्मुक्ति and later विदेह मुक्ति. So thus in the 7th chapter, सद्योमुक्ति, in the 8th chapter, क्रममुक्ति and in the 9th chapter, again we come back to सद्योमुक्ति itself, that is why the 8th chapter is the odd chapter out. 7 and 9 both deal with निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, which is the liberating knowledge. And when we talk about निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् a person may think that it is extremely difficult; निर्गुण means too abstract, too subtle. कृष्ण says in the introduction, He talks about निर्गुण ईश्वर स्वरूपम् and points out that it is the easiest, it appears to be difficult for an unprepared mind, once you prepare your mind, निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is like swallowing peeled banana. Naturally you will ask how should I prepare for निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्? The preparation is सगुण ईश्वर उपासना. And therefore the 9th chapter wants to deal with सगुण ईश्वर उपासना, preparation of the mind, निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, liberation. This is the approach of the 9th chapter. With this background you have to see the 9th chapter.

A) Now going to the text proper, the first three verses happen to be the introduction to the chapter and in the introduction कृष्ण mentions the subject matter of this chapter. And what is the subject matter? ईश्वर ज्ञानम्. And that too which ईश्वर ज्ञानम्? The higher nature of ईश्वर, परा प्रकृति ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, निर्गुण स्वरूप ज्ञानम्. And since this knowledge is not available or accessible to the unprepared mind, this will remain a secret for the unprepared mind, like the theory of relativity, they say only a few people know, because it requires preparation. And therefore this knowledge, remains a secret for many, because many have not prepared the mind, and therefore it is called राज-गुह्यम्, the greatest secret and at the same time, since this knowledge alone liberates a person, since this knowledge alone is the liberating knowledge, कृष्ण calls it राज-विद्या, the greatest knowledge. And this राज-विद्या राज-गुह्यम्, otherwise known as निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् is the subject matter of the 9th chapter, which He mentions in the first three verses. And incidentally He mentions an important qualification which is also required. Among different preparations, one important preparation is श्रद्धा, keeping an open mind until I am able to understand; don't reject the teaching, don't reject the teacher, be patient until you understand.

अश्रद्धधानाः पुरुषा धर्मस्यास्य परन्तप ।

अप्राप्य माम् निवर्तन्ते मृत्युसंसारवर्त्मनि ॥ ९-३॥

If you reject the teaching, the loser is not the teaching, the loser is not the ऋषिः, ऋषिः are not going to lose anything if you don't study and they are not going to gain anything because we study. Therefore if you want, you should have an open mind, this is the introduction in the first three verses.

B) Then from the 4th verse up to 10th verse, we get the central theme of the chapter, wherein निर्गुण ईश्वर स्वरूपम् is revealed, the nature of the real God, the nature of the higher nature of God. And निर्गुण ईश्वरः in वेदान्त is called ब्रह्मन् and therefore these seven verses deal with ब्रह्म स्वरूपम्. And कृष्ण mentions a few important features or nature of ब्रह्मन् extracted from the उपनिषत्सु. So nothing is कृष्ण's invention, everything is borrowed from the उपनिषत्सु, that is why at the end of every chapter, इति श्रीमद्भगवद्गीतासु उपनिषत्सु, from there it is taken. What are the features mentioned He will enumerate.

i) The first feature कृष्ण mentions is हे अर्जुन! the real I or real God is all-pervading, सर्वगतः अहम् अस्मि and therefore any personal God who is located in a place is not the real God, because real God doesn't have location and therefore the idea that God is in कैलास, God is in वैकुण्ठ, God is in ब्रह्मलोक, ब्रह्म is the Father in the heaven, all these are the inferior form of God presented for the beginning of spirituality. We don't criticize that, we don't condemn that, we all require that, but that is not the ultimate. Remember my statement which is very important, Without सगुण ईश्वर one cannot come to निर्गुण ईश्वर, without निर्गुण ईश्वर remaining in सगुण ईश्वर is incomplete spirituality. And therefore, a साधक has to go to सगुण and then it has to culminate in निर्गुण. So therefore feature No.1: ईश्वरः सर्वगतः.

ii) And the second feature that कृष्ण mentions is अव्यक्तः अहम्, अव्यक्तः means इन्द्रिय अगोचर, not available for sensory perception, अशब्दम्, अस्पर्शम्, अरूपम्, अरसम्, अगन्धम् ब्रह्म. And therefore if anybody talks about seeing God with the eyes, भगवान्'s दर्शनम् I saw with my eyes, we don't dismiss that दर्शनम्, but what we say that the Lord of the दर्शनम् of the अपरा प्रकृति nature. Why, if you have seen, it is not the real God and therefore इन्द्रिय अगोचरः ईश्वरः. What is the word used here, अव्यक्तम्.

iii) And the third feature that कृष्ण mentions is मिथ्या जगत् अधिष्ठानम्, the Lord is the support of the world which has got only a lower order of reality, which is unreal compared to the higher order. Just as the dream world is real from the standpoint of the dreaming individual, but the dream world is unreal from the standpoint of the waker. Similarly, this world is real from the standpoint of the waking individual, but this world is unreal from the standpoint of the परा प्रकृति, the higher nature. And therefore what is the third definition, Lord is the substratum of the unreal world, or the world of a lesser order of reality. In संस्कृत, मिथ्या जगत् अधिष्ठानम्, If you remember ललितासहस्रनामम्, one of the नाम is

मिथ्या-जगदधिष्ठाना मुक्तिदा मुक्तिरूपिणी ।

लास्यप्रिया लयकरी लज्जा रम्भादिवन्दिता ॥ श्रीललितासहस्रनामस्तोत्रम् १४२ ॥

मिथ्या जगत् अधिष्ठानम्, this is the third feature.

iv) Then the fourth feature is Lord is असङ्ग स्वरूपः, असङ्गः means what: even though Lord is the support of this entire world, the impurities of the world do not sully the Lord, the आश्रय. Because normally if a dirty object is kept over a pure cloth, what happens, the dirt of the object will sully the cloth, because the आश्रयः is sullied by the आश्रित, the object. This is the normal convention, but in the case of ईश्वर, ईश्वर supports the whole world but the impurities do not taint him and therefore Lord is compared to आकाशः. Just as the space accommodates everything without getting sullied by anything. Lord is अकाशवत् असङ्ग स्वरूपः, this is the fourth feature.

यथाकाशस्थितो नित्यम् वायुः सर्वत्रगो महान् ।

तथा सर्वाणि भूतानि मत्स्थानीत्युपधारय ॥ ९-६॥

v) Then the fifth feature that is mentioned is ईश्वर सृष्टि, स्थिति, लय कारणम् जगतः. So the higher nature of the Lord is the very cause of the origination, existence and the resolution of the creation,

यतो वा इमानि भूतानि जायन्ते । येन जातानि जीवन्ति ।

यत् प्रयन्त्यभिसंविशन्ति । तद्विजिज्ञासस्व । तद् ब्रह्मेति । ॥
तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् ३-१-३ ॥

all Upanishadic ideas भगवान् has dumped it here completely, this is जगत् कारणत्वम्.

vi) Then the next feature is this: If you say ईश्वर is the creator of the universe then it appears that ईश्वर is also a कर्ता, because creator means He is doing something, He is doing a big job, He is creating this vast universe, he is preserving this universe, which means even the earthquakes, etc., must be His job and because of that millions are dying, who must be responsible, ईश्वर, He quakes the earth, we don't do it. So if ईश्वर is doing all these work, ईश्वर must become कर्ता, भोक्ता, then if ईश्वर कर्ता and भोक्ता, He will have पुण्यम्, पापम् etc., such a doubt will come and therefore कृष्ण says: I don't create anything, in my presence, साक्षि मात्रेण, the creation arises, exists and resolves. Just as the light is only present in the hall, the light is not responsible for the type of activity that we do. One person may do noble activity in the light, another person may do an ignoble activity in the presence of light, but light will not get the good result or the bad result. Similarly, ईश्वर is सूर्य आलोकवत्, साक्षि मात्रम्, this is the next feature.

vii) And the last one which is corollary of this, since the Lord is only the witness, Lord doesn't have कर्तृत्वम् or भोक्तृत्वम्, कर्तृत्वम् भोक्तृत्वम् रहितः. कर्तृत्वम् means doership, भोक्तृत्वम् means enjoyership, both don't belong to ईश्वर. So these are the features of the higher nature of the Lord, that is ब्रह्मन्. This is the portion from verse no.4 to 10.

C) Then in the 11th verse, कृष्ण pointed out why there is संसार, why there is suffering in the world, संसार कारणम् किम्? कृष्ण says: संसार कारणम् is ignorance of this ईश्वर. This ईश्वर means what? The higher ईश्वर, निर्गुणम् ईश्वर अज्ञानम् एव, परा प्रकृति अज्ञानम् एव, ब्रह्म अज्ञानम् एव संसार कारणम्. Why do we say so? You cannot just make a statement, you have to give logic. निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म alone is beyond time and space. In fact, it is निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म only because it is beyond time and space. What do you mean by निर्गुणम्: attributeless. And anything other than निर्गुण ब्रह्म, that is सगुणम् ब्रह्म which comes under अपरा प्रकृति, is within time and space. The moment you come to properties it is subject to change - there will be increase, there will be decrease, you will take your own physical properties, is it the same. No, in a few days it is suddenly changing to this side and then to the other side, therefore increase is there, decrease is there, complexion changes, hair changes, changes or disappears, can you tell any properties that is changeless. Therefore सगुण ईश्वर, अपरा प्रकृति means within time and space, which means it is subject to decay and it is subject to disappearance and it is subject to association and disassociation and whatever is subject to time cannot give you security. Whatever is subject to time cannot give you security, Why, because time will destroy.

भजगोविन्दम् ११ ॥

And therefore if I don't know परा प्रकृति, what will I do, I will seek security from अपरा प्रकृति, if I understand परा प्रकृति I will know where I will get security and since I do not know परा प्रकृति, I will seek peace, I will seek happiness, I will seek permanence, I will seek security in the fluctuating, highly fleeting, ephemeral and unpredictable अपरा प्रकृति and when hold on to अपरा प्रकृति, what happens, right under my nose it disappears. If it doesn't disappear, I disappear, either one. अपरा प्रकृति is the cause of all our struggles, because expectation can never be fulfilled. We will be disappointed, we will be frustrated and you will get angry with the Lord also. So therefore what is the cause of संसार, wrong expectation and what is wrong expectation, permanence from अपरा प्रकृति and why do we expect permanence from अपरा प्रकृति, because we don't know that परा प्रकृति is the real permanent. So thus 11th verse points out that ignorance is the cause of संसार.

D) Then from 12th verse up to 19th verse the remedy is given. And what is the remedy? भक्ति is given as the remedy and when we say भक्ति we should remember very very clearly, भक्ति is not a साधन but भक्ति is a series of साधन culminating in ज्ञानम्, भक्ति should culminate in ज्ञानम्. Why, because the problem is अज्ञानम्, if ignorance is the problem the only solution is knowledge,

अविरोधितया कर्म नाविद्याम् विनिवर्तयेत् ।

विद्याविद्याम् निहन्त्येव तेजस्तिमिरसङ्घवत् ॥ आत्मबोधः ३ ॥

शङ्कर beautifully says in आत्मबोधः, if darkness is the problem, what is the solution. You want to remove the darkness and suppose you take a broomstick and sweep darkness, all together, collective endeavor, कर सेवा, you go on sweeping for 12 hours, what happens, you get tired and another person does योगासन in this darkness, at the end of योगासन will darkness go, no. Another person chants विष्णुसहस्रनाम, विष्णुसहस्रनाम is very good, but it cannot remove darkness. Very simple, light a lamp. Similarly, कृष्ण has pointed out निर्गुण ब्रह्म, अज्ञानम् is ब्रह्म, therefore निर्गुण ब्रह्मज्ञानम् alone is the solution. Therefore, भक्ति must be a series of साधन which should culminate in ज्ञानम्. And this series of भक्ति साधन has three levels, which will be clearly discussed in the 12th chapter, but it is indicated in this chapter.

What are the three levels of भक्ति? कर्म रूप भक्ति, उपासना रूप भक्ति and वेदान्त विचारः रूप भक्ति. First level of भक्ति should be in the form of कर्मयोग, wherein we dedicate every action to the Lord, be active, do a lot of कर्म, but convert every कर्म into a worship and this level of भक्ति is called कर्म रूप भक्ति, भक्ति in the form of action. And thereafter we have to graduate to the next level of भक्ति called उपासना रूप भक्ति, because the extrovert mind has to be turned inward, कर्म has a knack of making me extrovert, whether it is selfish activity or selfless activity, many people who have been very active doing selfish activity, they cannot sit and study वेदान्त. They will have to do something because they are highly restless people. You can serve the society wonderful, but a time should come when we should turn away from that. Giving the service to the next generation. I don't say don't do it, but hand it over to the next generation and then we have to train our mind to turn inward, अन्तर्मुख समाराध्य बहिर्मुख सुदुर्लभ, an extrovert mind cannot absorb वेदान्त and therefore how to turn the mind inwards, उपासना रूप भक्ति, भक्ति in the form of meditation, सगुण meditation only, this is also भक्ति, but it is second stage. And then we have to come to third and final stage of भक्ति, which is called वेदान्त विचारः रूप भक्ति, ज्ञानयोग रूप भक्ति in which I study the scriptures, श्रवण मनन निदिध्यासन. In fact, when you are attending the class, you are only practicing only ज्ञानयोग रूप भक्ति that is also भक्ति only. In the 4th chapter, कृष्ण called it ज्ञान यज्ञः, not only कृष्ण called this ज्ञान यज्ञ, कृष्ण even pointed out that ज्ञान यज्ञ is superior to all other forms of यज्ञ. Where did He say this,

यत्करोषि यदश्नासि यज्जुहोषि ददासि यत् ।

यत्तपस्यसि कौन्तेय तत्कुरुष्व मदर्पणम् ॥ ९-२७॥

सर्वम् कर्म-अखिलम् पार्थ ज्ञाने परिसमाप्यते ॥ ४-३३॥

Therefore we have to come to ज्ञान लक्षण भक्ति and when a person has gone through all this three levels of भक्ति, he becomes what, a ज्ञानि भक्तः, a devotee with the knowledge of ईश्वरः. Which ईश्वर, अपरा प्रकृति or परा प्रकृति? ज्ञानि of परा प्रकृति, निर्गुण ब्रह्मज्ञानम् and how will be that knowledge. We are seeing that on Saturday classes:

मय्येव सकलम् जातम् मयि सर्वम् प्रतिष्ठितम् ।

मयि सर्वम् लयम् याति तद् ब्रह्म अद्वयमस्यहम् ॥ कैवल्योपनिषत् १-१९ ॥

That is correct ज्ञानम्, we need not go to that now, we will see that later, निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानि भक्तः. So when I say भक्ति leads to liberation, we should remember भक्ति which consists of all the three levels of साधन. If you do only भजन्s you will not get ज्ञानम्. That is only first stage of भक्ति, only meditation if you do ज्ञानम् will not be there, you have to study the scriptures under the guidance of a competent आचार्य. Who says: don't think I am promoting myself, कृष्ण tells this:

तद्विद्धि प्रणिपातेन परिप्रश्नेन सेवया ।

उपदेक्ष्यन्ति ते ज्ञानं ज्ञानिनस्तत्त्वदर्शिनः ॥ ४-३४॥

अर्जुन you have to necessarily go to an आचार्य. And in the उपनिषत्, तत् विज्ञानार्थम् सः गुरुम् एव अभिगच्छेत् ।

समित्पाणिः श्रोत्रियम् ब्रह्मनिष्ठम् ॥ मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-२-१२ ॥

Thus when भक्ति consisting of all these three stages is followed then he becomes a ज्ञानि and such a ज्ञानि is liberated. So thus भक्ति as a means of liberation was pointed out and कृष्ण said that to become a भक्त, whatever be the level, to become a भक्त a person should have done lot of पुण्यम्. Those who do not have enough पुण्यम् they will never like coming to any level of भक्ति, they will never come to कर्म, उपासना and they will never come to ज्ञानम्, they will be wandering.

मोघाशा मोघकर्माणो मोघज्ञाना विचेतसः ।

राक्षसीमासुरीम् चैव प्रकृतिम् मोहिनीम् श्रिताः ॥ ९-१२॥

So they are confused, misguided people, whereas fortunate ones will come either to कर्म लक्षण भक्ति or if he is already advanced he will come to उपासना लक्षण भक्ति and suppose you still advanced called a spiritual genius, they will directly come to ज्ञान रूप भक्ति. This is the topic from verse 12 to 19.

E) Then from verse no.20 to 29, कृष्ण talks of two forms of भक्ति based on the motive. Previously we divided भक्ति into three levels based on the type of साधन. So the previous one is साधन based division, the present one is motive based division, भावना based division. साधन based division how many, three, कर्म, उपासना, ज्ञानम्; भावना based division is two, one is called सकाम भक्ति and another is called निष्काम भक्ति. And what is the difference in the motive? Which is indicated by the सङ्कल्प, ममोपात्त समस्त दुरितक्षयद्वारा श्रीपरमेश्वर प्रीत्यर्थम्, (up to this common), then afterwards, what list is he making, how does he fill up the blanks. So if a person is an indiscriminate, unintelligent मन्दः, कठोपनिषत् beautifully says:

श्रेयः च प्रेयः च मनुष्यम् एतः तौ सम्परीत्य विविनक्ति धीरः ।

हि श्रेयः अभि प्रेयसः वृणीते प्रेयः मन्दः योग-क्षेमात् वृणीते । कठोपनिषत्
१-२-२ ॥

भक्ति can be used for infinite goal also, भक्ति can be used for finite goal also, intelligent person will use भक्ति for infinite. These idiots, मन्दः, they will use भक्ति for ephemeral perishable ones, मन्दः प्रेयः वृणीते. Election is coming, therefore you should select and elect the proper one. कृष्ण says सकाम भक्तs are the unintelligent ones, and therefore they use the भक्ति for all the ephemeral goals called प्रेयः or धर्म-अर्थ-कामः. But कृष्ण says, it only reveals their non-discrimination, but one thing even सकाम भक्ति will be valid and fruitful, because it is not a पाप कर्म, it does not mean any पापम्, if a person takes to सकाम भक्ति I will certainly fulfill his desires. But what will happen, he will enjoy the benefit, ते तम् भुक्त्वा स्वर्ग-लोकम् विशालम् क्षीणे पुण्ये मर्त्य-लोकम् विशन्ति. There life will be like the snake and ladder game, will be climbing very very fast in the ladder and also come down faster through the snake mouth and again go up and come down, endlessly this game goes on and on and on, this is सकाम भक्ति, whereas निष्काम भक्तिs are those people who have understood नित्य वस्तु alone can give lasting security, परा प्रकृति alone can give me peace, security and happiness and therefore if at all he uses भक्ति, he will use the things connected with परा प्रकृति ज्ञानम्. So he if he doesn't have a prepared mind, he will utilize the mind for preparing the mind. Oh Lord, make my mind ready for the knowledge. It is inbuilt in सन्ध्यावन्दनम्.

उशतीरिव मातरः । तस्मा अरङ्गमामवो । यस्य क्षयाय जिव्वथ । आपो जनयथा च नः ।

So महे रणाय चक्षसे means whatever I need for ब्रह्मज्ञानम्, I don't know, kindly fill up that, that is Your job and a beautifully example is given, just as a mother decides what type of food should be given at the right age, the child doesn't know, even injections are there, so many are there, BCG, whatever the injections, the child doesn't know, mother gives the appropriate one. Similarly, Oh Lord, I don't know what qualifications are required, it is Your job to choose the required qualifications and inject me, उशती मातरः इव. What a मन्त्रः, like the suckling mother, mother gives milk from her own body, which is ideally suited for the child's growth, not permanently milk, after some age semi-liquid, rice, etc., just as a mother gives, Oh Lord give me वित्तशुद्धि. Asking for वित्तशुद्धि is also निष्काम भक्ति, asking for a गुरु is निष्काम भक्ति, asking for an appropriate opportunity to study is निष्काम भक्ति, after coming to the class asking for continuity is निष्काम भक्ति and if you don't understand the class asking for Oh Lord I don't understand, that is निष्काम भक्ति. After understanding if you keep forgetting, asking for non-forgetfulness is निष्काम भक्ति and having talked about निष्काम भक्ति, भगवान् says: सकाम भक्ति is very very difficult to practice and the result is finite. निष्काम भक्ति has got the highest result and it is very easy to practice. So how unintelligent people should be, they practice difficult भक्ति, they pay more and get less. Whereas निष्काम भक्त pays less and gets what: not more but the infinite itself! So सकाम भक्ति is full of rules and regulations, when should be the पूजा be done, what दक्षिणा must be given, what नैवेद्यम् should be offered all should be followed properly. And for any mistake you have to do प्रायश्चित्तम्, मन्त्रलोपे, तन्त्रलोपे, क्रियालोपे, that is प्रायश्चित्त मन्त्र, the प्रायश्चित्त मन्त्र says: If I have chanted any मन्त्र wrongly, Oh Lord please forgive me, but the problem is प्रायश्चित्त मन्त्र itself is chanted wrongly, मन्त्र लोभे, it is not मन्त्र लोभम्, it is मन्त्र लोपे, for प्रायश्चित्त मन्त्र you require another प्रायश्चित्तम्. It is ad-infinitum problem. So सकाम भक्ति all these things are very important, in निष्काम भक्ति,

तदहम् भक्त्युपहतमश्नामि प्रयतात्मनः ॥ १-२६॥

So thus कृष्ण differentiated सकाम-निष्काम भक्ति and he expects all intelligent people to follow निष्काम भक्ति. And if you are not able to follow: स्वामिजि I have so many desires, what to do: OK, you are allowed to postpone, some more time you spend for the home, but your aim should be the proportion should gradually become lesser and lesser. Let it be a long-term target and this is from verse no.20 and 29.

F) And from verse no.30 to 34, कृष्ण completes this teaching by glorifying भक्ति and what is the greatness of भक्ति? Since भक्ति has got several layers, it is like a flight of steps, it is like staircase, beginning from the lowest rung of the ladder, कर्म लक्षण भक्ति, then उपासना लक्षण भक्ति and then ज्ञान लक्षण, since it has many rungs anybody can start भक्ति according to his level. Not that you have to directly study निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म, you need not start there. Start with कर्मयोग, it's very easy. Even you can practice सकाम कर्म, but dedicate it to the Lord. We will see the details in the 12th chapter. So thus anybody can start भक्ति whatever be the level. And कृष्ण goes one step further, even if a person has been a very very corrupt person, taking to all kinds of negative activities, even that person need not entertain guilt, because guilt is one of the most powerful obstacles, because guilt leads to diffidence and diffidence is the greatest obstacle because if I am diffident, even if all others are confident, no use, on the other hand, if I am confident, even if all others are diffident, I will work and therefore spiritual साधन requires self-confidence – ‘I can make it.’ And all others can only encourage, I have to be confident. In a running race the mother, father, brothers, etc., they can clap the hands, they can cheer you up, come on, etc., but who has to run, the running has to be done only by the child only. Similarly, the spiritual साधन, I have to do, गुरु can encourage, शास्त्र can encourage, भगवान् can encourage and biggest obstacle to confidence is guilt and therefore कृष्ण says never have guilt, once you have understood that your lifestyle has been unhealthy, decide to change, once you have turned a new leaf and decided to change, the very decision makes you a saint,

अपि चेत्सुदुराचारो भजते मामनन्यभाक् ।

साधुरेव स मन्तव्यः सम्यग्व्यवसितो हि सः ॥ ९-३०॥

And not only that, there may be some people who have got disadvantages because of their very birth, because of their parentage, because of their location, etc. There can be people with inherent disadvantages but even those disadvantaged people can practice भक्ति and attain liberation. And therefore अर्जुन, be a भक्त and how to be a भक्त, He said in the last verse, the definition of a भक्त, beautifully presented. First मत्-भक्तः भव, first you learn to love Me at least for the sake of worldly goals, doesn’t matter, that is first stage. Then in due course, learn to love Me as the very goal itself. Can you understand the difference between these two stages: in the first stage, भगवान् is not the goal, through भगवान् I want to achieve worldly ends, next stage is मत्-परायणः, keep Me as the goal. Then the third stage is never forget this goal, मत्-मनाः भव. Then the fourth stage is convert your very life into a form of worship, taking you towards the goal, मत्-याजी भव and then the first and final factor is even when you are progressing, remember the grace of the Lord is required, therefore be humble, माम् नमस्कुरु, never become arrogant because of your spiritual progress then the snake will take you down, therefore be humble, seek the grace of the Lord. If these five factors are taken care of, you are My भक्त and sooner or later you will certainly attain Me, माम् एव एष्यसि. So with this glorification of भक्ति, कृष्ण concludes this particular discourse. And the since the subject matter is राज-विद्या राज-गुह्यम्, the very chapter is called राज-विद्या राज-गुह्य योगः.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 10, VERSES 01-05

In the chapters beginning from the 7th chapter of the गीता, Lord कृष्ण has been primarily dealing with ईश्वर स्वरूपम् or the nature of God. It is a progressive topic, progressively developed by कृष्ण in these chapters. In the 7th chapter, he dealt with the nature of God, in the 8th and in the 9th chapter also we discussed the same topic and in the following chapters, 10, 11 and 12th also this will be the central theme. In the preceding three chapters, Lord कृष्ण defined God as जगत् कारणम्. जगत् कारणम् means the cause of the universe. And कृष्ण also talked about the nature of God, pointing out that God consists of two aspects, one known as परा प्रकृति, the higher nature and the other known as अपरा प्रकृति, the lower nature. And we also saw परा प्रकृति is of the nature of Consciousness and the अपरा प्रकृति is of the nature of matter. Thus basic matter-principle plus the Consciousness-principle this put together is God. And we saw what are the common features of these two aspects and what are the uncommon features also. What is the common feature we saw?

- Consciousness is also beginningless, matter is also beginningless,
- Consciousness therefore cannot be created, matter also cannot be also created.
- This uncreated-beginningless Consciousness-matter unit or composite is called ईश्वरः. And we also saw their differences.
- परा प्रकृति or Consciousness is not subject to change, it is changeless principle, whereas the matter-principle is subject to change, is subject to evolution to become this universe. Matter is capable of evolving and not only it is subject to evolution, after some time it is subject to involution also, involution means folding back into again the fundamental form. Thus matter expanse and contract, it is subject to change. Therefore अपरा प्रकृति, the matter is सविकारम्, the परा प्रकृति, the Consciousness is निर्विकारम्.

- परा प्रकृति the Consciousness is निर्गुणम्, free from all attributes or properties and therefore not available for any type of study; all scientific studies are based on attributes and properties, Consciousness is free from all attributes, therefore it is not available for an instrument of experimentation, निर्गुणम्, whereas matter, the अपरा प्रकृति is full of attributes, therefore it is सगुण सत्त्वम् and
- then finally, we made one more point which is not very much relevant here, but an aside note, that is Consciousness is सत्यम्, having independence, स्वतन्त्रम्, whereas matter is मिथ्या, it is परा तन्त्रम्, depending on Consciousness.

Thus चेतनम्-अचेतनम्, निर्विकारम्-सविकारम्, निर्गुणम्-सगुणम्, सत्यम्-मिथ्या, such Consciousness-matter mixture is called God. And this alone is symbolically presented as the father-principle and the mother-principle. Don't ask me which is father and mother, I don't want to create problems for you. Since they are two inseparable principle, परा and अपरा, we compare it to the inseparable made-for-each-other, really made-for-each-other couple!! Never taking to divorce. In fact, impossible.

वागर्थाविव सम्पृक्तौ वागर्थप्रतिपत्तये जगतः पितरौ वन्दे पार्वतीपरमेश्वरौ
॥ रघुवंशम् १-१॥

कालिदास says just as a word and its meaning can never be separated, वाक्-अर्थौ इव. Like that परा and अपरा प्रकृति are like the father and the mother-principle. And this God is जगत् कारणम्, which means God is responsible for the emergence of this universe. And the understanding of this कारणम् status is generally done in three stages, depending on the maturity of the student. For a beginner, God as the cause is presented in one way and once a person is slightly mature, the presentation is modified to suit the intellectual capacity and then we have got a third level for the most advanced student, I have talked about this before, I am just reminding you.

i) For the first level of student, we say God creates this world, God is the creator of the world and comparison is given, just as a carpenter creates the furniture, just as goldsmith produces the ornaments, Similarly, God is the creator of the world, in संस्कृत we use the word निमित्त कारणम्. And at this level, when we say God is the creator the students assumes God as a person, as a human being. Because when you imagine a creator, the creator has to be an intelligent principle, skilled person and therefore God also is like a human being. And naturally you will like to know where is He, carpenter should have an address? What is the address of that creator God? In the beginning stages we have to give an appropriate answer, I cannot give the local Adyar, Besant Nagar address and therefore I give the address c/o वैकुण्ठः,

क्षीरोधन्वत् प्रदेशे शुचिमणि विलसत् सैकते मौक्तिकानाम् ।

छायायाम् पारिजातस्य हेमसिंहासनोपरि
आसीनमम्बुदश्याममायताक्षमलंकृतम् ॥ श्रीविष्णुसहस्रनामस्तोत्रम् ॥

So where is the Lord? पारिजात वृक्षस्य छायायाम्, in वैकुण्ठ there is a पारिजात वृक्षम्, in the shade of that tree, छाया means shade and not the tea, OK, छायायाम्. And there also हेमसिंहासनोपरि, स्वर्ण सिंहसनम्, आसीनम् – beautifully seated, अम्बुदश्यामम् – dark like a cloud, आयताक्षम् means one who has got a beautiful long eye, अलङ्कृतम् – various ornaments, चन्द्राननम्, (some भरत नाट्य students are there, therefore looking at them I get inspired) चन्द्राननम् means having a beautiful moon-like face, चतुर्बाहुम् श्रीवत्साङ्कित वक्षसम् रुचिमणी सत्यभामाभ्याम् सहितम् कृष्णमाश्रये. So this is the creator विष्णु. How he creates is also described. Out of विष्णु's navel comes ब्रह्म, विष्णु does not directly, he only creates ब्रह्माजि and thereafter hands over the creation job, employs ब्रह्माजि, only him He creates, thereafter ब्रह्माजि carries the job. So this is the idea of God as a creator for a beginner, wherein God is a person. And this will help a beginner, it is wonderful, it is useful and it is good for meditation also.

ii) And once a person has remained in this state for some time, when the mind is mature, when the mind begins to ask further questions, how can infinite God be located, questions will come, how can infinite God be located and where did God find the materials for creating the world, when such questions come, we have the next stage of teaching what is that: God creates the universe is equal to God himself manifests as the universe. Because for God to create there is no outside material, a carpenter has got a piece of wood outside, goldsmith has got a piece of gold outside, but when God has to create where will He find the raw material? In fact, even अकाश itself is not there, even the पञ्च भूतम् is not there, where will the Lord find the material, the scriptures point out that the Lord finds the material also in himself. And the उपनिषत्s gives the example,

यथोर्णनाभिः सृजते गृह्णते च ... ॥ मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-१-७ ॥

Just as a spider finds the material in itself for creating the web, Lord finds the material in his own body, because he consists of not only Consciousness-principle, He consists of matter-principle also. Therefore Lord doesn't create the world, Lord himself manifests as the world. And this stage in संस्कृत we use the word, ईश्वरः जगत् परिणामि उपादान कारणम्. That is the technical word used. What is the earlier संस्कृत word used? निमित्त कारणम्, there God is seen as a person somewhere. In the second stage we say God himself becomes, God himself manifests as the universe. That once I know that God himself manifests as the universe I will never ask the question, where is God. Why I won't ask the question? God himself or herself is available in the form of the creation. Therefore अकाश is the manifestation of God, वायु is manifestation of God, this we saw in the 7th chapter, रसः अहम् अप्सु कौन्तेय प्रभा अस्मि शशि-सूर्ययोः ।

प्रणवः सर्व-वेदेषु शब्दः स्वे पौरुषम् नृषु ॥ ७-८॥

Therefore the sunlight is not created by God, sunlight itself is the manifestation of God. Therefore I worship the rising Sun.

असौ यस्ताम्रो अरुण उत बभ्रुस्सुमङ्गलः ।

ये चेमाँ रुद्रा अभितो दिक्षु श्रिताः सहस्रशोऽवैषाँ हेड ईमहे ।

असौ योऽवसर्पति नीलग्रीवो विलोहितः । उत्तैनं गोपा
अदृशन्नदृशन्नदहार्यः । ॥ श्रीरुद्रप्रश्नः १-७/८ ॥

What a beautiful रुद्र मन्त्र, Lord शिव is daily raising in the form of the colorful Sun, initially dark red, there afterwards golden yellow, there afterwards bright white, in the month of March at 12 noon look up. Don't look, you will lose your eyes and the रुद्र says that this Lord रुद्र दर्शनम् is available for all the गोपीs, all the गोपs, all the shepherds also without going to the temple, because they have no time, they have to take the cow and even they get the दर्शनम् and the ladies who are carrying water - उदहार्यः, you would have seen, with hands free they will have even three pots (on their heads) and they talking and even quarrelling they walk, the pot doesn't fall, that you will have in the village aslo you see this, even those women who do not go to the temple, भगवान् wants to give दर्शनम् to them and what way they have दर्शनम् in the form of सूर्य and not only for the illiterate people even for the most evolved द्विजः, who performs सन्ध्यावन्दनम् (by mistake, if anyone does now-a-days it seems to be a mistake!) even they worship,

ध्येयः सदा सवितृमंडलमध्यावर्ती नारायणः सरसिजासनसंनिविष्टः । ॥

सूर्यनमस्कार मन्त्राः ॥

Therefore once you come to the second level, what is the second level, God has become the universe, for Me God दर्शनम् is always available. And what is the body of the Lord,

भूः पादौ यस्य नाभिर्विन्दसुरनिलश्चन्द्र सूर्यो च नेत्रे ॥ श्रीविष्णुसहस्रनामस्तोत्रम् ध्यानश्लोक ॥

the whole cosmos is the अवतार of the Lord, is the manifestation of the Lord, I need not stand in a big queue whether it is धर्म दर्शनम् or special दर्शनम्, धर्म दर्शनम् or non-धर्म दर्शनम् I don't have to wait in queue, open the eyes the Lord is there. This is called विश्वरूप ईश्वरः, for more mature people, this is the second stage. And it is the second stage that is elaborated in chapters 7, 9, 10 and 11, in all these chapters, for मध्यम अधिकारि Lord as विश्वरूपम्.

iii) And if a person is able to dwell upon this, remain in this appreciation for sufficiently long time then we have the final stage, which cannot be easily accepted and what is that, God does not create the universe, God does not become the universe, because becoming means undergoing change. Then what is that, God apparently appears as the universe. Therefore the universe is a false manifestation of the Lord. In which stage alone we say the universe is unreal, ब्रह्म सत्यम् जगत् मिथ्या. But to appreciate the universe as unreal it requires tremendous intellectual and emotional maturity and therefore that is kept as the final stage, which we will see from the 13th chapter onwards, but in these chapters, what is the topic, God manifests as the universe. Therefore the whole universe is nothing but the Lord himself, सर्वम् विष्णु मयम् जगत्. And once I am able to appreciate this, this is विश्वरूपदर्शनम्, divinization of this world. In the first stage God is elsewhere, He is sitting somewhere, world is elsewhere, both are in different places. And God is sacred and the world is secular or still worse, so we have a sacred-secular-dichotomy in the beginning stage, but once you have come to the middle stage I don't separate God and world, because God alone is in the form of world, just as gold alone is in the form of ornaments, wood alone is in the form of furniture, I cannot say God and world, when you use “and” two things are there separately. “Gold and ornaments” can you say? No. Because there are no ornaments other than gold, you cannot say “wood and furniture” because there are no furniture other than wood. Similarly, I cannot say God and world, because there is no world separate from, other than God. Therefore, to see the भगवान् I don’t have to go to the temple or to close the eyes. Therefore, wherever you see is nothing but ईश्वरः. And once you have got this vision whatever glory is there in the creation, any glory, the glory of the Sun as the uninterrupted power supply, the original UPS is सूर्य भगवान्, our UPS is not uninterrupted, the real UPS is Lord सूर्य, how long, for how many billions of years it has been giving powers what is the amount of energy it sends, you will soon know in the month of March, April in चेन्नै. Now we are under the roof, Sun has already set but even now you can see what an energy! And we are trying to imitate the Sun, we have not been able to, still for us power is a problem. So सूर्य is a glorious thing and then you can take so many things in the creation, the glory of earth, the glory of water, the most ingenious chemical ever made is water. And therefore कृष्ण wants to say that since God is everything, any glory found anywhere in the creation that belongs to God alone. What about my glory, a doubt will arise in that. First question is do you have glory, that itself is doubtful, let us assume we have some glory, कृष्ण wants to say that also belongs to God alone because you are also a mixture of अपरा प्रकृति – the matter aspect and परा प्रकृति – the Consciousness aspect, अपरा प्रकृति belongs to the inferior aspect of the Lord, परा प्रकृति belongs to the superior aspect of the Lord. Now tell me where are you and therefore, give off all the glories to the Lord. And this seeing of all the विभूतिस as God’s विभूति is विभूति दर्शनम् and the greatest advantage is we will be humble, because we never claim any credit. If you remember morning class in केनोपनिषत्, even देव became proud of their capacity and God had to teach a lesson even to देवs. And Similarly, here also off and on pride raises its hood, if you remember विभूतियोगः I will be humble. And not only that, when I see any glory in any other person I will see that also as the glory of the Lord. And therefore there is no comparison of two people. Suppose I have some glory and you have some glory, then we have to fight who is more glorious. Now I know I have no glory, no glory means my glory belongs to the Lord and I also know that your glory also belongs to God, there is only one source of all glories, where is the question of jealousy. So for a real भक्त, विश्वरूप भक्त arrogance will never come, jealousy will never come, because he sees ईश्वर विभूति everywhere. And it is this transformation that Lord कृष्ण wants to bring in our mind, what transformation, seeing the glory of the Lord everywhere and since this is the topic, सर्वत्र ईश्वर विभूति दर्शनम् is the topic this chapter is called विभूतियोगः. With this background we will enter into the chapter proper.

श्रीभगवानुवाच ।

भूय एव महाबाहो शृणु मे परमं वचः ।

यत्तेऽहं प्रीयमाणाय वक्ष्यामि हितकाम्यया ॥ १०-१॥

भूयः एव महाबाहो शृणु मे परमम् वचः ।

यत् ते अहम् प्रीयमाणाय वक्ष्यामि हित-काम्यया ॥ १०-१॥

हे महाबाहो! भूयः एव मे परमम् वचः शृणु । प्रीयमाणाय ते यत् अहम् हित-काम्यया वक्ष्यामि ।

So in this chapter, we don't find any question from अर्जुन and therefore we come to know that कृष्ण himself volunteers to talk more about ईश्वर स्वरूपम्. कृष्ण gives the answer, हे अर्जुन! you are very very dear student to Me. And it is very rare to get nice students and now that you are here in front of Me, I want to make use of that opportunity. Remember, just as शिष्यs are interested in good गुरुs in the same way गुरुs are also interested in good शिष्यs, because good शिष्यs inspire the गुरु and गुरु's creativity is activated when there is a bright, inquisitive responding face. If the शिष्य's face is castrol one, off and on looking at the watch, गुरु will forget what little he knows. In कठोपनिषत्, यमधर्मराज himself congratulates नचिकेतस् and यमधर्मराज offers prayers to the Lord, Oh Lord, May I get more disciples like नचिकेतस्,

त्वाद्दङ्गो भूयान्नचिकेतः प्रष्टा ॥ कठोपनिषत् १-२-९ ॥

Like that कृष्ण has got a wonderful शिष्य in अर्जुन and therefore कृष्ण says अर्जुन, I am inspired therefore I am going to continue. Therefore हे महाबाहो! अर्जुन, भूयः एव मे परमम् वचः शृणु – may you once again listen to my supreme words. What do you mean supreme words? Words are always the same, how can you say words are supreme or not? So the here supreme words means words which are dealing with the supreme law. Therefore the words are called supreme words. So about the nature of God I want to tell more and what is the reason, प्रीयमाणाय ते – to you who are very very dear disciple of Me, प्रीयमाणाय means favorite disciple. Of course, गुरु should not have favorite and non-favorite disciple, here the idea is that you are responding one, प्रीयमाणाय and not only I see you as a dear disciple with श्राद्ध, I am teaching you because this teaching is beneficial to you, हित-काम्यया वक्ष्यामि – this topic is useful to you, this knowledge will help you in getting liberation. Therefore हित-काम्यया means हित इच्छया, for your own benefit. The idea is कृष्ण is not going to get any benefit out of it, because कृष्ण does not require any benefit. Remember 3rd chapter

न मे पार्थास्ति कर्तव्यम् त्रिषु लोकेषु किञ्चन ।

नानवाप्तमवाप्तव्यम् वर्त एव च कर्मणि ॥ ३-२२॥

I have nothing to accomplish in this universe but still out of compassion for you I am going to teach you more.

Verse No .02

न मे विदुः सुरगणाः प्रभवं न महर्षयः ।

अहमादिर्हि देवानां महर्षीणां च सर्वशः ॥ १०-२॥

न मे विदुः सुर-गणाः प्रभवम् न महर्षयः ।

अहम् आदिः हि देवानाम् महर्षीणाम् च सर्वशः ॥ १०-२॥

सुर-गणाः महर्षयः च मे प्रभवम् न विदुः, अहम् हि देवानाम् महर्षीणाम् (च) सर्वशः आदिः (अस्मि)

So these verses are introductory verses wherein the subject matter is introduced from verse no.1 to 3. So ईश्वर स्वरूप ज्ञानम्, ईश्वर विभूति ज्ञानम् is the subject matter, which is being introduced. And in this verse, कृष्ण points out that अर्जुन, don't tell me that you will learn the same topic from other गुरुs. 'I will learn the very same thing from somebody else,' you cannot tell me because nobody else knows My glory in its entirety, I alone can know the glories in its full measure. Nobody else can know because all others are born later, No.1 and all others are finite in nature therefore, how can a finite mind ever know the glory of the infinite Lord. Therefore अर्जुन, you have to learn from only one source, only I know and therefore you have to learn from Me. So better continue to listen. So सुर-गणाः मे प्रभवम् न विदुः – even gods do not know my full glory. And that is what we found in केनोपनिषत् also, when the देवs were very proud, Lord appeared in a mysterious form and देवs could never understand what that form is. अग्नि got humiliated, वायु देवता got humiliated, इन्द्र देवता got humiliated, and when इन्द्र देवता prayed to the Lord, पार्वतीदेवी, उमादेवी comes and teaches इन्द्र. So thus though the केनोपनिषत् story it is pointed out that even देवताs cannot know the full nature of God. Therefore सुर-गणाः means देव-गणाः, न विदुः – they do not know, मे प्रभवम्, प्रभवम् means My glory, My power, My origin they never know. And what about ऋषिs, महर्षयः अपि न विदुः – even great ऋषिs do not know My glory. And what is the reason, He himself gives the reason, because अहम् एव

आदिः – I am their cause, I am their creator, so they have come much later and not only they have come later, they have got limited mind, limited intellect, limited instruments of knowledge. So therefore अहम् आदिः, आदिः means कारणम्, I am the cause of देवानाम् – all the देवs, including ब्रह्माजि. In the पुराणs if you read, when ब्रह्माजि appears from the navel he sees darkness everywhere, he does not see a second thing, he doesn't know anything including his own nature, imagine suddenly you find yourselves surrounded by darkness, nothing is there and ब्रह्माजि got frightened also. So बिभेत्, तस्मात् एकाकी बिभेति सः अपि बिभेत्, ब्रह्माजि got frightened, then he did तपस्, as a result of तपस् he acquires knowledge given by विष्णु, the original creator, यो ब्रह्माणम् विदधाति पूर्वम् यो वै वेदांश्च प्रहिणोति तस्मै । ... श्वेताश्वतरोपनिषत् ६-१८ ॥

विष्णु creates ब्रह्माजि, ब्रह्माजि is ignorant initially, then विष्णु himself and sends him all the knowledge, यो वै वेदांश्च प्रहिणोति तस्मै and therefore how can anybody talk about My glory because they themselves do not know. So I am the कारणम् of everyone including ब्रह्माजि, महर्षीणाम् – I am the कारणम् behind all the ऋषिs also, सर्वशः – in its total sense and what do you mean सर्वशः, I am not only the निमित्त कारणम्, I am also the उपादान कारणम्; it is not that I create them, In fact, I myself manifest as those people. यो मामजमनादिं च वेति लोकमहेश्वरम् ।

असम्मूढः स मर्त्येषु सर्वपापैः प्रमुच्यते ॥ १०-३॥

यः माम् अजम् अनादिम् च वेति लोक-महेश्वरम् ।

असम्मूढः सः मर्त्येषु सर्व-पापैः प्रमुच्यते ॥ १०-३॥

यः माम् अजम् अनादिम् लोक-महेश्वरम् च वेति, सः मर्त्येषु असम्मूढः (भूत्वा) सर्व-पापैः प्रमुच्यते ।

And if a person is an intelligent one, he will certainly apply his mind to know the जगत् कारण ईश्वरः. It is only the inferior ordinary type of mind which will be satisfied with knowing a few little things here, sufficient learning for earning food, and that is why modern day education is based on what: one time it was all about CA, then it was all about computer, computer, computer. So we are learning something not for knowing and improving ourselves, which degree will fetch me a job in which I can work the least and get the most. So many people are satisfied with that knowledge because their intellect is not mature, sufficiently developed, any developed intellect will always ask the question from where did all these come,

कस्त्वम् कोऽहम् कुत आयातः का मे जननी को मे तातः । ॥
भजगोविन्दम् २३ ॥

A developed intellect will certainly ask this question: Is there a cause, all the scientists are struggling to arrive at the one cause alone, they want the theory of everything. T.O.E. They want to reduce everything to one basic principle, which alone evolves into the entire creation, which means what? Cause hunting is the job of a thinking intellect. When an apple falls, Newton asks the question: How? What will we do, in one second the apple will be swallowed into our stomachs, we will never question why it came down and why it didn't go up or to the side, etc. So why should we bother about all the things, this is the mediocre intellect, a thinking intellect will like to arrive at कस्मिन्नु विज्ञाते सर्वमिदम् विज्ञातम् भवति. Such a mature intellect is called असम्मूढः – a mature intellect, a discriminate intellect is one, यः वेति – which wants to know God, the cause of the universe. If you don't like the word God, you use any word, but the question is what: what is the cause of all these and therefore यः माम् वेति – that intelligent person knows Me, the जगत् कारणम् and what type of God He is, अजम् अनादिम् च – who is birth-less cause of the universe, अजम् means what: birth-less, why अजम्? If God also has birth then God will not be the ultimate cause of the universe, because God will have His cause. Then again the next question will come, God's creator, who is Godder than God, what about that, it has got a cause or not? Therefore an ultimate cause should be a causeless cause. And therefore कृष्ण says, I am the beginningless God and therefore अनादिम् च – I am without a cause. So अजम् – birth-less, अनादिम् means causeless, because birth-less therefore causeless, because causeless therefore birth-less, both are interconnected and if you read the पुराणs, they will put in a normal form, i.e., God is father and mother, they will be sitting in कैलास or वैकुण्ठ and somebody will ask: who are your parents and they will say that we don't have parents, here we say causeless, in पुराणs they will say that पार्वती doesn't have mother-in-law and father-in-law. पार्वती is the luckiest daughter-in-law, one lady who doesn't have the problem from mother-in-law, because Lord शिव doesn't have parents. Thus in पुराण it is put in the form of family, in-laws, etc., but if you scientifically analyze it means God is causeless and therefore only लोक-महेश्वरम् – and I am the Lord the creator who is the controller of the whole universe. Not only सृष्टि कारणम् I am but also स्थिति कारणम् and such a सृष्टि स्थिति लय कारण ईश्वर, this discriminate person comes to know, वेत्ति and सः मर्त्येषु असम्मूढः – he is the most intelligent person among human beings, he has utilized his life for a worthy knowledge. And such a great person what benefit he gets, सर्वपापैः प्रमुच्यते – he becomes freed from all the पापाs of the संसार, he will become liberated. So when I say he will become liberated, you should be very careful, because the ईश्वर that we are describing now is only the second stage, we have to the third level of knowledge and this person will sooner or later go to the third level also and will get liberated, third level we will have to supply. अहिम्सा, समता, तुष्टिः, तपः, दानम्, यशः, अयशः, (इमे) भूतानाम् पृथक्-विधाः भावाः मतः एव भवन्ति ।

So with the 3rd verse, introductory part is over and in the introduction Lord कृष्ण pointed out that the subject matter is ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, ईश्वर विभूतिः, the glory of the Lord. Now कृष्ण presents the subject matter briefly in the following verses from verse no.4 up to verse no.11 He presents the subject matter briefly, then अर्जुन will ask for elaboration and कृष्ण will elaborate. So in this portion कृष्ण points out that God alone has manifested in the form of the entire universe, because God is a mixture of Consciousness plus matter, the universe is a mixture of Consciousness plus matter and therefore Lord alone has magnified Himself, elaborated Himself in the form of this universe. For the sake of convenience the world is divided into two, one is the external world of objects, बाह्य प्रपञ्चः and the internal world of thoughts, आन्तर प्रपञ्चः and कृष्ण says internal world is also born out of Me alone, the external world is also born out of Me alone, which means to see God you need not look at a special direction, if you open the eyes - भगवान्, if you close the eyes - भगवान्. Therefore God is everywhere. First the आन्तर प्रपञ्चः is enumerated. What is there inside? A varieties of thoughts, we have got any number of thoughts, कृष्ण gives a list. बुद्धिः. So this is the list of internal universe, बुद्धिः means intelligence, so we have got intelligence, I hope, at least something if not much, बुद्धिः – intelligence, ज्ञानम् – knowledge, असम्मोहः means clarity of thinking, non-delusion, सम्मोहः means delusion, असम्मोहः non-delusion, which means clarity of thinking. Then क्षमा, you can understand क्षमा means patience, सत्यम् – truthfulness, दमः means sense control. Even though sense control is the property of the sense organs, but to control the sense organs the message should be given by what, the mind alone, because we have seen कठोपनिषत्, sense organs are like the horses, mind is like the reins and therefore if the sense organs are under control it is because of the mind's controlling power, that is called here दमः – directing power of the mind. Then शमः – mind control, then सुखम्, you can understand happiness, दुःखम् – unhappiness, भवः means birth, origin of these thoughts or emotions and अभावः means dissolution or resolution of these thoughts, arrival and departure, then भयम् you can understand, fear, अभयम् – fearlessness. Then in the next श्लोक the list continues, these are all what, internal world, अहिम्सा, अहिम्सा means nonviolence, that is that mental attitude of nonviolence, अहिम्सा; समता, समता means equanimity, poise, tranquility, any words, तुष्टिः – contentment, तपः – austerity, discipline or austerity, दानम् – generosity, a charitable disposition, a generous disposition, यशः – fame, in the form of thought, अयशः – ill fame. This is not an exhaustive list, कृष्ण has given a few you can fill it up the rest. All these things they are भूतानाम् भावाः – these are all various inner conditions or dispositions of the living beings, so here भूतानाम् means the living beings. And all these conditions originate from where? मतः एव भवन्ति – they all are born out of Me alone, in their own distinct nature, पृथक्-विधाः means in their distinct nature they are all born out of Me alone. Therefore I am the cause of the inner world of thoughts and later he will point out I am the cause of the outer world also, combining them together I am the cause of everything and therefore I am everything. This is going to be the development, details of which we will see in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय

We have entered into 10th chapter of the गीता and in the first three verses of this chapter, Lord कृष्ण has introduced the subject matter of the 10th chapter and the subject matter is ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, the nature of God. And this is the main topic of all the chapters beginning from the 7th chapter. While in the first six chapters कृष्ण dealt with जीव स्वरूपम्, the nature of the individual, from the 7th chapter onwards the Lord is dealing with ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, the nature of God. And this has been topic in the 7th as well as in the 9th chapters. In the 10th chapter also the same topic is being continued. कृष्ण talked about the glory of ईश्वर स्वरूप ज्ञानम् in the first three verses and then from the 4th verse onwards, कृष्ण has entered into the nature of God topic. And in the previous chapters God has been defined as जगत् कारणम्, the cause of the universe. In all the scriptural literature God is defined as the cause of the universe. And this जगत् कारणम् status of the Lord itself is explained in the scriptures in three different ways depending upon the intellectual level of the student. जगत् कारणम् explanation level No.1, जगत् कारणम् explanation level No.2, जगत् कारणम् explanation level No.3. This explanation will depend upon the intellectual caliber of the listener.

i. In the beginning stages when we defined God as जगत् कारणम्, we translate this as God being the creator of the universe and as the creator of the universe, Lord is presented as the omniscient, the omnipotent creator who creates the whole universe. And the moment we hear that description, we will imagine different creators we know, the creator of an ornament in the form of goldsmith, the creator of a desk in the form of a carpenter, the creator of the building in the form of mason or architect. Similarly, we imagine an intelligent creator as a person. And the scriptures also feed our imagination and fancy and describe the omniscience of the Lord by providing many heads. How do you symbolize omniscience? We have got one head and therefore we have got limited knowledge, if the Lord should have limitless knowledge how do you symbolize? Either four heads, चतुर्मुखः or पञ्चमुखः or षण्मुखः or अष्टमुखः or सहस्र शिर्षा पुरुषः you describe. And once you visualize the Lord as an intelligent being, your curiosity could further question regarding the residence of the Lord, we want the introduction card of the Lord. Similarly, you want the God's card also, where does the Lord reside, what is His phone number, what is his email address, dot com, वैकुण्ठ.com, because this is how we understand a creator. And the scriptures also describe the creator as a person residing in वैकुण्ठ, residing in कैलास, residing in ब्रह्मलोक , this is the initial introduction to the Lord, the creator. And this satisfies most of the people.

ii. And once we have grown up sufficiently, intellect is capable of thinking further, we will ask the next question if God is the creator of the universe where did he find the raw material out of which he created this world? Because we know carpenter requires a raw material, goldsmith requires a raw material, mason requires cement and all those things. If the God is the intelligent creator what is the raw material? Then the scriptures go to the second level of explanation. Before the universe emerged God alone was there, एकम् एव अद्वितीयम्. Therefore, there is no raw material outside God. In fact, there is no question of outside itself, because the very concept of outside comes only after the emergence of space. We are talking about a situation even before the concept of space arise. And therefore where is the question of a raw material outside God. There is no question and therefore scriptures point out that not only Lord is the creator, but Lord Himself finds the raw material in Himself or Herself, you can fill up the blank as the case may be, Himself or Herself and therefore, there is no question of Lord creating the universe, Lord being the very raw material, Lord himself evolves into the universe. Just as the seed evolves into the tree, just as the wood itself manifests as the furniture, just as the gold itself manifests as ornaments, the Lord Himself is अकाश, वायु, etc., and therefore we revise our statement, we don't say God creates the world, we say God Himself evolves, becomes the world. And therefore what we are experiencing now is none other than the Lord Himself manifesting in the form of this cosmos and therefore अकाश is ईश्वर, वायु is ईश्वर, अग्नि is ईश्वर, this is the second level for the slightly advanced intellect. And once a person has remained in this stage for some time, it is called मध्यम अवस्था, the technically the first stage is called, निमित्त कारण ईश्वरः, the second stage is called परिणामि उपादान कारण ईश्वरः.

iii. Then in the third stage when the intellect is still sharper and finer, scriptures point out, since the Lord is infinite and therefore beyond time and space, there is no question of the Lord becoming the Universe. Because the language of becoming indicates transformation and transformation indicates limitation by time. Since God is देश काल अतीतः, there is no possibility of Lord transforming into the universe, then what happens, Lord remaining changeless, the Lord appears as the universe: अजायमनो बहुधा विजायते । अजायमनः – without really undergoing transformation, retaining his absolute nature the Lord appears as this world, just as we at the time of dreaming continue to remain as the waker on the bed, but in the dream our mind gets transformed into what, the dream-time, the dream-space, the dream-object, the dream-transaction, the dream-nightmares, the dream-festivals, all are the waker himself transforms without really undergoing any change. If the waker really transforms into the dream world, what happens, he won't wake up, he will be out! Just as once the milk has transformed into curd, etc., you cannot retrieve the milk again, if भगवान् has really transformed into the world, भगवान् is gone for good, but it is not like that, remaining as भगवान्, just as I continue to remain as waker and seemingly become pluralistic, transact, enjoy or suffer the dream and when I wake up what happens, the whole dream world is resolved. And again I can project another dream world and again I can resolve. Even if hundreds of dreams I project and resolve, I continue to be undisturbed, untransformed, undestroyed individual. So this third stage of जगत् कारणत्वम् is presented as the Lord appearing as the universe and in संस्कृत it is called विवर्त उपादान कारण ईश्वरः.

So what are the three stages, God creates the world - level No.1, God becomes the world - level No.2, God appears as the world - level No.3. Of these three levels, Lord कृष्ण is discussing the second level in these chapters and therefore the Lord says that I am the cause of the universe and therefore I myself project out of myself, I myself evolve into the entire universe and this universe is divided into two, the internal universe of thoughts and the external universe of objects, आन्तर प्रपञ्चः, बाह्य प्रपञ्चः. Lord कृष्ण says the inner world also arises out of Me, the external world also arises out of Me. Of this in the 4th and 5th verses, the internal universe was described, बुद्धिः ज्ञानम् असम्मोहः क्षमा सत्यम् etc., are the inner world of thoughts, they also are born out of Me and later in the following verses, Lord कृष्ण will say that the external world of things and beings are also born out of Me. Therefore I alone become everything. So that we have to see now. Verse no.6;

Verse No .06

महर्षयः सप्त पूर्वे चत्वारो मनवस्तथा ।

मूढावा मानसा जाता येषां लोक इमाः प्रजाः ॥ १०-६॥

महर्षयः सप्त पूर्वे चत्वारः मनवः तथा ।

मत् भावाः मानसाः जाताः येषाम् लोके इमाः प्रजाः ॥ १०-६॥

पूर्वे सप्त महर्षयः तथा चत्वारः मनवः मत् भावाः, मानसाः जाताः येषाम् लोके इमाः प्रजाः ।

Now the creation of the external world is being talked about and before all the regular human beings, animals etc., came first the Lord created the सप्त ऋषिs as well as the सनकादि ऋषिs and thereafter only all the other human being came. One set of ऋषिs indicating the गृहस्थ ऋषिs in प्रवृत्ति मार्ग, other set of ऋषिs representing the निवृत्ति मार्ग. So the सप्त ऋषिs represent the गृहस्थ परम्परा and सनकादि four ऋषिs represent the संन्यासि परम्परा and out of these eleven all the other beings came. Therefore He says सप्त महर्षयः – the seven great ऋषिs, these seven ऋषिs are described in the पुराणs. Of course in different पुराणs the different names are mentioned, even in सन्ध्यावन्दनम् we have got सप्त ऋषि, I don't know whether you remember,

अग्नि-भृगु-कुत्स-वसिष्ठ-गौतम-काश्यप-आङ्गीरस ऋषयः ॥

गायत्री उष्णिक् अनुष्टुप् बृहती-पङ्क्ती-तृष्टुप्-जगत्यः छन्दांसि ॥

seven meters and

अग्नि वायु अर्क वागीश वरुण इन्द्र विश्वेदेवाः देवताः । seven देवताs, seven meters and seven ऋषिs are mentioned, those seven ऋषिs you can take or there is another version also,

भृगुम् मरीचिमग्निम् च पुलस्त्यम् पुलहम् क्रतुम् वसिष्ठम् च महातेजाः सोऽसृजत् मानसाः सुतान् ॥

{मरीचिमग्निम् वसिष्ठम् पुलस्त्यम् पुलहम् क्रतुम् ॥ वसिष्ठम् च महातेजाः सोऽसृजत्सप्त मानसान् । ब्रह्मपुराणम् १-४३ ॥}

भृगु, मरीचि, अग्नि, पुलस्त्य, पुलह and क्रतु, पुलह and then the seventh one वसिष्ठ, वसिष्ठम् च महातेजाः, महातेजाः means ब्रह्माजि. So first ब्रह्माजि came out of the navel of Lord विष्णु we know in the पुराणs, Lord विष्णु created only ब्रह्माजि, the rest of the creation विष्णु transferred the job to ब्रह्मा. And ब्रह्माजि created the initial one through mere सङ्कल्प, सङ्कल्प मात्रेण सः महातेजाः मानसाः, that is why they are called मानस पुत्राः, so there is no question of the regular creation, but सङ्कल्प मात्रेण and suppose you ask the question, how is it possible to create all these by mere सङ्कल्प, my answer will be we are doing it regularly, by सङ्कल्प मात्र we do creation! When? At the time of dream and don't say dream is unreal, वेदान्त will say that this world is also unreal, anyway you may say dream is unreal during the waking state, but remember dream is very very very real at the time of dream. So such a real dream world which is capable of frightening you just as you create by mere सङ्कल्प, ब्रह्माजि created the सप्त ऋषिs, through सङ्कल्प. सङ्कल्प means what: by mere visualization. And not only the सप्त ऋषिs, these सप्त ऋषिs represent the गृहस्थ परम्परा or प्रवृत्ति मार्ग, so even though they were ऋषिs, they were not संन्यासिs, they were वानप्रस्थs and therefore they had wife, children, etc., like वसिष्ठ, and others. And then before that there were earlier four ऋषिs, so पूर्वे चत्वारः, पूर्वे means what: even before the सप्त ऋषिs there were four earlier ऋषिs who are called सनकादि मुनयः, सनकः, सनन्दनः and सनत्कुमारः and सनत्सुजातः. So why ब्रह्माजि created the seven ऋषिs, four ऋषिs could have been sufficient? The reason is ब्रह्माजि created four ऋषिs and hoped that these four ऋषिs will get married and get children and the परम्परा will be protected, that was the intention of ब्रह्माजि but what did these four do, they straightaway ब्रह्मचर्यात् एव संन्यास, so all plans of ब्रह्माजि failed. So even now sometimes when the child wants to take संन्यास many parents don't like and if that child happens to be the only one, they are worried out कुल परम्परा, who will do the श्राद्ध. This problem ब्रह्माजि himself faced and ब्रह्माजि was very angry with these four it seems, disobedient children and that is why now-a-days also we get such children, because ब्रह्माजि the original himself faced this problem and they say ब्रह्माजि got angry at that time, therefore from ब्रह्माजि eyebrows the एकादश रुद्रs came out of anger. That is why they are called रुद्र and how should they get anger, because of these four ऋषिs, because these people took to निवृत्ति मार्ग, ब्रह्माजि had to create another seven for the प्रवृत्ति मार्ग and all these eleven ऋषिs and not only that मनवः – the fourteen मनुs who preside over a particular age, a particular era called मन्वन्तरम्. A मन्वन्तरम् is supposed to be consisting of 71 चतुर्युगs and not 71 years, 71 चतुर्युगs is a मन्वन्तर and that is presided over by a मनु, like that fourteen मनुs are there and that is why in the सङ्कल्प also we say, स्वायंभुव स्वरोचिष उत्तम तामस रैवत चाक्षुषाख्येषु षट्सु मनुषु व्यतीतेषु during that उपाकर्म मन्त्र in the श्रावणी पौर्णिमा (which comes in July), so they do that. We do not know all these are difficult to pronounce also, we only say idli, idli, idli because of hunger and we want to complete this and run away. So who wants स्वायंभुव, स्वरोचिष उत्तम तामस and all. षट्सु मनुषु – six मनुs are gone and now we are in which मन्वन्तर, सप्तमे वैवस्वते मन्वन्तरे, this is the seventh मन्वन्तर presided over by वैवस्वतः. And this मनु has got how many चतुर्युगs? 71 चतुर्युगs. And now this is how many-eth चतुर्युग? This is supposed to be the 28th चतुर्युग, अष्टाविंशतितमे कलियुगे and 28 minus 71 is 43, still 43 चतुर्युगs are more should be there, then the वैवस्वत मनु will go away. Thereafter the 8th मनु will come and like that fourteen मनुs will come and go and then ब्रह्माजि's day time gets over. In ब्रह्माजि's one waking day, in 12 hours time fourteen मनुs appear and disappears. Therefore these मनुs were also created and that is why we are called मानव. We are called मनुष्य and in English we are called Man, Man came from मनु and why मनु, मनुते चिन्तयति इति मनुः, the thinking human being, man is derived from the root √मन् – to think, मनुते, मन्यते इति man. In English dictionary you don't get this derivation, it is our derivation. All these are created and how are they created: मानसाः जाताः, they are born out of mere सङ्कल्प, mere will of the ब्रह्माजि or the Lord and मत् भावाः – and each one of them has got the same nature of mine, मत् स्वरूपाः. So everyone is सत्-चित्-आनन्द स्वरूपः and that is why we are also happily able to say, अहम् सत्-चित्-आनन्द स्वरूपः अस्मि, अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि. Just as every spark has got the same nature of the original fire, we all have the same nature. So मत् भावाः and there is another meaning for the meaning भावाः, भावाः means भक्ति also, one meaning is nature, the second meaning is devotion, so all these people have devotion towards Me. And thereafter what happens, out of these eleven ऋषिs alone, not only eleven ऋषिs out of these fourteen मनुs alone all the later beings are born, येषाम्, येषाम् means मनुनाम्, for these fourteen मनुs alone all the इमाः प्रजाः – all these प्रजाs or living beings are born, लोके – in this world. Continuing;

Verse No .07

एतां विभूतिं योगं च मम यो वेति तत्त्वतः ।

सोऽविकम्पेन योगेन युज्यते नात्र संशयः ॥ १०-७॥

एताम् विभूतिम् योगम् च मम यः वेति तत्त्वतः ।

सः अविकम्पेन योगेन युज्यते न अत्र संशयः ॥ १०-७॥

यः मम एताम् विभूतिम् योगम् च तत्त्वतः वेति, सः अविकम्पेन योगेन युज्यते अत्र संशयः न ।

So in the previous verse it was pointed out that the Lord being the cause of the universe, the Lord has the potentiality to manifest as pots, etc. Just as the seed has the potentiality to manifest as the tree, Similarly, the Lord has the potential, which is called शक्तिः to evolve as the universe. This power of manifestation, this शक्ति is called योगः, योगः शक्तिः it is called or माया शक्तिः it is called. Thus Lord has got this माया. So what is the definition of माया? The potential power is माया and any potential is always in dormant form. Therefore it is invisible, just as the butter which is potentially there in the milk is very much there but you cannot see the butter in the milk, you will have to extract and bring out, therefore any शक्ति is invisible, it is only inferable, अनुमेयम् and this is called ईश्वर योगः and later when the potential comes to manifestation, the manifest form is always प्रत्यक्षम्, प्रत्यक्षम् means what: visible, when the seed's potential has become kinetic, in science we talk about potential energy and kinetic energy, potential is hidden, kinetic is activated, it is actualized. When the seed has the potential you don't see, when it has become a tree, that योग has become what, visible and the visible version is called विभूतिः. The unmanifest power is called योगः, the manifest version of the same power is called विभूतिः. So for example, I have got a particular knowledge and therefore I have the potential to give you a talk or discourse and when I come and sit here at 6 o'clock that lecture, today's talk is there in my brain, in what form, योग form, you don't know what I am going to talk, it is your प्रारब्ध. You have to only hope that today will be useful! It is a big hope, some time it may fail, sometimes it may succeed, so when I am sitting here at 6 o'clock the whole 1 hour's talk is there in my mind or not? If it is not there anyone can come and talk, so it is there but in what form, योगरूपेण वर्तते. It is unmanifest, but the moment I begin to express that potential thought is converted into words either in written form or recorded form and when it has come out in manifest form, it is available for whom, for everyone it is available, at 6 o'clock it is available for anyone, it is called योग form, at 7 o'clock it is available in विभूति form and not only for you, if it is recorded it can be heard by other people and if it is transcribed and printed it is available for even generations. शङ्कराचार्य's भाष्यम् after 1,000s or 100s of years we are reading and therefore the भाष्यम् we read is, what, विभूतिः. Similarly, the universe that we seek is योग or विभूति? The universe that I see in विभूति, but before the manifestation at the time of प्रलयकाले it will be in योग form. That is why we say the Lord is in योग-निद्रा. योग-निद्रा means what? A stage in which the whole creation is in potential form and therefore कृष्ण says, विभूतिम् योगम् च मम – I have got both the योग which is inferable and विभूति which is perceptible. I have got both the potential and kinetic energy, I have got both the अव्यक्त and व्यक्त महिमा, यः वेति – suppose a person knows this glory of the Lord, what is that glory, योग glory which is called कारण शक्तिः, विभूति is otherwise called कार्यम्, योग is कारणम्, विभूति is कार्यम्, योग is निर्विकल्पम्, विभूति is सविकल्पम्, योग is अव्यक्त, विभूति is व्यक्त, योग is inferable, विभूति is perceptible, both these यः वेति suppose a devotee knows, तत्त्वतः – comprehensively, completely suppose a भक्त, a scriptural student recognizes this glory.

For him what will be the advantage? भगवान् is no more sitting in वैकुण्ठ, he need not travel to have ईश्वर दर्शनम्, for him where is God? For him where is God? if you ask where is God, he will ask a counter question tell me where is God not and that is why an atheist wrote a statement, ‘God is nowhere,’ a theist or a भक्त came and put a comma after now. How will you spell nowhere? So instead of nowhere, if you “w” along with “no” what will happen, now here. So सर्वम् विष्णु मयम् जगत् and this दर्शनम् is विराट् ईश्वर दर्शनम्, विश्वरूप ईश्वर दर्शनम्, अनेकरूप ईश्वर दर्शनम्. Previously God was in वैकुण्ठ with one form, what is that one form

आसीनमम्बुदश्याममायताक्षमलंकृतम् ।

चन्द्राननम् चतुर्बाहुम् श्रीवत्साङ्कितवक्षसम् रुविमणीसत्यभामाभ्याम्
सहितम् कृष्णमाश्रये ॥ श्रीविष्णुसहस्रनामस्तोत्रम् ॥

रुविमणी cannot go even beyond, because both sides they are sitting, रुविमणी सत्यभामाभ्याम्, therefore sandwiched भगवान् cannot expand even. There is nothing wrong, we have to start from there, but later, भूः पादौ यस्य नाभिर्विन्दसुरनिलश्चन्द्र सूर्यौ च नेत्रे. Then what will happen to him? So as children when we hear stories from our parents or grandparents, we go on saying: hmm, hmm, etc., what next, what next, like that what next if you ask, कृष्ण says: सः – such a person who understands that world is God’s form, योगेन युज्यते – he will be taken to next level of ईश्वर दर्शनम्. Because this is also only the middle level and what is the next level, as I told you, God doesn’t transform to become the universe, God only appears to have all these forms, but the original God does not have anyone of these forms, from अनेक रूप ईश्वरः he will go to what level, अरूप ईश्वरः. So योगः means अरूप ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, he will go to निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, which is the third level, परिणामि उपादानम् to विवर्त उपादानम् and not only he will get अरूप ईश्वर ज्ञानम्, अविकम्पेन – and it will be a strong conviction for him. Formless God is the real God and that real formless God assumes either one form or many forms, depending upon the devotee's prayer, यः यः याम् याम् तनुम् भक्तः, in whichever form he wants to have दर्शनम्, भगवान् assumes that form, but really speaking the Lord is अरूपः and that अरूप ईश्वर दृढ ज्ञानम् is called अविकम्प, अविकम्प means what: unshaken knowledge, which means conviction. And that does not mean he will reject एकरूप ईश्वर and अनेकरूप ईश्वर, he has got all the three versions, all the three channels, previously it was only one channel, only one form, later he comes to two channels, now he has got three channels, he can enjoy अरूप ईश्वर whenever he wants, he can come down to अनेकरूप ईश्वर when he enjoys nature and he can come down to एकरूप ईश्वर. If you read शङ्कराचार्य's works, all these are there.

सारूप्यम् तव पूजने शिव-महादेवेति संकीर्तने सामीप्यम् शिवभक्ति-धुर्य-जनता-सांगत्य संभाषणे ।

सालोक्यम् च चराचरात्मक-तनु-ध्याने भवानीपते सायुज्यम् मम सिद्ध-मत्र भवति स्वामिन् कृतार्थोऽस्म्यहम् ॥ शिवानन्द लहरि २८ ॥

In शिवानन्द लहरि, शङ्कर says I can meditate upon you as चराचरात्मक-तनु, चराचरात्मक-तनु means what: the Lord whose body consists of the moving and non-moving creation. I will enjoy that also, भवानीपते, I can also see you as भवानीपतिः, साम्बशिवः, I enjoy all the three, I can talk to you as a person, I can admire you as the nature or creation and I can close my eyes and enjoy you as अहम् ब्रह्म अस्मि. युज्यते – all the three he will come to know and suppose we have a doubt, what is the guarantee, we want always the guarantee card, warranty guarantee whatever you say, कृष्ण says I am giving you guarantee, न अत्र संशयः, start with एकरूप ईश्वर, you will come to the ultimate. अहम् सर्वस्य प्रभवः मत्तः सर्वम् प्रवर्तते ।

इति मत्वा भजन्ते माम् बुधाः भाव-समन्विताः ॥ १०-८॥

अहम् सर्वस्य प्रभवः (अस्मि) मत्तः सर्वम् प्रवर्तते इति मत्वा बुधाः भाव-समन्विताः माम् भजन्ते ।

With the previous verse, ईश्वर स्वरूपम् topic is over which started from the 4th verse, 4th to 7th is ईश्वर स्वरूपम् topic and now from the 8th verse, Lord कृष्ण talks about अनेकरूप ईश्वर भक्तः. Those devotees who are in the intermediary level, intermediary between what and what, the lowest level in which the Lord has only one इष्ट देवता form, the highest level is what, God who doesn't have any form, between these two is what: अनेक रूप ईश्वरः, विश्वरूप ईश्वरः. This विश्वरूप भक्ति will give a lot of benefits to the student, विश्वरूप भक्त himself enjoys lot of virtues, in fact, many values will come naturally when I have विश्वरूप ईश्वरः because the greatest advantage is: राग-द्वेषः will weaken, राग-द्वेषः, likes and dislikes are purely because of my categorization of the world as favorable and unfavorable, as good and bad, purely because I look at the world from my personal standpoint and once I know that the whole creation is the manifestation of the Lord how can I dislike one part of God and how can I like another part of the God. Everything is divine, so the whole creation is divine and therefore, everything is welcome to Me, no resistance to the experiences in my life, all our tension and stress are only because of mental resistance, I am willing accept certain forms of experience, I don't want to accept certain other forms of experience and even I cannot imagine such experiences, even the very imagination gives me stress and strain. Like the imagination that I may fail or the child may fail, the imagination that admission may not come, very imaginary thing I cannot accept, so much stress must be there. कृष्ण says for विराट् भक्त there is nothing that is unwelcome, everything is welcome for him, why, because he sees every experience as originating from the Lord. Therefore कृष्ण says अहम् सर्वस्य प्रभवः – for this विराट् भक्त Lord is the source of everything, pleasure, pain, association, disassociation, birth, death, health, disease, success, failure, everything has got only one source and that is अहम्, अहम् means विश्वरूप ईश्वरः and therefore only सर्वम् मत्तः प्रवर्तते – everything proceeds from Me. And therefore everything is ईश्वर प्रसादः, he will become an ideal कर्मयोगि, because what is the criterion to become a कर्मयोगि, the primary criterion is willingness to accept everything as ईश्वर प्रसादः. Just as in a temple, we do not know what type of प्रसाद going to come, it may be beautiful laddu, with all sugar candy, raisin, cashews, all those things or it may be a little bit mud as in सुब्रह्मण्य temple, there you get the mud from the ant hill as प्रसाद, you may get some mud, you may get a leaf, you may get water, you may get पायसम् with lot of stone, but you have got only one attitude, प्रसाद भावना and therefore मत्तः सर्वम् प्रवर्तते इति मत्वा with this प्रसाद बुद्धि, माम् भजन्ते – these विश्वरूप भक्तs worship me and what type of भक्तs they are, बुधाः – they are the learned भक्तs, they are informed भक्तs, what information they have, that Lord is both the intelligent and the material cause of the creation and that is called here बुधाः, not that they know the निर्गुण ईश्वरः, here बुधाः does not mean निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानिs, they are the knowers of विराट् ईश्वर ज्ञानिs and because of this attitude, भाव-समन्विताः – there mind is always soaked in devotion, so there is always the relaxation, there is no stress management course is not required separately, the greatest stress management course is what: this wisdom, I hope for the best, but I am prepared for the worst also and the preparation is what: welcome,

आगते स्वागतम् कुर्यात् गच्छन्तम् न निवारयेत् ।

Both are important, when it comes स्वागतम् and when it goes, welgo, welgo is our English, गच्छन्तम् न निवारयेत् बुधाः भाव-समन्विताः. More in the next class.

CHAPTER 10, VERSES 08-12

After giving the introduction in the first three verses, the Lord briefly presented ईश्वर स्वरूपम् from verse no.4 up to verse no.7 and while giving ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, He pointed out that Lord is both the intelligent cause of the creation as well as the material cause of the creation, which means that Lord alone has evolved into this universe, because the Lord does not have any other external material to convert into the creation. And since there is no external raw material available for the Lord, the raw material also must be part of Himself and therefore the Lord Himself has evolved into the universe, which means when I am looking into the universe I should remember that what I am seeing is only the manifestation of the Lord. I need not put forth separate effort to have the दर्शन of the Lord. When I have got ornaments in my hand, I need not put forth separate effort to have the दर्शनम् of the gold, because the very ornament that I am handling is the manifestation of gold. So gold दर्शनम् does not require separate effort. Similarly, when I have furniture in my hand, in front of me, I know that the wood alone is manifesting in the form of furniture, which means I need not put forth separate effort for wood दर्शनम्, because the furniture दर्शनम् is wood दर्शनम्, कार्य दर्शनम् is always कारण दर्शनम्, because there is no कार्यम् other than the कारणम्. And therefore for that person who has this wisdom, he doesn't feel like closing the eyes for getting the दर्शनम् of the Lord. Until we get this wisdom we think Lord is somewhere else seated and I have to do तपस् for the दर्शनम् of the Lord but once I have this wisdom, I know I need not close my eyes to have ईश्वर दर्शनम्. Whatever I am seeing is ईश्वर alone. When I see bangle I am seeing gold, when I am seeing ring I am seeing gold, whatever I am seeing is ईश्वर दर्शनम्. And this appreciation of the Lord as the very manifest universe itself is called विराट् भक्तिः, is called विश्वरूप भक्तिः. And for such a विश्वरूप भक्त, a temple is not required for invoking devotion. An immature mind, an uninformed mind, a scripturally illiterate mind requires a temple to invoke devotion but for a विश्वरूप भक्त whatever he sees can invoke devotion. And in fact, he will become the greatest कर्मयोगि because, whatever experience comes from any part of the world is an experience given by the Lord only, because there is no world other than God. And therefore कृष्ण talked about or He is talking about the विराट् भक्त from verse no.8 up to verse no.11. And how does a विराट् भक्त look at life's experiences. For a विराट् भक्त every experience is coming from the world and world is nothing but manifestation of God and therefore every experience is coming from the Lord alone. And therefore no experience he can reject. And therefore कृष्ण said अहम् सर्वस्य प्रभवः, मत्तः सर्वम् प्रवर्तते – I am the source of everything, प्रभवः means source and therefore सर्वम्, every experience, सुखम्-दुःखम्, लाभ-अलाभ, जय-पराजय, मान-अपमान, all pairs of opposites, they are all coming from the Lord alone, इति मत्वा – with this awareness they receive every experience and therefore there is no question of resistance with regard to any experience. So therefore इति मत्वा भजन्ते माम्. This non-resistance to experiences is called प्रसाद बुद्धिः and this non-resistance is the healthiest attitude because, whatever experiences arrives is a choice-less situation. With regard to future I can try to change the experience but with regard to the present, I can never change the experiences because it has already arrived. Therefore past is choice-less, present is also choice-less, we have a choice only with regard to future. At this moment you are in this hall, you have no choice, but next minute whether you are going to continue to sit in the hall or you are going to walk out is your choice; future there is choice, past there is no choice, it has arrived and gone, present also no choice, because it has arrived. And with regard to choice-less situations we can do only one thing, what is that, accept it and the only method of acceptance is look at it as the प्रसाद of the Lord and therefore the greatest कर्मयोगि is a विराट् भक्त.

जगतः ईशधी युक्त सेवनम् । अष्टमूर्तिभृत् देवपूजनम् ॥ उपदेशसारम् ७॥

And therefore कृष्ण said माम् भजन्ते – they worship Me, not present in a particular temple but Me who am present everywhere, भजन्ते माम् बुधाः and why they are able to do that, because they are informed people and what is the information they have, the whole creation is the manifestation of the Lord. They are not wise with regard निर्गुण ईश्वर, निर्गुण ईश्वर they do not know, but विश्वरूप ईश्वर they know and therefore they are called बुधाः. And not only that, भाव-समन्विताः – they are soaked in devotion and how they get devotion, because they know that if the whole creation is the manifestation of the Lord, whatever glory is there in the creation all of them must belong to the ईश्वर only. So if there is a particular animal with an extraordinary capacity, the glory belongs to the Lord not the animal. If the human beings have got an extra-ordinary capacity, that also is the glory of the Lord. Thus they see ईश्वर विभूतिः in everything and therefore the devotion and appreciation is invoked in and through every experience. So somebody sent me a paper cutting, a small article which had appeared in the Times of India. It is an article by an astronaut who went to the moon and who was an astronaut, he has gone to space several times and he writes his experiences when he was in the moon and he was looking at the glory of the earth and it is a beautiful article. I'll just read only a portion of that article, which was highly impressive for me, so he writes, he is an astronaut, "There must be a creator, a creator who stands far above all religions, a creator who put a small part of the universe together, that I was privileged to see (by small part of the universe he means the earth, since we are already are in the earth and therefore we cannot objectify, but remaining in the moon he could see that earth, that is what he is telling here, a small part of the universe together, that I was privileged to see). When I went back to the moon on Apollo 17, I had a chance to literally challenge that theory. (that theory that there is a creator and he says). And it came back loud and clear.

There is no question in my mind that there is a creator of the universe, on the moon, you have no choice but to believe in a Creator, there is no other explanation.” And then he himself puts a question, after all he is in the moon, we have got enough worry whether the rocket will go back, we could have worried about the family whether I will return and whether they will be safe and of course as an astronaut, he would have so many duties also, so he himself raises a question, “Did all this distract me from my work?” Because people think to be a devotee of the Lord you have to drop all the work and all the time do पूजा, so here he asks the question, “Did all this distract me from my work? Not really, but you keep wanting to steal a look at earth and everything around you.” So what he says is that to appreciate God you need not drop your duties and work, if only you have a sensitive mind even when you see a small ant or when you read the book some time there will be a very very small insect running in between lines, I don’t know whether you have seen that, it will of the size of the tip of the needle only. In fact, you cannot even brush that, because it will die, so small it is, now that small insect has got a mind and it knows how to survive, how to procreate, how to eat and if you put a hand in front of it it will run away, within that dot everything is available. Looking at that insect you can wonder at the glory of the Lord, looking at a rose you can appreciate the Lord, looking at the sky you can appreciate the Lord, विराट् भक्ति does not require dropping your career or profession, it requires only a sensitized and informed mind and such a विराट् भक्त is described by कृष्ण in these verses. Therefore they are भाव-समन्विताः, every plant, every insect, every star, every tree, every river evokes devotion in their mind and naturally if at all they want to talk with people they don’t want to talk about this and that, they would love to talk about only these higher things. Having enjoyed some higher things the mind cannot come down, cannot discuss these mundane things and therefore कृष्ण says विराट् भक्त cannot think of anything else other than this cosmic beauty and order and divinity. That is said in the next श्लोक,

Verse No .09

मत्त्वित्ता मद्गतप्राणा बोधयन्तः परस्परम् ।

कथयन्तश्च मां नित्यं तुष्यन्ति च रमन्ति च ॥ १०-९॥

मत् चित्ताः मत् गत-प्राणाः बोधयन्तः परस्परम् ।

कथयन्तः च माम् नित्यम् तुष्यन्ति च रमन्ति च ॥ १०-९॥

मत् चित्ताः मत् गत-प्राणाः परस्परम् माम् बोधयन्तः कथयन्तः च नित्यम् तुष्यन्ति च ।

The विराट् भक्तs see the Lord alone in and through all their experiences. Not through the physical eye, physical eye will report only physical matter like that astronaut, his eyes saw only the earth, but his sensitive mind saw the Lord. Seeing is not the physical perception but through the eye of maturity, through the eye of wisdom he was able to discern the invisible, organizing, coordinating, intelligent, harmonizing principle. So thus for a भक्त God vision is not at a particular time but at all the time and therefore मत् चित्ताः – their mind is always fixed on Me, they cannot lose sight of Me and मत् गत-प्राणाः, प्राणाः means sense organs, their sense organs also fixed on Me. So in short they are never away from the presence of the Lord and if at all they talk also like the astronaut, he could have shared anything else, but he could share this and this sharing, बोधयन्तः परस्परम्, mutually they can never discuss the mundane topics of politics & fights & gossip & hatred & criticism and jealousy, they are all so cheap for them, they cannot think of spending their valuable time on such topics, they discuss only these higher things. Therefore परस्परम् बोधयन्तः – they share their divine experiences and कथयन्तः च and if they want to educate their children, they will like to give such an education. So education should be ‘elevating the mind to see what is not physically perceptible but what can be appreciated by only a mature mind.’ It is very easy to study chemistry and physics. I told you the other day, the wife was crying, the husband is a great chemical scientist, he does research of anything. Anything he gets he does immediately research. Then wife asking: “I am crying, don’t you see my tears,” then he says: “I know what is tears, it is NaClH_2O .” It is nothing but water with sodium chloride. So on chemical analysis you can only see the physical part but no instrument can see the emotion behind the tears, that emotional pain or emotional deprivation for that you require a sensitive mind which can understand a person is craving for company. That is the meaning of the tears, not NaClH_2O . A mind which can discern that which no chemical analysis will reveal. Similarly, God is discerned not physically analyzed and arrived at. And therefore कथयन्तः च, education is giving that mind which will discern the invisible God behind the physical universe. So कथयन्तः च माम् नित्यम्. And having enjoyed that the mind doesn’t like anything inferior, lower than that, therefore नित्यम् – all the time they enjoy this, not that they drop their duties and activities, remember, the astronaut did all his duties in and through that he appreciated. Similarly, we can take care of family, we can bring up children, we can do everything, but still sensitize the mind to appreciate the विश्वरूप and what is the advantage of that, तुष्यन्ति च रमन्ति च – here in this very appreciation there is fulfillment. In family front, there may be failures and in professional front there may be failures, but as long this appreciation is there you never look upon your life as a failure, this will make the life a success, even if there are failures in other front and therefore there is fulfillment that I am able to appreciate the Lord. And not only fulfillment, रमन्ति च – they revel in that appreciate, they are grateful to the Lord that they have got a sensitive mind to appreciate this. Then what will happen to them:

Verse No .10

तेषां सततयुक्तानां भजतां प्रीतिपूर्वकम् ।

ददामि बुद्धियोगं तं येन मामुपयान्ति ते ॥ १०-१०॥

तेषाम् सतत-युक्तानाम् भजताम् प्रीति-पूर्वकम् ।

ददामि बुद्धि-योगम् तम् येन माम् उपयान्ति ते ॥ १०-१०॥

(एवं) सतत-युक्तानाम् प्रीति-पूर्वकम् भजताम् तेषाम् तम् बुद्धि-योगम् ददामि येन ते माम् उपयान्ति ।

And these भक्तs are सतत-युक्तानाम् – so their life is ever connected to Me, they never forget their relationship with Me in and through their relationships with other people. I have told you before, a wave in the ocean is fundamentally related to the ocean alone, because wave is born out of ocean, it rests in ocean and it goes back into the ocean. Therefore the wave is primarily related to the ocean, therefore it is called the fundamental relationship. And imagine when a wave rises, in the neighborhood there is another wave and this wave looks at the other wave and they like each other, fall in love, therefore this wave begins to love the other wave and they decided: “why can’t we get married?” And then was born a child wave and whole wave-family is moving about, but we know that the relationship between one wave and the other wave is incidental and secondary, because two waves are not born simultaneously and two waves do not disappear simultaneously, wave-wave relationship is incidental, wave-ocean relationship is fundamental. A विराट् भक्त is one who has understood that I am like a wave and Lord is like the ocean and all the other human beings are also like what: other waves only. So I might have and I do have several human relationships, they are all sacred alright, but much more profound, much more sacred, much more fundamental and much more universal is my relationship with the Lord. The human relationships can last maximum for one life only. In the next life, the same husband and the same wife need not be husband-wife, even though some people tell, next जन्म also you should come as my wife, you should come as my husband, (they don’t enquire about the way to मोक्ष! Anyway, that doesn’t matter), next जन्म also I want same wife, same husband, who knows both are going to be human beings, one may be cat, another may be rat, already in this जन्म it is happening. So therefore even the most sacred human relationship can last for only one life. So much more sacred is my relationship with the Lord. It does not mean we have to discard or disregard human relationship, but what scriptures say is human relationship should never be at the cost of relationship with the Lord. So therefore that relationship should be revived of and on, that is why regular prayers, I should tell Lord, “Oh Lord! Let me not forget my relationship with you in my preoccupation with the incidental relationship” and therefore for a विराट् भक्त there is a तम्बुर श्रुति behind. Just as a musician, whatever song he sings, however complicated the song may be, he has got the श्रुति behind, he doesn’t want to go out of that. If that is forgotten, अपश्रुति. Similarly, for a विराट् भक्त, ईश्वर सम्बन्ध is the background श्रुति and all the other songs it will come and go, different रागs will come and go. And therefore विराट् भक्त is called सतत-युक्तः, its a very profound and significant word सतत- युक्तः means one who never forgets the relationship with the macrocosmic and again this relationship also is not maintained as a duty forced by others, I cannot create devotion by force, you should start loving from today or tomorrow. It is something to be discovered by knowledge and therefore प्रीति-पूर्वकम् भजताम् – and those who worship Me, who remember Me with love born out of understanding. Love is always born out of understanding, you can never love someone whom you don’t know at all. I introduce a person, tomorrow 7.35 onwards you should start loving and then I put a gun also, if you don’t I will shoot you. Love is not an action that you do, but it is something you discover as a result of understanding. The more you study the scriptures, the more you know the nature of God and the more you know the nature of God devotion is automatic, no will is required. Therefore भजताम् प्रीति-पूर्वकम्. And this भक्ति also has got several levels, I have told you before, 7th chapter we saw, initially I look upon God as a means for worldly ends, that is the lowest form of love, it is called business-love, contract-love, you do this, I will do that and that too you should do first, then only I will give, if I give first and if you don't do, because that is our experience and we give money to someone and he goes away. So we don't want to try that with God. Therefore, you complete the job, not even advance, you complete the job and I will do that. So this is called मन्द भक्ति. The next one is learning to look upon God as an end-in-itself, because Lord represents पूर्णत्वम् and once I know Lord means पूर्णत्वम्, I understand that my goal of life is self-fulfillment, self-sufficiency and this is called मध्यम भक्ति, अव्यभिचारिणी भक्तिः and that is the भक्ति that these people enjoy. So प्रीति-पूर्वकम् means they look upon the God as the goal itself and what I will do, भगवान् says: I will also help them. How will I help them? By taking them to the next stage of साधन, for the next stage of भक्ति. What is the next stage of भक्ति? They have progressed from एकरूप भक्ति to अनेकरूप भक्ति. I hope you remember, Lord with one form to Lord with many forms, this अनेकरूप भक्ति is also not the ultimate because the ultimate ईश्वर is neither एकरूपः nor अनेक रूपः. Then what is His form? अरूप ईश्वरः. Therefore कृष्ण tells I will take them from अनेकरूप ईश्वर to अरूप ईश्वर, विराट् ईश्वर to निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म and how to arrive at निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म, only by one method and that is called ज्ञानयोगः. So निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म can be discovered only through ज्ञानयोगः, therefore कृष्ण tells I will promote them to ज्ञानयोग, ददामि बुद्धियोगम् तम्, बुद्धि योगः means ज्ञानयोगः. And ज्ञानयोग means what? Discovery of the formless God. So बुद्धियोगम् अहम् ददामि, वेदान्त श्रवण मनन निदिध्यासनम् अहम् ददामि. And through that what will they accomplish? येन माम् उपयान्ति ते, through that ज्ञानयोग they reach the ultimate Me, which is neither एकरूप nor अनेकरूप, the ultimate Me is निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म,

अशब्दम् अस्पर्शम् अरूपम् अव्ययम् तथा अरसम् नित्यम् अगन्धवच् च यत् । ॥ कठोपनिषत् १-३-१५ ॥

So if a गुरु is required, कृष्ण says I will provide गुरु, I will provide शास्त्रम्, I will provide opportunity to study the शास्त्रम्, I will provide the necessary qualification to gain, I will take the contract work, for what, to convert this भक्त into a निर्गुण ज्ञानि. That कृष्ण tells in the next verse:

Verse No .11

तेषामेवानुकम्पार्थमहमज्ञानजं तमः ।

नाशयाम्यात्मभावस्थो ज्ञानदीपेन भास्वता ॥ १०-११॥

तेषाम् एव अनुकम्पार्थम् अहम् अज्ञानजम् तमः ।

नाशयामि आत्म-भावस्थः ज्ञान-दीपेन भास्वता ॥ १०-११॥

तेषाम् एव अनुकम्पार्थम् अहम् आत्म-भावस्थः (सन्) भास्वता ज्ञान-दीपेन अज्ञानजम् तमः नाशयामि ।

कृष्ण says I will light the lamp of wisdom in the mind of the विराट् भक्त, in the mind of विश्वरूप भक्त, I will light the lamp of wisdom, wisdom means what: ज्ञानम्, ज्ञानम् of whom? ईश्वर ज्ञानम् and what type of ईश्वर? not एकरूप or अनेकरूप, but अरूप निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् or अहम् ब्रह्मास्मि इति ज्ञानम्, अद्वैत ज्ञानम्, that is the lamp, अद्वैत ज्ञान दीपम् I will light in their mind. So how can कृष्ण light the lamp of wisdom, do you have any special match box so that भगवान् will come and invite everyone separately and make a hole in your head and with the match box light the lamp and put inside the head. Remember, the lighting the lamp of knowledge is not a physical job, lighting the lamp of knowledge is not a physical job. Not only this knowledge, imagine a physics professor has to light the lamp of physics knowledge in the mind of the student, what will he do? What can he do? So can he light physically? He cannot do. Can he call and touch his head, स्पर्श दीक्षा, दर्शन दीक्षा, he looks at him and suddenly light burns, does it happen? Or he touches, does it happen? Or he asks the शिष्य to do regular पाद पूजा, physics teacharaya नमः. If the physics teacher has to light the lamp of physics knowledge, there is only one method, consistent, systematic teaching. Any knowledge is lighted only by consistent teaching and if consistent teaching should be there student should consistently listen; if the student is not there what will the teacher do? And therefore systematic teaching is called lighting the lamp. And how long teaching should go? Until the student understands and every doubt is removed and therefore when कृष्ण says I will light the lamp of wisdom, what कृष्ण means is I will provide the opportunity for systematic teaching of the scriptures and I have got many गुरुs like the security board, like that भगवान् has got so many teachers with Him and he can send any गुरु for you and if no गुरु is available, भगवान् himself will come. For अर्जुन when he was ready, कृष्ण Himself became the teacher and कृष्ण also did not use any other shortcut. To give knowledge to अर्जुन what did he कृष्ण do? He did not strike a match stick, कृष्ण did not touch the head of अर्जुन; in TV and all it can be shown. With some music at the background a ray emanating from the eyes and then suddenly अर्जुन gets enlightenment. All these are possible in TV but कृष्ण never found any shortcut to give knowledge; there is only one cut, shortcut or longcut, and it is systematic communication. Either I will do or I will provide a गुरु and all because of what: My compassion. कृष्ण says, अनुकम्पार्थम्, अनुकम्पा means compassion, out of compassion for them I will provide an आचार्य, I will make the student learn systematically, I will make him go through श्रवण मनन निदिध्यासन and thus light the lamp, आत्म-भावस्थः, all these how will I do, remaining in his own mind, so आत्म-भाव – the student's mind, that is not a problem for भगवान् because he is already everywhere, therefore remaining in the student's mind, I will make the knowledge happen and what type of light it is, भास्वता ज्ञान-दीपेन, because when you light up a lamp initially the flame is very feeble and therefore one should be very careful, that is why when you strike the matchstick the flame is very feeble, easily it will be put out. Therefore what will you do, you protect the flame and if you want to make it a conflagration then you have to slowly fan it and so that the flame becomes big and once it becomes sufficiently big, thereafter you need not protect it, In fact, any fuel you add thereafter it will burn all of them, there is no fear. Similarly, at the time of श्रवणम् the lamp is lit, but you should never stop with श्रवणम्, if you stop with श्रवणम् your knowledge is so feeble that one painful experience in life वेदान्त will be thrown out. Therefore श्रवणम् should be followed by मननम्, you should spend time revising what you have learnt and not only मननम्, निदिध्यासनम् also and once the knowledge becomes a conviction, whatever happens in your life it does not hurt you and therefore भास्वता ज्ञान-दीपेन – by the powerful lamp of knowledge, what do I do? तमः नाशयामि – I will remove the darkness in the mind which is born of ignorance. So ignorance born darkness and that internal darkness alone appears as the external gloom in the face. Whether a person is a संसारि or not he need not tell, you can discern it from the face, there is an eternal castor oil in his face and ask how are you, he will say: going on. That is shortest answer for संसार. Then you sit and ask what is happening, then there is a serial - ‘soap opera’ and all TV shows will become insignificant, he has got a huge serial of a story starting from 1915. Thus that is the gloom in the face, that will go away and the face will bloom with joy, not the problems are gone but the problems lose their capacity to disturb me and therefore तमः, the gloom which is born of ignorance I will destroy. In short, this विराट् भक्त will become a ब्रह्म ज्ञानि. And without becoming a ब्रह्म ज्ञानि there is no question of मोक्ष at all. These verses are important because many people think that without ब्रह्मज्ञानम्, that by going through a different भक्ति route - like बालटाल route, पञ्चवतरणी route to अमरनाथ, - so like that by circumventing the ज्ञान route and try to reach the Lord through भक्ति only, for that भगवान् clearly says, there is no shortcut, you have to gain knowledge. At the same time you need not be frightened also because if you surrender to the Lord, Lord will provide the conditions for knowledge. Nothing to worry. So thus, विराट् भक्त becomes ब्रह्म ज्ञानि is the essence of these verses. And he becomes ब्रह्म ज्ञानि with the assistance and support of the Lord. Continuing;

Verse No .12

अर्जुन उवाच ।

परं ब्रह्म परं धाम पवित्रं परमं भवान् ।

पुरुषं शाश्वतं दिव्यमादिदेवमजं विभुम् ॥ १०-१२॥

परम् ब्रह्म परम् धाम पवित्रम् परमम् भवान् ।

पुरुषम् शाश्वतम् दिव्यम् आदिदेवम् अजम् विभुम् ॥ १०-१२॥

कृष्ण has talked about ईश्वर स्वरूपम्, कृष्ण has talked about विश्वरूप भक्ति or विराट् भक्ति and कृष्ण has talked about the benefit of विराट् भक्ति which is ब्रह्मज्ञानम्, which will lead to मोक्ष. So with this कृष्ण's teaching is over. If अर्जुन had kept quiet, the 10th chapter would have been over, ॐ तत् सत् would have come. But अर्जुन is raising a question here in the following verses beginning from 12th up to 18th, 12-18 अर्जुन प्रश्नः. This question is based on what कृष्ण said before. What did कृष्ण say: I am the cause of the universe and therefore I alone am appearing as this universe and therefore every glory in the universe is My glory. No human being has any glory, but my glory is manifesting through every object in the creation. So अर्जुन is interested in knowing the details of भगवान्'s glory because कृष्ण has said everything is My glory. In संस्कृत glory is विभूतिः. So whether it is a microcosmic world with its glory or the macrocosmic creation with its glory all are My glory, कृष्ण says. But अर्जुन says: Don't give me a general statement. Don't just say that everything is Mine, please tell me what are Your glories. I am interested in knowing the ईश्वर विभूति. So अर्जुन introduces the topic: हे कृष्ण! परम् ब्रह्म – You are none other than the highest निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म which is appearing as सगुण ईश्वर, because निर्गुण ब्रह्म with वेषम् is सगुण ईश्वर, dressed ब्रह्मन् is

ईश्वर, undressed ईश्वर is ब्रह्मन्. Therefore don't think that ईश्वर and ब्रह्मन् are two different things, ब्रह्मन् plus विभूति is ईश्वर, therefore अर्जुन says originally you are परम् ब्रह्म, not only that परम् धाम – you are the supreme light of Consciousness. So धाम has the meaning of light also, धाम means abode also, both meanings are OK. You are the abode of the whole universe or you are the light of Consciousness, चैतन्य स्वरूपः. And not only that, परमम् पवित्रम् and you are the most sacred one, the holiest of the holy and why the Lord is the holiest of the holy, because anything else becomes holy only because of the association with the Lord. 'Suppose a building is there like this, it doesn't have any holiness at all, it is nothing but brick and mortar, nobody is going to do नमस्कार, but imagine you install a deity here, the moment a deity is installed the holiness of the deity gets pervaded into the entire hall and the hall also becomes holy. And therefore everything else has got borrowed holiness, whereas ईश्वर has got intrinsic holiness and therefore ईश्वर is the holiest of the holy and even a saint is holy not because of his being a human being, he has become a saint because of what, because of discovering the Lord in himself. And therefore a saint is a saint again because of the association with the Lord. And therefore you are the holiest of the holy. And that is why when you buy a fruit from the shop, the moment you get the fruit what is your first tendency, eat it, swallow, that is the tendency, as children we have done that, it continues. But the same fruit comes from the Lord, that fruit is given for the पूजा and at the end of the पूजा the same fruit is coming. Now the fruit is associated with the Lord, therefore you don't put straight into the mouth, first it goes into the eyes indicating your vision of the holiness, the invisible holiness you see with this eye you discern and the next job is what, eat, that is afterwards. So thus, a fruit becomes holy because of association with lord, a place becomes holy because of the association with the Lord, Lord becomes holy because of association with? No. Lord never becomes holy, Lord is holy and therefore परमम् पवित्रम्, पवित्राणाम् पवित्रम् यो मङ्गलानाम् च मङ्गलम् । ... ॥

श्रीविष्णुसहस्रनाम स्तोत्रम् १० ॥

Not only that, पुरुषम् – You are the indweller, You are the resident in every human body, every human body is a temple and every heart is the sanctum and you are there as the साक्षि चैतन्यम्, So

देहो देवालयः प्रोक्तः जीवो देवः सनातनः ।

Since you are indwelling everybody you are called पुरुषः, पुरु means body शः ('ष' कार आदेश) means residing or resident, पुरुषः means resident of the body. Then शाश्वतम् – You are the eternal one, because when we say Lord is residing in the body, we may conclude when body goes Lord also finished! because house is gone, No No No. Even if the residence goes, the resident never dies, शाश्वतम् दिव्यम् आदिदेवम् अजम् विभुम्. Thus अर्जुन gives a wonderful description of ईश्वर to please Lord कृष्ण, because he is going to ask for a favor. Whenever you ask for a favor, first maska (flattering) you should apply, it is taught in भगवद्गीता, apply lot of maska and thereafter he will ask कृष्ण to do all these, these are all pleasing the Lord, of course not bluffing, talking about the real glory. The details we will in the next class.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 10, VERSES 12-17

Lord कृष्ण has given the essence of विभूतियोग in the first eleven verses which we have already covered and the main points that कृष्ण discussed here is that Lord is the material cause of the universe, by which the Lord meant that भगवान् alone is manifesting as the universe. Because the material cause alone expresses as the product. And by which कृष्ण indirectly pointed out that there is no thing called world, there is no substance called world, because there is no product at all, substantial, separate from the cause. Cause alone is the only substance, effect is nothing but नाम and रूप, name and form added to the cause, which means since the world is a product of the Lord which has emerged from the Lord, Lord is the only substance and appearing as the world with varieties of नाम-रूपम्. And appreciating the world as the very manifestation of the Lord is called विश्वरूपदर्शनम् or विराट् दर्शनम्. विश्वरूपम् means विश्वम् एव रूपम् शरीरम् यस्य सः, the Lord whose body is nothing but the very universe itself. The universal Lord is called विश्वरूप and another name for विश्वरूप is विराट्. विराट् means विविधम् यजते इति विराट्, derived from the root √यज्, to appear, to manifest. So, विराट् means that or he who appears in manifold forms. In fact, every material cause can be called विराट्. Gold can be called विराट् because gold alone appears manifoldly as bangle, chain, ring, इत्यादि, विविध रूपेण यजते, प्रकाशते (यो विविधम् नाम चराऽचरम् जगद्राजयति प्रकाशयति स विराट्). Similarly, भगवान् is called विराट् because he himself appears as अकाश, वायु, अग्नि, etc. And the one who appreciates this विश्वरूपम् is called विराट् भक्त. And Lord कृष्ण said, for a विराट् भक्त a special temple is not required to invoke devotion. In fact, for him devotion is the basic thing which is there in and through all transactions. Because the Lord never goes out of his mind, out of his sight. And since he appreciates the Lord everywhere, he has got सतत भक्ति or नित्य युक्तः he is. And Lord कृष्ण pointed out for such a विराट् भक्त, निर्गुण ब्रह्मज्ञानम् is closer. For those people who are worshipping personal God, निर्गुण ज्ञानम् is farther. From personal God a person cannot directly reach to निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म, between personal God and निर्गुण ईश्वर there is an intermediary step and what is that step, learning to appreciate the universe as the manifestation of the Lord, which means I have got an expanded mind. Only a mind which has expanded sufficiently to appreciate the universe as the Lord, only such a mind can discover I am the very substratum of the entire universe. I am the infinite निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म - to discover I require an expanded mind. Therefore कृष्ण said for विराट् भक्तः, विश्वरूप भक्तः I will provide all the facilities for gaining निर्गुण ज्ञानम्. Thus एकरूप भक्ति to अनेकरूप भक्ति to अरूप भक्ति, all these three levels are indicated in the first eleven verses. And with this 10th chapter is actually over, because everything is the glory of one ईश्वर only, but अर्जुन feels that he should get a list of an enumeration of the Lord's glories available both here and elsewhere. And therefore in the following verses beginning from the 12th which I introduced in the last class up to the 18th, अर्जुन makes a special request: हे कृष्ण! I know everything is your glory but I would like to have an exhaustive, enumeration of your glory. And before seeking this favor अर्जुन wants to please कृष्ण. As I told you in the last class, never go and ask for a favor directly, you should know the method, so go and apply Maska, remember that. And that is why in the शिव temple also we never start with चमकम्, चमकम् is never the beginning. Before चमकम्, what do you do, रुद्रम् which is otherwise called नमकम्, रुद्र is called नमकम्, why it is called नमक, because you say नमः, नमः,

नमो भवाय च रुद्राय च नमः शर्वाय च पशुपतये च नमो नीलग्रीवाय च शितिकण्ठाय च नमः कपर्दिने च व्युप्तकेशाय च... ॥ ७-१॥

नमः नमः नमः, How? you glorify Lord शिव and to such a wonderful Lord I offer नमस्कारम् and when Lord शिव hears all these glorification, he is extremely happy and when he is in such a happy mood, before his mood goes out, because we are worried, because our mood doesn't stay for long, so we are worried Lord शिव will also lose his mood and therefore before that happy mood goes away you want to present a list of demands. And therefore immediately after रुद्रम् will follow चमकम्. And generally they will chant it in राजधानि express speed, because if you chant slowly, before you finish शिव may lose his mood and therefore

वाजश्च मे प्रसवश्च मे प्रयतिश्च मे प्रसितिश्च मे धीतिश्च मे क्रतुश्च मे स्वरश्च मे श्लोकश्च मे श्रावश्च मे श्रुतिश्च मे ज्योतिश्च मे, ॥ चमकप्रश्नः १॥ kada bada kada bada you want to complete, because Lord शिव as even he says given, given, given, given. And then only he will think whether you deserve it or not, but by that time you have got it. So, we have been manipulating like that and Lord शिव has not yet recognized this our diplomacy, anyway that is aside. Always स्तुति and after स्तुति you ask for your boon, अर्जुन knows this method and therefore first he glorifies कृष्ण and when कृष्ण is in a happy mood he will ask for this विभूति वर्णनम् and how does he glorify? He says, हे कृष्ण! भवान् परम् ब्रह्म – You are the supreme infinite निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म and you are परम् धाम – You are the supreme and infinite Consciousness-principle, supreme light of Consciousness and You are the supremely holy principle, पवित्रम् परमम्, everything else becomes sacred because of your association, whereas You are sacred not because of somebody else's association, You are sacred because that is Your nature. And what is meant by holiness or sacredness? आनन्द is called holy, what is holy, whatever gives me आनन्द is holy, therefore you are आनन्द स्वरूप. Up to this we saw in the last class. We have to see the second line of verse no.12, therein अर्जुन says पुरुषम् शाश्वतम् दिव्यम्. And here the interesting thing is अर्जुन is not very sure what is निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म, because remember अर्जुन is only in the process of learning, he has not yet become a pucca ज्ञानि. And therefore what does अर्जुन do, he enumerates all these things and then he puts within quotes “thus those people, the great people declare.” What does it mean, it means I don't know for sure, thus they declare. So these are all put in quotes, the completion of this verse is in the next श्लोक only, इति आहुः, सर्वे ऋषयः आहुः, all the great ऋषिs declare like this, like what, पुरुषम् – so you are the indwelling principle, indwelling every living being as the very Consciousness behind every organ,

श्रोत्रस्य श्रोत्रम् मनसो मनो यद् वाचो ह वाचम् स उ प्राणस्य प्राणः। ॥
केनोपनिषत् १-२ ॥

Every organ is sentient because of the presence of the awareness and that awareness principle You are indwelling every inert body. So पुरु here refers to शरीरम् and शः ('ष' कार आदेश) means the resident, पुरुषः means the resident of the body. And that is why when we meet anyone we do नमस्कार. So, our Indian greeting is what, not hi hi; hi hi is used for buffaloes and cow when they walk on the road, because they are obstructing your way therefore you have to drive away; in front of human beings our greeting is not high high or low low, our greeting is नमस्कार, नमस्ते and the नमस्कार does not go to that person, because we are very doubtful whether the person deserves नमस्कार, but still we boldly do नमस्कार because inside that body is the Lord. And he also says नमस्ते. And therefore पुरुषम् and शाश्वतम् – and you are in the impermanent body and you yourselves are not impermanent, therefore शाश्वतम्, you are the eternal आत्मतत्त्वम्,

नित्योऽनित्यानाम् चेतनश्चेतनानाम् एको बहूनाम् यो विदधाति कामान् ।
॥ कठोपनिषत् २-२-१३॥

The नित्य ईश्वर is inside the अनित्य शरीरम्. Therefore you are the eternal one and दिव्यम्, दिव्यम् means what: चेतन तत्त्वम्, because body by itself is inert, made of matter, sense organs by themselves are inert, even mind according to our शास्त्र is inert subtle matter or energy and if these inert organs are functioning it is because of the चैतन्यम् and therefore the Lord is called दिव्यः, दिव्यः means द्योतन स्वरूपः, स्वयम् प्रकाश रूपः, self-evident Consciousness and आदिदेवम् – and you are the primal God who was existent even before the देवताs came into being. So even before ब्रह्माजि was born, you were there. So first from the Lord ब्रह्माजि arises, in the पुराण you know from the navel of विष्णु ब्रह्माजि comes and from ब्रह्माजि all the other देवताs like इन्द्र, वरुण, etc., are born. And therefore You are a देवता who is the कारण देवता, all others are कार्य देवता. And being the कारणम्, You are the आदि, existing before all, so आदिदेवम्. And then who is the cause of the Lord? It is a natural question. When you say Lord is the parent of the universe and even children will ask who is the parent of the Lord. Because I know my parent has got his parent and his parent has got his parent, this goes on and on, if the Lord is the universal parent, who is the parent of the Lord, if you ask, कृष्ण gives the answer, अजम्, the Lord does not have a parent because Lord was never born to have a parent, therefore अजम् means unborn, birth-less and therefore only causeless cause, fatherless father, motherless mother, He is the Lord. And where is he located? विभुम्, विभुम् means the all-pervading one. All these descriptions how does अर्जुन know, he says thus the ऋषिs declare, that will come in the next verse. We will read:

Verse No .13

आहुस्त्वामृषयः सर्वे देवर्षिर्नारदस्तथा ।

असितो देवतो व्यासः स्वयं चैव ब्रवीषि मे ॥ १०-१३॥

आहुः त्वाम् ऋषयः सर्वे देवर्षिः नारदः तथा ।

असितः देवतः व्यासः स्वयम् च एव ब्रवीषि मे ॥ १०-१३॥

भवान् परम् ब्रह्म, परम् धाम, परमम् पवित्रम् (अस्ति) । सर्वे ऋषयः त्वाम् शाश्वतम् दिव्यम् आदिदेवम् अजम् विभुम् पुरुषम् आहुः । तथा देवर्षिः नारदः असितः देवतः व्यासः (कथयति) (त्वं) च स्वयम् एव मे ब्रवीषि ।

अर्जुन says I have gathered all these information from the scriptures given out by the ऋषिs, सर्वे ऋषयः आहुः – so all the ऋषिs declare thus, ऋषिः means a ज्ञानि, ऋषति जानाति इति ऋषिः. So ऋषि does not mean the one who should live in the forest only and the one who should have lot of जटा and the one who should have a long beard, preferably white. So they are only the external things, ऋषि has nothing to do with external conditions, it relates to knowledge. So whoever has got knowledge he is the real ऋषि, even though he is coated, booted, suited without any of these external things. So those traditional ज्ञानिन्स declare so, you have to connect to previous श्लोक, so whatever has been said in the previous श्लोक the ऋषिन्स declare and not only the ऋषिन्स of this world, this भूलोक say so, देवर्षिः नारदः – also the sages of the heaven, the heavenly sages, previously the word ऋषयः means the earthly sages, भूलोक ऋषयः, देवर्षिः means देवलोक ऋषयः. And there are several ऋषिन्स and who is the most popular one, नारदः, नारदः means the one who gives knowledge to people, नारम् means ज्ञानम्, द means giver, ददाति इति द, नारम् is equal to ज्ञानम्. So नारदः means नारम् ज्ञानम् ददाति इति नारदः, the one who is a traveling teacher, mobile teacher. So he travels and educates people, of course he uses different methods, generally some कलहः he starts, नारद कलहः is well-known, but even if he starts some कलहः, some quarrel it is meant to educate people, therefore he is called नारदः and not only नारदः other sages also, असितः देवलः and व्यासः all these three are names of sages, असितः is the name of a sage, देवलः is the name of his son, असित पुत्रः देवलः. Then the next one is व्यासः and who is writing this? Remember व्यास alone is compiler, don't doubt how can व्यासः write his own name. Remember व्यास is only quoting what कृष्ण has said, and not व्यास's insertion. Therefore all these sages say so and even those ऋषिन्स I may doubt or I may not doubt, but the ultimate authority is what, स्वयम् च एव ब्रवीषि मे – You yourselves declare so and I have got full श्रद्धा in you, the other people may give the right knowledge or not but You will never mislead me and therefore You are ब्रह्मन्, You are परम् धाम, You are परम् पवित्रम्, etc. All these are what, jacking up, glorifying कृष्ण, not that कृष्ण is going to fall for all glorification, for अर्जुन's तृप्ति He is doing this. Continuing;

Verse No .14

सर्वमेतद्वत्तं मन्ये यन्मां वदसि केशव ।

न हि ते भगवन्व्यक्तिं विदुर्देवा न दानवाः ॥ १०-१४॥

सर्वम् एतत् ऋतम् मन्ये यत् माम् वदसि केशव ।

न हि ते भगवन् व्यक्तिम् विदुः देवाः न दानवाः ॥ १०-१४॥

हे केशव! यत् माम् (त्वं) वदसि, (तत्) एतत् सर्वम् (अहम्) ऋतम् मन्ये । हे भगवन्! न देवाः न दानवाः (वा) ते व्यक्तिम् हि विदुः ।

Whatever glory has been enumerated, I accept all of them as truth, एतत् सर्वम् ऋतम्, सर्वमेतद्वत्तं is there if you split it it will be एतत् ऋतम्, ऋतम् means सत्यम्, valid, true, authentic, reliable information they are. What information, remember that श्लोक, which श्लोक, the verse no.12, the glories are mentioned, all the glories mentioned in 12th verse I accept as complete truth. Because माम् वदसि केशव – because You are saying so and You will never bluff, You are never unreliable, You are प्रामाणिकः and therefore I accept all of them and I cannot cross check Your teaching with the other local people because, the local people will never know Your glories completely, because they all have got their own limitations. And therefore अर्जुन says, nobody else knows this fact, You alone are the knower. हे भगवान्! – Oh Lord, देवाः दानवाः ते व्यक्तिम् न विदुः – even god's do not know Your full glory, god means like इन्द्र, वरुण, etc. And this we have seen in केनोपनिषत् also, in केनोपनिषत् when देवः were celebrating their victory over असुरः, Lord wanted to reveal their limitations, therefore appeared in a mysterious यक्ष form and all the देवः could not know even who that यक्ष is and we saw in the story, वायु went and got humiliated, अग्नि went and got humiliated, इन्द्र went and the यक्ष itself disappeared and all of them understood that we all have our own intellectual limitations. And thereafter इन्द्र becomes humble and surrenders, I can never know the truth with the help of the limited intellect, because our intellects are meant to know only the finite thing, existing within time and space. In fact, our intellect is not even able to understand the Big Bang. And what was there before the Big Bang, you must be knowing Big Bang I don't want to go into that, when we are not able to understand these things very clearly how can we know the truth which is beyond time and space. And therefore इन्द्र becomes humble, पौरुषेय प्रमाणम् useless पौरुषेय प्रमाणम् means our instruments of knowledge are useless and therefore इन्द्र surrenders, then उमादेवी comes, उमादेवी representing the scriptures, सरस्वती. So the same idea is conveyed here, देवाः इन्द्रवरुणादयः, they can never You clearly and दानवाः, if देवs themselves cannot know, how can the असुरs know, because देवs with purified mind they are not able to know, then what to talk of असुरs with the impure mind, they also do not know. Therefore who knows Your glory? There is only one who knows Your glory and that is You. Therefore I have got the right person, let me get straight from the horse's mouth, let me get a description from You Yourselfs. So हे भगवन्! ते व्यक्तिम् , व्यक्तिम् here means manifestations or glory. Continuing;

Verse No .15

स्वयमेवात्मनात्मानं वेत्थ त्वं पुरुषोत्तम ।

भूतभावन भूतेश देवदेव जगत्पते ॥ १०-१५॥

स्वयम् एव आत्माना आत्मानम् वेत्थ त्वम् पुरुषोत्तम ।

भूत-भावन भूत-ईश देव-देव जगत्-पते ॥ १०-१५॥

हे पुरुषोत्तम! भूत-भावन, भूत-ईश, देव-देव, हे जगत्-पते! त्वम् स्वयम् एव आत्माना आत्मानम् वेत्थ ।

Here interestingly we find that अर्जुन is increasing the number of different नामs or names he uses for the Lord, so in previous श्लोक he said केशव and भगवान् and in this श्लोक it is increasing, हे पुरुषोत्तम! हे भूत-भावन! हे भूत-ईश! a mini अर्चन he is doing, हे भूत-भावन! हे भूत-ईश! हे देव-देव! हे जगत्-पते! these are all different epithets of the Lord revealing his glory. And what are those glories? हे

पुरुषोत्तम! पुरुषोत्तम is a technical word which will be explained in the 15th chapter, wherein कृष्ण divides the entire universe into three, क्षर पुरुष, अक्षर पुरुष and उत्तम पुरुष, क्षर पुरुष means manifest matter or matter, अक्षर पुरुष is unmanifest matter or energy and उत्तम पुरुष is the Consciousness-principle. Thus the whole universe consists of only three, matter in tangible form, matter in intangible form and the Consciousness which is different from both tangible and intangible matter. Tangible matter is called क्षर पुरुष, the intangible matter, energy is intangible matter only, is called अक्षर पुरुष and the Consciousness is called उत्तम पुरुष and उत्तम पुरुष reversed is what: पुरुषोत्तम, पुरुषोत्तम means the pure Consciousness which is beyond matter. And Oh Lord! You are not the physical body that I am seeing, Your body is only an incidental वेष, but the real You is nothing but pure Consciousness, हे पुरुषोत्तम, चैतन्य स्वरूप, चित्-रूप and भूत-भावन, भूत means all things and beings, the entire universe, भावन means creator, सृष्टि कर्ता, therefore भूत means सृष्टि, भावन means कर्ता, भूत-भावन means सृष्टि कर्ता, भूतानि भावयति उत्पादयति वर्धयति इति वा भूतभावनः (शाङ्करभाष्य) the creator of all. So You are the fundamental Consciousness-principle from which alone the matter evolves, the creation comes and ultimately the material creation devolves and dissolves in You the Consciousness-principle. Therefore भूत-भावन. And भूत-ईश – not only you are the creator of the world, you are also the controller of the world. It is easy to create something and there afterwards you should know how to manage it, our own children, OK, we do, but we don't know how to handle them, after all we feel that we should not have had them. Similarly, so many things, when they are doing some genetic research. There are some people objecting this research because some new bacteria or germ may be created and which may prove to be a deadly disease causing germ and we may not know how to handle and there are some people who say that AIDS is born out of some misfired research. Of course this is the belief and not the truth. We are worried that we may produce something that we don't know how to handle. Therefore who is omnipotent one? Omnipotent one is he or she who not only can create, but also can maintain or manage. And therefore Oh Lord, not only You are सृष्टि कर्ता, You are also स्थिति कर्ता, the great manager. Then देव-देव, which word we have seen before, You are the primal God, the Lord of all gods, the controller of even देवताs, देवताs meaning इन्द्र, वरुण, अग्नि etc., they control our life but they themselves are controlled by You. If you remember कठोपनिषत्:

भयादस्याग्निस्तपति भयात्तपति सूर्यः । भयादिन्द्रश्च वायुश्च मृत्युर्धावति पञ्चमः ॥ कठोपनिषदत् २-३-३ ॥

Even देवताs are functioning perfectly because of Your control, therefore You are देव-देव, देवानाम् देवः. And जगत्-पते, जगत्-पतिः means the protector of the world from those people who try to destroy the world:

परित्राणाय साधूनाम् विनाशाय च दुष्कृताम् । धर्मसंस्थापनार्थाय सम्भवामि युगे युगे ॥ ४-८॥

Whenever there is a threat to this world You Yourself find out methods of protecting this world, therefore जगत्-पते and why I want to everything from You, the reason is given in the first line, स्वयम् एव आत्मानम् वेत्थ – You alone know yourselves completely. The other people do not know your glory Oh Lord, only You know. So स्वयम् वेत्थ and how did You come to know, who was Your गुरु? If Lord requires another गुरु then the next question will be what, who is his गुरु? Therefore अर्जुन says here: आत्मना वेत्थ – You know not because of any गुरु but You know by Yourself. So Lord was never ignorant to become a ज्ञानि. All the other people were अज्ञानिs, were born अज्ञानिs and they struggle, went to a गुरु and studied repeatedly and at last somehow they became ज्ञानिs, but in the case of Lord, You never become ज्ञानि but You are सर्वज्ञः. Therefore You know Yourselves by Yourselves and therefore You are the best person, tell me the details. Continuing;

Verse No .16

वक्तुमर्हस्यशेषेण दिव्या ह्यात्मविभूतयः ।

याभिर्विभूतिभिर्लोकानिमांस्त्वं व्याप्य तिष्ठसि ॥ १०-१६॥

वक्तुम् अर्हसि अशेषेण दिव्याः हि आत्म-विभूतयः ।

याभिः विभूतिभिः लोकान् इमान् त्वम् व्याप्य तिष्ठसि ॥ १०-१६॥

(अतः) याभिः विभूतिभिः त्वम् इमान् लोकान् व्याप्य तिष्ठसि, (ताः) दिव्याः आत्म-विभूतयः हि अशेषेण वक्तुम् अर्हसि ।

Up to the previous verse is glorification. The नमकम् part, now comes the चमकम् part, चमकम् part means he is going to start for favors. He says: वक्तुम् अर्हसि – You should teach me. अर्हसि is a mild commandment, humble commandment, OK, अर्हसि. You should teach me, what आत्म-विभूतयः – all your glories, all your manifestations, आत्मा is here reflexive pronoun - Your own glories and that too what type of glories, दिव्याः – which are extraordinary, because almost everything that we do is a glory, even walking is a glory that we enjoy, we will know it only when we meet the people who are struggling to walk. Go to any place where physiotherapy sessions are going. They are struggling to keep one step forward, Similarly, opening and closing is a glory, we never know because it is working, all these glories are called लौकिक विभूति, it is great but still since it is there so commonly, we don't recognize, only when one organ fails to function, suddenly when somebody said, I am very very poor, then this person took him to an organ transplant centre, where the cost of every organ for transplantation is mentioned, Kidney Rs.2,50,000/-, another kidney Rs.2,50,000/-, pancreases, if you have to put insulin then only you will know the story, so insulin, every body serum or enzyme, if you have to produce a few milligrams of enzymes it costs hundreds and thousands of rupees. Similarly, skin, when skin goes we take it lightly, but you go to that burn centre, where they are culturing the skin and for each square inch they charge so much. Then he calculated and it came to Rs.15-20 lakhs. He said “you have got kidney or not?” “Rs.2,50,000 add. And you have got two, Rs.5 lakhs. Lungs, liver, brain, working or not? it is there. So many organs and you are the richest man in the world,” he said. But we take them for granted because from birth it is there and we never paid money. So अर्जुन says I don’t want to enumerate them because we all have got it free, I want to You to enumerate the दिव्याः, दिव्याः means अलौकिक विभूतयः, extraordinary glories, the noticeable ones. You have to tell all of them, enlist all of them. याभिः विभूतिभिः – with which glory, so with those extraordinary glories, इमान् लोकान् व्याप्य तिष्ठसि – you are pervading the whole creation in the form of these glories. So these glories are not found in one corner of the universe, you take anything in the universe you are present in one glory or the other. So याभिः विभूतिभिः, with such extraordinary glories, you pervade the whole creation and remain and such a list of glories I want to get from you. So this is the favor that अर्जुन wants. And what is the purpose, why do I want it? अर्जुन gives the purpose in the next verse.

Verse No .17

कथं विद्यामहं योगिंस्त्वां सदा परिचिन्तयन् ।

केषु केषु च भावेषु चिन्त्योऽसि भगवन्मया ॥ १०-१७॥

कथम् विद्याम् अहम् योगिन् त्वाम् सदा परिचिन्तयन् ।

केषु केषु च भावेषु चिन्त्यः असि भगवन् मया ॥ १०-१७॥

हे योगिन्! सदा परिचिन्तयन् अहम् त्वाम् कथम् विद्याम् ? हे भगवन्! केषु केषु च भावेषु (त्वं) मया चिन्त्यः असि ?

अर्जुन says the purpose of this favor that I am asking from you is I will be able to take anyone of the enlisted glories. I can use that glory for ध्यानम् or meditation upon You. Because among the enlisted glories anyone glory will be appealing to me. Some people love flowers, some people love the sunrise, some people love the ocean, different things appeal to different people, I can take anyone of them and use it as a symbol or आलम्बनम् for ईश्वर ध्यानम्. And thus every glorious object becomes an आलम्बनम्, आलम्बनम् means symbol for meditation upon the Lord. And that is why in our culture we worship anything and everything in the creation and when we worship anything we don't worship the thing by itself, but the things symbolizes the Lord who is behind it, whether we worship the Sun, or moon, or trees or snake or river, each one becomes a प्रतीकम् otherwise आलम्बनम्. Therefore अर्जुन says, केषु केषु च भावेषु – in which all आलम्बनम्s or glorious objects can you be meditated upon? चिन्त्यः means उपास्यः, so in what all glorious objects can you be meditated upon I want that list, भावः means what: a glorious object, which you are going to enumerate, out of which I can select anyone and I can invoke You in that, OK. And by practicing such a meditation, what meditation, विराट् meditation, meditation upon the total ईश्वर, but symbol is what, an individual symbol, any glorious symbol, it can be even a cow, we worship cow and you would have seen the picture also - on the cow different देवताs are there, indicating what: विराट्, the total. What is the symbol we use? The cow. But what we meditate upon is the total. बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत् starts with meditation upon a horse, अश्व ध्यानम् and there also बृहदारण्यक describes each limb of the horse and ask us to see that totality in that one आलम्बनम्,

उषा वा अश्वस्य मेध्यस्य शिरः ।

सूर्यश्चक्षुः वातः प्राणः व्यातमग्निर्वैश्वानरः संवत्सर आत्माश्वस्य मेध्यस्य ।

द्यौः पृष्ठम् अन्तरिक्षमुदरम् पृथिवी ... ॥ बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत् – अश्वमेधब्राह्मणम् १-१-१॥

You take any glorious thing, whichever you like and see the totality in that. And what is the benefit out of that विराट् उपासना? अर्जुन says सदा माम् परिचिन्तयन्, by visualizing the विश्वरूप ईश्वर in any such glorious object, I will later come to know Your higher nature. Even in सन्ध्यावन्दनम्, first before they start they have to take the water in the hands and then they have to look at the water and chant the मन्त्रs,

आपो वा इदं सर्वं विश्वा भूतान्यापः प्राणा वा आपः पशव आपोऽन्नमापोऽमृतमापः

सम्राडापो विराडापः स्वराडापश्छन्दाँस्यापो ज्योतीँस्यापो यजूँस्यापः सत्यमापः

सर्वा देवता आपो भूर्भुवः सुवराप ओम् ॥ महानारायणोपनिषत् २९-१ ॥

I don't know whether some of you feel familiar. Water is one of the glorious things in the creation and चेन्नै people know that very well and you take that water in your hand and you say all the देवताs and all the वेदs, all the animals, all the insects, you superimpose on that water and thereafterwards it is no more inert H2O, but it is ईश्वर for me, Thereafter

आपो हि ष्ठा मयोभुवस्ता न ऊर्जे दधातन । ऋग्वेदः १०-९-१॥

So I invoke the grace of the Lord who has been invoked in that water. Thus anything can be taken to invoke the विश्वरूप and by doing that, what will happen, त्वाम् अहम् विद्याम् – I will come to know Your higher nature. What is higher nature, higher to विश्वरूप ईश्वर is what? अरूप ईश्वर, निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म I want to know ultimately, विश्वरूप ईश्वर is सगुण ब्रह्म. From that सगुण I will come to know निर्गुणम्, because remember without निर्गुण ज्ञानम् no मोक्ष, you can never circumvent the निर्गुण ज्ञानम्, you can postpone it if you don't like, but you can never avoid it. And therefore अर्जुन says, by meditating or visualizing the विश्वरूप in any glorious object I will be able to come to निर्गुणम् ज्ञानम् later, therefore give me a list. And the list should be as exhaustive as possible, when you want to buy some clothes which departmental store we will go to? If there is a store with two options only green color and red color are there, there is another shop which has got thousand varieties, in green itself 25,000 and in red so many varieties and so many textures and you will all go to that shop because you have variety to choose. Similarly, Hinduism is a departmental store where we have got so many symbols of Lord to meditate upon. And other people criticize saying Hinduism is confusing, we say for them only there is a disadvantage - they have no form or one form, whether you like or not, you have to worship that. But in Hinduism you have got any form you take, invoke the Lord and prepare your mind and come to gain that knowledge and be free. And therefore उपासनार्थम् I want your glory. उपासना is for ज्ञानार्थम्, for the sake of ज्ञानम्. The details we will see in the next class.

पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 10, VERSES 18-20

In the first eleven verses of this chapter, विभूतियोगः, Lord कृष्ण talked about the unique nature of God, because of which God becomes both the intelligent cause of the creation and more importantly the material cause of the creation also. Since the Lord is the intelligent cause of this creation we come to know that the cause is चेतन तत्त्वम्, because the intelligence cause should have intelligence and to have an intelligence should be a sentient being and therefore Lord being the intelligent cause, God has got the omniscience and also omnipotence or the skill to create this universe. So सर्वज्ञत्वम् and सर्वशक्तिमत्त्वम् and the चेतनत्वम्, etc., are revealed by that. And this aspect is said in all religious scriptures, so whichever religion accepts God they all point out that God is Omniscient, Omnipotent, Omnipresent, this is common. But the second unique feature that कृष्ण pointed out that God Himself is the material cause also because of which we come to know that God has the potentiality to manifest as the very universe. Just as seed, the material cause of the tree has the potentiality to manifest as the tree, Similarly, Lord has the potentiality to manifest as the universe. And this first power of Omnipotence and the Omniscience is technically called योगशक्ति and the manifestation of the Lord in the form of the creation is called विभूति. And thus God has called योग and विभूति, योग referring to the Omniscience and Omnipotence by which He is the intelligent cause and विभूति means the potentiality or the capacity by which the Lord manifests as the manifold universe. And this was pointed out in the beginning part of the 10th chapter and thereafter कृष्ण said because of this reason a person need not put forth separate effort to have the vision of God, because once I understand that God alone is manifesting as this universe, everything in the universe is the manifestation of the Lord, therefore whatever I am seeing I am seeing God only. So when I am seeing a bangle I am having स्वर्ण दर्शनम्, when I seeing a chain I am having स्वर्ण दर्शनम्, when I am seeing a ring I am having स्वर्ण दर्शनम्, why because स्वर्ण happens to be the material cause of all these three, extending the same principle, whatever effect in this creation I experience, whether it is अकाश, वायु or अग्नि or जलम् or पृथिवी I am having ईश्वर दर्शनम्, when I am seeing अकाश I am having ईश्वर दर्शनम्, when I am seeing वायु, when I am seeing अग्नि, In fact, I am सर्वदा, सर्वत्र - सर्वदा means at every time, सर्वत्र means in every place - I am constantly having ईश्वर दर्शनम् only. If only I know this fact that ईश्वर is the very substance behind this creation. And this appreciation of ईश्वर as the very universe was called विराट् दर्शनम् or विश्वरूपदर्शनम्, the details of which we will get in the 11th chapter. कृष्ण had indicated this विश्वरूपदर्शनम् in the 7th chapter also, in the 9th chapter also and in the 10th chapter also. And then कृष्ण pointed out the one who is such a विराट् भक्त for him a temple is not required to invoke the devotee in him, because for him every place is temple because temple is defined as a place where God is, temple is defined as a place where God is and since God is everywhere for him, every place is a temple and since every place is a temple he is a devotee in every place. And therefore the basic transformation that takes place in him is that he is not a devotee at a particular place and time, but he is a devotee at all times in all places. So this conversion of the temporary devotee into a permanent devotee is a very big transformation, which is result of विश्वरूप appreciation. And once I am a permanent devotee then my very response to situations in life will be different. Naturally राग and द्वेष will be heavily neutralized and therefore mental disturbances also will come down. In fact, such a विराट् भक्त will become साधन चतुष्टय सम्पन्नः, effortlessly. And once he has got that साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति, he will have only one goal in life which is to recognize the next higher stage of ईश्वर, विराट् ईश्वर to निर्गुण ईश्वर. To remember what I had told before, एकरूप ईश्वर to अनेकरूप ईश्वर to अरूप ईश्वर. Both stages are very important transformation, not that easy. So first conversion is over, एकरूप भक्त to अनेकरूप भक्त, from this to come to निर्गुण ज्ञानम् is not that easy, but कृष्ण promises my assistance will be there, I will cooperate with you,

तेषाम् सतत-युक्तानाम् भजताम् प्रीति-पूर्वकम् ।

ददामि बुद्धि-योगम् तम् येन माम् उपयान्ति ते ॥ १०-१०॥

I will make sure that his mind is a पात्रम्, fit mind. And if गुरु is required I will send one, if शास्त्रम् श्रवणम् is required I will provide the opportunity, everything I will do until the निर्गुण ईश्वर ज्ञानम् takes place, which alone will give liberation.

तेषाम् एव अनुकम्पार्थम् अहम् अज्ञानजम् तमः ।

नाशयामि आत्म-भावस्थः ज्ञान-दीपेन भास्वता ॥ १०-११॥

So thus कृष्ण has comprehensively presented the entire journey, एकरूप भक्ति to अनेकरूप भक्ति to अरूप भक्ति. And now अर्जुन asks a question from verse no.12 up to verse no.18, which part we are seeing now, अर्जुन is interested in knowing more about विश्वरूप ईश्वरः. Of course कृष्ण has pointed out that everything in the creation is भगवान्'s manifestation, Lord plus नाम-रूप is equal to creation, but even though everything is the manifestation of the Lord, certain things in the creation are more attractive, more appealing. So attractive manifestation of ईश्वर, even among animals and insects also, if you see an elephant and that too a young elephant, you can go on watching, but you see a cockroach, are you at any time tempted to watch it, unless you are doing a research on cockroach, cockroach is wonderful, it is great, it has existed before us and in the evolution ladder it has existed and if there is a huge atomic explosion we all will die except cockroach will survive, it has got a tremendous survival mechanism, so it is also there, it is also glory of Lord, but human mind finds it difficult to think of that. Therefore अर्जुन wants to know a list of glorious attractive beautiful things in the creation, In fact, we ourselves can make a list, among the flowers we can take one flower and say, this is the most attractive flower and that is the lord, even though other flowers are the

Lord, you say this is the Lord. And Similarly, among animals you can take, among trees you can take, among human beings you can take, among cricketers you can take, among chess players you can take, among teachers you can take, even though we can make our own list, even among गीता chapters also, you can say which chapter is most appealing, suppose I ask you and ask everyone of you to write in a chit and drop, you will find each one will have a different chapter, it is always a difficult question, one will say 12 is great, another will say 10 is great, another will say 15 is great, because for eating! Of course it has other reasons also. So take the attractive thing in the creation and what is the purpose, अर्जुन says it is easier to focus the mind upon an attractive thing, the mind gravitates towards something beautiful, something glorious, something wonderful and since the mind naturally gravitates we can take that attractive object as a symbol of the Lord, because even though Lord is everything, we can simultaneously meditate upon the totality. Because our mind has limitation, you can think of only one thing at a time. Our eyes are limited, I cannot see all of you simultaneously, if I see here, I cannot see there, it is impossible to see everything at once. So how can I visualize the totality for meditation, it is impossible and therefore what do I do, I take a finite symbol to represent the infinite exactly like saluting a flag to represent the entire country, otherwise how will I salute India, I have to travel all over keeping the hand like that, by the time I complete the hand will be stuck on the head, it is not possible, therefore have a भारत-माता picture or have a flag and then you salute the flag, therefore you require a symbol to visualize and any attractive object can become such a symbol we call it आलम्बनम्. In the उपनिषत् classes I have dealt with it in कठोपनिषत्,

आलम्बनम् means what: a finite concrete symbol to represent a limitless and abstract object. And this आलम्बनम् is of two types and one is called प्रतिमा आलम्बनम् and the another is called प्रतीक आलम्बनम्. प्रतिमा means a आलम्बनम् which has got a human form, where all the limbs and organs are prominent, like राम, कृष्ण etc., head is there, hands are there, eyes are there, just as we have got clear limbs if Lord also is represented as a human being with clean limbs - anthropomorphism they call it - visualizing God as a person. Even though the all-pervading God cannot have a personal form, but you still represent, when you do like that, it is called प्रतिमा. But when you use a symbol which is not a living being like a human being or animal but it doesn't have all the limbs etc., like a शालग्राम, which has no hands, legs, eyes, etc., it doesn't have limbs, therefore शालग्राम will become प्रतीक आलम्बनम्. शिवलिङ्ग is प्रतीक आलम्बनम्, if you take turmeric power and make a lump and call it विघ्नेश्वर, it is प्रतीक आलम्बनम्. And in the lamp when you do पूजा, you take the flame and the flame doesn't have hands and legs, it is प्रतीक आलम्बनम्. Thus you can choose anything in the creation as a प्रतिमा or प्रतीक आलम्बनम्. In fact, we can take even human beings and if we are attached to someone and if there is someone great we can choose and worship, but better not to tell that person, because that person may develop ego, people are worshipping me. And therefore you can destroy a person by flattering him and therefore since ego can be developed, we say that we don't do that, but we worship मातृदेवी भव, mother is taken as a representative of God, father is taken, गुरु is taken, any ज्ञानि is taken. Thus even a human being can be an आलम्बनम्. Therefore अर्जुन wants a list of आलम्बनम्s. And therefore he says हे कृष्ण! even though I can do the home work I want you to help me by giving me the list,

कथम् विद्याम् अहम् योगिन् त्वाम् सदा परिचिन्तयन् । केषु केषु च भावेषु
॥१०-१७॥

कीदृश भावेषु? आलम्बनेषु. There भाव represents what: any object which can serve as an आलम्बनम्, आलम्बनम् means a symbol, an aid, not AIDS, aid, a help, a support. Support for what: the mind, the mind needs the support of the concrete to visualize the abstract. For doing abstract ध्यानम् we need the support of the concrete and therefore it is called आलम्बनम् and what is the benefit that I will get not मोक्ष directly, by this उपासना my mind will expand, I will learn to see god everywhere, when I see a river I don't jump into the river in attraction, I will first go and do नमस्कार and I do प्रोक्षणम् and then prayerfully I enter the water. So, that transformation takes lot of assimilation. It is very easy to jump into the river, especially in चेन्नै during water crises when they see a river somewhere you get excited, he will be tempted, but I don't do. Similarly, when you see something nice eatable, it is very easy to gulp it immediately, but I don't do that, so I remember the Lord. So this transformation अर्जुन wants and therefore he asks for कृष्ण's assistance and कृष्ण is going to help अर्जुन. Verse no.18;

Verse No .18

विस्तरेणात्मनो योगं विभूतिं च जनार्दन ।

भूयः कथय तृप्तिर्हि शृण्वतो नास्ति मेऽमृतम् ॥ १०-१८॥

विस्तरेण आत्मानः योगम् विभूतिम् च जनार्दन ।

भूयः कथय तृप्तिः हि शृण्वतः न अस्ति मे अमृतम् ॥ १०-१८॥

हे जनार्दन! आत्मानः योगम् विभूतिम् च भूयः विस्तरेण कथय । (एतत्) अमृतम् शृण्वतः हि मे तृप्तिः न अस्ति ।

So before requesting as we saw in the last class, first अर्जुन gloried कृष्ण so that कृष्ण is very happy. And when कृष्ण is very happy अर्जुन wanted to give the donation book, so that he can collect enough funds, like that he wants to ask after pleasing Lord कृष्ण. Now कृष्ण is very happy, because He has been glorified परम् ब्रह्म, परम् धाम, पवित्रम्, परमम् भवान्, पुरुषम्, शाश्वतम्, दिव्यम्, आदिदेवम्, etc., a big अर्चन has been performed. Now he asks for the request. What is that: हे

जनार्दन! Oh Lord कृष्ण who is sought after by everyone, the most wanted person, not in the negative sense, wanted person, most wanted person is the Lord,

जनैः अर्घते याच्यते इति जनार्दनः,

√अर्द् means याचना, begging, and जन-अर्दन means the one who is begged by all the people, because they constantly ask for this and that, solve this or that, therefore constant petition receiver is called जनार्दन. And हे जनार्दन! कथय – may you enumerate, narrate, enlist, what: आत्मनः योगम्, आत्मा here is reflective pronoun, Your own योग शक्ति, potentiality, what potentiality, the potentiality to become the universe, the mango seed has the potentiality, alright, but it has the potential to become only mango tree, it cannot become coconut tree and if milk is there it has the potentiality to give you only what you call butter, but it cannot give you oil. Thus everything in the creation has a limited potential, we also have our own potential, but what is the greatness of भगवान्'s potential, he has the potentiality to become the whole cosmos. आकाशः सम्भूतः, imagine भगवान् becomes space itself, we don't even know what is space; we will see that later. भगवान् manifests as space first, because anything is created first you require what, space, to stay, then comes the food, clothing, etc. Therefore आकाशाद्वायुः । वायोरग्निः । अग्नेरापः । So this potentiality is called योग, I told you before and this potentiality is never seen perceptually, any potential is inferred. Suppose you have got a singing potential, how do I know, if you keep silent, how do you I know who can sing, who can sing tolerably and who can sing well, how do I know, I can only infer, I cannot know by looking at your face. Then what should I do, I have to ask you to sing and from your song which I hear I can infer your potential. Therefore योग is always अनुमेयम्, inferred, भगवान् has got infinite power, how do I know, because he has created this world, the world is the testimony, world is the signature of the Lord. So from the world I know भगवान्'s योग, which is nothing but the माया

शक्ति, योग is nothing but the माया only. Why माया is called योगः? शङ्कराचार्य writes in his commentary, in this context, योग means combination, घटनम् and माया is called योगः because माया is a combination of three things, सत्त्व, रजस् and तमो गुणानाम् combination, like a three stranded string. Suppose you have got a string which is made up of three strands, exactly like that माया is one thread and in that माया thread three strands are there, which are known सत्त्व strand, रज strand and तम strand. Since it is a mixture of three it is called योग, गुणानाम् मिश्रः इत्यर्थः, that माया potential you have. And not only that, विभूतिः, this also I have told you before, विभूति is what: when the potential is expressed and becomes visible that visible, expressed, manifest, perceptible power is called विभूतिः. So योग is to be inferred, विभूति is to be perceived, योग is अनुमेयम्, विभूतिः is प्रत्यक्षम्, I have told you earlier, hope you remember but one week gap came so you might have forgotten. So योगम् विभूतिम् च कथय – you please teach me. How, विस्तरेण – elaborately. Now कृष्ण may feel bad, because कृष्ण has already enumerated his विभूतिस in the 7th chapter. You know where,

प्रणवः सर्व-वेदेषु शब्दः स्वे पौरुषम् नृषु ॥ ७-८॥

I am the beautiful taste of water, I am the ॐकार in the वेदs, I am the light in the sun and moon. कृष्ण has already enumerated them in the 7th chapter and again in the 9th chapter कृष्ण has enumerated,

अहम् क्रतुः अहम् यज्ञः स्वधा अहम् अहम् औषधम् ।

मन्त्रः अहम् अहम् एव आज्यम् अहम् अग्निः अहम् हुतम् ॥ ९-१६॥

पिताहमस्य जगतो माता धाता पितामहः । ॥ ९-१७॥

Now imagine after the teacher teaches everything and the student asks the same thing, what will the teacher feel. Like दयानन्द स्वामिजि says: this musician has sung राग तान पल्लवि in मोहन राग and very elaborately with all कल्पना स्वरम् and तनी आवर्तनम्, everything finished and nobody was appreciating because it was कल्याण musical concert, wedding reception, only one person was appreciating and the musician was happy and at the end of the whole, रागम्, तानम्, पल्लवि and तनी आवर्तनम् also, this person says: 'I have only one request to make, please sing मोहन रागम्.' Now what he will feel, like that, he has already told the विभूतिs the 7th and 9th chapters and if अर्जुन asks for the same, कृष्ण will feel, what is the use of teaching, they come always with a fresh and clean mind. So therefore अर्जुन knew that कृष्ण will be disappointed if the student does not remember. Therefore अर्जुन says, भूयः कथय – हे कृष्ण! I remember you have taught it, don't mistake me, I am not asking this as a fresh topic, as a very very new topic, but I know that you have already told. Therefore he says भूयः कथय – I am only asking for repetition. So in the olden days in drama and all they used to say: 'once more.' So if M.K. त्यागराज भागवतर्, S.G. किट्टप्पा or whoever sings if it is so wonderful they will say once more, then they will again sing, I don't know, I have heard and if in the drama if he falls dead very beautifully they will say once more, you get up and again fall, because so realistically he dies. Like that, अर्जुन also is telling once more, it is so nice to hear ईश्वर's glory. So भूयः कथय. Why I am asking? तृप्तिः मे न अस्ति – I never get fed up, I never get bored by listening to this topic, it is ever fresh, it is ever rejuvenating, it is ever enlivening, I never get satiated or fed up, therefore तृप्तिः न अस्ति. Unlike the other thing, even the most tasty food if you eat the laddu you like, first one you enjoy, the second one you will enjoy, third, fourth, fifth, sixth and then it will become nauseating, or even a song, it was so nice to hear therefore you bought the cassette and you heard and heard and heard and a time comes, there is a saturation point, and the cassette will be lying there, now how many cassettes are there in your house which you don't listen at all. Because over. So here ईश्वर विभूति श्रवणम् is never like that, any amount you listen it is enjoyable, therefore शृण्वतः तृप्तिः न अस्ति – I am never saturated, why because अमृतम् – because it is अमृतम्, that which I am listening, what I am listening is अमृतम्. So अमृतम् शृण्वतः मम, शृण्वतः (√श्रु) is षष्ठी विभक्ति शकारान्तः पुलिङ्गः शृण्वत् शब्दः, षष्ठी एक वचनम्, शृण्वन्, शृण्वन्तौ, शृण्वन्तः, शृण्वन्तम्, शृण्वन्तौ, शृण्वतः(मम षष्ठी विभक्ति). अमृतम् शृण्वतः मे, that मे word is there, it should go with शृण्वतः तृप्तिः न अस्ति, therefore may you repeat the topic and don't repeat as you did before in two verses, previously You said in two verses. विस्तरेण – now I want more elaborately. That is why several verses are going to come hereafter. Continuing;

Verse No .19

श्रीभगवानुवाच ।

हन्त ते कथयिष्यामि दिव्या ह्यात्मविभूतयः ।

प्राधान्यतः कुरुश्रेष्ठ नास्त्यन्तो विस्तरस्य मे ॥ १०-१९॥

हन्त ते कथयिष्यामि दिव्याः हि आत्म-विभूतयः ।

प्राधान्यतः कुरु-श्रेष्ठ न अस्ति अन्तः विस्तरस्य मे ॥ १०-१९॥

हे कुरु-श्रेष्ठ! हन्त, दिव्याः आत्म-विभूतयः प्राधान्यतः ते कथयिष्यामि, मे विस्तरस्य हि अन्तः न अस्ति ।

So with the previous verse अर्जुन's request for विभूति वर्णनम्, the description of ईश्वर's glories, that request is over. Now कृष्ण is going to accept अर्जुन's request and He is going to give a huge list, for which He gives introduction. And भगवान् also will certainly accept अर्जुन's request, because भगवान् has to talk about what, His own glory; who will not love to talk about himself or herself, we are waiting. Suppose I say please talk about yourselves you will come immediately. Therefore I am not asking you at all, who will not love talk about oneself and that is why even if nobody asks they will say, I will like to introduce myself first and then I will come to the topic, they will never come to the topic, the introduction takes 45 minutes, because I always love to talk about myself, even though I don't have any glories, that being so, why will not भगवान् enjoy and that is why everybody loves to take to वेदान्त or listen to वेदान्त, because वेदान्त is talking about whose glory? My glory. That is why I am also not tired and that is why you are also not tired, because I will say that I am talking about my glory and how will you listen or how are you supposed to listen? So when I am सत्-चित्-आनन्द, you can own up the same glory, when I say

मय्येव सकलम् जातम् मयि सर्वम् प्रतिष्ठितम् । ॥ कैवल्यापनिषत् १-१९ ॥

you can also claim all these glories as yours and therefore कृष्ण happily accepts to describe His glories, हन्त, हन्त means very well, OK, fine, it is just a particle very well; आत्म-विभूतयः ते कथयिष्यामि – I shall certainly narrate, enumerate, enlist, आत्म-विभूतयः – My glories, here also the word आत्मा is reflexive pronoun, my own glories. And what type of glory, दिव्याः – which are extraordinary, because even ordinary things are भगवान्'s glories only, as I said, opening the mouth itself is the glory of भगवान्, we will know only when we meet a person who has got a locked jaw, locked jaw means what: he opened and is not able to close, somewhere something got stuck and Similarly, anything that we are regularly doing when you see someone who is not able to do that, then you suddenly recognize hand movement is the glory given by the Lord, it is the विभूति of the lord, but these are all what, लौकिक विभूतयः and if I am going to enumerate all these ordinary glories like from winking onwards, why winking we do, the eyes have to be kept wet, otherwise it will crack, so tear glands are there and at regular intervals it is wiped and somebody doesn't have tear glands, you know what they have to do, use the filler and constantly put the drops, imagine, so you have to all sit with eye drops and at regular intervals apply it in the eyes, how terrible it will be, but now these are all there automatically. These are all लौकिक विभूतयः, कृष्ण says if I have to enumerate them it will be endless and therefore only going to talk about, दिव्याः विभूतयः – extraordinary glories of Mine, which can serve as a symbol. And that is why in तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत्, we have got meditation on very limb of the body, so that we will not take any limb for granted, as we grow old only we will know that,

क्षेम इति वाचि । योगक्षेम इति प्राणापानयोः । कर्मेति हस्तयोः ।

गतिरिति पादयोः । विमुक्तिरिति पायौ ॥ भृगुवल्ली दशमोऽनुवाकः २ ॥

Even the meditation on the organ of evacuation, so which we think it is an unholy organ, because it is removing the waste, then how can I think of such an organ, उपनिषत् prescribes meditation on the organ of evacuation. You will know its value only when it doesn't function or it over-functions, स्वामिजि I had to go 25 times to the bathroom, then only you know or constipation problem, this and that problem. So therefore वेद prescribes meditation, in केनोपनिषत् we saw even winking meditation,

तस्यैष आदेशो यदेतद्दिद्युतो व्यद्युतदा इतीन् न्यमीमिषदा इत्यधिदैवतम् ॥
केनोपनिषत् ४-४ ॥

You don't even take even your winking faculty for granted, that is another beautiful gift. Everything I should see the glory, it requires a mind which can pay attention. Right mindfulness, minding everything and therefore, everything is भगवान्'s glory but we are going to take the extraordinary ones. So, दिव्याः आत्म-विभूतयः कथयिष्यामि. And even an extraordinary glories are innumerable, even though it will be less than ordinary, but even if you take extraordinary glories they will be innumerable, we can never complete the 10th chapter. Therefore, कृष्ण says प्राधान्यतः – I am going only to choose a few samples and what is the reason I am going to be selective, the reason is मम विस्तरस्य अन्तः न अस्ति – there is no limit or end to my विभूति, विस्तरः means विभूतिः. So there is no end to my glories because it consists of the whole universe. Not only भूलोक but all the fourteen लोकs are there, therefore there is no end. हे कुरु-श्रेष्ठ! हे अर्जुन! And here itself कृष्ण hints, if you take among the कुरु people also अर्जुन, you are also glorious that you can become a symbol of meditation. That is why when there is thunder and lightning and a person is very frightened they tell you remember अर्जुन, therefore अर्जुन has become a representative of भगवान्'s विभूति. कृष्ण himself is going to tell this later, पाण्डवानाम् धनञ्जयः अस्मि. So He addresses appropriately, कुरु-श्रेष्ठ! The greatest among कुरुs, कुरु family. Continuing;

Verse No .20

अहमात्मा गुडाकेश सर्वभूताशयस्थितः ।

अहमादिश्च मध्यं च भूतानामन्त एव च ॥ १०-२०॥

अहम् आत्मा गुडाका-ईश सर्व-भूत-आशय-स्थितः ।

अहम् आदिः च मध्यम् च भूतानाम् अन्तः एव च ॥ १०-२०॥

हे गुडाका-ईश! अहम्, सर्व-भूत-आशय-स्थितः आत्मा, भूतानाम् आदिः च मध्यम् च अन्तः च अहम् एव ।

So the list begins here, verse no.20, the list of भगवान्'s glory and it goes up to verse no.38. कृष्ण gives a very elaborate list. And while enumerating भगवान्'s विभूति, कृष्ण wants to first talk about the विभूति of भगवान् as निर्गुणम् ब्रह्म, which is the subtlest and which is the highest order of reality among the three orders of reality, if you remember, कृष्ण wants to first enumerate the highest order of reality, विभूति and what is that, चैतन्यम् is the fundamental glory and nature of God, because that चैतन्यम् alone makes the entire living being species alive. If a plant is alive, an animal is alive, if a human being is alive and capable of discussing this topic, it is only because of चैतन्यम्,

श्रोत्रस्य श्रोत्रम् मनसो मनो यद् ॥ केनोपनिषत् १-२ ॥ every organ is an organ only because of sentiency and that sentiency is My gift because I am चैतन्य स्वरूपः, चित्-रूपः and that is why in ललितासहस्रनाम, विष्णुसहस्रनाम, etc., various माया glories of mother is described, but in the list we have got also the glory of निर्गुण mother, सत्-चित्-आनन्द रूपिणे, सत्, चित् and आनन्द that रूपम् is also described. So, कृष्ण starts with चैतन्य विभूति in this verse and so therefore what is our meditation now, that I am alive, that very life is the manifestation of ईश्वर विभूति, therefore respect life. So this is one of the fundamental principles, respect life and because of our respect for life alone, अहिंसा becomes परमो धर्मः, because I see every living being as endowed with God's gift of life and therefore I revere life. Therefore my aim is to avoid हिंसा or at least minimize हिंसा, even non-vegetarianism is condemned and vegetarianism is glorified because of the fundamental principle of reverence for any form of life. Therefore first glory is what, चैतन्यम् and then the last glory, also is the निर्गुण ईश्वर विभूति and you know what is that, सत्-रूपम् or सत्ता स्वरूपम्, the very existence principle, because of which I am able to say, table is, chair is, pen is, book is. So when you say a pot is, the very is-ness of the pot is borrowed from where, can you guess? The very is-ness or existence of the pot is borrowed from where? Clay the material cause only. If you remove the clay from the pot, can there be pot? Therefore, an effect exists only by borrowing existence from the cause, an effect does not have its own existenc. If an effect has got its own existence, then cause will be sitting there, gold will be sitting there and bangle will be sitting there. Is it possible, wherever bangle is there gold must be there, because the very is-ness of the bangle is the blessing of what: gold and therefore cause is always manifest in the effect as the very existence. Cause manifests in the effect as the very existence, otherwise called is-ness. भगवान् being the cause, world being the effect, भगवान् manifests in the world as what: as the very existence. Therefore 'space is' when you say, is-ness belongs to what: God. 'Air is' is-ness belongs to God and when the whole creation resolves, only the नाम-रूपs will resolve, the existence will go back to where, when the bangle, chain and ring are melted, bangle is resolved, chain is resolved, ring is resolved, where does the existence go? The existence will go back to the very gold itself. So at the time of origination, bangle etc., take existence from gold and at the time of destruction, bangle etc., lends the existence back to the gold and therefore भगवान् is all over: 'He exists in the pillar as well as in the speck.' How is He Present? As is-ness he is there. Is-ness means Existence. 'That person is, This person is' what is common in this? 'is-ness' is the common. So in pillar He is as is-ness and in speck also He is as is-ness.

यस्यैव स्फुरणम् सदात्मकमसत्कल्पार्थकम् भासते ॥ दक्षिणामूर्तिस्तोत्रम्

So the two main glories of भगवान् is चित्-रूप विभूति and सत् रूप विभूति. So कृष्ण starts with चित्-रूप विभूति in verse no.20 and He concludes with सत्-रूप विभूति in verse no.39, in 39 He concludes with सत्-रूप विभूति. So best form of meditation is what: सत्-चित् रूपेण see the Lord everywhere. And that is in whom, existence and Consciousness are there in which person, in which person it is there? what is the answer, you should not answer, you should ask a counter question, in which person it is not there? That is why every person starts with what, 'who are you' when I ask, you start with what: I (Consciousness) am (Existence), 'I am' is universal. But कृष्ण finds when these glories are talked about many people raise their eyebrows, don't understand, because existence is an abstract concept, very difficult to conceive separate from the object, Consciousness is an abstract concept and therefore कृष्ण comes down, he says ideal will be to mediate as सत् and चित् and if you find that your intellect is not subtle enough, intellect is not sharp enough, I will come down to concrete objects of meditation, concrete glories and therefore निर्गुण महिमा in the beginning and end, सगुण महिमा in the middle, this is कृष्ण's approach. Now look at the श्लोक. हे गुडाकेश! गुडाकेश means सत्त्वगुणि, हे अर्जुन! I take you to be an advanced student with a sharp and subtle intellect and if you are such an intellect then the ideal meditation will be what, as the Consciousness which we have described often before. Do you remember the description of Consciousness?

➤ Consciousness is not a part, property or product of the body,

- Consciousness is an independent entity pervading the body and enlivening the body, (have you forgotten)
- Consciousness is not limited by the boundaries of the body and
- Consciousness survives even when the body dissolves.

Such an abstract-formless-colorless-dimensionless-Consciousness I hope you can meditate upon. And that is why I am giving you the title, गुडाकेशः, means सात्त्विक one, गुडाका means तमोगुण or निद्रा, गुडाका means तमोगुण or निद्रा or a dull intellect is called गुडाका, ईशः means the master, the conqueror, so the one who has conquered the dullness, the one who has conquered the तमोगुण, which means the one who is सात्त्विक in nature. And therefore अर्जुन, you look upon Me as the very Consciousness. And where is that Consciousness, सर्व-भूत-आशय-स्थितः – which is there in the mind of every living being, आशय means mind, स्थितः means abiding, indwelling, residing, in सर्व-भूतः – not even every human being, every living being including animals and plants. Therefore in my mind also भगवान् is there in the form of आत्मा, the witness-Consciousness and what does it witness, it witnesses the presence of thoughts and it also witnesses the absence of thoughts. When I say I have thoughts I am aware of my thoughts and when you say my mind is blank that blankness is also aware because of that चैतन्यम्. That very चैतन्यम् I am, so सर्व-भूत-आशय-स्थितः. So this is चित्-रूप विभूति. More we will see in the next class.

CHAPTER 10, VERSES 20-24

अर्जुन requested Lord कृष्ण to enumerate all His glories so that we can take any one of the glories of the Lord as an आलम्बनम् or support for meditating upon the Lord. And अर्जुन asks for a list of such glories, because according to our inclination we can choose any one as the आलम्बनम्. And Lord कृष्ण accepts and He begins the enumeration of the glories from the 20th verse onwards and first He enumerates his glory as the very निर्गुण चैतन्यम् itself. चैतन्यम् is the greatest glory because that alone makes every living being sentient. So minus चैतन्यम् the body-mind-complex being made of पञ्च भूतs or elements they will be only material जड स्वरूपम्, if this जड शरीरम् and जड मनः is sentient it is only because of the presence of चैतन्यम्. And therefore that is the greatest glory and not only that चैतन्यम् alone is पारमार्थिकम्, the ultimate reality, whereas all other glories of the Lord to be enumerated they are all born out of माया and therefore they are व्यवहारिक सत्यम्, they are of a lower order of reality. And therefore first Lord कृष्ण enumerates पारमार्थिक विभूतिs and thereafter all व्यवहारिक विभूतिs are to be enumerated. Of course if a person has to appreciate the Lord as निर्गुण चैतन्यम्, one should be a ज्ञानि. So without Vedantic knowledge one cannot appreciate the निर्गुण विभूति and therefore for all the अज्ञानिs this उपासना or this meditation is not possible. And therefore only कृष्ण is going to bring in सगुण विभूतिs from the second line onwards. So we completed the first line of verse no.20 in the previous class. Now we are seeing the second line wherein कृष्ण says अहम् आदिः च मध्यम् च भूतानाम् अन्तः एव च – I am the beginning, the middle and the end of the creation, beginning means the सृष्टि कारणम्, middle means the स्थिति कारणम्, end means the लय कारणम्, I am the cause of the creation which existed in the beginning and I am the sustaining principle of the creation because of which alone the world enjoys existence and I am the cause into which the world resolves. We can say the clay is the beginning, middle and end of all the pots. So before the origination of the pot, clay was, therefore clay is the आदिः and when you destroy the pot, what will be there, again clay, in the middle also, when you are talking about pot, even though you don't use the word clay, whenever you are handling a pot, again the pot is essentially nothing but clay and therefore clay was before the creation of the pot, clay is during the existence of pot and clay will be after the destruction of pot and therefore always कारणम् exists in the past, present and future. And therefore कृष्ण says I being जगत् कारणम्, I was, I am and I ever will be. People come and go, but I ever am and this has got a practical psychological significance also, since भगवान् alone is permanently there, if you want to security you have to hold on to भगवान् alone, if you hold to anything else other than भगवान् that will give way at some time and we will lose our sense of security. So holding on to any created thing will not give me security and therefore the fundamental attitude of a religious person is my security is in God alone. I am willing to love all the people, I am willing to share things with all the people and if anybody asks who is your security, a devotee will never name anyone else, he will not say my son, he will not say my wife, she will not say my husband, he will not say parents, he will not say NSG (the black cats), none of them can give security. The only security is the permanent one and that permanent one is the Lord alone. That is the fundamental training required. If you hold on to anything else, we always have the fear whether the son will take care of in the future, my son is very good now but after that girl comes, we don't know what kind of girl she will be, she may pollute my son's mind, it is the thinking of all the people, therefore never hold on to anyone except the कारणम् and what is that कारणम्, the anchor for the ship is the Lord alone, for the human being. So अहम् आदिः सृष्टि कारणम् मध्यम् स्थिति कारणम् अन्तः तत् कारणम्, of what? भूतानाम् – of all things and beings, the permanent ones. Continuing;

Verse No .21

आदित्यानामहं विष्णुर्ज्योतिषां रविरंशुमान् ।

मरीचिर्मरुतामरिम नक्षत्राणामहं शशी ॥ १०-२१॥

आदित्यानाम् अहम् विष्णुः ज्योतिषाम् रविः अंशुमान् ।

मरीचिः मरुताम् अरिम नक्षत्राणाम् अहम् शशी ॥ १०-२१॥

आदित्यानाम् विष्णुः अहम्, ज्योतिषाम् अंशुमान् रविः, मरुताम् मरीचिः, नक्षत्राणाम् शशी (च) अहम् अरिम ।

Now कृष्ण enumerates various things and beings in the creation which are very well-known to us as a great thing and कृष्ण says all those glorious things of the creation are nothing but my own manifestation and what is the first thing कृष्ण enumerates: आदित्यानाम् अहम् विष्णुः. And while enumeration some of them are the लौकिक विभूतिस, the glories which are obtaining in the world, इहलोक विभूतिस, but many others are based on पुराणस and the other scriptures and in the scriptures they talk about various देवतास in the heavenly world and among the देवतास the most popular one is the आदित्याः, द्वादश आदित्याः and they say these twelve आदित्यस, the heavenly देवतास represents the 12 faces of the Sun God, so the Sun obtaining in the 12 months, even though the Sun is one and the son, in each month the nature of the Sun we experience varies, the January Sun is benign, but the Sun of May and Sun of June we know very well. Therefore द्वादश आदित्यस represent the देवतास presiding over the 12 Suns obtaining in the 12 months and they are considered to be important देवतास. They enumerate 33 main देवतास, द्वादश आदित्याः, एकादश रुद्राः, अष्ट वसवः, 12 आदित्या, 11 रुद्रस and अष्ट वसुस, 8 वसुस; वसु, रुद्र and आदित्यस. In most the rituals, especially in श्राद्ध and all, वसुरुद्रादित्य स्वरूपाणाम् पितृन्, वसु, रुद्र, आदित्य they repeatedly enumerate and those people who followed वैदिक कर्मकाण्ड, for them these three groups of देवतास are known well. So if you add them how many you get, $12 + 8 = 20 + 11 = 31$ and then इन्द्र देवता and प्रजापति

देवता, put together 33 देवताs are supposed to be main देवताs who receive oblations during rituals. Therefore they are called हविर्भुक् देवताs and they are well-known in the कर्मकाण्ड and in the पुराणs. And In fact, the उपनिषत्, the बृहदारण्यकोपनिषत् says that these 33 देवताs alone multiply themselves into 33 crores देवताs, this is well-known and therefore कृष्ण takes them first, among the 12 आदित्य देवताs, I am विष्णुः, I am the विष्णुः देवता. And why are these देवताs called आदित्यs, because according to पुराणs they are all born to अदिति, which is the name of their mother, अदितिः and अदिति पुत्राः आदित्यs and all the देवs are supposed to be अदिति पुत्राः. And among them I am विष्णुः, because विष्णुः in वामन अवतार was born as अदिति पुत्र and therefore I am वामन रूपी विष्णुः among अदिति पुत्रs, so आदित्यानाम् अहम् विष्णुः, all these are based on mythology. Then ज्योतिषाम् रविः अंशुमान् – among the luminaries, ज्योतिs means luminaries in the sky consisting of stars, planets and of course the Sun, I am the Sun God, therefore रविः, among the luminaries I am the रवि, what type of रविः? अंशुमान् – with brilliant powerful rays of light, अंशु means रश्मि, अंशुमान् means रश्मिमान्.

रश्मिमन्तम् समुद्यन्तम् देवासुरनमस्कृतम् ।

पूजयस्व विवस्वन्तम् भास्करम् भुवनेश्वरम् ॥ आदित्यहृदयस्तोत्रम् ६॥

So Sun god is very much adored in our tradition. In fact, in सन्ध्यावन्दनम्, three times सन्ध्यावन्दनम् we invoke the Lord in the Sun only and even scientifically we know that without the Sun the planets will not survive, our survival is because of the glory of the sun, that is why we have got आदित्य हृदयम्, a special work in which the Sun god is glorified. It is considered to be a very glorious work, which is capable of giving all types of blessings. In रामायणम्, अगस्त्य ऋषि came and taught आदित्य हृदयम् to राम for both material victory as well as spiritual victory. Therefore आदित्य हृदयम् is a wonderful prayer for materialistic people also, for getting health, for getting money, for getting victory in examinations - children can chant that and for spiritual students also it is supposed to be a wonderful prayer. Thus the Sun god is glorified very much in tradition and therefore कृष्ण says: I am the Sun, प्रत्यक्ष ईश्वर and that is why in our tradition when the Sun is rising, the प्रत्यक्ष ईश्वर is coming to bless us and therefore when the Sun is coming to bless us we should be fresh and ready to welcome the Lord and that is why they say, we should wake up before the Sunrise. But unfortunately, now the philosophy is not 'early to bed and early to rise,' it is 'late to bed and late to rise,' makes a man unhealthy, unwealthy and unwise. So therefore we are supposed to get up before sunrise and welcome the Sun, the प्रत्यक्ष ईश्वर. So I am Sun god, then मरीचिः मरुताम् अस्मि, so a group of देवताs are known as मरुत् देवताs. So there are different colonies in the heavenly world. So in the heaven different types of colonies are supposed to be there, in each one, different types of benefit and depending upon the amount पुण्यम् we have done, we will be transported to one of the colonies. In one colony 24 hours water supply will be there, in other only 12 hours, in another air-conditioned room, different facilities depending upon the पुण्यम् you will become one of the देवताs. And among that a set of देवताs are called मरुत् गणाः, 49 in number, सप्त सप्त, seven groups of मरुत्s, in each group seven members are there and they are supposed to preside over the वायु तत्त्वम्. So there are different types of वायु देवताs, presiding over the wind. So among these 49 मरुत् देवताs I am मरीचिः, मरीचि is the देवता, who presides over that beautiful breeze which will make us feel very pleasant, मरीचि means that tender beautiful breeze, not the cyclonic storm, but that cool breeze which you get in कुट्टातम and all that places, that cool, gentle pleasant air-conditioning breeze is presided over by मरीचि देवता. Therefore कृष्ण says I am the मरीचिः, among the मरुत् गणाः. And नक्षत्राणाम् अहम् शशी – among the night luminaries, नक्षत्रम् means the luminaries of the night, I am the moon. So what are the luminaries of the night, stars are there, planets are there, moon is there, among all of them, the most brilliant and attractive one is the moon, therefore I am in the form of चन्द्रः and therefore we worship चन्द्र देवता also as the manifestation of the Lord, at a particular पौर्णमि - मासि पौर्णमि, we specially offer what you call नैवेद्यम्, पायसम् which will be tasty, we don't remember the moon that पायसम् is remembered, it is very very nice, so नक्षत्राणाम् मध्ये, I am the moon. वेदानां सामवेदोऽस्मि देवानामस्मि वासवः ।

इन्द्रियाणां मनश्चास्मि भूतानामस्मि चेतना ॥ १०-२२॥

वेदानाम् सामवेदः अस्मि देवानाम् अस्मि वासवः ।

इन्द्रियाणाम् मनः च अस्मि भूतानाम् अस्मि चेतना ॥ १०-२२॥

वेदानाम् सामवेदः (अहम्), अस्मि देवानाम् वासवः अस्मि, इन्द्रियाणाम् मनः अस्मि, भूतानाम् चेतना च अस्मि ।

वेदानाम् साम वेदः अस्मि. So the वेदs themselves are the most sacred literature, directly coming from the Lord himself. And therefore all the वेदs are glorious but among the वेदs themselves which one is the most glorious one? At least according to कृष्ण, साम वेदः is the most glorious. That is why साम वेदs remember this श्लोक. Whether they know any other श्लोक of the गीता or not, this श्लोक they remember proudly because कृष्ण belongs to or कृष्ण is our वेद. And why does कृष्ण choose साम वेद? Because साम वेद is the only वेद which is musical in nature. So the other वेदs are chanted, they have got only three स्वरs, but साम वेद has got all the स्वरs and therefore being musical it is more attractive, if it is chanted properly or else one feels like running away. If a person chants the साम वेद properly is very very beautiful to listen and therefore कृष्ण claims I am the साम वेद among the four वेदs. Then देवानाम् अस्मि वासवः – among all the gods or deities, so who have become gods because of their पुण्य, so we should remember we use the word god in two contexts, one is God with capital letter which is only one, who is the Lord माया सहित चैतन्यम्, who is

सर्वज्ञः, सर्वेश्वरः, सृष्टि स्थिति लय कर्ता, that Lord is only one and that is written with capital G. then we use the word gods with small g, and those gods do not come under ईश्वर तत्त्वम्, all those gods are also जीवs only, created जीवs they are but occupying the heavenly world. And because of their पुण्यम्, they have got higher powers, but they do not come under God and these gods also come under संसारिs only. Because of the पुण्यम् they have gone to heavenly लोक and because of their पुण्यम् they have some supernatural powers and they have got some enjoyments, but you should remember, once their पुण्यम् is exhausted these gods also will be born as human beings or even animals. Therefore, the gods with small g and that too in plural numbers, they come under जीवs, but the Lord or God with capital letter is not a जीवः, is not an अज्ञानि and He is ईश्वर not because of पुण्यम् or पापम्, He is पुण्य-पाप अतीत ईश्वरः. So here when we write देवानाम्, we are talking about only the superior जीवs, because of their पुण्य-पापम् and among their gods, celestials, I am वासवः, वासवः means इन्द्र देवता. So इन्द्र देवता. Why कृष्ण claims I am इन्द्र? Because इन्द्र is the controller of all the देवताs and remember इन्द्र also comes under a जीव only and he has got the इन्द्र post because of the पुण्य कर्म he did as a human being and he can continue to be an इन्द्र until the पुण्यम् is exhausted and afterwards also इन्द्र also will have to be born, but if he gains आत्मज्ञानम् he will be liberated, but otherwise he is also subject to rebirth and therefore कृष्ण says I am the इन्द्र who is the controller of all the देवताs. Then इन्द्रियाणाम् अहम् अस्मि मनः – among all the sense organs I am the mind and why कृष्ण claims I am the mind, because every sense organ is capable of functioning only in one particular field. So the eye can function only in the field of forms and colors, ear can function only in the field of sounds, whereas mind is the organ which is behind all the sense organs and therefore mind is capable of functioning in the field of शब्दः, स्पर्श, रूपः, रसः, गन्धः. And therefore mind is superior to all the sense organs and therefore कृष्ण says I am the mind among all the sense organs and therefore if you want to invoke the Lord in any one of your organs mind is an ideal symbol. That is why तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् and in other उपनिषत्s, mind meditation is very very prevalent. We will be seeing in तैत्तिरीय, य एषोऽन्तर्हृदय आकाशः । तस्मिन्नयम् पुरुषो मनोमयः । ॥

तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् १-६-१ ॥

So you visualize your mind and learn to see the mind itself as the greatest manifestation of the Lord. The more you think of the capacity of the mind the more we have to wonder at the glory of the Lord. And therefore I am the mind in everyone, then भूतानाम् अस्मि चेतना – and in every living being I am in the form of the very life, the very sentiency which is the most mysterious thing in the creation. Scientists of all hues and colors are trying to find out what exactly is life and what exactly is death? They are yet to understand these two, even though they claim to understand all the rest, what more is there other than these two! Neither we know exactly what is life nor do we know exactly what is death. So this mysterious life because of which every living being and especially if you see a minutest प्राणि, always I wonder, sometimes when you read the book, between two lines a small insect is seen but if you keep your finger it will run away and within that dot there is digestive system and there is reproductive system and it has got a security system. Everything is there in that dot and we have not been able to create even that micro organism. We can easily kill an insect but we are not able to create even one unicellular organism and that mysterious life is the manifestation of the Lord and that is why for us अहिंसा परमोधर्मः. Our aim is not to destroy life and that is why we prescribe vegetarianism, because in vegetarianism the destruction of life is minimum,

अद्रोहेण एव भूतानाम् अल्पद्रोहेण वा पुनः । ॥ मनुस्मृतिः ४-२ ॥

Avoid हिंसा or at least if it is inevitable reduce it to the minimum. Because when you are taking vegetable, plants are destroyed or killed.

Therefore the injury is minimum and there are some ऋषिs who do not want to practice even that, that is why they don't eat the regular vegetable, whatever is fallen on the ground they eat that. So why do we value life, because कृष्ण says I am the very life in every living being, so भूतानाम् अहम् चेतना अस्मि, विदाभासः अहम् अस्मि.

रुद्राणां शङ्करश्चास्मि वित्तेशो यक्षरक्षसाम् ।

वसूनां पावकश्चास्मि मेरुः शिखरिणामहम् ॥ १०-२३॥

रुद्राणाम् शङ्करः च अस्मि वित्त-ईशः यक्ष-रक्षसाम् ।

वसूनाम् पावकः च अस्मि मेरुः शिखरिणाम् अहम् ॥ १०-२३॥

रुद्राणाम् शङ्करः, यक्ष-रक्षसाम् च वित्त-ईशः अस्मि, वसूनाम् पावकः, शिखरिणाम् मेरुः च अहम् अस्मि ।

So द्वादश आदित्याः have been mentioned, that is why in सूर्य नमस्कार also they do twelve नमस्कारs,

ॐ मित्र रवि सूर्य भानु खग पूष हिरण्यगर्भ मरीचि आदित्य सवितृ अर्क भास्करेभ्यो नमो नमः ॥

So द्वादश आदित्यs are worshipped every day and now कृष्ण comes to एकादश रुद्राः, 11 रुद्रs are enumerated in the scriptures and that is why when we have got रुद्र एकादशिनी, eleven times chanting of रुद्र is done. So they invoke the एकादश रुद्रs in the eleven pots and all of them are रुद्रs, but among them also who is the most important one, शङ्करः अहम् अस्मि – I am शङ्करः. So they enumerate all the names, नीललोहित etc., in each one, middle one is kept and 10 around and then पूजा is done, among them I am शङ्करः. Why शङ्करः? From the meaning itself you will know, शङ्करः means the most auspicious one, शम् मङ्गलम् करोति इति शङ्करः. We saw in the उपनिषत् class, शं नो मित्रः शं वरुणः । means आनन्द, remember, मङ्गलम् means आनन्द and that is why the very word रुद्रः means the one who removes sorrow, रुत्-दुःखम् द्रावयति इति रुद्रः. रुत् means दुःखम्, sorrow, crying. In some houses, always somebody or the other will be always crying, that is अमङ्गलम् and रुद्र removes the crying from the family, wherever रुद्र पायायणम् takes place crying goes, grief goes away and therefore he is called दुःख नाशकः रुद्रः and by way of that he brings in आनन्द and therefore I am शङ्करः. And वित्त-ईशः यक्ष-रक्षसाम्, there is another group of देवताs called यक्षः and रक्षः, यक्ष किंनर गन्धर्व etc., in the श्लोक they say, they are all various types of देवताs, the citizens of the heavenly world, so many varieties, colonies and among these people अहम् वित्त-ईशः, वित्त-ईशः means कुबेरः – I am कुबेरः, the one who proceeds over wealth. Everyone knows very well कुबेरः. I have told you know. In बद्दिनाथ, there is a place for कुबेरः. And there is a belief that if you keep a coin in कुबेर's hand and take and keep that coin in your safe, it will multiply. Therefore the moment you say बद्दिनाथ, nobody remembers बद्दि नायायण, they only remember कुबेरः. I never knew that. Once I took students to बद्दि and केदार and somebody came and gave me some coin, I thought that it is for me, but they said that I have to keep it in कुबेर's hand and bring it back to them, you come and give it to me I want to preserve it, then only I knew कुबेरः is so important. Therefore, वित्तानाम् ईशः, the Lord of wealth. And of course we don't condemn wealth, कुबेरः is also important. Then वसूनाम् पावकः अग्निः, the next important group of देवताs is अष्ट वसवः. So वसु रुद्र आदित्य, I told you, in that वसु. They are eight, presiding over the eight directions. So among the अष्ट वसुs, I am अग्नि देवता, so पावकः means अग्नि, and अग्नि is called पावकः because he is the greatest purifier, पुनाति or पावयति इति पावकः. In the relative sense also, if you want to purify anything it has to be heated, including food. If you have to remove all the impurities, why food, water, so the best way even now of purification is what, boil the water and the surgeon if they want to purify their instruments, again they have to eat and if you have to dispose of the dead body even now cremation, fire is the best method of purification and if you want to purify the various clothes and other things, putting in the sun is the best method. So लौकिक दृष्ट्या also अग्नि is the purifier and from the शास्त्रिय angle also अग्नि is supposed to be the purifier of the mind and that is why we worship अग्नि and therefore कृष्ण says, I am the fire principle, the greatest वेद, the ऋग्वेद, it has maximum number of मन्त्रs begins with अग्निमीळे पुरोहितम्. अग्नि is very important for us, we start our day with lighting of lamp. “We used to start our day” I think I have to say that way. I don’t know that practice is there or not. Because outside the light is the Sun and not only that when they light the lamp they show to the Sun, the idea is that the Sun who is the celestial light which represents the Lord is invoked in the flame and I keep the flame in my house and therefore flame is worshipped, अग्नि is worshipped and therefore कृष्ण says I am अग्नि तत्त्वम् and मेरुः शिखरिणाम् अहम् – so among all the mountains with peaks, peaked mountains, I am the मेरु पर्वतम्. So मेरुः is a पर्वतम् described in the पुराणs, not only पुराणs even in the वेदs the mention of मेरुः is there, but people have got different opinions regarding the मेरुः पर्वतम्. Some people say the हिमालयs are called the मेरु, there are some other people who say that in the north pole there is a mountain and that is the मेरुः पर्वतम्, because when they describe the मेरु in the scriptures they say the Sun goes round that पर्वतम्, if you take only the north pole mountain the Sun will be going round, in a particular time - six months, in Norway, Denmark and all they don’t have sunrise and sunset, because the Sun will be going round and therefore they say the polar mountain is मेरुः and there are some people who say that it is none of the visible mountains, it is some invisible mountain belonging to the heavens. So best way to translate मेरुः is what: मेरुः. If you translate only problem comes. I am the मेरुः among the peaked mountains and it seems the मेरुः प्रदक्षिणम् is supposed to be a pilgrimage prescribed in our scriptures and one शास्त्री from तमिळनाडु and according to him, the मेरुः is that North pole mountain and therefore he made a pilgrimage and he has written a book and he has gone not with special dress and all, the regular वैष्टि and अङ्गवस्त्रम् and he went to to Norway-Denmark area and he went to that polar mountain and returned and he has described his experiences, it is a beautiful तमिळ् book in which he describes and all the people including the government and everybody gave all the facilities to him, because he explained it is our religious practice. So he says मेरुः that mountain is in that polar region and मेरुः प्रदक्षिणम् is to be supposed to be a pilgrimage. Continuing;

शम् means मङ्गलम् and therefore शङ्करः means the मङ्गल-कर्ता रुद्रः अहम् अस्मि and what do you mean by मङ्गल कर्ता, मङ्गलम्

Verse No .24

पुरोधसां च मुख्यं मां विद्धि पार्थ बृहस्पतिम् ।

सेनानीनामहं स्कन्दः सरसामरिम सागरः ॥ १०-२४॥

पुरोधसाम् च मुख्यम् माम् विद्धि पार्थ बृहस्पतिम् ।

सेनानीनाम् अहम् स्कन्दः सरसाम् अरिम सागरः ॥ १०-२४॥

हे पार्थ! पुरोधसाम् च मुख्यम् बृहस्पतिम् माम् विद्धि, सेनानीनाम् स्कन्दः, सरसाम् सागरः अहम् अरिम ।

So among the पुरोहितs, the वैदिक priests who officiate in rituals. There are two, the celestials पुरोहितs and also the earthly ones, among the celestial पुरोहितs in the heavenly world, I am बृहस्पतिः, who help इन्द्र and the देवताs and therefore देव पुरोहितेषु मध्ये I am the main one who is इन्द्रस्य पुरोहित, who is called बृहस्पतिः. In fact, पुरोधः means the one who is kept in front as a guide, पुरः दत्ते, the one who is placed in front, one who is seated in front and who guides me when I do rituals is called पुरोहित, I am बृहस्पति. These are all based on the scriptures. Then सेनानीनाम् अहम् स्कन्दः – among the army commanders (he is not leaving any field), if you are an army man you need someone for उपासना, so कृष्ण wants to mention commander-in-chief of देवसेना, देवसेना means the army of gods and for them, who is the leader, स्कन्दः, स्कन्दः is सुब्रह्मण्य, he is known as देवसेनापति, the commander of the celestial army I am. स्कन्दः means the one who flowed out, who emerged out of Lord's शिव's third eye, to destroy some यक्षस' who had extraordinary strength. Lord शिव had to bring a special अवतार and out of Lord's शक्ति, स्कन्दते, स्कन्द means to flow out, to emerge out, to originate, from the third eye of Lord शिव, and third eye represents ज्ञानम् and that is why सुब्रह्मण्य is ज्ञान सुब्रह्मण्य, ज्ञान स्कन्दः he is. So we can give philosophical significance also to this word, but here based on पुराणs he is the best commander in-chief, so I am सुब्रह्मण्यः and then सरसाम् अरिम सागरः – among all the reservoirs of waters, all are glorious but among all of them I am सागर, the ocean, which is worth worshipping. You can worship anyone, but I am the ocean, सागरः. And in the पुराणs, there is a big story and many of the verses in this portion are based on that particular story. So we will often have to refer to that story here. And therefore I will give the gist of the story and everybody will like story also. So there is one story which occurs in several पुराणs and it occurs in रामायणम् also, when राम and लक्ष्मण were taken by विश्वामित्र (he told many stories so they won't feel the pain in the legs) and there one story that विश्वामित्र tells is गङ्गावतरणम्, the arrival of गङ्गा from the heaven to the earth is called गङ्गावतरणम्, अवतरणम् means coming down and this story occurs in several पुराणs, of course with slight changes. It seems there was a राज known as सगर राज, known as सगरः, this सगरः had many children, and you know how many children? It is पुराण, don't get shocked! He had 60,001 children and they were all generally known सागराः because सगरः पुत्राः, the sons of सगरः, they are called सागराः and there was one पुत्र known as असमञ्जः, normally असमञ्ज is used for idiot, anyway one son was called असमञ्ज and this सगर राज wanted to perform an अश्वमेध याग and just as राम did and in अश्वमेध and they will send one special horse all over and whoever challenges the horse and the army going behind, he has to be defeated, only then he can perform the अश्वमेध, because to perform the अश्वमेध याग one should defeat all the kings around and when he was about to do इन्द्र got frightened. That is why I said इन्द्र is also a जीव. His fear was anybody does 100 यागs, he gets qualified for इन्द्र पदवि and therefore his position is threatened by anybody doing more यागs, and therefore इन्द्र's job is constantly scanning the earth - is anyone doing more यागs, he will stop that and therefore generally what he does is, if anybody does अश्वमेध याग he steals the horse and this अश्वमेध अश्व also was stolen by इन्द्र. But he had come in some other वेष and naturally these 60,000 sons except this one, which one, असमञ्जस्, all the 60,000 started chasing इन्द्र in some other form and इन्द्र could not escape and therefore what he did, he went underground to the पाताललोक. Don't ask me how? This is पुराण, mythological story and these सागरs and they were not ready to leave him and they also started digging and 60,000 people digging all over and a huge pit was created by them and water started filling and that alone got the name सागरः, सरसाम् अस्मि सागरः, huge reservoir of water was dug by whom, सागराः, सगर पुत्राः and therefore that got the name सागरः and what happened, they went to पाताललोक and इन्द्र knew he cannot escape and they are chasing and therefore he decided that I will tie the horse in पाताललोक and run away, because if I keep the horse, they will chase me. So, in पाताललोक, कपिल ऋषि was doing तपस् it seems and therefore इन्द्र did a trick. What is that: he tied the horse near कपिल ऋषि and escaped and then 60,000 सागराः, सगरः पुत्राः came and saw the horse was there and nearby कपिल ऋषि and therefore what did they conclude, natural, they concluded that कपिल ऋषि alone had stolen the horse and he was sitting as though he doesn't know anything doing तपस्, and therefore they started shouting at कपिल मुनि, poor कपिल मुनि he has not done anything and his तपस् was disturbed by their shouting and therefore he opened his eyes and he got so angry with these 60,000 people and therefore he stared at them and fire came out of his eyes and all the 60,000 got burned down into ashes and he continued his तपस्, for him it was nothing, like electrocution, spiritcution or something you have to say. So then what happened, they were waiting for the horse to come, who सगरः and the one remaining son असमञ्जस् and 60,000 were not seen and therefore सगरः sent असमञ्जस् in search of them and he went to पाताललोक and found that all these 60,000 burnt to ashes and he saw कपिल मुनि, he woke him up and enquired, what happened, how all these things happened and then कपिल मुनि said that they disturbed and therefore they got burnt down they can be saved and revived only by गङ्गा जलम्. So गङ्गा जलम् alone can revive them. So असमञ्जस् came and told सगरः, his father that to save them गङ्गा जलम् has to come and गङ्गा is not in काशि or any place, originally it was in देवलोक and सगरः could not do anything, he was old, therefore he told असमञ्जस् you are in charge of bringing गङ्गा and असमञ्जस् he tried his best, how can he bring गङ्गा from the heaven and therefore he also failed and he got a son later by the name अंशुमान् and therefore what did असमञ्जस् say to him, I could not bring गङ्गा at least you try. Then अंशुमान् thought he will do his best but he could not also bring गङ्गा. Then अंशुमान् had a son by name भगीरथ, you would have heard भगीरथ प्रयत्नम्, so भगीरथ decided to bring गङ्गा and then he enquired, and decided to do तपस् invoking the grace the गङ्गादेवी and गङ्गादेवी said that I am willing to come down but who can withstand the force of गङ्गा, that too coming from the heavens. Even this कुट्टालम् water falls you stand under you will feel the force, what a momentum it should be. Therefore nobody can withstand the force, the earth itself will get destroyed and he asked what to do, then somebody must be able to receive. Then who is that? The only one who can do that is Lord शिव, because he has got the cushioning जटा is there, cushion effect. Then how to propitiate शिव, that is not easy, then again do तपस्, previous तपस् for propitiating गङ्गादेवी, now तपस् for propitiating Lord शिव and he did तपस्, each one for 1,000 years. So at least we should give one week time, so therefore what happened next, to be continued.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय
पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 10, VERSES 24-27

In the last class, I was the middle of a story, the story of गङ्गावतरणम्, how भगीरथ brought गङ्गा the river from the heaven to the earth. भगीरथ came to know from his father अंशुमान् that his ancestors known as सगर पुत्राः were burned to ashes by the anger of कपिल ऋषि who was doing तपस् in पाताललोक and they came to know that the ancestors could be saved only with the help of गङ्गाजलम् and nobody else could attempt this big feat and therefore भगीरथ had to work on that. And भगीरथ decided to bring गङ्गा down to the earth and that is why any person of determination is often called भगीरथ and the effort is called भगीरथ प्रयत्नम्. So he did तपस् invoking the grace of गङ्गादेवी and गङ्गादेवी offered to come down to the earth but the problem was who will receive the river, because the momentum will be so tremendous that if there is no appropriate cushion effect, the earth will disintegrate. And therefore भगीरथ had to do another 1,000 years of तपस्, 1,000 years for getting the grace of गङ्गा and then another 1,000 years he did तपस् invoking Lord शिव to help him, Lord शिव appears and offers to receive गङ्गादेवी and शिव wanted to teach a lesson also to गङ्गा, because she was arrogant that I am such a powerful river. Therefore शिव was ready and गङ्गादेवी came and शिव did not use any special place or anything, his own जटा was enough and as गङ्गादेवी came down, शिव received गङ्गा in his जटा. And not only that, even though गङ्गादेवी was so vast a river, the whole river was accommodated within the जटा and Lord शिव even covered that river completely. She just disappeared into शिव's जटा. And not only that, after teaching a lesson शिव went or continued his तपस्. Lord शिव loves तपस्. Now भगीरथ was in trouble, because his purpose is not merely bringing down गङ्गा, गङ्गा must be available for saving his ancestors and therefore again he had to do तपस्, because if you disturb शिव's तपस् and शिव gets angry like कपिल मुनि and भगीरथ also gets burned to ashes things will get worse and therefore he did again तपस् invoking the grace of Lord शिव and गङ्गादेवी also was praying to Lord शिव, “I am getting suffocated within your जटा, please let me out, let me breath fresh air.” So because of the तपस् of both of them, Lord शिव agrees to release not the whole गङ्गा, but a portion of गङ्गा. And incidentally if you take this whole story as a symbolic thing, गङ्गादेवी represents ब्रह्मविद्या and गङ्गादेवी coming out of Lord शिव’s head indicates the knowledge coming down to the earth from the Lord’s wisdom. Because गङ्गादेवी can immortalize or save his ancestors similarly, ब्रह्मविद्या also can save all the people from mortality. And therefore Lord शिव released a small stream, you would have seen in pictures, Lord शिव doing तपस् and small fountain, a small stream of water coming. So भगीरथ was very happy because after a lot of effort गङ्गादेवी has come down and therefore he requested गङ्गादेवी to come down to पातालम्, because this is भूलोकम् and so therefore from the heavens गङ्गा has come to the earth and from the earth she has to come to पाताल and save his ancestors. Then what happens, the story continues, long serial you know. So while गङ्गादेवी flows, she passes through the hermitage of a ऋषि known as जह्नु महर्षि and when गङ्गादेवी flows and floods the hermitage of जह्नु महर्षि, naturally the आश्रम is disturbed because of the flood and therefore the ऋषि gets angry and therefore what did जह्नु महर्षि do, drank the whole गङ्गा. First she got caught in शिव’s जटा and now she got caught in जह्नु महर्षि’s stomach. Again गङ्गादेवी got suffocated and भगीरथ got frustrated, because the water has to save his ancestors. Then what to do, again like if you have to get some certificates from bureaucrats, you have to fall at the feet of so many people from the gatekeeper onwards. Everyone has some दक्षिणा, Rs.10 to someone, Rs.50 to someone, etc. Then only ultimately you get and you cannot argue with them because then if at all there is a possibility of getting that will also go away, one has to endure and move, like that भगीरथ cannot get wild, therefore again he did तपस् propitiating जह्नु महर्षि. I have brought down गङ्गा for a particular purpose please don't defeat that purpose. So जह्नु महर्षि allows the गङ्गा river to flow out through his ears. Don't ask me how, because he is ऋषि therefore he can do anything. So first came from the head of शिव and then it came from the ears of जह्नु, it all indicates that ब्रह्मविद्या is कर्ण परम्परा. That is, it will come from the head to the कर्ण and from कर्ण to again another head. This is how the ब्रह्मविद्या परम्परा is. And since गङ्गादेवी came again from जह्नु महर्षि ear it is called जाह्नवी. So we will get that in the 10th chapter of the गीता, at that time I won't tell the story again, I will remind you that स्रोतसाम् अस्मि जाह्नवी, it is going to come, that is why I thought I will tell the whole story here itself so that I can hint as the situation arises. Then at last गङ्गादेवी came down to पाताललोक and then all the सगर पुत्रs, how many, 60,000 सगर पुत्रs were saved. So this is the story of गङ्गावतरणम् and the place the सगर पुत्रs were burned to ashes is called कपिलारण्यम्, the place in पाताल where the कपिल ऋषि did the तपस्. And according to काञ्ची परमाचार्य, that कपिलारण्यम् alone later got twisted and become कलिपारण्यम् and कलिपारण्यम् is the modern California of America, पाताल, if you dig deep the earth from India you will go straight to America. Don't ask whether America is पातालम्. So California is कपिलारण्यम् and to prove his point, काञ्ची शङ्कराचार्य says that nearby there is an Island called Ash Island, because all the 60,000 got burned to ashes, therefore Ash Island and California. Whatever it is that is aside. So the सगर पुत्रs got saved and that is why the ocean which was dug by the सगर पुत्रs got the name सागरः. So सरसाम् अस्मि सागरः, for that only I told the story, where does it come, verse no.24, second line, last word, सागरः and based on this alone there is a well-known श्लोक written by भर्तृहरि,

प्रारभ्यते न खलु विघ्नभयेन नीचैः प्रारभ्य विघ्नविहिता विरमन्ति मध्याः ।
विघ्नैः पुनः पुनरपि प्रतिहन्यमानाः प्रारभ्य चोत्तमजनाः न परित्यजन्ति ॥ नीतिशतकम् २७ ॥

Three types of people, one type of people they never undertake anything, why because they are afraid of failure, since they don't have the capacity to accept failure, they never undertake and they declare to everyone I have never failed in life, Why, they should do something to fail! If I do something only there is the question of failure. These people are called मन्द पुरुष, then there is a middle, next higher type of people, प्रारभ्य विघ्नविहिता विरमन्ति मध्याः, they have the courage to start, but once they face one or two failures, CA entrance examination, people cry, स्वामिजि I have written the examination so well but I did not pass at all. So if the failure comes, some people withdraw, stop from going further, but the मध्यम people are those who withdraw from the undertaking when they see an obstacle, one or two obstacle. They are called मध्यम पुरुष and उत्तम पुरुष are those people, who continue again and again and again, how long, until they find success, विघ्नैः पुनः पुनरपि प्रतिहन्यमानाः, any number of obstacles, गङ्गादेवी refused to come, then she was willing to come, there was nobody to receive and then शिव had to be asked and thereafter जह्नु महर्षि's obstacles and so many obstacle, but भगीरथ decided unless I get CA degree, unless I bring that गङ्गा and save my forefathers I will not stop my attempt. So प्रारभ्य च उत्तमजनाः न परित्यजन्ति. So thus भगीरथ is an ideal example of perseverance. Continuing;

महर्षीणां भृगुरहं गिरामस्म्येकमक्षरम् ।

यज्ञानां जपयज्ञोऽस्मि स्थावराणां हिमालयः ॥ १०-२५॥

महर्षीणाम् भृगुः अहम् गिराम् अस्मि एकम् अक्षरम् ।

यज्ञानाम् जप-यज्ञः अस्मि स्थावराणाम् हिमालयः ॥ १०-२५॥

महर्षीणाम् भृगुः, गिराम् एकम् अक्षरम् अहम् अस्मि, यज्ञानाम् जप-यज्ञः, स्थावराणाम् हिमालयः (च) अस्मि ।

महर्षीणाम् भृगुः अहम्. Among the महर्षि's there are सप्त ऋषि's who are well-known, who are supposed to be directly born out of

ब्रह्माजि's mind, they are called मानसपुत्राः. And among those सप्तऋषिः also, भृगुः is considered the pre-eminent one. While dealing a श्लोक before we saw महर्षयः सप्त पूर्वे चत्वारः मनवः तथा there I gave the names of सप्त ऋषिः, the first one was भृगुः. So भृगुम् मरीचिमत्रिम् च, therefore कृष्ण says all ऋषिः are great and the greatest one is भृगुः and that भृगुः ऋषिः I am and in the पुराणः several stories are said about भृगुः and one story says that भृगुः tested the त्रिमूर्तिः themselves to find out among the त्रिमूर्तिः, who is the most patient one. And then he went and irritated ब्रह्म to find out whether they lose their temper, it seems ब्रह्म lost temper and शिव one need not ask, he will get angry without any reason. So शिव is रुद्र, he also lost the temper, both of them failed in the exam and then भृगुः and went and kicked विष्णु's chest and instead of getting angry, विष्णु asked भृगुः, is your leg alright, is it paining and they say because of that alone, विष्णु got the mark in his chest, श्रीवत्साङ्कम् वक्षसम्. Imagine if somebody should conduct an examination for त्रिमूर्तिः themselves certainly he must be greater, therefore that भृगुः, the great examiner I am. गिराम् अस्मि एकम् अक्षरम् – among all the words I am the ॐकारः. एकम् अक्षरम् means the word consisting of one syllable, the mono syllabled word. And what is that: ॐ. And why do we say ॐकारः is the greatest word, because ॐकारः is considered to be the essence of the entire वेदः. In the तैत्तिरीयोपनिषद् class we will be seeing,

यश्छन्दसामृषभो विश्वरूपः । छन्दोभ्योऽध्यमृतात्संबभूव । स मेन्द्रो मेधया स्पृणोतु ॥ तैत्तिरीयोपनिषदत् २-१-३ ॥

So just as we churn and bring butter from the milk or the curds and just as देवः churned the milky ocean and brought out अमृतम्, similarly, ब्रह्माजि churned the वेदः and brought out of the वेदः the butter called ॐ, therefore ॐकारः is considered to be वेद सारः. And therefore it is considered the most efficacious मन्त्र, it is used in कर्मकाण्ड for all rituals, we will be seeing that again in तैत्तिरीयोपनिषद्,

ओमिति सामानि गायन्ति । ओं शोमिति शस्त्राणि शं सन्ति । ॥
तैत्तिरीयोपनिषत् १-७-१ ॥

For वेद पारायणम्, the first word is ॐ श्रीगुरुभ्यो नमः, for all rituals the first word uttered is ॐ and for उपासनाs or meditations also, ॐकारः is used as an आलम्बनम् or symbol. Thus in कर्मकाण्ड ॐकारः is used, in उपासनाकाण्ड ॐकारः is used. And even in the Vedantic section ॐकारः is used for enquiry into reality. The entire माण्डूक्योपनिषत् is ॐकारः विचार to arrive at the reality, in fact, माण्डूक्योपनिषत् begins:
ॐ इत्येतदक्षरमिदं सर्वम् तस्योपव्याख्यानम् ॥ माण्डूक्योपनिषत् १ ॥

ॐकारः is not only the essence of the entire वेदs, ॐकारः is the essence of the entire creation.

भूतम् भवद् भविष्यदिति सर्वमोङ्कार एव यत्त्वान्यत् त्रिकालातीतम्
तदप्योङ्कार एव ॥ माण्डूक्योपनिषत् १ ॥

Therefore in ज्ञानकाण्ड ॐकारः is important, in उपासनाकाण्ड ॐकारः is used, in कर्मकाण्ड ॐकारः is used, thus ॐकारः is the most important मन्त्र. and that is why begin with ॐ and end also with ॐ. And therefore कृष्ण says among all the words I am the most sacred word ॐकारः. Therefore गिराम्, गिराम् means among the words. So गिर् – गीः, गिरौ, गिरः, गीः means a पदम्, a word is called गीः and गिराम् (षष्ठी-विभक्तिः बहुवचनम्) means among the पदानि, among the words I am the mono syllabled ॐकारः. Then यज्ञानाम् जप-यज्ञः अस्मि – among all types of religious साधनs, among all types of spiritual साधनs I am जप-यज्ञः. And why कृष्ण chooses जप-यज्ञः?

i) Because it is one यज्ञः which can be practiced by all the people, where वर्ण, आश्रम restrictions are not there, ब्राह्मणs, क्षत्रियs, वैश्यs, शूद्रs, ब्रह्मचारिs, गृहस्थs, वानप्रस्थs, संन्यासिs, for all the people जप-यज्ञः can be used, whereas if you take other यज्ञs there are restrictions, if you take अग्निहोत्र only गृहस्थ can do, not a ब्रह्मचारि or a संन्यासि. If you take a यजसूय याग only क्षत्रिय can do, ब्राह्मण cannot do and there are certain rituals which can be done only by people who have got sacred thread and other people are prohibited from doing that. So thus some are based on वर्णस, some are based on आश्रमस, some are based on the उपनयनम् ceremony, some are allowed for males, some are allowed for females, whereas जप-यज्ञः is open to all, it is a universal साधन and therefore it is the greatest साधन.

ii) And the second advantage is that you don't require a particular time or place, you can practice everywhere. If you want to do a होम, a particular place is required, it has to be prepared, you have to face proper direction, whereas जप-यज्ञः there are no such restrictions. In all times, all places and all conditions and

iii) Thirdly there is a benefit in जप-यज्ञः, because there is no हिंसा or effort involved, because in certain वैदिक sacrifices, animal sacrifice is mentioned which can disturb many people. In fact, बुद्ध turned against the वेदस only because he was against animal sacrifice. Many people cannot swallow that, so therefore there are certain rituals where हिंसा is involved and even if animal sacrifices are not involved, to do the rituals you have to undergo physical pain. If you say ritual, they will say, get up, do that नमस्कार, do this, do that, etc., (for us sitting and standing up is a very big project and if you are asked to repeatedly do नमस्कार, it is all हिंसा to oneself), in जप-यज्ञ there is no हिंसा. Without moving, changing of place, position, or state, you can do it sitting. This is the third benefit.

This is universal, it can be practiced in any place, any time, under any condition. Then there is no हिंसा involved and finally and most importantly, most practically no expenditure is involved. That is to be said, any ritual you want to do you have to spend and that too to get ghee at the rate it is selling, therefore it is expensive and दक्षिणा for the priest all those things and for जप you have to use only organ of speech in which we are always expert. We go on talking, therefore very much used to use organ of speech, therefore instead of gossip replace it with ॐ नमः शिवायः, ॐ नमो नारायणाय, any word, so it is inexpensive but at the same time it is as efficacious as other rituals. And that is why they say a person who is a वैदिक, who is born to वैदिक culture must minimum do one साधन of जपम्, even if you don't any other greater religious disciplines, perhaps उपवास you may not be able to do because of health reasons, rituals you may not be able to do because of professional constraints, you may not be able to do because of economic reasons, our शास्त्र says minimum साधन that everybody can practice and should practice is some जप. Any नाम of the Lord, hundred and eight times a day, minimum, जप्ये नैव तु संसिद्धये, the full साधन चतुष्टय सम्पत्ति by the mere साधन of जप and that is why they give the definition of जप,

जकारो जन्मविच्छेदः पकारः पापनाशनः । जन्मपापहरो यस्मात् जप इत्युच्यते बुधैः ॥

In जप two letters are there, the first letter ज indicates what जन्मविच्छेदः – the end to the cycle of birth and death. And the next letter प indicates what पकारः पापनाशनः, जन्मपापहरो यस्मात् – since this साधन will remove all the पापम्s and through that will put an end to the cycle of संसार, जप इति उच्यते बुधैः and therefore जप is a great साधन. Then what is जप? जप is great, जप is great is being said, what is जप then? जप means repetition of any sacred word is called जपः, which is different from पाठ्यणम्. In पाठ्यणम् you don't repeat a thing again and again, it is only a linear reading of the whole thing, you read the entire गीता or a chapter of गीता, you utter only once, that is called पाठ्यणम्. In जप you take one word or few words and do आवृत्तिः, आवृत्तिः means what: repeating that, ॐ नमः शिवाय, ॐ नमः शिवाय, ॐ नमः शिवाय. Such a साधन is called जपः, मन्त्र आवृत्तिः जपः and therefore कृष्ण says among the साधनs I am जप-यज्ञः. Then स्थावराणाम् हिमालयः, from one topic कृष्ण jumps to a totally different topic, because whatever thought comes to Him that is His glory, therefore no thinking is required. So next item He mentions is स्थावराणाम् – among the mountains I am the हिमालयः. So the most sacred mountain ranges in the world wherein Lord शिव is there, शिव's abode, पार्वती's father. From that only somebody said that the best place on the earth is father-in-law's house, What is the proof? Observe शिव, observe विष्णु. विष्णु lives where? In the milky ocean. लक्ष्मी came from where? लक्ष्मीआम् क्षीर समुद्रराज तनया, so लक्ष्मी is born out of क्षीर सागरम्, so क्षीर समुद्र is लक्ष्मी's father and that means what: विष्णु's father-in-law, both शिव and विष्णु, there is agreement in one minimum thing, they have found father-in-law's place to be the best place. That is the different thing, स्थावराणाम् among the mountains I am हिमालयः.

अश्वत्थः सर्ववृक्षाणां देवर्षीणां च नारदः ।

गन्धर्वाणां चित्ररथः सिद्धानां कपिलो मुनिः ॥ १०-२६॥

अश्वत्थः सर्व-वृक्षाणाम् देवर्षीणाम् च नारदः ।

गन्धर्वाणाम् चित्ररथः सिद्धानाम् कपिलः मुनिः ॥ १०-२६॥

सर्व-वृक्षाणाम् अश्वत्थः, देवर्षीणाम् च नारदः, गन्धर्वाणाम् चित्ररथः, सिद्धानाम् कपिलः मुनिः (अहम् अस्मि) ।

सर्व-वृक्षाणाम् – all the trees are the glories of the Lord only, but if you want to pinpoint a particular tree, which is the most revered and worshipped that is अश्वत्थ वृक्ष. And it is daily worshipped by Hindus, because it is supposed to be abode of the trinity. Therefore if you do अश्वत्थ प्रदक्षिणम्, then it is as good as प्रदक्षिणम् to the three deities,

मूलतो ब्रह्मरूपाय मध्यतो विष्णुरुपिणे । अग्रतः शिवरूपाय वृक्षराजाय ते नमः ॥

So अश्वत्थ is called the वृक्ष राज, the king among the trees, why, because in the मूलम्, the root of अश्वत्थ वृक्ष ब्रह्माजि is residing, in the middle trunk मध्यतो विष्णु रूपिणे and अग्रतः, on the top of the tree lord शिव abides and to that वृक्ष राज my नमस्कार and therefore कृष्ण says, अश्वत्थः. Here you should quote the 15th chapter, because in the 15th chapter अश्वत्थः represents संसार वृक्ष, so it is a tree of bondage, here it should not be said like that, here it is मूलतो ब्रह्मरूपाय, you have to see. Then देवर्षीणाम् च नारदः – you know, so among महर्षिः भृगु was mentioned, here देवर्षीः – the celestial ऋषिः, among them I am नारदः, the most popular ऋषि, त्रिलोक संचारि ऋषि, there is no पुराण in which नारदः doesn't come, even in the उपनिषत् नारदः appears, not only mere पौराणिक stories for कलहम्. In छान्दोग्योपनिषत्, in the 7th chapter, नारदः is the disciple of सनत्कुमार. And नारदः receives ब्रह्मविद्या from सनत्कुमार and that teaching is a very very famous one and it is called भूम विद्या. So in the 7th chapter of the छान्दोग्योपनिषत्, ब्रह्मन् is called भूमा, ब्रह्मविद्या is called भूम विद्या and that is received by नारद from सनत्कुमार and therefore नारदः is a ज्ञानि also. Not only he was a great ज्ञानि, he distributed that wisdom to all the people, In fact, the very word नारदः means नारम् ज्ञानम् ददाति इति नारदः, नारम् means ज्ञानम्, द means giver. So the one who enlightens all the people and that great नारद I am among the celestial ऋषिः. Who says “I am”? Lord कृष्ण, don't forget कृष्ण, we are talking about कृष्ण only here. गन्धर्वाणाम् चित्ररथः – among गन्धर्वः, so again गन्धर्वः are the denizens, citizens of the heaven, another colony. I have told you several colonies are there and one area is called गन्धर्वलोक, which is known for all forms of art. So dance, music, painting, sculpture, all of them are well-known there. And among those गन्धर्वः, I am the king of गन्धर्वः known as चित्ररथः, चित्ररथः is गन्धर्व राज. In fact, in महाभारत story, when the पाण्डवः are in the forest that गन्धर्वः राज appears, if you remember the TV serial, there he appears, गन्धर्वाणाम् चित्ररथः. सिद्धानाम् कपिलः मुनिः – among the great सिद्ध, सिद्धः means people who have got extraordinary powers, miraculous powers. They are called सिद्धः. And you should remember miraculous powers and spiritual knowledge do not have any connection at all. I have told you long before four types of people are possible,

- ◆ those who have got सिद्धि but no Self-knowledge and

- ◆ those who have got Self-knowledge but no सिद्धि,
- ◆ those who have got Self-knowledge also सिद्धिs also and
- ◆ what is the fourth type, like us, no, no, not like us, it should not be said, we are all Self-knowledged persons!! Anyway, the fourth type people who have neither सिद्धिs nor ज्ञानम्.

Of these four types of people who are liberated and who are not liberated?

- ❖ Those who have got ज्ञानम् without सिद्धि are liberated, because for liberation ज्ञानम् alone is required, you don't require any सिद्धि at all.
- ❖ And those who have got ज्ञानम् and सिद्धिs, of course, they are also liberated and their liberation is because of ज्ञानम्.
- ❖ And third type of people who have got सिद्धिs and who do not have ज्ञानम्, they are all संसारिs even though they have miraculous powers. In fact, many of the राक्षसs had सिद्धिs, but they did not have knowledge, whereas कपिल मुनि is one who had both ज्ञानम् and सिद्धि.

In fact, in भागवत पुराण, कपिल is supposed to be one of the अवतारs of भगवान्, कपिलावतार is very well-known in भागवतम्. And कपिल teaches वेदान्त to his mother देवहूति, कपिल देवहूति संवादः is very well-known portion, वेदान्त is beautifully taught by कपिल to his mother. Of course, there is another कपिल ऋषि who is not an अवतार of भगवान्, who is a great philosopher, who has propounded साङ्ख्य philosophy, which is totally different from वेदान्त. That साङ्ख्य philosopher कपिल is not talked about here, here we are talking about the वेदान्त teacher, कपिल अवतारम् and not only he was a great वेदान्त teacher, he was a सिद्ध पुरुष also, a man of सिद्धिs and there also they say, a person can get सिद्धि through several methods. So a person can get miraculous powers through money, मन्त्र, औषधम्, योगः and जन्म.

i) Money means what certain types of precious stones. Like in the Aladdin lamps story, you take a precious stone you get some powers, so that is called money.

ii) Then औषधम्, certain types of herbs if you hold in the hand you get miraculous powers, iii) And मन्त्र, certain type of मन्त्रs you do पुरश्चरणम्, not any one day for 11 times, that मन्त्र you have do पुरश्चरणम्. What do you mean पुरश्चरणम्? You have to find out how many letters are there in the मन्त्र, suppose ॐ नमः शिवाय, ॐ, न, म, शि, वा, य 6 letters. You have to multiply it with lakhs. That means 6 lakhs time minimum you have to chant. If it is अष्टाक्षरम् - 8 lakhs, if it is द्वादश अक्षरम् - 12 lakhs. This is minimum, what is maximum? Multiply by crores, therefore five crores times, 12 crores times, then the potency of the मन्त्र is released, like through nuclear fission or fusion, the energy within the atom is released, how much energy, it can destroy a Hiroshima or a Nagasaki. So much power is there in a small atom, similarly, every मन्त्र has got tremendous potency, that potency is released by पुरश्चरणम् of the मन्त्र, through that also a person gets सिद्धिs. So money, मन्त्र, औषधम्.

iv) Then the fourth method is योगः, meditation. So by concentrating the mind, focusing the mind like चक्र focusing etc., called योग. Through योग also सिद्धिs can be accomplished.

v) And there is a fifth one and what is that जन्म, by birth itself, because of some extraordinary पूर्व पुण्यम् certain people have some powers. Sometimes we read some freak news items, a person allows a big high current to pass through him, I don't know whether you have read such an item. Normally if such a heavy current passes a person will turn into ashes, but this person is a conductor of electricity and nothing happens, bulb also he holds and burns. There was a TV program, The Incredible or something like that, this person holds the bulb and passes the current and the bulb burns, and scientists say that he has got peculiar body configuration, how, not that he acquired, but by birth and another person pores acid over his body, nitric acid, hydrochloric acid, sulphuric acid, etc., he pours and the dress gets burned, but his skin is unaffected. This is for an example, Similarly, by birth certain people have got miraculous powers, such people are called सिद्धः.

So in this context, (for which I told the whole story) सिद्ध means जन्मना सिद्धः, those who have got miraculous powers by birth, not by any साधन and among such सिद्ध पुरुष, कृष्ण says I am कपिल मुनिः. So the one who has got the golden yellow color, the complexion is golden yellow. कपिल is the gold color is called कपिल देवः, that is how Kapil Dev is named, it is a very beautiful name, कपिल देवः, it is a wonderful name.

Verse No .27

उत्तैःश्रवसमश्वानां विद्धि माममृतोद्धवम् ।

ऐरावतं गजेन्द्राणां नराणां च नराधिपम् ॥ १०-२७॥

उत्तैःश्रवसम् अश्वानाम् विद्धि माम् अमृत-उद्धवम् ।

ऐरावतम् गजेन्द्राणाम् नराणाम् च नराधिपम् ॥ १०-२७॥

अश्वानाम् अमृत-उद्धवम् उत्तैःश्रवसम्, गजेन्द्राणाम् ऐरावतम्, नराणाम् नराधिपम् च माम् विद्धि ।

In fact, in the previous verse, I forgot one point, when I said कपिल मुनि you should remember that story, that गङ्गावतार story. There कपिल came, where do you remember? He was doing तपस्. So therefore, that कपिल मुनिः I am. So that is why I said that story is used in all places. Now we are ready for the next story, which is another equally popular story in our पुराणs. In fact, two stories are the most popular, one is गङ्गावतरणम् and the other is समुद्र मथनम्, churning the milky ocean. And peculiarly enough, both these stories are teaching one fundamental lesson to us and that is, in life perseverance is the most important value. If you have to be successful in life, you should take everything as a challenge, failure should not deter you, failure should not make you fatalistic, failure should not make you pessimistic, failure should only trigger further energy. Story No.1, भगीरथ प्रयत्न, story No.2, देव असुर प्रयत्नः. Here also you know the story, I need not elaborate. देवs and असुरs decided to churn the milky ocean and bring out अमृतम्. And for churning the milky ocean you cannot use the local mixi, half a liter, what can you do with that, so they had to bring special churning rod and what is that: मन्दर पर्वतम् and they had to bring special rope: वासुकि and then they had to do the churning and in the beginning itself differences of opinion. Any job you start you will find first thing that will come will be difference of opinion. You tell one thing and your wife tells the opposite, other way round, it is just natural. So what is difference of opinion, who should hold the head of the snake, who should hold the tail of the snake, what they have to do, head or tail they have to toss, anyway somehow they solved the problem, I am not going to the details and they started churning, the churning rod went down and therefore again they had to pray to विष्णु and विष्णु went underneath, tortoise form and they started churning, varieties of things started coming, varieties of wonderful things and varieties of dangerous things also. So therefore कौस्तुभ रत्न came, लक्ष्मीदेवी came, ऐरावतम् came, उत्तैःश्रवस् came, so many things, धन्वन्तरि and all, I am not going to go to the details, हालाहल विषम् also came. And this symbolically again indicate ब्रह्म विद्या. Just as गङ्गावतरणम् is bringing ब्रह्मविद्या down from the Lord, समुद्र मथनम् is also churning our mind, विचारः enquiry. In वेदान्त class what are you doing? Lot of churning is supposed to happen, I hope so, I am very optimistic and the mind represents क्षीर सागर because क्षीर सागर is white in color. White represents सत्त्वगुण and सत्त्वगुण represents the mind which is सात्त्विक and when you do the churning with the rod of scriptures, scriptural statements, varieties of things arrive, then what happens, to be continued.

पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 10, VERSES 27-30

Lord कृष्ण continues with the enumeration of his glories, otherwise known as विभूति in this chapter and many glories are available in this world itself for direction perception like the glory in the form of Sun, or moon or rivers etc., and many glories are based on पौराणिक stories also. And I said that two stories are prominent in our पुराणs, one is the story of गङ्गावतरणम्, अवतरणम् means flowing down or coming down, गङ्गायाः अवतरणम्, which we saw before and the other prominent story is the समुद्र मन्थनम् story which was giving in the last class. देवs and असुरs planned to churn the milky ocean so that they can get अमृतम् out of it and then if they take the अमृतम् they will get immortality. So with this plan, they brought the मन्दर mountain for churning and they brought वासुकि as the rope and later भगवान् विष्णु had to come as कूर्म अवतार to hold the मन्दर mountain while churning, otherwise it was going down and initially they had differences of opinion, but somehow they managed and started churning and varieties of things appeared. They say fourteen virtuous things appeared out of the milky ocean at the time of churning, चतुर्दश रत्नानि. कालिदास writes a prayer called मङ्गलाष्टकम्, which is supposed to be chanted in the morning and in those prayers he talks about various sacred things to be remembered, sacred rivers, sacred deities like that he enumerates various things and in one verse he mentions the fourteen रत्नs, रत्न means the precious things which came out of the milky ocean.

लक्ष्मीः कौस्तुभपारिजातकसुराधन्वन्तरिक्षन्दमाः ।

गावः कामदुहा सुरेश्वरगजो रम्भादिदेवाङ्गनाः ।

अश्वः सप्तमुखो विषम् हरिधनुः शङ्खोमृतम् चाम्बुधेः ।

रत्नानीह चतुर्दश प्रतिदिनम् कुर्यात्सदा मङ्गलम् ॥ समुद्र मन्थन ॥

The fourteen रत्नs came from the ocean of which the first one enumerated is लक्ष्मी, लक्ष्मीदेवी herself came. When लक्ष्मीदेवी came, she is समुद्रराज तनया, since she has come from the milky ocean she is the daughter of समुद्रराज and it seems one poet writes, it seems the समुद्रराज wanted to give लक्ष्मीदेवी in marriage to someone. So he was trying to find out the proper son-in-law, लक्ष्मीदेवी to give to whom, then शिव was there, विष्णु was there, समुद्रराज decided to give लक्ष्मीदेवी only to विष्णु and the poet says, what is the reason, because विष्णु was well-dressed and शिव did not even know how to dress properly and therefore that poet says that if you want a good girl, dress up well.

किम् वाससा तत्र विचारणीयम् वासः प्रधानम् खलु योग्यतायाः ।

Dress is very important because it is a measure of योग्यता, what is the proof?

पीताम्बरम् वीक्ष्य ददौ स्वकन्याम् चर्माम्बरम् वीक्ष्य विषम् समुद्रः ॥

Seeing विष्णु who was wearing पीताम्बरम्, silk and yellow garments, समुद्रराज gave लक्ष्मीदेवी to विष्णु and when the poison came, he handed over the poison to whom चर्माम्बरम् वीक्ष्य विषम् समुद्रः. चर्माम्बरम् means he was wearing elephant skin and deer skin and therefore he says that you should dress properly, anyway that is a different thing. What I wanted to say here is लक्ष्मीदेवी is the first one born out of the churning of the ocean, which indicates in the spiritual symbolism, it indicates the practice of spiritual साधनस. Like meditation, जप etc., is like the churning of the milky ocean, as I was telling in the last class, white milky ocean represents the सात्त्विक mind which is involved in spiritual साधनस and when a person takes to spiritual साधनस like जप, पूजा, etc., various glories come to him like सिद्धिs, various सिद्धिs indicate लक्ष्मीदेवी, कौस्तुभ रत्न, ऐरावतम्, अप्सरा, women, all these represent various सिद्धिs that they come and if the देवs and असुरs were satisfied with लक्ष्मी and the various precious stones they would not have got अमृतम्. Similarly, when we are in spiritual practice, we will get certain worldly benefits and many people are satisfied with those worldly benefits, they are really speaking obstacles or distractions. And in fact, generally people value सिद्धिs only. If they want to talk about a महान्, why शङ्कराचार्य is great you ask, they will never talk about Self-knowledge or his teaching, they will say only golden आम्लाकि, he chanted, he prayed to लक्ष्मीदेवी, what is that: कनकधारास्तोत्रम्. Various सिद्धिs शङ्कराचार्य did that alone people talk about. So here शास्त्र says don't be enamored by these सिद्धिs. So all these रत्नs indicate the distractions in the form of सिद्धिs and देवs could succeed only because they were not distracted by these things, they said we don't want all these things, we are interested in अमृतम्, अमृतम् means what: मोक्षः. So these are the positive obstacles, obstacles in the form of positive benefits or सिद्धिs. And there is another thing that came out of the milky ocean, what is that: towards the end, हलाहलाख्यं विषम्, poison and here the poison represents various psychological problems that may come to some people when they seriously engage themselves in spiritual साधनs, because I take away my mind from worldly problems and therefore the mind is relatively free now and therefore the other problems which are in the subconsciousness mind, which problems we might have acquired in our younger days as children, fifty years before, thirty years before, how our parents treated and what happened in our childhood, all those problems which are in the subconscious mind, sometimes they come out when a person practices spiritual साधन or meditation. In माण्डुक्य कारिका, गौडपाद talks about these problems at the time of meditation. He talks about four types of obstacles in meditation, one obstacles he calls is: कषायम्, कषायम् means the deeper problems in our unconscious mind, which we may not know and generally they don't appear in our mind because the past problems are suppressed because of the present problems. We are busy handling the present problem, where do we have time to worry about the past, my hands are full. In meditation I set aside all the present problems and for some people, not for all, these internal problems may come in the form of causeless depression, reasonless fear, anxiety, tension and the mind often doesn't know what is the reason, but the mind is not able to operate well. One आचार्य calls it स्तब्धि भावः, स्तब्धि भावः means the mind is stuck, neither it is able to go forward nor is able to go backward and they are called कषायम्. So thus a spiritual seeker may face these internal problems and especially when they have गुरुकुल set-up. In the गुरुकुल the advantage or the disadvantage is you have no other thing to worry about. Because in गुरुकुल, you need not earn money, everything is provided. You need not cook for food, you need not cook, food is provided. You don't have to worry about family, because you have left the family. You don't distract your mind through televisions and movies because in गुरुकुलम् nothing of that sort. And you cannot meet new friends, because in गुरुकुलम् same set of people. So now when there are no distractions, when there are no other worries to be faced, many people face the internal problems surfacing and this is indicated by हालाहलाख्यं विषम्, poison coming from our own mind when it is churned through शास्त्र विचारः and nobody knew what is the remedy, all the people were running helter-skelter. Everybody was frightened and the only remedy is what: they all prayed to the Lord and Lord swallowed the poison. Similarly, when we have got emotional problems, getting triggered and I am not able to find the reason behind it, the only solution is what: surrender to the Lord, let the Lord absorb those problem. If you know the cause you know the remedy, but there are many emotional situations we do not know and therefore हालाहलाख्यं विषम् refers to the कषायम् problem. लक्ष्मी, कौस्तुभ, पारिजात etc., indicate various सिद्धिs that we may get. And we have to transcend both of them. So don't be enamored by the सिद्धिs and don't be overwhelmed by these emotional problems also. And if you still persevere, continue after all these things finally comes what: अमृतम्, अमृतम् means आत्मज्ञानम्. We have to survive until then. So what I want to say is in the समुद्र मथनम्, fourteen रत्नम्s appeared and based on that story only another poet wrote, समुद्र मथनम् story, there is scope for many संस्कृत scholars do write so many things, many verses are there, so one poet wrote: भारत पञ्चमो वेदः (there are four वेदs and भारत is महाभारतम् is the fifth वेद), सुपुत्रः सप्तमो रसः, normally we talk about षट् रसः, six types of रसs, रस means sweet, sour, pungent, etc., and if you have got a wonderful son or daughter (add that also), it is like the seventh रस. धाता पञ्चदशम् रत्नम्, so fourteen रत्नs came out of the milky ocean, चतुर्दश रत्नानि and if in the world there is a generous person who can give charity in plenty, that is such a rare phenomenon, that a generous person is like the fifteenth रत्नम्, why fifteenth, fourteen रत्नs have come out of the milky ocean and then जामाता दशमो ब्रह्मः, see from where to where he is going, may be he might have trapped it seems. जामाता means the son-in-law, so we all have got 9 planets affecting our lives positively and negatively and over which we have no control at all and if you have a daughter and she is married, your life is governed by another planet and that is the son-in-law, that means that he influences you, but you have no control over. So anyway what I want to say is चतुर्दश रत्नानि came. And out of those fourteen, one is उत्त्वैःश्रवस्, where is the उत्त्वैःश्रवस्? Look at verse no.27, I am supposed to be teaching the 10th chapter, so don't wonder that I have forgotten गीता and wandering all over, for the sake of उत्त्वैःश्रवस् I had some meandering, because I can do that only in this chapter. In every other chapter I have to keep the topic in mind, I am tightly tied, but this is only chapter I can have elbow room and some fun. Anyway, among the अश्वs, horses, I am the उत्त्वैःश्रवस्, the special horse which came out of the milky ocean. And the very word indicates it is the most famous horse, श्रवः means fame, कीर्ति, उत्त्वैःश्रवस् means that horse which is the most famous one, उत्त्वैः श्रवः यस्य सः उत्त्वैःश्रवः, among the horses. And how did that horse come? विद्धि माम् अमृत-उद्धवम् – so I am that horse which emerged during अमृत मथनम्, अमृत-उद्धवम् means अमृत मथन काल उद्धवम्. And ऐरावतम् गजेन्द्राणाम् –

among the elephants I am the ऐरावतम्, ऐरावतम् is another one which came during the समुद्र मथनम्, so ऐरावतम्, the white elephant, I told you the other day, it is the white elephant of the heavenly world, on the earth white elephant you know, so ऐरावतम् which is the vehicle of the mount of देवेन्द्र and which is supposed to have चतुर्दन्त, four tusks, etc., ऐरावतम् गजेन्द्राणाम्. नराणाम् च नराधिपम् – among the human beings I am the king and that is why in our tradition, or in many tradition the King is taken as the manifestation of the Lord himself. They look upon the king as God, because भगवान् here says I am the King among the human beings and not only that, the king has to support धर्म, just as the Lord is शाश्वत-धर्म-गोष्ठा. Similarly, the king has also to protect धर्म, and therefore as a protector of धर्म king is taken as the representative of God and therefore the Lord enumerates.

Verse No .28

आयुधानामहं वज्रं धेनूनामस्मि कामधुक् ।

प्रजनश्चास्मि कन्दर्पः सर्पाणामस्मि वासुकिः ॥ १०-२८॥

आयुधानाम् अहम् वज्रम् धेनूनाम् अस्मि कामधुक् ।

प्रजनः च अस्मि कन्दर्पः सर्पाणाम् अस्मि वासुकिः ॥ १०-२८॥

आयुधानाम् वज्रम् अहम्, धेनूनाम् कामधुक् (अहम्) अस्मि, प्रजनः कन्दर्पः अस्मि, सर्पाणाम् वासुकिः च अस्मि ।

आयुधानाम् – among the weapons अहम् वज्रम्, वज्रायुधम् अहम् अस्मि, वज्रायुधम् is the special weapon of देवेन्द्र and in the पुराण the story is given how this special weapon was taken out of the backbone of दधीचि महर्षि, that दधीचि महर्षि had done plenty of तपस् and therefore his very body had become strong because of the तपस् he performed and therefore for the special purpose of destroying वृत्रासुर, वृत्रासुर story I told in शीक्षावल्ली. So to destroy वृत्रासुर, दधीचि महर्षि sacrifices his life and out of his backbone वज्रायुधम् is made, therefore it has got the strength born out of तपस् शक्ति, because we consider spiritual power or meditative power is much stronger than the material power. That is why they tell the story also, how विश्वामित्र decided become ब्रह्मर्षि. विश्वामित्र was a क्षत्रिय before by birth and विश्वामित्र and वसिष्ठ get into a problem, I don't want to go into the details and therefore they had a war as it were. And विश्वामित्र was shooting weapons after weapons and वसिष्ठ kept his ब्रह्मदण्ड in front, in which he had invoked all his तपस् शक्ति and therefore all the missiles, National Missile Defense – developed by missiles system of America, so all the missiles like the patriot missiles and all those things विश्वामित्र was shooting and they all came and they just fell in front of ब्रह्मदण्ड and they were defused. Then only विश्वामित्र understands the क्षत्रिय बलम् or the material strength is far inferior to the mental strength which is born out of तपस् or meditation and therefore he says 'धिक् बलम् क्षत्रिय बलम् ब्रह्म तेजो बलम् बलम्', physical and material strength is nothing, ब्रह्म तेजो बलम्, ब्रह्म तेजो बलम् means तपस् शक्ति alone is superior and therefore he decides to do तपस् and gets inner strength and that is how विश्वामित्र, the क्षत्रिय ऋषि becomes the ब्रह्म ऋषि. And from this also we come to know that even if a person is a born शूद्र or वैश्य or क्षत्रिय, by doing साधन he can change the वर्ण, a क्षत्रिय can become a ब्राह्मण, therefore ब्राह्मणत्वम् is not primarily by birth, ब्राह्मणत्वम् is by your character, साधन and lifestyle. Anyway what I want to say, वज्रायुधम् is stronger because of the spiritual strength and therefore कृष्ण tells I am the वज्रायुधम् of इन्द्र. धेनूनाम् अस्मि कामधुक् – so among the cows and that too the milch cows or the milk yielding cows, so many cows are there, among the cows which gives milk, we have a special संस्कृत word, धेनुः, धेनु is the name of that cow which gives milk and among such cows I am कामधेनु, कामधुक् means कामधेनुः and why कामधेनुः, because the other cows can yield only milk, whereas कामधेनुः is a unique cow which can yield anything you want, कामम् कामम् दोग्धि इति कामधुक्. So you have to only go near the cow and pray, instead of milk you think of coco cola, it will come directly! pepsi, directly it will come directly! coffee, directly! without powder, not only these drinkable things but all other things will materialize. Anything that you want, house you want, a car you want, anything you want, कामम् कामम् दोण्धि इति कामधेनुः. And incidentally कामधेनुः also emerged out of the milky ocean. And this also indicates what, beautiful symbolic presentation, the mind is कामधेनुः. The human mind and intellect are so powerful that if you fully tap you can create anything, all the scientific advancements and gadgets that we have, they are all born out of what: human intellect, internet is born out of what: human intellect, कामधेनुः. So therefore if a human being decides to tap his own mind-intellect-complex, he can achieve anything in life, all the fourteen लोकs he can accomplish, why he can attain मोक्ष also, मोक्षम् अपि दोण्धि, from the mind-कामधेनुः मोक्षम् also can be mulched. Therefore it is called कामधुक्. Then प्रजनः च अस्मि कन्दर्पः, कन्दर्पः means desire, मन्मथ is called कन्दर्पः. मन्मथ, the deity of desire or passion and desire is here seen as the greatest creator of things. So desire is the greatest producer of things. Why do you build a house? So before the house comes, a multi-lakh, Rs.50 lakh house comes into being, previously it exists in your mind in the form of what: desire. So everything that is produced in the creation is born out of human desire. In fact, according to वेदान्त, I wanted it because of its कर्म, because of the कर्म of the last जन्म I have asked for this world. Therefore desire is the greatest creator and that is why we say “necessity is the mother of all creativity, all inventions” and necessity expresses in the form of desire. It is very hot, human mind wanted something and therefore fan was created and that is not sufficient, A/C was created. Then the power goes away at crucial times, generator was created, one thing after another why do we create, because there is a desire and therefore among the creators I am the desire, productive passion, productive desire which is the cause of everything, including the desire for children. So the production of children is also born out of desire. So कन्दर्पः. सर्पाणाम् अस्मि वासुकिः

– among the serpents, especially the poisonous serpents I am वासुकिः, which is the ornament for Lord शिव and the वासुकिः snake symbolizes the अहङ्कार. So अहङ्कार is the greatest poison which leads to कर्तृत्वम् and कर्मफल and पुनरपि जननम् and पुनरपि मरणम् संसार. And the Lord शिव uses the poisonous snake as an ornament, because he knows how to handle the snake. If you know how to handle it, it is an ornament, similarly, by आत्मज्ञानम् we learn to handle our own अहङ्कार and therefore for a ज्ञानि, अहङ्कार becomes a भूषणम्, an ornament. Just as poisonous snake is an ornament for Lord शिव, the poisonous अहङ्कार is an ornament for a ज्ञानि. Therefore वासुकिः अहम् सर्पाणाम्,

Verse No .29

अनन्तश्चास्मि नागानां वरुणो यादसामहम् ।

पितृणामर्यमा चास्मि यमः संयमतामहम् ॥ १०-२९॥

अनन्तः च अस्मि नागानाम् वरुणः यादसाम् अहम् ।

पितृणाम् अर्यमा च अस्मि यमः संयमताम् अहम् ॥ १०-२९॥

नागानाम् अनन्तः, यादसाम् वरुणः च अहम् अस्मि, पितृणाम् अर्यमा च, संयमताम् यमः (च) अहम् अस्मि ।

नागानाम्, नागः also means snake and how to differentiate सर्प and नागः, both mean snake only. Therefore commentators give different meanings to differentiate, generally we don't remember, by the time we come to this verse the previous verse we will forgot. By chance if you remember the previous verse was said, सर्पाणाम्, again नागानाम्, why it is repeated? Some commentators say नागः refers to non-poisonous snake, so सविष and निर्विष, so among those नागः I am अनन्तः. So Lord कृष्ण might have felt that in the previous verse, वासुकिः was said, which is associated with Lord शिव. Therefore reading that verse, शिवभक्तः will be happy, विष्णु भक्तः will feel bad, शिव is mentioned and विष्णु has been forgotten. So अनन्तः, it is the snake associated with Lord विष्णु, Lord विष्णु is called अनन्तशयनः. So he uses the coiled अनन्त as the bed and it is like a foam-like bed only and also cool, because snake are supposed to be cold-blooded ones, therefore cool and soft to touch and दयानन्द स्वामिजि says, it is the first spring coat in the creation, भगवान् started it, coil means spring. So therefore अनन्तशयन. Of course philosophically speaking, अनन्त means निर्गुण ब्रह्म. So विष्णु the सगुण ईश्वर is located in his स्वरूपम् of अनन्त which is the निर्गुण ब्रह्मन्, otherwise it is also called आदिशेषः, शेषः means what: that which remains after everything is destroyed. In food also शेषम्, after you eat everything, what is left out is शेषः, in the creation during प्रलय after everything is destroyed what is left behind is ब्रह्मन् and therefore भगवान् is शेषशायी, he remains in his स्वरूपम् called शेष, which is the ब्रह्मन्, the ultimate remainder, therefore अनन्तशायी, शेषशायी, that अनन्त I am among the नागs. Then वरुणः यादसाम् अहम्, so यादस् means any water देवता, जल देवता is called यादः. And there are many जल देवताs because जलम् exists in many forms, in the form of river जलम् is there, in the form of lake जलम् is there and therefore even though जलम् is one, it has got various forms of existence, for each one we have got a देवता, river देवता, lake देवता, ocean देवता, well देवता, bore-well देवता (now it is also there) and then cloud देवता, पर्जन्यः, पर्जन्यः water in the form of cloud, you can include your own tears also, tear-देवता. So thus there are many water देवताs, among all of them वरुणः अहम् अस्मि – I am वरुण देवता who presides over the ocean, because that is the biggest reservoir of water. Therefore I am वरुण देवता. And that is why वरुण is worshipped during सायम् सन्ध्या, so वरुण is not an ordinary देवता, इमम् मे वरुण श्रुधी हवमद्या च मृडय । त्वामवस्युरा चके ॥ तत्त्वा यामि ब्रह्मणा वन्दमानस्तदा शास्ते यजमानो हविर्भिः । अहेळमानो वरुणेह बोध्युरुशंस मा न आयुः प्रमोषीः ॥ यत्त्विद्धि ते विशो यथा प्रदेव वरुण व्रतम् । मिनीमसि द्यविद्यावि ॥

What beautiful मन्त्रs!!! We are worshipping वरुण in the evening as the representative of ईश्वर and therefore I am the वरुण देवता, why not सूर्य देवता, because during evening Sun has set, we worship सूर्य देवता during the morning,

मित्रस्य वर्षणी धृतः श्रवो देवस्य सानसिम् ।

All gem of मन्त्रs through which we ask for physical health, emotional health, intellectual health and money, money also we ask for and ultimately we ask for मोक्ष also.

प्रब्रवाम शरदः शतम् । अजिताः स्याम शरदः शतम् । ज्योक् च सूर्यम् दृशे ।

We ask for anything that will desire in life they have enlisted, because if we see the Lord we may forget, we have got wonderful memory, so they have kept in the मन्त्रs, whatever your basic needs, पश्येम, first one is let my eyes be perfect, so all wonderful prayers. वरुण is an important वैदिक deity, there is a special सूक्तम् called वरुणसूक्तम्. So I am the वरुणः. Then पितृणाम् अर्यमा च अस्मि, there are many देवताs in the पितृलोकs, as I had said before heaven itself is subdivided into many colonies depending upon the grade of your पुण्यम् you will be given LIG, MIG, HIG do you remember: Low Income Group, Middle Income Group, High Income Group, all those things will be given. There पितृलोक is one लोक and that लोक is presided over by पितृ देवताs and the head of the पितृ देवताs is अर्यमा. So these are very prominent deities of the वेदs, वैदिक deities, gradually the पौराणिक deities overshadowed the वैदिक deities, अर्यमा, वरुण and इन्द्र etc., are prominent वैदिक देवताs and I am अर्यमा and whatever श्राद्ध, तर्पण etc, we do is supposed to directly go to अर्यमा's department, just like whatever letter you post in any letter box they all will go to the main post office and then from there it is distributed to the proper addresses. Similarly, anybody does श्राद्ध, तर्पणम् anywhere all the offerings directly go to अर्यमा's supervision. He has got courier service, very efficient service, they know the old number and new number, no mismatch and the forefather may be in which लोक, how do we know, so our forefathers could have taken rebirth in मनुष्यलोक, or they might have taken any animal body or they might have gone to another लोक, fourteen लोक courier service he has got. Whatever type of food needed in whatever लोकs appropriately it will be sent. Therefore अर्यमा is a very important person. Therefore He says among the पितृs I am the अर्यमा. In विवाह मन्त्र and all, अर्यमा and all are mentioned, they are all वैदिक deities. अर्यमा is, for संस्कृत students, not स्त्रीलिङ्ग, it is नकारान्तः पुल्लिङ्गः, अर्यमन् शब्दः, अर्यमा, अर्यमणौ, अर्यमणः, अर्यमणम्, अर्यमणौ, अर्यमणः, अर्यमणा, अर्यमभ्याम्, अर्यमभिः इति रूपाणि. Those who do not know संस्कृत you can be blissfully ignorant, don't bother. यमः संयमताम् अहम् – among the controllers of world of things and beings I am यमः, यमः means काल तत्त्वम्, because the time controls everything. In time generations come, in time generations go and even the mind when we are young there is that pride and arrogance, who can do anything to me, I am great, they will talk too much, in their walk one can see, with chest up, then see after 10 years after getting married, first one, that itself will mellow him, thereafter one or two children and you educate them and get married, you are fully mellowed down, all whose job,

भजगोविन्दम् ११ ॥

Therefore anyone I will control. Therefore संयमताम्, among the controllers I am यमः. Continuing;

मृगाणां च मृगेन्द्रोऽहं वैनतेयश्च पक्षिणाम् ॥ १०-३०॥

प्रह्लादः च अस्मि दैत्यानाम् कालः कलयताम् अहम् ।

मृगाणाम् च मृगेन्द्रः अहम् वैनतेयः च पक्षिणाम् ॥ १०-३०॥

दैत्यानाम् प्रह्लादः, कलयताम् कालः च अहम् अरिम्, मृगाणाम् मृगेन्द्रः च, पक्षिणाम् वैनतेयः च अहम् (अरिम्) ।

दैत्यानाम् – among the दिति पुत्रs, so दिति is the wife of कश्यप प्रजापतिः, who is an important personality mentioned in the पुराणs. When they talk about the creation they say from ब्रह्माजि the creation, the entire humanity had to come and first from ब्रह्माजि fourteen प्रजापतिs came and from the fourteen प्रजापतिs alone the entire humanity emerged. And therefore this प्रजापतिs are enumerated, among them the most prominent one is कश्यप and अदिति is his wife, दिति is another wife and अदिति's children are called देवs and दिति's children are called असुरs. So देवs and असुरs are born to two different mother's and father is one and same, which indicates what: we have got a mind, देवs represent positive, healthy thoughts, असुरs represent negative, unhealthy thoughts, from one कश्यप प्रजापति the mind alone we get both देव वृत्तीs as well as असुर वृत्तीs, out of two different wives, one is called सत्वगुण wife and the other is called रजोगुण wife, out of these three गुणs, especially these two गुणs, सत्त्व and रजस्, two types of वृत्तीs are generated, one is called दैवी सम्पत् we will see in the 16th chapter and the other is called आसुरी सम्पत्. And generally the असुरs are negative in their thinking, that you know, but even among the असुरs there was a great devotee born, who is प्रह्लादः, the son of हिरण्यकशिपु, who was an असुर, who was enemy of the Lord, who was hating the Lord, you know the story of हिरण्यकशिपु. And to such a hater of God, प्रह्लादः was born and not only that, he became a great devotee and he became so great that in the morning when we have to remember all the great devotees, the first one is प्रह्लादः, in the morning we are asked to remember the great devotees,

प्रह्लाद नारद पराशर पुण्डरीक व्यासाम्बरीष शुक्रशौनकभीष्मदात्मन्यन् ।

रुक्माङ्गदार्जुन वसिष्ठ विभीषणादीन्पुण्यानिमान् परमभागवतान् स्मरामि ॥

I am remembering in the early morning, before reading the newspaper and spoiling the mind, I remember the names of all the great भक्तs and the topmost one is प्रह्लाद. By birth he is असुर जाति, by character he is सत्त्वगुण. From this we also another important thing, जाति does not make a person great, it is the गुण that makes a person great and therefore we can never look down a person based on जाति, the caste system became notorious because we started looking down upon people purely based on जन्म and those people see the so-called ब्राह्मणs, who are born from ब्राह्मणs and who are given to lot of vices and I respect a ब्राह्मणs, just because he is born a ब्राह्मणs, even though he doesn't have any character, there is something irrational in it and therefore, जाति does not make a person great, but character and what is the example, प्रह्लाद was born असुर, रावण was a ब्राह्मण,

पुरा विश्रवसः पुत्रो रावणो नाम राक्षसः ।

आसीदस्यानुजौ चास्तां कुम्भकर्णविभीषणौ ॥ श्रीरामोदन्तम् २॥

विश्रवस् पुत्रः, nobody in the list of people to be remembered do we add रावण, No. So therefore it is not the जाति, जाति-ब्राह्मण रावण is excluded, जाति-असुर प्रह्लाद is included. Therefore always give importance to character. Therefore प्रह्लादः च अस्मि दैत्यानाम्, दिति पुत्राणाम् मध्ये. Then कालः कलयताम् अहम् – among the ones who keep account, accountant is called कलयत, keep account. So for many things you keep account, say computer also, computer computes, keeps track of all the things and among those computers, especially which keep track of पुण्य-पाप कर्म of people, imagine what type of computer is required for keep track of all the कर्म, one has to keep feeding the computer. So from the morning the time you kill the first mosquito and you do so many things, each one has to be punched and everything that you deliberately do is a कर्म and not only you do actions in this जन्म, अनादि काल प्रवृत्तः, सञ्चित कर्म, आगामि कर्म, प्रारब्ध कर्म, all these कर्मs have to be stored in the computer and how many जीवs are there, human beings alone if you take they are 5 billion or whatever it is. In India itself is 100 crores, china another 100, all over the world 300 crores human beings are there, then mosquitoes, ants, cockroaches are there, each one has got सञ्चित कर्म, each one has got प्रारब्ध कर्म, all these have to be punched. And not only that, every कर्म from this smallest कर्म to the biggest कर्म has to produce the result at the appropriate time, not one minute later or one minute earlier, what type of computer is required and that computer is चित्रगुप्तः, called कालः, कालः तत्त्वम् or यमधर्मराज, that is why he is called धर्म राज, he gives the कर्म-फलम् perfectly according to the justice or Law of कर्म. Therefore I am the काल तत्त्वम्, which is responsible for the manifestation of every कर्म and चित्रगुप्त is called because it is kept secret, गुप्त means secret. So वैश्यs are generally called by the name गुप्त, because in business most important thing is what, you should not tell the truth, शास्त्रम् accepts it, for वैश्य community the title given is गुप्त. For क्षत्रिय community the title given is वर्मा, वर्मा means what कवचम्, protection, protection of the society from other अधर्म. ब्राह्मणs are called शर्मा, रामकृष्ण शर्मा नाम अहम्, शर्मा stands for quietude, peace, tranquility. Thus शर्मा, वर्मा, गुप्त, why I am saying is all the कर्मs are kept गुप्त, secretly, that is why on a special day we do a पूजा to चित्रगुप्त, there also you give something, we are not leaving him, we also bribe him so that some of the कर्मs he will put under the carpet. So कालः कलयताम् अहम्. मृगाणाम् च मृगेन्द्रः अहम् – among the animals I am the lion. More in the next class. Because कालः कलयताम् अहम्. Time up.

ॐ पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते । पूर्णस्य पूर्णमादाय पूर्णमेवावशिष्यते ॥ ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥ हरिः ॐ.

CHAPTER 10, VERSES 30-33

We are seeing Lord कृष्ण's enumeration of ईश्वर विभूतिस or the glories of ईश्वर. The entire creation being the manifestation of the Lord, the whole creation is the glory of the Lord only. Still Lord कृष्ण chooses a prominent glorious things and beings in the creation and कृष्ण claims those special things as his glory. And the purpose of this enumeration is that we can choose those objects as special objects in which the Lord can be invoked. For example, even though all rivers are the glory of the Lord, कृष्ण enumerates गङ्गा as the glorious rivers and therefore we can worship गङ्गा as a special river invoking the Lord in that. And that is why in our culture also गङ्गा स्नानम् is considered to be a special पुण्यम् because कृष्ण enumerates that. So thus for उपासना purposes this enumeration will be useful because everyone enumerated here can serve as an आलम्बनम्. And as I said कृष्ण's enumeration is based on the things experienced here and many of the enumerations are based on the mythological stories also. And that is how we saw in verse no.30, दैत्यानाम् प्रह्लादः अस्मि, कृष्ण assumes that we know the पुराणस and we also know the story of हिरण्यकशिपु and प्रह्लाद who even though born an असुर becomes the greatest devotee of the Lord and प्रह्लाद स्तुति in the भागवतम् is a very very well-known स्तोत्रम्, in which we find the highest वेदान्त talked about. In the भागवतम् there are many स्तुतिस or स्तोत्रम्स, धृव स्तुति, प्रह्लादः स्तुति, कुन्ती स्तुति, भीष्म स्तुति, each character glorifies the Lord and the beauty is in those स्तोत्रम्स not only the पौराणिक glories are there, the highest वेदान्त is also packed in those स्तुतिस and in that प्रह्लादः is also a great one and प्रह्लादः स्तुति in भागवतम् is famous and as I said, which is an important thing because even though प्रह्लादः is born an असुर by spiritual साधन he could change his character and become a ज्ञानि. Therefore one need not feel bad about one's जन्म, जाति does not indicate superiority or inferiority, what is important is कर्म and गुण. If you remember the 4th chapter, I talked about the जाति-

ब्राह्मण, कर्म-ब्राह्मण and गुण-ब्राह्मण, जाति-क्षत्रिय, कर्म-क्षत्रिय and गुण-क्षत्रिय. Don't focus on these जाति but focus on the right choice of कर्म, proper कर्म we have to choose and by doing that कर्म with proper attitude we have to transform our character and ultimately we should become गुण-ब्राह्मणः, प्रह्लादः became a गुण- ब्राह्मणः and therefore कृष्ण takes this opportunity to name him प्रह्लादः च अस्मि दैत्यानाम्. Then कालः कलयताम् अहम्, I am the कालः तत्त्वम् also who is responsible for the maintenance of the ripening of the कर्म at the appropriate time. Every कर्म that I do has to ripen and produce the फलम् at the right time and it requires the maintenance of the law of कर्म principle and I am the कालतत्त्वम् who is responsible for that. And not only that when there is a group of people like a family or like an institution or a class even simultaneously the कर्म of many people have to fructify. So my कर्म is fructifying in this class and your कर्म is also fructifying, the कर्म of all the people. And the most interesting thing is that somebody's पुण्यम् is also fructifying and some people's पापम् is also fructifying. If you are bored with the class and you are suffering unhappiness, then what कर्म is fructifying? In this class itself some people are exhausting the पापम् and some people are exhausting the पुण्यम्. What about me? I don't want to say, whether I am exhausting my पुण्यम् or पापम्. Thus simultaneously one event taking place in the family has to take place in such a way, that the कर्म of every family member has to fructify. And imagine somebody falls sick and another member is serving that sick person. The sick person's पापम् is fructifying and also he has got some पुण्यम् because another member in the family is serving that person, so that I have got some family member to serve me is my पुण्यम्, that they have to spend sleepless night for my sake is their पापम्. So if they are keeping awake for your sake, it is your पुण्यम् that you have got such a family member and it their their पापम् that they have to lose the sleep and struggle. Thus भगवान् has to connect such people and कर्म has to fructify appropriately. Now you can imagine what a complicated order

भगवान् has to manage. And that is why often in भागवतम्, भगवान् names himself as कालः. I am the intelligent काल तत्त्वम् who makes the appropriate कर्म of the appropriate person to fructify at the appropriate time. Up to this we saw in the last class. So now we have to come to the appropriate time to see the next line, what is that: मृगाणाम् च मृगेन्द्रः अहम् – all animals are also my manifestation and every animal has got unique feature. And if you have got any doubt, watch the Animal Planet in the Television. Instead of some other serials, I don't say that you should not watch them but also watch the Animal Planet, from the smallest ant to the big elephant every animal has got a unique glory. And therefore all animals are my glory but among them who is the king of the forest, मृगाणाम् च मृगेन्द्रः, मृगेन्द्रः means lion, lion is known as the king of animals. Therefore मृगाणाम् इन्द्र – I am the lion among all animals. And वैनतेयः च पक्षिणाम्, all the पक्षिs, पक्षि means a bird, पक्षः means a wing and पक्षि means that which was got a wing, so two wings are there. Therefore पक्षौ यस्य स्थः इति पक्षि, the winged one, can you call an aeroplane also a पक्षि? According to definition, you can call an aircraft as a पक्षि because it has got wings, so among the winged beings, the birds, I am वैनतेयः, वैनतेयः means गरुडः, गरुड is the son of विनता, विनता सुतः वैनतेयः, गरुड's mother is called विनता and गरुड is the most glorious bird, devoted bird, that it is mount or वाहनम् of Lord विष्णु. So पक्षि वाहन, गरुड वाहन etc., and in वैष्णव सम्प्रदाय, गरुड is given a prominent position, गरुड आळवार्, आळवार् means a great devotee. So the one who is immersed, आळरुदु means to get immersed, गरुड आळवार् means a devotee who immerses himself in the devotion of the Lord. Therefore I am that great devotee गरुड among birds. Continuing;

Verse No .31

पवनः पवतामस्मि रामः शस्त्रभृतामहम् ।

झषाणां मकरश्चास्मि स्रोतसामस्मि जाह्नवी ॥ १०-३१॥

पवनः पवताम् अस्मि रामः शस्त्र-भृताम् अहम् ।

झषाणाम् मकरः च अस्मि स्रोतसाम् अस्मि जाह्नवी ॥ १०-३१॥

पवताम् पवनः अस्मि, शस्त्र-भृताम् च रामः अहम् (अस्मि), झषाणाम् मकरः अस्मि, स्रोतसाम् जाह्नवी च (अहम्) अस्मि ।

पवताम् अहम् पवनः अस्मि, पवताम् means among the purifiers so there are so many things which purifies. गङ्गा जलम् purifies or any water, if the water is pure, OK. In the local water if we take bath, we don't know whether we get cleaner by bath or dirty after the bath, we don't know, so pure water is capable of purifying. So water is a purifier, fire is a purifier. That is why before surgery they heat all the instruments, it is for purification. In fact, cooking itself is a method of purification, why should we boil the water, it is purifier and wind is also a purifier. So especially if things have got smell, dry it in the open, then the smell will go. So कृष्ण says among all the purifiers I am पवनः, वायुः. So which moves, पवते इति पवनः, that which moves and also that which purifies, पुनाति इति पवनः and that is why आज्ञेय is called पवन सुतः, the son of वायु, पवन सुत means वायु कुमार. Therefore I am the purifier wind. That is the reason we worship the wind also, not only we worship भूमि, we worship अग्नि and we worship वायु also, नमस्ते वायो, where did it come, in शीक्षावल्ली शान्तिपाठ,

नमो ब्रह्मणे । नमस्ते वायो । त्वमेव प्रत्यक्षम् ब्रह्मासि । त्वामेव प्रत्यक्षम् ब्रह्म वदिष्यामि । in which culture a person will revere वायु, what an attitude! Because the Lord says I am in the form of वायु also. Then रामः शस्त्र-भृताम् अहम्. So among the gods who wield different types of weapons, all our gods have weapons. So Lord शिव has got his परशु हस्त, he has got परशु, he is called पिनाकपाणि, the one who has got a bow called पिनाकम् and राम is called कोदण्डपाणिः, विष्णु is called शार्ङ्गपाणि, not सारङ्गपाणि. It is really शार्ङ्गपाणि. Thus all our gods have got weapons. Why do they have weapons? Whoever has to protect धर्म will have to wield the weapons. We should know this clearly because there are some people who criticize our religion saying your gods are not compassionate, your gods really do not really love you, our god only loves us. Your gods does not love you because all your gods have got weapons, they frighten us, we also are idiots and listen to such stories. Let it be very clear, anybody who has to protect धर्म.

परित्राणाय साधूनां विनाशाय च दुष्कृताम् । धर्मसंस्थापनार्थाय ॥ ४-८॥ whoever has to do will have to keep weapons, because to protect धर्म we have to use four उपायs, साम, दान, भेद and दण्ड. साम, दान भेद are nonviolent methods of protecting धर्म and we should attempt initially to protect धर्म by nonviolent method only and if nonviolent methods fail, ultimately we will have to use violent method and violence for धर्म रक्षणम् is not wrong. Not only it is not wrong, it is right and not only it is right, that alone is right and that is why in the case of रामायण also we find राम gives the last chance to रावण. In कम्ब रामायणम् it is said: 'return today and come back tomorrow' and in महाभारतम् also, at last कृष्ण goes as a messenger to avoid war, these are all nonviolent methods, if all of them fails violence has to be used and it is not पापम्, it is पुण्यम्, that is why कृष्ण advised अर्जुन,

धर्म्यात् हि युद्धात् श्रेयः अन्यत् क्षत्रियस्य न विद्यते ॥ २-३१॥

For क्षत्रिय, धर्म युद्धम् is a duty, धर्म युद्धम् produces पुण्यम् and if a person takes to धर्म युद्ध he will attain only वीर स्वर्ग and never पापम् and नरकम्. And not only कृष्ण advised अर्जुन to take to धर्मयुद्ध, all our gods wield weapons only for the sake of धर्म रक्षणम्. It is exactly like I have told you often, a doctor amputating a particular organ for saving the patient. The first aim of the doctor is to cure the disease without any hurt or permanent handicap and if all the methods fail and the disease will spread all over then he will have to take to amputation and destroying असुरs is amputation of a part of the society for saving the society, त्यजेदकम् कुलस्यार्थे – you can sacrifice a person for protecting a family, ग्रामस्यार्थे कुलम् त्यजेत् – for saving a whole village a family can be sacrificed, ग्रामम् जनपदस्यार्थे – for saving the whole nation a village can be sacrificed, आत्मार्थे पृथिवीम् त्यजेत् ॥ गरुडपुराणम् १-१०९/२ ॥ – for getting मोक्ष you can sacrifice everything. Anyway why I am saying all these is, our gods are intelligently wielding weapons, it is not a defect, it is not a दूषणम् but it is a भूषणम्. Then in the case of devotees how the weapons will be used, OK, in the case of राक्षस the Lord has to use the weapons to destroy, but in the case of devotees how will the Lord use the weapons? We say in the case of devotees also the Lord will use the weapon for what: for destroying our inner enemies – काम-क्रोध, लोभ-मोहः, मद-मात्सर्यः, all of them he destroys, that is why Lord's चक्रम् is called सुदर्शन चक्रम्, सुदर्शनम् means what: it serves as a weapon of knowledge, दर्शनम् means ज्ञानम् and what type of दर्शनम्: सुदर्शनम्, right knowledge, ब्रह्मज्ञान इत्यर्थः and by using the weapon of सम्यक् ज्ञानम् Lord destroys what: अज्ञान अन्धकार. Therefore Lord should wield weapon to destroy the external enemies as well as the internal enemies. And all gods are great, but here कृष्ण says among the weapon wielders I am रामः, राम is the greatest god among शस्त्र-भृत् and राम has got what bow: I told you, कोदण्डपाणि. So शस्त्र-भृताम् रामः अहम्. Then ज्ञाणाम् मकरः च अरिम – among the water animals, aquatic creatures, so there are millions of जीवराशिस. In fact, you should know that the creatures in the ocean are much much more than on the land, because on the earth only 1/3rd or so is the land, 2/3 is water. Therefore billions of जीवराशिस are there, they are all called ज्ञाणः and among those aquatic creatures I am मकरः. मकर we can take as the biggest one, the whale. So what exactly is मकर is not known, different people give different meaning, some people say it is shark, some people say it is whale and that is why I translated the word मकर as मकर itself. So anyone you can take, whale being the biggest one you can take that. Then स्रोतसाम् अरिम जाह्नवी, स्रोतस् means rivers, that which flows, स्रोतः, स्रु, स्रवति – to flow, स्रोतस् means the flowing one, in short the rivers, and among all the rivers of the world I am जाह्नवी. Do you remember the word जाह्नवी? I told you गङ्गावतरणम् story only two weeks before and I have not given you sufficient time to forget and therefore I hope you remember, from जह्नु महर्षि's ears गङ्गादेवी came and therefore गङ्गा is called जह्नु कन्या, जह्नु पुत्री etc., and therefore जाह्नवी, I am गङ्गा and गङ्गा as a river itself is considered to be a very sacred one, In fact, they say गङ्गा is अघम् पापम् गमयति इति गङ्गा, अघम् गा, अघम् गा become गङ्गा, अघः means पापम्, गमयति means the one who removes, therefore a dip in गङ्गा is considered to be a great purifier,

मल निर्मोचनम् पुंसाम् जल स्नानम् दिने दिने ।

सकृद् गीताम्भसि स्नानम् संसार मल नाशनम् ॥ गीता महात्मयम् ३ ॥

And according to वेदान्त, गङ्गा represents the ब्रह्मविद्या प्रवाहः, it symbolizes the flow of spiritual knowledge. And why do we compare गङ्गा to the flow of spiritual knowledge? Because there are so many common features between them.

i) Firstly, गङ्गा originates from Lord शिव's head for us, even though originally she was in स्वर्गलोक, when it came down on the earth, only Lord शिव received and from Lord शिव's head alone गङ्गा is coming down to bless us and for ब्रह्मविद्या also, who is the आदिगुरु? So I have a गुरु and you ask my गुरु, what will he say, I am not the originator, I got from my गुरु, if you ask him, he says my गुरु, naturally the question will be who is the first गुरु? That is what we chant in the beginning of the class, सदाशिव समारम्भाम्. Therefore गङ्गा comes from शिव, ब्रह्मविद्या comes from Lord's शिव's head, therefore both are same.

ii) And the river flows from higher plane to lower plane. Because that is how water flows, gravitational flow from higher to lower and Similarly, ब्रह्मविद्या also flows from गुरु to शिष्य. And generally गुरु is seated on a higher plane and शिष्यs are seated in lower plane and therefore ब्रह्मविद्या teaching is flowing from the गुरु to शिष्य. And that is why the gallery type of lecture hall we don't generally recommend because of the arrangements of the seats. Now गुरु has to pump the knowledge against the gravitational flow and even if गुरु manages, naturally it flows down. So every day the शिष्य comes with an empty mind. So therefore it should be the other way, and not like gallery which is not the right method. Therefore गङ्गा flows from higher to lower plane, ब्रह्मविद्या flows from गुरु to शिष्य, higher to lower. That is why in मुण्डकोपनिषत्, पावावरे, पर अवर, परावराम् it was called परावराम्,....

स ब्रह्मविद्याम् सर्वविद्याप्रतिष्ठाम् अथर्वाय ज्येष्ठपुत्राय प्राह ॥
मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-१-१ ॥

अथर्वणे याम् प्रवदेत ब्रह्माऽथर्वा तम् पुरोवाचाङ्गिरे ब्रह्मविद्याम् ।

स भारद्वाजाय सत्यवाहाय प्राह भारद्वाजोऽङ्गिरसे परावराम् ॥
मुण्डकोपनिषत् १-१-२॥

परावराम् means it flows from the higher plane to lower plane. This is the second common feature.

iii) Then the third common feature is गङ्गा is a perennial river unlike our local rivers which go dry. गङ्गा will never go dry because even in the worst summer गङ्गा will have water melting, ice melted water will be there. That is why in summer गङ्गा is very cold, we think that summer it will be very pleasant, In fact, summer we feel the cold more. Because the outside temperature is so high and the water is ice-melted water, the contrast is so much. Similarly, ब्रह्मविद्या परम्परा also is perennial, it never dries up, the flow never breaks. What is the proof, what is the proof? Very very brilliant question, it is like asking you the question, your family परम्परा is broken or not, what will be your answer? I am sitting here solidly 85 kgs, what other proof do you require, for the continuity of the सन्तति, the very fact that even now we are able to learn ब्रह्मविद्या is proof for the perennial nature of the ब्रह्मविद्या. This is the third common feature.

iv) Then the fourth common feature is if you dip in गङ्गा you feel very fresh and rejuvenated. Even if you walk 20 kilometers, once I walked from गोमुख to गङ्गोत्रि, 20 kms or something and I thought I cannot walk further, I had a dip in गङ्गा in गङ्गोत्रि and somehow got strength, another few kilometers I could walk. What I want to say is it is rejuvenating water. In the same way, if you dip in this teaching, what do mean by dipping in this teaching, listening to this teaching, exposing yourselves to this teaching is getting immersed in that, that also refreshes you and therefore both are refreshing factors, rejuvenating factors. That is what I said सकृद् गीताम्भसि स्नानम् संसार मल नाशनम्, if you take bath in the गङ्गा called गीता you will be purified.

v) What is the next feature? Even though गङ्गा flows from गोमुख downwards up to कोलकाता, you cannot take a dip anywhere you like. It is a dangerous risk, because you don't know where there is a whirlpool, you don't know where there are rocks, you don't what is the depth of the river, therefore you can take a dip only in that place where there are steps available, they call it स्नान धाट. Therefore that place which is specially built for taking the dip, that is called धाट, just as you can take गङ्गा dip only in specified place, Similarly, the ब्रह्मविद्या स्नान also you cannot do anywhere, you have to go गुरु धाट, the ब्रह्मविद्या गुरु represents the special space. If you take a Vedantic book and read it is a dangerous preposition, because not only you will not understand, you will misunderstand also. Therefore if you want to take a dip in ब्रह्मविद्या you should go to the गुरु धाट. So thus in respects, ब्रह्मविद्या and गङ्गा are similar. Therefore कृष्ण says, स्रोतसाम् अहम् जाह्नवी अस्मि, Continuing;

सर्गाणामादिरन्तश्च मध्यं चैवाहमर्जुन ।

अध्यात्मविद्या विद्यानां वादः प्रवदतामहम् ॥ १०-३२॥

सर्गाणाम् आदिः अन्तः च मध्यम् च एव अहम् अर्जुन ।

अध्यात्म-विद्या विद्यानाम् वादः प्रवदताम् अहम् ॥ १०-३२॥

हे अर्जुन! सर्गाणाम् आदिः मध्यम् च अन्तः च एव अहम् (अस्मि), विद्यानाम् अध्यात्म-विद्या, प्रवदताम् वादः अहम् (अस्मि)।

सर्गाणाम् – among the created objects or the creations, I am the आदिः अन्तः मध्यम् च. You can understand आदिः means beginning, अन्तः means end, मध्यम् means middle. But this seems to be a repetition because the same thing कृष्ण has said in 20th verse also, in the 20th verse which is the beginning of the विभूति, कृष्ण says:

अहमात्मा गुडाकेश सर्वभूताशयस्थितः ।

अहमादिश्च मध्यं च भूतानामन्त एव च ॥ १०-२०॥

I am the beginning, middle and end. He has told there and He is telling here, how to reconcile? Because repetition is supposed to be a दोष. So it is called पुनरुक्ति दोषः. How do we reconcile? The commentators point out that the one indicates the beginning, middle and end spatially, another indicates beginning, middle and end time-wise. So whether you look at spatially or whether you look at time-wise I am the beginning, middle and end of the creation, one is सृष्टि, स्थिति तय कारणम् and time-wise and space-wise I am the पाताललोक also and I am ब्रह्मलोक also and I am the middle, भूलोक also. Everything I am. So सर्गाणाम् आदिः मध्यम् अन्तः अहम् एव अर्जुन. Then अध्यात्म-विद्या विद्यानाम् विद्या means any disciple of knowledge, any science is called विद्या and there are so many branches of knowledge in the tradition also there are so many branches like the four वेदः, शिक्षा, कल्प, व्याकरणम्, निरुक्तम्, छन्दः, ज्योतिषम् etc., there are so many branches in the tradition and the modern sciences are many you know and among all of them, कृष्ण says I am the spiritual knowledge. So अध्यात्म-विद्या means आत्मज्ञानम् अहम् अस्मि, because all other branches of science deal with अनात्मा only whether it is physics, or chemistry, or biology, or zoology, or botany, or mechanic, or electricity, or magnetism, anything you name they all deal with the अनात्मा, the material things whereas अध्यात्म-विद्या is the one which is dealing with आत्मा I am the अत्मविद्या. That is why in the 9th chapter, Self-knowledge was titled राज-विद्या, राज-विद्या means the king among the knowledge or disciplines of knowledge. And why do we say Self-knowledge is the greatest one? You can give any number of reason. Just we will see a few.

i) The first thing is that आत्मा is the only reality, everything else other than आत्मा is मिथ्या is unreal, therefore all other branches deal with unreal, whereas this alone deals with सत्यम्. So this is परा विद्या and there are अपरा विद्याs. In कठोपनिषत्, शङ्कराचार्य says, अपरा विद्या हि अविद्या, all the material knowledge is as good as ignorance, because they are dealing with non-substantial non-entities. Therefore being सत्य ज्ञानम् it is great.

ii) And the second reason is, this is the only knowledge which liberates a person from the sense of limitation, which is the biggest problem of human being. The sense of limitation, the sense of physical limitation is expressing in the form of our desire to accumulate more and more and more because with myself I feel I am limited. So I have a sense of physical limitation, I have a sense of emotional limitation, that I am not loved by all, I am not loved by own children, they don't even check whether I am there or not, they won't even enquires about me. So all these are all what, emotional deprivation, emotional sense of limitation. Then the next level of limitation is intellectual, any amount I know I know that I don't know much, the greater I know the greater the ignorance is exposed and therefore, this sense of limitation is संसार and any branch of knowledge other than Self-knowledge, any other branch of knowledge will not remove this limitation. In fact, not only it will not remove, it will create only further limitation, like that scientists, Newton or Edison who said, I was only playing on the shore with a few pebbles, thousands of discoveries he made made and at the time of death he declared that I was playing with a few pebbles on the shore while the vast ocean of truth is in front. Therefore, material sciences will only increase the sense of limitation, whereas this is the only knowledge which makes me say, पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदम् पूर्णात्पूर्णमुदच्यते (don't get up and go – I am only quoting) So I am पूर्णः, that पूर्णत्वम् comes only by Self-knowledge. Therefore this is liberating knowledge, it is the second reason.

iii) If you want one more reason for superiority, this is the rarest of knowledge. Most of the people do not come, व्यासाचार्य said in the 2nd chapter of the गीता, many people do not come to this knowledge and even among those who come many people do not understand. Therefore the number of people who know this is very very very limited and therefore it is the rarest of knowledge.

Therefore कृष्ण says I am the spiritual knowledge. Then the next one, वादः प्रवदताम् अहम्, वादः means a discussion for arriving at the truth, that is called वादः. In our tradition, they talk about several types of discussions. Anything you take they have studied thoroughly. They talk about वादः, they talk about जल्प, they about वितण्डा, they talk about जाति, they talk about छलम्, these are all different types of discussions. And वादः or संवादः between गुरु and शिष्य, both are meant for only one purpose and that is arriving at the truth, whereas in all other discussions arriving at the truth is not the aim, winning the argument is the aim and that is why most of the discussions, both the people don't listen to the other. When I am arguing the other person is preparing what he has to say. See in your house itself, most of the time you will be doing that only. So when the other person is talking we rarely listen, we are planning for our attack. So that means what: that person's speech nobody is listening. And if that is true with regard to you, when you are shouting, not even speaking do you think the other person is hearing? Never, 99% be assured what we talk the other
